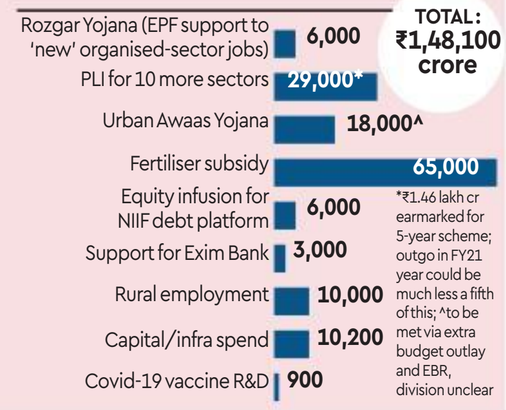
STIMULUS 3.0



Now, guaranteed credit for large firms in 27 sectors

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 12

THE GOVERNMENT ON Thursday launched a new version of its ₹3-lakh-crore guaranteed loan programme, originally meant for MSMEs, to benefit even larger firms in 27 stressed sectors ravaged by the Covid-19 pandemic, as it announced a raft of measures under the Aatmanirbhar package 3.0 to bring the economy back on its feet fast.

The move follows ₹1.46 lakh crore production-linked incentive (PLI) schemes launched for 10 sectors on Wednesday, seeking to lure mainly large companies to ramp up manufacturing base and boost exports.

However, the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) 2.0 has been rolled out without raising the overall loan limit, as one-third of the ₹3-lakh-crore cap is yet to be exhausted. That means no additional budgetary expenditure will be required for the revamped scheme. Nevertheless, it's open to revising the limit later, based on the responses.

Both the ECLGS 1.0 and ECLGS 2.0 will run simultaneously and companies can tap the schemes until March 2021, as the government seeks to ensure greater flow of credit to lift economic activities in the aftermath of the easing of lockdown. The ECLGS was earlier extended only up to November 30 this year.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said, under the ECLGS 2.0, companies in 26 stressed sectors identified by the Kamath panel as well as healthcare, with credit outstanding of above ₹50 crore and ₹500 crore as of February 29, will be eligible to get up to 20% additional collateral-free loan with official guarantee.

The sectors include power, construction, iron and steel, roads, real estate, wholesale trading, textiles, consumer durables, aviation, logistics, hotels, restaurants and tourism, and mining.

Tax sops announced to help developers, woo homebuyers

FE BUREAU
Mumbai/New Delhi, November 12

THE GOVERNMENT ON Thursday provided income tax relief to help builders clear their inventory as well as boost demand from homebuyers.

Simply put, now the differential limit between circle rate and market rate has been doubled to 20%, which means no income tax will be levied on the developers and the homebuyers for transactions made up to 20% below the circle rate. This limit was 10% till now. This relief is from the date of announcement till June 30, 2021.

However, this benefit has been limited to houses with prices of up to ₹2 crore and only for primary sales. Though developers welcomed the move, they also pointed out that by putting a price cap, a lot of inventory in central locations of Mumbai and National Capital Region will be out of the purview of this benefit.

At present, the homebuyers and developers have to pay tax if the differential between the circle rate and transaction value is more than 10% as that is seen as income under Section 43CA of the income tax Act. With this limit now being raised to 20% on properties up to ₹2 crore, inventory in the mid-income segment (₹75 lakh to ₹2 crore) is likely to get cleared.

According to ANAROCK Research, there are around 5.45 lakh unsold units across the top seven cities priced up to ₹1.5 crore while another 49,290 are priced between ₹1.5 crore and ₹2.5 crore.

HDFC vice-chairman and CEO Keki Mistry told CNBC TV18 this is a positive move as reckoner prices (circle rates) don't necessarily reflect the true value of the property in any particular location and many transactions happen lower than the ready reckoner price.

Emphasis on job creation for the low-skilled

FE BUREAU,
New Delhi, November 12

THURSDAY'S STIMULUS PACKAGE was marked by a thrust given to incentivising job creation. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman sought to earmark an additional ₹16,000 crore to meet this objective — ₹10,000 crore rural-oriented programmes, such as MG-NREGS and ₹6,000 crore for subsidising mandatory contributions by firms and workers towards employees' provident fund (EPF).

The rural employment guarantee scheme's budgetary cost was threatening to far exceed the outlay even after it was hiked by 65% to ₹1,01,500 crore. So far in the year, the government has spent ₹73,500 crore to run the popular scheme to create 251 crore person days of work, close to the level in the whole of last year. The fall in recent months of the person days generated under the rural employment guarantee scheme has been sharper than the decline in the demand for work.

According to the CMIE, the employment rate that declined by a massive 12.2 percentage points in April, recovered sharply in May-July, but the rate of recovery has since been negligible. The employment rate in October at 37.8% was 1.56 percentage points lower than it was in 2019-20.

Stimulus of barely 2% of GDP offset by spending rejig

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 12

THE STIMULUS 3.0 unveiled on Thursday notionally involves a maximum budgetary cost of ₹1.5 lakh crore or thereabouts in FY21, but the actual outgo is seen to be much less. Together with the ₹2.4-2.5 lakh crore outer limit for the combined size of the first two stimulus tranches, the government endeavours to spend less than ₹4 lakh crore or just about 2% of the gross domestic product (GDP) on the special schemes to resuscitate the pandemic-ravaged economy.

That is still below the average 'fiscal' stimuli size of 2.5% of GDP announced by countries which have been similarly rated by Moody's (Baa3, lowest investment grade), let alone the advanced economies or the G-20 brethren.

This is even as the IMF has predicted the country's economy to contract by a record 10% in FY21; RBI has recently stated that India's GDP would shrink 8.6% in the September quarter, following the 23.9% contraction in Q1, which was the sharpest among G-20 countries.

Of course, more stimulus measures might be in the offing, but the Centre's Budget size for FY21 may not still exceed the ₹30.4 lakh crore estimated, as the expenditure control measures being enforced are leading to considerable savings (an estimated ₹4 lakh crore in the April-December period alone). It has been a massive expenditure rejig, rather than fiscal expansion, so to speak.

EXPORT SCHEME

MEIS up 73% for Apr-Dec, but still just 40% of total for FY20

BANIKINKAR PATTANAYAK
New Delhi, November 12

THE FINANCE MINISTRY has raised its outlay for a key export scheme by 73% to ₹15,555 crore for the April-December period from its initial allocation of ₹9,000 crore, providing some relief to exporters as they struggle to cope with the damaging impact of the Covid-19 pandemic.

However, the revised outlay for the Merchandise Exports from India Scheme (MEIS) for the first three quarters of FY21 will still be way below last year's level. The finance ministry has approved ₹39,097 crore for the MEIS for the entire last fiscal.

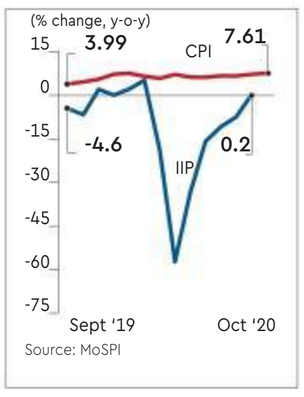
IIP rises 0.2% in Sept; CPI inflation at 77-month peak

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 12

RETAIL INFLATION SURGED to a 77-month high of 7.61% in October, complicating the task of the Reserve Bank of India at a time when Covid-induced risks to economic growth still remain too high for comfort.



Industrial production, meanwhile, rose 0.2% year-on-year in September, the first growth since February and compared with a 7.4% contraction in the previous month. The growth, however, is aided by a favourable base effect (IIP had contracted by as much as 4.6% in September last year).

Capital goods output shrank for 21 months in a row in September, reflecting gloomy investment climate, although the level of contraction has narrowed to just 3.3% from 14.8% in August. Consumer durables rose by 2.8% y-o-y in September, the first rise after 15th straight month of contraction, in the build-up to the festival season.

But what adds to the policymakers' woes is the stubbornness of retail inflation. It has remained above the MPC's tolerance band of 4 (+/-2)% for 10 of the past 11 months, despite purported Covid-induced demand compression in the economy.

While the government believes the spike is mainly caused by temporary supply-chain disruptions in the wake of the pandemic, the RBI on Wednesday pointed out a possible generalisation of inflation.

Food inflation spiked to 11.07% in October, against 10.68% in the previous month, remaining the biggest driver of the Consumer Price Index (CPI).

However, even core retail inflation has risen from about 4% in March to 5.7% in October. In October, core inflation rose by about 20 basis points from the September level, mainly due to elevated pressure from clothing and footwear, housing, health, and recreation and amusement.

Expecting an extended pause in key policy rates, India Ratings chief economist DK Pant said: "The Monetary Policy Committee is in a difficult situation with inflation breaching 6% for three consecutive quarters, growth being low and India having a recession (two consecutive quarters of negative growth) once Q2FY21 GDP numbers are released."

Icra principal economist Aditi Nayar said: "While a base effect and some softening in vegetable prices may pull down the CPI inflation in the ongoing month, it is expected to recede below 6% only in December 2020. With the level of the headline and core CPI inflation, and the internal dynamics in October 2020 remaining worrying, a rate cut in the December 2020 policy meeting appears to be ruled out." Even the likelihood of a repo rate cut in February 2021 seems rather low at this juncture, she added.

'India witnessing strong recovery'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

FINANCE MINISTER NIRMALA Sitharaman on Thursday said the Indian economy is witnessing a strong recovery after a long and strict lockdown. Addressing a press conference to announce more stimulus measures to boost growth, she said macro-economic indicators are pointing towards recovery.

She noted that Covid-19 active cases have declined from over 10 lakh to 4.89 lakh with case fatality rate (CFR) at 1.47%. Giving out details of recovery, she said composite purchasing managers index (PMI) rose to 58.9% in October versus 54.6% in the previous month, registering strongest increase in output in close to nine years.

Energy consumption growth trended higher in October at 12% year-on-year, while goods and services tax (GST) collections have grown 10% to over ₹1.05 lakh crore.

Daily railway freight tonnage grew by an average 20% year-on-year versus 12%, she said, adding bank credit has improved 5.1%. Also, foreign direct investment (FDI) inflows in April-August at $35.37 billion has seen a 13% rise on a year-on-year basis.

RBI has predicted a strong likelihood of Indian economy returning to positive growth in Q3 2020-21, ahead by a quarter from the earlier forecast, she said adding prominent economists have suggested that the rebound is not only due to pent up demand but also due to strong economic growth.

India's fuel demand rose 2.1% in Oct

INDIA'S FUEL DEMAND rose 2.1% in October compared with the same month last year.

Consumption of fuel, a proxy for oil demand, totalled 17.78 million tonne, data from the Petroleum Planning and Analysis Cell (PPAC) of the oil ministry showed.

Sales of gasoline, or petrol, were 4.5% higher from a year earlier at 2.65 million tonne.

Liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) sales increased 2.6% to 2.42 million tonne, while naphtha sales surged 17.1% to 1.30 million tonne.

Sales of bitumen, used for making roads, were 58.4% up, while fuel oil use edged up 13.2% in October.

Discom liquidity package: Loans of ₹1.18 lakh crore sanctioned

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

LOANS WORTH ₹1.18 lakh crore have been sanctioned so far by state-run non-banking finance firms Power Finance Corporation and REC under the liquidity package for stressed power distribution utilities, a statement said. In May, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman had announced ₹90,000-crore liquidity infusion into cash-strapped discoms facing demand slump due to the Covid-19 crisis. This package was later increased to ₹1.2 lakh crore by the ministry of power.

"The company and its subsidiary REC, upto October 31, 2020, has sanctioned an amount of ₹1,18,273 crore respectively under this scheme of liquidity package to eligible discoms," PFC said in a BSE filing.

The loans under the package will be co-funded by PFC and REC in equal proportion. The loans would be sanctioned in two equal tranches, it added.

Both the firms have disbursed around ₹31,100 crore under the package.

Under the liquidity infusion scheme of the Centre, REC and PFC are extending financial assistance at a concessional rate of interest. The package was announced on May 13, 2020. The discoms require liquidity to pay off their bills to the gencos (generation companies) and transcos (transmission firms).

According to the PRAAPTI portal (Payment Ratification And Analysis in Power procurement for bringing Transparency in Invoicing of generators), discoms' total outstanding dues as of September stand at ₹1.38 lakh crore. Power producers give 45 days to discoms for paying bills for the supply of electricity. After that, outstanding dues become overdue and generators charge penal interest on that in most cases.

Such overdues stand at ₹1.26 lakh crore out of the total outstanding dues of ₹1.38 lakh crore as of September 2020. The package would help to reduce outstanding dues of the discoms considerably. Besides, it would reduce stress on the power gencos and transcos as their payments are stuck with discoms. Besides the package, in order to give relief to gencos, the Centre had enforced a payment security mechanism from August 1, 2019. Under this mechanism, discoms are required to open letters of credit for getting power supply.

Fake ITC invoice scams busted in Delhi, Maha

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 12

THE GST INTELLIGENCE directorate has arrested a Maharashtra lawmaker's (MLA) son for issuing fake invoices worth ₹520 crore of input tax credit (ITC), sources in the tax department said. The arrest was part of a pan-India drive undertaken by the indirect tax department's intelligence wing.

Sunil Gutte, son of MLA Ratnakar Gutte, was arrested along with his associate after it was found that the firm in which he is a director had been engaged in availing ₹304 crore worth of ITC fraudulently while also passing ₹216 crore worth of ITC to other multiple entities. The ITC was availed based on fake invoices without actual supply or receipt of goods and services.

"It appears the main objective was to inflate the turnover of his firm artificially, and obtain enhanced credit limit from the bank," an official said.

About two year ago, Gutte's brother, a movie director, was also arrested for availing fraudulent IGST refunds.

"Their father who owned a sugar mill was also booked by Maharashtra police and enforcement directorate for allegedly availing loans worth ₹328 crore from six banks, using names of 2,298 farmers, some of whom were dead, from some villages in Parbhani district," another official said.

Separately, the central GST commissionerate in South Delhi busted a syndicate of firms involved in availing invoices and e-way bills issued on the GST identification numbers of fake firms and obtaining IGST refunds on these documents.

The firm in question M/s Baan Ganga Impex availed invoices from the fake entities amounting to about ₹685 crore involving GST of ₹50 crore and succeeded to get refund of ₹35 crore.

India, Russia eye $30-bn annual trade by 2025

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, November 12

INDIA AND RUSSIA are aiming to achieve $30 billion in annual bilateral trade by 2025. The trade between the two countries stood at close to $10 billion in 2019. Russian deputy chief of mission Roman Babushkin told FE, "The FTA between India and Eurasian Union is a priority project for all of us and we are moving towards the early conclusion of the agreement."

"Indian partners show growing engagement in the Russian Far East oil and gas, coking coal, diamonds, innovation, infrastructure, civil aviation, shipbuilding and other projects as well. Both countries are working to expand regional connectivity through the North-South Transport Corridor, Vladivostok-Chennai Maritime Sea Route, space, AI, information security partnership, use of national currencies in international trade and ensure interconnection of national payment systems," Babushkin said.

Touching on defence, a main pillar of the India-Russian engagement, Babushkin said Russia is aiming to ensure a largest participation in the Air-India 2021 in Bengaluru, which will also see big developments in cooperation. Under the current programme, which is due to expand for next 10 years, the S-400 Air Defence Systems contract is one of the most important ones with $54 billion worth first batch expected to come by the end of 2021.

Under the AK-203 contract, more than 7 lakh items is to be produced as part of the Indo-Russian Rifles JV in India, in the $2-billion Ka-226 helicopter project, 140 out of 200 machines will be produced in India with maximum possible level of localisation and that is at the final stages of consideration.

Russia and India are also eyeing an early implementation of the spare parts joint production pact which also fits well in the Make in India and Atmanirbhar Bharat programmes.

Export scheme: MEIS up 73% for April-Dec, but still just 40% of total for FY20

Earlier this year, both the finance ministry and the NITI Aayog pointed out that the MEIS had been losing its efficacy and the cost to the exchequer far outweighed the benefits in terms of higher exports, a claim disputed by exporters. The massive cut in MEIS allocation came in the aftermath of the pandemic, which strained the government's finances and forced it to reprioritise expenditure. After December, the MEIS is supposed to be replaced by another scheme that will reimburse exporters taxes on inputs consumed in exports.

In an office memorandum sent to director-general of foreign trade Amit Yadav on Thursday, Gopal Krishna Jha, director (drawback) in the revenue department, said an MEIS allocation of ₹10,555 crore has been approved for exports between April and August and another ₹5,000 crore for the September-December period.

"Further, keeping in mind the ongoing stress on Customs revenues, it's suggested to limit the issuance of MEIS duty credit scrips in this financial year. Accordingly, DGFT is requested to issue MEIS scrips up to a total value of ₹16,000 crore in FY21," Jha wrote.

Merchandise exports witnessed a record 60% crash, year-on-year, in April, although the pace of contraction has since narrowed as lockdown restrictions have been lifted. The exports grew 6% on year in September, the first rise since February, before contracting again by 5.4% in October, as risks from external headwinds still remained very strong.

Notably, the government had in August decided to cap benefits under the MEIS at just ₹2 crore per exporter during the September-December period. Exporters were also upset that even this limit could be revised down, as the government had limited overall outgo under the MEIS to just ₹5,000 crore during these four months.

According to a commerce ministry estimate, about 98% of the exporters who claim MEIS will remain unaffected by the changes and less than 2% are likely to be impacted as per analysis of claims in the relevant period of 2018-19. However, some exporters have highlighted that these 2% exporters account for a substantial chnuk of the exports covered under the MEIS.

Earlier this fiscal, starved of resources following the pandemic, the revenue department "suddenly" capped the outlay for the MEIS at just ₹9,000 crore for the April-December period, which meant that exporters might be deprived of over two-thirds of the benefits they usually get under this scheme. This forced the commerce ministry to block the online module for claiming the MEIS benefits since July 23. However, the online module has been reactivated since September 1.

PMLA CASE

Court rejects Deepak Kochhar's bail plea

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, November 12

A SPECIAL COURT on Thursday rejected the default bail plea of businessman Deepak Kochhar, husband of former ICICI Bank CEO Chanda Kochhar and an accused in money laundering case.

Deepak Kochhar was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in September under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) in the ICICI Bank-Videocon money laundering case.

The businessman, through his lawyer, applied for bail on merits as well as on account of default, claiming the prosecution has failed to file a charge-sheet in the case within stipulated period.

The special PMLA judge rejected his default bail plea, while the one filed on merits is posted for hearing on November 23, ED's lawyer Hiten Venegaokar said. The ED had arrested Deepak Kochhar in September.

PFRDA expects process for NPS Trust split to start next fiscal

THE PENSION FUND Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA) expects to begin the process for separating NPS Trust from itself in the next financial year as roping in a consultant for the process takes time, the regulator's chairman Supratim Bandyopadhyay said.

In the Union Budget for 2019-20, the government had proposed to separate the NPS Trust from the pension regulator in order to address issues of conflict of interest.

"As per the directive of our board, we had floated an EoI (Expression of Interest) and we have got about 5-6 EoIs from very good consulting firms. Now, we will send RFP (Request for Proposal) to them. The RFP process takes time, then our board will give a final approval. We have set a deadline of March 31 (2021) for a consultancy to pick-up its job. Thereafter, the separation process can start," Bandyopadhyay said. —PTI

Commercial mining: Next round of auction of blocks in January

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

COAL MINISTER PRALHAD Joshi on Thursday said the Centre is planning to go for next round of auction of blocks in January and also appealed to the states to cooperate with commercial mine allottees to facilitate early operationalisation of the blocks as it would create a positive atmosphere and boost confidence of investors.

The statement assumes significance as of the total 35 coal mines successfully auctioned in the last 10 tranches of auction, only 14 blocks could begin operations.

"I appeal to the state governments to cooperate (with the successful allottees of commercial coal mines auction)," the minister said in an interview.

He said, "Allow the 19 bidders which have been allotted blocks to operationalise the mines. Rest will also get confidence. So, we will have to create such atmosphere. Cooperation means you (state) should get them (allottees) earlier clearances for the blocks...We want cooperation from state governments with regard to land acquisition, pollution control board."

New Covid cases: 78% from 10 states and UTs, Delhi at highest

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

As many as 52,718 new recoveries were registered in a day as against 47,905 infections during the same period.

Centre to bear higher subsidy for procuring jute bags this Kharif season

INDRONIL ROYCHOWDHURY
Kolkata, November 12

THE CENTRE WILL have to pay a higher subsidy for procuring jute bags this Kharif season, with the Jute Corporation of India (JCI) referred price of raw jute touching up to ₹6,025 per quintal, increasing cost per bag by up to ₹53. Kousik Chakraborty, deputy jute commissioner, JCI, said every 100 bags cost ₹5,344 with raw jute's reference price accounting for 60% of a bag's price component.

Central agencies like the Food Corporation of India (FCI) reimburse 100% of the expenditure incurred by the states in procuring the bags. The raw jute price rise is a fall out of price rigging by a section of middlemen pushing up the subsidy burden on the Centre. Farmers have not benefitted by price rise, prompting JCI to exercise its power of strictly regulating the jute market through capping prices and restricting stock quantum. "The JCI is also mulling to prepare a list of who can stock jute and who can't, violating which would attract penal action under section 7 of the Essential Commodity Act," Chakraborty said.

JCI had last month ordered the traders to bring down raw jute stocks to up to 1,500 quintal but has further decreased it to up to 500 quintal, also to be made be applicable for jute mills, currently supplying bags equivalent to 2 lakh bales per month against their capacity of 3 lakh bales per month. Every jute bale makes 500 sacks.

The Jute mills, which usually keep there months of raw jute stock, have committed supplying bags equivalent to 14 lakh jute bales against an indent of 24 lakh jute bales for the Kharif season. But, so far, they have supplied 9 lakh bales equivalent of sacks, which creates doubt whether they would be able to supply their committed quantity, Chakraborty said.

ASMITA DEY
New Delhi, November 12

CELEBRATIONS HAVE BEEN low-key this year across the country, be it Durga Puja, Navratri or any other festival. Food — already a big part of festivities every year — has been the one thing to lift sentiments of people stuck at home. As a result, with households lighting up for Diwali, food brands are ready with new offerings to spread the cheer.

Mad over Donuts has curated three special flavours: motichoor, kaju katli and soan-papdi. CEO Tarak Bhattacharya said the items will "perfectly complement Diwali celebrations". The company is banking on the new launches to achieve pre-Covid levels of festive sales. Typically, Diwali donuts contribute about 20% to overall sales.

New Delhi-based Ghee Shakkar has launched traditional nankhatai. Founder Nishant Goel said the firm has already sold more than 1,000 boxes.

Luxury sweet shop Khoya Mithai, too, has six new varieties of burfis in the offing: pista, chocolate, gur, badam, coconut and Bikaneri. The brand, which has seen an increase in bookings since lockdown restrictions were eased, is gearing up to service bulk orders during Diwali.

Weddings rescheduled for the winter are adding to the demand, according to founder and director Sid Mathur. "Although people are sceptical of stepping out, demand for online deliveries has been strong. In fact, total sales during July and August have been better compared to the same period last year."

Chennai-based Shubh Foods is making kaju pak as it believes people need "good sweets to break the monotony". Although the demand is fairly decent, sales are projected to be lower than previous years as restricted celebrations will limit gifting needs. A company spokesperson said it is logging more orders from corporates.

Celebrity chef and restaurant consultant Rehman Mujeebur is creating exclusive desserts — Bahar e Gulab and papite ka halwa — for his patrons this Diwali. Order volumes from Mumbai, Pune and Patna in particular have been high. "We have received a lot of delivery orders this time and a couple of bulk bookings too," he said.

IHCL (The Indian Hotels Company) Hotels in Delhi-NCR have curated shahi mithai, beetroot halwa, apple jalebi and turmeric ice cream for guests to savour. Some restaurants will also plate up caramelised honeydew pecan pie, and fig and apricot cake. The company has seen growing demand for social celebrations, workcations and staycations. In fact, the recently refurbished all-day diner Machan in Taj Mahal, New Delhi, recorded heavy footfall on Karva Chauth, executive chef Arun Sundararaj said.

Premium French bakery Enchante is serving their nutty mawa cake, dark chocolate fennel truffles, mango and saffron bonbons and coconut cookies. The company claims to have already witnessed a 20% spike in pre-customer bookings for Diwali. Foodhall has partnered with a number of homegrown, artisanal brands to provide a fresh range of traditional and contemporary mithai to consumers. The firm has stocked up on traditional mithai by Gur Chini, authentic Turkish baklava by Hurrem's, dry fruit, nuts, date boxes by Deliciae and handcrafted Baklava by The Baklava Co, said concept head Avni Biyani.

Ice cream brand Get-A-Whey is expecting a 225% increase in festive sales over last year, and has launched a rasmalai flavoured ice-cream. Their Festive Delight tub has received over 500 pre-orders for despatch and the firm is stocked out on the first lot of production. Naturals is introducing shahi anjeer and royal dry fruit ice-cream. The company, which usually sees a 135%-150% increase in sales during Diwali, is assuming demand to be high this year too, as most consumers are expected to stockpile, said director Siddhant Kamath.

RACE FOR VACCINE

Serum completes enrolment for AstraZeneca phase 3 trial

FE BUREAU
Pune, November 12

VACCINE MAKER SERUM Institute of India (SII) announced on Thursday the completion of enrolment of Phase III clinical trials for Covishield vaccine.

Serum Institute and the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) enrolled 1,600 volunteers to administer the Oxford University- AstraZeneca vaccine.

Adar Poonawalla, CEO of SII, said, the ICMR-SII collaboration would put India at the forefront of developing an immunogenic and efficacious vaccine.

This partnership testifies the importance of private-public institutes coming together in scaling up the management and containing the spread of the virus, Poonawalla said.

ICMR and SII have also collaborated for clinical development of the Covovax vaccine, developed by Novavax, USA and upscaled by SII. This vaccine formulated at SII will be tested in a Phase III trial in India. SII and ICMR will be soon seeking regulatory approval for starting these trials in India. Novavax has already initiated its late phase trials in South Africa and the UK and will soon commence the same in the USA. SII has received the bulk vaccine and Matrix-M adjuvant from Novavax and will soon fill and finish them in vials.

Adar Poonawalla, CEO of SII, said, the ICMR-SII collaboration would put India at the forefront of developing an immunogenic and efficacious vaccine

Dr Balram Bhargava, DG, ICMR, said the partnership will see scientists of both the entities facilitate the advancement of regulatory approvals for Covishield and Covovax while ensuring strict adherence to all the requisite scientific, ethical and regulatory standards.

The vaccine maker has already manufactured 40 million doses of the vaccine, under the at-risk manufacturing and stockpiling license from the Drug Controller General of India.

The Covishield vaccine comprises two doses. Around 1,000 volunteers have already received the first shot of the Covid-19 vaccine and the second booster dose has to be administered 29 days after the first shot for ensuring full protection. This process of administering vaccine to volunteers is expected to be completed over the next two to three weeks, the company said.

ICMR has funded the clinical trial site fees, while SII has funded other expenses for Covishield. They are conducting the ongoing clinical trials across 15 centres in India. There have been no adverse reports so far in the country.

The promising result of the trials so far gives confidence that the Covishield could be a solution to the pandemic.

SII has developed the Covidshield vaccine at SII Pune laboratory with a master seed from Oxford University-Astra Zeneca. The vaccine made in UK is currently being tested in large efficacy trials in UK, Brazil, South Africa and USA.

LUCA CASIRAGHI & BIJOU GEORGE
London/Mumbai, November 12

A hedge fund shareholder of Vedanta has asked the Indian commodities firm to recall a $956 million loan to units of its parent, setting the stage for a battle with billionaire Anil Agarwal.

The loan represented an "improper transfer of value" away from minority shareholders to Agarwal-controlled Vedanta Resources, London-based hedge fund Kyma Capital, which owns less than 1% in Vedanta, wrote to the company late Wednesday.

"This is a clear-cut case of siphoning off funds and value that belongs to Vedanta, and all its stakeholders," said the fund, which is run by Akshay Shah, a former Blackstone Group manager.

Representatives for Vedanta didn't respond to an email and calls for comment. The unsecured loans were extended mainly as cash management activities for better rates, Vedanta chief financial officer Arun Kumar had said in a call with analysts on November 6. Following a $207 million repayment by June 2021, about $300 million will be repaid each year, he said.

The hedge fund's objection comes as Agarwal's holding companies including Vedanta Resources face a combined $1.17 billion in debt that's maturing next year, according to Bloomberg-compiled data. The billionaire's attempts to take Mumbai-listed Vedanta private failed just over a month ago, prompting credit-rating downgrade warnings on concern about the funding needs of Vedanta Resources.

Kyma Capital also asked Vedanta's board to start a special independent audit into the loan, according to its letter that was released in a public filing. The hedge fund highlighted the resignation of an independent director on the board, and questioned the choice of "obscure" auditors based in Gurgaon that it said had no statutory authorization to audit the Jersey-headquartered unit that made the loan.

While the loan was made to Vedanta Resources over a period of time, a large chunk — $430 million — was lent since September 30, according to the company's most recent quarterly earnings disclosures last week.

Vedanta's shares have fallen about 32% this year. "Vedanta trades at a massive discount to its fair value also due to concerns over the high debt levels at the promoter entities, especially Vedanta Resources," according to Rahul Jain, an analyst at Systematix Shares & Stocks.

Kyma, which was founded by Shah in 2018, has a history of activism, previously publicly voicing opposition to the debt restructuring plan of Spanish gaming firm Codere SA, whose bonds it owned.

Tellurian deal: Petronet says no plans to invest in LNG

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

IN SIGNS IT may shelve the $2.5 billion Tellurian deal, Petronet LNG on Thursday said it has no plans to invest in LNG projects as the market is awash with cheaper fuel.

Petronet, India's biggest gas importer, had on September 21, 2019, signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) for the purchase of up to 5 million tonne per annum of liquefied natural gas (LNG) from Tellurian's proposed Driftwood LNG terminal for 40 years.

The deal was concurrent with Petronet making an equity investment of $2.5 billion for an 18% stake in Driftwood.

The September MoU contemplated the conclusion of the transaction by March 31, 2020, but the timeline was extended twice, the latest till December-end.

In the post-second-quarter earnings call, Petronet director, finance, V K Mishra said the Tellurian deal is non-binding and "there is no obligation on either party". "LNG is available at a throwaway price and so there appears to be no need to invest in liquefication terminals," he said.

The MoU with Tellurian envisages exploring options for a deal, which so far hasn't happened, he said, adding the deal was to secure LNG at cheaper rates.

But with the fuel being available in abundance at a throwaway price, there appears to be no need for investment, he said. "It is not lucrative to invest," he said.

Mishra said the company, which operates two LNG import facilities at Dahej in Gujarat and Kochi in Kerala, is continuing to discuss a new long-term LNG contract linked to spot or current prices.

Petronet is also looking at expanding the Dahej terminal's capacity to 19.5 million tonne per annum from the current 17.5 million tonne by adding additional storage tanks, he said.

The firm is awaiting final approval from Sri Lankan authorities to build a floating LNG terminal in the island nation for about $300 million.

US energy upstart Tellurian had failed to qualify in a tender for supply of competitively priced gas.

Hoping the repeat his success at Cheniere Energy — the US liquefied natural gas pioneer — energy tycoon Charif Souki launched Tellurian four years ago, but the 27.6 million tonne per annum (mtpa) plant, costing $30 billion, remains unbuilt years after construction was due to begin.

AHEAD OF THE festive season, one in three Indian professionals expect an increase in their income, spending and debt payments, according to a survey by online professional network LinkedIn.

Based on the survey responses of 2,022 professionals for the weeks of October 5 to November 1, the pre-festive season findings reveal India's improving financial outlook, as Gen X and Millennial professionals expect their earned income and personal spending to increase, it said.

This rising optimism comes at a time when the festive season approaches and as India's economy slowly opens up, a LinkedIn statement noted.

The optimism is shared mutually across generations as findings of the survey show two in five Gen X (40%) and Millennial (41%) professionals expect their earned income and personal spending to rise in the next six months

One in three professionals are expecting an increase in their earned income (30%), personal spending (35%), and recurring debt payments (33%), the survey findings revealed.

This optimism is shared mutually across generations as findings show two in five Gen X (40%) and Millennial (41%) professionals expect their earned income and personal spending to rise in the next six months.

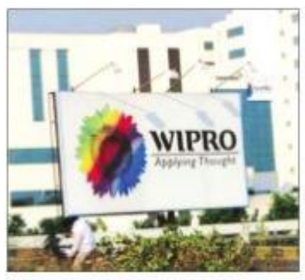
EYE ON NON-US MARKET

Wipro to adopt new model

Effective Jan 1 next year, IT giant will rejig businesses into 4 strategic market units and simplify delivery model



PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

WIPRO IS BRINGING in a new operating model from next year under which its business will be restructured into four strategic market units (SMUs) and delivery model will be simplified as the IT giant looks to drive growth in the non-US markets.

In an email to employees, Wipro CEO Thierry Delaporte said the company's growth has been largely dependent on the US market, and noted that it is important that the company broad base its growth.

"Effective January 1, 2021, we will replace the current structure of seven strategic business units, service lines and nine geographies with four strategic market units (SMUs) and two global business lines (GBLs)...Besides ensuring adequate sector and domain focus in our go-to-market and execution, the new operating model will help drive growth in non-US markets," he said.

Delaporte said the current complex delivery structure with multiple delivery units will be replaced by a simple delivery model that will yield economies of scale.

The four SMUs identified are Americas 1, Americas 2, Europe and Asia Pacific Middle East Africa (APMEA). While Americas 1 and Americas 2 are organised by sectors, Europe and APMEA would be structured by countries. APMEA will include Australia and New Zealand, India, Middle East, South East Asia, Japan and Africa.

The two GBLs include iDEAS (Integrated Digital, Engineering and Application Services) and iCORE (Integrated Cloud Infrastructure (CIS), Digital Operations (DOP), Risk and Enterprise Cyber Security Services (CRS).

Delaporte, who took charge as Wipro CEO in July this year, said he has held meetings with clients, partners and employees. "I expect the new structure to bring the best of Wipro closer to customers," Delaporte said.

ENHANCING CONNECTIVITY

Prime minister of India Narendra Modi

"Enhancing every type of connectivity between India and ASEAN—physical, economic, social, digital, financial, maritime—is a major priority for us. In the last few years, we have come close to all these areas"

SHOBHANA SUBRAMANIAN

Economy remains in the ICU for now

There is some recovery but revenues won't really grow till FY23 and it is not clear investment is returning in a hurry

THERE SEEMS TO be much jubilation about the recovery, both in the economy and corporate India. No doubt the rebound has been impressive; electricity, railway freight, E-Way bills and GST collections are all doing better, and companies have displayed remarkable resilience, with some reporting stellar performances. But then, every country has its Asian Paints, the L&Ts, HDFC Banks, the Infosys-es and TCS-es, a handful of companies that will do well whatever the situation. The headline jump in profits may seem impressive, but the optimism needs to be tempered because the quality of earnings is not great. Much of the profits come not from a robust rise in revenues as one would want but from deep cost cuts. For a sample of 1,337 companies (excluding banks and financials) sales have fallen by about 8% y-o-y; a fair bit of these revenues—including those of IT players—has come from pent-up demand. The fact is businesses have benefited from benign commodity prices and savings on raw materials, discounts, advertising, staff and overheads; total expenditure is down a sharp 16% y-o-y. For hundreds of companies, profits have been hard to come by since key sectors—automobiles, aviation, retail, capital goods, telecom, hospitality, commodities—remain under pressure. It is worrying that sales of two-wheelers and passenger vehicles fell by 27% and 9%, respectively, in October, even if the timing of the festive season is different. It is worse that sales of CVs and three-wheelers dipped by a sharper 30% and 65%, respectively.

The economy is expected to create ₹185 lakh crore of value-add in FY21, and there are millions whose jobs have not been impacted by the pandemic; that's what the spends are reflecting. But, there are many more millions whose livelihoods have been disrupted by the pandemic. Demand needs to sustain post-January and into FY22 for revenues to grow. Right now, it is hard to imagine revenues growing on a sustained basis before FY23, even if a vaccine is available by mid-2021. The near absence of private sector investment is a big challenge. New project announcements have been falling in H1 for the past five years save H1FY19; in H1FY21, they fell sharply by 69% y-o-y, to ₹1.5 lakh crore thanks to an 81% decline in government projects and a 45% fall in private sector projects. With the private sector over-leveraged and public debt at an elevated 70% of GDP, there is little room to make big investments. ICRA reckons that most states will be short of funds this year and, therefore, capital spends could see a sizeable aggregate cut of ₹2.5-2.7 lakh crore for a clutch of 12 states. Typically, states account for at least 50% of the country's capex.

> It is nice to speak of the economy near pre-Covid levels but keep in mind GDP grew at just 3.2% in Q4FY20 which had just one week of the lockdown and it was an embarrassing 4.2% in all of FY20

That means fewer jobs. CARE reports that the increase in headcount, for 1,703 companies, slowed to just 2% in FY20, at 6.54 million, from 4.1% in FY19. These numbers are somewhat understated since they do not include outsourced labour, but the trend is worrying. Also, the incremental headcount came down sharply from 2,55,176 in FY19 to 1,25,542 in FY20, with only banking and IT making additions. Again, the finance sector added only half the number of people in FY20 that it did the previous year. With increasing automation and digitisation, these additions could shrink in the coming years.

In the absence of serious labour reforms and policy sanctity and reliability, it is hard to see too many investors, foreign or local, committing capital. Real interest rates may be low, but most businesses are unwilling to risk capital. Regulation must be fair and reliable if private capex is to make a strong comeback. And, while the services sector accounts for more than half the economy, and can create thousands of jobs, this too requires some investments. Without enterprises surviving, growing and proliferating, there is no way consumption can get a boost.

Again, for banks to regain confidence and to start lending, the IBC must be restored. Despite deposits flooding banks, loan growth remains at its lowest levels in decades, at 5-6%, with virtually no increase in credit to industry. And, while borrowings in the bond markets may be up, only the best companies are able to access this money. We need to rejuvenate and revive small and medium businesses. As RBI points out, there is the risk of "stress intensifying among households and corporations that has been delayed but not mitigated", which could spill over into the financial sector. Unless borrowers regain the confidence to leverage themselves and until banks become less risk-averse, it is hard to see the economy growing at a sustained 6-7%. Given the severity of the lockdown, it is no doubt a relief the economy is back to near pre-Covid levels. But GDP grew at only 3.2% y-o-y in Q4FY20 (with just one week of lockdown) and an embarrassing 4.2% in FY20 with capacity utilisation barely at 70%. It is small consolation that the economy will contract by just 8.9% in FY21 and not 9.6%, or that the economy will grow by 8.6% in FY22 and not by 8.1%, because the base is so low. We need to raise the bar.

Make bail the norm

SC's observations while granting Arnab Goswami bail must be heeded

THE INTERIM BAIL granted to Republic TV's Arnab Goswami in an 'abetment to suicide' case is a step in the right direction. Republic TV's and Goswami's 'journalism' is undoubtedly corrosive, given how people are proclaimed guilty even before the due probe/judicial processes have been completed, but his arrest smacked of political vendetta. More important, bail for Goswami is a reinforcement of 'bail, not jail' being the guiding principle for the judicial system. Indeed, while the bench comprising Justices Indira Banerjee and DY Chandrachud wrote in the bail order that the Bombay High Court "was in error in rejecting the application for grant of interim bail", Chandrachud had observed that the SC "is unhappy that HCs, which are constitutional courts, are not doing enough in matters where personal liberty is denied ... if this court were not to interfere today, we are travelling on a path of destruction of personal liberty undeniably ... If state govt's target individuals in this manner, let's send out a message that SC is there".

That said, safeguarding of individual liberties and judicial protection against political vendetta through state action can't be selective. So, bail for Goswami should also mean bail for other journalists jailed under flimsy pretexts. Indeed, the Editors Guild of India, against the backdrop of Goswami's arrest, had written to Uttar Pradesh chief minister Yogi Adityanath calling for the state to uphold press freedom—Adityanath had been one of the many BJP leaders who had come out vocally in support of Goswami after his arrest. The UP police had arrested Siddique Kappan, a Delhi-based journalist working for a Malayalam news portal, when he was on his way to Hathras to report on the alleged rape-murder of a Dalit girl. He is facing charges under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act that provides for some of the most draconian incarceration powers available to the government. He has been in jail since early October. Indeed, Kapil Sibal, who represented Maharashtra in the Goswami case, told SC that when he brought Kappan's case to SC to ask for bail, it told him to go to the lower court; SC did not respond to Sibal's statement.

The SC/ST Atrocities Act has been invoked by the UP government against Supriya Sharma, executive editor of Scroll.in, for reporting on the poor state of affairs in Varanasi, the PM's parliamentary constituency. Others have been booked for reporting on mismanagement at a Covid-19 isolation centre and even the failure of the mid-day meal scheme in certain areas in the state. Odisha booked defence commentator Abhijit Iyer Mitra for 'offending sentiments of the people' over something that was clearly in a lighter vein. Close to 70% of prisoners in India's overcrowded jails are under-trials, as per data from the National Crime Records Bureau. This and serious under-staffing in jails (just about 70% of the sanctioned posts are occupied in Indian prisons) make for a deadly cocktail for prison administration in India. The government—states and the Centre—will simply be exacerbating this problem, if bail is not made the norm.

US ELECTIONS 2020

A TRUMP PUSHED OUTSIDE THE LEGAL MOAT THAT SURROUNDS THE WHITE HOUSE BECOMES, FOR THE MOST PART, A TRUMP WHO CAN BE SUED AND PENALISED JUST AS ANY OTHER AMERICAN CAN

Why Trump fears leaving the White House

TIMOTHY L O'BRIEN

Bloomberg

DONALD TRUMP IS the luckiest man alive. Unlike almost, well, everyone, he has been protected from the consequences of his own mistakes his entire life.

Born into a wealthy family, he was insulated from lukewarm academic prospects and serial business crack-ups by his father's money. ("I often say that I am a member of the lucky sperm club", is how he put it in one of his books.) Emerging as a reality-TV star in the early 2000s, Trump discovered that fame allowed him to be as predatory as he pleased without repercussions. ("When you are a star, they let you do it".) And his 2016 ascent to the White House opened his eyes to the presidency's legal armor—which he interpreted broadly and often inaccurately. ("I have an Article II, where I have the right to do whatever I want as president".)

Although Trump has over the years juggled, among other difficulties, ho-hum grades, the threat of personal bankruptcy, sexual assault accusations, an intensive federal investigation and an impeachment, he has plowed ahead relatively unwounded and unencumbered by regret. Wealth, celebrity and the presidency have kept him buoyant. All that insulation has also meant that he hasn't learned from his mistakes. Every personal and public reckoning has been postponed or shunted aside.

Now, however, Trump is staring at two threats that loom after he leaves the White House in January. One is financial, the other legal. Neither is entirely under his control. And both may help explain, along with his perennial inability to accept losing, why Trump won't acknowledge that president-elect Joe Biden is going to succeed him and why he has enlisted the Republican Party to help him gaslight Americans about the outcome of the presidential election.

Trump and the patchwork of businesses he houses inside the Trump Organization are saddled with more than $1 billion in debt, which Dan Alexander of Forbes has helpfully tallied. A portion of that total has been divulged over the past few years in the president's personal financial disclosures, on file with the Office of Government Ethics. The New York Times recently revealed that Trump has personally guaranteed at least $421 million of the debt, with more than $300 million coming due within four years.

> Now, however, Trump is staring at two threats that loom after he leaves the White House in January. One is financial, the other legal. Neither is entirely under his control

In other words, Trump is on the hook for a lot of money that he may have to scramble to repay in a Covid-19-battered economy in which his industries—hotels, leisure, urban real estate—have been particularly pummeled. Forbes estimates his assets are worth $3.7 billion; Bloomberg News pegs them at about $3.2 billion. He is not going broke. But if the economy continues to struggle in coming months, those valuations will be tested. And much of what Trump holds isn't liquid, meaning he may be hard-pressed to sell assets quickly if he needs to raise funds. Among Trump's most valuable holdings, for example, are minority stakes in two properties controlled by Vornado Realty Trust. Rumors of fire sales might further depress the value of his portfolio.

Another thing that would weaken Trump's ability to negotiate sweetheart financial deals or forgiveness: leaving the presidency.

On the legal side of the ledger, Trump, his children and their company face aggressive investigations into their finances, accounting practices and tax payments.

The Manhattan District Attorney's Office is investigating Trump for possible tax fraud and falsification of business records, according to appellate court filings. In this probe, which is also examining the president's payment of hush money to two women who allegedly had sexual encounters with him, the DA's office is seeking eight years of Trump's tax returns. It is also taking a look at whether Trump inflated the value of his properties and other assets in order to secure funds from lenders and investors.

New York attorney General Letitia James has launched another investigation, also focused on whether the Trump Organization and the Trump family manipulated valuations to secure funding or engineer tax benefits. James's probe is a civil case, which could bring hefty financial penalties against Trump but no prison time (unless she finds reasons to recast it as criminal case). Vance's investigation is a criminal matter, however, and if the Trump crew is found guilty of felonies, prison time is on the table.

Trump's team has fought back hard against the Vance investigation, including arguing before the US Supreme Court that a sitting president is immune from state criminal prosecutions. While the court rejected that notion in a landmark ruling over the summer, it would become a moot argument in any venue once Trump is no longer president.

A Trump pushed outside the legal moat that surrounds the White House becomes, for the most part, a Trump who can be sued and penalised just as any other American can. That could also give fresh traction to the sexual assault cases against him.

It is unclear how aggressive law enforcement officials in the Biden administration will be toward Trump. They could resurrect some of the obstruction charges that have gone fallow since former special counsel Robert Mueller ended his probe. On the other hand, the political firestorm that could ignite might persuade Biden to hold back.

What is clear is that Trump's money and freedom are in play. As he comes to grips with losing the 2020 election, he will continue responding ferociously and unpredictably, like a man who for 74 years has been accustomed to getting away with almost anything.

Power reforms: UK lessons for India

The UK is almost back to vertically-integrated utilities. But this doesn't mean power reforms won't take off in India; privatise discoms, with govt-pvt JVs in which govt handholds the pvt player till losses are wiped out

SOMIT DASGUPTA

Views are personal

THE POWER SECTOR in the UK has almost come a full circle. After living with vertically integrated utilities till 1989, they unbundled, created markets both at generation and retail end, and today, they are back to a situation where 70% of the power generated is sold outside the wholesale market, directly by the generators to their utilities. It has been quite a journey since the enactment of the Electricity Act, 1989, which paved the way for the appointment of a regulator, called OFFER (now called OFGEM), and thereafter, leading to unbundling, both vertical and horizontal. Twelve distribution utilities were set up (called RECs) along with three generation companies (called National Power, Powergen and Nuclear Electricity) and also a national wires company (called NGC). All of them were privatised barring Nuclear Electricity.

Retail competition was introduced in 1990 for the large consumers (having a load in excess of 1 MW), and by 1998, it was extended to all consumers. A wholesale market was set up, and all generators were mandated to submit their bids in the wholesale market. The next major step was to fragment the generators, National Power and Powergen, further because the regulator felt that they were colluding. Not content with this, the wholesale market was replaced by NETA in 2001. This was primarily a tie-up between gencos and their consumers with long-term power purchase agreements.

This was not all. The Energy Act, 2012, was enacted, which envisaged further changes. The notable features included the introduction of a carbon floor-price based on the EU's energy trading system, bringing in long-term contracts for renewable generation, creation of capacity markets and mandating electricity suppliers to bring out less complicated tariff schedules.

The purpose of this piece is not to pass judgement on whether the restructuring helped anyone, and if yes, then whom. In fact, there is a vast amount of literature giving contrary views on the usefulness of this massive churning. On one issue, however, there was consistent finding amongst all researchers, which was that very few consumers actually changed their supplier. Moreover, it was the same set of consumers who were changing, and many were not sure if they are actually changing for the better, since the tariff schedules were too complex to decipher. However, the sheer pace of reforms needs to be appreciated and highlighted.

In India, we have not really moved forward after the enactment of the Electricity Act, 2003. The Act itself is a very cautious and timid exercise compared to what has been done in the UK. Through the Act, we have merely unbundled and ring-fenced our utilities so that there is transparency in the accounts; this itself took us several years. There has been no attempt to create a wholesale market or a full-fledged retail market where the consumer chooses the supplier. Large consumers, having loads in excess of 1 MW, however, have the option of open-access where they can opt to receive supply from some other entity, instead of his incumbent utility. The road to open access though has been bumpy, and discoms have opposed it tooth and nail.

Of late, there has been some thinking on introducing wholesale markets in India, and the CERC floated a discussion paper in December 2018. Whether this can be achieved is debatable since this amounts to retrofitting, and retrofitting in an existing architecture has its limitations. The moot point is whether we should attempt creating a wholesale market or for that matter a full-fledged retail market in India, especially after the experience of the UK. As mentioned before, the UK is almost back to the era of vertically integrated utilities, and consumers barely switch their retailer. Besides what was possible in the UK may not be possible in India. The UK did not have a regime of cross-subsidies (where the commercial and industrial sectors subsidise agriculture and low-end domestic consumers) and also did not have high commercial loss levels. Moreover, in the UK, all consumers were metered, unlike India.

There is yet another factor which inhibits further reforms in the Indian power sector: 'Power' falls in the Concurrent List. The Centre and states rarely see eye-to-eye on several issues concerning the sector, especially on matters relating to distribution. Consequently, any major change does not get accepted. The subject of 'content and carriage' is one such example, though its implementation would have been a herculean task, if not impossible, given our high commercial losses, a regime of cross-subsidies and lack of consumer metering.

So, are we condemned to a situation where the distribution sector will continue to bleed and make the whole sector unviable, thereby, affecting the banking sector through NPAs? The answer is no. We need to privatise our distribution sector by creating joint ventures with the government, and, of course, the government will have to undertake initial hand-holding till such time commercial losses are wiped out. This is the model which was followed in the case of Delhi and has proven successful. Commercial losses have come down from 50% to single-digit figures within a span of 10 to 12 years. Once we reach that stage, we can think of creating a full-fledged retail market where a consumer can choose her supplier. As of now, let us follow a path which is consistent with our ground realities. The Indian consumer is only interested in good quality power supply at a reasonable price. We only need to take policy measures so that the incumbent utilities can provide this, since, this will be the least costly path.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

On the 15th Finance Commission

There are fresh reasons for the States to be anxious about the 15th Finance Commission's revenue sharing recommendations submitted to the president on Monday, not in the least because of their recent stand-off with the Centre on how their Goods and Services Tax (GST) compensation dues will be paid this year. While 22 states have now come on board with a solution conceived by the Centre, there are still loose ends as more dues pile up over the next two years. Second, the Centre had tasked the Commission with assessing a few unusual ideas, including the creation of a non-lapsable fund for defence and security spending, and incentivising the states for performance on reforms considered desirable by the Centre—such as adoption of direct benefits transfer. The Reserve Bank India's (RBI) assessment of state finances reveals they were already hurting from the slowing economy. The pandemic and the lockdowns have made things worse. Last year, this finance panel had tabled an interim report for 2020-21 by saying a five-year forecast is tough when the economy is slowing down due to the effects of reforms like demonetisation and GST. Its final report comes at an even more uncertain time, with the pandemic throwing the global economy into a tailspin. That the panel has dedicated a volume entirely to the states, analysing the development needs of each, is heartening. The Centre can allay states' fears further by tabling the report soon so that any anxieties can be debated and laid to rest, and the states can also plan upcoming budgets with less uncertainty. Being receptive to the states' concerns can help forge a fresh cohesive federal compact for the coming years that can hasten India's return to high growth with the spirit of federalism.

CRIME REPORTING

Making India safer for women

Setting the 'crime against women' to 'female population' ratio of Assam and Rajasthan as a benchmark for the rest of the states shows that crimes against women in India could be under-reported to the tune of 75% to 181%

RECENTLY-RELEASED DATA from the National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) on crimes in India for 2019 shows that, on an average, 1,111 cases of crimes against women were recorded per day in 2019, with a cumulative of 4 lakh-plus cases in the year. About 50% of the total crimes against women were concentrated in five states—Uttar Pradesh (14.7%), Rajasthan (10.2%), Maharashtra (9.2%), West Bengal (7.5%) and Assam (7.4%).

It's interesting to note that a state like Assam, which accounts for merely 2.6% of the total female population in India, reported about half as many cases as Uttar Pradesh, even though the female population in Uttar Pradesh is 6.5x that in Assam. One reason for this incongruity may be Assam's cultural and societal legacy as a matriarchal society. Women there may have more support from community and the law enforcement system, encouraging them to effectively report crimes against them.

Taking a cue from this skewed picture, to make more informed judgements on women's safety, we should consider the regional differences in reporting patterns. To examine the actual extent of 'adequate reporting' (which may still be lower than the real incidence rate) and under-reporting in various states, an analysis of 'Crimes against Women' visa-a-visa all 'other crimes' has been attempted here.

We postulate that for any state, these two categories of crimes would be reported to a similar extent. The total reporting of 'Other Crimes' is strongly correlated to 'Crimes against Women' with a correlation coefficient of 0.7 for 2019.

While the national averages for 'Crimes against Women' and 'Other Crimes' should have been more or less comparable across states, however, two categories of states show discrepancies.

One comprised states that might have 'adequately reported' the numbers, as they reported higher than expected 'Crimes against Women' visa-à-visa 'Other Crimes'. These included Jharkhand, Assam, Odisha, Telangana, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh and Rajasthan.

At the opposite end of the spectrum, we find that Tamil Nadu, Gujarat, Kerala and Delhi have reported significantly lower than expected incidence of 'Crimes against Women', in comparison to that of 'Other Crimes'. This indicates a gross under-reporting of 'Crimes against Women'.

The reasons for these anomalies may originate from both the ability and willingness of women to report crimes and attitude of law enforcement towards lodging such cases.

Setting the 'crime against women' to 'female population' ratio in Assam and Rajasthan—two states in the 'adequate reporting' grouping with the greatest and smallest difference in positive crime deviations—as a benchmark for the rest of the states shows that crimes against women in India could be under-reported to the tune of 75% (taking Rajasthan as a benchmark) to 181% (taking Assam as a benchmark).

But does high reporting and probable crime incidence rates mean that those states are overall unsafe for women, and low levels of crimes against women indicate greater safety and inclusivity in states?

To test this, we compare the levels of reporting on crimes against women with the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goal-5 (Gender Parity in 2019-20) for each state.

It is observed that two extreme groups of states have done relatively well in Sustainable Development Goal-5 achievement—ones that have reported the highest crimes against women, and others which reported dwindling incidences of the same.

Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh, which contributed 40% of total crimes against women, had the highest levels of Sustainable Development Goal-5 score.

It may be so that the governance and law-enforcement are relatively proactive to trigger action against crimes perpetrated on women (reflecting in high Sustainable Development Goal-5 score), leading to high women-related crime reporting.

Another reason could be the greater extent of women's empowerment in the states, which in turn enables them to come forward and report incidences of crimes against women.

On the other end, Chhattisgarh and Punjab have shown high Sustainable Development Goal-5 index scores along with lower reporting of 'Crimes against Women', which can be hypothesised to indicate a gender-inclusive environment or as before, greater extent of women's empowerment in the society.

And data does agree with this. These states have outperformed others on a variety of indicators that enable us to quantify aspects of women's lives; including levels of inclusivity or empowerment of women, or in their participation rates in public, economic and political life.

Thus, it is safe to conclude that scrutiny is important for all levels of reporting: high or low. However, it is not enough in itself to gauge safety levels for women as long as data is not consistently recorded and reported to reflect the true extent and nature of atrocities that women suffer.

DIGITAL TAXATION & OECD

On a weak pillar

SHWETA PAI

Tax Partner, EY India. Views are personal

The OECD Blueprint for Pillar One falls short of the goals mentioned in its Action Plan 1

THE TAX CHALLENGES pertaining to the digitalisation of the economy have been a contentious issue over the past decade. In recognition of this, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) identified it as one of the main areas of focus of the OECD/G20 Base Erosion and Profit Shifting (BEPS) Project, leading to the 2015 BEPS Action 1 report. The Action 1 report called for continued work in the area. The debate and focus peaked when countries started implementing uncoordinated, unilateral measures. India, too, introduced unilateral measures like the equalisation levy and has initiated consultation for draft rules on significant economic presence and profit attribution to permanent establishment for addressing the challenges of digital economy.

In January 2019, the OECD released a policy note that said the renewed international discussions will focus on two central pillars: Pillar One and Pillar Two. Pillar One will address the broader challenges related to the digitalisation of the economy and will focus on the allocation of taxing rights, and Pillar Two will sort out the remaining BEPS concerns (collectively, BEPS 2 project). After a lot of work and public consultation, on October 12, the OECD released a series of documents in connection with the BEPS 2 project, including a detailed report on the Blueprint on Pillar One.

The aim of Pillar One is to reach a global agreement on adapting the allocation of taxing rights on business profits in a way that expands these rights for market jurisdictions. The OECD Blueprint provides a solid foundation for a future agreement that would adhere to the concept of net taxation of income, avoid double taxation and be as simple and easy to administer as possible.

> It is crucial that OECD recognises this aspect and strives to embed these principles in the final structure, which is expected to be released by mid-2021

The Blueprint provides details on various technical work undertaken so far on the key elements, which are grouped into three components: Amount A (a new taxing right to market jurisdictions); Amount B (fixed return for baseline marketing activities); and processes to improve tax certainty through effective dispute prevention and resolution mechanisms. It further indicates that a new multilateral convention is to be developed as the best and most efficient way of implementing Pillar One. The Blueprint identifies eleven building blocks that are considered essential for the construction of Pillar One.

While technical work on Pillar One is advanced, the Blueprint recognises that it is not a consensus document and that there are several key features of the solution that can only be resolved through political decisions. The Blueprint notes that political decisions are required on several issues, including the scope of Amount A, the amount of residual profit to be allocated under the new taxing right, the scope of mandatory binding dispute resolution beyond Amount A, and the scope and application of Amount B.

The reallocation of taxing rights under Pillar One could lead to significant changes in the international tax rules under which multinational businesses operate and could have important consequences on the overall tax liability of businesses and tax revenues of the countries.

In 2015, when the OECD released Action Plan 1 report, it recognised (a) neutrality; (b) efficiency; (c) certainty and simplicity; (d) effectiveness and fairness; and (e) flexibility as the pillars that should guide taxation of the digital economy. Currently, the Blueprint falls short on a number of these principles, and it is, therefore, unclear whether a consensus will be achieved on the various open issues. Thus, it is crucial that OECD recognises this aspect and strives to embed these principles in the final structure, which is expected to be released by mid-2021. In the absence of a consensus, the uncertainty caused by the unilateral measures is expected to add to the tax woes of multinationals.

Given the above, it is important and recommended for MNCs to follow developments closely and consider engaging with the OECD and policymakers at both national and multilateral levels on the business implications.

Connecting farms to folk

Linking agri-tech to FPOs can create value

T NANDA KUMAR

Former secretary, food & agriculture, Government of India & former chairman, NDDB

COVID-19 HAS TRANSFORMED the market. My grocer of three decades, in my small hometown, operates via a smartphone and says 'you can order on WhatsApp'. He home delivers stuff and collects payments through any United Payments Interface (thank RBI) option. He accepts cash, like before, but prefers digital transactions. A farmers' group near Bangalore offers grapes, guavas and mangoes for home delivery 'direct from the farm'. Fresh quality produce, paid for digitally and delivered at the doorstep. It is not the big guys, but the farmers and small traders who are changing the market. Welcome to the new 'Phygital': Digital finance & commerce, physical delivery: 'WhatsApp' for small groups, ERP for Amul or Big Basket! Each in their own space in the market.

The central government recently initiated significant reforms in the agri-market ecosystem with three new laws, easily understood as EC Act amendment, 'mandi bypass law' and the contract farming Act. These laws have given freedom to the farmers to sell their produce anywhere in the country. But what use is such freedom if they are not technologically and financially empowered to get a better value? Of course, there are new initiatives in infrastructure funding, forming farmers' collectives and ease of doing business. But, can farmers use this opportunity for their prosperity?

Commerce is going digital, so are payments! Small traders are using digital platforms, and farmers' groups are learning to access markets using digital technologies. Covid-19 has brought irreversible changes in the way food markets operate. Smartphones have become an important tool for sellers and buyers across India. Small traders and farmers have mastered the use of various 'apps', which provide value to them. Farmers' groups have made valiant efforts to connect with consumers during lockdowns. The number of such groups and the volumes were small, but the effort have generated confidence.

The 'food' market is witnessing interesting changes too. The shift from fashionable, high-sugar, high-salt processed foods to traditional, home-made, safe, healthy, and wellness foods is clearly visible; this accords a new opportunity for farmers to capture higher value.

Since more food is getting cooked at home, better 'quality' fresh, frozen and processed ingredients have become a necessity. 'Homemade' has led to 'premiumisation' of agri-produce and food ingredients. 'Safe' food has always been a priority at the top end of the value chain. It has acquired wider support now from the middle and lower-income buyers. 'Safe' is not restricted to FSSAI standards: it has perceptive differences across market segments. Safe can be perceived as a part of a large quality system or seen as pesticide or antibiotic-free, or as quality at the retail point. Given the new consumer worries on food safety, we might see less of 'wet' markets for poultry and fish, more of pasteurised milk and more of cold chain retail outlets.

'Healthy' has many layers, but the trends point to a return to traditional foods with more fibre, natural anti-oxidants, vitamins et al. 'Wellness' is an interesting new segment which is likely to grow fast. The almost immediate popularity of 'haldi doodh' ('turmeric latte' for the urban elite) and increased emphasis on spices like ginger, garlic, pepper, basil etc, is an exciting dimension. Spices Board had tried to promote these in the 1990's as 'grandma's remedies' (nutraceuticals) with limited success. Three decades later, this has become the trend!

The market is indicating that it is willing to pay higher for 'better quality' and for 'direct from farm' produce! An urban niche market at this stage, but still a big opportunity. Large food companies have picked up the trends already, and new products are getting launched. A reference to Ayurveda is the icing on the cake. Their success depends on getting farmers to produce these to their specifications!

Farmers should not let go of this opportunity and should connect with the new high-value segment, change production processes to meet the specifications and command a higher price.

This is the time for farmers to collectivise and make use of digital platforms to sell direct to consumers (converting markets like 'rythu bazaar' and savvy 'uzhavar santhe' to 'phygital' is an option) or to connect with the new ag-tech companies or link up with large chains. The key is the aggregation of the right kind with digital connect to the market. Am I saying 'eNam'? Not necessarily.

The trends in the market open up a profitable space for Farmer Producer Organisations of 'size' (emphasis mine) who understand the market and tailor their operations (Kurien's famous words: no Bombay market, no Anand!), and not remain sellers of excess produce! There are over 7,000 FPOs registered at present, and plans are to add 10,000 more. Large numbers with low turnover will not make any dent in the market, nor will it capture enough value. Most of these are 'produce aggregators' searching for a market; not market savvy producers catering to high-value demand. FPOs have to learn to become big in a single commodity (success stories in milk, grapes, bananas) and/or remain 'focused' on the market for urban consumers. The best way forward for FPOs is to connect with the ag-tech start-ups: there are about 400 of them, mostly in the post-harvest, aggregation & distribution space! Connecting with input companies will also help them change processes and get tailor-made solutions.

Undoubtedly the market is changing, creating new opportunities for farmers to increase their share of value. A strategy based on demand to increase incomes of farmers requires a careful understanding of the different layers of the market. It is not about the number of FPOs, it is about taking a fair share of the volume and price in the market. Remember, Anand succeeded because they took the Bombay market, but 'utterly butterly' Amul looked beyond Mumbai.

Government has created an enabling environment, farmers' collectives and Ag-tech start-ups have to create profitable partnerships. There is a market beyond APMCs.

'COVID WON'T BE PANDEMIC LONG'

Anthony Fauci, top US infectious disease official

Certainly it's not going to be pandemic for a lot longer, because I believe the vaccines are going to turn that around. Vaccines will help us. What we've got to do is just hang on and continue to double down on the public health measures.

Quick View

Xi urges cooperation as his policies signal rising tensions

CHINESE PRESIDENT XI Jinping called for countries to strengthen cooperation and avoid conflict on Thursday, even as his assertive policies in the Pacific set him on a collision course with the incoming US administration. Speaking via video link to a conference of world leaders organised by France's Emmanuel Macron, Xi repeated China's opposition to "hegemony" in international affairs, a term China has often used to describe American behavior. He also called on nations to "embrace openness and cooperation to jointly promote recovery" after the Covid-19 pandemic.

Google critics call for swift EU antitrust action

A GROUP OF 165 companies and industry bodies have called on EU antitrust enforcers to take a tougher line against Google, saying the US tech giant unfairly favours its own services on its web searches. The group includes US and UK companies as well as peers in 21 EU countries. It sent a joint letter to EU antitrust chief Margrethe Vestager on Thursday, saying Google was giving its own services preferential placement in its search results and urging swift action to stop the practice.

Russian pink diamond sets record price at Sotheby's

RUSSIA'S MOST EXPENSIVE ever diamond — a flawless 14.83-carat pink gem — was sold for $26.6 million at Sothbey's in Geneva. The diamond, cut from a rough stone discovered by Alrosa PJSC at an alluvial mine in Russia's Far East, also fetched a record auction price for a purple-pink gem, Sotheby's said.

China, 14 Asian nations to sign world's biggest free-trade deal

BLOOMBERG
November 12

FIFTEEN ASIA-PACIFIC NATIONS, including China aim to clinch the world's largest free-trade agreement this weekend, the culmination of Beijing's decade-long quest for greater economic integration with a region that encompasses nearly a third of the global gross domestic product.

The Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership, which includes countries stretching from Japan to Australia and New Zealand, aims to reduce tariffs, strengthen supply chains with common rules of origin, and codify new e-commerce rules. Its passage may disadvantage some US companies and other multinationals outside the zone, particularly after President Donald Trump withdrew from talks on a separate Asia-Pacific trade deal formerly known as the Trans-Pacific Partnership.

Following the withdrawal of India from RCEP negotiations last year, the remaining 15 nations sought to announce the agreement by the end of this week's Asean Summit, which Vietnam is hosting virtually. Malaysia's trade minister Azmin Ali told reporters the deal would be signed on Sunday, calling it the culmination of "eight years of negotiating with blood, sweat and tears."

"China has pulled off a diplomatic coup in dragging RCEP over the line," said Shaun Roache, Asia-Pacific chief economist at S&P Global Ratings. "While RCEP is shallow, at least compared to TPP, it is broad, covering many economies and goods, and this is a rarity in these more protectionist times."

The impact may extend beyond the region. The deal's advance illustrates how Trump's move to withdraw from the TPP — now known as the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership — has diminished America's ability to counterbalance China's economic clout with its neighbours. That challenge may soon shift to President-elect Joe Biden if, as expected, he's officially certified the winner of the November 3 election.

EYES ON PANDEMIC

Biden ignores Trump to build governance team

JAMES OLIPHANT & SIMON LEWIS
Washington/Wilmington, November 12

PRESIDENT-ELECT JOE BIDEN will press on with building his governing team on Thursday, ignoring President Donald Trump's refusal to accept defeat.

New records for coronavirus infections and hospitalisations ensured that the transition will be dominated by the response to the pandemic, which has accelerated since the November 3 election. Trump remains in office until Biden's inauguration on January 20.

On Wednesday, Biden, who has shrugged off Trump's challenge to his victory, named long-time adviser Ron Klain as his White House chief of staff, his first major appointment.

Attention is now expected to shift to Biden's picks for cabinet posts, though aides have so far given few clues about when announcements will be made.

On foreign policy, Anthony Blinken, a diplomat and longtime confidant, is seen as a possible choice for Secretary of State or National Security Adviser.

Whoever is chosen for Treasury Secretary will have to cope with a recession and joblessness, as well as serving as the fulcrum to address wealth inequality, climate change and other issues.

Klain, who served as President Barack Obama's "Ebola Czar" in 2014 during an outbreak of that virus in West Africa, is expected to take a leading role in the Biden administration's response to the nationwide spike in Covid-19 cases.

The United States set records on Wednesday with more than 142,000 new coronavirus infections and nearly 65,000 hospitalisations, according to a Reuters tally. The death toll rose by 1,464, approaching the levels reached during a catastrophic first wave early this year.

In Klain, Biden brings in a trusted and experienced operative who also served as Vice President Al Gore's top aide during Bill Clinton's administration.

"He was always highly informed and his advice was always grounded in exceptional command of the policy process, the merits of the arguments, and the political and justice context," Gore told Reuters.

As Biden's chief of staff during the 2008-2009 financial crisis, Klain helped oversee the implementation of the $787 billion Recovery Act that boosted the then-cratering economy. —REUTERS

Word leaders congratulate US prez-elect Biden

BIDEN HAS claimed enough of the battleground states to surpass the 270 electoral votes needed in the state-by-state Electoral College that determines the presidency. He is also winning the popular vote by more than 5.2 million votes, or 3.4 percentage points, with a few states still counting ballots. World leaders have recognised Biden's victory, with Australia, Japan and South Korea joining the list of allies congratulating Biden in phone calls and reaffirming plans to form close ties with the president-elect. China and Russia, however, have held off. —REUTERS

ELIZABETH HOWCROFT & KRYSTAL HU
London/New York, November 12

PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP'S challenge of the US election result in the courts has emboldened some to bet he can still win, even as most bookies have settled bets by accepting that President-elect Joe Biden will succeed him.

Trump still has a 10% chance of remaining in the White House for a second term, according to Betfair, an online betting exchange that matches opposing wagers by punters. That is up from 3% late last week.

Democrat Biden is currently projected to win 279 electoral college votes, more than the 270 he needs to become president. He is ahead of his Republican rival Trump in the voting count in states that would bring his electoral vote total to 306, according to Edison Research.

All major US news organisations have called the November 3 election for Biden based on preliminary voting tallies.

Major bookmakers, such as Paddy Power, Ladbrokes and William Hill, have paid out bets on the basis that Biden won, but many online exchanges such as Betfair have not settled bets and remain open for election wagers.

The discrepancy shows how some punters are backing Trump's long-shot bid to overturn the election outcome in the courts, based on unproven claims of extensive voting fraud and irregularities.

"I'm a loyal Trump supporter and I put my money where my mouth is," said Chris French, a 53-year-old mortgage broker from West Sussex in Britain.

"After losing a 50 pounds ($66) bet on Trump with a bookie that settled bids once TV networks called the presidency for Biden, French placed a new 10 pounds bet on Trump this week with an online exchange that still accepted wagers.

"Trump was so far ahead on the election day. I believe things will turn once fraud is uncovered," French added.

Despite a flurry of lawsuits filed by the Trump campaign in the last few days, legal experts say the litigation has scant chance of changing the outcome. —REUTERS

Cellnex buys CK Hutchison European Towers for $12 bn

RODRIGO ORIHUELA
November 12

CELLNEX TELECOM HAS agreed to buy CK Hutchison Holdings's European telecommunication towers for around €10 billion ($11.8 billion), the biggest ever acquisition by the Spanish mast operator.

Cellnex will make an initial payment of about €8.6 billion in cash, with the rest paid with new shares, giving CK Hutchison a 5% stake in Cellnex, according to filings from the companies.

CK Hutchison is the latest mobile network operator to carve out mast infrastructure to cut debt and help pay for costly 5G network upgrades. The deal will add around 24,600 new towers to Cellnex's existing 60,000 sites, with Cellnex committing to invest about €1.4 billion to deploy 5,250 more masts by 2030.

Several large European phone companies are at various stages of setting up their own tower companies to boost their value and draw in new investment. Unlike CK Hutchison, many plan to keep majority control of the infrastructure, which they see as strategically important.

Cellnex has grown aggressively through acquisitions since its initial public offering five years ago, and the deal marks its entry into three new markets — Austria, Denmark and Sweden. The company's shares have soared as it drew investors with a steady stream of revenue from long-term contracts with phone companies.

This year alone, Cellnex has announced two acquisitions in Portugal, a deal to enter Poland and a deal in France.

The price agreed with CK Hutchison, including the investment commitment, represents a ratio of 11.75 times the unit's enterprise value to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation, in line with the valuations of other recent deals, according to Banco Sabadell analyst Andres Bolumburu.

Cellnex shares were down 0.15% at €53.98 per share in Madrid. The shares are up 50% this year. —BLOOMBERG

China's Tencent profit surges 89% as rides gaming boom

PEI LI
Hong Kong, November 12

CHINESE GAMING AND social media giant Tencent Holdings reported an 89% rise in quarterly profit on Thursday, with its blockbuster game Honour of Kings and solid advertising businesses helping it to beat forecasts and lifting its shares.

The world's largest gaming firm by revenue has benefited from healthy growth of paying users for video games in China and international markets. Its flagship game Honor of Kings reported a record 100 million daily active users in the first 10 months of 2020.

Tencent made 38.5 billion yuan ($5.8 billion) profit for the three months through September. That was ahead of an analyst average estimate of 30.81 billion yuan, according to data from Refinitiv. Revenue rose 29% to 125.4 billion yuan.

The Chinese group has a solid pipeline of new games waiting to be released, including a recent testing launch of a mobile version of League of Legends in Asia. The company also saw a return to normalcy in advertising activity following the Covid-19 outbreak, with rapid growth in sectors such as education, internet services and e-commerce platforms.

They rebounded from a 7% plunge on Wednesday — when Tencent celebrated its 22nd birthday — as investors dumped shares in Chinese tech companies following publication of draft anti-monopoly rules that also wiped out hundreds of billions of dollars off some tech giants including Alibaba —REUTERS

Apple supplier Foxconn Q3 profit growth near flat

REUTERS
Taipei, November 12

FOXCONN, THE WORLD'S largest contract electronics maker, reported near flat quarterly profit on Thursday, beating market estimates amid firm demand for telecommuting devices as the pandemic-induced work-from-home trend continues.

The Taiwanese company, whose clients include technology majors such as Apple, booked July-September net profit of T$30.8 billion ($1.08 billion), Reuters calculations showed based on nine-month figures.

That compared with the T$28.61 billion average of 13 analyst estimates compiled by Refinitiv. Profit growth was nearly flat versus the T$30.7 billion of the same period a year prior. Chief financial officer David Huang told an investor conference that third-quarter revenue fell 7% due to clients delaying product launches.

Still, chairman Liu Young-way said Foxconn saw "stronger than expected" demand for both smartphones and servers, with strong shipments of Apple's new iPhone 12 supporting revenue.

Nissan posts loss amid pandemic, scandal

NISSAN POSTED A loss of 44.4 billion yen ($421 million) in the last quarter as the pandemic slammed profitability and the Japanese automaker fought to restore a brand image tarnished by a scandal centered on its former star executive Carlos Ghosn.

Nissan Motor had a profit of 59 billion yen in July-September of 2019.

Yokohama-based Nissan reported Thursday its quarterly sales dipped to 1.9 trillion yen ($18 billion) from 2.6 trillion yen a year earlier.

Nissan officials said its global sales are expected to recover to pre-pandemic levels by December, if improvements continue at the current pace.

Chief executive Makoto Uchida promised the company will work hard to recover and become "a trusted company," delivering products that will be praised as "Nissan-like." A section of Nissan's earnings report addressed the Ghosn case.

Former Nissan executive Greg Kelly is standing trial in Tokyo District Court on allegations of violating the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act in not fully disclosing Ghosn's compensation.

Alibaba, JD.com say US top seller to China during Singles' Day event

REUTERS
Beijing/Shanghai, November 12

ALIBABA AND JD.COM said the United States was the top seller of goods to China during the Singles' Day shopping extravaganza that generated about $116 billion in merchandise volume for the pair.

Singles' Day is usually a one-day sales event, the world's biggest, eclipsing Black Friday and Cyber Monday in the United States. Many online companies offer deals at the event.

This year, companies including Alibaba Group Holding and JD.com offered promotions over several days, with sales widely interpreted as indicative of China's rebounding post-virus economy.

Customers, unable to travel abroad because of the Covid-19 pandemic, snatched up deals from brands including Huawei Technologies and Fast Retailing's Uniqlo.

Alibaba generated gross merchandise volume (GMV) of 498.2 billion yuan ($75.28 billion). JD.com, which recorded 271.5 billion yuan in GMV, told Reuters on Wednesday that best-selling products included Apple iPhones, L'Oreal's Lancome toner and 60-inch smart LCD TVs from Sharp.

Alibaba offered promotions in two windows starting November 1 but calculated GMV over 11 days. JD.com offered deals November 1 through November 11.

The event was overshadowed by news that China aimed to propose anti-monopoly rules for internet platforms.

Alibaba's Hong Kong-listed stock, which took a beating when regulators scuppered the listing of fintech affiliate Ant Group, dropped another 10% on Wednesday. It was up 3% around midday Thursday.

Alibaba said other top-selling countries this year included Australia, Germany, Japan and South Korea. Over 470 firms exceeded 100 million yuan in GMV.

Last year, Alibaba merely named Japan and the United States among biggest sellers.

Alibaba clocked GMV of $38.4 billion in a single day last year and said 299 brands surpassed 100 million yuan in GMV, including Nestle SA and Under Armour.

Millions of votes at risk as Trump 'upset,' judge told

ERIK LARSON
November 12

REPUBLICANS ARE TRYING to illegally scrap 6.75 million votes in Pennsylvania because President Donald Trump is "upset" about his loss in the state, the Democratic National Committee told a federal judge.

A lawsuit filed this week by Trump's campaign seeking to block Pennsylvania from certifying the election result "not only violates state law, it obliterates the constitutional rights of voters and candidates and improperly inserts this court into issues of state law and election administration minutia," the DNC said in a filing on Wednesday evening seeking to intervene in the case.

The campaign argues Pennsylvania should set aside every vote statewide — or only be allowed to certify the result if it doesn't count more than 680,000 mail-in and absentee ballots from a pair of counties, including Democratic-leaning Philadelphia, that allegedly failed to allow observers to get close enough to the ballot-counting process.

Trump and his GOP allies have made the ballot observation process a central element of their unsubstantiated claim that rampant fraud involving mail-in ballots went unnoticed because observers weren't allowed to watch properly in Pennsylvania and Michigan. It's all part of a legal effort to reverse President-elect Joe Biden's election win.

Pennsylvania's top election official is expected to ask the judge to dismiss the suit on Thursday, and oral arguments in the case are set for November 17.

In a related lawsuit filed earlier by Trump's campaign in state court, lawyers for Philadelphia asked Pennsylvania's top court to reverse a ruling allowing observers to get within six feet of the ballot-counting process, arguing a state law designed for transparency includes no such requirement. The campaign had touted the ruling as a major victory.

The state's election code only requires that party and candidate representatives "be permitted to remain in the room" where mail-in and absentee ballots are processed, lawyers for the heavily Democratic city said in a filing Wednesday evening in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

"The election code does not say that representatives have the right to be able to read the language written on each ballot declaration or otherwise to make their own determinations of declaration sufficiency with respect to individual ballots," the city said in the filing. "No such right exists."

A ruling favoring the city would hurt Trump's chances in that case. During a hearing this week, a judge told lawyers to provide him a copy of the appeals court decision "the moment it issues." —BLOOMBERG

INTERVIEW: KARAN BEDI, CEO, MX Player

'Premium AVoD presents a significant opportunity'

In less than two years, OTT platform MX Player has diversified into music, gaming and short-format video businesses. Karan Bedi talks to Venkata Susmita Biswas about tapping the TikTok void with MX Taka Tak, focussing on an advertising-led revenue model for the OTT platform, plans for the gaming vertical, and more.

Which of your verticals brings in most users and advertising revenue?
Video remains the core of our OTT offerings with 200 million MAUs in India. However, over the last few months, both gaming and MX Taka Tak, which we have just begun monetising, have grown rapidly. With MX Taka Tak, we can now offer brands the 'everytainment pack' — through a single campaign they can target a user at different parts of the day on various MX Player verticals. For instance, if a brand wishes to target males in the age group of 18-25 with an interest in automobiles, we can serve the user an audio jingle in his music stream, a rewarded ad within a game, a video ad or a camera filter through our short-video format app.

> Generally, spends on digital move very slowly; but this year, media planners and buyers had the freedom to move large chunks of ad budgets to digital as compared to previous years. By mid-May, revenue started following the same upward trajectory as usage

We have close to 100 games on MX Player, and have opened the platform to game developers — more than half the games are now from game publishers. So, our games will quickly scale up, and we will have thousands of games on the platform. We don't plan to move into hard-core games, but will expand into mid-core games in the future.

International video streaming platforms that are SVoD-only predominantly have content with an international flavour, and cater to English-speaking audiences. Here, content is targeted at the top 2-3% of the country's audiences. We are catering to the majority of India's youth, who are looking for content beyond television. We are the only one providing fresh premium content sans subscription fees. We believe that this is a significant business opportunity for us, as advertisers are very keen on reaching out to the audience that comes to our platform.

Is advertising revenue back on track for MX Player?
At the beginning of the lockdown, there was a lot of nervousness about advertising spends. However, within 10 days of the lockdown coming into effect, we began noticing a huge spike in our app usage. Generally, spends on digital move very slowly, but this year, media planners and buyers had the freedom to move large chunks of ad budgets to digital as compared to previous years. By mid-May, revenue started following the same upward trajectory as usage. Now, we have exceeded our targets for the year and have done twice as well as last year.

What is the flavour of the content served on the platform? Are originals a big draw?
More than half the consumption on our platform is driven by MX Originals and content exclusive to our platform. We have about 60 originals now. We have experimented with genres across crime, thrillers, office dramas and relationship dramas. One category where we are strong is international content dubbed in Hindi. We have a lot of Korean and Latin American content that we have dubbed into Hindi. Besides, we have tie-ups with other OTT platforms, which gives them the reach that is beyond their own platforms and adds to our library.

How are you wooing former TikTok users and content creators to try MX Taka Tak?
Although several new apps were launched in India initially when TikTok was banned, the competition now is between two-three apps. MX Player had a remarkably high overlap with TikTok in terms of user base. Lending the 'MX' brand name to our short-video app was to pass on the brand equity accrued by MX Player to MX Taka Tak. This also ensured that our user acquisition cost was low.

Content creators who thrive on massive following were reassured that our app could give them the reach they were seeking. At present, we have more than 60% of the top 100 TikTok content creators on our platform. We are providing content creators the gateway to acting in a web series. Some of our influencers have already been cast in MX Player web shows. Further, we have invested in a strong content recommendation algorithm.

Building contactless loyalty

Reinventing brand engagement in a socially distant world

Sonalika Sarna

THE WORLD LOOKS dramatically different from what it did last year, and we are still trying to look for ways to respond effectively and empathetically to all the changes around us. Lockdowns have severely limited the relationships we could build. There was a time when customers could touch and feel products, spend an afternoon at a bookstore or just have a meal with friends without having to worry about safety. There were many such moments for us marketers, where we had the opportunity to know our customers better, personalise interactions and build brand advocacy.

In a socially distant world, we have to reimagine communication strategies, reevaluate the experiences we deliver, reinvent marketing landscapes and still be able to humanise interactions.

Far, yet near

'Contactless Loyalty' is the act of creating long-lasting connections with your customers and keeping them coming back to your brand, even when human contact is limited. Brands need to figure out ways to simulate the human element in a contact-free world, and yet deliver experiences that build brand affinity.

Focus on value exchange: Value exchange is when brands deliver value through products and services, and in exchange customers deliver value through repeat purchases, sharing preferences or recommendations. Invest in this, and incentivise customers to engage with you through your loyalty programs.

H&M recently launched its global loyalty program, H&M Member, in India to make it possible for customers to choose their preferred channel to shop. The program is designed on the principle of relationship-building, while focussing on the need for personalisation. When brands invest in value exchange, customers reciprocate by increasing the amount of time, money and emotional engagement with the brand.

Emotional connections: In this increasingly contactless world, find ways to reorchestrate customer journeys to retain human touch. Offer a seamless, safe and rewarding experience across channels. Some examples could be to reward customers on app downloads, digital orders, social engagements or contactless payments. This is an opportunity for marketers to build meaningful connections, and not limit themselves to offers and promotions.

Social, a popular café and bar chain in India, launched a campaign called #ThatOnePerson to get loyal customers back. Capturing nostalgic moments from the pre-Covid era, it invited people to tag their best friend, visit their neighbourhood Social and get their first drink together, free.

Get tech savvy

Invest in the right technologies: Empathise with customers and meet them where they are. It is critical to have the right tools and technologies to facilitate safe, contactless experiences as well as understand customers' reactions to it. Redesigning apps, websites, e-commerce portals, and introducing touchless shopping will encourage customers to return. A great example of putting customer needs at the centre is Decathlon. The brand encourages you to check availability of products online, gives you the option to use a voucher code, scan and pay within the app when in store, thus ensuring the integration of the online and offline worlds seamlessly.

Democratise use of data: Customers are willing to share their data with you in exchange for personalised experiences. Enable a persistent customer view across channels so that an in-store rep, call centre agent or website chatbots have access to the same customer details and the experience is seamless. Loyalty is another authentic data source as it is an opt-in program, and can give you insights into demographics, buying behaviour, channel preferences, location and a whole lot more.

YELLOW METAL

Buy SGBs or gold ETFs this Dhanteras

As gold's outlook remains strong over the near to medium term, buying the metal can add that touch of auspiciousness this Dhanteras

SAIKAT NEOGI

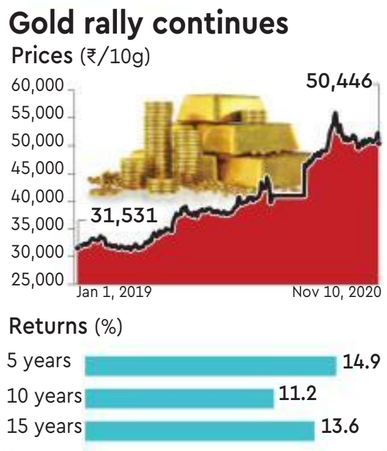
MANY INDIANS BUY gold on Dhanteras as it is considered auspicious. The price of the precious metal has appreciated 32% since Diwali last year and due to the adverse impact of the coronavirus pandemic, gold, with its safe-haven appeal, has become a preferred investment destination.

Gold has emerged as the best-performing asset class this year as fixed deposit rates are at a decade-low and returns from equity funds remain poor despite the Sensex at an all-time high. Analysts say outlook for gold prices looks positive over the near to medium term. "If you are taking a cue from the massive global investment flows the metal has been attracting, have a long term view and see gold for the strategic asset it is, buying gold can be a good financial move as the asset plays a risk-reducing, return enhancing role for your money," says Chirag Mehta, senior fund manager, Quantum AMC.

As most Indians prefer to buy gold jewellery, when it comes to making investments in gold, they opt for gold coins or gold bars. However, investors must look at Sovereign Gold Bonds, gold Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) and e-gold, which are cost-efficient and convenient ways to purchase gold for investment purposes.

Sovereign Gold Bonds (SGB)

Gold rally continues



To time with Dhanteras and Diwali, the government launched the eighth tranche of SGB which is open for subscription till November 13. The issue price has been fixed at ₹5,177 per gram of gold with a discount of ₹50 per unit for an online subscription. The tenor of SGBs is eight years and the buyer has an exit option from the fifth year which can be exercised on the interest payment days. SGBs earn interest of 2.5% payable semi-annually apart.

You do not have to pay any charge for buying SGBs in the primary market. However, if you buy from the secondary market, then you have to pay one-time brokerage. Analysts say SGBs are the most optimal investment vehicle if it is held till maturity. In SGBs, an investor does not have to pay any capital gains tax if held till maturity. However, if they are traded before maturity, short-term and long-term capital gains tax will be applicable.

Gold ETFs

Gold ETFs of mutual funds, which track the price of gold, are an ideal way to invest in the yellow metal for investment purposes. Gold ETFs are open-ended funds and the returns are benchmarked on the real returns on investment in physical gold, subject to tracking errors. Investors' interest in gold ETFs remained firm in October, with the category recording its seventh straight month of inflow at ₹384 crore. This year so far, the category has received a net inflow of ₹6,341.2 crore. As gold prices came off its all-time high recently, after witnessing almost an uninterrupted rally this year, it provided a good entry point for investors to invest in it.

Gold ETFs are cheaper as investors do not have to pay making charges that jewellery attracts or the service charge of banks on gold coins or bars. Also, there are no purity issues in gold ETFs. Moreover, fund houses have the negotiating power in the wholesale market where they buy gold. The savings made in the price differential are passed on to the investors. Analysts say every portfolio should have an exposure to gold and gold ETF is the best method to achieve a hassle-free gold investment.

Nitin Kabadi, head, ETF Business, ICICI Prudential AMC, says when compared to physical gold, gold ETFs offer some distinct advantages such as less worry about storage and theft as it is held in demat form, lower cost of acquisition given the absence of making charges and other related expenses. "For those investors looking to meet any future requirement of gold, they can consider doing a SIP for as low as ₹1,000 every month in gold fund-of-funds. This will enable them to collect gold units over a period of time," he says.

As SGBs pay interest, returns are higher than on gold ETFs or physical gold. Gold ETFs deduct fund management charges (0.5-1%) and physical gold levy making charges. On the liquidity front, gold ETF scores over SGBs. As liquidity is a constraint in SGB, those who want to do strategic asset allocation may invest in SGB. But those who do not want to hold investment till maturity should invest in gold ETFs.

Know how digital gold can be a smart buy

Digital gold is offered by MMTC-PAMP, Safegold, AugmontGoldtech and Stock Holding Corp of India Ltd. It can also be bought via payment apps

GAUTAM KUMAR

THIS DHANTERAS, IF you are planning to buy gold, you can opt for digital gold by buying it online and holding it in electronic form. Whenever an investor buys digital gold, it is backed by equivalent amounts of physical gold. In India, digital gold is offered by AugmontGoldtech, MMTC-PAMP, Safegold and Stock Holding Corporation of India Ltd. Nowadays, digital gold can also be bought via payment aggregator apps or stock brokers. They offer digital gold in association with the above mentioned players.

Why should one buy digital gold?

One can buy digital gold for as low as ₹1. It also offers the flexibility of accumulating gold through SIP to build long-term wealth. If you hold physical gold, risk of theft always looms. It can be parked in bank lockers but comes with an additional cost. On the other hand investors don't have to worry about security of digital gold as the physical gold, which digital gold is backed by, is secured in the vaults of providers and the onus of its security completely lies with them. However, as digital gold is backed by physical gold, some of the providers ask for storage charges but only if you hold it beyond a certain point of time. Some of them even offer free storage.

ILLUSTRATION: SHYAM KUMAR PRASAD

Digital gold providers appoint an independent trustee which ensures an equal amount of physical gold against the digital gold of mentioned quality is kept secured in the vaults at all points of time.

Who can buy it?

Any resident or non-resident Indian can buy digital gold. Buying is very convenient as KYC is required only if one buys over and above the threshold limit. Digital gold can be sold back to the providers and investors do not have to be dependent on market participants to sell their holdings. Hence, liquidity risk is not there. Investors can sell their entire holdings of digital gold or part thereof at any time.

Investors shouldn't worry about purity as well as it is backed by 24-carat physical gold with either 99.99% or 99.95% fineness. Digital gold can also be converted into physical gold and delivered at your doorstep. One can even convert digital gold into jewellery at jewellers partnered with digital gold providers.

Cheaper deposits, lack of slippages lift banks' NIMs

SHRITAMA BOSE
Mumbai, November 12

LARGE BANKS, MANY of these from the public-sector pack, saw an expansion in their net interest margins (NIMs) in the quarter ended September as falling interest rates helped cut their outgo on deposits. A judicial order barring the recognition of fresh slippages after August 31 also helped NIMs. In contrast, a few large lenders from the private sector reported shrinkage in margins as they were unable to profitably deploy the large amount of liquidity in their hands.

Given the excess liquidity and muted loan growth, large banks have slashed rates sharply over the past year, with one-year term deposit rates down 100-160 basis points (bps), according to a recent report by Credit Suisse. "With the sharp drop in funding costs over the past year, while lending rates have also come off, spreads have widened and have aided NIMs despite the excess liquidity on bank balance sheets," the report said.

State Bank of India (SBI), Bank of Baroda (BoB) and Punjab National Bank (PNB) — the three largest state-owned lenders — saw their NIMs expand 12-71 bps sequentially in Q2FY21. Among private lenders, Axis Bank's NIM rose 18 bps and Kotak Mahindra Bank's NIM saw a 12-bps increase from Q1FY21.

PNB chief executive SS Mallikarjuna Rao admitted that the non-recognition of slippages had helped margins and that the 3.21% NIM should be considered an exception. "Second, we have also adopted a change in what you call income recognition in case of recoveries which are adjusted in NPA (non-performing asset) accounts," Rao said, adding that PNB will be able to register a NIM of 2.75-2.8% for the full year.

State Bank of India	3.12	3.01	1.6	1.78
Bank of Baroda	2.86	2.55	3.99	4.48
Punjab National Bank	3.21	2.5	4.48	4.92
Axis Bank	3.58	3.4	4.6	4.93
Bank of India	2.66	2.48	4.17	4.32
Indian Bank (domestic NIM)	3.06	2.83	4.57	4.83
Kotak Mahindra Bank*	4.52	4.4	3.87	4.22

Moreover, a scenario of limited credit demand is leading to greater competition among banks for good borrowers and that, in turn, could pressurise NIMs, bankers said. AK Das, MD and CEO, Bank of India (BoI), said last week that competition and rate-cut transmission to loans will both hit margins in the quarters ahead. "There is a lot of competition in the market and demand is also not that great, especially from the manufacturing side. Margins will therefore continue to be under stress, but we will make attempts to cover it up through volume growth in advances," he said. BoI's NIM rose 18 bps sequentially to 2.66% in Q2.

Notable exceptions to the trend are private players HDFC Bank, ICICI Bank and IndusInd Bank. All three saw a sequential decline in NIMs despite lower deposit rates. The element of excess liquidity hit margins for all three. HDFC Bank told analysts that its average liquidity coverage ratio increased to 153% in Q2 from 140% in Q1, in line with its strategy to build on deposits. Srinivasan Vaidyanathan, chief financial officer, HDFC Bank, said that while the excess liquidity position in the bank positions it to cater to potential loan demand in the future, it impacted the current NIM by around 15 bps.

ICICI Bank also attributed the shrinkage in margin to surplus liquidity and said they would rather focus on getting good customers than specifically on margins. "It will be a function of how the credit growth pans out. We are really not targeting a credit growth (figure). If growth comes and it meets our expectations, automatically the carry that we have on excess liquidity will come down," the management said in a post-results call.

LVB for deal with Clix without compromising on its core interest

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, November 12

CASH-STARVED LAKSHMI Vilas Bank (LVB) said it wants to reach an early conclusion to the merger deal with Clix Group without compromising on its core interest. This comes in the wake of reports that Clix is unhappy with the delay in reaching the deal. LVB had received an indicative non-binding offer from Clix on October 8.

Shakti Sinha, independent director and part of the three-member committee of directors (CoD) approved by the RBI to run the day-to-day operations of LVB, told FE that the two teams are meeting regularly and negotiations are going on.

"It is a complex thing, we want to do it by one by one. Though we want to do it quickly, we want to be fair to the stakeholders of the bank. We want to reach an early conclusion without compromising on the core interest of the bank," he said, when asked about the delay and the tentative deadline to arrive at a conclusion.

Sources close to the development told FE that two rounds of negotiations with Clix have been completed. The bank said last week that a minor incremental due diligence which was requested by Clix Group had been completed and both the sides were in the process of finding a workable and mutually acceptable framework.

According to Sinha, serious negotiations have been started only less than two weeks ago and it is quite natural that the process would take a bit a longer for a deal of this magnitude. Though he did not spell out the hurdles, sources said the main stumbling block now is about how much equity would Clix bring into bank and what percentage would be the debt part. LVB expects around ₹1,400 crore into its books through the merger.

AT A GLANCE

- Sources say two rounds of negotiations with Clix have been completed
- The bank said last week that a minor incremental due diligence which was requested by Clix Group had been completed
- It also said both the sides were in the process of finding a workable and mutually acceptable framework

Clix also wants LVB to make full provisions against contingent liability of ₹720 crore related to transactions involving former Religare promoters, citing that the bank will have to return the money if it loses the case against RFL.

Meanwhile, the bank is busy preparing for its ₹500-crore rights issue for which ICICI Securities has been appointed the merchant banker. LVB which is in the lookout for an MD and CEO will send two more names to the RBI by end of November.

Mkts snap 8-session winning streak despite new stimulus

Sensex declines 236 points (0.54%) to close at 43,357 while Nifty falls 58 points (0.46%) to 12,691

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, November 12

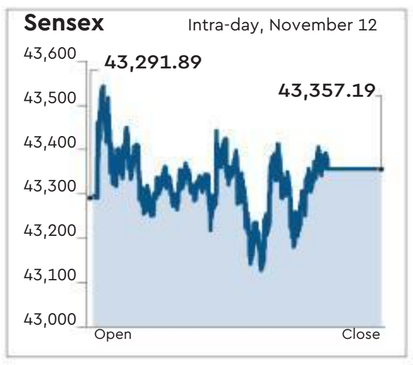
THE EQUITY MARKETS took a breather on Thursday after gaining for eight sessions in a row, as investors paused to book profits. During each of the previous three trading sessions, the markets hit new highs. On Thursday, the Sensex ended lower by 236.48 points (0.54%) to close at 43,357.19 while the Nifty declined 58.35 points (0.46%) to close at 12,690.8.

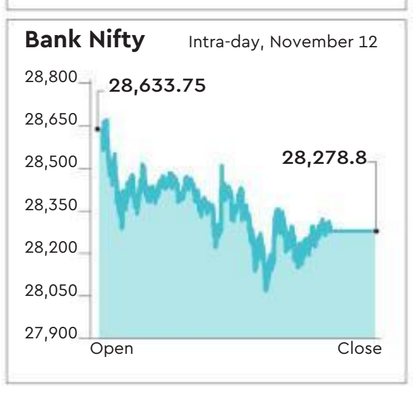
The markets traded in losses throughout the session and the announcements by finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman did little to enthuse the markets. The FM announced a stimulus package of ₹2.65 lakh crore under the Atma Nirbhar 3.0 scheme.

The Nifty Bank fell 1.96% and the biggest losers on the index were Bank of Baroda, State Bank of India, Kotak Mahindra Bank, IndusInd Bank, and ICICI Bank, down by 3.07%, 3.05%, 2.85%, 2.6%, and 2.06%.

The global markets too were down because of profit taking. The markets in Germany, the UK and France fell between 0.7% and 0.8%. Bourses in the Asian countries, too, closed the day in the red, with markets in China, Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea declining by 0.1% to 0.4%.

According to provisional data on the exchanges, foreign portfolio investors bought stocks worth $838 million on Wednesday while domestic institutional investors sold stocks worth $461.8 million.





FPIs have pumped $3.6 billion in stocks so far in November.

Shrikant Chouhan, executive vice president – equity technical research, Kotak Securities, said: "The Nifty50 remained in a narrow range of 120 points. We can say this is a consolidation window that the Nifty has opened up. As long as the market does not break the 12530 level, we should stick to the strategy of buy on dips. Another round of buying in financial stocks is more likely in the near future."

The futures and options segment saw a turnover of ₹55.3 lakh crore while the cash market saw volumes of ₹63,735.4 crore.

RBI to conduct special OMOs on November 19

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, November 12

THE RESERVE BANK of India on Thursday said it will conduct simultaneous purchase and sale of government securities under open market operations (OMOs) for an aggregate amount of ₹10,000 crore each on November 19. The decision was taken after a review of the current liquidity and financial conditions, the RBI said in a statement.

Simultaneous purchase and sale of government securities under OMOs, popularly known as Operation Twist, involves purchasing government securities of longer maturities and selling equal amount of such securities of shorter maturities.

On November 19, the RBI will purchase three government securities of different maturity dates aggregating to ₹10,000 crore and will also sell two securities maturing at different dates aggregating to the same amount. This will be done using the multiple price auction method.

The RBI said it reserves the right to decide on the quantum of purchase/sale of individual securities.

The result of the auctions will be announced on the same day.

Patra rebuts MPC member Varma on what determines Term Premia

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, November 12

TERM PREMIA, OR the gap between long and short-term bonds, has a limited correlation to the market's inflation expectations, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) deputy governor Michael Debabrata Patra has said in a paper released as part of the central bank's November bulletin. Rather, they correlate more closely to global uncertainty and liquidity, the paper stated, rebutting the view of monetary policy committee (MPC) member Jayanth R Varma.

In the minutes of the October meeting of the monetary policy committee (MPC), Varma had written that the steep yield curve in India reflects a lack of credibility of the MPC's existing accommodative guidance. "Just as the brakes allow the car to travel faster, the MPC's guidance will be more effective if it works alongside and not in conflict with its inflation fighting resolve. I prefer the word 'expected' (instead of 'decided') because it would preserve the commitment of the MPC to respond aggressively to inflation shocks that lie well above the upper band of the fan chart," Varma wrote.

In the paper titled 'Revisiting the Determinants of the Term Premium in India', Patra and two other RBI executives wrote that the closest association of the term premium is with liquidity conditions represented by the net position under the RBI's liquidity adjustment facility (LAF). "With realised inflation, the term premium's correlation is moderate (0.3); surprisingly, the correlation with inflation expectations of professional forecasters turns out to be perverse in sign and statistically insignificant, suggesting that the bond market is backward looking in its own inflation view, and adapts to inflation prints that are received with a lag of about a month," the paper said.

RBI DG Michael Debabrata Patra

It further stated that at a global level, the term premium in India exhibits an insignificant correlation with economic policy uncertainty, if the period under consideration is taken from 2006. From 2012, however, the correlation becomes significant and turns out to be the highest among all the variables taken so far (0.56). This indicates a growing sensitivity of India's bond market term premium to global spillovers.

A comparison of the recent behaviour of yield curves across different advanced and emerging market economies suggests that with the steepening of the yield curve in the aftermath of the Covid-19 pandemic, the term premium has widened sizeably across all countries, both emerging and advanced.

INTERVIEW: RAJAT VERMA, head, commercial banking, HSBC India

'We're bullish on anything related to consumption story'

India's consumption story is set for a comeback, and HSBC India will support companies allied to it, Rajat Verma, head – commercial banking, tells Shritama Bose in an interview. The RBI's current account circular is a good step directionally and banks are looking forward to the FAQs on it, he says. Excerpts:

How did you see companies approach the Covid crisis in terms of fund-raising and expansion?

Right at the beginning of the crisis, there was a bit of panic. We had mid-market and large companies calling us, worried whether credit and banking services would be available. Companies who had spare limits started to hoard liquidity and that was something that we saw all over the world. Sometime in June-July, things started to come back to balance when people started to go out. The story of every sector could almost be predicted based on how freely that sector was allowed to operate by the pandemic.

In the initial phase of the crisis, till the point where the credit guarantee scheme and the moratorium came in, credit was mostly flowing to larger creditworthy companies. As the schemes were brought in and the economy started coming back to a more even keel, credit got more widespread.

Did the moratorium help your borrowers, especially MSMEs, effectively get their houses in order?

Absolutely, it did. Not just MSMEs, but more generally, certain sectors were so badly impacted that they needed the oxygen and the breathing time so that the pressure didn't become too much. All the discipline is good, but it's good in normal times. For a small garment shop owner or for someone who runs a mall in a mid-sized town, cash flows were gone. When there are no rentals, even landlords get affected and so there was a negative cascading effect. You had to allow people to slow down for a few months and recover. So I am all for the moratorium and this was done in many countries.

You would have already got some recast requests from your smaller borrowers. How are you approaching that?

As long as we are convinced that it is a genuine issue due to Covid or due to the pain in the last seven to nine months, we are looking to support it. There is absolutely no stigma attached to this. As long as we believe in the company, we will continue to support it. I must add that it is a small portion of our books. It is not a material issue for us. The quality of our book is strong.

Banks have got an extension for the implementation of the August 6 current accounts circular, but there are still challenges, including technological ones, when it comes to implementation. What is the right way of going about it?

While the endeavour to create a tighter credit culture is a good step directionally, clarity on all aspects of operationalisation is important. There will be an FAQ to address queries on this circular and its impact. We look forward to more clarity on its operationalisation.

Which are the sectors you are bullish on and whom would you avoid?

We are very bullish on anything related to the consumption story. Consumption will come back in India with a roar, and not just basic consumption, but also around mobiles, two-wheelers, cars and other things. All the companies aligned to consumption will benefit. We are very bullish on renewable or sustainable energy. We see the next wave coming in not just in terms of solar panels or windmills for power, but also mobility, storage and co-generation. As a country, we must also support the NBFC and microfinance sectors because of their reach and capabilities. Pharmaceuticals and biotechnology are growing. We are also reasonably positive on commercial real estate and malls.

There are no sectors that we would absolutely stay away from. In our India business, we do not like (companies) with a lot of cash and industries which are difficult for us to reach and understand.

Retain 'sell' on Bharat Forge with revised FV of ₹320

KOTAK INSTITUTIONAL EQUITIES

EXPORTS DRAG PERFORMANCE again. BHFC reported a very weak 2QFY21 led by sharp decline in export revenues. Management was quite cautious in indicating any recovery in its business given concerns of Covid-19 outbreak in the US and Europe again. Retain SELL rating as valuations are too expensive with revised FV of ₹320 (from ₹340 earlier) based on 20X September 2022E EPS for the standalone business.

Bharat Forge reported 2QFY21 standalone Ebitda of Rs1.56 bn (-51% yoy) in 2QFY22, which was significantly below our estimates. Revenues declined by 30% yoy (28% below estimates) led by 11% yoy decline in domestic revenues (6% below estimates) and 40% yoy decline in export revenues (36% below our estimates) in 2QFY21. The 11% yoy decline in domestic revenues was led by 37% yoy decline in aftermarket revenues and other operating income and]6% yoy decline in the non-auto segment. The 40% yoy decline in export revenues was led by 33% yoy decline in the non-auto segment, 52% yoy decline in the MHCV segment and 26% yoy decline in the PV segment. Ebitda margin came in at 17.8% (-760 bps yoy), which was significantly below our estimates. The company reported standalone net profit of ₹702 mn (- 71% yoy). Subsidiary performance was very weak with the company reporting a PBT loss of ₹923 mn in 2QFY21. The stock has run up recently on expectations of a sharp recovery in the US Class 8 trucks due to pick-up in order inflow; however, the company was quite tempered on the outlook in this segment, even orders in defence and aerospace have been delayed.

We expect FY2021E to remain challenging for the company due to weakness in CV and oil & gas segments. However, we expect swift recovery going into FY2022E led by recovery in the CV segment (31% of revenues) and market share gains in the PV segment (20% of revenues) led by new product launches. We also expect strong growth in the defense segment due to the government's push towards indigenous production. However, recovery in oil & gas and aerospace segments will get delayed due to steep cut in capital expenditures by OEMs.

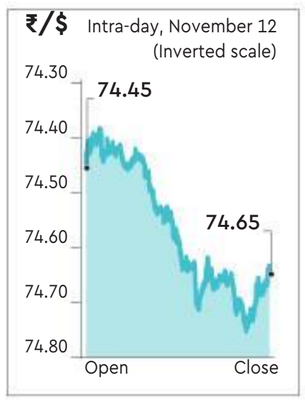
Mumbai, November 12

EXTENDING ITS LOSING streak to the fourth straight session, the rupee dived 28 paise to end at 74.64 against the US dollar on Thursday on sustained demand for the greenback from importers and banks coupled with foreign fund outflows.

The local unit opened at 74.44 against the greenback at the interbank forex market and witnessed an intra-day high of 74.38 and a low of 74.74 against the American currency.

It finally settled at 74.64 to the US dollar, down 28 paise over its last close of 74.36. In the last four sessions, the rupee has lost 56 paise against the American unit.

Forex traders said weak domestic equities, too, weighed on investor sentiment. Besides, market participants are awaiting cues from India's retail inflation and IIP numbers, scheduled to be released later in the day.



Jateen Trivedi, Senior Research Analyst (Commodity & Currency) at LKP Securities, "Rupee extended losses by afternoon trade Thursday on likely outflow from local stock... and a strong dollar mainly on back of selling in financial sector losses about couple of percent on broad Indices. Dollar index has build some momentum in past 24 hours which has helped USD-INR appreciate beyond 74.50."

The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, fell 0.23% to 92.82.

Sriram Iyer, senior research analyst at Reliance Securities, said, "The Indian rupee depreciated further against the US currency on persistent state-run banks' greenback bids, rumoured to be on behalf from the central bank and for defence-related payments".

"Rupee fell sharply against the US dollar ahead of the important inflation and industrial production number that will be released later today (Thursday). Increase inflation is likely to keep the rupee weighed down against the US dollar," said Gaurang Somaiyaa, forex & bullion analyst, Motilal Oswal Financial Services.

According to Devarsh Vakil, deputy head of retail research, HDFC Securities, "Concerns are mounting on inflation front as well after recent surge in crude oil prices. High inflation will put pressure on Central bank to maintain interest rates higher. The weaker economic data and central bank's dollar buying has been weighing on rupee."

ESAF SFB plans to float IPO in Q4

RAJESH RAVI
Kochi, November 12

ESAF SMALL FINANCE Bank on Thursday said it is planning to float its initial public offering (IPO) in the fourth quarter of the current fiscal.

The Thrissur-based lender had filed the draft red herring prospectus in January and got approval from Sebi in the last week of March for a fresh issue worth ₹800 crore and an offer for sale aggregating up to ₹176.2 crore.

K Paul Thomas, managing director and CEO, said the business is back to normal and the bank will go ahead with the IPO by March. "The bank has reported 41% year-on-year growth in net profit and our total business has grown by 35%. Both assets and liabilities have grown and our asset quality has improved. Overall business sentiments are also good and we think it is the right time for the IPO," he said. "Almost 100% of loan customers availed of the benefit of the moratorium in April and May and it gradually decreased to 80% in June-July. By August, it was down to 60%. If not for the RBI order on moratorium, loans worth ₹10 crore would have slipped into NPAs..."

Festive cheer grips Pune realty as sales pick up

GEETA NAIR
Pune, November 12

PUNE'S REALTY MARKET is witnessing a recovery this festival season. Some of the developers have launched new projects just before the festival while others are ready to launch projects that they had held back because of the pandemic and lockdowns.

"There is definitely an upsurge across Pune's residential market," says Aditi Watve, city head–Pune, Anarock Property Consultants. Going by the Anarock data, the housing sales in October alone was almost equal to the number of units sold during July-September period, and this trend applied across the market in Pune, says Watve.

While ready-to-move in properties continue to be the hot favourite, even under-construction units nearing completion are witnessing significant traction, and sales are being led by end-users, while investors are largely staying away, she said. "Looking at the current momentum in Pune, we can predict that housing sales in the ongoing quarter (October-December) will be almost equal to that of Q4FY19," says Watve.

Buyers are getting attracted to properties that offer good deals and discounts and effectively reduce the overall cost of acquisition, she said. "Properties priced between ₹50 lakh and ₹80 lakh are the sweet spot budget range. There is maximum demand for 2BHKs and 2.5BHKs with a carpet area ranging between 600-800 sq ft," she said.

According to Vineet Goyal, joint MD of Kohinoor Group, the overall situation is improving and we are sensing a positive sentiment among the homebuyers, especially, in the first-time homebuyers segment. Additional cost benefits such as reduced stamp duty, affordable interest rate on home loans are the major pull factor, Goyal said. "We have decided to go ahead with our new projects launches in the next five to six months, which were kept on hold due to lockdown," Goyal said.

Kalpataru's sales are almost back to pre-Covid levels and the festive season will serve as an additional demand driver, says Parag Munot, MD of Kalpataru. Kalpataru has four on-going projects. Residential sales have progressively improved from August, touching near pre-Covid levels today particularly in Pune and MMR, says Munot. "Stamp duty reduction, softening of interest rates, attractive payment schemes and the importance of having a secure life space has catalysed the demand," says Munot.

Notes :

1 The above Financial Results were reviewed by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at their meeting held on November 12, 2020.

2 These financial results have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) as prescribed under section 133 of Companies Act 2013 read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015 (as amended).

3 As the Company's business operations fall within a single primary business segment viz. product and systems for electricity distribution, the disclosure requirements of Ind AS 108 Operating Segments prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act 2013 read with relevant rules issued thereunder, are not applicable.

4 Exceptional items represent expenses incurred towards organizational restructuring for improving efficiency in line with change in product lines and related employees settlement cost.

5 The global pandemic outbreak of Covid-19 has substantially disrupted the economic activities during past six months, affected by the lockdown until May 2020, impacting revenue and profitability of the Company. While there have been series of measures taken by Government of India, for unlocking the economy since June 2020, the restoration of normal business conditions is still dependent on the future state of the pandemic on the people and the economy. Basis the best estimates as on the date of reporting, the Company does not anticipate any material impact on the recoverability of the carrying value of its assets including trade and other receivables, contract assets, unbilled revenue, inventories, property, plant and equipment and right to use assets. However, considering the unpredictable situation giving rise to inherent uncertainty around the extent and timing of the potential future impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, the impact of Covid-19 on the Company's financial results may differ from that estimated as on the date of approval of these financial results.

6 As at the end of quarter, the Company has total accumulated losses aggregating to MINR 3,805.20, its net worth being fully eroded and its current liabilities exceeds its current assets by MINR 119.94. Though these factors lead to material uncertainty on Company's assumption to continue on a going concern basis, however management believes that there are sufficient mitigating factors comprising of future cash flow projections, availability of working capital facilities and also the fact that borrowings of the Company are from group company which may be deferred depending upon Company's liquidity position. Basis this, the management believes that the Company is expected to have sufficient cash flows to meet its obligations for next twelve months and does not anticipate that it will not be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. Accordingly, these results have been prepared on a going concern basis.

7 Prior period figures have been reclassified/regrouped wherever necessary, to correspond with those of the current period classification.

8 The full format of the Unaudited Financial Results are available on the websites of Stock Exchanges at www.bseindia.com and www.nseindia.com and can be accessed on Company's website at www.schneider-infra.in.

Daimler opens 10 touchpoints for BharatBenz vehicles

FE BUREAU
Chennai, November 12

DAIMLER INDIA COMMERCIAL Vehicles (DICV), the wholly owned subsidiary of Daimler, Germany, on Thursday inaugurated 10 new touchpoints for its BharatBenz commercial vehicles in tier II and tier III cities spread across northern, southern and western regions of the country.

Together, the new facilities will add around 3 lakh sq ft of workshop space, including more than 40 mechanical bays. This increases the network's monthly service capacity to over 40,000 vehicles a month and significantly improves the brand's reach in regional areas.

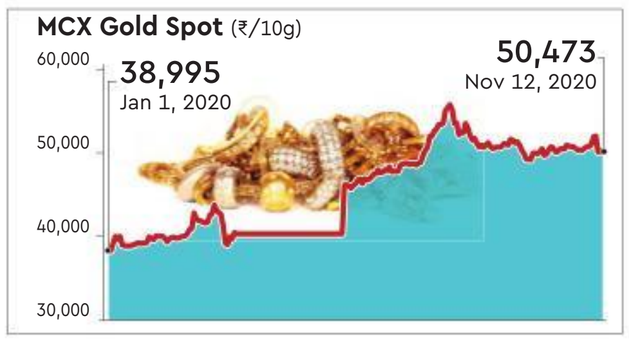
Satyakam Arya, MD & CEO, DICV, said, "As our made-for-India brand BharatBenz reaches new heights, we continue to invest in the future. The 10 new touchpoints we open today reflect our commitment to our customers and our confidence in the growth of the local CV market."

In September, DICV announced plans to grow their BharatBenz dealer network by 10%, exceeding 250 outlets by the end of 2020. With the opening of these new touchpoints, the company moves a step closer to its goal of cutting distance between dealerships from 160 km to 120 km. In some regions, such as Kerala, the distance between touchpoints has been reduced to 70 km.

HIGH PRICES DENT SENTIMENT

Muted start to Dhanteras; more buying expected today

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi/Mumbai, November 12



PRE-DIWALI DHANTERAS SALES of gold and silver witnessed a tepid response from consumers on Thursday on account of high prices of the precious metals and sluggish demand due to Covid-induced economic hardship, according to jewellers and industry experts.

However, jewellers are expecting maximum footfalls on Friday as Dhanteras – considered the most auspicious day in Hindu calendar for buying items, ranging from precious metals like gold and silver to utensils – is being celebrated for two days this year.

Although the buying sentiment has improved after curbs were relaxed, consumers are still wary of investing in precious metal at current high rates.

A caution still prevails among people while coming out of their homes for shopping amid rising Covid cases in key consuming markets across the country. Besides, customers have made advanced booking through online jewellery platforms like Melorra and Augmont.

Gold prices were ruling at ₹50,057 per 10 gram on Thursday, over 31% higher than ₹38,096 per 10 gram on Dhanteras 2019. Silver prices have shot up to over ₹62,000 per kg.

All India Gem and Jewellery Domestic Council chairman Anantha Padmanaban said there was not much footfalls on Thursday because the festival will be celebrated in most parts of the country on Friday. The market is recovering gradually and the consumer sentiment is positive.

"This year, Dhanteras is overlapping on two days, we are expecting maximum traction on Friday across the country. We expect the pent-up demand to translate into sales. In terms of volume, we expect to do 70% of last year's business and in value-wise similar to last year Dhanteras," he said.

World Gold Council (WGC) managing director (India) Somasundaram PR said, "The footfalls are better and people are interested. Sales are recovering, but it will not be as good as last year during the same period."

The softening of gold price just ahead of this big day is also very supportive of demand. However, challenges of lockdown have not gone away, so expectations remain tempered by the fact of high and volatile prices, persisting anxieties of small businesses and unorganised workforce, and a general caution in the air about COVID-19, he said.

Organised players with meaningful technology interface and better response to emerging buying behaviours and digital gold platforms promoting micro savings and safe gold accumulations are expected to do well, Somasundaram said.

Sebi comes out with disclosure framework for debenture trustees

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

MARKETS REGULATOR SEBI on Thursday came out with a diclosure framework as well as guidelines to monitor the asset cover of debenture trustees.

The framework will become effective from the quarter ended December 31, 2020 for listed debt securities, Sebi said in a circular.

The regulator said debenture trustees (DTs) will have to carry out periodical monitoring of 'security created' or assets on which charges are created. They are also required to incorporate the terms and conditions of periodical monitoring in the debenture trust deed.

Further, a listed entity will be liable to provide relevant documents or information to enable debenture trustees to submit asset cover certificate and net worth certificate of guarantor, among others, to the stock exchanges within the stipulated timelines.

Under the framework, asset cover certificate and statement of value of pledged securities need to be submitted on a quarterly basis while net worth certificate of guarantor (secured by way of personal guarantee) will have to be submitted on a half-yearly basis.

Besides, the value of guarantor prepared on basis of audited financial statement of the guarantor (secured by way of corporate guarantee) and valuation report for the immovable or movable assets, need to be submitted within 75 days from the end of each financial year.

For existing debt securities, listed entities and DTs will have to enter into supplemental or amended debenture trust deed within 120 days from the date of the circular, incorporating the changes in the debenture trust deed, Sebi said.

Tejashwi claims NDA won Bihar elections by deceit

RJD'S TEJASHWI YADAV was on Thursday elected the leader of the Grand Alliance's legislature group and promptly claimed the NDA won the Bihar elections by "deceit" amid a call in the Congress for "deep introspection" over its dismal performance that thwarted the coalition's bid for power.

Chief minister Nitish Kumar, whose JD(U) suffered a major slump in seats in the assembly polls on account of the rebellion by Chirag Paswan, meanwhile, said it is for the alliance spearhead BJP to take a call on whether to retain the LJP in the NDA.

Congress general secretary Tariq Anwar came out with the candid admission that his party, on account of its poor performance, emerged as the weak link, preventing the "Mahagathbandhan" from forming its government in the state.

"It was undoubtedly a mandate for change. The NDA won by dhan, bal and chhal (money, muscle power and deceit," Tejashwi Yadav told a press conference. —PTI

Govt issues notice to Twitter for showing Leh as part of J&K

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

THE GOVERNMENT HAS issued a notice to Twitter for showing Leh as part of Jammu and Kashmir instead of the Union Territory of Ladakh, according to IT ministry sources.

The ministry, in its notice, has directed Twitter to explain within five working days why legal action should not be initiated against the micro-blogging platform and its representatives for disrespecting the territorial integrity of India by showing an incorrect map.

The notice was issued to Twitter by the ministry of electronics and information technology on November 9, the sources said.

In the notice sent to the global vice president of Twitter, the ministry asserted that showing Leh as part of Jammu and Kashmir is a deliberate attempt by the micro-blogging platform to undermine the will of sovereign Parliament of India which has declared Ladakh as a Union Territory with its headquarters in Leh.

Twitter had earlier shown Leh as part of China, following which the IT secretary had written a stern letter to the company's CEO Jack Dorsey.

In response, Twitter had replaced China with Jammu and Kashmir. However, Twitter has not yet corrected the map to show Leh as part of the Union Territory of Ladakh. It is still showing Leh as part of Jammu and Kashmir, which is against the official position of the Government of India.

India rejects Pakistan's list of terrorists involved in 26/11 Mumbai attacks

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

INDIA ON THURSDAY rejected Pakistan's latest list of terrorists involved in the 26/11 Mumbai attacks, saying it "glaringly omits" the mastermind and key conspirators of the heinous terror strike.

In a strongly-worded reaction on the issue, spokesperson in the ministry of external affairs Anurag Srivastava said India has repeatedly called on Pakistan to give up its "obfuscation and dilatory tactics" in discharging its international obligations in the trial of Mumbai terror attacks.

"We have seen media reports in Pakistan about Pakistan's Federal Investigative Agency (FIA) releasing an updated "book on most wanted/high profile terrorists" listing several Pakistani nationals involved in the 26/11 Mumbai terror attacks," he said.

"While the list includes a select few members of the Lashkar-e-Tayyiba, a UN-designated terror entity based in Pakistan, including the crew members of the boats used to execute the 26/11 attack, it glaringly omits the mastermind and key conspirators of the heinous terror attack," Srivastava said.

According to reports, a total of 19 terrorists were named as those involved in the attack.

"It is a fact that the 26/11 terror attack was planned, executed and launched from Pakistan's territory. The list makes it clear that Pakistan possesses all the necessary information and evidence on the conspirators and facilitators of the Mumbai terror attack based in Pakistan," Srivastava said.

On November 26, 2008, a group of Pakistani terrorists sneaked into Mumbai through the sea, arriving by boat from Karachi, and went on the rampage, carrying out a coordinated attacks on the main Chattrapati Shivaji railway terminus, the Taj Mahal hotel, the Trident hotel, and a Jewish centre.

A total of 166 people including 28 foreigners were killed in the nearly 60-hour assault.

"The government of India has repeatedly called on the government of Pakistan to give up its obfuscation and dilatory tactics in discharging its international obligations in the Mumbai terror attacks trial," he said.

Srivastava said several other countries have also called upon Pakistan to expeditiously bring the perpetrators of the dastardly terror attacks to justice.

"It is a matter of serious concern that despite its own public acknowledgement as well as the availability of all necessary evidence, including that shared by India, Pakistan is yet to show sincerity in delivering justice to the families of 166 victims from 15 countries across the globe, even as we near the 12th anniversary of 26/11 attacks," he said.

Replying to a separate question on reports about killing of an 82-year-old Ahmadi man in Peshawar in Pakistan, Srivastava said it is a sad reflection of the state of minorities in Pakistan.

"We have seen media reports of an 82-year-old Ahmadi man believed to have been shot and killed by some gunmen, apparently because of his faith in Peshawar. This is, unfortunately, a sad reflection of the state of minorities in Pakistan," he said.

"Over a period of time, we have seen the space for people from the minority community to practise their religion shrink continuously. Besides, their condition remains deplorable," Srivastava said.

PUBG to launch India-specific game

PUBG Corporation's parent company Krafton Inc recently signed a deal with Microsoft that will enable the parent entity to host the game on Microsoft's Azure cloud platform.

"Thanks to the overwhelming community enthusiasm for PUBG e-sports in India, the company also plans to make investments by hosting India-exclusive e-sports events which will feature the biggest tournaments, the largest prize pools, and the best tournament production," the company said.

The Indian company will hire over 100 employees specialising in business, e-sports and game development. In addition to establishing a local office, PUBG Corp will look to actively collaborate and leverage local businesses to strengthen its gaming service.

Markets fall despite Goldman upgrade

"First, India has been a laggard this year underperforming the region by 11 pp in USD terms. As we noted in our recent report, Indian equities are most positively sensitive to the improving prospects of a vaccine, and so we expect a 'catch up' laggard rally given the positive news flow on the vaccine front (which could spur faster than expected recovery). More importantly, on the fundamental side, the domestic macro recovery is underway as suggested by pick up in high frequency activity data points", the analysts said. GS economists expect real GDP growth to rebound to 10% and 7.2% over the next two years versus an expected -9% this calendar year.

Moody's ups its growth estimate

India had a 69-day nationwide lockdown, which was followed by local and state-level restrictions to contain the spread of the pandemic. Restrictions have eased only slowly and in phases, and localised restrictions in containment zones remain. "As a result, the recovery has been patchy," it said.

A steady decline in new and active cases coronavirus cases since September, if maintained, should enable further easing of restrictions. "We, therefore, forecast a gradual improvement in economic activity over the coming quarters," it said. "However, slow credit intermediation will hamper the pace of recovery because of an already weakened financial sector."

Covid vaccine: Serum has made 40 m doses so far

AstraZeneca said last week that it was holding back deliveries of its vaccine candidate while it awaits the data from late-stage trials, which got delayed due to a summer dip in UK infections. Serum declined to comment on whether the 40 million doses of the AstraZeneca vaccine were meant for global supply or only for India.

Stimulus 3.0: Now, guaranteed credit for large firms in 27 sectors

The government has already earmarked a corpus of ₹41,600 crore over the current and the next three financial years to implement the ECLGS.

Unlike in the ECLGS 1.0, there is no turnover limit set for the companies to tap the scheme. Their accounts must have been SMA-0 (where the delay in repayment ranges between one and 30 days) as of February 29, 2020. Interest rates under both the versions are capped at 9.25% for banks and other financial institutions, and 14% for NBFCs. However, instead of four years, the tenor of loans to be provided under the ECLGS 2.0 is five years, including a moratorium of one year on principle repayment.

"ECLGS 2.0 to provide much-needed relief to stressed sectors by helping entities sustain employment and meet liabilities. It will also benefit MSME sector which provides goods and services to eligible entities," the finance minister said.

Loan growth has been faltering in recent months. According to the latest RBI data, non-food bank credit growth decelerated to 5.8% on year in September from 8.1% a year before.

Loans of ₹2.05 lakh crore have been sanctioned so far under the ECLGS since its rollout on June 1 to 61 lakh borrowers. Of this, an amount of ₹1.52 lakh crore has been disbursed.

Under ECLGS 1. 0, announced as part of the government's ₹21 lakh-crore relief package in May, the Centre has pledged full guarantee for up to 20% extra, collateral-free working capital loans, subject to the ₹3-lakh-crore limit. While this scheme was initially meant for only MSMEs, the Centre, in August, decided to relax the eligibility criteria to cover professionals and enable a wider pool of businesses to benefit from it.

Still, as part of its expanded coverage, companies with an annual turnover limit of only up to ₹250 crore are eligible to tap ECLGS 1. 0. Even individuals such as doctors, chartered accountants, lawyers, etc, who wish to take loans for professional purposes, are covered. Similarly, eligible businesses with only up to ₹50 crore outstanding as of February 29 can avail of the additional guaranteed loans.

Tax sops announced to help developers, woo homebuyers

He further said while the move will benefit most projects, the limit of ₹2 crore may make it not so attractive for a place like Mumbai or Delhi where prices are high. "While you will get properties for ₹2 crore in the suburbs, in central and south Mumbai and in Delhi the properties of ₹2 crore will be a rarity. Also, prices have fallen more in the high-end markets compared with the lower segments of the market," he said.

Motilal Oswal Real Estate CEO Sharad Mittal said, with the softening of prices across markets, this price difference was in excess of 10% in some cases which kept some of the home buyers at bay. "While the move of increasing the differential from 10% to 20% will certainly help the real estate sector liquidate inventory as it brings more homebuyers to the fore, the impact will be limited as unsold inventory is highest in Mumbai and NCR markets where property values are higher than ₹2 crore," he said.

There is another reason that the measure may have limited scope. Liases Foras founder and MD Pankaj Kapoor explained that there are not too many regions where circle rates are higher than the prevailing market rate. "In most regions, the circle rates have been lower than the prevailing market rate. However, this provision provides a scope to the developers to reduce prices. This may also open up the scope of absorbing some black money in real estate," he said.

Credai national president Satish Magar said while the industry had asked for a complete abandonment of 43CA, the increase to 20% is also a good enough move. "If someone wants to sell below the ready reckoner price, he has a margin of 20% to sell now. Being in an extraordinary situation if someone wants to liquidate their inventory, this is a good measure for that," he said.

Sunteck Realty CMD Kamal Khetan said, "Property value in many parts of India has already gone down below the ready reckoner rates. The move to hike the differential to 20% will help developers offload the inventory and homebuyers to proactively buy properties without any tax liability."

Naredco president (national) and Assocham president Niranjan Hiranandani said the cap of ₹2 crore will result in most projects in metro cities not being able to take advantage of this. "It has consistently been pointed out by industry bodies that price points in metro cities need to be kept in mind while offering any such relaxation," he said.

Meanwhile, partner at Nangia Andersen LLP Sandeep Jhunjhunwala pointed out that by limiting the total value of consideration for residential units to ₹2 crore will give respite only to the middle income group feeling the heat of cash and liquidity crunch in the pandemic-ridden environment.

Emphasis on job creation for the low-skilled

Under the PM Garib Kalyan Rozgar Yojana (PMGKRY), a scheme that dovetails various rural-centric schemes such MGNREGS and launched in June mainly to provide livelihood opportunities to returnee migrant workers in 116 districts, the government will provide an additional ₹10,000 crore this year. Apart from MGNREGS, the money would be spent on Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY). "This will accelerate the growth of the rural economy," finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said.

Of the ₹50,000 crore allocated under PMGRKY, ₹37,543 crore has already been spent, the FM said. Under PMGSY, ₹19,500 crore was allocated in the Budget for 2020-21.

For encouraging creation of formal employment, the Centre will bear the entire 24% contribution of both the employers and the employees, towards EPF for new employees earning less than ₹15,000 a month in establishments having less than 1,000 employees and bear the employees' contribution of 12% in establishments with more than 1,000 employees.

From the Front Page

The new scheme, Aatmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana, will remain operational till June next year and the subsidy under the scheme can be availed for two years. The estimated subsidy outgo under the scheme for the current fiscal would be around ₹6,000 crore. Overall, it could go up to ₹36,000 crore. "This will encourage formal employment," said former Central Provident Fund commissioner KK Jalan.

New employees would mean both those who will be entering into formal employment for the first time with freshly allotted Aadhaar-seeded universal account number (UAN) by the EPFO as well as those who would be rejoining into formal employment (already having been UAN allotted) after losing job during the pandemic period between March and September, 2020, within ₹15,000 monthly salary threshold.

Employers will have to add at least two new employees in their establishments if they have a total workforce of 50 and five, in case they have the strength of more than 50 employees to be eligible to avail the offer. "Around 99.1% of the formal employment will be able to avail benefits under the scheme," the FM said.

"The EPF subsidy given its low wage aspect (<₹15,000) will most likely lead to creation of low-skilled jobs and in that sense, low skilled and low paying jobs are likely to be created," XLRI professor KR Shyam Sundar said.

Stimulus of barely 2% of GDP offset by spending rejig

Since all stimulus schemes are demand-driven and spending decisions are prone to bureaucratic evaluations and vetting, the actual stimulus spending could turn out to be less than envisaged. For schemes that are to run for over a year (the five-year PLI scheme to boost manufacturing and exports, for instance), the remainder of the current fiscal is unlikely to witness spending that corresponds to a full year.

Sitharaman on Thursday said the steps taken so far, including the monetary measures of RBI to boost credit flows and systemic liquidity, are worth close to ₹30 lakh crore or 15% of GDP. The government's steps alone have been worth ₹17.2 lakh crore or 9% of GDP, she said. But that involves many existing schemes, whose costs had been included in the original Budget projections. Schemes that are to run for several years and private investments/spending that the government intends to spur and facilitate via assorted incentives are also part of the government's estimate of the stimulus.

A ₹65,000-crore additional outlay for fertiliser subsidy, over and above ₹71,309 crore budgeted, is the largest budgetary component of the stimulus 3.0. This will ensure that entire subsidy dues to the fertiliser companies, including ₹48,000-crore arrears, will be cleared in the current fiscal. This is an unprecedented step, as a major part of subsidy for any year used to be released in the subsequent year/s, leading to liquidity problems for the fertiliser industry and shortage of fertilisers in many parts of the country. Given the agitation over the farm Bills, and the fact that the agriculture sector is proving to be silver lining on the cloud of economic slump, the government can't afford paucity of fertilisers in the rabi season.

The government still has some room for unveiling more stimuli, even without altering the estimated budget size for the year or the enhanced gross borrowing limit of Rs 12 lakh crore. Analysts have projected the Centre's fiscal deficit in FY21 to be 7-8% of GDP compared with 3.5% budgeted. A big dose of stimulus will require the deficit to widen even beyond this level. Apparently, the government doesn't want that to happen and prefers to keep stimulus within a certain limit.

Batting for 'additional' fiscal spending, chief economic adviser Krishnamurthy Subramanian said recently: "At this juncture, returning to the high-growth trajectory gets priority over fiscal balance. As such, even in the past, a rating downgrade didn't quite impact India's financial system."

Modi pitches for free, rules-based and open Indo-Pacific region

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 12

Prime Minister Narendra Modi

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi on Thursday pitched for convergence of approach between India and the 10-nation ASEAN in ensuring a free, open, inclusive and rules-based Indo-Pacific, a region that has witnessed renewed global focus in view of China's expansionist behaviour.

At a virtual summit, India and the ASEAN also deliberated on the situation in the South China Sea and affirmed the importance of maintaining and promoting peace, stability, safety and security in the region besides ensuring freedom of navigation and overflight, the ministry of external affairs (MEA) said.

The summit also welcomed the adoption of a new ASEAN-India Plan of Action for 2021-2025 to boost overall cooperation in various areas.

In the summit, Prime Minister Modi announced a contribution of $1 million to Covid-19 ASEAN Response Fund and stressed on leveraging strong ties between the two sides in the battle against the pandemic.

In the previous ASEAN-India summit in Bangkok last year, Modi had proposed a new framework called 'Indo-Pacific Ocean's Initiative' to create a safe and secure maritime domain in the Indo-Pacific, indicating India's readiness to play a bigger role in the region.

In his address, Modi also underscored the importance of greater physical and digital connectivity between ASEAN and India and reiterated India's offer of $1 billion Line of Credit to support ASEAN connectivity, Secretary (East) in the MEA Riva Ganguly Das said at an online media briefing about the summit.

The summit took place amid China's aggressive behaviour in the disputed South China Sea, Indo-Pacific region as well as in eastern Ladakh. A number of ASEAN countries have territorial disputes with China in the South China Sea.

The secretary said the discussions also covered regional and international issues of common interest and concern including South China Sea and terrorism.

"Both sides noted the importance of promoting a rules-based order in the region including through upholding adherence to international law, especially the UNCLOS (United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea).

"The leaders affirmed the importance of maintaining and promoting peace, stability, safety and security in the South China Sea in particular freedom of navigation and overflight," she said.

"There is ample closeness between India's 'Indo Pacific Oceans Initiative' and ASEAN's 'Outlook on Indo Pacific'. We firmly believe that a cohesive and responsive ASEAN is essential for security and growth for all in the region," Modi said in his opening remarks.

Modi, Biden will speak at 'mutually convenient time', ties have bipartisan support in US: MEA

PRIME MINISTER NARENDRA Modi and United States president-elect Joe Biden will speak with each other in due course at a mutually convenient time, the ministry of external affairs said on Thursday and asserted that India-US ties enjoy bipartisan support in America.

The MEA's assertion comes days after Biden defeated incumbent President Donald Trump in a bitterly-fought presidential election that attracted a record number of Americans to cast their votes.

MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said the prime minister had congratulated US president-elect Biden through a tweet and had also appreciated the former American vice president's contribution to strengthening India-US relations.

Prime Minister Modi had also conveyed that he looks forward to working with him to take India-US relations to greater heights, Srivastava said at an online media briefing.

Asked when will the two leaders speak with each other, he said it will happen in "due course at a mutually convenient time". —PTI

India-China border standoff in eastern Ladakh likely to be resolved peacefully soon: ITBP chief

NEELABH SRIVASTAVA
New Delhi, November 12

THE BORDER STANDOFF between India and China in eastern Ladakh is expected to be resolved peacefully "very shortly", ITBP chief SS Deswal has said, adding that the infrastructure along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) is also being ramped up at a rapid pace.

Talking to PTI during a wide-ranging interview, the director general of the Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP) said his troops have been provided with special winter clothing and nutritious food as they brave the severe chill in eastern Ladakh where the armies of India and China are locked in a tense standoff for over six months.

Asked about the current military standoff with China in eastern Ladakh, Deswal said "strains in bilateral relations are already evident but we are confident these will be sorted out peacefully very shortly."

Authoritative sources on Wednesday said India and China have broadly agreed on a three-step process on disengagement of troops and withdrawal of weaponry from all major friction points in a time-bound manner. —PTI

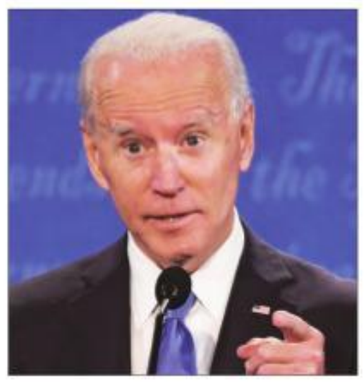
CHALLENGE AHEAD

Joe Biden's plea for cooperation confronts a polarised Congress

GOP control of the Senate would curtail Biden's ambitions

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington, November 12



PRESIDENT-ELECT JOE Biden feels at home on Capitol Hill, but the place sure has changed since he left.

The clubby atmosphere that Biden knew so well during his 36-year Senate career is gone, probably forever. Deal-makers are hard to find. And the election results haven't dealt him a strong hand to pursue his legislative agenda, with Democrats' poor performance in down-ballot races likely leaving them without control of Congress.

The dynamic leaves Biden with little choice but to try to govern from the vanishing middle of a Washington that's been badly ruptured by the tumult of the last decade. With the forces of partisanship and gridlock entrenched, ending what Biden called the "grim era of demonization" could be the central challenge of his presidency - and one that could prove vexing if forces on the left and right refuse to go along.

"There is a certain opportunity for bipartisanship, but it is all going to be deals in the middle," said Rohit Kumar, a former aide to Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, R-Ky. "What I don't know is whether the (Democratic and Republican) parties will allow them to do that because the parties have gotten a lot more polarised."

While it is not settled, Biden faces a high likelihood of becoming the first Democrat in modern history to assume office without his party controlling Congress. Republicans are favoured to retain control of the Senate heading into two runoff elections in Georgia in January. Democrats have already won the House.

GOP control of the Senate would force Biden to curtail his ambitions, all but guaranteeing that big issues like climate change, immigration and expanding "Obamacare" remain mostly unaddressed.

But it would also create space for a different kind of legislative agenda - one founded on bipartisanship and consensus that would seem to play to Biden's strengths. And some lawmakers say voters made clear in the election that governance from the middle is exactly what they want.

Among them is Sen. Susan Collins, R-Maine, who emerged from a brutal reelection campaign empowered to pursue a brand of pragmatic centrism that was once common among lawmakers but is now quite rare.

"I have seen, based on the number of phone calls that I have received from both the Democratic senators and Republican colleagues, a real interest in trying to expand the center and work together to confront some of the challenges facing our nation," Collins said.

"And I'm encouraged by that." The glass half-full also depends on a sympathetic appraisal of McConnell, a much-loathed nemesis of Capitol Hill Democrats with a penchant for hardball tactics - and who is no stranger to obstructionism.

Ex-Google official from Stanford seen as energy secy pick

BLOOMBERG
November 12

A FORMER GOOGLE executive who previously led an energy department unit that funded research into experimental power projects is among the front-runners to lead the agency under President-elect Joe Biden, according to two people familiar with the matter.

Arun Majumdar

Arun Majumdar, a Stanford University engineering professor who was named Tuesday to lead the Biden transition team for the agency, is on the short-list to be energy secretary, the people said.

"He has to be the front-runner if Joe Biden is looking for a politically savvy technical expert to lead the agency," said Jeff Navin, a co-founder and partner at Boundary Stone Partners, a Washington-based government affairs and communications firm.

Majumdar declined to comment, instead referring questions to the Biden transition team that said in a statement that it has "not made any personnel decisions at this time."

The energy department has a budget of about $35 billion and a disparate mission that includes helping to build the nation's nuclear warheads, maintaining its emergency stockpile of oil and conducting research on subjects as varied as super computers and capturing carbon dioxide emissions.

In addition to Majumdar, Elizabeth Sherwood-Randall, a former deputy energy secretary whose deep background on nuclear weapons is considered an asset, is among the top candidates to lead the agency, according to the people. She didn't respond to an email seeking comment.

Majumdar has been told to resign from all boards and organisations associated with energy to eliminate perceived conflicts of interest, according to one person familiar with the communication. He has resigned from the board of the Electric Power Research Institute effective Tuesday, according to the institute.

"We understand his departure is for the broader good of our country," said Arshad Mansoor, president of the institute.

Under Biden, the energy department is expected to have a major role in Covid-related economic stimulus that the president-elect has said would be one of his top priorities. Under President Barack Obama the department was instrumental in disseminating some $90 billion in clean energy stimulus spending under the Recovery Act in 2009.

Majumdar, who also served as the acting under-secretary of Energy, won bi-partisan praise for his work as the founding director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency - Energy under Obama with the goal of helping investors translate science into breakthrough technologies. The program, which was targeted for elimination by Trump but preserved by Congress, has doled out billions of dollars to hundreds of projects including a squid-skin inspired shirt to regulate body temperature and a carbon-capture project that used enzymes.

"He had as good relationships with Republicans as he did with Democrats as the first director of ARPA-E, and he took the time to get to know key legislators personally," said Navin, who is also a former acting chief of staff at the Energy Department.

Majumdar went on to serve as vice president for energy at Alphabet Inc.'s Google before taking the post at Stanford. At Google he created energy technology initiatives with a focus on the intersection of data, computing and the electricity grid, according to his online Stanford biography.

1. The company's business activities falls within a single business segment (Engineering) in terms of Accounting Standard-17 of ICAI.
2. The Company's operations and financial results for the six months ended 30th September, 2020 have been adversely impacted by the outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic and the consequent lockdown announced by the Government of India due to which the operations were suspended for part of the first quarter and gradually resumed with requisite precautions. The results for the six months are, therefore, not comparable with those for the previous six months. The Company has considered the possible effects that may result from COVID-19 in the preparation of these interim financial results for the quarter and six months ended 30th September, 2020. While assessing the carrying value of its assets and liabilities, the Company has considered internal and external information available, and based on such information and assessment, have concluded that no further adjustments are required to be made to these results. The impact of the pandemic may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of these interim financial results. The Company will continue to closely monitor any material changes to future economic conditions.
3. Further quarter to quarter results are also affected by the type of the products manufactured/sold during that quarter.
4. The above financial results have been approved by the Audit Committee & Board of Directors at their meeting held on 12th Nov., 2020. The statutory auditors have carried out a limited review of the results quarter ended 30th Sept., 2020 and have issue an unmodified report on these results.

Notes :

1 The above is an extract of the detailed format of the Unaudited Standalone and Consolidated Financial Results for the quarter/half year ended 30th September, 2020 filed with the Stock Exchanges under Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. The full format of the aforesaid Results for the quarter / half year ended on 30th September, 2020 are available on the websites of the National Stock Exchange of India Limited (www.nseindia.com), BSE Limited (www.bseindia.com) and also on the Company's website (www.jaypeeinfratech.com). The items referred in the regulation 52(4) of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, the pertinent disclosures have been made to National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE limited and also available on company's website.

2 The Standalone Results of the Company comprise of only one segment i.e. Yamuna Expressway Project, an integrated and indivisible project which inter-alia includes construction, operation and maintenance of Yamuna Expressway and rights for land development of 25 million sq. mtrs. along the expressway.

3 The Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) that was initiated against the Company on 09.08.2017 has since been concluded with approval of Resolution plan of NBCC (India) Limited (NBCC) (with certain modifications) by NCLT, Principal Bench, New Delhi vide its order dated 03.03.2020. The Successful Resolution Applicant (NBCC) preferred to file an appeal before the Hon'ble National Company Law Appellate Tribunal ("NCLAT") against the Hon'ble NCLT order dated 03.03.2020 against certain modifications made to its Resolution Plan. Hon'ble NCLAT in its order dated 22.04.2020 has inter alia stated that the approved Resolution Plan may be implemented with constituting a Interim Monitoring Committee (IMC). The Interim Resolution Professional (IRP) constituted an 'Interim Monitoring Committee (IMC)' "comprising of the 'Successful Resolution Applicant', i.e the Appellant and the three major Institutional Financial Creditors i.e IDBI bank Ltd., IIFCL and LIC" pursuant to the directions of Hon'ble NCLAT, till the disposal of above appeal to manage the affairs of the company.

However, the Resolution Plan of Successful Resolution Applicant (RA) though approved is not being implemented since the RA of the view that Hon'ble NCLAT order dated 22.04.2020 is not a direction to implement the Resolution Plan & the implementation shall take place post finalization of the appeals before Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal and / or Hon'ble Supreme Court of India. Hon'ble Supreme Court in the Civil Appeal Diary No 14741/2020 between Jaypee Kensington Boulevard Apartments Welfare Association & Ors Vs NBCC (India) Ltd & Ors vide its order dated 06.08.2020 has transferred all the pending appeals/cases bearing Nos. 486, 488, 475, 478, 480, 489, 506, 547, 544 and 630 of 2020 with NCLAT to itself i.e. to Supreme Court to avoid further delay in execution of scheme. Further, it has stayed the order of Hon'ble NCLAT dated 22.04.2020 till further order and in the meanwhile Hon'ble Supreme Court has ordered the IRP to manage the affairs of the company. Directions were again passed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India vide its order dated 10.09.2020 that since the entire resolution plan is pending consideration in these proceedings before this Court, it is appropriate that no coercive action be taken by any person/authority against the Company until further orders on the principle underlying Section 14 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016. Further, the arguments in aforementioned matter before Hon'ble Supreme Court are concluded on 08 October 2020 and judgement on same is reserved. Accordingly, the operations of the company are managed on going concern basis.

4 The total income from operations is inclusive of revenue from real estate (netted off delay rebate). During the quarter ended on September 30, 2020, revenue from real estate is ₹ 636.25 lakh. Consequent upon approval of Resolution plan of NBCC by committee of creditors (COC) on 17.12.2019, the delay rebate is not being appropriated /adjusted while raising demand to customers from January 2020 onwards. Since then the company is not providing delay rebate to customers.

5 CBRE South Asia Private Limited has carried out an assessment for cost to complete (comprising of civil cost, consent and approval cost, Internal Infrastructure Development Cost, Architect Fee and contingencies) as on 31.03.2019 for the real estate projects being developed by the Company at its land parcel 1 i.e. Noida and Land parcel 3 i.e. Mirzapur. The balance cost to complete as on 30.09.2020 is based upon the said assessment as reduced by the actual work done upto 30.09.2020.

6 As the power of Board of Directors have been suspended, the above result have not been adopted by the Board of Directors. However, the same have been reviewed and signed by IRP of the Company Shri Anuj Jain on November 11, 2020 for filing with the stock exchange. The position of CFO had become vacant pursuant to resignation of former CFO on July 31, 2020.

7 The Company has disclosed outstanding loans and interest in financial statements as per balances appearing in its Books of Accounts as per agreements with respective banks/financial institutions. Finance Cost is inclusive of Interest on debt for the quarter ending September 30, 2020 aggregating to ₹ 50,703.52 Lakh (Cumulative ₹ 6,55,109.81 Lakh as at September 30, 2020), which shall be restated on implementation of the Resolution Plan by the Successful Resolution Applicant.

8 The Company reviewed the deferred tax assets/ liabilities on temporary differences between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purpose at reporting date. However, since the Company was under CIRP, there is virtual uncertainty of taxable profits in near future and availability of deferred tax assets to be set off. Accordingly, the deferred tax (net assets) for the reporting period i.e. April 1, 2020 to September 30, 2020 have not been considered.

9 The privately placed listed Non Convertible Debentures aggregating to ₹ 21195 Lakh as on 30th September 2020 are secured by way of exclusive charge /mortgage on 124.73 acres of land situated at Land parcel 4 i.e. Tappal, Dist. Aligarh, Uttar Pradesh.

10 The outbreak of corona virus (COVID-19) pandemic globally and in India is causing significant disturbance and slowdown of economic activity. Due to the lockdown announced by the Government, the Company's operations were suspended/ slowed down for most part of the half year ended September 30, 2020 and accordingly financial results for the quarter/ half year ended September 30, 2020 have been adversely impacted and are therefore not comparable with those for the previous periods. The operations and economic activities have gradually resumed with requisite precautions.

11 The figures for the quarter ended 30 September, 2020 represents the balancing figures between the reviewed figures of the half year ended 30 September, 2020 and the published year to date figures up to June 30, 2020.

12 The previous quarters/half year/year figures have been reworked/regrouped/rearranged wherever necessary to conform with those of current quarter/half year/year.

Notes to Financial Results

1 The above results have been reviewed and recommended by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at a meeting held on November 12, 2020.

2 The Company has adopted IND AS 116 "Leases" effective April 1,2019, as notified by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) vide Companies (Indian Accounting Standard), Amendment Rules,2019, using the modified retrospective method. Accordingly, comparatives for the year ended March 31, 2019 have not been retrospectively adjusted. The effect of this adoption is not material on the profit for the year and earning per share.

3 The Hon'ble High Court of Allahabad had, vide its Judgement dated October 26, 2016, on a Public Interest Litigation (challenging the validity of the Concession Agreement and seeking the Concession Agreement to be quashed) has directed the Company to stop collecting the user fee holding the two specific provisions relating to levy and collection of fee to be inoperative but refused to quash the Concession Agreement. Consequently, collection of user fee from the users of the Noida-Delhi Toll Road has been suspended from October 26, 2016, pursuant to which an appeal has been filed before the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, seeking an interim stay on the said Judgement.

On November 11, 2016, the Hon'ble Supreme Court issued an interim order and, though denying the interim stay, sought assistance of CAG to verify whether the Total Cost of the Project in terms of the Concession Agreement had been recovered or not by the Company. The CAG has submitted its report to the Hon'ble Supreme Court, which at a hearing held on September 14, 2018 directed that the Report submitted by CAG be kept in a sealed cover.

The SLP is still pending for final adjudication in the Hon'ble Supreme Court. The Company has also notified NOIDA that the Judgement of the Hon'ble Allahabad High Court, read with the interim order of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, constitute, a 'change in law' under the Concession Agreement and submitted a detailed proposal for modification of the Concession Agreement, so as to place the Company in substantially the same legal, commercial and economic position as it was prior to the said change in law. Since NOIDA did not act on the proposal, the Company had sent a notice of arbitration to NOIDA.

The Arbitral Tribunal has been constituted and both the Company and NOIDA have submitted their claims and counter claims. Further, NOIDA had filed an application under Section 16 on the maintainability of the arbitration proceedings which was rejected by the Arbitral Tribunal vide order dated August 10, 2018.

NOIDA had filed an application in the Delhi High Court, under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act,1961, challenging the Arbitral Tribunal order dated August 10, 2018, which has been disposed off by the Delhi High Court on January 31, 2019, without any relief to NOIDA.

d) In accordance with the Guidelines relating to COVID-19 Regulatory Package dated 27th March 2020 and 17th April 2020, the RBI allowed commercial banks, co-operative banks, financial institutions and NBFCs to grant a 3-month moratorium on payment of instalments of all term loans which were standard assets as on 29th February 2020. The objective was to help alleviate the hardship of borrowers which was brought on by the national lockdown. The initial moratorium period was for payments between 1st March 2020 and 31st May 2020. On 22nd May 2020, the RBI permitted an extension of the moratorium period by 3 months i.e. up to August 31, 2020. Interest shall continue to accrue on the outstanding portion of the loan during the moratorium period. Lenders were required to put in place Board approved policy prior to offering their customers the moratorium. Lenders have adopted different methods in offering the moratorium either an 'opt-in' or 'opt-out' structure. The Board of Directors of IIFCL through circular resolution dated 23rd April 2020 approved the Policy of moratorium based on RBI Circular issued for mitigating the effects of COVID 19. IIFCL has approved request of borrowers for moratorium in 98 contracts with outstanding principal amount of approx. ₹12781.17 crore as on 30th September 2020. Out of cases that availed moratorium, IIFCL created Funded Interest Term Loan/ Deferred Interest Term Loan amounting to ₹ 97.89 crore in 24 loan accounts and capitalized interest amounting to ₹ 307.38 crore (approx.) in 22 loan accounts. During half year ended 30th September 2020, IIFCL recognized deferred interest income amounting ₹ 405.28 crore (approx.) in moratorium loan cases. IIFCL vide email dated 12th November 2020 has also requested RBI to clarify that treatment of interest income by IIFCL is in order.
