2 women share Chemistry Nobel for gene-editing

Stockholm, Oct. 7: Two scientists won the Nobel Prize in chemistry Wednesday for developing a method of genome editing likened to "molecular scissors" that offer the promise of one day curing inherited diseases and even cancer.

Working on opposite sides of the Atlantic, Frenchwoman Emmanuelle Charpentier and American Jennifer A. Doudna developed a method known as CRISPR/Cas9 that can be used to change the DNA of animals, plants and microorganisms with extremely high precision.

"There is enormous power in this genetic tool, which affects us all," said Claes Gustafsson, chair of the Nobel Committee for Chemistry. "It has not only revolutionized basic science, but also resulted in innovative crops and will lead to groundbreaking new medical treatments." Gustafsson said that, as a result, any genome can now be edited "to fix genetic damage," adding that the tool "will provide humankind with great opportunities." But he cautioned that the "enormous power of this technology means we have to use it with great care."

It has already raised serious ethical questions in the scientific community. Most of the world became more aware of CRISPR in 2018, when Chinese scientist Dr. He Jiankui revealed he had helped make the world's first gene-edited babies, to try to engineer resistance to future infection with the AIDS virus. His work was denounced worldwide as unsafe human experimentation because of the risk of causing unintended changes that can pass to future generations, and he's currently in prison. — AP

‘America first’: US tightens H-1B rules on pay

Washington, Oct.7: US President Donald Trump's administration on Tuesday unveiled a tightening of rules for immigration visas used widely by technology firms, claiming the new system would be better for American workers.

The Department of Homeland Security announced the new regulations for so-called H-1B visas for highly skilled workers, which allow up to 85,000 immigrants annually. The move marked a new step aimed at tightening immigration under the Trump administration, which sought to block the H-1B program in a move halted last week by a federal judge.

Tuesday's new regulations, details of which were not disclosed, would narrow the definition of "specialty occupation" which according to DHS "allowed companies to game the system."

The plan, to be implemented after a 60-day comment period, would also seek to require firms to make "real" offers to US residents before seeking to bring in foreigners and add new compliance mechanisms.

The visa programme has been widely used by Silicon Valley firms to bring in engineers and other skilled workers, many coming from India. Critics have said the program has depressed salaries in some professions. "We have entered an era in which economic security is an integral part of homeland security," acting Homeland Security Secretary Chad Wolf said in a statement. — Agencies

Under the impact of the explosion several vehicles which were near the site at the time were found to have been thrown away, eye witnesses said. The petrol pump itself was damaged in the fire, whose cause is yet to be ascertained. — PTI

OPS gives in to EPS on CM face for poll, gets his panel

CHENNAI, OCT. 7

With sweets and firecrackers, it was early Deepavali at the AIADMK headquarters premises on Wednesday morning soon after the party coordinator, O Panneerselvam, named the incumbent Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami as the Chief Ministerial candidate for the 2021 Assembly elections.

The meeting, scheduled for 10.00 am, started a little ahead of time with the party headquarters wearing a festive look since morning and the first announcement was on the formation of the 11-member steering committee, which had been Pannerselvam's long time demand.

Party deputy coordinator KP Munusamy, who was among those working till 3.30 am to bring about a rapprochement between Panneerselvam and Palaniswami, read out the names of the members of the steering committee, which he said was formed on the basis of a decision taken at the General Council. Also Panneerselvam put his stamp of approval on the list by signing on it in front of the crowd.

members are Forest Minister Dindigul C Seenivasan, Electricity Minister P Thangamani, Municipal Administration Minister SP Velumani, Fisheries Minister D Jayakumar, Law Minister C Ve Shanmugam, Food and Civil Supplies Minister R Kamaraj, former MLA J C D Prabakar, former MP

Manoj Pandian, former Minister P Mohan, former MP R Gopalakrishnan and Sholavandan MLA K Manikkam.

Munsamy and Vaithilingam, another deputy coordinator, had shuttled between the official residences of Panneerselvam and Palaniswamy to finalise the name of the committee members till the wee hours as that was the last hitch to be ironed out to bring both the leaders together to make the announcement they were united.

Once the truce was called, the entire party leadership geared up for the meeting and trooped to the venue. Panneerselvam arrived by around 9.40 am and he was followed by Palaniswami in another five minutes. Musical bands heralded their arrival with welcome notes and supporters, some of them wearing full face masks with the images of the leaders, cheered them with slogan shouting.

Then the two leaders, along with the other party functionaries, chatted for some time before the meeting was called for order. It was rumoured that they wanted the announcements to be made at an auspicious hour that came before 10 am.

Whatever be the reason, the meeting turned out to be a simple affair with the presentation of shawls, brief expression of thanks and appreciation and several rounds of applause without slipping into long winded harangue that normally marked political meetings. ■ P2

It's Knights' night in Abu Dhabi

Earlier, CSK bowled out Kolkata Knight Riders for 167 after opener Rahul Tripathi's fine knock of 81. No other KKR player crossed the 20-run mark. Tripathi's 51-ball knock had eight fours and three sixes. ■ P8

He later joined the ruling Janata Dal (United) after taking voluntary retirement from the service. He is expected to contest the elections on a JDU ticket from Buxar. Senior Shiv Sena leader Anil Desai said, "Maharashtra, Mumbai and Shiv Sena were unnecessarily defamed in the Sushant Singh death case by playing vendetta politics. # HC upholds MCI order discharging 65 students

J. STALIN | DC
CHENNAI, OCT. 7

Condemning the attitude shown by six medical colleges (3 private medical colleges affiliated to Pondicherry University and 3 remaining colleges coming under the category of "Deemed to be University") in Puducherry in taking advantage of the situation and enriching themselves in the matter of PG medical admission during the academic year 2017-2018, the Madras high court has imposed a cost of Rs 5 lakh each on them for the illegal methods adopted by them in filling the seats.

Upholding the orders of the Medical Council of India, discharging 65 illegally admitted PG medical students during the academic year 2017-18 from the six medical colleges, Justice N.Anand Venkatesh dismissed a batch of petitions filed by the medical colleges and the candidates, challenging the order of the MCI.

The judge imposed a cost of Rs 5 lakh each on Arupadai Veedu Medical College, Vinayaka Mission Medical College, Mahatma Gandhi Medical College and Research Institute, Sri Manakula Vinayagar Medical College and Hospital, Venkateswara Medical College and Hospital and Pondicherry Institute of Medical

Cost of ₹5 lakh imposed on 6 medical colleges each in Pondy for illegal admission

Sciences and directed them to deposit the cost within four weeks.

The judge said in these batch of petitions, this court was dealing with 65 candidates, who have been unilaterally admitted by the institutions without being sponsored by Centac in the common counselling. This was per se violative of Regulation 9A. Whatever may be the explanation given by the institution, the MCI cannot disregard the Regulation and withdraw the discharge orders based on the explanation given by the institutions. Therefore, in the considered view of this court, the MCI has strictly acted in accordance with the regulation and the ground raised by the petitioners that the orders suffers from violation of principles of natural justice, was totally unsustainable, the judge added.

The judge said it was quite a painful exercise that was undertaken by this court while deciding these writ petitions. This court was conscious of the fact that all these petitioners numbering 65 have undergone the courses for nearly 3 years and the course period was also over and they have also been allowed to write their final examinations. The time spent by these candidates in undergoing the course and the efforts put in by them can never be given back. Having said so, it was seen that the institutions and the candidates had taken a calculated risk and having undertaken such a risk, they must also be prepared for the consequences.

Probably, if these writ petitions had been decided in the year 2018 itself, the damage faced by them would have been lesser and by now, they could have pursued their career by again participating in the selection. Since the writ petitions were being decided only in the year 2020, the damage was even more for these candidates. The candidates were not genuine enough in getting the writ petitions heard at the earliest point in time and they continued to enjoy the benefit of the interim order passed by this court. Ultimately, they started showing interest in the case only after completing the course and when they were not permitted to write the examinations. That was how all these writ petitions got themselves revitalized in the year 2020. In the absence of the same, these writ petitions would have continued to hibernate for some more time. Therefore, even though the dismissal of these writ petitions was going to cause a great damage to their career, it was something which was not totally unexpected and more so due to the fact that they undertook before this court that they will not claim any equity on the ground of interim orders passed in their favour, the judge added.

The judge said, "It is high time that courts start showing more seriousness in cases of this nature particularly coming under medical education since the institutions and the candidates must be given a very clear message that any admission that is done in violation of the Regulations, will not be tolerated by the courts and the courts will not deal with such cases with kid gloves.

Any misplaced sympathies shown by courts in the field of education and more particularly in medical education, will send a wrong signal and institutions and candidates will fall into a wrong notion that ultimately the courts will come to their aid even where the initial admission is illegal.

The courts will have to adopt this stern stand consistently to bring about certainty while dealing with illegal admissions, the judge added.

Jobless post Covid: 3 held for peddling drugs

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, OCT. 7

Three men fired from their jobs during the lockdown started peddling drugs to make living, the police said. They were arrested.

Police said Basha (21), Muthulingam, (28) of Guduvanchery and Saravanan (24), of Urupakkam were arrested by police when they were trying to sell the contraband near Chromepet bus stand on Tuesday night. The arrested yielded two kg of ganja, police added.

No Covid protocol at airport building construction site

P.A. JEBARAJ | DC
CHENNAI, OCT. 7

Amid the Covid-19 crisis, construction of a new building at the Chennai airport premises has become a daunting challenge.

The new building is being constructed at a cost of Rs 2,500 crore. Workers, mostly from the North India, are employed at the site. Due to the lockdown, the construction was stopped once. After the government lifted lockdown curbs, work resumed since June. However, complaints regarding lack of social distancing and unhygienic behavior by the contract workers have surfaced.

An airport official said, "with the number of Covid-19 cases spiralling in the city, these workers are behaving in a careless manner. Some people don't wear masks properly. Such actions increase the burden on the government in controlling the spread of the virus. Though construction site safety is the responsibility of the contractor, the civic body also should keep a strict check on various construction activities to ensure the Covid-19 norms."

Is the problem in AIADMK over?

G. BABU JAYAKUMAR | DC
CHENNAI, OCT. 7

Does the Wednesday morning bonhomie between Chief Minister Edappadi K. Palanisami and Deputy Chief Minister O. Panneerselvam point to the blowing away of the crisis that had gripped the AIADMK in the last two months, threatening to wreck its electoral prospects totally?

This is the question that people all over the country have been asking ever celebrations broke out at the AIADMK headquarters after the two leaders, who were involved in an acerbic dog-fight at the same building just nine days ago, patted each other on the back, exchanging shawls and pleasantries.

Of course for the party cadre, who distributed sweets and lighted firecrackers, there was something to be jubilant about: Better sense had prevailed upon their two top leaders, who were not only steering the government but also the party to at least put up a show of unity.

The cadre always knew that a discord at the highest echelon of the party at a time when the next elections were just about seven months away would not augur well for the poll prospects. That, too, 2021 would be the first time the party would go to polls without a charismatic icon as the head.

The party started by matinee idol MGR was succeeded by J Jayalalithaa, who enjoyed a considerable following for various reasons. Her death in December 2016 had left a void in the party and the present government was inherited by Palaniswami as a legacy of Jayalalithaa.

When Palaniswami, who managed to take over the mantle, was running the government, to put it mildly, to the best of his ability, why did the man who was appointed as his deputy mid-way, suddenly raise a banner of protest as though he was destined to be the Chief Minister?

Perhaps he revealed his heart at the closed door deliberations that were held since August 15 with many party functionaries trying to console him and some trying to incite him to go for the kill. Whatever it was, he knew that creating a rift in the party, which is otherwise perched precariously in the electoral domain, would lead to its total debacle.

Yet if he had gone ahead and demanded his pound of flesh, which is what he believed it was, he thinks he is more entitled for it than the one now holding it. On the other side, if his bete noire was a man keen about keeping aloft the party's flag high in the air, he would not have resisted the bid of another leader, equal to him in the party earlier, in such a trenchant manner.

By taking an adamant stand,

State awaits ASI nod to resume excavations

M. ARUL OLI | DC
TIRUNELVELI, OCT. 7

The state archaeology department is expecting an approval from the central advisory board of archaeology of the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI), to resume the next phase of excavation works at Adichanallur and Sivagalai in Tirunelveli district and at Keeladi in Sivagangai district.

Having completed the first phase of the excavation works at Adichanallur and Sivagalai and the sixth phase at Keeladi site by September 30, the Tamil Nadu department of archaeology, according to its deputy director Dr R. Sivanandham, is documenting the excavated artefacts.

Claiming to have unearthed more than 500 artefacts from these sites from May 20 to September 30, Dr Sivanandham said the findings include earthen pipes, glass beads, terracotta figures, ancient burial urns and human skeletons.

Dr Sivanandham said the findings in the six phases of excavation work at Keeladi and its nearby sites at Aagaram, Manalura and Konthagai in Sivagangai district and in the first phase of works at Adichanallur and Sivagalai sites in Thoothukudi district brought to light an ancient civilisation that existed in the Vaigai and Thamirabarani basins in 600-900 BC.

The state archaeological department officials said the excavation works at Adichanallur and Sivagalai were delayed by two months due to the Corona pandemic. The 72 trenches dug at Adichanallur and 23 trenches dug at Sivagalai sites have been covered using plastic sheets to protect them during the ensuing monsoon days.

"We have applied for approval from the central advisory board of the Archaeological Survey of India for the next phase of excavation at these sites after the monsoon," said Dr Sivanandham, who added that the state department of archaeology is awaiting permission from the Indian Institute of Ocean Technology for an underwater archaeological exploration at Korkkai in Thoothukudi district. "We are hopeful of resuming the next phase of our work in these sites probably by next January," he said.

Greens, NGOs redflag Noyal river pollution

Effluents let into a water body in Coimbatore.

DC CORRESPONDENT
COIMBATORE, OCT. 7

A study conducted by the Bharathiar University on the pollution level exceeding in the Noyal river has worried the greens and NGOs of Coimbatore.

The Noyal river starts from rain forests of Western Ghats and flows through Coimbatore, Tirupur, Erode and Karur districts and finally mixes with the Cauvery river.

Professor T.Murali Shankar said, according to United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) standards 0.5 MG zinc can be present in 1 litre whereas in Noyal river it has exceeded more than 2.75 MG.

According to the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS), the level of chloride should be 250 MG while it has exceeded 1,010 MG here. The nitrate remains as 250 MG while the standard limit is 45 MG.

The hardness of water is 1,075 MG whereas the prescribed limit is not more than 200 MG.

Apart from this, other metals including lead and mercury are present in dangerous levels in the crabs taken for study from the river, added Prof Shankar.

NGO Osai president Kalidasan said the Pollution Control Board claims that 70 million litres of effluent can be treated per day at Ukkadam treatment plant whereas only 30 to 35 litres are being treated now.

The Ondipudur treatment plant is presently treating only 10MLT per day whereas its capacity is 40MLT. The effluents and sewage water flow into the river without being treated.

An official from Pollution Control Board said once the UGD works gets completed the Najundapuram treatment plant will start functioning which would help in treating the entire sewage water. A few residential associations including Sai Nagar, Fathima avenue and Rail Nagar together had got a stay order for the sewage pumping station that was about to be constructed for Nanjudapuram treatment plant.

BAIL TO RHEA,
DOMESTIC AIDES OF RAJPUT

Mumbai, Oct. 7: The Bombay High Court on Wednesday granted bail to actor Rhea Chakraborty in a drugs case related to her boyfriend Sushant Singh Rajput's death.

The court rejected the argument that celebrities deserve specially harsh treatment in such cases so as to "send out a message".

After spending 28 days in jail, Rhea stepped out of the Byculla women's prison here around 5.30 pm amid a scrum of mediapersons.

While granting her bail on a personal bond of Rs 1 lakh, the court asked the actor to appear before the Mumbai police for 10 days and before the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB, which had arrested her) once a month for the next six months.

Justice Sarang Kotwal of the High Court also granted bail to Rajput's domestic aides Dipesh Sawant and Samuel Miranda, but rejected the bail plea of Rhea's brother Showik Chakraborty.

The court also rejected the bail plea of alleged drug peddler Abdel Basit Parihar.

The HC observed in its order that Rhea did not have any criminal antecedents, and it was unlikely that she would tamper with evidence or affect the probe while out on bail.

The HC said simply paying for a particular drug transaction does not qualify as financing drug traffic.

"The allegations against the applicant of spending money in procuring drugs for Sushant Singh Rajput will not, therefore, mean that she had financed illicit traffic," the court said. It also noted that harbouring an offender as described under the Act would mean providing money for that person's drug consumption while also giving him shelter and food. PTI

done to death
Scribe, 3 others booked for sedition
two days after being held by UP cops

GILVESTER ASSARY | DC
THIRUVANANTHAPURAM,
OCT. 7

A 37-year-old Kerala man, who was an accused in POCOS (Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act) case and out on parole, was hacked to death by unidentified persons in Thrissur district.

The accused had carried out the alleged sexual assault on a tribal girl in Pazhayannur in Thrissur. His body was found in a vacant plot. The police has registered a case and the probe has begun.

The local police said Sathesh was found with injuries in a vacant house near his home in Elanad in Thirumani village. He was taken into custody about eight months ago in connection with the case of sexual assault on a tribal girl. After being released on parole, he was residing in Malappuram.

However, of late he was often seen near the spot where the tribal girl was sexually assaulted. There were also reports that some people used to visit the village looking for him which led to the suspicion that he might have committed something wrong in Malappuram.

Local residents told police that two persons from Malappuram district had visited the village recently enquiring about the whereabouts of Sathesh.

The cops are trying to find out if they are linked to the incident in any way.

● LOCAL RESIDENTS told police that two persons from Malappuram district had visited the village recently enquiring about the whereabouts of Sathesh.

● THE COPS are trying to find out if they are linked to the incident.

The cops are also in the process of collecting the details of persons who visited the village to ascertain their identity. The local police is in touch with the Malappuram police to check whether any case is registered against Sathesh in any of the police stations, especially in the area where he used to live.

Though the house where Sathesh's body was found was abandoned, a group of persons used to assemble there for drinking sessions. According to villagers they used to create ruckus in the house.

Sathesh was on parole as part of the government decision to release under-trials and remand prisoners in view of Covid-19 pandemic.

The Kerala high court had earlier permitted parole for prisoners who are serving less than 6 years term in jail.

The Poojappura central jail in Thiruvananthapuram had reported the highest number of cases with over 470 inmates and about a dozen officials getting infected with Covid-19.

Lucknow/Mathura, Oct. 7: The Uttar Pradesh police on Wednesday booked four persons including Kerala journalist Siddique Kappan on sedition and other charges at Maant police station in Mathura, two days after they were held while on their way to Hathras.

Charges under the stringent Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act and the IT Act have also been filed against the four who were later remanded in judicial custody for 14 days by a Mathura court, officials said.

The FIR claimed that police recovered pamphlets "Justice for Hathras victim", six mobiles and a laptop from them, and during the initial probe it was found that they were going to Hathras with an intention to breach the peace as part of a conspiracy.

The four were held on Monday when they were on their way to Hathras, where a Dalit woman had died after allegedly being gangraped — an incident that has sparked widespread outrage.

Police had earlier claimed that the four, identified as Kappan, a journalist of Malappuram in Kerala, Atiq-ur-Rehman of Muzaffarnagar, Masood Ahmad of Bahraich and Alam of Rampur, had links with alleged radical group Popular Front of India and its affiliates.

They were on Wednesday booked under various sections of the Indian Penal Code including 124A (sedition) and 153A (Promoting enmity between different groups on ground of religion, race, place of birth, residence, language, etc., and doing acts prejudicial to maintenance of harmony), according to the FIR. They have also been charged with IPC Section 295A (Deliberate and malicious acts, intended to outrage religious feelings of any class by insulting its religion or religious belief).

The recovered pamphlets, Am I not India's daughter, made with Carrd.co, encourage social discord and public unrest," the FIR said.

The FIR alleged that internet platform Carrd.co and website Justice for Hathras were being used to instigate cast violence, riots and collecting donations.

Such websites are spreading anti-national propaganda in the country and distorting facts to create tension and disturb law and order, it alleged.

In this way, it is clear that prima facie internet platform Carrd.co and website 'Justice for Hathras' have committed offences under various sections of the IPC and other Acts.

The four persons and other unidentified persons have been found to be involved in these criminal acts and an investigation is necessary to find the details of their actions, it said.

It has to be probed from where and why these websites are being operated, how much money is being collected through this platform/website, where was this amount used and

Security forces kill 3 militants
in Shopian fight

YUSUF JAMEEL | DC
SRINAGAR, OCT. 7

Three militants were killed in a 20-hour-long gunfight with the security forces in Jammu and Kashmir's southern Shopian district, the authorities said here on Wednesday.

They said that all the slain men were local Kashmiris. They were identified as Sajad Ahmad Malla, Junaid Rashid Wani and Waseem Ahmad Magray. While Malla was associated with Hizb-ul-Mujahideen, the two others were Al-Badar cadres — "all part of groups involved in planning and executing several terror attacks on security forces establishments and inflicting atrocities on civilians," the police said.

Meanwhile, a large number of mourners attended the funeral of J&K policeman Altaf Hussain who fell to the militants' bullets while foiling an attempt on the life of a local Bharatiya Janata Party leader in central district of Ganderbal on Tuesday night. One of the two or three assailants was also killed in the PSO's retaliatory fire, the police said.

The officials said that fighting broke out in Shopian's Sukan area late Tuesday evening after the J&K police's counterinsurgency Special Operations Group (SOG) with the Army's 44 Rashtriya Rifles and the 178th Battalion of the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) laid siege to it to conduct a search operation.

A police spokesman here said that the militants holed up in a private house during the cordon-and-search operation at Sukan were asked to lay down their arms and surrender before the security forces but they preferred to fight.

"During the search operation, as the presence of terrorists got ascertained they were given the opportunity to surrender. However, they instead fired indiscriminately upon the joint search party, which was retaliated leading to an encounter," he said.

3 CHARGESHEETED IN GOLD SMUGGLING
CASE; NO CLEAN CHIT TO CM'S EX-SECY

DC CORRESPONDENT
KOCHI, OCT. 7

The Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Wednesday filed a chargesheet in the special court for cases under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act in Ernakulam against three main accused in a case of smuggling gold through diplomatic channel in the Thiruvananthapuram airport. The agency said that it had to thoroughly investigate the role of M. Sivasankar, former principal secretary to the Kerala Chief Minister, "in the entire episode" and indicated that it may submit a supplementary chargesheet on completion of the on-going investigation.

The ED said the money amounting to Rs 1.05 crore and gold weighing 982.5 grams which were recovered from two bank lockers belonging to one of the accused, Swapna Prabha Suresh, in Thiruvananthapuram were part of the money she earned through smuggling of gold, which began in 2019. The other two accused are P.S. Sarith and Sandeep Nair, both residents of Thiruvananthapuram. The trio smuggled gold 21 times through the airport, the chargesheet said.

The ED quoted Ms Swapna that her appointment in the Space Park, a project of the state information technology department, was "in the knowledge of" Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan. Mr Vijayan also holds the IT portfolio and Mr Sivasankar was its principal secretary before being suspended for violating the service rules for all-India service officers by facilitating her appointment with a consultancy managing the project.

At present the National Investigation Agency (NIA) and the Customs are also investigating the case.

SIT PROBING
HATHRAS CASE
GETS MORE TIME TO FILE REPORT

Lucknow, Oct. 7: The UP government has given an additional 10 days to the three-member SIT investigating the alleged gangrape and killing of a 19-year-old Dalit woman in Hathras as the "probe is not complete", a senior official said Wednesday.

The special investigation team, constituted on September 30 and led by Home Secretary Bhagwan Swarup, was initially given seven days to submit its report.

But the UP government later sought a CBI probe into the case and the criminal conspiracy to spread caste conflict it has suspected. On Tuesday, it told the Supreme Court it wanted an apex court-monitored CBI inquiry into the incident to ensure "no vested interests will be able to create fake, false narrative with oblique motives".

"Yes...the time for submitting report for the SIT has been extended by 10 days," said Additional Chief Secretary (Home) Awanish Kumar Awasthi. Asked about the reasons for the extension, he added, "The reason is one. The probe is not complete." The Yogi Adityanath government is fighting severe criticism for its handling of the case, particularly after the local police burnt the woman's body at night without the family's approval. - PTI

She is the first Black woman and the first Asian-American woman to be selected as the vice presidential nominee of a major political party in the US. It will be for the first time in the American history that an Indian-origin person will be taking up the podium for a vice presidential debate in Salt Lake City, Utah on Wednesday night.

Political analysts believe that an aggressive Harris, 55, who aspires to be the first woman vice-presidential in history, will easily prevail over Pence, 61, during the only vice-presidential debate and help Biden, 77, to widen his lead over Trump, 74. The debate comes nearly a week after the first of the three presidential debates in Cleveland on September 29 wherein Biden termed Trump a "liar" and a "clown" as the two candidates fiercely clashed over a number of issues, including racism, economy and climate. Following the first presidential debate, Trump was tested Covid positive and admitted to a military hospital, a development that upended his hectic campaign just weeks before the presidential elections on November 3.

He returned to the White House on Monday night after spending four days at the hospital, but his doctors say the president may not entirely be out of the woods. Biden, in the last few days, has widened his lead over Trump by double digit. However, the Trump Campaign believes that Pence could come out with a stellar performance during the debate. The debate gains added significance, given the Covid-19 infecting Trump, triggering speculation that Pence may be taking over the reigns of the country temporarily.

Belarus Oppn asks Germany to mediate

Berlin, Oct. 7: Belarus opposition leader Sviatlana Tsikhanouskaya said Wednesday that German Chancellor Angela Merkel would be an ideal person to mediate the political crisis in her country. Tsikhanouskaya said in Berlin that Merkel is "aware of what's going on there" and "would be really helpful in solving this problem."

Court: Greek party criminal body

Guilty verdicts delivered against many of the far-right Golden Dawn party's ex-lawmakers

Athens, Oct. 7: A Greek court has ruled that the far-right Golden Dawn party was operating as a criminal organisation, delivering a landmark verdict in a marathon five-year trial. The court on Wednesday delivered guilty verdicts against several of the party's former lawmakers for participating in a criminal organisation, and deemed others guilty of leading a criminal organisation. The 68 defendants in the trial include 18 former lawmakers from the party that was founded in the 1980s as a neo-Nazi organization and rose to become Greece's third largest party during the country's decade-long financial crisis.

The court was assessing four cases rolled into one: The fatal stabbing of Greek rap singer Pavlos Fyssas, attacks on migrant fishermen, attacks on left-wing activists and whether Golden Dawn was operating as a criminal organisation. The presiding judge of the three-member panel delivered a guilty verdict against Giorgos Roupakias for the murder of Fyssas. That prompted applause inside the courtroom and among the crowd outside. — AP

Virus stimulus bill after poll: Don

Washington, Oct. 7: President Donald Trump has instructed his officials to stop negotiating with the Democrats on another stimulus package for the coronavirus-hit US economy until the November 3 presidential election, alleging that Speaker Nancy Pelosi was not holding talks in good faith. Trump's sudden decision on Tuesday to pull the plug on the negotiations is a major blow to millions of Americans still struggling with the fallout from the pandemic that has badly hit the economy and killed over 210,000 people in the country. "I have instructed my representatives to stop negotiating until after the election when, immediately after I win, we will pass a major stimulus bill that focuses on hardworking Americans and small business," Trump said in a series of tweets on Tuesday. Trump's instructions came a day after he was discharged from a military hospital where he was treated for Covid-19. For the past a few weeks, senior officials from his administration were negotiating with the House Democrats on a major stimulus package before the presidential election. Analysts have warned that the recovery of the world's largest economy risks stalling without further aid. While the US has regained about half the jobs lost in

ISRAELI PM'S WIFE MAY HAVE VIOLATED CURBS

Jerusalem, Oct. 7: Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's wife may have violated the country's Coronavirus lockdown by inviting a hairdresser into the official residence last week to prepare her for a public service video advocating the wearing of masks. The incident, first reported by the Yediot Ahronot daily, was the latest in a string of lockdown violations by Israeli leaders and public figures — drawing widespread criticism. — AP

Another Trump aide tests positive for virus

Washington, Oct. 7: Stephen Miller, a top aide to President Donald Trump, tested positive for Covid-19, taking the number of White House staffers infected by the deadly virus to at least 10. "Over the last five days I have been working remotely and self-isolating, testing negative every day through yesterday. Today, I tested positive for Covid-19 and am in quarantine," Miller said in a statement. President Trump, along with First Lady Melania Trump, tested positive for Coronavirus last Thursday, soon after it was known that their close aide Hope Hicks contracted the infection. Trump was admitted to a military hospital on Friday and was discharged on Monday. White House Press Secretary Kayleigh McEnany and three of the staff from the press office also tested positive. At least three journalists working at the White House tested positive for the infection. On Tuesday, the White House issued an updated guideline on health and safety of the residence staff. — PTI

The Stock Market is at record levels, JOBS and unemployment also coming back in record numbers. We are leading the World in Economic Recovery, and THE BEST IS YET TO COME!" Trump said. In another tweet, he alleged that "crazy" Nancy Pelosi and "the radical Left" Democrats were just playing "games" with the desperately needed workers' stimulus payments. "They were never in it to help the workers and they never will be!" he alleged. But Pelosi accused Trump of "putting himself first at the expense of the country". "He shows his contempt for science, his disdain for our heroes... and he refuses to put money in workers' pockets, unless his name is printed on the cheque," she added. "Clearly, the White House is in complete disarray," the top Democrat said. — PTI

T-Rex fossil sells for record $31.8 mn

New York, Oct. 7: One of the most complete specimens of a T-Rex fossil in the world was sold for a record $31.8 million Tuesday by Christie's in New York, nearly quadrupling the previous highest price for a dinosaur at auction. The apex predator made mincemeat of Christie's opening price of between six and eight million dollars, showing off the last ing power of the T-Rex. It then shredded the previous record set by a specimen called Sue that was sold for $8.4 million in October 1997 by Sotheby's to the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago. Only around 50 Tyrannosaurus fossils have been discovered since the first was unearthed in 1902. Bids hit the $9 million mark in less than two minutes after the start of the auction, but after 14 minutes there were just three bidders left in the race, until the hammer came down on an offer of $27.5 million, to which were added costs and commissions.

The sale was organised in New York, where the expert assessor was located, but with lines open to Hong Kong and London, where Christie's specialists were taking calls from collectors. The fossil, nicknamed Stan, stands 13 feet (four metres) high and 40 feet long, with puncture marks in the skull and neck that experts believe show evidence of fights with fellow T-Rexes. He would have weighed in at around eight tonnes when alive, some 67 million years ago. The fossil was discovered in South Dakota in 1987 and named after the amateur paleontologist who came across the remains, Stan Sacrison. Paleontologists from the Black Hills Institute of Geological Research in South Dakota spent more than 30,000 hours excavating and then assembling the 188 bones of the skeleton. Casts were then taken for dozens of museums around the world. — AFP

Pearl killers get 3 months' more jail

Islamabad, Oct. 7: British-born al-Qaeda leader Ahmed Omar Saeed Sheikh and his three aides — the main accused in the abduction and murder of US journalist Daniel Pearl — will remain in jail for another three months, according to an order issued by Pakistan's Sindh government on Wednesday. The announcement of extending their detention was made by prosecutors during a hearing of the Supreme Court, which was to decide on Sheikh's release. The apex court last week barred the government from releasing them. Faisal Siddiqi, the lawyer representing Pearl's family, told the media that the government prosecutor, Fiaz Shah, told the judges he needed more time for paperwork to prepare for the case. The court accepted his argument and adjourned the hearing till October 21. — PTI

Google, Oracle meet in copyright clash at SC

Washington, Oct. 7: Supreme Court justices discussed restaurant menus, computer keyboards, songs and even the periodic table Wednesday in trying to resolve a copyright dispute between tech giants Google and Oracle. The justices were hearing arguments Wednesday in a dispute that is worth billions and important to the future of software. It wasn't clear how the justices would rule, but some of the justices seemed at least concerned about what a ruling for Oracle could mean. The case before the jusices has to do with Google's creation of the Android operating system now used on the vast majority of smartphones worldwide. Google says that to create Android, which was released in 2007, it wrote millions of lines of new computer code. But it also used 11,330 lines of code and an organization that's part of Oracle's Java platform. Google has defended its actions, saying what it did is long-settled, common practice in the industry, a practice that has been good for technical progress. But Oracle says

Google "committed an egregious act of plagiarism" and sued, seeking more than $8 billion. Chief Justice John Roberts expressed some skepticism, telling Oracle lawyer Joshua Rosenkranz to imagine opening a new restaurant and creating a menu. "Of course you're going to have, you know, appetizers first, then entrees and then desserts. Now you shouldn't have to worry about whether that organization is copyrighted," Roberts said. The case has been going on for a decade. Google won the first round when a trial court rejected Oracle's copyright claim, but that ruling was overturned on appeal. A jury then sided with Google, calling its copying "fair use," but an appeals court disagreed. Because of the death of Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, only eight justices are hearing the case, and they're doing so by phone because of the coronavirus pandemic. The questions for the court are whether the 1976 Copyright Act protects what Google copied, and, even if it does, whether what Google did is still permitted. Oracle, for its part, says the case is simple. "This case is about theft," Oracle's chief Washington lobbyist, Ken Glueck, said in a telephone interview ahead of argument. He compared what Google did to plagiarizing from someone else's speech. — AP

DECCAN Chronicle

8 OCTOBER 2020

Quad's future: Too early to talk of an 'Asian Nato'

While the physical gathering of the foreign ministers of India, the United States, Australia and Japan in Tokyo this week — fairly unusual in these Covid-19 times — sent an unmistakable signal to China that these nations were determined to stand up to its bullying in the neighbourhood and beyond, and uphold the principle of a “rules-based international order” in a “free and open Indo-Pacific region”, which India’s external affairs minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar said meant “respect for territorial integrity and sovereignty and the peaceful resolution of disputes”, it was left to US secretary of state Mike Pompeo to really turn the heat on Beijing. In a direct attack not only on the Chinese government but also the Communist Party of China, America’s chief diplomat — who made it a point to go ahead with his visit despite the churn back in election-eve Washington — blasted China’s “exploitation, corruption, and coercion” in the “South (China Sea), East China Sea, Mekong, the Himalayas and the Taiwan Straits”. He also openly accused China of initially “covering up” the coronavirus pandemic in Wuhan and “silencing the very brave Chinese citizens who raised the alarm”.

The Quadrilateral, the grouping of the four nations that met in Japan, has been around for a while, but what has given the strategic partnership new heft is China’s renewed aggression of late — most visibly in the People’s Liberation Army’s intrusions into Indian territory in eastern Ladakh — which Mr Pompeo pointedly referred to in his remarks, but also in its newfound claims to the South China Sea, which mostly lies in international waters, and its blatant attempts to intimidate the democratic government in Taipei through an excessive show of force in the Taiwan Straits. India has a direct interest in ensuring freedom of navigation in the South China Sea, through which so much of our trade transits, which recently prompted New Delhi to send naval warships to show the Indian flag in these waters.

Everybody is well aware that the “Quad” is aimed at countering China, but it was noticeable only the US leader explicitly targeted the People’s Republic, while India, Australia and Japan were more circumspect. That doesn’t mean they don’t share the same views about Beijing’s aggression, which affects them far more than it does the US, but they also don’t want to aggravate China beyond a point — to ensure, say in India’s case, it doesn’t adversely impact the ongoing negotiations over the Ladakh de-escalation process. Japan too has become more vigilant as China has got increasingly assertive about its claims to some islands. All four nations are united on the need to counter the waves of disinformation from Beijing, such as over the source of the coronavirus, or the use of so-called “wolf warrior diplomacy” by which the PRC targets smaller nations — like Sri Lanka, Bangladesh or Nepal — to name just a few in our neighbourhood.

Where is the “Quad” headed? Will it, as some commentators predict, evolve into a kind of “Asian Nato”? Or will it focus not just on security, but also try to counter China’s Belt and Road Initiative and help develop 5G networks that don’t depend on Huawei? There are many in India who may welcome an “Asian Nato”, but we should remember that if we want an independent foreign policy, we have to safeguard our borders ourselves, this can’t be easily outsourced even to our closest allies.

AIADMK: Who really won?

In what was a win-win situation, a long drawn imbroglio in Tamil Nadu’s ruling party, AIADMK, came to a close, on expected lines and at the expected hour on Wednesday. Deputy chief minister O. Panneerselvam, who started it all on Independence Day when some posters made an appearance in his hometown expressing his followers’ desire to see him as the next chief ministerial candidate of the party, concluded it by announcing his rival Edappadi K. Palaniswami as the chief ministerial candidate.

But the acrimony with which the two leaders fought the battle for supremacy and fact that unlike many other political parties in the State or the country, AIADMK is no more a personality oriented or ideologically driven party give rise to the doubts if the differences can really blow over.

For, what we have is a cabal of leaders, who had been chosen to whatever positions they held by the former supremo J. Jayalalithaa, or by default her confidante V.K. Sasikala. Of them, many aspire to lead the party or the government run by it, though the opportunity has come to only two of them through cruel twists of fate.

Those two on whom the mantle had fallen agreed among them to one being chief minister and the other deputy chief minister, ensuring that the rest remained in the sidelines. But when the deputy became more ambitious on seeing the chief minister cornering all the glory and anything else that came along with the job, the fight started.

With the rest of the leaders on the sidelines sensing the dangers such an in-fighting could engender, put an end to it. But the fact that the parleys went into the small hours of Wednesday and that there are some loose ends to be tied up, too, only indicate that it can erupt again. For it is not clear as to who the victor is now.

Ex-DGP Pandey and the power of 'good offices'

The three-month mandatory cooling-off period has been waived for IPS officer Gupteshwar Pandey, who was DGP Bihar and sought voluntary retirement (VRS). This was done to allow him to join politics and possibly contest the upcoming state Assembly elections. Mr Pandey, who shot into the headlines with his controversial comments on the investigation into actor Sushant Singh Rajput’s suicide, applied for VRS and received the approval from the Bihar government within 24 hours!

Normally, an officer seeking VRS has to give a three-month notice to the government before quitting. Sources say that it takes up to two months for the government to clear the paperwork before granting retirement. In Mr Pandey’s case, however, there was an unseemly hurry to grant his request.

Few, however, were surprised at Mr Pandey’s resignation from the IPS. His political ambitions had been the subject of much speculation weeks before he actually took the plunge. He has gone down this road earlier in 2009 when he took VRS to fight the Lok Sabha elections that year. He lost and was reinstated into the IPS. It pays to be well-connected.

HARYANA TO SEE CHANGES AT THE TOP

With the retirement of Haryana chief secretary Keshni Anand Arora and the appointment of principal secretary to the chief minister, Rajesh Khullar, as executive director of the World Bank, observers expect a major administrative change in the state.

According to those in the know, several senior IAS officers are in the succession race. Among them, Vijay Vardhan, a 1985-batch IAS officer and current home secretary, is the strongest claimant for the post of chief secretary. Others in the fray are 1986 batch IAS Sanjeev Kaushal, and 1987 batch IAS Rajeev Arora. V. Umashankar, a 1993 batch IAS and additional principal secretary to CM, is reported to be very close to the CM Manohar Lal Khattar. Apparently, being close to the CM makes one a good contender for a plum posting.

Some observers point out that the caste factor may play an important role. Both Keshmi Anand Arora and Rajesh Khullar are Punjabis, as is chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar. So, will he choose babus from the Punjabi community to fill the slots? Will the caste factor play a role? Any guesses?

BABUS AND OTHER VIP SQUATTERS

There is nothing new about the reluctance of public servants to move out of the residential accommodation allotted them after retirement from service. It has been debated in public and private by citizens and VIPs, discussed in the courts who have issued directions to governments, but not much has changed.

The latest effort to ensure that government accommodation is not misused by babus is a directive from Delhi high court to the Centre to ensure that it gets illegally occupied houses vacated and recovers the rental dues for the period of the illegal occupation. Apparently, according to the data submitted by the ministry of housing and urban affairs, the government has managed to wrest 565 government accommodations that were illegally occupied by retired public servants and recovered Rs 3 crores in rental dues. However, it also stated that Rs 9 crores was still outstanding from other illegal occupants and it has issued notices to the offenders.

For now, the dispensers of justice seem to have been appeased but this issue is not off the table. And won’t be until babus, and our worthy netas, learn to let go of their official trappings once they no longer have the privilege to enjoy them.

Empower IAF to fight aerial war on 2 fronts

Abhijit Bhattacharyya

At 88, the Indian Air Force (born in 1932 as the Royal Indian Air Force) can certainly look back with pride as it evolved into an outstanding professional force, which is the nation’s pride and the envy of our neighbours.

Even before the RIAF was born, an 18-year-old Indian pilot, Lt. Indra Lal Roy of the Royal Flying Corps, had downed 10 German fighters in just 14 days in the skies over France, and laid down his life while still in his teens, on July 22, 1918. Posthumously awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Roy was India’s sole flying ace in the First World War. The standard set in 1918 continues to date.

The IAF officers of today remain worthy torchbearers of their legendary predecessors, notwithstanding a few hiccups over the pace of its fleet modernisation. War or peace, they operate with great élan. Their offensive as well as defensive ops over the “forward edge of battle area” in the 1965, 1971 and 1999 wars have been true to the Latin dictum “Per Ardua ad Astra” (Through adversity to the stars). However, India faces a major challenge today from an aggressive Communist Party of China, and the IAF, and India, have to be adept at tackling it.

Forty years ago, in 1980, China’s infant aviation industry was based mainly in Shenyang and Harbin; with the Soviet-licensed Yak-18, AN-2 biplane and Mi-4 helicopter; besides the F-6 (MiG-19), and F-7 (MiG-21) under production. With the start of the 1978 Deng Xiaoping era, by 1990, things had changed visibly. “Chinese factories carry out sub-contract work on Airbus A-300, A-310 and A-320; ATR-42; British Aerospace 146; Boeing-737, 747, and 757; McDonnell Douglas MD-80 series” (Jane’s All the World’s Aircraft 1991-92). A Chengdu factory develops the JJ-5 (MiG-17), J-7 (MiG-21F); multi-role helicopter Zhi-8; Harbin made SH-5 maritime bomber; China-France joint ventured Z-9 Haitun helicopter; Nanchang made Q-5 close-air-support fighter (also exported to Pakistan); Shaanxi Aircraft developed Y-8 (derivative of Soviet AN-12 transport); Shenyang Aircraft built J-8 air-superiority fighter; and Xian Aircraft produced (Soviet-licensed Tupolev-16) strategic bomber.

From early on, China made its intent to build indigenous aircraft quite clear. It was determined to be self-sufficient and reduce its dependence on imported aircraft to fight its foes, just like the United States and the erstwhile Soviet Union earlier. It would build its own war machine, keep the best for its own forces and give the second best to its friends, allies and followers with a lower price tag; keeping them militarily and financially dependent on the CPC. Military hardware is an effective tool of foreign and defence policy and serves as an instrument of geostrategic influence by putting smaller client states under pressure, enhancing their non-planned expenditure.

Indeed, China aggressively pursued an unfriendly posture from the start of the twenty-first century — with self-production, market distribution (selling it to smaller, friendly foreign customers) and consumption of its own product, thereby cutting import costs. This entire area needs a thorough relook by the Indian ruling class, as imported equipment still rules the roost in this country. Mass scale indigenous defence hardware/software production eludes the IAF.

By 2001, China had exported its J-7 single-seat fighter and close air support machine to India’s neighbourhood — Bangladesh (16), Pakistan (24), Sri Lanka (4). The Pakistan Air Force too started acting “big” — “Number 2 Squadron Masroor, Numbers 18 and 20 Rafiqi and Number 25 Mianwali” (Jane’s All the World’s Aircraft 2000-01). A clear signal was given to New Delhi two decades ago — that the Dragon was working in tandem with the Pakistani military-ISI — but the Indian government failed to react, and in fact opened its economic and commercial doors to China around the same time.

After Islamabad made a mockery of Atal Behari Vajpayee’s Lahore bus diplomacy, the Kargil misadventure followed, and though it led to a “victory” for India, it was over the dead bodies of over a thousand soldiers. The history of 1965 was repeated in 1999, when the initial loss and subsequent recapture of our own territory couldn’t be hidden behind India’s “Kargil Vijay Diwas” celebrations. It was not an inspiring message for citizens.

China must have made a careful note of India’s plight in tackling Pakistan. By 2010, Beijing moved further up the aerial ladder. It set up a helicopter hub at Tianjin, general aviation at Zuhual and aero engines at Shanghai. Its long-term aviation policy was aimed not just at competing, but also challenging the West by stealing its technology and “compelling” it to “voluntarily” cooperate with Beijing. The West was lured into Beijing’s trap over its greed for profits.

Beijing was deeply embedded to Airbus for commercial aircraft

AMICABLE SETTLEMENT

The AIADMK cadre should feel happy about the amicable settlement reached between EPS and OPS on the projection of its candidate as CM in the ensuing Assembly elections to the State. There had been unnecessary speculations about the possible splitting of the party in social media though such internal rift is quite common in every party. A man of my age who has seen such competition for the CM post in the second rung leaderships whenever vacuum occurred in the past. Therefore, the aspirations of both for projection as CM candidate seem to be a normal internal affair of the party, which would pave the way for selection in a democratic way. As an ordinary man of prudence beyond politics and those like me can have no second opinion that the present government is doing its best in the service of people.

FLIRTING WITH DANGER

THIS REFERS to the report that Motor Sich, a Chinese majority-owned company, is set to get a contract to overhaul engines of Indian Air Force’s Mi-17 V5 helicopters. According to IAF, the company is qualified to be given the contract by virtue of being the lowest bidder. Following the India-China face-off at the border, the government has done away with all kinds of investments and tie-ups with Chinese firms. One, therefore, cannot understand why the IAF has chosen to award the contract to the Chinese company — that too, in a sensitive area like overhauling of engines of frontline helicopters. Let’s not hand over the key to the thief.

RISING COVID CASES

APPROPOS REPORT 57-year old SI dies of corona (Oct.7). It is indeed not only pathetic but also worrying that the police personnel, the protectors of the public are getting infected with coronavirus and dying. The reason could be that they are moving with many who are symptomatic or asymptomatic Covid-19 infected ones. Since the government is not strict enough, the public is showing scant respect to its diktat. Many are not wearing face masks and those with masks are leaving their noses outside and a few even carry them in their hands as a show-piece out of sheer arrogance. Hence the increasing cases of Covid-19. Unless the government gives full powers to the police department to tackle maskless persons, including the power to detain, would instil fear. Otherwise, corona cases will increase further affecting all.

Stimulus should
yrs: Pranob Sen

The Centre should continue with the stimulus to revive the economy for three years and it should not be a one-off measure, Pranob Sen, chairman of the standing committee on statistics, ministry of statistics and programme implementation, said. The improvement in economic activity at the moment is due to the pent up demand, he said. "The government game-plan should be to continue with the stimulus for three years."

TCS unveils ₹16K cr
share buyback plan

New Delhi, Oct. 7: Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) on Wednesday announced a mega Rs 16,000-crore buyback plan at Rs 3,000 per equity share.

In 2017 and 2018 too, TCS had undertaken buyback offers of similar sizes.

The current offer price of Rs 3,000 per share is 9.6 per cent higher than the stock's closing at Rs 2,737.40 on the BSE on Wednesday.

TCS, which reported a 5 per cent rise in net profit for the September 2020 quarter but missed analysts estimates, said its board has declared a second interim dividend of Rs 12 per equity share.

In a regulatory filing, TCS said its board has approved "a proposal to buyback up to 5,33,33,333 equity shares of the company for an aggregate amount not exceeding Rs 16,000 crore, being 1.42 per cent of the total paid-up equity share capital at Rs 3,000 per equity share."

The buyback will be conducted via a tender offer route through the stock exchanges, it said.

A public announcement setting out the process, timelines and other requisite details will be released in due course following the buyback regulations, the filing said.

In 2018, TCS had undertaken a share buyback plan worth up to Rs 16,000 crore, offering Rs 2,100 per equity share and entailing up to 7.61 crore shares.

In 2017, TCS had conducted a similar share purchase exercise. The company had said its buyback offer was part of its long-term capital allocation policy of returning excess cash to shareholders.

In a separate filing, TCS said its chief financial officer V. Ramakrishnan would be retiring from the company on April 30, 2021 and the board has appointed Samir Seksaria as CFO-designate.

TCS reported 4.9 per cent rise in consolidated net profit to Rs 8,433 crore for the September 2020 quarter, excluding Rs 1,218-crore provision towards legal claim. Including this number, the net profit is Rs 7,475 crore. The company had a net profit of Rs 8,042 crore in the September 2019 quarter. TCS missed analysts' profit estimates of Rs 7,805 crore, according to Refinitiv data.

Its revenue grew 3 per cent year-on-year to Rs 40,135 crore from Rs 38,977 crore a year ago.

TCS said the interim dividend will be paid on November 3 and the record date for the same is October 15.

Also, the company will roll out salary hikes effective October 1. TCS' consolidated headcount stood at 4,53,540 as of September 30.

"We want to thank all TCSers for the incredible resilience they have shown during these trying times. We are happy to announce that we will be rolling out salary increases, effective October 1st," Milind Lakkad, global head, HR of TCS said.

New Delhi, Oct. 7: The government on Wednesday appointed RBI's senior-most executive director M. Rajeshwar Rao as the deputy governor of the central bank.

Rao was appointed to the post vacated by N. S. Vishwanathan, who stepped down three months ahead of his extended tenure on health grounds.

According to the RBI Act, 1934, the central bank needs to have four deputy governors—two from within the ranks, one commercial banker and another an economist to head the monetary policy department.

Most generic drug ingredients made in Asia: EU lobby group

Berlin, Oct. 7: Two-thirds of the active ingredients needed to make generic drugs are manufactured in Asia, a study showed on Wednesday, the latest evidence to underscore Europe's reliance on foreign imports for its medicines.

European governments were rattled at the start of the coronavirus outbreak when India, one of the biggest producers of drug ingredients, banned exports of certain products relevant to the pandemic, prompting concerns about disruptions to supply chains and a shortage of medicines.

Although those fears were largely unfounded, European Union health ministers have vowed to boost local drugs production to safeguard against future bottlenecks.

The study by German generics lobby group Pro Generika analysed the global production of 565 active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) and found 63 per cent of the quality certificates, which grant them suitable for use in medicinal products, were held in Asia, up from around 31 per cent in 2000.

Price pressure and lower regulatory requirements have led to a shift in drugs production from Europe to Asia over the past two decades, Pro Generika said.

More than 80 per cent of Asia's certificates are held by manufacturers in India and China where the majority of producers are concentrated in just a few states and provinces, the study found. For more than half of the APIs, there are only a handful of manufacturers worldwide.

Europe holds 31 per cent of API certificates, down from 59 per cent in 2000 with producers mainly in Italy, Germany, Spain and France focussing on ingredients with low sales volumes that are complex to manufacture.

Spooked by the pandemic, France in June announced plans to bolster local production of medicines with president Emmanuel Macron pledging 200 million euros ($236m) to help domestic research and manufacturing of medicine.

Austria is also investing money to shore up production at a an antibiotics plant owned by Swiss drugmaker Novartis's Sandoz division in Tyrol.

Industry players warn bringing production home may be a complicated process, saying higher labour costs and tougher environmental standards make it impossible to compete with Asian suppliers on price.

Novartis said it was seeking to establish at least two sources for key ingredients to have fallback options.

HDFC Bank to give up to ₹40 L loan to pay Apollo medical bills

Mumbai, Oct. 7: HDFC Bank on Wednesday announced a tie-up with Apollo Hospitals through which its customers can avail unsecured loans of up to Rs 40 lakh to pay for medical expenses incurred at the healthcare chain.

The loans will be disbursed almost instantly as and when a need for money arises, and the hospital patients who are customers of HDFC Bank will also receive preferential treatment, its CEO & MD Aditya Puri told reporters.

Apollo executive chairperson Shobana Kamineni said HDFC Bank has 65 million customers who can take advantage of this facility.

She stressed that while availing of health insurance is necessary, it does not cover all the aspects despite providing cashless facilities and hence, such a tie-up will help.

Apollo had launched 'the Healthylife Programme' earlier this year to take care of multiple diseases and ailments, and HDFC Bank customers who will be registering as part of the tie-up will be made part of the same, she said. Currently, there are 4 million members on the platform, Kamineni said.

HDFC Bank group head (corporate banking) Rahul Shukla said the base programme subscription comes without any charges for its customers.

Puri said the bank is not stressed and has a healthy capital adequacy of over 18 per cent, which will ensure that it will keep lending.

PHILLIP
PROBLEMS

Winthrop Mackworth Praed, a 19th-century English politician and poet, wrote, "His partners at the whist-club said that he was faultless in his dealings." Someone who is near-faultless at a bridge club will be in big demand as a partner. One aspect of that faultlessness is thinking about partner's problems in a deal. How should the defenders have defeated four spades in today's deal? West led the diamond seven: two, nine, ace. Declarer ruffed the diamond eight on the board and played a trump. When East failed to follow suit, South played his 10. How should West have proceeded from there?

Some Wests would have made a takeout double over one spade, but that would have risked playing in a 4-2 diamond fit. The North hand has only eight losers: three spades, two hearts, one diamond and two clubs. This is the number for a three-spade game-invitational limit raise. But North did not look further than his 7 high-card points. No problem, though, as South easily had enough to bid game. At the time, West won with his spade king, cashed the club ace and played another club. East took that trick and, thinking that partner was now out of clubs, led his last club. South ruffed high, drew trumps ending on the board and discarded his heart loser on the club queen. Probably East should have found the winning defense because West rated not to have started with 4-5-2-2 distribution. But West was primarily at fault. He knew the position. After taking the club ace and before leading the second club, he should have cashed the heart ace.

Oz women equal win streak record

Brisbane: Australia demolished New Zealand by 232 runs in the third women's ODI to equal the world record of 21 consecutive ODI victories set by Ricky Ponting's all-conquering men's team in 2003. After smashing their way to 325 for five off their 50 overs at Brisbane's Allan Border Field, the Australians then bowled New Zealand out for just 93 to record their biggest ever win against the Kiwis. Australia dominated all aspects of the match, with Rachael Haynes (96) and Alyssa Healey (87) putting on an opening partnership of 144. Annabel Sutherland (35), Ash Gardner (34) and Beth Mooney (29 not out) chipped in to set the visitors an imposing target. New Zealand were never in the hunt, particularly after they lost captain Sophie Devine in the first over for a duck. — AFP

Lakers, one step closer to crown

Orlando: LeBron James scored 28 points as Los Angeles Lakers moved to within one win of a 17th NBA championship on Tuesday with a 102-96 victory over Miami Heat. Humbled by Miami in Game Three on Sunday, James and the Lakers came roaring back in a hard-fought defensive battle that was finely balanced until Los Angeles pulled away in the closing minutes. The win leaves the Lakers 3-1 up in the best-of-seven series, meaning they can clinch the championship with victory in Game Five on Friday. James started slowly but clicked in the second half to lead the scoring while providing eight assists and hauling down 12 rebounds. Anthony Davis meanwhile finished with 22 points. — AFP

KNIGHTS PIN KINGS

KKR ride on Tripathi knock; Chennai misfire yet again

Abu Dhabi, Oct. 7: Kolkata Knight Riders defeated Chennai Super Kings by 10 runs in an Indian Premier League match here on Wednesday.

Batting first, KKR were all out for 167 despite Rahul Tripathi's 51-ball 81. In reply, CSK were stopped at 157 for 5 in the stipulated 20 overs.

Chasing a tricky target of 168 on a pitch that seemed to have slowed down, CSK were off to a brisk start with Shane Watson and Faf du Plessis adding 30 runs in less than four overs.

Watson made 50 off 40 balls, while Ambati Rayudu contributed 30 off 27 balls, but the others could not do much as CSK fell short.

Earlier, batting first, KKR lost three wickets in the last over with Dwayne Bravo removing two of them.

Bravo, a CSK veteran, celebrated his 37th birthday by returning impressive figures of 3/37 in his quota of four overs.

Tripathi enjoyed his promotion to the top with an excellent fifty but Chennai Super Kings bowlers applied the brakes to bundle out Kolkata Knight Riders.

Tripathi picked up from where he left off against Delhi Capitals and raced to his fifth IPL fifty in 31 balls to give KKR a solid foundation after Dinesh Karthik called it right at the toss.

At 93 for two at the mid-way stage, KKR looked set for a big score but Bravo struck after that.

Leg-spinner Karn Sharma (2/25), Shradul Thakur (2/28), Sam Curran (2/26) claimed two wickets each as the Mahendra Singh Dhoni-led side bounced back in the back 10 by taking eight wickets while giving away just 74 runs.

CAPTAIN SMITH PENALISED FOR SLOW RATE

Abu Dhabi, Oct. 7: Rajasthan Royals captain Steve Smith has been fined ₹12 lakh for his side's slow-over rate during their Indian Premier League match against Mumbai Indians here.

Rajasthan Royals suffered a 57-run loss to defending champions Mumbai Indians on Tuesday.

Given that this was his team's first offence of the season, Smith was fined ₹12 lakh under the IPL's Code of Conduct relating to minimum over-rate offences.

"Rajasthan Royal's Captain Steven Smith has been fined after his team maintained a slow over-rate during their IPL match against Mumbai Indians in Abu Dhabi on 6 October 2020," the IPL said in a media statement. "As it was his team's first offence of the season under the IPL's Code of Conduct relating to minimum over-rate offences, Mr. Smith was fined ₹12 lakh," it added. — PTI

My ailing dad told me to get back to field: Stokes

London, Oct. 7: Star England all-rounder Ben Stokes has revealed that his ailing father, for whom he took a break from cricket, encouraged him to return to action in the IPL by telling him that he was duty-bound "to do the job".

Stokes took compassionate leave in the middle of the home Test series against Pakistan in August and travelled to New Zealand to attend to his father who has been diagnosed with brain cancer. After spending five weeks with his family, Stokes, who is contracted with Rajasthan Royals, has landed in the UAE and is currently in quarantine. "Saying goodbye to my dad, my mum and my brother in Christchurch was tough. It has been a difficult time for us as a family, but we've pulled together and supported each other as best we can," Ben Stokes wrote in his column for the

"And I was able to get on the plane with my parents' love and blessing after we reached the decision, for me to get back playing, as a family with no external influences," he added.

Recalling the conversation he had with his parents in New Zealand, the 2019 Ben said, "My dad was also very strong on the responsibilities I have. He told me I have a duty to do the job that I do and I have a duty as a husband and father as well."

Talking about his current quarantine in the UAE, he said, "Sitting in a hotel room in quarantine once again after leaving New Zealand is not how I thought I would be arriving at the IPL, but here I am and all things considered, I'm in a good place." — PTI

ROHIT HEAPS PRAISE ON SURYAKUMAR

Abu Dhabi, Oct. 7: Mumbai Indians captain Rohit Sharma feels that Suryakumar Yadav's shot selection was perfect during their team's comprehensive win over Rajasthan Royals in an IPL match here.

Yadav was back among the runs with a 47-ball 79, propelling Mumbai Indians to 193 for 4. Then, their bowlers led by Jasprit Bumrah bundled out RR for 136 to register a 57-run win.

"It (a big knock) was coming, I spoke to him (Surya) before the game as well. He was batting really well all these games. He got off to a good start and it was just about making sure that the shot making sometimes can be very important and today his shot-making was perfect," Rohit said.

"We wanted him to bat till the end because of those innovative shots that he has, it was quite handy towards the end," he added. — PTI

Bottom placed KXIP face SRH

Dubai, Oct. 7: Their bowling attacks struggling to find form, Kings XI Punjab and Sunrisers Hyderabad will look towards their power-hitters to do the job when the two erratic teams go head to head in an IPL match here on Thursday.

KXIP are currently languishing at the bottom of the table after losing four of their five games, while SRH are only slightly better at sixth following two wins and three losses so far.

KXIP's strength has been in a formidable opening duo. Skipper K. L. Rahul has been in scintillating form this year, scoring two fifties and a century, while Mayank Agarwal also has a half-century and a ton to his credit. The two have done the heavy-lifting for the team.

But despite the solid batting performances, KXIP have been unable to win because of their disappointing bowling attack. Apart from Mohammed Shami, all the other bowlers have failed to take wickets.

And come Thursday, Sunrisers, who are blessed with a strong top order comprising Jonny Bairstow, David Warner, Manish Pandey and Kane Williamson, will look to exploit a low-on-confidence KXIP's bowling unit.

However, the Orange Army was dealt a massive

Farewell for Dean in last lap of MCG

Melbourne, Oct. 7: Former Australia batsman Dean Jones has been farewellled in a poignant final lap of an empty Melbourne Cricket Ground following his sudden death last month.

The casket of Jones, who collapsed and died aged 59, was draped in an Australia flag and carried in a white hearse adorned with flowers spelling "324", his Test cap number and his highest first-class score, achieved at the MCG.

"Rocket Man" by Elton John — a friend of Jones — echoed through the 100,000-capacity arena as the hearse, followed by only 10 mourners due to anti-coronavirus rules, proceeded around the field on Saturday.

"We have been deeply moved by the outpouring of love for Dean over the last week and can't thank everyone enough for their support and for sharing their memories with us," Jones's widow Jane said.

"We will forever miss

Dean's energy, his zest for life, passion for cricket and his love for us as a family," she added.

The father of two, a colourful and popular character who played regularly for Victoria and Australia at the MCG, died while working in Mumbai as a commentator for the Indian Premier League.

He played 52 Tests from 1984-1992, amassing 3,631 runs at an average of 46.55, while his 164 one-day internationals yielded 6,068 runs at an average of 44.61.

Known universally as "Deano", and an inspiration for his aggressive batting, Jones was remembered as a fierce competitor whose knockabout demeanour concealed a keen cricketing mind.

At Chennai in 1986 Jones, vomiting and shaking at the crease, defied severe heat and dehydration to score 210 and save Australia's hopes in only the second tied Test in cricket history.

Nadal, Nadia breeze into semifinals

Paris, Oct. 7: Rafael Nadal reached his 13th Roland Garros semifinal early Wednesday with a straight sets win over Italian teenager Jannik Sinner but claimed it was "dangerous" to finish at 01:30 in the morning when the temperature had plummeted to 12 degrees (53F).

Nadal, the 12-time champion, defeated 19-year-old Sinner 7-6 (7/4), 6-4, 12-15 to clinch a 98th victory in his 100th match at the French Open.

He will next face Diego Schwartzman, the diminutive Argentine over whom he holds a 9-1 career advantage, as he moves closer to equalling Roger Federer's all-time record of 20 majors. However, Nadal, more accustomed to the bright sunshine of Mallorca than the autumn chill of a

French Open pushed back four months due to the Coronavirus pandemic, was unhappy with organisers who scheduled five matches on the main Court Philippe

Chatrier. "I know footballers play under these conditions, but they are all the time moving," said Nadal after the latest ever finishing match at the tournament.

Argentine 12th seed Schwartzman defeated US Open champion and third seed Thiem in a five-hour epic to reach his first ever Grand Slam semifinal. The 28-year-old Schwartzman triumphed 7-6 (7/1), 5-7, 6-7 (6/8), 7-6 (7/5), 6-2.

It was one marathon too many for Thiem, the runner-up in Paris for the last two years, who had needed five sets and three and a half hours to draw world number 239 Hugo Gaston in the fourth round.

The 5ft 7in (1.70m) Schwartzman's success came on the same day that compatriot Nadia Podoroska, the world 131, reached the last-four of the women's singles.

Having never won a main-draw Grand Slam match before last week, Podoroska could hardly believe it after her 6-2, 6-4 quarterfinal victory over third-seeded Elina Svitolina on Court Philippe Chatrier. — AFP

Match-fixing investigation looms over French Open

Paris, Oct. 7: The Paris prosecutor's office has opened a police investigation into suspicions of match-fixing at the French Open.

The office said the investigation is being conducted by a French police unit that specialises in betting fraud and match-fixing probes and which, among other investigations, has previously worked with Belgian authorities in investigating suspected fixed matches at the lower levels of professional tennis.

But match-fixing probes targeting Grand Slam tennis are comparatively rare. The Paris prosecutor's office said the investigation is centered on suspicions concerning one match at Roland Garros and also casting a broader look for any other evidence. It did not specify the match.

German newspaper Die Welt and French sports daily L'Equipe said there were suspicious betting patterns in the first round of a women's doubles match on September 30.

Played on Court No.10 at Roland Garros, it opposed Romanian players Andreea Mitu and Patricia Maria Tig against Madison Brengle of the United States and Yana Sizikova of Russia. In the match, Sizikova is broken to love serving in game five of the second set, during which she double faults twice.

According to Die Welt and L'Equipe reports, large sums were allegedly placed on the Romanians to win that fifth game across several operators in Paris and from different countries.
