Sudhakar Babu said 6 lakh cusecs of water was flowing at the Polavaram project and there will be no problem till it reaches the 7 lakh mark. VADREVU SRINIVAS | DC KAKINADA, AUG. 13

The Godavari is receiving copious amounts of floodwaters from the river Indravathi and nearly 6 lakh cusecs of water was released into the sea at the Sir Arthur Cotton Barriage till Thursday Night. The water levels in the Godavari are increasing, causing concern over the safety of villages in Polavaram (West Godavari) and Devipatnam mandal (East Godavari). Road connectivity to 52 villages — 19 in Polavaram mandal and 33 in Devipatnam mandal — has been cut off. The Kothur causeway in Polavaram mandal was inundated and the offi-

Gehlot, Pilot in same cockpit

DC CORRESPONDENT NEW DELHI, AUG. 13

The Congress government in Rajasthan led by Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot is all set to face a vote of confidence on Friday when the state Assembly convenes, and the party high command has asked Sachin Pilot to ensure that the MLAs loyal to him vote for the Gehlot government. Earlier, the Opposition BJP had said that it would move a no-confidence motion in the Assembly. Congress sources said Mr Gehlot would also seek a trust vote as it would give his government immunity from a similar move for the next six months. If the Chief Minister moves a confidence motion, under the rules it will supersede the no-confidence motion moved by any other member. On Thursday, Mr Pilot buried his differences and met Mr Gehlot for the first time after he openly rebelled against the senior leader around a month back. Party leaders K.C. Venugopal, Avinash Pande, Randeep Surjewala, Ajay Maken and new PCC chief Govind Singh Dotasra were also there at the meeting, held at Mr Gehlot's official residence in Jaipur, and posed for pictures together. Mr Pilot and Mr Gehlot shook hands, marking the return of the sacked deputy chief minister and 18 other dissident MLAs properly to the party fold, after the intervention earlier this week by the top leadership of the Congress in New Delhi. Sources said that at the meeting, Mr Venugopal is understood to have told the two leaders to ensure that the government lasts its full five-year term. Mr Pilot is understood to have said at the meeting that he was deeply hurt by the FIRs against him and the subsequent personal comments made against him by the chief minister, to which Mr Gehlot replied that he had just been trying to save his government.

Remand prisoner escapes hospital

AVINASH P. SUBRAMANYAM | DC TIRUPATI, AUG. 13

A 51-year-old remand prisoner, who was undergoing treatment at the district hospital in Chittoor for Covid-19, gave the slip to the escort police and escaped from the hospital early on Wednesday. The incident came to light on Thursday. According to the police, the remand prisoner, a vagabond, was arrested in connection with the murder of another person in Palamaner in July last year. He was remanded to judicial custody and lodged in the district jail, from where he was shifted to the Covid ward in Piler sub-jail after he developed symptoms last week. "The prisoner, who was tested positive for Covid-19, developed high fever four days ago, following which the jail authorities shifted him to the district hospital for treatment. On Wednesday, at around 7.30 am, he came out of his ward on the pretext of getting some tea and escaped from the hospital," Chittoor DSP K. Eswara Reddy said. The DSP said the escort police was assigned to keep an eye on the prisoner, but they had to wait outside the hospital ward as per Covid-19 protocol. This prevented them from tracking the prisoner's movements inside the hospital.

TRAVEL | BAN Relaxation granted after lobbying in US; Indian IT professionals, health workers to benefit

US eases H-1B, L-1 visa curbs with 5 preconditions

Washington, Aug. 13: In a move that could help Indian IT professionals and those working in the healthcare sector, the Trump Administration has announced certain exemptions in H-1B and L-1 travel ban for those continuing employment with the same employer. The exemptions to the June 22 Presidential Proclamation 10052, commonly referred to as H-1B or L-1 Travel Ban, also includes the family members of the H-1B, L-1 and certain categories of J1 visas. President Donald Trump, in his June proclamation, banned the entry into the US of workers in several key non-immigrant visa categories, including the H-1B, arguing that they eat into American jobs. The State Department, which issued the revised travel advisory, on Wednesday said that the exemptions were given under national interest category. In its advisory, the State Department said that H-1B and L-1 visas can now be issued for staff who are "seeking to resume ongoing employment in the US in the same position with the same employer and visa classification." Forcing employers to replace existing employees may cause financial hardship, it said. All those on H-1B visas working in the healthcare sector, especially those related to the Covid-19 pandemic, or to conduct ongoing medical research in an area with a substantial public health benefit (e.g. cancer or communicable disease research) are also exempted from the July 22 travel ban. Further new factors have been set forth to also allow H-1B visas to be issued when at least two of the five indicators are met, the State Department said. First cases the petitioning employer has a continued need for the services or labour to be performed by the H-1B nonimmigrant in the United States. Cases where Labour Condition Applications (LCAs) was approved during or after July 2020 or if the LCA was approved before July 2020, the consular officer must be able to determine from the visa application the continuing need of the employee with the US employer. But, if an applicant is currently performing or is able to perform the essential functions of the position for the prospective employer remotely from outside the US, this criteria cannot be met, the State Department said. Secondly, the applicant's proposed job duties or position within the petitioning company indicate the individual will provide significant and unique contributions to an employer meeting a critical infrastructure need. Third, the wage rate paid to the H-1B applicant meaningfully exceeds the prevailing wage rate by at least 15 per cent. Fourth, the H-1B applicant's education, training and/or experience demonstrate unusual expertise in the specialty occupation in which the applicant will be employed. And finally, the denial of the visa will cause financial hardship to the US employer. The exemptions for L1 visas are mostly similar to that of the H-1B. — PTI

COPS THREATEN
OF PATIENTS

One among the two patients belonging to Racharla mandal answered the mobile phone and replied that they were going home as they don't have Covid-19 symptoms.

Aghast with the reply, police threatened to book them as well as their relatives if they fail to return to GGH. The fear is that the patients could infect more people.

The police managed to trace the details and mobile number of the driver of the autorickshaw in which the patients were returning home, and warned him with dire consequences if he took them home.

In addition to this, Bheema Nayak alerted the sub-inspector of Podili to stop the autorickshaw and send it back to the GGH. The SI stopped the vehicle and deputed a constable to follow it back to the hospital.

GGH officials said they cannot blame anyone for the escape of the patients as the staff is overloaded with work. "The staff can handle hardly 500 patients but there are more than 900 patients in the hospital. Even the security staff is no match to the heavy inflow of patients every day. Nobody expects patients to leave the hospital before discharge," a senior official in the hospital said.

YSRC GOVT. REDUCED
AMARAVATI TO BURIAL
GROUND: LOKESHDC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, AUG. 13

Telugu Desam national general secretary and MLC Nara Lokesh on Thursday accused the YSRC government of reducing Amaravati capital city to a burial ground and causing death of over 82 farmers waging a relentless struggle against proposed shifting of capital.

Mr Lokesh said a woman farmer, named Nagendramma, died out of dejection over capital decentralization. Nagendramma who gave up 95 cents of her land for capital construction participated in protests for the last 240 days, Mr Lokesh claimed.

He accused the CM of playing a cruel 'three-card' game with the lives of Amaravati farmers. "YSRC leaders took sadistic pleasure in describing Amaravati as a burial ground and now made it their single point agenda to reduce it into one, causing unbearable sorrow to the farmers in the region," he said.

"When the escort police checked with hospital staff at around 8 am, they found that the remand prisoner was missing. They immediately informed the seniors, who forwarded a complaint to the Chittoor one town police and efforts are on to nab the prisoner," the DSP said.

The district police wing has alerted all the police stations in the district and tightened security at the inter-district borders of AP, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka. About 10 special teams were formed to nab the escaped prisoner.

Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy urged the officials to expedite the process of setting up of special courts for trying cases of crime against women and children. The officials said that 11 Public Prosecutors were appointed for Disha cases and eight for cases under POCSSO.

He enquired about forensic labs and instructed officials to speed up the work.

The Chief Minister said that quality service should be provided to all Disha cases and there should be constant monitoring of its functioning. He said that there should be a monthly review and Disha Act should be implemented strictly besides creating awareness by displaying hoardings at all village and ward secretariats and at public places.

Mr Jagan Mohan Reddy urged the officials to expedite the process of setting up of special courts for trying cases of crime against women and children. The officials said that 11 Public Prosecutors were appointed for Disha cases and eight for cases under POCSSO. He enquired about forensic labs and instructed officials to speed up the work. The Disha Act (amendment) Bill which is pending with the Centre should be followed up, he said.

The officials told the Chief Minister that so far 11 lakh Disha Apps were downloaded and 502 calls have come from the App of which 107 FIRs were registered. This is besides 390 cases that have been registered and charge-sheets were filed within seven days leading to 74 convictions with three death penalties, life imprisonment for five, 20-year imprisonment for two, ten-year jail for five and seven years or above term for 10.

They further explained that through Cyber Mitra, 265 FIRs were registered, 27,000 complaints were received for cyber bullying through social media and 780 habitual offenders were identified and cases were registered against them. E-Rakshabandhan has been creating awareness on cyber bullying, they said.

Disha one-stop centres in all the district headquarters are functioning well and 2,285 cases were registered from January to August, they said.

Home Minister M. Sucharita, Chief Secretary Nilam Sawhney, DGP Goutham Sawang and other officials were among those present at the meeting.

Botsa: YSRC to work
as Opposition too

He urged AMRDA officials and those from other departments to discuss funds mobilization with the revenue department. He sought a report about the action plan under the supervision of the Chief Secretary.

Later addressing the media, minister for municipal administration Botsa Satyanarayana said that the development plan would be in accordance with the financial condition of the State government. He stated that the government will develop returnable plots in Amaravati and asserted that all proposed buildings would be completed.

Mr Satyanarayana said that the Chief Minister decided to lay the foundation stone for three capitals after getting approval from the governor. He expressed that the opposition parties were creating legal hurdles despite the fact that the three capitals policy decision would ensure all-round development of the state.

He alleged that N. Chandrababu Naidu had shunned his responsibility as 'Opposition' leader and hence the YSR

Congress would play the role of opposition by taking all public issues to the government's notice.

Satyanarayana asked the agitating farmers not to get carried away by baseless allegations and provocations of opposition parties as the government would certainly develop Amaravati and also take a decision on the buildings there.

Mr Satyanarayana said that according to Hindu tradition and culture, people will do good things by informing it to all hence the government would follow the same in laying the foundation of three capitals.

AGRI MARKETING
FACILITIESDC CORRESPONDENT
KURNOOL, AUG. 13

Andhra Pradesh Agriculture Mission vice chairman M.V.S. Nagi Reddy has stressed the need for expanding marketing facilities for farm produce.

There is no financial security for the farming community due to unremunerative prices, lack of proper marketing strategies and absence of post harvest storage facilities.

State government's YSR Rythu Bharosa scheme came as a boon for farmers with small landholdings, he said.

According to him, 69.27 per cent of farmers in the state have an average landholding of 0.4 hectare and 19.31 per cent have an average of 1.22 hectares.

These two categories constituting 88.53 per cent of farming community are benefiting from the scheme, Mr Nagi Reddy said.

Agency to monitor
pollution in VizagK.M.P. PATNAIK | DC
VISAKHAPATNAM,
AUG. 13

Five agencies have been shortlisted for the appointment of consultant for monitoring pollution to suggest preventive measures for Visakhapatnam city, now tipped to be state capital.

The city was found to be among the most polluted in the country prior to Covid-19 pandemic and two years ago many PSU oil companies were asked to cut down their production to minimise sulphur dioxide emissions.

"Six months ago, the government called for an expression of interest and five agencies shortlisted. Of them, some have joint ventures with foreign agencies," said a senior official from the Andhra Pradesh pollution control board.

He told this correspondent that the process has been halted due to lockdown and it might resume any day.

The selected agency will have to study all the available reports and studies conducted in the past few years by various agencies such as CPCB, APPCB, universities and other agencies, to carry out additional environmental studies, study the pollution-related problems, suggest measures for mitigation and design a futuristic sustainable environment management plan for Vizag city as well as other industrial clusters in the Vizag region.

Another senior officer said that the agency will consult all stakeholders and elicit the opinion of Vizagites to prepare a sustainable environment management plan.

The plan is not only to study ambient air pollution but water, including ground and surface, pollution, marine pollution and sewage systems.

The focus will also be on the bowl area located between two hill ranges, Yarada and Simhachalam.

These two hill ranges cause inversion conditions particularly during the winter season.

Major habitation and industries co-exist in the bowl area.

The point, line and area sources of emissions from the industries, service sector and vehicular pollution which are likely to have impact on the air quality of the study area due to prevailing meteorological conditions are to be identified and comprehensive source data of pollutants obtained.

APUCF DEMANDS
QUARANTINE CENTRES
IN ALL MANDALSDC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, AUG. 13

AP Urban Citizen Federation (APUCF) has demanded quarantine centres in every mandal, Rs 5 lakh ex gratia to the kin of Corona victims and setting up of temporary hospitals to treat non-Covid patients in the state.

APUCF convener Ch. Babu Rao said that APUCF conducted the survey in 52 towns and cities from August 5 to 11 on the availability of facilities in the Covid centers and met a wider section of people to collect the data of the expenditure they incurred on treatment. He said that the survey indicated immediate steps to be taken by the government to increase the number of beds, ventilators, oxygen supply, ICU facilities and recruitment of doctors, nurses and paramedical staff.

Mr Babu Rao lamented that the survey found poor quality of food being supplied to the patients at quarantine centres and government hospitals. Though the government issued an order bringing Covid-9 treatment under Aarogya cover, no hospital was admitting patients under the scheme forcing people to spend huge money. Mr Babu Rao said the survey report would be submitted to the government.

PATIENTS ADVISED
HOME ISOLATION BUT
NO KITS AVAILABLEDC CORRESPONDENT
KADAPA, AUG. 13

Corona is booming Kadapa in the wake of lockdown relaxations. The number of victims has crossed 15,000.

It became difficult to provide medical treatment to the victims due to shortage of doctors, staff and beds in the hospitals. With this, those with fewer symptoms are being asked to stay at home for 14 days rather than in a hospital and get regular nutrition and timely medication, government officials and medical officials say.

They are guaranteed to be given medical kits. Official figures say more than 3,000 victims in the district are in home isolation. The state government, however, has been criticised for not providing Coronavirus kits to Covid-19 patients even though it promotes home isolation.

Medical kits are designed to help patients in home isolation. The medical kit includes masks, gloves, sanitisers as well as paracetamol tablets to reduce fever and back pain, pantoprazole for gastric trouble, multi-vitamin tablets for immunity, and hydroxy-chloroquine and cetirizine tablets.

Brahmasagar
to disappoint
farmers againNAGESWARA RAO
BALLEDA | DC
KADAPA, AUG. 13

Brahmamsagar, an integral part of the Telugu Ganga project, is likely to disappoint farmers this year as well. Though Telugu Ganga water was coming to the district for the last 13 years, this particular reservoir was never filled to its capacity.

Although there is a main canal with a capacity of 5,000 cusecs from Velugodu Reservoir in Kurnool district, water never reaches more than 2000 cusecs. The canal is expected to flow for 98 km but gets diverted by farmers in the upper area, which remains the main reason for the water flow not going beyond 2,000 cusecs in any given year.

Even if water is brought in for a long time, it is not possible to fill more than 12 TMC due to leakage in the Brahmamsagar earth dam. The reservoir's full water level was 17.73 TMC, filled up from a maximum of 11.9 TMC last year.

In order for water to be fully brought in from Velugodu Reservoir, the canal till up to its eighth kilometre is filled with bushes and other waste material, which remains the main obstacle for the water stream. The canal is hit by lack of lining works.

Although it has a capacity of 5,000 cusecs, till now the water release has been less than 3,000 cusecs.

While farmers and farmers' union leaders have been battling over the past few years for full water, the previous government had called for tenders to strengthen the canals. The company that secured the works removed the bushes and other debris into the canal and they stopped the works. However, the latest is that water will be released to the canal this week. If the main canal is not solidified under these conditions, it will not be possible to fill the reservoir completely this year.

Mydukuru and Badvel Assembly constituencies have an area of 1,67,000 acres under the Telugu Ganga. The ponds are filled with Ganga water and supplied for cultivation. There are 77 irrigation tanks in these two constituencies. Apart from these, the Badvel Paddacheruvu is also within the canal.

Currently, Brahmamsagar Reservoir has storage of six TMC water. If another six TMC comes in, farmers will stand to benefit and the remaining water is pumped through the reservoir right and left canals to fill 77 ponds. The farmers are seeking an early completion of lining works.

Conditions in GGHN cast doubts on claims

HM of a school wailed seeking admission in the hospital

PATHRI RAJASEKHAR | DC NELLORE, AUG. 13

The claims of officials over improvements in the facilities and treatment at the Government General Hospital, Nellore (GGHN) notwithstanding, a serious of incidents tell a contrary story. A school headmaster who was tested positive to Corona and suffering from diabetes and kidney ailments was forced to wait for several hours to get admitted in the hospital two days ago. He waited before the hospital appealing to them to admit him. Though he was admitted later, he succumbed to the virus on Tuesday night. Hospital superintendent, Dr Sudhakar Reddy, denied any delay in admission or treatment in a press release later. Even before the incident died down, relatives of a critical patient alleged that doctors delayed treatment arguing that they don't have PPE kits or N95 masks to attend to the patient. A video recording supported the allegation of the relatives. In the video, the doctor on duty is seen stating that doctors have to protect themselves before taking care of the patients. Reacting to a question on the conditions in GGHN, joint collector (development), N. Prabhakar Reddy, said they have posted observers to keep a tab on services to the patients in the wards and ICU.

He claimed that the government has provided as many as 100 advanced portable ventilators specially made to treat Covid-19 patients in GGHN. A team of specialists has been deputed from Narayana general hospital to take care of the patients in the ICU at GGHN. In addition to this, 600 medical and paramedical staff have been recruited to overcome the shortage of manpower in GGHN. The bed strength at Narayana general hospital has also been increased to 500 and final year nursing students have been posted in the hospital to overcome the scarcity for nursing staff. Stressing that advanced portable ventilators procured by GGHN would be a boon to the patients in critical condition, Reddy expressed confidence in handling any emergency cases on par with corporate hospitals.

Bharatiya Janata Party MP Varun Gandhi will introduce a private member bill — Donation and Transplantation of Human Organ Bill, 2020 — promoting cadaver donation and making it compulsory for all Indian adults to be registered as organ donors unless a person opts out.

The Bill, which also seeks a National Registry of donors, non-donors and recipients which “shall have information as may be prescribed to an ongoing evaluation of the scientific and clinical status of human organs and tissues.”

“According to the WHO estimates, three to four million lives per year can be saved in India if we have such a system and most of these people will be from poor and middle class families who otherwise cannot afford. Let’s say even five per cent of Indian population agrees to donate their organs and tissues, the number can be multiplied by 15 times in organ banks which is a very significant number as compared to the figures which we have now,” said Gandhi, who is likely to introduce the Bill in the monsoon session of Parliament.

NOTICE TO FOREST
OFFICIAL FOR
REMARKS ON LIONS

Ahmedabad, Aug. 13: The Gujarat government on Thursday issued a notice to a senior forest official over his “irresponsible” and “undesirable” statements about the Asiatic lions and their conservation.

The notice was issued to Chief Wildlife Warden of the state Shyamal Tikadar, the government said in a statement. The government said it “does not agree with such personal views, which are far from truth and facts”.

“For his irresponsible statements against the government policies, the Gujarat government has decided to seek his explanation and issue a notice as per All India Service (Conduct) Rules,” the statement said. On the eve of the World Lion Day on August 10, a webinar was organised by the Central Zoo Authority, in which the Chief Wildlife Warden and Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) was one of the panelists, it added.

“During this webinar, he spoke about the conservation of Asiatic lions in Gujarat. He presented certain objectionable views and made undesirable comments on various issues,” it said without elaborating. In a video of the webinar, Tikadar, a 1986-batch IFS officer, can be heard suggesting that people should look at lions or wildlife more as “a resource than an asset”.

He termed the Asiatic lions of Gir forest as a “commodity which we have branded, but can not sell”.

Role of SDPI in Bengaluru
violence comes to the fore

Several SDPI office-bearers arrested; RAF contingent holds flag march

Bengaluru, Aug. 13: Karnataka Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said the role of the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) behind the Tuesday night violence in parts of Bengaluru, had come to light and investigation will go deep into it and their connections.

The Minister said, four people associated with SDPI have been arrested in this regard and investigation is under way.

“K G Halli and D J Halli are peaceful since Wednesday and there have been no untoward incidents...as the investigation is progressing new information is coming out. I cannot share with you everything, but in the days to come I will share before the media,” Bommai said.

Speaking to reporters here, he said, as per the information gathered so far and video footage, most importantly the role of SDPI is coming to light. We are collecting more information regarding it, we are investigating deeply in this regard.

“Already, several SDPI office-bearers have been arrested. Muzammil Pasha, the SDPI district secretary is the main (person), also Firoz, Afraz Pasha and Shaik Adil, all of them are from SDPI. Their role is completely being investigated and they have been arrested,” he added.

Three people were killed after police opened fire to quell a mob that went on a rampage in a city locality on Tuesday night over an inflammatory social media post allegedly put out by a Congress legislator’s relative.

Pulakeshi Nagar MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy’s residence and a police station at D J Halli were among those targeted by the angry mob.

The house of the MLA, who was not at home at the time, was allegedly set on fire. The rioters also torched many police and private vehicles, badly damaged the house and looted the belongings of MLA Murthy and those of his sister. An ATM was smashed into pieces.

After the arson and violence, the entire DJ Halli resembled a war zone.

Nearly 140 people have been arrested so far, in connection with the incident. Bommai said, through some video footage it has come to light that SDPI workers had come from neighbouring areas of K G Halli and D J Halli, and it is being investigated.

“The investigation will look into who are behind the incident, its links with other such incidents in the past. We will go deep into it and will not rest until we break through this conspiracy,” he said.

Officials are also gathering details on cases against the SDPI in Mysuru, Mangaluru and other places, Bommai said, adding that all angles at the local level are also being looked into like rivalry between and within political parties.

“Everything that might have led to this incident, we will investigate. Whoever is at fault or have supported it, we will take action even if it is an elected representative,” he added. Assuring people of security, the Home Minister said, police have worked putting their life at risk, with Covid on one side and such incidents on the other.

“I appeal to people not to fear and cooperate in maintaining peace and order,” he added.

The SDPI on Wednesday had denied its role in the violence and had blamed police inaction.

The Karnataka government on Wednesday announced that a district magistrate would conduct an inquiry into the violence. The government has also decided to recover losses caused to public property during the violence from the rioters.

Meanwhile, Muzamil Pasha and others have been named as one of the many accused in the FIR.

The police registered at least five FIRs in connection with the incident - two in Devara Jeevanahalli (DJ Halli) and three in Kadugondanahalli (KG Halli) stations.

Besides Pasha, police have named Afran, Syed Masood, Ayaz and Allabaksh in the first FIR at DJ Halli. The second FIR has three names and ‘other 200 persons.’

The police in their FIR charged the rioters with barging into the two police stations with an intention to kill the policeman there and kill Pulakeshinagar MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy’s nephew whose alleged inflammatory post in social media enraged a section of the society.

Meanwhile, a contingent of the Rapid Action Force conducted a flag march in the riot-hit areas.

Youth form human chain to protect temple

Bengaluru, Aug. 13: Youth, including those from a minority community, decided to protect a temple when a mob was going on a rampage here after being irked over a social media post on an allegedly communally sensitive issue.

A video of the youth quickly forming the human chain to protect the Hanuman temple on Shampura Main Road has gone viral, even as the mob was indulging in arson.

The human chain was formed on Tuesday night as a result of some quick thinking while violence sent shock waves across DJ Halli, KG Halli and neighbouring areas of Pulakeshinagar.

“We saw the rioters coming in groups towards the temple and their intention seemed to damage it. Then we decided to form a human chain to protect it,” a youth who wished not to be named, said.

He expressed fear that any damage to the temple could have complicated things further. On Tuesday night, a mob had gone on the rampage at Pulakeshinagar irked over the social media post allegedly put out by a Congress legislator’s relative, with the government terming the violence as a well-planned act.

Three persons were killed when police opened fire to quell the mob and scores of others, including over 50 police personnel, sustained injuries in the violence that stretched till the wee hours of Wednesday.

The mob had set on fire the DJ Halli Police Station, besides damaging Pulakeshinagar Congress MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy’s property for his nephew Naveen had allegedly posted some objectionable content in the social media about a week ago.

State Revenue Minister R. Ashoka had dubbed the violence pre-planned with an intention to spread it in other parts of the city.

Naveen has also been arrested.

All arrested can’t be guilty: Deve Gowda

Bengaluru, Aug. 13: Former Prime Minister H.D. Deve Gowda on Thursday said only those really guilty should be punished for the violence in parts of the city on August 11, as he asked the Congress and BJP not to indulge in a political blamegame on the issue.

Expressing sadness over the attack on Pulakeshi Nagar MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy’s residence, the JD(S) patriarch also said the government should take action to get justice for him and give him compensation for the losses. “The attack on Pulakeshi Nagar MLA Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy’s residence is unfortunate and such incidents should not occur in any part of the country.

Police have arrested about 140 people in connection with rioting, but how many among them are real culprits?” Gowda was quoted as saying by his office in a release. He said, “all of them (arrested) cannot be culprits.

Only those who are really guilty should be held responsible for the incident and merciless action should be taken against them. Innocents should not be punished, this is my request to the police.”

Three persons were killed after police opened fire to quell a mob that went on a rampage in a city locality on Tuesday night over a purportedly inflammatory social media post allegedly put out by the Congress legislator Murthy’s relative.

Urging the government to take action against those guilty, he said, burning down houses, cars and looting the properties related to an MLA was unheard of in the state.

They also posted grainy black-and-white footage of the helicopter hovering low over the vessel and special forces personnel fast-roping onto the deck. "Today in international waters, Iranian forces, including two ships and an Iranian 'Sea King' helicopter, overtook and boarded a ship called the 'Vila'," the US Central Command said in a tweet on Wednesday. A US defence official said the Iranians released the vessel, a Liberian-flagged oil and chemicals tanker, after holding it for four to five hours. It occurred in international waters of the Gulf of Oman, 32 kilometres off the coast of the United Arab Emirates.

Israel halts Gaza fuel supply

Gaza City: Israel announced Thursday it was halting the "import of fuel into the Gaza Strip", the latest punitive measure over a wave of airborne fire bombs from the Palestinian territory. The defence ministry announcement came hours after Israeli jets and tanks hit targets affiliated with Hamas, the enclave's Islamist rulers. No casualties were reported. The latest round of hostilities has seen firebombs attached to bunches of balloons floating into Israel, setting scrubland ablaze. Sometimes kites are used in the makeshift attacks. In response, Israel has closed a goods crossing with Gaza and slashed the territory's permitted coastal fishing zone. The fuel sanction was "in light of the continued launching of incendiary balloons from the Strip toward the territory of the State of Israel and of the undermining of security stability", the defence ministry said.

LEBANON NOD TO EMERGENCY POWERS

Beirut, Aug. 13: Lebanon's parliament on Thursday approved a two-week state of emergency imposed by the government after last week's deadly port explosion that gives it legal authority to suppress resurgent protests.

Calls had circulated on social media networks for protesters to prevent lawmakers from entering the session — the first since the August 4 blast that ravaged swathes of the capital. But turnout was too low on Thursday morning, ahead of official visits by French Defence Minister Florence Parly and David Hale, the top career diplomat at the US State Department. Security forces outnumbered the dozen or so demonstrators who had gathered on a street near parliament.

Demonstrators tried to heckle tinted vehicles dashing to the debate but they could not stop it reaching a quorum.

The colossal explosion that killed 171 people and wounded at least 6,500 others has rekindled calls for the ouster of Lebanon's decades-old political elite, many of whom are former warlords from the 1975-1990 civil war.

There has been widespread anger against a political leadership which allowed a large shipment of hazardous ammonium nitrate fertiliser to rot for years in a port warehouse despite repeated safety warnings.

An AFP investigation found that up until the day before the deadly blast, officials had exchanged warnings over the cargo, but did nothing despite experts' fears it could cause a major conflagration.

As he presented his government's resignation on Monday, Prime Minister Hassan Diab blamed the blast on decades of corruption and official mismanagement.

Biden, Harris vow to rebuild US

V-P nominee says citizens crying out to overcome pandemic, racial bias, poor economy

Wilmington, United States, Aug. 13: Joe Biden and Kamala Harris launched their joint White House bid Wednesday, with the newly minted vice-presidential nominee saying Americans are "crying out for leadership" to overcome the triple crisis of a pandemic, racial injustice and a ravaged economy.

Making their first appearance as running mates, before a small crowd of reporters and staffers at a Delaware high school closed to the public due to coronavirus concerns, the Democratic duo vowed to end Donald Trump's presidency and, in Biden's words, "rebuild this country". "Everything we care about," said Harris. "It's all on the line."

A formidable 55-year-old US senator from California and a daughter of immigrants, Harris has already made history as the first woman of colour tapped for a major party presidential ticket.

Describing a country at the crossroads, she left little doubt of her determination to go on the attack, saying Trump "just isn't up for the job" and has left the nation "in tatters".

"America is crying out for leadership, yet we have a president who cares more about himself than the people who elected him," said Harris.

Despite the awkwardly intimate setting, a far cry from the typical campaign rollout featuring an audience of thousands, Harris appeared telegenic and confident in her first speech as vice presidential nominee — for which she and Biden both arrived wearing facemasks.

"The case against Donald Trump and Mike Pence is open and shut," said the former California attorney general as she assailed the president's "failures of leadership" on containing the deadly pandemic and an economy hobbled by measures to fight the contagion. The daughter of Indian and Jamaican immigrants to the United States sought to tap into the nationwide upheaval over police violence and racial disparities.

"We're experiencing a moral reckoning with racism and systemic injustice that has brought a new coalition of conscience to the streets of our country demanding change," she said. For Biden — who leads Trump in most national polls and in swing states like Florida and Wisconsin despite conducting the campaign mostly from his Wilmington, Delaware home — his V-P reveal marks a crucial moment as he aims to build a broad coalition of voters to defeat Trump.

Biden spoke of why he chose Harris as his partner, stressing she was a tough and experienced legislator who is "ready to do this job on Day 1".

And he said that Harris' story as the child of immigrants and a woman of colour who fought her way to the top ranks of US legal and political circles would inspire the country.

"Her story's America's story," Biden said. "She's worked hard (and) she's never backed down from a challenge."

He also laced his remarks with optimism about the future, promising that a Biden-Harris administration will do what it takes to "turn the corner on this pandemic". The event capped a 24-hour flurry since Biden's running mate announcement, with Biden saying they raised an impressive $26 million during the period, the campaign's one-day record.

Israel ties could ease Obama-era tensions

Jerusalem, Aug. 13: During Joe Biden's first trip to Israel in 1973, he met prime minister Golda Meir, who chain-smoked as she detailed regional security threats days before the Yom Kippur War.

Biden, a newly elected US senator at the time, later described that meeting as "one of the most consequential" of his life.

In the more than four decades since, his career has been marked by a staunch defence of Israel, especially in its handling of the Palestinian conflict.

Biden, set to become the Democratic Party's presidential nominee next week, will face in Donald Trump a president whom Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has described as Israel's best friend to ever sit in the White House.

The warm ties contrast with Netanyahu's acrimonious relationship with Biden's old boss, former president Barack Obama.

But some experts say a Biden win would be welcomed across Israel's political and military establishment — not just by Netanyahu's rivals on the left.

Biden has long been a vocal supporter of the Jewish state, declaring in a 2015 speech that the US must uphold its "sacred promise to protect the homeland of the Jewish people". Kamala Harris, Biden's vice-presidential nominee, is also regarded as a staunch backer of the Jewish state.

After hosting a delegation from the main pro-Israel lobby AIPAC in her office in California last year, she wrote on Twitter of the "need for a strong US-Israel alliance, the right of Israel to defend itself, and my commitment to combat anti-Semitism in our country and around the world".

A strong commitment to defending Israel is key to winning the trust of Israeli leaders, perpetually sensitive to international criticism. "We like people who love us," said Nadav Tamir, a former diplomat and foreign policy advisor to president Shimon Peres. "There is no doubt Biden is a friend who has very strong emotions for Israel," he said.

Experts suggested Biden could also restore the traditional American role of interlocutor between Israel and the Palestinians.

The Palestinian Authority has cut ties with Trump, accusing him of egregious bias towards Israel.

Biden "will do much better than Trump on the real issues because he understands that the Israel-Palestinian issue is not a zero-sum game," Tamir said.

Biden served in an Obama administration that often clashed with Israel.

PAK ARMY CHIEF BIDS TO PLACATE SAUDI ARABIA

SHAFQAT ALI | DC ISLAMABAD, AUG. 13

Pakistan army chief Qamar Javed Bajwa will visit Saudi Arabia this week-end in a bid to remove misunderstandings as financial support for Islamabad hangs in the balance. Pakistan has long pressed the Saudi-led Organisation of Islamic Countries (OIC) to convene a high-level meeting to highlight alleged Indian violations in Kashmir. But the OIC has only held low-level meetings so far.

"If you cannot convene it, then I'll be compelled to ask Prime Minister Imran Khan to call a meeting of the Islamic countries that are ready to stand with us on the issue of Kashmir and support the oppressed Kashmiris."

Foreign Minister Shah Mehmood Qureshi said last week.

Last year, Islamabad had pulled out of a Muslim-majority countries forum at the last minute on insistence by Riyadh, which said the gathering was an attempt to challenge its leadership of the OIC. Qureshi's remarks have revived Riyadh's anger.

Saudia Arabia had already made Pakistan pay back $1 billion two weeks ago, forcing it to borrow from another close ally China, and Riyadh is yet to respond to Pakistan's request to extend the oil credit facility.

"The first year (of the oil credit facility) completed on 9th July 2020. Our request for an extension in the arrangement is under consideration with the Saudi side," an official said.

Saudi Arabia is also asking for another $1 billion back.

NOBELIST SVETLANA TELLS BELARUS PREZ TO LEAVE

Minsk, Aug. 13: Belarusian Nobel prize-winning writer Svetlana Alexievich has condemned police violence against protesters in her country and urged President Alexander Lukashenko to go peacefully. The 72-year-old author won the 2015 Nobel literature prize for her work chronicling the horrors of war and life under the repressive Soviet regime, including the 1986 Chernobyl disaster.

In her first public reaction to the protests that have broken out across Belarus over Sunday's disputed presidential election, the writer told Radio Liberty/Radio Free Europe that Lukashenko should step down peacefully to prevent a bloody civil war.

"Leave before it's too late, before you've thrown people into a terrible abyss, into the abyss of civil war," she appealed to Lukashenko, whom she has long criticised.

New Zealand mulls lockdown extension as Covid-19 spreads

Wellington, Aug. 13: New Zealand health officials said Wednesday a Covid-19 cluster in Auckland had grown, raising the prospect a lockdown imposed on the country's biggest city after the virus returned will be extended.

National health director-general Ashley Bloomfield said a high school student in Auckland had tested positive, taking the number of confirmed infections to five, with another four probable cases.

"This is someone who was a close contact with one of our existing confirmed cases," Bloomfield told TVNZ.

Health authorities rushed to implement a lockdown in the country's largest city after testing revealed four family members had contracted the virus from an unknown source.

It ended New Zealand's much envied run of 102 days without community transmission, and resulted in a three-day stay-at-home order in Auckland which ends at midnight Friday. Bloomfield said it was "almost certain" more cases would emerge, and teams of health workers were racing to find the cluster's origin.

"We want to find out how large it is as soon as possible, so we've been testing all close contacts, casual contacts, workplace, family related," he said.

New York, Aug. 13: Activists and relief groups in the United States are scrambling to head off a monumental wave of evictions nationwide, as the coronavirus crisis leaves tens of millions at risk of homelessness.

The jobs catastrophe sparked by the global health emergency and the tepid rebound in the world's largest economy have left Americans struggling to pay rent and vulnerable to eviction. Hopes for relief in the form of a fresh aid package from Washington were dashed as partisan bickering scuppered the latest negotiations.

The housing crisis is "already a tsunami," said Bambi Hayes-Brown of Georgia Advancing Communities Together, a coalition of nonprofit housing and community development groups.

"We got some funding from the United Way and we went through it so fast. We were just inundated," said Mariatou Diallo, who lives in New York. — AFP

DUTERTE TO SKIP TRIAL OF RUSSIA VIRUS VACCINE

Manila, Aug. 13: The Philippines will begin large-scale human testing of Russia's coronavirus vaccine in October, but President Rodrigo Duterte will not receive the inoculation until regulators guarantee its safety.

Duterte had offered himself up as a guinea pig for the very first jab. But his spokesman Harry Roque said the president was scheduled to receive the vaccine no earlier than May 1, weeks after the Russian-funded clinical trial is due to end in March. — AFP

VACCINATION IN RUSSIAN REGION AFTER MONGOLIA BUBONIC PLAGUE

Moscow, Aug. 13: The head of a remote Russian region on Thursday said that herders and other residents of two districts on the border with Mongolia should be vaccinated against bubonic plague.

The order was issued after Mongolia's health ministry said Wednesday that bubonic plague killed a man in the country's west. It was the latest in a handful of cases to emerge there and in neighbouring China this year.

The leader of the Siberian region of Tuva, Sholban Kara-ool, said all residents of the region's two border districts, Ovyursky and Mongun-Taiginsky, should be inoculated.

The two districts are home to some 14,000 people. — AFP

FANTASY | FILM Author Woodward made name with coverage of Watergate scam

Trump book to reveal letters with Kim

Seoul, Aug. 13: Kim Jong Un said his relationship with Donald Trump was like a "fantasy film", according to the publishers of a new book on the US president set to unveil 25 private letters exchanged between the two leaders.

The relationship between the pair has been a key driver of recent diplomacy between Washington and Pyongyang, veering from mutual insults and threats of war to a declaration of love from Trump.

Investigative journalist Bob Woodward obtained messages between the two leaders "that have not been public before" for his upcoming book, according to Simon & Schuster.

In the letters, "Kim describes the bond between the two leaders as out of a 'fantasy film', as the two leaders engage in an extraordinary diplomatic minuet", the publisher revealed on the book's Amazon page. The book, titled "Rage" and a follow-up to 2018's "Fear", is due out on September 15. Trump and Kim have met three times, beginning with their landmark summit in Singapore in June 2018, but little progress has been made on efforts to denuclearise the North.

● TRUMP HAS sought to discredit several of the claims made in "Fear", which offered an inside glimpse into his chaotic White House and sold 1.1 million copies in its first week. Trump — who was not interviewed by Woodward for "Fear" — has called that book a "joke" and "a scam".

A few months after Singapore, Trump told a rally of his supporters that the two men had fallen in love. "No, really, he wrote me beautiful letters, and they're great letters. We fell in love," he said. Negotiations have been deadlocked since the collapse of a second summit in Hanoi in February last year. But even with diplomacy at a standstill, Trump has frequently boasted of receiving "very beautiful" and "excellent" letters from Kim. Woodward, a Washington Post reporter, made his name with his coverage of the Watergate scandal and the role it played in the Richard Nixon's resignation from the presidency in 1974.

Trump has sought to discredit several of the claims made in "Fear", which offered an inside glimpse into his chaotic White House and sold 1.1 million copies in its first week.

Trump — who was not interviewed by Woodward for "Fear" — has called that book a "joke" and "a scam". But in January this year, Trump said he had sat down with Woodward for the upcoming work. "I was interviewed by a very, very good writer, reporter," Trump said. "I can say Bob Woodward. He said he's been doing something and this time I said, 'Maybe I'll sit down.'" — AFP

Kamala Harris: A smart choice by US Democrats

The Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden's pick of running mate in Kamala Harris is historic in more ways than one. Her selection will resonate with a large section of American voters even as it spotlights the growing importance of voters among people of colour (PoC), more so of PoC women who have fought for decades since the suffragette revolution for their voices to be heard and their ambitions given equal opportunity. Her Afro-Caribbean-Jamaican and Indian parentage brings to the centre stage once again the immigrants' American dream and middle class aspirations that have been threatened in four years of Trump and at a time when the world is in the grip of a raging pandemic.

The USA of today is far more of a racial and cultural melting pot than it was when a Chennai woman broke her Indian shackles and set forth to study in the USA back in 1958 and her daughter now represents eloquently the fight for equal opportunity and equal justice. The Democratic ticket needed this burst of energy to back the 78-year-old Joe Biden. Whether he is to be viewed as a transitional leader or not, what Democrats have right now is a Vice-President candidate acceptable to a large section of the population besides the fundraising ability of a prosperous West Coast Senator who is married to a Jew. Far from damaging the handy lead pollsters are giving Biden, she may add value.

Biden's choice predictably ignited the misogynistic, sexist Donald Trump into offending nearly half the US population by bringing back affront to women's dignity in his attitude that is more suited to the Middle Ages. It is at an inflection point in contemporary history of civil strife in the time of the tragic George Floyd and the Black Lives Matter movement that his death inspired bringing Harris into the limelight and making her presence on the ticket a smart choice indeed. Furthermore, when the Donald Trump administration is seen to be not only ineffective in handling the Covid-19 pandemic but also deliberately and cynically contemptuous of a threat that has killed more than 1.66 lakh Americans, she brings strength with substance and not just symbolism to a Democratic ticket promising at least the much-needed empathy to a difficult situation.

The far right may have reason to believe Harris, brought up more as a PoC kid singing in the church choir than a Tamil Brahmin (and yet mindful of her mother's legacy) is too far to the left while the liberals believe she is, like Biden, too much at the centre. The Chinese are already annoyed by her brave and moral stand on the discriminatory treatment of Uighur Muslims. Harris' strong views on CAA, Kashmir and other home policies may be seen as abrasive by official India. Most Indian-Americans would, however, sense a chance to be more of a mainstream community in their adopted country with their votes likely to be valuable in battleground states. An antidote to the most divisive president in modern history is bound to come with ideologies and philosophies that are principled and it is not only in her animus towards Trump that a politician such as this must be seen as a champion to fight the forces in these conflicted times.

Show no mercy to rioters

The vandalism that followed an inflammatory Facebook post and the police firing which cost the lives of three youngsters in Bengaluru on Wednesday point to the urgent need for the authorities to be on a state of high alert against attempts to flame communal passions and throw life into disarray. Hurting religious sentiments is a punishable offence in India. So, anyone who does it knows about its implications, and as such, must be brought to book. The same logic works for believers, too, and they must know that the legal system is capable of dealing with deliberate attempts to denigrate religious figures.

The Bengaluru rioters deserve no mercy as they torched the home of a legislator, set fire to vehicles and even attacked a police station. The Social Democratic Party of India, which now stands accused of having a role in the violence, has a history of portraying themselves as the champions of the Muslim cause in India while pursuing an often-counterproductive path of violence to achieve their ends. Such forces must be made to understand that rule of law prevails in the country.

The BJP, which is ruling the state, was quick to condemn the riot and blame "appeasement" saying the Congress was silent about the vandalism though a Congress legislator, who is a Dalit, was at the receiving end. The Opposition party must respond to the charge and take an unequivocal stand against communal elements in society.

Bengaluru police stopped the violence from turning into a communal riot. However, the assertions by the ministers and senior police officials that the violence was planned beg the question why the police did not take preventive action. They must do more and prevent its recurrence. This country can ill-afford more calamities, manmade or otherwise.

Why Ayodhya was not like battle for freedom

Anand K. Sahay

Far & Near

We are limping toward our 73rd Independence Day with little enthusiasm. The mood cannot but be downbeat after Prime Minister Narendra Modi's morale eroding recent Ayodhya foray.

The most narrow-minded Hindu, who (even if inadvertently) takes his cue from an outfit with a militaristic anti-democracy mindset that espouses antagonism toward particular religions, and weakens the core concepts of modern Indian nationhood rooted in our freedom movement, may have been charged up that day. But even such people have to think of their home fires, the pandemic at the door, and the push of expansionist China's army inside our borders.

Their evidently pseudo "Ram bhakti", or devotion to the exalted ideals exemplified by Lord Ram, has no basis in religion. Its fundamentals lie elsewhere — in the corrosive alleyways of politics that seek religion-based domination of society and the political space — as in Pakistan, for instance, and can without exaggeration be called non-sacred devotion to the divine.

The entire Ayodhya temple project has, in fact, been a massive enterprise in the politics of bigotry in which religion is whipped up as a mobilising tool with the aim of acquiring and retaining power on premises that are unconnected with the demands of everyday life. And this is why, eventually, it is likely to prove of little avail against such powerful counter-urges as have been noted above — those of pressing concerns of the country.

Even if an ideologically-crazed and politically greedy Prime Minister is not ready at present to comprehend this, he is likely to be brought down to earth when ordinary Indians begin to feel the pinch and hold him and his buddies to account.

A (probably modified) Turkish proverb runs thus: "The forest was shrinking but the trees kept voting for the axe, for the axe was clever and convinced the trees that because his handle was made of wood he was one of them." In this the metaphor of our present politics (and indeed that of Turkey) becomes clear as day.

Just 10 days before India was to mark the 73rd anniversary of its freedom from colonial rule — and of attaining in that process the composite identity of a common nationhood, which is an overarching canopy across our complex identities of religion, caste, language and ethnicity — the Prime Minister struck at the fundamental precepts enshrined in the idea of Indian independence. These had even served as a model to many countries as the process of decolonisation unfolded across the world.

It was careful choreography that the temple-building trust (which seems an extension of the PMO) chose August 5 — the very date last year on which the constitutionally-ordained autonomy of Jammu and Kashmir, India's only Muslim-majority state, was snatched away by the Centre by adopting illegal and irregular ways that have been challenged in the Supreme Court, and the region brought under militarised suppression with not even a semblance of democratic governance — to lay the foundation of the Ram temple in Ayodhya.

The Kashmir-to-Ayodhya common template was clearly intended to overtly demonstrate the suppression of Muslim aspirations in India by the Indian State under the RSS-BJP aegis, although Muslims were equal participants in the freedom movement.

The RSS-BJP cohorts had declared from the start that the temple of their dreams would be erected at the exact spot where the Babri Masjid, a 16th century mosque of no particular significance (the Supreme Court rejected the propaganda that the mosque was on built on the ruins of a temple), had stood and was violently pulled down on December 6, 1992.

This was ruthlessly ensured through an illogical and justifiably condemned decree of the Supreme Court in November last year. A judgment in favour of Ram Lalla (beloved Ram) would hardly have presented a problem since it is widely recognised now that many of democracy's characteristic institutions appear to have been all but superseded by the executive under the Narendra Modi government.

Mr Modi is known to bring communal mobs to their feet without breaking a sweat, and for full theatrical effect he seldom fails to appear in the attire of ancient Hindu sages as depicted in kitsch art. For him, it would have been quite enough to satisfy the faithful by just being around to lay the first symbolic brick for the construction of the temple in Ayodhya, no matter how constitutionally unseemly this is.

And yet, the PM thought it best to make a big deal about invoking the freedom movement, and giving the (patently false) impression that building the temple was the second edition of the glorious struggle for independence, which is imprinted in the psyche of every Indian. Why did he do so?

The reason seems clear. He wanted to steal the emotional association every Indian has with the long-drawn freedom struggle for an act of violent bigotry at Ayodhya — arguably the most reprehensible in free India. Even if no one dared to inform him of this earlier, the Prime Minister may as well be made conscious that his August 5 speech in Ayodhya eviscerates the ideas that underlie the independence of India.

"The soul of a nation, long suppressed, finds utterance," Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru had said as the midnight hour struck proclaiming the emergence of India on the world stage as a new kind of free nation, one whose very concept had mesmerised the world on account of its perplexing diversity, plurality, and its ambition for democracy. But the present PM presses the delete button on such thoughts every single day. Yet, nothing bestows legitimacy like favourable allusions to the independence movement.

So, speaking from Ayodhya, Mr Modi engaged in yet another act of misappropriation by falsely linking the temple project with the freedom movement. He sought to portray the construction of the Ram temple as an act of "liberation". But we have been a free country for over 70 years, and no one in India feels enslaved except by caste, class, gender or communal oppression. That makes Mr Modi's "liberation theology" a grand deception.

Truth to tell, the PM has already made his Independence Day address on August 5, and it had little to do with the core values of India and the immediate concerns of all Indians. From the Red Fort on August 15, he can only give us a round of rituals and some more propaganda.

Grabbing won't help landless, says PM

NEW DELHI, Aug. 13 Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today strongly disapproved the landgrab movement being carried on by some Opposition parties and said it was not the right method to solve the problem of the landless.

Replying to a three-day debate on the Fourt Plan in the Rajya Sabha,

Mrs. Gandhi said the movement would not do any social justice in the long run because it was "based on the feeling of hatred, envy and even promotion of acquisitive spirit."

The Prime Minister emphasised that the land problem could be solved by persuasion and peaceful means.

This looks like a nightmarish end to federalism as we know it. Bollywood actor Sushant Singh Rajput's tragic death has turned into deplorable political one-upmanship. The unprecedented face-off between Bihar Police and Mumbai Police on the investigation of the suicide has far reaching consequences. Many experts are of the view that sending a team of Bihar Police personnel to Mumbai after Rajput's father filed a FIR demanding a probe into the "crime" was out of step. In India, police is a state subject and crimes are investigated by the police depending on where they occurred. If states start to interfere and go after crimes committed against their citizens in another state, we have a recipe for disaster. With the further likely addition of the CBI into this pot, the stew has grown thicker.

Had some worthies shown some prudence, we wouldn't have had to see the DGPs of the two states slinging at each other on the TV news. TV newsrooms or Twitter are not the place to conduct a serious investigation into the death of a popular actor.

The case has grown much bigger with the respective state governments getting into the ring. The Bihar CM has given his nod for a CBI probe, bowing to pressure from the actor's family, while Maharashtra chief minister Uddhav Thackeray refusing to give in to the demand. Both chief ministers have decided to stick by their police chiefs. The Enforcement Directorate has also opened an investigation into alleged money laundering. It is pretty much a no-holds-barred affair now, teetering dangerously on the edge of turning into a farce.

None of this would have merited so much focus and energy were it not for the Assembly elections in Bihar, due in October. The Bihari "sentiment" seems to have taken the frontstage, a thinly veiled euphemism for votes. The politicisation of the police is one of those vexing issues that no amount of reform has been able to deal with. The recent Vikas Dubey encounter and the police custodial deaths in Sathankulam town near Thoothukudi in Tamil Nadu are already forgotten. The Sushant case will likely drag until it is no longer convenient. Sadly, if this lack of restraint and willful flouting of procedure by the police persists, it will end badly for the country.

CONTROVERSIAL NITI AAYOG EXIT

The repatriation of Niti Aayog adviser Alok Kumar to his cadre state Uttar Pradesh has set tongues wagging. Barely less than two months ago, the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet had given Mr Kumar a one-year extension of tenure at the think tank. He was relieved on July 31.

The government's U-turn has left many observers bemused. Some say that since the UP government had agreed to an extension for Mr Kumar in May, it is unlikely that it would recall the 1993-batch IAS officer. This then implies that the Centre's U-turn may have been caused by some rift among the higher-ups in Delhi over the babu. The buzz is that there are some differences between the Niti Aayog and the health ministry over policy matters, and possibly Mr Kumar was in the middle of the spat. But that may not be the only reason, certainly not enough to warrant this U-turn. After all, Mr Kumar was reportedly handling the majority of the key assignments at the nation's premier think tank. We may never know.

However, some observers believe that Mr Kumar's unexpected exit from Niti Aayog will cast a cloud over the empanelment of 1983 batch IAS officers for additional secretary-level posts at the Centre.

ROOPA K'TAKA HOME SECY

Roopa D. Moudgil is the first woman IPS officer of Karnataka and has now become the first woman police officer to be appointed the state's home secretary. The decision is unpalatable for IAS officers who might have been eyeing the post for themselves. It's not often that an IPS officer is appointed to a post traditionally associated with the IAS. The violence this week in Bangalore may, however, quieten naysayers.

This posting comes amid a major rejig that has been happening within the government. Thirteen senior IPS officers were given different posts, and 19 ranked officers were transferred. This 2000-batch IPS officer, however, has many firsts to her credit, having become well-known for taking up cases that involve either senior IPS officers or politicians, most recently, late ADADMK chief Jayalalitha's aide Sasikala.

J&J ties up with Biological E for making Covid-19 vaccine in India

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, AUG. 13

Biological E. Limited, India's oldest biological products company, said on Thursday that it has tied up United States-based Johnson & Johnson to manufacture the latter's Covid-19 vaccine candidate in India.

"We are very pleased indeed to collaborate with an organisation like Johnson & Johnson. Given the magnitude of the Covid-19 pandemic, our ability to mount an effective response will be predicated on the ability to supply the vaccine globally and in significant quantities. This is best achieved through collaboration," said Mahima Datla, the managing director of BE.

J&J is developing a vaccine candidate 'Ad26.COV2.S' for the coronavirus through its pharmaceutical arm Janssen Pharmaceutica NV. The vaccine candidate is currently in phase 1/2a clinical trials.

The phase 1/2a study will involve more than 1,000 adults aged between 18 and 55. The study will also include testing the vaccine in people 65 and older. Human trials in the Netherlands, Spain, Germany and Japan will follow.

Stoffels had told a conference call last month that the company expects initial human results in September and phase 3 efficacy testing could start the same month itself. "The vaccine could be ready by early 2021," he said.

The tie-up with Biological E. would help J&J to ramp its manufacturing capabilities in India.

"We look forward to deploying our manufacturing infrastructure to support Johnson & Johnson's commitment to global access for its Covid-19 vaccine," said Narender Dev Mantena, director of BioE Holdings Inc., who heads BE's novel vaccine initiative.

According to the World Health Organisation data, people around the world are working on 42 vaccine candidates for the coronavirus, including two from India, which are at different stages of development.

"Six vaccine candidates are in phase-3 trials, two candidates in phase 2 trials. Ten vaccine candidates, including two being developed in India, are at phase 1/2," claims the WHO data as on August 10.

■ Investigation wing, TDS directorate to decide on surveys

Curtains on I-T raids at will

New Delhi, Aug 13: The income tax surveys to collect information for scrutiny assessment will be undertaken only by the investigation wing and the tax deducted at source (TDS) directorate with effect from Thursday, the Central Board of Direct Taxes (CBDT) said.

In an order, the CBDT said officers in Directorate General of Income Tax (DGIT) (Investigation) and Principal Commissioner of I-T/Chief Commissioner of I-T (TDS) "only and exclusively" shall be the competent authority for approving survey actions with effect from August 13, 2020.

"The survey action u/s 133A of the Act being an intrusive action, it is expected that the same should be carried out with utmost responsibility and accountability," the CBDT said, adding that with faceless assessment the department is moving towards minimal interface with taxpayers.

PM UNVEILS INCOME-TAX REFORMS

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, AUG. 13

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday unveiled a "faceless" tax scrutiny and appeal system and urged people to pay their due taxes and contribute to nation-building. The Centre launched a new platform to ease the compliance burden and reward "honest taxpayers".

"The country's honest taxpayer plays a big role in nation-building. A faceless tax system will give the taxpayer confidence on fairness and fearlessness," the PM said in a video address after rolling out the "Transparent Taxation: Honouring the Honest" platform in a big push for tax reforms.

The Prime Minister said a "faceless appeal facility" will be available to all citizens from September 25, Deen Dayal Upadhyaya's birth anniversary, and this will strengthen efforts to "reform and simplify our tax system". — PTI

"In effect the powers of the assessment authorities which were exercised in the normal course will now have to be backed by credible evidence to seek such approval from now permitted higher authorities. This shows the government intention to ensure only genuinely deserving cases would go through this procedure," he said.

In an I-T survey, tax officers visit business premises of the taxpayer to gather information by way of examination of books of accounts, data stored electronically and also access email communication.

Srivatsan said it can be inferred from the order that the faceless assessment scheme could subject the taxpayer to more rigorous audit based on his profiling and industry situation and requires a careful maintenance of supporting documentation with regard to significant tax positions.

AKM Global's tax partner Amit Maheshwari said it will increase accountability in conducting surveys.

"Surveys by nature are very intrusive and sensitive. Now, only a selected division of the tax department can conduct a survey," he said. — PTI

I-T Charter: Every taxpayer to be treated as honest & with courtesy

New Delhi, Aug 13: The tax department has committed to treat every taxpayer as honest, unless proven otherwise, and provide fair, courteous and reasonable treatment, according to the taxpayers' charter adopted on Thursday. The charter also expects taxpayers to pay taxes on time and be honest and compliant.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched the platform 'Transparent Taxation Honoring the Honest' which provides for adoption of a taxpayers' charter, which defines the tax department's commitment and its expectation from the taxpayers.

The tax officers will now be committed to a 14-point charter, which includes collecting "only the (tax) amount due" as per the law, while taxpayers would have to be "responsible" and fulfill six-point expectations of the I-T Department, including being honest and compliant.

The charter mandates the I-T Department to hold its "authorities accountable for their actions" and states that the department would provide fair, courteous, prompt and reasonable treatment as well as professional assistance to all taxpayers.

The officers shall treat taxpayers as honest "unless there is a reason to believe otherwise", it said.

The charter also bars the tax officers from disclosing taxpayer information unless authorised by law and also respect privacy of taxpayer.

The department will have to periodically publish standards for service delivery and provide a fair system to resolve tax issues in a time-bound manner.

The charter also mandates the department to allow every taxpayer to choose an authorised representative of his choice and provide mechanism for lodging a complaint, and its prompt disposal.

The charter expects the taxpayers to honestly disclose full information and "fulfill his compliance obligations". Also, the taxpayer is expected to keep accurate records and know what information and submissions are made by his authorised representative.

NBFC bond sales jump to levels before 2018 crisis

DIVYA PATIL
AUG. 13

Indian shadow lenders are selling the most local-currency bonds since before a financial crisis engulfed the sector two years ago, in a sign that record stimulus is easing their fundraising burden.

The financiers have raised Rs 81,300 crore ($10.9 billion) through rupee notes since April 1, making it the best start to a financial year since 2017. Offerings from non-bank firms had declined in 2018 and 2019 as at least three shadow lenders defaulted on their repayments, battering investor demand for the sector's debt.

More cash for shadow banks is good news for the economy, which relies on these firms to provide financing to everyone from tailors to business giants. Non-bank lending is crucial in supporting Asia's third-largest economy, which is forecast to contract for the first time in four decades this year due to fallout from the pandemic.

To help non-bank financiers counter the economic impact of the outbreak, the government in May announced a Rs 30,000 crore credit line for these financiers, and said it will fully guarantee investment-grade securities issued under this plan.

To further assist lower-rated shadow banks, the administration agreed to also provide a partial guarantee to debt rated AA and below, injecting another Rs 45,000 crore. The central bank, meanwhile, funded banks' purchases of bonds issued by these lenders to the tune of Rs 12,850 crore.

But challenges remain, with signs investor demand for the debt is uneven. It's largely banks, which have to implement the economic stimulus steps, that are buying notes sold by shadow lenders. Other key players in the local credit market, such as mutual funds, halved their holdings of the bonds in the two-year period to June.

Moody's Investors Service warned in June that the stress among these lenders may be deeper and broader than it thought and S&P Global Ratings cut credit scores of several such firms citing liquidity risks.

Barca dial Messi for Bayern tie

Lisbon, Aug. 13: After years of failing to live up to their billing in Europe, Paris Saint-Germain are within 90 minutes of the Champions League final thanks to their dramatic win over Atalanta on Wednesday, and coach Thomas Tuchel now knows "everything is possible" for his team.

PSG were on the verge of another disappointing Champions League exit as they trailed Atalanta 0-1 into the 90th minute in Lisbon.

Mario Pasalic's 27th-minute strike for the Italians was finally cancelled out by Marquinhos, who scrambled in a last-gasp leveller.

Then, three minutes into injury time, Kylian Mbappe set up fellow substitute Eric Choupo-Moting to convert the clinching goal.

The money ploughed into the French champions by their Qatari owners has increased the pressure on PSG to deliver. After all, Atalanta's entire wage bill is believed to be equivalent to what PSG pay Neymar per year (about 36 million euros, or $42.5m).

This is the club's first semifinal since 1995 and the first since they were taken over by Qatari owners, who pumped in money for the elusive Champions League trophy. — Agencies

KXIP'S KARUN NEGATIVE, WILL TRAVEL TO UAE

New Delhi, Aug. 13: India and Kings XI Punjab batsman Karun Nair tested positive for COVID-19 last month but has now recovered and will travel to the UAE for the Indian Premier League (IPL) starting September 19.

Cricket website 'ESPNCricinfo' reported that Nair "went into self-isolation for more than two weeks" before testing negative for the dreaded virus.

The franchise did not comment on the report but a BCCI source said that Nair returned a negative test on August 8 at the end of his quarantine. He will now have to clear three more tests like the rest of the contingent to be able to fly out to the UAE on August 20.

"He is absolutely fine now. He was asymptomatic throughout and was feeling okay. His test came negative after two weeks and he has even resumed personal training. Now, he will be tested like all other squad members before the team leaves for UAE," the source said.

Nair, who has scored a triple hundred in Tests, last played for India in 2017. He has been a part of KXIP since 2018.

Madrid, Aug. 13: Lionel Messi never have been faced with a more daunting task at Barcelona than engineering a victory against Bayern Munich in Lisbon on Friday.

The only surviving former winners of European club football's greatest prize — with five titles each — meet in a heavy-weight Champions League quarterfinal behind closed doors at the Estadio da Luz.

It is not often that Messi's Barcelona come into such a big European tie as the underdogs, but they have this time, with Quique Setien's team having lost out to Real Madrid in the Spanish title race while Bayern appeared flawless on the way to winning a German league and cup double.

Messi is now 33, yet Barcelona appear more reliant on him than ever.

He scored twice against Bayern in the quarter-finals in 2009 when Barcelona went on to win the Champions League under Pep Guardiola.

He hit four against Arsenal the following year and five against Bayer Leverkusen in 2012 but on both occasions, Barca were favourites.

Messi also sank Real Madrid at the Santiago Bernabeu in 2011 when his double in the first leg of the semi-final, including one of the finest goals the competition has ever seen, transcended a rivalry that had been dragged to its ugliest point.

And he was part of perhaps the tournament's greatest comeback, the 6-1 destruction of Paris Saint-Germain in 2017 after Barcelona lost 0-4 in the first leg of that last-16 tie. Yet this time threats to be different.

With Luis Suarez and Antoine Griezmann alongside him, Frenkie de Jong and Sergio Busquets behind him and Jordi Alba out wide, Messi should not be on his own. Even in defence, Gerard Pique still has a claim to be the best defender in Spain and Marc-Andre ter Stegen is among the most impressive goalkeepers in the world. But the sense remains that Messi must perform if Barcelona are to defeat Bayern, widely seen as the favourites to lift the trophy on August 23.

It will take something very special not only to lift his own team out of the doldrums but also to neutralise an opponent that many believe are the most complete side in Europe. — AFP

KOSOVO LETS GO OF TIE DUE TO COVID-19

Nyon (Switzerland), Aug. 13: A club from Kosovo had to forfeit its Champions League qualifier because players tested positive for Covid-19, the first time UEFA had to make such a ruling during the pandemic.

UEFA said on Wednesday that KF Drita must forfeit its preliminary round game in the 2020-21 competition and awarded it as a 3-0 win for Northern Ireland's champion Linfield.

The teams could not play a scheduled game on Tuesday at an empty stadium next to UEFA's headquarters after the Drita squad was put into quarantine.

Sikki, physio test Covid-19 positive

Gopi academy is shut for sanitisation as Coronavirus strikes Games camp

HYDERABAD, AUG. 13

N. Sikki Reddy

Barley a week after probables and Olympics bound shuttlers returned to courts at the Pulla Gopichand Badminton Academy N. Sikki Reddy and physiotherapist Kiran George have tested positive for Covid-19 at the ongoing national camp in Hyderabad on Thursday.

Sikki and Kiran, who have been attending the national camp at the academy, are both asymptomatic.

They had undergone the Sports Authority of India's mandatory Covid-19 test for players, coaches and support staff before the start of training on August 7 at the facility.

With Sikki and Kiran being tested positive for the virus, the Gopichand Academy has been closed for sanitisation, SAI said on Thursday.

"SAI's mandatory Covid-19 test was given to all athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative staff at the badminton national camp, and two campers have tested positive for Covid-19," Gopi said.

"All necessary precautions as per protocol are being taken so that players can come back for training safely and as soon as possible," he added.

Both Sikki and Kiran are from Hyderabad and have been attending the camp from their homes. All primary contacts of Sikki and Kiran are undergoing the RT-PCR test again.

The badminton camp was allowed by SAI for eight Olympic hopefuls, including Rio Games silver-medallist and world champion P. V. Sindhu, following the approval from the Telangana government on August 1.

Sikki was seen training with three Indonesian doubles coaches — Namrih Suroto, Agus Dwi Santoso and Miftah — besides two sparring partners from that country on August 7.

She was pictured on the first day of training where all of them could be seen along with another physio Johnson Solomon and the Indonesians who also trained with world champion Sindhu and world championships bronze medallist B. Sai Praneeth.

Rusty Coco roars for major victory

Lexington (US), Aug. 13: American teenager Coco Gauff overcame some shaky serving Wednesday to beat No.2 seed Aryna Sabalenka 7-6 (2), 4-6, 6-4 and reach the Top Seed Open quarterfinals with her third career victory over a top-15 opponent.

The 16-year-old Gauff hit 10 double-faults and was broken seven times.

It was a topsy-turvy match that lasted nearly three hours and featured a bit of confusion when Gauff and her father, Cori, got into a discussion with the chair umpire about what sort of coaching is allowed under adjusted rules the WTA put in place recently.

Of more concern to Gauff was the way she was starting off points in her service games. At one point, she implored herself: I've got to make the first serves. Come on.

Gauff's plan after dropping the second set? Just to stay calm and composed, she said in an on-court TV interview afterward, and making her play balls. That worked.

Sabalenka is ranked 11th, behind only No. 9 Serena Williams among the women entered in the hard-court tournament that is the first professional tennis event in the United States since the start of the coronavirus pandemic. Gauff is No.53 but should now return inside the top 50.

Next up for her is a match against No. 8 seed Ons Jabeur, who eliminated Olga Govortsova 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. The other quarterfinal on that side of the draw will be Marie Bouzkova against Jennifer Brady, who beat Magda Linette 6-2, 6-3. In another match, Bouzkova defeated Anna Blinkova 6-4, 6-2. — AP

Englishman Anderson strikes

Southampton, Aug. 13: James Anderson returned to form with a double strike against Pakistan on Thursday as the England great moved closer to becoming the first pacer to take 600 Test wickets.

Pakistan were 85-2 at Tea on a rain-interrupted first day of the second Test at Hampshire's Ageas Bowl.

Anderson had figures of 2-24 in 12 overs, having come into this match, having taken just six wickets in three previous Tests this season at an expensive average of over 41.

Abid Ali, dropped twice in the slips, was 49 not out.

By his own admission, Anderson had not been at his best with a match haul of 1-67 during England's three-wicket win in the first Test at his Old Trafford home ground last week.

In humid conditions conducive to Anderson's bowling, the 38-year-old needed just eight balls to strike and have Shan Masood, fresh from his Test-best 156 last week, lbw for one with an inswinger to the left-hander.

Masood was so clearly out, he did not bother to review the decision.

His exit brought in Azhar, under pressure after a run of just one fifty in 10 innings since becoming skipper in November.

Starc eyes India series

Melbourne, Aug. 13: Injury-ravaged Australia pace spearhead Mitchell Starc says he has worked on adding muscle to his body during the Covid-19 forced lockdown to ensure that his efforts to ramp up pace do not cause another breakdown.

During the break, the left-arm pacer trained with his New South Wales teammates, which, he says, allowed him to return to top physical shape ahead of the much-anticipated home Test series against the Virat Kohli-led India.

"At the end of summers, I've been down to 87kg at my lowest and I'm at 93kg at the moment which is where I want to be at," Starc was quoted as saying by cricket.com.au.

"I've started summers around that 90-91kg mark so I'm in a good place now, feeling really strong."

"It's been a good amount of time in the gym and now I'm back bowling and running and have enjoyed the time at home to be able to do that. (I have also managed to) rest the aches and pains of bowling through an eleven-month tour like the other boys..." he added.

Starc has been prone to injuries throughout his career as he looks to unsettle batsmen with extra pace. He has suffered stress fractures on his foot on multiple occasions, but the 30-year-old fast bowler believes the extra hours in the gym will aid his attempts at generating more pace.

"It would be nice but at the same time the two occasions I've been up around that (160kph) mark I've snapped my foot," he said. — PTI
