Woman on quarantine in hotel room found hanging

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, AUG. 27

A 47-year-old woman who reached the city from London and was spending the mandatory seven-day institutional quarantine at a star hotel in St. Thomas Mount was found dead, hanging in her room.

The deceased, Manonmani of Coimbatore, had arrived from London in an Air India flight on August 24 and checked in at the star hotel on the same day. According to the police, she last spoke to her daughter who lives in London on Wednesday after which her number was not reachable.

Manonmani tested negative for Coronavirus in the first test that was taken upon her arrival at the Chennai airport. She requested the authorities to let her quarantine at her house in Coimbatore. However, she was not allowed as per the state quarantine rules. Police said she had been complaining about the quarantine facility to her daughter over the phone.

On Thursday morning, when her daughter tried to contact Manonmani, her number was not reachable for a long time and she contacted the hotel reception. When one of the hotel staff rushed to her room, Manonmani did not respond to the doorbell. Later, when the door was opened with a master key she was found hanging.

St. Thomas Mount police, who were alerted, recovered the body. The body has been sent for post-mortem. A case under section 174 (unnatural death) has been registered. Further investigation is under way, police said.

It may be noted that a 41-year-old man, a resident of Cuddalore, who reached the city from Singapore on June 25 and stayed at a five-star hotel in Teynampet, was found dead in his room on July 1. The autopsy showed that the man died of heart attack.

No compelling reason to scrap e-pass system

B. Vijayalakshmi

Viewpoint

Despite the ministry of home affairs directing all states to not block inter and intra state travel, Tamil Nadu, wary of rising coronavirus cases, is not ready to lift all restrictions and scrap the e-pass system. Similarly, information and broadcasting minister Prakash Javadekar on Sunday shared the standard operating procedures (SOPs) for resuming shooting of films and TV serials. He said SOPs have been finalised after consulting health and home ministries and hoped that resumption of shooting of movies and serials will generate employment. Though the TN government has allowed shooting of TV soaps by following guidelines, it has not permitted film shooting till now.

Earlier, the Madras high court had directed the state government to look into allegations of corruption in issuance of e-passes. The TN government eased e-pass restrictions 10 days ago in 'public interest' and urged people to use it only for important work. Several lakhs of e-passes have been issued since the relaxation from August 17. The health minister had also said relaxation posed a challenge to the health department as e-pass aides in contact tracing of positive cases.

The government is of the view that efforts made to retard the spread of pandemic would go in vain if the e-pass system is scrapped. The DMK and the BJP have been urging the government to remove e-pass system to enable free movement of people within the state.

Following the Centre's directive, Puducherry suspended the e-pass portal and said there is no restriction on inter/intra state movement of people and goods. Travel restrictions have been lifted at a time when Pondy is witnessing a steady rise in cases. The UT government, however, felt free entry and exit of people would not have any bearing on the corona situation.

With August 31 nearing, the TN government is likely to take a decision on lifting or easing of restrictions including e-pass this week-end.

E-passes help in keeping a record and are more of a regulation than restriction. It helps in contact tracing which in turn reins in the spread of virus. Also, there has been no problem in movement of goods. With inter-regional variations in virus spread being reported in the country, it is pragmatic to restrict inter/intra-state movement of people. Though the need for revival of stalled economy is crucial, no info on source of virus in several cases is a matter of concern. If there is no regulation like e-pass to check the movement of people, contact tracing will have to be given up amid Covid carnage and rebound fears.

Koyambedu market to open from Sept. 18

G. BABU JAYAKUMAR & D. SEKAR | DC
CHENNAI, AUG. 27

The Koyambedu market, closed in the first week of May after it was found to be a source of coronavirus infection, will be reopened in a staggered manner, starting with the food grains wholesale market on September 18.

Deputy Chief Minister O. Panneerselvam had called for a meeting of officials and traders on Thursday to discuss the opening of the commercial complex, which was being pushed repeatedly by the Federation of Tamil Nadu Traders Associations, led by Vikrama Raja.

Earlier in the day, Panneerselvam inspected the renovation and maintenance work going at the Koyambedu commercial complex, along with Housing and Urban Development Department principal secretary Rajesh Lakhani and Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority member secretary D Karthikeyan.

A press release from the Deputy Chief Minister's Office said the vegetable wholesale market would be opened in the second phase on September 28 and the other markets would open one after the other.

Vehicle movement would be strictly regulated in and around the complex. Very few vehicles would be allowed to enter the market one after the other. Entry of heavy vehicles would be restricted from 6 am to 10 pm and all of them should leave the gates by 12 midnight.

Light motor vehicles coming to the market to pick up goods for retail sale outside will be allowed from dawn to 12 noon. There would be no sale of vegetables for individuals in retail and no two-wheelers or autorickshaws would be allowed inside. All vehicles entering the gates would be sanitized and thermal scanners would be used to check the body temperature of people entering the market. All shops should keep sanitizers for use by the employees and the customers.

Shop owners and employees would be provided with identity cards to ensure that only authorized persons enter the market. No sale of greens or vegetables on the roadside. Police would monitor and regulate the activities in the market and the services of volunteers would be engaged.

The market would be closed for a day in the week to clean up and sanitize the premises, the press release said.

The federation office bearers had met Chief Minister Edappadi K. Palaniswami once and Panneerselvam twice in the past and demanding the opening of the market since the alternative site given to the traders at Thirumalaisai was not fit for business, additional secretary V. P. Mani told Deccan Chronicle.

If the finesse luckily loses, East winning with the

If the club finesse unlikely wins (East refusing the trick), South must try the double diamond finesse — but that will surely succeed given East's opening bid. San Coteau wrote, "Never go what a specialist can do better. Discover your own specialty. Do not despair if your specialty appears to be more delicate, a lesser thing. Make up in finesse what you lose in force." At the bridge table, frequently your contract requires a winning finesse. Strange as it sounds, though, occasionally a losing finesse will be a lifesaver.

Given that whopping hint, how should South plan the play in six spades? West leads the heart jack. Declarer ruffs and draws trumps in three rounds. How should South continue? North had an uncomfortable bid over West's preemptive raise to four hearts, but advancing with five clubs, despite having only 6 high-card points, was a reasonable choice. Then declarer, with no room to investigate a grand slam, bid what he thought he could make.

Working president of Tamil Nadu Congress Mohan Kumaramangalam urged the state government to add milk to the menu of the mid-day meal Scheme for the students to secure the livelihood of dairy farmers, who are in deep distress due to the reduced procurement of milk by Aavin and private milk vendors due to the lockdown.

About 40 lakh farmers were involved in dairy business, producing about 2 crore litres of milk a day. Aavin, which procures milk from them at Rs 24 to 27 per litre, and private vendors, who pay Rs 30 per litre, have now reduced their milk procurement ratio, Kumaramangalam said in a statement on Thursday.

Stalin wants other CMs to protest Neet, JEE

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, AUG. 27

DMK president M. K. Stalin wrote to the Chief Ministers of Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Kerala on Thursday, urging them to join their counterparts of seven other states who are approaching the Supreme Court challenging the Centre's decision to hold the entrance examinations for professional courses, Neet and JEE.

"As you are aware, heads of West Bengal, Maharashtra, Jharkhand, Rajasthan, Punjab, Chhattisgarh and Puducherry are planning to move the Supreme Court against the Centre challenging its decision to conduct Neet and JEE," he said in the letter.

The decision to postpone the June 2020 examination was taken mainly because the conditions were not conducive to conduct exams, he said, adding not the severity of the crisis had worsened across the country.

"Not just the pandemic, the country has witnessed floods and landslides, which cut off most of rural and hilly areas from the mainland. In most states, public transport system has not yet resumed. Railways and air travel cannot be accessed by the majority of candidates and a lot of uncertainty persists in reaching the allotted exam centres," Stalin said.

In the light of the severe difficulties explained above, keeping the well-being and future of students in mind, I sincerely request you to join in solidarity with the states and approach the Supreme Court on postponement of Neet and JEE for the greater good, as our united stand can help the voices of the students and parents across the country, he added.

Meanwhile, the Tamil Nadu Congress is organising protests demanding the postponement of Neet and JEE at two places in Chennai on Friday, August 28, at 11 am. Congress leaders and cadre would take part in the agitations to be held near the Chennai collector's Office, under the leadership of K. V. Thangabalu and near the Purasawalkam telephone exchange, led by party MP S Thirunavukarasar.

File a report on infra facilities at foreigners camp in Tiruchy: HC

J. STALIN | DC
CHENNAI, AUG. 27

To ascertain as to whether infrastructure facilities are available or not, the Madras high court has directed the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Tiruchy, to visit the foreigners camp at Kottapattur Refugee Camp, Tiruchy, and file a report before the court.

A division bench comprising Justices N.Kirubakaran and V.M.Velumani gave the directive while passing interim orders on the Habeas corpus petitions filed by Elumalai, challenging the detention order and restriction of movement orders passed by the authorities against his foreign national friends Vaikov Boris Ventsislavov, Bozhichkov Nikolay Katev and Spasov Loyubomir Maksimov.

The bench said the petitioners are foreign nationals and are arrested by the Central Crime Branch in connection with a case for the offences punishable under sections 120-B, 420, 465, 467, 468, 471 IPC and sections 66 and 43 of Information Technology Act. The authorities restricted the movement of the detainees under section 3 (2) (e) of the Foreigners Act. Challenging the said orders only, the present HCPs have been filed. As an interim measure, the petitioner also filed petitions seeking permission to allow the detainees to stay in Petitioner's residence in Villupuram district, as the camp was lacking basic facilities and also in view of the pandemic situation, the bench added.

The bench said senior counsel N.R.Elango, appearing for the petitioner submitted that many persons were detained in the camp without basic facilities and pandemic situation was also alarming. However, the same was denied by Additional Public Prosecutor Prabhavathi, appearing for the authorities, the bench added.

The bench said apart from the allegations made in this case, this court also comes to know about the lack of facilities in the foreigners camp throughout Tamil Nadu and few cases have been filed before this court. "To ascertain as to whether infrastructures are available or not, so that if the infrastructures are not available, this court would be in a better position to give a direction to provide the necessary infrastructure. Therefore, this court directs the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Trichirappalli, to visit the foreigners camp at Kottapattur Refugee Camp, Trichirappalli district and file a report giving the details.

HC seeks list of unorganised workmen

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, AUG. 27

Declining the relief as sought for with respect to the cash assistance given only to the registered members of the boards, the Madras high court has directed authorities to undertake an extensive process of enumerating and enlisting of those unorganized workmen coming in the purview of 34 boards, both under the labour department and others, by interacting with the respective wings of the State government.

"The district collectors concerned are directed to undertake the said exercise and complete the process within eight weeks," said a division bench comprising Justices M.M.Sundresh and R.Hemalatha while disposing of a batch of petitions from Nirmal Mazdoor Panchayat Sangam and others, which sought a direction to the state government to accord the benefit of a 2020 GO to the members of the petitioner Union or construction workers who have not registered with the Tamil

Nadu Construction Workers Welfare Board under the Tamil Nadu Manual Workers (Construction Workers) Welfare Scheme 1994 as well as to those construction workers who have registered but not renewed their registration under the said scheme, and thereby grant the relief of rations and financial assistance enhancing the same to Rs 5,000 on a monthly basis to construction labour as a whole for the duration of the lockdown or in any event grant the relief and the financial benefit accorded in the said orders.

The bench said the petitioners seek the relief for the unregistered/non-renewed unorganized workmen on par with those registered by utilizing the funds available with the boards meant to be used for various schemes. "On the legal issue, we find force in the submissions made by the Advocate General. The scheme is meant to be used only for the members registered thereunder. The money collected by the board under the scheme is now utilized. Therefore, though it was cash assistance, money was from the contribution made under the scheme. While, there may not be sufficient money to give the relief to all those similarly placed persons though unregistered, the same if made available using the available fund would make the scheme totally unworkable. We find that the classification has got certainly a nexus to the object sought to be achieved. It is not the case of the petitioners that the utilization of the fund is bad. On the contrary, they also want the cash assistance as done to the registered members of the board", the bench added.

The bench said it was not possible for the state government to undertake a roving enquiry to identify all those who were working as unorganized workmen. Utilizing the fund available for the purpose as stated by the petitioners would substantially prejudice the cause of the registered members who were also not before the court, the bench added.

INDIA TELLS CHINA NOT TO ALTER STATUS QUO

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, AUG. 27

India once again reiterated on Thursday that China should “not alter the status quo unilaterally” at the Line of Actual Control (LAC) in the Ladakh sector, adding that “complete disengagement requires re-deployment of troops by each side towards their regular posts on their respective sides of the LAC” and “can be done only through mutually agreed reciprocal actions”.

New Delhi, however, indicated that it had faith that the issue could be resolved through diplomacy, referring to a recent utterance by External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar that all Sino-Indian stand-offs in the past decade were “resolved through diplomacy”.

It may be recalled that Jaishankar had recently stated that the current crisis in Sino-Indian relations “is surely the most serious situation after 1962” and that “the quantum of forces currently deployed by both sides at the LAC is also unprecedented”.

This comes amid continued Chinese military intransigence in withdrawing to the positions of April this year in the Ladakh sector. It may also be recalled that India has also mobilised a significant number of troops with heavy weaponry near the borders with China in response to the Chinese military build-up. India is also clear that it will not agree to any unilateral change of the LAC by China.

CHAOS AS TS BANS REGISTRATION OF ILLEGAL PLOTS

N. VAMSI SRINIVAS | DC
HYDERABAD, AUG. 27

Utter chaos prevailed in the sub-registrar offices (SROs) across Telangana over implementing the new rule prohibiting the registration of unauthorised plots and structures.

With no data available in the SROs on unauthorised layouts and particulars of structures, the registration authorities at the ground level were confused over implementing the rule. The head office is said to have been flooded with calls from sub-registrars seeking clarifications and several documents were kept pending, sources said.

The decision of the government is being viewed more as a threat before it makes a big move on revenue mobilisation. “The cash-strapped government has been looking for several ways to mobilise resources and regularisation of unauthorised layouts and buildings is one of them,” official sources pointed out.

Legal experts on the other hand found fault with the invoking of the Municipal and Panchayat Raj Acts which have no overriding effect on the Stamps and Registration Act. “Even assuming that provisions in those Acts are implemented, it could be prospective only and not with retrospective effect,” an advocate said.

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, AUG. 27:

The Supreme Court verdict allowing the State to provide three per cent exclusive quota for the Arunthathiyar community within the 18 per cent reservation for Scheduled Castes was welcomed by many political parties on Thursday.

Deputy Chief Minister O Pannarselvam tweeted that he was happy about the judgment, which he welcomed as it would bring prosperity to those in the lowest rung of society.

DMK President M K Stalin, who had introduced the Bill providing for the exclusive reservation in the Assembly in 2009, thanked the Supreme Court for upholding the social justice of the oppressed and depressed people.

Hailing it as a victory for DMK’s principle of social justice and the efforts of M Karunanidhi, Stalin traced the history behind the passing of the Bill in Assembly. It was finally notified in the gazette on April 29, 2009, Stalin said.

BJP State vice president V P Duraiswami and PMK founder Dr S Ramadoss welcomed the verdict. Dr Ramadoss said the PMK had been supporting the cause of the community since 1988. CPM State secretary K Balakrishnan also welcomed the judgment as the party, too, had been with the community.

Pasteur inspired me, says Pune vaccine trial volunteer

Pune doc says he had also volunteered for clinical trials for H1N1 vaccine

Pune, Aug. 27: A 48-year-old doctor, who was inspired by immunology pioneers Louis Pasteur and Edward Jenner, said on Thursday his vital signs are normal and he has resumed routine work, a day after becoming one of the first volunteers to be inoculated with Oxford Covid-19 vaccine candidate in phase II trials.

The man, who was administered the vaccine candidate dose on Wednesday, said his 21-year-old daughter had also volunteered during the trial of a vaccine on cervical cancer in 2014.

“As I work in healthcare sector, I know vaccines have made a huge difference in the quality of human life. When I read the history of vaccination, I got inspired by pioneers Louis Pasteur and Edward Jenner who performed the trials on themselves. They inspired me to volunteer,” he said.

Louis Pasteur (1822-1895) was a French chemist who proved that germs cause disease, and developed vaccines for anthrax and rabies, while Edward Jenner (1749-1823) was an English doctor and discoverer of vaccination for smallpox.

The Pune doctor said he had also volunteered 10-years-ago for clinical trials for a vaccine against the H1N1 (swine flu) virus.

The phase-II clinical trial of the Covid-19 vaccine developed by Oxford University and being manufactured by Pune-based Serum Institute of India, started at the Bharati Vidyapeeth Medical College and Hospital here on Wednesday, with two volunteers being administered the Covidshield vaccine.

Hospital authorities said the identity of the volunteers cannot be revealed. “My daughter, who is pursuing a B. Tech degree, has volunteered and become eligible for the (Covidshield) trial as her reports Covid-19 and antibody came negative,” the doctor said.

He said he is feeling good that he and his daughter could become a small part in the fight against the Covid-19 pandemic by volunteering for the trial. This is a noble and global effort for mankind, he added.

“Since Wednesday, my vital signs are normal and I have started my routine work,” he said.

He said he has worked as a teacher at the medical college and tried to create an awareness among the medical students about the vaccination trials.

“To lead by an example, I volunteered myself for the H1N1 vaccine trial,” he said. The volunteer said as per the ICMR panel norms, he is entitled to get travelling allowance for the hospital visits.

3 more volunteers given Oxford Covid-19 vaccine

Pune, Aug. 27: Three more volunteers were administered the Oxford Covid-19 vaccine candidate at a medical college in Pune on Thursday as part of the phase II clinical trial of the medicine, a senior doctor from the medical facility said.

Earlier, two volunteers, aged 32 and 48, were given a shot of the Covidshield vaccine, being manufactured by the city-based Serum Institute of India (SII), on Wednesday when the phase II clinical trial of the medicine began at Bharti Vidyapeeth's Medical College and Hospital here.

“On Thursday afternoon, three more volunteers — two females and a male — were administered the vaccine candidate after their reports of RT-PCR test for Covid-19 and antibody test came negative,” said Dr Sunita Palkar, in-charge of the research cell at the medical college. She said following the administration of the vaccine dose to two volunteers on Wednesday, five more persons were screened. Out of them, the Covid-19 and antibody test reports of four came out negative on Thursday and they became eligible for the clinical trial.

The fifth volunteer was excluded from the trial as the person's antibody test report came out positive, she said. The city-based KEM Hospital, another facility chosen for the vaccine's clinical trials in the country, is also scheduled to conduct a trial on some persons on Thursday, a senior doctor from the medical facility said.

INDIAN NUMBERS FAR AHEAD OF US AND BRAZIL

KANIZA GARARI | DC
HYDERABAD, AUG. 27

India has recorded nearly 75,000 — said to be highest ever single day caseload — over Wednesday and Friday, indicating that the Covid-19 graph is still rising. The US, which has the highest number of cases, recorded 44,637 cases on Wednesday and Brazil, which stands second, 47,828. The caseload in India stood at 33,82,152 on Thursday.

With the new cases rising, it is clear that the spread of the infection has moved to the rural and semi-rural areas.

The numbers are going to rise for the next 30 to 40 days, according to a study carried out by Heart Care Foundation of India.

One of the reasons for the rising numbers is stated to be the constant movement of people from the cities to rural and semi-rural areas during and post the lockdown. The increased cases in urban areas and the economic problems faced by people made them move towards their homelands for protection and security but also allowed for spread of the virus. The unlocking kept the movement of people intact and led to a wider spread.

Big spurt in cases, fatality in Karnataka

Bengaluru: Karnataka on Thursday reported its highest single-day spurt of over 9,300 new cases of Covid-19 and 141 related fatalities, taking the total number of infections to 3.09 lakh. With 141 deaths, the toll mounted to 5,232. Bengaluru urban alone reported 3,357 cases in the 24 hours.

Rhea claims threats; seeks protection

Actor Rhea Chakraborty on Thursday said there was a threat to her and her family's life and requested the Mumbai Police for protection. Rhea took to Instagram and shared a video where her father was seen being hounded by the media outside her building compound. She said they have been trying to get out of the house to cooperate with various investigating agencies probing actor Sushant Singh Rajput's death.

“The man in this video is my father Indrajit

Chakraborty (retd. Army officer). We have been trying to get out of our house to cooperate with ED, CBI and various investigation authorities to cooperate.

There is a threat to my life and my family's life. We have informed the local police station and gone there, but no help was provided. We have informed the investigation authorities to help us get to them, no help arrived. How is this family going to live?” the actor wrote.

Mumbai Police personnel reached her residence on Thursday afternoon and took her father along for questioning by the ED.

“The letter broke his silence on Thursday. Speaking to reporters he said, “Anyone who has a genuine interest in the internal working dynamics of Congress would welcome our proposal to have every state and district president as being elected.”

He further added, “The intention is to make Congress active and strong. But those who simply got ‘appointment cards’ continue to oppose our proposal. What's the harm in having elected Congress Committee members who will have stable tenures in the party.”

The 23 leaders who are signatory to the letter have been under attack from other leaders of the party.

This is happening even after Congress President Sonia Gandhi said in the CWC meeting that the signatories of the letter are very much part of the Congress family.

Interestingly, after the Congress Working Committee meeting there have been several appointments that have been made but the 23 signatories have yet not been accommodated in any of these appointments. As of now there is an uneasy calm that prevails in the party.

All of the signatories maintain that the points that they have raised are only to strengthen the organisation to counter the Bharatiya Janata Party.

If the issues that have been raised do not get addressed soon the ‘letter saga’ will remain to haunt the party in the days to come.

UP Cong unit wants action against Jitin Prasada

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, AUG. 27

The storm within the Congress refuses to die down. After the Congress Working Committee (CWC) meeting on Monday, it seemed that things had been “sorted”, but with a Congress unit in Uttar Pradesh on Thursday demanding action against all the letter writers, with a special mention of former Union minister Jitin Prasada, it seems the split in the Congress may run deeper. Senior leader Kapil Sibal, another signatory to the letter, criticised the move in a tweet.

“Unfortunately that Jitin Prasada is being officially targeted in UP. Congress needs to target the BJP with surgical strikes instead wasting its energy by targeting its own,” he wrote. (sic) Another signatory to the letter and former union minister Manish Tewari responded to Sibal's post with a single word, “Prescient!”

In a resolution addressed to Sonia Gandhi, the Congress unit of Uttar Pradesh's Lakhimpur Kh-eri district, around 130 km from Lucknow, has called for action against all 23 signatories but singles out Jitin Prasada, the party's Brahmin face in UP.

Prasada had represented the Dhaurahra Lok Sabha seat, which is a part of Lakhimpur Khari in 2009. Jitendra Prasada, the father of Jitin Prasada, had also unsuccessfully contested for the post of Congress president against Sonia Gandhi in the past.

Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Ghulam Nabi Azad and also a signatory to the letter broke his silence on Thursday.

Speaking to reporters he said, “Anyone who has a genuine interest in the internal working dynamics of Congress would welcome our proposal to have every state and district president as being elected.”

Thai principal gets death for killing 3

Bangkok: A court in Thailand handed a death sentence Thursday to an elementary school principal convicted of fatally shooting three people during a robbery of a gold shop. The Bangkok Criminal Court found Prasitthichai Khaewkao guilty on charges including first degree murder, killing in commission of another crime, illegally carrying a gun and illegal possession of a war weapon in the January 9 robbery at Robinson Loppuri mall in Loppuri, about 145 kilometres north of Bangkok. During the robbery, the gunman began shooting wildly, killing a sales clerk, a security guard and a 2-year-old boy, and wounding four other people. Security video that was widely broadcast after the incident showed a man dressed in a black ski mask and camouflage trousers, with a backpack across his chest, carrying a pistol with a silencer.

Rijneveld wins Int'l Booker Prize

London: A 29-year-old Dutch writer has become the youngest author to win the International Booker Prize. Mariëke Lucas Rijneveld's "The Discomfort of Evening," a dark story about a devout farming family in a strict Christian community in the rural Netherlands, was announced as the winner Wednesday. Under the rules of the prize, the £50,000-pound award will be split between the author and translator Michele Hutchison, giving both equal recognition. Ted Hodgkinson, who chaired a panel of judges, described the novel as "a tender and visceral evocation of a childhood caught between shame and salvation". The International Booker Prize is awarded every year to a book of fiction in any language that is translated into English and published in the UK or Ireland. The award is separate from the main Booker Prize, and aims to encourage more publishing and reading of quality fiction.

China test-fires missile into SCS

Beijing: China's military test-fired two missiles into the South China Sea, including a "carrier killer" military analysts suggest might have been developed to attack US forces, a newspaper reported Thursday. The DF-26B and DF-21D missiles fired Wednesday targeted an area between the southern island province of Hainan and the Paracel Islands. The South China Morning Post newspaper of Hong Kong reported, citing unidentified sources close to the Chinese military. The ministries of defence and foreign affairs in Beijing didn't immediately respond to requests for confirmation. Disputes over control of the South China Sea, one of the world's busiest trade routes, are a growing irritant in Beijing's relations with Washington and its southern neighbours. The Trump administration this year rejected most of Beijing's claims to sovereignty over majority of the disputed sea, portions of which are claimed by Vietnam, the Philippines and other governments.

TIKTOK CHIEF KEVIN MAYER QUITS COMPANY

Los Angeles, Aug. 27: TikTok CEO Kevin Mayer said Wednesday he has quit the company as tensions soar between Washington and Beijing over the Chinese-owned video platform. Mayer's resignation comes days after TikTok filed a lawsuit challenging a crackdown by the US government over claims the wildly popular social media app can be used to spy on Americans.

TikTok has been at the center of a diplomatic storm between the US and China, and President Donald Trump signed an executive order on August 6 giving Americans 45 days to stop doing business with TikTok's Chinese parent company ByteDance — effectively setting a deadline for a sale of the app to a US company.

TikTok, which has been downloaded 175 million times in the US and more than a billion times around the world, argued in the suit that Trump's order was a misuse of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act because the platform — on which users share often playful short-form videos — is not "an unusual and extraordinary threat". The platform's kaleidoscopic feeds of clips feature everything from dance routines and hair-dye tutorials to jokes about daily life and politics.

17-year-old held after two killed in Kenosha

Kenosha, Aug. 27: A white, 17-year-old police admiral was arrested Wednesday after two people were shot to death during a third straight night of protests in Kenosha over the police shooting of a PoC Jacob Blake.

Kyle Rittenhouse, of Antioch, Illinois, was taken into custody in Illinois on suspicion of first-degree intentional homicide. Antioch is about 15 miles from Kenosha. Two people were killed Tuesday night and a third was wounded in an attack apparently carried out by a young white man who was caught on cellphone video opening fire in the middle of the street with a semi-automatic rifle. "I just killed somebody," the gunman could be heard saying at one point during the rampage that erupted just before midnight. In the wake of the killings, Wisconsin Gov. Tony Evers said, "A senseless tragedy like this cannot happen again."

"I again ask those who choose to exercise their First Amendment rights please do so peacefully and safely, as so many did last night. I also ask the individuals who are not there to exercise those rights to please stay home and let local first responders, law enforcement and members of the Wisconsin

Portland protesters clash with US agents

Washington, Aug. 27: Protesters and US agents assigned to protect federal property in Portland clashed late Wednesday outside a US Immigration and Customs Enforcement Building in another night of violence for Oregon's largest city.

Some people in a crowd of about 200 disabled or vandalised building security cameras, shined laser lights at the agents and threw rocks and bottles at them, Portland police said in a statement issued Wednesday. During the clashes, agents shot non-lethal munitions at the crowd and set off stun grenades and irritants that released green and white plumes into the air. The Oregonian/Oregonian Live reported.

Trump wants Biden to take 'drug test' before 1st debate

Washington, Aug. 27: US president Donald Trump said Wednesday he will call for a "drug test" for himself and Joe Biden before the first presidential debate, but did not offer any evidence for his suspicions about his Democratic opponent.

Trump said in an interview with the Washington Examiner that he was intrigued by Biden's improved performance during the Democratic primary.

"We're going to call for a drug test," Trump said, expressing surprise at the former vice president's bearing during the last debate against Vermont senator Bernie Sanders in March. The president has no concrete evidence to support his claims, but he said, "all I can tell you is that I'm pretty good at this stuff. "I watched him in the debates with all of the different people," he said, referring to the other Democratic hopefuls.

Biden was "close to incompetent, if not incompetent, and against Bernie, he was normal," Trump continued. "I say, 'How does that happen?'" Trump made similar remarks in the fall of 2016, at the peak of the presidential race, positing that then-opponent Hillary Clinton had taken drugs.

"I think we should take a drug test prior to the debate," he said during a rally in New Hampshire.

"I don't know what's going on with her. But at the beginning of her last debate — she was all pumped up at the beginning, and at the end it was like, 'Oh, take me down.' She

AUTHORITIES NAME OFFICER WHO THEY SAY SHOT BLAKE

Kenosha (US), Aug. 27: The Wisconsin officer who shot a PoC Jacob Blake, seven times in the back has been identified as a seven-year veteran of the Kenosha Police Department, the state Department of Justice said Wednesday. Officer Rusten Sheskey shot Blake, 29, while holding onto his shirt after officers first unsuccessfully used a taser and as Blake leaned into his vehicle during an incident Sunday evening, the agency's news release said.

State agents later recovered a knife from the driver's side floorboard of the vehicle, the release said. A search of the vehicle located no additional weapons.

NZ mosque shooter gets life term without parole

Christchurch, Aug. 27: The white supremacist who slaughtered 51 worshippers at two New Zealand mosques was sentenced on Thursday to life in prison without the possibility of parole, the first time the maximum available sentence has been imposed. Judge Cameron Mander said the crimes committed by 29-year-old Australian Brenton Harrison Tarrant were so wicked that a lifetime in jail could not begin to atone for them. He said they had caused enormous loss and hurt and stemmed from a warped and malignant ideology. "Your actions were inhuman," Mander said. "You deliberately killed a 3-year-old infant by shooting him in the head as he clung to the leg of his father."

After the sentence was announced, survivors of the shootings raised hands and fists in celebration and greeted supporters waving signs with painted hearts and carrying roses outside the court building. The March 2019 attacks targeting people praying at the Al Noor and Linwood mosques in Christchurch shocked New Zealand and prompted new laws banning the deadliest types of semi-automatic weapons.

They also prompted global changes to social media protocols after the gunman livestreamed his attack on Facebook.

● AFTER THE sentence was announced, survivors of the shootings raised hands and fists in celebration and greeted supporters waving signs with painted hearts and carrying roses outside the court building.

● During the sentencing hearing, 90 survivors and family members recounted the horror of that day and the trauma they continue to feel.

During the four-day sentencing hearing, 90 survivors and family members recounted the horror of that day and the trauma they continue to feel. One of those who spoke was Temel Atacocugu, who survived being shot nine times during the attack at the Al Noor mosque. Atacocugu said he felt relieved at the sentence. "Finally we can breathe freely, and we feel secure, and my kids feel secure," Atacocugu said.

"The justice system has locked up this ideology forever," Tarrant pleaded guilty in March to 51 counts of murder, 40 counts of attempted murder and one count of terrorism, reversing his earlier not guilty pleas. He fired his lawyers and told the judge he didn't wish to speak at his sentencing.

A standby lawyer appointed by the court told the judge that Tarrant did not oppose the maximum sentence. The judge said Tarrant recently told a psychiatrist that he now rejects his extremist views and considers his attacks "abhorrent and irrational". But Mander said he was skeptical Tarrant had abandoned his ideology, especially considering that the gunman told police after the attacks he wished he'd killed more people. Mander said Tarrant had shown no empathy toward his victims and remained detached and self-centred.

Tarrant arrived in New Zealand in 2017, never sought work, and began planning for his attack by stockpiling high-powered weapons and joining shooting clubs, the judge said. "It appears that while travelling in Europe you developed deep-seated radical views regarding the migrant population of some Western countries," the judge said. Tarrant flew a drone over the Al Noor mosque and researched the layout, according to prosecutors.

On the day of the attacks, he drove to the mosques with six guns, including two AR-15s. "You committed mass murder," the judge said. "You slaughtered unarmed and defenceless people. You maimed, wounded and crippled many others."

Putin urges all to end Belarus crisis

Moscow, Aug. 27: Russian President Vladimir Putin on Thursday called on the authorities in Belarus and the opposition to find a solution to the political unrest that has erupted over a disputed presidential election.

"The parties to this process have enough common sense to find a way out without resorting to extremes," Putin said in an interview aired on state television.

Belarus has been hit by opposition protests since President Alexander Lukashenko claimed a sixth term in the August 9 vote that sparked unprecedented protests and was rejected by the European Union. Putin also told state television that he followed through on a request from Lukashenko to create a reserve group of law enforcement officers who could be dispatched to Belarus.

The Russian leader conceded however that there were problems in the Belarus: "Otherwise people wouldn't take to the streets." Putin added that he hoped the problems would be resolved peacefully. Lukashenko's notorious security services rounded up nearly 7,000 participants of peaceful rallies that erupted after he claimed some 80 percent of the vote, with hundreds of detainees claiming they were abused by police in custody.

Putin warned that he stands ready to send police to Belarus if protests there turn violent, but added in an interview broadcast Thursday that there is no such need now and voiced hope for stabilizing the situation in the neighbouring country. Putin told Russia's state television that Lukashen-

EU CONDEMNS PROSECUTION OF OPPN COUNCIL

Minsk, Aug. 27: The European Union and ambassadors of its member states in Belarus on Thursday condemned a crackdown on opposition leaders seeking new elections after a disputed vote this month.

Allies of exiled opposition leader Svetlana Tikhonovskaya formed the Coordination Council to oversee the peaceful transition of power after strongman Alexander Lukashenko claimed a sixth term in August 9 elections that critics said were rigged.

The 65-year-old authoritarian leader ordered a criminal probe into the opposition's attempts to "seize power" and several of the council presidium's members have been detained or summoned for questioning.

"The European diplomats emphasised that prosecution of Coordination Council members on grounds presented by the authorities is unacceptable," a joint statement said.

"Belarusians are asking for an open dialogue with their own authorities about the future of their country."

ko has asked him to prepare a Russian law enforcement contingent to deploy to Belarus if necessary. Putin said that he and Lukashenko have agreed that "there is no such need now, and I hope there won't be."

NO CRIME IN NAVALNY COMA CASE: RUSSIA

Moscow, Aug. 27: Russian authorities said Thursday they have found no indication so far that opposition leader Alexei Navalny's coma, which his allies and German doctors treating him believe may have been brought about by poisoning, was caused by a criminal act.

A preliminary inquiry launched last week hasn't found any indication of "deliberate criminal acts committed against" Navalny, Russia's Prosecutor General's office said. The statement comes amid growing pressure from the West to investigate the sudden illness of the Kremlin's fiercest critic and authorities' apparent reluctance to do so.

INDO-PACIFIC CHINA CONTEST CENTRE: ESPER

Washington, Aug. 27: The Indo-Pacific is the epicentre of "great power competition" with China which wants to project its power globally, Defence Secretary Mark Esper has said as he underlined America's efforts to strengthen ties with partners like India to get Beijing to respect the international rules-based order.

Esper in his keynote address to the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies in Hawaii said that to advance the agenda of the ruling Chinese Communist Party, the People's Liberation Army (PLA) continues to pursue an aggressive modernisation plan to achieve a world-class military by the middle of the century. "This will undoubtedly embolden the PLA's provocative behaviour in the South and East China Seas, and anywhere else the Chinese government has deemed critical to its interests," he said. — PTI

Authorities imposing mask rules, hiring extra teachers, building new desks

Virus on but Europe is going back to school

Paris, Aug. 27: A mother and her three children scanned the school supplies in a Paris supermarket, plucking out multicoloured fountain pens, crisp notebooks — and plenty of masks. Despite resurgent coronavirus infections, similar scenes are unfolding across Europe as a new school year dawns.

Virus or no virus, European authorities are determined to put children back into classrooms, to narrow the learning gaps between haves and have-nots that deepened during lockdowns — and to get their parents back to work.

Facing a jump in virus cases, authorities in France, Britain, Spain and elsewhere are imposing mask rules, hiring extra teachers and building new desks en masse.

While the US back-to-school saga has been politicised and chaotic, with a hodgepodge of fast-changing rules and backlash against President Donald Trump's insistence on reopening, European governments have faced less of an uproar.

And even though the virus has invaded classrooms in recent days from Berlin to Seoul, and some teachers and parents warn that their schools aren't ready, European leaders from the political left, right and centre are sending an unusually consistent message: Even in a pandemic, children are better off in class.

France's prime minister promised Wednesday to "do everything" to get people back to school and work. British Prime Minister Boris Johnson called reopening schools a "moral duty" and his government even threatened to fine parents who keep kids at home. Italy's health minister abruptly shut down discos this month with one goal in mind — "to reopen schools in September in complete safety"

As both a parent and a teacher, Mathieu Maillard has plenty to worry about before French schools reopen Tuesday. The number of virus infections per 100,000 people has grown five-fold in France in the last month.

How will his 5-year-old daughter keep a safe distance from preschool friends she's so excited to see for the first time in six months? How will he gain the trust of his high school students, from one of Marseille's roughest neighbourhoods, if he has to police their mask use?

But overall, Maillard thinks it's time to go back. School "has to start up again at some point", he says. "The health risk exists, but the risk of not putting children in school is even bigger."

During lockdown, he said, some students never joined his online French literature classes. Some had no place to work, or no computers, just telephones they used to send blurry photos of handwritten notes. "Our students really, really need school," he said. For some of those growing up in an environment plagued with violence and drugs, school "is a place where they can breathe". Unlike the US, many European schools reopened at the end of the last term, offering lessons for the fall. Among measures in place: Hand-washing stations, one-way corridors, staggered starts and lunch times. Some regions are giving out free laptops, in case of new lockdowns. Many countries require masks in school, but rules vary on where to wear them and from what age. — AP

Relook at entrances, take gap year instead

The holy grail of the life of an Indian student — and the gateway to prestige, and in many cases, continued prosperity, for their family — is less than a week away. A mulish government has decided to go by the decision of a blinkered court and hold the JEE (Main) and NEET entrances in the first weeks of September amid a raging pandemic whose daily case count topped 75,000 on Thursday in the face of fierce outrage from a section of the prospective examinees.

With the JEE (Main) starting on Sep 1 and the NEET set to be held on Sep 13, it may already be too late to reschedule these tests unless they are dropped altogether. The government did not make any provisions to have the National Testing Agency conduct an online exam. Plus, education mandarins have come out backing the move to go through with them and over 17 lakh have downloaded admit cards. At this stage, any uncertainty entails putting students through fresh psychological stress, and the education minister has cried foul.

To him, this newspaper would like to ask if it is fair play to conduct the exams at a time when a significant proportion of the candidates, especially in flood-ravaged Bihar, UP, Assam and West Bengal, will be unable to find transport to reach the venue or be forced to travel jam-packed with no physical distancing and risk infection of the virus and its spread? These examinees, being young, will be accompanied by parents. The virus is an “anti-Robinhood”, says Raghuram Rajan, former RBI governor, and in the crisis that it has sparked, it is the poor who are hit the hardest. So also it is with these exams. By going ahead with them, the government will have created a new crisis in which the poor will be hit the hardest and the most. It can, therefore, no longer hold the high moral ground that it supports an examination system that assures a level playing field in which merit is the sole criterion for success. And for this, it must be urgently held accountable.

A perhaps equally urgent question would be to ask if the conduct of the exams would not result in the coronavirus epidemic finally spiralling completely out of control.

To the adamant parents who insist their children take the exams and who won't even let them take part in symbolic protests inside their homes, too, the newspaper would like to highlight that even climate warrior and role model Greta Thunberg, who has incidentally called the holding of these exams “unfair”, has taken a gap year herself. It would advise parents in this regard to take a leaf out of the West, which encourages this practice as a means of self-determination, and rid themselves of their obsession over “year loss”, more so because these are extraordinary times that call for introspection on their parts.

Extraordinary times also call for extraordinary measures. Hence the collective review petition of the Supreme Court order planned by the Opposition and state CMs.

Are some hypothetical family goals regarding the careers of the next generation more important than the ideal of equal opportunity to all and the health and safety of 1.37 billion? Are they more important than the student's own health and life? These are a few questions the government must reckon with at some point, and that point will now arrive sooner rather than later.

It's messy in Barcelona

It is said sportsmen die twice, first when they retire. In the case of Lionel Messi, one of the greatest footballers in the sport's history, it might well be thrice, first when he leaves Barcelona FC. This might be akin to the Mona Lisa leaving the Louvre or MS Dhoni moving, of his own volition, from Chennai Super Kings. In the case of Messi, who first signed a contract on a paper napkin to join Barcelona in 2001, the Burofax (recorded delivery) message he sent on his intention to move on represents a heart-wrenching tearing of ties. The decision rips asunder Spanish football even as it lights up the eyes of clubs and managers elsewhere dreaming of signing up the Argentinian super star.

Those who believe an institution is always greater than the individual may sometimes be wrong, at least in sport. Muhammad Ali, Pele, Don Bradman are just a few examples from a long list of sportspeople who seemed larger than life in the societies they lived in. Messi is the modern avatar of a universally loved sportsman, the man with the golden boots, the winner of six Ballon d'Ors, member of Olympics gold-winning Argentina and a million Euros a week footballer who was at odds with his favourite club as it deteriorated when falling from the heights.

Over time, even great edifices crumble. Increasingly angry and frustrated by Barcelona's dipping fortunes, Messi may have sighted the clear end when they were pummeled 8-2 by Bayern Munich, eventual Champions League winners. In the time of the pandemic when sport is trying to prove its relevance beyond just the playing of games, it cannot be of great consequence to society as to where Messi ends up — Manchester City, Paris St Germain or Juventus. At a time when American pro sport is redefining sport itself in the most modern era by protesting against racial injustice with strikes, Messi must introspect and gauge where he can contribute most to football and to society.

It's time for Congress to change its 'culture'

Anand K. Sahay

Far & Near

It is preposterous to believe that the letter-writers (with exceptions, possibly) who brought a spot of drama to the Congress Party recently by demanding change in leadership, specially the jettisoning of former president Rahul Gandhi from a perch of influence, would have launched themselves on this path to benefit the BJP.

The ruling party's object, no doubt, is to spread a sense of deepening organisational crisis in the Congress, and to degrade it in the eyes of voters. This is because this party alone, even in its much-weakened state, offers a challenge to Hindutva on an all-India plane — in ideas, policy, and social and political acceptability. But men like Ghulam Nabi Azad, Kapil Sibal, Shashi Tharoor or Manish Tewari, and many others among those 23, are hardly the type to consciously help the Hindutva party trump the Congress.

However, it is equally hard to credit their epistolary venture with political maturity or acumen, or indeed a sense of occasion. After all, the Bihar Assembly polls are less than three months away and needs focused attention. A pandemic is raging. Floods are devastating many states. At the political level, the Congress is still trying to stabilize itself in Rajasthan where only chief minister Ashok Gehlot's astuteness and tenacity came in the way of the corrupt bid to topple the state government with the help of defectors, with the BJP playing a key role.

Therefore, to call the letter-bomb amateurs “dis-senters”, as many have done, is to be ignorant of the meaning of dissent.

The act of dissent takes a toll. But the letter-writers as a group have been beneficiaries of the Congress' decades-old durbar and family connections culture (which now afflicts all parties), and were not bitten by the democracy bug before, though, to be fair, some began to espouse the cause of organisational polls after Mr Gandhi resigned as party president last year — honourably taking responsibility for the Lok Sabha rout — with a couple even throwing their hat into the ring.

Now the whole group has publicly demanded organisational elections in the Congress at all levels and the revival of the Congress Parliamentary Board, an elected CWC, and a more “visible” and proactive party president. This is a valid demand. Elections bring cohesion and accountability to a political organisation and throw up debates and discussion around issues that are important to the people. Indeed, such discussions — which sometimes grew fierce and ugly — were once the norm in the party that won India freedom, and triggered public participation around policy concerns.

But the context in which the “23 musketeers” raised the demand seems to suggest they have chosen to be innocent of ground realities. A full-fledged internal election in the Congress, starting with ascertaining, correcting and broadening a membership roster, can take about a year. If only the crusaders had waited until after the Bihar elections and the ebbing of the pandemic, they might have been more credible.

Since their demand was not made at a party forum (given that there were four CWC members among them) but publicised through the media, it is not outlandish to think that they desired to embarrass or panic the current leadership (though it's meant to be a stopgap, with Sonia Gandhi as interim president), whittle its public standing, and force it to concede organizational polls and change of guard at the top here and now.

Even a college union doesn't work that way. So, if some Congress figures in frustration accuse the lot of aiding the enemy, their angst is understandable even if not well-founded, considering we are in an era of turncoats (as Madhya Pradesh showed graphically, and Rajasthan nearly did).

An Indira Gandhi (she had to claw her way back from the brink when the hardened old men of the party tried to shove her under the bus), a Chandra Shekhar, a V.P. Singh, a Madhu Limaye or a George Fernandes (the latter two from among socialists) would likely have stomped the countryside by now, and started their crusade even single-handed if they had a bee in their bonnet on the leadership or organisational issue, or an authentic point of policy contention, or plain burning ambition in their bosom. Each had shortcomings but they were not straw characters.

The protagonists of the simulated dissent who have come to the fore today appear to be a very different set. Their anxieties belong to the realm of existentialism: What will happen to their political careers if the Congress' fortunes don't change? It's not necessarily concern for the party or the country. And they have (rightly) banked on media help if their message is couched in an anti-dynasty idiom.

The Congress has brought some of this upon itself. Since Rahul Gandhi resigned his post unexpectedly in May 2019, gobsmacking the loyalist and dynasty diehards, the party showed listlessness. An ailing Mrs Gandhi was drawn in as chief on an interim basis as the only one who would be above factions. But the party's mandate — at this stage — was to democratise and hold an organisational election, even a patchy one. It didn't, relying on ever-present distractions in India to bail it out.

The path of electing the next party chief by summoning an AICC session in the next six months was cleared at Monday's CWC, and announced. This could have easily happened earlier, considering some form of acceptable democratisation has been in contemplation at the top levels of the Congress for some time. But this party, with a thoroughbred democratic past that few political organisations in the world can rival, has fallen on opaque times, and didn't make this known. It's time to change this culture — consciously, and with dispatch. This will take some doing.

It is undeniable that the Congress is a pale shadow of its past self. That proposition need not detain us. The point is, has it been taken to the cleaners by Narendra Modi's BJP? Again, the answer is obvious. While the party has lost two Lok Sabha polls on the trot (the BJP had too!), in state after state it has been the BJP's equal in Assembly polls or has roundly defeated it — in situations where the fight is not multi-cornered (as in UP, Bihar, West Bengal). Even in Gujarat, the citadel of Mr Modi and Amit Shah, the BJP got to the finish line panting. As a party, the Congress must take lessons from this dichotomous situation. It must not succumb to listlessness.

SONIA'S GIMMICKS

Indians have seen quite a lot of bonhomie sessions of Opposition parties to fight and topple BJP government in the elections previously too. The latest face in the bonhomie session convened by Sonia is Uddhav Thackrey, CM of Maharashtra, who with all vehemence attacked the BJP. It is funny to see that none of the participants had given a clear cut prescription of the remedies to pull the country out of the state of stalemate and imbroglio. There is also a total absence of unity of opinion with regard to the future PM of the country.

SC CONFUSED!

THE SC IS really placed now in a piquant situation with regard to handing a punishment to Prasant Bhushan for his continued defiance in tendering an apology for his derogatory observations against the Indian top court. The best course would be to declare the offender as an 'unwanted person' besides relieving him from the Senior Advocate position in the Supreme Court. Any other punishment will make Bhushan a martyr. Who knows that the Opposition parties will not make him a contestant in the next elections for the post of the President of India?

REMARKABLE FEAT

KUDOS TO ENGLAND pace bowler, James Anderson, for capturing his 600th wicket during the 3rd Test against Pakistan to become the first fast bowler in history to achieve the feat. Definitely it is a remarkable achievement and as the legendary Fred Trueman put it, he must be a bloody tired man now. With this achievement has ended the monopoly of spin bowlers of 600+ elite clubs. By playing another 4 to 5 Tests he could even surpass the record of our Anil Kumble to capture the Number 3 spot. Of course, it may be a Herculean task for him to surpass legendary Muthiah Muralidharan or even the record of Shane Warne. Anyway, wish him the best in the remaining years of his illustrious career.

Suicide probe: Not the 'who' but the 'how' of it is the key

Three decades back, when I joined the police, suicide cases were entrusted to the junior-most investigating officers in the police stations for inquest. Once the autopsy report was made available, the officer concluded, “death is suicidal in nature, no suspicion of foul play”, and that was the end of the story. Of course, in a few instances, the autopsy report and circumstances did raise suspicions requiring registration of a criminal case and further investigation. But it was relatively uncommon for families to question police findings. The media was still not as ubiquitous in our lives and people were not as vocal.

By now, police officers realise that suicide inquiries are potential minefields. Society feels an understandable sense of empathy for a person who has ended life and seeks an answer. The near and dear ones cannot believe that a person they know so intimately and for so long, could have taken such a decision of their own volition. “They can't do it” is their obvious view and so a logical demand for justice. Problem is, the dead tell no tales. Suicide victims mostly end life in their personal space. There are no eyewitnesses. Suicide notes, the final will and testament, even when available, are mostly cryptic statements of a person who is running away from life in a hurry. Consequently, all the ingredients of a mystery are in-built for crafting many conspiracy theories at will and at the cost of the privacy and dignity of the deceased and those in his or her life. The pressure on the police to find a scapegoat to end the storm is enormous. Most suicide victims have no news value. Their families reconcile to the tragedy after sometimes. Otherwise, there would be much more hullabaloo.

For a variety of reasons, investigative findings of the Indian police have suffered from trust deficit historically. When allegations are levelled, some with merit and many without, senior officers in the police, government or courts have had an easy way out. Any case, facing accusations, is handed over to another team of police officers, known by a different name, hoping for a more satisfactory conclusion. There is a need to shift focus from “who investigates” to “how suicides are investigated”, if serving the truth is the goal. Four areas need to be considered for systemic reform.

First, an autopsy and its findings are absolutely vital. Once autopsy surgeon(s) have recorded conclusions, the fate of the case is almost sealed. Neither the police nor the court can change a clear autopsy finding unless the autopsy surgeon or one of the team members disowns the report in part or in its entirety. So, changing the investigating team is just a waste of time. The new team can only seek a few clarifications, but the basic conclusion, in sum and substance, will be the same. There are three problems here. First, bodies are handed over to the family almost immediately for last rites. Unless the body has been buried, there is no scope for exhumation and a second autopsy in case of any doubt. Second, laws should permit the presence of a qualified autopsy surgeon to represent the interest of the family and he may provide a report to the family's counsel like in the West. In the absence of an alternate expert opinion, lawyers have really no basis to question police findings. Thirdly, the infrastructure and skill set currently available for autopsy is hardly of a desirable standard in most parts of the country. The ideal way will be that a specialist autopsy surgeon examines the dead body without any time pressure, gets all the related test reports and submits findings before body is handed over for last rites unless family disavows future claims. This will take between a week and 10 days.

Second, the mandate of a police inquiry is to eliminate the apprehension of murder or what is called “foul play”. A police officer is neither trained nor required under the law to get into psychological aspects of a suicide, which requires a “psychological autopsy”. In psychological autopsy a qualified forensic or investigative psychologist reconstructs the state of mind of the person at the point of death. There are established protocols for such a procedure. A person may decide to end life for a variety of complex psychological reasons. There might be long-term behavioural issues as well as immediate triggers. Sometimes the person has expressed an intent earlier and might have shown symptoms of self-harm. If a person is under clinical care then the clinician may have followed a set of strategies that may require peer review. None of these are in the scope or competence of cops. In India we do not have any practice of psychological autopsy as of now.

Third, there is a need for a coroner court system so that a full judicial process can be gone through as part of an inquest. In colonial times such elaborate inquest was limited to metropolitan towns. We now need to assign greater value to human life, and seek a full inquest in all cases of equivocal deaths.

Fourth, the only major research on suicide in India is the statistics compiled by the National Crime Record Bureau, which is largely a presentation of data generated by the police. There is a need for collaboration between the academia and the police for better understanding of suicides and their causes, which can be relied upon for psychological autopsy, psycho-linguistics for understanding suicide notes and other investigative supports. Also, policy interventions can be made to address incidence of suicide. India needs to deal with mental health issues far better.

Investigation into suicide cases needs to be carried out with greater professionalism and transparency. Otherwise, from time to time we will have episodic maelstroms that will captivate TV audiences and undermine police credibility only further.

India loses two shuttle tourneys

New Delhi: The India Open Super 500 and the Syed Modi International Super 300 tournaments were on Thursday cancelled by the Badminton World Federation in its adjusted calendar to salvage a season thrown haywire by the Covid-19 pandemic.

The India Open, which was originally scheduled in March, was to be held from December 8 to 13 in New Delhi and Syed Modi was slated for November 17 to 22 in Lucknow in the previously revised calendar.

"The Badminton World Federation (BWF) will implement an adjusted tournament calendar for the HSBC BWF World Tour in 2020," the world body said in a statement. "The TOTAL BWF Thomas & Uber Cup Finals 2020 in Aarhus, Denmark will remain part of the international tournament calendar and will proceed on the planned dates of 3-11 October 2020," it added.

Eoin will complement Karthik, says KKR coach

Abu Dhabi, Aug. 27: The presence of England's World Cup-winning skipper Eoin Morgan as Dinesh Karthik's deputy augurs well for Kolkata Knight Riders, the franchise's bowling coach Kyle Mills said on Wednesday.

The wicketkeeper-batsman faced criticism in 2019 after they failed to make the cut following a string of losses in the business end of the tournament.

This time, the franchise has brought back the England limited-overs skipper Morgan, who played for the KKR from 2011 to 2013, as the team's vice-captain.

"I think Eoin is going to complement DK really well. DK can focus on keeping, Eoin will be in the cover region. So, the communication with the bowler in the death overs or pressure situations will work well," Mills said in an interview on KKR's website.

The former New Zealand pacer spoke about KKR's heavy bowling artillery with world number one Pat Cummins spearheading the attack comprising Harry Gurney, Lockie Ferguson and Andre Russell alongside Indian youngsters — Prasidh Krishna, Kamlesh Nagar, Sandeep Warrier and Shivam Mavi.

"We have got a really heavy artillery. I guess Pat Cummins will be a superstar by the time he ends his career. He has been around for a while, and he is just 26-27 years of age. He is really young. We have got him in his prime," he added.

Bravo, Tambe script history

Port of Spain, Aug. 27: All-rounder Dwayne Bravo wrote his own piece of history, while Praveen Tambe became the first Indian cricketer to play in the Caribbean Premier League as Trinbago Knight Riders posted their fourth straight win, beating St Lucia Zouks by six wickets via D/L method in a rain-truncated match here.

While Dwayne Bravo made history on Wednesday by becoming the first player to reach 500 T20 wickets and 100 Hero CPL wickets, his brother Darren hit a quick-fire 23 off 13 balls with two sixes to help Trinbago Knight Riders chase down the revised 72-run target in nine overs with six balls to spare. Darren's first off the two sixes also made him the first to record 100 sixes in CPL.

There was another landmark on Wednesday as Tambe, 48, became the first Indian to play in the CPL and his only over saw him pick up the wicket of Najibullah Zardan.

The Zouks started aggressively before Andre Fletcher (10) departed to be reduced to 32 for one after three overs. When Rakheem Cornwall handed Colin Munro a low diving catch, Dwayne Bravo (2/7), on his home ground, became the first bowler to reach T20 cricket's 500 club. Bravo was the pick of the bowlers for Knight Riders with two for seven in three overs as rain intervened in 17.1 overs with Zouks scoreboard reading 111 for 6. — PTI

Satwik and two others test +ve

New Delhi, Aug. 27: Three winners of this year's National Sports Awards, including badminton player Rankireddy Satwiksairaj, have tested positive for Covid-19 and will not attend the virtual ceremony on August 29, the Sports Authority of India (SAI) said on Thursday.

The SAI said that 65 of the 74 awardees will attend the first-ever virtual National Sports Awards from its centres across the country due to the pandemic. "There are 74 awards in seven categories. Total 65 award winners will be attending the function from various locations. ■ Banks need to reorient business, lend more
RBI hasn't exhausted all options, ready to act: Das

FC BANKING BUREAU
MUMBAI, AUG. 27

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) governor Shaktikanta Das on Thursday said the central bank is yet to exhaust all options and added that it would not unwind the recent measures taken to support the Covid-19 hit economy. Hinting that it could announce more policy measures, including rates cut if required, to support the economy, Das said, "We have not exhausted our ammunition, whether on rate cuts or other policy actions. We are constantly watchful and as and when we anticipate certain emerging situation, we'll deal with it."

He warned banks that being overly risk-averse would be "self-defeating" and that lenders will not be able to "win their bread" if they do not carry out their basic task. Rather than becoming averse to lending, banks have to improve their risk management and governance frameworks, and also build sufficient resilience, Das said.

On a question whether the RBI, which cut policy rates in two moves since the onset of the pandemic, front-loaded its calls and what is left with to tackle further impact, Das said, "We have not exhausted our policy options, whether it relates to rate cuts or any other aspects of central banking. We have not exhausted our instruments or ammunition." Das said the RBI wanted

BANKERS RESENT RISK-AVERSION REMARK

Mumbai, Aug. 27: Heads of various public and private sector banks on Thursday sought to present a counter narrative on RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das warning lenders about the perils of extreme risk-aversion when credit demand is on the wane.

But bankers were of the view that the real problem was not risk-aversion but lack of demand, which only the government can help revive.

Aditya Puri, MD & CEO, HDFC Bank said his bank has booked 20 per cent growth in core interest income in the June quarter, which proves the robust lending at his bank.

"There is no risk aversion but there is prudent banking," he said in reply at a webinar.

PNB MD & CEO S. S. Mallikarjuna Rao said, "I can categorically say that there is no risk-aversion at all. The real problem is lack of demand". He said credit demand has been slowing ever since the RBI brought out stringent NPA norms. —PTI to keep its gun powder dry and hence opted for a status quo at the last policy review earlier this month.

Speaking at a webinar, Das said, "The measures taken by the RBI are intended to deal with the specific situation of Covid and cannot be permanent. Post-containment of Covid-19, a very careful trajectory needs to be followed for orderly unwinding of the various counter-cyclical measures taken by the RBI and the financial sector should return to normal functioning without relying on the regulatory relaxations and other measures as the new norm," the governor said.

He further said that once some clarity reaches on the coronavirus curve and other aspects, the RBI will start giving its estimates on inflation and growth. The headline Consumer Price Index (CPI) for June 2020 came higher than consensus expectations and was at 6.1 per cent year-on-year, after reaching 7.2 per cent in April and 6.3 per cent in May. Real rates, which have been a driver of inflation in the past, are moving towards the negative terrain after six long years.

Since February, the RBI has reduced rates by 1.15 per cent in two rate cut moves till the inflation continued to surge to beyond its comfort level. However, the policy continues to be within the accommodation stance, which means the central bank can act as and when it sees space.

Speaking about hardening of yields on government securities of late, Das said it will be incorrect to say that the RBI's moves have not worked. He said the bond yields have hardened only in the last fortnight.

Das said that the banking system needs to reorient business in the post-coronavirus world by looking within and added that the banking system in India is resilient enough now.

Maha stamp duty cut lifts realty stocks

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD
MUMBAI, AUG. 27

The Maharashtra government's temporary stamp duty reduction from 5 per cent to 2 per cent on residential flat purchase price till December 31, 2020 and road tax waiver worth Rs 700 crore on commercial vehicles from April 1 to September 30, led to rally in real estate and select auto stocks.

The stamp duty rate will be 3 per cent from January 1, 2021 to March 31, 2021.

The BSE Realty index gained 6.63 per cent while the Auto index gained 0.95 per cent as the market expects other states to follow suit.

The top realty gainers included DLF (9.93 per cent), Prestige Estates (8.07 per cent), Sunteck Realty (7.31 per cent), Godrej Properties (7.06 per cent), Oberoi Realty (6.94 per cent) and Sobha (6.85 per cent).

"Realty stocks were in action post-the Maharashtra government's move to cut 2-3 per cent stamp duty and on the hopes that the other states may follow soon," analysts said.

Festival season buying may get a boost now with flat buyers saving on stamp duty.

"Now, the fence sitters waiting for market correction will decide to take the plunge and buy properties with all-time low interest cost and muted prices," said Anuj Khetan, director, Vijay Khetan Group, a Mumbai developer.

Insolvency move against Ambani stayed

New Delhi, Aug. 27: The Delhi High Court Thursday put on hold the insolvency resolution process (IRP) proceedings against Reliance Communications (RCOM) Chairman Anil Ambani in relation to recovery of Rs 1,200 crore loans given by SBI to his two firms.

Ambani had given personal guarantees for Rs 565 crore and Rs 635 crore SBI loans to RCom and Reliance Infratel Ltd (RITL), respectively, in August 2016.

A bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rajnish Bhatnagar, while putting on hold the IRP under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), also restrained Ambani from "transferring, alienating, encumbering or disposing of his assets or legal rights and interests therein till the next date of hearing".

It issued notice to the Centre, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI) and State Bank of India seeking their stand on the plea by October 6, the next date of hearing.

The court also said that the proceedings would continue in relation to the corporate debtor (the companies), and while dealing with those proceedings, the liability of the petitioner-personal guarantor (Ambani) may also be examined by the IRP.

"However, proceedings against the petitioner (Ambani) under Part 3 of the IBC shall remain stayed," it said.

Ambani in his plea has challenged the constitutionality of the IBBI (Insolvency Resolution Process for Personal Guarantors to Corporate Debtors) Regulations, 2019.

During the hearing via video conferencing, the Centre and the IBBI - represented by Additional Solicitor General Chetan Sharma, central government standing counsel Akshay Makhija and advocate Madhavi Divan opposed stay of the IRP saying it could lead to the guarantor "frittering" away his assets.

SBI too raised similar apprehensions during the hearing. It also urged the court to allow the resolution professional appointed by the NCLT to go on with his work and give a report, but the bench did not agree to it.

The NCLT on August 20 had directed initiation of insolvency proceedings against Ambani. — PTI
