EX-MLA, HUSBAND RESIGN FROM THEIR POSTS IN TD

DC CORRESPONDENT
KAKINADA, FEB. 5

Former MLA of Kakinada Rural P. Anantha Lakshmi and her husband and TD senior leader Pilli Satyanarayana Murthy have resigned their posts in Telugu Desam party.

The couple told the media here on Friday that the Telugu Desam party had given them a political birth and also chance for five times to contest the assembly polls. Anantha Lakshmi noted she won twice as MLA.

Satyanarayana Murthy, a strong leader from a backward community, said the recent developments in the TD and the "high-handed" involvement of former home minister and Peddapuram MLA Nimmakayala China Rajappa in Kakinada Rural constituency, as also several other factors like insults, have deeply hurt both of them.

Murthy said he had given an advice to the party high command to give the constituency in-charge post to former MLA Boddhu Bhaskara Ramarao, in the hope that this would strengthen the party. But, Rajappa ignored this. "Rajappa was also trying to damage my image," Murthy said.

He said Rajappa was involved in selection of candidates for the Grama Panchayat polls. "The TD cadre and my followers were exerting pressure on him against the wrong tendencies in the party in my constituency."

YSRC NOW TARGETING STATUES: LOKESH

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, FEB. 5

Telugu Desam general secretary Nara Lokesh has alleged that "after the temple desecrations", the YSR Congress was now targeting statues of great leaders.

He condemned the demolition of the statue of TD founder NTR at Dosakayalapalli village in Korukonda mandal of East Godavari district and held the YSRC responsible for this. "The legacy left behind by NT Rama Rao can never be wiped out by acts of vandalism."

He said it was obvious that YSRC gangsters and vandals were now targeting the statues of great personalities after they could no more continue with their "attacks on temples".

YSRC against SEC decision on unanimous poll

One who does not even know the basics is functioning as our Election Commissioner, says MLA

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, FEB. 5

The ruling YSR Congress has objected to the decision by the state election commission to freeze all unanimous Gram Panchayat results of Chittoor and Guntur districts. YSRC MLA Jogi Ramesh said "there is no provision in the law" to nullify unanimous elections.

Ramesh challenged SEC Nimmagadda Ramesh Kumar to go and file a petition in the court along with TD chief Chandrababu Naidu if they felt unanimous elections were undemocratic.

Ramesh said Chandrababu Naidu staying in Hyderabad was doing dirty politics in Andhra Pradesh. "Naidu had appointed an incompetent person as the State Election Commissioner (SEC)," he alleged.

Noting the failure of SEC Ramesh Kumar to transfer his vote from Hyderabad to his native place, Duggirala in AP, Ramesh said, "One who does not even know the basics is functioning as our Election Commissioner." He did not even know "vote can be done only at a place where one resided for 6 months."

The MLA said the unanimous results will depend on how the people of a village think. He questioned why at all should the SEC be freezing the results. "Presidential, MP, MLA and MLC elections are done at times in a unanimous manner. Then, how the SEC should oppose unanimous polls in the gram panchayat elections, he asked.

He said more than 90 per cent of the YSRC-backed candidates will win the elections. "Was there any complaint that the YSRC ever forced anyone not to file nominations," he asked.

Ramesh said Chandrababu was leading politics on to the wrong direction by fighting the government with the help of the SEC. He demanded that the SEC cancel TD's election manifesto. The SEC should take disciplinary action against Chandrababu Naidu for violation of norms, he said.

MLA Ramesh alleged: "SEC Ramesh Kumar has taken the decision to hold the unanimous results in abeyance as he wants to help TD. Chandrababu belongs to Chittoor and the SEC hails from Guntur district."

YSRC seeks action against TD chief for poll code violation

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, FEB. 5

Meanwhile, the YSR Congress lodged a complaint against the Telugu Desam chief, saying he violated the Model Code of Conduct in the ongoing gram panchayat elections. YSRC state general secretary Lella Appireddy has submitted the complaint to SEC Ramesh Kumar here on Friday.

Appireddy said Chandrababu Naidu violated the election norms by releasing an election manifesto for grama panchayat polls. The GP polls are conducted on a nonparty basis under the democratic system but Naidu made a laughing stock out of himself by releasing the TD manifesto, he said.

He said the TD manifesto is largely circulated among the masses through TD cadres, newspapers, the electronic media and through numerous social media platforms. There is no use with the SEC's action of suspending the TD manifesto five days after the lodging of a complaint against it.

Appi Reddy said the "simple" action of the SEC, of suspending the manifesto without taking any serious action against Chandrababu Naidu, was ridiculous and it shocked people. He recalled that the SEC wrote letters to the governor with "objectionable" comments and allegations against YSRC ministers and CM Jagan.

He also noted that while the SEC initiated action against higher officials, he did not take any action against Chandrababu Naidu despite clear evidence the TD chief violated the Model Code of Conduct for the elections. Appireddy demanded that the SEC take stern action against Naidu by registering criminal cases against him.

Basic amenities missing at booths

A senior member from AP Panchayat Raj Secretaries Association said, "The onus for making all requisite arrangements at polling booths for conduct of polls lies with us. With no funds available, we have to meet expenses from our pockets. Senior officials issue instructions only on arrangements. But they never tell us about the source of funds. We appeal to SEC to release funds in advance. This will enable us make arrangements for conduct of polls without facing hardships for arranging money."

Though, majority polling booths are in government schools in villages, a good number of them are yet to get basic amenities, like clean washrooms despite the Nadu-Nedu programme. This is forcing gram panchayat secretaries to make makeshift arrangements for polling staff.

Gram panchayat secretaries complain that senior officers inspect arrangements and pull them up for not being up to mark, without bothering about the source of funds for hiring wooden poles, tents, lights, fans, benches, desks, buckets, mugs and other requisites. For example, a gram panchayat secretary working at Kolakaluru village of Tenali mandal in Guntur district was placed under suspension by then joint collector for the reason that there was water logging at a polling booth following heavy rainfall before the polling day during 2014 assembly polls. The secretaries say though the panchayat secretary spent ₹1 lakh from his pocket for making arrangements at the polling booth, he was still punished.

To avoid recurrence of such incidents, gram panchayat secretaries have sought ₹50,000 to ₹1 lakh in advance for each gram panchayat depending upon the number of wards, which range from 10 to 16. This will help them make all necessary arrangements for conduct of polls without any trouble, either to voters or polling staff.

SEC CALLS FOR DETAILED REPORTS

Ramesh Kumar called for detailed reports from both of them and said that it was only after examining such reports would the SEC decide the next step. He said that they would take action in case of any failure on the part of any poll functionary.

On the other hand, the state election commissioner complimented the government servants and the police personnel for their commitment and dedication in performing poll duties with the highest civil services norms and added that as he completed touring of all 13 districts in the state, poll arrangements were satisfactory. He said that the atmosphere in the districts was conducive for conducting polls in a free and fair manner and added that there were no visible instances of forced unanimous elections in any part of the state.

He said that the Covid-19 situation was under control and added that all the safety precautions were taken up. He stated that the district administration was confident of getting high poll percentages.

Ahead of GP polls, TD withdraws manifesto

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, FEB. 5

Telugu Desam on Friday announced that the party is withdrawing its panchayat election manifesto titled "Palle Pragathi Pancha Sutralu" in accordance with instructions of the State Election Commission (SEC). At the same time, senior TD leader and former MLA Dhulipalla Narendra Kumar maintained that the party is exploring legal options in this regard.

Addressing a press conference here, Dhulipalla Narendra asserted that it is the right of any political party to declare its people-friendly policies during the times of elections. The TD would explore all legal and other options available to it for protecting this right.

It may be recalled that the SEC, on complaint of ruling YSRC, cancelled TD's manifesto for gram panchayat polls.

The senior TD leader claimed that many parties had released their manifestos in Karnataka, Sikkim and other states. Manifestoes are a natural part of elections, wherein parties state their policies. He said it is still beyond

SEC WILL FACE CONSEQUENCES FOR SUPPORTING TD, WARNS MINISTER

DC CORRESPONDENT
TIRUPATI, FEB. 5:

Panchayat Raj minister Peddireddy Ramachandra Reddy said that the State Election Commissioner (SEC) Nimmagadda Ramesh Kumar would eventually face the consequences for supporting the Telugu Desam Chief Nara Chandrababu in the Panchayat Raj elections.

"The SEC was dancing to the tunes of Chandrababu Naidu. He was not only trying to blackmail the ruling party leaders, but also the state government officials", the minister alleged while addressing a press conference in Tirupati on Friday.

Launching a scathing attack on the SEC Ramesh Kumar for putting unanimous panchayat elections on hold in Chittoor and Guntur districts, Mr anybody's guess why the YSRC complained to SEC against the TD manifesto.

"Just because YSRC has no manifesto of its own, it should not mean other parties should not release the same. The ruling party complained to SEC only out of fear that TD manifesto will receive a positive response from people," Dhulipalla Narendra remarked.

He accused the Jagan Mohan Reddy government of resorting to unconstitutional measures. This is clear from how TD AP president Atchannaidu has been jailed without any prima facie charges against him. He alleged that YSRC leader Duvvada Srinivas came from a far-away place and created terror in Atchannaidu's Nimmada village, but no action was taken against him. The senior TD leader charged DGP Gautam Sawang with being a silent spectator while democracy is being murdered in every possible way in broad daylight in the middle of the road. He alleged that YSRC activists in guise of "grama volunteers" are threatening voters that they would lose their pensions if they did not vote for YSRC-supported candidates.

Peddireddy questioned the authority of the SEC have to put on hold unanimously elected Panchayats.

"The SEC Ramesh Kumar is deviating from the rule book and is behaving unlawfully. We will retaliate against his unlawful behaviour, and we will move the privileges motion through the assembly speaker to initiate an action against him", the minister added.

Alleging that the SEC had launched an eWatch app developed by the TD, Mr Peddireddy welcomed the AP High Court's decision to stop using the eWatch until February 9. "Every single action of the SEC is intended to benefit the TD. He is hoping that Naidu will reward him with an MLC or some other post. But Naidu is an expert in using and dumping people."

Visakhapatnam Steel Plant employees and 16 trade unions continued to protest against the privatisation of the steel plant for the second day on Friday. Addressing the gathering, Lok Sabha member M.V.V. Satyanarayana said YSRC was opposed to the privatisation of Vizag Steel Plant, and the issue would be taken to the notice of chief minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy.

"We will stage dharna at the main gate of the steel plant and block the privatisation in the Parliament," the MP said and added that the elected representatives would support the agitation programme of trade union and steel plant employees.

Lok Sabha member from Anakapalle Dr K. Satyanvati said the steel plant had been the pride of Andhra Pradesh her party would not allow the central government's privatisation move.

Gajuwaka MLA Tippala Nagi Reddy said the privatisation of steel plant would spell doom for the BJP at the centre.

State should buy
Vizag plant: TDDC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, FEB. 5

Telugu Desam national general-secretary and MLC Nara Lokesh on Friday demanded that the YSRC government oppose the privatisation of the prestigious Visakh Steel Plant. "It is a matter of pride for all Andhras." He proposed that the ruling YSRC pass a resolution in the assembly that the state government should buy the steel plant. "When a similar situation arose in Chhattisgarh, its government passed a unanimous resolution in the assembly to buy the Nagarnar Steel Plant, he said.

In a letter sent to Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy, Lokesh said the Visakh Steel was incurring losses because it had no captive iron ore mine of its own. The state government should immediately ask the Centre to allot an iron ore mine exclusively for the Visakh Steel."

He said the YSRC government is doing a historic injustice to the people of North Andhra by playing a 'dubious role' vis-a-vis the Visakh Steel. "This is yet another betrayal by the ruling YSRC leaders to have set their sights on the steel plant's costly lands. The steel plant was saved only after over 32 people sacrificed their lives in an agitation. During his tenure, former chief minister Chandrababu Naidu fought against its privatization and forced the central government to withdraw the move in 2000," he said.

Lokesh said over 40,000 employees were dependent on the steel plant and lakhs of people were having indirect employment.

"The TD would not keep silent, it would protect the steel plant," he said and appealed to all to fight this out by chanting the slogan 'Visakh Utku Andhrula Hakku' (Visakh Steel a right of Andhras).

He said Visakhapatnam Steel Plant is the only factory in the country that was operating without captive mines. The plant was incurring ₹5,000 crore additional funds annually for production.

The former minister warned that the agitation would be intensified and would be more serious than the present farmers agitation being held in New Delhi.

Visakhapatnam East MLA Velagapudi Ramakrishnababu said the Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy should lead an all-party delegation to New Delhi and pressurise the central government on the privatisation.

He also suggested that the CM pass a resolution in the Assembly opposing the privatisation move.

KILLED BY
POACHERS IN MPRABINDRA NATH
CHOUDHURY | DC
BHOPAL, FEB. 5

A forest guard took on the poachers in a Madhya Pradesh jungle 'singlehandedly' and shot video of his attack by them in his mobile before his death.

Blood-ridden body of Madanlal Verma (52), a forest guard posted in Ratanpur beat of Punjapur forest range in Dewas district, was found on the bank of a water body inside the jungle on the intervening night of Thursday and Friday.

His cell phone, recovered near his body, has led to disclosure of the attack on him by the poachers and his subsequent death.

"We have recovered the footage of the video showing his attack, shot by the slain forest guard himself in his cell phone. The accused were not captured in the video", Dewas divisional forest officer P.N. Mishra said.

POLICE TOLD TO FILE REPORT ON
KANGANA'S CASESHAHAB ANSARI | DC
MUMBAI, FEB. 5

A magistrate court in Mumbai on Friday directed the police to submit a progress report on the inquiry it had ordered into a complaint against actor Kangana Ranaut and her sister for posting alleged hateful messages on social media.

On Friday when the matter came up for hearing, the Amboli police sought further time to file their report on the complaint filed by advocate Ali Kaashif Khan Deshmukh alleging that the sisters tweeted hateful contents against a particular community.

Initially the magistrate in Andheri had ordered an inquiry in October, 2020 and asked the police to file their report by December 5, 2020 into the sisters' tweets from April 2020, but the police sought more time to complete the inquiry. Even though the magistrate had given a final chance to file their report during the last hearing on January 5.

However, the police sought further time on Friday.

Government ready to listen to protesting farmers: Tomar

Says govt's offer to amend the farm laws does not mean they are flawed

DC CORRESPONDENTS
NEW DELHI, FEB. 5

Asserting Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the Centre are committed to the welfare of farmers, agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar on Friday said neither the Opposition members who criticised the three new farm laws, nor the farmers' unions, which had held more than 10 rounds of discussions with the government, have been able to point out what is "kaala" (black) in the laws which they are claiming are "kaala kanoon" (black laws).

Intervening in a discussion on the motion of thanks to the President's address in the Rajya Sabha, Tomar reiterated that the new laws are aimed at boosting farmers' incomes and the government's offer to amend them to assuage the farmers' sentiments does not mean they are flawed. As the government continued its defence of the laws, the Congress, which is supporting the farmers' unions' protests against the laws, sought a Supreme Court-monitored probe into the Republic Day violence, when a protesting mob turned violent and unfurled a Sikh religious flag at the Red Fort.

While the Rajya Sabha saw the agriculture minister strongly defending the laws, the Lok Sabha witnessed sloganeering by Opposition members who demanded the repeal of the laws. The Lower House saw multiple adjournments before it was adjourned for the day till Monday.

"The farmers unions, the Opposition parties have failed to point out a single flaw in three new farm laws. We are not standing on prestige. We have been asking what is black in this law, and no one is answering," said Tomar in the Rajya Sabha, where he also attacked the Congress, that is leading the protest in Parliament, as indulging in "khooon ki kheti".

Amid the uproar in Parliament, the Prime Minister held a strategy meeting with Union home minister Amit Shah, parliamentary affairs minister Prahlad Joshi and I&B minister Prakash Javadekar on how to tackle the ongoing protests by the farmers and the Opposition campaign.

Insisting that the protests over farm laws are limited to only "one state (read Punjab)" and that the farmers are being "instigated", Tomar said, "I made it clear that the government is ready to make amendments but it doesn't mean there is any problem in the farm laws. People in a particular state are misinformed. Farmers are being misled that others would occupy their land if these laws are implemented. Let me know if there is a single provision in the contract farming law which allows any trader to snatch away the land of any farmer," said the minister.

In an apparent reference to a booklet released by the Congress recently against the laws, the minister hit back, "The world knows water is required for farming. Only the Congress can do farming using blood."

He also said the government had not "defamed" the farmers, as alleged by the Opposition parties.

Shivraj, Nath hold closed-door meetRABINDRA NATH
CHOUDHURY | DC
BHOPAL, FEB. 5

Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan on Friday held a closed-door meeting with his predecessor and veteran Congress leader Kamal Nath here sparking speculations on 'track 2 talks' to end the impasse over the ongoing farmers' stir.

The one-to-one meeting, held in the Chief Minister's official residence here, lasted about 20 minutes. Neither the Chief Minister nor Nath spoke to the media to detail what transpired in the meeting. Congress spokesman here Narendra Saluja, however, indicated that the two leaders discussed the farmers' issues.

"Farmers' issues cropped up in the meeting", Saluja told reporters giving credence to the speculations on track 2 talks to end the impasse over the over 2-month-long farmers' stir in Delhi.

Incidentally, Nath left for Delhi after the meeting on a week-long visit to the national capital where he was scheduled to meet several senior leaders of Congress.

WB MLA told to
leave or get killedRAJIB CHOWDHURI | DC
KOLKATA, FEB. 5

Two weeks after his defection to the BJP from the ruling Trinamul Congress in poll-bound West Bengal, Shantipur MLA in Nadia Arindam Bhattacharjee has been asked to leave his Assembly constituency within a week or else he will be murdered.

The threat was issued to Bhattacharjee, who won as a Congress MLA for the first time in the 2016 Assembly election before defecting to the TMC next year, in posters which came to light on Friday morning at many parts including Bagdebipur and Karamchapur of the town, a day before the first Rath Yatra of the BJP is scheduled to be launched by party president J.P. Nadda from Nabadwip in the district.

Written in blue and Bengali, one of the posters states, "Agami saatdiner modhaye Arindam Bhattacharjee tumi Shantipur chharo, nahole tomar khuner daay tumi nije (within next seven days, you leave Shantipur, otherwise you will be responsible for your murder."

Bhattacharjee who joined the BJP in presence of its national general secretary Kailash Vijayvargiya in New Delhi on January 20 accused the TMC of threat on his life.

"It is the handiwork of the ruling party. Similar posters surfaced in my name earlier also. This time threat of my murder has been given. I accept the challenge of those who gave it to me. I will go nowhere, leaving Shantipur," he said.

Only three days ago, posters targeting the young MLA were circulated in his constituency. One of them stated, "The evil has gone. TMC has already won it. Only the celebration is left. Flee from Shantipur, Arindam."

Local TMC leader Ajay De, however, claimed, "Our party does indulge in such shameful activities. Bhattacharjee's allegations are baseless. TMC is not involved in it."

Later the police removed the posters.

WB Cong seeks alliance with
ISF to win Muslim votebankRAJIB CHOWDHURI
KOLKATA, FEB. 5

Desperate to reclaim its Muslim votebank from the ruling Trinamul Congress in the forthcoming West Bengal Assembly elections, the state Congress leaders have sought UPA chairperson Sonia Gandhi's permission to include a third party in their alliance, Indian Secular Front, floated by influential cleric of Furfura Sharif, Pirzada Abbas Siddiqui.

The Congress already has an alliance with the Left Front and the two parties are in the middle of seat-sharing talks.

On Thursday, leader of the Opposition in the state, Abdul Mannan, wrote to the Congress president, "Amidst the dialogue process with the Left Front on electoral alliance, I would like to add a possibility of a grand alliance in Bengal to target more winnable seats. You are aware that Congress party in West Bengal stood in the state for the support of minority votes since many years. But the result of the last Lok Sabha election shows that minority vote has shifted from the party. Best example is the district of Murshidabad where Muslim population is not less than 70 per cent. Congress is far behind in every Muslim dominated Assembly segments. The same picture is in Malda and we have been uprooted completely in all Muslim dominated segment of the district of Uttar Dinajpur."

● DR MANNAN'S move came after month-long talks with Siddiqui following AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi's visit to Siddiqui last month.

Dr Mannan's move came after month-long talks with Siddiqui following AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi's visit to Siddiqui last month and his pledge to back him, apparently to split the Muslim votes to help the BJP.

Slamming him, BJP IT cell in-charge Amit Malviya tweeted, "The true nature of 'secular' politics is nothing but Muslim appeasement and here Abdul Mannan, Congress leader in Bengal, in a letter to Sonia Gandhi, can't even hide his desperation to consolidate their Muslim votebank. Reading the letter it seems as if Hindus don't matter!"

Dr Mannan observed, "Out of 30 per cent Muslim population in Bengal, the percentage of Bengali-speaking Muslim is 90 per cent which had been the traditional votebank of Congress. We have failed to hold that support for various reasons. Introduction of a new political entity in the name of Indian Secular Front (ISF) is a threat for all secular parties. They have made a concept paper (attached) to target Muslims, dalits, tribals and all unprivileged masses within the secular fabric of the country."

The president of the ISF is a Hindu but the person behind the front is a Muslim religious leader named Pirzada Abbas Siddiqui who belongs to the Eminent Religious Family of Furfura Sharif, Hooghly. He is not only popular for his oratory skill among Muslims but among dalits and rribals also. Lakhs of people gather in his meeting in dalit and tribal areas."

UPSC aspirants

New Delhi, Feb. 5: The Centre on Friday told the Supreme Court that it is agreeable to give an extra chance as a one-time relaxation to UPSC civil service aspirants, who had appeared in their last attempt in the 2020 exam amid the Covid-19 pandemic and are otherwise not age-barred.

"Relaxation, only to the extent of providing one extra attempt for Civil Service Examination (CSE), specifically limited to CSE-2021, may be granted to only those candidates who appeared for CSE-2020 as their last permissible attempt and are otherwise not age-barred from appearing in CSE-2021," the Centre told a bench headed by Justice A.M. Khanwilkar.

In a note filed in the apex court, the Centre said that no relaxation shall be granted for CSE-2021 to those candidates who have not exhausted their permissible number of attempts or to those who are otherwise age-barred from appearing in CSE-2021 as per the prescribed age limits of different categories, or to any other candidate for any other reason whatsoever.

"This relaxation for the candidates and to the extent as prescribed above, shall be a one-time relaxation only and shall apply only for appearing in CSE-2021 and shall not be treated as a precedent," it told the bench, also comprising Justice Dinesh Maheshwari.

The Centre said that the relaxation "shall not create any vested right whatsoever or any other purported right on ground of parity or otherwise, in favour of any other set/class of candidates at any time in the future."

"As per the suggestion of this court, the Union of India is agreeable to the following ex-gratia, one-time, restricted relaxation to be granted to the prospective candidates, subject to the same being part of a consent order, disposing off the petition," the note, filed by Additional Solicitor General S.V. Raju, said.

The bench told Raju to circulate the note and asked the petitioners to file their responses to it. The top court said it would hear the matter on February 8.

The bench is hearing a plea seeking grant of one more chance in the UPSC's civil services exam to those aspirants who could not appear in their last attempt in 2020 due to the pandemic.

On February 1, the Centre had told the top court that it cannot grant an extra chance to civil services aspirants who could not appear or prepare well for their last attempt in the UPSC civil service exam in 2020 due to the pandemic, while reiterating that it would amount to extending "differential treatment" to similarly placed candidates. However, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta had on February 1 sought time to discuss the issue once again. —PTI

After 18 months,
4G back in J&KYUSUF JAMEEL | DC
SRINAGAR, FEB. 5

High speed 4G internet services were restored in entire Jammu and Kashmir late on Friday evening, exactly after a gap of 18 months.

The authorities said that the decision to this effect was taken after the review of the security situation in the Union Territory and in view of the recommendations of a committee set up by the government to look into the issue some time ago.

The announcement was made by Principal Secretary Information, Rohit Kansal, who is also government spokesperson, through a tweet. It said, "4G mobile internet services being restored in entire J&K @diprjk"

A formal order signed by Shaleen Kabba, principal secretary (home), said that in view of the advice of the special committee constituted on the directive of Supreme Court and upon "careful review" of the overall security scenario the restrictions on mobile data services and fixed line Internet connectivity is revoked "except to the extent that the pre-paid SIM card holders shall be provided excess to the Internet connectivity only after verification as per the norms applicable for post-paid connections".

In August last year, the J&K authorities had restored high-speed 4G internet service on 'experimental basis' in two districts of the erstwhile state-Udhampur and Ganderbal, more than a year after a complete communication blackout was enforced in both Jammu region and Kashmir Valley regions ahead of the Centre's abrogating Article 370 and bifurcating the state into two Union Territories on August 5, 2019.

Though the landline and mobile phone and 2G bandwidth internet services were restored in a phased manner across what is now called the UT of J&K earlier, 18 out of 20 of its districts continued to be deprived of the high-speed 4G internet.

A series of judgements given and observations made by the Supreme Court in the past had failed to end what the critics called was J&K's "digital siege". Welcoming the government's decision to end the ban on high speed internet services after 551 days, former chief minister and National Conference leader Omar Abdullah tweeted "4G Mubarak! For the first time since Aug 2019 all of J&K will have 4G mobile data. Better late than never."

our Judgment in Arnesh Kumar Versus State of Bihar and others has not been followed before arresting the petitioner.

Faruqui and four others were arrested on January 1 following a complaint by a BJP MLA's son that alleged objectionable remarks about Hindu deities and Union home minister Amit Shah were passed by him during a comedy show at a cafe in Indore on New Year's day. One more person was arrested subsequently.

The high court, in its order passed on January 28, had refused to grant him bail noting that to "promote harmony" is one of the constitutional duties. It had also turned down the bail plea of another accused in the case.

In its order, the high court had said it would not comment on merits of the case, but based on the material seized, the witnesses' statements and considering the fact that probe was going on, no case was made out for grant of bail.

Pfizer pulls out of vaccination raceDC CORRESPONDENT with agencies input
NEW DELHI, FEB. 6

Vaccine firm Pfizer on Friday announced its decision to withdraw its application for Emergency Use Authorisation (EUA) of its Covid-19 vaccination in India.

Pfizer was the first pharmaceutical firm to seek an emergency use authorisation from the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) for its Covid-19 vaccine in the country, after it secured such clearance in the UK and Bahrain.

"In pursuance of the Emergency Use Authorisation of its Covid-19 vaccine, Pfizer participated in the Subject Expert Committee meeting of the Drug Regulatory Authority of India on February 3. Based on the deliberations at the meeting and our understanding of additional information that the regulator may need, the company has decided to withdraw its application at this time," a company spokesperson said in a statement.

Pfizer will continue to engage with the authority and resubmit its approval request with additional information as it becomes available in the near future, the statement said.

New Delhi, Feb. 5: In a relief to comedian Munawar Faruqui, arrested in a case for allegedly hurting religious sentiments by passing objectionable remarks about Hindu deities during a show, the Supreme Court on Friday released him on an interim bail.

The top court also stayed the Madhya Pradesh High Court order of January 28, which had refused to grant him bail noting that to "promote harmony" is one of the constitutional duties.

It also stayed the production warrant issued against Faruqui by a trial court in Allahabad in Uttar Pradesh in connection with the FIR lodged in the state.

A bench of Justices R.F. Nariman and B.R. Gavai said issued notice on two petitions filed by Faruqui seeking bail in a case lodged in Indore in Madhya Pradesh and clubbing and quashing of FIRs lodged for the same alleged offence in different states.

The top court sought response from Madhya Pradesh government on both the pleas filed by Faruqui and from Uttar Pradesh, Delhi and Maharashtra governments on the plea seeking clubbing and quashing of FIRs.

This being the case, we issue notice in both the petitions, and stay the Judgment of the High Court. The petitioner is released on ad-interim bail on conditions to the satisfaction of the trial court. In the meantime, there shall be stay of the production warrants as well, the bench said.

At the outset, advocate Saurabh Kirpal, appearing for Faruqui said, This is a case of victimisation.

He said that allegations made in the FIR are vague in nature and procedure of arrest laid down by the court in its 2014 verdict was not followed.

The bench noted the submission and said, The counsel has pointed out to us that quite apart from the fact that the allegations made in the FIR are vague that the procedure contained in Section 41 CrPC as adumbrated by Berlin, Feb. 5: Several people were injured in a gas explosion on Friday in or near a building in the southern German town of Memmingen. The explosion occurred at about 6 am and damaged the building used by the Bavarian Red Cross, which also had apartments above, authorities told the dpa news agency. The source of the explosion was a defective gas line that ran under the street in front of the building, dpa reported. Authorities warned that other explosions were possible and evacuated the area. The building was seriously damaged, police said.

COPS CHARGE

SLAVE RING

Brisbane, Australia, Feb. 5: A man and woman in Australia were charged with drugging several women and forcing them into prostitution on Friday, with police alleging girls as young as 17 were tattooed as property and held in "sexual servitude".

A 35-year-old Brisbane man is accused of giving at least four victims "stupefying drugs" and along with a suspected female accomplice faces multiple charges relating to unlawful prostitution.

Police said raids at two properties in Brisbane's southern suburbs uncovered four female victims and authorities believe more have yet to be found.

"The investigation is still ongoing however the women are now safe thanks to the information from members of the public and the diligence of our officers," Queensland Police Service Detective Inspector Juliet Hancock said in a statement.

"We believe there are other victims who have been exploited by the man, and I encourage them to come forward and contact police."

2-YR-OLD INDIAN
BOY BECOMES
YOUNGEST DONOR

Dubai, Feb. 5: A two-year-old Indian boy has become one of the youngest donors of hair in the UAE, as part of a charity drive to help cancer patients, according to a media report.

At two years and 10 months, Taksh Jain is one of the youngest children to have enrolled into the Friends of Cancer Patients' (FOCP) hair donation campaign, the Gulf News reported.

His mother, Neha Jain, a housewife, said Taksh was inspired by his older sister, who donated her locks for a similar cause in 2019. "My son used to listen to that and started telling us that he too wanted to give his hair like his sister. I was touched and started growing his hair."

Jain said they are going to wait for Taksh's hair to grow a little longer, before it is finally donated. The FOCP launched the hair donation drive on Thursday, marking World Cancer Day. As of now, seven schools in the UAE are part of the initiative.

TALIBAN ATTACK
KILLS 10 AFGHAN
MILITIAMEN

Kunduz, Afghanistan, Feb. 5: At least 10 pro-government Afghan militiamen were killed in fierce overnight fighting after their checkpoint came under attack from Taliban fighters in northern Afghanistan, officials said on Friday.

The attack on the local militia, many of which work with overstretched security forces, came as violence surges across the country despite peace talks between the warring Taliban and Afghan government.

Insurgents attacked the checkpoint in the restive Kunduz province during the night, provincial governor Abdul Sattar Mirzakwal told reporters.

"Their attack was repelled initially but the militiamen were attacked again by Taliban fighters which led to intense fighting," Mirzakwal said.

"Unfortunately, 10 uprising forces (pro-government militiamen) were killed," Kunduz provincial council member Amraddin Wali confirmed the attack but said at least 15 militiamen were killed.

There was no immediate comment from the Taliban.

Biden ends US role in Yemen war, calls out Russia, China

US Prez also freezes Trump's plans to redeploy troops from Germany

Washington, Feb. 5: President Joe Biden ended US support for Saudi Arabia's devastating war in Yemen and dramatically increased the welcome to refugees, ushering in a major reset in American foreign policy.

In his first major speech on foreign affairs as president, Biden also froze former president Donald Trump's plans to redeploy troops from Germany and vowed a tough approach against what he described as a rising authoritarian threat from China and Russia.

Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris traveled together to the State Department in a symbol of a renewed focus on diplomacy after Trump's tumultuous four years.

"America is back. Diplomacy is back," Biden told a socially distanced auditorium of diplomats.

In a speech shortly afterward, Biden said the United States would end all support including connected arms sales for ally Saudi Arabia's war in Yemen, which he said "has created a humanitarian and strategic catastrophe."

He appointed a US special envoy for Yemen, veteran diplomat Timothy Lenderking, who Biden said would support UN efforts to reach a ceasefire and revive peace talks between the government and Huthi rebels who control much of the country, including the capital Sanaa.

"This war has to end," Biden said.

Saudi Arabia reacted to Biden's speech by reasserting its commit-

ON AMERICA

Biden said the United States will welcome up to 1,25,000 refugees in the first fiscal year of his administration — far above the record-low 15,000 last approved by Trump, who was a vociferous critic of non-Western immigration.

ON GERMANY

Putting on hold plans set in motion by Trump to reduce the US troop presence in Germany, a cornerstone of NATO security since the start of the Cold War.

ON RUSSIA

Biden said that he had warned Vladimir Putin that the US will no longer be "rolling over in the face of Russia's aggressive actions." "We will not hesitate to raise the cost on Russia and defend our vital interest and our people."

ON YEMEN

US President said that the war in Yemen "has to end", pledging to terminate US support for Saudi-led offensive operations and to halt arms sales. "This war has to end," Biden said.

US will confront 'authoritarianism' of China, Russia ment to a political solution in Yemen, according to state media.

Riyadh also welcomed Biden's "commitment to cooperate with the kingdom to defend its sovereignty and counter threats against it," the official Saudi Press Agency added.

Trump — who argued arms sales were creating US defense jobs — viewed the war as a way to hit back at the Huthis' ally Iran.

Biden backs a return of diplomacy and a nuclear accord with Iran but, strikingly, he only indirectly mentioned Tehran in what was billed as a broad-brush speech on his international priorities.

Secretary of State Antony Blinken also said he will revisit Trump's last-minute designation of the Huthis as a terrorist group.

In Yemen, senior political official Hamid Assem voiced hope that Biden's plan will mark the end of a six-year war that has left tens of thousands dead.

"The Biden administration saw that the war in Yemen carries a heavy cost and that America's reputation has been tarnished by the killing of the people of Yemen," he said.

In another sharp reversal, Biden said the United States will welcome up to 1,25,000 refugees in the first fiscal year of his administration — far above the record-low 15,000 last approved by Trump, who was a vociferous critic of non-Western immigration.

"The United States' moral leadership on refugee issues was a point of bipartisan consensus for so many decades when I first got here," said Biden, who was elected to the Senate in 1972.

"We shine the light, the lamp, of liberty on oppressed people. And our example pushed other countries to open wide their doors as well." Among groups seeking asylum, Biden said his administration would welcome LGBTQ people fleeing persecution over their sexual orientation.

Biden also put on hold plans set in motion by Trump to reduce the US troop presence in Germany, a cornerstone of NATO security since the start of the Cold War.

Trump's decision was seen as linked to his tense relationship with German Chancellor Angela Merkel — whose welcome to mostly Syrian migrants he belittled.

Defense Secretary Austin Lloyd later said he had ordered a Pentagon review of US military "force posture" around the world in consultation with allies.

Biden has pledged to keep up Trump's hard stance on China — but also to toughen the US stance on Russian President Vladimir Putin, for whom the defeated US president voiced admiration.

"I made it clear to President Putin — in a manner very different from my predecessor — that the days of the United States rolling over in the face of Russia's aggressive actions, interfering with our elections, cyber attack and poisoning its citizens are over," Biden said.

Moments before the speech, the State Department said that Blinken spoke by telephone with Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov and, among other issues, raised the purported poisoning of opposition leader

Alexei Navalny — who was arrested last month on his return to Moscow and has inspired thousands to take to the streets.

Biden said the United States "must meet this new moment of advancing authoritarianism including the growing ambitions of China to rival the United States and the determination of Russia to damage and disrupt our democracy." — AFP

Beijing warns off
US warship near
South China Sea

Beijing, Feb. 5: China on Friday warned off a US warship sailing near the contested islands in the South China Sea, Beijing said, the first such encounter made public since the inauguration of President Joe Biden.

The USS John S. McCain "broke into China's Xisha territorial waters without the permission of the Chinese government," Beijing's military said in a statement, using its name for the disputed Paracel Islands.

The People's Liberation Army "organized naval and air forces to track, monitor and warn off" the warship, the Chinese military said, blasting the US for "seriously violating China's sovereignty" and "harming regional peace." The Arleigh Burke-class guided missile destroyer on Thursday also conducted a routine transit through the waterway separating the Chinese mainland and Taiwan, which Beijing says constitutes part of its territory.

Washington has argued that such exercises are in line with international law and help defend right of passage through the region amid competing claims by China and other governments.

China lays claim to nearly all of the South China Sea, including the Paracel Islands.

Taiwan, the Philippines, Brunei, Malaysia and Vietnam all also claim parts of the region, believed to hold valuable oil and gas deposits.

Further angering those countries, and the US, Beijing has moved to build reefs into artificial islands capable of hosting military planes.

The US navy in late January sent an aircraft carrier group into the South China Sea on a so-called "freedom of navigation exercise," its first routine operation in the region under the Biden administration.

China has stepped up military, diplomatic and economic pressure on Taiwan since the 2016 election of President Tsai Ing-wen, who refuses to accept Beijing's stance that the island is part of "one China". — AFP

US House strips posts of
'QAnon Congresswoman'

Washington, Feb. 5: The Democratic-led US House voted on Thursday to discipline a congresswoman who embraced QAnon conspiracy theories and endorsed violence, capping weeks of mounting turmoil over holding to account a lawmaker whose extremist rhetoric caused a rupture in Republican ranks.

Conservative first-term congresswoman Marjorie Taylor Greene, facing bipartisan opprobrium for a series of disturbing comments and support of social media posts advocating the assassination of Democratic lawmakers, was stripped of her two assignments on the House education and budget committees.

The punishment was meted out in a modestly bipartisan vote of 230 to 199 which occurred hours after Greene, a fierce supporter of former president Donald Trump, took to the House floor to renounce the conspiracy movement and expressed regret for spreading misinformation.

Eleven Republicans defied their party to join all voting Democrats in disciplining Greene, whose alarming actions before she ran for office included posting video of herself harassing a teen school shooting survivor and casting doubt on the September 11, 2001 attacks.

US Senate okays
$1.9 tn Covid relief

Washington, Feb. 5: The Senate early Friday approved a budget resolution that's a key step toward fast-track passage of President Joe Biden's $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief plan without support from Republicans. Vice President Kamala Harris was in the chair to cast the tie-breaking vote, her first.

Democrats in the chamber applauded after Harris announced the 51-50 vote at around 5:30 am. The action came after a gruelling all-night session, where senators voted on amendments that could define the contours of the eventual Covid-19 aid bill. The budget now permitted to engage in the kind of behavior that Representative Greene has and face zero consequences," number two House Democrat Steny Hoyer told the chamber.

"This vote can be a first step in correcting the error of those who so far have chosen to do nothing." But Republicans blasted the action against one of their own as shattering congressional precedent, returns to the House, where it will have to be approved again due to the changes made by the Senate.

Final passage will unlock the next phase in drafting of the virus relief bill, with the work divided among several congressional committees.

Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer D-N.Y., called passage of the resolution the "first big step to putting our country back on the road to recovery."

By moving on a fast track, the goal for Democrats is to have Covid relief approved by March, when extra unemployment assistance and other pandemic aid expires. — AP

Number three Republican Liz Cheney, fresh from surviving a challenge to her leadership after she voted to impeach Trump last month, said that while Greene's comments were reprehensible, Democrats "have no business determining which Republicans sit on committees." — AFP

Key Aung San Suu Kyi aide held

Yangon, Feb. 5: A key aide to ousted Myanmar leader Aung San Suu Kyi was arrested on Friday, days after a coup that has sparked outrage and calls by US President Joe Biden for the generals to relinquish power.

The arrest came after the streets of Myanmar's biggest city filled for a third night with people banging pots and honking car horns, voicing their opposition to Monday's coup.

On Friday dozens of teachers at Yangon's Dagon University staged a rally where displayed a three-finger salute borrowed from Hong Kong and Thailand's democracy movements, and sang a popular revolution song. The military detained de facto leader Suu Kyi and president Win Myint early Monday, ending the country's 10-year dalliance with democracy that had followed decades of oppressive junta rule.

Win Htein, considered Suu Kyi's right-hand man, was arrested at his daughter's house, said Kyi Toe, a press officer for the National League of Democracy.

The 79-year-old NLD stalwart has spent long stretches in and out for detention for campaigning against military rule.

Ahead of his arrest, Win Htein told local media that the military putsch was "not wise", and that its leaders had taken the country "in the wrong direction".

"Everyone in the country should oppose as much as they can the actions they are seeking to take us back to zero by destroying our government," he told Frontier Myanmar in the coup's aftermath.

Suu Kyi has not been seen in public since Monday. According to the Assistance Association for Political Prisoners, a Yangon-based group that monitors political arrests in Myanmar, more than 130 officials and lawmakers have been detained in relation to the coup.

Unveils $43 billion deal, involves 33 different entities

Korea plans biggest offshore wind farm

Seoul, Feb. 5: A $43 billion deal was signed Friday to build what the South Korean government said will be the world's biggest offshore wind power complex, as it seeks to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050.

South Korea has few energy resources of its own and relies on imported coal — a cheap but dirty fuel — for around 40 percent of its electricity.

President Moon Jae-in declared the carbon neutrality goal last year but at the same time is looking to phase out nuclear power, leaving the country depending on renewables to square the circle.

Moon oversaw the signing of the 48 trillion won ($43 billion) agreement to build the complex off Sinan in the country's southwest, which he said would be seven times bigger than the world's current largest offshore wind farm.

With a maximum capacity of 8.2 gigawatts, the government is banking on it being the equivalent of six nuclear power stations.

MOON WARNED it could take more than five years to start construction, although the government will try to accelerate the process.

SOUTH KOREA also plans to cut its existing nuclear power plants — currently the country's only significant low-carbon energy source — from 24 to 17 by 2034, reducing the sector's energy output by nearly half.

Moon said that the country's position on the Korean peninsula gave it a geographical advantage. "We have the infinite potential of offshore wind power to the sea on three sides, and we have the world's best technology in related fields," he added.

The agreement involves 33 different entities, among them regional governments, the electricity generator KEPCO, and major private firms including Doosan Heavy Industries & Construction and SK E&S.

Moon warned it could take more than five years to start construction, although the government will try to accelerate the process.

Seoul last year announced a target of becoming one of the world's top five offshore wind energy powerhouses by 2030.

RUSSIA EXPELS EU DIPLOMATS OVER
NAVALNY ROW, TIES AT 'LOW POINT'

Moscow, Feb. 5: Moscow said on Friday it was expelling diplomats from Poland, Germany and Sweden for participating in unsanctioned demonstrations last month in support of jailed Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny.

The move comes hours after the European Union's top diplomat Josep Borrell met Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov in Moscow and described the bloc's ties with Russia as at a "low point" over Navalny's jailing.

Borrell "strongly condemned" the action, a spokesman said, while Sweden branded it "completely unfounded".

The Russian foreign ministry said in a statement that an unspecified number of diplomats from the three EU countries took part in "illegal demonstrations" on January 23 and had been declared persona non grata. "They were ordered to leave Russia in the near future," the ministry said, adding that Moscow expects diplomats from the countries to "strictly follow the norms of international law" in the future.

US remarks a wake-up call Delhi can't ignore

The American government's statement on Thursday — in which the right of peaceful protest, free speech, and unhindered access to the Internet were flagged as signs of a "thriving democracy" — is a straightforward response to the egregious steps of the Narendra Modi government in recent days.

These are the first substantive public observations on India by the two-week-old Biden administration. The message — in the backdrop of the farmers' agitation in the country, and the comments by journalists and other public figures in that context — accords with the sentiments of millions of Indians, and millions worldwide, who are surprised by the turn of events and processes in India for some time.

President Joe Biden's administration has underlined first principles in a neutral, moderate voice. Also, the US state department's cautionary observations — which was reiterated by the US embassy in India — was in response to a question by the American newspaper The Wall Street Journal, not off its own bat. This is a useful device suggestive of an official criticism, but not quite.

It will be obvious except to the dense that the present US administration's first public observations on India came immediately after the Narendra Modi government targeted some international icons, including the famous pop star Rihanna, the teen Swedish climate activist Greta Thunberg (who is nominated for the Nobel Prize) "and others" for lending support to the farmers' stir (since it is being railroaded by a monstrous government, actions which have drawn considerable domestic criticism).

Through a tweet, the climate activist offered a "toolkit" to back protesters. This is standard mobilising tactic for activists everywhere with the use of "Twitter storm" and the like. Supporters of the ruling party in India do this routinely when playing polarising games at election time.

The so-called "toolkit" has moved the Indian government, including its normally staid external affairs ministry, and the ruling party, to smell an international "conspiracy", no less, to defame India. This is laughable, of course.

The Delhi Police, frequently a violent and communal force, has filed a FIR against international personalities without naming anyone. This is a fig leaf. It is clear that Ms Rihanna and Ms Thunberg, "and others" (including the US vice-president's lawyer-writer niece Meena Harris), are the principal objects of its ire.

These FIRs — the official call for investigation — by the Delhi police, which is directly controlled by Union home minister Amit Shah, are related to extremely serious criminal offences such as sedition and attempt to cause disharmony as between communities. Before the international celebrities, it had been the turn of journalists in India — last week six well-known editors, in a long string of journalists in recent times, and senior politicians like Shashi Tharoor — to face exactly the same official allegations. The US state department's remarks appear to have this figured.

In its sorry response, the India's external affairs ministry is self-congratulatory, calling India a "vibrant" democracy with "shared values" with the United States. In today's climate, is it? No amount of seeking to falsely equate the January 6 attack on the US Capitol and the January 26 move by infiltrators in the entirely peaceful farmers' movement to create chaos at the Red Fort, hides the ugly reality of our present.

Don't pardon Rajiv killers

Given the embarrassing task of granting clemency to seven life convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, the Tamil Nadu Governor, Banwarilal Purohit, has ducked the responsibility. He has passed the political football back to the President of India saying he is the appropriate authority to take the call though he may find it difficult to explain why he sat on it for two-and-a-half years before declining to decide. The prisoners for life, some of whose sentences were commuted to life and thus got a reprieve from the gallows, have been languishing in Tamil Nadu prisons for close to three decades. The question that arises is whether they deserve any sympathy.

Mercy may be a quality that is twice blessed, as the Bard of Avon put it, but sympathy for the conspirators of a heinous crime aimed at one who had been Prime Minister of India may be totally misplaced even if some of them may have, innocently or otherwise, contributed very little to the plot like buying a 9-volt battery to complete the circuit to blow up the explosives hidden in the body belt worn by the assassin Dhanu. The plot, hatched by LTTE's murderous chief Velupillai Prabhakaran, seemed to have come straight out of a Frederick Forsyth novel and was carried out on Indian soil near Chennai, killing 18 including Rajiv Gandhi and the assassin and injuring 43 bystanders on May 21, 1991.

Sympathy on humanitarian grounds for the surviving plotters has been built up in the strange political ambience in a state that once viewed a Tamil Eelam in northern Sri Lanka as a desirable outcome. Rajiv Gandhi, confused by a welter of opinions on the Tamils issue, may have erred in judgment in sending a peace keeping force to the island nation and paid the price. No government at the Centre could be seen as weak in pardoning the killers of a Prime Minister. The ball is back with the President even as the top court will continue to grapple with the legal challenges to lifetimes in prison.

Yeh Rihanna-Wihanna, Greta-Vreta... kaun hai?

Shobhaa De

I was in salubrious Goa, desperately trying to dodge zillions of Dilliwallas who have as good as taken over this gorgeous state and established their own "klonies" across favoured villages and hamlets. Poor Goans, I thought to myself. First came the Israelis, then the Russians — and now these! Arpora has become a mini-Gurgaon, and the locals aren't amused. In such a surrealist setting, it was a bit tough for me to focus on a single tweet posted by a Barbados-born singer and the havoc it generated across India. Well, I'm getting carried away — it was Dillineta and assorted celebrities/influencers who jumped in, and boom! Rihanna went viral. Be honest — how many of you reading this column had even heard of Rihanna before this hungama? Okay — maybe, you had heard her. And even danced to her tracks, but did Rihanna and what she tweeted impact your life even remotely? No, na? I recall enjoying Under my umbrella, which brought Rihanna into the global stage way back in 2007. After that, I totally forgot all about her.

Now, I am unlikely to forget! The 32-year-old singer with a staggering 100 million followers on Instagram. No wonder our netas got sufficiently hilaaoed and obviously rattled, when she had the gumption to tweet in support of our protesting farmers. More than 228.3K retweets followed, with 490.3K users "liking" the tweet. Whoa! What was going on?

Uske baad, that opinionated Greta what's-her-face, got into the act and lagaod her own tweet. Mayhem followed as all desi patriots scrambled to counterattack these impudent folks who had dared to question our official stand on the farmers' protests. People who had absolutely nothing to do with either the farmers or the government, jumped in feet first to damn and attack the global "influencers", accusing them of generating an international conspiracy designed to break up our vast country and hand it over to China! Stumped? So was I ... as it is, the sultry Goan weather had started to play tricks with my mood and thinking (without feni, let me hastily clarify), upar se... I was going through zabaradast tweets posted by super-patriotic Indians, basically asking Rihanna and Co to butt out of India's affairs. Someone brilliant called Sambit Patra (know him?) thundered on a bigoted/compromised television channel: "Why doesn't Rihanna tweet about the 1984 riots?" Excellent question, Shri Patra. But the singer was born in 1988 and Twitter started only in 2006. Koi baat nahi — loyalty game fully on, even if the goof-ups are totally embarrassing. So much for credibility. Hot air has its uses when the audience itself is grossly uninformed.

Confession: I am pretty clueless myself. But when I read accounts of two elderly fauji farmers (Jeet Singh, 70, and Gurmukh Singh, 80) being picked up by the Delhi police as suspects, charged with an act of violence (FIR No. 31) they were allegedly a part of ... nothing makes sense! Lodged in Tihar Jail, the two men who had served the Army for over two decades in the same Sikh Regiment, dealing with this strange situation that their traumatised families can do little about. Jeet Singh's son Veer works as a guard. He said: "Our fathers fought for India in their youth. The government has disrespected them by putting such veterans in jail." The two farmers own an acre of farmland each, on which they grow wheat. Today, they are languishing in jail and being called "Khalistanis" and "terrorists". Rihanna sang Unapologetic in 2012. You go figure who deserves an apology in this case.

Soon, everybody had jumped in to express their two bits' worth. I saved my gyaan and stayed out — savouring grilled calamari at a beach shack seemed a far more worthwhile pursuit. I thought lazily and idly to myself, trying hard not to get distracted by the over-dressed Gurgaon crowd swigging beer at the next table: "Why is everybody frothing at the mouth and dissing Rihanna?" Then I remembered. If VVIP Bharatwaasis did not step up publicly and lecture us on our duty as citizens ("call out Rihanna, tell her not to meddle in India's affairs, let the world know we can handle our own internal matters..."), their bag of sarkari goodies would be snatched away. The more relevant counter question to all those big names who have passed the patriotic test with flying colours — did even one of them understand the highly complex farmers' problem? Frankly, it beats most analysts. Without getting to the bottom of what is nothing short of an unfortunate impasse at the moment, why ignite more fires? Who is Rihanna to us? Had her tweet been ignored, we would not have attracted even more global scrutiny — it was as if the entire government machinery at the time was busy dealing with a famous foreign entertainer's tweet!

Most super celebrities hire PR teams to manage social media accounts and project a finely calibrated public image. Perhaps Rihanna does indeed possess remarkable understanding of complicated political, social and cultural issues in distant lands she may never ever set foot in (unless the money is good, of course). But the chances are, she goes along with whatever her alert and socially aware PR team places before her. In simple words, it is shrewd brand building. It shows her as a thinking star concerned with humanity. That's it! Yes, a tweet from such an individual does snowball into a bigger controversy, if it catches on — like it did this time. These are the expected repercussions in the age of celebrity — deal with them wisely, as a government. By falling into the trap, we fed the monster and kept the story alive. Mogambo is very naraaz, okay? Get smart, you guys. Focus on asli matters. Rihanna's other hit was titled: "Bitch, better have my money..." She has made hers. The "bitch" has delivered. Where does that leave us? Still roping in celebrities to counter Rihanna! Hello! She has moved on, okay? She is probably tweeting about saving endangered dolphins in some remote bay. Such bewakoofi, I tell you!

The driving licence requirement in MP is baffling (MP makes character certificate must for DL, DC, Feb. 5). The comical logic of this order is to curb crimes against women. The police under MHA and BJP-ruled states seem to be emboldened due to Centre's unseemly tactics in dealing with the agitating farmers. The fortress-like barriers at Delhi borders, Bihar DGP's diktat against the agitations are the recent examples. It's time the PM steps in and creates a solution.

Astronauts land on moon

HOUSTON, FEBRUARY. 5

Alan Shepard and Edgar Mitchell today landed in the stark highlands of Fra Mauro on man's third expedition to the surface of the moon.

"We're on the surface. We made a good landing", said Ed Mitchell. The astronauts left lunar orbit at 1435 IST with a firing of their adjustable descent engine, and slid on their backs and feet first past hippos and ptolemaus crater and over the rim of the sea of clouds.

Then, at a point called "high gate" they rolled over rightside up.

are given to Tory friends and supporters — profiteering and fraud are confused and less laudable.

Here, gentle reader, are a couple of shameful statistics:

First: The International Labour Organisation estimates that the plague has cost the workers of the world a loss in earnings of $3.7 trillion. According to Oxfam, the increase in wealth of the world's top billionaires in ten months of the plague has been $3.9 trillion.

Next: As of January 23, 39 million people in the so-called "first world" had received an anti-Covid vaccination. The number of people who have been vaccinated in the continent of Africa, excluding South Africa, was 29. Yes, you read that correctly. No, I haven't missed out the words "thousand" or "million". There are reports, since that grim statistic, saying that subsequently other nations have allocated funds to get the vaccines across to Africa.

This isn't about generosity, it's self-preservation in a globalised world in which the enemy species has to be fought and subdued, if not annihilated altogether — through... err... globalisation?

— From the Opera Bheeda Pareeda
Translated from Hungarian by Bachchoo

It was a Greek called Aristarchus who in 200 BC first said that the earth was a globe. Galileo was certain of it and in later centuries the Portuguese Magellan added the decisive circumnavigating proof. An early definition of "globalisation" was born.

Today "globalisation" means an exchange of culture and trade amongst most if not all nations of the world and it would certainly include the phenomenon of the spread of the Internet to every crook and nanny of the world.

A Marxist definition would concentrate on the international flow and exchange of capital and of labour — with American motor car manufacturing relocating to the Far East and Coca Cola being concocted, bottled and sold from the Uighar districts of western China.

Its inevitability hasn't led to popularity. There are Canutes who wish to turn back the tide. The most boastful and vociferous of these in recent times was one Donald Trump, whose opposition to globalisation may not have included the conviction that the world was flat (though one can never be sure what neo-troglodytes believe). It certainly included a political programme that attempted to reverse the flow of capital out of, and labour into, the United States of America. It negated international treaties designed to stop the proliferation of nuclear weapons and was opposed to global action on climate change.

Britain's political position was paradoxical. On the one hand, Brexit caused the UK to leave one of the planet's largest trading blocs to go it alone, and on the other hand it trumpeted intentions to open Little England to an ambitious programme of international trade, an invitation to capital to come here with the promise of low taxes and Rishi Sunak's free ports, while at the same time stopping the import of even necessary labour. Welcome to "Free port and deport England" — both policies perpetrated, ironically, by British ministers whose origins are Indian and Indo-African.

Yet now, gentle reader, the most dreadful reminder that the tide of globalisation is upon us is not the rush of refugees from Africa to Europe or the determination of Japanese car manufacturers to relocate to countries where the promise of profit is the greatest. Independent of the will of capital and labour, nature has shown its near-apocalyptic hand. There have been plagues before, and Sars and Ebola did spread from one country to another, but Covid-19 and its menacingly developing variants is, after the very early spread of the ancestors of homo sapiens to all corners of the globe, the first truly fast-moving inhabitant of everywhere.

Earlier plagues hit single countries. Daniel Defoe wrote his Journal of the Plague Year as a novel covering events in London 1665. Then Shakespeare, it is said, wrote Macbeth and King Lear under lockdown in the early years of the seventeenth century. The Internet has alerted me to several literary efforts attempting to capture the ennui, isolation, change in shopping arrangements, etc during today's Covid lockdowns. No doubt there will be whole novels about what Netflix programmes some scribbler watched, with photographs of the meals they cooked in these dreadful months. I myself have found time to complete two books which have nothing to do with how I spend my time or what I cook but are brilliant fictional... (I've repeatedly told you that this space is not for your idiotic self-advertisements — Ed. Sorry yaar, iss mushkil vakht mey thhodee si publicity sey kya farak padhta? — fd).

The globalist way of looking at these times is to see them as a battle between two species of evolved life — the mutating, deadly coronavirus strains and the scientifically analytical and creative genius of scientists and the ingenuity of political ordering.

The scientific effort of the geneticists, doctors, epidemiologists and others who have not only invented and deployed five developed vaccines, and with many more to come, but have found treatments to alleviate the symptoms of the infected.

The political efforts, subject to all manner of constraints and forces, including crass cynicism — as in Britain where jobs and public funds

RBI sees growth at 10.5% in FY22, inflation in 5-5.2% range in H1 Rate cut cycle seems over

SANGEETHA G CHENNAI, FEB. 5

In order to revive "durable" growth in the economy, the Reserve Bank of India kept the record low repo and reverse repo rate unchanged while continuing its accommodative stance to ensure enough liquidity in the system. The RBI has also projected a real GDP growth of 10.5 per cent for the next fiscal. The six members of monetary policy committee (MPC), which ended its three-day deliberations on Friday, unanimously voted to leave the policy repo rate unchanged at 4 per cent. The repo rate had been slashed by 115 basis points since late March last year when the pandemic hit the economy. The reverse repo rate stands unchanged at 3.35 per cent. This is the fourth time in a row that the MPC has decided to keep the policy rate unchanged. "MPC also decided to continue its accommodative stance of monetary policy as long as necessary-at least through the current financial year and into the next year to revive growth on a durable basis and mitigate the impact of Covid-19, while ensuring that inflation remains within the target going forward," RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said. Finding inflation within the tolerance band, the RBI projected 10.5 per cent real GDP growth for 2021-22-in the range of 26.2 to 8.3 per cent in the first half (H1) and 6 per cent in Q3. Consumer Price Index inflation has been revised to 5.2 per cent for January-

March (Q4) of FY21 from 5.8 per cent predicted earlier. CPI inflation could be 5.2 per cent to 5.0 per cent in H1 of FY22 and 4.3 per cent for Q3 of FY22. "After breaching the upper tolerance threshold continuously since June 2020, CPI inflation moved below 6 per cent in December for the first time in the post-lockdown period, supported by favourable base effects and a sharp fall in key vegetable prices," the RBI said. "Today's upbeat policy statements on growth and inflation restate our view that the rate cut cycle is over. Even as headline inflation trends lower, with economic recovery being underway, services gradually starting to open up, and pricing power coming back in some segments, core inflation will likely see some upside pressure through the year," said Suvodeep Rakshit, vice president and senior economist at Kotak Institutional Equities. Ensuring liquidity, the marginal standing facility (MSF) rate and the bank rate were left unchanged at 4.25 per cent. Further, signalling a rollback of pandemic-era policies, the RBI said it would gradually restore the cash reserve ratio (CRR) in two phases in a non-disruptive manner to 3.5 per cent from March 27 and 4 per cent from May 22, 2021. "CRR normalisation will open up space for a variety of market operations of the RBI to inject additional liquidity," Das said. CRR—the amount of deposits banks must set aside as reserves—of all banks was reduced by 100 basis points to 3 per cent for a period of one year ending on March 26, 2021.

Soon, retail investors can directly buy gilts

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD with agency inputs MUMBAI, FEB. 5

The RBI on Friday announced online access to government securities for retail investors directly through the bank in a path breaking reform. It also sought to ease the worried bond market by extending statutory liquidity ratio (SLR) holdings under the held to maturity (HTM) category for one more year till March 2023. In a major move, the central bank opened an infinite source of lending to the government through the retail bond programme. The RBI said it will allow retail investors to directly buy government debt, making India the first Asian country to do so and among a handful globally. The central bank, tasked with managing Rs 12 lakh crore in government borrowing target next fiscal, hopes the move will allow greater depth to the gilt market in particular and the overall debt market in general, thus deepening the financial markets as lack of depth has been the biggest bane of the domestic debt market all this while. In effect the RBI has opened a long, endless tap for the government to borrow from—just as is done in the domestic stock market now, with the only difference being this will be under direct watch of the RBI. Currently, the RBI allows small investors to buy government bonds via the Gobid platform on BSE and NSE, but it has not gained any traction. While no country allows a direct retail participation as the RBI has done now, Britain, Brazil and Hungary allow small investors to buy/sell via third-party controls. This is the second major step that the RBI is taking to encourage retail investors to enter the gilt market after it had allowed entry through the stock exchanges a few years back but did not elicit the intended result. Further, the RBI allowed FPIs' investment in defaulted corporate bonds outside the short-term limit set from time to time. "In order to further promote investment by foreign portfolio investors (FPI) in corporate bonds, FPI investment in defaulted corporate bonds will be exempted from the short-term limit and the minimum residual maturity requirement under the Medium-Term Framework," RBI said.

Easier credit for micro units

SANGEETHA G CHENNAI, FEB. 5

Pandemic-hit micro units, which largely rely on informal channels for funds, have something to cheer, as the RBI has incentivised credit flow to new borrowers. In order to reach out to the stressed sectors, banks can now provide funds under the on-tap targeted long-term repo operation (TLTRO) scheme to NBFCs. The Reserve Bank of India also wants to come out with a regulatory framework for the micro lenders. "In order to incentivise new credit flow to the micro, small, and medium enterprise (MSME) borrowers, scheduled commercial banks will be allowed to deduct credit disbursed to 'new MSME borrowers' from their net demand and time liabilities (NDTL) for calculation of Cash Reserve Ratio. New MSME borrowers' are those who have not availed any credit facilities from the banking system as on January 1, 2021. This exemption will be available for exposures up to Rs 25 lakh per borrower for credit extended up to the fortnight ending October 1, 2021, RBI said.

"Banks can deduct credit disbursed to new MSME borrowers from NDTL, for CRR calculation. This should give a boost to further lending to the MSME sector," said Padmaja Chunduru, MD and CEO, Indian Bank. However, Rs 25 lakh loans are largely meant for micro units and very few of such units have exposure to formal credit system. "The RBI could have been bolder by raising the borrowing limit to Rs 1 crore. This would have helped a lot of small and medium enterprises as well. There are several small and medium enterprises which are not eligible for ECLGS scheme as that is meant for only those who have a loan outstanding," said Anil Bhardwaj, secretary general, Federation of Indian MSMEs (Fisime). RBI further finds that supporting revival of activity in specific stressed sectors that have both backward and forward linkages have multiplier effects on growth. For this it has proposed to provide funds from banks under the TLTRO on-tap scheme to non-banking finance companies for incremental lending to the specified stressed sectors.

DEMAND NOW ACTUAL, NOT PENT-UP: DAS

Mumbai, Feb. 5: RBI governor Shaktikanta Das said demand in the economy has moved from being of pent-up nature to actual one, and the momentum is likely to sustain. "Demand has now moved beyond pent-up demand to actual demand coming up. I think the demand curve is expected to be now much more sustained," Das told reporters during the post-policy conference call. He said high-speed indicators are pointing towards a growth in demand. —PTI

Oil nears $60 on growth hopes and Opec+ cuts

ALEX LAWLER LONDON, FEB. 5

Oil hit its highest in a year on Friday, closing in on $60 a barrel, supported by economic revival hopes and supply curbs by producer group Opec and its allies. New orders for US-made goods rose more than expected in December, pointing to continued strength in manufacturing. President Joe Biden's drive to enact a $1.9 trillion coronavirus aid bill also gained momentum on Friday. Brent crude was up 85 cents, or 1.4 per cent, at $59.69 by 1438 GMT after hitting its highest since February 20 last year at $59.79. US crude was up $1.02, or 1.8 per cent, at $57.25. "The conditions still remain supportive for oil markets," said Jeffrey Halley, an analyst at brokerage Oanda. "Oil should find plenty of willing buyers on any material dip." Brent is on track to rise more than 6 per cent this week. The last time it traded at $60 a barrel, the pandemic had yet to take hold, economies were open and people were free to travel, meaning demand for gasoline, diesel and jet fuel was much higher. The rollout of Covid-19 vaccines, however, is fuelling hopes of lockdowns being eased, boosting fuel demand. But even demand optimists such as Opec do not expect oil consumption to return to pre-pandemic levels until 2022. Oil also gained support from supply curbs by producers. Opec and its allies, collectively known as Opec+, stuck to their supply tightening policy at a meeting on Wednesday. Record Opec+ cuts have helped to lift prices from historic lows last year. "Opec+ discipline has been a real positive," said Michael McCarthy, chief market strategist at CMC Markets. Further boosting the market, a weekly supply report showed a drop in US crude inventories to their lowest since March. —Reuters

KOREAN MINISTER DROPS WTO BID, CLEARS WAY FOR NIGERIAN CANDIDATE

SAM KIM FEB. 5

South Korean Trade Minister Yoo Myung-hee withdrew her bid to lead the World Trade Organization, leaving former Nigerian Finance Minister Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala as the only remaining candidate for the job. Yoo made the decision after discussions with the US and other major nations, and took various issues into account "comprehensively" including the need to revitalise the multilateral organisation, according to a statement from Korea's trade ministry on Friday. The withdrawal comes after dozens of former US government officials urged President Joe Biden to endorse Okonjo-Iweala after the Trump administration blocked her selection. The opposition halted the selection process because WTO decisions are made on the basis of a consensus of its members. —Bloomberg

TAXPAYERS TO BE INFORMED OF REVIEWS

New Delhi, Feb. 5: Taxpayers will be informed upfront about the reasons their I-T returns are getting reopened for scrutiny and only in case of non-satisfactory reply would the case get opened up again, CBDT chief P. C. Mody said on Friday. The 2021-22 Budget has lowered the time limit for reopening of tax cases to three years from six years. For serious tax fraud cases involving income concealment of Rs 50 lakh and above, 10-year old cases can be reopened. The chairman of Central Board of Direct Taxes said the rationalisation of reopening of cases announced in Budget would bring in more certainty to taxpayers. "What was a heavily litigated area, we have tried to rationalise it to the extent that it is no longer left to the discretion of assessing officer. It would be more of information-based attempt to reopen the cases," he said at a CII event. —PTI

COURSE | TO SUCCESS | If you're not loved and supported, you're not going to be very productive Coursera CEO and the science of well-being

CHERYL LU-LIEN TAN NEW YORK, FEB. 5

Jeff Maggioncalda, CEO of online education provider Coursera, knows what it is like to put his professional life on pause. In 2015, Maggioncalda took a break from working in financial services and ended up travelling the world with his wife for two-and-a-half years, spending four weeks at a time in South Africa, China, Southeast Asia and more. "We drove from Berlin to Munich. We went through all the Indonesian islands. We went to Komodo and saw komodo dragons—it was really extraordinary," said Maggioncalda, 52, whose Mountain View,

California-based company has offered online courses and degrees from universities and experts to more than 75 million people. And what did he take away from the journey that is applicable now? "I realised I'm a learner," said Maggioncalda, who joined Coursera in 2017. "Adopting a growth mindset, being open-minded, being curious, being open-hearted to new people and new ideas and learning is important right now. The world is going to look fundamentally different—and that will help you become a pioneer in the new normal." Maggioncalda shared his thoughts on the course to success with Jeff Maggioncalda Reuters. Edited excerpts are below.

What courses can help people the most professionally right now? If you don't feel centred, confident, loved and supported, you're not going to be very productive. Taking care of your mental and physical health is the foundation for good performance and a strong career. On Coursera, I'd suggest "The Science of Well-Being," which is all about how we make choices that make us happier and mentally healthier, and "Finding Purpose and Meaning in Life," which is about how to find a centred, meaningful path in a chaotic life. And then I'd suggest "AI For Everyone," which teaches everyone with any background the basics of AI. What will help us stay ahead of the curve? Employers are going to be looking for employees who are well-balanced and multidisciplinary—people who know about a number of different domains. Try to develop a balanced skill set. Make sure you can increasingly communicate visually, with data. Learn basic data fluency skills, math, statistics, computers—G Suite, Microsoft, the basics of programming. What work equipment is invaluable now? A wire Ethernet cable—I do not rely on Wi-Fi. I use it at home. When I've had to travel, I'll bring a 100-foot (30.5 m) Ethernet cable because you just don't know what the Wi-Fi is going to be like. What will work look like once the pandemic is over? My dream in the new normal is to become a nomadic CEO, to travel with my wife everywhere around the world where we have offices—Bulgaria, London, India—and see our customers, our employees and partners. Rather than just be there for a few days, I'll stay there for two or three weeks. Also, in a world where we're not all tethered to offices, we can spend more time with people that we love. I'm really into creating family traditions where you don't have to take vacations in order to spend time with people you love. —Reuters
