TN all party meet united in opposing K'taka dam

■ Prepared to make a strong statement to New Delhi

G BABU JAYAKUMAR & D SEKAR | DC CHENNAI, JULY 12

Reflecting the collective sentiments of the people of Tamil Nadu, an all-party delegation would go to New Delhi and put pressure on the Union Government to refrain from giving permission to Karnataka to build a dam across the Cauvery River at Mekedatu.

A meeting of leaders of all legislative parties in the State passed a resolution to that effect, besides extending support and cooperation of the government in all its efforts to stop Karnataka from going ahead with its plans on building the dam and also expressing their united opposition to the project.

The first of the three resolutions urged the Centre not to give permission for the Mekedatu project as it would impinge the share of Cauvery water for the farmers of the State and had also thrown a big challenge to the Constitution.

Attended by leaders of all political parties having representation in the Assembly, the meeting expressed concern over Karnataka attempting to build the dam when the Supreme Court had made it clear that no work on the river system could be undertaken without permission from the riparian States.

Of the three sources of water flow into Tamil Nadu, only one did not have the control of Karnataka government and that was from the catchment area downstream of both the Kabini and Krishnarajasagar dams, Stalin said in his address at the meeting.

It was in that route of the river, after the rivers of

Through those two means of water release, Karnataka let out only excess water after storing whatever it wanted, he said.

KONGU NADU

BJP scotches talk of dividing TN

G BABU JAYAKUMAR & D SEKAR | DC CHENNAI, JULY 12

A raging controversy over an alleged bid by the Union Government to bifurcate Tamil Nadu and carve a Kongu Nadu out of it was put to rest on Monday by the State BJP unit, which clarified that there was no such plan.

'Kongu Nadu is not BJP's idea. A prosperous Tamil Nadu and a strong India is the BJP's goal,' the party's State media unit president, A.N. S. Prasad said in a statement, urging party members not to express their personal views at party meetings, media interviews and social networking platforms.

But much muck raking had already happened during the weekend with many media channels and social networking sites going gaga over the proposed Kongu Nadu that would comprise a few districts in the western region of the State in which the BJP had a good support base, with many State political leaders, too, chipping in with their viewpoints. Though the chimeric, Kongu Nadu, had earlier been projected by fringe political outfits with not popular support, that it suddenly barged into the political discourse with a bang after a vernacular print media outlet putting out a big story speculating on the idea being toyed by the powers that be was surprising.

The speculation gained more credence — some people claim that it all began with that — since the brief bio-data of L. Murugan, who took over as a Union Minister of State in the recent reshuffle, released by the authorities mentioned that he hailed from Kongu Nadu.

Elsewhere, the story triggered explosive reactions, first on social networking sites with people raving and ranting about the alleged proposed move and then in political circles. ■ P4

Italian renaissance: Euro cup goes to Rome

Rome, July 12: Italy's team returned home in triumph Monday after beating England in a tense penalty shootout to win Euro 2020 at Wembley, plunging the host nation into despair and prolonging their 55-year wait for a second major title.

Giorgio Chiellini, the 36-year-old Italy captain, and coach Roberto Mancini lifted the gleaming trophy aloft after the team's plane touched down in Rome just hours after the victory in London on Sunday night.

There was elation among a group who got up early — or never went to bed — to greet the Azzurri as they arrived back in the Italian capital, chanting "We're the champions of Europe!" fronted by Chiellini wearing a crown.

HC rejects plea to reconvey the lands acquired to build law college in Tiruchy 30 years ago

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, JULY 12

Pointing out that when an acquired land has already vested with the state and the compensation has also been paid to the claimant, the claimants thereafter are not entitled to restitution of possession on the ground either the original purpose has seized to be in operation or the land could not be used for any other purpose, the Madras high court has dismissed a petition, which sought to reconvey the land acquired 30 years ago for constructing a law college in Tiruchirappalli, to the legal heirs of its original owner.

Justice N. Anand Venkatesh dismissed the petition filed by R. Rajathi, challenging an order of the government, rejecting the request of the petitioner to reconvey the land acquired from her father-in-law in 1982.

The case of the petitioner was that her father-in-law Balakrishnan Pillai was the owner of the property situated at S.No.182/1, Nagamangaam village, measuring an extent of 7.68 acres. This property, along with the properties belonging to other individuals, were sought to be acquired for the purpose of constructing a law college. A notification was issued for acquiring the land and thereafter an award was passed. Subsequently, the award amount was also paid to the father-in-law of the petitioner on September 23, 1986 and he received a sum of ₹37, 405. However, the government decided to withdraw from the process of acquisition of lands belonging to all other owners except the land belonging to the father-in-law of the petitioner. From the year 1991 onwards, the father-in-law of the petitioner started making representations seeking for reconveyance of the lands. After her father-in-law and her husband died in the year 1991 and 2009 respectively, she filed a petition and this court directed the government to consider her request. Pursuant to which, the impugned order was passed, she added.

The judge said a division bench of this court, after analysing all the earlier judgments held that the question of transfer of lands to the original land owner would arise only in case, the government was satisfied that the land was not required for the purpose for which it was acquired or for any other public purpose. It was further held that there was no right to compel the government to reconvey the land, the judge pointed out.

Citing judgments of the Supreme Court and another division bench of this court, the judge said the above judgments stand in the way of this court from granting the relief sought for by the petitioner. This court was not able to cross the hurdle since both conditions were satisfied in this case, namely, the land has vested with the government and the father-in-law of the petitioner has already received the compensation amount, the judge added.

The judge said section 48-B of the Land Acquisition Act does not confer any right to the parties to claim reconveyance. This provision merely empowers the government to reconvey, provided, the conditions specified in the said section were fulfilled. The government has now come up with a stand that the House Site Patta was going to be issued to the persons belonging to BC and MBC and proceedings have also been initiated in that regard. "Once such a stand is taken by the government, the request made by the petitioner pales into insignificance and section 45-B of the Act becomes inoperational," the judge added.

Zika virus: Flyers from Kerala screened at Chennai airport

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, JULY 12

In view of Zika Virus Disease (ZVD) in neighboring Kerala, the Airports Authority of India on Monday started screening domestic passengers arriving from Kerala at the Chennai airport.

The thermal screening process began at 2 pm on Monday, checking the passengers arriving from Kannur, Thiruvananthapuram, Kozhikode and Kochi. Officials said the screening commenced following the state government's recommendation to AAI recently.

The Tamil Nadu government has intensified checking on the borders with Kerala following the Zika virus outbreak. Passengers travelling from Kerala via trains were also screened at the railway stations in the state, sources said.

Airport officials said that seven domestic flights fly from Kerala to Chennai, with 500- 600 passengers in a day. All these passengers are being scanned for Zika virus infection.

Zika virus is spread through the bite of the Aedes mosquito, with symptoms such as fever, skin rashes, conjunctivitis, muscle and joint pain. India also saw Zika outbreaks in 2017 and 2018, with hundreds of cases reported in Gujarat, Rajasthan, and Madhya Pradesh.

Researchers at IIT-Madras develop AI-based algorithm to identify cancer-causing alterations

Chennai, July 12: Researchers at the Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, on Monday said its research team has developed an Artificial Intelligence based mathematical model to identify cancer-causing alterations in human cells.

The algorithm uses a relatively unexplored technique of leveraging DNA composition to pinpoint genetic alterations that were responsible for progression of cancer, a press release said.

The team was led by professor B Ravindran, head, Robert Bosch Centre for Data Science and Artificial Intelligence (RBCDSAI), IIT Madras and Karthik Raman, faculty member, RBCDSAI, IIT Madras.

"One of the major challenges faced by cancer researchers involves the differentiation between the relatively small number of 'driver' mutations that enable the cancer cells to grow and the large number of passenger mutations that do not have any effect on the progression of the disease", Ravindran said.

Researchers hope that the driver mutations predicted through their 'mathematical model' would ultimately help discover potentially novel drug targets and advance the notion of prescribing the 'right drug to the right person at the right time'.

"Our model could distinguish between well-studied drivers and passenger mutations from cancer genes with an accuracy of 89 per cent", Ravindran said.

The next step for the team includes developing an easy-to-use web interface to enable cancer researchers get predictions on preferred set of variants and further studies on the context of the mutations, among others, the release added. —PTI

Mandatory gold hallmarking in 24 Tamil Nadu districts

New Delhi, July 12: Tamil Nadu, Gujarat and Maharashtra are the top-3 states where the most number of districts have been identified for the first-phase implementation of mandatory hallmarking of gold jewellery and artefacts, according to the consumer affairs ministry.

Mandatory hallmarking of gold jewellery and artefacts came into force from June 16 in a phased manner, and the first phase will cover 256 districts. So far, gold hallmarking, a purity certification of the precious metal, has been voluntary in nature. According to a notification issued by the ministry, the government has identified 256 districts from 28 states and Union territories for Phase-I implementation of gold hallmarking. Among the list of the states, a maximum of 24 districts have been identified from Tamil Nadu for the implementation of mandatory gold hallmarking, followed by Gujarat (23 districts) and Maharashtra (22 districts). About 19 districts each have been identified in West Bengal and Uttar Pradesh for compulsory gold hallmarking. Whereas, seven districts each in Delhi and Telangana, while in Andhra Pradesh and Punjab (12 districts each), Kerala (13 districts), Karnataka (14 districts) and Haryana (15 districts) have been identified, the notification added. Jewellers in 256 districts have been allowed to sell only 14, 18 and 22 carats of gold jewellery with mandatory hallmarking marks.

Last month, the government relaxed mandatory hallmarking of gold for certain players in the jewellery sector after extensive consultation with stakeholders. For instance, the government has exempted jewellers with an annual turnover of up to ₹40 lakh from mandatory hallmarking. It has also been exempted on those who export and re-import jewellery as per the government's trade policy, jewellery meant for international exhibitions as well as for government-approved B2B domestic exhibitions.

The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) has been running a hallmarking scheme for gold jewellery since April 2000. Around 40 per cent of gold jewellery is being hallmarked currently. India has around four lakh jewellers. Out of this, only 35,879 are BIS certified. According to the World Gold Council, India imports 700-800 tonnes of gold annually. —PTI

AIADMK to boycott media debates

G BABU JAYAKUMAR &
D. SEKAR | DC
CHENNAI, JULY 12

Peved over the alleged partiality of media houses against the party, the AIADMK on Monday took a policy decision against taking part in political debates on television and other social media channels.

With a view to belittling the party, media outlets were throwing ethics to the wind and defaming the leaders by conjuring up topics that besmirched the image of the party, alleged a statement by AIADMK Coordinator O Panneerselvam and co-coordinator Edappadi K Palaniswami.

So the AIADMK would boycott the panel discussions on media, the statement said, adding that no one from the party – office bearer or media coordinator or any representative – will take part in the political debates.

The party honchos also requested the media channels not to put anyone else in the panel by identifying them as the AIADMK representatives.

Enquiries with party sources revealed that the leadership felt that all media houses had turned to function in favour of the ruling party and hence were treating their debaters in a shoddy manner.

Apart from even framing the questions in such difficult ways to answer, the anchors do not allow their representatives to even complete their arguments, either by intervening or by calling for a break at that time, the sources said.

Besides, there was no sense of balance in the composition of the panels, which had more speakers opposed to the AIADMK, often leaving the party representative to fight a lone battle with the rest of the panel ganged up against them.

Since the participation of the party representatives on the panel discussions was not actually helping the AIADMK to maintain his image, the leadership had decided to boycott the media. Also they had found most of those representing the party in debates lacking in expertise to defend the party properly.

Similarly boycott of the media discussions had been taken by other parties in the past. The DMK once refused to send its representatives to television studios, alleging the same kind treatment by anchors.

Subsequently, the party bought peace with the media channels and started sending representatives. But the party chose the person who would be well versed on the topic that would be taken up for discussion that particular day.

Prior to that the BJP had taken a decision not to allow its office-bearers and media coordinators go for debates. It was at that time when many channels, in a bid to find some balance, went for journalists or other debaters who would voice the BJP's views.

Perhaps to avoid such a situation, the AIADMK leaders have now sought the cooperation of the channels in not making anyone else represent the party on the discussion.

Call for new district with HQ at Mannargudi

All political parties and service organisations of Mannargudi in Tiruvavur district have appealed to the Tamil Nadu government to form a new district with headquarters at Mannargudi to achieve the 25-year-old demand of Mannargudi people.

A resolution to this effect was adopted at a joint meeting of all parties and service organisations of Mannargudi held here on Sunday night under the presidency of Nesakkaram president Cauvery S. Ranganathan. ## Farmers protest for crop insurance compensation

G. SRINIVASAN | DC
THANJAVUR, JULY 12

Farmers of Thanjavur district staged a demonstration in front of the collectorate here demanding payment of crop insurance compensation under the prime minister's crop insurance scheme during 2020-21.

R. Sukumaran, state vice-president, Vivasaya Sangangalin Koottu Iyakkam, who led the agitation, said that farmers paid a premium to the tune of Rs 19,000 crores. But they have not got the compensation for the crops that were damaged in rain during 2020-2021 December-January. The Tamil Nadu government paid a relief of Rs 8,000 per acre. But farmers are yet to get the compensation under the prime minister's crop insurance scheme, Sukumaran said.

They also appealed to the central government to prevent the Karnataka government from constructing a dam across the Cauvery at Makedatu. They also asked the central government to intervene and get the due share of Cauvery water as per the Supreme Court order from Karnataka.

They also demanded the opening of a direct purchase centre at Sathanur in Thiruvudaimaruthur taluk. They presented the charter of demands to the district revenue officer.

S.P.Jayabal, district president of Thamizhaga Vivasayigal Sangam, and D. Sakthivel, district secretary, participated in the agitation.

UNANIMOUS OPPOSITION TO KARNATAKA'S BID TO BUILD DAM

From P1

It all began with a 'son of the Cauvery River bank' M Karunanidhi initially taking up the issue as PWD Minister in the first DMK government and then seeking the Union Government's mediation in the dispute with Karnataka on September 5, 1969, as chief minister, Stalin said.

Karunanidhi then made the demand for the tribunal on February 17, 1970, and then it became a reality on June 2, 1990, through his persistent fight to establish the rights of the State over the river water, he said.

Welcoming the leaders of the various parties, both the DMK's allies and those in the opposition camp, Stalin said that he was glad to note that all of them shared the same views on the Cauvery issue. The united stand and opposition to Karnataka's bid to build the dam at Makedatu should be conveyed not just to Karnataka but also to the Union Government, he said.

D. Jayakumar, one of the AIADMK representatives at the meeting, told the media that the DMK government should follow the AIADMK's footsteps in fighting for the State's rights unfailingly. He stressed on a legal as well as a political fight.

Jayakumar also said that Karnataka government's action was unacceptable and also amounted to contempt of court. The interests of the State, that of Cauvery and that of the delta region was paramount, he stressed.

The resolutions were passed unanimously by all the parties including the Congress, BJP, AIADMK, PMK, MDMK, CPM, CPI, VCK, MMK, TVK, Kongunadu Makkal Desiya Katchi and Puratchi Paratham.

HOW VALID IS THIS THEORY?

Stephen Hawking said in an interview with The Guardian newspaper in England, "If human life were long enough to find the ultimate theory, everything would have been solved by previous generations. Nothing would be left to be discovered."

At least 40 years ago, I faced this same predicament. Worried that I would never get to my partner's hand in no-trump, I retreated to four spades, despite holding only ace-king doubleton. This worked perfectly. Three no-trump was hopeless and four

SC TO HEAR BIHAR'S PLEA ON SENARI MASSACRE

PARMOD KUMAR | DC
NEW DELHI, JULY 12

The Supreme Court on Monday agreed to hear Bihar government's appeal challenging the Patna High Court verdict acquitting all the 13 accused — allegedly linked to banned Maoist Communist Centre (MCC) — who were convicted by the trial court for their involvement in 1999 Senari massacre in which 34 upper caste people were killed.

A bench comprising Justice S. Abdul Nazeer and Justice Krishna Murari while admitting the appeal by Bihar government against High court order asked it to serve notice on all 13 acquitted accused persons. The High Court in May 2021 had set aside the judgment of a lower court while acquitting the 13 accused and ordered their immediate release.

In 1999, extremists allegedly linked to the MCC executed 34 people belonging to an upper caste in the open field in Senari. On November 18, 2016, the Jehanabad district court had sentenced 10 persons to death and awarded life imprisonment to three others. The district court had acquitted 23 others for lack of evidence.

JAISHANKAR TO ATTEND SCO MEET IN TAJIKISTAN

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, JULY 12

With Afghanistan descending into chaos and anarchy following the withdrawal of US troops, India on Monday said external affairs minister S. Jaishankar would visit Tajikistan on July 13-14 to take part in the meeting of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Council of Foreign Ministers and would also attend the SCO Contact Group on Afghanistan that will meet on July 14 with the participation of the Afghan Government.

As reported by this newspaper last week, the meeting is expected to be attended by Pakistani Foreign Minister Shah Mahmood Qureshi as well. Both neighbours along with Russia, China, and most of the Central Asian Republics are members of the SCO. The meetings in the Tajik Capital Dushanbe are expected to discuss the fluid situation in Afghanistan.

In a statement, the MEA said, "The meeting will discuss the achievements of the organisation as it celebrates the 20th Anniversary of its formation in this year. It will also assess the preparation for the upcoming SCO Council of Heads of States on 16-17 September 2021 in Dushanbe and exchange views on current international and regional issues."

BJP PULLS UP ITS COIMBATORE UNIT

Some news channels on the social networking platforms even explored the plausibility of such a move and came up with a conclusion that it was possible. They went to the extent of comparing it with Kashmir that was splintered and the erstwhile Andhra Pradesh, from which Telangana was carved out.

To bolster the conjecture that the BJP government was working on the proposal, someone even recalled Vanathi Srinivasan, MLA from Coimbatore South, mentioning the word 'Kongu Nadu' in the context of her allegation that the region was being neglected by the DMK government.

Even as many political leaders expressed their anger over the alleged proposal by the Union Government to form a new State, the BJP's Coimbatore North District unit added fuel to fire by making an open demand to that effect on Sunday.

The executive committee of the district unit passed a resolution saying Kongu Nadu should be carved out through an administrative process to uphold the honour and self-respect of the region and also to protect the people's livelihood among other things.

Since that resolution confirmed the speculative story in the vernacular media outlet, raising more anger among the common people, Prasad's made the request to BJP members not to give room for forces inimical to Tamil Nadu's interest to twist and misinterpret the good intentions, thoughts and views of the party to create confusion in the people's mind.

VACCINE DRIVE NOT HELD IN 25 RAJ. DIST. DUE TO SHORTAGE

Jaipur, July 12: Covid-19 inoculation sessions were not conducted in at least 25 of Rajasthan's 33 districts on Monday due to vaccine shortage, an official said.

"The state had only 10,000 doses on Monday. So, vaccination sessions could not be conducted in about 25 districts of the state," health secretary Siddharth Mahajan said.

Rajasthan will receive eight lakh doses on Monday night and this will be consumed in the next two days, he said.

Mahajan said that the state had demanded 1.5 crore anti-Covid vaccine doses for July, but the Centre allocated 65 lakh doses. The officials said that a large number of people need to be vaccinated for the second dose in July for which adequate supply is required.

Rajasthan has also written to the Centre to give the vaccine doses allocated to private hospitals to the state government, Mahajan said.

According to the health department, from June 21 to July 8, the state had received 31.63 lakh vaccine doses from the Centre.

During this period, 48 lakh people were vaccinated against the coronavirus and among the doses administered, were also those which the state had purchased on its own expense.

On July 9, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot in a letter to the Union health minister had urged the Centre to not only increase vaccine allocation, but also to allocate Rajasthan's full quota, which also includes vaccines for private hospitals, to the state government.

Currently, daily vaccination is limited to the extent of supplies received from the central government, he had said.

The daily average of vaccine doses received, since the start of the vaccination drive for 18 years and above, has been around two to three lakh only, Gehlot said.

In Rajasthan, over 2.63 crore people have already received their first dose, and out of these, over 46 lakhs have received the second dose. — PTI

Cars, buildings swept away as flash floods hit Himachal

Three NDRF teams rushed to flash flood-affected regions of Himachal

Dharamshala (HP), July 12: Flash flood triggered by heavy rains swept away buildings and cars at tourist spots as bad weather also led to the closure of the airport here.

The National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) has rushed three teams to conduct rescue-and-search operations in the flash flood-affected regions in Kangra district of Himachal Pradesh. The teams were sent after heavy rains hit many parts of the district and several people were reported stranded near Boh and Tatwani villages, an official spokesperson said.

Thakur also expressed concern over the losses due to heavy rain and directed the administrations of various districts to ensure speedy relief and rescue operation in the affected areas.

He also urged the local people and tourists to refrain from going near the river banks to avoid any untoward incident.

Deputy Commissioner Dr Nipun Jindal said, "All the tourists visiting Dharamshala have been instructed to postpone their tour so that they do not face any kind of inconvenience."

He said the tourists who

9-day Rath Yatra starts on colourful note sans devotees

AKSHAYA KUMAR
SAHOO | DC
PURI, JULY 12

Lord Jagannath's annual nine-day Rath Yatra festival on Monday began on a colourful note, despite the absence of lakhs of devotees who throng the pilgrim city during this period every year to participate in the grand event.

As the devotees stayed away due to Covid-19 restrictions and watched the festival on television screens for the second year in a row, hundreds of servitors of Srimandir, the abode of Lord Jagannath pulled the chariots of the deities.

All the servitors had undergone strict Covid-19 tests to check infection in the city. "We cannot express the pain in our heart as the Covid-19 situation keeps lakhs of devotees away from Lord Jagannath. The Rath Yatra is meant for devotees who gather here to see the deities on the chariots with a belief that such a darshan will pave the way for Moksha or liberation of soul from rebirth. It is also meant for people of other sects and faiths who on normal days do not have access to Srimandir for darshan. They come here to see the deities but also pull the chariots," said Pandit Suryanarayan Rath Sharma, a priest at Srimandir and Jagannath cult researcher.

The process of the Rath Yatra began with the priests conducting all the morning rituals after which Lord Jagannath and two His siblings — elder brother Lord Balabhadra and Devi Subhadra — were led on a procession to the chariots amidst playing of drums cymbals.

After the deities were mounted on the chariots, Sankaracharya Swami Nischalananda Saraswati offered his prayers following which Gajapati King Dibyasingha Deb performed the customary Chherapahanra or cleaning of chariots with a gold-coated broomstick.

Around 500 servitors of the temple along with the security personnel pulled the three chariots — Nandighosha of Lord Jagannath, Taladhwaaja of Lord Balabhadra and Darpadalan of Devi Subhadra — to Gundicha Mandir, a temple located at distance of two km from Srimandir.

No Rath Yatra in J'khand this year

Ranchi, July 12: Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren has requested people in the state to worship Lord Jagannath at their homes as Rath Yatra will not be taken out this year due to the prevailing Covid-19 situation.

Soren said that Rath Yatra could not be allowed for the second consecutive year as the Coronavirus threat is still looming large in the state.

"It pains me to not allow Rath Yatra but many stern steps have to be taken to secure our tomorrow. Celebration of many festivals had to be subdued due to Coronavirus pandemic. Seek blessings of Lord Jagannath from the safety of your homes," the Chief Minister said in a statement issued late on Sunday night.

Chisinau, July 12: Moldova's main pro-European party has won a resounding victory in parliamentary polls, results showed Monday, strengthening the hand of President Maia Sandu as the former World Bank economist pushes to reform her ex-Soviet country.

Sunday's snap election — called by Sandu in April to shore up her position against pro-Russia forces — saw her centre-right Action and Solidarity (PAS) party take 52.80 per cent of the vote. PAS will get 63 seats in the 101-seat parliament for four-year terms, according to the Central Election Commission. SUU KYI TRIAL

Naypyidaw, July 12: Myanmar's spiralling coronavirus count struck the trial of ousted leader Aung San Suu Kyi on Monday, her lawyers said, with a witness for the prosecution failing to testify after becoming infected. Cases are spiking in Myanmar, with the State Administration Council reporting more than 3,400 new cases Sunday, up from fewer than 50 per day in early May.

Suu Kyi was deposed by the military in February, sparking a mass uprising and a brutal crackdown. More than 890 civilians have been killed by the junta's forces.

A second witness gave testimony on the same charges, and the court also heard evidence on separate charges that Suu Kyi illegally imported and possessed walkie talkies, he said.

EGYPT UPHELDS
LIFE SENTENCES
FOR 10 ISLAMISTS

Cairo, July 12: Egypt's highest appeals court on Sunday upheld the life sentences of 10 leaders of Egypt's outlawed Muslim Brotherhood, including the group's head, the state-owned MENA news agency reported. In 2019, a Cairo criminal court had convicted all 10, including the group's leader, or supreme guide, Mohamed Badie, of charges related to killing policemen and organising mass jail breaks during Egypt's 2011 uprising.

That revolt culminated in the ouster of longtime autocrat Hosni Mubarak. The defendants were found guilty of helping around 20,000 prisoners escape, and of undermining national security by conspiring with foreign militant groups — the Palestinian Hamas and Lebanon's Hezbollah.

Johannesburg, July 12: The South African government is all set to deploy troops to control the violence that has erupted in various parts of the country over the jailing of former president Jacob Zuma for contempt of court. KwaZulu-Natal is Zuma's home province. Zuma is currently imprisoned in the Estcourt Correctional Centre for failing to obey a court order to testify at a judicial commission that is investigating allegations of corruption during his term as South Africa's president from 2009 to 2018.

The 79-year-old politician, who denies corruption, handed himself in to police on Wednesday last week to begin his 15-month sentence.

Appoint Deuba PM: Nepal SC

Apex court reinstates the lower house second time in five months

Kathmandu, July 12: In a landmark verdict, Nepal's Supreme Court on Monday directed President Bidya Devi Bhandari to appoint Nepali Congress chief Sher Bahadur Deuba as prime minister by Tuesday and reinstated the House of Representatives for a second time in five months.

A five-member Constitutional Bench of the Supreme Court led by Chief Justice Cholendra Shumsher Rana issued the verdict stating that President Bhandari's decision to dissolve the lower house upon a recommendation of Prime Minister K.P. Sharma Oli was an unconstitutional act, delivering a major blow to the veteran Communist leader who was preparing for snap polls. The bench issued a mandamus to appoint Deuba as the Prime Minister by Tuesday. Deuba, 74, has served as the prime minister on four occasions; first from 1995 to 1997, then from 2001 to 2002, again from 2004 to 2005, and from 2017 to 2018.

Currently, he is the Leader of the Opposition in the House. The court also ordered summoning a new session of the House of Representatives at 5 PM on July 18.

Chief Justice Rana also said that the bench has concluded that party whip does not apply when lawmakers take part in the voting to elect new Prime Minister as per Article 76(5) of the Constitution. The bench comprising four other senior most justices — Dipak Kumar Karki, Mira Khadka, Ishwar Prasad Khatriwada and Dr Ananda Mohan Bhattarai — had concluded hearings in the case last week.

President Bhandari had dissolved the 275-member lower house for the second time in five months on May 22 at the recommendation of Prime Minister Oli and announced snap elections on November 12 and November 19.

Last week, the Election Commission had announced the schedule for mid-term elections despite the uncertainty over polls. Welcoming the apex court verdict, senior leader of the Nepal Communist Party-UML Madhav Kumar Nepal said that the judgement was commendable.

"The Supreme Court has done a commendable job. This has saved the political system that is in place. Since the court has directly asked to appoint Deuba as new prime minister, we have no role to play now," he said.

Under Madhav Nepal's leadership, 23 lawmakers of UML had put their signature in favour of Deuba's claim to the prime ministership.

Madhav Nepal also said that Parliament will now take all the decisions.

"Parliament has been reinstated. We will now go to Parliament. All the decisions will be taken from Parliament now," he said. "The court's verdict has also raised moral questions on Oli's actions."

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Oli's supporters, including youths and students affiliated to the ruling CPN-UML, took to streets here to protest against the apex court's verdict against the 69-year-old Communist leader. Cadres of the National Youth Force affiliated to CPN -UML gathered in Maitighar Mandal near the court premises chanting slogans against the verdict.

SUSPECT HELD BY HAITIAN COPS

Port-Au-Prince, July 12: Haitian police announced Sunday they had arrested a Haitian national "who had political objectives" in recruiting the gunmen who assassinated President Jovenel Moise last week.

"This is an individual who entered Haiti on a private plane with political objectives," said Leon Charles, head of the Haitian National Police. Christian Emmanuel Sanon, 63, who is of Haitian nationality, arrived in the island nation in June accompanied by several Colombians, according to details provided at a press conference.

Several Haitian ministers were also at the conference. "The mission then changed," Charles said, explaining that the intent had originally been to arrest Moise, and the operation was mounted from within the country.

"Twenty-two other individuals entered Haiti," Charles said. Eighteen Colombian citizens have been arrested since Wednesday. By interrogating them, the Haitian police learned that Sanon had recruited 26 team members via a Florida-based Venezuelan security company named CTU.

"When we, the police, blocked the progress of these bandits after they committed their crime, the first person that one of the assailants called was Christian Emmanuel Sanon."

Rare anti-govt protests erupt in Cuba

Havana, July 12: Thousands of Cubans took part in rare protests Sunday against the communist government, chanting "Down with the dictatorship" as President Miguel Diaz-Canel called on his supporters to confront the demonstrators.

The anti-government rallies started spontaneously in several cities as the country endures its worst economic crisis in 30 years, with chronic shortages of electricity and food.

Several hundred protesters marched through the capital Havana chanting, "We want liberty," with a heavy military and police presence deployed after demonstrators massed outside the Capitol building.

Police used tear gas to disperse crowds, and at least 10 people were arrested, while officers used plastic pipes to beat protesters, AFP journalists witnessed.

Several thousand protesters — mainly young people — also took to the streets of San Antonio de los Banos, a town 30 kilometres (20 miles) southwest of Havana.

Security forces arrived soon after the protests began, and Diaz-Canel later visited the town himself surrounded by party activists as residents heckled him, tries racing to express support for Abdullah.

Hamzah denied the allegations in video statements released in April after he was placed under house arrest, saying he was being silenced for speaking out against corruption and poor governance by the ruling system. The palace drama exposed deep-rooted economic and social challenges in the country, which has long been seen as a bastion of stability in a volatile region.

The royal family says it resolved the dispute with Hamzah, whose exact status is unknown but was never formally charged. Awadallah's US lawyer says his client alleged he was tortured in Jordanian detention and fears for his life. Abdullah is expected in Washington on July 19, when he will be the first Arab leader to meet with President Joe Biden at the White House.

Jordan is a close US ally in the Middle East and is seen as a key partner in eventually reviving the Israeli-Palestinian peace process. Lt. Col. Muwafaq al-Maseadeh, a military judge, announced the verdict following a closed-door trial that consisted of just six hearings. The two were sentenced to 15 years for each of two felonies, but the judge said only one sentence would be imposed on them.

Digging up the past in Israel

Israeli students excavate at the site of Khirbat er-Rai near the southern Israeli city of Kiryat Gat on Monday, where a 3,100-year-old pottery fragment bearing a rare inscription was found. It dates from around 1,100 BCE.

2 Jordanians jailed over coup

● BASSEM AWADALLAH, who has US citizenship and once served as a top aide to King Abdullah II, and Sharif Hassan bin Zaid, a member of the royal family, were found guilty of sedition and incitement charges.

al-Khasawneh, a lawyer for Sharif, said they would appeal the verdict. He declined to comment further. They two men were swept up in a wave of arrests in April and Hamzah was placed under house arrest.

The rare public rift at the highest levels of the monarchy sent jitters across the region, with countries racing to express support for Abdullah.

WA faces EU consumer complaint over privacy

London, July 12: Facebook's WhatsApp faces a complaint from European Union consumer groups who say the chat service has been unfairly pressuring users to accept a new privacy update in what it calls a breach of the bloc's regulations.

The European Consumer Organisation, or BEUC, filed a complaint Monday over the way WhatsApp has brought in changes to its terms of service and privacy policy, saying they aren't transparent or easily understood by users.

Many WhatsApp users switched to other chat apps like Signal and Telegram because of privacy concerns when the update was rolled out earlier this year because of concerns the changes would give Facebook access to more information on users.

"WhatsApp has been bombarding users for months with aggressive and persistent pop-up messages to force them to accept its new terms of use and privacy policy," BEUC Director General Monique Goyens said. "They've been telling users that their access to their app will be cut off if they do not accept the new terms. Yet consumers don't know what they're actually accepting." BEUC and consumer rights groups from eight member countries filed the complaint to the EU's executive Commission and the bloc's network of consumer authorities. WhatsApp said the complaint is based on a misunderstanding of the update's purpose and effect and would welcome the opportunity to explain it to the BEUC.

Make space accessible to all as a new age dawns

The safe conduct of a flight for space tourists, including Virgin Galactic boss Richard Branson, to the edge of space and back is another triumph of the spirit of human endeavour. This opens up an opportunity for ordinary people who are not trained astronauts to be able to handle microgravity, high G forces and Mach 3 speeds in the sky. They can travel in a capsule while detached from the mother aeroplane to be fired by a hybrid rocket engine to 86 km above the earth in order just to gaze at our home planet and its curvature and then glide back to the ground.

Man has always been fascinated by heights, be it Mount Everest or flying at altitude and much like Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay, who were the first to climb to the roof of the world. Virgin's septuagenarian Branson will be best remembered for beating the world's richest man Jeff Bezos by nine days to go to space first. After spaceship VSS Unity's flight we may be a baby step closer to man's ultimate dream of colonising the moon or even Mars someday if only because Planet Earth might become too hazardous to reside in considering how its resources are being depleted and inviting climate change catastrophe.

It is possible to be cynical about rich patrons paying up to ₹1.82 crore for a ticket for about three minutes of weightlessness before floating back to their seats near the threshold of space. It can be argued that a few million people on the ground are starving while the rich enjoy space in joyrides. The human race cannot be considered a form of life intelligent enough to explore the limits of wondrous possibilities without science and engineering being harnessed with such precision to satisfy man's unquenchable curiosity and test the limits of ingenuity.

The perils of technology going wrong cannot, however, be discounted as Virgin's own experience portrayed when it lost a flight with the plane breaking apart during a test flight with disastrous consequences in 2014, leaving at least one co-pilot dead. The Unity's "feathering" twin tails have been designed to swing upwards at 60 degrees to create drag and make the capsule drift down to Earth. Branson joked that like James Bond he had a "licence to thrill", which might be true considering the adventurous life he has led. It is in advancing this dawn of space tourism that he has contributed most to the human race.

Aeronautical engineer and researcher Sirisha Bandla, with roots in Andhra's Guntur, was on the pioneering flight on merits whereas 600 budding space tourists have been queuing up with tickets for seven years for the space experience. There is more to come from the world's tech billionaires of the new economy as Bezos' Blue Origin intends sending space tourists beyond the Karman line, which is said to lie 100 km above Earth and Elon Musk's SpaceX which will keep tourists in space for days but at ticket prices running into millions of dollars. Bezos and Musk's flights will be based on space capsules being lifted by rockets unlike Virgin's reusable space plane.

Tennis greatness personified

Chasing Grand Slam tennis titles is his calling in life. The Serbian star Novak Djokovic is already being spoken of as the greatest in tennis history, the world's best ever hard court player with an envious Wimbledon record of six golden trophies on grass and a couple of French Opens. With 20 Grand Slam titles, he is abreast of his contemporary greats Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal, whose votaries rate them as supreme all-time greats. At 34, age favours Djokovic, and he is feeding his insatiable hunger in his golden year of 2021 when a US Open triumph and a calendar slam can put him on an even higher pedestal than yesteryear greats Don Budge and Rod Laver.

A curious aspect of Djokovic's all-court game is he can suffer extreme anxiety as the weight of history seems to sit on his shoulders. He lost the opening set to a rising grass court star in the Italian Matteo Berrettini, who was adopted by the Wimbledon crowd with a strong anti-Djokovic bias. But the Serb, who as a kid was whisked away to Germany when bombs were falling round their home, is not the one to try and win popularity contests. His extraordinary skills come wrapped in a unique understanding that his best game will come together when he most needs it. Returning Berrettini's 240 kmph serves is itself a challenge but Djokovic broke his serve six times to show who is the champion.

The absence of Naomi Osaka had thrown open the distaff side of the draw. Emerging champion with a powerful game backed by craftiness and a spirit of competition to match was the Australian Ashleigh Barty, who as a woman of indigenous heritage from the Ngaragu tribe, wins one for diversity. To make it even more memorable, Barty wore a replica of Evonne Goolagong's dress from the 1980 final. The two native Aussies are not just title winners in a sport dominated by whites. There were slices of history too in young Samir Banerjee of USA, born to Indian parents, winning the boys title in just his second attempt at a major tournament and Marija Cicack becoming the first woman in 144 years to officiate in a men's singles final.

Liberty and rights for all: Myth of the Magna Carta

Mohan Guruswamy

We now take our liberties and rights for granted, and the way of life it guarantees us as inherent. But what we now have has come after a long process of evolution, and many a time they flowed out of something else quite unintended. The Magna Carta is a case in point. In June, the entire English-speaking world celebrated the 806th anniversary of the Magna Carta, or Great Charter, that is synonymous with the fundamental rights and rule of law which are considered the cornerstones of modern democracy. Much of the world now believes that the Magna Carta came out of an eruption of a long-suppressed yearning among the common people for protection against the caprices of the monarch and the nobility. But it is not so.

It came out of an intraclass struggle between 40 barons and their King. England's King John had emptied the royal treasuries in a fruitless war with France, and the barons were no longer willing to meet his demands for higher taxes. The consequence was the Magna Carta to protect the barons from the King's demands.

The demand to be judged by their peers was another protection. It was not meant for the ordinary people, but only for the barons. Thus, the Magna Carta was not quite a grand demand for equality, the basic freedoms and rule of law but just a narrow demand for restricting the ruler's powers to ring fence the interests of the elite.

But the myth of the Magna Carta has endured, and it is often invoked whenever and wherever people struggled against injustice and freedom.

Mahatma Gandhi invoked it in South Africa when he fought for racial equality, and emancipators and freedom fighters like Nelson Mandela, Jawaharlal Nehru, Ho Chi Minh, Fidel Castro and Martin Luther King Jr have invoked it when they were being tried for sedition by oppressive rulers. Like those English barons, they too were arguing for limiting the oppressive and unjust powers of oppressive regimes, but now not just for themselves and their peers, but for all their fellow citizens. The story of modern democracy is about the long journey from the rights of a few to the rights of all.

Another myth that endures is that the twin notions of "democracy" and "the rule of law" somehow originated with the Magna Carta and its acceptance. The fact is that the King rejected the Magna Carta soon after it was presented to him. But King John avoided the consequences of the barons' indignation by helpfully dying and thereby perpetuating the myth.

The first democracies long preceded the Magna Carta of 1215. Even as early as the sixth century BC, several "independent republics" existed in India as "sanghas" and "ganas". The main characteristics of these sanghas and ganas were a raja, elected or hereditary, and a deliberative assembly. These assemblies met regularly and passed laws pertaining to finances, administration and justice. The raja and other officials obeyed the decisions of these assemblies. While these assemblies were mostly comprised of the nobility and landowners, in some cases they included all free men. But the Brahminical system prevailed in the sense that the monarch always had to be a Kshatriya. While the Lichavis, who held sway over the Kathmandu Valley in present-day Nepal and a major part of northern Bihar, were governed by an assembly of about 7,000 rajas who in turn were the heads of all the major families, others like the Shakyas, the clan to which Gautam Buddha belonged, had assemblies open to all people, rich or poor, and noble or common.

The greatest contribution to the evolution of democracy as a philosophy was in Athens, where great philosophers like Socrates, Plato and Aristotle lit up the public discourse with their brilliance and original thinking. Socrates and his pupil, Plato, deliberated and expounded on the role of a citizen within a community and laid down the foundations of the political philosophy that flourished in Athens and spread to most of the world over the next two and a half millennia. Aristotle, who counted among his students Alexander the Great, dwelt more on systems of government and who first qualified liberty as the fundamental principle of democracy.

This principle that "whatever is decided by the majority is sovereign" has always had to contend with the rights of the individual. In the United States of America, which was formed after a great debate among the founding fathers as a democracy, it was by majority will that slavery had flourished till the Civil War. It took another century before equal rights for black people became the majority will. This constant struggle for individual rights against the will of the collective has been the central story of the evolution of the modern democratic state.

Free India by contrast provided for all these rights and liberties from the beginning in its Constitution. The Magna Carta, because it sought to limit the powers of the ruler, perhaps still has a place in our hearts and minds, because of just that. To most of us citizens in democratic states, our life is also a constant struggle against the assertion of collective will to trample individual liberties or the rights of smaller groups.

The rise of democratic and elected parliaments in England and Scotland just 50 years after the Magna Carta is not a coincidence but the consequence of that demand to share power. It is from the Magna Carta that the English writ of habeas corpus evolved, safeguarding individuals and their freedoms against unjust and unlawful imprisonment with the right to appeal. It is from this emergence of petitions for the production of the body that parliaments in due course became to be increasingly used as a forum to address all the concerns and grievances of ordinary people.

Thus, whatever be the first intent of the Magna Carta, its consequences greatly expanded over the centuries into a charter, which guarantees individual liberties, equality and justice to all, irrespective of their race, religion and class. But that struggle is far from over. It goes on and only its forms change as human values and means change.

POLICE PUNISHED

Tiruchy superintendent of police, P. Moorthy, is reported to have ordered the transfer of 16 police personnel attached to Lalgudi police station, after he found improper maintenance of registers and on-duty police personnel were absent during a surprise inspection. While this is what is expected of from the higher officials to keep the personnel of police stations coming under the jurisdiction of the former under a tight leash, had this been resorted to more often, the death of the father-son duo while in custody in Sathankulam police station and such other issues would never have occurred. Police personnel posted in stations located in far-flung areas behave as if they are a law unto themselves as there are no checks by the higher officials. Periodical surprise visits by the higher officials to the stations for regularisation.

BACK NATO

Apologies your editorial, India must make clear its Afghan role after US exit. No doubt India has helped in many spheres to develop infrastructure etc. in Afghanistan but it cannot stay put further in Kabul risking its forces and losing resources. With the Taliban having captured almost three-fourths it may run roughshod defeating the Afghan army and the warlords fighting along with it. The danger signal is the wolf Pakistan may support the dragon which is waiting to capitalise on the Afghan imbroglio, expand its influence to counter India and NATO nations which may tacitly support Taliban courtesy Islamabad. Its larger interest is to bolster business with its expansionist design to dominate Asia. For India, it is better to quit altogether, or else rope in Russia and NATO nations to outwit Pakistan.

DUTY-CONSCIOUS DRIVER

It is with a heavy heart we read the news that Selvaraj, a driver of the Tamil Nadu State Transport Corporation, suffered a heart attack collapsed and died while driving a bus to Perundurai with 28 passengers but not before halting the bus at a safe place sensing his health status and averting a major accident. One dreads to think of the calamity that would have befallen the 28 passengers if only the driver has not thought about the safety of the passengers as his prime duty and halted the bus before collapsing. The driver's selfless act should be rightly recognised by the government with compensation commensurate with the value of 28 precious lives besides his and must take care of the needs of his family. Not only the government is duty bound to support the bereaved family but also the families of all the 28 passengers saved are duty-bound to do their mite for the poor family that has lost its head and breadwinner.

The weak case that kept Stan Swamy in jail, where he died

Stan Swamy, who died around a week ago after being denied bail in the Bhima Koregaon case, was a Tamil priest who spent decades working with adivasis in Jharkhand. Before that he was director of the Indian Social Institute in Bengaluru. Why was he in jail for an event in Pune? The Bhima Koregaon case is five separate and unrelated things. The first was an event called Elgar (or Yalgar, meaning battle cry) Parishad on December 31, 2017 in Pune. The speakers there included former high court judge B.G. Kolse-Patil and P.B. Sawant, a former Supreme Court judge, Jignesh Mewani, Independent MLA from Gujarat, and JNU activist Umar Khalid also spoke. Members of Kabir Kala Manch, who are artists-activists, participated too.

The second event was next day, January 1, 2018. This was the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Koregaon Bhima, a Pune suburb on Bhima river, where on January 1, 1818, the British defeated the remnants of the Maratha empire. The British side had many dalit Mahar soldiers who overpowered a larger army led by the Brahmin Peshwa.

Since 1927 when B.R. Ambedkar visited the village to speak of the victory, hundreds of thousands of dalits came to Koregaon Bhima each year to gather at the obelisk raised to mark the battle. But in 2018, there had been tension due to events in the neighbouring village of Vadhu Budruk. This had to do with who had cremated Sambhaji, Shivaji's son, who was executed by Aurangzeb in 1689 near Koregaon Bhima. The Mahars claimed it was one of them, Gopal Govind, who cremated the Maratha in defiance of Aurangzeb's orders. This offended the Marathas, who claimed two of their community had performed the rituals. Govind's tomb in Vadhu Budruk was in the same village square as Sambhaji's. On December 28, a board was placed over Govind's tomb, claiming the feat of his cremation of Sambhaji. The next day Govind's tomb was desecrated — the board was removed and the umbrella structure over the tomb was damaged. A complaint was filed by dalits under the Scheduled Castes/Scheduled Tribes Prevention of Atrocities Act. The Koregaon Bhima panchayat asked its residents to boycott the January 1 event and called for shops to remain shut. That morning violence erupted between dalits, who said they were attacked by a group carrying saffron flags, and the local Marathas, who said they were attacked by dalits. One Maratha was killed. The violence spread to other towns in western Maharashtra and 300 dalits, including children, were held by the Mumbai police.

The third event was a police complaint, filed a few days later, by a man who said the Elgar Parishad's agenda was "to mislead the dalit community, to convert them to Maoist thought... and adopt the path of violence", and that "through their publications, books and speeches, they wanted to increase enmity in society". The man who filed the complaint, Tushar Damgude, said he followed a "simple" rule for his Hindutva: "We should keep things which are helpful for Hindus; the rest should be abandoned".

It was on the basis of this complaint that the police began arresting the activists, many of whom had nothing to do with, and weren't present in Bhima Koregaon. The fourth event was a report produced by an RSS outfit called the Forum for Integrated National Security, whose secretary general, Seshadri Chari, was on the BJP's national executive committee. This report said there was a Maoist strategy to lure people into joining "mass organisations" concerned about issues like caste, justice and equality, which would then help the Maoists recruit for the final armed struggle against the State. This report was released on March 9, 2018.

Another report by the same author was submitted to Maharashtra chief minister Devendra Fadnis in April. In May, the UAPA law was added to the Bhima Koregaon case. On June 6, the Maharashtra police arrested five people including Dhawale of the Republican Panthers, lawyer and dalit activist Surendra Gadling, scholar Mahesh Raut, who worked on adivasi rights, assistant professor of English at Nagpur University Shoma Sen and Rona Wilson of JNU, who worked with the Committee to Release Political Prisoners. They were described by the police as the "top brass of the urban Maoists".

The police claimed it found a letter in Wilson's house dated July 2017 which said: "Comrade Kisan and few other senior comrades have proposed concrete steps to end Modi Raj. We are thinking along the lines of another Rajiv Gandhi-type incident."

On the basis of this, the police arrested Sudha Bharadwaj, who studied mathematics at IIT Kanpur and gave up her US citizenship at age 18; Gautam Navlakha, who also wrote for Economic and Political Weekly; Anand Teltumbde, assistant professor at Goa Institute of Management and married to a granddaughter of Ambedkar; Arun Ferreira, a lawyer defending the accused in this case; Vernon Gonsalves, a professor of business management and economics at Ruparel College and HR College of Commerce and Economics; Varavara Rao, an author and poet who was a lecturer on Telugu literature; Hany Babu, a professor of linguistics at Delhi University. Three members of the Kabir Kala Manch — Sagar Gorkhe, Jyoti Jagtap and Ramesh Gaichor — were arrested, and Father Stan Swamy, 83-year-old Jesuit and theologian.

None of them had anything to do with the Bhima Koregaon violence, and weren't even present there. The case is said to be sensitive because of the assassination plot allegation, but the trial hasn't started.

Last year, the BBC carried a report on Stan Swamy headlined: "The oldest person to be accused of terrorism in India".

Q1 preview: Expect a better quarter YoY A consolidation phase for banks

FALAKNAAZ SYED
MUMBAI, JULY 12

The second wave of the Covid-19 pandemic, coupled with localised lockdowns, is likely to impact the asset quality performance of banks, but to a lesser extent compared to the first lockdown.

Analysts expect bad loan formation for the April-June quarter (Q1FY22) to remain moderate—also reflected in the lower cheque bounce rate of 30 per cent versus a peak of 38 per cent last year—partly offset by restructuring and the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS).

Within retail loans, stress remains elevated, mainly in commercial vehicle loans, personal loans, loan against property, two-wheeler loans and microfinance loans, which should lead to higher stress formation for banks with higher exposure to these segments such as HDFC Bank, IndusInd Bank, RBL Bank, Bandhan Bank, AU SFB and Ujjivan, analysts said.

Bad loans in credit cards could be limited as banks and customers have explored the EMI option. Similarly, SME stress could largely be suppressed via ECLGS/restructuring option. Overall credit cost too could be elevated due to upfront stress recognition, partly offset by some contingent provision buffer usage by select banks.

"We expect overall preprovisioning operating profit (PPoP) growth to be soft due to subdued growth/continued softness in Net Interest Margins accentuated by non-NPA recognition, moderate treasury support, and lack of large one-off gains such as recovery from Bhushan Power in Q4 (though partly offset by recovery from Kingfisher Airlines). Among large banks, we expect ICICI to report healthy profitability, led by better NIMs/moderate credit cost, while Axis may have the option to claw back provisions to boost profitability. HDFC Bank's growth trajectory remains moderate, but it should be able to deliver around 20 per cent YoY profit growth. IndusInd, RBL should report slightly weaker numbers," said Anand Dama, analyst at Emkay Global.

"IndusInd Bank, in particular, may look to strengthen provisioning buffers, leading to elevated credit cost. Bandhan should continue to reel under MFI pain. PSBs, in general, may report moderate PPoP due to soft treasury performance, but limited credit cost and lower tax incidence for select banks (Indian, Union Bank) should boost profits. SBI and Indian Bank will be outliers," added Dama.

The momentum in recovery gained over 4QFY21 was impacted by the second Covid wave, with the asset quality outlook deteriorating once again. Business activity was impacted by the second wave over April to May 2021. As a result, systemic growth moderated to 5.8 per cent as of June 18, 2021 (1 per cent decline over FY22 year-to-date).

While economic activity has started to pick up since June, business growth may remain modest over 1QFY22, said Motilal Oswal in a report.

According to Gaurav Jani of Centrum, "Midcap banks could see loan growth at 6.8 per cent year-on-year, largely led by Federal Bank and City Union Bank. Being SME-focused, asset quality impairment could be more pronounced for City Union Bank and DCB Bank."

RETAIL INVESTORS CAN SOON BUY GOVT BONDS FROM RBI

FC BANKING BUREAU
MUMBAI, JULY 12

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Monday issued a 'RBI Retail Direct' scheme, which is a one-stop solution to facilitate investment in government securities by individual investors.

Under the scheme, retail investors (individuals) will have the facility to open and maintain the 'Retail Direct Gilt Account' (RDG Account) with the RBI, the central bank said.

Also, the RDG Account can be opened through an 'online portal' provided for the purpose, it said. The 'online portal' will also give the registered users facilities like access to primary issuance of government securities, the RBI said, adding, the date of commencement of the scheme will be announced at a later date.

No fee will be charged for opening and maintaining 'Retail Direct Gilt account' with the RBI. However, a fee for payment gateway, as applicable, will be borne by the investor.

Non-Resident retail investors eligible to invest in government securities under the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 can also invest under the scheme.

The RDG account can be opened singly or jointly with another retail investor who meets the eligibility criteria, the RBI said.

Walmart's Flipkart investment more than doubles in value

SANGEETHA G
CHENNAI, JULY 12

Ahead of a proposed IPO, Walmart-owned Flipkart has raised $3.6 billion from a group of investors at a valuation of $37.6 billion. Japanese SoftBank, which had sold its stakes to Walmart in 2018, has once again invested in the company.

The investment values the group at $37.6 billion post-money, which is 130 per cent higher than the $16 billion valuation it got during Walmart's acquisition of the home-grown e-com company in 2018.

Flipkart Group had raised $1.2 billion from investors and its parent Walmart in July last year. The valuation of the company then stood at $24.9 billion.

Flipkart Group has raised $3.6 billion in the latest funding round participated by global investors, including sovereign wealth funds and private equity funds as well as Walmart.

The funding was led by Singapore's sovereign wealth fund GIC, Canada Pension Plan Investment Board (CPP Investments), SoftBank Vision Fund 2 and Walmart. Sovereign funds DisruptAD, Qatar Investment Authority, Khazanah Nasional Berhad and marquee investors Tencent, Willoughby Capital, Antara Capital, Franklin Templeton and Tiger Global also participated.

CPP Investments later said it has invested $800 million (about Rs 5,968 crore) in the Flipkart Group.

SoftBank had sold its 20 per cent stake in the company in 2018. SoftBank's first Vision Fund had invested $2.5 billion in Flipkart in August 2017.

Flipkart will use the funding to invest in new categories and leverage made-in-India technology to transform consumer experiences and develop a world-class supply chain, said Kalyan Krishnamurthy, CEO of Flipkart Group.

According to Walmart officials, Flipkart might get listed in the bourses, most probably next year.

Flipkart is also offering buyback of employee stock options worth about Rs 600 crore.

In an e-mail to employees, Krishnamurthy said the group will buyback 5 per cent of the past three years' vested options.

INFLATION REMAINS HIGH, IIP JUMPS ON BASE EFFECT

FC BUREAU
NEW DELHI, JULY 12

Consumers have reason to worry as the country's retail inflation as measured by Consumer Price Index or CPI remained high at 6.26 per cent in the month of June as compared to 6.09 per cent reported in the year-ago period. While industrial output, as measured by the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), recorded 29.3 per cent growth in the month of May as compared to 88.4 per cent in the year-ago period, the two separate government data showed on Monday.

Though the retail inflation eased slightly to 6.26 per cent from 6.3 per cent in June, it still remained above the Reserve Bank's comfort level of 6 per cent for the second straight month. During the month, prices of eggs, edible oils, fruit, pulses accelerated in double digits. Fuel inflation also grew 12.7 per cent with rising petrol and diesel prices.

The sharp rise in factory output was due to the base effect, as the country was under a strict lockdown in May last year. Six out of the eight core sectors that constitute 40 per cent of the whole IIP recorded positive growth in May.

Brokers see listing gains from Zomato IPO

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD
MUMBAI, JULY 12

While retail investors are enthused about Zomato's initial public offering for the high visibility the food delivery firm enjoys, brokerages are not very upbeat about the issue considering the high valuation. However, they do believe that the equity shares may offer listing gains to investors.

The Zomato public issue is opening on July 14.

The mega public issue of Rs 9,375 crore will allocate only 10 per cent shares to the retail individual investors and 15 per cent to high net worth investors, with 75 per cent going to the institutional investors, including mutual funds and insurance companies.

However, the IPO priced in the price band of Rs72 to Rs 76 per equity share of Re 1 face value is seen as a risky bet given the company is the first of its kind, with no peer to compare its valuation, and is yet to turn profitable.

Retail investors have to keep in mind that at Rs 10 face value, the share would cost between Rs 720 and Rs 760 per share.

"The company is financially making losses, which remains a concern however the management has strong growth plans going ahead which will aid revival. Considering its financial performance, it would be prudent to wait for a meaningful turnaround to change the long-term stance. However, investors may consider subscribing for the listing gains," Ajit Mishra, VP-research, Religare Broking said.

"Subscribe for listing gains," said Motilal Oswal

Financial Services in its review, adding, "Strong consumer brand equity with widespread network: Zomato enjoys the first mover advantage and has built a strong brand name and recall across India."

ICICI Direct, in a report, cautioned investors that "Demand for a food delivery platform is highly sensitive to a range of factors, including, delivery charges charged by delivery partners, incentives given to delivery partners and the commissions charged to restaurant partners."

Kitex chief blasts Kerala govt, hails Telangana approach

Kochi, July 12: Dubbing the Kerala Industries Department as a 'frog in the well', unaware of the investor friendly atmosphere in other states, Kitex Group chairman Sabu Jacob on Monday said Telangana has offered many incentives for his venture and promised him freedom from inspections.

The Telangana government has offered cheap land, water and electricity for investors, which was unlike the attitude of the Kerala Industries Department, he told reporters here. "They are like a frog in the well and unaware of the investor-friendly atmosphere in other states," he said.

On apprehensions of inspections, like 11 carried out in his units in Kerala in 30 days, he said the Telangana government assured him that no official would trouble any industry with inspections.

Inspections would be held once in two or three years and that too with the knowledge of the principal secretary or the minister concerned, he was told.

"Even that will be informed well in advance after getting our permission and as per our convenience only," Jacob said.

He was told that even if any lapses were found during the inspection, steps would be taken to rectify it at the governmental level and not publish it to "defame and let the business run into losses".

Jacob termed his discussions with Telangana industries minister K. T. Rama Rao as "like a talk with the CEO of the state".

Jacob said the main allegation against his business was that it was a polluting industry. But the Telangana minister told him not to worry about waste water treatment, as the state would handle it. —PTI

Adequate climate finance needed for India to meet clean energy goals

India wants rich nations to pay more for green shift

VRISHTI BENIWAL & RAJESH KUMAR SINGH
JULY 12

India can't prioritise eliminating greenhouse gas emissions without sufficient financing from richer nations to help offset the high cost of transitioning to clean energy, according to a senior government official.

In laying out its position ahead of key global climate talks later this year, the top bureaucrat in India's environment ministry also said the country doesn't plan to tighten its emissions goals unless more money is promised from developed economies under the United Nations-sponsored climate change agreement.

"Every policy decision has a cost to the economy. Going net-zero or using less carbon also has a cost," environment secretary Rameshwar Prasad Gupta said in an interview at his New Delhi office. "We are not anti-net-zero. But without adequate climate finance being definitively available, we can't commit on that part."

The stance by India, the world's third-biggest emitter, highlights a top challenge global leaders will face when they meet at the UN Climate Change Conference, which starts in late October in Glasgow. While cutting net global carbon emissions to zero by 2050 is key to meet the goals of the Paris Agreement, aimed at avoiding catastrophic damage from climate change, figuring out how to pay for the transition toward clean energy has been a sticking point.

Gupta also said the current $100 billion-a-year pledge by richer nations to help developing nations -- a target they haven't even met yet -- is insufficient to make the shift.

"We have our own developmental imperatives," Gupta said. "If you want that I don't emit carbon, then provide finance. It will be much more than $100 billion per year for developing nations."

As well, until negotiations are finalised around funding help, India likely won't upgrade the emissions targets it committed to in 2015, known as a Nationally Determined Contribution, which under the Paris Agreement were expected to be revised by 2020.

"This is not the final decision, but most probably we won't file a revised NDC," he said. "Let there be a decision on climate finance first."

CCEA green signals LIC disinvestment

New Delhi, July 12: The Union Cabinet has cleared disinvestment of the country's largest insurer LIC and a panel headed by the finance minister will now decide on the quantum of stake dilution, a senior official said on Monday.

The Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (Dipam) had in January appointed actuarial firm Milliman Advisors LLP India to assess the embedded value of LIC ahead of the initial public offering, which is touted to be the biggest public issue in Indian corporate history.

The Budget amendments to the LIC Act has been notified and the actuarial firm is expected to finalise the embedded value of the life insurer. Under the embedded value method, the insurance company's present value of future profit is also included in its present net asset value.

"The Cabinet Committee for Economic Affairs last week cleared the proposal of initial public offering of LIC. The alternative mechanism on disinvestment will now decide on the quantum of stake to be divested by government," the official said.

The government expects to come out with the LIC IPO by the end of current fiscal, the official added.

Up to 10 per cent of the LIC IPO issue size would be reserved for policyholders. The government has already brought in legislative amendments in the LIC Act for the proposed IPO. —PTI

MAN WITH A PLAN

Crowning moment for Italy's coach Mancini

Rome, July 12: Roberto Mancini marked the crowning moment of his career on Sunday by winning the European Championship title with an Italy side transformed from the dark days of their 2018 World Cup qualifying fiasco.

The four-time world champions beat England 3-2 on penalties as the Euro final finished 1-1 after extra time with Italy claiming their second Euro crown, and first since 1968.

"It has not sunk in yet but we are delighted for the Italian public because they really deserve this after what has been a trying period. This is great joy for us," said Mancini.

It was his 14th trophy as a manager and first with Italy after falling short as a player with the national team between 1984 and 1994.

"I was very fortunate to play in a great side in 1990 and fortunate to play in a terrific under-21 team in 1988 but despite the fact we were the best team we didn't win it and lost both times on penalties, so I was due this."

In May 2018, few were in a hurry to take over from Gian Piero Ventura, after Italy failed to qualify for the World Cup for the first time in 60 years.

First choice Carlo Ancelotti politely declined before Mancini, then coach of Zenit Saint Petersburg, landed his "dream" job.

Mancini had been coaching for 17 years, winning trophies with Fiorentina, Lazio, Inter, Manchester City and Galatasaray.

But his coaching career seemed to have lost a sense of purpose since leaving City in 2013 before the Azzurri hotseat became vacant. His first job was to restore confidence in a demoralised side. — AFP

Worst feeling in world: Kane

London, July 12: England captain Harry Kane admitted his side's penalty shoot-out defeat in the Euro 2020 final against Italy on Sunday was "the worst feeling in the world".

Along with Harry Maguire, Kane was one of only two England players to score from the spot as Italy won the shoot-out 3-2 after a 1-1 draw following extra time at Wembley.

"Penalties is the worst feeling in the world when you lose," Kane told ITV.

"Anyone can miss a penalty. Penalties is penalties. We went through a process. The boys did everything they could, it just wasn't our night."

English fans go on a rampage after the Euro final on Sunday.

Tottenham striker Kane conceded England had played into Italy's hands by adopting a cautious approach in a failed bid to preserve their lead.

"We were playing against a very good side. We got off to the perfect start. Maybe dropped a little too deep sometimes. They had a lot of the ball," Kane said.

"We looked fairly in control, they didn't create too many chances. They got their breakthrough from the set-piece."

Kane insisted England would bounce back from the agonising loss.

"We win together, we lose together. We'll learn and grow from it." — AFP

Messi dedicates Copa to country

Buenos Aires, July 12: Lionel Messi has dedicated Argentina's Copa America triumph over Brazil to his family, his country and also late idol Diego Maradona.

"I want to dedicate this success to my family, who have always given me the strength to continue, to my friends whom I love so much, to all the people who support us and above all to 45 millions Argentinians who have suffered so with this dreadful virus," Barcelona megastar Messi wrote on Instagram.

Messi, 34, also paid tribute to the memory of Maradona, who died aged 60 last November, saying that "Diego was surely urging us on wherever he is".

I believe, I am the best: Novak

Wimbledon, July 12: Novak Djokovic said on Sunday he considers himself the "best player" after winning a record-equalling 20th Grand Slam title but refuses to anoint himself as "greatest of all time".

If he wins a fourth US Open in September, he will become the first man since Rod Laver in 1969 to complete the calendar Grand Slam and just the third in history.

"I consider myself best and I believe that I am the best, otherwise I wouldn't be talking confidently about winning Slams and making history," said Djokovic.

"But whether I'm the greatest of all time or not, I leave that debate to other people."

'50-50' ON PLAYING OLYMPICS

Even with a chance to complete a so-called "Golden Slam," Djokovic isn't sure he'll be playing at the Novak Djokovic with coach Goran Ivanisevic.

Tokyo Olympics.

The lack of fans and the tight coronavirus restrictions in Tokyo means Djokovic remains on the fence about traveling to Japan.

"I'll have to think about it. My plan was always to go to Olympic Games. But right now I'm a little bit divided. It's kind of 50-50 because of what I heard in the last couple days," he said. — AFP
