Rain wreaks havoc in Prakasam

11-year-old boy washed away in floods, another boy rescued

PATHRI RAJASEKHAR | DC NELLORE, SEPT. 26

Rain tormented several parts of Prakasam district affecting normal life since Friday night.

An eleven-year-old boy, Pallapu Sravankumar, of Ambadipudi village in Ballikurava mandal drowned in the floodwaters though locals managed to save another boy, Gunji Vishal, 14.

The two boys ventured into the floodwaters near the habitation on Saturday.

At Ravipadu village, a tractor was washed away in the floodwaters of Gundlakamma stream. There were seven people in the tractor and a search is to trace them.

Several roads were under a sheet of water in Chirala, Kanigiri, Addanki and Giddalur mandals because of floods to the streams in the region. A compound wall of Sri Rama temple in Parchuru mandal collapsed after water entered the temple on Friday night.

Similarly, several colonies were inundated in Giddalur as water from the overflowing Sagileru stream entered the town. Anna Krishna Chaitanya, son of Giddalur legislator, Anna Rambabu, said heavy rains in Nallamala forest resulted in floods in streams in the region, while inspecting colonies in knee-deep water.

He advised officials to shift people living in low-lying areas to safer places.

Traffic movement was arrested at Gudimetta village in Racherla mandal following the inundation of a bridge over the Tagileru stream.

The situation in Prakasam district was attributed to an average rainfall of 7.7 mm recorded over 24 hours, ending at 8.30 am on Saturday.

Racherla mandal recorded 186.2 mm, followed by 184.4 mm at Panguluru, Road connectivity from old Amaravathi to capital Amaravati, Mangalagiri and Vijayawada stopped due to the overflowing of the Kondaveeti Vagu at Peda Maddur on the Vijayawada-Velagapudi-Tullur-old Amaravathi route on Saturday.

APSRTC buses, autorickshaws, cars and bikes stopped plying to old Amaravathi due to the overflowing of water on to the main road. Peda Maddur village and adjacent areas were inundated due to the overflowing of the Kondaveeti stream.

The old and damaged bridge on the Kondaveeti stream was inundated and water overflowed on to the main road. According to officials, the water flow in the Kondaveeti stream will continue in the next two days and restoration of transport would not be possible due to the marooning of the old bridge.

national secretary, Jasti Veeranjanyulu, said that during rains and floods transportation would be stopped between old Amaravathi and Vijayawada. He said that earlier he went from pillar to post seeking the construction of a high-level bridge on Kondaveeti stream but in vain. He said that earlier the officials conducted a survey for the construction of a high-level bridge to end frequent inundation. He asked the state government to construct the bridge for a continuous connection with new capital and Vijayawada and further sought compensation for damaged crops due to Kondaveeti vagu inundation.

Similarly, heavy rain in Guntur district on Friday night and Saturday morning left many main roads, low lying culverts and drains waterlogged in many parts of Guntur district. Vehicular traffic was stranded between Piduguralla and Sattenapalli on the main road of Guntur-Hyderabad due to overflowing of the local stream at Vennadevi village of Sattenapalli mandal.

Heavy rain battered Bapatla, Nizampatnam, Achempet, Kolluru and other areas in Guntur. Vehicular traffic between Pichikalapalem and Kancherla of Savayapuram mandal was stranded due to the overflowing of local stream, Kokeru.

APSRTC bus services stopped between Guntur-Thullur, Rompicherla-Narasaraopet due to overflowing of local streams in these areas.

Guntakal to Bellary road link cut off

NAGABHUSHANAM HOSKOTE | DC ANANTAPUR, SEPT. 26

Heavy rains continued to batter Anantapur district and surrounding Karnataka areas on Saturday.

Main roads were blocked in many parts due to the overflowing of channels on the national and state highway roads. Access between en Guntakal and Bellary of Karnataka was cut due to the overflowing of a channel near Donekal in Vajrakurur mandal in the district. At least five-foot high water is flowing across the highway and traffic was hit between Anantapur and Bellary districts.

Dropped leaders set to enter Union Cabinet

DC CORRESPONDENT NEW DELHI, SEPT 25

The long-awaited team of BJP president J.P. Nadda was finally announced on Saturday, with many prominent names from the previous team missing and many new faces being accommodated.

While Ram Madhav, Muralidhar Rao, Anil Jain and Saroj Pandey, who were in the previous team and were in-charge of prominent states were dropped, new names including former Union minister in the UPA government, D. Purandeswari, MLA from Karnataka C.T. Ravi, Tarun Chugh, Dilip Saikia (MP from Mangaldoi), and Rajya Sabha MP Dushyant Gautam have been brought in as the new general secretaries. Speculation is rife that some leaders who have been dropped in the rejigged Central team of the BJP could find a place in Mr Modi's Cabinet in the next expansion.

Mr Nadda had succeeded Union home minister Amit Shah as the BJP president in January and his new team maintains a balancing act as almost all prominent and poll-bound states have representation in Team Nadda. Bhupendra Yadav, who is also in-charge of poll-bound Bihar, Kailash Vijayvargia, incharge of another poll-going state West Bengal, and Arun Singh, in-charge of Odisha, have been retained as general secretaries. The party also filled the post of national treasurer, which had been lying vacant since 2014 after Piyush Goyal was accommodated in the Union Council of Ministers, with Rajesh Agarwal, a former minister from Uttar Pradesh.

Tejasvi Surya, Bangalore South MP has replaced Poonam Mahajan as the youth wing leader.

The party has also expanded its list of spokesperson to 23, with MP Anil Baluni being elevated as the chief spokesperson and continuing as the party's media head. Some of the new spokespersons include Rajeev Chandrasekhar, former Union minister Rajyavardhan Rathore, former IPS officer Iqbal Singh Lalpura, MP from Odisha Aparajita Sarangi, MP from Darjeeling Raju Bista, MP from Nandurbar, Heena Gavit, Nupur Sharma and Tom Vadakkan. The new vice-presidents include former Union minister Radha Mohan Singh, former Jharkhand chief minister Raghubar Das, Mukul Roy, Rekha Verma, Bharti Shiyal and former MP, A.P. Abdullahkutty, a politician from Kerala.

He was expelled from the CPM for praising the then chief minister of Gujarat, Narendra Modi and later expelled from Congress when he praised Prime Minister Modi.

Amit Malviya will continue to head the party's IT cell.

MODI CALLS FOR URGENT REFORMS IN UNITED NATIONS

DC CORRESPONDENT NEW DELHI, SEPT. 26

Speaking at the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) on Saturday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said that India wants to be part of the decision-making team on the high table of UN and that there is rising concern if the reform-process of UN will ever reach its logical conclusion.

Addressing the UNGA through virtual mode, Mr Modi called for urgent reforms in the United Nations saying the world and its dynamics have completely changed today as compared to 1945.

SPB last rites: Water min represented AP

PATHRI RAJASEKHAR | DC NELLORE, SEPT. 26

Water resources minister Dr Anilkumar Yadav represented the State Government at the final rites of legendary playback singer, SP Balasubrahmanyam (SPB) held at his farm in Tamaraiappakkam of Tiruvallur district in Tamil Nadu on Saturday. He had passed away on Friday.

The Minister, along with his close relative and former corporator P. Roopkumar Yadav, consoled Balu's son Charan and family members after paying floral tributes to the mortal remains of the singer.

Speaking to media persons, Dr Anilkumar said that he rushed to Chennai to be present at the somber ceremony at the instance of Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy. He recalled that the singer belonged to Nellore.

He said he had an opportunity to meet SPB three times as MLA of Nellore while recalling the affectionate treatment extended by Balu. Referring to the 40,000 songs rendered by Balu in 16 languages, he said there is no match to the great singer.

He hinted that they would plan a memorial for SP Balasubrahmanyam at Nellore after discussing with the Chief Minister.

Sullurpeta legislator Kileveti Sanjeevaiah was also present with the Minister.

NOZZLE | TRICK 20-30 ml less fuel being dispensed

Fuel dispensers under scanner for cheating

SAMPAT G. SAMRITAN | DC VIJAYAWADA, SEPT. 26

Legal metrology authorities have taken up the onerous task of the inspection of nearly 3,500 fuel-dispensing machines, with about 20,000 nozzles, to find out if they are being tampered with, leading to 20-30 ml less fuel being delivered per litre and to curb such illegal practice in Andhra Pradesh.

Following the recent exposure by the Telangana police of the tampering of calibration boxes and display boards of fuel-dispensing machines mainly belonging to Gilbarco Veeder-Root, Midco Limited, Tokheim and others, the Andhra Pradesh government has swung into action and directed legal metrology authorities to inspect all fuel stations to check machines to find any lapses.

Officials from the legal metrology department, along with representatives from oil companies like BPCL, HPCL and IOCL, original equipment manufacturers, officials from civil supplies and also from the vigilance wing, are visiting fuel stations to inspect fuel-dispensing machines and nozzles. Initially, authorities have identified 300 fuel-dispensing machines most vulnerable to tampering as they are under the control of unauthorised leaseholders and not with the original owners, located along national highways and with relatively low revenue.

WATCH OUT

● According to the Legal Metrology Act, 2009, any fuel station found cheating on delivery of fuel will be penalised based on the number of nozzles and persons involved, ranging from ₹2.80 lakh and above.

● Most fuel-dispensing machines are manufactured by GVR.

So far, the authorities have completed inspection of nearly 150 fuel-dispensing machines and booked cases in Guntur, Chilakaluripeta, Chittoor, Anantapur and other areas in the state.

The Telangana police had zeroed in on a man identified as Basha, from Eluru in West Godavari of Andhra Pradesh, involved in tampering of machines in both AP and Telangana State for some time, with experience working in fuel stations for nearly 15 years.

His modus operandi was to tamper with the motherboard of the dispensing machine and the display board measuring the quantity of fuel dispensed and its price by breaking the seal of legal metrology department to ensure that the fraudulent practice goes undetected, said authorities.

AVANTI: WILL MAKE AP INTERNATIONAL TOURIST HUB

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, SEPT. 26

The government is very keen to develop the state as an international tourist hub, and various programmes are under designing promoting the tourist culture in the state, said minister for tourism M. Srinivasa Rao.

On the occasion of World Tourism Day, the minister convened a media conference on Saturday and detailed about the government's priorities.

There are plenty of strong tourist promotional attractions in the state including longest coastline, beautiful beaches, forest, hillocks and many mythological importance temples in the state. Considering the potentiality of the resources, the government has decided to promote adventure tourism, temple tourism, and also holiday spending tourism in the state.

The government has also decided to invite the entrepreneurs towards the promotion of the tourism sector across the state. As a part of the programme, the government has inked MoUs for the construction of 12 new star hotels under public and private partnership.

CII MEET ON 'BIZ SUSTAINABILITY IN NEW NORMAL'

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, SEPT. 26

The Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) organised a conference on Industrial Safety with the theme focusing on 'Business Sustainability in New Normal' through a virtual platform on Saturday.

Speaking at the inaugural session, chairman of Visakhapatnam Port Trust K. Rama Mohana Rao, stated that Covid-19 has adversely impacted the economic activities across the globe and India is no exception.

The Indian economy is set to grow in the next year, and the industrial activities would increase and likely to become more dynamic with the anticipated flow of FDI in the country.

The initiatives, including Atma Nirbhar Bharat, would help in the growth of MSMEs and industrial safety attains importance, he added.

CONGRESS PLANS CAMPAIGN AGAINST AGRI BILLS

DC CORRESPONDENT
KADAPA, SEPT. 26

The APCC working president Tulasi Reddy said that Congress had planned a nationwide campaign seeking the withdrawal of agricultural bills. He said the Congress leaders would march on September 28 and then submit a memorandum to the Governor in Vijayawada.

"On October 2, we are celebrating Gandhi and Shastri birthdays by announcing to hold dharnas in all district assembly constituencies in the name of Kisan-Mazdoor Bachao Diwas demanding withdrawal of bills. He said there would be a state-level Kisan Sammelan program on October 10 in Eluru. Tulasi Reddy said a signature collection drive would be held from October 2 to 31, after which copies of the signatures would be submitted to the President.

KONDREDDI WINS CHAIRMAN ELECTION FOR VIJAYA DAIRY

DC CORRESPONDENT
NELLORE, SEPT. 26

YSR Congress leader Kondreddi Ranga Reddy retained the post of Chairman for Vijaya Dairy in Nellore for the third time successively in the election held on Saturday.

Interestingly, a group YSR opposing Ranga Reddy in YSR Congress backed the TDP candidate Kota Chandrasekhar Reddy. Still, a majority of the voters (Presidents of Milk Societies) across the district rallied behind Ranga Reddy.

While Kondreddi Ranga Reddy bagged 86 votes, TD nominee Kota Chandrasekhar Reddy secured 32 votes. Sources in YSR Congress said that a majority of the voters are in favour of YSR Congress, but the group politics led to a diversion of the votes to the official candidate.

Meanwhile, party leaders congratulated Ranga Reddy for his success.

Road connectivity from Old Amaravati to Capital Amaravati, Mangalagiri and Vijayawada was cut off due to overflowing of Kondaveeti Vagu at Pedamaddur on the Vijayawada-Velagapudi-Tullur-Old Amaravati route on Saturday.

Rains devastate Nandyal, Kundu adds to woes

Chama canal in Nandyal town inundated many colonies

D. SIVA RAMI REDDY | DC
KURNOOL SEPT. 26

Heavy rains lashed Nandyal division in Kurnool district. The Chama canal in Nandyal town inundated many colonies and people are drowning in waters. Maddileru and Paleru vaagu are swollen flooding the bridge. The district administration is on alert to reach out to devastated areas.

180.06 mm of rainfall has been recorded in Bandi Atmakur mandal followed by Uyyalawada with 158.6mm and Allagadda received 146.0mm from Friday night to Saturday morning.

In Nandyal division, many villages are cut off. There is no transportation between Allagadda and Abohila, Mahanandi to Nandyal and Kolimigundla to Jammalamadugu and Tadipatri.

Early in the morning, three on duty forest watchers were trapped in flash floods at Pangidi vagu base camp in the deep forest near Velugodu. On receiving a rescue call, the fire unit of Atmakur rescued them with ropes and lifebuoys, said district fire officer Sreenivasa Reddy.

In Nandyal at Pedda Kottala village, stranded villagers were rescued by tractors.

With constant rains, FC Faram village in Mahanandi mandal was fully submerged with floodwater and water entered into houses and in at least 10 villages, including Nandyal town, several houses in low-lying areas were submerged by rainwater for a few hours.

Passersby, motorists and other transport vehicles are facing lots of problems due to submerging of roads with floodwater in almost all towns and villages in the Nandyal division.

Many agricultural water tanks and streams have overflowed. With overflowing floodwater, road links to various villages in Nandyal, Allagadda, Rudravaram, Atmakur, Kothapalli, Nandikotkur, Sirivella, Bandi Atmakur were snapped. The district administration is keeping a close watch on the situation, especially in Nandyal division.

Rescue operation teams led by the fire, police and revenue departments were pressed into the field to vacate flood-affected victims. Reddy said that teams have conducted rescues of the low-lying parts of the worst-affected areas in the district.

Nandyal MP assures all help to flood-hit

DC CORRESPONDENT
KURNOOL, SEPT. 26

It literally rained misery on Nandyal town and scores of villages on the banks of river Kundu in the Nandyal division on Saturday.

As much as 10,000 cusecs of Krishna river floodwater flowed into Kundu river through Pothireddypadu head regulator on Saturday morning though by evening the flow came down to 1500 cusecs.

Nandyal MP Pocha Brahmanad Reddy said flood-affected people were being evacuated.

Some engineers told

Deccan Chronicle that since irrigation minister Anilkumar Yadav was keen on lifting as much of Krishna flood as possible to fill Somasila reservoir, excess water was released into Kundu river.

Kundu Porata Samiti convener Venugopal Reddy said, "there is no one listening to our cries. Our fate is sealed and our farmers have to suffer in silence."

Mr Bramhanada Reddy who went around the flood-affected areas had hard time pacifying the people venting their anger over the hardships they were facing.

Chief whip cautioned people, officers on rains

NAGESWARA RAO
BALLEDA | DC
KADAPA, SEP 26:

Government Chief Whip Gadikota Srikanth Reddy advised people and officials to be vigilant, particularly in the low-lying areas. He directed the Irrigation DE to immediately repair Kanchalamma Gandhi and Ramapuram supply channel and dangerous ponds and pits.

Expressing concern at the damage to crop yields, Srikanth Reddy asked the Joint director of agriculture to support farmers by providing crop-damage compensation and insurance. Officials said the government would take steps to register crop damage compensation if more than 33 per cent of the cultivated crop was damaged. Srikanth Reddy directed the officials to prepare farmers for Rabi crop.

Vajrakaru mandal revenue and police authorities rushed the spot and cleared traffic. A large number of lorries and other vehicles were stranded for many hours. Similarly, the main road was blocked due to heavy flowing of the channel near Tadipatri and access was cut between Guntakal and Tadipatri. A traffic jam at least two kms long resulted.

Existing groundnut and ragi crops suffered massive damage in many parts of the district. Heavy rainfall inundated the outstanding crops in Uravakonda, Guntakal, Tadipatri and Madakasira areas, sources said.

District collector, G. Veera Pandian, has directed officials to caution people to be alert as there may be chances of the floodwater entering villages.

Irrigation tanks in the district received constant flows due to overflowing of channels in many parts. Water tanks and reservoirs also received heavy water due to the rains. Rainfall in the district was recorded 146 mm as against an average of 23 mm on Saturday. Peddavadugur mandal received the highest rainfall of 70.4 mm and more than 30 mandals received more than 20 mm rainfall. After many years, Anantapur district witnessed excess rainfall.

Constant inflows continued in the Tungabhadra reservoir. The reservoir saw more than 30 thousand cusecs inflows and similar outflows towards AP.

Pandian ordered officials to be alert all the time, monitor the flood situation, alert people in river bank villages, visit affected villages.

FOUR GATES OF BUGGAVANKA OPENED

He said the inflow into the project was so high that they could release water into the lower reaches of the Cheyzeru River as a precautionary measure. Jammalamadugu legislator Dr Sudheer Reddy visited the flood affected areas in the town, where the DSP office, bus stand and RTC depot are all inundated. RTC bus stands at Pulivendula, Kadapa, Badvel and Porumamilla were also badly affected. It was ditto with the low-lying areas in Kadapa city.

As Buggavanka reservoir filled beyond full capacity, officers raised all four gates and released water downstream. They alerted people living in the surroundings of Buggavanka canal.

With 15.5 tmc ft of water in Gandikota reservoir and inflow of about 6000 cusecs, officials released 5000 cusecs water to Mylavaram reservoir.

According to official records, nine mandals had witnessed more than 10 cms rainfall, and the district average was 7.1 cms.

LOCAL STREAMS OVERFLOW DUE TO RAINS

Further, the local streams of Naguleru, Yerravagu overflowed due to incessant rains at Dacheppalli, Gurajala, Karampudi and other mandals in Guntur district.

The low-lying areas of Bapatla, Kollipara, Rompicherla, Savalyapuram Mandals are inundated and paddy and red chilli fields were submerged in Guntur district.

Meanwhile, the Guntur municipal corporation commissioner, C. Anuradha, inspected Sarada colony, Reddypalem, Buccaiah Thota, Old Club road, RTC bus stand road, Collector road, and Brodipet and directed the officials to take steps to avoid waterlogging in low-lying areas. She said that the sanitary, health and engineering departments are coordinating with each other to clear drains.

Jagan to launch YSR Jala Kala scheme tomorrow

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, SEPT. 26

All set for the launch of YSR Jala Kala, another of Navaratnalu of Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy on Monday. Under the scheme, the government will drill borewells free of cost for farmers.

During his marathon padayatra, Mr Jagan Mohan Reddy responding to the financial difficulties faced by farmers to dig borewells, promised to find a way out.

The free borewells scheme will benefit three lakh farmers and the government has earmarked ₹2,340 crore for the scheme.

Mr Jagan Mohan Reddy will launch the scheme on Monday at the CM camp office at Tadepalli through online. The free borewell scheme is expected to bring under cultivation additional five lakh acres in the state.

The officials stated that according to the scheme norms, a farmer should possess a minimum of 2.5 acres and maximum of five acres, to be eligible for the benefit under the scheme. Those not meeting the criteria can team up with others to get a free borewell. Farmers can apply for free borewells at village secretariat or online.

The application will be forwarded to the mandal parishad development officer (MPDO) for approval after the panchayat secretary concerned inspects and certifies the claim. The sanction of borewell will be conveyed to the farmer by the village secretariat. The government has developed a special software for the YSR Jala Kala.

Minister for rural development and panchayat raj Peddireddy Ramachandra Reddy said YSR Jala Kala was symbol of Mr Jagan Mohan Reddy's commitment to the welfare of farmers. He said the government would take steps to dig borewells where groundwater is available with the help of technology. Permission would be given for drilling borewells only at such places where groundwater availability is confirmed by hydrogeological and geographical survey reports.

Botsa asks Naidu why he is against Vizag as capital

MD ILYAS | DC
VIJAYAWADA, SEPT. 26

Minister for municipal administration, Botsa Satyanarayana, came down heavily on Telugu Desam chief, N. Chandrababu Naidu, for trying to create a wedge among people in the name of caste and religion for political gains.

Challenging Naidu to reveal the reason behind opposing Vizag as executive capital, Mr Satyanarayana challenged TD leaders to stop going to the court for stay orders and come clean by accepting investigations into the Amaravati land scam.

Speaking to the media here on Saturday, Mr Satyanarayana said that Mr Naidu has been following the BJP agenda and thus trying to create communal disputes. He claimed that there was no benefit to the state or to the public from Mr Naidu's agitations and suggested that he go for apubic mandate instead. He said that the entire state had witnessed the Chief Minister, Y.S. Jaga Mohan Reddy, visit Tirumala and take part in the religious activities with fervour and respect.

Mr Naidu has been opposing the development of the north Andhra region and objecting to Visakhapatnam being executive capital, while the Chief Minister is aiming to develop all the three regions equally, Mr Satyanarayana said and added that Mr Naidu tried to give away the most expensive lands to the Lulu and Adani groups.

The development of Visakhapatnam took place during the period of Dr. Y.S. Rajasekhar Reddy. Mr Satyanarayana said, criticising the TD leaders for spreading false propaganda on investments coming to Visakhapatnam.

Asking the TD leaders to stop going to the court for stay orders in the Amaravati land scam, Mr Satyanarayana stated that only those who are guilty fear the law. Yet they cannot escape the inevitable.

He said that Mr Jagan Mohan Reddy is committed to public welfare and people are not going to fall for the cheap tricks of Mr Naidu and the TD.

Power switched off to evade inspection

Tampering with the motherboard and display board is done in such a way that once the power is switched off, the electronic circuit boards go back to factory settings once they are switched on.

The authorities had observed in some cases that whenever the officials went for inspection, those running the fuel stations used to switch off power to evade inspection and when officials insisted on inspection, they switched on the power, resulting in the tampered equipment going back to factory settings, showing no sign of any fraudulent practice.

Legal metrology authorities are holding talks virtually with the manufacturers of fuel dispensing machines asking them to periodically upgrade the technology being used in their machines to make them tamper-proof while the top brass from oil companies are also being asked to keep check on the credentials of employees working with them.

They also advise consumers to be more vigilant while filling up the tanks of their vehicles to find out any fraudulent practice and are to check fuel in five litre measures to find any short delivery.

Legal metrology controller, Dr M. Kantha Rao, said, "We have initially targeted 300 fuel dispensing machines most vulnerable for tampering and, so far, have completed nearly 150 inspections. The rest will be inspected by the end of September. We will ensure that all machines are tamper-proof soon so no consumer gets duped with short delivery of fuel."

YSRC DESTROYING PORT CITY, SAYS AYYANNA PATRUDU

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, SEPT. 26

Telugu Desam senior leader and former minister Ch. Ayyanna Patrudu on Saturday launched a scathing attack on the YSRC government for 'disregarding' the development and welfare of the people of North Andhra region.

He accused the Jagan regime of attempting to take away the properties of Andhra University, which he said, stood as a symbol of pride of the local people for many decades.

Mr Ayyanna Patrudu alleged that the deployment of three-tier security at the CR Reddy Bhavan on the AU campus was part of the greater conspiracy on the part of the government to take over the administrative building of the university with total disregard for the future development of the campus.

"Ever since he came to power, Chief Minister Jagan Mohan Reddy has been pursuing a single point agenda to destroy the port city and North Andhra region. Ruling party leaders took control of thousands of acres of lands. Capital shifting is part of YSRC's plan to tighten its grip over North Andhra," he said.

Although the national agency has released the answer key for NEET UG-2020, admission for first year MBBS and BDS courses may be delayed by NTR University of Health Sciences as it awaits two orders from the state government pertaining to the process for admission counselling and for fixing the fee in Andhra Pradesh.

Based on High Court's directions to the state government to constitute a high-level committee to work out modalities for conduct of counselling in various government and private colleges, the state government constituted a six-member committee with NTRUHS registrar Dr K. Sankar as its convener.

The committee submitted its report to the health special chief secretary Dr K.S. Jawahar Reddy, recommending a series of measures, including amendment of certain provisions in GO No 111. It is after higher education department's clarification that a new GO would be issued with regard to modalities for conduct of foolproof counselling.

Similarly, the AP Higher Education and Regulatory and Monitoring Commission is also supposed to fix fee for the first year MBBS and BDS courses for the academic year 2020-21 and the state government after approving the recommendations, has to issue an order.

University authorities say that unless the state government fixes the process for conduct of counselling for admission and also fee structure by issuing government orders, they cannot issue a notification.

NTR University of Health Sciences registrar Dr K. Sankar said, "Once we get directions from the state government, we will issue notification for counselling and start first year MBBS and BDS admissions."

At present, AP is having nearly 6,500 first year MBBS seats for admission and the fee structure for convener quota (A) is ₹10,000; ₹13.5 lakh under category B and ₹67.5 lakh under category C or NRI quota. There are nearly 1,740 first year BDS seats available and the fee structure is ₹10,000 for convener quota (A); ₹3.5 lakh under category B and ₹17.5 lakh for category C or NRI quota.

Meanwhile, the NTA, in its release, mentioned that the NEET (UG)-2020 was held on September 13 and advance answer keys for candidates for all the sets (E1-E6, F1-F6, G1-G6, H1-H6) were being uploaded.

The candidates are expected to be ready for challenges of Draft Answer Keys, which would be published shortly. University authorities maintain that once the NTA releases a nationwide merit list, each state would prepare their own merit list and award ranks. However, 15 per cent of seats in the state would be filled up based on the national level merit list while the remaining will be filled by the state merit list.

Sources from the university caution that if there is a delay in issue of two GOs, the admission procedure will be delayed forcing a section of students to move to Telangana, Karnataka or elsewhere seeking admission under categories of B and C.

Song glorifying Kakinada and Rangaraya Med college

VADREVVU SRINIVAS | DC
KAKINADA, SEPT. 26

The legendary playback singer S.P. Bala Subrahmanyam's death has evoked nostalgia among legion of his fans here about two songs he sang glorifying Kakinada and Rangaraya Medical College, the alma mater of some of his friends from Nellore.

The song written and composed by Eemani Satyanarayana Murthy, praises history of Kakinada, its culture and landmarks.

The singer had sung the song when he came to Kakinada to anchor a music show of a TV channel.

The nostalgic fans are circulating the song on social media as a mark of respect to the singer.

SPB award, statue demanded

NELLORE, SEPT. 26

Jana Sena has demanded that the state government institute an award in memory of the playback singer SPB and install his statue at one of the important junctions at Nellore.

After paying floral tributes to the portrait of the ace playback singer here on Saturday, Jana Sena leader Kethamreddy Vinod Reddy said that Balasubrahmanyam was pride of Andhra Pradesh and it's the responsibility of the government to instal his statue at Nellore. He said an award like NTR National Award should be instituted in the name of the singer to honour talented people in the field of music.

Medical College gave thousands of doctors to the society. According to sources, many of the friends of SPB from Nellore studied in Rangaraya Medical College and the singer in his younger days used to come to meet them. The admiring friends even established Manjula Arts, where they used to stage plays and rehearse during their student days.

"SPB was closely associated with our family as my father P. Gangadharam founded "Gangadharam Orchestra" and SPB frequently came to our house and participated in our concerts," said P. Satish.

Another song flooding social media is on Adikavi Nannayya University. The students and teaching staff are sharing the song sung by SPB on social media.

Apart from the private songs, another famous melodious number from SPB now doing the rounds on social media is 'Vedamla Ghoshinche Godavari, Amaradamala Ninadinche Rajahmaendri..', written by famous lyricist late Arudra for the film 'Andhra Kesari'.

Another memory left behind by SPB for his fans is his visit along with his family to 'Gou Sala,' run by eminent spiritual speaker Chaganti Koteswara Rao.

SPB laid to rest with state honours

CHENNAI, SEPT. 26

Versatile singer, actor and music composer S. P. Balasubrahmanyam, who was a "singing moon" to millions of fans, was laid to rest at his farm house near Chennai on Saturday with a 24-gun salute by Tamil Nadu police.

After the singer's son S.P. Charan performed the last rites amid Vedic chants by priests, the 'Last Post' was played by a police band and 24 personnel in ceremonial attire gave a gun salute with three volleys.

SPB's body, glasses on and smeared with "Thiruneeru" (sacred ashes) on the forehead and draped in a silk dhoti was lowered into a deep pit and buried as chants of "SPB Pugazh Onguga" (Live long SPB's fame) rent the air.

The singer was buried as per his wishes, said to have been expressed by him to his family years ago, that he should be buried though cremation is the Telugu Brahmin tradition. Flower petals were showered on the body and crystal salt strewn inside the pit before its closure.

With policemen, their rifles tucked under their arms marching along, the body was brought on a traditional hay lined bier to the final resting place on the verdant premises from a "pandal" earmarked for people to pay homage and perform rituals. The farm house at Tamaraiakkam in nearby Tiruvallur district was teeming with his fans, well-wishers and celebrities for the funeral since early morning and 500 police personnel were deployed to regulate the crowd.

Tamil Nadu culture minister K. Pandiarajan, Andhra Pradesh irrigation minister Anil Kumar Yadav, matinee star Vijay, film directors Bharathiraja, Ameer, music composer Devi Sri Prasad, singer Mano, actor Arjun and comedian Mayilsami were among the celebrities who turned up to pay their last respects.

Though police had initially said only about 150 people would be allowed to pay homage, more and more men and women trooped to the singer's idyllic farm house to pay homage.

Before becoming ill, he recorded a zestful opening song for the under-production Rajinikanth starrer Annaatthe, a D Imman musical and it turned out be his last song in his career that spanned over five decades. Imman said: "I feel so blessed that his last song was in my music. Such a cultured and affectionate man, there is no replacement for him. We miss him."

Bharathiraja said SPB has no death and continued to live through his songs. The 74-year-old singer earned a variety of sobriquets from his fans like "Padum Nila," "Isai Megam" (music cloud that showered songs), "Gaandha kuralan" (Man of a magnetic voice) for his mellifluous voice.

SPB was admitted to MGM Healthcare here on August 5 after he tested positive for coronavirus.

The health condition of the singer, who presented only mild symptoms during admission deteriorated on August 13 night and he was put on life support and moved to the ICU.

Soon he was on Extracorporeal Membrane Oxygenation (ECMO), a heart, lung assistance machine) as well besides the ventilator.

On August 20, when he remained critical, SPB's long time friend and legendary Tamil filmmaker Bharathiraja gave a call for a mass prayer and it evoked a tremendous response with people from all walks of life including celebrities and the general public coming together to pray for his early recovery.

A video clip of him rotating a device as part of physiotherapy also went viral following his death. Early this month, the hospital had said that his condition warranted an extended stay requiring ECMO and ventilator support. He was declared extremely critical on September 24 and he passed away on Friday.

Civils aspirants from AP
want to keep a 'watch'MD ILYAS | DC
VIJAYAWADA, SEPT. 26

Candidates from the State appearing for Civil Services (Preliminary) Examinations-2020 are urging Union Public Service Commission, which conducts them, to direct officials from the State to grant them permission for wearing ordinary wristwatches during exams in order to keep track of time.

They are lamenting that although the Commission allows simple wristwatches, and which is followed by other states, in Andhra Pradesh, officials were denying the facility.

Stated for October 4, around 30,199 candidates from the State are writing the prelims in 68 test centres spread across Visakhapatnam, Tirupati, Anantapur and Vijayawada. Many of the aspirants are recounting the bitter experience they faced after being denied permission to wear normal wrist watches.

Candidates like N. Chandram, S. Venkat and others from Krishna and Guntur said that time-management was crucial during Prelims, where a second can alter the prospects of making the grade. They said that wall clocks are available in only a handful of test centres.

UPSC instructions are: "Use of normal or simple wrist watches by candidates is allowed inside the examination rooms/halls. However, use of watches fitted with any special accessory that might be used as communication device or smart watches is strictly prohibited and candidates are not allowed to take such watches into the examination rooms."

They stated that some candidates have opted for centres in other states earlier but now because of corona and non-availability of transportation facility, they were compelled to appear in their home state.

They appealed to the government to instruct local examination authorities to allow simple wrist-watches during the exam time.

2BHKs only poll issue for Congress

It appears that almost all leaders in the Telangana state Congress are convinced that the construction of double bedroom houses is the only issue for them to corner the TRS in the elections to the Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation. For the past two months, one leader after another has been raising up the issue. First, TPCC president N. Uttam Kumar Reddy dared the TRS to prove that it has given double bedroom houses to at least 1 per cent of the applicants in the GHMC. If the TRS could prove it, he said, the Congress would not contest the elections. There was a padayatra by an MP on the matter amid almost daily statements. Then CLP leader Malu Bhatti Vikramarka accepted the challenge of the ruling party and accompanied minister Talasani Srinivas Yadav to some 2BHK house sites, but left the tour midway and accused the TRS of hoodwinking the people. Talasani then released the list of 2BHK sites where work was apace, as well as the schedule for their completion. The Congress still does not seem satisfied, and is focusing on the matter.

Off the beaten track

No country for young women

Predictably, with the farmers' protests gaining momentum and the parliamentary process in shambles, new names have emerged in the so-called Bollywood drug mafia investigation, and some anchors who had jumped the gun now get to shrilly gloat on national TV.

Equally predictably, the named are young women. Some, conveniently, happen to be middlingly successful 'nepo kids'. One, a self-made superstar, made a five-minute non-speaking cameo appearance at a den of anti-national urban naxals, aka one of the finest universities in India.

The only male public figure named so far is SSR, making one wonder if "Justice For Sushant" means tarnishing his memory and legacy. India hates its young women.

In a country which 'worships' women as goddesses, it is the young girl who invites rape by wearing jeans and eating chowmein, the young woman who invites a (dis)honour killing by daring to love a man of her choice, the young wife who invites domestic violence by not worshipping sufficiently abjectly at the altar of her husband and in-laws.

In a city named after Mumba Devi, a single woman who enters into a romantic relationship is called anything from a whore to a home-wrecker, whilst a man is the innocent victim of her wiles, even when he is married and knowingly cheats. The actor wife is blamed when a cricketer has a bad match. Women who dare to express contrarian opinions are subjected to disgusting trolling and rape threats.

A young woman who facilitated the procurement of a negligible amount of weed for her boyfriend is denied bail and continues in jail in horrific conditions on the flimsiest of charges, whilst a middle-aged man-child who has admitted to taking pretty much every drug ever invented, is celebrated in a movie in which he is played by a younger man-child. [Out of curiosity, how does one drug a grown man with weed without his knowledge and consent? Sprinkle it on his rajma-chaawal instead of kasoori methi?]

The flipside of this narrative is that our god-like raja betas appear to have no noticeable degree of agency, choice, sense, responsibility or self-control. It is a mystery why Indian men don't find this insulting.

For millennia, Indian women have been designated as the 'honour-keepers' of patriarchy (i.e., keep your legs and mouths shut). Often it is women who normalise and enforce misogyny. Recently, some of these "princesses of patriarchy" are being styled as feminists. Ladies, you aren't.

Feminists are not victims. They believe that all genders are equal, and every individual has a right to their own choices and opinions, without inflicting them on others. They disagree with a person without insulting them. They don't judge or insult a woman because they don't agree with her. They understand the concept of consent. They don't use rape references except when discussing actual rape. They believe that a woman can be a home-maker or the CEO of a company, as long as it is HER choice. They don't hate men, or women. They don't have to be women.

So, no. You aren't feminists. Not when you play the victim card, selectively outrage on behalf of some women but slut shame others, are self-confessed addicts but derogatorily call others 'druggies', make accusations but withhold 'proof', complain (rightly) about the abuse you receive but abuse others with abandon, have different standards for different people depending on your whims. You are high-priestesses of hypocrisy.

Here's an example of how feminism works:

A prominent Bollywood male is the subject of recent #MeToo allegations. The timing of these is as suspect as the demolition of the illegal parts of an actor's office (the tasteless and tone-deaf rape analogy that followed notwithstanding).

As a feminist, I say that every such charge should be investigated, and both sides heard equally. Also, if a charge is found to be trivial and baseless, there should be legal consequences for the accuser. Misusing and trivializing legal protections given to women (like dowry, domestic violence and sexual harassment laws) is an insult to the countless, voiceless women who truly need them, and to the women and men who have fought for centuries, often at huge personal risk, so that Indian women may enjoy a modicum of equality with their male counterparts.

True gender equality in India is still a long way away. So I urge the self-styled feminists to put their money where their mouths are, with objectivity, compassion, respect and non-partisanship, and help us achieve it. Otherwise India will continue to be no country for young women. And, given the recent, disgusting trolling of trail-blazing doyennes of Bollywood, no country for middle-aged or old women either.

The Indian ideal is Sati, not Kali. We forget that both, that all our deities, are avatars of the same supreme Goddess.

Covid shadow at UN-75: Some lessons for India

K.C. Singh

Covid-19's shadow looms over the 75th anniversary of the United Nations General Assembly this year. The high-level segment began September 22, with virtual speeches delivered to a near empty hall. Customarily, the first speaker was Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro, followed by US President Donald Trump. The US presidential election is just days away, the outcome of which is critical for America and indeed the world.

For India, the anniversary has little cause for celebration as China, a UN Security Council permanent member, ignoring its Charter commitments, is attempting by force to alter the status quo at the Line of Actual Control in Ladakh. Prime Minister Narendra Modi will address the UNGA Saturday evening. The 2020 theme is: "The Future We Want, the UN We Need: Reaffirming our Collective Commitment to Multilateralism". This sounds unrealistic, the world being caught between the pandemic and the rise of nationalist-populist leaders in almost all major powers, other than perhaps Germany. It's therefore important to study what they had to say.

President Trump, days from a tough November 3 election, was naturally more geared to a domestic than global audience. Incidentally, he spoke as Bob Woodward's book Rage, based on extensive interviews including with the President, reached bookshops. Pulling no punches, Mr Trump called the pandemic the "invisible enemy" and "China virus". He likened US mobilisation to that during World War II, having already cost over 200,000 dead, 40 million jobs and an economic slowdown nearing recession. The $2.2 trillion stimulus may leave behind rolling deficits. Mr Trump sought accountability from those who "unleashed the plague". While China, he alleged, locked down domestic travel, it kept international flights open, and delayed sharing sharing that the disease was communicable person-to-person and by asymptomatic individuals. Woodward recounts Mr Trump's discussion with advisers whether China, realising the likely damage to its economy, allowed international travel and thus the pandemic's spread, to level the playing field with the developed world. Mr Trump then fielded the usual claims about US economic and military growth under his watch and a swipe at the UN that it must focus on "real problems" to be effective. The US, he claimed, led in protecting human rights, which sits poorly with his handling of the Black Lives Matter protests. When Woodward pushed with: "I'm asking whether you can understand the plight, struggle, pain of people?" The reply, more dodge than revelation, was: "I'm somebody that likes to get things done rather than talk." Mr Trump cited his "America First" invocation, encouraging others to the same. It summed up his anti-multilateralism at the citadel of global governance.

Chinese President Xi Jinping was happy to fill that gap. He repeatedly referred to the pandemic, on the defensive after the US onslaught. He pledged the virus must be defeated, but must not be politicised, nor nations stigmatised. He sought "macro policy coordination" between major economies to enable global recovery. He then waxed eloquent about helping the developing world, especially Africa, which for China is a crucial market and source of raw materials. Chinese companies control mines from Congo to Chile and Australia, cornering minerals needed for solar panels, electric vehicles, etc. The pandemic, Mr Xi argued, should teach there is no escaping inter-dependence and respect for each country's "independent choice of development path and model". He countered the crescendo for "decoupling" from China by seeking an open multilateral trading system with WTO as its cornerstone. On climate change, he promised carbon neutrality in China by 2060. Of course, he ignored that China's installed capacity for polluting thermal power is half the world's total. Even new Belt and Road Initiative projects have a mix of thermal and hydro power units. Reaffirming faith in global governance, he promised China will never seek hegemony. The speech will leave most of China's neighbours astounded at the gap between his words and China's actions.

Interestingly Russian President Vladimir Putin contested America's claim of stabilising West Asia and the Gulf by "peace deals". He said as the world changes so must the UN, but undermining it may collapse the "architecture of international organisations". In the Mideast, he sees foreign interference, not democracy and reform, with the vacuum filled by extremists, leading to an illicit trade in arms and oil. He undercut Mr Trump's simplistic conclusion that splitting and realigning parts of the Islamic world with Israel and against Iran and its Shia national-allies would buy peace.

For India, the anniversary has little cause for celebration as China, a UNSC permanent member, ignoring its Charter commitments, is attempting by force to alter the status quo at the LAC in Ladakh

Amid this dissonance among major powers Pakistan's PM Imran Khan addressed the UNGA. He tried linking the UN's 75th anniversary as a time to recall fascism's defeat in Europe and focus on contemporary neo-fascism by the RSS and the BJP government in India. From that it was an easy path to claiming repression in Kashmir, and the breach of real and imaginary past UNSC resolutions. While he focused on the flow of illicit funds of Pakistan's politicians to developed nations, with his political rivals in mind, there was no mention of Pakistan's funding non-state actors and its travails with the Financial Action Task Force. His angst is understandable as the big powers aren't interested in Pakistan's Kashmir laments, except China.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi may take the high road and leave Indian diplomats to respond. He will no doubt seek UNSC reform, support equitable globalisation, as India needs investment to create employment, reiterate India's commitment to the Paris climate change accord and, like China, offer help to developing nations in fighting the pandemic. The post-pandemic world has conflated with the post-Trump world. Woodward's final words on Mr Trump are that his oversized personality and lack of trust in experts led to "the undermining or attempted undermining of so many American institutions. The failure of calming, healing voice. The unwillingness to acknowledge errors...". Facing a recalcitrant China, angry farmers up in arms and a swirling Covid, India's government should draw a lesson from this.

CARING FOR FARMERS

Even before the two farm Bills became laws, Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy ordered procurement of grain (Officials asked to procure every grain from farmers, DC, Sept. 26) through Rythu Bharosa Kendras. RBKs are the same as APMCs. Such action should be emulated by all other states to thwart the apprehensions created due to new laws.

DEATH OF BIRDS

It is hurting to note that hundreds of Pelicans from Siberia were found dead in and around Chellamnaiduvalasa of Vizianagaram district (Siberian pelicans found dead in AP, DC, Sept. 26). Even though locals suspect pesticide poisoning may be the reason, there is an urgent need to find out the real reason. As the matter is connected with thousands of tourists, the government must act quickly and positively.

FEET OF CLAY

All of us idolise Sunil Gavaskar for his cricketing skills, his in-depth knowledge of the game and his fluent commentary. However, he has put his foot in his mouth by unnecessarily linking the bad patch of Kohli's IPL performance with his better half, Anushka. She was justifiably annoyed with Gavaskar's wicked humour and gave him a piece of her mind. Instead of an apology, Gavaskar justified his comments and said he was not against Anushka. Being a part of the gentleman's game, Gavaskar should not cross Laxman rekha with his unsavoury comments. Game is bigger than the individuals.

Jordan King forms new Government

AMMAN, Sept. 26 Jordan's King Hussein, under heavy verbal fire from fellow Arab leaders and continued demands for his overthrow from the Palestinian guerrillas, today announced a new Government to try to end the "black troubles" in his embattled country.

The 13-man Cabinet is headed by a Palestinian civilian politician, Mr. Ahmed Toukan, and contains at least five Palestinians and six army men.

It replaces the military Government, the King set up on September 16, the day before the King's army launched its assault on the guerrillas. Its head, Brigadier Mohammed Da'oud, also a Palestinian, resigned on Thursday.

The King's mandate to Mr. Toukan charged him to try to return life in the country to normal and end hostility between Palestinians and Jordanians.

But in Damascus a guerrilla spokesman said the new Government would not change their attitude "so long as the Royal Regime exists and the real criminals, first and foremost King Hussein are in power."

Out overnight, eight safe from loneliness, C-virus and hunger pangs

WhatsApp smarts

The eight Opposition MPs who were suspended by the Chair in the Rajya Sabha for creating a ruckus over the farm Bills and did a subsequent 24-hour sit in, formed a WhatsApp group to keep in touch with one another. The WhatsApp group's name: "eight and safe". The only one of the eight MPs who made friends with the rest was TMC MP Dola Sen, a trade unionist MP. Congress MP Rajeev Satav, whose birthday coincidentally was on the day of the dharna, also got to cut his cake once the cameras left. Congress leader Digvijaya Singh spent the longest time hanging around with the protesting MPs. He was the first to arrange for dhoklas and sandwiches for the eight. Food came in plenty, with many leaders across the Opposition parties pitching in. The eight remained safe, too.

Priyanka's karmabhoomi

Rahul Gandhi skipped the monsoon session of Parliament and probably many within and outside the Congress did not miss him either. In his absence, Priyanka Gandhi has been taking centre stage. There is buzz that Priyanka may go for a darshan at Pithambara Peeth at Datia in Madhya Pradesh, where crucial Assembly byelections will be held. The Gwalior-Chambal and Bundelkhand region of the state shares boundary with Uttar Pradesh which has been Priyanka's "karmabhoomi" of sorts.

Post for Dr Kafeel

Priyanka was photographed with Dr Kafeel Khan who was acquitted by the High Court recently after a prolonged period of harassment and imprisonment by the Yogi Adityanath regime. Priyanka reportedly wants Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot to accommodate Dr Kafeel as an assistant professor in Rajasthan. Gehlot is in a dilemma. He does not want to say no to Priyanka but he is wary of any kind of communal backlash in his state.

Ghulam Nabi Azad, who has virtually been singled out among the G-23 dissenters within the Congress, is almost certain that he is not returning to the Rajya Sabha. So, a day before the monsoon session ended a week ahead of schedule, the former Jammu and Kashmir chief minister got a chance to speak. Instead of beginning with the topic Azad, who is also Leader of the Opposition in the Upper House, opened his speech by saying that if the Covid pandemic continues and the winter session is postponed, this may be his last speech in the Rajya Sabha. Congress insiders say Azad's term is ending in February 2021 and he has no chance to return simply because there are no vacancies. However, Congress leader in the Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury is all set to continue in spite of becoming Bengal party chief. Apparently the party leadership wants him to go to West Bengal in a position of power and the floor leader's position gives him that political heft, they argue.

Best woman in the job

The BJP Parliamentary Board is set to be expanded in view of some vacancies.

Many are eyeing the singular woman's slot. Ironic as it may sound, some leading lights of the BJP women parliamentarians reportedly draw comfort from the poor state of economy in the context of parliamentary board vacancy.

In their wisdom, prospects of Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman making the cut have receded due to the minister's inability to accelerate the economy.

Hairy superstition

Why is Prime Minister Narendra Modi not trimming his beard? A personal choice seems to have become a subject matter of intense speculation and discussion. Some think it may have to do with a mannat [a secret special prayer] where the seeker often stops trimming hair. Going by this view, the Prime Minister is seeking divine help and wishing for a Coronavirus-free India at the earliest.

IN BRIEF

Pair charged for WH attack plot

San Antonio: Federal authorities have arrested two men on terror charges for allegedly plotting to bomb or shoot up sites including the White House and Trump Tower in New York City in attacks inspired by the Islamic State group. Jaylyn Christopher Molina, of Texas, and Kristopher Sean Matthews, of South Carolina, are both charged with conspiracy to provide material support to a designated foreign terrorist organisation. They were arrested in different states last week. The pair had discussed travelling to Syria to fight with the Islamic State group.

S. Korea tells North to probe shooting

Seoul: South Korea said Saturday it will request North Korea to further investigate the killing of a South Korean government official who was shot by North Korean troops after being found adrift near the rivals' disputed sea boundary while apparently trying to defect. Seoul could also possibly call for a joint investigation into Tuesday's shooting, which sparked outrage in the South and drew a rare apology from North Korean leader Kim Jong Un. Kim was quoted as saying he was "very sorry" over what he described as an "unexpected, unfortunate incident" in a message sent by Pyongyang's United Front Department.

Lebanese PM designate resigns

Beirut: Lebanon's prime minister-designate resigned Saturday amid a political impasse over government formation, dealing a blow to French President Emmanuel Macron's efforts to break a dangerous stalemate in the crisis-hit country. The announcement by Moustapha Adib nearly a month after he was appointed delays the prospect of getting the foreign economic assistance needed to rescue the country from collapse. Adib said he was stepping down after it became clear that the kind of Cabinet he wished to form was "bound to fail". The French leader has been pressing Lebanese politicians to form a Cabinet made up of non-partisan specialists.

Astronaut to cast vote from space

Atlanta: Nasa astronaut Kate Rubins told The Associated Press on Friday that she plans to cast her next vote from space — more than 200 miles above Earth. Rubins is just outside Moscow in Star City, Russia, preparing with two cosmonauts for a mid-October launch and a six-month stay at the International Space Station. "I think it's really important for everybody to vote," Rubins said. "If we can do it from space, then I believe folks can do it from the ground, too." Most US astronauts live in Houston. Texas law allows them to vote from space using a secure electronic ballot.

PARK AFTER POC WHO RESISTED SLAVERY

Paris, Sept. 26: The city of Paris inaugurated a public garden Saturday honouring a woman who fought for the liberation of slaves on the Caribbean island of Guadeloupe. Mayor Anne Hidalgo also announced plans to erect a statue to the woman, Solitude, at the site in northeastern Paris. It will be the city's first statue honouring a PoC woman. Amid global protests against monuments to white men linked to colonialism or the slave trade, French leaders have resisted taking down statues but pushed instead to design new monuments to more diverse, lesser-known historical figures. Solitude was born around 1772 to an African slave who was raped by a white sailor on the ship bringing her to the Antilles, according to newspaper Le Monde. She won her freedom after the French Revolution, but then Napoleon reinstated slavery in French colonies and Solitude joined Guadeloupe's resistance movement, according to city hall. Napoleon's forces arrested a then-pregnant Solitude, and sentenced her to death. She gave birth on Nov. 28, 1802, and was hanged the next day. France abolished slavery again in 1848. Guadeloupe remains part of France, and saw protests earlier this year against racial injustice in the wake of George Floyd's death in the US.

2 mn Covid deaths possible, WHO warns

Geneva, Sept. 26: Coronavirus deaths could more than double to two million without collective action against the deadly pandemic, the World Health Organisation (WHO) has warned, as Australia's prime minister urged any nation that develops a vaccine to share it with the rest of the world.

The number of cases worldwide has soared past 32 million, with deaths approaching one million, the global economy devastated, and major cultural and sports events disrupted. But despite the pandemic showing no signs of slowing, Japan's new prime minister Yoshihide Suga struck a defiant note Friday, saying his country was determined to hold the postponed Tokyo Olympics in 2021.

"One million is a terrible number and we need to reflect on that before we start considering a second million," the WHO's emergencies director Michael Ryan told reporters on Friday when asked how high the death toll could go. "Are we prepared collectively to do what it takes to avoid that number?"

"If we don't take those actions... yes, we will be looking at that number and sadly much higher." The pandemic has spurred worldwide efforts to develop a vaccine to help defeat

Trump may announce Amy Barrett for court

Appeals court hears fight over Don tax returns again

Washington, Sept. 26: President Donald Trump is expected to announce Saturday that he is nominating Judge Amy Coney Barrett to the Supreme Court as he aims to put a historic conservative stamp on the high court just weeks before the election.

Trump said Friday he had made up his mind and it was "very exciting," without giving away the name, aiming to maintain some suspense around his personal announcement. But the White House indicated to congressional Republicans and outside allies that the pick was Barrett. "Well I haven't said it was her, but she's outstanding," Trump said of the Indiana federal judge. Conservative groups and congressional allies are laying the groundwork for a swift confirmation process for her, even before Trump makes the selection official in a Rose Garden ceremony Saturday evening.

They, like the president, are wasting little time moving to replace the late Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, organising multi-million-dollar ad campaigns and marshalling supporters both to confirm the pick and to boost Trump to a second term. The likely shift in the court's makeup — from Ginsburg, a liberal icon, to an outspoken conservative — would be the sharpest ideological swing since Clarence Thomas replaced Justice Thurgood Marshall nearly three decades ago.

Ever the showman, Trump remained coy about his choice Friday evening as he returned from a campaign swing. When asked whether lawmakers were being told it was Barrett, Trump responded with a nod on the tarmac at Joint Base Andrews, before replying, "Is that what they're telling you?" "You'll find out tomorrow," he went on to say, flashing a wide smile. "Look, they're all great. It could be any of one them.

New York, Sept. 26: A federal appeals court tested the waters on a potential compromise, but didn't immediately rule Friday after arguments in President Donald Trump's long-running fight to prevent a top New York prosecutor from getting his tax returns — a battle that seems destined to return to the Supreme Court.

A Trump lawyer argued that a subpoena for the records is overly broad but balked when an appellate judge suggested the court might be able to alleviate that concern by limiting the scope of documents being sought.

Trump's lawyer, William Consovoy, signalled they will be satisfied only if Manhattan District Attorney Cyrus Vance Jr. is barred from getting all of the requested records. Consovoy is seeking to have the case sent back to a lower court that last month rejected his attempt to quash the subpoena, arguing that judge erred in his ruling. If the three-judge panel refuses to put a hold on the enforcement of the subpoena, Trump's lawyers will be forced to ask the Supreme Court to prolong the legal fight.

The high court, which ruled 7-2 against the president in July, is down to eight justices after the death last week of Ruth Bader Ginsburg. The matter may not be fully resolved before the November election. Trump's lawyers appealed to the 2nd US Circuit Court of Appeals after a district court judge last month rejected their renewed efforts to invalidate a subpoena that the Vance's office issued to Trump's accounting firm as part of a grand jury investigation into his financial and business dealings. — AP

PREZ: DOCUMENTS REVEAL RUSSIANS INTERFERED IN 2016 POLL FOR DEMS

Washington, Sept. 26: US President Donald Trump has alleged that a new set of documents have revealed that Russians interfered in the 2016 presidential elections on behalf of his then rival and Democratic presidential nominee Hillary Clinton. The alleged Russian interference in US elections in 2016 was one of the major topics for the Opposition Democrats in the first three years of Trump's presidency and also became the basis of the failed impeachment proceedings against him.

"I've been tarred with this horrible witch hunt for four years. And I didn't do it. Think of it. What would my numbers be, if I didn't go through almost four years of a Russian witch hunt that turned out to be just the opposite. They were the ones involved with Russia," Trump said while addressing a Republican campaign rally in Newport, Virginia on Friday. "A new trove of documents ...now prove that Russia interfered in 2016. Unfortunately, it was on behalf of Hillary Clinton, not Trump. They interfered with disinformation," he said.

Trump alleged the 2016 presidential elections were interfered by the Russians on behalf of rival Clinton's campaign. "The newly released text messages make 100 per cent clear. The FBI knew that Democrats purchased Russian disinformation targeting me, your favourite president, which then formed the basis for the witch hunt," he said as he praised several Fox News anchors for standing by him during those days. Trump also accused the Democrats and the Russians of spying on him and his campaign. "It was a whole big disinformation campaign," he said amidst cheers and applause from his audience. — PTI

HEBDO STABBING: SEVEN TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Paris, Sept. 26: Seven people were in custody Saturday after a stabbing outside the former Paris offices of satirical newspaper Charlie Hebdo, including the suspected assailant, authorities said.

Counterterrorism authorities are investigating what authorities called an Islamic extremist attack linked to Charlie Hebdo, which lost 12 employees in an al-Qaida attack in 2015. The weekly, which routinely mocks religious and prominent figures, recently republished caricatures of the Prophet Muhammad that outraged Muslims. The suspected assailant in Friday's stabbing had been nabbed a month ago. — AP

Ukraine crash: Toll climbs to 26

Moscow, Sept. 26: Searchers combing the area where a Ukrainian military aircraft crashed found two more bodies on Saturday, bringing the death toll to 26. One person survived.

The plane, a twin-turboprop Antonov-26 belonging to the Ukrainian air force, was carrying a crew of seven and 20 cadets of a military aviation school when it crashed and burst into flames Friday night while coming in for landing at the airport in Chuhuiv, about 400 kilometres (250 miles) east of the capital Kyiv. Two people initially survived the crash, but one later died in a hospital. No cause for the crash has been determined. Ukrainian President

VICTORIA HEALTH CHIEF QUILTS IN QUARANTINE PROBE

Melbourne, Sept. 26: The health minister in Australia's Victoria state has resigned in the fallout from an inquiry into why security guards were used instead of police or the military at quarantine hotels.

Lapses in security at the hotels were given as the major reason for a second wave of Covid-19 cases. Victoria reported just one more Coronavirus death as Melbourne's new case average continued to fall. The death took the state toll to 782 and the national figure to 870. There were 12 new cases, while Melbourne's 14-day average fell again on Saturday to 23.6. Melbourneans, who have been in lockdown for more than a month, are waiting for the easing of restrictions on Monday. It's expected to include a staged return to school for some students and outdoor gatherings of five people from two households.

Health Minister Jenny Mikakos on Saturday issued a statement confirming her resignation, just a day after Victoria Premier Daniel Andrews gave evidence to the inquiry. — AP

US to restrict Chinese journos' stay to 90 days

Washington, Sept. 26: The Trump Administration is seeking to restrict the stay of journalists from China in the US to just 90 days with the provision of another extension for a similar duration, according to a federal notification.

The move came amidst worsening of bilateral ties over a range of issues like the Coronavirus pandemic, trade, Beijing's increasing grip on Hong Kong and alleged human rights abuses against minorities in the Xinjiang province.

The proposal of the Department of Homeland Security is part of the fixed time limit on visas of students, researchers and foreign journalists in the US. While the time limit for foreign journalists in general has been restricted to 240 days and another extension of a similar period, those for a journalist from China would be issued a I visa by the United States just for 90 days, as per the federal notification issued on Friday. Stake holders have 30 days to respond to the federal notification before it can be enforced.

Foreign nationals travelling on a passport issued by China or Hong Kong would be issued I visa — which is the category for a foreign journalist — may be admitted until the "activities or assignments consistent with the I classification" are completed, not to exceed 90 days, the notification said. Passport holders from Macau Special Administrative Region have been given exception. The extension for Chinese journalists is also for 90 days only. Foreign journalists and their dependents would have to leave the country immediately on expiry of their I visa or denial of their extension application. — PTI

TERROR, N-TRADE PAK GLORY FOR 70 YEARS: INDIA

United Nations, Sept. 26: The "only crowning glory" that Pakistan has to show to the world for the last seven decades is terrorism, ethnic cleansing, majoritarian fundamentalism and clandestine nuclear trade, India said in a scathing response on Friday slamming Pakistani Prime Minister Imran Khan's "incessant rant" and "venom" in the UN General Assembly. "This august forum witnessed a new low on its 75th anniversary. The leader of Pakistan today called for those who incite hate and violence to be outlawed. But as he went on, we were left wondering, was he referring to himself?"

First Secretary in the Permanent Mission of India to the UN Mijito Vinito said, making India's Right of Reply. The rebuttal came after Khan spoke about India's internal affairs, including the issue of Jammu and Kashmir. Vinito walked out when Khan started his usual "diatribe" about India.

"This hall heard the incessant rant of someone who had nothing to show for himself, who had no achievements to speak of and no reasonable suggestion to offer to the world. Instead, we saw lies, misinformation, war mongering and malice spread through this Assembly," the Indian diplomat said.

Slamming Pakistan for its record as a nation, Vinito said, "The only crowning glory that this country has to show to the world for the last 70 years is terrorism, ethnic cleansing, majoritarian fundamentalism and clandestine nuclear trade." — PTI

Youth: Act to halt catastrophic climate change

Brussels, Sept. 26: United under Swedish activist Greta Thunberg, young people rallied worldwide on Friday to demand urgent action to halt catastrophic climate change, in their first global protest since the Coronavirus crisis began. With wild weather wreaking havoc across the world — from fires ravaging the US West, to abnormal heatwaves in the Siberian Arctic and record floods in China — organisers said their aim was to remind politicians that, while the world focused on Covid-19, the climate crisis was more acute than ever.

Demonstrations were planned in more than 3,100 locations, though with pandemic-related curbs limiting the size of gatherings, much of the action shifted online. In Stockholm, Thunberg and a handful of members of her group, "Fridays for Future", assembled outside parliament with signs bearing slogans including "Stop Denying the Climate Is Dying". "We need to treat the climate crisis as a crisis. It's just as simple as that.

● PARTICIPANTS WERE asked to post pictures on social media and join a 24-hour global Zoom call — though mass gatherings were held in countries, including Germany.

The climate crisis has never once been treated as a crisis and unless we treat it as a crisis we won't be able to, so called, 'solve' it," she said.

Organisers said turnout was expected to be far smaller than the global climate strikes held one year ago, which drew more than six million people. Participants were asked to post pictures on social media and join a 24-hour global Zoom call — though mass gatherings were held in countries. In Berlin, police said nearly 10,000 people took part in demonstrations. Protesters cycled in groups to the Brandenburg Gate, where they sat in face masks, observing social distancing and chanting: "Strikes in school, university and companies." — Reuters

SHORT TAKES

Djokovic braces for unhappy Nadal

Paris: Novak Djokovic will renew his love-hate relationship with Roland Garros in the knowledge that it is himself rather than seemingly unsettled 12-time champion Rafael Nadal who could pose the greatest threat to winning a second Paris title and 18th Grand Slam crown. The only man to beat Djokovic in 2020 is Djokovic after the Serb's hair-trigger temper prompted a sensational disqualification from the US Open. Federer will miss the French Open as he rehabs his injured knee. Former champion Simona Halep arrives as the player to beat in a women's draw missing title holder Ashleigh Barty and recent US Open winner Naomi Osaka, two of the world's top three. Serena Williams can never be discounted as she launches another bid for a record-equalling 24th Grand Slam singles crown here. — AFP

Bruno penalty hands Man U win

Brighton: Bruno Fernandes scored a penalty, awarded on a VAR review after the final whistle had blown, as Manchester United rode their luck to register their first Premier League points of the season with a thrilling 3-2 win at Brighton on Saturday. The Seagulls hit the woodwork five times and thought they had earned a deserved point when Solly March headed home to equalise in the 95th minute. However, Neal Maupay's handball was penalised by referee Chris Kavanagh after he had blown for full-time and Fernandes converted from the spot in the 100th minute. Pre-season hopes that United could mount a title challenge to their biggest rivals Liverpool and Manchester City dissipated after a dire display in losing 3-1 to Crystal Palace last weekend. — AFP

Hamilton takes Russian GP pole

Sochi, Russia: Runaway Formula One series leader Lewis Hamilton emerged from a "horrible" red-flagged qualifying session at Sochi on Saturday with a stunning pole position for Sunday's Russian Grand Prix. The Mercedes six-time champion clocked a best lap in one minute and 31.304 seconds to outpace Max Verstappen of Red Bull by half a second. His Mercedes team-mate Valtteri Bottas was third-quickest with Sergio Perez of Racing Point sharing the second row. Hamilton is bidding to claim his fifth win at the Sochi track where Mercedes have dominated winning all six races since 2014. If he translate pole into victory, he will equal Michael Schumacher's career record of 91 Grand Prix wins. — AFP

Celtics rally to beat Miami Heat

Miami: The Boston Celtics roared back in the second half to beat the Miami Heat 121-108 on Friday to stay alive in the NBA playoffs. Jayson Tatum scored 31 points and Jaylen Brown added 28 as six Celtics players scored in double figures and Boston cut the deficit in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference finals to three games to two. Goran Dragic led the Heat with 23 points, who are trying to reach the NBA finals for the first time since 2014. With their season hanging in the balance, the Celtics exploded for 41 points in the third quarter. — AFP

Gill's unbeaten 70 helps KKR beat SRH by 7 wickets

Abu Dhabi, Sept. 26: Kolkata Knight Riders defeated Sunrisers Hyderabad by seven wickets in an Indian Premier League match here on Saturday. Opting to bat first, Sunrisers Hyderabad scored 142 for four with Manish Pandey making a 38-ball 51 at the Sheikh Zayed Stadium. In reply, KKR chased down the target of 143 with two overs to spare. Shubman Gill top-scored with an unbeaten 70 off 62 balls while Eoin Morgan added an unbeaten 42 off 29 balls. Earlier, Kolkata Knight Riders put up a disciplined effort with Pat Cummins brilliantly spearheading the attack to restrict Sunrisers Hyderabad to a modest 142 for four. short against Mumbai Indians, the IPL's most-expensive overseas buy returned tidy figures of 1/19, while spinner Varun Chakravarthy (1/25) outfoxed the dangerous David Warner to derail SRH early on. Pandey returned to form at No. 3 with a 38-ball 51 and along with Wriddhiman Saha (30 off 31 balls), tried to repair the damage but the duo were dismissed at the death and SRH lacked the finishing touch to settle for a seemingly below-par total. Unlike their last match against Mumbai Indians, KKR looked more intent and aggressive with their approach, having brought in Sunil Narine and Cummins up front with the new ball. Cummins smartly altered his length and bowled Jonny Bairstow with an absolute ripper to give KKR the first break-through. In his second-coming, architect-turned mystery spinner Chakravarthy dismissed a well-set Warner (36 off 30) in a soft manner for his maiden IPL wicket, giving KKR the big break-through. — PTI

Dhoni asks team to up the ante

Dubai, Sept. 26: Two consecutive defeats have left Chennai Super Kings reeling and skipper Mahendra Singh Dhoni is contemplating rejigging the combination, saying they are lacking steam and need to come back with a clearer picture for the next IPL games. CSK, one of the most dominant teams in the history of IPL, have lost two of the three games they have played with the latest being a 44-run thrashing at the hands of Delhi Capitals. "I don't think it was a good game for us. There was no dew, but the wicket did slow down. We are

We need to come back with a clearer picture, looking at the combination. Maybe, the team balance will get better once (Ambati) Rayudu comes back in the next game. — M.S. DHONI Chennai super Kings captain after losing the match against Delhi

CSK COACH RUES MISSING KEY PLAYERS

Dubai, Sept. 26: Chennai Super Kings head coach Stephen Fleming has admitted that his side were "a little bit muddled" at the moment and they need a clearer strategy going ahead after suffering two losses in three matches in the Indian Premier League. Fleming also rued the missing of some key players that he said has affected the team combination. "Well, we're a bit muddled at the moment. We're missing some key players, and we're trying lacking a bit of steam in the batting and that hurts. The run rate keeps on mounting after such slow starts and adds pressure, we need to figure that out," Dhoni said after the match against Capitals on Friday night. "We need to come back with a clearer picture, looking at the combination. Maybe, the team balance will get better once (Ambati) Rayudu comes back in the next game." Rayudu, who struck a brilliant 48-ball 71 in CSK's five-wicket win over MI in the tournament-opener, missed the next two games due to a hamstring injury. The CSK captain expressed hope that Rayudu will be available against DC, and when asked why Sam Curran or Ravindra Jadeja was not promoted up the batting order, Fleming said they had used the same tactic in the last couple of games. "We have almost got too many batting options at the moment, so that's why I say we were a little bit muddled with what we're sending out, so we just need to be a little bit clearer with what we're doing, and perhaps what we're missing is a bigger contribution at the top," he said. — PTI

SHAW 'STICKS TO PLAN' TO DELIVER WINNING KNOCK

Dubai, Sept. 26: Young opener Prithvi Shaw, who starred in Delhi Capitals' win over Chennai Super Kings, says his plan was to play along the ground and avoid "silly mistakes" after failing to make an impact in the first match. Shaw was dismissed for five in DC's campaign opener against Kings XI Punjab but the 20-year-old made amends with a fluent 64 off 43 balls on Friday. "My plan was to play my natural game but play the shots along the ground, last game we saw there were some silly mistakes and it was not working for me or the team," Shaw said. Shaw shared a 94-run opening stand with Shikhar Dhawan. "CSK has some good pace bowlers. I was able to time the ball and get some gaps. As the spinners came on, even if we are 40/0, it doesn't matter, I knew me and Dhawan could pace our innings after the powerplay," he said. — PTI

Stuttering starts put Dhoni, Kohli under huge pressure

Over The Top

All of gloom descended on the IPL — in fact the entire cricket world — with Dean Jones's passing away in Mumbai. He was part of the Star Sports experts commentators team, and by all accounts looked to be hale and hearty till the sudden cardiac arrest. I got to know Jones a bit during his playing days — having covered the Tied Match at Madras in 1986 in which he scored a magnificent 210 — and a great deal more as commentator, especially when we worked together during the Indian Cricket League in 2007-8. The last time we had an extended conversation was in 2015-16 when I travelled to Adelaide for the first-ever day-night, pink ball Test, between Australia and New Zealand. We were staying in the same hotel and would invariably meet at breakfast. One morning, I asked him to describe his crick-eting journey. "I could play a bit, I can talk a lot, hope-fully that leaves something for posterity to remember me by," Jones replied. Who knew the end was so near? That he died in the saddle', pursuing his life's abiding passion, is per-haps some solace. Meanwhile, the first week of the IPL has been completed. Going by early trends, this edition too promises to be a bumpy roller-coaster ride for all teams, with dramatic ups and downs. There is too much cricket remaining in the tourna-ment and detailed analy-ses at this juncture would be presumptuous. Instead, I'll spotlight some out-standing performances and some failures from the pool of Indian players in the IPL. K.L. Rahul, Sanju Samson, Rohit Sharma and Prithvi Shaw have been the outstanding bats-men so far. Rahul's blazing century helped Punjab wallop RCB, and was redemption for his team missing out on a win in the first match against Delhi. Prithvi Shaw, so often the despair of his captain and fans because he throws his wicket away with the bowl-ing is at his mercy, came up with a splendid, match-winning half century against Chennai. Rohit, after a stutter against Chennai, came into his own against KKR as only he can, taking a heavy toll of all bowlers, including Pat Cummins, the world's no.1 Test bowler and the most expensive overseas player in the tournament at ₹15.5 crore. The T20 format can be brutally cruel to even the best.

My best innings so far, however, is Sanju Samson's bazooka 74 off 32 balls which devastated CSK. Samson's potential has never been doubt, but his temperament was suspect, which contributed incon-sistent performances and saw him in and out of the Indian team. With this innings, he not only helped Rajasthan — without Stokes and Butler — stun Chennai, but made a statement that he is going to seriously compete with Rishabh Pant for M.S. Dhoni's place in India's T20 and ODI teams. Among bowlers, Mohamed Shami has bowled at hot pace, getting swing and seam movement to harry batsman. He is at the peak of his prowess, and a potent weapon for

Punjab. India hopeful Navdeep Saini has looked sharp and penetrative for RCB. Leg spinners are to the fore among spinners. Most successful has been Yuzvendra Chahal, befud-dling batsmen with his shrewd mix of leg-breaks and googlies. Rahul Tewatia has done the star turn for Rajasthan, but the most impressive has been Punjab's 20-year-old Ravi Bishnoi who has the redoubtable Anil Kumble as coach and mentor, a huge advantage. Which brings me Virat Kohli and M.S. Dhoni, invariably always in the news, the latter even more after he announced his retirement from interna-tional cricket. Both started with victories, but after that have been nonde-script, as captains and batsmen and are under severe pressure. Kohli has flopped in both matches RCB's played, which is unusual, but also troubling for his team. With other topnotchers Finch and de Villiers not striking big either, RCB are not getting the scores to support the excellent Chahal and Saini. For Dhoni, the problem's bigger, and does not have to do with his batting po-sition as is being widely debated. CSK's overall bat-ting and bowling is floun-dering, there is a shortage of power hitters, few bowl-ing options since Watson and Jadhav are not bowl-ing. In an ageing team, particu-larly, these issues become even more detrimental.

Buttler boost for Rajasthan

Sharjah, Sept. 26: Sanju Samson will like to continue his dream form while the presence of Jos Buttler puts Rajasthan Royals on even keel with Kings XI Punjab in an IPL game which promises to be yet another six-hitting contest. Coming into the match after morale-boosting vic-tories, both KXIP and the Royals would look to build a winning momentum after starting the tourna-ment as underdogs.

Buttler, who missed the first match due to quaran-tine rules as he reached the UAE separately with his family, is expected to open alongside Yashashvi Jaiswal while Steve Smith will take David Miller's position in the batting order. Tom Curran and Jofra Archer will again complete the four-player overseas quota.

"I am excited to play my first game, it was great to be back in training with the boys, there's a great vibe around the team so I'm really looking forward to taking the field," Buttler said on the eve of the match. "The atmosphere and energy around the squad is fantastic, obviously lots of confidence after that first game. The training has been very energetic, guys are lively and enjoying each other's company. So expecting a really tough match against Kings XI," Buttler said. K.L. Rahul plundered a record 132 not out off just 69 balls to lead KXIP to a 97-run win over Royal Challengers Bangalore. He did get reprieve twice when his opposite number Virat Kohli dropped a couple of sitters. Rahul, one of the cleanest hitters of the ball, notched up the highest score by an Indian in IPL history and he would like to continue in the same vein on a ground which has short boundaries on all sides. The young Samson, on the other hand, made a mincemeat of the Chennai Super Kings bowlers, hitting nine sixes in his 32-ball 74 before Jofra Archer joined the party with a four-six burst in the final over in the match played here on Tuesday. — PTI
