80 officers for rain rescue

80 colonies, 54 apts inundated, IMD warns of heavy rains

MADDY DEEKSHITH I DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

With the Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) predicting heavy rainfall in the next three days, K.T. Rama Rao, municipal admi-nistration and urban development (MA&UD) minister, has said 80 special officers have been deployed in the GHMC limits and adjoining municipalities for taking up rescue and relief measures.

He said that all other official operations have been suspended and the GHMC will focus only on pre-disaster, disaster and relief and rehabilitation measures.

Eighty colonies and 54 apartment complexes are still inundated, and 164 electric transformers are yet to be fixed. The southern part of the city, especially Charminar and LB Nagar zones are the worst-affected.

In view of the IMD's rain warning, the government is on high alert, and has alerted the Army and National Disaster Response Force to be on standby.

The minister said that

CM announces ₹1L for damaged houses

S.A. ISHAQUI I DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

Chief Minister K. Chandrashekar Rao on Monday announced a ₹550 cr financial package to provide immediate relief to people residing in flood-affected areas of the GHMC and surrounding municipalities.

The government will pay ₹10,000 to each affected poor family in the low-lying areas.

An ex gratia of ₹1 lakh has been announced for each house which has been fully damaged by the rains and floods, and ₹50,000 for each partially-damaged house.

Announcing this, the Chief Minister said, "People living in slums in low-lying areas, have suffered a lot because of the heaviest rains in 100 years. It is the government's primary responsibility to help them."

the state government had spent over ₹60 crore so far and another ₹670 crore will be spent for relief and rescue.

This is only a preliminary estimation of the losses and it is expected to increase further. Rama Rao said the state government has submitted a preliminary estimate of loss suffered due to heavy rains in the GHMC area and in the rest of Telangana state to the Centre. He sought an immediate assistance of ₹1,350 crore from the Centre.

Speaking to the media, Rama Rao, who has toured the flood-hit areas over the past week, said that Chief Minister K. Chandrashekar Rao had specifically inst-ructed that action be taken to prevent loss of life first, as property damage can be recovered or compensated.

Criticising the false propaganda against the government, he said that till date, 33 persons have lost their lives due to heavy rains in the GHMC area and neighbouring municipalities. Among these, he said, an ex gratia of ₹5 lakh each has been presented to 29 families. Three people are still missing.

"Those staying in the first and second floors should shift to relief camps immediately and not to put their lives at risk. The officials will provide food, drinking water, toilets, medical camps and masks at rehabilitation centres," he said and added that the government will also facilitate Covid-19 tests in the relief camps.

Commenting on encroachments, Rao said the government has all the relevant reports and satellite photos.

He said, the present focus is on rescuing people. The government will discuss encroachments later and as such issues cannot be addressed overnight.

Chinese corporal caught in Ladakh

Strays across LAC into India, to be returned

PAWAN BALI I DC
NEW DELHI, OCT. 19

A Chinese soldier was apprehended by the Indian Army in the Demchok sector of eastern Ladakh on Monday after he had "strayed across the Line of Actual Control". The Indian Army said the PLA soldier will be returned to the Chinese Army after the completion of all formalities at the Chushul-Moldo meeting point in Ladakh.

The Chinese soldier has been identified as Corporal Wang Ya Long. "The PLA soldier has been provided medical assistance, including oxygen, food and warm clothes, to protect him from the vagaries of extreme altitude and harsh climatic conditions," said the Indian Army. It said a request has also been received from the PLA about the whereabouts of the missing soldier. "As per established protocols, he will be returned to Chinese officials at the Chushul-Moldo meeting point after the completion of formalities," the Indian Army statement said.

Both the Indian and Chinese armies have deployed over 50,000 troops each along the LAC in eastern Ladakh, including in Demchok sector. The military standoff between India and China in eastern Lada-kh has now entered the sixth month, where for the first time in 45 years guns have been used and shots have been fired.

China's state-owned Global Times newspaper said on Monday that the smooth handling of the latest incident involving the Chinese soldier was a "good sign". It said the incident will not lead to new conflicts in border areas and solving the matter will also signal new progress in the bilateral negotiations.

The incident occurred at a time when India and China are preparing to hold the eighth round of corps commanders' talks soon, but a date is yet to be worked out.

Meanwhile, the Indian Army's top commanders will discuss the threats emerging from China and Pakistan at the commanders' conference due to be held next week, from October 26 to 29. The conference will also discuss proposals to cut down expenditure on ceremonies like colour presentations, regimental reunions and raising days, among others. India has asked for complete disengagement from all points in eastern Ladakh, where China has transgressed into India, including Pangong Tso and Gogra Post-Hot Springs.

India made it clear that since it was China which had first transgressed, it will have to make the first move towards disengagement. India wants restoration of the status quo ante of April 2020 in eastern Ladakh. The PLA wants India to vacate strategic heights on the Kailash range.

Family picnic to dam goes awry after 2 swept away

PULI SHARATH KUMAR I DC
KARIMNAGAR, OCT. 19

A picnic organised by a family to see the Lower Manair Dam (LMD) in Karimnagar district brimming with water turned into a tragedy when a woman and a two-and-a-half-year-old boy got swept away in swirling waters.

LMD assistant sub-inspector Krishna Reddy identified the deceased as Sakeena (31), resident of Kashmirgadda, and her sister's son Aahil of Srinagar colony in Karimnagar town. The two, along with 20 other family members, had gone to visit the Dargah on outskirts of Alugunur village. After offering prayers, the group went to the cable bridge constructed over the Manair River to spend some time. While they were on the bridge, Aahil accidentally fell off the bridge.

To save him, Sakeena too jumped into the water. As the flow of water was rapid, both Sakeena and Aahil got swept away in the water. When two youth of the family tried their level best to save the victims, they too got caught in the swirling waters. On hearing their screams, locals rushed to the spot and saved the youth.

On coming to know about the incident, Manakondur circle inspector reached the spot along with ASI Krishna Reddy and got the LMD gates closed. Swimmers searched for an hour before they found Sakeena and Aahil stuck in bushes downstream. While Sakeena had died, Aahil was alive. The ASI ran carrying the child to a distance of half a kilometre, where an ambulance had reached. Aahil died before the ambulance could reach the hospital.

Bengal mandaps 'no entry' zones

RAJIB CHOWDHURI I DC
KOLKATA, OCT. 19

In a landmark ruling, the Calcutta High Court on Monday declared all Durga Puja mandaps in West Bengal as 'no entry zones' for visitors after treating the pandals as 'Containment Zones'.

The move aims to stop crowding at the mandaps, which are feared to trigger the spread of Covid-19 pandemic in the state during the festive season.

A division bench of Justice Sanjib Banerjee and Justice Arijit Banerjee of the high court passed the order which will cover around 34,000 pujas, most of which are patronised by the ruling Trinamul Congress leaders.

The high court's order, however, comes on, Tiritiya, which Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee recently announced as the date for the puja organisers to allow devotees to visit mandaps, three days ahead of the scheduled time.

The division bench laid down a set of guidelines after hearing a public interest litigation on the state government's permission to organise Durga Puja amid Covid-19 pandemic.

One of them is that all the puja mandaps entrance will be barricaded with 'no entry zone' notice for the devotees. The division bench suggested that the devotees watch the pujas "virtually".

Besides, only 15 members among the organisers in case of a small puja will be allowed to be present at the mandap while the number will be 25 at big puja mandaps. And their names will be displayed at the puja mandap's entrance and it cannot be changed.

INDIA INVITES OZ TO MALABAR EXERCISE

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, OCT. 19

In a snub to China, India has invited Australia to its trilateral naval exercise "Malabar" in November with the US and Japan. India, the US, Japan and Australia are part of the "Quad" alliance, which Beijing considers as an anti-China grouping. Now all the Quad countries will participate in a naval war game this year. While Australia wanted to be part of it, India was hesitant to invite it to avoid China's wrath.

IMD WARNS OF HEAVY RAINS TILL FRIDAY IN TS

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

Monday was a day of some relief for the rain-battered the state, with the forecast of heavy to very heavy rains over isolated places not materialising to the extent they were feared to occur.

Compared to the nearly 30 cm of rain last Tuesday, and up to 18 cm of rain on Saturday, the highest rain recorded in the state on Monday was 5.8 cm in Tripuraram mandal of Nalgonda district while the highest rain of 2.6 cm in GHMC limits was recorded in Khairatabad.

However, the Indian Meteorological Department on Monday issued a warning for thunderstorms accompanied with lightning, as well as some heavy to very heavy rainfall at isolated places in the state for Tuesday. It also said similar weather can be expected over the state till Friday.

The TS Development Planning Society (TSDSPS) which runs many automated weather reporting stations said that heavier rainfall between 15 mm and 65 mm was likely in coming 48 hours the southern districts of Nagarkurnool and Nalgonda apart from Suryapet, Mahbubabad, Mulugu and Khammam. For Hyderabad and its surrounding districts, the TSDSPS said these areas may receive rain between 2.5 mm and 16 mm.

However, heavy or very heavy localised rainfall was likely over several parts of the state in the next 48 hours.

How encroachments left colony flooded

Over decades, 45-ft-wide nala at Karmanghat shrank to 6 ft; residents enthused by KTR project to restore nalas

VUJJINI VAMSHIDHARA | DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

The statement of K.T. Rama Rao, municipal administration minister, that private lands will be acquired to allow free flow of rainwater in nalas and prevent flooding of colonies has given some hope to the residents of Udaynagar, Padmanagar and Malreddy Rangareddy Colony of Karmanghat in GHMC's Champapet division.

The residents are urging the minister to protect the nala in Survey No. 175 of the village, which had more than 2.21 acres of land but more than 70 per cent has been illegally occupied.

The nala carries excess rainwater and floodwater from the Meerpet and Jilleguda lakes to the Saroornagar lake. From there, the water empties into the Musi river.

Following Tuesday's deluge, water flowing out from the two lakes were blocked by the encroachments, and inundated Udaynagar, Padmanagar and Malreddy Rangareddy Colony. Besides, the floodgates of the lake bunds were opened, releasing more water downstream. Saturday's rain only worsened things.

For decades, the floodwater from the upstream areas of Karmanghat flowed downstream without much of a hindrance. As the realty business started booming, local politicians and their henchmen began eyeing the nala land.

In the dry season, the nala land was marked out as plots. The land was illegally registered by adding by-numbers to the adjacent lands which constitute part of Udaynagar and Padmanagar Colony.

The nala, which was originally 45-feet wide, has now shrunk to a mere six feet at some places and only slightly wider at some other places. The canal travels about 300 metres between these two colonies, which is where the encroachments have occurred.

Around 8,000 square yards out of 12,221 sq yds in Survey No. 175 have been occupied as per a revenue survey in 2013. Since then, another 1,500 sq. yds have been occupied. On the initiative of then Ranga Reddy collector Raghunandan, in 2015, revenue officials had erected the signboards specifying the land as belonging to the government. The encroachers simply removed the most of the signboards and went ahead.

Several complaints have been made to the GHMC and revenue authorities over the past decade but no action has been taken. Once, in 2013, revenue authorities marked the nala land but nothing else was done.

The nala going past Udaynagar, Padmanagar and Malreddy Rangareddy Colony of Karmanghat narrows down due to alleged encroachments. The water inundated the colonies.

Without inspecting the place and finding out the actual classification of the land, the government regularised some of the encroachments under GOs 58 and 59. The GHMC also approved some plots during the previous land regularisation scheme while a set of applications were kept pending.

Constructions are going on without approval from the civic body. When any resident complains, local political leaders, who have the support of leaders from the LB Nagar constituency, threaten them. Henchmen of public representatives manage to head off demolition of illegal structures by the GHMC and revenue officials.

If only the nala land had been safeguarded down the years, the residents would not have to spend the most miserable days of their lives, their belongings sodden with water which has stagnated for almost a week, not having electricity or essentials.

On Monday, as more rains were forecast, the GHMC has asked residents of these colonies to vacate the ground floor houses. It has arranged shelters in nearby function halls.

The Pedda Cheruvu breach at Meerpet on Monday adds to the woes of the residents of Janapriya Apartments in the vicinity, in Hyderabad on Monday.

NDRF and police personnel ask Ramanthapur locals to vacate the lower floors in view of the rain forecast.

A fresh spell of rain added to the woes of people at Karmanghat, in Hyderabad on Monday.

FIRST PERSON

WFH in power cut: Recharge at grocer's, work with candle

BALU PULIPAKA | DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

Last Tuesday evening, when the rain began, its rising intensity indicated what might be coming ahead. One of the possible associated events was a power cut at my residence in Hilltop Colony, Khairatabad. And that, I guessed, would prove a challenge, with an ageing mobile phone with an equally ageing laptop that no longer hold power in their old batteries as they used to when the gadgets were new.

As things turned it, this indeed was the case. About three hours into the downpour, we lost power, just as things were getting hot on the work front. There were reports to read and clear, and reports still to be written.

Telangana state by far, has one of the best and reliable electricity supply systems in the country, more so when it comes to Hyderabad. But having been a witness countless number of times to how rain and power supply are inter-related, I quickly plugged in the chargers for the phone, the laptop and a small power bank.

It is not that power goes on the blink every time it rains in hard in the city. Ninety times out of hundred, when this does happen, it is deliberate.

Working in the light of candle due to the lack of electricity as a result of heavy rains.

TSSPDCL, the power supply utility, does not take chances of electricity related accidents during heavy rains just in case a downed tree or a fallen branch or electricity pole, results in a fallen and charged power line that can electrocute anyone who comes into contact with it.

For me, working from home, the extended power cut that ran into day three after beginning on Tuesday night, meant using a small rechargeable torchlight as a lantern, a candle to read my notes for the reports I had to file, a dinner cooked in the light of the same candle, and a race with the burning and melting candle to finish work, that I managed to do around 11.30 pm.

The next day, on Wednesday as the rain continued off and on, I called the TSSPDCL office to find out about a possible timeline as to when the power would be back. I was told that the entire area was affected as the electricity sub-station that serves our area was flooded.

A couple of the elderly persons in our apartment complex, who use the elevator to come down to the ground for quick walks within the compound, had to give up on their walks as climbing back up the stairs was beyond them, while the watchman was in great demand with questions on if there was enough water in the overhead tank and what would happen if the water in the tank runs out.

In short, I was told not to expect power for the next few hours. This was around noon. I went to buy pack of candles – that cost ₹80 for six – from a neighbourhood kirana store, a trip that meant stepping gingerly over streams of rainwater mixed with sewage overflowing from choked drains on the streets.

Meanwhile, the phone and the power bank ran out of power as did the laptop. It was at around 7 pm that I made second hop scotching trip to the market area to a shop on the other side of our colony which had power – they were served by a different sub-station! – and the shopkeeper was more than willing to let me charge my gadgets.

On a whim, I checked if candles were available at the kirana store and was told that they were sold out. All the man had left was a small pack of birthday candles, which too apparently were in demand.

Tuesday night's cycle was repeated and it around 2 am on Thursday that the power came back, but only briefly. That gave some hope. As Thursday rolled around, the power situation substantially improved, it was more on than off and by evening, power supply was steady save for a couple of very brief breaks.

Minister K.T. Rama Rao addresses the media on flood situation, as Mayor Bonthu Rammoan looks on, at the GHMC office in the city.

BJYM HOLDS STIR IN FRONT OF COLLECTORATE

DC CORRESPONDENT
KARIMNAGAR, OCT. 19

A tense atmosphere prevailed when members of the Yuva Morcha of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJYM) tried to lay siege of the collectorate as part of the call given by the state committee demanding that the government provide job security to private teachers in Karimnagar district on Monday.

BJYM members along with BJP party workers in large numbers showed up and tried to enter the collectorate.

When the police personnel intervened and tried to stop them they staged a dharna in front of the collectorate and demanded that the government release a special package to bail the private teachers out of their problems.

Speaking on the occasion, the district unit president of the BJYM, Marri Satish alleged that the TRS used the private teachers and unemployed youth during the separate Telangana movement and promised them job security. But after coming to the power, it betrayed them.

Building watchmen the worst hit

SANJAY SAMUEL
PAUL | DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

Among the worst hit by the floods in the city have been families of watchmen and caretakers of apartment blocks, who are usually given a room or two in the basements or cellars.

Many such families reported loss of all their belongings, including appliances and television sets, refrigerators, clothes, beds and books of their school-going children.

In spite of the pain they are going through, the apartment owners expect these workers to ensure that the regular work of flushing out of water, pumping the regular water to the tanks and other daily chores, are not affected.

K. Veerababu, a caretaker and watchman at Saketh Apartment in Domalguda, said all his belongings were inundated in the cellar in which a room was given to him, where he lived along with his wife and two daughters.

"Around 11 pm, water started flooding and soon began rising and by the time we realised it was more than knee high. The children suffered a lot. Their books turned into trash and our belongings are damaged," he said.

Veerababu and his family came to Hyderabad seven years ago in search of a better life from a village near Draksharamam, East Godavari district.

"On Thursday the rain stopped but there was no electricity. I am a full-time caretaker. Since the electricity supply was shut, we looked for a petrol motor to pump out the water. Even after constant complaints, electricity department personnel did not turn up," he said.

An apartment complex resident, S. Sulekha, said "It's been five days without electricity. On Saturday I called GHMC corporator Lasya Nandita. She responded and helped us get power back that helped us in getting the water in the cellar pumped out."

Mamidala Bharath, 25, a caretaker and watchman at Sai Keerthi Residency Apartments at Yellareddyguda lives with his parents in the cellar of the building. Tuesday's flood submerged all his belongings. "I was asleep and when I woke up the water was hip high. With my savings from over the years, I was able to buy a TV, and a few good clothes, now everything has gone to waste. My parents now sleep near the steps at the building gate and I am sleeping at my friend's place as we have no other place to go," he said.

His parents had migrated to Hyderabad 20 years back and joined as caretakers of the same apartments.

Residents search at collection points for vital papers

KANIZA GARARI | DC
HYDERABAD, OCT. 19

Documents like Aadhaar cards, ration cards, school certificates, bank papers, electricity and water bills, land documents and other important papers have been washed away from homes in low-lying areas that were inundated last week.

People had no time to collect their belongings or papers as the water levels rose suddenly in the middle of the night. All that they could do was save themselves from the water's fury. Removing the slush, silt and muck from homes, people are finding that there is nothing which they can put to use. Soiled clothes, stinking utensils, soggy mattresses, broken and damaged furniture has left them with empty four walls as homes.

People are now returning to their homes to find that the water has gone away but left a dump in their homes. Their belongings have been irreversibly damaged and most of the things at home are upside down.

Those living in and around Falaknuma railway station state that they have nothing to call home. There are just four walls as the water took away everything that belonged to them.

Iqbal Sheikh of Al Jubail Colony said, "We are at the lowest point and there is nothing in our homes. My major concern is how will I get the school certificates, birth certificate and other documents for my child? How are we to now retrieve them? Will the government extend support?"

With families returning, they are looking around for their things which have been swept away. Many of them are also visiting the storm water drain outlets to check if there is anything found by the municipal workers.

R. Raju, a contract worker with the GHMC, says "People are coming to the collection centres to check if there are any of their belongings. All that is choked around drains is being removed and collected at various points. Those who are desperate are looking around. We have so far removed clothes, bags, soiled and damaged books, broken and mended utensils and lots of plastic from in and around the main points."

Near Bandlaguda, there were huge chunks of plaster of Paris from marriage halls which have been removed. The marriage halls along this line were completely flooded and the structures created there were broken.

With some areas still waterlogged and another round of rains, the drains are full and there is little place for the water to go.

Telangana Endowments Department has been requested to intervene and settle the controversy over usage of Ramanarayana while referring to Pravara (gotra namamulu) of Lord Ramachandra Murthy at the famous Bhadrachalam Temple.

Pro and anti statements have been made by different sections of people on the Ramanarayana pravara issue since 2018.

Seeking an end to the controversy, which sometimes assumes derogatory proportions, Bhadrachalam Temple executive officer B. Sivaji urged both sides to hold their arguments till experts in Agamasastra and Vaishnava tradition resolve the issue.

"I have received 12 letters on the issue from Bhadrachalam Parirakshana Samithi and others since 2018. All of them have been forwarded to Endowments commissioner in Hyderabad," Sivaji pointed out.

He said he has appealed to Endowments department to constitute a committee of experts in Agamasastra and Vaishnava tradition for hearing arguments of both sides on usage of Ramanarayana pravara.

"In the interim, people should put a full stop to their arguments and allow peaceful running of rituals in the temple," the EO pleaded in a statement.

Sivaji reiterated his plea to parties of both sides not to issue individual statements, pamphlets, media releases or booklets in print, electronic and social media, as they are undermining the decorum, decency, prestige and sanctity of the temple, till the Endowments Commissioner resolves the issue.

"Endowments department will find a permanent solution to the issue and the same will be conveyed to concerned persons," he stated.

COLLECTOR CLARIFIES ON LRS IN AGENCY AREAS

A circular was issued on by the Kumarambheem Asifabad district collector Sandeep Kumar Jha to the district panchayat officer, to ensure that the Layout Regularisation Scheme (LRS) applications received in the Schedule Area (if at all) have to be verified by the gram panchayat.

Giving, reference and terms and condition of the GO Ms. 131 and GO Ms. 135), stated that the provision of the LTR Act, 1959 (Amendment Act 1/70), PESA Act will not be effected, under the Telangana Regularisation of unapproved and illegal layout rules-2020.

The collector issued the circular on October 14 following the Adivasis protests that opposed the property survey of non-tribals in the agency areas and the implementation of LRS and the New Revenue Act in the agency areas.

They alleged that the latter are violating the 1/70 Act and PESA Act and indirectly recognises the illegal properties owned by non-tribals in the Agency areas.

In the circular, the collector instructed all the tahsildars and the Revenue Divisional officers in the district make the people in their mandal jurisdiction aware of the facts. "Follow the guidelines of the Telangana Regularisation unapproved and illegal layout Rules -2020 and Land Transfer Regulation Act, 1959, Panchayat Extension in Scheduled Areas Act -1996, etc in the mandal very strictly without fail," he said.

Leaders of various Adivasi organisations argue, why has the state government not mentioned about the New Revenue Act and the LRS not being implemented in the Agency areas? Why are the concerned officials collecting details of properties of non-tribals in the Agency areas?

A team of Adivasi leaders led by Asifabad MLA Atram Sakku met the collector and requested the collector to take steps against the violation of 1/70 and PESA Acts in the Agency areas.

Minister T. Harish Rao challenged BJP state president Bandi Sanjay to an open debate at Dubbaka where they could substantiate their claims that the Centre was funding important state schemes during the campaign for the constituency byelections.

The minister offered to resign if the BJP leaders could prove that the Central funds were being given for state schemes. If they could not, then Sanjay should resign.

Speaking to the media at Siddipet on Monday, Harish Rao alleged that the BJP leaders had claimed that the major share of funds for the Asara and bidi workers pension schemes and KCR Kits was given by the Centre.

He said it was a totally false campaign by the BJP; the schemes are totally funded by the state government. If the BJP government at the Centre was giving a major share of funds for KCR Kits and pension schemes, why was it not being implemented in the BJP-ruled states, he asked.

Harish Rao alleged that the BJP leaders were spreading false information to the people while campaigning for the Dubbaka bypoll.

The BJP will finish the bypoll last and lose its deposit, as had happened at the Huzurnagar bypoll, he said. Harish Rao demanded that the BJP leaders put pressure on the Centre to release GST, IGST and other dues to Telangana state.

He recalled that Chief Minister K. Chandrasekhar Rao had written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on the matter but there had been no response from the Centre.

With high-end drugs like remdesivir, interferon and hydroxychloroquine (HCQ) stated to be not working, experts state that it is back to basics with the prevention of Covid-19.

People have been urged to remember three C's – avoid crowded places, avoid closed settings and avoid confined places with poor ventilation. With seasonal influenza viruses active in winters, the health care system has to brace for a dual challenge this year.

Dr K.K. Aggarwal, president of the Confederation of Medical Organisations of Asia and Oceania, said, "Masks are very important in the prevention of the spread. Medical masks are regulated. But maximum people in India are wearing fabric masks. We need to bring it under regulation for quality and efficacy checks."

Experts say that they are repeating the need for prevention as it has been observed that there is a fatigue in terms of follow protocols. Masking, social distancing and even hand washing is being violated as cases decline in India. This fatigue and carelessness will be one of the reasons for a spurt in new cases.

The Bombay high court on Monday sought investigation papers pertaining to Television Rating Points (TRP) case wherein Arnab Goswami, a television news anchor and editor-in-chief of Republic TV is being called for questioning.

"The FIR is not an encyclopedia. We would like to peruse the investigation papers and see what probe has been done from today till the next date of hearing," the court said.

A division bench of justices S.S. Shinde and M.S. Karnik was hearing a petition filed by ARG Outlier Media Pvt Ltd, which owns Republic TV, and Goswami seeking to quash the FIR lodged on October 6. The petition has also sought a direction to transfer the case to CBI to ensure a fair and transparent investigation.

Abdullah grilled by ED for 7 hours;
Oppn calls it BJP's political vendettaYUSUF JAMEEL | DC
SRINAGAR, OCT. 19

Former chief minister and National Conference (NC) president, Farooq Abdullah, was on Monday questioned by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) here in connection with an alleged multi-crore scam in Jammu and Kashmir Cricket Association (JKCA).

The ED's summoning Mr. Abdullah to its Srinagar office prompted the NC and other opposition parties to link the move with their forming an alliance last week to fight for the restoration of the erstwhile state's special status.

The NC accused the BJP government at the Centre of using official agencies to bully its president "after failing to fight him politically".

People's Democratic Party (PDP) leader and former chief minister, Mehbooba Mufti, termed it the Modi government's "political vendetta". She tweeted, "ED's sudden summon to Farooq Sahab displays the extent of GOIs nervousness about mainstream parties in J&K fighting as one unit. Also reeks of political vendetta & won't in the least blunt our collective resolve to fight for our rights." (sic)

Mr. Abdullah's son and NC vice-president, Omar Abdullah, also reacted sharply to the ED's summoning his father. He wrote on the micro-blogging site, "This is nothing less than political vendetta coming days after the formation of the People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration. To set the record straight, no raids are being conducted at Dr Sahib's residence."

Farooq Abdullah, 82, was called by the Srinagar wing of the ED to its office here early Monday where he was 'interrogated' for seven hours over his alleged role in misappropriation of ₹113.66 crore (including bank interest) received by J&KCA from the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) between April 2002 and December 2011. It is alleged that instead of utilizing funds on development of infrastructure, these were swindled by some of its members including former treasurer Ahsan Mirza to live a lavish lifestyle.

On emerging from the ED office, Mr. Abdullah told reporters "Let the ED do its job and I will do my own". Reiterating that he had nothing to do with the alleged scam, he said, "I'm quite clear. I will always face them. My fate will be decided by the court when they put the case into the court. I couldn't have lunch today. There was no time."

Though Mr. Abdullah on being asked whether he was summoned by the ED because of the formation of 'Peoples' Alliance for Gupkar Declaration' retorted by saying "Don't bring Gupkar declaration into this," the amalgam in a statement issued here later during the day termed the move as part of "vindictive politics practiced by the Central government to kill dissent and disagreement across the country and in present case to silence the genuine demands for reversal of unilateral and unconstitutional decisions of August 5, 2019 and restoration of the 4th August 2019 (constitutional position) of August 4, 2019."

A statement issued by the alliance here sought to remind the Central government that "such tactics are not to dampen the will of the people of Jammu, Kashmir and Ladakh to have the constitutional status restored."

It alleged that the Central government is "unnerved by the unity amongst the people across all the regions and communities to pursue the goals of the Gupkar Declaration and support extended to it by political parties and civil society groups at the national level and is resorting to the game of witch-hunt and suppression."

Bid to defuse

GUWAHATI, OCT. 19

The situation on Assam-Mizoram inter-state border in Southern Assam continued to be tense even as union home secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla reviewed the situation on Monday and tried to pacify the situation that started with charges of transgression of state border territory by each other.

Security sources, however, said that situation is now under control in the area, which is in Kolasib district of Mizoram and Cachar district of Assam.

The violence erupted on Saturday after people living on both sides of the border clashed over a Covid-19 testing centre set up by Mizoram within territory claimed by Assam to sample Mizoram-bound truckers and other people without the permission of the Assam authority.

According to locals, some young men from the Mizoram side of the border came to Lailapur and attacked truck drivers and villagers and burnt more than 15 small shops and houses which was retaliated by locals on Assam side.

Police said that five-six people including one Nizamuddin Lahskar were injured in the violence. Security sources in Mizoram claimed that at least eight youths from their state were also injured in the clash.

Pointing out that Assam Director General of Border Mukesh Agarwal was camping on the border, sources said that both the sides, in a video conference meeting with union home secretary on Monday, have agreed to allow the movement of vehicles which were stranded at the border in Vairengte since Saturday.

The chief secretaries of the two states were also present in the meeting. Admitting that territorial dispute between the two states is yet to be resolved, security sources said that Assam government claims its territory basing the map of the survey of India but its counterpart in Mizoram refuses to accept the map and stakes claim on areas under traditional jhum cultivation as its territory.

Earlier Assam chief minister Sarbananda Sonowal briefed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's office and the Union Home Ministry about the situation.

He also spoke to Mizoram chief minister Zoramthanga over phone and stressed on joint efforts to address the border issues and settling disputes amicably, the Assam government said in a statement.

Chirag Paswan
ahead of pollsNAYEAR AZAD | DC
PATNA, OCT. 19

The RJD which is keen on expanding its voters' base in Bihar is reportedly trying to woo Chirag Paswan of the Lok Janshakti Party (LJP) ahead of assembly elections.

RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav on Monday expressed sympathy for Paswan who recently defied the leadership of Chief Minister Nitish Kumar and pulled out of the NDA in Bihar.

"Nitish Kumar's attitude towards Chirag Paswan was not right. In my view, he was unfair to him. Chirag Paswan needs his father more than anything right now but, sadly, he is not among us anymore," Tejashwi Yadav said.

His statement has come at a time when the entire NDA in Bihar including the BJP has been calling LJP "a vote katwa" party for fielding candidates against the JD(U) and two smaller alliance partners.

Chirag, who recently lost his father Ram Vilas Paswan, is upset over being ignored by the Bihar CM. While talking to reporters earlier this week he had said that when the body of his father was flown from Delhi to Patna, Chief Minister cold-shouldered him at the airport.

"While other senior leaders paid their tributes to my father, Nitish Kumar who was also present at the airport ignored me repeatedly. Even when I went to him and touched his feet he didn't respond," Chirag Paswan said.

The LJP has announced 42 candidates against the JD(U) and two other NDA partners — HAM and VIP in the first phase of polls. He is likely to field around 100 more candidates on seats where JD(U) is contesting.

He had recently created a stir in Bihar politics by giving tickets to several sitting BJP MLAs after their seats went to the JD(U). The LJP had earlier decided not to field any candidates against the BJP during the entire polls.

Sources said that Chirag is banking on LJP's traditional Dalit vote bank created by his father. Experts also feel that Ram Vilas Paswan's death ahead of Bihar polls will cast a shadow on the results.

Aware of the LJP's political combination, Tejashwi Yadav is looking forward to benefiting on several key seats if he manages to convince Chirag Paswan ahead of Bihar polls.

Reacting on Tejashwi Yadav's statement Hindustani Awam Morcha spokesperson Danish Rizwan called LJP "a B team of RJD" in Bihar. He said, "It seems that Chirag Paswan is raising questions on Prime Minister Narendra Modi by defying the leadership of Nitish Kumar".

Vijay quits Muralidharan biopic 800

ANUPAMA SUBRAMAN-
IAN | DC
CHENNAI, OCT. 19

In a sudden turn of events, Sri Lankan spin wizard Muttiah Muralidharan requested actor Vijay Sethupathi to opt out of his biopic titled 800 and the star responded by acknowledging the former cricketer's request with a tweet, "Vanakkam, Nandri," which could be a hint that he was opting out of the film.

Vijay Sethupathi was not available for comment but his official publicist confirmed that the star is no longer associated with the biopic 800 titled after his collection of 800 Test wickets. The Tamil film star had been under tremendous pressure to withdraw from the biopic.

As soon as it became official that Vijay Sethupathi would be playing on screen the Sri Lankan Tamil Muralidharan when a first look poster was released, the actor has been facing protests from political parties, fans and netizens with several film personalities, including his mentor Seenu Ramasamy, requesting him to avoid acting in the Sri Lankan's biopic.

Hashtags 'Shame on Vijay Sethupathi', 'Boycott 800' were trending on the internet objecting to VSP portraying the cricketer who was seen as supporting the Sri Lankan government in its three-decade civil war against Eelam Tamils. The protests did not die down despite a three-page statement from Muralidharan explaining his stand as well as a press release from the film makers Dar Motion Pictures who said 800 was only a sports biography movie and it does not make any political statement.

Vijay, who had seemed firm initially about his decision to do the biopic, may have had to change his mind. Muralidharan, in his statement, said - "I don't like a celebrated actor like Vijay and his career getting affected because of acting in this film. I came to know that Vijay Sethupathi is getting a lot of pressure to quit the film. I don't want him to face any hurdles. So, I am asking him to opt out of this project."

However, Murali expressed the hope that the filmmakers would continue with the biopic plans.

Japan, Vietnam up defence ties

Hanoi: Japanese Prime Minister Yoshihide Suga, in his first overseas summit since taking office last month, agreed with his Vietnamese counterpart to step up defence and security cooperation in the face of China's expanding influence in the region. In talks in Hanoi on Monday, Suga and Vietnamese Prime Minister Nguyen Xuan Phuc set a basic agreement allowing Japan to export defence equipment and technology to Vietnam. Japan has been pursuing such agreements in recent years to bolster ties with Southeast Asia and sustain its own defence industry. Suga says his four-day trip to Vietnam and later Indonesia is key to pursuing the "free and open Indo-Pacific" vision for multilateral economic and security cooperation to counter China's growing power and protect sea lanes in disputed areas of the South China Sea.

Suspended terms for Golden Dawn

Athens: A prosecutor on Monday recommended that all former lawmakers of Greece's extreme right Golden Dawn party who have been convicted and sentenced to prison for leading or participating in a criminal organisation should be allowed to remain free until their appeal has been heard. Prosecutor Adamantia Economou argued that none of the former lawmakers was a flight risk or at risk of re-offending while they remain out of jail, and said most had a clean criminal record prior to this. A final decision on whether the sentences will be suspended pending appeal is to be made by the panel of judges trying the case following summations by defence lawyers, and is expected either Monday night or Tuesday morning. The lengthy sentencing procedure caps a marathon, politically charged five-year trial that involved 68 defendants.

Last ETA boss sorry for deaths

Paris: The last known chief of ETA, the now-extinct Basque separatist militant group, goes on trial Monday in Paris for terrorism charges that he deems "absurd" because of his role in ending a conflict that claimed hundreds of lives and terrorised Spain for half a century. Josu Urrutikoetxea led ETA during one of its bloodiest periods, when its victims included children bombed to death while sleeping in a Zaragoza police compound, where a monument to their stolen lives now stands. In a rare interview after 17 years on the run, he offered an apology, advised other separatist movements against resorting to violence and painted himself as a changed man. That's a preposterous claim to those who lost loved ones to ETA's violence, which caused around 850 deaths and thousands of injuries and hijacked the Basque and Spanish political debate for decades.

THAI CENSOR ON STUDENT STIR COVERAGE

Bangkok, Oct. 19: Thai authorities worked Monday to stem a growing tide of protests calling for the prime minister to resign by threatening to censor news coverage, raiding a publishing house and attempting to block the Telegram messaging app used by demonstrators. The efforts by PM Prayuth Chan-ocha's government to drain the student-led protests of support and the ability to organise comes as they have grown in the capital and spread around the country, despite an emergency decree, which bans public gatherings of more than four people in Bangkok, outlaws news said to affect national security and gives authorities broad power to detain people. The mostly young protesters have gathered en masse across Bangkok the past six days to push their demands, which also include a controversial call for reform of the monarchy. The protesters charge that Prayuth, an army commander who led a 2014 coup, was returned to power unfairly in last year's general election because laws had been changed to favour a pro-military party. The protesters say a constitution written and passed under military rule is undemocratic. But their more recent demand for checks and balances on the monarchy has deeply angered conservative Thais.

Confirmed Coronavirus cases across world surpass 40 mn

Experts: Only tip of the iceberg when it comes to impact of pandemic

London, Oct. 19: The number of confirmed Covid-19 cases across the planet has surpassed 40 million, but experts say that is only the tip of the iceberg when it comes to the true impact of the pandemic that has upended life and work around the world. The milestone was hit Monday morning, according to Johns Hopkins University, which collates reports from around the world. The actual worldwide tally of Covid-19 cases is likely to be far higher, as testing has been variable, many people have had no symptoms and some governments have concealed the true number of cases.

To date, more than 1.1 million confirmed virus deaths have been reported, although experts also believe that number is an undercount. The US, India and Brazil are reporting by far the highest numbers of cases — 8.1 million, 7.5 million and 5.2 million respectively — although the global increase in recent weeks has been driven by a surge in Europe, which has seen over 240,000 confirmed virus deaths in the pandemic so far. Last week, the World Health Organisation said Europe had a reported a record weekly high of nearly 700,000 cases and said the region was responsible for about a third of cases globally.

Britain, France, Russia and Spain account for about half of all new cases in the region, and countries like Belgium and the Czech Republic are facing more intense outbreaks now than they did in the spring. WHO said the new measures being taken across Europe are "absolutely essential" in stopping Covid-19 from overwhelming its hospitals. Those include new requirements on mask-wearing in Italy and Switzerland, closing schools in Northern Ireland and the Czech Republic, closing restaurants and bars in Belgium, implementing a 9 p.m. curfew in France and having targeted limited lockdowns in parts of the UK.

The agency said several European cities could soon see their intensive care units overwhelmed and warned that governments and citizens should take all necessary measures to slow the spread of the virus, including bolstering testing and contact tracing, wearing face masks and following social distancing measures. WHO has previously estimated about 1 in 10 of the world's population — about 780 million people — have been infected with Covid-19, more than 20 times the official number of cases.

That suggests the vast majority of the world's population is still susceptible to the virus. Some researchers have argued that allowing Covid-19 to spread in populations that are not obviously vulnerable will help build up herd immunity and is a more realistic way to stop the pandemic instead of the restrictive lockdowns that have proved economically devastating. But WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus has warned against the belief that herd immunity might be a viable strategy to pursue, saying this kind of protection needs to be achieved by vaccination. — AP

Trump inciting domestic terror: Michigan Gov.

Detroit, Oct. 19: Michigan Gov. Gretchen Whitmer said Sunday that President Donald Trump is inciting "domestic terrorism" following "lock her up" chants at his rally in the state the night before.

Whitmer told NBC's "Meet the Press" that the rhetoric is "incredibly disturbing" a little more than a week after authorities announced they had thwarted an alleged plot to kidnap the Democratic governor. "The president is at it again and inspiring and incentivising and inciting this kind of domestic terrorism," Whitmer said.

"It is wrong. It's got to end. It is dangerous, not just for me and my family, but for public servants everywhere who are doing their jobs and trying to protect their fellow Americans. People of good will on both sides of the aisle need to step up and call this out and bring the heat down."

At a rally in Muskegon Saturday evening, Trump urged supporters to push Whitmer to reopen the state following Covid-19 restrictions. When the crowd started chanting "lock her up" Trump added, "Lock 'em all up." House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, speaking on ABC's "This Week," said Trump's statements were "irresponsible" and accused him of injecting fear tactics. — AP

Biden not good for India: Donald Trump Jr New York, Oct. 19: Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden is not good for India as he could be soft on China, US President Donald Trump's son said at an event to celebrate the "success" of his book that talks about graft allegations against the Bidens.

Forty-two-year-old Donald Trump Jr is leading the re-election campaign of his 74-year-old father. The presidential elections in the US are slated to be held on November 3. "We have to understand the threat of China and no one knows that probably better than Indian-Americans," Trump Jr. told a select group of supporters from the community at the event in Long Island, New York. In his book "Liberal Privilege," he has documented allegations of corruption against 77-year-old Joe Biden's family, particularly against

DON, BIDEN GO ON THE OFFENCE IN STATES

Las Vegas, Oct. 19: President Donald Trump and his Democratic rival Joe Biden went on offense Sunday, with each campaigning in states they are trying to flip during the Nov. 3 election that is just over two weeks away.

Trump began his day in Nevada, making a rare visit to church before an evening rally in Carson City. Once considered a battleground, Nevada hasn't swung for a Republican presidential contender since 2004.

While seated in the front row at the nondenominational International Church of Las Vegas, Trump received blessings from the church's pastors, with Denise Goulet telling attendees that God told her Trump is the apple of his eye and would secure a second term. "At 4:30, the Lord said to me, 'I am going to give your president a second win,'" she said, telling Trump, "you will be the president again."

Trump offered short remarks, saying "I love going to churches" and that it was "a great honour" to attend the service. The president also said that "we have a group on the other side that doesn't agree with us," and he urged people to "get out there on Nov. 3 or sooner" to vote. — AP

"When you look at our opponents in this race... you think the Chinese gave Hunter Biden $1.5 billion ... because he was a great businessman, or because they knew the Bidens could be bought, and therefore soft on China," he said. ## Not surprised Don got Covid: Fauci

Washington, Oct. 19: America's top infectious disease expert Dr Anthony Fauci says he was "absolutely not" surprised when Donald Trump contracted Covid-19 after seeing the president surrounded by several people not wearing face masks and flouting best public health practices against the deadly pandemic.

Fauci, Director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases appeared to be referring to the White House Rose Garden event on September 26 where Trump announced Judge Amy Coney Barrett was his pick to replace Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg on the Supreme Court. At least 12 people have tested positive for Covid-19 after attending the function.

Fauci said during an interview on CBS' "60 Minutes" that was aired on Sunday, "I was worried that he was going to get sick when I saw him in a completely precarious situation of crowded — no separation between people, and almost nobody wearing a mask."

"When I saw that on TV, I said, 'Oh my goodness. Nothing good can come out of that, that's got to be a problem,'" he said.

"And then sure enough, it turned out to be a superspreader event." His remarks came as Americans face another surge in the Covid-19 pandemic ahead of the November 3 US presidential election. — PTI

Israel, Bahrain establish relations

First Emirati flight lands near Tel Aviv

Jerusalem, Oct. 19: Israel and Bahrain on Sunday agreed to establish formal diplomatic relations, making the small Gulf country the fourth Arab state to normalise ties with Israel.

The US-brokered agreement capped a one-day visit by a high-level delegation of American and Israeli officials to Bahrain. Bahrain joined the United Arab Emirates at a festive White House ceremony last month marking the "Abraham Accords," a pair of US-brokered diplomatic pacts with Israel.

While the UAE's deal with Israel formally established ties, the agreement with Bahrain was less detailed and included a mutual pledge to follow suit. Sunday's visit appeared to complete that task, clearing the way for the countries to open embassies and exchange ambassadors in the coming months. "It was indeed an historic visit, to start opening relations between both countries, to have fruitful bilateral relations in both fields," said Bahrain's foreign minister, Abdulatif al-Zayani, at the signing ceremony.

Tel Aviv, Oct. 19: The first commercial passenger flight to Israel by a carrier from the United Arab Emirates landed near Tel Aviv on Monday, further cementing a normalisation deal between the two countries.

Etihaad Airways Flight No. 9607 landed at Israel's Ben-Gurion international airport just after 7 am.

The Boeing 787 Dreamliner departed for Abu Dhabi later Monday with an Israeli travel and tourism delegation on board, according to an Etihaad statement. Etihaad said it plans regular passenger flights between the countries in the future and was launching a dedicated Hebrew website. — AP

Imran incapable, clueless: Oppn

Karachi, Oct. 19: Prime Minister Imran Khan is "incapable and clueless", and his government is worse than a dictatorship, Pakistan's opposition leaders have said at the second rally of an alliance formed to oust the premier. The Pakistan Democratic Movement (PDM), an alliance of 11 opposition parties formed on September 20, has launched a three-phased anti-government movement under an "action plan" to remove the Khan-led Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) government. Under the plan a number of rallies public meetings and demonstrations will be held across the country, before a "decisive long march" to Islamabad in January next year. The first of these rallies was held on Friday in Gujranwala near Lahore. "This incapable and clueless prime minister will have to go home," Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) chief Bilawal Bhutto Zardari said on Sunday at the Bagh-e-Jinnah, which was packed with people including supporters and workers of the alliance's members. History has proved that the biggest dictators could not survive and "what standing does this puppet have?", Zardari said targeting Prime Minister Khan and added that "this is not a new fight but this will be a decisive fight".

The rally here also marked the 13th anniversary of the twin blasts in Karsaz that targeted the homecoming procession of former prime minister Benazir Bhutto in 2007. The blast left around 200 people dead and several injured.

Naseej 1, the painting, is made out of seven connected cotton cloths

Saudi woman makes largest coffee painting

Dubai, Oct. 19: A Saudi Arabian artist has entered her name in the Guinness Book of World Records by drawing the world's largest coffee painting using expired granules, becoming the first woman from the kingdom to achieve the feat. Ohud Abdullah Almaliki's coffee painting illustrates seven renowned figures of Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates.

She drew two giant pictures of founding fathers, King Abdulaziz bin Abdul Rahman and Sheikh Zayed Bin Sultan Al Nahyan of Saudi Arabia and the UAE respectively. Almaliki used approximately 4.5 kgs of expired coffee powder.

She painted all the figures in hues of brown mixing the coffee powder with water. "It took me 45 days of continuous work to complete under the watchful eyes of two witnesses, video recording and drone footage. My aim is to remind the world of the centuries-old entente between the two nations," Almaliki said.

Called "Naseej 1", the painting is spread over 220.968 square metres, 15.84 metres long and 13.95 metres wide. It is made out of seven connected cotton cloths; each measuring 15.84 metres long x 2 metres wide.

"Normally, only one kind of coffee is used in such paintings, but I have used four different shades of brown coffee. I used several rollers and paint brushes of different sizes to finish this project. A drone footage of the painting was shown in "Mokhatat Ar-Riyad" neighbourhood in Jeddah with the artist behind the painting with her father," she said.

Women of Saudi Arabia took part in previous Guinness World Records attempts, but this is the first time a Saudi woman has achieved the feat on her own.

In 2015, the largest human awareness ribbon consisted of 8,264 participants and was achieved by the women of Saudi Arabia. As a student in the Vth year of College of Law at King AbdulAziz University in Jeddah, Almaliki features weekly on popular TV channels across the Middle East and North Africa region. — PTI

Cut back on festivities, Covid-19 threat is real

It's normal for the people to expect scientists to analyse data and provide a conclusive and independent opinion while taking the statements of the politician with a pinch of salt. But it looks like the report of the expert panel, appointed by the department of science and technology, which says India has gone past the peak with respect to the spread of the coronavirus, is comforting but comes with too many ifs and buts. On the other hand, Union health minister Dr Harsh Vardhan has been consistent and unequivocal in all his communications, insisting that the forthcoming festival season is going to be a game changer for the worse and cautioning people against being lackadaisical in their approach to the pandemic.

Dr Vardhan was persuasive enough to cite the example of Kerala and the way the state's containment strategy went completely awry after its annual festival Onam in late August to drive home the point that lapses in the coming season would prove to be too costly. The state, which reported almost zero new Covid-19 cases in the first week of May saw the numbers rise, albeit nominally, after the Union government decided to open interstate and international traffic. But the number grew rapidly after Onam: the state's share in the total caseload shot up from 2.9 per cent until September to 6.4 per cent in the second half of the month to almost 10 per cent now. The state's total active cases of 96,000 contribute almost 10 per cent to the total cases in India at present. It is a fact that large congregations of people who threw caution to the winds undid all Kerala had done in the initial phases to stop the spread of the pandemic. A section of experts also blames the series of agitations the opposition had launched against the state government during the same period for the sudden spurt of cases.

The Union government had announced two weeks ago it was launching Jan Andolan, a massive awareness campaign about the need to observe the critical points that have proved to be effective against the virus: hand hygiene, social distancing and wearing of mask. But we are yet to find the government taking it up seriously and make the message reach the nook and cranny of the country. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is the best communicator India has today, but the nation is yet to hear him talk about this campaign with the force it warrants and the frequency it calls for. Instead, it looks like the government is now getting into preparing the protocols for the distribution of the evasive vaccine when it arrives.

The need of the hour, and the priority of the government, should be to prepare the nation to get past the festive season without an uncontrolled escalation in the number of Covid-19 patients, and the only way to do is to get into a massive campaign; vaccine protocol can at best be a parallel exercise. It pays to be mindful of the wolf at the door instead of counting the pie in the sky.

Thrills & spills in Super Overs

A historic second Super Over bowled to break a tie in T20 and the succeeding Super Over in the IPL match between Kings XI Punjab and Mumbai Indians illustrated how the quest for a result can be fair. There's logic to the demands of a winner being spotted on the day in sport, which in a way is like war minus the shooting. It's a pity that the World Cup final, in which England and New Zealand tied in the 50-overs a side match and tied again in the Super Over, was not decided in this sensible and extended tie-breaker as in IPL rules. How ridiculous that England were declared the winners because they had scored more boundaries in their innings.

The drama, as a microcosm of life played out in such sudden death situations, enhances the thrills and spills of condensed cricket. The question of what makes winners stand apart from the chokers will, perhaps, never be satisfactorily answered. The fact that the defending champions Mumbai Indians have lost two games in Super Overs adds to the mystique of what makes winners different. Is it just calm nerves controlling sporting skills or the smile of lady luck or both? Be that as it may, the IPL season, which the corona virus seemed to have blighted, is now the harbinger of fine entertainment from the Arabian desert.

The T20 format might not have been thought of as a medium in which fast bowling would shine so lustroously in terms of speeds achieved in the air as measured by radar guns. The T20 of 2020 appears to be the glorious exception as Anrich Nortje of South Africa cracked the record kept from IPL speed guns in sending down the white cricket ball at 156.2 kmph, only to be reverse scooped for a boundary by Jos Buttler. Quality UAE cricket grounds with good run-ups are inspiring settings in which Nortje and other fast bowlers have sparked with sheer pace achieved from the poetry of their bowling actions and Nortje came back with an incutter at 155 kmph to bowl Buttler and win the day. That's entertainment!

Delineate & demarcate LAC to end China mess

Akash Deep Anand

Tuesday, October 20, marks 58 years to the day the Chinese launched their synchronised and coordinated attack in Ladakh and Arunachal Pradesh, then known as the North-East Frontier Agency (NEFA) on October 20, 1962. It is pertinent to note the choice of a Saturday as a mark of Chinese planning and cunning; the Indian decision-making apparatus would be enjoying a weekend break, though the concept of a five-day week was to come much later. In NEFA, their chosen theatre of operations, the Chinese successfully eliminated all military opposition by the time they declared a unilateral ceasefire on November 20, 1962. The Chinese attack in Ladakh overran the small standalone posts in Galwan, Pangong Tso and Chip Chap River areas. The Indian troops here gave a valiant account of themselves but were heavily outnumbered and out-gunned by better-prepared Chinese.

This area is again active 58 years later as the outstanding matter of settling the borders between the two nations hasn't been resolved. Unlike the India-Pakistan Line of Control (LoC), in J&K and Ladakh, the 1962 war led to the concept of a Line of Actual Control (LAC) along the Sino-Indian frontier. There is no demarcation in both situations. In the LoC's case troops on both sides are generally within range of small and medium arms, in an eyeball to eyeball deployment, except in certain gaps where physical deployment is not possible. Incidentally, these are the gaps used for infiltration from across the border. In the LAC's case, troops have been separated by far greater distances except in a few locations like Nathu La. As long as troops maintain considerable distances, the chance of clashes are minimal unless one side chooses to press a claim line by moving forward going by their assessment or comprehension of the LAC. It is because of such an action of staking their claim over Galwan Valley by the Chinese that the June 15 clash took place, resulting in casualties on both sides, an unspecified number of Chinese and 20 of ours, with Col. Santosh Babu, 16 Bihar's CO, and 19 soldiers killed in action.

With the LAC not being delineated (specifically described and agreed) and demarcated (marked with pillars, fences), the alignment is open to interpretation by troops and their commanders on the ground. Further clashes thus cannot be ruled out. Since the Chinese have been obdurate in disengagement by not pulling back, let's examine the factors behind China's behaviour: India's border infrastructure development, particularly the Darbuk-Shyok-Daulat Beg Oldie (DSDBO) road opposite Aksai Chin through which runs the Chinese G-219 Highway connecting Sinkiang and Tibet, both restive provinces.

Daulat Beg Oldie (DBO) lies 8 km from Karakoram Pass, through which passes the Karakoram Highway linking Sinkiang with Pakistan. It is 9 km north-west of the LAC in Aksai Chin.

The highway is important for the One Belt One Road (OBOR) project initiated by Xi Jinping with massive financial and political commitment. Indian infrastructure developments in the area are considered a potential threat to G-219 and the OBOR project.

India is raising objections to the OBOR project in Pakistan-occupied Kashmir, Shaksam Valley (ceded to China by Pakistan) and the Gilgit-Baltistan area, which are claimed as part of J&K.

Chinese objections to the abrogation of Article 370 and bifurcation of the erstwhile state of J&K into the UTs of J&K and Ladakh which is claimed by China as one of "five fingers" of Tibet, the others being Nepal, Bhutan, Arunachal Pradesh and Sikkim.

Development of Indian maritime infrastructure in the Indian Ocean region, where China intends to extend its reach and influence.

India aligning its strategy with the United States, which is engaged in a trade war with China over tariffs, the 5G infrastructure of Chinese IT giant Huawei, Covid-19, theft of intellectual property and American technology, to name a few.

China has been hit hard by the worldwide Covid-19 pandemic, which originated at Wuhan in Hubei province. The consequent suspension in exports has led to a loss of earnings and reduced consumption in China. There are reports of food shortages and large-scale migration into the urban centres, leading to social tensions.

The Chinese exchequer is simultaneously burdened with the expenditure on OBOR.

A comparison with 1962 and China's then leadership under Mao Zedong is in order. Communist China's 2nd Five-Year Plan 1958-63 undertook the "Great Leap Forward", an overambitious project to boost agricultural and industrial growth. It is beyond our scope here to detail the specifics of that debacle.

It's sufficient to say that overambitious unachievable targets led to a famine which caused an unspecified number of deaths: around 18 million to 45 million. Other purges like the Cultural Revolution were to cause many more deaths; some estimates put the total number of Chinese deaths due to Mao and his policies at 80 million. That such a tyrant died peacefully in his own bed is a mark of how much control the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) and its undisputed leader has over China's public. However, even dictators like Mao have detractors, thus they too need distractions. One of the reasons why Mao chose the opportune moment of a US-Soviet nuclear standoff over Cuba to divert the attention of detractors by ordering his PLA (People's Liberation Army) to launch the 1962 attack against India.

One also has to look at the role played by the then Indian leadership, and its principal players like Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, V.K. Krishna Menon, Generals P.N. Thapar and B.M. Kaul through their amateurish "Forward Policy" of establishing small standalone posts along the frontier in the territorial claim line, assuming against all evidence and intelligence that the Chinese would not launch an offensive.

Starting in the 1980s, India has taken steps with China to ensure tranquility along the disputed frontier. Did the present government lull itself into the belief that our actions to ramp up border infrastructure would not attract a belligerent response? Did Narendra Modi end up imitating the blunder of Pandit Nehru? Did he assume his personal rapport with Xi Jinping after his back-to-back summits at Wuhan and Mamallapuram had cemented such bonds that Mr Xi would simply acquiesce with our actions on an unsettled frontier that would raise the hackles of China's strategic hawks as well as his own detractors?

WAKE UP CALL

The floods in Hyderabad should serve as a wake-up call for the government. Just a few days of continuous rains is causing massive damage, killing so many people. What if there is continuous rain for a week? Please stop blaming the previous governments and start thinking if such a situation arises. Upgrading the drainage system is one option to protect Hyderabad. A long-term strategy must be in place and not just short-term actions by laying new roads, repairing bridges and bunds, etc.

Vikas Panchareddy
Hyderabad

We must save Hyderabad from floods by stopping activities that lead to global warming. We need to stop cutting trees and sow seeds in open lands during rainy season. We must maximise paperless work and use mechanical pencils and chopsticks, e-books, non-wooden buildings and use more clean energy.

P. V. Madhu
Secunderabad

People living in the low-lying residential colonies under the Secunderabad Cantonment are suffering a lot after the rains. The authorities are least bothered about the affected residents as they are not taking action to improve stormwater infrastructure by constructing additional drains wherever possible. Encroachments on open drains and dead end roads are also leading to water stagnation. It is high time the Secunderabad Cantonment Board obtain expert consultants to manage floods.

Pak given MIG jets by Indonesia

JAKARTA, OCT. 19 Indonesia gave Pakistan eight MIG-19 jet fighters during the Indo-Pakistan war over Kashmir in 1965, informed Air Force sources here today.

50 YEARS AGO IN DECCAN Chronicle They said the planes were sent as a gift under a secret agreement between the late President Sukarno and former Pakistani President Ayub Khan. The disclosure came on the heels of a recent newspaper report that the Indonesian Air Force had swapped six Russian made MIG-19 planes for six super constellations from Pakistan.

Complex problems require many minds. Leadership is important but mostly in terms of directionality. The solutions need to be produced by those implementing, not the person directing. If this is reversed, progress will not to be made and generally what results is retardation.

For solutions to be produced below the level of leadership, it is necessary that there be some devolution of authority and power. Such is not the case in India in these present times. The leadership of this large and complex nation is centralised in a way that it has never been in our history. There are some parallels with Indira Gandhi, true, but the 1970s was altogether another world.

Some of the most important positions in the Union Cabinet are filled by those who have never won an election. The finance minister, external affairs minister, railways and commerce and industry minister are none of them elected. The previous finance minister was also not elected. They owe their position not to their personal political popularity but to the patronage of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. They cannot defy him, and they will always do what he says. That is why they have, in fact, been chosen and placed there.

The moment they defy or question, they will be replaced by someone who will keep their mouth shut but keep their job. There is no devolution of authority and none of accountability.

When things begin to go wrong in such a place, the leader cannot be blamed or even named. It will be assumed that he is right and the solution lies not in correcting his behaviour but in something else.

A few weeks ago there was this headline in the online publication The Print: "Modi govt plans media blitz for 'image correction' to boost India rank on global lists". It reported that the government was trying to improve India's ranking on some 30 global indices by "building a massive publicity campaign" which was a "planned perception-overhaul exercise".

These indices are those which monitor religious, economic, political, media freedoms, the rule of law, innovation, terrorism and other things. Either data is compiled or global experts are asked for their perceptions and then countries given a score or rating.

Many of these are compiled by bodies

One reason for Bangladesh overtaking India is that that the Bangladeshi leadership handled the Covid-19 hit to their economy better. The other reason is that in the past six years, Bangladesh has been growing much faster than India. It would have overtaken us anyway.

that are multilateral, such as the World Bank or the United Nations. It is not clear how India will get its poor ratings improved through a media campaign when it comes to such bodies or when it comes to hard data.

For instance, India is ranked 142 on the World Press Freedom Index, falling from 140 in 2019 and 138 in 2018. The main reason for its fall is the violence against journalists and the number of Internet shutdowns in Kashmir. These are objective things that are measurable. They cannot be corrected by publicity campaigns. This year India has introduced a new media policy in Kashmir that has more or less throttled all freedom of the media in that state.

The government's response in the instance of the media index was to set up its own "Index Monitoring Cell" which would have journalists Rajat Gupta (of Aap ki Adalat fame) and P. Sainath. Not much has been heard from this cell since and it will not affect the global rating. India's ranking in press freedom is not going to improve globally next year either and spending money on marketing an image that is removed from reality is neither wise nor will it be effective.

India's numbers on Covid-19 are self-declared. These are government numbers.

They can and they will be compared to how India is doing versus the rest of the world and particularly the rest of South Asia with which an honest comparison can be made. On infections and fatalities, our performance is below the rest. A media blitz will not correct the perception that India has been the least competent at addressing the issue because the perception is based on reality.

This week has come news that in the current financial year, Bangladesh will overtake India in terms of per capita income. Meaning that the average Bangladeshi's income will be more than the average Indian's. Even to those who are referred to as Modi haters, this was shocking. It was not expected because India was far ahead of Bangladesh in terms of per capita income in 2014.

One reason for Bangladesh overtaking India is that that the Bangladeshi leadership handled the Covid-19 hit to their economy better. The other reason is that in the past six years, Bangladesh has been growing much faster than India. It would have overtaken us anyway in time. The Covid-19 fall just made it sooner. It has been a long slide that has been not been in the public realm because the leader does not acknowledge it and the minions cannot speak.

It seems like we were talking about competing with China and the United States only a few years ago. Now we must first compete with Bangladesh. This is not what we had been promised. How will this be corrected by a media blitz? It will not. But it is what the great man has ordered, and so it will be done. The slide will continue, but the noise about "achehe din" will also continue.

Malabar Gold offers 'one India one Gold rate'

Malabar Gold & Diamonds has launched 'One India One Gold Rate', an initiative that offers uniform gold rate across all states in the country for 100 per cent BIS hallmarked. While the international gold prices are transparent and uniform custom duty and taxes are applied across the globe, in India, there exists a disparity across states in the rates of gold, though gold is sourced from the designated banks.

FinMin asks eight PSUs to buyback Centre's shares

■ Windfall from state firms to reduce widening fiscal deficit

AFTAB AHMED & NIDHI VERMA NEW DELHI, OCT. 19

India has asked at least eight state-run companies to consider share buybacks in the fiscal year that runs through March 2021, two government officials said, as New Delhi scours for ways of raising funds to rein in its fiscal deficit.

The firms asked include miner Coal India, power utility NTPC, minerals producer NMDC and Engineers India Ltd, said one of the sources, who sought anonymity as the discussions are private. "Buyback is an important tool in our strategy and it helps in building market price," added the second official, who also spoke on condition of anonymity.

India is unlikely to be anywhere near its fiscal deficit target of 3.5 per cent of GDP for 2020-21 as coronavirus curbs hit tax collections and delayed efforts to privatise energy firm Bharat Petroleum Corp and flag carrier Air India.

In February, the government had set itself a target of raising more than $27 billion from privatisations and sale of minority stakes in state-owned companies this fiscal year.

However, some companies, particularly in the oil sector, may not be able to do buybacks, the sources warned, as the government's stake is just sufficient to ensure its position as a majority holder.

Centre bets on PSUs to kick-start capital spend

SANGEETHA G. CHENNAI, OCT. 19

With central PSUs spending only 32 per cent of its capex target for the fiscal, the finance ministry has directed state-run firms to spend 75 per cent of their capital expenditure by the end of December.

While reviewing their performance, the ministry stressed on more coordinated efforts at the levels of secretary of concerned ministries and chairpersons and managing directors of CPSEs to achieve capital expenditure targets.

The government finds that the better performance of CPSEs can help the economy in a big way to recover from the impact of Covid-19 pandemic.

The central PSUs have a capital expenditure target of ₹1,15,934 crore for the fiscal 2020-21. Till the first half of the year, they have only achieved 32 per cent or ₹37,423 crore of this target. This is 13 per cent lower than the capital expenditure made in the first half of last fiscal.

In H1 FY20, CPSEs had spent ₹43,097 crore even when the total target was ₹1,11,672 crore. However, by the end of the year, they had achieved 104 per cent of the capex target.

The government, however, has claimed that CPSUs have cleared ₹13,400 crore of pending payments to MSMEs in the past five months. Out of this, payments worth ₹3,700 crore have been made in September only.

Though it is mandatory for all CPSEs and companies with turnover of more than ₹500 crore to join the TReDS platform started by Reserve Bank of India, many companies are yet to join it or transact on it. The MSME ministry has now written to the top management of over 2,800 corporates by name to make payment of pending dues of MSMEs in this month itself.

Last month, the ministry had written to top 500 corporates about the pending payments of MSMEs.

According to reports, MSMEs have around ₹5 lakh crore of pending dues from PSUs, government agencies and private enterprises.

The MSME Development Act, 2006, mandates companies to make the payment to MSMEs within 45 days. If the cash flows of MSMEs improve, they can make use of the festival season when there is opportunity to earn by supplying goods and services. Some of the MSMEs look for such a period for their sustenance of the whole year.

But for those with sufficient funds and capital expenditure below target for this fiscal year, the government could seek approval from the cabinet to prune its stake to less than 51 per cent in individual firms without giving up control, the official said. — Reuters

- THE FIRMS asked include miner Coal India, power utility NTPC, minerals producer NMDC and Engineers India Ltd, said one of the sources.
- THERE IS a competing claim on their cash in the form of huge capital expenditure commitment and dividend payments, the second source said.

"The government stake in these state-run companies is about 51 per cent and there is a competing claim on their cash in the form of huge capital expenditure commitment and dividend payments,"

Centre must borrow ₹2.3tr for GST: Kerala

SANGEETHA G. CHENNAI, OCT. 19

Having agreed to borrow money to fund shortfall in GST collections on behalf of states, the Central government should negotiate with the states on how much should be borrowed, said Kerala finance minister Thomas Issac.

He wants the entire shortfall of ₹2.35 lakh crore (₹2.35 trillion) to be provided to the states this year itself.

"Having come the half-way through for an amicable settlement on the issue of who should borrow, the Centre should take initiative to settle the remaining issue: How much to borrow?" he said in a tweet. Last week, the Centre had agreed to borrow ₹1.1 lakh crore on behalf of the states, ending an impasse with the states.

Talking to Financial Chronicle, Issac said the Centre has to negotiate

● IF YOU can borrow ₹1.1 lakh crore, why can't it be higher? We should be getting the full ₹2.35 lakh crore this year. We are facing an economic recession now and not tomorrow, said Kerala finance minister Thomas Issac with the states as to what is the requirement.

Considering the current economic recession, he said, the states should be provided the entire shortfall of ₹2.35 lakh crore.

The Centre in August had estimated that the GST shortfall for FY21 would be around ₹2.35 lakh crore. Of the ₹2.35 lakh crore, Centre has agreed to borrow ₹1.1 lakh crore. Out of the remaining ₹1.25 lakh crore, ₹50,000-60,000 crore will come from the current year's compensation cess. The remaining amount will be paid only in 2023 from the compensation cess, he said.

"If you can borrow ₹1.1 lakh crore, why can't it be higher? We should be getting the full ₹2.35 lakh crore this year. We are facing an economic recession now and not tomorrow. I need to spend today. If for some reason, the Centre cannot give it, it is a negotiable point," he said.

Issac said he was not bothered about increase in the fiscal deficit of states. "I am not bothered about that. I think, in a recession the fiscal deficit can go much higher. Look at the developed countries, what is their fiscal deficit," he said.

"Further, I don't believe in this number game. Nothing is sacrosanct — this 3 per cent, 5 per cent or 10 per cent. It is the macro economic situation that determines fiscal deficit," the Kerala minister added.

Kalyan Jewellers gets Sebi approval for ₹1,750-cr IPO

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD MUMBAI, OCT. 19

Kerala-based Kalyan Jewellers has received market regulator Sebi's approval to float ₹1,750-crore initial public offer (IPO) just two months after filing a draft red-herring prospectus.

Kalyan Jewellers has 137 retail stores spread across India and the Middle East. Besides over 100 stores across 21 states in India, as on June 30, 2020, Kalyan Jewellers has 30 showrooms in the Gulf Cooperation Council countries spread across the UAE, Qatar, Kuwait and Oman.

The IPO comprises the issue of fresh equity shares aggregating up to ₹1,000 crore and an offer for sale worth ₹750 crore, according to the DRHP.

Kalyan Jewellers promoter T.S. Kalyanaraman proposes to offload shares worth up to ₹250 crore, while Highell Investment would sell shares aggregating up to ₹500 crore through the OFS route.

The proceeds from the fresh issue of shares would be utilised for working capital requirements and general corporate purpose. Axis Capital, Citigroup Global Markets India, ICICI Securities and SBI Capital Markets are merchant bankers.

Bank recap must not be postponed, says Viral Acharya

Mumbai, Oct. 19: India is neglecting bank recapitalisation as it focuses on debt moratoriums and interest waivers for borrowers amid the Covid-19 pandemic, a former central bank official said on Monday.

Indian banks are saddled with over $120 billion in bad debt, and in severely stressed conditions the bad-loan ratio could nearly double by March, according to Reserve Bank of India projections.

Restoring banks' capital is critical for aiding a meaningful recovery, but there has been little focus on the matter, former RBI deputy governor Viral Acharya said.

"This lack of focus is tantamount to kicking the can down the road and jettisoning financial stability for short-term gains," said Acharya, who recently wrote a book titled the "Quest for Restoring Financial Stability in India".

"This repeated mistake has prevented India from recovering well from adverse shocks," Acharya said. His comments came weeks after India offered to waive the compounded interest component on all loans up to 20 million rupees following a legal challenge to the terms of a six-month moratorium.

Designing moratoria and forgiveness like farm-loan waivers that favour borrowers excessively in the short term has been detrimental to a sound recovery of credit growth in the medium term, Acharya said.

"If the government doesn't wish to recapitalise banks in a timely manner, then it must ensure that the contours of debt moratoria and forgiveness package are not so generous that banks won't be in a position to lend well during the recovery phase, which is likely around the corner," Acharya said.

"It would be good to learn from the past mistakes and start the work of repairing bank balance sheets." — Reuters

Job losses put thousands on verge of eviction in US

New York/Chicago, Oct. 19: On September 1, US health officials announced they would suspend evictions across the United States to help stem spread of the novel coronavirus.

That was three days too late for Latrise Bean. About 72 hours before the declaration by the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Bean, 35, was ordered evicted from her Milwaukee apartment. She'd lived there for three years despite the sagging ceilings, smell of urine in the hallways and homeless squatters in the basement — because it was all she could afford.

Bean, whose hours as a fraud specialist at a software company had been cut due to the pandemic, tried to find a new place. But with the eviction on her record, landlord after landlord rejected her. She is now sharing an air mattress with her five-year-old daughter, in a temporary unit in a neighborhood even worse than the one she left behind.

"I feel so unlucky," said Bean. "I have really been through it."

It has been a nightmare year for many of America's renters. The local, state and federal eviction bans that gave them temporary protection in the spring began to lapse in early summer — ensnaring renters like Bean in the gap. September's reprieve by the CDC, which protected many, but not all, renters will expire in January.

At that point, an estimated $32 billion in back rent will come due, with up to 8 million tenants facing eviction filings, according to a tracking tool developed by the global advisory firm Stout Risius and Ross. The nonprofit group advocates for tenants in eviction court to secure lawyers.

In a typical year, 3.6 million people face eviction cases, according to the Princeton University Eviction Lab, a national housing research centre.

Landlords, most of whom are mom-and-pop operators with mortgages to pay, say they, too, are under unprecedented financial strain, as many move into the eighth month of nonpayment.

Many owners are "not generating sufficient revenue," said Bob Pinnegar, CEO of the National Apartment Association. "This is not a high-profit-margin business."

"Only 9 cents of every dollar return to the owner or investor as profit," he added.

Unless Congress and the Trump administration move past their deadlock over the contours of a new Covid-19 relief package and include financial relief for tenants and landlords, January will bring a surge in displacement and homelessness "unlike anything we have ever seen," said John Pollock, a Public Justice Center attorney and coordinator of the National Coalition for a Civil Right to Counsel.

More than 60,000 evictions have been filed since the pandemic started in the 17 cities tracked by the Princeton Lab.

Health experts say evictions may contribute to a second-wave Covid-19 crisis, as the newly homeless are forced into shelters or tight quarters with friends and relatives, potentially exposing them to infection. The danger is particularly acute in the winter, when colder weather pushes people indoors. — Reuters

Sociedad go top with Betis win

Madrid: Real Sociedad continued La Liga's unpredictable start to the season by going top of the table on Sunday, after a 3-0 win away at Real Betis. Villarreal had temporarily claimed first place earlier in the day by beating Valencia 2-1 at la Ceramica but Real Sociedad's impressive victory put them ahead on goal difference.

They are the sixth different team to lead La Liga after six rounds of fixtures so far, as Real Madrid gave up their place at the top of the pile after a surprise loss at home to Cadiz on Saturday.

Barcelona were also beaten away at Getafe. Real Sociedad took advantage as Portu and Adnan Januzaj scored goals either side of Mikel Oyarzabal converting a penalty to consign Betis to a third defeat in four games under their new coach Manuel Pellegrini. They drop to sixth.

Resurgent Royals

Rajasthan defeat Chennai by 7 wickets to climb to fifth spot

Abu Dhabi, Oct. 19: Rajasthan Royals defeated Chennai Super Kings by seven wickets in their Indian Premier League match here on Monday.

Batting first, Chennai Super Kings were stopped at 125 for five as Rajasthan Royals produced a fine bowling effort at the Sheikh Zayed Stadium.

In reply, RR chased down the target in 17.3 overs and climbed to the fifth spot on the leader board, who were earlier languishing at the bottom of the table.

Jos Buttler top scored for Royals with an unbeaten 70.

Opting to bat, CSK never got going and lacked the fire power to put up a decent score after being reduced to 56 for four in 10 overs.

Ravindra Jadeja top-scored for CSK with a 30-ball unbeaten 35 and skipper Mahendra Singh Dhoni, playing in his 200th IPL game, made a run-a-ball 28 while adding 51 runs for the fifth wicket.

Jofra Archer (1/20) was terrific with the new ball but he would be disappointed with his outing on the field. Besides Archer, the spin duo of Shreyas Gopal (1/14) and Rahul Tewatia (1/18) were economical in the middle overs, while young Kartik Tyagi (1/35) too was impressive.

Dhoni's decision to bat first backfired as RR picked up wickets at regular intervals to make life difficult for CSK.

CSK lost the in-form Faf du Plessis (10) in the third over, caught by Jos Buttler off Archer.

PCB WANTS ICC TO ENSURE INDIA VISAS FOR PAK TEAM

T20 WORLDS

New Delhi, Oct. 19:

The Pakistan Cricket Board wants the ICC to assure visas for its players and officials when India hosts the T20 World Cup in October next year, by January 2021, CEO Wasim Khan has said.

The PCB CEO also confirmed that there is "no chance" of an Indo-Pak bilateral series in "foreseeable future" and neither will it be a part of fresh the Futures Tours Programme that starts in 2023.

India would be hosting the global T20 event in October and given the tense diplomatic ties between the two neighbours, the PCB has sought assurances that the visa process of their players and support staff would be dealt with by the ICC.

"This is an ICC matter. We have discussed our concerns. There is a 'Host Agreement' that states very clearly that host nation (India in this case) will have to provide visas and accommodation for teams that are due to participate in T20 World Cup and Pakistan is one of them," Khan told said. "We have sought assurances from the ICC that our players will receive visas and ICC is now taking this up with the BCCI because that directive and confirmation will clearly need to come from their government." He then clarified that it's only fair that there is a time-frame for such a deadline. "We have asked for a deadline till December-January, which we believe is the right thing."

High-flying Kings XI run into table-leaders Delhi

Dubai, Oct. 19: The nail-biting win over defending champions Mumbai Indians was certainly a morale-lifter but the inconsistent Kings XI Punjab have another tough battle at hand when they take on table leaders Delhi Capitals in an IPL match here on Tuesday.

Having lost two tight games they should have won at the start of the season, KXIP managed to get on the right side of the results in the last couple of games, although it was too close for comfort by their own admission.

The fact that KXIP have struggled this season despite having tournament's top two run-getters in openers K.L.Rahul (525) and Mayank Agarwal (393) best sums up their erratic run.

On a positive note, the successful return of Chris Gayle has reduced the bur-

The 27-year-old leg-spinner has played 14 domestic T20 matches for his state, and has 16 wickets to his name with an economy rate of 6.87.

Mishra was ruled out of the tournament after sustaining an injury to the ring finger of his bowling arm.

High praise for Super Shami

Dubai, Oct. 19: Kings XI Punjab captain K.L. Rahul lauded his pace spearhead Mohammed Shami for his ability and clarity of thought to bowl six yorkers in the Super Over while defending just five runs in their dramatic IPL match against Mumbai Indians here.

The match on Sunday night ended in a tie in the regulation 20 overs and KXIP could only score five runs in the first Super Over but Shami bowled brilliantly to restrict MI to the same score.

KXIP eventually won the match in the second Super Over.

"You can never prepare for Super Overs. No team does. So you have to trust your bowler's gut. You trust your bowler, and let them believe their instinct and gut," Rahul said at the post-match presentation.

"He (Shami) was very clear he wanted to go with six yorkers. He has been phenomenal, and keeps getting better every game. It is important that senior players win the games for the team."

Rahul, who was named man of the match for his 77, expressed happiness at the victory but said his side would not want to make a habit of winning like this. Even in the last game against RCB, KXIP could have finished the job earlier than they eventually did.

"It is not the first time.

But we don't want to make a habit out of it. We will take the two points in the end. It doesn't always happen the way you plan so you don't really know how to stay balanced.

UNIVERSE BOSS WAS 'ANGRY' HEADING INTO SUPER OVER

Dubai, Oct. 19: The big-hitting Chris Gayle revealed that he felt "angry and upset" going into the Super Over after Kings XI Punjab were in a comfortable position to win the IPL match against Mumbai Indians in regulation period.

Chasing 11 runs in the second Super Over, the "Universe Boss" cracked a six off the first ball before opener Mayank Agarwal smashed successive fours to give KXIP their second consecutive win.

"No, I wasn't nervous. I was a bit more angry and upset that we got ourselves in this position. But it's a game of cricket and these things do happen," Gayle told Agarwal and Mohammad Shami during a post-match show for IPLT20.com.

"Even when we were going out to bat (in the second Super Over) you asked me 'who is going to face the first ball'. I was like 'Mayank you really asked that question? It has to be the boss who faces the first ball'," Gayle added.

Ganguly not in fray for ICC chief's post

New Delhi, Oct. 19: New Zealand Cricket's Gregor Barclay and Imran Khwaja of Singapore are the only two prominent names who will be fighting for the ICC chairman's post to replace Shahshank Manohar.

Sunday was the last day for filing nominations and a one-month window has been kept by the ICC Board to see if it can have an unanimous candidate.

"As of now, it looks like there will be an election between Barclay and Khwaja, who is ICC's acting chairman. They are the only two who have filed nominations. Both have their share of support in board," a senior official, privy to developments in ICC Board, said.

In a 17-member ICC board, 16 can cast their vote (17th member is CEO Manu Sawhney without voting rights) and as per the existing rules, either Barclay or Khwaja would need 11 votes (2/3rd of board) to become the next chairman.

In case Cricket South Africa (CSA) gets suspended by the ICC over government interference, then the number of voters will come down to 15.

While Colin Graves, the former England and Wales Cricket Board chairman was the favourite to become the next ICC chief, it was learnt that he didn't file his nomination after it became certain that neither he is an unanimous choice nor does he have the numbers to win an election. There is a buzz that the BCCI will lend support to Barclay against Khwaja, who is known to be close to a former ICC head.

Silly Point

A significant meeting went unnoted thanks to the Indian Premier League (IPL) bandwagon proceeding in grand fashion over the weekend. With matches extending to three super overs in a single day and an 'Act of God' to describe irreplaceable AB de Villiers' innings, the announcement made by the Apex Council of the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) got smothered under the scrum of news dedicated to the IPL.

BCCI gave a glimmer of hope to hundreds of players that comprise the 'home' structure of India by speaking about the revival of the Indian domestic season, tentatively from January 1, 2021. The decision of the Apex Council, as of now, is in the thought stage as they plan to host tournaments like the Ranji Trophy by creating bio-bubbles to ensure safety in a pandemic-ravaged country.

Holding tournaments for 38 teams is going to be a humongous exercise for the BCCI and, towards this, they are looking at hosting the Ranji Trophy in selected cities by creating mini bio-bubbles. Their plan, from what one understands through the usual BCCI 'sources', is to look at cities that have three or more cricket playing venues that will host the national championship of cricket.

Though there has not been any official communication on the format of the tournament, it does seem that the BCCI plans to go back to the zonal/knock-out one that was played in the old days. This will make it easier for the BCCI to conduct the Ranji Trophy (and other shorter-format tournaments) with one city per zone looking like the safest bet.

One assumes that the plan, at this point in time, is subject to the health situation closer to January, the proposed month of the start of the domestic schedule.

The 2020-21 season has already lost out some time and starting it five months behind the usual period (August, in the past) will have its issues with the programme being truncated. Nevertheless, the restart of the Ranji Trophy will provide succour to thousand plus cricketers and support staff across India who have been twiddling their thumbs since the March lockdown.

The BCCI also announced that they have received an itinerary from Cricket Australia for India's proposed tour which comprises three Twenty20s (T20), three One Day Internationals

(ODI) and four Test matches. Though the dates for the series haven't been finalised, it is believed that the Test leg of the tour will begin with the first encounter being a day-night 'pink ball' game in Adelaide. This brings us to an important element — team selection for the tour.

There has been no comment from the BCCI or any official about when the selection for this long tour will take place. The IPL will culminate in three weeks and the selected players (those part of the IPL) are expected to head straight down under post the tournament as the quarantine regulations in Australia are stringent, as one would expect, and differ from state to state. The selection, therefore, will have to be conducted within a week, at the latest, to enable players to get mentally ready for a tough tour as well as for BCCI to execute the logistics pertaining to travel, etc.

With no domestic cricket since March this year and the lack of any likely to happen till January, the IPL is the only platform for the selectors to judge the form of those they will pick for the three segments of the tour. This works very well for selecting the team for the T20 segment of the tour and may suffice when the ODI team is picked, as the format is a short one.

The real examination that Chief Selector Sunil Joshi and his team will be faced with will be to choose the squad for the Test series.

Considering this is part of the ongoing World Test Championship of the International Cricket Council (ICC) and the opponents, Australia, happen to be sitting at the number one position in the ICC Test rankings, Joshi and Co. have their task cut out for them.

While most players have been exposed to match practice while playing the IPL, a few Test specialists like Cheteshwar Pujara and Hanuma Vihari will only have their past experience to stand up for them.

For many youngsters who have shown remarkable form in the current IPL so far, this is a heaven sent opportunity. The next few matches of the IPL will have young Indian talent showing their very best with the added incentive of the much wanted chance of wearing the India cap.
