Farmer leaders court arrest

Tohana (Haryana): Farmers leaders Rakesh Tikait and Gurnam Singh Chaduni along with scores of their associates on Saturday gathered at Sadar police station in Fatehabad here, demanding the release of fellow farmers. They also sought the registration of a case against local JJP MLA Devender Babli for allegedly hurling abuses against them. Tikait and Chaduni along with the protesting farmers first assembled at the grain market and then marched towards the police station to court arrest.

UK to reconsider opening up biz

London: The UK government on Saturday said it is considering options around a planned end to lockdown on June 21 after the country recorded the highest number of daily COVID-19 cases in just over two months. The UK recorded a further 6,238 coronavirus cases on Friday as England's R number, or the rate of infection, continues to rise.

3 US senators to visit Taiwan

Taipei: A bipartisan group of three US senators will travel to Taiwan next week to meet with senior government officials and discuss US-Taiwan ties and other issues, the de facto U.S. Embassy in Taiwan announced. Sunday's trip is likely to anger China, which claims Taiwan as its territory and objects to Taiwan being called a country. Like most nations, the US has no formal diplomatic ties with Taiwan.

BJP denies cash offer to namesake

Kasaragod: The BJP's Kerala unit, under attack over allegations of using large amounts of black money in the April 6 Assembly polls, found itself in a fresh row on Saturday, with a candidate claiming he was offered ₹15 lakh for withdrawing his nomination against BJP state chief K. Surendran. The BJP dismissed the allegations as baseless. K. Sundara, a BSP candidate of Manjeswaram constituency in Kasaragod had on March 22 withdrawn his nomination papers.

Twitter gets last warning

New Delhi, June 5: The government on Saturday issued notice to Twitter, giving it one last chance to "immediately" comply with the new Information Technology rules.

The government warned that failure to adhere to the norms will lead to "unintended consequences" including the platform losing exemption from liability under the IT Act.

The notice, however, did not mention a specific date to comply with the rules.

The ministry of electronics and information technology said that Twitter's refusal to comply with rules demonstrated the microblogging site's "lack of commitment and efforts towards providing a safe experience for the people of India on its platform".

Blue tick for VP, RSS chief back

New Delhi, June 5: Twitter removed the 'blue tick' or the verification badge from the personal accounts of Vice President M. Venkaiah Naidu and senior RSS functionaries, including Mohan Bhagwat, only to restore it later on Saturday evoking a sharp reaction from Sangh leaders.

"Despite being operational in India for over a decade, it is beyond belief that 'Twitter Inc has doggedly refused to create mechanism that will enable the people of India ers and followers who described the act as an example of "tech feudalism".

Amid the outrage, Twitter said according to its rules, the blue badge and verified status could be automatically removed from an account if it is incomplete or inactive for six months.

to resolve their issues on the platform in a timely and transparent manner and through fair processes, by India based, clearly identified resources," the ministry said.

The new IT rules for social media companies that came into effect last month mandate large platforms like Facebook and Twitter to enable identification of the "first originator" of any information that undermines the sovereignty of India, the security of the state, or public order.

Under the new rules, social media companies will have to take down flagged content within 36 hours, and remove within 24 hours content that is flagged for nudity, pornography etc.

India's new IT rules also Facebook and Twitter to appoint a grievance officer, nodal officer and a chief compliance officer. These personnel are required to be resident in India.

Ex-MLA Ravinder Reddy quits TRS, to join BJP

DC CORRESPONDENT NIZAMABAD, JUNE 5

Only few leaders call TRS president and Chief Minister K. Chandrashekar Rao fondly as 'Anna' (elder brother). Interestingly, Rao also affectionately calls them "Thammami" (younger brother). Minister G. Jagadish Reddy, former minister Etala Rajendar and former MLA Enugu Ravinder Reddy were prominent among them.

In a changed political scenario, both Rajendar and Ravinder Reddy have left the TRS. The strong brotherhood bond with Chandrasekhar Rao that grew during the second phase of Telangana statehood movement is now disturbed.

● RAVINDER REDDY left the TRS stating that he will not be able to digest the humiliation. He severed his association with the TRS on Friday. He and his followers will join the BJP after June 10.

● HIS FOLLOWERS SAID TRS adopted a 'use and throw' policy

Ravinder Reddy left the TRS stating that he will not be able to digest the humiliation in the party. He severed his two-decade association with the TRS on Friday. He and his followers will join the BJP after June 10.

Following his resignation, political equations have changed in undivided Nizamabad district. His followers said that TRS leadership adopted a 'use and throw' policy and dampened the former MLA's spirit after his defeat in 2018 Assembly elections. How can the high command ignore a four-time MLA, they fumed.

During the last municipal elections, the TRS leadership ignored him while selecting candidates. Unable to digest the humiliation, Ravinder Reddy went abroad during the local body elections. He also stayed away during the party membership drive.

Political observers said that TRS high command should give priority to Yellareddy MLA Jajala Surender, who switched over from the Congress.

State may end day lockdown

Night curfew for 10 days from June 9 likely

L. VENKAT RAM REDDY | DC HYDERABAD, JUNE 5

The state government is planning to begin the unlock process with more relaxations from June 10, according to official sources.

At present, a 17-hour lockdown from 1 pm to 6 am with seven-hour relaxation from 6 am to 1 pm is being enforced from May 31 which will end on June 9.

The government is planning to continue night curfew from 8 pm to 7 am after June 9 for 10 more days as Covid situation came under control.

and health department on Saturday is learnt to have expressed satisfaction over the Covid cases witnessing a sharp decline in the state after the imposition of night curfew in April and lockdown in May.

The Chief Minister is learnt to have favoured lifting of lockdown in a phased-manner instead of lifting totally at one go, which may result in spread of coronavirus again.

The state government had initially imposed a night curfew across the state from 8 pm to 7 am from April 20 after Covid second wave led to a steep increase in Coronavirus positive cases and deaths.

The state was recording about 6,000 new cases and about 30 deaths per day during that period.

It was followed by a 20-hour lockdown from May 12 to May 30 when the cases had come down to about 4,500 but the number of deaths per day due to Covid-19 was still in the mid-thirties, from 10 am to 6 am.

On May 30, the Cabinet had decided to extend the lockdown until June 9 but reduced the lockdown period to 17 hours from 1 pm to 6 am.

Free diagnostic tests at 19 govt centres: KCR

DC CORRESPONDENT HYDERABAD, JUNE 5

Chief Minister K. Chandrashekar Rao directed officials to open 19 diagnostic centres for the benefit of economically deprived sections in select major government hospitals and district headquarters across the state on Monday.

The centres will conduct 57 types of tests free of cost, a release from the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) stated on Saturday. Rao wanted the diagnostic centres that are ready to be opened in Mahbubnagar, Nizamabad, Sangareddy, Medak, Jangaon, Mulugu, Mahbubabad, Bhadradi Kothagudem, Jagtial, Siddipet, Nalgonda, Khammam, Sircilla, Vikarabad, Nirmal, Karimnagar, Adilabad, Gadwal and Asifabad districts and in major government hospitals. He spoke to medical and health department officials on Saturday and enquired about the Covid-19 situation in the state.

The tests include for Covid, blood, urine, diabetes, hypertension, cardiac ailments, orthopaedic, liver, kidney, thyroid related X-ray, biochemistry, and pathology, among others.

Atram Jyotiram and wife Laxmi of Jainoor mandal were waiting for Krishna Express train that was scheduled to depart at 9 pm to Hyderabad from Adilabad railway station.

Atram said there were eight Adivasi families right now working in agriculture fields in the areas around Hyderabad and added that many Adivasis were working as labourers for cultivation of vegetables, Soya, cotton and red gram crops.

Jyotiram said they came to Jainoor for his wife's delivery and now they were going back along with their male baby and added that going back to Hyderabad for work was a must for them since there was no work in Jainoor and he had no land.

Adivasis are migrating to various places in Maharashtra and Telangana in search of livelihood even during the Covid pandemic for their survival. Many Adivasis from Jannaram and Dandepalli areas migrated to other places in search of work or livelihood since they cannot stay idle in their villages.

It is said that landowners will pay up to ₹300 as daily wage for the women agriculture workers around Hyderabad city.

He said Rajendar might have many reasons to leave the party and it was his decision to stay or quit the TRS, but his absence would not make any difference to the party. "The opportunities given to Rajendar by the party were greater than the services he rendered to the party," he said, adding that resigning from the party membership and the MLA post was a decision taken by Rajendar himself.

12 DISTRICTS
COMPLEXES

Hyderabad: Chief Minister K. Chandrabab Naidu said he is all set to soon embark on tours of 12 newly formed districts for inaugurating the new integrated collectorate complexes constructed there.

Chief Secretary Somesh Kumar on Saturday held a video conference with collectors of various districts. He issued them instructions to keep the new collectorate complexes ready for inauguration within a week. Although the Chief Minister's tour to districts is not yet officially confirmed, the CS informed collectors to be prepared for inauguration of the collectorate complexes any time.

The Chief Secretary also spoke to collectors of seven districts, where the state Cabinet had recently approved establishment of government medical colleges. He directed collectors to identify suitable land parcels for setting up the medical colleges. He asked them to speed up the process as the government wants to lay foundation for new medical colleges and launch their construction by July.

The Cabinet had on May 30 approved setting up of medical colleges in Nagarkurnool, Wanaparthy, Mancherial, Jagtial, Sangareddy, Mahbubnagar and Kothagudem. The total project involving an expenditure of nearly ₹5,000 crore.

KTR's chicken leg retort has Twitter guffawing

A shrewd politician and an ace performer, IT minister K.T. Rama Rao is also known for his huge sense of humour when it comes to his responses on social media platforms to many comments by all and sundry. Now, amid the Coronavirus pandemic and tough times due to the series of lockdowns, the Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) working president keeps giving some hilarious moments to his followers on Twitter. Last week, a Twitter user complained to Rama Rao against the food delivery app Zomato for delivering him chicken biryani without 'extra masala and leg piece'. Rama Rao replied to him instantly, full of humour and sarcasm, saying "And why am I tagged on this brother? What did you expect me to do?" His tweet went viral on social media leaving netizens in splits. They recollected Rama Rao's similar tweets made during the lockdown last year. A Twitter user asked Rama Rao, "Sir a sincere query: Any thoughts on opening barber shops or salons during lockdown? My wife is eager to try her hand on haircut and if that happens, I have a strong feeling I'll need to stay home even after the lockdown is lifted." Rama Rao replied, "Hey, when Virat Kohli could let his wife style his hair, why don't you?" Rama Rao's sister and MLC K. Kavitha swung in to add, "Annayya... Bhabhi ki kuda chance isthunnava" asking her brother if he was also giving chance his wife a chance to cut his hair, leaving netizens chuckling.

TWO FITNESS
FREAKS TO HEAD
AP DIST ADMIN

In a minor reshuffle, the Andhra Pradesh government posted Tourism Development Corporation managing director Pravin Kumar as collector of Prakasam district. He earlier served as Visakhapatnam collector during the TD regime. Leaving the administrative matters aside, Pravin, most likely, will give tough competition to the incumbent superintendent of police Siddharth Kaushal. A fit and good-looking Siddharth reminds us of a Bollywood hero particularly for his "filmi style" bike raids with scores of policemen following him. Of course, he has been hogging the lime-light not just for his looks but for playing Good Samaritan and launching innovative policing too. Pravin is also a fitness freak and a tough official who acts more by his choice rather than the directions of political and administrative bosses. The two good-looking and fitness freaks may hopefully inspire the youth on staying fit and turn Prakasam, one of the worst Covid-hit districts initially, into a healthy district.

Naidu's 'Vision 2020' turns topsy-turvy

As the famous Telugu saying "Rojulu bagonapudu taade paamai karichinatlu" goes, nothing seems to be going right for former chief minister and Telugu Desam president N. Chandrababu Naidu. The party got a severe beating in the 2019 Assembly elections in Andhra Pradesh and the trend continued in the recent gram panchayat and urban local body elections. The party cadre was thoroughly demoralised following his call to boycott the zilla parishad elections. Now, it is time for old memories to haunt him and he has become a hot topic for trolling in social media. When international organisations started talking about a vision for 2020 in the late 1990s, Naidu picked up the phrase and went all out to champion it more than anyone in the country. He got a document prepared by an international consulting agency by spending crores of rupees and claimed that it was the greatest vision document though it received severe criticism. One of the famous observations was by a visiting foreign dignitary that people of his country would either jail the proponent of such a document or dismiss him as mad. Two decades later, the world found itself in the worst crisis, considered to be more severe than the two World Wars, in the form of Covid-19 pandemic and incidentally, the gloom descended on the world in the year 2020, leaving room for Naidu's detractors to take on him for one more debacle.

Police grew stronger
during Covid: Anjani

The idea is to deal with crisis management, says top cop

NAVEEN KUMAR | DC
HYDERABAD, JUNE 5

Covid-19 has in some ways turned policing upside down. The most visible government apparatus for more than a year now, the police has evolved into something much more than an agency that chases criminals and maintains law and order.

Fifteen months ago, when Covid-19 made its presence felt in Telangana the first time, not many were prepared, including the government, to deal with the disease that has come to become a scourge that has besieged the society.

Thrown into the battle as one of the frontline troops as the state grappled with containing an unseen enemy, the police force, over this period, has emerged as a much stronger force, particularly in terms of serving people.

Hyderabad police commissioner Anjani Kumar has seen much happen in these past 15 months as he led the force from the front.

In an interview, Anjani Kumar said while their training prepared them to face anything, the battle against the Coronavirus, has been something else, something that was not part of their training, and their strategies evolved and changed to match the reality on the ground.

The Covid-19 crisis, has been as much a period of self-discovery for the police, as it has been for the general public who suddenly realised, that not all police officials and staff, were aloof to their concerns and were only interested in catching criminals.

Excerpts:

Did you, during your training as a young IPS officer, ever imagine that you would be spearheading any battle with a virus?

The nature of police training at the NPA or any pioneer training institute in the world, trains us to prepare and plan for contingencies. They could be of any kind, natural calamity or a man-made tragedy, our impulse and our focus is always on safety. The mindset of a senior police official is such that we are prepared to fight unforeseen circumstances. Even though we were not prepared for this, the core is to deal with crisis management. This applies to everyone in the force, from the commissioner to a constable.

How is policing different now compared to the pre-pandemic days?

There are various aspects to this. Policing consists of many issues and factors. Depending on Hyderabad police commissioner Anjani Kumar leads a horse-mounted patrol of the Old City near Charminar, in this file picture.

SINCE THE nature and character of the virus is such that it is contagious, physically meeting officials has come down, video and teleconferences have taken over and even paperwork has reduced.

the time and situation, certain things get prioritised and presently, the focus has changed to health and one's well-being. Since the nature and character of the virus is such that it is contagious, physically meeting officials has come down, video and teleconferences have taken over and even paperwork has reduced. Our goal since 2018 was to become digital as we were heading towards paperless policing. In some ways, the pandemic has pushed us towards this goal.

What are the challenges you are facing during the Covid second wave compared to the first?

Any crisis leaves an impact. But with Covid, it has been a 15-month battle. This is where the fatigue syndrome comes in as one cannot be fully alert throughout the journey. We have lost 51 personnel from the department and thousands of them have fought the battle with the virus. Every one in police firmly braves up to overcome any crisis that crops up.

This is the era of social media. Are you under increasing pressure from what people have to say on social media, including those pointing out mistakes? How has social media changed policing?

WITH COVID, it has been a 15-month battle. We have lost 51 personnel from the department and thousands of them have fought the battle with the virus.

ONE OF the plus points of Covid crisis is that it has given a good opportunity for the police to show its humane side of true policing.

I would gladly say that social media is a great source of strength for all of us. Our access to community and vice versa has increased many folds. When I post a one-minute video on Twitter, it reaches about 25k people within a few hours.

The communication is seamless. The tone and the tenor, the letter and the spirit can be rightly conveyed to the community. Similarly, the feeling of the community reaches us directly in the shortest span of time on social media, helping us to serve them better.

Have the acceptance levels of police been less or more among people?

One of the plus points of Covid crisis is that it has given a good opportunity for the police to show its humane side of true policing. I can proudly say that each officer from Hyderabad city police has found a place in the hearts of the community.

How do you keep yourself safe being at the frontline day after day? Also, there is the pressure of keeping your families safe. How are you managing this?

It is a very challenging situation. Right from day one, there was no doubt that we all are exposed to the Coronavirus threat. So apart from taking the best personal precaution, we have to trust and believe in God to keep us safe from the pandemic.

13 unique bridges to be built across Musi, says development corp. chairman

Kaleshwaram done, beautifying Musi to be focus

MADDY DEEKSHITH | DC
HYDERABAD, JUNE 5

The Musi Riverfront Development Corporation Limited (MRDCL) has grand plans to develop both flanks of the river, with 13 unique bridges connecting two sides, including a hanging bridge, wooden bridge, twisted bridge, rope bridge, and a two-pole bridge among others.

In an exclusive chat with Deccan Chronicle on the banks of the Musi at Nagole on World Environment Day, MRDCL chairman D. Sudheer Reddy said that after he took over in February last year, the two lockdowns badly had hit the riverfront development project. Yet, in the five months available, the corporation has laid about three kilometres of walking track on either side of Musi.

"The current development is just the tip of the iceberg. After preparation of a detailed project report (DPR), the project will take proper shape. We have planned to construct 13 unique bridges connecting ernment will fully focus on the Musi project, since the former does not require any investment," Sudheer Reddy explained.

The LB Nagar MLA said the corporation as of now is focussing on arresting the stench emanating from the river, curbing mosquito menace, removing encroachments in buffer zones and preventing new encroachments by setting up a centralised command control room. He asserted that Chief Minister K. Chandrabab Naidu is serious about removal of encroachments, which would all go once MRDCL initiates its drive. He disclosed that the CM has assured funds for the project once the DPR is readied by December.

The MRDCL chairman said the corporation has planned 63 sewage treatment plants (STPs). Tenders for 14 STPs have already been invited. He explained that primarily, MRDCL will address sewerage issue, followed by removal of encroachments, shrubs, weeds, installation of CCTV cameras all along Musi, and landscaping.

Sudheer Reddy said he has held meetings with surveyors from revenue department to fix the boundaries of the river.

So far, the state government has not even completed two per cent of the Musi Rejuvenation and Beautification Project over the years. Neither nodal agencies, including HMDA, GHMC, Hyderabad Metropolitan Water Supply and Sewerage Board (HMWS&SB), and revenue department, nor the newly formed MRDCL have prepared a detailed project report for the flagship project over the years.

The government is unhappy with earlier designs prepared by international firms claiming they are impractical considering the city's topography. All eyes are now on the new DPR that is expected to be ready by December.

Chandrasekhar Rao said that besides general tests, certain specialty tests, which are expensive, would also be conducted free of cost. Results would be sent to the patients' mobile phones. He said expensive equipment with state-of-the-art technology like those available in corporate hospitals, Osmania, Gandhi and NIMS, would be installed in the centres. They include automatic immunoassay analyser, five-part cell counter, fully automatic urine analyser, ECG, 2D Echo, ultrasound, digital x-ray and other imaging testing units.

Officials informed that such an equipment can produce 400 to 800 reports in an hour. Based on individual requirement, CT scans will also be provided.

Elaborating, Rao said "There are four types of expenses for treatment. Transportation costs to reach the hospital, doctor's fee, medicines, diagnostics, expenses on inpatient, and transportation charges to carry deceased and funeral expenses."

For emergency services, the government is running 428 ambulances under 108 services. Around 300 vehicles are earmarked for pregnant women under the Amma Vadi Scheme.

The government has ensured arrangements to send samples of poor patients undergoing treatment in PHCs to the nearest centre for speedy testing and reports.

The Chief Minister said, "Medical treatment is becoming costlier. The poor are forced to sell properties to get treatment. These days every other person is suffering from hypertension and diabetes and needs to get examined. Tests for the heart, liver, kidney, and lungs, cancer and thyroid have become a necessity for the poor. Corona has joined the list and it needs several tests. Government doctors write prescriptions but for diagnostic tests, people are forced to go to private clinics and spend thousands of rupees. This has become a huge burden on the poor. Our endeavour is to bring financial relief to those aggrieved sections."

Apollo Hospitals has vaccinated two lakh people in Telangana state so far and is the largest vaccinator in Hyderabad.

It pioneered a mass vaccination centre at HICC Madhapur in Hyderabad with a capacity of delivering 25,000 jabs per day.

The centre is one of its kind being operated since last 10 days by the private sector. Apollo Group has also conducted other multiple outreach mega camps in Hyderabad, Ranga Reddy, Karimnagar and Bhadrachalam districts.

Frontline workers, employees of essential industries, IT professionals, housing colonies, also involving domestic helps and assistants, and a host of other citizens are benefitting from this initiative of Apollo Hospitals. A communiqué from the Apollo Group said its endeavour is to reach out to maximum number of people in Telangana state and support the government in its mega vaccination drive. Currently, Covishield and Covaxin are being administered. In a few weeks, Sputnik vaccine too will be available at Apollo Hospitals.

Citizens must come forward and get vaccinated at the earliest, as that is the only definitive tool to win over the pandemic, the communiqué added.

plants in 3,500 haDC CORRESPONDENT
KOTHAGUDEM, JUNE 5

B h a d r a d r i - Kothagudem and Mahaboobabad districts forest conservator Bhima Naik said that the government will develop plantations in 3,500 hectares in the district. "Protecting the forests and wildlife is the responsibility of not only forest staff but also mankind for the sake of environment", he said. Bhima Naik, who visited the forest area at Vonobanagar in Julurpad mandal on Friday, said that Mahabubabad and Bhadradi districts were made B h a d r a d r i - Kothagudem forest circle after formation of new districts. The forest area in the circle was divided ed into six divisions and the Bhadradi district was recognized as the highest forest density area in Telangana.

"The government has given rights to the tribals under Forest Rights Act-2005 for their sustenance and a few people are trying to grab forest land by making use of such acts. With it, the forest department lost vast forest areas and it is a danger to mankind. The people should refrain from such acts and extend their support to the forest department in protecting the forests," he said.

Pertaining to the plantation, he said that the government decided to raise plants in 3,500 hectares in the present year. The forest staff should fulfill the task without fail.

Covid tests conducted for guest workers in Warangal

Concerned over the health of workers, Dharmasagar cops arrange the tests

IN BRIEF

NO PLUS TWO EXAMS IN TAMIL NADU

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, JUN 5

Chief Minister M K Stalin announced that there would be no Plus Two examinations for the State Board this academic year but made it clear that the policy for admissions to colleges and universities would remain the same, demanding the cancellation of all national level entrance examinations, including NEET.

Admissions for higher studies in the state would be based on marks alone, Stalin said, adding that a committee would be formed to decide on the modus operandi to be followed to award marks for the students.

The committee, which would be headed by the State School Education Secretary and have the Vice Chancellor of Madras University and school heads as members, would present its report to the government, he said in a statement.

Stalin also said that he had written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi to cancel NEET and all other entrance examinations this year in view of the prevailing Coronavirus threat that forced the cancellation of the board examinations.

The decision taken on the basis of the report submitted by the State Minister for School Education Anbil Mahesh Poyamozhi on Saturday evening, took various issues relating to the conduct of examinations into account.

HIMACHAL GOVT CANCELS CLASS 12 BOARD EXAMS

Shimla, Jun 5: The Himachal Pradesh government on Saturday cancelled the class 12 board examinations for 2020-21 and also extended the 'Corona curfew' till June 14, Education Minister Govind Singh Thakur said.

He said that the ongoing coronavirus curfew, which was to end on June 7, has now been extended till 6 am on June 14 with all the existing restrictions.

The decisions were taken at a cabinet meeting chaired by Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur here.

The Cabinet decided to cancel 10+2 examinations for the year 2020-21 in line with the decision of Central government in this regard, he said.

He said that for calculating the awards for class 12 students, the HP Board of School Education would devise a formula taking a cue from the one being prepared by the CBSE, which had recently announced to cancel its class 12 exams due to the coronavirus pandemic.

In case some students are not satisfied with the results arrived at so, they would be allowed to appear in a special examination to be conducted once the situation is conducive for holding the exams, he added.

TN FARMERS BURN COPIES OF 3 FARM LAWS

Chennai June 5: Members of the Tamil Nadu Vivasayigal Sangam, a farmers body, on Saturday burned copies of the three farm laws introduced by the Centre a year ago, demanding their repeal.

The protests were held in various parts of the state with the farmers assembling in small groups wearing face masks and maintaining social distancing owing to the pandemic.

Recalling the year-long protest by farmers across the country and their sacrifices during the New Delhi stir, the Sangam's state general secretary P. Shanmugam urged Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M. K. Stalin to take steps to pass a resolution against the farm laws in the Assembly.

Our Chief Minister wrote to the Union government recently seeking the withdrawal of the three farm laws for the welfare of the farming community. Stalin should pass a resolution against these legislations in the state Assembly soon, he said. At Tambaram, near here, 15 people led by Shanmugam gathered to burn copies of the laws.

The farmers have been protesting against the Farmers Produce Trade and Commerce (Promotion & Facilitation), Farmers (Empowerment and Protection) Agreement on Price Assurance and Farm Services and the Essential Commodities (Amendment) Act, 2020.

Worst-hit Mumbai and Delhi start to unlock

Delhi shops in markets, malls to open on an odd-even basis

VINEETA PANDEY | DC
with agency inputs
NEW DELHI, JUNE 5

With the Covid-19 situation gradually coming under control and daily positivity rate falling below five per cent, Delhi and Mumbai are all set to open gradually from Monday.

Delhi chief minister Arvind Kejriwal announced on Saturday that markets will re-open and Metro services will resume from Monday, June 7, with conditions.

"Lockdown will continue with more relaxation in other activities. Shops in markets and malls to be opened on an odd-even basis from Monday. The standalone shops, however, will be allowed to open daily from 10 am to 8 pm. Home delivery through e-commerce platforms has also been okayed. Private offices will be allowed to function with 50 per cent staff," Mr Kejriwal said.

"In government offices, Group A staff will be allowed to function with 100 per cent capacity while Group B with 50 per cent staff," Mr Kejriwal said.

Essential items shops and chemists will remain open on all days. But restaurants, theatres, gymnasiums, swimming pools, water parks, salons, educational and coaching institutes, cinema halls, weekly markets will remain shut.

Domestic traders body CAIT on Saturday welcomed the Delhi government's decision to allow markets to open from Monday but opposed the odd-even formula, claiming that it does not suit the business character of the city.

"The odd-even formula is never suited for the business character of Delhi because being the largest distribution centre of the country, Delhi has a totally different business format where one trader is dependent upon the other for procurement of goods and in many cases, both these format of trade will adopt different day for opening the shops due to the odd-even formula," said Praveen Khandelwal, secretary general, Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT).

"It would have been better if the Delhi government would have adopted staggered timings between different markets of Delhi," he suggested. In its earlier letter to Lieutenant Governor Anil Bajjal and Kejriwal, the CAIT had suggested staggered timings for the wholesale markets - 10 am to 4 pm - and 12 pm to 7 pm for retail markets.

Maharashtra too announced a five-phased unlock plan under which cities and districts having positivity rate less than 5 per cent and oxygen beds occupancy less than 25 per cent - categorised as Level 1 - will see lifting of restrictions. Here all restaurants, malls, salons, movie theatres, shops can open.

Under Level 2, districts having less than 5 per cent positivity and oxygen beds occupancy of 25-40 per cent, can reopen shops but malls, restaurants, gymnasiums, salons etc will get partial relaxations.

Level 3 are districts with 5-10 per cent positivity rate and 40-60 per cent oxygen bed occupancy.

In Mumbai, which falls under Level 3, film shoots have been allowed and buses can operate at full capacity but with only sitting passengers.

Mumbai local trains, that remain overcrowded during peak hours, will be out of bounds for local passengers and only essential workers are permitted to use these trains.

In Maharashtra, districts having 10-20 per cent positivity rate more than 60 per cent occupancy rate will be under Level 4 and here no movement of people will be allowed on weekends and after 5 pm on weekdays. Level 5 will consist of districts with a positivity rate over 20 per cent and oxygen bed occupancy over 75 per cent. Here no movement of people will be allowed.

India on Saturday recorded lowest daily cases in nearly two months with 1.21 lakh cases in the last 24 hours.

The deaths - 3,380 - however, still remain high. Country's weekly positivity rate is currently at 6.89 per cent while the daily positivity rate was 5.78 per cent on Saturday. It has remained less than 10 per cent for 12 consecutive days now.

Delhi on Saturday had a positivity rate of 0.53 per cent with 414 fresh cases, and 60 deaths. Its hospital beds and patients dependent on oxygen have reduced drastically.

However, Mr Kejriwal has set up a task force to prepare for a possible third wave.

TN EXTENDS LOCKDOWN TILL JUNE 14

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, JUNE 5

The Tamil Nadu government on Saturday decided to extend the total lockdown till June 14 while announcing some relaxations in districts other than Coimbatore, the Nilgiris, Tiruppur, Erode, Salem, Karur, Namakkal, Thanjavur, Tiruvarur, Nagapattinam and Mayiladuthurai.

More restrictions have been imposed in the 11 districts where the rate of Covid-19 infection has been high while Chennai and the other districts that have shown remarkable decline in the number of new cases will witness more activities from Monday, a release issued by Chief Minister M.K. Stalin said.

However, shopping complexes, malls, tourist spots, cinemas and salons will remain shut, while standalone provision shops, groceries, fish and meat shops will be allowed to be opened between 6 am and 5 pm all over the state.

Pavement shops selling vegetables, fruits and flowers are allowed to function between 6 am and 5 pm. Fish markets and slaughterhouses can conduct only wholesale trade. The district administrations would make arrangements to open more wholesale markets to maintain physical distancing. Government offices would work with 30 per cent attendance.

Match box industries can function with 50 per cent workers but should follow the standard operating procedure.

Lockdown in Odisha leaves over 7L jobless

AKSHAYA KUMAR
SAHOO | DC
BHUBANESWAR, JUNE 5

Over 7 lakh people in Odisha have lost their jobs since the lockdown was re-imposed on May 5 to cut the rapid transmission of coronavirus.

As per the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy's (CMIE) latest data, the unemployment rate in Odisha was merely around 2 per cent (1.9 per cent) in April. However, by May-end, following the enforcement of the lockdown, it shot up to 7 per cent.

Among the list of 28 states, Odisha has been among the top-5 states where the rate of unemployment has posted a sharp rise vis-a-vis the previous month.

Due to this sharp rise in the rate of unemployment in May, an estimate reveals that in the last month (May) a whopping over 10.09 lakh had no jobs at hand as against mere 2.76 lakh in April.

Significantly, such a blow to job creation has come at a time when during the first quarter of the year that ended in April, the number of unemployed in the state had increased by nearly 1.24 lakh vis-a-vis the previous quarter of September-December 2020.

Historically seen, Odisha always recorded a double-digit unemployment rate in the age group of 15 to 24 years. The rates in the beginning of 2020 stood at 12.62 per cent in the age group of 15 to 19 years and 18.09 per cent in the age group of 20-24 years. However, when cut to January to April 2021, the unemployment rate had shot up sharply to 35.46 per cent and 14.91 per cent, respectively, in the same age groups.

● IT HAS BEEN observed that the districts that had a higher share in Odisha's employment chart had been the worst hit by the second Covid-19 wave.

An analysis of the district-wise data nails the prime cause. It has been observed that the districts that had a higher share in Odisha's employment chart had been the worst hit by the second Covid-19 wave. Cities like Bhubaneswar, Cuttack and industrial districts like Sundergarh and Jharsuguda that provide employment in the range of 2.5-4.9 lakh were the worst hit in the second wave surge in the state, leading to the loss of jobs.

Meanwhile, the Covid-19 single-day cases continue to log above 7,000 cases a month now and the daily death toll has remained above 30 for over two weeks.

On Saturday, the state recorded 7,395 new cases and 40 deaths.

With this, the positive tally in the state surged to 8,06,094 while the total number of deaths in the pandemic shot up to 2,952.

Of the fresh cases detected across 30 districts in the state on Sunday, a total of 4,169 cases were reported from quarantine centers, while the rest 3,226 were local transmission cases.

Not many takers for tests, jabs in rural India

Kalwa, June 5: When health worker Neelam Kumari knocks on doors in villages the occupants sometimes run out the back, terrified that she wants to vaccinate them against Covid-19.

With India's devastating recent virus surge easing in cities, the deadly pandemic is ravaging the vast poverty-stricken rural hinterland. But here, ignorance and fear rule.

"A lot of people in my village don't want to take the vaccine. They fear that they will die if they take it," Kumari told AFP in Dhathra, a collection of two-storey buildings in Haryana with buffaloes wandering the streets.

"One of the villagers was so angry that he beat up a (health) worker who was trying to convince him to take the vaccine."

Just 15 percent of people in rural areas, compared with 30 percent in towns and cities, have received at least one vaccine dose so far - even though two-thirds of cases are being reported in the countryside, according to an analysis in a newspaper.

Rumours are shared online or spread through messaging apps like WhatsApp. Fears that 5G causes Covid-19 led to mobile towers being attacked in Haryana.

"People do not even step forward for testing as they think the government will declare them Covid-positive even if they are not," Shobeb Ali, a doctor in Miyaganj village in Uttar Pradesh, told AFP.

This fear pervades despite the sight of bodies dumped in rivers and hundreds of shallow graves suggesting that Covid is raging in hinterland where 70 percent of the population lives.

In Nuran Khara village in Haryana, residents are reluctant to get inoculated even though they said many households reported having fever - and dozens of people dying.

"Even after opening up a vaccine centre here, nobody is ready to take it," villager Rajesh Kumar, 45, told AFP.

"I won't take the vaccine because it has many side effects. People get sick after getting vaccines."

A lioness in Tamil Nadu died of coronavirus while nine others in the pride tested positive at Vandalur

All felines in Ranchi Zoo put to mandatory Covid test

Ranchi, Jun 5: All 21 felines in Jharkhand's Ranchi Zoo - right from 1.3 years tiger cubs to 14-year-old Mallik - are undergoing Covid-19 test to rule out chances of infection in the wake of death of tiger Shiva down with fever for three days, an official said Saturday.

The decision for mandatory Covid test of felines was taken amid coronavirus scare though 10-year old tiger Shiva, who died Thursday night tested negative in RAT but results of RT-PCR are awaited.

Shiva, suffering from high fever since Tuesday, had left eating and had barely touched the chicken soup offered during the sickness before it succumbed to death.

"We have 21 lions, tigers and leopards left at Bhagwan Birsa Biological Park, Ormanjhi, Ranchi after Shiva died on Thursday night. To rule out even the remote possibility of Covid-19 virus among felines, we have decided that all will undergo mandatory coronavirus tests.

"So far swabs could be taken of 11 animals as it is a bit difficult to obtain their swabs given their ferocious nature," Zoo Director YK Das told PTI.

Zoo at present houses nine tigers between the age of 1.3 years to 14 years. There are three tiger cub siblings of 1.3 years age.

In addition, the animals going for RT-PCR (Reverse Transcription Polymerase Chain Reaction) test include four lions - two asiatic and two hybrid, Zoo officials said.

Also, there are eight leopards including one black panther that are undergoing Covid-19 tests.

The Zoo director said that initially 21 felines of Schedule 1 category protected animals under Wildlife Act are undergoing Covid-19 tests and if need be more animals will be included in the list.

He said that so far coronavirus cases have been detected only in categories like lions and tigers but as a precautionary measure, leopards have also been included.

The death of tiger Shiva in state capital Ranchi's Zoo has created fear.

positive for the infection at Arignar Anna Zoological Park at Vandalur.

In May, eight Asiatic lions at a zoo in Hyderabad tested positive for Covid-19 making it the first such case in the country.

Days after reports of the first such case emerged in Hyderabad, a lion at the Etawah Safari Park in Uttar Pradesh had tested positive while another was suspected to have contracted the contagion.

At Ranchi, Shiva's swab

for RT-PCR has been dispatched to IVRI (Indian Veterinary Research Institute, Bareilly) to assess if it was infected with coronavirus, officials said.

The big cat's blood test and examination by veterinary experts suggested liver and kidney infection while a four-member veterinary team conducted its post-mortem.

The feline was brought to Ranchi from Bengaluru's Bannerghatta Biological Park in November 2014, officials said.

The Director said that the zoo has been closed but as a precautionary measure all the staff including keepers have undergone Covid-19 tests in addition to all precautions for sanitisation etc.

A high alert was sounded here after eight Asiatic lions at Hyderabad Park were found infected for the virus.

Officials said after Covid-19 outbreak sanitisation of the park and enclosures are carried out on a daily basis while staff and animal keepers use protective gears in addition to fogging, sanitisation and lime spraying.

Special precautions are being taken for big cats, the officials said, adding footwash with a solution of potassium permanganate is required for the keepers before entering the cages.

Bhagwan Birsa Biological Park, Ranchi, popularly known as Bhagwan Birsa Zoo, Ranchi claims to be one of the most beautiful and progressive zoos in India, having 104 hectare of area of mildly undulating topography with natural dry deciduous Sal forests & water bodies in and around it.

The park is situated on both the sides of National Highway 33, at about 20 kms from the Ranchi.

The zoo houses about 1,500 wild animals and birds representing 83 different species.

The major breeding species are Himalayan black bear, sloth bear, leopard cat, Royal Bengal tiger, jungle cat, jackal, fox, striped hyena, spotted deer, barking deer, sambar, nilgai, black buck, Indian gaur, hippopotamus, Gangetic gharial, emu, ostrich, Indian peafowl and different species of pheasants.

It has an annual footfall of about 8 lakh.

SHORT TAKES

ABOUT 100
KILLED IN BURKINA FASO

Ouagadougou, June 5: Around 100 civilians were killed in the deadliest attack in Burkina Faso since jihadist violence erupted in the country in 2015, security and local sources said Saturday.

The attack occurred during the night of Friday to Saturday when “armed individuals staged an incursion” into the northern town of Solhan, a security source said. “The toll, which is still provisional, is about about 100 dead, men and woman of different ages”, the source said.

FREE OPPN FIGURE
CHAMORRO, U.S.
TO NICARAGUA

Managua, June 5: The US State Department on Friday called on Nicaragua to free opposition figure Cristiana Chamorro, who is being held incommunicado at her home after her laptops and cell-phones were taken away.

Chamorro is a potential presidential candidate in the November 7 elections and the daughter of former President Violeta Barrios de Chamorro. Her detention is the latest in a series of moves by President Daniel Ortega that his critics say are to prevent candidates from running against him.

On Tuesday, the government charged her with money laundering involving alleged financial irregularities related to the Violeta Barrios de Chamorro Foundation for Reconciliation and Democracy.

CYBERCRIME:
LATVIAN WOMAN
CHARGED IN U.S

Washington, June 5: A Latvian woman has been charged with developing malicious software used by a cybercrime digital network that infected computers worldwide and looted bank accounts of millions of dollars, the Justice Department said Friday.

Alla Witte is charged as part of a 47-count indictment with participating in a cybercrime organisation known as the Trickbot Group, which authorities say operated in Russia and several other countries.

The group is accused of infecting millions of computers worldwide with malicious software that targeted hospitals, schools, governments, businesses and other entities.

Witte, who authorities say previously lived in Suriname, was arrested in Miami.

ASEAN ENVOYS
MEET MYANMAR
JUNTA LEADER

Bangkok, June 5: Representatives of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations met with Myanmar's junta leader on Friday, six weeks after an emergency regional summit on the coup in the country drew promises of progress toward a solution but produced no tangible results.

State broadcaster MRTV showed Senior Gen. Min Aung Hlaing meeting with Brunei Second Foreign Minister Erywan Yusof and Asean Secretary-General Lim Jock Hoi, but provided only a broad outline of their discussions.

Earlier this week, an Indonesian diplomat said the delegation's purpose was to seek Myanmar's nod of an Asean special envoy for the crisis, who is yet to be named. He said the choice involved both sides, making progress slow. The meeting received a cool response from Myanmar's opposition shadow government.

CLASH WITH PKK
REBELS KILLS 5
IRAQI KURD TROOPS

Arbil, Iraq, June 5: Five Iraqi Kurdish peshmerga troops were killed Saturday in a clash with fighters of Turkey's outlawed Kurdistan Workers Party (PKK), a senior Iraqi Kurdish official said. The PKK maintains rear-bases in northern Iraq which have come under renewed assault by Turkish forces since April.

Two peshmerga troops were also wounded in Saturday's clash in the Mount Matin district of Dohuk province, said Serbat Lazkin, deputy minister for peshmerga affairs in Iraqi Kurdistan's autonomous regional government.

The PKK's agenda has often put it at odds with Iraq's autonomous Kurdish government, which has sought to maintain good ties with Ankara. The peshmerga affairs ministry has called on “everyone to respect the borders of Kurdistan and to refrain from endangering its security and stability.”

JOBS REPORT
BOLSTERS GOVT
SPENDING: BIDEN

Washington, June 5: President Joe Biden portrayed the May jobs report as a jumping off point for more spending on infrastructure and education to keep growth going — essentially an argument for his agenda. But the employment numbers issued Friday also hinted at the possible limits of how much government aid can be pumped into the world's largest economy.

“We’re on the right track,” Biden said. “Our plan is working. And we’re not going to let up now. We’re going to continue to move on. I’m extremely optimistic.”

The May jobs report showed the complexity of restarting the economy after a pandemic shutdown and the mixed signals that can result when an unprecedented surge of government spending flows through the economy.

G7 FMs pledge 15%
global corporate tax

Hope to reach final deal at the July gathering of G20 group

London, June 5: Finance ministers from wealthy G7 nations on Saturday pledged to commit to a global minimum corporate tax of at least 15 percent, rallying behind a US-backed plan.

“We... commit to a global minimum tax of at least 15 percent on a country by country basis,” said a statement at the conclusion of their London meeting.

The G7 hopes to reach a final agreement at the July gathering of the expanded G20 finance ministers group, it added.

“I’m delighted to announce that G7 finance ministers... have reached a historic agreement to reform the global tax system,” said British finance minister Rishi Sunak, who chaired the two days of talks held in person after an easing of Covid-19 restrictions. It was attended by counterparts from Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan and the US.

The landmark move is aimed at getting multinationals — especially tech giants — to pay more into government coffers, which have been severely hit during the pandemic.

The talks have prepared the ground for a broader summit of G7 leaders in Cornwall, southwest England, starting Friday.

US President Joe Biden is set to attend next week's summit on his first foreign tour since taking office in January, while later Saturday US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen will hold a press conference following the G7 meeting.

Germany, US laud wealthy nations’ tax commitment

Berlin, June 5: German Finance Minister Olaf Scholz and US Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen on Saturday hailed a G7 commitment for a minimum global corporate tax of 15 percent as “very good news for justice and fiscal solidarity”.

“Enterprises can no longer shy away from their fiscal obligations by cunningly transferring their profits to countries with opaque tax structures,” he said, calling the move “bad news for tax havens”.

Yellen on Saturday hailed an “unprecedented commitment” by the G7 wealthy nations to achieve a global minimum corporate tax rate of at least 15 percent. “That global minimum tax would end the race-to-the-bottom in corporate taxation,” she said in a statement after the other G7 nations backed US President Joe Biden's plan to get tech giants in particular to pay more.

British FM hails historic tax deal

London, June 5: Britain's finance minister Rishi Sunak on Saturday hailed a “historic agreement” by G7 finance ministers meeting in London to commit to a global minimum corporate tax of at least 15 percent.

“I’m delighted to announce that G7 finance ministers today after years of discussions have reached a historic agreement to reform the global tax system to make it fit for the global digital age,” Sunak said in a video statement.

French economy minister Bruno Le Maire had told journalists in London that 15 percent is “a minimum. For us, it’s a starting point”.

NIGERIA SUSPENDS
TWITTER AS PREZ
TWEET DELETED

Lagos, June 4: Nigeria's government said Friday it was suspending Twitter indefinitely in Africa's most populous nation, a day after the company deleted a controversial tweet President Muhammadu Buhari made about a secessionist movement.

It was not immediately clear when the suspension would go into effect as users could still access Twitter. Many said they would use VPNs to maintain access to the platform. Others mocked the government for using the platform to announce the action. “You’re using Twitter to suspend Twitter? Are you not mad?” one user tweeted.

Zawahiri in Af-Pak border area, alive but too frail: UN

United Nations, June 5: A significant part of the Al-Qaeda leadership resides in the Afghanistan and Pakistan border region, including the group's elusive leader Aiman al-Zawahiri, who is probably alive but too frail to be featured in propaganda, according to a United Nations report.

The report, issued on Friday, said that large numbers of Al-Qaeda fighters and other foreign extremist elements aligned with the Taliban are located in various parts of Afghanistan. Member states reported that a significant part of Al-Qaeda leadership remains based in the border region of Afghanistan and Pakistan, where the core is joined by and works closely with Al-Qaeda in the Indian Subcontinent, the twelfth report of the Analytical Support and Sanctions Monitoring Team said.

FATF APG retains Pak on ‘enhanced follow-up’ status

Islamabad, June 5: The Asia Pacific Group on Money Laundering has retained Pakistan on “enhanced follow-up” status for outstanding requirements, and Islamabad will continue to report back to it on the country's progress to strengthen its implementation of anti-money laundering and combating financing terror measures, according to a media report on Saturday.

Pakistan was put on the grey list by the Paris-based Financial Action Task Force (FATF) in June 2018 and the country has been struggling to come out of it. The Asia Pacific Group (APG) is a regional affiliate of the FATF. The second Follow-Up Report (FUR) on Mutual Evaluation of Pakistan released by the APG also downgraded the country on one criteria. The report said Pakistan was re-rated to ‘compliant’ status on five counts and on 15 others to ‘largely compliant’ and on yet another count to ‘partially compliant’.

Dawn newspaper reported that overall, Pakistan is now fully ‘compliant’ with seven recommendations and ‘largely compliant’ with 24 others. The country is ‘partially compliant’ with seven recommendations and ‘non-compliant’ with two out of a total 40 recommendations. All in all, Pakistan is now compliant or largely compliant with 31 out of 40 FATF recommendations. The reporting date for this evaluation was October 1, 2020, which means Islamabad may have made further progress since then that would be evaluated at a later stage.

“Pakistan will move from enhanced (expedited) to enhanced follow-up, and will continue to report back to the APG on progress to strengthen its implementation of anti-money laundering and combating financing terror (AML/CFT) measures,” the APG said.

Pakistan submitted its third progress report in February 2021 which is yet to be evaluated. “Overall, Pakistan has made notable progress in addressing the technical compliance deficiencies identified in its Mutual Evaluation Report (MER) and has been re-rated on 22 recommendations,” the APG added.

In the first FUR of February last year, Pakistan's progress was largely found unchanged — non-compliant on four counts, partially compliant on 25 counts and largely compliant on nine recommendations. Since then, the government worked aggressively and improved its effectiveness on the AML/CFT system.

Minister for Energy Hammad Azhar, who is also head of the task force on FATF, welcomed the re-rating, saying the results proved the sincerity along with resolve of the government in complying with the FATF requirements. FATF's Mutual Evaluation Report (MER) of jurisdictions is assessed in two domains — technical compliance or legal instruments (40 FATF recommendations) and demonstration of effectiveness (11 immediate outcomes). Pakistan's MER was adopted in October 2019 in which the country was rated compliant and largely compliant in 10 out of 40 recommendations. After adoption of MER, Pakistan was placed under post-observation period by the FATF, which expired in February this year. During the said period, Pakistan carried out major legal reforms with the enactment of 14 federal laws and three provincial laws.

Calif. assault weapon ban overturned

Los Angeles June 5: A US judge overturned California's three-decade-old ban on assault weapons Friday in a move swiftly condemned by the state's governor Gavin Newsom as gun-related homicides surge across America.

— AFP

Knife, the popular AR-15 rifle is a perfect combination of home defence weapon and homeland defence equipment,” he wrote.

“Guns and ammunition in the hands of criminals, tyrants and terrorists are dangerous; guns in the hands of lawabiding responsible citizens are better,” he argued.

Benitez said he would give the state 30 days to appeal the decision, which Governor Newsom said posed a “direct threat to public safety” and which he vowed to challenge.

“We’re not backing down from this fight, and we’ll continue pushing for common sense gun laws that will save lives,” he said in a statement.

The decision comes as gun violence surges across the United States — and just over a week after a disgruntled, heavily-armed California public transit worker shot and killed nine people.

A search this week of the shooter's home — which was set ablaze shortly before the attack — turned up 12 guns, around 22,000 rounds of ammunition and suspected Molotov cocktails. Mass shootings have also taken place in Florida, Indiana, California, Colorado and Georgia, in a surge in violence that President Joe Biden has branded an “epidemic.”

The US Supreme Court is also due to hear a challenge backed by the gun lobby to a New York law that restricts the carrying of firearms outside the home.

from Bing search engine

San Francisco, June 5: Searches for the famous Tiananmen Square “Tank Man” protest photo came up empty on Microsoft search engine Bing on Friday, raising censorship concerns on the anniversary of the deadly crackdown. The award-winning photo from 1989 was not served up in image or video searches using Bing even outside China, a country known for strictly controlling what is available online.

“This is due to an accidental human error and we are actively working to resolve this,” a Microsoft spokesman said in response to an AFP inquiry prompted by US press reports. Meanwhile, searches for Tank Man using Google, which has some 92 percent of the global market for online queries according to Statcounter, turned up an assortment of pictures along with the iconic one by photographer Charlie Cole and others. Google search is not offered in China, where censors have purged Tank Man from the internet. Baidu is the dominant search engine in China.

Tiananmen candles:
China blasts US, EU

Hong Kong, June 5: China on Saturday berated the US and EU consulates in Hong Kong for displaying candles to commemorate the June 4 Tiananmen crackdown, slamming it as a “clumsy political show”.

Candles were seen lit in the windows of the US consulate building, which is next to the residence of Hong Kong's Beijing-appointed leader Carrie Lam, and the European Union's office. “Any attempt to exploit Hong Kong to carry out infiltration or sabotage activities against the mainland ... is absolutely intolerable,” a spokesperson for the Hong Kong office of China's foreign ministry said.

Miami hosts huge bitcoin event

Miami, June 5: Thousands of people have descended on Miami for a massive two-day bitcoin conference that opened Friday — a sign that the US city, in the midst of a tech boom, is hoping to become the next cryptocurrency hub. “I don’t think there’s anything more important in my lifetime to work on” than bitcoin, given the flexibility it offers, billionaire entrepreneur Jack Dorsey, the co-founder of Twitter and payments firm Square, told a crowded auditorium. “We don’t need the financial institutions that we have today. We have one that is thriving, that is sound, that is owned by the community, that is driven by the community,” said Dorsey, one of the keynote speakers at Bitcoin 2021.

Dorsey tweeted Friday that Square was considering making a hardware wallet for safely storing bitcoin. With 12,000 participants and all speaker sessions sold out, the Bitcoin 2021 trade show features exhibits from crypto mining companies, crypto traders and bitcoin exchange networks.

The conference was originally scheduled to take place in Los Angeles, but was moved due to tougher Coronavirus restrictions in California.

The line to get into the Mana Convention Center in Miami's trendy Wynwood neighborhood wrapped around the building. Everyone was in high spirits and there were no face masks to be seen.

Beyond Dorsey, two of the other speakers were Cameron and Tyler Winklevoss, twin Harvard classmates of Mark Zuckerberg who sued him over claims he stole the idea for Facebook from them, and now run cryptocurrency exchange Gemini.

“We think bitcoin is gold 2.0,” Tyler said at a panel discussion. “When we get to Mars, what is the currency going to be in Mars? Dollars? No. Bitcoin.”

Off the beaten track

The joys, perils and disasters of cooking

Some years ago, my wife and I shifted to our present house near the beach. It's some distance from Mangalore city, and we had trouble finding domestic help from the day we moved in here: we had to fend for ourselves, and we began to share household chores. As a result, I started learning to cook, something I'd put off for a quarter-century. I have since learned to fend for myself, and even enjoy cooking sometimes, to the extent that my wife can take a month-long holiday, leaving me to take care of the house and our pets.

But this is the story of why I put off learning to cook.

The year was 1989, the place Melbourne. I was unmarried, and had a small flat a few hundred metres from the beach, and, being a programmer, worked from home. That meant, unfortunately, that I also ate at home. Given a kitchen, I could produce only tea (bags please), coffee (instant), boiled eggs, and, after I learned to use a knife without cutting off a finger or two, rudimentary salads.

I struck up an acquaintanceship with a neighbour, a Greek called George. Over the weeks, he became my friend, guide, and confidant. And so, when I confessed to him a month after we met that I often missed spicy Indian food, he told me of the only Indian restaurant he knew: one in Flinders Street run by ISKCON. I had lunch there next afternoon, and discovered that its food was Indian but bland, being intended for Australian palates.

George then took me to a suburb called Dingley, and a warehouse full of foods from all over the subcontinent. So I stocked up on rice and spices from Punjab and coconut oil from Sri Lanka and papad — pappadam, actually — from Kerala. and, one day shortly after, decided to try my hand at cooking lunch. Being a lover of pappadam in all forms, I thought I'd start with deep-frying some.

I'd never done it before, but I'd seen my mother at it often. She used to heat oil in a wok, drop a pappadam into the oil, wait for it to cook, and fish it out with what was called in Malayalam a pappadam-stick, a stiff wire with a point at one end and a bulb-shaped wooden handle at the other.

George then took me to a suburb called Dingley, and a warehouse full of foods from all over the subcontinent. So I stocked up on rice and spices from Punjab and coconut oil from Sri Lanka and papad — pappadam, actually — from Kerala. and, one day shortly after, decided to try my hand at cooking lunch. Being a lover of pappadam in all forms, I thought I'd start with deep-frying some.

I came back to the kitchen after a twenty-minute chat with a client, thinking I'd continue with the pappadams, and picked up the skewer, burning my finger and thumb. With a loud yell of pain, I dropped the skewer on my foot, and, naturally, let out another, louder yell. So when George, who heard the second yell, came running to investigate, he found me nursing small burns on my finger and thumb, and a three-inch-long one on my right foot. The burns on the hand were minor, but the one on the foot looked nasty: nasty enough for George to insist that I went to a doctor.

The doctor, who, like all doctors, had no qualms about prying into the private lives of his patients, asked how I got the burn. When I told him, he managed to disguise his laughter as a cough. But when I was leaving, he grinned, telling me that I'd made his day.

A few weeks later, I felt a strong urge to eat meat, cooked Indian-style. I called up a Malayali friend, got a recipe and some recommendations on what kind of meat to buy at the supermarket: go for the best, and since it lasts in the freezer, buy a large cut. That evening, I bought a two-kilo chunk of meat along with my regular groceries. George popped in to invite me home as I was putting away my purchases, so I put the meat in the freezer and went over to his place.

Next morning I took the meat out, thinking I'd cut off a bit to cook for lunch: my Malayali friend had instructed not to thaw meat out and put it back in the freezer without cooking it, and I didn't have a cooking pot big enough to hold all the meat I'd bought. That was when I discovered how hard frozen meat gets. None of the knives in the kitchen made the slightest impression on it. By now it had become a matter of honour (how could a frozen lump of meat get the better of me?) so I cleaned a chisel and tried to hammer a little lump off the big lump. The handle broke at the third blow. I considered borrowing George's chainsaw to cut it but gave up the idea because George was out.

That left me no choice. I thawed out the whole lump of meat and cooked it in two rounds. Both rounds tasted terrible. I ate all of it because, like I said, it had become a matter of honour. And, honour intact, I decided to give up cooking, a decision I reversed only a quarter-century afterwards. Now that I'm old and my honour is in tatters anyway, here's some advice for bachelors: learn to cook. It's a useful skill, and if you're willing to forgive yourself a few mistakes, it can be a lot of fun.

And when you buy a large lump of meat, cut it up before you put it in the freezer!

Acche Din: No one ever said it would be this hard

Manish Tewari

State of the Union

The NDA/BJP government's seven years tenure has been underpinned by a hodgepodge of grandiloquent pronouncements. If one were to obtusely believe the NDA/BJP then India has eradicated the scourge of a parallel economy post demonetisation. Is now "Atmanirbhar" courtesy a new wave of production by the domestic industries that has put an end to excessive foreign dependence. All the "wolf warriors" of the Chinese have been exterminated and the war against the Covid-19 pandemic was won in January 2021 itself in Davos.

ECONOMY

The Indian economy has tanked to its worst performing levels. Even pre-pandemic growth had halved to four per cent in 2019-20. In 2013-14, the size of the Indian economy was 1.86 trillion dollars. In 2020-21 it stands at 1.85 trillion dollars. By way of comparison China is a 16.64 trillion economy. All the fundamentals namely savings, consumption investment and employment are severely stressed. The unemployment rate is at 45-year high. Per capita income is expected to dip by an unprecedented 5.4 per cent, from 1.34 lakh in the previous year to 1.27 lakh in the current year. The Cumulative Fiscal Deficit of the Union government for 2019-20/201-21 is 33.55 lakh crores. With seven of the largest PSUs being valued below par and put on the chopping block, the government now plans to sell the family silver to bridge an unparalleled deficit budget.

It has now become clear how completely hollow all the tall claims of Atmanirbharta were. India now ignominiously depends on foreign assistance to surmount health emergencies. We have even accepted food aid from Kenya. One can but help recall that even in the wake of a cataclysmic tsunami in 2004 Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh refused to accept any foreign relief.

INSTITUTIONAL INTEGRITY

Erosion of institutional integrity has been the hallmark of the NDA/BJP government. From the CBI and the Election Commission to the Reserve Bank of India and even the higher judiciary, all face a crisis of credibility further widening the state-citizen trust deficit. The worst sufferer of this has been the temple of Indian democracy — India's Parliament. No Indian Prime Minister has ignored Parliament so contemptuously as Prime Minister Modi has.

In order to circumvent Parliament, the NDA/BJP government has often followed the ordinance route. In its seven years the current government has pushed more ordinances than any other government in a five-year term since 1952. Even the number of bills that have been referred to parliamentary committees have shrunk dramatically with zero bills being recommended in 2020. If that was not enough, government found egregious ways of further undermining the remit of Parliament by "classifying" key pieces of legislation as money bills.

All this while the government wallows in quantifying parliament productivity by passing several bills in a single day. What value do these quantifications hold when the essence of democracy, i.e. serious deliberations discussions and questioning of the government on key issues has been severely proscribed.

SOCIAL COHESION

During the seven years in power the NDA/BJP government has turned the idea of India on its head. This government does not believe in the founding values of the Indian state and has used all means necessary to create a majoritarian ethos.

It started with an assault on the freedom to eat, to dress as you like, to think, to express and most importantly the freedom to live your life without fear or intimidation. With extortionate amount of money being funnelled into building false storylines fundamental freedoms have been systematically subverted.

The anti-CAA protests showed that a small but determined group can speak truth to power. The Prime Minister's silence on the subsequent Delhi Riots was deafening. When the three farm laws pushed agriculture into the free market without even an iota of concern for the small and marginal farmer the world is witness to the largest and longest peaceful agitation by the farmers.

Throughout the past seven years the government has used all means necessary to rupture the federal structure of the country. A total of nine state governments have been brought down by the BJP using unethical means. By destabilising states ruled by Opposition parties the BJP has time and again demonstrated contempt for the people's mandate. States have been left to fend for themselves in times of national crises. The recent vaccination fiasco being a striking example.

For the Modi government it is cooperative federalism on paper and a non-operative federalism in reality.

INTERNAL SECURITY

This government had projected itself to be a strong decision-making government, which would accord national security number one priority. But in terms of action the nation has not seen anything substantive. The Naga Accord, is in the doldrums and one knows if it exists or has vanished. Left-wing extremism has grown by leaps and bounds. Maoism and militancy, besides claiming lives of our jawans is also eating into the finances of the country. Mob lynchings and anti-religious conversion laws have attacked the very fundamental of the rights of citizens. Even the abrogation of Article 370 has had little positive impact on Jammu

The worst sufferer of this has been India's Parliament. No Indian Prime Minister has ignored Parliament so contemptuously as Prime Minister Modi has.

& Kashmir whilst institutionalising a sense of alienation and fear. Overall the government struggled to come to terms with domestic insurgencies, modernising the military and deterring potential threats from Pakistan and China.

EXTERNAL RELATIONS

The NDA/BJP government's cynical use of foreign policy as an exercise in personal brand building has had catastrophic consequences for the nation. At the time of writing this article the Chinese haven't vacated illegally occupied Indian territory in Eastern Ladakh. Any hope of return to status quo ante seems beyond the capacity of the current dispensation now that India has given up its tactical advantage on the Kailash heights. The spirits of Wuhan and Mamallapuram are long dead — a consequence of foreign policy becoming individual centric and being run in an ad hoc manner rather than based on any strategic coherence.

The government's dealing with Pakistan in the last seven years has been characterised by U-turns, flip-flops and somersaults. This has precluded any possibility of a nuanced engagement with Islamabad. With India's rankings across several global indices falling severely, the MEA has gone over the top with the narrative of "interference in the internal democratic processes", conveniently overlooking that our head of the government had once canvassed for Donald Trump "abki baar Trump Sarkar".

It is evident that the NDA government has failed in maintaining a balance between the United States, Russia, China and the European Union with foreign policy focussing on Modi first and India later.

The last seven years has unfortunately been a cacophony of mendacities. The NDA/BJP government has failed the people of India. The fantasy of "Acche Din" stands eviscerated. Today this country is humming an old Hindi melody albeit under its breath — Koi Lauta De Mera Beeta Hua Din.

In the NDA rule, consumer is paying full amount to gas agency and subsidy credited to consumers directly. This subsidy is now around ₹41 with all of us paying ₹820 for a gas cylinder.

GRADING CLASS XII

The government could consider best of Class XI marks and average of Class X and XI marks when grading Class XII students. In schools or junior colleges where online classes and periodic internal assessments did take place, 50 per cent weightage can be given to internal assessment scores and 50 per cent to the earlier option. Those who are not satisfied with these two options can be given the choice to appear in a proctored online assessment at home or physical assessment at designated centres when the situation is conducive.

Naftali Bennett: The millionaire who might be Israel's next PM

In April 2019, Naftali Bennett received an unpleasant surprise. As the votes were counted in Israel's general election, it became clear that his New Right party had not passed the 3.25 per cent electoral threshold needed to stay in the Knesset, Israel's parliament. Mr Bennett lost his seat, his new party failed and his political career seemed over.

Two years, three more elections and a global pandemic later, Mr Bennett is on the verge of ending Benjamin Netanyahu's 12-year rule. Barring a spectacular reversal, he may become Israel's Prime Minister. He has found himself in the right place at the right time, heading (though not leading) an eclectic coalition of parties from the left, right and centre. He will be forming a national unity government with Yair Lapid, leader of the centrist Yesh Atid party. Mr Netanyahu was once Mr Bennett's mentor and patron; now he's about to be replaced by him. Born in Haifa to American immigrant parents, Mr Bennett, 49, grew up in an observant Jewish household. He wears a kippah, a Jewish skullcap, which stays on his bald head as if by magic. In its 73-year history, Israel has never had an observant Jew as PM.

Mr Bennett was a member of an elite IDF Special Forces unit. In his time in the Maglan Reconnaissance Unit 212, he served behind enemy lines in the 1996 escalation between Israel and Hezbollah in Lebanon known as "Operation Grapes of Wrath", hunting Hezbollah teams firing rockets into Israel. After military service, Mr Bennett went into tech and became a multimillionaire when his venture was acquired by a security company.

In a sense, Mr Bennett represents the modern Israeli dream: launch a startup after your military service, build it up and get a big "exit" when the company is bought. The usual next step would be to become a serial entrepreneur or venture capitalist. Mr Bennett chose a different path. He became chief of staff to then Opposition leader Benjamin Netanyahu.

The two were once close. Mr Bennett's autobiography has a chapter praising Mr Netanyahu — but he departed suddenly in 2008. Persistent rumours claimed he had a dramatic falling-out with Mr Netanyahu's influential wife, Sara. The precise details, however, were always kept private.

During his time with Mr Netanyahu, Bennett made his most enduring political alliance with the young right-winger Ayelet Shaked, who served as Mr Netanyahu's office director from 2006 to 2008. They made an unlikely pair: a moderately religious man and secular woman. But they shared a vision of a younger, fresher right-wing politics that could bridge the secular-religious divide that permeates Israeli society.

They also both saw themselves as future PMs. Together, they quit Mr Netanyahu's Likud and took over Israel's moribund National Religious party, rebranding it as "Jewish Home".

One of Mr Bennett's more eye-catching policies was the "Bennett Plan" for the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. It involved annexing the majority of the West Bank, including all Israeli settlements, leaving the Palestinian towns in permanent limbo. His plan was attacked by the Israeli left and was also controversial on the right as it wasn't full annexation. Donald Trump's 2020 peace plan was very similar to the Bennett Plan.

When the 2013 polling day came, he flopped. This was pattern for Mr Bennett: high expectations and a strong showing in opinion polls, followed by disappointing results.

In the years that followed, Mr Bennett and Mr Netanyahu clashed during various coalition governments. Eventually, when a new election was called in 2019, Mr Bennett and Ms Shaked quit Jewish Home to form a right-wing secular-religious party called New Right, positioned right of Likud.

Mr Bennett insisted lead this rainbow coalition of nationalists, left-wingers and Arabs. Mr Lapid agreed to allow Mr Bennett to be PM for two years. After that, Mr Lapid in theory will replace Mr Bennett. But Mr Lapid is wise enough to know two years is a lifetime in politics, specially Israeli politics. Still, who knows for sure if this government will ever really take charge? The pressure placed on Mr Bennett and his colleagues by Mr Netanyahu and his supporters is immense. There are protests at his home chanting "traitor", even death threats. If it comes to power, the coalition will be Israel's broadest so far. It will have just a one-seat majority in the Knesset.

Mr Bennett could be in the Prime Minister's chair within days. The question is for how long.

FLOODS AND MUDSLIDES KILL 6 IN SRI LANKA

Colombo, June 5: Flash floods and mudslides triggered by heavy rains in Sri Lanka have killed at least six people and left five missing, while more than 5,000 are displaced, officials said Saturday.

Rains have been pounding six districts of the Indian Ocean island nation since Thursday night, and many houses, paddy fields and roads have been inundated, blocking traffic.

Four people died in floods while another two lost their lives in mudslides, according to the government's Disaster Management Center. Another five people are missing in floods and mudslides.

A mound of earth crashed onto a house and buried four members of the same family.

FLIGHT DIVERTED DUE TO UNRULY PASSENGER

Albuquerque, June 5: A flight from Los Angeles to Nashville was diverted to New Mexico on Friday afternoon after a passenger tried to break into the cockpit, Delta Air Lines said.

The unruly man made the unsuccessful attempt on the locked cockpit aboard Delta Air Lines Flight 386 but other passengers and crew managed to detain him, the airline said.

Video taken aboard the plane shows the zip-tied and shoeless man surrounded by passengers and crew members as he repeats over and over again: "Stop this plane!" He finally was picked up and hauled to the back of the plane, which was diverted to Albuquerque International Support.

BIDEN AIMS TO RESTORE SPECIES PROTECTIONS

Washington, June 5: The Biden administration said Friday it is cancelling or reviewing a host of actions by the Trump administration to roll back protections for endangered or threatened species, with a goal of strengthening a landmark law while addressing climate change.

The reviews by the US Fish and Wildlife Service and National Marine Fisheries Service are aimed at five Endangered Species Act regulations finalised by the Trump administration, including critical habitat designations and rules defining the scope of federal actions on endangered species.

The Fish and Wildlife Service also said it will reinstate the so-called blanket rule, which mandates additional protections for species that are newly classified as threatened.

BOMB-SNIFFING RAT RETIRES IN CAMBODIA

Phnom Penh, June 5: A giant African pouched rat called Magawa who spent years sniffing out landmines in the Cambodian countryside has stopped working and will enjoy a well-earned retirement eating bananas and peanuts, his employers said. Magawa, originally from Tanzania, was trained by the Belgian charity APOPO which says the rodent helped clear mines from 225,000 square metres of land in his five-year career, the equivalent of 42 football pitches.

But after detecting 71 landmines and 38 items of unexploded ordnance "he is getting a bit tired", Michael Heiman, the charity's programme manager in Cambodia, said on Saturday. "The best thing to do is to retire him."

MEXICO MINE COLLAPSE LEAVES SEVEN TRAPPED

Mzquiz, Mexico, June 5: Rescuers were trying Friday to free seven mine workers trapped after an accident in a coal-producing region in northern Mexico, authorities said.

Initial investigations suggest the collapse was due to a flood at the mine in the municipality of Muzquiz, the state of Coahuila's labor department said.

"Some people who were working were trapped inside the mine," it said in a statement. Police and civil protection authorities were at the scene for the rescue effort, it added.

Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador said he had sent personnel from the security, labour and civil protection ministries to the area.

"We are watching and in coordination with municipal and state authorities," he tweeted.

"We hope that the rescue is favorable for the families and for everyone."

UK's highest daily cases in 60 days

The govt says it is considering options around a planned end to the lockdown on June 21

London, June 5: The United Kingdom government on Saturday said it is considering "options" around a planned end to lockdown on June 21 after the country recorded the highest number of daily Covid-19 cases in just over two months.

The UK recorded a further 6,238 Coronavirus cases on Friday as England's R number, or the rate of infection, continues to rise and the latest government numbers also show another 11 Covid-19 related deaths. "Of course officials are drawing up other options but we are still expecting to be in a place to go ahead on June 21," a UK government figure told Sky News.

Options under discussion are said to include retaining the wearing of masks in certain settings and continuing the work from home advice, even as the hospitality sector opens up. However, the government maintains that there is "nothing in the data" to suggest ending lockdown should be delayed.

The number of Covid-19 cases in the country is now at its highest since March 25, when 6,397 were recorded, and the spike is largely down to the Delta variant — or the highly transmissible B.1.617.2 variant of concern (VOC) first detected in India. UK Health Secretary Matt Hancock said that a rise of cases was to be expected as the country came out of lockdown.

"We always expected cases to rise as the country was opened up, the critical thing is the impact on the number of people who end up in hospital for any given number of cases," said Hancock. "That link has been broken by the vaccine, but it hasn't been completely severed yet. That's one of the things that we're watching very carefully, and it's too early to say what the decision will be ahead of June 21, but we'll make sure people know in good time," he said.

The National Health Service (NHS) said it has seen a huge jump in the number of people coming forward for a Covid jab since launching its plan to tackle vaccine hesitancy. There has been an increase of more than a fifth among adults under 45 who would definitely get their vaccine according to

Cruise ships back in Venice

Venice, June 5: The first cruise ship leaving Venice since the pandemic is set to depart Saturday amid protests by activists demanding that the ship be rerouted out the fragile lagoon, especially Giudecca Canal through the city's historic centre.

They say the enormous vessels — weighing over 90,000 tons and carrying thousands of passengers at a time — pose environmental and safety risks to the canal and the city. Another protest is also planned Saturday by pro-cruise activists whose jobs depend on having thousands of visitors flowing through one of Italy's top tourist destinations. Italian Premier Mario Draghi's government pledged this winter to get cruise ships out of the Venice lagoon, but it will likely take years to reach that goal. The government says it is organizing bids for a viable alternative outside the lagoon, which should be posted any day now. Still, even an interim alternative route to the Giudecca Canal won't be ready until next year, Italy's Ministry for Infrastructure and Sustainable Mobility told The Associated Press in an email. "Meanwhile, in 2022, as a temporary solution, a certain number of ships can dock in Marghera, relieving the traffic through Venice," the ministry said. Marghera, an industrial port west of Venice that is still within the lagoon, will require lengthening existing piers to accommodate larger vessels as well as dredging a canal on the approach, cruise

US, India, China account for 60% of vax distributed globally: WHO

United Nations, June 5: Of the two billion Covid-19 vaccine doses distributed globally till now, about 60 per cent have gone to just three countries — the US, India and China, a senior adviser at the World Health Organisation said.

Senior Advisor to WHO Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, Bruce Aylward made the comments at a press briefing on Friday.

"This week, we will see over two billion doses we will probably pass the two billion doses landmark in terms of the number of doses of the vaccines and new Covid vaccines that have actually been developed. These have been distributed now in over 212 countries, Aylward said. If we look at that two billion doses, over 75 per cent of it has gone to just 10 countries. And in fact three countries — China, the US and India — account for about 60 per cent of those doses, he said.

He said while COVAX has played an important role in distributing the Covid-19 doses to 127 countries and getting several countries to start their vaccination drives, the challenge is in the access to the vaccines.

He said the 60 per cent of the two billion doses that have gone to China, India and the US are all domestically procured and used.

A new study, which surveyed 16,610 people from a nationally representative sample. According to the findings, 63 per cent would definitely get the jab, with a further 21 per cent likely to accept.

Anyone aged 30 and above is now eligible for a vaccine and the NHS said more than half of people in their thirties have already been jabbed.

Germany removes Italy, Czech from risk area list

Berlin, June 5: Germany is removing Italy, the Czech Republic and much of Austria from its list of "risk areas", meaning most remaining travel restrictions will ease.

The change of status announced by Germany's disease control centre, the Robert Koch Institute, takes effect on Sunday.

Austria is being removed with the exception of its two westernmost provinces, Tyrol and Vorarlberg.

● AUSTRIA IS being removed with the exception of its two westernmost provinces, Tyrol and Vorarlberg. Some parts of Croatia and of Switzerland, including Zurich and Basel, are also dropped.

Countries classified as "virus variant areas" — Germany's highest risk category — must quarantine for 14 days.

Travel is restricted to German citizens and residents.

Britain remained the only European country in that category on the list published Friday.

It also includes India, Nepal, Brazil and the addition of Uruguay

2L vax from India in use: UN

United Nations, June 5: The 200,000 Covid-19 vaccines gifted by India for all UN peacekeepers are "already being put to use" and a number of these Blue Helmets have already been vaccinated, spokesperson for UN chief Antonio Guterres has said.

"The Indian Government...had offered us...200,000 doses...And a number of peacekeepers are already, as far as I know, being vaccinated," Stephanie Dujarric, Spokesman for the Secretary-General, told reporters at the daily press briefing Friday in response to a question on vaccination of UN peacekeepers. "So, on the Indian vaccines, those, which I think were... AstraZeneca, those were 200,000. They're already being put to use," he said.

India, one of the largest troop-contributing countries to UN peacekeeping missions, gifted 200,000 doses of Covid-19 vaccines for UN peacekeepers across all UN missions. As of March 31 this year, there are 87,889 personnel serving in 12 peacekeeping operations around the world. External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar had announced in February that India will gift vaccine doses for UN peacekeepers. "Keeping in mind the UN Peacekeepers who operate in such difficult circumstances, we would like to announce today a gift of 200,000 doses for them," Jaishankar had said while addressing the UN Security Council open debate on the implementation of resolution 2532 (2020) on the cessation of hostilities in the context of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Quoting the Bhagavad Gita, Jaishankar had said "Do your work with the welfare of others always in mind."

The 200,000 doses essentially meant that it would be possible to administer the required double doses of Covid vaccines to all UN peacekeepers across missions.

GOP: OPENING TO REVIVE FAUCI ATTACKS IN EMAIL TROVE

Washington, June 5: Dr Anthony Fauci has been a political lightning rod since the early days of the pandemic, lionised by the left as a beacon of truth in an administration that badly mismanaged the pandemic and villainised by the right as a misguided, spotlight-seeking bureaucrat seeking to undermine former President Donald Trump.

But with the release of a trove of Fauci's emails this week, Republicans' attacks on the nation's top government infectious-diseases expert have gone into overdrive.

On conservative news channels, Fauci — who now serves as President Joe Biden's pandemic adviser — has been pilloried as a liar who misled the American people about the origins of the deadly Covid-19 to protect the Chinese government.

U.S.' $57MN AID TO TREAT TB IN SEVEN NATIONS

Washington, June 5: The United States on Friday announced a $57 million aid for efforts against tuberculosis in seven high-burden countries, including India. Other countries for which the aid is being given are Bangladesh, Indonesia, the Philippines, South Africa, Tajikistan and Ukraine.

Designed in collaboration with partner governments, the initiative will provide a foundation to the high-burden countries to recover the ground lost due to the Covid-19 pandemic, a media release said. In the 23 countries where the US Agency for International Development (USAID) focuses, one million fewer people had access to tuberculosis (TB) diagnosis and treatment in 2020 than in 2019 due to Covid-19 and measures to control it.

The USAID said alongside Covid-19, TB is the leading infectious disease killer, particularly in low and middle-income countries, sickening 10 million people and taking 1.4 million lives every year.

SARKOZY PROBE: 'PAPARAZZI QUEEN' IN FRANCE CHARGED

Paris, June 5: A major figure in France's paparazzi world has been charged with witness tampering in a case involving former President Nicolas Sarkozy, her lawyer said Saturday.

Mimi Marchand, who runs the BestImage agency, had also been charged with criminal association, said lawyer Caroline Toby.

"She firmly denies the charges against her," she added.

Marchand was arrested on Thursday along with several other suspects on the orders of magistrates investigating alleged corruption by Sarkozy, who has been accused of taking money from former Libyan dictator Moamer Kadhafi. Sarkozy denies the charges.

Francois de Labarre, a journalist from Paris Match who was also arrested Thursday, was released without charge later the same day.

Marchand and de Labarre were instrumental in organising an interview in November with one of the main witnesses against Sarkozy, Ziad Takieddine, in which he withdrew his allegations against the former head of state.

Crunch vote for Israel coalition

Jerusalem, June 5: The speaker of the Israeli parliament will formally notify lawmakers Monday of the opposition's announcement of a coalition to unseat veteran premier Benjamin Netanyahu, his office said.

The notification will set in motion preparations for a confidence vote in the new government, which will now likely be held on Wednesday or the following Monday, Israeli media said.

The late Friday announcement by speaker Yairiv Levin, a close Netanyahu ally, allays fears their right-wing Likud party could find procedural ways to block the formation of the motley coalition that would end Netanyahu's 12 consecutive years in office.

On paper, the coalition announced by opposition leader Yair Lapid just minutes before a midnight Wednesday deadline, should command a slender majority in the confidence vote.

Footballer Thapa tests +ve in Doha

New Delhi: India midfielder Anirudh Thapa has tested positive for Covid-19 and is under quarantine in a separate room in the team hotel in Doha.

Thapa tested positive on Wednesday, a day before India lost 0-1 to Asian champions Qatar in their joint World Cup and Asian Cup qualifiers in Doha. "Yes, Thapa tested positive and he is isolated (from other team members)," All India Football Federation (AIFF) general secretary Kushal Das said. The 23-year-old Chennaiyin FC player will be tested again for the virus in a few days. He has played more than 20 matches for India.

Docs say Milkha stable and better

Chandigarh: Legendary Indian sprinter Milkha Singh, who is battling Covid-19 in the ICU of PGIMER here, is stable and his condition is "better than yesterday", the hospital said on Saturday. The 91-year-old, who is being closely monitored by a team of three doctors, is still on oxygen support. "On the basis of all the medical parameters today, that is June 5, his condition has been observed better than yesterday," Prof Ashok Kumar, official spokesperson of PGIMER, said in a statement. The top hospital had on Friday said that Milkha was "better and more stable". Milkha's family also issued a statement through a spokesperson that the iconic athlete "is stable and doing well, but still on oxygen." "Please ignore the rumours floating around. Indian-origin girl shines at US Open

San Francisco: Megha Ganne, an American teen amateur with Indian parentage, continued to hold the spotlight with an even par round on the second day to sail into the weekend rounds in tied-third place at the US Women's Open golf here. The 17-year-old Ganne, who came into the Major after battling through a 3-for-1 play-offs in the qualifiers last month, had three birdies and three pars. She also had three bogeys in the last seven holes on 12th, 15th and 18th at The Olympic Club. Yuka Saso of the Philippines took the 36-hole lead with rounds of 69-67 and if she wins on Sunday, she will be of the same exact age as the tournament's youngest all-time champion Inbee Park. Ex-umpire persists with racism claims

London: Former English umpire John Holder has hit out at England & Wales Cricket Board (ECB) over the latter's statement that he and his colleague Ismail Dawood have withdrawn their claim of institutional racism. Holder accused the ECB of being "disingenuous" and "misleading" following their racial discrimination claim. The duo had announced their intention to sue the ECB in December after alleging that their careers as umpires had been affected by institutional racism. "Our case against the ECB has been beaten on a legal technicality. I haven't withdrawn any of the claims I made," Holder said. "The tone of the ECB's statement would give the uninformed reader the impression that we have accepted their version of events and backed down. This is not the case at all." — PTI

LA Clippers force game 7 vs Dallas

Los Angeles: Kawhi Leonard tied his postseason career high with 45 points as the Los Angeles Clippers beat the Dallas Mavericks 104-97 on Friday to stave off elimination and force game seven in their Western Conference NBA series. The Clippers kept their season alive by winning in front of an almost full house at Dallas' American Airlines Center, marking the first time in NBA history that the road team has won the first six games in a best-of-seven series. Game seven is Sunday at Staples Center arena in downtown Los Angeles where the Mavericks have won three games. "I didn't want to go home," said Leonard of facing elimination in front of 18,300 Dallas fans in the first-round of the playoffs. — AFP

Krejcikova of Czech Republic stuns 5th seed Svitolina

Paris, June 5: Novak Djokovic moved effortlessly into the French Open fourth round for the 12th successive year on Saturday, setting up an intriguing duel against Italian teenager Lorenzo Musetti. In women's, Elina Svitolina (fifth seed) went down to Barbora Krejcikova of Czech Republic.

World number one Djokovic, the champion in Paris in 2016 and chasing a 19th Grand Slam title, brushed aside 93rd-ranked Ricardas Berankis of Lithuania 6-1, 6-4, 6-1.

Djokovic is bidding to be the first man in more than half a century to win all four majors on multiple occasions.

DJOKOVIC TO MEET TEEN SENSATION

Next up for the Serb is 19-year-old Musetti after the 76th-ranked Italian fired 50 winners past compatriot Marco Cecchinato in a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 victory. He becomes just the sixth man since 2000 to make the fourth round of a Slam on debut.

"I have practised with Novak so I know a little bit about his game. There will be more tension, but it's what I have been working for since childhood," said Musetti.

"I really like how he plays. He's got a lot of fire-power from both forehand and backhand," Djokovic said ahead of a first meeting with Musetti.

Fellow Italian teen Jannik Sinner, a quarter-finalist in 2020, also made it to the second week, easing past Sweden's Mikael Ymer 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

NADAL IN FOURTH ROUND FOR 16TH TIME

Defending champion Rafael Nadal reached the fourth round for the 16th time with his third win of 2021 over Britain's Cameron Norrie.

Nadal, chasing a 14th Roland Garros title and record-setting 21st Grand Slam, won 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 and goes on to face Italian teenager Jannik Sinner for a place in the last eight.

The third-seeded Spaniard, who now has a record in Paris of 103 wins against just two losses since his 2005 debut, defeated Sinner in the quarter-finals at last year's tournament.

ONLY THREE TOP-10 WOMEN LEFT

Krejcikova of the Czech Republic reached the last 16 for the second successive year with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over three-time quarter-finalist Svitolina (fifth seed).

World number 33 Krejcikova goes on to face former US Open champion Sloane Stephens for a place in the quarter-finals.

"I am super happy, most of my shots were amazing," said the Czech who is on an eight-match winning streak after capturing a maiden singles title in Strasbourg last week.

Stephens, the 2018 runner-up in Paris, defeated Czech 18th seed Karolina Muchova 6-3, 7-5.

Fourth seed Sofia Kenin, the runner-up in 2020 and the highest seed left, came back to beat fellow American Jessica Pegula 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

The top three seeds, Ashleigh Barty, Naomi Osaka and Aryna Sabalenka all failed to get beyond the third round.

In all, only four of the top 10 made the third round, the fewest in 20 years.

Serena Williams, seeded seventh, plays her last 16 match on Sunday.

Eighth seed and defending champion Iga Swiatek has made the third round for the loss of just seven games. — AFP

THE RESULTS

Men's singles third round: Novak Djokovic (SRB x1) bt Ricardas Berankis (LTU) 6-1, 6-4, 6-1; Rafael Nadal (ESP x3) bt Cameron Norrie (GBR) 6-3, 6-3, 6-3; Lorenzo Musetti (ITA) bt Marco Cecchinato (ITA) 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3; Jannik Sinner (ITA x18) bt Mikael

Ymer (SWE) 6-1, 7-5, 6-3; Diego Schwartzman (ARG x10) bt Philipp Kohlschreiber (GER) 6-4, 6-2, 6-1; Jan-Lennard Struff (GER) bt Carlos Alcaraz (ESP) 6-4, 7-6 (7/3), 6-2.

Women's singles third round: Ons Jabeur (TUN x25) bt Magda Linette (POL) 3-6, 6-0, 6-1; Sloane Stephens (USA) bt Karolina Muchova (CZE x18) 6-3, 7-5; Barbora Krejcikova (CZE) bt Elina Svitolina (UKR x5) 6-3, 6-2; Sofia Kenin (USA x4) bt Jessica Pegula (USA x28) 4-6, 6-1, 6-4; Marta Kostyuk (UKR) bt Varvara Gracheva (RUS) 6-1, 6-2; Iga Swiatek (POL x8) bt Anett Kontaveit (EST x30) 7-6 (7/4), 6-0.

Samba boys on a roll

Porto Alegre (Brazil), June 5: Star forward Neymar scored a retaken penalty as Brazil maintained their perfect start to South American World Cup qualifying with a 2-0 win over Ecuador on Friday.

Richardson had given Brazil the lead on 64 minutes and Neymar sealed the win deep into injury time, but only after another VAR farce.

Referee Alexis Herrera initially gave a free-kick against Gabriel Jesus after contact between him and Angelo Preciado in the Ecuador area five minutes from time.

But after an interminable four-minute VAR review, he changed his mind and awarded a penalty.

Neymar stuttered in his run-up but Ecuador goalkeeper Alexander Dominguez wasn't fooled and easily saved his weak shot. Ecuador were then down the other end attacking when Herrera blew his whistle and brought the game back for encroachment by Dominguez.

Neymar retook the penalty and this time sent Dominguez the wrong way. The slapstick ending could not mask a deserved victory for Brazil, who now top the qualification table by four points from unbeaten Argentina, with Ecuador third, two points further back. Predictably, Brazil dominated the early possession with 75 per cent of the ball in the first quarter of an hour.

But it wasn't until 20 minutes that they first threatened with Richardson millimeters away from turning home a whipped inswinging Neymar freekick.

Moments later Richardson played Gabriel in on goal but Dominguez was out quickly to smother his poked effort.

Brazil's Neymar (right) celebrates with Lucas Paqueta after scoring his team's second goal against Ecuador during a World Cup qualifying match at Beira-Rio stadium in Porto Alegre. Brazil won 2-0. — AP

Ecuador were their usual physical selves but showed little of the attacking verve that had seen them score 13 goals in their previous three matches.

Brazil thought they'd gone in front three minutes before the break when Gabriel converted a right wing cross from Danilo but Ecuador were saved by a narrow offside call. A minute later Dominguez had to scoop behind a rasping long-range drive from Neymar. Ecuadoran chances were few and far between, with fullback Preciado blazing over from 20 yards on 58 minutes.

Brazil coach Tite had seen enough and brought on forward Gabriel Jesus for defensive midfielder Fred, who was making his first appearance for the Selecao since 2018.

The switch paid instant dividends. After Dominguez saved low to his right from Neymar, he was poorly beaten on 64 minutes at his near post by a shot from Richardson.

It was one-way traffic and Marquinhos headed over the bar before Dominguez made partial amends for his earlier clanger, saving low to his right to deny Gabriel Jesus and then blocking a shot from Gabriel with his foot. — AFP

ITALY CRUISE PAST CZECH IN WARM-UP

Bologna, June 5: A week before they kick off Euro 2020 in Rome, Italy crushed the Czech Republic 4-0 in Bologna on Friday, keeping an eighth straight clean sheet.

Ciro Immobile, Nicolò Barella, Lorenzo Insigne and Domenico Berardi all scored for the hosts who will open the Euro against Turkey next Friday.

In the absence of Paris Saint-Germain midfielder Marco Verratti, who is nursing an injured knee, Jorginho, a Champions League winner with Chelsea, and Barella quickly set the tempo for Italy. Italy's strikers Lorenzo Insigne and

Ciro Immobile wasted early chances, before Immobile of Lazio broke the deadlock in the 3rd minute. — AFP

SPAIN AND PORTUGAL IN DULL DRAW

Madrid, June 5: Spain and Portugal drew 0-0 in a friendly warm up for the European Championship in a friendly at the Metropolitano in Madrid on Friday.

The match was both an occasion to officially launch the two nations launching a joint bid to host the 2030 World Cup and the hosts to test out a new-look defence.

Cristiano Ronaldo had a frustrating night on his first game in Madrid since leaving Real in 2018 and came close to scoring twice and set up a good chance Diogo Jota filed to take advantage of.

Backed up by Joao Felix, Ronaldo was largely neutralised by Barcelona pair Sergio Busquets and Thiago Alcantara in a tight home midfield in front of a remodelled defence. — AFP

Cup to be shifted to UAE & Muscat

New Delhi, June 5: The marquee T20 World Cup in October-November is set to be shifted to the UAE and Muscat (Oman) with the BCCI having internally intimated the ICC to go ahead with its preparation due to a tricky Covid-19 situation in India.

While the UAE was always the first back-up option, Oman's capital Muscat has been added as the fourth venue, apart from Abu Dhabi, Dubai and Sharjah, for the tournament that will start in the last week of October.

"Yes, the BCCI, during the ICC board meeting, has formally asked for a four-week window to take a final call but, internally, they have said that they would like to keep the hosting rights and wouldn't mind the tournament being held in UAE and Oman," a senior board official, privy to ICC board developments, said.

He said that Muscat has been zeroed in specifically for the preliminary rounds of the 16-team competition, which will also allow the three UAE grounds to get sufficient time to freshen up after 31 IPL games.

"If IPL finishes by October 10, then the UAE leg of World T20 can start off in November which would give three weeks' time to the pitches to be spruced up for the global event. In the meanwhile, the first week can be held in Oman," he said.

● While the UAE was always the first back-up option, Oman's capital Muscat has been added as the fourth venue, apart from Abu Dhabi, Dubai and Sharjah, for the tournament that will start in the last week of October.

A majority of the ICC board members believe that India is trying to bide time as they take stock of the situation at a time when it is very difficult to predict how things pan out in October-November.

"If you think about it practically, India is now reporting around 120,000 plus cases which is close to one third of what was being reported at the end of April and start of this month.

"But sitting on June 28, if you say "yes" to holding the World T20 in India, how can you predict the health situation in October if there is a third wave," the seasoned official asked.

The second question is if the BCCI is wary of resuming the eight-team IPL in September in India, how can it hold a 16-team event in the country within a month's time. — PTI

Southee's six-for puts Kiwis on top

London, June 5: Rory Burns hit a gutsy century to help England recover from a collapse on the fourth day of the first Test against New Zealand at Lord's on Saturday.

England were in danger of following-on but Burns' 132 meant they avoided that embarrassment, although a total of 275 all out was still 103 adrift of New Zealand's first-innings 378 that featured debutant opener Devon Conway's remarkable 200.

Veteran paceman Tim Southee led New Zealand's attack with 6-43 in 25.1 overs to secure yet another place on the Lord's honours board after his 10-wicket haul in 2013.

But the Black Caps would have been in an even stronger position had they not reprieved Burns on 77 and 88 in the first of this two-match series.

Burns was still nine runs shy of his third Test century when he was joined by last man James Anderson.

But their entertaining stand of 52 delayed the tea interval before Southee had Burns, in sight of batting for the whole innings, caught behind to end a stay of nearly eight hours that saw the Surrey left-handed opener face 297 balls including 16 fours and a six. Anderson's presence encouraged Burns, 91 not out when joined by the No 11, to go for his shots, including an extravagant slog-swept six off left-arm quick Neil Wagner. — AFP

LECLERC CLAIMS POLE IN CRASH-LADEN QUALIFYING

Bake, June 5: Ferrari's Charles Leclerc claimed pole for the Azerbaijan Grand Prix after a crash-laden, red-flagged qualifying session in Baku on Saturday.

Mercedes' world champion Lewis Hamilton will start alongside Leclerc, who is looking for quick redemption after taking pole in Monaco only to retire from the race when his car broke down on the warm-up lap.

Red Bull's Max Verstappen leads Hamilton by four points in the drivers' championship after winning in Monaco last time out, and is on the second row of Sunday's race with the Alpha Tauri of Pierre Gasly for company.

Q3 was halted with a minute remaining when Gasly's teammate, Japanese rookie Yuki Tsunoda, crashed at turn three, with Carlos Sainz in the following Ferrari taking quick avoiding action, locking his wheels and smashing into a safety barrier. — AFP
