Q3 RESULTS

Jio beats estimates, net profit rises 16% at ₹3,489 crore

Company's Arpu increases by 4% at ₹151, data usage up 7.5% at 12.9 GB

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, January 22

RELIANCE JIO ON Friday beat analysts estimates on most of the parameters by posting a net profit of ₹3,489 crore, up 15.5% quarter-on-quarter, during the October-December period. Revenues during the quarter grew 5.3% at ₹19,475 crore, while Ebitda at ₹8,483 crore was up 6.4%. Operating margin rose 43.6% from the preceding quarter's 43.1%. The company's average revenue per user during the period was up 4% sequentially at ₹151. Still, Jio's Arpu is well behind rival Bharti Airtel's Arpu of ₹162 in the September quarter. Bharti is yet to report the December quarter numbers.

Due to the ongoing farmers' agitation against the new farm laws in which the company was targeted in Punjab, the company could not check its monthly churn which was at 1.63%. Though it was lower than preceding quarter's 1.69% when it was hit by the pandemic when migrant labourers had moved to their hometowns, it was much higher than the company's pre-Covid numbers — it stood at 0.46% in Q1.

RIL's net profit rises 12.5% in Q3

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES (RIL) on Friday reported consolidated net profits of ₹13,101 crore for the three months to December 2020, an increase of 12.5% y-o-y. The oil-to-retail conglomerate's consolidated revenue from operations were down 22% y-o-y to ₹1.23 lakh crore.

The RIL stock, which is trading below its record September highs, closed at ₹2,047.95 on Friday, down 2.45%, on a day when the markets were weak.

In a quarter in which the economy was recovering from the disruption caused by the pandemic, RIL's performance wa somewhat mixed. Jio Platforms fared reasonably well; the subsidiary received ₹1.52 lakh crore from investors for a combined stake of 32.88%. On Reliance Retail, the management said while 96% of the stores had been opened only half of these were fully operational.

Reliance Retail consolidated revenues drop 19%

RELIANCE RETAIL ON Friday reported net revenues of ₹33,018 crore on a consolidated basis in the three months ended December, a decline of nearly 19% compared with the year-ago period, reports fe Bureau in New Delhi. The numbers are not comparable due to the transfer out of the fuel retailing business to the RIL-BP JV.

Net revenues stood at ₹40,660 crore in Q3FY20, the company said in a presentation.

Overall revenue was also impacted by the decision to convert Reliance Market stores to fulfilment centers to enable city expansion of new commerce.

Farmer-govt talks unravel as both sides harden stance

Govt 'disappointed', says vested interests are torpedoing the discussions

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

SEEMINGLY EXASPERATED OVER the obduracy displayed by the agitating farmer unions despite the conciliatory offer to put the three farm laws in abeyance for 18 months, the Centre on Friday hardened its stance and conveyed to the unions that it can't yield any more, causing further uncertainty over when and how the eight-week-long strike will end.

With the farmer groups clinging to the maximalist position that nothing less than the abrogation of the laws would be acceptable to them, both sides could not even decide on the date of the next round of talks.

Addressing the media after a five-hour, 11th round meeting with farmer leaders, in which confabulations actually occurred for just half an hour, agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar said: "The government has been talking to farmers since October and made several proposals (to resolve the impasse) with a view to allaying their fears and apprehensions. We have requested them to consider the last proposal to hold back the implementation of the laws for 12-18 months, which is a better proposal (than all others) and continue the discussions by forming a committee."

Don't cut transfers to states: Mitra to Centre

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

STATE GOVERNMENTS, FACING acute resource constraints and consequent squeeze on their investment expenditure, want the Centre to be liberal with the assorted transfers to them.

In a letter to the Union finance minister ahead of the Central Budget, West Bengal finance minister Amit Mitra, one of the most vocal among state finance ministers for the cause of cooperative fiscal federalism, has demanded that the Centre borrow an additional ₹72,000 crore under the special window to make good the states' estimated collective GST revenue shortfall in FY21, in addition to ₹1.1 lakh crore being raised already. Mitra also asked Sitharaman not to cut back on the tax devolution to states from the divisible pool, and called for removal of the reforms conditions attached to the 1% (of GSDP) extra borrowing window accorded to states in FY21.

In reference to his own state, Mitra pointed out that during April-December 2020, the state government has received only ₹27,944 crore as tax evolution against ₹37,905 crore due, a 26% shortfall. He demanded an amount of ₹20,961 crore (including ₹11,000 crore for FY20) should be disbursed to the states "on an immediate basis".

Google threatens to block search engine in Australia

RENJU JOSE
Sydney, January 22

ALPHABET'S GOOGLE ON Friday said it would block its search engine in Australia if the government proceeds with a new code that would force it and Facebook to pay media companies for the right to use their content.

Google's threat escalates a battle with publishers such as News Corp that is being closely watched around the world. The search giant had warned that its 19 million Australian users would face degraded search and YouTube experiences if the new code were enforced.

Australia is on course to pass laws that would make tech giants negotiate payments with local publishers and broadcasters for content included in search results or news feeds. If they cannot strike a deal, a government-appointed arbitrator will decide the price.

"Coupled with the unmanageable financial and operational risk if this version of the Code were to become law, it would give us no real choice but to stop making Google Search available in Australia," Mel Silva, managing director for Australia and New Zealand, told a senate committee.

Silva made no mention of YouTube in prepared remarks, as the video service is expected to be exempted under revisions to the code last month.

SETTING NEW RECORD

RK Singh, Union power minister

A fresh record has been created in Power Demand breaching the previous record of 1,85,820 MW which was created on January 20, 2021.

Quick View

'About 50% feel Budget will revive their biz'

ABOUT 50% OF the industry respondents feel that the upcoming Union Budget will revive their business, while a vast majority are optimistic about economic recovery and demand growth, a Deloitte survey said on Friday. While some respondents also feel that raising the tax exemption limit for individuals will boost private consumption and investment, about 50% highlighted demand revival as one of the major working areas.

Power demand at all-time high of 187 GW: RK Singh

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

POWER DEMAND TOUCHED an all-time high of 187.3 GW on Friday, highlighting the growing strength of the economy, power minister R K Singh said.

"A fresh record has been created in Power Demand breaching the previous record of 1,85,820 MW which was created on January 20, 2021. Today the power demand touched 1,87,300 MW at 10:28 am. This again underscores the growing strength of our economy," Singh said in a tweet.

On December 30 last year, all-India power demand had touched 182.89 GW.

According to data from the power ministry, the peak power demand met (the highest supply in a day) during January last year stood at 170.97 GW.

The rising power demand shows revival in economic activities leading to higher commercial and industrial demand, which was affected due to the pandemic.

The government had imposed a nationwide lockdown on March 25, 2020 to contain the spread of Covid-19.

Power demand started declining from April as economic activities were disrupted due to Covid-19.

The pandemic affected power demand for five months in a row from April to August 2020.

The demand recovered from September onwards. Peak power demand met grew at 1.7% in September, 3.4% in October, 3.5% in November and 7.3% in December.

Petrol crosses ₹92-mark in Mum, diesel at all-time high

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

PETROL PRICE ON Friday crossed ₹92 a litre mark in Mumbai, while diesel touched an all-time high after rates were raised for the third time this week.

Petrol and diesel prices were hiked by 25 paise per litre each, according to a price notification from oil marketing companies.

This took the petrol price in Delhi to ₹85.45 per litre and ₹92.04 in Mumbai.

Diesel rate climbed to ₹75.63 a litre in the national capital — its highest ever. In Mumbai, diesel price too increased to an all-time high of ₹82.40, the price data showed.

Petrol and diesel prices were raised by 25 paise per litre each on January 18 and 19.

Fuel prices are now at a record high in the country, prompting cries for a cut in excise duty to ease the burden on the consumers.

Oil minister Dharmendra Pradhan earlier this week blamed Saudi oil output cut for the surge in oil prices but remained non-committal on tax cuts.

Top oil explorer Saudi Arabia has pledged additional voluntary output cuts of 1 million barrels per day in February and March, which has led to price climbing to most since the pandemic broke out.

"A few months back, we all were discussing about consumption-centric revival, demand-driven revival, and we were supposed to restrict our production cut, and ramp-up (of production) gradually by January. But contradiction to that, we all are controlling oil production (now)," he said at an energy conference referring to a deal between Organisation of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (Opec) and its allies, including Russia.

IRCTC to resume e-catering from Feb

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

THE INDIAN RAILWAY Catering and Tourism Corporation — the catering and tourism arm of IR — is set to restart its e-catering services for passengers travelling in the currently operating special trains.

The service was suspended on 22 March, 2020, due to the Covid-19 pandemic and the lockdown.

The service allows passengers to order an array of food of their choice from reputed brands as well as popular regional and local delicacies on phone or online while traveling on trains and get the same delivered to their seats at railway station.

During the pre-Covid period, IRCTC had started clocking 20,000 e-catering orders per day.

With the gradual resumption of passenger train services and amidst the new normal wherein IRCTC is serving only 'ready to eat' meals to passengers on trains, there has been a huge demand for resumption of e-catering services.

The ministry of railways has also given the go-ahead to resume the services which will commence in a phasewise manner from February, 2021.

The services will start in over 30 railway stations catering to approximately 250 trains and the IRCTC is ensuring that all its partners ensure proper health and hygiene protocols.

Govt amends CSR rules; allows cos to undertake multi-year projs

THE GOVERNMENT ON Friday amended various rules pertaining to the CSR regime, including allowing corporates to undertake multi-year projects and making registration compulsory for agencies implementing CSR activities on behalf of firms.

Besides, firms have been permitted to set off the excess amount spent under CSR up to three succeeding financial years and they have also been allowed to create or acquire capital assets through CSR in the name of beneficiaries or a public authority or registered trust, among others.

Non-compliance with CSR provisions has been decriminalised by shifting such offences to penalty regime, while companies having CSR obligation below ₹50 lakhs have been exempted from constituting a CSR Committee, according to the corporate affairs ministry.

Under the Companies Act, 2013 — being implemented by the corporate affairs ministry — certain class of profitable companies are required to shell out at least two per cent of their three-year annual net profit towards CSR (corporate social responsibility) activities in a financial year. —PTI

Medha Servo Drives wins Vande Bharat tender worth ₹2,211 cr

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

THE RAILWAYS ON Friday awarded a ₹2,211 crore tender for 44 rakes of Vande Bharat train sets to Medha Servo Drives, a Hyderabad-based indigenous manufacturer of railway products. The contract is for design, development, manufacture, supply, integration, testing and commissioning of IGBT based 3-phase propulsion, control and other equipment for the rakes which will have 16 car each.

The procurement includes 5 years comprehensive annual maintenance contract with the supplier. The specifications were prepared after multiple deliberations with industry at various levels for manufacturing the train sets indigenously. "This project will be completed under the 'Make in India' policy with domestic content of 90%," the Railways said on social media. Vande Bharat Express is IR's first self-propelled engine-less train that can run at a maximum permissible speed of 160 kmph. At present, Indian Railways operates two world-class Vande Bharat trains — the first between New Delhi and Varanasi and the second between New Delhi and Katra.

The race for the tender saw participation from 3 bidders with Medha Servo Drives emerging as the winner with the lowest offer. In August 2020, the Railways had cancelled the tender for the manufacturing of the train sets after the Chinese joint venture company CRRC Pioneer Electric (India) emerged as the only foreign bidder among six contenders for manufacturing the semi-high speed trains. In September, the tender was floated again. Following the disqualification of the Chinese JV company in December 2020 over non-conformity with the rules of qualification laid down for neighbouring countries, there were only two valid bids — Medha Servo Drives and Bharat Heavy Electricals.

The new train sets will be manufactured at three production units of IR — 24 rakes at the Integral Coach Factory in Chennai, 10 rakes at the Rail Coach Factory in Kapurthala, and 10 rakes at the Modern Coach Factory in Raebareli.

Alstom wins RRTS contract for signalling system

ALSTOM HAS won a contract worth €106 million from the National Capital Region Transport Corporation to design, supply and install the signalling, train control and telecommunication system (Package 24) of the 82.15 km Delhi–Ghaziabad – Meerut Regional Rapid Transit System corridor. Alstom's scope of work includes design, supply, installation, testing and commissioning of signalling & train control, supervision, platform screen doors and telecommunication systems for the corridor. This line will be the first in India to adopt the European train control system hybrid level 3 signalling system, which is the core signalling and train control component of the European rail traffic management system. — FE BUREAU

India will be role model on how to vaccinate billion people at scale, in trusted manner: Nandan Nilekani

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

AADHAAR ARCHITECT NANDAN Nilekani on Friday said with the ongoing efforts around systematic rollout of Covid-19 vaccine to citizens, India will be a role model on how to vaccinate a billion people at scale and in a trusted manner.

The Infosys co-founder also noted that the pandemic has brought changes in consumer behaviour and accelerated adoption of digital services across sectors like healthcare and education that has brought down the cost of customer acquisition for startups.

Speaking at Redseer's Ground Zero 4.0 event, Nilekani spoke on how to build for scale in India that presents a massive opportunity with a booming internet penetration and rising adoption of digital services.

Nilekani said while the ongoing vaccination is focussing on healthcare and frontline workers, the vaccine production in India in the next four to five months will be more than ample to vaccinate more people.

"What's important is that the vaccination should be recorded online, real-time with proper authentication of identity, so that we can make sure that the person gets the message that they have to come back in three weeks for the next round, and that everybody should be issued a vaccination certificate," he said.

Nilekani highlighted that the government has done a great job by issuing digital vaccination certificates to those getting vaccinated as these can be stored in mobile phone and be presented when asked for.

Adani Total, Torrent pick 5% stake each in IGX

Speaking on the development, Rajesh K Mediratta, director, IGX said in the statement, "IGX envisions to play a key role in the development of India's gas market which is aligned with the government's vision to increase the share of gas in the energy mix from 6% to 15% by 2030."

"In our journey to shape the nascent gas markets in the country, we are delighted to partner with Adani Total Gas and Torrent Gas. We look forward to working in collaboration as IGX braces to play a pioneering role in developing India's gas markets," he added.

Suresh P Manglani, CEO, Adani Total Gas, said in the statement, "Adani Total Gas is committed to building gas infrastructure to increase share of natural gas in the India's energy mix. The precedent of IEX has remarkably transformed electricity trading in India." Likewise, the IGX is amply equipped to transform the gas sector in the coming years as it will enable efficient and competitive gas pricing and help in securing equitable distribution of natural gas in the country, he said.

Pre-Budget memo: Don't cut transfers to states: Mitra to Centre

According to an FE analysis, though Budget FY21 assumed a growth of 21% in the Centre's tax devolution to states, the transfers actually fell by the same rate in April-November and could plunge further in the remainder of the year as the Centre seeks to offset the extra transfers made in the initial months. The fall in devolution was much sharper than in the Centre's net (post-devolution) tax receipts (down 8% in April-November), which is attributable largely to the pandemic-induced overall decline in tax buoyancy.

The Centre's aggressive use of the cess route to bolster its own tax revenue has in recent years decelerated the growth of the divisible tax pool, thereby adversely impacting the states' tax revenue. Though trend was there throughout the 14th Finance Commission award period (FY16-FY20), it was most visible in FY20, with tax transfers declining, unconventionally. In FY20, tax transfers to states were down 15% on year.

"The lower devolution to the state has caused severe strain on state's finances at a critical time when Covid-19 induced lockdown already resulted in shrinking state revenues and increasing expenditure on healthcare and welfare schemes to provide relief to the poor," Mitra wrote.

As far as the GST compensation to the states is concerned, Mitra noted that the Centre needs to borrow the entire ₹1.82 lakh crore estimated GST shortfall under the special Reserve Bank of India (RBI) window and pass the funds on to the the states as back-to-back loans. Mitra had in an earlier letter to Sitharaman noted that the Centre's borrowing cost under the facility is around 5%, whereas the interest rate paid by the states for competitively borrowing from the RBI auctions is as high as 6.8%.

"I urge you to call a GST Council meeting to discuss the matter and arrive at a consensus," Mitra wrote in the latest letter.

Against the backdrop of the pandemic, the Centre has allowed states to borrow up to 5% of GSDP which includes 4% without any conditions. Four reform measures have been outlined which need to be met in order to borrow the last 1 % of GSDP (0.25% for each reform). "Given the state of the economy and the expected fall in GDP of 7.7% for FY21, state governments will need to invest more in capital sector projects to boost the economy. So, there is an urgent need for states to be able to borrow more to tide over the current situation," Mitra wrote. "In such circumstances, the imposition of conditions for borrowing, further limits the fiscal space for States. Therefore, it is proposed that similar relaxation in FRBM, of at least 2%, without imposing any conditions, be allowed in FY22," Mitra added.

Against a 30% year-on-year jump projected for FY21, budgetary capital expenditure by state governments might have dropped by a quarter in April-November, going by an FE review of data from twelve states. The slippage in states' capex is sure to have been unprecedentedly steep and would have a negative impact on economic recovery.

Among other issues, Mitra flagged reduction in budget allocations under Centrally Sponsored Schemes (CSSs) like National Health Mission, Sarva Shiksa Abihyan, Mid Day Meal, etc. leading to increased burden of maintenance and manpower costs on the states. It is suggested that these ongoing schemes be re-evaluated and a sufficient allocation is made for maintenance as well as for costs towards manpower, he said.

"The Central government also undertook restructuring of CSS by merging and discontinuation of schemes, along with altered sharing pattern between the Centre and States with increasing burden on the state share. This has had an adverse impact on the state's finances, nullifying the potential positive impact of the increased proportion of devolution. The sharing pattern needs to be corrected in favour of the states urgently," Mitra added.

Q3 results: Jio beats estimates, net profit rises 16% at ₹3,489 crore

Another parameter where the company disappointed was net additions, which at 5.2 million sequentially remained below analyst expectations of 6-6.5 million.

Most brokerages had estimated the company's revenues to grow 4% on sequential basis, Ebitda also by 4% and net profit by around 6%. Arpu was estimated around ₹149.

On other operating metrics, Jio performed well but average data growth per user at 12.9 GB though higher by 7.5% than preceding quarter's 12 GB is still far from rival Bharti Airtel's level of 16 GB in the July-September quarter. This could be due to high proportion of JioPhone users who are essentially feature phone users who are not heavy data users.

Data traffic at 1,58,60,000 million MB was up 10% compared to the preceding quarter. Jio's voice volume at 9,74,960 minutes registered an increase of nearly 5% against the preceding quarter. Usage per customer at 796 minutes per month registered an increase of nearly 3% sequentially.

Total customer gross addition stood at 25.1 million, which was below the gross adds of 27.2 million in the preceding quarter. The total subscriber base stood at 410.8 million, resulting in net addition of 5.2 million.

Commenting on the performance, Mukesh Ambani, chairman, Reliance Industries, said, "India is today among the leaders driving the Digital Revolution in the world. In order to maintain this lead, Jio will continue to accelerate the roll-out of its digital platforms and indigenously developed next generation 5G stack and make it affordable and available everywhere. Jio's 5G service will be a testimony to the vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat. Jio is determined to make India 2G-mukt, thereby empowering every Indian to have an affordable smartphone and be a part of digital and data revolution. We invite and encourage all stakeholders to work together to make world-class digital services available to every Indian consumer at the most affordable prices".

Covaxin: Phase 1 trial results show good response

The vaccine, codenamed BBV152, was well tolerated in all dose groups with no vaccine-related serious adverse events, noted the authors of the study funded by Bharat Biotech.

The same results were earlier published in the preprint server medRxiv in December.

However, there has been no new data released in the public domain which could demonstrate further safety and efficacy of the preventive.

The authors said that all adverse events were mild and moderate, and were more frequent after the first dose, adding that one adverse event was reported but was unrelated to the vaccine. —REUTERS

Farmer-govt talks unravel as both sides harden stance

He added: "If the people (who spearhead the agitation) really want the farmers to benefit, they would have definitely accepted our proposal."

The minister, sounding vexed, added: "Some people, who are used to oppose all good works, are creating misunderstanding between government and farmers...they are using the current protest for their own political benefits. Due to this, we have not been able to reach any conclusion. I am disappointed."

According to sources, Friday's meeting started over one-and-half-hour behind schedule and within 15 minutes after it started, the panel of three ministers left the room after asking the farmer leaders to decide on their stance. This was despite the fact that the unions had communicated their decision to reject the government's offer to hold back the laws. When the ministers did not return for long, farmer leaders went for lunch and the post-lunch meeting got delayed. When the ministers returned to the room in the evening, the meeting lasted for about 5-10 minutes and Tomar thanked all farmer leaders for the participation in the talks so far. He lamented that despite the best possible offer the government could have, other than repeal of laws, the farmer leaders have not agreed. He also conveyed that no date will be fixed for the next round of meeting.

During the brief discussion in the pre-lunch session, Tomar is learnt to have said that the government is ready to form two separate committees, one on farm laws and another on legal guarantee of the minimum support price (MSP) in which farmer unions will also have representation. This proposal was also turned down by the union leaders.

"We want a permanent mechanism and the holding back of laws is a temporary arrangement. Why can't the laws be repealed?" asked Rajinder Singh of Kirti Kisan Union. "We are yet to see the Swaminathan committee formula on MSP (C2+50%) is accepted by the government even after 15 years passed after its report was given," Singh said, expressing doubts about the efficacy of such panels.

Farmer leaders who have held several rounds of talks with the Delhi Police on Wednesday and Thursday have reiterated that they will not withdraw their plan to take out a tractor rally on the Republic Day, on the outer ring road of Delhi. The Delhi Police is yet to permit the rally.

Some farmer leaders on the condition of anonymity said they had not expected such a stand from the government and there was a "surprise element" in it. They were expecting some negotiation to take place on the proposal so that they could have bargained. But the panel of ministers, which includes commerce and food minister Piyush Goyal and minister for state for commerce Som Prakash, was in no mood to continue the dialogue, said a farmer leader who was present in the meeting. Tomar also expressed his displeasure that the farmer unions had made their decision to reject the offer public even before Friday's talks.

A statement issued by the Samyukta Kisan Morcha, an umbrella body of the agitating unions, had said on Thursday: "In a full general body meet, the proposal put forth by the government yesterday was rejected. A full repeal of the three central farm Acts and enacting a legislation for remunerative MSP for all farmers was reiterated as the pending demands of the movement."

VACCINATION ROLE MODEL

Nandan Nilekani, Infosys co-founder

India is one of the first countries in the world which has actually implemented this infrastructure for vaccination certificates. So I believe that if we do all the right things, India will be a role model on how to vaccinate a billion people at scale, speed, and in a trusted manner.

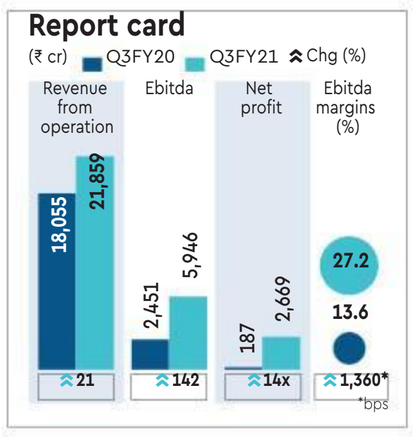
Mumbai, January 22

BACKED BY A strong recovery in steel demand, JSW Steel on Friday reported a stellar set of numbers for the three months of October-December, as the net profit increased nearly 14 times on a year-on-year basis to ₹2,669 crore.

Consolidated revenue from operations surged 21% y-o-y to ₹21,859 crore on the back of strong pick up in saleable steel volumes. Overall sales volumes were slightly lower by 2% y-o-y and 5% sequentially at 3.95 million tonne, due to lower opening inventory driven by strong sales in the second quarter. However, domestic sales of 3.48 million tonne is the second best quarterly sales on record, up 13% y-o-y and 16% quarter-on-quarter on the back of strong momentum in domestic economy.

"Various high frequency economic indicators are better than the initial expectations pointing to a robust recovery. Growth in passenger vehicles and motorcycle sales, railway freight traffic, and electricity consumption is also strong," the company said in a statement.

The company recorded highest ever quarterly sales of flat products, propelled by strong demand of coated products. Automotive steel sales increased by 57% y-o-y, while India's domestic automotive production grew by 16% y-o-y. Consequently, exports were much lower during the quarter. Overall value added and special products sales were up 12% y-o-y, making up 57% of overall sales versus 51% in Q2FY21. This was mainly driven by robust automotive sales and increased off-take from industrial and engineering, solar and appliances segment.



"The domestic steel industry witnessed sharp demand recovery driven by restocking and higher demand from automotive, machinery, construction and infrastructure sectors aided by increased government spending. Specific policy initiatives such as production linked incentive schemes to encourage manufacturing in India and targeted stimulus packages to the MSME sectors," the statement said. On the back of strong demand environment, JSW Steel improved average capacity utilisation level to about 91% for the third quarter, against 86% in Q2FY21, and 66% in Q1FY21. The company also said that it is on course to meet the annual guidance of 15 million tonnes of saleable steel sales, however, it is expected that crude steel production guidance achievement will be about 95% mainly due to constraints on iron ore availability in the country.

As the domestic steel demand rebounded from recent lows and gained momentum, the company further calibrated its export volumes to 12% of the total sales at 0.47 million tonnes, in order to service the Indian market. The company reduced inventories by 0.47 lakh tonnes during the quarter.

The company also reported strong growth in consolidated Ebitda (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation) during the quarter which surged 142% y-o-y to ₹5,946 crore. The spreads improved due to favourable change in geographical mix, product mix further supported by better realisations during the quarter. The enhanced spreads resulted in higher Ebitda margin, which also doubled y-o-y to 27.2% during the quarter.

The company reduced consolidated net debt by Rs 1,099 crore in the quarter. Consolidated net debt to equity stood at 1.29x at the end of the quarter versus 1.43x at the end of September 2020 quarter. Net debt to Ebitda stood at 3.53x against 4.73x at the end of Q2FY21.

On the outlook, JSW Steel said that a broad based economic recovery is underway in India with business sentiments improving substantially over the recent months. "There has been a strong growth in the automotive sector, notably in PV and 2-wheelers, and tractors due to strong rural demand. The recovery in residential real estate and continued traction in commercial real estate is a bright spot, with scope for structural revival of the sector," it said in a statement.

RIL's consolidated profit rises 12.5% to ₹13,101 cr

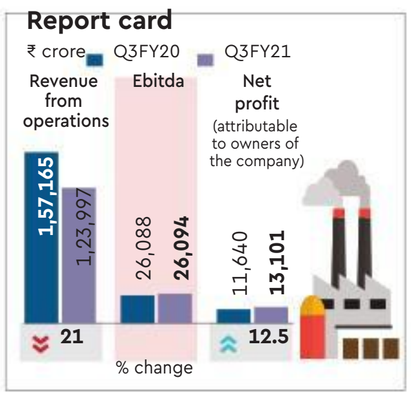
FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 22

RELIANCE INDUSTRIES (RIL) on Friday reported consolidated net profits of ₹13,101 crore for the three months to December, 2020, an increase of 12.5% y-o-y.

The oil- to- retail conglomerate's consolidated revenue from operations for the quarter were down 22% y-o-y to ₹1.23 lakh crore. The RIL stock, which is trading below its record September highs, closed at ₹2,047.95 on Friday, down 2.45%, on a day when the markets were weak.

In a quarter in which the economy was recovering from the disruption caused by the pandemic, RIL's performance was somewhat mixed. Jio Platforms fared reasonably well ; the subsidiary has received ₹1.52 lakh crore from investors for a combined stake of 32.88%.

The revenues for the oil-to-chemicals segment rose 10% sequentially driven by volume increases in the transportation fuels, PTA and polyester as also by better realisations across polymers, intermediates and polyester. RIL chairman Mukesh Ambani observed the reorganisation of the O-2-C segment would further the company's new energy and new materials businesses which was aimed at clean and green development. The new structure, Ambani said, would enable RIL to pursue opportunities for growth with strategic partnerships. "The O2C platform will increasingly move further downstream and become closer to customers," he added.



RIL's outstanding debt at the end of December, 2020 was ₹257,413 crore while the cash and cash equivalents stood at ₹2,20,524 crore.

Reliance Retail net revenue falls 19%

RELIANCE RETAIL ON Friday reported net revenues of ₹33,018 crore on a consolidated basis in the three months ended December, a decline of nearly 19% compared to the year-ago period. The numbers are not comparable due to the transfer out of the fuel retailing business to the RIL-BP JV.

Net revenues stood at ₹40,660 crore in Q3FY20, the company said in a presentation.

Overall revenue was also impacted by the decision to convert Reliance Market stores to fulfilment centers to enable city expansion of new commerce.

In Q3FY21, the company's EBITDA increased to ₹3,087 crore from ₹ 2,747 crore in Q3FY20, registering a growth of 12%. EBITDA in the October-December period rose by a sharp 53.9% on a quarterly basis. This was led by the near doubling of fashion and lifestyle earnings, continued benefits from cost management initiatives and a boost from higher investment income of ₹775 crore. EBITDA margin rose to 9.3% in Q3FY21 from 6.8% in Q3FY20.

Profit after tax grew by a marginal 4% year-on-year to ₹1,830 crore during the quarter.

The company said that the Consumer Electronics stores (excluding Jio devices) maintained the pace of revenue growth on the back of a "market beating festive season" and strong performance in tier two and three cities. Grocery business also sustained double-digit growth, the firm claimed.

Fashion and Lifestyle business surpassed pre-Covid levels during the quarter. Stores witnessed stepped up conversions and increased average bill values over last year driven by new collections across occasion wear and winter-wear, the company said. AJIO saw a near five times growth in orders over the previous year.

Reliance Retail that operates multi-format stores ranging from neighbourhood to supermarket and manages a clutch of brands opened 327 new stores during the quarter. —FE BUREAU

Biocon consolidated profit declines 19% to ₹187 crore

BIOTECHNOLOGY MAJOR BIOCON has reported an 18.97% fall in consolidated profit at ₹186.6 crore for the quarter ended December 31, 2020 on account of higher expenses.

The company had posted a profit of ₹230.3 crore for the corresponding period of the previous fiscal. The company's revenue from operations rose to ₹1,851 crore for the quarter under consideration, up 7.81%, as against ₹1,716.8 crore during the same period a year ago, Biocon said in a late night regulatory filing on Thursday.

Expenses rose to ₹1,642.6 crore for the December quarter, an increase of 14.52%, as against ₹1,434.3 crore in the year-ago period.

Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw, executive chairperson, Biocon, said: "2020 has been one of the most challenging years for the world with an unprecedented pandemic impact on the global economy. We continue to face headwinds across operational, regulatory and commercial functions which have been deterrents to our planned market expansion. However, we expect normalisation by next fiscal". —PTI

Serum Institute pegs losses due to fire at over ₹1,000 cr

GEETA NAIR
Pune, January 22

VACCINE MAKER SERUM Institute of India has suffered losses of ₹1,000 crore because of the fire that broke out at the Pune facility on Thursday.

Adar Poonawalla, CEO, said the extent of the damage was more than a ₹1,000 crore because of the equipment and the products that were going to be launched from this new facility.

SII was getting ready for adding capacity to make new product such as BCG and Rotavirus vaccines and this was a big loss for them, he said. Vaccines from this facility were to go into the exports and they would now look at making up for this from other facilities, Poonawalla said. The fire will not have impact on the Covishield Covid-19 vaccine production, stock or supplies, Poonawalla clarified. This was a financial loss and will not affect supplies of any vaccines, Poonawalla said.

Cyrus Poonawalla, CMD, SII, said there was no production happening in the area and no vaccine was being made there at the time of the fire and they they were lucky that fire broke out in this building and not the building making the Covishield vaccines. SII was getting the facility ready to make vaccines.

SII CEO said the damage has been in the filling line and bulk production line for BCG and Rotavirus vaccines, which was under installation in a brand new building. SII has multiple facilities and will be able to make up for the supplies of BCG and Rota virus. The loss was more about capacity expansion and future production, Poonawalla said.

Maharashtra chief minister Uddhav Thackeray visited SII's Pune facility on Friday and said it was a relief that the Covid-19 vaccine facility was safe and will remain unaffected by the fire. Thackeray said investigations were going on into the incident to see whether it was an accident or part of some sabotage. They will wait for the inquiry to be completed before speculating about this incident, Thackeray said.

Five persons were killed in the fire on Thursday at the Manjari Special Economic Zone campus on Thursday.

SC rejects plea for early hearing on Vedanta's Sterlite plant

THE SUPREME COURT on Friday refused to accord early hearing to the plea related to mining major Vedanta's Sterlite copper unit at Tuticorin in Tamil Nadu which is closed since May 2018 over pollution concerns.

The top court, on December 2, last year had rejected the interim plea of Vedanta that it be permitted to inspect its Sterlite copper plant and to operate it for a month to assess the pollution level.

Vedanta had sought handing over of the plant for three months saying it requires two months to start the unit and the company should be allowed to run it for four weeks to ascertain whether its polluting or not.

In a hearing conducted via video conferencing, a bench of Justices R F Nariman, Navin Sinha and K M Joseph did not agree to the plea of the company that the matter be accorded an early hearing.

While holding that interim plea of Vedanta for opening of the plant for four weeks cannot be allowed, the bench had made clear that the final hearing in the matter can be heard after physical hearing starts in the apex court. —PTI

GM says no plan to resume production at Talegaon

FE BUREAU
Pune, January 22

AUTO MAKER GENERAL Motors has no plans to manufacture or reinvest in at the Talegaon manufacturing facility. Work on completion of the sale of the site, announced in January 2020, is pending FDI approval and the company was not considering alternative options for the site, George Svigos, director of communications, GM International, said in a statement issued on Friday regarding the Talegaon plant. This statement was in response to the Maharashtra state government decision to reject the GM application for shutting down the plant.

General Motors plans to move for the reversal of this order. "The state's decision amounts to a requirement that GM either produce vehicles for which there are no customer orders, or pay workers indefinitely for doing no work. We reject both suggestions," Svigos said. "General Motors' plan in relation to the Talegaon facility is unchanged. GM production has ceased and there will be no future GM production at the site. GM took the decision to close the site because there is no demand in our export markets for the vehicle previously made in Talegaon." he said.

The company says it is committed to offering a fair separation package to the workforce. The plant has 1,578 full-time workers and 2,000 contract workers. The GM union has gone to court against the plant closure.

INTERVIEW: SANJAY JALONA, CEO and MD, L&T Infotech

'Will continue adopting new operating models, workplace modernisation'

Q3FY21 has been a growth quarter for IT services industry. L&T Infotech, which posted strong results, continues to double down on developing new capabilities and attracting large deals from the market. CEO and MD Sanjay Jalona shares what is working for the company with Srinath Srinivasan of FE. Excerpts:

Q3FY21 has been a growth quarter for IT services industry. What were some factors that were in your favour during the quarter?

We performed extremely well in this quarter because all four engines of our growth strategy are humming. These are key accounts, invest accounts, new accounts and large deals. We witnessed handsome growth from some of our new clients and large deals announced in earlier quarters. We also won two large deals in the quarter —Injazat with a TCV of $204 million over 6 years, and a 5-year deal with a net-new TCV of $74 m from a global Fortune 500 energy company.

What are some changes in the way LTI is hiring after the advent of remote working? What are some skills you're looking for in talent? What percentage of your workforce will return to offices in Q4?

We have made a complete switch to virtual onboarding. We leverage AI-based tools to match skills with job requirements. We have also designed enhanced talent management system that uses intelligent algorithms to retain and expand our talent pool. Our virtual hackathons and job fairs help us scout skilled resources for cloud, data, analytics, AI, ML positions. Recently, we launched LTI Shoshin School, an innovative learning platform that offers comprehensive learning content, standardised learning experience and enables culture of continuous learning to upskill/re-skill our workforce. Majority of our workforce will continue to work remotely during fourth quarter.

Future of work will be a hybrid model. So, we will continue to work from office as well as it is one of our key attributes for culture and collaboration. But it will be spread across 40 delivery centers (currently about 16) in 20 cities (currently about 10 cities), many of them in Tier 2 cities, as well.

There have been large deal wins among the large cap players which has accelerated their growth. Has it opened up new avenues in the market for mid-caps to venture into?

As the average deal size gets smaller, these opportunities are available to everyone with strong capabilities. Today, our size gives us the ability to participate in most IT RFPs. Overall, our large deal pipeline is healthy and with our growing size and deep capabilities, we are getting invited to more of them. Our expertise and execution approach have mattered the most in our performance so far. What I find most exciting are the proactive conversations that we are having with our customers, many of which generate large deal opportunities.

You have highlighted license sale agreement of AI products on your Mosaic platform during Q3. Are the exponential technologies paving way for mini-agencies to be formed within LTI specialising in niche capabilities?

We feel cloud and data products are two key areas that present huge opportunities for industry players. Accordingly, we have created two separate units to cater to these opportunities and these units will be the critical growth engines for us in the next 3 to 5 years. We also have an open innovation ecosystem in place which includes that connects 6,000+ start-ups, educational institutions, and 700,000+ experts that help in converging ideas into disruptive business offerings.

where do you see headwinds coming from in Q4? What is your outlook on market recovery across geographies and business segment?

Not so much a headwind, but I would say that it is important for tech companies to continuously focus on staying relevant to customers in a fast-changing world. That is where our thinking of Shoshin or beginner's mind helps us. We remain optimistic about the rollout of vaccinations. In the meanwhile, we will continue adopting new operating models, building direct-to-consumer channels, and workplace modernisation.

A NEW WAY OF LIFE

Prime minister of India Narendra Modi

Atmanirbhar Bharat is not only about technological advancement and progress. It has become part of everyday life of the nation

Get e-waste management right

NGT order on central monitoring good; producer responsibility must encourage partnering with informal waste-processors

THE NATIONAL GREEN Tribunal (NGT) lamenting the state of management of electronic waste (e-waste) in the country, saying that the current situation makes it appear that "violation of environmental law is not the priority", should serve as a wake-up call to the authorities. The tribunal observed that there were "huge gaps" in compliance, with the State Pollution Control Boards and local authorities having failed to implement the E-Waste (Management) Rules, 2016. It was hearing three cases centred on the enforcement of the extended producer responsibility (EPR) as envisioned in the policy as also other aspects such as collection, dismantling, safe storage, etc. One of the three cases was based on a report by The Indian Express on 5,000 illegal e-waste processing units operating within and in the periphery of the national capital; while the Delhi and Uttar Pradesh pollution authorities acted in the matter of the illegal e-waste processing units by ordering the closure of many such units, they have barely made a dent. But what really spells out how poor India's e-waste watch has been, is the fact that as per data with the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB), while e-waste generation had shot up from 7.7 lakh tonnes in 2017-18 to 10.14 lakh tonnes in 2018-19, merely a fifth of the waste generated in 2018-19 was dismantled that year. Indeed, the actual collection under EPR was merely half of the target.

Against such a backdrop, the NGT did well to vest significant monitoring authority with the CPCB with regards to the implementation of the policy on controlling e-waste; the tribunal has directed the CPCB to update e-waste status periodically (at least once every six months) and issue directions to the state authorities. The central body has also been tasked with coming up with compliance steps to reduce the use of hazardous substances and review and update siting norms for e-waste within three months. State pollution control boards have been tasked with monitoring hot-spots.

With impetus from the NGT directions, the authorities will likely step up efforts to control the problem. The tribunal was rightly moved by the unsafe conditions in which poor workers in the informal sector handle e-waste disposal, but shutting down illegal processing units is hardly the answer since it means loss of livelihood and cessation of economic activity; instead, if training, equipping and safety is incorporated into the producer responsibility agreements, whereby the producer of electronic goods partner such enterprises to fulfil their responsibility, it would be a far more fruitful method of controlling e-waste. The imperative for curbing generation and recycling should be clear to the authorities—against the official estimate of 1 million tonnes of e-waste produced in India, some observers of the sector peg the actual generation to be already over 3 million and project it to cross 5 million by the end of this year; India is already the third-largest producer of e-waste and is a major importer, too. Unless it works efficiently on recycling—with China seeking near-exclusive control of rare earth elements that are critical for the electronics industry, this has become even a strategic requirement—India may end up losing on two counts, the management of waste and the resulting effects on the environment and the formalisation of the waste processing industry to get better value from e-waste.

Spaced-out logic

Trying to wind up Devas to avoid payments is unfortunate

IT IS TRULY unfortunate that, with Isro's commercial arm Antrix Corporation losing its second arbitration case against Devas Multimedia, and being ordered to pay the latter $1.2bn, the government is trying to wind up Devas on grounds of fraud. Indeed, the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) has acted with alacrity on Antrix's winding-up petition and already appointed a provisional liquidator for Devas. The reasons cited for the demand to wind up Devas are interesting; the government is arguing that Devas committed a fraud against Antrix and so needs to be wound up; if that happens, the liquidator who takes charge of Devas can even stop the company's demand against Antrix or, alternately, the government can petition Indian courts to overturn the global awards on grounds of fraud.

The problem with the move is that given the government's rich history of not honouring global arbitration awards—and this is not unique to just the current establishment—few international investors are going to believe the arguments; indeed, it will be viewed as another attempt by India to avoid honouring global awards. Prior to the winding-up petition, as it happens, Devas was investigated by both the CBI and the Enforcement Directorate and, at one point, a fine of ₹1,585 crore was imposed on it on grounds that the FDI it brought in—₹579 crore—violated India's Fema rules. The winding-up petition argues more fraud and says that Antrix never even had the technology it claimed to have and that the technology to deliver internet services using satellites did not even exist when Devas signed the deal with Antrix to build satellites for it.

There are several problems with the approach. For one, as the Delhi High Court ruled in the Tata Docomo award case, even it was true that Tata paying Docomo violated Fema rules—in that case too, the government argued that the original agreement between Tata and Docomo was illegal—the award would have to be complied with, and the Tatas could pay the Fema fine as well. Two, the investigating authorities alleging fraud and proving it are two different things; indeed, their track record in proving cases is hardly inspiring. Also, the government would certainly have argued fraud in both the arbitration hearings, but their awards suggest this did not cut much ice; it will now have to prove this in various courts, starting from the NCLT to the NCLAT, and, finally the Supreme Court. Three, if Devas did not have the technology to deliver terrestrial internet services using satellite signals at that time, that was its problem, not Antrix's.

It is unfortunate aside that the allegation of fraud makes a mockery of the arguments made by top Isro officials, including its then chief G Madhavan Nair, at the time that the space spectrum it was selling Antrix was, in itself, not worth much, and that the CAG, which had raised an alarm over it—that is why the government cancelled the contract, after which Antrix went to arbitration courts—had got it quite wrong. It was argued that, while it was true the spectrum became more valuable when it was used to provide terrestrial services like broadband internet, the telecom department would have charged Devas a license fee at that time.

QuarantineQUID

The UK is mulling over a proposal to pay people to isolate, to make up for lost income for the vulnerable

GETTING PEOPLE TO isolate despite very real chances of lost income because of 'no show' at work has many governments foxed. How effective deterrents such as fines, even jail-time as proposed by some jurisdictions, have been is impossible to tell. The UK government is reportedly mulling over a cash-incentive to encourage isolation, The Guardian reports. The incentive, if it meets the government's nod, could be as high as 500 pounds; currently, the government pays this amount to only those in the lowest incomes. While the statutory sick pay, paid by the employer, is just under a 100 pounds a week, the median weekly income is close to 600 pounds. At the proposed rate, the incentive could work out nearly 500 million pounds per week, a cost the government will find difficult to foot.

The government wants to improve compliance with isolation for those who have been in contact with somebody who has been confirmed as infected. It also wants to prod more people manifesting symptoms to turn up for testing as the concern over isolation leading to income-loss is beating down testing appetite—the government reports that just 17% of the people who should be turning up for testing based on manifest symptoms are getting tested. Only a quarter advised isolation are complying with it while 15% are going to work as usual. All this has to be read against the backdrop of the UK having reported a strain that is highly transmissible, and the fact that over 3% of the country's working population is on contracts for which they don't get paid if they don't turn up for work. Governments need to find ways to protect the economically vulnerable if the fight against Covid-19 is to have meaning.

INCLUSION TARGET

A SUPPORT ECOSYSTEM WITH TAILORED EDUCATION AND SKILLING FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES WILL ENSURE EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR THEM IN THE MAINSTREAM

Budget must address the needs of the disabled

S RAMADORAI

Former CEO & MD of TCS, and former chairman, Skill Development Agency. Views are personal

A BILLION PEOPLE—15% of the world's population—experience some form of disability, and the prevalence in developing countries is higher than in developed ones. Around a fifth of the estimated global total—~110 million to 190 million people—have some significant incapacities to lead a normal life. Persons with disabilities are more likely to experience adverse socioeconomic outcomes such as lower education, poorer health outcomes, lower levels of employment, and higher poverty rates.

A society is judged by how effectively it deals with the needs of three groups within the population: those in the dawn of life, the young ones; those in the twilight of life, the elderly ones; and those who are in their shadows of life, the disabled. Among these, the disabled suffer the most because the infrastructure and ecosystem required to aid them are lacking.

As per the NSSO's report on disability 2019, about 2.2% of the Indian population have some form of physical or mental disability. Until the 2011 Census, the questionnaire addressed about seven kinds of disabilities. This was expanded to 21 when the Rights of People with Disabilities Act was introduced in 2016.

According to the UN, out of the one billion population of persons with disabilities, 80% live in developing countries. One in every five women is likely to experience some form of disability in her life, while one in every ten children are known to have a form of disability. However, in today's world, disability is not considered a state of inability, and more measures and facilities need to be put in place to give them equal opportunity. As rightly termed by our PM, persons with disabilities should be called as 'People with Special Abilities' or "Divyang".

India's development agenda draws little attention to the education of children with disabilities, and, in turn, hampers their overall development. To be able to empower them, our primary focus needs to be education. This lack of education subsequently affects their employment prospects, and thus, they are reduced to doing activities like weaving, candle-making or back-end operations. While several organisations across the world are now opening their doors to include them in mainstream roles, it is just not enough. We need to start at the nascent stage, in schools, by providing them with the correct infrastructure and syllabus to allow them to develop their career paths.

The new National Education Policy 2020 (NEP) has been hailed as a transformational educational reform. However, it needs to be seen how well it is implemented to bring about the inclusion of children with disabilities. Inclusive schooling is the best practice that promotes inclusive learning, involving teacher-training that helps school teachers identify the needs of children with disabilities and support them. This can be a successful model only if it includes the best teacher-training methodologies, provides a child-friendly curriculum and infrastructure, and includes parent-training as well. Unfortunately, these specially-abled children rarely progress beyond primary school and only about 9% complete secondary education. Around 45% of disabled people are illiterate and only 62.9% of disabled people between the ages of 3 and 35 have ever attended regular schools. The primary challenge is the lack of proper access to infrastructure. Almost 60% of the schools do not have any access-ramps and only 17% have accessible toilets. Although technology is a key focus of the NEP, only 59% of schools have access to electricity. Reading disability within NEP 2020 in isolation from the existing socio-political background would be a misconception; we need to take cognisance of the fact that disabled people do not belong to a separate society, but are very much a part of the larger population.

> Reading disability within NEP 2020 in isolation from the existing socio-political background would be a misconception

The Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act 2016 stipulates that every government institution of higher education shall reserve not less than 5% seats for students with benchmark disabilities. But, in reality, the number is much lower. It does not apply to the private sector, and hence, the reach of differently-abled kids in terms of admission into private schools/colleges is a challenge. Differently-abled people are known to have sharp intellectual abilities and can be productive employees if they are placed in appropriate jobs with the right kind of support.

Skill development is another crucial area for inclusive growth. Access to good quality education for all, vocational training and workplace learning are fundamental principles of social cohesion and economic growth. Some groups may require targeted attention if they are to benefit from education, training, and employment opportunities. This is particularly the case for persons with disabilities and people in rural communities. The attractiveness of vocational education and training is enhanced when combined with entrepreneurship-training and when public policy encourages the utilisation of the higher skills of persons with disabilities in the business fraternity.

We need to understand that persons with disabilities can perform almost any job, in an enabling environment, given the right support services. Studies have revealed that globally, persons with disabilities have lower employment rates than persons without disabilities, and the few who are employed, work fewer hours and in lower-paid or lower-skilled positions. Vocational training for persons with disabilities must complement general education. Vocational education for children with disabilities has become a necessity to enable them to become productive and independent. In India, skill training for PwDs is provided by the Skill Council for Persons with Disability (SCPwD) in collaboration with the National Skill Development Council (NSDC) with an aim to fulfil the mission of mainstreaming PwD through skill training, to enable them to earn a livelihood and lead a life of dignity in the mainstream and contribute to the growth of the economy. Skills-training is imparted at accredited training centres through trained and certified trainers. These trainers are trained on NSDC-approved job roles aligned for a specific disability and are also certified on disability orientation and sensitisation.

People without disabilities assume that disabled individuals are helpless, inadequate, and completely ineffective. As a result, they are either patronising or uncomfortable around challenged individuals. Many people who suffer from learning shortcomings are technically labelled disabled, but most perform very well in their chosen occupations. Some famous personalities include dancer Sudha Chandran, singer Ravindra Jain, IAS topper Ira Singhal, badminton champion Girish Sharma, to name a few.

Titan Industries is a torch-bearer for the employment of people with physical and mental challenges. In 2005, 4% of Titan's employees were recorded to have some form of disability. The company set out not just to employ them but also to integrate them completely into the organisation. Technology giant IBM also has a "Human Ability and Accessibility Center" in India. The main purpose of the initiative is to modify and use technology to make the workplace more manageable for differently-abled employees. Today, several companies like IBM and TCS are making this possible as these initiatives seek to collaborate with government agencies on accessibility-related policy and standards as well.

It is said that the World Paralympic Games have seen better sportsmanship and better competition than the Olympics. According to the Himalayan Database, 29 people with disabilities have attempted to climb the Mount Everest, and 15 have even reached the summit. Who says a disability is a dampener!

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development clearly states that disability cannot be a reason or criteria for lack of access to development programming and the realisation of human rights. The SDG framework includes seven targets, which explicitly refer to persons with disabilities, and six further targets on persons in vulnerable situations, which include persons with disabilities. Though there have been improvements in our country over the last few years, disabled people and their families confront isolation and exclusion and remain on the fringes of society. Multiple barriers hinder their amalgamation with the mainstream.

The government should focus on their challenges and have more policies for their benefit in the Budget this year. The CSR spends of the companies is also expected to rise for the benefit of the disabled.

To make India better and positive for the largest minority, we ought to encourage mediation, dialogues and action measures required to boost equal opportunities. The challenge is to deliver for them not just life, but the quality of life, and to identify and provide them with their citizenship rights in a real sense by offering opportunities for full social inclusion.

"Disability is a matter of perception. If you can do just one thing well, you're needed by someone".—Martina Navratilova

Surveillance will not beat extremism

If the US intelligence community wants to counter the danger of White rage, it will require a different approach, with more realistic assumptions about what troubles the country

CATHY O'NEIL

Bloomberg

THE STORMING OF the Capitol has prompted security experts to offer some predictable advice: Double down on surveillance, by sharing more information among federal and local law enforcement agencies about potentially dangerous people. I would be all for this if I thought it had much chance of making inroads against right-wing extremists. As things stand, it is more likely to compound the suffering already inflicted upon immigrants and minorities.

I will admit that my grasp of how law enforcement collects and shares data is far from comprehensive. That said, based on what I have seen in my work as an expert on big data and algorithms, I can say that they certainly haven't been focused on the strange concoction of conspiracy theorists, white supremacists and gun enthusiasts who descended upon the US seat of government. Their sights have been trained on foreigners and poor people of colour, who as a result will invariably feature in whatever information they have.

Consider the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) information-sharing with state departments of motor vehicles. It has been consciously constructed with an eye towards pursuing undocumented immigrants—a function of the nation's decades-long fantasy that terrorism must be imported, not home-grown. The 2005 Real ID Act, for example, has helped DHS pick out people who lack the social security number required to obtain a new, enhanced-security "Real ID" driver's license. As a result, in states that allow the undocumented to be licensed, a regular license effectively acts as a marker, exposing immigrant families to added scrutiny and threat of deportation.

Or consider who is likely to be in the database of the New York City Police Department (NYPD). According to the New York Civil Liberties Union, the racial bias of Stop & Frisk policing meant that in at least one year (2011), the number of young Black men stopped exceeded the city's entire population of young Black men. Anyone processed by the NYPD gets their picture and information recorded, so its database will be skewed toward identifying Black people—an artifact of a deeply racist history. New York, of course, is not alone in its approach to policing, so efforts to make data universally accessible among police departments will serve to perpetuate the problem.

I saw the issue first hand back in 2015, when I worked on a data task force at the police department of Camden County in New Jersey. A startup called Mark43 was trying to connect various siloed data sets so police officers could obtain, and share with other departments, all the relevant information on a given address—such as the identities, mental health statuses and possibly the phone records of anyone who had lived or been arrested there.

While I recognised the attraction, I also worried that the system could be headed for a hugely disparate impact. I am all for nabbing bad guys, but it is not justice if you are nabbing them only in the poor, minority part of town. And it is far too easy to imagine old or bad data leading to unnecessarily violent arrests. It doesn't make sense for just anyone to have complete access to those data. It should be granted only under narrow and carefully considered conditions.

I agree that the potential for domestic terrorism is a major problem, and I wish the answer were as simple as better data sharing. But it is not. Anyone who paid attention to Parler could have known that something bad was coming to Washington DC. If authorities had taken the extremist chatter seriously, they would have been better prepared. I would argue this was more of a failure to act on an obvious threat than a lack of information. The data were right there in president Donald Trump's Twitter feed.

If the intelligence community wants to counter the danger of White rage and grievance turning violent, it will require a different approach, with more realistic assumptions about what troubles the nation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A new beginning

After taking oath as the 46th president of the US, Joe Biden wasted no time and hit the ground running with a missionary zeal to reverse the gravest damages done by his predecessor Donald Trump. His inaugural speech, exhorting the people of the US to see each other not as adversaries but as neighbours is welcome, but he has his tasks cut out when it comes to unite the deeply polarised nation. Biden's assertive use of executive power on the first day of his office as president, manifested itself in him having signed 27 executive orders. It sent out a clear and an unequivocal message about his determination to restore the soul of America and its well established democratic credentials.

A colossal waste

At a time when the country is reeling under economic slowdown and most of the people are facing unemployment problems, it is unfortunate that the Tamil Nadu government has decided to inaugurate a memorial for Jayalalithaa, former CM and their party chief at such a whopping expenditure. It is alleged the government is sinking crores of taxpayers' money to create a memorial and museum in honour of their leader.

Moving towards legal parity

While there are merger/demerger corporate and tax laws, none exist for partnerships or LLPs

UNION COMMERCE MINISTER Piyush Goyal initiated the production-linked incentive scheme to attract investment, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman brought the credit facilitation and equity schemes, while MSME minister Nitin Gadkari liberalised the MSME policy, raising turnover to ₹250 crore plus unlimited exports. But NPA levels of PSBs are predicted to be 17%. Thus, the FM must strategise both for (i) growth of healthy industries and (ii) revival of weak ones.

These recent policies can revive animal spirits to meet the twin objectives of growth and revival if certain supportive measures are taken in taxation, company law, LLP and partnership law—all within FM's domain. Tax law for corporate mergers has existed since 1961; demerger law came in the 1990s (this author had a small role in that). It resulted in the acceleration of corporate demerger and restructuring activities, resulting in higher turnover and taxes than the undivided company earlier.

A major policy instrument can be the encouragement of mergers and demergers in corporates and partnership. While there are merger/demerger corporate and tax laws, none exist for partnerships or LLPs. Existing tax laws should be liberalised to allow issuing a mix of equity or preference shares plus debt paper against the present stipulation of only shares in mergers/demergers. The stipulation of 75% old shareholders becoming shareholders in the merged company should be reduced to 51% in mergers, with a similar reduction from 100% to 75% in a demerger. Thus, even if 25% shareholders disagree, they can be paid out. Tax laws require 100% equity issue in a demerger.

A specialised court (NCLT) approves merger/demerger schemes. A registered valuer's report for all companies is compulsory. In listed companies, stock exchange and Sebi also conduct scrutiny. A NOC from tax authorities is also required. Hence, checks and balances are already in place.

A clarificatory amendment in the definition of a demerger is needed. A tax on income is levied under five heads—salary, property, business capital gains and other sources. A company with mainly investment activity resulting in capital gain but no business income still earns income and regularly pays dividends and taxes. But the tax authorities do not classify it as "business", and hence, keep it out of the definition of Sec 2 (19AA). However, if you demerge the investment division, there is no tax exemption. When A-Limited demerged its investment division of ₹1,000 crore assets earning capital gain, the ITO opined that investment is not business and hence, cannot be tax-exempt in a demerger. Any income-earning division should be considered as an Undertaking for Sec 2 (19AA). In common parlance, investment activity is also business.

Many companies have invested in subsidiaries, which need to grow faster by being spun off, while protecting the interests of the holding company's shareholders and promoters in a demerger.

Taking over of sick companies by efficiently-run firms is an alternative turnaround strategy. If the sick firm is not listed on the bourses or ceases to be so listed due to a change in shareholding, the target firm will lose its right to carry forward its business loss. This attracts tax much faster on future profits while the old liabilities have to be paid out. Internal finance available for revival depletes. Revival period and cost becomes longer. Sec 79 should be deleted.

Tax Laws do not allow setting off losses of merging company in many situations even though it leads to a genuine turnaround. For example, if an engineering company in auto seat manufacturing business having losses is merged with a tractor company will lose its tax losses and unabsorbed depreciation, if the unit does not achieve production of auto seats of at least 50% capacity within three years.

It can't use these facilities for making components and has to continue the loss-making business of auto-seat production. Another absurd condition is that the merged company must continue to have 75% of the same old equipment for five years. How can such a unit then absorb new technology or diversify production? The condition is to ensure employment for 50% of erstwhile labour.

The law allows only some manufacturing industries and only some services like telecom, hotels, etc, to carry forward the losses in a merger. The services sector contribute over 60% of GDP, but is mostly cut out of this exemption, even though it is high employment to investment generator. At least, think of the above measures for five years and evaluate its efficacy.

MSMEs mainly operate as partnerships. While the LLP Act provides for reorganisation, merger, or demerger of LLPs inter se, there is no such law for partnerships. The government should bring in a law for inter se merger of firms & LLP with any listed or non-listed company for quick growth/turnaround. At present, the company law requires a firm to register as a single company; then merge after waiting for five years due to tax laws. This is absurd.

Two/three firms or LLPs should be merged directly into an operating company or registered as one company. Size and speed are critical. Similarly, law for demerging one division of one or more firms or LLP, as is allowed for a company, should be permitted. Let a fast track process be taken up by the regional director of companies so that equity investments can flow in faster.

The LLP Act has laid down processes for such matters. This should be extended within this Act to cover Partnerships as well, but the power should be delegated to RD or a specialised NCLT bench.

Inexplicably, LLP law allows merger only with an unlisted company; this should be extended to listed companies, including via a demerger. All taxation laws regarding merger and demerger should be extended to partnership firms and LLPs.

A takeover financing scheme allowing healthy borrowers special loans with total moratorium up to five years for taking over or merging with weak ones should be started. Where a firm is succeeded in its business by conversion into a company, capital gains is exempted, and losses are allowed to be carried forward, subject to conditions. This should be allowed even if one division of a firm is transferred.

There are operational problems of such succession by business transfer agreement as compared to merger/demerger under a court order which is binding on all. Such reorganised firms will race for growth.

Govt needs to relax tax provisions in FY22 Budget to give fillip to housing

AS THE PANDEMIC engulfed the Indian economy in the early part of 2020, there was a severe impact on the housing sector. Since the lifting of the lockdown, there have been few green shoots in the residential segment. These have been facilitated by cuts in stamp duty rates by states, such as Maharashtra, and interest rates for housing being at historic lows. Keeping the government's stated objective of Housing for All by 2022, a subsegment that has and will need attention in the forthcoming budget is affordable housing. In this connection, it is suggested that the last date for availing the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) Credit-Linked Subsidy Scheme (CLSS) both for the MIG-I and MIG-II categories be extended to March 31, 2022, as is the case with the scheme for LIG/ EWS category.

The period for availing the additional deduction of up to ₹1.5 lakh for interest paid on loans borrowed for the purchase of an affordable house valued up to ₹45 lakh, should be extended to March 31, 2022, and, at the same time, increase the value of houses eligible for such deduction from ₹45 lakh to ₹90 lakh, especially in the metro cities. To sustain the housing demand, the Centre should consider extending benefits under centrally sponsored schemes such as the Jawahar Urban Renewal Mission to States which reduces stamp duty rates or reduces local levies on the housing segment especially with respect to affordable housing. Further, the tax holiday under Section 80IBA of the Act should be extended to projects approved up to March 31, 2023 as meeting the current deadline of March 31, has been severely impacted by the pandemic.

Given the liquidity issues in the sector, landowners have been entering in collaboration agreements. Accordingly, provision of capital gains arising from the transfer of development agreements being taxable in the year in which completion certificate is issued should be extended to all taxpayers including corporates and not be limited to individuals and HUFs.

Further section 23(5), which provides for taxation of property that remains unsold for two years from the financial year in which completion certificate is obtained on a notional basis, should be deleted to reduce developers' financial burden with large amounts of unsold inventory.

Deduction currently available under Section 24 of up to ₹2 lakh for interest on loans availed for acquisition/construction of self-occupied house should be increased to at least ₹5 lakh per annum. In addition, the limit on losses under the head house property available to be set off against income of any other head of ₹2 lakh should be either be removed or increased to ₹5 lakh pa. Simultaneously, given that migrant workers have gone back to their residences during the pandemic leaving houses vacant, the provisions relating to attribution of notional income to vacant properties should be relooked.

The housing sector is extremely important from a contribution to GDP as well as employment perspective. Accordingly, the governments continued support to the sector will be most welcome as the Indian economy looks to recover from the pandemic in the next few quarters.

DATA DRIVE

A difficult budget

THE FY21 UNION Budget will be challenging as the economy is likely to contract 7.7% in FY21, for the first time in 41 years; tax collections and proceeds from disinvestment are likely to fall short of the target. The Budget for FY21 had estimated tax collection of ₹24.23 lakh crore and apportioned ₹2.1 lakh crore from disinvestment. However, data from Controller General of Accounts show total tax collection for FY21 till November was just ₹10.26 lakh crore—42% of the budget estimates. Within direct tax, corporate tax collection has been just 27% of ₹1.86 lakh crore of ₹6.8 lakh crore estimated in the budget. Personal income tax collection at ₹2.35 lakh crore has been around 37%. Goods and services tax collection is around 36%. Notably, collection from Union excise duties has been ₹1.96 lakh crore, which is around 75% of the budget estimates. The mop-up from disinvestment in recent years has been low as sales have proven difficult. Till December 2020, the government could raise only ₹15,220 crore out of the ₹2.1 lakh crore target. The government will have to go for a massive asset-monetisation drive to raise funds for investment in infrastructure.

Biden to order stopgap help as talks start on big aid plan

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Baltimore, January 22

PRESIDENT JOE BIDEN plans to take executive action on Friday to provide a stopgap measure of financial relief to millions of Americans while Congress begins to consider his much larger $1.9-trillion package to help those affected by the coronavirus pandemic.

The two executive orders that Biden is to sign would increase food aid, protect job seekers on unemployment and clear a path for federal workers and contractors to get a $15 hourly minimum wage.

"The American people cannot afford to wait," said Brian Deese, director of the White House National Economic Council. "So many are hanging by a thread. They need help, and we're committed to doing everything we can to provide that help as quickly as possible."

Deese emphasised that the orders are not substitutes for the additional stimulus that Biden says is needed beyond the $4 trillion in aid that has already been approved, including $900 billion this past December. Several Republican lawmakers have voiced opposition to provisions in Biden's plan for direct payments to individuals, state and local government aid and a $15 hourly minimum wage nationwide.

Most economists believe the United States can rebound with strength once people are vaccinated from the coronavirus, but the situation is still dire as the disease has closed businesses and schools. Nearly 10 million jobs have been lost since last February, and nearly 30 million households lack secure access to food.

One of Biden's orders asks the Agriculture Department to consider adjusting the rules for food assistance, so that the government could be obligated to provide more money to the hungry.

Children who are unable to get school meals because of remote learning could receive a 15% increase in food aid, according to a fact sheet provided by the White House. The lowest-income households could qualify for the emergency benefits from the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. And the formula for calculating meal costs could become more generous.

The order also tries to make it easier for people to claim direct payments from prior aid packages and other benefits. In addition, it would create a guarantee that workers could still collect unemployment benefits if they refuse to take a job that could jeopardise their health.

Biden's second executive order would restore union bargaining rights revoked by the Trump administration, protect the civil service system and promote a $15 hourly minimum wage for all federal workers. The Democratic president also plans to start a 100-day process for the federal government to require its contractors to pay at least $15 an hour and provide emergency paid leave to workers, which could put pressure on other private employers to boost their wages and benefits.

These orders arrive as the Biden White House has declined to provide a timeline for getting its proposed relief package through, saying that officials are beginning to schedule meetings with lawmakers to discuss the proposal.

White House press secretary Jen Psaki said at a Thursday briefing that the proposal has support ranging from democratic socialist Senator Bernie Sanders to the US Chamber of Commerce.

VW posts $12.2 billion profit in resilient year

CHRISTOPH RAUWALD
January 22

VOLKSWAGEN SAID A robust sales recovery toward the end of the year helped cushion annual results from the Covid-19 pandemic. Operating profit before one-time items related to the diesel-emissions scandal fell to about 10 billion euros ($12.2 billion) last year from 19.3 billion euros in 2019, VW said in a statement on Friday. Automotive net cash flow shrunk by almost half to about 6 billion euros.

Robust demand in China, VW's largest market, helped the German manufacturer rebound from the coronavirus outbreak that sparked the most widespread shutdown of global car production since World War II.

Although global vehicle deliveries fell 15% to 9.3 million, VW emerged with a small gain in market share as some peers took a bigger hit.

The namesake VW brand reached break-even last year, with demand at the premium-car units helping to bolster earnings, a VW spokesman said by phone. The group improved on costs amid an ongoing drive to boost efficiency, he said. VW said last month it plans to hammer out a deal with unions by the end of the first quarter to reduce fixed costs 5% by 2023. Material costs are to be lowered 7% in the next two years.

VW shares reversed earlier losses, rising more than 4% in Frankfurt trading. The automaker will report detailed full-year earnings and provide guidance for 2021 at the end of next month.

President Joe Biden warned the nation to prepare for its darkest days in the yearlong pandemic, predicting that as many as 100,000 more Americans will die over the next month as he overhauls the federal coronavirus response and presses Congress for more aid.

Real Madrid FC coach Zinedine Zidane has tested positive for coronavirus, the football club said in a statement without elaborating on his symptoms or condition.

The number of people in England infected with Covid-19 fell slightly in the week to Jan. 16, providing relief to the government as fears mount that hospitals face being overwhelmed.

The European Union's executive arm poured cold water on a Danish idea for AstraZeneca Plc to start delivering its Covid-19 vaccine before the jab wins EU marketing authorization, which could come next week.

Chancellor Angela's Merkel's chief of staff said Germany's shortage of vaccine will last for six to eight weeks until more shots get approval and companies can ramp up production.

Residents of an area of Shanghai have been banned from leaving the city after six Covid cases were found in the finance hub, the first cases there in almost two months. The National Health Commission also reported 47 cases in Heilongjiang province, and three in Beijing.

Pfizer vaccine safe for elderly: WHO

BLOOMBERG
January 22

THE WORLD HEALTH Organization said it sees no evidence that Pfizer and BioNTech's Covid-19 vaccine contributed to the deaths of elderly people and urged that the shot still be used.

Reports of deaths "are in line with the expected, all-cause mortality rates and causes of death in the sub-population of frail, elderly individuals, and the available information does not confirm a contributory role for the vaccine in the reported fatal events," the WHO Global Advisory Committee on Vaccine Safety said in a statement on Friday. The risk-benefit balance of the vaccine "remains favourable in the elderly."

The panel met on Tuesday to review reports that some very sick older people had died after getting the vaccine. Initial cases reported last week in Norway had raised alarm, with authorities saying it was possible that vaccine side-effects could aggravate underlying illnesses even as they expected some nursing-home residents to die shortly after being vaccinated due to their frail underlying health.

Moderna lags in WHO vaccine drive

AS CONCERN OVER vaccine disparity across the world deepens, the World Health Organization is struggling to keep pace with rich western countries in green-lighting shots for use — slowing down the Covax initiative which poorer countries are relying on for inoculation.

The global body has only approved one vaccine, the Pfizer-BioNTech shot, for use, according to a document on the status of various Covid-19 vaccines in the WHO's regulatory process. Moderna, which has seen its mRNA shot authorised in the US, Canada, the UK, the European Union and Israel, is yet to have a dossier accepted for review by the international body.

This is despite the fact that Moderna is one of 11 vaccine candidates that received funding from the WHO-backed Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness, though the $1 million provided paled in comparison to the hundreds of millions the company received from the US government's Operation Warp Speed.

In contrast, Chinese vaccine makers Sinopharm and Sinovac Biotech are further along in the WHO approval process, the document shows, though their shots are not among the nearly 2 billion already procured by Covax.

The WHO document shows there have been no pre-submission meetings held between the agency and Moderna, nor has a dossier been accepted for review. The WHO's anticipated decision date on Moderna's vaccine remains February-end, though the agency says this is only an estimate.

The company is in dialogue with the WHO and is committed to a successful outcome, a Moderna spokesman said.

Japan denies news report of Tokyo Olympics cancellation

JACK TARRANT, CHRIS GALLAGHER
Tokyo, January 22

JAPAN DOUBLED DOWN on its commitment to host the Tokyo Olympics this year and flatly denied reports on Friday of a possible cancellation, in a move that is unlikely to temper public fears of holding the event during a global pandemic.

Though much of Japan is under a state of emergency due to a third wave of Covid-19 infections, Tokyo organisers have consistently vowed to press ahead with the Games scheduled to open on July 23 after having been postponed in March last year.

A government spokesman said there was "no truth" to a report in The Times that the government had privately concluded the Tokyo Olympics would have to be cancelled because of the pandemic. The Times, citing an unnamed senior member of the ruling coalition, said the government's focus was now on securing the Games for Tokyo in the next available year, 2032.

"We will clearly deny the report," deputy chief cabinet secretary Manabu Sakai said in a press conference.

In a rare move, the government issued a statement to shoot down the report, saying it was working closely with the International Olympic Committee and other parties in preparation for a safe and secure Games.

The Tokyo 2020 organising committee also denied the report, saying in a statement its partners including the Japanese government and the International Olympic Committee were "fully focused" on hosting the games as scheduled.

"It is very disappointing to see that The Times is developing such a tabloid-like story with an untrustworthy source," a Tokyo 2020 source said. "The national government is fully committed to delivering a safe and secure Games, and we are always encouraged by their dedication." — REUTERS

Fauci aims to 'let the science speak'

MICHAEL D. SHEAR
Washington, January 22

MOST OF THE times Dr Anthony S. Fauci made an appearance in the White House briefing room in 2020 — before eventually being banished from public view for his grim assessments of the coronavirus pandemic — he had President Donald Trump glowering over his shoulder.

On Thursday, Fauci, the nation's foremost infectious disease specialist, was back, this time with no one telling him what to say. And he made no effort to hide how he felt about it. "The idea that you can get up here and talk about what you know — what the evidence, what the science is — and know that's it, let the science speak," Fauci said, pausing for a second. "It is somewhat of a liberating feeling."

Fauci's presence in the room where Trump and other administration officials repeatedly spread misleading and false information about the virus was part of a daylong effort by the Biden administration to show a willingness to level with the public about how severe the pandemic is and what can be done to slow its spread.

Using the kind of blunt language that had so often infuriated Trump, Fauci said that the health threat from the virus was still "a very serious situation" and called the pandemic "historic, in the very bad sense".

The director of the government's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases became something of a national celebrity as he sought to navigate the need to level with the public about the raging pandemic while dealing with Trump's insistence that the threat was overblown and would "disappear" overnight.

Fauci recalled on Thursday how frustrating those days became. "I don't want to be going back over history, but it's very clear that there were things that were said, be it regarding things like hydroxychloroquine and other things like that, that really was uncomfortable because they were not based on scientific fact," he said, referring to Trump's embrace of an unproven and untested drug for use as a treatment for the coronavirus.

After Fauci noted on Thursday that his efforts to challenge Trump's assertions often meant that he "got into trouble sometimes," he was asked to elaborate. "You said I was joking about it. I was very serious," he said. "I can tell you I take no pleasure at all in being in a situation contradicting the president, so it was really something that you didn't feel that you could actually say something, and there wouldn't be any repercussions."

A reporter noted that Fauci — who had last appeared in the briefing room in November — had largely disappeared from public view at the end of last year after angering Trump one too many times.

Are you back now, he was asked.

He smiled and glanced at Jen Psaki, the White House press secretary.

"I think so," he said. — NYT

Google-linked balloon project to provide cell service to close

DAISUKE WAKABAYASHI
Oakland, California, January 22

GOOGLE'S PARENT COMPANY Alphabet is shutting down Loon, a high-profile subsidiary spun out from its research labs that used high-altitude helium balloons to deliver cellular connectivity from the stratosphere.

Nearly a decade after it began the project, Alphabet said on Thursday that it had pulled the plug on Loon because it did not see a way to reduce costs to create a sustainable business. Along with the self-driving car unit Waymo, Loon was one of the most hyped "moonshot" technology projects to emerge from Alphabet's research lab, X.

Loon was one of the most hyped "moonshot" technology projects to emerge from Alphabet's research lab, X.

"The road to commercial viability has proven much longer and riskier than hoped. So we've made the difficult decision to close down Loon," Astro Teller, who heads X, wrote in a blog post. Alphabet said it expected to wind down operations in "the coming months" with the hope of finding other positions for Loon employees at Alphabet.

The idea behind Loon was to bring cellular connectivity to remote parts of the world where building a traditional mobile network would be too difficult and too costly. Alphabet promoted the technology as a potentially promising way to bring internet connectivity to not just the "next billion" consumers but the "last billion."

The giant helium balloons, made from sheets of polyethylene, are the size of tennis courts. They were powered by solar panels and navigated by flight control software that used artificial intelligence to drift in the stratosphere. While up in the air, they act as "floating cell towers," transmitting internet signals to ground stations and personal devices.

Google started working on Loon in 2011 and launched the project with a public test in 2013. — NYT

Iran leader posts Trump-like image, vows revenge

REUTERS

THE TWITTER ACCOUNT of Iran's Supreme Leader on Friday carried the image of a golfer resembling former President Donald Trump apparently being targeted by a drone, vowing revenge over the killing of a top Iranian general in a US drone attack.

The post carried the text of remarks by Ayatollah Ali Khamenei in December, in which he said "Revenge is certain," renewing a vow of vengeance ahead of the first anniversary of the killing of General Qassem Soleimani in the attack in Iraq.

New Intel CEO avoids outsourcing embrace

STEPHEN NELLIS AND AYANTI BERA
January 21

THE INCOMING CHIEF executive of Intel said on Thursday that most of the company's 2023 products will be made in Intel factories, but he sketched a dual-track future in which it will lean more heavily on outside factories.

The lack of a strong embrace of outsourcing from new CEO Pat Gelsinger drove shares down 4.7% after hours. Shares rose 6.5% during regular trade, when the results were released ahead of the close. The company said it was investigating "non-authorised" access to some of the results, with the Financial Times quoting its chief financial officer as saying the microchip maker had been hacked.

Intel also forecast first-quarter revenue and profit above Wall Street expectations, continuing to benefit from pandemic demand for laptops and PCs that have powered the shift to working and playing from home.

Gelsinger said he was "confident that the majority of our 2023 products will be manufactured internally" though he also said the use of outside chip factories is likely to increase "for certain technologies and products".

Intel has been considering since last July whether to drop its decades-old strategy of both designing and making chips by turning for help on its central processing units, or CPUS, to "foundry" manufacturers. Those partners could be Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing and Samsung Electronics. Intel's manufacturing technology, called a 7-nanometer process, is expected in 2023.

"We didn't get our answer on which foundries and when," said Patrick Moorhead of Moor Insights & Strategy. "They pushed the can down the road."

Kinngai Chan, analyst at Summit Insights Group, said Intel is not likely to outsource its flagship chips.

Samsung considers $10-bn Texas chipmaking plant

SOHEE KIM AND IAN KING
January 22

SAMSUNG ELECTRONICS IS considering spending more than $10 billion building its most advanced logic chipmaking plant in the US, a major investment it hopes will win more American clients and help it catch up with industry leader Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing.

The world's largest memory chip and smartphone maker is in discussions to locate a facility in Austin, Texas, capable of fabricating chips as advanced as 3 nanometers in the future, people familiar with the matter said. Plans are preliminary and subject to change but for now the aim is to kick off construction this year, install major equipment from 2022, then begin operations as early as 2023, they said. While the investment amount could fluctuate, Samsung's plans would mean upwards of $10 billion to bankroll the project, one of the people said.

Samsung is taking advantage of a concerted US government effort to counter China's rising economic prowess and lure back home some of the advanced manufacturing that over the past decades has gravitated toward Asia. The hope is that such production bases in the US will galvanise local businesses and support American industry and chip design.

CAR REVIEW: TATA ALTROZ iTURBO

A hatchback that got all things right, almost

The Altroz iTurbo looks futuristic, drives well, has a fuel-efficient engine, and it is a 'connected car', but there is still no automatic gearbox option, and no sunroof either

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

SPECIFICATIONS

Engine	1199cc i-Turbo petrol
Power	110 PS (108 bhp)
Torque	140 Nm
Fuel efficiency	18.13 km/l
Gearbox	5-speed manual
Fuel tank	37 litres

The acceleration of the turbocharged petrol engine doesn't quite produce a huge backward force on anyone sitting inside the car—doesn't push you back into the seat—but is more linear, smooth

IT'S A FACE that can launch a thousand sighs. The Tata Altroz premium hatchback, which was launched in January 2020, has to be the 'hatchback of the year' (if there were any such category). However, it did miss out on certain things—the petrol engine was underpowered, and there was no automatic gearbox option. Tata Motors has at least addressed the former concern, by adding a turbocharger to the existing 1199cc, three-cylinder petrol engine. Called the Altroz iTurbo, it is also a 'connected car'. We drive it in and around Delhi.

What defines its design?

Design, it is argued, is the biggest purchase decision for car buyers. The Altroz iTurbo looks futuristic, to say the least. A new shade of blue is available, as well as contrast black roof option. The colour scheme inside the cabin has been mildly changed, in shades of black and grey.

The cabin is well-crafted, and the steering wheel is a delight to hold. Doors open a wide 90-degree, so getting in and out is easy. The rear seating area has a flat floor, so three adults can be comfortable out there. There is no sunroof, however.

An interesting design element is a line that goes down and kicks up, between the front fender and A-pillar—it looks overly similar to one on the BMW i3 electric car.

How is the new engine?

It produces 110 PS power and 140Nm torque (up from 86 PS and 113Nm, respectively, of naturally-aspirated engine). While the engine is noisy, little of that enters the cabin. The acceleration is good—in my rough calculation, the Altroz iTurbo did 0-100 km/h sprint in a little over 10 seconds (in the Sport mode; yes there is one). But as far as acceleration through the gears is concerned—say, from 30-70 km/h in third gear—it doesn't appear 'exciting' enough. One of the reasons could be that the power delivery, and therefore acceleration, is quite linear. The claimed fuel efficiency is 18.13 km/l. The Altroz, however, still doesn't have an automatic gearbox.

What is the iRA?

The Altroz iTurbo is a connected car, and the technology behind that is called the iRA (Intelligent Real time Assist), using which you can give the car remote commands and check its location remotely via the iRA app—it's available only in top-end XZ+ variant. The voice command feature inside the car appears to well understand Indian accents.

How much will it be priced?

With a more powerful engine, mildly refreshed cabin, as well as connected car features, we believe the Altroz iTurbo will be at least ₹50,000 more expensive than the Altroz petrol. It will be available only in XT, XZ and the new XZ+ variants. So expect a starting price of a little over ₹7.5 lakh.

BLive, CredR to provide easy upgrade to EVs

FE BUREAU

CREDR (THE omni-channel two-wheeler used consumer brand) and BLive (the electric bike tourism platform) have started a scheme under which users can exchange petrol-based two-wheeler with e-scooters sold on the BLive store. While exchanging the old two-wheeler, CredR will offer instant quotes for old petrol scooters, thus reducing the upfront cost of BLive e-bikes.

"Users will be provided hassle-free exchange of used two-wheelers for electric bikes, and will receive their new vehicle within days. An instant price quote/estimate will be generated through the proprietary pricing application powered by CredR. To complete the transaction, CredR will verify the documents and the health of the petrol two-wheeler. The exchange price will then be adjusted against the final cost of the new BLive electric two-wheeler," CredR said in a statement. Currently, the programme is applicable in Delhi NCR, Jaipur, Bangalore and Pune, and will soon be expanded to other cities across India.

While exchanging old two-wheelers, CredR will offer instant quotes for old petrol bikes, reducing upfront cost of BLive bikes

Sasidhar Nandigam, chief strategic officer, CredR, said, "Currently, electric mobility contributes to less than 1% of the two-wheeler market, and this can only increase from here. We are excited to partner with BLive in bringing about this shift in the market."

Samarth Kholkar, CEO & co-founder, BLive, added, "With CredR, buying an EV becomes simpler with consumers getting the advantage of not worrying about the older two-wheeler they own. We see this as a very strategic partnership."

Okinawa Dual to propel 'service on wheels'

OKINAWA, the EV manufacturer, has launched what it says is India's first customisable B2B electric two-wheeler. Called the Dual, it is priced ₹58,998. With the largest loading capacity on a two-wheeler, Okinawa said it is deploying the Dual for last-mile logistics. "With dual loading capacity on the front as well as the rear of the vehicle, the Dual is a first-of-its-kind vehicle designed to cater to niche requirements of delivery," the company said, and is offering customised accessories with it. The Dual has a top speed of 25 km/h. Its detachable battery can be charged 80% in 1.5 hours and fully in 4-5 hours, and has a 130-km range.

ICICI LOMBARD RATING: BUY

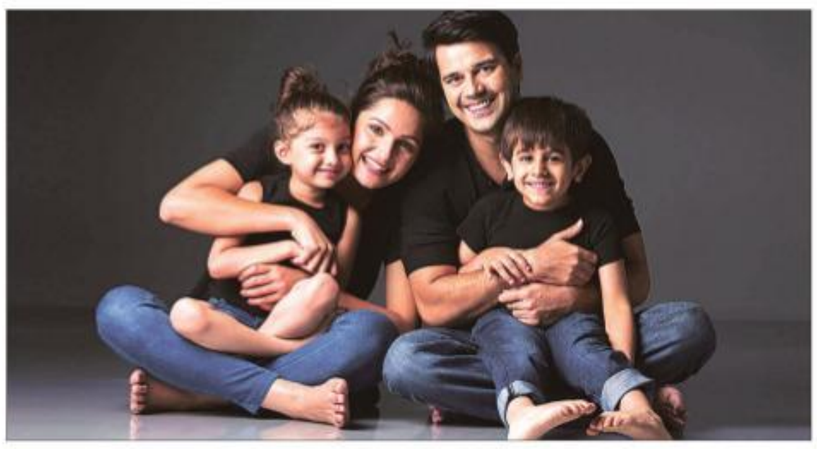
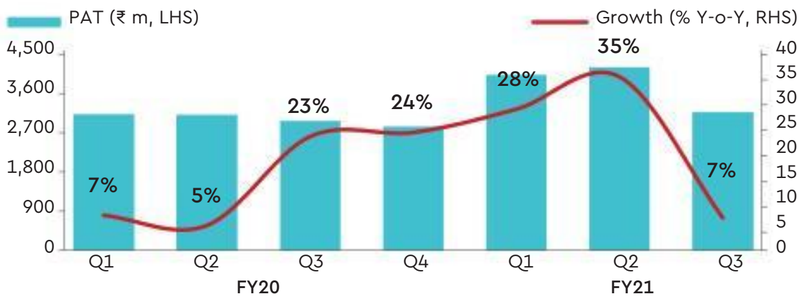
Higher commissions impacted earnings

Normalisation of tie-up with IBank on health side is key; standalone EPS cut by 2-4% and TP reduced to ₹1,780; 'Buy' retained



While commission costs dragged profits in Q3, benefits of premium uptick will play out in-future



Source: Company data, Jefferies

FOR Q3FY21, ILOM'S profit of ₹3.1 bn, up 7% y-o-y, fell short of estimates due to higher commissions. This reflects uptick in premiums & lower re-insurance – while GDPI rose by 9%, NWP rose 21% – benefit of this will play out in the future. IBank has temporarily slowed cross-sell of health-insurance & normalisation will be key. Expansion of agency force & new banca tie-ups can help. We trim estimates a bit, but stay with Buy call with target price of ₹1,780.

Higher commission costs for premium-growth & lower health business drag profit: During Q3, ICICI Lombard saw some uptick in GDPI growth to 9% and net premium written growth improved to 21% y-o-y. This was driven by growth in retail business, lower reinsurance especially due to lower health-insurance business origination by ICICI Bank. The upfront cost of commission rose by 191% y-o-y–towards new business and lower commission on reinsurance offered on health-business. This was the key reason for miss in earnings. Combined ratio was at 97.9% and investment income (total) was up 33% y-o-y.

Drivers of growth for FY22-23: We believe that ICICI Lombard's organic growth in FY22 would be led by normalisation of business activity as well as ramp-up of partnerships with banks like Standard Chartered, Yes Bank, Karur Vysya Bank along with a few NBFCs/SFBs. Still normalisation of bancassurance partnership with ICICI Bank on health-benefit side is key – we expect it to play out by H2FY22. Growth in retail health insurance business will be driven by (i) expansion in agency force – up 17% since Mar-20; and (ii) roll-out of products and tech-platforms towards this segment. Its growth in SME segment also continues to hold-up – up 36% y-o-y in Q3. A key positive development can be hike in motor TP insurance premiums (by IRDAI) after nil hike in FY21.

Trim earnings: Mgmt clarified that the merger with Bharti Axa is moving in line with expectations, and we understand it might be consummated by H12021. We trim standalone EPS forecasts by 2-4% factoring in tad slower premium. This also drives small cut to TP to ₹1,780 (from ₹1,850) based on 44x Dec-22 PE.

GATEWAY DISTRIPARKS RATING: BUY

Results came as a positive surprise

FY21-23e EPS up 99/65/28%; 'Buy' retained with TP of ₹220 given the valuations

GATEWAY DISTRIPARKS (GDL: CFS + Rail) surprised positively in Q3FY21 led by sustained improvement in trade and improved profitability (rail business). Mgmt anticipates strong revival in industry volumes as it witnessed peak output in Rail and near peak volume in CFS segment. GDL is one of the first operators to run trains on the newly inaugurated section (from Garhi ICD on Rewari-Madar). While Pipavav port is expected to be connected by Sep'21, Mundra is expected to be connected later in FY22, as per the mgmt.

GDL's deleveraging process remains intact while the restructuring process to improve fungibility of cash flows and operational synergies is expected to be complete over the next 8-10 months. We maintain Buy with a Mar'22 TP of ₹220.

Q3FY21 Summary (Rail + CFS): Consolidated revenue grew 5% y-o-y (+20% q-o-q) as blended realisations grew 6% q-o-q while volumes fell only 3% y-o-y. PAT tripled y-o-y to ₹347 mn (Rail PAT at ₹361 mn, +143% y-o-y/+109% q-o-q). (i) Rail: Volume grew 9% y-o-y (vs. 5%/11% y-o-y growth in Concor/IR EXIM volumes; partly due to spill over from Q2) with recovery in trade while realisations improved 8% q-o-q (flat y-o-y). Ebitda/TEU improved 25% y-o-y/18% q-o-q to highest ever ₹9,009/TEU. (ii) CFS: Volumes fell 11% y-o-y but improved 7% q-o-q with recovery in trade though realisations normalised vs. Q2FY21 levels (-7% q-o-q/+9% y-o-y) when realisations were higher due to high dwell time. Ebitda/TEU at ₹2,880/TEU fell 15% q-o-q but increased 37% y-o-y on account of higher dwell time.

Set to benefit from demand revival and DFC: Given the context of improved domestic and global scenario, it believes industry volume growth has bottomed out and has seen strong indication from the lines. DFC is expected to have multiple impact on CTOs like GDL such as a) operational efficiency (double stacking of all containers); b) better visibility on timelines (and hence customer shift); and c) significant operating leverage, though part is expected to be shared with customers.

Raise estimates/TP: We raise our FY21E-FY23e EPS by 99%/65%/28%, respectively (partly on account of low base) to reflect Q3FY21 performance (higher rail and CFS margins) and mgmt outlook on improved margin guidance (₹8,000/TEU) for rail. We continue to value GDL's rail business (9x Mar'23 Ebitda) and CFS (5x) separately. We maintain Buy on account of inexpensive valuations. Key risks: a) lower-than-expected cargo growth and b) adverse outcome on litigation.

DICV launches BSafe Express

FE BUREAU

DAIMLER INDIA Commercial Vehicles (DICV), in collaboration with Motherson Group, unveiled the BharatBenz BSafeExpress on Friday, a specialised reefer truck designed for safe transportation of Covid-19 vaccines. "Equipped with state-of-the-art connectivity, the BSafe Express uses newly developed refrigeration units that ensure temperature and stability of vaccines is monitored and maintained," the company said in a statement.

Satyakam Arya, MD & CEO, DICV, said, "The combination of a reliable chassis with a lightweight, insulated reefer and state-of-the-art connectivity device makes the BSafe Express perfect solution for India's cold-chain infrastructure challenge. With this truck, we can deliver vaccines in perfect condition to even the most remote destinations, bringing hope of a return to normalcy to over 1.3 billion people."

Motherson Group's refrigerated container (intelligent reefer) is made from glass reinforced plastic, XPS foam, and other materials that ensure the product is strong, water-resistant, and non-corrosive, yet light-weight and highly insulated, and it is mounted on the BharatBenz 2823R chassis, a heavy-duty truck.

Tata has trucks for vaccine transportation

FE BUREAU

ON FRIDAY, Tata Motors said it will provide refrigerated trucks for smooth movement of Covid-19 vaccines. "These vaccine trucks and vans are available on Government e-Marketplace (GeM) portal for purchase," the company said in a statement.

The new range has been designed as per the temperature, volume and weight requirements. Girish Wagh, president, Commercial Vehicle Business Unit, Tata Motors, said, "We are pleased to extend support as the nation readies to roll out the first phase of the vaccination, contributing for the safe and speedy distribution of vaccines across the country."

Tata Motors has tied up with leading reefer (refrigerated load body) manufacturers of the country, furthering its preparation of offering ready-to-use reefers and insulated vaccine vans.

BANK STOCKS DIVE

Mkts see biggest monthly decline on profit booking

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, January 22

WIDESPREAD PROFIT BOOKING hammered stocks for the second straight session on Friday, with the Sensex tanking 746 points and the Nifty crashing below the 14,400-mark. The Sensex crashed primarily because investors offloaded Reliance Industries ahead of its results, while banking and finance counters also bore the brunt of heavy selling amid lacklustre global cues.

The Nifty and the Sensex ended the week down by 0.43% and 0.32%, respectively. This is because investors chose to book profits at higher levels. The sector that saw the most gains this week was the Nifty Auto index rallying by 3.42%. Bajaj Auto and Tata Motors were among the top gainers of the Nifty for the week, rallying by 14% and 11%. Shares of Bajaj Auto soared 11.23% to close at Rs 4,119.25 on Friday on impressive third quarter results.

The markets on Friday also reacted to the global sentiment which was weak on account of the rising novel Coronavirus cases in Europe and China. Moreover, investors decided to take profits after the strong rally in the US. The markets in China, South Korea and Hong Kong were down by 0.4% to 1.6%.

Siddhartha Khemka, head — retail research, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said, "Going ahead, markets may continue to remain highly volatile ahead of monthly expiry and Union Budget 2021. The ongoing earning season which kicked off on a strong note last week would further add to the volatility."

Foreign portfolio investors have pumped in $3.2 billion in total so far in January. The biggest gainers on the Nifty were Bajaj Auto, Hero Motocorp, Eicher Motors, Hindustan Unilever, and Ultratech Cement Company with gains of by 11.23%, 3.9%, 1.78%, 1.45% and 0.67%, respectively. The biggest losers were Axis Bank, Asian Paints, JSW Steel, ICICI Bank and Hindalco Industries, down by 4.48%, 4.25%, 3.97%, 3.75% and 3.74%.

RBI proposes four-layered framework for regulation of shadow lenders

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, January 22

THE RESERVE BANK of India (RBI) on Friday floated a discussion paper proposing a four-layered structure for the regulation of non-banking financial companies (NBFCs). The framework has been envisaged as a pyramid-like structure, where regulated entities will be classified into each layer based on parameters like asset size, type of liabilities and their relative systemic importance, the paper suggests.

The bottom of the pyramid, or base layer, where least regulatory intervention is warranted, will consist of NBFCs currently classified as non-systemically important NBFCs (NBFC-ND), NBFC- peer-to-peer (P2P) lending platforms, NBFC-account aggregator (AA), non-operative financial holding companies (NOFHCs) and type-I NBFCs.

As one moves up, the next layer can consist of NBFCs currently classified as systemically important NBFCs (NBFC-ND-SI), deposit taking NBFCs (NBFC-D), housing finance companies (HFCs), infrastructure finance companies (IFCs), infrastructure development funds (IDFs), standalone primary dealers (SPDs) and core investment companies (CICs). The regulatory regime for this layer shall be stricter compared to the base layer. "Adverse regulatory arbitrage vis-à-vis banks can be addressed for NBFCs falling in this layer in order to reduce systemic risk spill-overs, where required," the paper said. This will be the middle layer.

Going further, the next layer — the upper layer — will consist of NBFCs which are identified as systemically significant among NBFCs. For identification of entities to be categorised as NBFC-UL, a parametric analysis will be carried out, comprising quantitative and qualitative parameters/supervisory judgment. The quantitative parameters will have weightage of 70%, whereas qualitative parameters/supervisory inputs will have weightage of 30%. This layer will be populated by NBFCs which have large potential of systemic spill-over of risks and have the ability to impact financial stability. "There is no parallel for this layer at present, as this will be a new layer for regulation. The regulatory framework for NBFCs falling in this layer will be bank-like, albeit with suitable and appropriate modifications," the paper said.

Considered supervisory judgment might push some NBFCs from out of the upper layer of the systemically significant NBFCs for higher regulation or supervision. These NBFCs will occupy the top of the upper layer as a distinct set. Ideally, this top layer of the pyramid will remain empty unless supervisors take a view on specific NBFCs. "In other words, if certain NBFCs lying in the upper layer are seen to pose extreme risks as per supervisory judgement, they can be put to significantly higher and bespoke regulatory/supervisory requirements," the paper said.

'Securitisation volume crosses ₹26k cr in Q3'

SECURITISATION VOLUME CROSSED ₹26,000 crore in the December quarter of the current fiscal as more originators entered the market and mutual funds started investing in new issuances, says a report. This takes the total volume for the first nine months of this fiscal to ₹48,000 crore, though that is still way behind FY18 (₹60,000 crore), FY19 (₹145,000 crore) and FY20 (₹152,000 crore), Crisil Ratings said in a report.

Indian Bank posts net profit of ₹514 cr in Q3

FE BUREAU
Chennai, January 22

CHENNAI-HEADQUARTERED PUBLIC sector lender Indian Bank on Friday reported a net profit of ₹514.28 crore for Q3FY21, on the back of asset quality improvement and cost management measures. It had incurred net loss of ₹1,739 crore in the same quarter last fiscal. On the sequential basis, too, its net profit has increased by 25%.

Speaking to media persons through virtual mode, after releasing the earning performance, Indian Bank MD & CEO Padmaja Chunduru said the bank has continued its steady growth in both business and profit combined with good control over asset quality. Post the merger of Allahabad into Indian Bank, the gains in terms of CASA, larger geographic footprint, ability to take higher exposures, economies of scale, are all tangible now.

"Our relentless focus on credit monitoring has yielded results in restricting slippages. Even taking into account unflagged NPAs the position is very much in control. Process changes that the bank has implemented in first two quarters, centralising the processing on both liability and asset side are now yielding results. The bank is investing heavily in IT and digital infra and security controls to ensure a seamless, pleasant banking experience to our customers," she said.

The bank made drastic improvement in its asset quality with gross NPA decreasing 365 bps to 9.04% of gross advances, from 12.69%, y-o-y. On a sequential basis it decreased by 85 bps. Similarly, net NPA came down to 2.35 % from 4.22% with a reduction of 187 bps. On a sequential basis it decreased by 61bps. "Our aim is to keep gross NPA and net NPA below 9% and 3% respectively, going forward," she said.

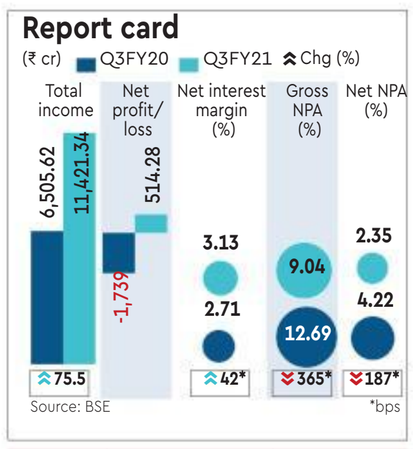
Provisions and contingencies for Q3FY21 were at ₹2, 585 crore as against ₹4,555 crore in the corresponding quarter of previous year. Specific loan loss provisions for Q3FY21 were at ₹738 crore, compared to ₹4, 705 crore in Q3FY20.

Chunduru said bank will have to only restructure 1.6% to 2% of the loan book post-lifting of the moratorium and the collection efficiency during December stood at above 90%.

The bank's total capital adequacy ratio (CRAR) improved by 42 bps to 14.06% as on Q3FY21 in comparison to 13.64 % as of Q2FY21 as against regulatory requirement of 10.875%. Tier-I CRAR was at 11.18 % as on Q3FY21 versus 10.74% as on Q2FY21 on sequential basis.

Chunduru said the board of the bank has approved raising of ₹4, 000-crore capital and this will be done to bring down government's shareholding to 75% from the current 88.06%. The board has also approved raising of tier 2 capital aggregating up to ₹3,000 crore through issuance of Basel III-compliant AT1 / tier 2 bonds in one or more tranches during the current or subsequent financial years based on the requirement. "We don't need to immediately raise capital, but we are ready with the enabling resolution so that we can do it as and when the market situation is conducive," she said.

The net interest income of the bank rose by 31% to ₹4, 313 crore from ₹3, 293 crore while net interest margin (NIM) increased by 42 basis points and stood at 3.13% for Q3FY21 as against 2.71 % for Q3FY20. However, non-interest income was lower at ₹1,397 crore as against ₹1,673 crore on account of lower profit on sale of investment and slowdown in recovery in bad debts.



Lender gets nod to raise ₹4k cr from share sale

STATE-OWNED INDIAN BANK on Friday said the board has approved a proposal to raise up to ₹4,000 crore from share sale to enhance capital base.

The board has approved "raising equity capital aggregating up to ₹4,000 crore through Qualified Institutions Placements (QIPs)/Follow on Public Offer (FPO)/ Rights Issue or in combination thereof subject to approval of government of India, Reserve Bank of India," the bank said in a regulatory filing. —PTI

RBI cancels sale of benchmark bond on weak demand

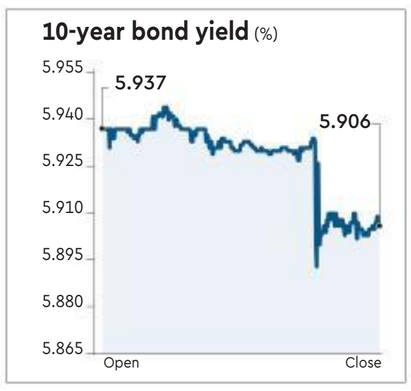
SUBHADIP SIRCAR & KARTIK GOYAL
Mumbai, January 22

THE RESERVE BANK of India (RBI) didn't sell any benchmark notes at its weekly auction, highlighting weak demand ahead of the Budget that is widely expected to boost spending.

The RBI rejected all bids for the ₹8,000 crore ($1.1 billion) of 5.85% 2030 bonds it had sought to sell, according to a statement Friday. It also asked underwriters to pick up nearly all of the ₹11,000 crore of the 5.15% 2025 bonds. In all, the central bank sold ₹20,920 crore of bonds versus ₹27,000 crore planned.

Market yields fell immediately after the results though it is unclear yet if the RBI will adjust this amount in following auctions. There's a glut of paper as the government borrows a record ₹13.1 lakh crore in the year through March. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman is expected to announce a similar number for next year when she unveils the Budget on February 1. The yield on the 5.85% 2030 bond was down 2 basis points to 5.91%. The most traded 5.77% 2030 yield also fell 2 basis points to 5.94%. Trading was extended by an hour due to the delay in the auction results, traders said.

"It's a difficult situation, when the RBI doesn't want to give higher yields at the auction and at the same time there is slight nervousness with regard to open-market purchases," said Anoop Verma, senior vice president at DCB Bank in Mumbai. "The RBI will need to come out with an OMO calendar and also raise the size of purchases to ₹20,000 crore to give confidence to the market." The delay in announcing an open market purchase last week saw yields rise, after which the RBI came in with a ₹10,000-crore buy programme and probably also bought debt in the secondary market. It is yet to announce a similar purchase for the next week. —BLOOMBERG



ANALYST CORNER

Maintain 'neutral' on Bajaj Auto with TP of ₹4,000

MOTILAL OSWAL

BAJAJ AUTO (BJAUT)'S operating performance was driven by favorable mix, lower marketing spends, and operating leverage. It has both near (3W recovery) and long term (premiumisation and exports) levers, which are fairly reflected in current valuations. We upgrade our FY21E/FY22E EPS by 7%/5% to factor in mix, cost savings, and an upgrade in KTM's PAT. Maintain Neutral.

3QFY21 revenue/EBITDA/PAT grew 16.6%/26.5%/23.4% YoY. For 9MFY21, revenue/EBITDA/PAT declined 17.1%/ 11.4%/15% YoY. Realizations grew 7% YoY (flat QoQ) to INR68.2k (v/s our estimate of INR68.6k). Gross margin declined 90bp YoY (+10bp QoQ) to 29.2% (v/s our estimate of 28.5%) on lower 3W volumes, but was aided by favorable mix of Premium Motorcycles in both domestic and export markets. EBITDA margin expanded 150bp YoY (+170bp QoQ) to 19.4% (v/s our estimate of 17.5%) largely due to lower staff cost and marketing spends. Higher income boosted PAT to INR15.6b (v/s our estimate of INR13.9b).

4QFY21 outlook, Domestic 2W sales were back to last year's levels. Base effect will drive growth, but on a like-to-like basis it would be in low single- digits. Domestic 3Ws would see a QoQ recovery, but decline 50% YoY. The growth momentum in exports would continue, with 12-15% growth in most markets. If ASEAN recovers, it would clock its best ever exports. 2W export volumes have recovered well with, South Asia (excluding Sri Lanka) and Africa back to pre-COVID levels, LatAm at 80-90% levels, and ASEAN at 50% levels. 3W exports are seeing a gradual recovery with LatAm at 50-60%, ASEAN at 25%, and other markets at or above pre-COVID levels. BJAUT has gained market share in all export markets. RM cost is estimated to increase by 3pp QoQ due to commodity cost inflation. It has raised prices by 1% each in domestic 2W/3W in 3QFY21 and by 1.25% in Jan'21 for domestic 2W. It also hiked export prices to cover capping of MEIS incentives and rise in RM cost.

BJAUT would benefit from, premiumisation trend, and good growth opportunity in exports. While domestic 3W recovery might be delayed, it is vulnerable from a possible disruption from electrification. Valuations at 17.9x/16.6x FY22E-/FY23E consolidated EPS largely capture the strong growth momentum. Maintain Neutral, with a TP of INR4,000/share.

Bandhan Bank: 'Buy' with a revised TP of ₹505

ICICI SECURITIES

BANDHAN BANK'S DEVIATION from its track record (of resilience better than peers) due to state-specific events in its dominating geographies of Assam and West Bengal, has led to disappointment in collection efficiency (sub-90% in Jan), credit cost (>5.5% annualised) and pro forma GNPLs (at 7.12%). Key question, at this juncture, is to what extent near term state-specific disruption/uncertainty can challenge the longevity of superior growth/return business model. Unique, socially responsible, market-leading franchise housed under robust liability franchise with adequate capitalisation will aid in sufficient operating profit/assets at >6%, enough to absorb such interim shocks. Revising credit cost estimate factoring interim risks, we tweak earnings by 15%/12% for FY21/FY22E and BV by 5%. However, it can still churn 3.5%/20% RoA/RoE and 20% growth for FY22E that can sustain 3.7x PB multiple. Maintain 'BUY' with a revised TPof ₹505 (earlier ₹537). Key risks: Uncertainty on events unfolding up to elections in West Bengal and implementation of Assam State Bill can weigh on interim valuations.

Operations in Assam – what will be the game plan: Bandhan has been treading cautiously in Assam - share is down to 14% in MFI portfolio (from 17%). Uncertainty around state government bill for MFI-lending has created moral hazards, impacting borrowers' repayment behaviour. Consequently, collection efficiency in Assam has plunged from 88% in Dec'20 to 78% Jan'21 (MTD). Till the time stability returns, incremental disbursements will be limited in the state. Also, alluding to such behaviour, 15-20% drop in collection efficiency can translate to 1.2-1.5% additional credit cost. West Bengal – polls around the corner but should that be a cause of concern. Bandhan has the highest EEB portfolio in WB - collection efficiency there is holding up at 89% for January MTD (albeit a dip from 90% in Dec'20).

Yes Bank reports ₹151-cr profit on strong interest income

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, January 22

YES BANK ON Friday reported a net profit of ₹151 crore for the December quarter (Q3FY21) because of healthy interest income and an improved asset quality. The lender had incurred a loss of ₹18,560 crore in Q3FY20. Sequentially, the net profit increased 17.05%.

The operating profit for the quarter under review increased 68% QoQ to ₹2,286 crore. The lender had reported an operating loss of ₹6 crore during the same quarter last year. The net interest income (NII) increased 140% year-on-year (YoY) and 30% QoQ to ₹2,560 crore.

Prashant Kumar, managing director and chief executive officer, said the lender is seeing a very good improvement in the business as well as profitability. "We expect our advances to grow by 12% in the next financial year (FY22)."

Advances during the December quarter rose 1.7% sequentially to ₹1.69 lakh crore. The lender disbursed ₹12,000 crore of retail loans in Q3FY21, surpassing its own target of ₹10,000 crore for the quarter.

Kumar also said the bank will continue its focused approach on recovery. "We are hopeful that recovery in the fourth quarter will be better than the third quarter," he said. The bank has made a cash recovery of Rs 1,512 crore in the December quarter.

Kumar said the bank has made adequate provisions for the restructuring and standstill non-performing assets (NPAs). "We have invoked restructuring to the extent of ₹8,000 crore. The bank has made ₹2,683-crore provision for the same," he said.

The asset quality showed an improvement in Q3FY21. Gross NPAs improved 154 basis points (bps) to 15.36%, compared to 16.90% in the previous quarter. Net NPAs came down 67 bps to 4.04% from 4.71% in the September quarter. "There will be an addition of 4.5% in gross NPAs if the Supreme Court direction on not allowing banks to declare fresh NPAs is lifted," Kumar said.

The provision coverage ratio stood at 76.8% as on December 31, 2020. The net interest margin improved to 3.4%, showing a Y-o-Y growth of 200 bps and Q-o-Q rise of 30 bps. Deposits rose 7.7% sequentially to ₹1.46 lakh crore. The current account savings account ratio stood at 26%, compared to 24.8% at the end of September 2020.

The bank has got board's approval for raising ₹10,000 crore. "It is an enabling provision for raising funds as and when required," Kumar said. The capital adequacy ratio stood at 19.6% as on December 31, 2020.

HDFC Life Q3 net profit rises 6% to ₹265 crore

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, January 22

HDFC LIFE INSURANCE on Friday reported a 5.89% rise in its standalone net profit to ₹264.99 crore for the quarter ended December. The private life insurer had posted a net profit of ₹250.24 crore in the year-ago quarter.

Its net premium income stood at ₹9,487.01 crore during the third quarter of 2020-21, compared with ₹7,854.3 crore. The first-year premium stood at ₹1,772.24 crore in the third quarter, against ₹1,542.96 crore in the year-ago period. Renewal premium was at ₹4,576.98 crore, compared with ₹3,765.63 crore in the same period last year.

The profit after tax in the April-December 2020 period rose 6% to ₹1,042 crore, from ₹984 crore last year. "We are witnessing a lift in customer confidence, which is also reflected in the new business premium trends for both the individual as well as the group credit protect business.

Managing director and CEO Vibha Padalkar

"We continue to see a pick-up in the savings business, accompanied by an increase in both the average ticket size as well as number of policies," managing director and CEO Vibha Padalkar said.

The company's market share in terms of individual weighted received premium (WRP) increased 214 basis points, from 14.3% to 16.4% in the first nine months of the current financial year. The new business margin (NBM) in the first nine months of 2020-21 stood at 25.6%.

First-year premium stood at ₹1,772.24 crore in the third quarter, against ₹1,542.96 crore in the year-ago period

In the April-December period, individual annualised premium equivalent (APE) rose 6% to ₹4,661 crore, from ₹4,394 crore in the year-ago period. New business premium grew 11% to ₹13,547 crore in the first nine months of 2020-21, against ₹12,150 crore in the previous financial year. Renewal premium rose 22% to ₹12,126 crore, against ₹9,942 crore.

The company's solvency ratio was 202% as on December 31, 2020.

SBI Life net plunges 40% on Covid-related provisions

Solvency ratio stood at 2.34 as against the regulatory requirement of 1.50

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, January 22

PRIVATE LIFE INSURER SBI Life on Friday reported a steep 40.2% plunge in its net income to ₹232.85 crore for the December quarter, mainly due to a massive rise in coronavirus-related provisions. Net premium income rose to ₹13,766.49 crore from ₹11,694.51 crore a year ago.

The insurer said it has assessed the overall impact of the pandemic on its business and financials, including valuation of assets, policy liabilities and solvency for the reporting period and made adequate provisions.

Based on the evaluation, the company has kept an additional reserve of ₹70.38 crore for the pandemic, over and above the policy-level liabilities, it added.

New business margin rose 100 bps to 19.3%, while assets under management crossed the ₹2-lakh-crore mark, clipping at 28% year-on-year.

Its market share among private players rose to 23.7% in terms of new business premium. Renewal premium grew by 27%, the company said in a statement, adding its overall market share in total new business premium rose ₹23.7% to ₹14,440 crore.

Gross written premium increased 21% to ₹34,610 crore, mainly due to strong growth in renewals, which rose 27% from ₹15,910 crore to ₹20,170 crore.

Total cost ratio came down to 8.5 from 10, and the commission ratio declined to 3.4 from 4.

Despite operating expenses coming down to 5.1% from 6%, the net income tanked as higher provisions and claims appended the overall numbers.

The solvency ratio stood at 2.34 as against the regulatory requirement of 1.50.

Indigo Paints IPO gets robust response

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

INDIGO PAINTS' ₹1,170-crore initial share sale garnered an overwhelming response from investors and was subscribed 117 times on the final day of bidding on Friday.

The IPO has received bids for 64.58 crore shares, against an offer size of 55.18 lakh shares, translating into a subscription of 117.02 times, data available on the exchanges showed.

The portion reserved for qualified institutional buyers (QIBs) was subscribed 189.57 times, while that of the non-institutional investor category received 263.05 times subscription and retail portion was subscribed 15.93 times.

Indigo Paints mopped up ₹348 crore from anchor investors on Tuesday.

The ₹1,170.16-crore IPO comprises fresh issuance of stocks aggregating to ₹300 crore and an offer-for-sale of up to 58.40 lakh equity shares by private equity firm Sequoia Capital, through its two funds SCI Investments IV and SCI Investments V, and promoter Hemant Jalan. The price band was fixed at ₹1,488-1,490.

Proceeds from the fresh issuance of shares would be used for expansion of the existing manufacturing facility at Pudukkottai in Tamil Nadu, purchasing of tinting machines and gyro shakers, and repayment/prepayment of borrowings.

Forex reserves down $1.8 bn to $584 bn

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, January 22

AFTER TOUCHING A record high in the preceding week, foreign exchange reserves declined by $1.839 billion to $584.242 billion for the week ended January 15, RBI data showed on Friday.

In the previous week ended January 8, reserves had climbed by $758 million to touch a lifetime high of $586.082 billion.

In the reporting week, foreign currency assets (FCA) — a major component of the overall reserves — decreased by $284 million to $541.507 billion, weekly data by the RBI showed. Expressed in dollar terms, the foreign currency assets include the effect of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units like the euro, pound and yen held in the foreign exchange reserves.

Gold reserves declined by $1.534 billion to $36.06 billion in the week ended January 15, as per the data.

The special drawing rights with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) dipped by $4 million to $1.512 billion.

IL&FS addresses ₹32,000-cr debt

DEBT-LADEN INFRASTRUCTURE LEASING and Financial Services group's (IL&FS) board on Friday said it has addressed ₹32,000 crore of the group's overall debt so far.

The board, led by veteran banker Uday Kotak, retained its target of addressing debt of over ₹56,000 crore by 2021-22, of an overall debt of more than ₹99,000 crore (as of October 2018).

"The aggregate debt of ₹32,000 addressed comprises about ₹21,600 crore of debt addressed basis cash balances," the group said in a release. It added that nearly ₹10,300 crore of additional net recovery is expected from resolution and restructuring applications filed with the NCLT (Mumbai) and the NCLAT, the approvals for which are awaited. PTI

Google threatens to block search engine in Australia

Google's comments drew a sharp rebuke from Australian Prime Minister Scott Morrison who said the country makes its rules for "things you can do in Australia."

"People who want to work with that in Australia, you're very welcome. But we don't respond to threats," Morrison told reporters.

At the inquiry, Australian Competition and Consumer Commission chair Rod Sims, who has overseen the new rules, said he could not predict what the tech giants would do but said "there's always brinkmanship in serious negotiations".

"They talk of commercial deals where they're in full control of the deal," he said. "In my view that's not a commercial deal."

Google has called the code overly broad and said that without revisions, offering even a limited search tool would be too risky. The company does not disclose sales from Australia, but search ads are its biggest contributor to revenue and profit globally.

The US government this week asked Australia to scrap the proposed laws, which have broad political support, and suggested Australia should pursue a voluntary code instead.

Australia announced the legislation last month after an investigation found Google and social media giant Facebook held too much market power in the media industry, a situation it said posed a potential threat to a well-functioning democracy.

Google's threat to limit its services in Australia came just hours after the internet giant reached a content-payment deal with some French news publishers as part of three-year, $1.3-billion push to support publishers.

Google's testimony "is part of a pattern of threatening behaviour that is chilling for anyone who values our democracy", said Peter Lewis, director of the Australia Institute's Centre for Responsible Technology. –REUTERS

Anti-govt posts may land you in prison in Bihar

The letter was issued on Thursday by Naiyar Hasnain Khan, the ADG heading the Economic Offences Wing (EOW), which is also the nodal body of the police for cybercrimes.

Addressed to all principal secretaries and secretaries of various departments in the state, the letter has sought intimation of any such activity by individuals or organisations so that the EOW could take action in accordance with law.

Leader of the opposition Tejashwi Yadav, who shared a screenshot of the letter on his Twitter handle, expressed outrage.

"Look at the deeds of the Chief Minister (Nitish Kumar) who is following in the footsteps of Hitler", Yadav tweeted.

"Protesters cannot demonstrate at designated places. People sent to jail for writing against the government. Nitish ji, we understand that you are completely tired. But, at least, have some shame," he added in a series of tweets in Hindi.

The ruling NDA, however, came out in support of the communication, saying restraining those spewing venom on the social media had become necessary.

"It is a welcome step. The social media was supposed to be a tool which would speed up information dissemination and help intellectual uplift of the people on a mass scale. But more often than not we come across content on these platforms which are full of vile abuses," Rajiv Ranjan Prasad, spokesperson of the Janata Dal (United), said in a statement.

BJP spokesperson Nikhil Anand echoed similar views. "Freedom of expression does not mean no holds barred. There must be some regulations and guidelines with regard to the use of social media. Interests of the nation and the society ought to be upheld," he said.

Anand also expressed concern over social media increasingly lending itself to character assassination and defamation and pointed out that in many instances even government officials have been found guilty of posting remarks that violate their code of conduct.

"Such things need to be stopped," the BJP spokesperson said.

PLI: Nod to Aurobindo Pharma, KAPL for promotion of bulk drugs manufacture

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

THE GOVERNMENT HAS given approval to drug firms, including Aurobindo Pharma and Karnataka Antibiotics & Pharmaceuticals, under the PLI scheme for promotion of domestic manufacturing of critical bulk drugs.

The Production Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme aims at promotion of manufacturing of critical key starting materials (KSMs)/drug intermediates and APIs in the country.

The setting up of plants under the scheme will lead to a total committed investment of ₹3,761 crore by the companies and employment generation for around 3,825 people, the Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers said in a statement.

The applications of Aurobindo Pharma (through Lyfius Pharma) have been approved for setting up plants for the production of Penicillin G, and 7-ACA, with committed production capacity of 15,000 MT and 2,000 MT, respectively. The committed investment for Penicillin G is ₹1,392 crore, and for 7-ACA is ₹813 crore, it added.

The approval has also been given to Aurobindo Pharma (through Qule Pharma) for setting up plant for production of Erythromycin Thiocyanate (TIOC), with committed production capacity of 1,600 MT at a committed investment of ₹834 crore.

Karnataka Antibiotics & Pharmaceuticals (KAPL), a Government of India enterprise, has been accorded the approval for production of 7-ACA, with committed production capacity of 1,000 MT at a committed investment of ₹275 crore, the statement said.

India to begin commercial vaccine exports with Brazil, Morocco

THE GOVERNMENT OF India has cleared commercial exports of Covid-19 vaccines, with the first consignments to be shipped to Brazil and Morocco on Friday, the foreign secretary told Reuters. The shots developed by UK-based drugmaker AstraZeneca and Oxford University are being manufactured at the Serum Institute of India, the world's biggest producer of vaccines, which has received orders from countries across the world.

The government had held off exporting doses until it began its own domestic immunisation programme last weekend. Earlier this week, it sent free supplies to neighbouring countries, including Bhutan, Maldives, Bangladesh and Nepal. Foreign secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla said commercial supplies of the vaccine would begin from Friday in line with PM Modi's commitment that India's production capacities would be used for all of humanity to fight the pandemic. —REUTERS

Assam MFI Bill may increase asset-quality challenges for micro lenders, says Crisil: The recently passed Micro Finance Institutions (MFI) Bill, 2020, by the Assam Assembly has the potential to increase asset quality challenges for micro-lenders, according to a Crisil Ratings report. It said announcement of any loan waiver could affect the repayment discipline, which could further worsen the situation for micro financiers. "Assam's microfinance portfolio (including banks and non-banks) was estimated at ₹12,400 crore as of September 2020 or around 5% of such loans in the country. For the sector, it's déjà vu a decade after the Andhra Pradesh ordinance of 2010," the rating agency said in the report. —PTI

3 During the year ended March 31, 2020, Company reversed contingent consideration payable on business combinations consummated in previous year amounting to INR 2,568 lakhs [USD 3.6 million] based on company's assessment, being no longer payable. This reversal is accounted under other income.

4 The Company continues to actively manage its business during COVID-19 pandemic and has not yet experienced significant changes on the business impact than estimated earlier. In assessing the assumptions relating to the possible future uncertainties in the global economic conditions because of this pandemic, nothing has come to the attention of the Company through internal and external sources, which warrants a reassessment of carrying amounts of financial and non-financial assets on the expected future performance of the Company.

5 The above is an extract of the detailed format of Quarterly Financial Results filed with the Stock Exchanges under Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. The full format of the standalone and consolidated quarterly financial results are available on stock exchange websites (www.nseindia.com and www.bseindia.com) and on Company's website (www.zensar.com).

6 The term of the erstwhile Managing Director and the CEO of the Company ended on January 11, 2021. Accordingly, he no longer functions as the Managing Director and the CEO of the Company effective January 12, 2021, however his employment at Zensar Technologies Inc. US has been extended by a period of one month, viz. February 12, 2021 to facilitate a smooth transition. The amount payable to the erstwhile Managing Director and the CEO which is subject to the shareholders' approval has been adequately recorded in the books of account. The Company will account for adjustments thereto, if any subsequent to the closure of all events as applicable in the quarter ending March 31, 2021.

7 During the previous quarter ended 30th September 2020, Zensar Group classified its Third Party Maintenance ('TPM') business housed in its subsidiaries, PSI Holding Group Inc, Zensar Technologies IM Inc and Zensar Technologies IM B.V. (collectively referred to as "PSI Group" or "disposal group") as "Held for Sale" and impact pertaining to adjustment to the carrying amount and fair value less transaction cost associated to sell was disclosed as exceptional item.
On 19th October 2020, the Company signed an agreement (subject to certain closing conditions which included approval of shareholders) for sale of PSI Group for a consideration of USD 10 million receivable upfront (subject to working capital adjustment) and USD 5 million performance based deferred earnouts. On completion of the closing conditions on 2nd December 2020, the differential impact has been disclosed as exceptional item, including the reclassification of balance in Foreign currency translation reserve to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss amounting to gain of Rs. 3744 lakhs. Further, adjustment to consideration is due to be finalized 75 days after the closing date and adjustment if any would be accounted then.
The disposal group does not constitute a separate major component of the Zensar Group and therefore has not been classified as discontinued operations in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

8 The Board of Directors in its meeting on January 21, 2021 declared an interim dividend of INR 1.20 per equity share.

9 Aquila Technology Corp (Aquila) was acquired by Zensar Technologies Inc. as part of the group acquisition of PSI Holding Group Inc (PSI) in 2010. A service agreement between Aquila and a customer of Aquila required independence, separation of its operations and lack of interdependence of Aquila on its related affiliates/parent. Accordingly, this led to loss of control over Aquila for the Zensar Group, consequently Aquila is not considered as a subsidiary of the Zensar group within the definition prescribed under Ind AS 110 and hence not consolidated by the Zensar Group. For its equity investments in Aquila, Zensar Group accounts the changes in fair value through other comprehensive income.
During the quarter ended 31 December 2020, Company had advanced its process of divesting its subsidiary Aquila Technology Corp (Aquila) and accordingly, this investment is reclassified as "Held for Sale". Management believes on eventual disposal, company would be able to realize the full carrying value as accounted in the books of account.

Telecom infra firms incur ₹2,500-crore loss under GST regime so far; ₹625 cr more loss likely: TAIPA

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

TELECOM INFRASTRUCTURE COMPANIES are likely to incur a loss of around ₹625 crore under the current GST norms, which do not provide input tax credit to the players in the segment, according to the industry body Taipa.

In a letter to the department of telecommunications (DoT) on Friday, the Tower and Infrastructure Providers Association (Taipa) shared estimates that the industry has to incur a loss of ₹1.25-₹1.5 lakh per tower.

"During the past 4-5 years, the Industry has already lost Rs 2,500 crore of ITC (input tax credit) so far. Going forward, the demand for telecom towers is likely to cross 50,000 towers on account of 5G, etc, which will lead to an additional loss of ₹625 crore to the industry," Taipa said in the letter.

The GST regime was tailor-made to prevent cascading of the taxation regime and, accordingly, had a provision of input tax credit on the telecom towers in November 2016, it added.

The Taipa also said the telecom towers were later exempted from the definition of "plant and machinery" in 2017, which deprived its infrastructure providers from availing the ITC against the GST paid on telecom towers.

"With the annual budgetary exercise likely to conclude soon, we request your urgent support in taking up this matter with the Ministry of Finance if not taken up earlier," Taipa director general T R Dua said in the letter.

He added that the extension of ITC to telecom towers would provide a much-needed momentum to the Digital India programme and assist in creation of resilient telecom infrastructure in the country.

Taipa, whose members include companies like Indus Towers and ATC, said it raised the matter with Telecom Secretary Anshu Prakash on January 6, so that it can be taken up with the finance ministry prior to the finalisation of the annual Budget.

CBI takes over probe into mysterious death of Yes Bank V-P

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 22

THE CENTRAL BUREAU of Investigation has taken over the probe into the mysterious death of a Yes Bank vice-president from Gurgaon whose body was found in Delhi's Rohini area last year, officials said on Friday.

Dheeraj Ahlawat had allegedly gone missing during a stroll with his friend in Sector 46, Gurgaon on August 5, 2020, where he was spotted last by his servant, they said.

When he did not return home, his father started a desperate search calling relatives and friends who might have information about his whereabouts but to no avail, the officials said.

Next day, he approached the local police with the complaint that his 38-year old son, who was working at Yes Bank, has not returned home, they said.

On August 7, Dheeraj's body was found near a canal to Haiderpur water treatment plant in Sector 16, Rohini, the officials said.

He was identified by a rakhi tied by her sister, they added.

Dheeraj's father had alleged that some unidentified persons abducted his son and later killed him, the officials said.

The Haryana government had sought a CBI investigation into the case and referred it to the Centre on October 17 last year.

The CBI took over the case on the basis of Centre"s notification dated January 6, 2021, the officials said.

POST BUYBACK PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THE ATTENTION OF THE SHAREHOLDERS / BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF EQUITY SHARES OF KANCHI KARPOORAM LIMITED

This post buyback public announcement ("Post Buyback Public Announcement") is being made pursuant to Regulation 24(vi) and other applicable provisions of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Buy-Back of Securities) Regulations, 2018 for the time being in force ("Buyback Regulations"). This Post Buyback Public Announcement should be read in conjunction with the public announcement dated November 20, 2020 and the Letter of Offer dated December 18, 2020 ("LOF"). Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Post Buyback Public Announcement shall have the same meaning as assigned to them in the LOF.

1. THE BUYBACK

1.1 Kanchi Karpooram Limited ("Company") had announced a buyback of 2,20,000 (Two Lacs Twenty Thousand) fully paid-up equity shares of face value of ₹ 10 each ("Equity Shares") of the Company ("Buyback") at a price of ₹ 405 (Rupees Four Hundred Five Only) per Equity Share, payable in cash, for an aggregate amount of ₹ 8,91,00,000 (Rupees Eight Crores Ninety One Lacs only) ("Buyback Offer Size") from the Eligible Shareholders holding Equity Shares as on Friday, December 4, 2020 (the "Record Date") excluding the transaction costs viz. brokerage, applicable taxes such as securities transaction tax, goods and service tax, stamp duty, etc. from all the existing shareholders / beneficial owners of Equity Shares, on a proportionate basis, through the tender offer method.

1.2 The Buyback Offer Size constituted 9.79% of the aggregate paid-up share capital and free reserves as per the audited financial statements of the Company for the financial year ended March 31, 2020 respectively, in accordance with section 68(2)(c) of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Buyback Regulations.

1.3 The Company adopted the tender offer method for the purpose of Buyback. The Buyback was implemented using the "Mechanism for acquisition of shares through Stock Exchange" notified by the Securities and Exchange Board of India vide its circular CIR / CFD / POLICYCELL / 1 / 2015 dated April 13, 2015 read with circular no CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2016/131 dated December 09, 2016. For the purposes of the Buyback, BSE Limited was the designated stock exchange.

1.4 The tendering period for the Buyback Offer opened from Thursday, December 31, 2020 and closed on Wednesday, January 13, 2021.

2. Details of Buyback

2.1 The Company has completed buyback process and has accepted a total of 20,529 Shares at a price of ₹ 405/- per share.

2.2 The total amount utilized in the Buyback was ₹ 83,14,245 (Rupees Eighty Three Lakhs Fourteen Thousand Two Hundred Forty Five only) excluding the transaction costs viz. brokerage, applicable taxes such as securities transaction tax, goods and service tax, stamp duty, etc.

2.3 The Registrar to the Buyback considered a total of 140 valid bids for 20,529 Equity Shares in response to the Buyback, which is approximately 0.093 times the maximum number of Equity Shares proposed to be bought back. The details of valid bids received/considered by the Registrar to the Buyback are set out below:

Particulars	Valid Applications	Total shares tendered [a]	No. of shares reserved in Buyback [b]	% response [a]/[b] [c]

BUT GRATEFUL TO MOVE ON

Corp America views Biden with optimism, scepticism

Big biz broke with Republicans in the final days of the Trump administration. That doesn't mean executives are fully ready to embrace President Biden

DAVID GELLES
January 22

IN THE WANING days of the Trump administration, the schism between big business and the Republican Party burst into the open.

While corporate America notched real gains over the last four years, including lower taxes and a looser regulatory environment, President Donald J Trump routinely upset major chief executives. The January 6 riot at the Capitol and the refusal of Trump and many congressional Republicans to recognise the election result was the breaking point, culminating in many large companies condemning Trump and cutting off support for his allies in Congress.

But just because big business is at odds with the Republican Party doesn't mean it's ready to embrace every aspect of the Democratic agenda. With President Biden seeking to undo much of Trump's legacy, including some initiatives championed by big business, chief executives are approaching the new administration with a mix of optimism and apprehension.

At the most fundamental level, many executives appear grateful to move on from the Trump administration, which routinely surprised companies with abrupt changes to trade policy, immigration rules and more.

"Business hates uncertainty, and we've had chaotic uncertainty now for some time," said Andrew Liveris, who stepped down as chief executive of DowDuPont in 2018 and is now a board member at IBM. "Trying to navigate through it as a company has been very tough."

But the prospect of higher corporate taxes and new regulations that might curtail profits is unlikely to sit well with a business community struggling to recover from the pandemic. "The rubber will hit the road when we get around to things like taxes and climate tariffs," Liveris said.

President Biden, at the White House on Wednesday, intends to undo much of the Trump era, including some initiatives championed by corporate America —NYT

Biden began putting his policy agenda to work on Inauguration Day, signing 17 executive orders and actions in the Oval Office. One recommitted the US to the Paris Climate Accord, a move that was met with praise from business leaders, many of whom objected to Trump's withdrawal from the pact in 2017. On Twitter, the Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates cheered the move, saying that "the United States also has the opportunity to lead the world in avoiding a climate disaster."

Other orders shielded "Dreamers" from deportation and named an official response coordinator for the pandemic.

Sundar Pichai, the chief executive of Alphabet, applauded on Twitter the "quick action on Covid relief, the Paris Climate Accord, and immigration reform," and said his company looked forward "to working with the new administration to help the US recover from the pandemic + grow our economy."

But at least one early move by Biden — his revoking of a permit for the Keystone XL pipeline — was met with swift condemnation from some business leaders. Jay Timmons of the National Association of Manufacturers, a group that just weeks ago called on the cabinet to consider removing Trump from office, criticised the move, arguing that the pipeline would have created 10,000 union jobs.

The Chamber of Commerce, another pro-business group that took an increasingly hard line with Trump in the last weeks of his presidency, also opposed the move, calling it "a politically motivated decision that is not grounded in science."

National Guard troops, who protected the Capitol for Biden's Inauguration, were told to sleep in a parking garage.

"It will harm consumers and put thousands of Americans in the building trades out of work," said Marty Durbin, an executive at the chamber.

More skirmishes may be on the horizon. Biden has signalled that he is open to raising taxes on corporations.

"I'm sure there will be conflict on the tax issue for corporations," said Richard A Gephardt, a Democrat and former House majority leader.

The prospect of higher individual taxes is also likely to face pushback from wealthy executives. In New York, Governor Andrew M Cuomo recently floated a tax increase on high earners. Should the federal income tax rate go up, too, it could result in an effective tax rate of more than 60% for some well-paid New Yorkers.

"That's pretty onerous," said Kathy Wylde, chief executive of the Partnership for New York City, a trade group that represents many large employers.

Wylde added that potential changes to taxes on real estate, which Trump cut, could also be a cause for concern among executives. "There's probably nervousness in the real estate community," she said.

But an increase in the corporate tax rate is a price companies may be willing to pay in exchange for an administration with more predictable stances on critical issues like trade and tariffs. —NYT

"They may like the Biden administration more on trade than they did Trump, because he jerked things around so much," Gephardt said.

For the moment, there is a palpable sense of relief in board rooms across the country, with executives exhaling after four years during which Trump's unpredictable outbursts led to abrupt changes in policies, and sometimes targeted companies.

"The markets are relieved to be on the other side of all the tumult and uncertainty that was Donald Trump," said Brad Karp, chairman of the law firm Paul, Weiss. "You woke up in the morning and saw the president imposing tariffs, or closing borders, or retaliating against a company. Business needs predictability and certainty."

And as Biden works to get the coronavirus under control, companies large and small will be rooting for the new administration. —NYT

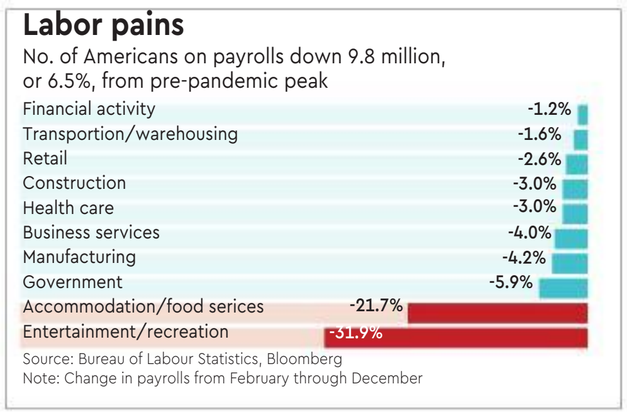
Indian-origin expert leads UK study on cancer survival

AN INDIAN-ORIGIN expert at the University of Birmingham has led an international study which finds that patients' chances of survival after cancer surgery is strongly linked with the standard of post-operative hospital care.

Dr Aneel Bhangu from the NIHR Global Health Research Unit on Global Surgery at the university, who was the collaborative lead on the research, found major country-by-country variations in post-operative care.

Patients in low-and lower-middle-income countries were up to six times more likely to die from complications within 30 days of surgery compared with those in high-income countries. "Our findings demonstrate major variation between countries in delivering post-operative care. There is a clear benefit to global expansion and standardisation of the care that patients receive after surgery," said Dr Bhangu. "We urge care providers to examine and, where necessary, improve the standard of post-surgical care for all patients," he said. Hospitals in these countries were found to be less likely to have post-surgical facilities. —PTI

Prez Biden seeks immediate help for millions as big stimulus at risk



BLOOMBERG
January 22

PRESIDENT JOE BIDEN will mark his third day in office with executive actions to boost food assistance for impoverished Americans and use federal contracts as a step toward his proposed nationwide minimum-wage hike, seeking immediate help for an economy struggling to cope with Covid-19.

The executive actions Biden is set to sign on Friday at the White House also include a restoration of rights for federal workers that were stripped by his predecessor Donald Trump.

While consequential for those affected, the measures offer a shadow of the relief included in Biden's $1.9-trillion Covid-19 aid plan. That package faces challenges in Congress after moderate Republicans this week said they saw no need to rush on another big spending bill after last month's $900-billion effort. Senator Susan Collins of Maine on Thursday became the latest to express opposition to the idea of a big new package, while Senator Roy Blunt, a member of GOP leadership, called it a "non-starter."

"These actions are not a substitute for comprehensive legislative relief of the form that is in the American rescue plan," said Brian Deese, director of the White House National Economic Council. "But they will provide a critical lifeline to millions of American families and that is why the president is going to act quickly on these steps."

Deese is planning to discuss Biden's proposed $1.9-trillion package with a 16-member bipartisan group of senators in coming days, according to aides familiar with the matter.

Democrats, meanwhile, are discussing making an end-run around Republicans. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi told donours on a Zoom call on Thursday night she had wanted to pass Biden's Covid-19 relief legislation via the budget reconciliation process in two weeks, according to a person familiar with the comments. That process could eliminate the need for Republican support in the Senate by lowering the threshold for passage to a simple majority.

While congressional Democrats consider their strategy, Biden on Friday will expand eligibility for enhanced food stamp programmes, assist veterans who are behind on their bills and create new tools to help Americans who have not received their stimulus checks get paid.

The president will also look to clarify that unemployment insurance should cover workers refusing positions with unsafe working conditions. And he will direct agencies to examine how they can ensure federal workers and contractors are paid a $15 minimum wage.

Russia hails US proposal to extend nuke treaty

THE KREMLIN ON Friday welcomed US President Joe Biden's proposal to extend the last remaining nuclear arms control treaty between the two countries, which is set to expire in less than two weeks.

Russian President Vladimir Putin's spokesman, Dmitry Peskov, said Russia stands for extending the pact and is waiting to see the details of the US proposal.

The White House said on Thursday that Biden has proposed to Russia a five-year extension of the New START treaty. "We can only welcome political will to extend the document," Peskov said in a conference call with reporters. "But all will depend on the details of the proposal."

The treaty, signed in 2010 by President Barack Obama and Russian President Dmitry Medvedev, limits each country to no more than 1,550 deployed nuclear warheads and 700 deployed missiles and bombers, and envisages sweeping on-site inspections to verify compliance. It expires on February 5. Russia has long proposed to prolong the pact without any conditions or changes, but former President Donald Trump's administration waited until last year to start talks and made the extension contingent on a set of demands. —AP
