RCOM AGR DUES

Why should Jio not pay: SC

Jio has been using 58.75 MHz spectrum owned by RCom in the 800 MHz band since Jan 2016 under the spectrum sharing pact

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday questioned why Reliance Jio should not pay for the adjusted gross revenue (AGR) dues of Reliance Communications (RCom) if it has been using the latter's spectrum since January 2016. The development has added a new twist into the AGR case by roping in Jio, which has been out of the picture so far.

Reliance Jio and RCom had entered into a pact in January 2016.

SC holds Bhushan guilty of contempt

Prashant Bhushan

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 14

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday held activist-lawyer Prashant Bhushan guilty of criminal contempt for his two derogatory tweets against the judiciary, saying they cannot be said to be a fair criticism of the functioning of the judiciary made in the public interest.

Holding that Bhushan attempted to scandalise the entire institution of the Supreme Court, the top court said: "If such an attack is not dealt with, with requisite degree of firmness, it may affect the national honour and prestige in the comity of nations." A bench of Justices Arun Mishra, BR Gavai and Krishna Murari said: "The tweets which are based on the distorted facts, in our considered view, amount to committing criminal contempt."

Deposits in Jan Dhan accounts exceed pre-lockdown level

BANIKINKAR PATTANAYAK
New Delhi, August 14

DEPOSITS IN THE no-frills Jan Dhan accounts have exceeded the pre-lockdown level by a decent margin week after week. This lends some credence to the notion that concerns about wide-spread rural distress during the pandemic may have been exaggerated.

As of August 5, as many as 40.21 crore Jan Dhan accounts had a total balance of ₹1,29,720 crore, higher than that of ₹1,18,434 crore on March 25, when the Covid-induced lockdown was imposed or ₹1,18,106 crore a week before that, official data show (See the chart). Of course, the net deposits have been easing, albeit at a slow pace, since hitting a peak of ₹1,35,978 crore on June 10, by when the transfer of the last instalment of the government assistance was almost over.

Two factors have obviously contributed to the rise.

TRANSFER OF ₹57,128 CRORE

RBI dividend a third of last year's, yet generous

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, August 14

THE RESERVE BANK of India (RBI) on Friday said it would transfer a surplus of ₹57,128 crore to the government for 2019-20 (July-June). For the Centre, the receipts will be budgeted for the fiscal year 2020-21, and are almost in sync with its own budget estimate of transfers from the central bank for the year, but the amount would now look insufficient given that Covid-19 crisis has hit its other revenues, including tax receipts, hard.

Thanks to the Bimal Jalan committee, which reviewed the RBI's economic capital framework (ECF), the central bank transferred an all-time high amount of ₹1.76 lakh crore to the government in 2018-19 (July-June).

SC refuses to grant bail to Unitech promoters

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday refused to grant bail to Unitech promoters Sanjay Chandra and Ajay Chandra in an alleged 2015 forgery case. Chandra was granted interim bail on July 7 for a month after both his senior citizens parents were hospitalised for Covid-19 and he needed to be with them.

Sanjay Chandra

With the period of interim bail having expired on Thursday, a bench led by DY Chandrachud asked Chandra to surrender before the authorities by Monday.

The apex court said that the two brothers have failed to comply with its October 2017 order which asked them to deposit ₹750 crore with the SC by December 31, 2017, to be eligible for bail.

The SC also asked the Central government to ensure that all aspects of illegality should be investigated by the competent investigative agencies.

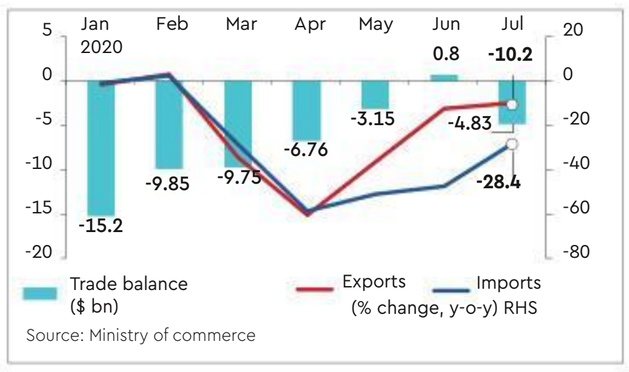
SIGNS OF RECOVERY?

Trade contraction narrows in July

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

MERCHANDISE EXPORTS DROPPED by only 10.2% year on year in July against a 12.4% fall in the previous month, but a contraction in imports narrowed sharply to 28.4% from 47.6%.

Consequently, trade balance swung from the first monthly surplus ($0.8 billion) in about 18 years in June to a deficit of $4.83 billion in July, although it still remains less than a half of the usual trend. Exports in July stood at $23.64 billion, while imports touched $28.47 billion.



Lower import fall suggests demand in the economy is limping back (as lockdown curbs were substantially lifted from June), although it's still far from normal. What also augurs well is that core exports (excluding petroleum and gems & jewellery) grew for the first time this fiscal, by 3.4% y-o-y in July, shaking off the impact of Covid.

Services exports in June dropped 8.4% to $17 billion, while imports eased by 15.3% to almost $10 billion, showed the RBI data released on Friday.

Commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal said last Saturday that goods export contraction narrowed further in the first week of August to just 5% and the outbound shipments of non-oil and non-gems & jewellery exports, in fact, grew by as much as 10%, indicating the worst was well behind us.

If the momentum improves in the coming days, it could be the first time since February that merchandise exports will grow in a month.

While a sustenance of the recovery in exports will be known only after 3-4 months, improved trade balance will mean India could even witness a current account surplus in the first half of this fiscal, against a deficit of 1.5% of GDP a year before.

Goods exports had witnessed a record 60% crash in April following a Covid-induced nationwide lockdown, although the contraction narrowed to 37% in May and 12% in June. In the April-July period, exports dropped by 30.2%, while imports fell 46.7%.

Highway construction at creditable 22 km per day in April-July

SURYA SARATHI RAY
New Delhi, August 14

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION HAS picked up resiliently in June-July from the April low. Despite monsoon rains slowing the construction a bit in July as usual, 2,657 km of highways were built in April-July in this fiscal, down just 12% from 3,015 km a year ago. Of course, with the construction at an average of 22.14 km/day so far this fiscal, the sector has a lot of catching up to do to match the last fiscal's 28 km/day pace.

After clocking a spectacular monthly average of 1,099 km during the January-March period, the construction activity remained muted in April and May at 210 km and 637 km, respectively. A creditable, near-normal 976 km of highways were constructed in June.

The gap in construction was as high as 73% in April this year compared with the year ago. This narrowed down to 50% for the two-month period and further to 15% in the first three months of the current fiscal compared with the year ago.

"It is indeed creditable that 22/km day is achieved when the entire country was in the grip of a massive local and national lockdowns. It would have been quite reasonable to accept zero-km construction during the period. However, one is pleasantly surprised to see that nation has actually been able to achieve construction at 22 km per day," said Vinayak Chatterjee, chairman, Feedback Infra.

Government sources said of the total highway constructed in April-July, the ministry of road transport and highways (MoRTH) has done 1,883 km, while its two other implementing agencies — National Highways Authority of India, National Highways and Infrastructure Development Corporation (NHIDCL) — have constructed 598 km and 176 km, respectively. A year ago, MoRTH had constructed 1,886 km, NHAI 1,099 km and NHIDCL 30 km. Crisil, in a recent note, said highway construction could fall by 10-13% in 2020-21 from 10,237 km in 2019-20.

India had constructed highways at the rate of 28 km a day in 2019-20. The year 2018-19 had been the best so far with total construction touching to a record high of 10,885 km or 29.82 km a day.

Awards of highway projects during the first four months of the current fiscal, however, grew by 185% to 2,702 km from 947 km a year earlier.

While MoRTH has awarded 1,708 km, NHAI and NHIDCL have awarded 767 km and 227 km, respectively. The government hopes to award 12,650 km highway length in 2020-21.

Patel on search panel for MPC members

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

URJIT PATEL, WHO in his recent book Overdraft, attributed his rift with the Modi government and resignation as RBI governor before the end of the term to the latter's soft pedaling on the insolvency code, has been co-opted as a member of the search-cum-selection committee to name the new three government nominees on the all-important Monetary Policy Committee (MPC).

The panel, headed by Cabinet secretary Rajiv Gauba, also includes RBI governor Shaktikanta Das or a deputy governor representing him, Niti Aayog vice-chairman Rajiv Kumar and economic affairs secretary Tarun Bajaj.

On September 22, 2016, the Centre had appointed the Indian Statistical Institute professor Chetan Ghate, Delhi School of Economics director Pami Dua and IIM-Ahmedabad professor Ravindra H Dholakia as external members of the MPC, heralding a historical change in monetary policy-making in India. These three will complete their terms in September. The members of the MPC appointed by the Centre can hold office for a period of four years and won't be eligible for re-appointment.

URJIT PATEL,
former RBI governor

Under the MPC approved by Parliament through the Finance Act, 2016, the government formally adopted a consumer price inflation (CPI) target of 4% (+/- 2%) for a period up to March 31, 2021. The MPC with three members from RBI, including governor, who has a casting vote to break a tie, and three external members appointed by the government, decides on interest rates. The flexible inflation targeting is based on the report of a panel headed by (the then deputy governor) Patel. Patel, who was later appointed as RBI governor in August 2016, prematurely quit from the post on December 10, 2018. Due to the rise in food and petroleum product prices, CPI inflation came in at 6.93% in July, above the MPC target range for the fourth consecutive month.

In February this year, governor Das had indicated that the current MPC framework might be reviewed, factoring in the last four years' experience.

WPI inflation falls 0.58% in Jul, food prices spike

THE WHOLESALE PRICE-BASED inflation stood at (-)0.58% in July, remaining in the negative zone for the fourth straight month even as vegetables and other food items turned costlier. WPI inflation in June was (-)1.81%, while for May and April, it was (-)3.37% and (-)1.57%, respectively.

"The annual rate of inflation, based on monthly WPI, stood at (- 0.58%) (provisional) for July compared to 1.17% a year ago," the commerce and industry ministry said in a statement.

Inflation in food articles was at a four-month high of 4.08%, mainly due to sharp rise in vegetable prices. Inflation in vegetables stood at 8.20%, against (-) 9.21% in June. Pulses saw inflation of 10.24%, for potato, it was 69.07% in July. — PTI

More CPSEs told to reach 50% of annual capex goal by Q2 end

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

CONTINUING TO NUDGE the central public sector enterprises (CPSEs), finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday asked seven CPSEs to accelerate spending to achieve 50% of their FY21 capex target by the end of September quarter (Q2). In April-July, these PSUs have achieved only 20% of their ₹1.25-lakh-crore capex target.

In a video conference with the third batch of CMDs of the CPSEs, Sitharaman asked the secretaries of administrative ministries of road, shipping, housing and urban affairs, defence and telecom to closely monitor the performance of these CPSEs in order to ensure expenditure of 50% of capital outlay by the end Q2 of FY21, the finance ministry said. The CPSEs flagged constraints being faced by them especially due to covid. On July 7, Sitharaman had reviewed the capex performance of 23 CPSEs in Q1FY21 while her second review meeting was with another seven CPSEs on July 23 (wherein she asked them to achieve 50% of capex target by end Q2FY21).

RCom AGR dues: Why should Jio not pay, asks SC

On Friday, a three-judge bench led by Justice Arun Mishra queried why should Jio not pay for the AGR dues if it has been using the spectrum. "Jio must pay RCom's AGR dues if it is actual user of spectrum....person using it must pay AGR dues...", the bench observed. It directed, Jio, RCom and DoT to submit all details of the spectrum sharing deal and payments, etc, and adjourned the case till August 17.

Jio has cleared its AGR dues of ₹198 crore, which it says also includes the AGR dues of RCom's for the 8 circles for which it bought spectrum from it. But this due has been paid from the date of the pact, that is January 2016, not prior to it. The total AGR dues of RCom stands at ₹25,194.58 crore.

Apart from the Jio-RCom spectrum sharing and payment liability issue, the court also directed the resolution professional of RCom and Aircel to place before it all details on which entities have placed bids for them under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code.

A company called UVARCL has received the approval of the NCLT for buying the assets of Aircel, which includes spectrum. The resolution plan of RCom is also in the final stages of approval by the NCLT.

The question which the SC is examining is whether spectrum which is a government property given on lease to the operators can be sold as part of the insolvency proceedings since in such sale the government being an operational creditor won't be able to recover its dues as the first priority is of financial creditors like banks.

Jan Dhan accounts balance exceeds pre-lockdown level

First, as part of a relief package to cope with the Covid impact, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced the transfer of ₹500 a month to 20.4 crore women Jan Dhan account holders for three months starting April. Secondly, banks have opened 1.9 crore more accounts since the lockdown was imposed. However, despite accounting for these factors, the net balance still remains higher than expected.

In an interview to FE in early May, chief economic advisor Krishnamurthy V Subramanian had refuted the notion of a large-scale distress, citing a rise in Jan Dhan deposits from the pre-lockdown level, although he acknowledged that businesses and workers were facing serious challenges due to the pandemic.

While conceding that rural distress is not as widespread as is touted to be in some quarters, some analysts, however, caution against euphoria over the Jan Dhan balance. The net deposits, they say, may also have been influenced by at least two factors — discretionary spending has been hit, leading to low withdrawal of money from the banks; the harvesting of the rabi crops from April has boosted farmers' earnings.

SC holds Bhushan guilty of contempt

"In the result, we hold alleged contemnor No.1 — Mr. Prashant Bhushan guilty of having committed criminal contempt of this Court".

In its 108-page order, the top court however discharged the notice issued to Twitter, California, USA in the contempt case after accepting its explanation that it is only an intermediary and does not have any control on what the users post on the platform. The top court said it would hear on August 20, the arguments on the quantum of sentence to be awarded to Bhushan in the matter.

SC refuses to grant bail to Unitech promoters

The two brothers through senior counsel Mukul Rohtagi claimed that they had deposited more than ₹770 crore with the SC registry and thus have fulfilled the condition for securing their bail.

The apex court, however, refused to accept the argument noting that the deposit was made after the December 31, 2017 deadline and also the amount deposited has "been bought in as a result of monetisation of the Unitech assets" and also from income tax refunds. They have not themselves deposited the whole money," the top court stated.

Justice Chandrachud also clarified that it cannot make any modification of the October 2017 order for granting bail as the same can be made only by a three-judge bench as the 2017 order was also passed by a bench of three judges.

RBI dividend a third of last year's, yet generous

Of this, ₹1.48 lakh crore was budgeted for 2019-20 by the Centre. The amount transferred by the RBI in its last accounting year included the entire net disposable income of ₹1.23 lakh crore for 2018-19 and an additional ₹52,637 crore of 'excess provisions' identified as per the Jalan committee's formula. The transfers from RBI last fiscal was, therefore, a steep 64% higher than ₹90,000 crore the Centre had budgeted for, and helped it to rein in the fiscal deficit at 4.6% of the GDP, though this was still far higher than 3.3% initially budgeted.

While the Jalan committee said 6.5% to 5.5% of the balance sheet as the 'realised equity' (contingency risk buffer) to be kept, the RBI decided to maintain it at the lower end of 5.5% last year, a move which enabled it to write back excess risk provisions of ₹52,637 crore. For 2019-20 too, the transfer amount has been decided keeping the buffer at 5.5%, implying that the RBI has been as generous as it could be.

In FY19, the RBI's net disposal income stood at ₹1.23 lakh crore, much higher than any of the recent years as a result of an unusually large amount of OMOs conducted by it during the year and absence of the need for fresh risk provisions. The additional interest income from OMOs was ₹36,000 crore and a change in the formula for determining forex gains and losses yielded gains of ₹21,000 crore. None of these factors were at play this year.

The government had budgeted for lower dividend from the RBI and state-run lenders as it has decided to rely heavily on disinvestment. It has provisioned ₹89,648 crore in dividends from the "RBI, PSBs and financial institutions" for 2020-21. Of this, the transfer expected from RBI is believed to be close to ₹60,000 crore.

THIS INDEPENDENCE DAY, LET'S RAISE A TOAST TO OUR ARMED FORCES FOR THEIR FEARLESS VALOR & SELFLESS SACRIFICES

ASAL UTTAR

THE EPIC BATTLE THAT WON US THE WAR

The battle of Asal Uttar was a key turning point, during the Indo-Pakistan War of 1965, which set the course of our victory. Described by historians as one of the largest tank battles in history since World War II, it was fought from 8th to 10th of September 1965.

As the enemy's Patton dominant tanks invaded Khem Karan, a town in the state of Punjab, our forces strategised to fall back and assume a horseshoe-shaped position and lure the enemy into the trap. More than 95 of their tanks were taken down without losing even 10 of our own. With a relentless fight, extraordinary tactics and a foolproof strategy, our soldiers defied all odds and emerged victorious.

Hindalco posts highest quarterly loss at ₹709 cr

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, August 14

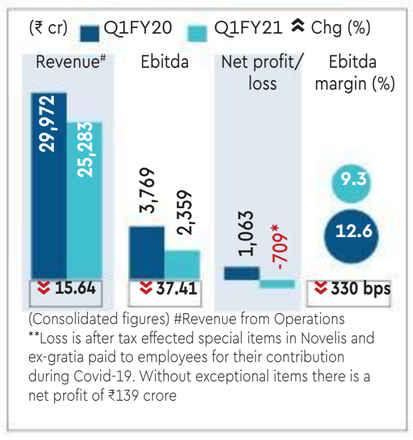
HINDALCO INDUSTRIES REPORTED a consolidated net loss of ₹709 crore for the quarter ended June 30 — its highest quarterly loss — due to certain exceptional items undertaken during the period. It was also its first loss in 18 quarters.

The company had reported a standalone net loss of ₹32.75 crore in the quarter ended December 2015. According to Bloomberg consensus estimates, the company was expected to report a loss of ₹305.53 crore during the quarter. Hindalco had reported a consolidated net profit of ₹1,063 crore in the corresponding quarter last year.

The loss was due to a net loss of ₹140 crore from discontinued operations of Duffel and Lewisport plants, ₹683 crore of tax effected special items in Novelis and ₹25 crore of ex-gratia paid to employees in India for their contribution during Covid-19. Without these items, the company would have reported a net profit of ₹139 crore, it said in a statement.

The revenue from operations declined 15.64% year-on-year to ₹25,283 crore due to lower India aluminium prices and lower volumes and realisations, both of copper and byproducts.

The company's Ebitda (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation) fell by a sharp 37.41% y-o-y to ₹2,359 crore with aluminium Ebitda remaining flat, while the copper Ebitda declined a steep 88% during the quarter impacted by Covid-19-related shutdowns in Dahej in April and large parts of May. Consequently, operating margins came in at 9.3%, registering a fall of 330 basis points on a y-o-y basis.



(Consolidated figures) #Revenue from Operations
Loss is after tax effected special items in Novelis and ex-gratia paid to employees for their contribution during Covid-19. Without exceptional items there is a net profit of ₹139 crore

The company's US arm, Novelis' financial results were impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic. However, the beverage can market showed resilience and the monthly automotive demand is picking up. Novelis recorded a quarterly adjusted Ebitda of $253 million in Q1FY21 versus $372 million, and an adjusted Ebitda per tonne of $327 versus $448/tonne in the year-ago quarter. This was impacted by lower shipments and unfavourable product mix, but partially offset by good cost control and Ebitda contribution from the acquired Aleris business.

The company maintained its India aluminium Ebitda at ₹856 crore in Q1FY21, which remained flat compared with corresponding quarter last year with costs reigned in. With smelter utilisation at 90% in Q1FY21, Indian aluminium business achieved aluminium metal production of 291 Kt against 326 Kt. Aluminium metal sales were at 303 Kt in Q1FY21, down 5% y-o-y, due to the impact of the subdued domestic market, which was offset by higher exports.

However, the copper business came under pressure with the disruptions caused by Covid-19. Copper cathode production in Q1FY21 was impacted, leading to lower production at 41 Kt, down 46%. Total copper metal sales were lower by 29%, at 58 Kt, and copper value added product (CC Rods) sales were down 51% at 31Kt, impacted by lower domestic demand. However, cathode exports in Q1FY21 were higher at 25Kt. Copper Ebitda declined nearly 88% in Q1FY21 to ₹37 crore compared to ₹307 crore in the corresponding quarter last year.

Commenting on the outlook, Hindalco Industries MD Satish Pai said, "We are seeing Indian and international demand start to come back. All our plants are operational and customers are starting to pick up now. Also, various government initiatives put in place are a positive. The second quarter will be strong for us and so will be Q3 and Q4."

The capital expenditure plan for Hindalco India is ₹1,500 crore for the current financial year, while that of Novelis has been scaled down to $450 million from $500 million guided earlier. The consolidated net debt to Ebitda ratio was 3.83x on June 30 versus 2.61x on March 31, 2020.

JSW forays into wind energy, wins 970 MW projects in Seci auctions

ANUPAM CHATTERJEE
New Delhi, August 14

JSW ENERGY MARKED marked its entry into the country's wind power generation sector by winning 970 megawatt (MW) projects in the latest auction conducted by the Solar Energy Corporation of India (Seci).

JSW Energy currently has a power generation capacity of 4,559 MW comprising 3,158 MW thermal, 1,391 MW hydel and 10 MW of solar power plants. The company aims to reach 10,000 MW capacity in the next three-five years, which will be done mainly through renewables addition.

According to sources, JSW has been awarded the wind project against its quote of ₹3 per unit.

JSW Energy recently expressed its keenness to participate in the reverse auction of Seci for 5,000 MW power under a round-the-clock scheme, which involves purchases of renewable energy, along with coal-based power for assured uninterrupted electricity supply. The company had recently cancelled the ₹5,321-crore deal to acquire GMR Infra's 1,050 megawatt Kamalanga thermal power plant in Odisha.

The latest wind tariff is the second highest rate discovered in a pan-India auction conducted by Seci. Including the latest one, Seci has so far held nine reverse auctions for wind power since February 2017. The highest tariff of ₹3.46 per unit was discovered in the maiden auction and the lowest rate of ₹2.44 per unit was discovered in the third tranche in February 2018.

The Indian arm of Singapore-based

Vena Energy (formerly known as Equis Energy) has been awarded another 160 MW wind capacity for its bid of ₹2.99 per unit in the latest auction. Vena Energy is a portfolio company of US-based fund manager Global Infrastructure Partners (GIP). According to a report by the Japan Credit Rating Agency, GIP had formed a consortium with China's sovereign wealth fund China Investment Corporation and Canadian pension fund Public Sector Pension Investments for the acquisition of Equis Energy in 2018.

The country has set a target to raise the capacity of installed renewable energy generation plants to 175 GW by the end of 2022. As on July 31, the installed renewable energy capacity was 88 gigawatt.

Around 34 GW is under various stages of implementation and 34.5 GW under various stages of bidding. If the 45.7 GW of hydel and 6.8 GW of nuclear capacities are included, the target under the Paris climate change accord of having 40% of installed power generation capacity from non-fossil fuel sources will be achieved by 2022 itself.

Jio's spectrum trade deal with RCom failed, sharing continues

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

RELIANCE JIO HAD signed a spectrum trading as well as a sharing deal with Reliance Communications in January 2016, but while the former failed in 2018, the latter continues.

Different set of guidelines govern spectrum trading and sharing. In trading, spectrum is bought from a telecom player and the seller clears all dues at the time of sale. Dues after the date of sale becomes a liability to the buyer, but if any past dues arise at a future date, the DoT is free to recover it from either party or from both.

The parties must provide an undertaking to this effect and only then the deal is approved by the DoT.

Under spectrum sharing pact, the parties only pay usage charges, which Jio has been paying from the date it entered the deal. There is no clause relating to payment of past dues or any undertaking to this effect in a sharing deal. Jio has cleared its own AGR dues of ₹198 crore, which, it said, also includes the AGR dues of RCom for the eight circles for which it bought spectrum from the latter. But this due has been paid from the date of the pact, that is January 2016, not prior to it. The total AGR dues of RCom stands at ₹25,194.58 crore.

Sterlite Power offloads 14.7% IndiGrid stake for ₹840 crore

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

ELECTRICITY TRANSMISSION INFRASTRUCTURE company Sterlite Power on Friday announced the sale of its 14.7% stake in India Grid Trust (IndiGrid) to institutional and high-net worth individual investors for ₹840 crore.

IndiGrid is an infrastructure investment trust (InvIt) backed by KKR and GIC, where Sterlite offloads its transmission assets. In the three years of its operations, IndiGrid's asset under management (AUM) has grown from ₹3,700 crore to ₹12,000 crore.

The InvIt's management recently said KKR had retained a majority 60% in the investment arm and would acquire 14%, subsequently, in May 2021. Sterlite Power continues to remain a shareholder of SIML, the investment manager of IndiGrid. KKR recently withdrew its intent to be the sponsor of IndiGrid.

Commenting on the transaction, Sterlite Power managing director Pratik Agarwal said, "We will now focus on our core business as the developer of power transmission assets," adding that, "we firmly believe that InvITs will remain a powerful platform to meet the large-scale financing requirements of the infrastructure sector."

Starting with asset monetisation of about ₹3,800 crore in 2017, Sterlite Power has sold eight assets worth about ₹11,500 crore to IndiGrid, to date. Another ₹6,500 crore is likely to be transferred in the current financial year. Under its 'asset flip' strategy, Sterlite monetises constructed assets and free up capital to invest in other transmission projects. Apart from the eight Indian assets, the company has monetised three assets in Brazil using the same strategy.

Flipkart adds more sellers for Independence Day sale

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, August 14

FLIPKART ON FRIDAY said the company's five-day Independence Day sale witnessed a 54% increase in the number of transacting sellers compared with the year-ago period, led by tier-II cities and beyond.

The Walmart-backed e-commerce firm has claimed to have onboarded nearly 8,000 new sellers on its marketplace since the lockdown, over 450 of whom earned in lakhs during the sale that ended on August 10.

Flipkart added sellers from smaller towns and cities during the sale, spreading its footprint to places like Dharuhera, Datia, Dholpur, Purnia and Motihari, the company said in a statement. Consumer demand was driven by categories like grooming, household items, personal healthcare, mobile protection and select womenswear, among others.

Earlier this week, rival Amazon said the firm's Prime Day sale in India this year was the biggest ever for small businesses, that saw the participation of over 91,000 small and medium businesses (SMBs). Flipkart and Amazon that jointly lead the domestic e-commerce space are building on their network of SMBs to stimulate growth. Tier- II cities and beyond are estimated to drive the next phase of expansion for online firms. Cheap data and a rapidly advancing digital infrastructure have helped both consumers and sellers from small cities go online.

Last month, Flipkart said the company's Samarth programme, aimed to support small businesses, had seen nearly four times quarter-on-quarter growth since its launch last year. Earlier this year, Amazon announced an incremental investment of $1billion in India, bulk of which will be used to digitise small and medium sellers.

The e-commerce sector is bracing up for stiff competition in the coming days as JioMart is set to expand its offerings beyond grocery.

Flipkart ties up with HipBar for alcohol delivery in Bengal, Odisha

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 14

FLIPKART HAS PARTNERED with Diageo-backed HipBar to deliver alcohol in West Bengal and Odisha, according to sources.

The development comes after Flipkart's rival Amazon had in June received approval to deliver liquor in West Bengal.

This is expected to further intensify the competition between the two players that account for a lion's share of the burgeoning e-commerce market in India.

Flipkart will be a partner of HipBar that allows customers to order alcohol from the latter's mobile app, according to two people in the know of the development.

The persons, who did not wish to be identified, said Flipkart customers will be able to place orders that will be delivered by HipBar.

Flipkart did not comment on the matter. HipBar could not be immediately contacted for comments.

Jharkhand was the first state in the country to allow home delivery of liquor by online platforms.

Bharat Biotech to start Covaxin ph-II human trials next month

FE BUREAU
Hyderabad, August 14

BHARAT BIOTECH, WHICH is working on Covid-19 vaccine candidate Covaxin in collaboration with the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) and the National Institute of Virology (NIV), Pune, is likely to begin its phase-II human trials from the first week of September.

The process of volunteer recruitment has started across 12 designated clinical trial sites. The company started human trials of Covaxin on July 15. It is a randomised, double-blind placebo-controlled clinical trial with about 375 volunteers in India.

The Drug Controller General of India (DCGI) granted permission to initiate phase-I and phase-II human clinical trials after the company submitted results generated from pre-clinical studies, demonstrating safety and immune response.

"A good clinical data, from more than 375 subjects, is expected to be submitted to the DCGI by this month-end," an investigator from Hyderabad's NIMS, one of the 12 trial sites, said.

Sources said the company was looking to recruit about 750 volunteers for the next phase.

"The phase-1 trial in most of the centres is almost concluded. Preliminary results show that Covaxin is safe with no adverse effects," the investigator said, adding that the next phase would further detail on the efficacy aspect. Sources said there was some delay in volunteer recruitment in the initial days because there was no incentive for the subjects except for food and travel, besides lack of awareness on various trial protocols.

Krishna Ella, CMD of Bharat Biotech, had earlier said testing the Covid-19 vaccine for safety and quality was of paramount importance, while stressing that though there was pressure on the company to come out with a vaccine quickly in the midst of the pandemic, it can't rush.

"We want to do clinical research of the highest standards. We have been monitored by international agencies and communities. We won't be short-sighted on research and will produce the best quality vaccine," he said.

Aurobindo Pharma expects phase-I, II trials of its vaccine candidate by end of 2020

August 14: Aurobindo Pharma has said it is expecting its proposed vaccine candidate for Covid-19 to undergo phase-I and II trials by the end of 2020, while phase-III may be undertaken during March-April next year. MD Narayanan Govindarajan, in the recently held earnings call with analysts, said the pharma major has earmarked $150-200 million towards capex during the current fiscal. He said the vaccine for Covid-19 is being developed by Profectus BioSciences Inc in US, which was acquired by AurobindoPharmas subsidiary Auro Vaccines LLC. —PTI

Fix the poor showing of Delhi's municipal schools

North Delhi corporation didn't distribute textbooks despite getting funds; NCT govt warns of take-over of schools

THE DELHI GOVERNMENT has warned the national capital's municipal bodies that it will take over the primary schools the latter run if they keep failing in "basic duties" such as distribution of text-books. The warning comes against the backdrop of the North Delhi Municipal Corporation having failed to distribute textbooks in 714 schools despite getting the largest share of the ₹853 crore transferred by the NCT government to the North, South and East Delhi municipal corporations. Given how the municipal schools act as feeders for the schools run by the state government—since they only have primary classes (upto Standard V)—the state government's stand would seem justifiable, even though it is not quite clear how the 'take over' can happen.

This, however, is not the first time the issue of take-over has risen in the context of the poor state of affairs at the municipal schools. Last year, the Delhi government told the Delhi High Court that it was ready to take over the municipal schools to "avert an education crisis", if legal provisions allow and the state government receives funding for this. Indeed, several expert panels, including the NCERT one from 2010, have recommended bringing all public-funded schools in the national capital under the Delhi government. The state education department had even told the HC that education did not seem to be a priority for the municipal corporations, and, consequently, their schools suffered much neglect—the East Delhi Municipal Corporation, for instance, spent less than half of what it allocated per child in 2017-18, while the North Delhi and South Delhi corporations' spending for that year also fell short of the budgeted amounts. Given getting foundational learning right is key to overall academic development of a child, the neglect of primary education in the national capital is a likely reason why the state government schools have been reporting poor board-exam performance. Praja Foundation's The State of Public (School) Education in Delhi 2019 report shows that, within the overall enrollment pool, the share of both state and municipal schools in Delhi shrank noticeably between 2014 and 2018, while that of private schools rose. It is likely that private school enrollment would have been buoyed by the RTE's EWS provision as it got progressively enforced over the years. But, it will be hard to discount the poor state of learning in the government schools adding to the allure of private school education.

The Praja Foundation report also spoke of a sharp decline in Standard X pass percentages of Delhi government schools—while these were doing better than private schools in 2011 (at over 99% vis-a-vis private schools' 98%), by 2018, they were recording just 69%. Some of this can be attributed to the RTE's no-detention (till class VIII) policy that was junked only last year, but poor foundational education and the shadow it casts on later learning could be responsible, too—nearly 75% of Standard III and 64% of Standard V students in MCD schools were graded C & D under the Continuous and Comprehensive Evaluation system, indicating poor levels of learning. There are a host of factors that influence learning outcomes in the early years—parents' educational levels, the atmosphere at home, etc—but if MCD schools have failed, then an "educational crisis" does stare the national capital in the face. More so, with the pandemic. To that end, if the Delhi government, which would like to see more bang per buck given the significant expansion of its education budget, does take over the MCD schools, the corporations would only have themselves to blame.

Paving the road for EVs

Delhi govt's EV policy is good, but needed to push e-buses more

THE DELHI GOVERNMENT'S electric vehicle (EV) policy is, in many respects, a progressive one. Apart from handsome incentives—a ₹1.5 lakh incentive for the first 1,000 electric cars, upto ₹30,000 for two-wheelers and autos, scrapping incentives for old fossil-fuel vehicles (including CNG-powered ones) and waiver of road tax and registration charges on top—the policy puts the onus on the NCT government to drive EV adoption too. The government will have to ensure that at least half of the new buses it purchases between 2020 and 2024 have to be electric. The policy has also included large fleet operators in its vision, such as delivery services; they will have to convert 50% of their two-wheeler fleet to EVs by FY23 and 100% by FY25. This step, along with the incentive plan, are significant given two-wheelers account for nearly two-thirds of new vehicle registrations in the national capital. The NCT government hopes the policy will mean nearly a fourth of the new vehicles registered by 2024 are EVs, with significant reduction of pollution in Delhi apart from significant national savings in terms of decreased fossil fuel imports.

Through the policy, the government is also front-footing efforts to create the support infrastructure—charging points, battery disposal, etc. While the first 30,000 private charging points will receive an incentive of ₹6,000 each, the policy envisions creation of public charging and battery swapping points every three kilometres throughout the city, with "bare minimum lease rentals" for companies to set these up and full refund of SGST for purchase of swappable batteries by them. It also aims to create a recycling ecosystem, involving battery and EV manufacturers that have the capacity to extract reusable matter from spent batteries.

The Delhi government, however, needs to keep two things in mind. Including mass transit vehicles, such as buses, would have had a large impact on controlling pollution, and faster. So, while the NCT government looks to add a large number of e-buses to its fleet, allowing private operators to ply e-buses in the city, with incentives, could have been considered. Phase II of the Centre's FAME India scheme offers incentives to public sector transport corporations, like the Delhi Transport Corporation, on an operations-cost basis—that is, on the basis of the cost of running of electric bus in ₹/km "for the minimum assured run per year and for a specified contract period". The maximum incentive for a standard-sized bus is capped at ₹55 lakh. The NCT government could have planned a similar incentive for private operators, or at least set a more ambitious e-bus addition goal for itself given some of the e-buses it will add over the next few years could be eligible for the FAME Phase II incentives. The other concern is on an efficient energy mix; given Delhi's power supply is largely thermal (with most of it coal-based), the impact on pollution may not be all that is imagined.

MeltingPOINT

A new climate model predicts Arctic sea-ice could disappear in just fifteen years

THE LOCKDOWNS FORCED by the pandemic, research now says, may not have moved the needle much in terms of lowered emissions. To be sure, the annual emission may see a significant dent, but, in the larger picture, it is likely to have very little impact. Opening up will ensure that the brief pause was just an aberration. Against such a backdrop, a recent study published in Nature Climate Change should serve as a reminder of why we can't keep pushing climate action under the carpet much longer. A climate model developed by the UK Met's Hadley Centre forecasts that, in fifteen years, the Arctic could be free of sea-ice.

The model looks at melt-pond (shallow pools on the surface of Arctic sea-ice in summer and spring) data, with the last interglacial (warm period for the planet) informing the estimation of the impact on ice from global heating this time around. With such a close deadline, governments will need to adopt low-carbon paths for their economies urgently. Numerous reports have already spelt out how close we are to the point-of-no-return on catastrophic warming of the planet; indeed, some even fear that we may have already crossed it. The pandemic is likely to interfere in climate action plans; with economies reeling under lockdowns, adoption of climate-friendly growth strategies will be hard; there will be the fear of livelihoods lost in transition from conventional fossil-fuel energy to renewable energy to contend with too. But, without urgent climate action, the world fries.

AGENDA VS FACTS

A CAREFUL LOOK AT DATA GIVES THE LIE TO MANY POPULAR MEDIA NARRATIVES ABOUT INDIA, VIZ. INDIA AS THE "RAPE CAPITAL" OF THE WORLD. INDIA NEEDS A 'RIGHT TO TRUTH' MOVEMENT

Freedom from fake news

TV MOHANDAS PAI & ANURAAG SAXENA

Pai is chairman, Aarin Capital Partners, and Saxena leads India Pride Project

SOON AFTER THE dastardly rape in 2012, a prominent Western media-house labelled India the rape capital of the world. Predictably, lazy journalism, articles and OpEds followed, and the narrative was compounded across various media, including social media. So much so, that a prominent opposition leader regurgitated the slanderous phrase (much to Parliament's chargin).

The world was on a spin with the "shame on the Indian male" narrative, and comfortable with reinforcing stereotypes.

It was all hunky-dory, except for one minor inconvenience. None of this was true!

Even a cursory look at data reveals that India has a per-capita sexual harassment crime rate of 0.52/lakh while many 'developed' nations hover between 7.93 to 17.92, with six countries over 50/lakh. Official data from Nation Master lists India at 84th rank (amongst 119) on the Rape Rate table, making it way safer than many developed nations (despite the likely under-reporting of crime that India suffers from, like many other nations). Don't get us wrong. Even one rape is reprehensible, has the potential to leave permanent emotional scars, and should not go unpunished. But misdirecting the blame to India takes the attention away from the real victims in those 83 countries that have it far worse.

In short, India is far safer for women than some in media would lead you to believe. That is if you can resist the temptation to fall for anecdotal-narratives and look at factual data instead.

As consumers of information though, there is a choice to seek beyond provocative headlines, and clickbait OpEds. After all, as Nir Eyal put it, "Allowing someone to help you see the world differently is a gift you give yourself".

Take examples of homicides. India at 1.18 per/lakh is relatively worse off than the UK and the US (0.38 and 0.12, respectively), but significantly better than South Africa, New Zealand and Sweden (at 6.27, 2.74 & 1.68, respectively). Doesn't reconcile with the India-is-terribly-unsafe narrative, does it?

Misinformation on thefts and robberies is even worse. Media is stuffed with anecdotal information on tourists losing their luggage in Agra, or that elderly couple that are robbed at gunpoint in Pune. Data reveals though, that you are 80 times more likely to get robbed in Australia, than you are in the US or India (per capita theft-rates of 161.21, 2.02 and 2.98, respectively).

One would wonder why some journalists consider claims more fascinating than facts. All the more when these claims are from "anonymous sources". The answer might be found in the old Gaelic expression, "Don't let the truth get in the way of a good story". And, if you are sure Mark Twain said that, you are making our point for us... that deep-rooted narratives are hard to bust.

The misinformation is not just in crime-data. There's a double fault at play here. India happens to be structurally more "woke" than nations that coined the phrase; and "they" won't tell you that!

On the one hand, you will be told that India is filthy and polluted. On the other hand, India has a per-capita carbon-emission of 1.8 tonnes, way lower than the global average of 4.7 (across 194 countries) and infinitesimal compared to the US and Australia that have eight times more (16.2 and 16.9, respectively).

India's reduced carbon-footprint might be attributed to a lower motorisation rate (18 per 1,000 population vs. EU at 602 or the US at 797, or to avoidance of methane-producing meat and beef farms due to India's naturally woke diet (the top 18 of 172 countries have a per-capita annual meat consumption of >90 kg; India is 1/20th that). The one metric India doesn't show a distinct advantage on is water-withdrawal, which is close to global-average of 611 m3 per capita.

Data reveals a simple fact—India pollutes far lesser, consumes more frugally, and lives more sustainably than most countries. Now compare this factual understanding with images of overflowing drains and billowing chimneys that have been thrust on your face. We are lucky if this comes from incompetent or lazy journalism. The alternative is, this manipulation comes from an insidious agenda.

Films like Salaam Bombay and Slumdog Millionaire might make you believe that kidnapping is commonplace in India. You might imagine parents have their children on leashes. However, India's crime rate on abductions is 0.5/lakh compared to New Zealand's 22.17, with Australia at a close second at 16.58. Public perception, on the other hand, pegs New Zealand as pure and pristine thanks to Lord of the Rings, and Australia as a land of culinary excellence thanks to Masterchef Australia. In his 2017 film, The Problem with Apu, Hari Kondabolu explores negative typecasts & racial micro-aggressions perpetuated by pop-culture giants like The Simpsons.

This micro-aggression legitimises micro-slander. NYT, in an institutionalised display of aversive-racism, mocked India's space programme with a derogatory cartoon. Let it be damned that India's Mars mission costed a tenth that of NASA's ($73 mn vs $671 mn), or that India elevated a rocket-scientist to its highest constitutional office.

While data reveals insidious stereotyping that is not just unfair, but patently untrue, the "creative types" are found reinforcing misinformation very so often. Why care about the truth, when poverty-porn is so lucrative?

Populated countries are likely to have higher absolute numbers. Some in media prey on that fact. Others may not have the cerebral capacity or inclination to dig deep for facts and data. Regardless, it is a huge failure if the fourth estate chose to misrepresent, and sacrifice, facts at the altar of narratives. Hans Rosling, who made busting deep-rooted myths fashionable, had once said, "The world seems scarier than it is because what you hear about it has been selected—by your own attention filter or by the media."

It is a moral and fiduciary responsibility to ourselves, our community and the world at large, to rid ourselves of misinformation and fake news. The era of information-availability allows us the tools for a manthan (churning). Whether we choose agenda-based vish (poison) or fact-based amrut (elixir of life) is up to us.

Our choices are, unfortunately, really quite simple. Swallow agenda-laced opinions, or seek the truth that data reveals.

A blueprint to transform healthcare

The National Digital Health Blueprint covers many important aspects of digitisation of healthcare; the government should partner the pvt sector for its implementation

SANGITA REDDY

President, FICCI, & joint managing director, Apollo Hospitals Group

UNIVERSAL HEALTHCARE (UHC) by 2030 is a pivotal commitment for India, as it impacts achievement of all other SDGs. Across most developed economies, digitisation of healthcare has made it accessible, equitable and affordable, accelerating the path to UHC.

In 2015, efforts to augment digital health infrastructure were initiated with the 'Digital India' movement. Yet, it was the COVID-19 pandemic that necessitated rapid adoption, and on March 25, the government issued the Telemedicine Guidelines 2020. On August 10, the national telemedicine service, e- Sanjeevani, completed more than 1,50,000 tele-consultations.

Even though telemedicine has been around for two decades, it has been utilised to its full potential only now. The Apollo247 app has been downloaded by a few million individuals, and more than 5,000 tele-consultations-a-day is the norm. Over 5 crore Indians accessed healthcare online in March-May 2020. A coalition of over 100 healthcare specialists came together to launch Swasth, a nationwide telemedicine platform for COVID-19.

Nevertheless, the biggest announcement is expected to be made by the PM today, as he formally launches the National Digital Health Mission (NDHM), which can transform Indian healthcare. The change that it will usher in, is exciting, but it is paramount that the implementation roadmap is crafted assiduously.

An efficient and secure implementation of digital health solutions requires a unified framework and a strong foundation for data integration. Launched in 2018, the National Health Stack (NHS) was envisioned as the foundational component for UHC to leverage Big Data Analytics, Machine Learning and Artificial Intelligence.

Standardisation across the board is vital to the implementation of UHC, and also for the development of a digital health framework. FICCI had coordinated the development of National Standard Treatment Guidelines (STGs) for 20 specialties, covering 280 conditions, and the EHR (Electronic Health Records) Standards, to help promote standardisation in clinical practice, notified in 2013 and 2016, respectively. Since then, these guidelines have been expanded and updated by the government, yet have not been implemented across providers and states.

FICCI has been also working very closely with IRDAI on health insurance standardisation. The new regulations that fructified in 2013 included most of the chamber's recommendations. These standards are essential to develop the basic framework for the interoperable digital data records.

The NHA has been working on the National Digital Health Blueprint (NDHB), in consultation with the industry, which is the architectural document for the implementation of NHS. The Blueprint lays out five horizontal and two vertical building blocks for its implementation. While the document lists National Health Standards as Vertical Layer-1, it does not detail out the implementation of STGs, which will be the foundation for integrating the patient data from providers.

The Horizontal Layer-2 includes the Personal Health Records, indicating a federated system with multiple players working on an interoperable standard for sharing of health data. The Blueprint also recognises the importance of standards for safety and seamless interoperability of all the building blocks and prescribes the use of EHR Standards.

The Centre needs to mandate adoption of these central norms by the states, in a mission mode, for the effective roll-out of NHS. The government could even consider incentivising organisations that comply to EHR Standards to help boost the digital movement.

The Blueprint also includes security and privacy of data as important principles, and mentions the development of a National Policy on Security of Health Systems. However, rolling out a major digitisation programme involving the data of millions of citizens without a data protection law in place would be detrimental. It is important that the implementation of the proposed Digital Health Security Act is fast-tracked. Likewise, Health Records Management is a specialised field with several time- and cost-intensive elements, and the government should consider providing adequate support to both public and private healthcare facilities, as was provided by the US government.

To accelerate the implementation of NDHB, the government should consider partnering with the private sector to build public infrastructure that can be open-sourced and potentially used at scale by both public and private entities. Many of the core building blocks of NDHB such as the consent manager, health gateway, etc, can be rapidly built by the private sector and deployed by the government as public good. This PPP will help the government move on overdrive in implementing the vision of NDHB.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Russian vaccine or Russian roulette?

President Vladimir Putin's claim that Russia developed Covid-19 vaccine ahead of other countries has met with scepticism around the world and understandably so. It appears to have been made in the fond hope that it will bring laurels to Russia as the 'first country in the world to develop the coronavirus vaccine'. Perhaps it was meant to preempt some other countries whose projects of developing the vaccine are in the pipeline. President Putin cannot take the liberty of shortening a marathon into a sprint in contravention of global guidelines set by the scientific community. He has no right to take risks with other people's health and lives. According to Russia's ultranationalist President, the coronavirus vaccine called Sputnik-V has shown "sustainable immunity" against SARS-CoV-2 without elaborating. The revelation that one of Putin's daughters, one among 138 vaccine volunteers, has been inoculated with Sputnik-V and she has 'felt well after having sight high fever' means nothing in the absence of definite proof that the vaccine is safe and efficacious. The fear that a vaccine rushed through without following proper protocol can prove to be harmful is valid. By its own admission, Russia has not done the crucial third phase of clinical trials. It has not done enough testing; what is more, it has not made public the results of whatever tests it conducted for rigorous analysis. It is evident from the speed with which Sputnik-V has been developed that Russia cut corners and gave the go-by to scientific parameters. Phase III is indispensable to confirm a vaccine's safety.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Making the frontier sector work

Many of the networks of value could start to become 'utilities' as they become more embedded in everyday lives

IN THE PREVIOUS article (bit.ly/3kOvTue), we introduced the idea of the D-sector. The three traditional sectors have a largely settled understanding of the many elements that build them: (1) what resources are required, (2) employment and regulation, (3) the path to skills, (4) how they are priced and valued, (5) taxation, and (6) their impact on society. We detail these below.

Defining the fourth sector

Resources required: Five elements are required to build a sturdy 'digital cocoon': the ability to (1) get on a network, (2) communicate and connect, (3) add value, (4) make and receive payments and (5) access assets and liabilities. We detailed these in the earlier article. There is a role for both the public and the private sector in creating the networks. Many networks that help create value in the fourth sector are largely private today. Think of Facebook, Uber, Amazon, Airbnb, MTurk, Fiverr, YouTube or any of the streaming networks, etc. Payment systems like UPI have been developed in the public domain. Over time, many of the networks of value could start to become 'utilities' as they start to become more embedded in everyday lives of people as anyone with an MS Teams or Zoom meetings will attest!

Employment: Since the network creates value by linking together buyers and sellers (terms which are used in the widest sense possible), it commands a value. Building credibility on the network, currently billed via "stars" or "like" or "followers" is, hence, a sine qua non. The employment or income potential on the network gets impacted by the policies of the network. Since this is a new way of earning, it has been hotly contested whether those who come on the network are employees or partners; or if the medium carries any responsibility for the messages. Popularly called 'gig' work, building long-term incomes, creating the 'forced savings' like provident funds, getting advantages of cheaper group insurances, etc. need to be reimagined. Banks need to develop new models of financing such professionals, especially as the hardware requirements to get on the networks are typically required to be borne by the participant. Transferability or inter-operability of the "credibility" from one network to another will be crucial for participants, especially since networks, like trade routes and fashions, can wax and wane.

Skills and education: The pathways for jobs in the three traditional sectors required building specific skills which were honed via specialised education and on-the-job training. While the importance of the deep skills will continue, the fast-paced nature of change will require learning and relearning new technical skills, if only to remain on the network or to move between them. This will require constant learning interventions which will have to be designed to be easy to consume, understand, assess, and measure. The quality of learning itself will need to be standardised and benchmarked. Carrying the right certifications, which can be verified, as part of the digital profile will become the new CV.

Pricing and valuation: One of the most-quoted phrases of the tech economy is: "if it is free, you are probably the product". It is amazing how some of the most valuable online activities—from communication to search—are essentially free. Starting positions have a strong anchoring bias: since we have all become accustomed to free, or deeply discounted, services, many industries in the "digital cocoon" have found it difficult to find the right monetisation model. There are now moves to create (or redistribute) value; for example, Australia has recently proposed a law which requires dissemination networks to pay for information content. The relative share of value between the network and the participants will take time to reach equilibrium—and the path will not be linear.

Taxation: If the value distribution is either zero, unknown, or unsettled, this leaves the tax authorities in a quandary. Over the last many years, the idea of Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS) for multinationals in the traditional sectors has started to fall in place. Companies moving their profits from high to low jurisdictions are now expected to be checked via international cooperation in taxation. Digital taxation continues to remain an unsettled area. The US-French dispute of taxing French wines is a response to a tax on American digital giants is a case in point; the Apple/Ireland-EU tax case is another. As economic value is created by the D-sector and gains from it accrue to the owners and participants of the networks, finding the right model to tax will help generate the funds required in creating the pathways for people in the society to enter the D-sector.

Societal impact: Manufacturing and services led the need for urbanisation and dense close networks of people working together. The idea of "work from anywhere" will upend the need to be present in dense cities. Many of the largest cities in the world today continue to remain port or riverside cities—they derive their roots from the industrial clustering over the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries on which the services economy of the twentieth century built. However, as the information technology reduced the need to be near a port, cities like Bengaluru, Hyderabad and Gurugram in India scaled up. As the fourth sector of work, especially the delivery of services, entertainment or gaming online picks up, it could have a profound reshaping of the geographies, especially in the current tier-2 cities. A specific aspect that banks and monetary authorities should keep an eye out for: As some of these networks become islands of value, they may become systems which require only infrequent conversion of their internal "currencies" with the external world.

Addressing the digital divide

ASHOK PANDEY & AMIT KUMAR

Pandey is Director, Ahlcon Group of schools, and Kumar, the founder-director, Shabda-Risk Assessment and Consultancy services

THE 15TH FINANCE Commission's recent meeting with MHRD to deliberate upon the impact of Covid-19 and our response to meet the educational needs of school-going children holds much promise.

Much as we celebrate the achievements of the past three months of remote learning, the inherent inequalities in accessing the internet and other tools stand exposed too. UNICEF data reveals that in 71 countries, less than half the population has internet access. How did India respond to the learning needs of 400 million students?

The inequalities in education owing to access, quality, affordability, and accountability were already nagging our society. To ensure education continuity and a push for online learning, the centre announced its recovery and recalibration plan under Atmanirbhar strategy.

Unfortunately, disparities exist even in TV and radio ownership in many houses. Teachers have shared video lessons through social media channels. They are reaching out to the students through voice messages in regional languages and facilitating peer learning too. Opportunity, material and guidance model, hub and train model of teacher's capacity building have worked as catalysts to learning. DIKSHA, PM e-Vidya portals and Swayam PrabhaTV channels promise to play an enabling role in achieving equity.

By integrating asynchronous methods such as podcasts, investigatory projects, and quizzes, we can strengthen the effectiveness of online classes. The learners could collaborate on the assignments, projects and group activities.

Parental support is critical in helping to drive robust online schooling. Schools will do well to leverage the energy and expertise of the parents to build capacities, culture and creativity. Schools can map the individual needs and pack the learning kits to deliver to homes of those with no access.

Another strategy to fill the gap in knowledge due to non-availability of the internet could be to inspire the children to "learn by doing" to build useful skills.

There are millions of smartphones lying unused in the middle to upper-middle-class homes, as per one estimate. To ensure that online learning reaches to the last child in the remote schools in India, donating spare working devices, such as phone/tablet/laptop/desktop/kindle, will be an act of zero-investment philanthropy.

While learners cannot wait to get back to the schools, the debate around the safe reopening of schools goes unabated. We should not wait, however, to make online education equitable. A hybrid of in-person education and online learning will be the new model for a foreseeable future. The digital divide is a risk to continuing education. A firmed-up plan in massive capacity building of teachers, investment in technology, content creation, focus on the vulnerable and the girls will mitigate the divide.

DATA DRIVE

Infections spreading to rural and semi-urban areas

INDIA ADDING CLOSE to 65,000 Covid-19 cases daily and registering 1,000 deaths is quite worrying, but what is even more disconcerting is that infections are no longer limited to the cities. An analysis of districts shows that share of rural and semi-urban centres has increased over the past month. The division between rural, semi-urban and urban is done based on Census data. A district with less than 20% population in cities is defined as rural, within 20-30% as semi-urban and 30% and above as urban. The share of rural and semi-urban centres has increased from 25% on July 13 to 34.5% on August 13. In terms, of daily infections, rural and semi-urban areas now account for nearly half of the infections and a third of deaths.

The spread can also be gauged from the number of districts affected by the coronavirus. India had only 33 districts with over 5,000 cases on July 13; this number has increased to 94 on August 13. Regions with over 100 deaths has increased from 36 to 80.

As we have said from the start, our overall Covid-19 strategy remains elimination. Together, we have got rid of Covid before. We have kept it out for 102 days, longer than any other country. We can do all of that again

US Q2 productivity rises at its fastest pace in 11 years

US WORKER PRODUCTIVITY increased at its fastest pace in 11 years in the second quarter as hours plunged amid the Covid-19 pandemic, leading to an acceleration in labour costs. The labour department said on Friday non-farm productivity, which measures hourly output per worker, increased at a 7.3% annualised rate last quarter, its largest rise since the second quarter of 2009.

Euro zone sees record drop in employment

THE CURRENCY BLOC shed 2.8% of its jobs in the three months through June when the most stringent measures to contain the spread of the virus were in place. That means about half of the 12 million jobs created since the region's debt crisis have been wiped out, with more losses likely in the coming quarters.

DOUBTS ABOUT EFFICACY

Russian doctors wary of rapidly approved vaccine

REUTERS
Moscow, August 14

A MAJORITY OF Russian doctors would not feel comfortable being injected with Russia's new Covid-19 vaccine due to the lack of sufficient data about it and its super-fast approval, a survey of more than 3,000 medical professionals showed on Friday.

Russia has said that the world's first vaccine for the novel coronavirus will be rolled out by the end of this month, with doctors among those set to be administered with it on a voluntary basis.

The vaccine, called "Sputnik V" in homage to the world's first satellite launched by the Soviet Union in 1957, has yet to complete its final trials and some scientists said they fear Moscow may be putting national prestige before safety.

A survey of 3,040 doctors and health specialists, conducted by the "Doctor's Handbook" mobile application and quoted on Friday by the RBC daily, showed 52% were not ready to be vaccinated, while 24.5% said they would agree to be given the vaccine.

Just a fifth of respondents said they would recommend the vaccine to patients, colleagues or friends.

Their misgivings are shared by some Russians who say they are too scared to try the vaccine, while others agree with their government that scepticism expressed by foreign experts is driven by jealousy.

The Russian vaccine's approval comes before trials that would normally involve thousands of participants, commonly known as Phase III. Such trials are usually considered essential precursors for a vaccine to secure regulatory approval.

Russian President Vladimir Putin has said the vaccine, developed by Moscow's Gamaleya Institute, was safe and that it had been administered to one of his daughters.

Health minister Mikhail Murashko rejected safety concerns aired by some experts over Moscow's rapid approval of the drug as "groundless".

US to make coronavirus strain for possible human challenge trials

JULIE STEENHUYSEN
Chicago, August 14

US GOVERNMENT SCIENTISTS have begun efforts to manufacture a strain of the novel coronavirus that could be used in human challenge trials of vaccines, a controversial type of study in which healthy volunteers would be vaccinated and then intentionally infected with the virus, Reuters has learned.

The work is preliminary and such trials would not replace large-scale, Phase 3 trials such as those now under way in the United States testing experimental Covid-19 vaccines from Moderna and Pfizer, according to a statement emailed to Reuters by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), part of the National Institutes of Health.

US officials organising the fight against the pandemic have been under pressure from advocacy groups such as 1 Day Sooner and others that see challenge trials as a way to speed up tests of a Covid-19 vaccine. Most vaccine trials rely on inadvertent infection, which can take time to occur.

Some drugmakers, including AstraZeneca and Johnson & Johnson, have said they would consider human challenge trials to test Covid-19 vaccines if needed.

"Should there be a need for human challenge studies to fully assess candidate vaccines or therapeutics for SARS-CoV-2, NIAID has begun investigations of the technical and ethical considerations of conducting human challenge studies," the agency statement said.

That includes efforts to manufacture a suitable SARS-CoV-2 strain, draft a clinical protocol and identify resources that would be required to conduct such studies.

Small challenge studies would be done in small isolation units to control the virus. Larger challenge studies involving 100 people or so would have to be done in multiple locations, adding months of preparations to coordinate the studies.

Such trials are typically done when a virus is not widely circulating, which is not the case with Covid-19. Many scientists consider human challenge trials of the novel coronavirus unethical because there are no "rescue therapies" for those who fall ill.

US manufacturing output rises strongly in July, but still below pre-Covid levels

REUTERS
Washington, August 14

US FACTORY OUTPUT increased more than expected in July, boosted by a surge in motor vehicle production, though activity remained below its pre-Covid-19 pandemic peak.

The Federal Reserve said on Friday that manufacturing production rose 3.4% last month after advancing 7.4% in June. The third straight monthly gain left factory output about 8% below its level in February. Economists polled by Reuters had forecast manufacturing output would increase 3.0% in July.

While businesses have reopened, new coronavirus cases continue to spread across the country, keeping a lid on demand. Manufacturing, which accounts for 11% of the US economy, was struggling even before the pandemic hit the nation, a casualty of the Trump administration's trade war with China.

Lower crude prices as global economies buckle under the coronavirus strain have also undercut spending by oil producers on drilling and shaft exploration equipment. Business spending on equipment has declined for five straight quarters, the longest such stretch since 2016.

Motor vehicles and parts production increased 28.3% in July after accelerating 118.3% in June. There were also increases in machinery, computer and electronic products, and electrical equipment, appliances and components.

POLL BATTLE

Trump encourages racist conspiracy theory about Kamala Harris

KATIE ROGERS
Washington, August 14

PRESIDENT TRUMP ON Thursday encouraged a racist conspiracy theory that is rampant among some of his followers: that Senator Kamala Harris, the presumptive Democratic vice-presidential nominee born in California, was not eligible for the vice presidency or presidency because her parents were immigrants.

That assertion is false. Harris is eligible to serve.

Trump, speaking to reporters on Thursday, nevertheless pushed forward with the attack, reminiscent of the lie he perpetrated for years that President Barack Obama was born in Kenya.

"I heard it today that she doesn't meet the requirements," Trump said of Harris.

"I have no idea if that's right," he added. "I would have thought, I would have assumed, that the Democrats would have checked that out before she gets chosen to run for vice president."

Trump appeared to be referring to a widely discredited op-ed article published in Newsweek by John C Eastman, a conservative lawyer who has long argued that the United States Constitution does not grant birthright citizenship. Harris, the daughter of Jamaican and Indian immigrants, was born in 1964 in Oakland, California, several years after her parents arrived in the United States.

But Trump was in effect revisiting an old tactic: spreading a race-based and anti-immigrant crusade he began nearly a decade ago, when he began sowing distrust in the background of Obama, who was born in Hawaii.

This time, Trump has legions of followers who have been spreading similar theories about Harris. In the hours after Joseph R Biden announced Harris as his running mate, a new crop of memes and conspiracy website postings began proliferating online, suggesting that Harris was an "anchor baby," a disparaging term for a child born in the United States to immigrants.

Eastman's column tries to raise questions about the citizenship of Harris's parents at the time of her birth, and argues that she may have "owed her allegiance to a foreign power or powers" if her parents were "temporary visitors" and not residents. Harris's parents received doctorate degrees from the University of California, Berkeley, in 1963 and were working as academics when Ms. Harris was born in 1964.

But constitutional law scholars say that the immigration status of Harris's parents at the time of her birth is irrelevant because under the Constitution, anyone born in the United States automatically acquires citizenship.

The 14th Amendment makes it clear: "All persons born or naturalised in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside."

Nonetheless, Eastman's article leapfrogged throughout social media on Thursday. Tom Fitton, the president of the conservative group Judicial Watch — a favourite information source of Trump's — shared the article on Twitter. By Thursday afternoon, it had reached some 14.3 million people on Facebook, Reddit and Twitter before it was parroted by the president, according to data reviewed by The New York Times.

Newsweek in the meantime defended Eastman's column, asserting that it had "nothing to do with racist birtherism." Experts in constitutional law were still quick to disparage the article as dangerous.

In an interview on Thursday, Laurence H Tribe, a professor of constitutional law at Harvard Law School, compared Eastman's idea to the "flat earth theory" and called it "total B.S."

"I hadn't wanted to comment on this because it's such an idiotic theory," Tribe said, "There is nothing to it."

Tribe pointed out that the theory still quickly landed in the hands of a president who has used his pulpit to spread a number of conspiracies against his political enemies, particularly those who do not have white or European backgrounds.

During the 2016 presidential race, Trump continuously questioned the citizenship of Senator Ted Cruz of Texas, suggesting that his Canadian roots would be a problem should he win the presidency. Cruz, who was born in Canada to an American mother and a Cuban father, is a United States citizen. Eastman, for his part, wrote that year that Cruz was eligible.

Biden campaign raises $48 million in 48 hours

THE CAMPAIGN OF Democratic presidential contender Joe Biden has raised $48 million in the 48 hours since he named US Senator Kamala Harris the Democratic vice presidential nominee, a campaign spokesman told Reuters late on Thursday.

Biden, a former vice president himself, on Tuesday picked Harris as his choice for VP, making her the first Black woman on a major-party US presidential ticket.

With social unrest over racial injustice rocking the country for months since the death in custody of an African-American man, George Floyd - after a police officer knelt on his neck for about nine minutes - Biden was under pressure to select a Black woman as his running mate.

Harris, a 55-year-old senator from California who made her own run for the White House, is also the first Asian-American on a major presidential ticket. Her parents were immigrants, her mother from India and her father from Jamaica.

She became only the second Black female US senator in history when elected in 2016 and will be relied on to help mobilise African-Americans, the Democratic Party's most loyal constituency.

Four years ago, the first dip in Black voter turnout in 20 years contributed to Democrat Hillary Clinton's upset loss to Donald Trump in the presidential election.

- Britain lines up more potential Covid-19 vaccine supplies with J&J, Novavax deals
- New Zealand to quarantine virus cases as Auckland cluster grows

The UK signed two more deals to purchase doses of experimental vaccines. The government ordered 60 million doses of Novavax's late-stage experimental vaccine, which may be available as early as the first quarter of 2021, the US biotechnology company said.

Vietnam may order up to 150 million doses of Russia's coronavirus vaccine, Tuoi Tre reported, citing acting health minister Nguyen Thanh Long. Some of these will be donated by Russia and the rest paid for by Vietnam, the paper said.

Hong Kong's government cut its 2020 forecast for the city's economy to a record low range of -6% to -8% amid the global coronavirus pandemic and heightening trade tensions. The latest forecast is worse than the prior projection of -4% to -7%.

Germany's economy is expected to expand strongly in the third quarter, but is set for a lengthy recovery process, according to a government report. Gross domestic product will "recover strongly" in the third quarter after an historic collapse in the months between April and June, the economy ministry said in the monthly report.

Berlin's emergency coronavirus hospital in the grounds of the city's exhibition centre has taken no patients since opening in May, but is ready with about 1,000 staff on call, according to its director, Wulf Pankow.

Austria is warning against travel to Croatia, a major holiday destination and home country of many Austrian immigrants, effective August 17, the foreign ministry said on Twitter.

US retail sales regain pre-virus pace but slowdown is likely

AMERICANS INCREASED THEIR retail purchases by 1.2% in July, with solid gains in appliances and clothing, restoring sales to their level before the viral pandemic erupted in March.

Sales at retail stores and restaurants have now risen for three straight months, after enormous plunges in March and April, when the pandemic suddenly shuttered businesses and paralyzed the economy.

Still, much of that spending has been fuelled by government relief spending that had put more money in people's pockets but has since expired. With Americans' overall income likely shrinking, economists expect a potential drop in spending and a weakening of economic growth.

Roughly 28 million laid-off workers are no longer receiving a $600-a-week federal unemployment check that they had received in addition to their state benefit but that expired last month. In addition, a $1,200 stimulus check that was sent to many Americans in April and May likely won't be repeated. Negotiations in Congress on a new economic relief package have collapsed in rancour and show no sign of restarting anytime soon.

Many retailers have said the supplemental unemployment aid had helped spur sales of clothes and other non-discretionary items in the spring and early summer. Retail sales include only about one-third of all consumer spending. The rest involves services - from haircuts and gym memberships to movie tickets and hotel rooms - all of which were hit disproportionately hard by the pandemic and have yet to recover

In the April-June quarter, consumer spending collapsed by a record amount, causing the economy to shrink at a previously unheard-of annual rate of 32.9%. Economists have forecast that growth is rebounding in the July-September quarter at a roughly 20% annual rate, though that pace would still leave the economy far below pre-pandemic levels.

The government's figures mask a huge shakeout in the retail industry, with Americans pulling sharply back on in-person shopping and spending more online. More than 40 retailers have filed for bankruptcy protection this year, about half of them since the pandemic. That's about double the number for all of 2019.

Many of these retailers had been ailing before the pandemic. But analysts envision another wave of retail bankruptcies in coming months that would include some companies that were financially healthy before the virus struck.

Unexpected fall in China's retails sales as consumer caution prevails

CHINA'S RETAIL sales slipped in July, dashing expectations for a modest rise, as consumers in the world's second-largest economy failed to shake off wariness about the coronavirus, while the recovery in the factory sector struggled to gain momentum.

Asian markets pulled back on Friday following the disappointing set of economic indicators, which raised concerns about the fragility of China's emergence from coronavirus.

China's recovery had been gathering pace after the pandemic paralysed huge swathes of the economy as pent-up demand, government stimulus and surprisingly resilient exports propel a rebound.

However, the data from the National Bureau of Statistics on Friday showed weaker-than-expected year-on-year industrial output growth and retail sales extending declines into a seventh straight month in July.

Epic Games sues Apple & Google

APPLE'S AND GOOGLE'S spats with app developers over their cut of revenues exploded into a high-stakes clash on Thursday when the tech giants kicked the wildly popular game Fortnite out of their app stores and the game's maker hit back with lawsuits.

The fight began on Thursday morning with a clear provocation. Epic Games, the maker of Fortnite, started encouraging Fortnite's mobile-app users to pay it directly, rather than through Apple or Google. The companies require that they handle all such app payments, so they can collect a 30% commission, a policy that has been at the center of antitrust complaints against the companies.

Hours later, Apple responded, removing the Fortnite app from its App Store.

"Epic enabled a feature in its app which was not reviewed or approved by Apple, and they did so with the express intent of violating the App Store guidelines," Apple said in a statement. "We will make every effort to work with Epic to resolve these violations so they can return Fortnite to the App Store."

Within an hour, Epic opened a multifront war against Apple that appeared months in the making.

Turkey threatens to suspend UAE ties

REUTERS
Istanbul, August 14

TURKEY IS CONSIDERING suspending diplomatic ties with the United Arab Emirates and withdrawing its ambassador over the Gulf state's accord to normalise ties with Israel, President Tayyip Erdogan said on Friday.

The Turkish foreign ministry said history would never forgive the UAE's "hypocritical behaviour" in agreeing such a deal, which recasts the order of Middle East politics.

Under the US-brokered, the first between Israel and a Gulf Arab, the Jewish state agreed to suspend its planned annexation of areas of the occupied West Bank. Palestinian leaders have denounced it as a "stab in the back" to their cause.

"The move against Palestine is not a step that can be stomached. Now, Palestine is either closing or withdrawing its embassy. The same thing is valid for us now," Erdogan said, adding he gave orders to his foreign minister. "I told him we may also take a step in the direction of suspending diplomatic ties with the Abu Dhabi leadership or pulling back our ambassador," he told reporters after Friday prayers. The foreign ministry had earlier said Palestinians were right to reject the deal in which the UAE betrayed their cause.

"History and the conscience of the region's peoples will not forget a22UAE should, with a unilateral action, try and do away with the (2002) Arab Peace Plan developed by the Arab League."

Turkey has diplomatic and trade ties with Israel, but relations have been strained for years. In 2010 Israeli commandos killed 10 Turkish activists trying to breach a blockade on the Gaza Strip, which is ruled by the Palestinian Islamist movement Hamas.

'History will not forgive UAE for Israel deal'

Turkey said on Friday that history will not forget and never forgive the "hypocritical behaviour" of the United Arab Emirates in agreeing a deal with Israel to normalise relations. The foreign ministry said the Palestinian people and administration were right to react strongly against the agreement, which recasts the order of Middle East politics from the Palestinian issue to the fight against Iran.

"History and the conscience of the region's peoples will not forget and never forgive this hypocritical behaviour of the UAE, betraying the Palestinian cause for the sake of its narrow interests," the ministry said in a statement. "It is extremely worrying that the UAE should, with a unilateral action, try and do away with the (2002) Arab Peace Plan developed by the Arab League. It is not in the slightest credible that this three-way declaration should be presented as supporting the Palestinian cause."

SALE OF EVs WITHOUT BATTERIES

Jeetender Sharma, MD & Founder, Okinawa

The policy (by MoRTH) now allows selling electric vehicles (EVs) without batteries. This widens the scope for manufacturers and buyers both. We are adopting much-needed flexibility and comfort in the EV ecosystem. Tax rebates will help drive demand better.

EULER MOTORS

E-commerce can drive EVs

Last-mile cargo delivery can easily be turned electric

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

Problem: There is limited charging infrastructure for electric vehicles (EVs).

Solution: Operate in a limited radius.

Problem: Customers may hesitate when buying EVs.

Solution: Offer mobility as a service; focus on commercial segment.

Problem: It's tough to predict the EV ecosystem in the long term.

Solution: Plan for the short term.

These possibly were the challenges Saurav Kumar, before he founded Euler Motors, foresaw. So, instead of taking the two-wheeler EV route—like many other players in India—he added an extra wheel, both to his vehicles and the start-up.

Founded two years ago, Euler Motors assembles three-wheeler commercial EVs at its plants in Faridabad (near Delhi) and in Okhla (Delhi), and about 200 units have been deployed in Noida, Gurgaon, Delhi and Faridabad, being used by FMCG and e-commerce firms, including Big Basket.

"We are taking feedback on what can be improved in our EVs in terms of design, payload, volumetric capacity, speed, etc," says Kumar. "Our mass market EV—later this year or early next—will be based on the learning set we are developing."

Battery cells in these 200 electric three-wheelers are being sourced from Japanese/Korean suppliers, and thermal management system and power electronics are developed by Euler Motors. These don't have Chinese components, because the exact specifications of cells, Kumar says, were met by Japanese/Korean suppliers.

The steel parts are sourced from a Pune-based supplier.

Business sense

The reason Euler Motors forayed into the three-wheeler space is common sense. While electric two-wheeler space is getting crowded and four-wheelers demand far more investment, in commercial three-wheelers routes are generally fixed and the servicing radius is usually small.

"Within that cluster, it is easy to set up charging as well as servicing infrastructure," Kumar adds.

In addition, the cargo three-wheeler market that serves locally isn't usually negatively impacted by a slowdown or a pandemic such as Covid-19. "That's why we are betting on this segment; essential services will always run," Kumar says.

He adds that in the EV ecosystem it's a good idea to think near term, as this keeps the confidence of investors high because what you are doing appears doable.

Policy support

Recently Delhi government released its EV policy that addresses challenges of subsidising cost differences with respect to internal combustion engine vehicles, financial incentives on loans and setting up charging stations. Terming it holistic, Kumar says it will help accelerate EV transition across segments.

Also, while he welcomes this week's notification allowing the sale of electric two- and three-wheelers without a pre-fitted battery—this may reduce the upfront cost of EVs—he says it raises some questions. "OEMs need clarity on this policy vis-à-vis FAME-2 subsidy (which is based on the capacity of the battery); the testing of battery and vehicle is done simultaneously, but if a consumer purchases battery from another company how to ensure safety standards; and if vehicles and batteries are from different suppliers, how does this impact warranty?" Kumar says.

Going forward, Euler Motors aims to grow in a couple of cities in the near term, and pan-India in due course of time. "Our approach is to work with e-commerce and FMCG companies. We are learning how to build EVs at scale. Once we achieve that scale, we can target 20-25 cities in India."

The start-up has so far raised ₹35 crore, including ₹20 crore from Inventus Capital.

(Like Tesla and Nikola Motor are named after Serbian-American inventor Nikola Tesla and Faraday Future is named after English scientist Michael Faraday, Euler Motors is named after Swiss mathematician Leonhard Euler.)

VECV to drive Volvo buses

VECV to acquire bus business of Volvo Group India

EICHER MOTORS ON Thursday said its subsidiary VE Commercial Vehicles (VECV) has entered into a business transfer agreement to acquire Volvo Group India's bus business for a cash consideration of ₹100.50 crore. VECV is in the business of manufacturing and selling Eicher branded trucks and buses, and also distributes Volvo branded trucks and provides after-market services and distribution of spare parts for Volvo branded trucks and buses.

Apart from being a subsidiary of the company, VCEV is also a joint venture between Eicher Motors and Volvo Truck Corporation, Sweden, and Aktiebolaget Volvo (Publ.), Sweden.

VECV entered into a business transfer agreement on August 12 with Volvo Group India for acquisition, as a going concern on slump sale basis, of the bus business of Volvo Group India, Eicher Motors said in a regulatory filing.

The agreement is for manufacture, assembly, distribution and sale of Volvo buses in India, and other rights forming part of the said business, for a consideration of ₹100.50 crore, it said.

Consequently, the bus manufacturing facility at Hosakote, Bengaluru, and all employees of Volvo Bus India (VBI) will be transferred to VECV, the company said.

"With the integration of VBI into VECV, we aim to shape the future of the Indian bus industry by offering the widest range of transport solutions to our customers," Siddhartha Lal, chairman, VECV, said.

Post the transaction, VECV and VBI will consolidate their bus businesses into a newly formed bus division within VECV. This division will offer Volvo and Eicher branded buses, and will maximise synergies to capitalise on market opportunities. This strategy will be extended to exports, wherein the new bus division will offer products and services that are complementary with Volvo Buses' core product portfolio in select international markets.

Hakan Agnevall, president of Volvo Bus Corporation, said that by consolidating the operations of VBI into VECV, "we aim to further develop our bus business and strengthen our position in the Indian bus market. The new bus division will offer a full range of modern buses covering customer needs for heavy, medium and light duty buses."

The transaction will be completed once the conditions under the agreements are fulfilled and the final business transfer is expected to be closed within the next two months, Eicher Motors said.

MOVE app adjudged best in category

MapmyIndia's app tops Digital India app challenge

FE BUREAU

MAPMYINDIA, India's digital mapping and advanced location-based and IoT platform, has announced that its flagship app MOVE has been selected number one in the Digital India AatmaNirbhar Bharat App Innovation Challenge in its category. The challenge was organised by the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) in partnership with Atal Innovation Mission, and its aim was to identify the best Indian apps being used by citizens and those that have the potential to scale and become world-class apps in their respective categories.

MOVE is a super app—one that bundles many apps within an umbrella app—for maps, mobility, safety, hyper-local social discovery, etc. MapmyIndia says MOVE comes built-in with the country's most detailed, accurate, comprehensive, continuously updated and feature-rich maps, developed over 25 years by incorporating doorstep/house address level data and even 3D real-time hyper-local maps.

MOVE is a super app—bundles many apps within an umbrella app—for maps, mobility, safety, hyper-local social discovery

Rakesh Verma, chairman & managing director, MapmyIndia, said, "Twenty-five years ago, our vision that one day 80% of all data would have a location component, and our desire to build something that could benefit all of India, led us to build the best digital map product for the country. We have always believed in atmanirbharta. Also, we do not use user data for advertising, unlike global search giants, making MOVE a safer alternative for Indians."

The MOVE super app, in addition to 3D and house-level maps with voice-guided navigation, offers remote GPS tracking of vehicles through connected GPS IoT gadgets; corona-related hyper-local information such as nearby containment zones, testing centres, treatment hospitals and isolation wards; live safety alerts about upcoming potholes, speed breakers and accident-prone zones during navigation; directions to doorstep of buildings through house number maps; as also the eLoc, a six-character unique location ID for every place across the country.

SHREE CEMENT'S (SRCM'S) Q1FY21 standalone Ebitda of ₹7 bn (down 22% y-o-y) was in line with our/consensus estimates. Market share gains continues for SRCM with volumes declining 18% y-o-y– better than industry decline of ~34%; while still sustaining blended Ebitda/te of ₹1,421/te. SRCM's consistent track record of market share gains coupled with industry-leading margins justifies its premium valuation, in our view.

Factoring in higher volumes, we raise our FY21e-FY22e Ebitda by 3-7% and EPS by 22-32% owing to lower depreciation and higher other income. With market share gains and better return ratios, we raise our target multiple to 17x (earlier 16x) and raise our target price to ₹25,800/share (earlier ₹22,400) based on 17x FY22e EV/E. Maintain Buy.

Standalone revenue down 23% y-o-y to ₹23.3 bn: Cement plus clinker volume decline was lower at 19% y-o-y at 4.93mnte owing to market share gains in South and East regions. Blended realisation (including power segment) increased 1.2% q-o-q (declined 6% y-o-y) to ₹4,717/te. Cement realisation increased ~5% q-o-q and was marginally down y-o-y, in our view.

Standalone Ebitda declined 22% y-o-y to ₹7 bn: Blended Ebitda/te (including power) declined 5% y-o-y to ₹1,421/te. With likely Ebitda loss in power segment, cement Ebitda/te is likely to be ~₹1,450/te, in our view. Total cost/te fell 6.5% y-o-y to ₹3,296/te. Raw material plus power & fuel cost/te declined 20% y-o-y/5% q-o-q owing to lower fuel prices. Freight cost/te surprised with 10% q-o-q/3% y-o-y increase due to higher lead distance.

Other expenses/te (including employee costs) were up only 1% y-o-y owing to firm control over fixed overheads. PAT rose 2% y-o-y to ₹3.7 bn owing to lower depreciation and higher other income. Depreciation declined by a sharp 33% y-o-y/38% q-o-q to ₹2.7 bn; while other income increased 2.4x y-o-y/27% q-o-q owing to higher treasury surplus led by equity raise of ₹24 bn in Nov'19. Consolidated revenue/ Ebitda/ PAT stood at ₹24.8/6.9/3.3 bn, respectively. UAE-based Union Cement Company's performance was impacted with Ebitda loss of ₹127 mn vs Ebitda of ₹453 mn y-o-y.

We model standalone volume CAGR at 11% over FY20-FY22e and expect blended Ebitda/te to increase to ₹1,598/te by FY22e from ₹1,474/te in FY20. SRCM may generate FCF of ₹49 bn after factoring in capex of ₹29 bn over FY20e-FY22e with net cash increasing to ₹79 bn by FY22.

HINDUSTAN PETROLEUM RATING: NEUTRAL

Q1FY21 performance was ahead of estimates

Near-term outlook weak; FY21/22e EPS up 71/31% due to lower tax rate; TP raised to ₹215; 'Neutral' retained

HPCL'S Q1EBITDA WAS 55-57% ahead of our/consensus estimates. Key reason for beat was strong marketing driven by windfall gains in April/May, and higher inventory gain. Near-term outlook is weak. With more lock-down, demand recovery is slower. Refining margins remain very weak. With retail prices of petrol/diesel nearly at peak, OMCs' ability to raise prices is getting incrementally difficult. We think Q2 could be much weaker.

Refining margin very weak; Middle East discounts diminish; volume outlook weak: SG complex margins remain very weak (-0.3$/bbl in July), and the near-term outlook remains subdued. Unlike Q1, OMCs will not benefit from large crude discounts offered by Middle East countries. Continued lockdowns in several states diminish near-term demand recovery and HPCL expects recovery to pre-COVID levels to take a few more months.

Marketing worries us more: After 84 days of no retail price change, OMCs surprised us with ₹9-11/L hikes on petrol/diesel in June. This ensured that the cost increases were passed on and marketing margins were maintained at normal levels. But we note that at oil prices of just ~$40/bbl (and very low product cracks), petrol/diesel prices are near peak levels, and further hikes are increasingly difficult. While we believe petrol/diesel subsidies will not return, concerns will increase as oil prices/product cracks rise, and retail prices do not rise in tandem.

Raise earnings on lower tax rate: Our FY21F/22F earnings increase by 71%/31%, driven by lower tax rate and inventory gains in Q1. Still we note that FY21F/22F earnings will be lower than FY17-18 levels. We value HPCL's refinery and marketing segments at unchanged 5x FY22F EV/Ebitda multiples.

Driven by our earnings hike, our TP rises to ₹215 (from ₹185), implying 1% upside. We remain Neutral. The stock trades at 0.9x FY22F P/B. While the stock tends to rise on news flow of privatisation of its peer OMCs, in our view, there may not be material re-rating for IOC or HPCL.

Singapore complex margins trend

SG complex margins have been very weak over the past 12 months (1QFY21: negative $0.9/bbl, lowest in two decades); margins continued to remain weak in July

Sensex tumbles 433 points as bank, financials bleed

Banking stocks reacted negatively to the consumer price inflation numbers

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, August 14

EQUITIES TUMBLED ON Friday, with the Nifty declining by 122.05 points, or 1.08%, to close at 11,178.4 and the Sensex diving 433.15 points, or 1.13%, to close at 37,877.34. The markets declined as investors pruned exposure to banking, financial and consumption stocks amid negative global cues. A higher inflation print added to the negative sentiment.

The Nifty Bank declined 2.33% to close at 21,679.4. The losses in the banking index were led by Bank of Baroda, RBL Bank, IDFC First Bank, Punjab National Bank and Axis Bank. The markets saw its gains fizzle out during the last hour of trade after the European markets were in the red. Banking stocks reacted negatively to the consumer price inflation numbers.

Sorbh Gupta, associate fund manager, Quantum Mutual Fund, said, "Banking stocks fell because of the sharp spike in bond markets because of retail inflation numbers. There is ample liquidity in the market, interest rates have come down and the RBI is keeping an accommodative stance..."

The consumer price index for July was at 6.9% as opposed to 6.2% in June.

The losses in the day's trading session led to the markets ending the week with losses. The Nifty and Sensex declined by 0.3% and 0.4%, respectively, for the week.

Sanjeev Zarbade, vice president - private client group research, Kotak Securities, said: "The market sentiment remained positive for the better part of the week, but the BSE-30 index lost 0.4% in the current week. Markets were supported by improvement in active Covid-19 cases in India, better-than-expected operating performance in Q1FY20 earnings, and optimistic outlook on the recovery cycle."

Foreign portfolio investors have also turned buyers for August. They have been pumping capital into the Indian equity markets for four straight months. On Thursday, FPIs bought stocks worth $54.7 million whereas domestic institutional investors sold stocks worth $94.21 million.

The futures and options segment on the NSE witnessed a turnover worth ₹13.91 lakh crore, against the six-month average of ₹14.9 lakh crore.

Major gainers on the Nifty were Eicher Motors, Tata Motors, Mahindra and Mahindra, Axis Bank, and Bajaj Finance, which were down by 7.15%, 4.8%, 3.27%, 2.63%, and 2.59%. Significant losers were JSW Steel, Coal India, Sun Pharmaceuticals, Cipla and NTPC, which were up by 2.57%, 2.33%, 1.97%, 1.76% and 1.55%.

Digital payments rise

DIGITAL TRANSACTIONS continued to grow in June across channels such as card payments, Unified Payments Interface (UPI) and the National Electronic Toll Collection (NETC) platform. However, card payments are still lagging the levels seen in February in terms of volumes. As lockdowns were lifted in parts of the country, the volume of toll collections bounced back in June to levels higher than those seen in February. The UPI channel, too, picked up significantly in terms of volumes in June before hitting a record high of 14,974 lakh transactions in July.

What may be driving the pick-up in electronic transactions is the entry of new consumers into the digital space, say analysts and industry players. In a recent report, KPMG India said that a comparison of the pre- and post-Covid scenarios shows that the preference for online channels has increased 1.6 times.

Indian Bank posts Q1 net profit of ₹369 crore

FE BUREAU
Chennai, August 14

CHENNAI-BASED PUBLIC sector lender Indian Bank on Friday reported a net profit of ₹369 crore for the first quarter of FY21 in the first combined balance sheet of the bank after the merger of the Allahabad Bank into itself. The net profit of the combined entity in the corresponding quarter of the previous fiscal stood at ₹492 crore.

The bank amalgamated Allahabad Bank with itself effective April 1, 2020. Accordingly, the combined financial as on June 30, 2019 has been arrived at by aggregation of audited numbers of combined figures of two banks, Indian Bank said.

Speaking to media persons through a virtual meeting, Padmaja Chunduru, MD & CEO, Indian Bank, said the bank has seen a very satisfying performance in the first quarter post amalgamation. The key parameters of income, cost efficiency and profitability have improved both Y-o-Y and Q-o-Q.

The asset quality has improved while the bank has made upfront provisions in two accounts and also contingency provisions for Covid 19. The accounts under moratorium constitute above 23%, and there is very good progress being made on the collection front, month on month.

Total income of the bank grew by 8% to ₹11, 447 crore from ₹10, 580 crore while net interest income grew by 17 % to ₹3,874 crore as against ₹3,316 crore. The other income increased by 19% to ₹ 1,327 crore as against ₹1,119 crore.

Gross NPA of the bank has improved to 10.90% from 12.09 % and net NPA improved to 3.76 % from 4.68 %. The provision coverage ratio was at 80.52 % as against 74.35%. "Fresh slippages in Q1 were to the tune of ₹523 crore and recovery was muted due to the pandemic situation. Recovery from NCLT accounts was also negligible. We can expect the NCLT recoveries by Q3 and Q4," she said. The bank is expecting a recovery of ₹2,000 crore from NCLT accounts and another ₹2,000 crore from non-NCLT accounts this fiscal.

Chunduru said that the bank is looking at monetising the attached real estate properties of the defaulters. The bank has 21 properties and was in the process of selling those which will fetch decent income. The RAM (retail, agriculture and MSME) portfolio stood at 53% of the total loan book, and going forward, the bank's focus would be both corporate and retail borrowers.

The domestic CASA deposits recorded a growth of 11 % with CASA share at 42 % as against 40% in Q1 FY20. The capital adequacy ratio (CAR) as per Basel III guidelines was at 13.45 % as against regulatory requirement of 10.875%. Tier 1 CAR was at 10.47 % as against regulatory requirement of 8.875%. "The board has given nod to raise capital and we will do it at the appropriate time," she said.

Chunduru said it is scouting for a strategic investor for its housing finance subsidiary Ind Bank Housing to revive its fortunes. The investor is expected to bring in domain expertise as well as the capital, she said.

Bank lending to NBFCs jumps 190 bps to 8.8% since Sept '18

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, August 14

AMID CONTINUING CALLS for more bank loans to non-banking lenders, the latest data showed that banks have already been lending more to them increasing their overall exposure to NBFCs by 190 basis points to 8.8% between September 2018 and June 2020, according to a report by Care Rating.

In absolute terms, banks' outstanding to NBFCs saw a huge growth of 47.1% to ₹7.99 lakh crore in June 2020, from ₹5.47 lakh crore in September 2018, according to the data collated by the rating agency.

However, NBFCs' borrowings from mutual funds have been declining, except in May 2020 when it increased on an annual basis, according to the report.

NBFCs have been down in the dumps since the industry major IL&FS went belly up in September 2018, forcing banks to close the liquidity tap on them to prevent a contagion on the system. While the liquidity crisis continued, the Reserve Bank of India has since February announced a slew of measures to ensure adequate liquidity in the once-booming credit market.

"The overall composition of NBFCs in banks' credit exposure increased from 6.9% in September 2018 to 8.8% in June 2020," the rating agency said in the report on Friday.

The data also showed that NBFCs have been banking more on bank lending than other debt from capital markets for funds since September 2018. However, banks' outstanding advances to NBFCs declined marginally to ₹7.99 lakh crore in June 2020 as against from ₹8.12 lakh crore in April 2020. In June 2019, it was ₹8.41 lakh crore.

Forex reserves rise by $3.623 bn to hit record high of $538.19 bn

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, August 14

INDIA'S FOREX RESERVES continued to hit record high levels as they rose by $3.623 billion as on August 7 compared to the week before to $538.191 billion, according to the latest data put out by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

Foreign currency assets (FCA), which form a key component of reserves, rose by $1.464 billion to $492.293 billion. FCAs are maintained in major currencies like the US dollar, euro, pound sterling and Japanese yen. Movement in the FCA occurs mainly on account of purchase or sale of foreign exchange by the RBI, income arising out of the deployment of foreign exchange reserves, external aid receipts of the government and revaluation of assets.

Gold, which is another component of the reserves, rose by $2.16 billion to $39.785 billion. Special drawing rights (SDR) from the IMF increased by $6 million to $11.099 billion while reserve position in the IMF fell by $7 million to $4.632 billion.

According to a BofA Securities report, adequate reserves should comfort foreign investors into stepping up forex inflows. "The RBI has picked up $6.5 billion in the week ending July 31. Our BoP estimates suggest that it can buy $11 billion more by March 2021. This supports our call that the RBI can sell $50 billion to ward off any speculative attack on the rupee," the report stated.

ANALYST CORNER

'Buy' on Ashok Leyland with price target of ₹75

JEFFERIES

ASHOK REPORTED AN EBITDA loss of ₹3.3bn in 1Q as Covid related lockdown impacted operations in an already weak cycle. Trucks continue to be in a severe downturn and have not seen any meaningful pick-up yet, but we expect a rebound in FY22-23 on an exceptionally low base. Its 2.4x FY22E PB is in line with long-term average and attractive in context of an impending up-cycle. Reiterate 'buy'.

ASPs rose 13% QoQ led by the cost push for BS6 emission norms along with higher share of spare parts and other non-vehicle revenues. The latter also drove a sharp expansion in gross margin; EBITDA margin was still at -51% due to the adverse operating leverage impact of low volumes. Ashok said in the call that the moratorium level for Hinduja Leyland Finance has eased from 75% in April to 40% now.

The Indian truck industry has been in a deep downturn since Nov-2018 with volumes falling 47% YoY in FY20 and a further 93% YoY in 1QFY21. While near-term demand visibility is weak, we believe the pendulum has swung too far and the deep cyclical nature of the industry will play out over the next 1-2 years. We expect a strong rebound in FY22-23 on an exceptionally low base. We factor in truck industry volumes declining by 30% YoY in FY21 but growing 80%/25% YoY in FY22-23; our FY23 volumes are still 17% below FY19 peak.

Competition is unlikely to worsen given Tata is facing severe pressures at JLR too. Ashok's balance sheet has worsened, turning from net cash of ₹7.4bn at end-FY19 to net debt of ~₹42bn in Jun-2020 amid production shutdown and working capital pressures. We expect free cash flow to remain negative in FY21 but subsequently improve in FY22-23 as cycle recovers.

We revise FY21 estimates factoring in a higher loss than earlier, but largely maintain our FY22-23 EPS. Stock is trading at 2.4x FY22E PB, which is in-line with long-term average and attractive in context of an impending up-cycle; past peaks were 5.7x/2.7x/3.7x in 2018/2010/2006. The 5x+ PB of the last up-cycle is unlikely though given increased related-party concerns. Any significant capital need for the financing business is also a risk. Reiterate 'buy' with ₹75 PT (3.0x FY22E PB).

'MFIs' collections rebound to 70-75% in July'

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, August 14

COLLECTIONS OF MICROFINANCE institutions (MFIs), which had plunged to near zero in April because of the nationwide lockdown to stem the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic, have rebounded to 70-75% in July, with restrictions being lifted gradually, Crisil said on Friday.

According to the rating agency, while the bounce-back has been faster than that envisaged earlier, improving it to the pre-pandemic levels of 98-99% will be an important monitorable from an asset quality perspective.

"To create a buffer for potential pandemic-related credit costs, MFIs are expected to focus on raising additional equity capital over the near to medium term. Collections had wallowed in single digit through May because of the moratorium granted by MFIs to their borrowers on an opt-out basis, but sprang to 55-60% in June and continued to improve. They have been relatively resilient given that only home loans and gold loans, among the major asset classes of non-banking financial companies (NBFCs), have clocked higher collection efficiency. This is despite MFI borrowers having relatively weaker credit profiles and field-intensive operations involving high personal touch, such as home visits and physical collection of cash. Additionally, disbursements during this period have been negligible," Crisil said in a release.

Krishnan Sitaraman, senior director, Crisil Ratings, said, "The lifting of lockdown-related restrictions and resumption of local economic activity was faster in the rural and semi-urban areas. Consequently, MFIs with greater presence in these areas have reported better collection efficiency. Among states with the largest microfinance presence, Karnataka and Bihar reported better collections because they have managed to control the spread of the afflictions in the rural areas so far. However, Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra, which were facing the brunt of the pandemic and observing more stringent, localised lockdowns, saw sluggish collections."

Given the momentum in collections, and outflows largely limited to operating expenses, liquidity levels have improved over April. Most MFIs received moratorium from banks and hence had low debt repayments, while disbursements were negligible.

According to the rating agency, MFIs have also raised around ₹2,000 crore through bond issuances under the targeted long-term repo operations and partial credit guarantee schemes. The strong recovery in June and July notwithstanding, there is still a significant way to go before reaching pre-pandemic collection levels of 98-99%.

With the Covid-19 affliction rate still high and steadily percolating in hinterland, the ability of MFIs to further improve collections will be a key monitorable in the near term. Intermittent lockdowns and localised restrictions could hamper the collection momentum, too.

"Considering these potential challenges, in addition to the standard provisioning, many MFIs have made special Covid-19 provisions in the last quarter of fiscal 2020 and the first quarter this fiscal. The aggregate special provision accounts for 2.5-3% of the March 2020 loan book. That's significantly lower than the credit losses seen during demonetisation, which was in the 3-13% range," the agency said.

'Hold' on Eicher Motors with revised TP of ₹23,730

EDELWEISS SECURITIES

WE DOWNGRADE Eicher Motors (EIM) to 'hold' even though we raise EPS 11% and target multiple by 10% to 30x. Post the sharp ~50% run up since our transcending report, current valuations leave limited room for positive surprise sans success of new product cycle. We also revise TP to ₹23,730 (earlier ₹19,031). We continue to like the franchise and the structural premiumisation story. However, to monetise the same, the company needs a strong product cycle tailwind, which remains key monitorable.

Q1FY21 standalone EBITDA at ₹12 m was below our estimate due to higher dealer incentives and fixed cost incidence. Management indicated that booking has reached pre-covid level with strong demand in tier 2/3 cities. Order backlog is at 40-50K units due to production constraints, which should normalise before the festive season.

EIM's standalone revenue of ₹7.6 bn came broadly in line with our estimate. However, reported EBITDA was weighed down due to certain one-time covid-related incentives (~₹300 m) and higher fixed cost incentives. Losses from the VECV JV magnified to ₹654 m (₹140 m loss in Q4FY20) as VECV's performance was impacted by ~85% dip in volumes.

Royal Enfield (RE) is well placed to capitalise on rising structural premiumisation trend and minimal replacement demand. However, a strong product cycle is imperative, especially when competitive intensity is expected to rise as the market size continues to expand.

We expect RE to outpace the industry given its strong franchise and deepening reach. However, current valuations leave little room for disappointment. We, therefore, downgrade to 'hold/SO' from 'buy/SO' with revised TP of ₹23,730, valuing RE at 30x FY22E core EPS, VECV at 25x EPS and cash per share of ₹3,921. The stock is trading at FY20/21E PER of 42.1x/26.1x.

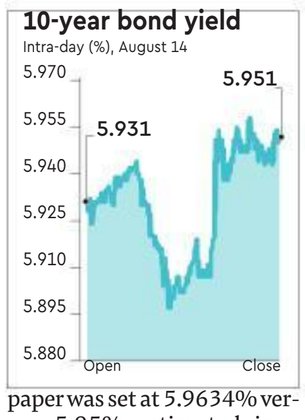
Underwriters rescue 10-year bond sale

SUBHADIP SIRCAR & KARTIK GOYAL
Mumbai, August 14

UNDERWRITERS RESCUED THE sale of a recently issued 10-year bond after a high-inflation print spooked traders about the timing of future rate cuts.

Primary dealers had to pick up ₹4,640 crore ($619 million), or more than a quarter, of the 5.77% 2030 bonds offered, the Reserve Bank of India said in a statement on Friday.

The cutoff yield for the paper was set at 5.9634% versus 5.95% estimated in a Bloomberg survey. The RBI sold ₹34,000 crore of bonds across maturities versus ₹30,000 crore planned.



This is the first time in almost a year that underwriters have had to step in. The devolvement of the 10-year paper in just its second auction highlights weak appetite for debt after the central bank at its policy review last week didn't announce measures to boost demand for sovereign notes.

To worsen matters, data on Thursday showed retail inflation spiked in July, raising doubts about further monetary easing.

"The 10-year bond is fast losing premium it used to command over the yield curve," said Naveen Singh, head of fixed-income trading at ICICI Securities Primary Dealership in Mumbai. There will be further pressure on bonds if the RBI doesn't intervene soon, he said.

The yield on the 5.79% bond due 2030 rose 7 basis points to 5.97%, the highest closing yield for the paper. The auctioned 5.77% 2030 debt yield was up 9 basis points to 5.95%. BLOOMBERG

MF norms: Sebi fines SBI, LIC, BoB ₹10L each

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 14

SEBI ON FRIDAY imposed a penalty of ₹10 lakh each on three public sector financial institutions — SBI, LIC and Bank of Baroda — for not complying with the mutual fund norms.

Sebi observed that State Bank of India (SBI), Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) and Bank of Baroda (BoB) are the sponsors of SBI Mutual Fund, LIC Mutual Fund and Baroda Mutual Fund, respectively, and they also hold more than 10% stake each in these mutual funds.

In addition, LIC, SBI and BoB are also sponsors of UTI AMC and hold more than 10% stake individually in the asset management company (AMC) and trustee company of UTI MF. This is not in conformity with the requirement of mutual fund regulations, Sebi said in three separate orders.

Sebi amended the MF regulations in March 2018, wherein a shareholder or a sponsor owning at least 10% stake in an AMC is not allowed to have 10% or more stake in another mutual fund house.

Notes:
1) The above unaudited financial results which are published in accordance with Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations & Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 and Regulation 52(4) as per SEBI circular No. SEBI/HO/DDHS/DDHS/CIR/P/2019/115 dated 22 October 2019 have been reviewed by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at their meetings held on August 13, 2020. The financial results are in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind-AS) as prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the relevant rules thereunder. These results have been reviewed by the Statutory Auditors of the Company who have issued unmodified review reports thereon.
2) (i) The Company, consequent to the approvals received from the Board of Directors on May 17, 2019 and from the shareholders on June 25, 2019 consummated the sale of Natures Basket Limited (NBL) a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company to Spencer's Retail Limited (SRL) on July 04, 2019. Consequently, considering the provisions of Share Purchase Agreement (SPA) dated 17 May 2019 between the Company, NBL and SRL, additional loss of ₹.0.67 crore and ₹. 25.62 crore was recorded in the previous financial year in the standalone financial results for the quarter ended and year ended March 2020 respectively.
(ii) On completion of Sale Transaction of NBL, the company had recognised net profit of ₹.200.94 crore in the previous financial year in the consolidated Financial Results during the year ended March 2020.
(iii) Accordingly, NBL has been classified as discontinued operations in the previous financial year.
3) The National Company Law Tribunal ("NCLT"), Mumbai bench vide its Order dated April 22, 2020 had approved the Scheme of Arrangement (Demerger) between Ensemble Holdings and Finance Limited (EHFL) and the Company. Consequent to the said Order and filing of the final certified Order with the Registrar of Companies, Maharashtra on May 14, 2020, the Scheme has become effective from the Appointed Date i.e. October 1, 2019. The Company has given effect of the Scheme in it's Standalone results for the quarter and year ended March 31, 2020 as per guidance set out in Ind AS Transition Facilitation Group (ITFG) Clarification Bulletin 14 (Issue 4). Accordingly, being a common control transaction, the results for the quarter ended June 30, 2019 have been recast to reflect the impact of the Scheme on the Standalone financial results of the Company. However, the restatement does not have any material effect on these Standalone financial results (refer below tables for impact on Standalone Financial results). As EHFL is a 100% subsidiary of the Company, there is no impact of the Scheme on the Consolidated Financial Results.

4) The quarter ended 30 June 2020 was an unprecedented period due to the spread of COVID-19 pandemic across the globe, adversely impacting sales performance of the Group. While the operations have resumed for manufacturing locations in compliance with Government directives since April, 2020, the Group continues to closely monitor the situation and take appropriate action, as considered necessary in due compliance with the applicable regulations. As per the Group's current assessment, no significant impact on carrying amounts of inventories, goodwill, intangible assets, trade receivables, investments and other financial assets is expected, and we continue to monitor changes in future economic conditions. The eventual outcome of the impact of the global health pandemic may be different from those estimated as on the date of approval of these financial results.
5) The figures for the quarter ended March 31, 2020 are the balancing figures between the audited figures in respect of the full previous financial year and the published year to date figures upto the third quarter of the previous financial year. 6) Figures for the previous periods/year have been regrouped / restated wherever necessary to facilitate comparison.

Even the combined ratio improved from 116.28% to 102.14%. Incurred claim ratio is a ratio of the total value of claims paid or settled to the total premium collected in any given year.

Atul Sahai, chairman-cum-managing director, said, "There has been a significant improvement in the loss ratio, which, apart from the loss minimisation and corrective pricing actions undertaken, was also due to the reduced incidence of motor claims."

ADVERTORIAL

Creating competitive businesses in self-reliant India

'Vocal for Local' strategy should be aimed towards protecting industries without leading to 'protectionism'

The COVID-19 pandemic is posing an existential crisis for the entire humanity. The virus spread has not just put our health at risk but also our economic health. India is facing a dilemma of saving the population from getting infected with the virus and reviving the economy in a phased manner. India imposed the strictest lockdown which helped to slow down the spread of the virus. On May 12, PM Narendra Modi announced a Rs 20-lakh crore relief and stimulus package to boost economic growth of the country. He also spelt out a new economic stand of self-reliance or 'Atmanirbhar Bharat'.

The prevalent situations in the country, especially the Chinese incursions on LAC and Galwan Valley and COVID-19, have certainly fuelled the aspirations of Indians and Indian Inc. to go 'Vocal for Local' thus trusting our local facilities, workmen, resources and expertise. If implemented correctly, 'Vocal for Local' strategy will not just create job opportunities but will also generate a lot of confidence among our local industries. The package aims to build a self-reliant India by prioritising MSMEs, liquidity and welfare, agriculture, power distribution, mining, health, rural employment and housing sector reforms. The focus on import substitution, reviving demand and export-oriented industrialisation are key underlying themes.

The government is also opening up the country in a phased manner. The green shoots in the economy will keep on emerging as more sectors open up. Also, once the economy is set on its path to recovery, greater demand will also encourage private investors. To implement the Unlock process with efficiency, Maharashtra Government has also taken several steps to ease out the restrictions in the state. In Mumbai, the prime city of Maharashtra, several measures have been taken by the state government to restart the business activities and give a new lease of life to the business community. In this regard, the state government has issued various guidelines and, as per the demand of the situation, is changing the rules to provide relaxation so that businesses are not hampered.

If implemented correctly, 'Vocal for Local' strategy will not only create job opportunities but will also generate a lot of confidence among local industries

While the 'Vocal for Local' is a brilliant idea, we have to realise that over the past 70 years, the world has changed radically. To create a globally competitive product, we need to have access to globally competitive resources coupled with globally competitive synergies, only then the resolution of 'Vocal for Local' will truly succeed in its true essence. The global market today is an intricate web of tightly interdependent value chains, wherein market competitiveness is determined by the two holy grails of price and quality. What will be worth seeing in coming years is whether this 'idea' will be applicable to all the sectors or only a select few, depending upon the availability of resources and expertise in the country. 'Vocal for Local' strategy should be aimed towards protecting industries without leading to 'protectionism'.

Though the idea and ambition to create India as a promising manufacturing centre compared with China is worth the appreciation, Indian Inc. won't be in a condition to provide any benefit unless price competitiveness can be created and sustained – only then can we attract investment from domestic and foreign players. Thus, the key consideration for a self-reliant India should be to build and create businesses that are competitive and able to forge a strong value chain via brand, package, price and channels.

India believes in peace but also capable of giving befitting response to any attempt of aggression: President Kovind

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 14

PRESIDENT RAM NATH Kovind on Friday said while India believes in peace it is also capable of giving a befitting response to any attempt of aggression as shown by its troops in Galwan Valley in eastern Ladakh after "some in our neighbourhood", a veiled reference to China, tried to carry out their "misadventure of expansion".

In his address to the nation on the eve of the 74th Independence Day, Kovind also spoke about the 'Aatmanirbhar' initiative launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, and allayed fears of foreign investors saying India's self-reliance means being self-sufficient without alienating or creating distance from the world, with which it would continue to engage.

Touching upon the Covid-19 pandemic, Kovind said the nation is indebted to doctors, nurses and other health workers who have been continuously on the forefront of the fight against the disease which has disrupted all activities world over and taken a huge toll. India's Covid-19 caseload surpassed 24 lakh on Friday after 64,553 more people tested positive and the recoveries rose to over 17 lakh, according to the health ministry.

India exported 23 lakh PPE to 5 countries in July

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, August 14

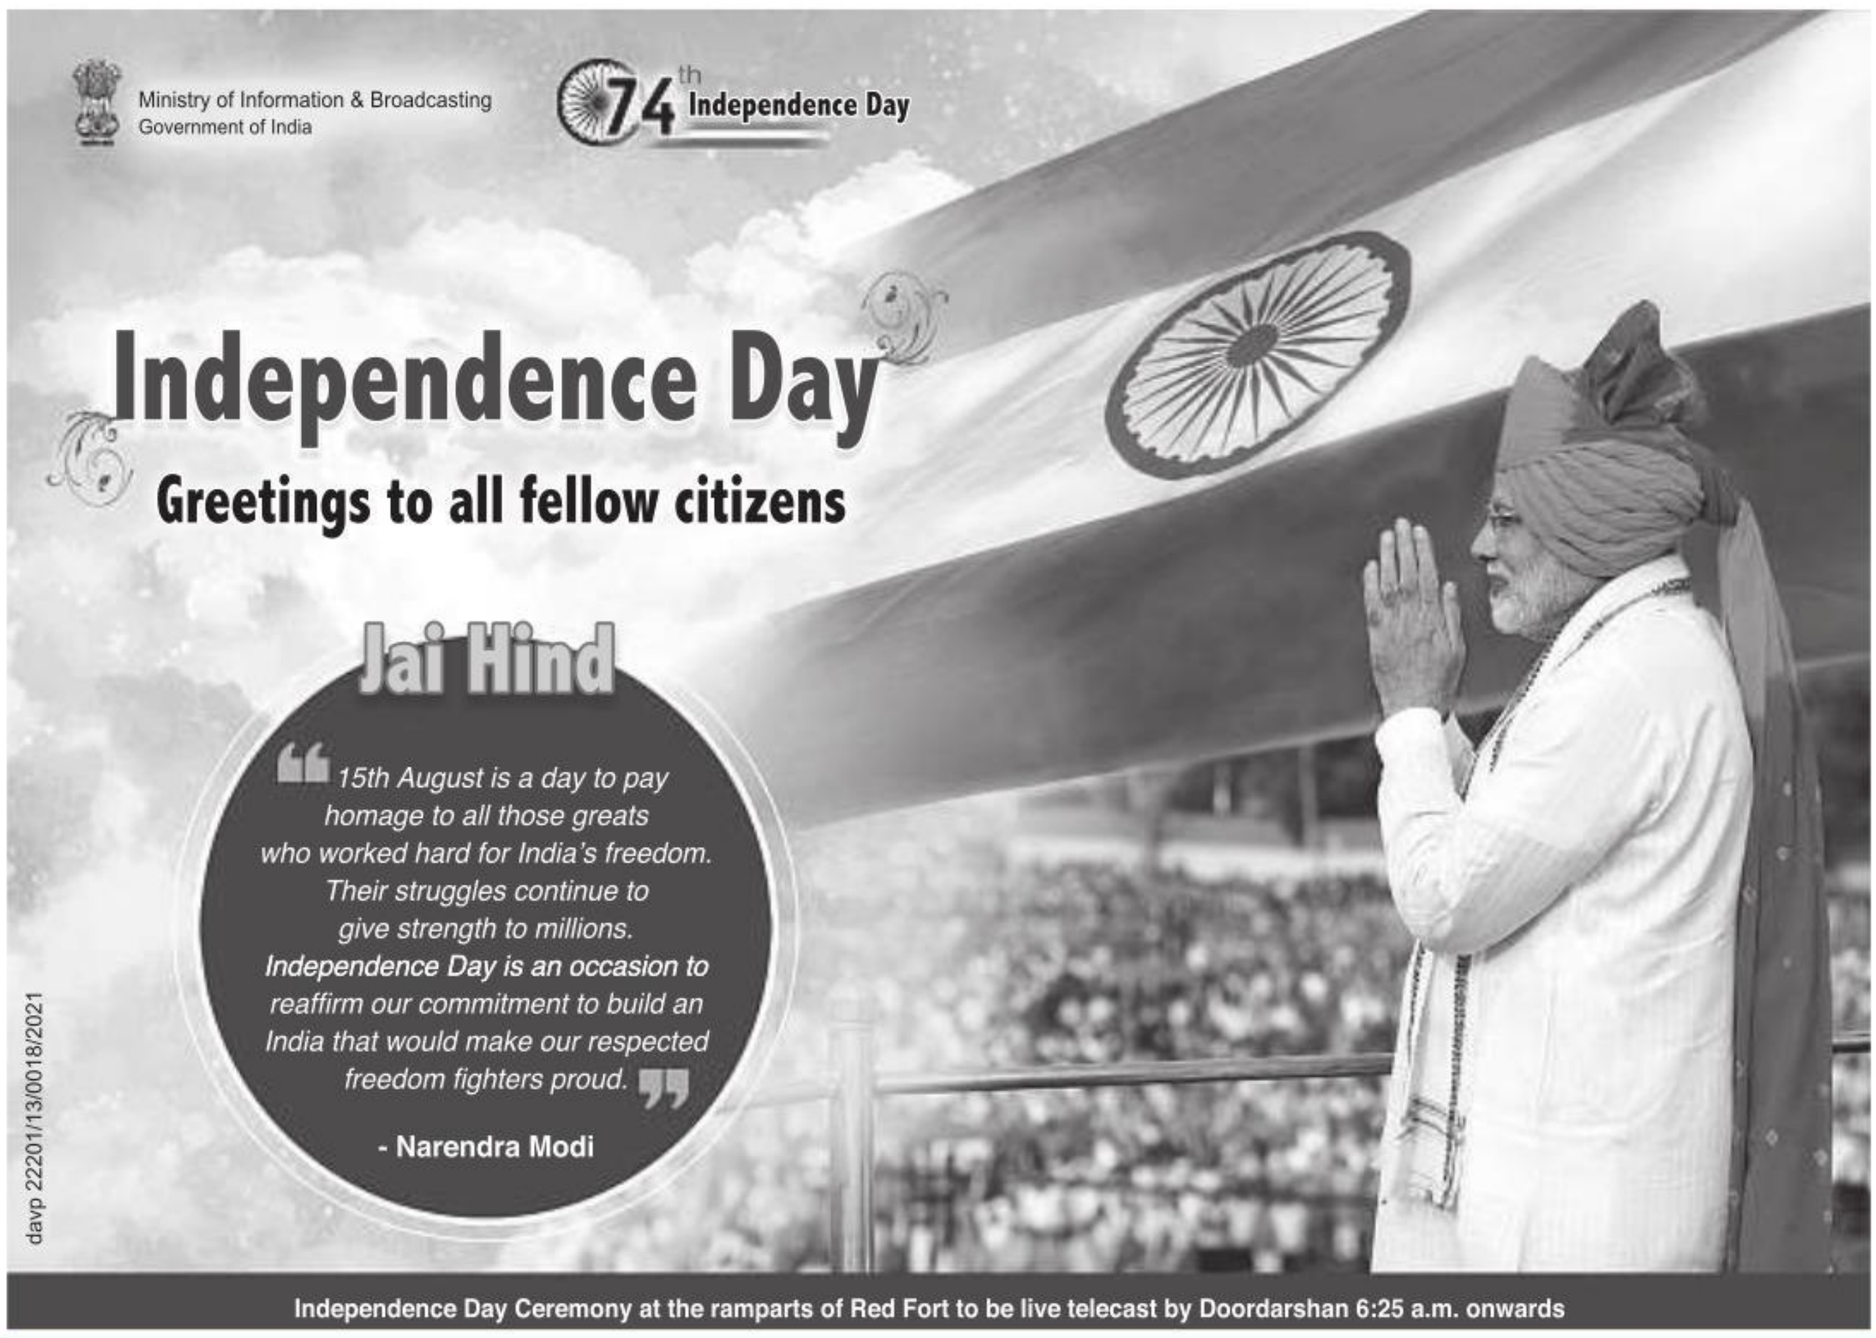
INDIA EXPORTED 23 lakh personal protection equipment to five countries, including the US, the UK and the UAE in July, after the government relaxed export norms and this has substantially helped the country to position itself in the global market of these kits, the Union health ministry said.

The other two countries are Senegal and Slovania, it said.

According to the ministry, the 'Make in India' spirit "embedded in the Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyaan has resulted in providing resilience and self-sufficiency" to the country for various medical equipment including PPE. While the Union government is supplying PPE kits, N95 masks, ventilators, etc., to the state governments and Union Territories administrations, states are also procuring these items directly.

"Between March and August 2020, they have procured 1.40 crore indigenous PPE from their own budgetary resources. During the same period, the Centre has distributed 1.28 crore PPE to states, UTs and central institutions, free of cost," the ministry said. The Centre has been leading the graded, pre-emptive, proactive and collaborative response and management of Covid, along with the states and UTs.

As part of its continued efforts towards progressively augmenting and strengthening the medical infrastructure in the country, various policy decisions have been taken on a regular basis.



Centre sets 362-cr-litre ethanol production target for sugar mills in 2020-21

NANDA KASABE
Pune, August 14

THE MINISTRY OF consumer affairs, food & public distribution has directed all sugar-producing states to ensure that 85% of the installed ethanol production capacity is used by the mills, as there are still huge sugarcane price arrears despite the government extending large scale fiscal assistance to the sugar industry.

The government has also set a mill-wise target of ethanol production for every mill that has a distillery attached to it, with an all-India cumulative target of producing 362 crore litre ethanol in 2020-21. The oil marketing companies issued a tender on Thursday with a requirement of 465 crore litres of ethanol.

"There is excess availability of sugar in the country which has been continuously depressing the ex-mill sugar prices, which has adversely affected the realisation on sale of sugar, thereby affecting the liquidity of sugar mills, resulting in accumulation of cane price arrears of farmers," the ministry stated in a note issued to all sugar-producing states.

To encourage mills to divert sugarcane to produce ethanol for blending with petrol, the government has also allowed production of ethanol from B-heavy molasses, sugarcane juice, sugar syrup and sugar. It has fixed remunerative ex-mill price of ethanol derived from c-heavy molasses at ₹43.75/litre; from B-heavy molasses at ₹54.27/litre and ₹59.48/litre for ethanol derived from sugarcane juice/sugar/sugar syrup for ethanol season 2019-20 (December-November).

The government has fixed 10% blending targets for mixing ethanol with petrol by 2022 and 20% blending targets by 2030. During the last ethanol supply year 2018-19, about 180 crore litres of ethanol was supplied by sugar mills to oil companies, achieving a 5% blending target.

The ministry has asked state governments to hold meetings with sugar mills and distillers to encourage them to produce ethanol. Currently, even the installed capacity for the production of ethanol has not been utilised by sugar mills, joint secretary of DFPD Subodh Kumar Singh said, advising the millers to use at least 85% of their existing capacity to produce ethanol.

Soft loans of ₹18,600 crore are being extended through banks to 362 projects (349 mills and 13 molasses-based distilleries) for enhancing ethanol production capacity for which an interest subvention of ₹4,045 crore is being borne by the government for five years, he stated.

Vikaas Group of Institutions

A Solid Foundation for a Prosperous Future

Discipline and value- based quality education that make Vikaas Group of Institutions stand

APART FROM THE REST

Krishna J Palemar, Chairman

Vikaas Group of Institutions, Mangaluru that recently celebrated Silver Jubilee of its founding, stands apart from the rest of the ilk for its focus on value-based quality education and ensuring discipline among students. Lot of efforts have gone behind the success of Vikaas that secured many ranks in Second Pre University Course, including five in 2019-20, by its founding Chairman Krishna J Palemar and his dedicated team. A few excerpts from the interview of Mr. Palemar:

Q: What prompted you to establish Vikaas PU College?

Mr. Palemar: It was my desire to groom a generation that imbibes in itself values that culminated in establishing Vikaas PU College. I had also planned to set up a medical college; but my subsequent entry into politics delayed the plan. Now that I'm bit free from politics, I will take the medical college proposal forward.

Q: How different is Vikaas from others, especially in coastal Karnataka that is known as a hub of education?

Mr. Palemar: Our main focus is on providing value-based education combined with ensuring discipline among students. While value based education would produce proud citizens, discipline would ensure adolescents deviating from their path.

Q: How is the academic performance of students in the College?

Mr. Palemar: In the current year the PU college got 5 state ranks. We do not just admit students scoring 90% and above just to excel in Board examinations. With first come-first served admission policy, we come out with flying colours every year in the Board exams solely due to focus on quality education. A rank holder this year was earlier considered incorrigible by his teachers. But I mentored him and he came out with a rank.

Q: What is the uniqueness of your academic campus?

Mr. Palemar: Our college is ideally located in a sprawling 4-acre campus on Airport Road, a pleasant locality on the outskirts of the coastal city of Mangaluru. And we have a beautiful campus with spacious classrooms equipped with the state of the art facilities. Finest of the teaching staff are with us.

How safe is hostel?

Parents' first and foremost concern to send their wards to colleges is the hostel life. The Institution has taken several safety measures to ward off fear among parents as to whether their children would contract the disease through food or not maintaining social distancing etc. Some of the measures are,

- Students would be taken inside after thermal test; only two students would be accommodated in one room. Every floor of the hostel would have one warden and one helper.
- Students would be served food in a safe environment inside their rooms. They would also be provided with study material. Constant vigil would be kept on their health.
- Since the institution has been growing organic vegetables within the campus, nutritious hygiene food made out of these vegetables would be provided to hostel inmates.
- Ensuring safety of hostel staff too is institution's priority to ensure students remain healthy. As such, the staff too would stay inside the campus.

Vikaas Group of Institutions

Vikaas Education Trust was formed in the year 1993 at Mangaluru with an aim to bring out a strong new generation that would imbibe in itself high ethical values, social responsibility and commitment to society. The Trust has made immense and worthwhile contributions to the education sector in Karnataka by opening institutions that have set high standards in higher education.

Vikaas PU College

The college was established in the year 2012 with a vision to groom young minds through value based education and discipline for building a strong nation. Vikaas PU College offers courses in science and commerce streams equipped with all futuristic requirements.

Vikaas Institutions has taken a bold decision to admit only 50% of the sanctioned strength during the current academic year. Admissions would be made on first come first serve basis.

Vikaas also boasts of taking another lofty decision of getting every student insured up to Rs. 1 lakh.

Vikaas College of Physiotherapy

The College of Physiotherapy, established in the year 1993, has been the leader in the segment. With focus on practical training, the College offers training to students in its own Vikaas Clinic where treatment is offered to the needy.

Vikaas First Grade College

Vikaas Group of Institutions forayed into higher education field last academic year by opening Vikaas First Grade College. The college offers B.Com course with attractive and job-oriented courses including Aviation Management.

Being safe is the foremost priority of Vikaas

Vikaas Group of institutions is fully conscious of its responsibility with regard to the health of its students at a time when a pandemic has affected us. All measures to safeguard the health of our students and faculty members have been instituted.

How would be safety measures in the college?

- The institution does not just concentrate on safety in the hostel; but would give equal priority to safety in the academic campus. Class rooms, laboratories, college office, rest rooms and other enclosures within the campus would regularly be sanitised.
- Keeping in mind safety and ease of learning of students, classes would be conducted in separate batches/ sections.
- Safety inside classrooms too would be equally important; only two students would be seated on one bench. Teachers would enter the campus after using sanitisers and being subjected to thermal scanning. They too would wear masks compulsorily. Sound system would be used in classrooms to ensure lessons are heard properly.

Sanitising Tunnel

Arrangements for day scholars

Ensuring safety of day scholars would be more challenging and the institution would enforce stringent rules in this regard for them. Every student would first have to wash hands at the entry and use face mask compulsorily. They would later undergo thermal screening and enter the classes after passing through a sanitising tunnel. Gatherings of students would not be allowed and everyone has to compulsorily maintain social distancing. The institution would not allow mingling of boarders and day scholars. Vikaas is confident of ensuring the campus free of any pandemic thereby facilitating ease of learning as well as good health among all.

Kamala Harris's Indian connections spark social media frenzy

Harris, whose father is of Jamaican ancestry, has downplayed her family's India ties

BLOOMBERG
Hong Kong/Bangalore, August 14

RISING POLITICAL STAR

- On Twitter and FB, a flurry of users chronicled every minute link including her grandparents' home in Chennai's Besant Nagar
- Twitter users highlighted her Indianness beginning with the name Kamala, which means lotus in several Indian languages
- The fuss over Harris's political elevation this week far outstripped the excitement over the rise of other Chennai-connected personalities such as actor Mindy Kaling and Alphabet Inc Chief Executive Officer Sundar Pichai

When Democratic Party presidential nominee Joe Biden picked Kamala Harris to be his running mate, it sparked a frenzy on the other side of the globe to track down her connections to Chennai, the southern Indian city where her mother was born.

On Twitter and Facebook, a flurry of users chronicled every minute link including her grandparents' home in the Besant Nagar neighbourhood, from where her mother Shyamala Gopalan set off as a teenager to pursue a doctoral degree at the University of California Berkeley. Undated photos surfaced of Kamala and younger sibling Maya in saris, smilingly posing with their grandparents during a visit. Many saw Harris a step away from the White House, and the de facto Democratic Party front-runner in four or eight years.

Writer Cauvery Madhavan captured the hysteria in a tweet: "If you're wondering what that loud windy up sound is - it's all of Chennai cranking the #SixDegreesOfSeparation machine!! Any moment now my mother is going to triumphantly reveal that her pharmacist's father was @KamalaHarris's grandma's preferred tailor." Another Twitter user, Priya Ravichandran, jested, "I was asked to Google and find which relative lives in besant nagar. People are this close to renting party bus and do drive by near their house and celebrate kamala."

Senator Harris is the first person of Indian descent and the first Black woman on a major ticket in a US presidential election. Indian media outlets, analyzing the geopolitical impact of her rise, argued a Biden-Harris win would further shore up a US-India relationship that had already improved markedly under Narendra Modi.

The closer ties between Modi and US President Donald Trump culminated in two giant stadium events in front of tens of thousands of supporters - one in Houston last September that saw the two leaders walking hand-in-hand to a rock-star like reception, and the other in Modi's home state of Gujarat in February. Still, the warming relations have not yet led to a long-anticipated US-India trade deal, although New Delhi is now purchasing more weapons from the US, including a new defence agreement worth more than $3 billion signed during Trump's visit to India earlier this year.

Local outlets and TV crews raced to hunt down an assortment of Harris's aunts and even a great-uncle who detailed her visits to the sprawling metropolis and her strolls on its humid beaches discussing democracy and equality with her grandfather, a retired government official.

A prominent Chennai newspaper carried the headline: "Kamala Devi Harris and the destiny-changing coconuts from Chennai." The story described Harris's aunt praying for her victory in the California Senate elections nine years ago by breaking 108 coconuts, a popular religious ritual, at the local temple. The paper quoted Harris phoning her aunt to say," Chithi (aunt), please pray for me and break coconuts at the temple."

Twitter users highlighted her Indianness beginning with the name Kamala, which means lotus in several Indian languages.

Xi makes a gamble by telling Chinese to clean their plates

BLOOMBERG
Beijing, August 14

China wasted an estimated 17-18 million tons of food annually as of 2015, according to the World Wildlife Fund, enough to feed as many as 50 million people

XI JINPING WANTS 1.4 billion diners to clean their plates. But the Chinese president's campaign against food waste risks touching a third rail in a country where meals are a cornerstone of private life.

This week, Xi rolled out a new push to curb the "shocking and distressing" problem of discarded leftovers, as he seeks to fortify a fragile food supply strained by floods, epidemics, locusts and trade wars. He cited a Tang Dynasty poem imploring people to "know that each grain on your plate comes from the labour of peasants."

The response to the "Clean Plates Campaign" has been swift, even by the standards of China's vast state-directed media apparatus, with editorials, exposes and even catering associations joining in. The national legislature is also fast-tracking legislation around it, suggesting the government will make sure Xi's order is strictly enforced. While official Chinese sources have avoided laying blame, local food prices climbed about 10% year on year in July - led by an 86% surge in the cost of pork. The coronavirus, locust swarms and severe floods across much of China's key farming areas are all putting pressure on supplies. At the same time, worsening security disputes with key import sources such as the US and Australia have raised new questions about the nation's long-term food security.

The bid to extend Communist Party oversight over eating habits, however, risks alienating the public. The ruling party has kept largely out of China's dining rooms since the days of Mao Zedong, who had instituted a rationing system to control people's intake of key staples as part of the planned economy.

"For ordinary Chinese, what to put on dinner table is their biggest politics," said Chen Daoyin, a political commentator who was an associate professor at Shanghai University of Political Science and Law before relocating to Chile. "Xi has always aspired to becoming a paternal leader of the Chinese people. With this campaign he's attempting to intervene in and discipline people's everyday life."

Frugality has been a tried-and-tested theme for Xi, highlighting his connection to ordinary people by cracking down on extravagance. Xi's "Eight Regulations," which among other things required more modest food consumption by party members, were an offshoot of an anti-corruption campaign launched early in his tenure. A similar "empty your plates" push in 2013 sought to stop food waste from increasing. The new campaign appears broader. One story published by the Chongqing Daily - an official mouthpiece of the southwestern city's government — exposed four restaurant patrons who ordered eight dishes and finished none. Catering associations have issued guidelines pushing eatery owners to offer customers the option of smaller portions.

A faltering US-China trade deal is now the nations' strongest link

REUTERS
Washington/Beijing, August 14

TOP US AND Chinese trade officials are expected to recommit to a Phase 1 trade deal during a review on Saturday, even though China's promised purchases of US exports are far behind schedule.

Current and former US government officials and trade experts in both countries say the Phase 1 deal, signed in January after nearly two years of tit-for-tat tariffs and angry rhetoric, is the one area where the world's two largest economies are still cooperating.

The Trump administration has sanctioned companies and individuals linked to a security crackdown in Hong Kong and human rights, banned a Chinese owned video app, penalized Chinese academics and closed Beijing's consulate in Houston in recent months.

Beijing has responded by closing the US consulate in Chengdu and sanctioning some members of Congress.

Despite the escalating conflict, the Phase 1 trade deal won't be dismantled, US officials say.

"They have said they intend to implement the plan and we are engaged with them," White House economic adviser Larry Kudlow said Thursday. "We have big differences with China on other matters, but regarding the Phase 1 trade deal, we are engaging."

Chinese trade advisors say the slowing of both economies because of coronavirus-related lockdowns has made it difficult to meet purchase targets, but they don't expect the White House to walk away.

"Being able to sit down and communicate with each other is a good thing," said a Chinese state think tank economist who has advised Beijing on the trade deal, while cautioning there was little optimism about further trade breakthroughs.

"It's hard for things to get even worse, while a best case scenario is hard to achieve," said the economist, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "How can flowers grow in such a bad environment?"

China is falling far short of a promised additional $77 billion in purchases of US farm and manufactured products, energy and services, although it has ramped up purchases of US farm goods including soybeans and corn in recent weeks.

Imports of farm goods have been lower than 2017 levels, far behind the 50% increase needed to meet the 2020 target of $36.5 billion.

Beijing has bought only 5% of the energy products needed to meet the Phase 1 first year goal of $25.3 billion.

How to close or explain away this gap will be the biggest challenge for US Trade Representative (USTR) Robert Lighthizer and Chinese Vice Premier Liu He during Saturday's video call.

Trade experts said there is little political upside for US President Donald Trump to abandon the deal at this stage, which would admit one of his biggest trade initiatives - already being hammered by Democratic rival Joe Biden - had failed.
