CONDUCT PANCHAYAT ELECTIONS: TD

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, JAN. 13

Telugu Desam MLC P. Ashok Babu on Wednesday demanded the Jagan Mohan Reddy government to honour the all-party decision on conduct of panchayat polls and plead before the High Court on January 18 for vacating the stay to facilitate elections in a peaceful manner.

Addressing a press conference here, Babu strongly objected to the manner in which Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy has levelled vague allegations that some persons in 'political positions' were acting like covert. He claimed that the SEC was not a political position and also not appointed by the TD and whereas, the TD was not in power for its leaders to act like covert.

Babu claimed that it was the CM himself who had turned into a 'covert' by falling at the feet of the Prime Minister only to save himself from CBI and ED cases. He alleged that Reddy was stooping to new lows to save his relatives from the Vivekananda Reddy murder case. He said Reddy was changing his stand on the coronavirus epidemic to suit his party's convenience with utter disregard for the lives of the public.

TD REGIME WAS ANTI-FARMER, SAYS YSRC

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, JAN. 13

Terming Telugu Desam regime as a 'dictatorial and anti-farmer' rule, YSR Congress MLA Kolusu Parthasarathy said that N Chandrababu Naidu and his party members do not have any moral right to speak on issues concerning farmers, as they had abandoned and cheated them during their five-year term.

Addressing a press conference here on Wednesday, the former minister said that Naidu has been issuing baseless statements. After almost 18 months of getting rejected by the public, Naidu is saying that he is still unaware of defeat and the public has made a judgemental error. He said that Naidu always takes the side of dalits, BCs and minorities when he is in opposition but when in power he dumps them, Parthasarathy said.

He criticised the former chief minister for making false accusations that the government had abandoned farmers. He said that Naidu presumed that agriculture sector was non-profitable and does not boost the economy, and thus completely neglected it. He stated that Naidu has a history of ditching farmers,

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, JAN. 13:

Renovation of an ancient Rama temple in the port town Motupalli in Prakasam district dating back to the Chola period (9th century to the 13th) is under active consideration of local agencies as part of the all-round development of the region, according to Motupalli Parirakshana Samithi president Ronda Dasaratha Rami Reddy.

"Motupalli was an international port since the Chola times and it remained so during the Kakatiya, Vijayanagara and Qutub Shahi periods," says Dr. E. Sivanagi Reddy, historian and CEO of the the Cultural Centre of Vijayawada and Amaravati.

The Rama temple having the garbha griha, antarala, arthamandapa and mahamandapa is in a dilapidated state and requires immediate restoration.

the Rama temple on Tuesday and started his works to prepare a detailed project report (DPR).

Sivanagi Reddy said celebrated Italian traveller Marco Polo visited Motupalli in 1287. It was a busy international port with both exports and imports. He met empress

Rudramadevi of the Kakatiya dynasty. He explained to her that Motupalli was known world-wide for its unique and the only-one-of-its-kind inscription on Marine insurance for sea-born traders, issued by the Kakatiya emperor Ganapati Deva in 1234AD, and engraved on four sides of a pillar at the local Veerabhadra Swamy temple, known as Abhaya Sasanam. This was renovated by Anavemareddy and Vijayanagara emperor Devaraya.

Sivanagi Reddy said that the detailed project report would be submitted to YV Subba Reddy, chairman of the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam for obtaining financial and technical support to implement the restoration and development works.

The works will include removing of sand, construction of pradakshinapatha, fixing the leakage in the roof, removing colours from the architectural members, reconstruction of the Dwaramandapam and installation of the Dwallasthanam and the Balipeetham including the Kalyanamandam. The villagers hope Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanam would take up the works so that the temple could attract tourists from all over the state. Sivanagi Reddy and Dr Jyoti Chandramouli felt the need for an open-air archaeological museum to showcase the scattered historical sculptures so that their safety and security could be ensured.

Naidu used Amaravati as ATM, alleges Botsa

Ex-CM never distributed house pattas to the poor: Minister

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIZIANAGARAM, JAN. 13

Former chief minister Nara Chandrababu Naidu used Polavaram and Amaravati as two ATM cards and now he is asking the people to forgive him, said Minister for Municipal Administration Botsa Satyanarayana.

Addressing a press conference here on Wednesday, the minister alleged that Naidu had always been far from the opinions and wishes of the people. He is still misleading the public with his crooked mind to gain their sympathy and stay in the limelight.

Botsa Satyanarayana

"It's very funny to know that even after 18 months being out of office, the leader of the opposition does not know why he was defeated. Even today he is not regretting his failures," Satyanarayana said.

He stated that Naidu never distributed house pattas to the poor during his 40 years of political career. He called agriculture a worthless profession but is now shedding crocodile tears for Amaravati farmers. Naidu and his henchmen purchased huge lands at Amaravati before announcing it as the capital city. He is crying foul when the new government announced Vizag as the capital because he is worried his business partners would lose a lot in Amaravati. On promises of providing jobs, except Lokesh, no others could get employment during his government, he said.

The State debts

increased as he was obsessed with creation of assets for himself and to implement welfare schemes but not for others.

On the MANSAS issue, the minister said, "Naidu never knew the history of the trust. It was P Ashok Gajapathi Raju, who wrote to the then government to merge MANSAS Trust with the State government because he could not reckon with his elder brother Ananda Gajapathi Raju being chairman of the trust. But on the request made by Ananda Gajapathi Raju, the new government had kept it as an autonomous society, he added

There are no classrooms, faculty, laboratory and notice boards in the college premises.

The students, who are clueless about their academic future, have formed Whatsapp groups to keep themselves updated about information from reliable sources. The academic verification process for the students who were placed in several IT companies is sent to the colleges. Students having backlogs are not getting any information. Several rural students, who had joined polytechnic courses in these colleges, have not received scholarships and fee reimbursement. "The college is locked; we are clueless about examinations, scholarship, and certificates," rued Harish, a student. The sources said the colleges have not paid salary for January 2020 to teaching and non-teaching staff. The colleges have reportedly kept the university in dark even about the change in ownership.

The management of these colleges has given a letter to the director of evaluation of JNTU-Anantapur requesting it not to conduct term-end examinations in their colleges. They sold the college sites even without applying for the closure permission from AICTE.

Naidu tells people: 'Forgive me if I committed a mistake'

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, JAN. 13:

In an innovative protest, the Opposition Telugu Desam burned alleged "anti-farmer" orders of the YSR Congress government in the Bhogi festival's bonfire on Wednesday while party chief N Chandrababu Naidu lambasted the Jagan Mohan Reddy government by saying it betrayed all sections of the people in the past 19 months.

Naidu asked the people to forgive him if he had committed any mistake in an address of people while taking part in the Bhogi festival programme at Paritala in Krishna district where he consigned five "anti-farmer GOs" to flames. These were the orders relating to fixing of meters on farm pump sets, 'sunna vaddi', zero budget farming etc.

Naidu expressed concern that no farmer was happy and comfortable under the rule of Jagan. "People had believed in the lies of Jagan and voted for him as they were in the grip of a mass hysteria," he said. "I don't know what mistake I have committed. I have strived hard for the development of the state. Forgive me if what I have done is a mistake." Naidu said meters should be fixed not on farmers' pump sets but at the offices of the YSRC ministers and MLAs all over the state to know of real looting of the state, done also by the sand, liquor, mining, betting, house-site and other mafias. "No section of the society is happy and the farm coolies are badly hit as they have no work. "There was no compensation though the farmers suffered losses in over seven successive natural calamities including the Nivara cyclone."

Naidu has alleged that the YSRC's bankrupt policies have now caused a burden of Rs 70,000 on every citizen in AP. "Under this, a four-member family carries a debt burden of Rs.2.8 lakh and this is forcing the people to do life-long slavery to get rid of this debt burden". Stating that all promises of the YSRC were thrown to winds, Naidu said the CM betrayed the voters by giving them "kisses at the time of elections and now giving them blows".

V-C credits CM for reducing fee

The NTR health university vice-chancellor said counselling for admission into the first-year medical and dental courses for students qualified in UG NEET-2020 under convenor quota has been completed. This helped all deserving candidates to get admission without causing any trouble to any student. This was done by keeping in mind the GO issued by the state government and with support from a team of experts, he said. The VC said that by January 15, they would complete admissions to categories under B and C. The VC gave credit to CM Jagan for reducing the fee structure, benefitting students even from the poor and the middle-class families, helping them realise their dream of becoming a doctor. He said they were providing Under-Graduate Student Research Scholarships 2020 worth of ₹50 lakh to promote interest in research works among students. The university also received and processed 44 PhD applications. The VC said, "We are offering training on communication skills and soft skills to first-year students for a brief period to enable them confidently communicate with all stakeholders."

Age-old Sankranti traditions on verge of disappearance

MD ILYAS I DC
VIJAYAWADA, JAN. 13

Age-old traditions of Sankranti festivities featuring Haridasulu and Gangiredduvallu appear to be fading from the mainstream of society due to changing times. These two communities had been a constant feature of the three-day harvest festival of Bhogi, Sankranti and Kanuma. But new generations within these communities are reluctant to continue their hierarchical roles.

Haridasulu with Akshayapatra (utensil to collect alms) on head, musical instrument "tambura" on right shoulder and "chidatalu" (cymbals) in left hand chanting "Rama keertans" had been a regular feature. They visited every house during the three-day festival to collect alms.

This year, hardly any Haridasulu have been seen wandering the streets, reflecting poor patronage to the ancient tradition.

Another feature is instead of walking the streets singing keertans, some Haridasulu are now seen going around on mopeds fitted with mini recorders playing keertans. The Akshayapatra has moved from the head to the stand of moped.

Haridasu D. Govardhan said there was a time when they started their wanderings chanting Sankeertans a month before Sankranti. But the new generation is reluctant to follow the tradition. As a result, the art is gradually disappearing. Govardhan said earlier children in their families used to learn Sundarakanda, Bhagavatam and other religious Keertans. The present generation is not interested in them. He pointed out that Dasari community and its sub-castes were the traditional Haridasulu. These groups now have the reservation facility. The younger generation prefers education and jobs, particularly in government sector, than take up the traditional role.

Priest Matham Venkateswarlu explained that in the Kingdom of Lord

Rama, people had been prosperous. There was none to receive "alms". So, Rama created Haridasulu, who just chanted keertans and received alms. Venkateswarlu said since past 15 years, Haridasulu have been gradually disappearing from the scene. There are 20-30 Haridasulu going around this year. Similar is the case of community with Gangireddulu. The community members would adorn their bulls in fineries and bells, visiting every house to collect alms during Sankranti festivities. The bulls would dance on instructions of their masters, a scene enjoyed by kids and elders alike. S. Ramulu, a Gangireddulu community elder, lamented that the present generation is "ashamed of collecting alms". Thus only a few old people are continuing the tradition. Ramulu sought protection of traditions followed by Haridasulu and Gangiredduvallu, as they will let future generations know our ancient traditions and rich cultural heritage.

No action based on caste or religion, says AP DGP

"No one has ever made such allegations against police during my 35 years of service. Police does not act on the basis of caste or religion," he underlined.

The DGP said police are working with dedication in safeguarding the integrity of the state. "The Antavadi incident in September last year was unfortunate. There have been some untoward incidents in the state after Antavadi incident. The government has ordered a CBI probe into it," he pointed out. He recounted that there have been 44 major incidents of alleged attacks on temples during 2020-2021, 38 involving theft of idols and desecration, two cases of chariot burning and four instances of temple premises being dug up. He said 85 persons have been arrested in 29 incidents. Culpripts in 15 cases are yet to be traced.

Details of temple attacks:

Providing details, Gautam Sawang said among the 29 incidents, six have been the handiwork of property offenders looking for treasure in Anantapur, Kurnool, Chittoor, and Prakasam districts. Guntur rural district reported two cases. One case was registered in Pathikonda. Investigation into it showed that the offender resorted to the crime to divert attention from two political groups entering into a quarrel. Three cases were owing to disputes over ownership, one each in YSR Kadapa, West Godavari and East Godavari districts.

The DGP said three cases originated from superstitions at Allagadda, Srikalahasti and Pithapuram. One incident was because of a wild animal in Battuvanipalli. Mentally unsound persons were involved in two cases reported in Bitragunta and Nakapalli. Four cases at Adoni, Gudur, Kakinada and Yelamandalam were the work of drunkards. Seven cases of false propaganda were reported in Anantapur, Prakasam, Guntur Rural, Rajahmundry Urban, Visakhapatnam Rural and two cases surfaced in Srikakulam district. Two cases in Kurnool and Visakhapatnam districts were accidental. He said investigations are in progress in 15 undetected cases. Culpripts will be nabbed and stern action taken against them.

Replying to a question, DGP Sawang said as many as 109 policemen have died due to Coronavirus. Andhra Pradesh Police Department has also received over 100 awards in the technology category.

work. In case of girls, they could be forced into marriage.

Prakasha Rao said AP government has already permitted schools from 6th to 10th classes to run while adhering to Covid-19 protocols. Attendance in these schools has been increasing every day. Considering these facts, the government should restart primary schools in the state while enforcing health and safety guidelines.

He suggested that teachers and parents be briefed about taking care of children properly. Further, a separate grant could be made for purchase of masks, sanitisation of primary schools and cleaning of toilets.

Two persons were killed in a road accident on the Kurnool-Kadapa national highway near Duvvur mandal in Kadapa district after midnight on Tuesday.

According to Duvvur police sub-inspector Siriyala Kulayappa, seven persons from Sundupalle were leaving Hyderabad in a car. It was about 2 am when their vehicle approached Duvvur. The driver, who fell asleep, could not control the vehicle and overturned on the road. A man named Prabhakar died on the spot while a woman named Saranya who was injured died later.

Election fever grips TN as early hustings begin

It is a bit early for Tamil Nadu to go into election mode with at least four more months left for the All India Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (AIADMK) to relinquish power. But it has happened as the principal contender to the throne, the DMK, launched an all-out war to storm Fort St George quite early, forcing the ruling dispensation to quickly respond. Thus, the battle lines have been drawn between the two traditional rivals, who have been ruling the state alternately since 1967, after that indistinct threat that loomed for about a year in the form of actor Rajinikanth dissipated and the other actor, Kamal Haasan, with his Makkal Needhi Maiam, is not expected to play a big role.

Of course, Mr Haasan is around and has already started going around spouting rhetoric and another actor, Seeman, with his Naam Tamilar Katchi is, as usual, spewing chauvinistic vitriol. But there is no scope for a third front to take on the might of the DMK and AIADMK as a plethora of smaller parties in the state, which include the BJP and the Congress that are otherwise political giants at the national level, have started rallying around the Dravidian majors, in the run-up to the state Assembly elections. But the same small parties are now promising to provide scope for some political drama.

The rumblings of discontent in the two coalitions, forged during the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, are signs of potential wrangling, triggered by the overt ambitions of the two lead parties that want to rule the state. Both the DMK and the AIADMK are keen on contesting in an extremely high number of seats, as both are averse to sharing power with allies. For them, alliances are for winning elections and not ruling the state and hence they expect at least a simple majority to form the government on their own. And the fallout is allies not getting the desired number of seats.

In the past, as it happened in 2016, disillusionment over seat allocation had united small parties to form alternative alliances. But this time there is no sign of such rebellions as the small parties seem to be prepared to accept whatever is given, though they have started asserting themselves in a different way. Almost all the parties want to retain their individual identity by contesting in their own symbols and names. Since that goes against the wishes of both the alliance leaders, who want smaller allies to opt for their popular election symbols, thus marking ally candidates, at least in Election Commission records, as their representative, there is bound to be friction and action.

Another thorn in the flesh of the AIADMK is the Pattal Makkal Katchi (PMK) of Dr S. Ramadoss bargaining for an assurance to provide 20 per cent exclusive reservation for the Vanniyar community that it represents to remain in the alliance. How the AIADMK deals with the belligerent PMK and how both the lead partners coax their allies to settle for a smaller numbers of seats would form the next act of the long-drawn electoral drama, whose climax is, as said earlier, four months away.

Policy not court's domain

The value of the committee of four experts appointed by the Supreme Court in arbitrary fashion in an effort to defuse the national political crisis caused by the prolonged agitation by tens of thousands farmers is questionable.

The farmers are knocking on Delhi's gates to protest three farm laws recently passed by the Narendra Modi government. In such haste was the regime that it first brought the legislations in the form of ordinance — or executive fiat — in mid-June and then rushed these through Parliament in three days flat by the end of September, short-circuiting and bypassing norms and procedures.

The top court waded into the delicate situation caused by the agitation, which has attracted world attention, when neither the government nor the farmers called for its help, although during negotiations the government's ministers did tell the farmers' representatives to try their luck in the Supreme Court if they weren't satisfied with what the government was offering. The farmers didn't take the bait. But the court stepped in anyway.

The Supreme Court has held the three laws in abeyance. Maybe, this is in order to appear even-handed. But this is not cutting ice outside government circles. The farmers' demand is the repeal of the laws, which they see as bad policy, adversely impacting their lives. Evidently, the top court does not understand this. Nor does the Supreme Court see that it has no role in determining policy, which is the exclusive domain of the executive.

As per the Supreme Court, the committee it has brought into being will hear all sides and help the apex court understand whether the farm laws are in the "public interest". This self-given assignment is outside the top court's remit. The job of the Supreme Court is to determine the constitutionality or otherwise of a legislation, not whether it is in the public interest. That is for the people to decide. When court-appointed experts seek to do so, it is the ayatollah syndrome that looms.

For the sake of record, all the four experts in the committee are strongly pro-government on the agri laws, and yet the Chief Justice of India expects farmers' representatives to appear before this committee. Instead of seeming the honest broker, the CJI may be courting disdain. What a pity!

Is 'new normal' really a return to the old ways?

Patralekha Chatterjee

Dev 360

Poverty. Inequality. Precarity. Vulnerability. These are mere words, until they hit us directly or confront us in a way which makes it difficult to look away.

A flood of images of migrant workers walking down national highways burst into middle class India's living rooms following the nationwide lockdown announced by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in March last year. The lockdown came into effect with barely four hours' notice. All economic activity came to a grinding halt; and there was no transport.

Those searing images of migrant workers — men and women reduced to collateral damage for the State in its battle against the coronavirus — jolted many people.

Suddenly, everyone was talking about the heart-breaking conditions in which all daily wage earners — the face of the country's vast informal sector — lived and worked.

For a fleeting while, optimists wondered if the Covid-19 pandemic had sleighhammered some fundamental lessons about the need for solidarity between the "formal" and "informal" sectors, if not for anything else but enlightened self-interest.

Almost a year down the line, as we get ready for the vaccine rollout and for the economy to recover fully, what really has changed?

Are we trying to do science and fix the economy in a way that factors in the needs and rights of our most vulnerable? Or is our "new normal" really going back to the old ways?

Last week, once again, images of precarity and poverty came together through the testimonies of desperately poor people who had volunteered to participate in the ongoing clinical trial of Bharat Biotech's Covid-19 vaccine candidate, Covaxin, in Bhopal.

Covaxin, as everyone knows by now, has been cleared by India's drugs controller for restricted emergency use. This means, along with Covishield, the Serum Institute of India's coronavirus vaccine, it is part of the vaccine rollout.

Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech has given safety and immunogenicity data. But there is no efficacy data yet. This data is expected in a couple of months.

Meanwhile, the ongoing trial has attracted a lot of public attention after the allegations of irregularities and violations of ethics. Many questions are being asked about the manner in which People's Hospital in Bhopal, one of the trial sites, enrolled participants for the Covaxin trial.

Once again, we are face to face with stark images of vulnerability.

The video testimonies arranged by a Bhopal-based human rights group in the wake of the death of a participant in the trial made it clear that those who had signed up to participate in the trial had little idea of what it entailed. Bharat Biotech says the post-mortem analysis has revealed that the death was not related to the vaccine. The family of the deceased feel differently.

Most of those who offered their testimonies on camera are victims of the horrific Bhopal gas tragedy, the world's largest industrial disaster in December 1984; and many said that they could not read or write.

What leaps out from among the many statements they made is the stark reality of "informed consent" when it comes to poor people with no education and little bargaining power.

As is widely known, there are four key parts of informed consent in a clinical trial — information, comprehension, voluntariness and documentation. "Giving information does not mean it has been comprehended. According to the new clinical trial rules in India, there should be an 'impartial witness' while informed consent is being taken from an illiterate participant," says Dr Anant Bhan, a well-known researcher in global health and bioethics.

Additionally, for vulnerable participants, there is a requirement for audio-visual documentation of the process, Dr Bhan points out.

"The recent testimonies of volunteers, many of whom are illiterate and poor, for a Covaxin trial site in Bhopal, show big gaps in oversight in the regulatory process," he adds.

Doing science must not mean playing with the basic human rights of vulnerable people, says Dr Bhan emphatically. Clearly, this is in no one's interest and will also raise questions on the quality of data coming out of such trials.

"The seriousness of the allegations made by some volunteers in public in full view of the national media raises a question about whether audio-visual recordings of the informed consent process were done in line with the protocol laid down by the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO)," says Amar Jesani, another leading expert on ethics, rights and health systems and editor, Indian Journal of Medical Ethics.

"This is not filming a wedding party," says Jesani acerbically.

"There is a specific protocol on how these situations need to be filmed. Many of the volunteers are from highly vulnerable groups who did not know their rights. But just because someone does not know his/her rights does not mean rights don't exist." There are many legitimate questions. Do audio-

What leaps out from among the many statements in the Bhopal Covaxin trial is the stark reality of 'informed consent' when it comes to poor people with no education and little bargaining power visual recordings of the informed consent process exist for all trial participants from vulnerable groups? Or was it done for only a few? Why?

"This also raises questions about the role of the local ethics committees. Have they investigated whether the audio-visual recordings were done and according to protocol? If such video recordings exist, they can be made public by blanking the face and identity of participants who have not on their own publicly identified as participants," Jesani adds.

The face of vulnerability is equally stark when it comes to the green shoots of economic recovery.

"There are reasons to fear that economic recovery from the pandemic, like the 'growth story', will be shouldered by precarious labour. An already deep employment crisis is worsening further," wrote SOAS academic Dr Subir Sinha in a recent essay in Open Democracy, a website covering international affairs.

So, is there any reason for hope?

Mukta Naik, an architect and urban planner working with the Centre for Policy Research, acknowledges that many informal workers face "worse terms" as the Indian economy seeks to recover. The images of the long march of migrant workers, she says, sensitised many among India's middle class, but sadly, the lockdown months made them retreat into their individual bubbles.

However, she points out, many states are now talking about social protection for the vulnerable. There is an appetite for discussion on the subject.

But pathways and mechanisms to operationalise this vision are still not clear, Ms Naik says.

That much-needed clarity could make all the difference.

India doesn't have to let millions lead a precarious existence. It could use its resources to build back better.

BEATING THE FAT

During the eight-month lockdown, not just children but also grown-ups, confined to home, put on weight due to lack of exercise. (More eating, no exercise in lockdown days, DC, Jan. 13). We have to order a few uniforms for our children when schools reopen, as they grow quickly. To maintain fitness, I have been playing with a balloon instead of a ball while locked at home. It is good exercise and it is fun too.

The temples imbroglio in Andhra Pradesh should not be allowed to escalate into a communal weapon in the Tirupati Lok Sabha byelection where the BJP may play the card: choose between a 'Bible candidate' or a 'Bhagwad Gita candidate,' thus highlighting the Christian faith of Chief Minister Y.S. FARMER ROW Forty-one farmer unions of Punjab and Haryana are not answerable to anyone in this democratic country, but are a law unto themselves (Farmers say members of SC panel on agri laws pro-gout, DC, Jan 13). They have no faith in the Centre, the Supreme Court and the panel to solve their one point programme of repeal of farm laws. The situation may be complicated if farmer unions in the rest of India come forward in support of three farm laws. The agitating farmers must be amenable to reason.

K'taka home secy shunted out for calling Safe City 'scam'

IPS officer D. Roopa, who was the first woman home secretary of Karnataka has been transferred as the managing director of Karnataka State Handicrafts Development Corporation amid her public spat with another IPS officer Hemant Nimbalkar, who, too, was transferred. Mr Nimbalkar was the additional commissioner (administration) in Bengaluru before being transferred to the internal security department.

Public spats are rarely pretty and the one between these two senior IPS officers of Karnataka over the tender process to procure CCTVs has brought out in the open the intense rivalries in the service. The two IPS officers locked horns after Ms Roopa accused Mr Nimbalkar of irregularities in the tender process of the ₹619 crore Bengaluru Safe City project under the Nirbhaya scheme. Mr Nimbalkar, on the other hand, accused Ms Roopa of interfering with the tender process without jurisdiction.

Ms Roopa had written to state chief secretary T.M. Vijaya Bhaskar alleging that Mr Nimbalkar was trying to favour a private company in the Bengaluru Safe City Project and demanded a probe against Mr Nimbalkar, alleging, in turn, that while the Home Department has started an enquiry against her, it has hesitated to do the same against Mr Nimbalkar, even after months since the CBI sought sanction for his prosecution.

According to sources, Ms Roopa wrote to the chief secretary after media reports that suggested she was under investigation by the chief secretary for allegedly "impersonating" the home secretary and interfering with the tendering process for the multi-crore project. It is unclear where the question of impersonation arises, as Ms Roopa was the home secretary of Karnataka! The content of the report is on the lines of a complaint written by Mr Nimbalkar to the Karnataka chief secretary.

As the two trade charges, sources say that the government has started an inquiry in the matter. Expect more salvos in the days ahead!

KHEMKA DIGS IN HIS HEELS

Haryana IAS officer and whistle-blower Ashok Khemka never gives up on his first principles.

Now principal secretary in the state's archaeological department, the indefatigable Mr Khemka continues to pursue the case which brought him into the national limelight. Last year, Mr Khemka had appealed to the Haryana State Information Commission under the Right to Information Act.

He had sought information relating to the inquiry commission that probed the grant of change of land use licences in Gurugram during the Congress government's tenure, including the alleged role of Robert Vadra, son-in-law of Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi. He informed the information commission that the complete information sought had not been provided to him.

The commission has now issued notice to the office of chief secretary (political department) and the town and country planning department to give their response to the rejoinders filed by Mr Khemka. Sources say that the IAS officer has sought "penal action" under Section 20 of the RTI Act against those who failed to provide the information he had sought, claiming there is a "cover-up attempt". This, too, is the letter of the law.

J&K BABUS DEFY INSTRUCTIONS

The government has taken serious note of several IAS officers of the Jammu and Kashmir cadre openly flouting instructions on the online filing of immovable property returns (IPRs). Non-compliance can lead to disciplinary proceedings and denial of vigilance clearance.

According to sources, online filing of IPRs was introduced in 2017. In terms of the extant rules, the babus have to necessarily file IPRs electronically as there is no provision for manual submission.

But much to the disappointment of the department of personnel and training (DoPT) and the general administration department (GAD), several IAS officers have not acted on the instructions issued repeatedly since 2017. Now, sources say, the commissioner secretary of GAD, Manoj Kumar Dwivedi, has issued a circular stating that failure to comply would "constitute good and sufficient reason for the institution of disciplinary proceedings". The IAS officers have been advised to follow the instructions in letter and spirit or face the consequences. The government has clearly decided that it will not give further leeway to the defaulters.

Major blaze in Kolkata

Kolkata: A major fire broke out at a slum in Kolkata's Bagbazar area on Wednesday evening. At least 24 fire tenders were pressed into service as the blaze engulfed several houses in the slum on Kshirode Vidyaninod Avenue beside the Bagbazar Women's College near the Chitapore Lock Gate Bridge. Blasts were heard in the slum which police suspect to be of gas cylinders at the houses on fire, officials said. There were no reports of any casualty as most of the people were evacuated on time, they said. The blaze also spread to the adjacent Sarada Mayer Bari as the firefighters escorted the saints out, an officer of the fire department said. "The reason for the fire is not yet known. The firemen are fighting it tooth and nail and hopefully, it will soon be under control," an officer of the Kolkata Police said.

BADAUN CASE: PRIEST REMANDED TO POLICE CUSTODY

Badaun (UP), Jan. 13: A temple priest and his accomplices accused of raping and killing a 50-year-old woman here have been remanded to one-day police custody by a local court. Circle officer of Bilsa, Anirudh Singh, said on Wednesday that, "The three accused persons in the Ughaiti incident have already been sent to jail. But there are some questions which need to be answered. For this, it is necessary to take the three accused on remand". A request through video conferencing was made to the court of the chief judicial magistrate for police remand on Tuesday and the request was granted. The family members of the woman had accused the temple priest and his accomplices of raping and killing the woman, an anganwadi worker. A case was registered against the accused and two of them identified as Vedram and Jaspal were arrested on January 5. Later the priest was also arrested.

States all set to start vaccination

DC CORRESPONDENTS

HYDERABAD, JAN. 13

Ahead of the January 16 vaccination deadline, states have started receiving the vaccines from the Central government to be administered to the front-line health workers on priority basis among others.

MAHARASHTRA

Even before the inoculation of Covid Vaccine began, Maharashtra health minister Rajesh Tope on Wednesday alleged that the state has received less doses of the vaccine than its requirement. Mr Tope said that the state has received only 9.63 lakh vials of Covishield vaccine from the SII (Serum Institute of India) and only 20,000 vials from the Bharat Biotech, while the requirement of the vaccines in Maharashtra is 17.5 lakh in first phase.

KERALA

With the first consignment of Covishield vaccine from Serum institute of India arriving in Kochi on Wednesday, the state is all set to launch its vaccine drive. Kerala will receive a total of 4,33,500 doses of Covishield.

ASSAM

Assam government has completed the preparation for rolling out the vaccine on January 16 as it received the first consignment of the vaccine at the Lokpriya Gopinath Bordoloi International Airport. A SpiceJet freighter ferried over 730 kg of cargo in 20 boxes having doses to be distributed for Assam and Meghalaya. A senior health official said that in the first lot the state got 2,01,500 doses.

ODISHA

A day after receiving 4.08 lakh doses of Covid-19 vaccine Covishield from Serum Institute of India, Odisha on Wednesday got the first consignment of Bharat Biotech's Covaxin dispatched from Hyderabad. The consignment of 20,000 doses of Covaxin landed at Biju Patnaik International Airport.

MADHYA PRADESH

The first consignment of 94,000 doses of Covishield vaccine reached Bhopal airport from Mumbai on Wednesday. The vaccine vials were transported to the state vaccine Centre in Bhopal from Raja Bhoj airport in an insulated van of state health department, an official of state public relations department said.

CHHATTISGARH

As many as 3.23 doses of Covishield reached Raipur in Chhattisgarh from Pune on Wednesday afternoon to kick off the first phase of vaccination in the state. "The vaccine vials were shifted in refrigerated vans to the state vaccine Centre in Raipur", Chhattisgarh's Mission Director for National Health Mission Priyanka Shukla said.

WEST BENGAL

A vehicle carrying Covid-19 vaccine was stuck in a traffic jam in Burdwan

East of West Bengal on Wednesday for a long time due to a massive demonstration led by Trinamul Congress minister and Jamiat Ulema-e-Hind state chief Siddiquillah Chowdhury against the three farm laws. The incident took place a day after the first consignment of Covid-19 vaccine reached the state.

Mr Chowdhury however said, "It was not intentional. The truck with the vaccine was stuck at the end of a long queue of vehicles. The police, soon after coming to know about it, helped it pass by through a different route."

150-m cross-border tunnel found in J&K

This is the 3rd tunnel unearthed by alert BSF guards

Security officers investigate near the mouth of a 150-metre underground tunnel, constructed allegedly by Pakistan beneath IB, at Hiranagar sector of Kathua district on Wednesday.

ing a depth of 25 to 30 metre with two to three feet diameter. Asked whether this tunnel was recently dug or it's an old one, the BSF officer said it is a matter of investigation. However, he said some of the sand bags recovered from the tunnel have 2016-17 year of manufacture which suggest that it is an old tunnel. "We were searching for this tunnel for a long time and its detection was the effort of the anti-tunnelling operation which is underway all along the IB. Whether any infiltration had taken place through this tunnel in the past can be said after completion of our investigation," he said. Jamwal, however, said the BSF is sure that no infiltration had taken place through this tunnel in the recent past. "We are undertaking some development works here and have strengthened the security in view of the anti-tunnelling drive, he said. Referring to the killing of two Pakistani infiltrators in Surankote area of Poonch district and an encounter in Srinagar last month, the IG said Pakistan is always looking for an opportunity to push terrorists into Jammu Kashmir, whether it is through Line of Control (LoC) or

IB. "They are continuing with the attempts but we are fully alert to the situation. Our alertness resulted in detection of underground tunnels and shooting down of a Hexa-copter loaded with a huge cache of arms and ammunition," he said, adding the border protection grid comprising army, BSF and police are working jointly to scuttle Pakistan's attempts to push terrorists and weapons into this side.

Last year, the BSF detected two such tunnels in Samba district on August 28 and November 22 following successful infiltration by two groups of terrorists who were subsequently neutralised in separate encounters along Jammu-Srinagar national highway while they were enroute to Kashmir in trucks.

While three Pakistani terrorists affiliated with Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) were eliminated in a gunfight in Nagrota area near Jammu after they were intercepted aboard a Kashmir-bound truck in January last year, another group of Pakistani terrorists armed with weapons and a large quantity of grenades were killed at the same spot on November 19.

Investigations suggested both the groups infiltrated into this side through underground tunnels.

Meanwhile, Pakistani Rangers violated ceasefire by resorting to unprovoked firing on forward posts and villages in the Border Outpost area of Gurnam in Hiranagar sector, the officials said. — PTI

HC: Mandate of 30 days notice under Spl Marriage Act optional

Lucknow, Jan. 13: In a judgement that is likely to bring relief to inter faith couples, the Allahabad High Court on Wednesday declared as optional the mandatory publication of notice of intended marriages under the Special Marriage Act, saying it violated the right to privacy. Making such publication mandatory would invade in the fundamental rights of liberty and privacy, the Lucknow bench of Allahabad High Court said.

It would also affect the couple's freedom to choose marriage "without interference from state and non-state actors", Justice Vivek Chaudhary said.

He said it shall be optional for the parties to the intended marriage to make a request in writing to the marriage officer to publish or not to publish such a notice.

If the couple did not intend so, the marriage officer has to solemnise their marriage forthwith without publication of 30 days notice, the court said.

A section of the Special Marriage Act, 1954, requires an inter-faith couple to give written notice of the marriage to the district marriage officer.

The court was considering a habeas corpus petition alleging that an adult girl is being detained against her wishes to marry her lover who belongs to a different religion.

The judgement comes against the backdrop of a recent controversial law enacted by the Uttar Pradesh government which prohibits forcible conversion for the sake of marriage. — PTI

Mother of murdered 5-year-old moves SC

AKSHAYA KUMAR SAHOO | DC BHUBANESWAR, JAN. 13

In a development in the case involving the brutal murder of a five-year-old girl from Jadupur village in Odisha's Nayagarh district, the mother of the victim on Wednesday moved the Supreme Court seeking Central Bureau of Investigation CBI investigation.

Admitting the petition, the apex Court sent notices to the Odisha government and the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) to put forth their views.

Saudamini Sahoo, the mother of the victim filed a writ petition under Article 32 of the Constitution of India in exercise of her right to Constitutional remedies. Soudamini has been opposing the investigation into the case launched by a Special Investigation Team (SIT) of the Odisha Crime Branch apprehending a shoddy probe on account of the alleged involvement of influential politicians.

She had repeatedly punched holes in the findings of the SIT and alleged that the probe team had falsely implicated a juvenile in the case while the real culprits were moving scot-free.

Ashok alleged that Babuli ran an organ trade racket in the area.

SC TAKES SUO MOTU COGNIZANCE OF RISING POLLUTION IN YAMUNA RIVER

PARMOD KUMAR | DC NEW DELHI, JAN. 13

The Supreme Court on Wednesday took suo motu cognizance of the rising pollution level in river Yamuna in the national capital and appointed senior counsel Meenakshi Arora as amicus curiae to assist the court in the matter.

Chief Justice Sharas A. Bobde heading a bench also comprising Justice A.S. Bopanna and Justice V. Ramasubramanian took suo motu cognizance of the pollution level in the river Yamuna in the course of the hearing of a plea by Delhi Jal Board complaining that Haryana was discharging untreated wastewater in the river which has resulted increase in the ammonia level in the river.

While taking suo motu cognizance of the pollution in river Yamuna, the top court also issued notice to Haryana on a plea by Delhi Jal Board.

Arora appearing for Delhi Jal Board told the court that the sewage treatment plants for treating waste water set up by Haryana government at different points on the river Yamuna were not working as a consequence untreated wastewater was flowing in the river contributing to an increase in the ammonia level.

Arora told the court that due to an increase in the ammonia level in river Yamuna, it was becoming unfit for consumption and ammonia mixing with other pollutants had the potential to cause cancer.

Coupled with this, she told the court that the rising ammonia level was impacting the working of the water treatment plants installed by the Delhi Jal Board for the treatment of waste water.

US Covid toll hits new daily record of 4.5K

Washington, Jan. 13: The US death toll from Covid-19 hit a new daily record of nearly 4,500, Johns Hopkins University said Tuesday evening. As the health crisis rages out of control in the US, this was the first time the toll in the country hardest hit by the pandemic surpassed 4,000 in 24 hours. The US recorded more than 235,000 new cases of Coronavirus infection and 4,470 deaths, according to the Johns Hopkins tally as of 8:30 pm (0130 GMT).

Around 131,000 people are now hospitalised in the US with Covid-19, said the Covid Tracking Project. The weekly average of fatalities is at its highest level since the pandemic started, it said.

Faced with these grim numbers and the presence of the new, more contagious Covid variant, authorities announced Tuesday that people wishing to fly to the US must show proof of a negative Covid test prior to departure.

The country, where health restrictions vary drastically between states and compliance can be spotty, is ultimately counting on a massive vaccination campaign begun in mid-December to bring the health crisis to an end.

But the effort is running behind, with just 9.3 million people having received the first of two injections of the two vaccines authorized in America. That is less than 10 percent of the population. — AFP

VIRUS TEST FOR PASSENGERS LANDING IN U.S.

New York, Jan. 13: Anyone flying to the US will soon need to show proof of a negative test for Covid-19, health officials have announced. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention requirement expands on a similar one announced late last month for passengers coming from the United Kingdom.

Covid is already widespread in the US, with more than 22 million cases reported to date, including more than 375,000 deaths. The new measures are designed to try to prevent travellers from bringing in newer forms of the virus that scientists say can spread more easily.

The CDC order is to take effect in about two weeks, on January 26. It requires air passengers to get a Covid-19 test within three days before their flight departs to the US, and to provide written proof of the test result to the airline. Travellers can also provide documentation that they had the infection in the past and recovered.

Airlines are ordered to stop passengers from boarding if they don't have proof of a negative test or a prior infection. "Testing does not eliminate all risk," CDC Director Robert R. Redfield said. — AFP

Pence refuses to invoke 25th Amendment

Washington, Jan. 13: US Vice President Mike Pence told House leaders Tuesday he does not support invoking the 25th Amendment process to remove Donald Trump, all but guaranteeing an impeachment vote against the besieged president. "With just eight days left in the President's term, you and the Democratic Caucus are demanding that the Cabinet and I invoke the 25th Amendment," Pence wrote to House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, referring to the process that would declare Trump unable to fulfill his duties and install Pence as acting president for the remainder of the term. "I do not believe that such a course of action is in the best interest of our nation or consistent with our Constitution," he said.

Democrats mobilised rapidly to begin the process to have Trump removed after he encouraged his supporters last Wednesday to "march" to the US Capitol and "fight." In a violent insurrection, the rioters stormed past outnumbered police, rampaged through and ransacked the building, and interrupted Congress as it was certifying Joe Biden's election victory.

The Democratic-controlled US House of Representatives, which is rushing ahead towards impeaching Trump over the unprecedented Capitol Hill attack, has passed a resolution urging Vice President Mike Pence to invoke 25th Amendment to remove him from office.

The resolution was voted by 223 to 205 votes on Tuesday night. The voting was mostly on party lines, with one Republican voting in favour of the resolution and five abstaining.

Earlier in the day Trump said the 25th Amendment was of "zero risk" to him. — Agencies

CAPITOL HILL RIOTERS: 160 FBI PROBES

Washington, Jan. 13: The FBI has opened more than 160 investigations against the January 6 Capitol Hill rioters, officials said here, and asserted this is just the tip of the iceberg. The agency has worked hand-in-hand with the United States Attorney's Office and law enforcement partners in DC and across the country to arrest and charge multiple individuals who took part in last week's breach of the US Capitol, FBI Washington Field Office Assistant Director In-Charge Steven M D'Antuono said.

"In six days, we have opened over 160 case files, and that's just the tip of the iceberg," he said, adding the FBI has received more than 100,000 pieces of digital media. — PTI

Despite threats, Navalny to fly home

Moscow, Jan. 13: Top Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny said Wednesday he would go home to Russia over the weekend despite the Russian prison service's latest motion to put him behind bars for allegedly breaching the terms of his suspended sentence and probation. Navalny, who has been convalescing in Germany from an August poisoning with a nerve agent that he has blamed on the Kremlin, charged that Russian President Vladimir Putin was now trying to deter him from coming home with new legal motions. The Kremlin has repeatedly denied a role in the opposition leader's poisoning. — AP

SEARCH ON FOR VOICE RECORDER

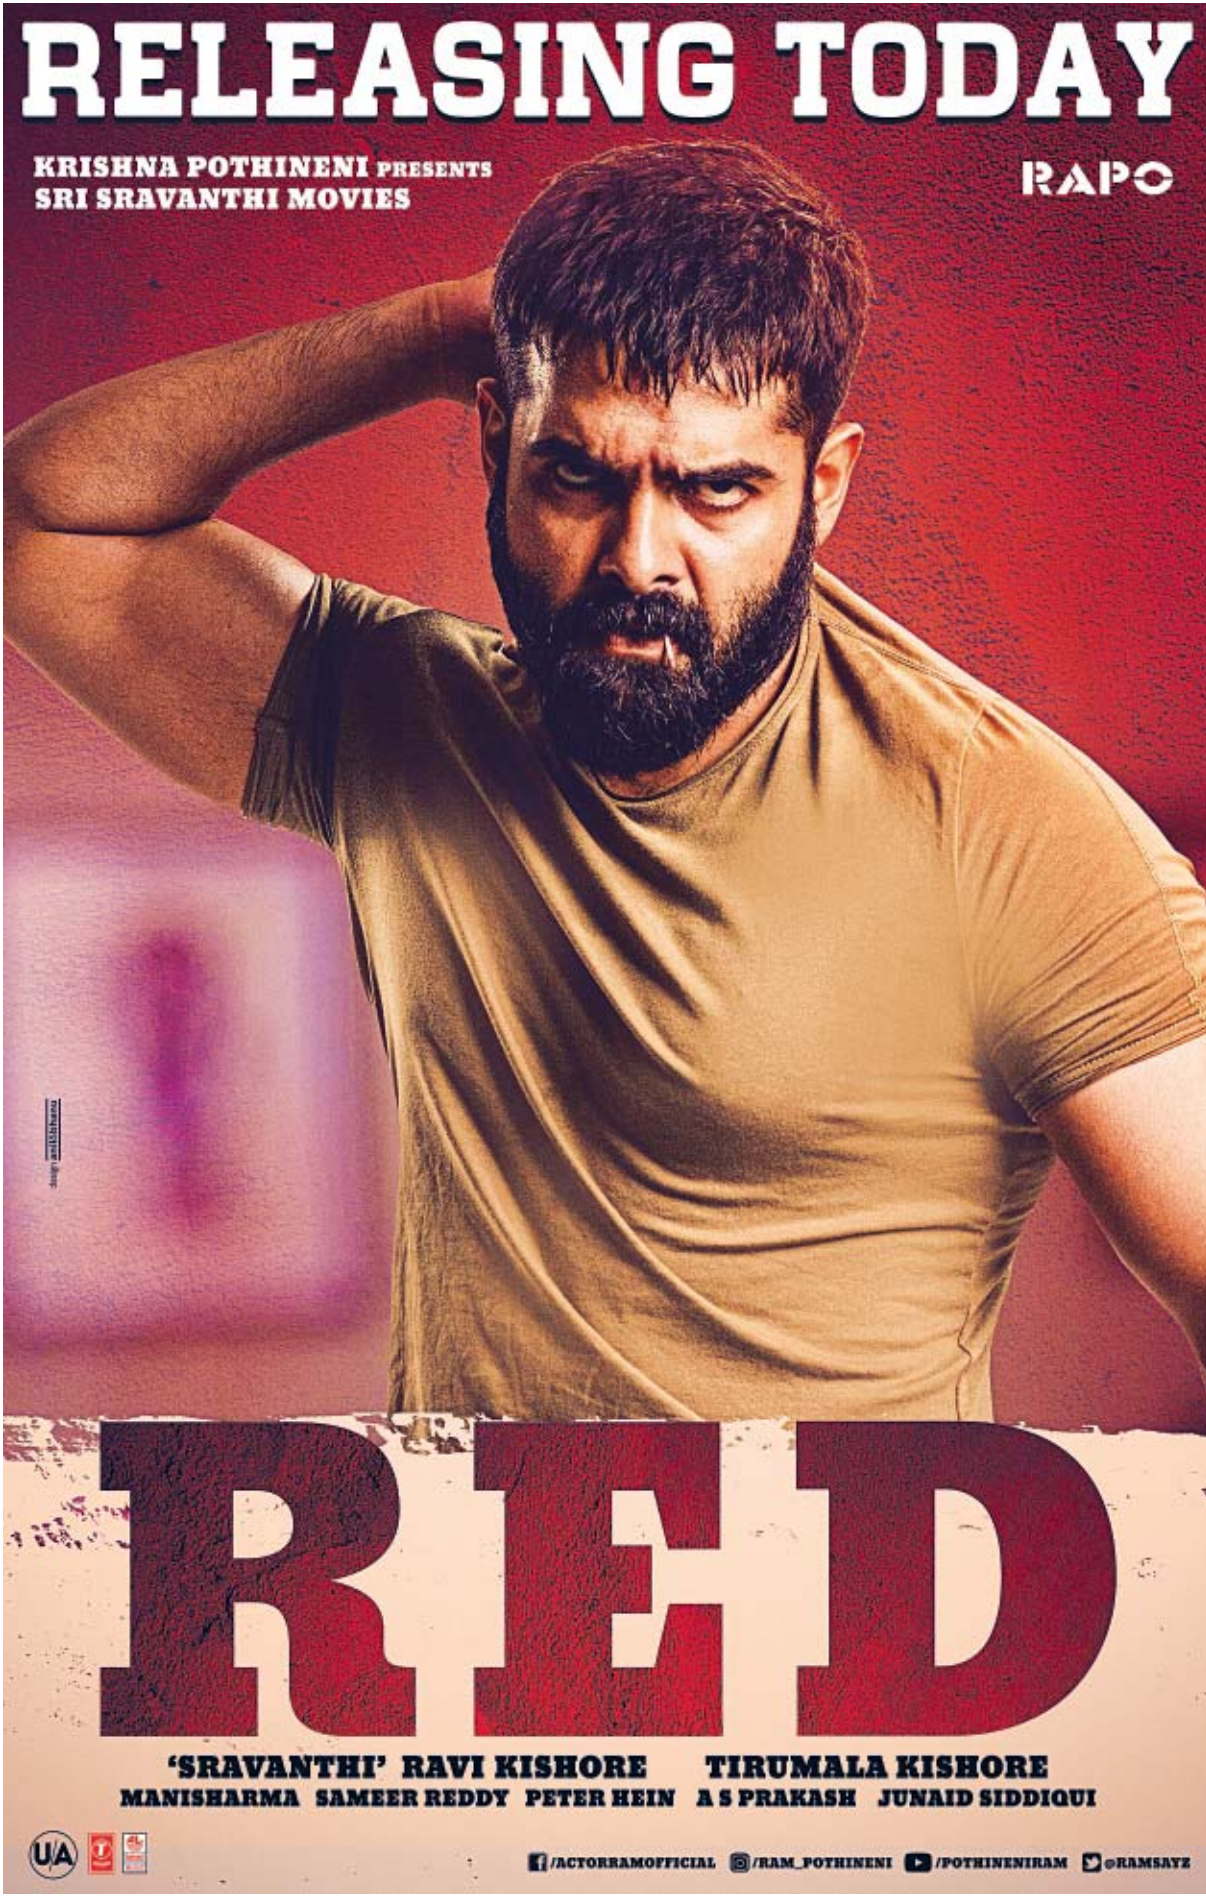

Jakarta, Jan. 13: Divers searching for a crashed jet's cockpit voice recorder were sifting through mud and plane debris on the seabed between Indonesian islands on Wednesday to retrieve information key to learning why the Sriwijaya Air jet nosedived into the Java Sea over the weekend.

Indonesian navy divers on Tuesday recovered the flight data recorder from the jet that disappeared on Saturday, minutes after taking off from Jakarta with 62 people aboard. The information on both black boxes will be key to the crash investigation.

The 26-year-old Boeing 737-500 had resumed commercial flights last month after almost nine months out of service because of flight outbacks caused by the Covid pandemic. The US Federal Aviation Administration sent an airworthiness directive requiring operators of various Boeing 737 aircraft models, including the 737-500, to carry out engine checks before they can be flown again after being out of service.

The order followed reports of engines shutting down in mid-flight because of corrosion in a key valve. Director General of Air Transportation Novie Riyanto said the plane was inspected on December 2, including checks for engine corrosion, and was declared airworthy by Indonesia's Transportation Ministry on December 14. It resumed commercial flights on December 22, according to ministry data.

After returning to service, the plane made 132 flights, including the last one, according to aviation-data firm Flightradar24. Aviation experts said planes that are parked for long stretches can be returned to flight safely. — AP

TEXTILE SALES RECOVERING EVEN AFTER FESTIVE SEASON

SANGEETHA G
CHENNAI, JAN. 13

The domestic textile sector, which started recovering during the festive season, is keeping up the momentum even in Q4.

"People are buying on e-commerce platforms and they have started going out also. Vaccine is acting as a feel-good factor. The recovery momentum would continue till the end of the fiscal," said Sidharth Rajagopal, executive director of Texprocil.

Rating firm Ica too finds that the recovery will be supported by the opening up of economies and markets, improved consumer confidence levels and continued pick up in discretionary spending. This builds on the growth seen in the recent months due to pent-up demand and festive buying.

However, the growth in some segments involving discretionary spends or aspirational buying such as formal, party wear and mid to high-value casual wear, is likely to remain lower compared to other essential product categories such as active/lounge wear and affordable-to-medium value casual apparels, given the shift witnessed in consumer usage and preferences. Within fabrics, the cotton knitted fabric segment as well as blended fabrics are likely to perform better, given their higher usage in casual or lounge wear.

Sebi bans CNBC Awaaz show host from market

New Delhi, Jan. 13: Regulator Sebi on Wednesday barred CNBC Awaaz show host Hemant Ghai, his wife and mother from the capital markets for indulging in fraudulent trading practices.

Hemant Ghai had the advance information about the recommendation to be made on the "stock 20-20" show, co-hosted by him, and that he directly or indirectly used it to his advantage, Sebi said in an interim order.

The show features recommendations on certain stocks to be bought and sold during the day.

In addition, he has been directed to cease and desist from undertaking any activity related to giving investment advice, publishing of research reports related to the securities market, till further directions.

Global export growth seen at -5.6%

SANGEETHA G
CHENNAI, JAN. 13

The United Nation's trade body has upwardly revised its projection of global merchandise trade for 2020 from a double-digit decline to a single-digit drop. However, it would still be the lowest growth for merchandise export volumes since the 2008 financial crisis.

In June, Unctad had predicted that merchandise trade would see an annual decline of 20 per cent in 2020. In the second quarter, trade had dropped by 27 per cent. However, there has been a recovery in the third quarter and the fourth quarter over the previous quarters. Taking this recovery into account, Unctad now predicts that global merchandise export values and volumes for 2020 are expected to be -5.6 and -8.7 per cent lower than levels seen in 2019.

The third quarter saw a robust recovery in values, which grew by 20.1 per cent from the bleak second quarter. Third quarter official statistics have not yet been released for merchandise export volumes, for which growth is nowcast by Unctad at 8.1 per cent quarter-over-quarter.

The recovery in merchandise export values and volumes is likely to continue in the fourth quarter, though not at quite the same pace. Values and volumes are nowcast to grow in the fourth quarter by 11.6 and 3.3 per cent quarter-over-quarter, respectively. This growth comes despite the continuing spread of Covid-19, especially in the US and Europe, which has necessitated the reinstatement of lockdown measures.

Book that forecast US's decline due to domestic conflicts 30 years ago now sells for $2,500

America against America is most sought after book in China

Jan. 13: After chaos engulfed the US Capitol last week, some Chinese intellectuals found themselves searching for copies of an out-of-print book to make sense of events. "America Against America" forecast the US's decline due to domestic conflicts more than 30 years ago.

Among the things driving demand was the author: Wang Huning, the Communist Party's No. 5 leader and top political theorist to three Chinese presidents. Some copies have surged to more than 16,600 yuan ($2,500) on Kungfuzi, an online marketplace for antiques. That's more than 3,000 times its original asking price in 1991, when Japan was more widely seen as America's big economic rival.

"The interest in the book is the result of a renewed desire to understand a US that is in the midst of a civil cold war," said Wang Wen, executive dean of Renmin University's Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies. "China's doubts about the US will certainly increase in light of recent events."

The Capitol Hill turmoil is being read in Beijing as the most powerful sign yet that societal fissures in the US are behind increasingly erratic foreign policy shifts. That's feeding Chinese apprehension about reaching agreements on trade or other politically charged disputes with president-elect Joe Biden.

"The instability of a negotiation partner means that its public credibility is on the decline and the risk of breaking contracts or promises is greater," Wang Wen said on Tuesday.

Such skepticism illustrates how Washington's political strife is compounding Biden's challenge of stabilising US relationships around the world after four years of shocks and surprises under President Donald Trump. Among his most difficult tasks will be convincing China's Xi Jinping to make concessions that go beyond the "phase one" trade deal announced by Trump a year ago.

Not only did that agreement fail to address most of the Trump administration's biggest trade grievances, including government support for strategic industries and stronger action on state-run enterprises, but China has purchased little more than half of the $172 billion worth of US goods it agreed to buy last year under the deal. Disputes between the two countries have since spiralled into everything from microchips to Taiwan, as Trump increasingly sought to blame China for his election year difficulties.

Meanwhile, Xi appears to have moved on, buoyed by early success against the coronavirus and a resilient economy. Xi has lately emphasised "self-sufficiency" and girded for a prolonged struggle, urging local officials earlier this week to "not only dare to fight, but also be good at fighting," according to the official Xinhua News Agency. State media accuses the US of abandoning four decades of engagement in favour of containment.

As Washington was gripped by one of the most divisive presidential transitions ever, Xi finalised a long-sought investment deal with the European Union that touches on many of the issues left out of the US pact. The agreement had been championed by German chancellor Angela Merkel, a key American ally who early in the Trump presidency declared that Europe could no longer rely on others.

"While both sides have paid a price for the trade war, the US will suffer more in the long run because it damaged its position and reputation as the central pillar of global trade and commerce," said Mei Xinyu, who is with a research group under the Ministry of Commerce in Beijing.

Wang Huning's book, which was written during an academic visit to the US in 1988, predicted that America's emphasis on "individualism, hedonism and democracy" would eventually cause rifts that sapped its competitive drive. Countries like Japan—built on "collectivism, selflessness and authoritarianism"—had the upper hand, said Wang Huning, who's now one of seven people on the politburo's supreme Standing Committee.

That thesis hasn't stood up so well over the past three decades: of the US's two main rivals of that era—Japan and the Soviet Union—one collapsed and the other saw its economy stagnate. That left the US as the world's undisputed superpower, and today it still boasts the world's most powerful military and biggest economy, powered by waves of successive innovation-driven technology booms.

But confidence is growing in China that the balance may be shifting. Besides the transition chaos, the US's struggles against the coronavirus, racial justice protests and gun violence—subjects featured prominently in China's state-run media—have fed the narrative of American decline. —Bloomberg

Saina, Srikanth win, Kashyap hurt

Bangkok: Shuttleer Saina Nehwal and former world number one Kidambi Srikanth entered the second rounds of their respective events but Parupalli Kashyap made an early exit from the Thailand Open Super 1000 tournament here on Wednesday.

Saina got the better of Selvadurai Kisona of Malaysia 21-15, 21-15 in the women's singles opening round to set up a clash with Thailand's Busanan Ongbamrungphan.

Earlier in the day, Srikanth took just 31 minutes to prevail over compatriot Sourabh Verma 21-12, 21-11 in the men's singles, but Kashyap was forced to retire midway in his opening-round match against Jason Anthony Ho-Shue of Canada after pulling his calf muscle while trailing 8-14 in the third game.

Manchester Utd on EPL table top

Burnley: Paul Pogba sent Manchester United to the top of the English Premier League by scoring with a deflected volley in a 1-0 win at Burnley. United came into the match at Turf Moor knowing at least a point would move the team into first place for the first time at this stage of the season since Alex Ferguson was in charge of the title-winning 2012-13 side. Pogba met a cross from Marcus Rashford with a first-time effort from the edge of the box that deflected off Burnley defender Matt Lowton and through the legs of goalkeeper Nick Pope in the 71st. It gave United a three-point lead over Liverpool heading into their meeting at Anfield on Sunday.

The video assistant referee provided the main talking point, with Burnley's last man, Robbie Brady, avoiding sanction for bringing down Edinson Cavani outside the area because of a foul by United left back Luke Shaw. — AP

Oz coach blames IPL Langer says 2020 edition cause for growing injury list

Brisbane, Jan. 13: He loves the IPL, but Australia coach Justin Langer on Wednesday questioned the timing of the last year's edition, which he believes could have been a contributing factor in the injury setbacks that both his and the Indian team have endured in the ongoing series.

The IPL was held in the September-November window in 2020 in the United Arab Emirates due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The lucrative tournament is usually held in India during the April-May window.

"It is really interesting how many injuries (it) has been throughout this summer. I can't help and think that the IPL this year (2020) was in really, probably wasn't ideal timing for anyone, certainly for such a big series like this," Langer said.

The latest addition to the Indian injury list is Ravindra Jadeja and Jasprit Bumrah. For Australia, David Warner was a big blow but he recovered in time for the last two Tests.

Langer was all praise for the IPL saying it helps in development of young players but was critical of the previous edition's timing. "I love the IPL, I look at IPL now like I used to look at county cricket for our young players. They go and play county cricket and it helps them (in) their cricket development enormously, I think it is the same with the IPL, helps their white-ball development. But the timing of it probably wasn't ideal, and I wonder whether that is having an impact on the injuries that we are seeing for both teams," he said.that. — PTI

LIMPING INDIA TRAIN AHEAD OF BRISBANE TEST

Brisbane, Jan. 13: The injury-ravaged Indian team on Wednesday underwent their first training session at the Gabba here, hoping to field 11 fit players in the series-deciding fourth Test against Australia.

Ruled out of the last Test with an abdominal strain, pace spearhead Jasprit Bumrah still accompanied the visiting team for its training session.

The likes of Rohit Sharma, Shubman Gill, skipper Ajinkya Rahane and others were seen in their training kits. Bumrah, though, was not in his training outfit as he got involved in a discussion with bowling coach Bharat Arun.

"After an epic fightback in Sydney, it is time to regroup. We have begun our preparations for the final Test at the Gabba!" the BCCI tweeted.

Chinaman bowler Kuldeep Yadav was seen bowling at the nets and there is a chance that he could be picked for the match with influential all-rounder Ravindra Jadeja, ruled out due to a fractured thumb.

Also at the session were seamer Shardul Thakur and all-rounder Washington Sundar. Either T. Natarajan or Shardul is likely to replace Bumrah in the playing XI at Gabba, forming a new-look pace attack alongside Mohammed Siraj and Navdeep Saini. — PTI

Jaisimha and his lion-hearted battle in Brisbane

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 13

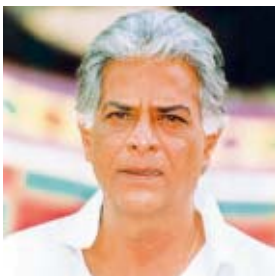

With the Indian cricket team battling injuries before the Brisbane Test starting on Friday, here's a Hyderabad connection to the venue as well as bruises. M. L. Jaisimha will be most remembered for his epic endeavour at Brisbane over half-a-century ago. His knocks of 74 and 101 saw the chase for India's first victory overseas fall agonisingly short by 39 runs.

Omitted from the original touring side for the 1967-78 series in Australia, he was called up after B. S. Chandrasekhar had to return home with an ankle injury. The lead-up to that leap across continents was anything but pleasant.

From the depths of despair to being hailed by doyens of cricket and its writing, the career-defining journey is recounted in My way — The biography of M. L. Jaisimha (Amazon, Apple Books).

Leg spin legend Bill O'Reilly noted: "Indian cricket must be possessing riches... if it could afford to overlook a performer so abundantly gifted as Jaisimha." O'Reilly's Bodyline teammate Jack Fingleton was even more effusive.

"Jaisimha is a naturally good cricketer. He must be so to bat so assuredly today after not even one good net practice. Jaisimha is an extremely pleasant batsman to watch, with correct upright stance, free and flawless backswing of the bat with strokes on all sides. His footwork is exemplary. So one fell to wondering why this debonair and elegant batsman shaping excellently in a crisis was not in India's original side," he observed.

To later generations who do not know the 'Victorious Lion,' that his name translates to, 'Jai' packed a panache all his own, be it as Test player, South Zone captain, Indian team manager, national selector and TV commentator.

His famed acumen always placed team interests above his own. Post-playing days, that same keen sense saw him alone forecast a tie in the 1986 Chennai Test against Australia. On July 7, 1999, the dashing Hyderabad took his last walk to that great pavilion in the sky.
