FARMERS GET PERMISSION FOR DELHI PROTEST

SANJAY KAW and BHASKAR HARI SHARMA | DC
NEW DELHI, NOV. 27

Thousands of farmers on Friday braved batons, teargas and water cannons along the Delhi-Haryana border before the authorities allowed them to march towards the national capital as part of their "Delhi Chalo" protest against the Centre's farm laws.

Punjab Chief Minister Capt. Amarinder Singh was the first one to welcome the Centre's decision to allow the protesters to enter the city.

Union agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar reiterated that the government would hold talks next week. "We have invited farmers' organisations for another round of talks on December 3. I appeal to them to leave the agitation in view of Covid-19 and winter."

REBEL TRINAMUL MINISTER QUILTS AHEAD OF POLLS

RAJIB CHOWDHURI | DC
KOLKATA, NOV. 27

Dealing a double blow to the Trinamul Congress ahead of next year's Assembly polls in West Bengal, rebel TMC minister Shubendu Adhikari resigned from chief minister Mamata Banerjee's Cabinet on Friday, while another disgruntled party MLA Mihir Goswami reached New Delhi to join the BJP.

Both have distanced themselves from their party, fuelling speculation of their defection to the BJP, which has also kept the door ajar for them. The TMC heavyweight, who was the face of Ms Banerjee's famous land movement in Nandigram was the minister of transport, environment and water resources investigation.

AP okays relief for rain victims

Chief Minister to conduct aerial survey today

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The state Cabinet on Friday decided to compensate farmers for crop loss that they incurred on account of devastating Cyclone Nivar and supply seeds at 80 per cent subsidised price. The government would also distribute ₹500 to each evacuee staying at cyclone relief camps.

The cabinet, which met under the leadership of Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy, has also decided to complete enumeration of crop loss during the recent heavy rains by December 15 and compensation would be paid by December 31.

The Chief Minister would conduct an aerial survey of the affected areas on Saturday.

Briefing the media after the Cabinet meeting, agriculture minister K. Kannababu said the effect of the cyclone Nivar was thoroughly discussed.

"People staying at the relief camps would be given ₹500 each while returning home, and the crop loss enumeration would be completed by December 15 and compensation would be paid

Cyclone ravages coastal districts

DC CORRESPONDENT
NELLORE, NOV. 27

Before weakening after the landfall, Cyclone Nivar left a trail of destruction to the crops, roads and buildings in various parts of Andhra Pradesh. The cyclone also claimed the lives of two persons in Chittoor district on Friday.

Crop damage in thousands of acres was reported from East Godavari, Prakasam, Nellore, Chittoor, Kadapa and Kurnool districts.

In Nellore district, inflows into Somasila led to inundation of some habitations on the banks of the Penna river from Somasila to Nellore, by December 31. There would be an 80 per cent subsidy on seeds to farmers in the affected areas," the minister said.

He further said ex-gratia and compensation for apart from damaging standing crops, paddy nurseries and horticulture crops in thousands of acres. The Penna water entered the ancient temple of Sri Talpagiri Rangandha Swamy at Nellore.

Causing innumerable problems to the travelling public, traffic on the National Highway No. 16 came to a grinding halt due to breaches to a diversion road close to Adi Sankara Engineering College near Gudur. An alternative road has been laid on war-footing and traffic has been restored by Friday evening.

Why shift capital after you spent so much money: HC

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The Andhra Pradesh High Court on Friday asked the state government how it could relocate the capital city by setting up an administrative capital in Visakhapatnam even after spending thousands of crores of rupees on the Amaravati capital region.

The court, while hearing a batch of petitions on the decentralisation of administration by setting up three capitals — turning Amaravati, Visakhapatnam, and Kurnool into legislative, administrative and judicial hubs respectively — made critical comments on the state government's decision to relocate the capital city.

The court observed that there was no such precedence anywhere in the country and commented that the act of the state government was tantamount to flouting constitutional provisions. The court observed that it would not tolerate the abuse of public money and would intervene on the issue if warranted.

GDP growth betters in Q2

MADHUSUDAN SAHOO | DC
NEW DELHI, NOV. 27

Amidst hopes of development of a vaccine for Covid-19 disease, the Indian economy rebounded at a faster-than-expected pace in the July-September quarter, helped by a pick-up in manufacturing. The GDP contracted by 7.5 per cent during the quarter, which is lower than economists' projection of 8.5 to 10.5 per cent, signalling a sharp recovery from the plunge of 23.9 per cent in the June quarter.

"India's real GDP fell to 7.5 per cent in the July-September quarter compared to a contraction of 23.9 per cent in the three months ended June. The GDP at constant (2011-12) prices in Q2 of 2020-21 is estimated at ₹33.14 lakh crores, as against ₹35.84 lakh crores in Q2 of 2019-20, showing a contraction of 7.5 per cent," data by the ministry of statistics showed.

Reacting to the data, chief economic adviser K. V. Subramanian said there is an 'upside potential' in the GDP estimates during the current fiscal.

2 more jawans killed in Pak fire

YUSUF JAMEEL | DC
SRINAGAR, NOV. 27

The renewed intermittent clashes between the facing armies along the Line of Control (LoC) that began in Jammu and Kashmir's Poonch district earlier this week spread to neighbouring Rajouri district on Friday, leaving, at least, two more Indian soldiers dead. The Army said that the Pakistani troops resorted to "unprovoked ceasefire violation" in Suderbani of Rajouri early Friday. "Pakistan Army resorted to unprovoked ceasefire violation on the LoC in Suderbani sector of district Rajouri," said Lt. Col. Devender Anand.

HC lets cops grill Pothineni Ramesh

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The Andhra Pradesh High Court on Friday granted a three-day custodial interrogation of Pothineni Ramesh Babu, the managing director of Ramesh Hospital, in the matter relating to the August 9 fire accident at Covid Care Centre at Swarna Palace Hotel in Vijayawada. The interrogation will be conducted from November 30 to December 2.

A single-judge bench headed by Justice Cheekati Manavendranath

Roy directed Ramesh Babu to appear before the additional deputy commissioner, who is the investigation officer for the interrogation.

Accordingly, the court issued guidelines directing the inquiry officer to conduct the inquiry from 10 am to 5 pm and allow an advocate of the respondent to be present all the time. The court said the respondent shouldn't be subjected to any point-less grilling and to any third-degree methods.

HC seeks details of CAMPA funds

Vijayawada: The AP High Court directed the additional solicitor general to submit details on usage of funds sanctioned by Compensatory Afforestation Fund Management Authority to the forest department in the state. The court while hearing a petition on improper usage of funds sanctioned by the Centre through CAMPA to the state forest department by the social activist Thota Suresh Babu here on Friday, asked for details on spending of such funds by the state government.

HC: HOW GOVT CAN BUILD HOUSE ON GREYHOUNDS LAND

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The AP High Court asked the state government as to how it could build a state guest house on a land allotted to the police special forces called greyhounds in Visakhapatnam.

Amaravati JAC leader Gadde Tirupati Rao filed a petition in the court challenging the state government's proposal to build a state guest house on Kapuluppada Hill.

During the hearing in the case here on Friday, the petitioner's counsel Vunnam Muralidhar argued in the court that it was not appropriate to plan to build the state guest house on a land allotted for the greyhounds and he also informed the court that the place was being used for various training programmes to tackle naxalites and terrorists.

The court directed the state government to file its counter in a week's time and asked it to make the Centre as a party in the case. The court also asked the AP government not to fell trees in 30 acres land allotted for guest house construction.

HC QUESTIONS GOVT ON RELOCATION OF CAPITAL CITY

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The AP High Court on Friday asked the state government how it could relocate the capital city by setting up an administrative capital in Visakhapatnam even after spending thousands of crores of rupees on the Amaravati capital region.

The court, while hearing a batch of petitions on the decentralisation of administration by setting up three capitals — turning Amaravati, Visakhapatnam, and Kurnool into legislative, administrative and judicial hubs respectively — made critical comments on the state government's decision to relocate the capital city.

The court observed that there was no such precedence anywhere in the country and commented that the act of the AP government was tantamount to flouting constitutional provisions. The court observed that it would not tolerate the abuse of public money and would intervene on the issue if warranted.

In a separate development, the court expressed its displeasure with the police for implicating the farmers belonging to the SC community fighting for retaining the capital city at Amaravati under the provisions of the SC and ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989. The court wondered how the farmers could be jailed for 18 days. The court also observed that if that was the case, it could be considered as the violation of the fundamental rights of the farmers. The court asked the police as to why they could not produce proper reasons for the arrest of the farmers and said that it could be considered as a contempt of court. Finding fault with the police for failing to handle the farmers' case properly, the court advised them to go by law and the Constitution. The court also faulted the police for failing to file their report properly.

LOKESH: YSRC GOVT HAS ALWAYS BEEN ANTI-FARMERS

Vijayawada: Telugu Desam national general secretary Nara Lokesh on Friday alleged that the YSRC government was resorting to 'highhanded behaviour and arm-twisting tactics' to suppress Amaravati farmers' agitation against the arbitrary three Capitals proposal.

The farmers of Krishnapalem, who were recently released, met Lokesh at Undavalli on Friday. He said it as highly condemnable that SC, ST atrocities cases were filed against the Dalit farmers, who staged agitations to continue Amaravati as only capital of AP.

Nivar leaves a trail of destruction

Man dies after his car stuck in floodwaters at Irala, Chittoor district received an average rainfall of 10.4 cm

DC CORRESPONDENT NELLORE, NOV. 27

Heavy rainfall associated with gale winds under the influence of 'Nivar' cyclone created havoc in Chittoor district. Several water bodies across the district breached causing hardships to the people and halting the traffic movement.

The cyclone destroyed standing crops in thousands of acres resulting in crop loss running into crores of rupees. District administration has directed the field staff to assess the damage on war-footing soon after the rain subsides.

Even as the district administration is grappling to handle the cyclone situation, the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) and Police personnel rescued 13 persons stuck in flood waters in two different incidents at Chittoor district on Friday.

In a laudable rescue operation, which lasted for 20 hours, the SDRF along with fire and Police personnel rescued 6 persons belonging to a family who got stuck in Gargaya river at Akulavaripalle in Pileru mandal of Chittoor district on Friday.

Two SDRF men with the help of locals managed to reach the other side of the river putting their life at risk and tied a rope across the river.

They used a swing chair to rescue the victims including a couple and their children belonging to Doddipalli village located on the outskirts of Pileru town.

Chittoor SP Senthil Kumar rushed to the spot after coming to know about the incident on Thursday night itself and deputed the SDRF team.

Similarly, Tirupati Urban Police rescued 7 members of a family from a marooned house in a mango garden at Kandada village of Yerpedu mandal in Chittoor district on Friday.

According to Urban Superintendent of Police Avula Ramesh Reddy, with the release of water from Sadasiva konda dam the house in which they were residing in the village was inundated with water causing tension to the inmates.

After coming to know about the situation, police jumped into action and saved the family with the help of a speed boat secured from Pileru. They have been shifted to a shelter home later.

Elsewhere, a youth travelling in a car died when the vehicle had capsized in the floodwaters of Irala stream in Chittoor district.

A bus carrying women to an industry in Sri City is stuck in floodwaters in Sathyavedu mandal of Chittoor district on Friday. Locals helped the women to alight from the bus and reach their destination.

Police traced the body of a farmer Prasad, who washed away in the Rallavagu at on Thursday, in Kummariapallivagu near Yerpedu.

Meanwhile, Chittoor district received an average rainfall of 10.4 cm during the last 24 hours. Gudipala mandal recorded highest rainfall with 25.2 cm and Tirupati rural received 2.8 cm on Friday.

According to collector Dr Narayana Bharath Gupta, 523.8 km of road was damaged due to flooding. In addition to this, 32 culverts were damaged and 44 trees were uprooted.

Fallen trees were immediately removed and the roads were restored for free flow of traffic.

42 water bodies in minor irrigation were damaged due to flooding in the district.

All the reservoirs, water bodies in the district are brimming with the inflow and Swarnamukhi river was flowing in knee deep water at some parts of the district.

As a precautionary measure, the district collector has ordered the officials concerned to open the gates of major reservoirs to release water.

Also, several roads pass through Srikalahasti, Pichatur and K.V.B. Puram mandals were shut down for vehicular traffic due to flowing of floodwater and alternative routes were being operated.

Collector Dr Narayana Bharath Gupta informed that relief operations were continuing on a war-footing in the cyclone-affected areas in the district.

Heavy inflows into Somasila pose threat to habitations downstream

DC CORRESPONDENT NELLORE/KURNOOL, NOV. 27

Flood situation is grave in SPSR Nellore district following inflows into Somasila reaching dangers level of above 4 lakh cusecs and release of 4 lakh cusecs into Penna river downstream on Friday morning.

District administration sounded high alert and made arrangements to evacuate people from villages on the banks of the river from Somasila to Nellore.

Many habitations are under a sheet of water and floodwater entered the ancient Sri Talpagiri Ranganatha Swamy temple at Nellore.

"Following heavy rainfall in Rayalaseema district, the Somasila reservoir has been receiving huge inflows and it may increase up to 3-4 lakh cusecs. Penna barrage has been receiving huge inflows from the Somasila and we are shifting the people living in vulnerable areas to safer places," said collector K.V.N. Chakradhar Babu while appealing the people to be on alert.

Elsewhere, NDRF/SDRF teams rescued 120 persons at Devarayapalli in Anantasagaram mandal apart from 100 members stranded in RTC buses which were stuck in the swirling floodwaters at Saidapuram.

Standing crops are damaged in 70,000 hectares of land in Prakasam district following heavy rains under the influence of Cyclone 'Nivar' as per preliminary reports from field level officials.

Nivar cyclone battered Nandyal division with Chagalamarri receiving 84.4 mm rainfall in the last 24 hours, Sirivella, Allagadda, Koilkuntla, Orvakallu, Atmakur worst affected due to cyclone. Paddy fields fell to ground. 6500 hectares of crops have been damaged due to the cyclone, the district administration estimated. Paddy is worst affected as 4500 hectares of crop got damaged. 150 hectares of horticulture crops like banana and papaya were lost.

Reports trigger gold search along seashore in EG

DC CORRESPONDENT KAKINADA, NOV. 27

While most people in East Godavari are staying indoors due to chill winds and heavy rains following Cyclone Nivar, certain fishing families are venturing into the rain to search for gold along the sea coast near the Market Centre in Uppada and Suradapeta of U. Kothapalli mandal.

The search along the coast started following reports that one or two persons had found gold ornaments along the coast. These reports said certain houses along the coast had been swallowed by the sea and tidal waves may have swept ashore gold ornaments from these houses.

Meanwhile, cyclonic weather continued throughout the day in East and West Godavari districts on Friday too.

A three-year-old boy Nookapeyyi Lucky of Tatapudi village in Kapileswaram mandal died when he fell into a water-filled pit in Ryali village of Atreyapuram mandal. He had come there along with his parents Durga Prasad and Gopi on Wednesday.

More than 55,000 hectares of paddy and other crops have been affected due to Nivar Cyclone till Friday in 602 villages of 59 mandals, according to agriculture officials. Most of the paddy crop was affected in mandals of U. Kothapalli (2,400 hectares), Uppalagupam (2,010 hectares), Amalapuram (1,603), Allavaram (1,150), Katrenikona (1,954), I. Polavaram (1,521), Mamidikuduru (904), Razole (1,495), Prathipadu (1,320), Tuni (1,213), Rowthulapudi (1n423) and other areas.

A temporary road laid between Samalkot and Pithapuram has been badly damaged due to rains.

In the earlier cyclone, an old bridge in the area had collapsed, following which the temporary road had been laid.

East Godavari district registered an average of 87.7 rainfall with the highest rainfall being 149.2 mm at Malkipuram, 135.4 mm in Sakshinetipalli, 136 mm in Allavaram, 147.2 mm in Amalapuram, 119.6 mm in Uppalagupam, 115.4 mm in Katrenikona, 60.6 mm in Rajamahendravaram, 114.2 mm in Samalkot, 112 mm in Pithapuram, 102.6 mm in U. Kothapalli, 87 mm in Rajanagaram and 131.6 mm in Kakinada.

West Godavari district reported an average rainfall of 76.7 mm, the highest being at Achanta -147.6 mm, Poduru - 117.6 mm, Bhimavaram - 113.4 mm, and Palakollu - 111.2 mm.

Telugu Desam Party Kakinada parliamentary district president Jyothula Naveen Kumar has demanded that the state government pay Rs. 30,000 per acre to farmers who have lost their crop in the present Nivar Cyclone.

Govt to directly credit ₹1,227 crore into the farmers' bank accounts on December 15

Cabinet nod for crop insurance, distribution of pattas

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

The AP Cabinet, chaired by Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy, gave its nod to pay crop insurance for 2019-20 Kharif season, whereby ₹1,227.774 crore will be credited into farmers' accounts on December 15 and to distribute house site pattas on Christmas day.

Briefing the media here on Friday, agriculture minister Kursala Kannababu said the state government has borne the entire premium for crop insurance without even charging one rupee from farmers. He said that between 2016 and 2019 farmers paid a premium of ₹871.26 crore, and for 2019 Kharif, the state government had borne the entire premium of ₹1,030.74 crore. While only 60.84 lakh farmers have availed crop insurance of ₹37,453.79 crore from 2016-19, in just one year, 2019-20, nearly 58.77 lakh farmers were brought under crop insurance, which is to the tune of ₹37,721.57 crore.

Kannababu said that the Cabinet okayed distribution of 30.60 lakh house site pattas on December 25, costing ₹23,000 crore. He stated that construction of the houses will commence the same day, with a target to complete 16 lakh houses in 8,494 layouts under Phase I by June 2022, at a cost of ₹1.80 lakh per unit.

The minister explained, "D Forms" will be given

Govt rules out changes in Polavaram dam height

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

Minister for agriculture Kursala Kannababu said on Friday that the Cabinet has approved incorporation of Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) under Uttarandhra Irrigation Projects Development Corporation limited (UIPDCL) and also another SPV under Andhra Pradesh Palnadu Area Drought Mitigation Projects Corporation limited (AP PADMPCL) duly including Guntur Channel extension scheme and YSR Vedadri lift irrigation scheme under 'YSR Palnadu Drought Mitigation Project'.

A special purpose vehicle, under Krishna-Kolleru salinity mitigation project corporation limited, in which four regulators will come up on Kolleru and three structures on Krishna River.

Kannababu said that the Cabinet also approved for World Bank-assisted dam rehabilitation and improvement project (DRIP), Phase-2 & 3 by administrative approval for an amount of ₹776.50 crore. They also accorded administrative approval to increase the discharge from 12,000 cusecs to 24,000 cusecs of Somasila-Kandaleru flood flow canal with an amount of ₹918.80 crore.

The Cabinet approved sanction ₹240.53 crore for completion of R&R package in Chitravati balancing reservoir so as to improve 10 TMC of water in the project. It approved extension works of north feeder channel canal of Rallapadu reservoir in Prakasam district at a cost of ₹632 crore.

Kursala Kannababu

deed will be given. For this project, the state government pooled 66,518 system of levying property tax from the annual rental value basis (ARV System) to capital Value (CV) system. He said that only ₹50 is levied as property tax for houses of below poverty line (BPL) families.

Kannababu said that the state Cabinet also agreed to clear pending arrears of DA for employees and pensioners.

With regard to employees and pensioners, DA with a hike of 3.144 per cent, which was applicable from July 2018, will be paid from January along with another hike of 3.144 per cent (applicable from January 2019 and will be paid from July 2021). Also the hike of 5.24 per cent, which was applied from July 2019, will be paid from January 2022. In addition to these, salaries and pensions that were deferred for March will be paid in December and the April dues in January.

Also, the Cabinet gave a nod to the proposed incentives for Kopparthi YSR Jagananna Mega Industrial Hub, which was aimed to create employment opportunities for youth.

Further, the state government will also distribute TIDCO houses to the beneficiaries by collecting only one rupee.

Kannababusaid that to empower women and strengthen the dairy sector, the Cabinet approved AP Amul project, which is scheduled for launch on December 2.

He explained that in the first phase, the project will touch 400 villages in Kadapa, Chittoor, and Prakasam districts, where around 9,899 bulk milk chilling Units will be established. He stated that women beneficiaries of Cheyutha and Aasara schemes will be given cattle, goats and sheep on December 10.

Kannababu said that the Chief Minister will launch the resurvey project "YSR Jagananna Shaswatha Bhu hakku mariyu Bhu raksha pathakam" on December 21.

He said that the latest technology would be used for conducting comprehensive survey and survey stones would be given to farmers free of cost.

The survey will start on December 21 and will be held in phases until 2023. The Cabinet has approved ₹927 crore for the project.

The Cabinet agreed to amend the AP Gaming Act 1974 in the ensuing Assembly Session in order to ban online gambling. Besides these, it approved bills regarding the supply, pricing and manufacturing of quality fodder along with the AP Fisheries University Bill.

ATCHANNAIDU ASKS JAGAN TO RESCUE NIVAR-HIT FARMERS

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 27

Telugu Desam AP president K. Atchannaidu made a strong plea to Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy to rescue the farmers from the heavy crop losses they suffered under the impact of the Nivar Cyclone in the state.

He wrote a letter to the CM saying that crops in thousands of acres were still under water and lamented that over ₹9,720 crore worth crops were damaged in the heavy rains and floods from August to October.

Stating that the cyclone caused irrecoverable blow to the farmers, Atchannaidu said that the government should make arrangements for buying the damaged crops by offering remunerative prices. He claimed that there was a greater need to rescue the farmers who were badly hit because of repeated natural disasters over the past few months.

Atchannaidu asserted that the government did not take preventive measures to save the farmers. He sought YSRC's priorities to be changed in order to avert further damages to the people in times of cyclones and calamities.

LOW-PRESSURE AREA OVER SOUTH COASTAL AP

DC CORRESPONDENT VISAKHAPATNAM, NOV. 27

The Cyclone Nivar has weakened and lay over a low-pressure area over south coastal Andhra Pradesh and adjoining west-central Bay of Bengal on Friday.

"After crossing Puducherry, the cyclone moved northward and took a curve and moved northwards and lay as a low-pressure area over south coastal AP and west-central Bay of Bengal," said IMD director for Andhra Pradesh S Stella.

She said under its influence, heavy to very heavy rainfall is likely over coastal Andhra Pradesh and Rayalaseema areas during the next 24 hours.

Similarly, a cyclonic circulation lays east equatorial Indian Ocean and adjoining south Andaman Sea and extends up to 5.8 km mean sea level. Under its influence, a low-pressure area is very likely to form over southeast Bay of Bengal during next 24 hours and intensify further. It is likely to move westwards and reach Tamil Nadu-Puducherry coasts on December 2.

Under its influence, heavy rainfall is likely from December 1 onwards over Tamil Nadu, Puducherry and Karaikal.

INTERROGATE WITH DECENCY, COPS TOLD

The court also felt the need to carry out interrogation with all decency strictly adhering to the values of human rights of a citizen.

The inquiry officer will interrogate Ramesh Babu about the fire mishap caused by an electric short-circuit at a Covid Care Centre run by Ramesh Hospital at Swarna Palace hotel on August 9. Ramesh Babu filed a petition in the High Court seeking to quash an FIR registered against him in the case. Subsequently, the court granted a stay on all further proceedings in the case. However, the state government filed a special leave petition in the Supreme Court seeking vacation of the stay order. The apex court, however, ordered the hospital MD to cooperate with the police to avoid custodial interrogation.

In a related development, the Supreme Court on Thursday stayed the order of the AP High Court revoking the suspension of former additional director of police (intelligence) A.B. Venkateswara Rao in a case related to misconduct in the procurement of security equipment from an Israeli firm. A two-judge bench of the Supreme Court comprising Justice A.M.Khanwilkar and Justice B.R. Gavi gave a ruling in favour of the AP government.

NAVY'S MIG-29K CRASHES, PILOT MISSING

PAWAN BALI | DC NEW DELHI, NOV. 27

Indian Navy's two-seater, trainer aircraft MiG-29K flying over Arabian Sea crashed on Thursday evening.

One of the pilots of the MiG-29K was rescued. However, the second pilot is still missing even more than 24 hours after the accident. The missing pilot has been identified as Cdr Nishant Singh.

Aircraft and ships are involved in searching for the missing pilot.

As a safety mechanism, Indian Navy's pilot flying suit is equipped with vest which inflates and allows them to remain afloat in water during such emergency scenarios. Also there is personal locator in the suit, which when pressed by a pilot in distress, emits emergency radio signal which helps in locating him in such cases.

"We have increased the number of units searching for the missing pilot. Every effort is being made to locate him," said a senior official.

Till the time of filing of this news report there has been no trace of Cdr Singh.

BID TO CAP SURGE PRICING BY CAB AGGREGATORS

New Delhi, Nov. 27: The government on Friday proposed to cap surge pricing charged by cab aggregators like Ola and Uber at 1.5 times of the base fare. The development assumes significance in the backdrop of a long-pending demand of citizens to cap the pricing of ride-hailing services.

"The aggregator shall be permitted to charge a fare 50 per cent lower than the base fare and a maximum surge pricing of 1.5 times the base fare," said the Motor Vehicle Aggregators Guidelines, 2020 issued by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways.

This will enable and promote asset utilisation which has been the fundamental concept of transport aggregation and also substantiate the dynamic pricing principle which is pertinent in ensuring asset utilisation in accordance with the market forces of demand and supply, the ministry said.

The driver of a vehicle integrated with the aggregator shall receive at least 80 per cent of the fare applicable on each ride and the remaining charges for each ride shall be received by the aggregator.

In states where the city taxi fare has not been determined by the state government, an amount of ₹25/30 shall be the base fare for the purpose of fare regulation, the guidelines said.

Similar fare fixation shall be done by the state government of other vehicles integrated by aggregators with the relevant state, the ministry said.

Research firm RedSeer said that the guidelines for cab aggregators which seek to cap surge pricing at 1.5X among other provisions are expected to have mixed impact for the sector that will benefit from improved safety regulations but could have "negative" fall-outs for drivers' earnings.

Protesters pelt stones during the Delhi Chalo march by members of various farmer organisations over the farm reform laws at Singhu border in New Delhi on Friday.

Farmers brave tear gas, baton charge to reach Delhi

Centre invites farmers for talks on Dec. 3; Amarinder welcomes decision

SANJAY KAW & BHASKAR HARI SHARMA | DC NEW DELHI, NOV. 27

Thousands of farmers on Friday braved batons, tear gas and water cannons along the Delhi-Haryana border before the authorities allowed them to march towards the national capital as part of their "Delhi Chalo" protest against the Centre's new farm laws.

Punjab Chief Minister Capt. Amarinder Singh, accused by his Haryana counterpart Manohar Lal Khattar of instigating farmers, was the first one to welcome the Centre's decision to allow the protesters to enter the city.

Soon after Capt. Singh urged the Centre to immediately initiate talks to address the farmers' issues, Union agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar reiterated that the government would hold talks next week.

He said, "The government has always been ready to discuss issues with farmers. We have invited farmers' organisations for another round of talks on December 3. I appeal to them to leave the agitation in view of Covid-19 and winter."

After camping overnight near Delhi, the farmers clashed with the police for the second day at the Tikri border near Delhi-Bahadurgarh highway. Carrying flags and shouting slogans, the farmers had gathered at various entry points into Delhi in a determined bid to push their way through as part of their march while the police blocked them with barricades, teargas shells and baton charges.

Clashes broke out at multiple places and Delhi's borders resembled a virtual warzone with restless crowds of farmers, mostly from Punjab and Haryana, milling around and a sea of police personnel keeping them at bay. Drones circled the air and plumes of smoke from teargas shells could be seen from far.

Security was strengthened at the border and sand-laden trucks and water cannons were stationed. Barbed wire was also used for fencing at the Singhu border to prevent the protesters from entering the city earlier in the day.

The police resorted to a lathicharge for a brief time to control protesters who broke barricades. Hours later, they were given permission to enter Delhi and hold a peaceful protest at the Nirankari Samagam Ground at Burari in north Delhi. However, there are still thousands of farmers still camping at the border points, and undecided on whether to go to the identified protest site. It is expected there might be some clarity on this situation on Saturday.

Traffic was also disrupted in many parts of the city due to the protests. The Dhansa and Jharoda Kalan borders were closed for traffic, and commuters had to take an alternative route. There were long queues of vehicles on the Delhi-Hardwar stretch due to the closure of the Delhi-Dehradun highway.

In Baghpat, the protesters blocked traffic on the Sonipat highway using tractors and raised slogans against the new farm laws.

A farmer was killed and two others injured as the tractor-trolley in which they were travelling met with an accident.

The Delhi police, which expressed concern over the pandemic situation, had sought permission from the AAP government to use the city's nine stadiums as temporary jails for farmers arrested or detained, but this was denied. Delhi health minister Satyendra Jain said every citizen had the right to protest peacefully. In a letter to the home secretary, he said the Centre should accept the demands of farmers, adding that putting farmers in jails was not a solution.

Former Haryana chief minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda appealed to the people of the state to extend all possible help, like food and accommodation, to the protesting farmers.

In a scathing attack on the Centre, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said no government in the world can stop the farmers from fighting the "battle of truth".

"The Prime Minister should have remembered that whenever the ego hits the truth, it is defeated. No government in the world can stop the farmers fighting the battle for truth. The Modi government has to accept the demands of the farmers and the black laws have to be withdrawn. This is only the beginning!" Rahul Gandhi tweeted.

Border clashes spread, two more jawans killed

DC CORRESPONDENT SRINAGAR, NOV. 27

The renewed intermittent clashes between the facing armies along the Line of Control (LoC) that began in Jammu and Kashmir's Poonch district earlier this week spread to neighbouring Rajouri district on Friday, leaving, at least, two more Indian soldiers dead.

The Army said that the Pakistani troops resorted to "unprovoked ceasefire violation" in Suderbani area of Rajouri early Friday. "Pakistan Army resorted to unprovoked cease fire violation on the LoC in Sunderbani sector of district Rajouri on November 27," Lt. Col. Devender Anand, the Jammu-based defence spokesman said.

He added, "Our troops responded immediately to the enemy fire. In the ensuing fire, two jawans of the Indian Army Naik Prem Bahadur Khatri and Rifleman Sukhbir Singh got critically injured and later succumbed to their injuries."

He said Naik Prem Bahadur Khatri and Rifleman Sukhbir Singh were "brave, highly motivated and sincere soldiers".

On Thursday, a Junior Commissioner Officer Subedar Swathantra Singh of 16 Garhwal was killed and a local resident Muhammad Rashid was injured in Pakistani artillery and small arms fire along the LoC's Kirni and Qasba sectors in Poonch district.

Key Trinamul Cong minister Adhikari quits

RAJIB CHOWDHURI | DC KOLKATA, NOV. 27

Dealing a double blow to the Trinamul Congress ahead of next year's Assembly polls in West Bengal, rebel TMC minister Shubhendu Adhikari resigned from chief minister Mamata Banerjee's cabinet on Friday, while another disgruntled party MLA Mihir Goswami reached New Delhi to join the BJP. He joined the party in the evening. Both have distanced themselves from their party, fuelling speculation of their defection to the BJP, which has also kept the door ajar for them.

In his resignation letter on Friday, Mr Adhikari told the CM, "I do hereby tender my resignation from my office as minister. Steps may be taken for its immediate acceptance. I am simultaneously emailing this to His Excellency the Governor of West Bengal, for doing the needful at his end. I thank you for giving me opportunity to serve the people of the state, which I did all through with commitment, dedication and sincerity."

The TMC heavyweight, who was the face of Ms Banerjee's famous land movement in Nandigram during Left Front rule and later became an MP twice, was the minister of three key state government departments, transport, environment and water resources investigation/development.

Within hours of Mr Adhikari's resignation, meanwhile, Bishnupur BJP MP Soumitra Khan made a startling revelation, claiming over 58 TMC MLAs, including state panchayat minister and Narada sting accused Subrata Mukherjee, were ready to defect to the saffron party.

Welcoming Mr Adhikari's step, Mr Khan said in North Bengal, "It was bound to happen. I now imagine what Rabi Babu (TMC MLA Rabindranath Ghosh) and Goutam Da (TMC minister Goutam Deb) will do. It is a matter of concern (sic). I feel that after Mr Adhikari, Subrata Mukherjee is next in the line. On January 9 in 2019, when I joined the BJP, Bhaipo (CM nephew Abhishek Banerjee) had said a lot. But today we have 18 Lok Sabha seats here."

Tweeting the resignation letter, governor Jagdeep Dhankhar said, "Today at 1.05 pm a resignation letter of Mr Suwendu Adhikari from office as minister addressed to the chief minister has been forwarded to me. The issue will be addressed from the constitutional perspective."

Senior TMC MP Sougata Roy, who recently met Mr Adhikari twice to placate him on Ms Banerjee's instructions, said: "He is still an MLA of our party as he has not quit the post. He has also not tendered his resignation from our party's primary membership. He will remain a member of our party as long as he continues to be an MLA."

He added, "Stepping down from the ministership is purely his personal decision. I am feeling sad about. What I had from the conversation with him... I felt he would not quit the party. I am still hopeful. I will try to ensure he remains in our party."

Mr Adhikari's step came a day after he quit the chairmanship of Hooghly River Bridge Commissioners, a state undertaking in the transport department, sending out his first official signal to the TMC of his exit from government.

MP POLICE TO STOP PRACTICE OF PARADING ACCUSED IN PUBLIC

RABINDRA NATH CHOUDHURY | DC BHOPAL, NOV. 27

Madhya Pradesh police has announced to do away with the practice of parading accused, suspects and arrested people in public, thanks to a recent directive in this regard by Gwalior bench of high court.

Additional director general of police (crime investigation department) Kailash Makwana late on Thursday night issued an order asking the IGs of all ranges in the state and district superintendents of police to ensure that the prevailing system of parading the accused, suspects and arrested persons, is put to end in their respective jurisdictions.

The order follows a directive issued by Makwana on November 7 prohibiting disclosure of identity and personal information of accused, suspects, arrested persons and victims in any criminal case and publication of their photographs (faces covered or uncovered) in the media.

The move by MP police comes in the wake of a recent ruling by Gwalior bench of MP high court that sought abandonment of such a practice while holding that parading of the accused amounts to violation of Article 21. A single bench of the court in its ruling on November 2 quashed the clauses of MP Police circular of 2014 related to production of suspects and victims before the media, disclosure of their personal information and circulation of their photographs in media, holding that the measures violated Article 21 (right to life and personal liberty).

The court's order was in response to a petition filed by a Gwalior-based man who was arrested due to mistaken identity recently. The incident has gone viral in social media. The court held that such actions harmed his reputation.

The high court directed the director general of police of MP to ensure that such incidents did not recur: The practice of parading the accused, suspects and history-sheets by police in public was adopted to instill fear in the minds of criminals.

MAHA ATS GETS NOD TO FREEZE PROPERTIES OF DRUG OFFENDERS

SAURABH JOSHI | DC MUMBAI, NOV. 27

The Maharashtra Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS) got a clearance from Smugglers and Foreign Exchange Manipulators Act (SAFEMA) for freezing the property of accused persons in case involving an operation seizing drugs worth around ₹60 crore.

The raid by the Vikhroli unit of ATS recovered 146.143 kilograms of mephedrone worth ₹58.55 crore, ₹1.55 crore in cash and three vehicles.

The ATS has arrested 13 persons under the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances (NDPS) Act in the case.

The case pertains to the raids by an ATS unit who recovered 146.143 kilograms of mephedrone worth ₹58.55 crore, ₹1.55 crore in cash and three vehicles.

"The clearance will help us freeze the properties of the accused persons that would make the action against them more stringent," said an officer.

The probe in the case had revealed that the accused had bought properties, including a plot in MIDC Shirala in Sangli district in the name of one Sardar Patil, a flat at Panvel in Raigad valued at ₹35.10 lakh, a plot in Panvel worth ₹12.72 lakh and another piece of land valued at ₹32.93 lakh in the name of Kaisuddin Siddiqui.

Also, Gold and silver ornaments worth ₹41.32 lakh, seven foreign-made wrist watches and foreign currency were recovered from accused Mohammed Tanvir Abdul Aziz Paryani, who has links with fugitive gangster Dawood Ibrahim, the officer said. The freezing order was issued by SAFEMA authorities on the basis of the ATS probe and a demand made by the latter for such action.

BIG | RELIEF Valuer to assess damages caused in order to calculate the compensation amount

Kangana bungalow demolition wrong: HC

DC CORRESPONDENT MUMBAI, NOV. 27

In a relief to actor Kangana Ranaut, the Bombay High Court on Friday quashed and set aside the September 9 order issued by the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) directing demolition of alleged alterations carried out at her Bandra office in Mumbai. HC said the demolition action was bad in law and the demolition was carried out on wrongful grounds.

A bench of Justices S.J. Kathawalla and R.I. Chagla was hearing a petition filed by Ranaut, seeking that the partial demolition of her Pali Hill bungalow carried out by the BMC be declared illegal.

Ranaut had sought ₹2 crore as compensation from the BMC. On the issue of compensation, the bench said it was appointing private firm M/S Shetgiri as the valuer to assess the damages caused in order to calculate the compensation amount due to Ranaut. It further said that the valuer would hear the petitioner and the BMC on monetary damages caused to her due to the demolition and pass appropriate order before March 21. Court also made it clear that the fees of the valuer would be borne by Ranaut.

"The BMC order actuated by legal malice. There is material in pleadings that smacks of malafide and was done to cause substantial losses. We would be perfectly justified to order compensation against respondents," the bench said in its order.

The court also allowed Ranaut to take steps to make her property habitable in accordance with the approved plan. If an application is made to BMC for approval, it will be decided within 4 weeks, the court order said.

The bench also asked Ranaut to show restraint in her social media posts and noted, "We do not accept allegations made by the petitioner in view of the alleged atmosphere in the state or film industry. The petitioner is suggested to maintain restraint on public platforms. Irresponsible statements made by the citizens are best ignored."

The BMC had denied the allegations of malafide action against the actor and said that the actor had carried out illegal work at the bungalow and its officials had therefore acted in accordance with the law in carrying out the demolition work.

The bench, however, said that the photographs of the site, BMC's attempts at denying Ranaut's allegation, the comments made by Shiv Sena's Sanjay Raut and the editorial in party mouthpiece Saamana following the demolition made it clear that the civic body had acted out of malice. On October 5, the court had reserved its verdict on the plea after days of extensive arguments from all sides. It had also made Sanjay Raut a party to the case and disapproved his tweets and his interview to a TV news channel threatening to teach Ranaut a lesson for her tweets comparing law and order situation in Mumbai to PoK in a tweet. Welcoming the court's decision, Ms Ranaut tweeted, "When individual stands against the government and wins, it's not the victory of the individual but it's the victory of democracy."

4.7 magnitude quake hits Turkey

Ankara: An earthquake with a 4.7 magnitude shook Malatya province in eastern Turkey on Friday, sending people pouring out into the streets in fear. There was however, no immediate report of any damage or casualties. The quake, which was centered in the town of Puturge, struck at 11:27 am (local time), Turkey's Disaster and Emergency Management Directorate said. It was felt in several neighboring provinces. Malatya's Gov. Aydin Barus told the state-run Anadolu Agency that his office had not received any "negative reports" concerning possible damage or injuries.

Ex-World Bank prez Wolfensohn dies

New York: James Wolfensohn, who served as the president of the World Bank for 10 years and was a guiding force for a couple of the most well-known cultural institutions in the US, has died. He was 86. Wolfensohn died Wednesday at his home in Manhattan according to the Institute for Advanced Study, where he had been a past chair of the board. His son and one of his two daughters also confirmed his death in media reports. Wolfensohn, born in Australia, worked on Wall Street for many years before taking over as the head of the World Bank, a loan-offering global development organisation, in 1995.

Iran envoy goes on trial over bomb plot

Brussels: An Iranian diplomat goes on trial in Belgium on Friday accused of plotting to bomb an opposition rally outside Paris, in a case that has stoked tensions with Tehran. The case shines another uncomfortable light on Iran's international activities just as it hopes to ease tensions with the United States after President Donald Trump tore up the 2015 nuclear deal signed by both countries and other world powers. It also comes a day after a prisoner swap that saw the release of three Iranians jailed over a 2012 bomb plot in Thailand, in exchange for the freeing of an Australian-British lecturer imprisoned by Tehran for alleged spying. In June 2018, Belgian authorities thwarted what they said was an attempt to smuggle explosives to France to attack a meeting of one of Iran's exiled opposition movements. Later that year, the French government accused Iran's intelligence service of being behind the operation, a charge the Islamic republic has furiously denied.

SRI LANKAN MAN RUNS MOBILE LIBRARY FOR KIDS

Colombo, Nov. 27: During his leisure time, Mahinda Dasanayaka packs his motorbike with books and rides his mobile library — across mostly muddy roads running through tea-growing mountain areas — to underprivileged children in backward rural parts of Sri Lanka.

Having witnessed the hardships faced by children whose villages have no library facilities, Dasanayaka was looking for ways to help them. Then he got the idea for his library on wheels. He started his programme, called "Book and Me," three years ago, and it has become very popular among the children.

"There are some kids who hadn't seen even a children's story-book until I went to their villages," he said. Dasanayaka, 32, works as a child protection officer for the government. On his off days — mostly during weekends — he rides his motorbike, which is fixed with a steel box to hold books, to rural villages and distributes the reading material to children free of charge.

"The children are very keen and enthusiastic, they are eagerly waiting for me — always looking for new books," Dasanayaka said by phone. His programme is mainly centred in Kegalle, a mountainous region of the Indian Ocean island nation about 85 kilometres (52 miles) northeast of Sri Lanka's capital, Colombo, with poor villages scattered among tea plantations.

He visits the villages once or twice a week to distribute the books. His collection includes about 3,000 books on a variety of subjects. "Boys mostly like to read detective stories such as Sherlock Holmes, while girls prefer to read youth novels and biographies," he said.

Iran's top nuclear scientist assassinated

Tehran, Nov. 27: Top ranking Iranian nuclear physicist Mohsen Fakhrizadeh, was "assassinated" in an ambush near Tehran, the Iranian state television reported on Friday.

Fakhrizadeh was shot and injured in his vehicle in Absard, in Damavand county, a suburb in eastern Tehran, and later succumbed to his injuries, Iran's foreign ministry said on Friday.

Local authorities confirmed Fakhrizadeh's death several hours earlier and also said that several attackers were killed in retaliation. The top scientist and six others were killed in the attack.

The semiofficial Fars news agency, believed to be close to Iran's Revolutionary Guard, said the attack happened in Absard, a small city just east of the capital, Tehran. It said witnesses heard the sound of an explosion and then machine gun fire. The attack targeted a car that Fakhrizadeh was in, the agency said.

Those wounded, including Fakhrizadeh's bodyguards, were later taken to a local hospital, the agency said. No group immediately claimed responsibility for the attack.

"Terrorists murdered an eminent Iranian scientist today. This cowardice — with serious indications of Israeli role — shows desperate warmongering of perpetrators," Mohammad Javad Zarif wrote on Twitter on Friday.

Fakhrizadeh led Iran's Amad (Hope) programme which Israel and the West have alleged was a military operation looking at the feasibility of building a nuclear weapon in Iran.

"If Iran ever chose to weaponise (enrichment), Fakhrizadeh would be known as the father of the Iranian bomb," one Western diplomat told Reuters in 2014.

News of the killing comes amid fresh concern about the increased amount of enriched uranium that Iran is producing. Enriched uranium is a vital component for both civil nuclear power generation and military nuclear weapons.

The International Atomic Energy Agency had said that the Amad programme ended in the early 2000s and that its inspectors now monitor Iranian nuclear sites. Iran's state television on its website later published a photograph of security forces blocking off the road. Photos and video shared online showed a sedan with bullet holes through windshield and blood pooled on the road.

Israel declined from immediately commenting on the killing. It had earlier alleged that Islamic Republic's military nuclear programme was led by Fakhrizadeh.

Fakhrizadeh's name was specifically mentioned in Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu's presentation about Iran's nuclear programme in May 2018.

'Make-or-break' time as Brexit talks head to UK

Brussels, Nov. 27: The EU's chief Brexit negotiator Michel Barnier will return to London on Friday to pursue face-to-face trade talks, in what he described as the last chance for a deal.

Explaining that he was no longer self-isolating after a Covid-19 case on his team, Barnier confirmed he was returning to meet his British counterpart David Frost for weekend talks.

The UK leaves Europe's trade and customs area in five weeks but talks on a follow-on agreement are still stalled over fishing rights and fair trade rules.

In a tweet, Barnier warned that the "same significant divergences persist" before he briefed a meeting of EU envoys carrying the same downbeat message.

"We are not far from the take it or leave it moment," Barnier told ambassadors from member states, according to a European source familiar with the closed-door meeting. Without a change of heart from London, "reaching a deal will be all but impossible," another diplomat reported Barnier as saying.

In London, Frost — Prime Minister Boris Johnson's lead Brexit negotiator — was similarly cautious about chances for a breakthrough.

"Some people are asking me why we are still talking," he tweeted.

"My answer is that it's my job to do my utmost to see if the conditions for a deal exist. It is late but a deal is still possible, and I will continue to talk until it's clear that it isn't," he added. "But for a deal to be possible it must fully respect UK sovereignty. That is not just a word, it has practical consequences." These conditions, he said, include UK control of its fishing waters and limits on state subsidies for both sides.

Sources said EU ambassadors urged Barnier to update the EU's "no-deal" contingency measures, with scenes of backed up lorries at the UK border points widely expected if talks fail.

In London, Johnson said it was up to the Europeans to make the move and claimed that Britain was quite ready if talks collapsed.

The "likelihood of a deal is very much determined by our friends and partners in the EU," he told reporters.

"Everybody's working very hard, but clearly there are substantial and important differences to be bridged, but we're getting on with it," he said.

Johnson has been resisting signing up to the EU's vision of a post-Brexit "level playing field", with punishing trade penalties if either side diverges from agreed standards.

He has also balked at giving EU fishing boats access to British waters, in one of the most sensitive and still unresolved issues over the eight months of talks.

Barnier was expected to brief fishing ministers from the countries most affected by the issue, before heading to the British capital.

If a deal cannot be signed and ratified by December 31, cross-Channel trade will face a tariff barrier and businesses on both sides — but especially Britain — will suffer.

The talks have already pushed on much longer than expected and time is running out for ratification of any deal by the European Parliament by the end of the year.

Members of the European Parliament, who will also confer with Barnier on Friday, have expressed frustration with the delays and may have to ratify a deal between Christmas and the New Year.

Despite the urgency, France on Thursday warned that the EU must not be "intimidated" by Britain's refusal to compromise or lose its resolve in the final stretch. "The British need an agreement more than we do. Europeans must be convinced of this, and convinced of their strength in these negotiations," France's Europe Minister Clement Beaune said.

UK asks regulator to approve AstraZeneca

Britain will be the first nation to get vaccine, if approved

London, Nov. 27: The UK government said on Friday that it has formally asked the country's independent medicines regulator to assess the suitability of Oxford-AstraZeneca's Covid-19 vaccine for temporary supply, as soon as the company submits the necessary safety, quality and efficacy data.

The UK will be one of the first countries in the world to receive the vaccine, if authorised, with pharmaceutical major AstraZeneca expecting to have up to 4 million doses ready for the country by the end of the year and 40 million by the end of March 2021, the government said.

The move to formally seek approval follows the vaccine team declaring its efficacy in trials earlier this week. However, there have been some concerns raised around the way the results were collated. "We have formally asked the regulator to assess the Oxford/AstraZeneca vaccine, to understand the data and determine whether it meets rigorous safety standards. This letter is an important step towards deploying a vaccine as quickly as safely possible," said UK Health Secretary Matt Hancock, in reference to a formal letter to the Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency's (MHRA). The MHRA is the UK's independent regulator and has already been tasked with reviewing data from Pfizer/BioNTech to determine whether its Covid-19 vaccine meets "robust" standards of quality, safety, and effectiveness.

German virus tally crosses 1 million

Berlin, Nov. 27: Germany, once a beacon of hope in Europe's Coronavirus nightmare, logged its one millionth case on Friday, as Russia announced a partnership with India to mass produce its controversial Sputnik vaccine.

Like much of Europe, Germany is battling a resurgence of a pandemic that is filling hospitals and forcing countries to shut down for business while they wait for help from a clutch of vaccines that could start rolling out for use next month.

Some of the excitement about the new jabs dampened when Britain's pharmaceutical giant AstraZeneca admitted that

But Russia unexpectedly stepped in with an announcement that an Indian generic drug maker would start producing 100 million doses of its government-backed vaccine in early 2021.

CHINA IMPOSES ANTI-DUMPING DUTY ON OZ WINE

Beijing, Nov. 27: China on Friday said it would impose anti-dumping tariffs on Australian wine, the latest salvo in an increasingly tense standoff between the two that has worsened since Canberra called for an inquiry into the origins of Covid-19.

Beijing has on several occasions used the threat of diminished access to its vast domestic market as a stick to beat Australia and has suspended imports of some products including beef and timber. In the latest blow, China's commerce ministry announced wine importers will be forced to pay deposits of 107-212 percent of the value of their goods at customs.

Will leave if EC confirms Biden's win: Trump

Washington, Nov. 27: US President Donald Trump said for the first time that he will leave the White House if the Electoral College declares Joe Biden as the winner, but made clear he is not prepared to "concede" the election.

Trump, a Republican, has refused to accept defeat in the November 3 presidential election, and told reporters on Thursday that it would be "hard" to concede to Biden, a Democrat. "Certainly I will, and you know that," Trump said when asked by a reporter about leaving the White House if Biden is declared the winner on December 14. "I will and, you know that." "It's going to be a very hard thing to concede because we know there was massive fraud," Trump said, once again repeating the unsubstantiated claims of voter fraud.

The 538-member Electoral College is scheduled to meet on December 14 and is expected to formally declare the 78-year-old former vice president as the 46th US President.

Under the US electoral system, voters do not directly choose the president. Instead, they vote for 538 officials, who are allocated to American states based on their population size. Biden leads Trump 306 votes to 232 under the Electoral College system used to pick US presidents. Biden's tally is far more than the 270 needed to win the race for the White House, and he also leads the popular vote by more than six million.

In his Thanksgiving Day remarks, Trump, however, said it will be a mistake if the Electoral College were to elect Biden. "It's going to be a very hard thing to concede," Trump told reporters when asked during a press call at the White House what he will do if the Electoral College elects Biden. "If they do, they made a mistake," he said.

On his plans for his last Thanksgiving in the White House, Trump said, "You can't say what's first or last." It might be the "first one of the second term," Trump, who is continuing his legal efforts to upend his victory. Earlier this week, Trump allowed the official start of Biden's transition to power without conceding defeat.

Biden due to be sworn in as president on January 20. However, election officials in key battleground states have declared Biden the winner, giving him an unofficial 306-232 edge in the Electoral College that determines the outcome of US presidential contests.

"This was a massive fraud," Trump said of the election. — PTI

Ractopamine additive, allowed in pork meat imported from the US, bone of contention

Pig guts fly in Taiwan Parliament protest

Taipei, Nov. 27: Opposition lawmakers hurled pig organs inside Taiwan's parliament on Friday to protest the government's decision to ease restrictions on pork imports from the United States.

Taiwan's notoriously rambunctious legislature frequently sees chaotic clashes between rival lawmakers but Friday's scuffles were particularly novel.

Lawmakers from the opposition Kuomintang (KMT) party dumped buckets of pork offal on the debating chamber floor and then proceeded to hurl intestines, hearts, liver and other organs at their rivals. Taiwan's government recently announced it would allow imports of US pork-fed with the additive ractopamine from January 1. The supplement improves leanness but is banned in places like the European Union and China.

Officials in Washington have made it clear restrictions on US pork and beef imports are a key stumbling block to the US and Taiwan signing a trade deal.

Taiwan's President Tsai Ing-wen and her Democratic Progressive Party, which commands a strong majority in parliament, hope the easing of restrictions will pave the way for an agreement.

But many in Taiwan are opposed to US pork imports and the KMT have seized on the issue after a series of stinging electoral defeats.

Last weekend they joined tens of thousands in an annual labour rally, where opposition to pork imports was a major theme.

Taiwan's powerful domestic pork industry also fears competition from the US.

The DPP campaigned heavily against ractopamine when they were in opposition, and the KMT have accused them of hypocrisy.

The governing party now argues the additive is not a safety threat and that the deal will boost ties with the US, a valuable trading partner and strategic ally against China.

"We're very sorry to throw pig's internal organs in parliament, but this is to highlight the pork issue," opposition lawmaker Lin Wei-chou told reporters.

Lin Chu-yin, a DPP legislator, posted pictures of the discarded offal on her Facebook account. "The opposition party has the right to protest, but they shouldn't be wasting food," she wrote. — AFP

Logistical posers loom as vaccine race nears finish

Humanity's race to come up with a vaccine for Covid-19 has had a chequered history over the last 10 months. Many researchers and pharma companies have made steady and spectacular progresses, kindling the hopes of millions of people for an early end to the miserable life they live under the shadow of threat the microorganism poses to all. The last fortnight saw them on a roller-coaster ride of hope with about five vaccine candidates announcing various degrees of efficiency. The one from Oxford University, being jointly developed by pharmaceutical major AstraZeneca, was leading the race when it announced their inexpensive, easy-to-produce vaccine reported an average efficacy of about 70 per cent.

The good run received a setback now with the manufacturers acknowledging an error in the vaccine dosage received by some participants. As per reports, the manufacturers were silent as to why some study participants did not receive as much vaccine in the first of two shots as expected. It was also found that the group, which received a lower dose, looked better protected than those who got two full doses. It has also come out that no one in the test group with the highest efficacy rates was over 55. Reports pointed at other irregularities and omissions, too, triggering questions about the preliminary results of the trials.

Intellectual property laws could hinder the way of the vaccines to the poor countries and a group of British lawmakers have already demanded a waiver of the rules and authorise generic manufacturers with its production

It has now been decided that AstraZeneca will run an extra trial. Notwithstanding the averments by the company that the trials were conducted to the highest standards, the UK government has now asked the Medicines and Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency to see if the vaccine meets rigorous safety standards. Scientists who work on the vaccine and the people who look forward to its arrival need not lose their hearts on the temporary setback. Science has designed its procedures in such a way that truth ultimately triumphs; the anomalies that have come out now are part and parcel of the process and there are inbuilt mechanisms to identify and correct them in time. The only impact it will have on the entire project is a delay, perhaps of days or weeks, in the authorisation of the vaccine for public use.

Governments and the public must look at a more serious issue on hand — on the just and equitable distribution of the vaccine. Health experts have already issued warnings against the rich countries reserving the entire stock of early production of about three billion doses of the vaccine, leaving the poor nations and their more vulnerable people at bay. Intellectual property laws could hinder the way of the vaccines to the poor countries and a group of British lawmakers have already demanded a waiver of the rules and authorise generic manufacturers with its production. Some of the vaccines demand cold chains, which are nearly impossible to install in certain climatic conditions. Every single issue will have an impact on all the people and their fight against the pandemic and hence be addressed collectively by all nations. Science has its way of correcting itself; it's harder to accomplish the same in politics.

Bull runs for Oscars

The jury to choose an Indian feature film for the Oscars (April 25, 2021) must be complimented for picking the Malayalam film Jallikattu. The title may resonate with the sporting bulls of Tamil Nadu but the theme is startlingly different with the 'protagonist' being a bull that escapes from a butchery in a remote village in Kerala and becomes the subject of a hunt portraying some of the worst aspects of humans who are so prone to violence. It will compete in the 'Best international feature film' category in which Indian movies have not made much headway, with not a single one ever being shortlisted for the prize.

The movie, appreciated at the Toronto international festival where its director Lijo Jose Pelliserry was awarded and India's festival, may have edged out 26 others on entertaining themes released in the year of the pandemic that has proved inhibiting for theatrical releases. But if the film has been chosen for its content and its screenplay as an ode to the art of film-making it may fare better than many of the choices made by juries based on their understanding of popular content in the Bollywood tradition to please the masses. This point is well borne out by the short shrift the aesthetic creations of a filmmaker of the calibre of Satyajit Ray received in terms of nominations to the Oscars.

Many films aim to be a metaphor melded from the complexity of human emotions, which Jallikattu manages with certain raw quality displaying a freshness of approach. Opinions may vary wildly when it comes to judgments in subjective situations like movie appreciation, just as it has in this case when The Disciple lost out. And yet, somehow, the story of a bull must draw empathy considering how man's depredation of the plant has already led to ecological disasters, including the Coronavirus pandemic caused by a pathogen crossing species. The Oscars hinge on many factors, including lobbying, but cinematic excellence is invariably rewarded, much as the South Korean film Parasite scored a path-breaking win at the Oscars this year.

High hopes over vaccine: Are we being unrealistic?

Shobhaa's Take

I am writing this a day after the anniversary of the horrific 26/11 terror attacks on Mumbai in 2008, that not only shook the metropolis like nothing ever had, but shook the rest of India and the world as well, as shockwaves reverberated across continents at the audacity of the operation. It's been 12 years since that ghastly day when the bone-chilling events were played out live on television channels globally. I guess time has a way of making us forget even the greatest of tragedies. This year, the significant date went by without much notice. The local media in Mumbai gave it scant, passing coverage — if at all. A couple of pictures appeared the next day in a few dailies, featuring police officers paying tributes to their slain colleagues and all the other victims of the terror strike. Only one prominent obituary in a leading daily served as a reminder of what families had endured when their loved ones were brutally gunned down by ruthless criminals from across the border. Not so surprisingly, the pandemic deaths have overtaken and overwhelmed us to such an extent that we neglected to honour the memories of all those we tragically lost more than a decade ago.

While we wait breathlessly for the magic vaccine, here's my prediction for what it is worth: our great Prime Minister, Narendra Modi, will be the first, high-profile citizen to take the vaccine today when he visits the Serum Institute in Pune. He is scheduled to fly into Hyderabad and Ahmedabad on the same day to take stock of vaccine development work at facilities in these three cities. Will he... won't he? Take the shot, I mean? I think he will. This is nothing more than a gut feeling, while figuring out the mind of one of the shrewdest leaders in the political sphere. For one, a bold gesture such as this one will send out a powerful signal to the rest of the world that India has beaten everyone else in the vaccine race. For another, it will be more than a mighty booster shot for his personal ego. Besides, with two key state elections to consider, his party, the BJP, will try and flatten any curve in its path — not just the Covid one. India's global image as a pharma leader will be further bolstered if NaMo goes for it. And frankly — history will be made by this one man! Narendra Modi has both — an uncanny sense of timing, besides an obsession to create personal history. If he indeed does take the vaccine before any other major international political personality, he will be hailed as the "Hero of the Pandemic 2020". Catch him passing up on such an opportunity!

When the scenario is this cynical, it's hard to stay optimistic and believe by this time next year everything will be 'back to normal', or 'back on track'

Nothing is ever going to be the same again — that's a given. But we cannot carry on without investing in hope for a better tomorrow.

The question that is worth asking is this: Are we pinning unrealistic hopes on the vaccine "saving" humanity? People are still dropping like flies, particularly in America... while the Covid-19 statistics in India continue to be alarming. We are expecting miracles once the vaccine gets marketed — and there are still four or five months to go without that happening. Yes, we must place our faith in experts and scientists at this point and pray for deliverance. Will that happen because we desperately want it to? Or will we be dealing with a fresh set of problems? As of now, the world is in need of instant solace and reassurance. We hang on to every tiny scrap of positive news and breakthroughs. We are too close to the pandemic to have sufficient distance to make informed choices about the vaccine. At the moment, I am sitting on the fence, and not committing to taking it as and when it's here. I have zero knowledge about its side effects, zero knowledge about its long-term efficacy, and zero knowledge about its overall behaviour. In that sense, we are all guinea pigs, ready to try whatever it is that appears, because we are scared and numbed by fear. Fear of the unknown. I am asking myself silly questions like: "What if I do take the vaccine and my body revolts against it? What if I avoid contracting Covid but my kidneys fail? Or my liver packs up?" The thing about the pandemic is how it has generated a fear psychosis on an unprecedented level, as we scramble to grab every little straw that offers relief from the dreaded virus, without thinking about repercussions.

Till then, we have little choice but to go along with the official info, which may or may not be accurate. Rumour mills are in overdrive, about who is making how much selling masks that are substandard, and how easy it is to get licences to import masks if the person puts down ₹45 lakhs — no scrutiny, no testing, no questions asked. When the scenario is this cynical, it is hard to stay optimistic and believe by this time next year everything will be "back to normal", or "back on track". Nothing is ever going to be the same again — that's a given. But we cannot carry on without investing in hope for a better tomorrow. Whether or not schools reopen next year, whether or not our hospitals and health-care systems can cope down the line, whether or not there will be a third, fourth and fifth wave... babies will continue to be born, people will get married, lovers will find a way to celebrate romance. Poets will write moving verse, painters will give expression on canvas, musicians will compose melodies — nothing will stop the creative impulse, least of all a microbe.

Christmas is but a few weeks away. Santa Claus and his reindeers will arrive in a safe bubble and he will greet children with a lusty "hohoho" from behind a sturdy face shield and mask — so be it! The world will continue to spin, and the stars will still shine. 'Tis the season to be jolly — why deprive ourselves?

1 NATION, 1 POLL

The Congress which ruled the country for almost six decades has made a mess of the election process and thereby the democratic principles. The 'one nation one poll and one voters' list concept is a necessity for India under the present circumstances, even though the process might be cumbersome. There is a lot to be planned and executed in order to put this concept into a reality. The Prime Minister deserves all support in this regard.

Attempt on Pope's life

MANILA, Nov. 27 A Bolivian artist wearing a priest's robe tried to stab Pope Paul VI with a curved Moslem knife today shortly after his arrival at the airport in Manila, but the 73-year-old Pontiff escaped injury.

Priests and reporters standing a few steps behind the scene of the incident said the attacker in his bid got no closer than three feet to the Pope who was moving down a reception line.

The man was seized by security men and taken to Metropolitan Command Headquarters where authorities said he would be charged with attempted murder.

*"Faith is a wraith
Promising paradise for the soul
Hope is the rope
That lets you climb out of a hole
Charity should spell clarity --- Returning the wealth you stole..."*
— From Dhoka Cola by Bachchoo

My parents first took me to Khajuraho on a cultural holiday trip when I was about eleven years old. We went from Kanpur to Madhya Pradesh and spent some time looking at the display of erotic carvings in the temples. A late beginner, I suppose, I didn't quite appreciate the erotic dimension of the sculptures, though I observed my dad and mum studying them with a distanced, yet acute, curiosity.

Without protesting any form of innocence or naivete, gentle reader, I promise I have never opened the pages of the Kama Sutra, even though there have been at one time or other two editions, one pictorially endowed, on my bookshelves in my short and happy life. I know that they are eighth century depictions of sexual possibilities, some in extreme yogic distortions which promise erotic pleasure, but I have never felt the need to take instruction in these instinctive urges from man, beast or book. One ploughs one's own furrow, so to speak.

Apart from Khajuraho in Madhya Pradesh, there are at least twelve and perhaps a hundred surviving Hindu temples which include in their sculptural representations acts of human sexual coupling. And some of the central symbols of Hindu cosmic creativity are the lingam of Shiva and the universal Yoni which symbolises birth and perpetuity. Hinduism has, from the Vedas onwards, never been prissy about human love, sex and procreation. The Temple of Surya in Konarak in Odisha has some of the world-famous exemplars of erotic sculpture. In Maharashtra, the Markandeshwar temple and the depiction of love in Ellora are also a glorious part of India's heritage.

Hence it came as an absolute article of bewildered wonder that some idiot, or some misguided organisation, is suing Mira Nair's depiction in the Netflix series adaptation of Vikram Seth's universally acclaimed novel A Suitable Boy in a Madhya Pradesh court for a scene in which two characters kiss near a temple. In the name of Krishna and the gopis, of Shiva and Parvati, of Vishnu and Lakshmi, Ram and Sita — and of the Khajuraho temples of Madhya Pradesh, are these misguided Victorian puritan protesters saying that love and its active manifestations are anything to object to? Are they anti-Hindu-history-and-heritage bigots?

Surely Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his entire Cabinet and the philosophy of his party are dedicated to the upholding of Hindu heritage and India's inherited values and traditions! This absurd puritanism, which objects to a scene in a fictional drama of two characters kissing — not even in an act of fornication so graphically celebrated in revered Hindu temples — is surely some imperial hangover which we can do without?

Hinduism is much more philosophically explorative and wider than the Semitic monotheisms of Judaism, Christianity and some interpretations of Islam. There is no puritan tradition in Hinduism which would forbid the depiction of two lovers kissing outside a Kentucky Fried Chicken shop or a temple. The people who are attempting to bring this case against Netflix ought to be, Your Honour, sent to re-education classes about the ethics of dharma, etc, in Hindu teachings! (Don't get carried away, you idiot, this is a column, not an address to the court — Ed. Of course, boss! Sorry — fd)

I would like to address the people in Netflix who face these absurd charges, but I have no conduit to them. I would say to them have some faith in Indian justice because I have faced similar legally enlisted assaults and have prevailed.

The first was against a film I had commissioned and wrote called Bandit Queen. A group of people tried to stop the film being released for several reasons, not all idealistic, but they didn't succeed.

Then there was the case against a film I wrote called Mangal Pandey, The Rising.

Some people claimed that they were the descendants of Mangal Pandey and the film had represented him in an unfavourable light. The judge ruled that it was a waste of court time and threw the case out. I am now told that judges have changed, that there has been some ideological adjustment on the judicial benches. Gentle reader, living in London, so far away from home, I know nothing of this. I feel confident that the barristers who defend this very peripheral right to freedom of depiction, even using the arguments I have posed above, will convince a judge who knows his Hinduism.

Freedom of expression and the right to any, even those considered dissenting, opinions are an absolute requirement of democracy. Regimes in today's Turkey and Iran have suppressed free expression as the right of the state to exclusively disseminate information, both in the name of their exclusive interpretations of Islam. I don't know, but perhaps they censor scenes on Netflix of couples kissing outside mosques.

Of course, the Madhya Pradesh court should treat the case against the kissing next to a mandir with the contempt it deserves. And that would be a precedent in universal law pronouncing the freedom of depiction which doesn't transgress decency, tradition or in the case of the kiss outside a temple, explicitly graphic Hindu iconography.

Core industries' output contracts 2.5% in October

Contracting for the eighth month, the output of eight core infrastructure sectors dropped by 2.5 per cent in October, mainly due to decline in production of crude oil, natural gas, refinery products and steel. The production of eight core sectors had contracted 5.5 per cent in Oct. 2019. While coal, fertiliser, cement and electricity recorded positive growth, crude oil, natural gas, refinery products and steel showed negative growth.

Recovery beats projections in Q2

MADHUSUDAN SAHOO
NEW DELHI, NOV. 27

Amidst hopes of development of a corona vaccine, the Indian economy rebounded at a faster-than-expected pace in the July-September quarter, helped by a pick-up in manufacturing. The country's GDP contracted by 7.5 per cent during the quarter, lower than economists' projection of 8.5 per cent to 10.5 per cent contraction and signalling a sharp recovery from the record plunge of 23.9 per cent in the previous June quarter.

"India's real gross domestic product (GDP) fell to 7.5 per cent in the July-September quarter compared to a contraction of 23.9 per cent in the three months ended June. The GDP at constant (2011-12) prices in Q2 of 2020-21 is estimated at Rs 33.14 lakh crores, as against Rs 35.84 lakh crores in Q2 of 2019-20, showing a contraction of 7.5 per cent as compared to 4.4 per cent growth in Q2 of 2019-20," data released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation on Friday showed.

Reacting to the latest GDP data, the government's chief economic adviser K. V. Subramanian said there is an 'upside potential' in the estimates about the economy during the current financial year as recovery is taking the faster pace than expected. "I would say that the given what we have seen in Q1 and Q2 and with the optimism that is being seen in the estimates, I do see upside potential in that estimate given the good recovery that is happening," Subramanian said, adding that food inflation is expected to soften in the third quarter and it is something which has to be tracked closely.

Giving a further outlook of the economy in the future course, he added, "We should be cautiously optimistic and the caution is warranted because economic impact is primarily due to the pandemic. Given the uncertainty, it is difficult to predict if positive territory can be hit in the third or fourth quarter of this fiscal."

The data further showed that some sectors like manufacturing, agriculture, trade and service segments have shown some encouraging improvement due to removal of lockdown restrictions in a phased manner. "Manufacturing clocked a surprise 0.6 per cent growth in July-September after it had shrunk by a massive 39 per cent in the preceding quarter... Continuing its good showing, the agriculture sector grew by 3.4 per cent, while the trade and services sector showed lower-than-expected contraction at 15.6 per cent," the government release said.

At this rate of recovery from the depths plumbed it earlier, economists said the economy will gradually exit its contraction mode in the current quarter or so.

"Consumer demand has been observed to be showing signs of revival in recent months. Supply chains, snapped off by Covid curbs, have been restored to a large extent. High-frequency indicators, such as fuel and electricity consumption, apart from rail freight and mobility, have looked up," economists said, adding that festive season sales were buoyant, though much of the shopping could be attributed to a spring back of pent-up demand.

Burger King sets IPO price band at ₹59-60

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD
MUMBAI, NOV. 27

US-based Burger King's Indian subsidiary announced an initial public offering (IPO) to raise Rs 810 crore.

The public issue, opening on December 2, has been priced in the band of Rs 59-60 per equity share of face value of Rs 10 each.

The public offer from the fast food company closes on December 4.

The IPO comprises fresh issue of shares worth Rs 450 crore and an offer for sale of 60 million shares by promoter QSR Asia Pte. Ltd.

"The size of the fresh issue of up to Rs 600 crore has been reduced by Rs 150 crore pursuant to the pre-IPO placement, and accordingly, the fresh issue size is up to Rs 450 crore," the company said while announcing the IPO.

"The net proceeds from the fresh issue are proposed to be utilised for setting up of new company-owned Burger King Restaurants and for general corporate purposes," the company said.

In the IPO, 75 per cent of the offer is reserved for the qualified institutional investors, 15 per cent for the non-institutional investors or high net worth individuals and 10 per cent for the retail individual investors.

Mid-caps, small-caps seen outperforming near-term

RAVI RANJAN PRASAD
MUMBAI, NOV. 27

After a bull run in large-cap stocks, analysts estimate a catch-up rally in the broader markets consisting of mid-caps and the small-cap stocks.

On Friday, while the benchmark indices closed in the red with Sensex down 110 points, or 0.25 per cent, the BSE Mid-cap Index gained 1.91 per cent and the BSE Small-cap Index gained 2.40 per cent, thus, outperforming the large-cap stocks.

The situation in the domestic market is panning out just like for the US broader market benchmark Russell 2000 and European Stoxx 600 that have given a break-out after record bull run in the benchmark indices Dow Jones Industrial Average, S&P 500 and Nasdaq indices, analysts said.

The BSE Mid-cap Index has rallied over 74 per cent from its March low of 9711.44 to 16,914.65 but is still far below its all time high of 18,321.37, touched on January 9, 2018.

The BSE Small-cap Index at 16,875.15 is also up over 90 per cent from the March low of 8,872.83 but far short of the all-time-high of 20,183.45 it touched on January 15, 2018.

"In line with our prognosis, mid-cap and small-cap indices have extended their up move after a higher base formation in September and October. We expect both indices to witness acceleration in upward momentum and outperform the Nifty in coming months," said brokerage ICICI Securities.

"Globally, Russell 2000 and Stoxx 600 have also registered multi-year range breakouts. Historical, positive correlation of domestic indices with global peers makes us further confident in our positive stance," it added.

"In the coming month, we maintain our overall constructive stance, with incremental shift to broader markets as the Nifty is expected to undergo consolidation amid positive bias in the range of 12800-13200 after a sharp 14 per cent rally in November," ICICI Securities said.

Credit guarantee extended to health sector

New Delhi, Nov. 27: The government on Thursday said it has extended the Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) to the health sector and 26 other sectors identified by the Kamath Committee.

The National Credit Guarantee Trustee Company Limited (NCGTC) has issued the operational guidelines for implementation of ECLGS 2.0 scheme, the finance ministry said in a statement.

The scheme was announced by the government earlier this month as part of the Rs 2.65-lakh crore Atmanirbhar Bharat 3.0 package.

"Under ECLGS 2.0 entities with outstanding credit above Rs 50 crore and not exceeding Rs 500 crore as on February 29, 2020, which were less than or equal to 30 days past due as on February 29, 2020 are eligible," the statement said.

The loans provided under ECLGS 2.0 will have a five-year tenor, with a 12-month moratorium on repayment of principal, the statement said.

"These entities or borrower accounts will be eligible for additional funding up to 20 per cent (which could be fund based or non-fund based or both) of their total outstanding credit (fund based only) as a collateral free Guaranteed Emergency Credit Line (GECL), which would be fully guaranteed by NCGTC," it added. — PTI

LVB bond write-off will hurt other banks: Icra

Mumbai, Nov. 27: The write-off of Rs 318-crore tier-II bonds by Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB) ahead of its merger with DBS Bank is a precedent set by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and will hurt the private sector lender's peers, a report said.

During the Yes Bank rescue earlier this year also, there was an over Rs 7,000-crore bond write-off, but that involved a different instrument called additional tier-I bonds.

In the case of LVB, which has been merged with DBS in a scheme proposed by the RBI, investments of Rs 318.20 crore in bonds issued by LVB will be written off, the lender informed the exchanges late Thursday night.

"RBI has set a precedence with the proposed write-off as it's the first time a tier-II bond is being written off," ratings agency Icra said in the report on Friday.

The agency added that investors should factor in the risk in Basel-III instruments, as these instruments can be completely written off in case the bank gets into trouble.

"We expect the risk premiums for such instruments to increase for weaker private banks, given this event," the ratings agency said.

In an exchange filing late on Thursday evening, the bank said the RBI has advised it of the need to fully write down the Series VIII, Series IX and Series X Basel-III-complaint tier-II bonds before the amalgamation with DBS Bank comes into effect on Friday.

"If the relevant authorities decide to reconstitute the bank or amalgamate the bank with any other bank under the Section 45 of the Banking Regulation Act, such a bank shall be deemed as non-viable and both the pre-specified trigger and the trigger at the point of the point of non-viability for write-down of bonds shall be activated.

"Accordingly, the bonds shall be written off before amalgamation or reconstitution in accordance with applicable rules," according to the terms of the information memorandum of the respective Basel-III Tier-II bonds issued by the bank," LVB said. — PTI

The pace of credit-rating cut for Indian companies has slowed amid signs the local economy is coming out of its worst-ever contraction.

There have been about three downgrades for every upgrade of rupee debt since October 1, the lowest since the last three months of 2019, according to data from India's four biggest rating firms compiled by Bloomberg. That compares with a ratio of more than four to one in favour of a cut for the previous quarter, and a record 11 to one in the April-to-June period.

Economic data suggests that Asia's third-biggest economy is recovering, albeit unevenly, after it shrank a record 24 per cent in the three months to June 30. A slower pace of downgrades may open the door to funding for weaker borrowers in India.

A record Rs 1.38 lakh crore ($19 billion) of bond obligations from issuers rated AA and below mature in 2021, according to data compiled by

DRAFT RULES FOR REGISTERING VINTAGE VEHICLES FRAMED

New Delhi, Nov. 27: The Centre on Friday said it intends to formalise the registration process of the vintage motor vehicles, and has sought public comments for proposed rules regarding this.

In a statement, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways said it has invited public comments for proposed rules on registering vintage vehicles.

"There are no existing rules for regulating the registration process of vehicles of heritage value. These rules are proposed to be inserted as sub-rules 81A, 81B, 81C, 81D, 81E, 81F, 81G in the Central Motor Vehicle Rules, 1989," it said.

The draft rules define vintage motor vehicles as all those vehicles that are two-wheelers and four-wheelers (non-commercial and personal use) and are more than 50 years old from the date of their first registration (including imported vehicle).

There is a restriction in the definition no substantial overhaul of the vehicle which includes modification in chassis or body shell, and/or engine.

"It is proposed that all applications for registration shall be applied on 'Parivahan' portal."

"It is further proposed that all states registering authority will appoint a nodal officer who will process all applications for registration of vintage motor vehicles," it said.

Further, states will form a committee that will inspect a vehicle and declare whether the vehicle is fit for registration.

If approved, a 10-digit alphanumeric number will be assigned to the respective vintage vehicle, valid for 10 years. The

CHINA'S INDUSTRIAL PROFIT GROWTH AT NINE-YEAR HIGH

Nov. 27: Profits at Chinese industrial enterprises surged at the fastest pace in a single month in almost nine years in October, a further sign the economic recovery is gathering pace.

Industrial profits rose for a sixth straight month, climbing 28.2 per cent in October from a year ago, data from the National Bureau of Statistics showed on Friday. For the first 10 months of the year, profits rose 0.7 per cent.

The acceleration was mainly due to a low base in the same period last year and an increase in investment income in October, the statistics bureau said. An economist at the bureau, cautioned profits

Consumers are now able to shop anywhere in the world

'This is the apocalypse for legacy retail'

HILARY PUNCHARD
TORONTO, NOV. 27

Legacy retailers such as Macy's Inc and Hudson's Bay will be left behind by consumers after they neglecting to build a foundation in e-commerce before the pandemic, according to Mark Cohen, a former CEO of Sears Canada.

"This trend (of e-commerce) which emerged about 15 or 20 years ago was moving along at an increasingly accelerated clip pre-pandemic and now the pandemic is causing stores to be closed, causing customers to avoid shopping malls and shopping districts from a physical point of view and enormously," Cohen said in an interview.

"It's something that was well underway pre-pandemic, it's apocryphal the degree to which consumers have moved in that direction today and I suspect that once Covid is in our rearview mirror, the rate of growth of e-commerce will be a bit, but reverse the trend that we've been seeing."

Cohen, who now serves as director of retail studies at Columbia Business School, explained that the ultimate nail in the coffin for legacy retailers was that many companies neglected to engage with customers online rather than just in person.

late to the party as have many legacy retailers in fully expressing themselves online. They did have a website as did Macy's but it's been merely an expression of whatever it is they're putting on sale each week rather than a portal into the customer's presence and expectations," Cohen explained.

"I think that when all is said and done the great American, great Canadian department store has seen its day and it's on the way out."

Department stores have been dealt blow-after-blow amid Covid-19 with many companies being ordered to close their doors due to pandemic-related lockdowns and slowly rely on forms to attract customers. But, Cohen said with customers no longer being tied to local retailers and with the expansion of e-commerce offerings amid the pandemic, the apocalypse for legacy retail has finally come. "I think that the consumer who was tethered to a local mall whether here in the US or in Canada now has no limitations on where they can consider shopping... They are literally able to shop anywhere in the world," Cohen explained.

"This is the apocalypse that was upon us pre-pandemic from a legacy retail point of view, which now is in full view—it's really something to watch."

Bagan beat Bengal in derby

Vasco, Goa: Fijian striker Roy Krishna continued his prolific goal-scoring form as he helped ATK Mohun Bagan prevail over SC East Bengal 2-0 in the first ever Indian Super League derby here on Friday.

Krishna, who had scored ATKMB's lone goal against Kerala Blasters in their campaign opener, struck in the 49th minute before Manvir Singh killed the contest in the 85th minute with a solo effort.

With two wins on the trot, ATK Mohun Bagan led the table with six points, followed by Northeast United FC.

It was a typical Antonio Lopez Habas' style of play that panned out on the field as ATKMB were slow to get off the blocks before taking control of the game.

Their defence, helmed by Tiri, put up a disciplined show to return with a clean slate for their second successive match in the league. — PTI

Belgium on top in FIFA rankings

Zurich: With Belgium still at No. 1, FIFA released its final rankings list for 2020 on Friday and set the seedings for the European portion of the World Cup qualifying draw.

Defending World Cup champion France is in second place, with Brazil third and England fourth. European champion Portugal rounds out the top five, with Spain in sixth.

FIFA will host the European draw on December 7. The 10 top-seeded teams include Italy, which was seeded second four years ago and failed to qualify for the 2018 tournament in Russia after ending up in a group with Spain.

The Netherlands, ranked 14th, took the last top-seeded place, dropping No. 16 Switzerland into pot 2. — AP

Badminton League off due to Covid-19

New Delhi: The sixth edition of the Premier Badminton League (PBL) was on Friday postponed to next year, keeping in mind the health and safety of the players amid the raging Covid-19 pandemic.

The league, which is one of the highest prize money badminton tournaments in the world, was initially scheduled to take place in the last week of December in Delhi, Mumbai and Pune.

However, SportzLive, the official license holder of the league under the aegis of the Badminton Association of India (BAI), decided to postpone the event due to the prevailing conditions. PBL is a sought-after global badminton leagues having six-franchise-based teams, who compete in a home and away format. — PTI

CCOB emerge cricket champs

Hyderabad: City College Old Boys Cricket Association (CCOB CA) beat Emerging Cricketers Developmental Group (ECDG) by 33 runs to win the 4th edition of Teen Premier League Junior Cricket Championship organised by the School Sports & Games Federation (SSGF) at RKS Grounds in Boduppal here.

Batting first in the final, CCOB were all out for 174 in 26 overs.

Ansh was the top scorer with 41. In reply ECDG were out for 141 in 24.3 overs.

Brief scores: CCOB Cricket Association 174 in 26 overs (Dharmik 35, Ansh 41, Furkhan 3/24, S. Akash 4/15) bt ECDG 141 in 24.3 overs (Manikanda 36, Sathwik 37, Ansh 3/11, Pruthvi 3/4, Adnan 2/6).

SMITH HEREENS

Finch, Smith centuries blow India away in opener

Sydney, Nov. 27: Hardik Pandya's career-best effort wasn't good enough to compensate for a forgettable bowling effort as India slumped to a 66-run defeat against Australia in the first ODI, making a rather unimpressive start to the tour, here on Friday.

Virat Kohli's men started exactly on a note they wouldn't have liked, giving away 374 runs in 50 overs with rival captain Aaron Finch (114 off 124 balls) and his illustrious predecessor Steve Smith (105 off 66 balls) hitting contrasting hundreds.

A pitch that looked docile during the first half suddenly came to life in the second as Josh Hazlewood (3/55) bounced out the Indian top-order, including Kohli and a frightened Shreyas Iyer, who got himself into a tangle.

Pandya's 76-ball 90 and a 128-run stand with senior opener Shikhar Dhawan (74 off 86 balls) delayed the inevitable but it was always a catch-up game after the team was reduced to 101 for 4 inside 14 overs.

Big-hearted leg-spinner Adam Zampa (4/54 in 10 overs) dismissed Shikhar Dhawan and Hardik Pandya in quick succession as India surrendered to scoreboard pressure finishing at 308/8 after 50 overs.

India's eternal nemesis Steven Smith seems ready to torment them a lot in next two months if his 11 fours and four sixes were any indication on Friday.

Not for once was he troubled by the Indian bowlers, who were already under the pump after a 156-run opening stand between Finch and David Warner (69).

As far as Indian innings is concerned, a high percentage of dot balls (148) in the Indian innings also showed how the mighty Australian team dominated the proceedings.

INDIANS JOIN AUSSIES IN ANTI-RACISM MOVE

The Indian cricketers on Friday joined their Australian counterparts in forming a barefoot circle on the ground to support the anti-racism movement and acknowledge the culture of indigenous people of the host country.

The barefoot circle ceremony was held before the start of the opening One-day International between the two teams here.

NUMBERS GAME

● Australia recorded their highest total against India by making 374 for 6 in 50 overs. Their previous best was 359, recorded four times. Overall, it is the third-highest total by any team against India in One-Day Internationals.

● Steven Smith recorded third fastest hundred for Australia by completing 100 runs off 62 balls during his 105-run knock. The quicker ones are Glenn Maxwell's 51-ball century against Sri Lanka at the 2015 World Cup, also at Sydney and James Faulkner's century in 57 balls against India in Bangalore in 2013.

● All five Indian bowlers except Mohammed Shami, conceded 60-plus runs, only the second such instance for India. The first such instance was against West Indies at Guwahati in 2018.

Kohli rues first defeat

Sydney, Nov. 27: India skipper Virat Kohli on Friday questioned his team's body language after the opening ODI loss to Australia and said Hardik Pandya not being fit to bowl is affecting the side's balance as he doesn't have enough all-rounders at his disposal.

India made a dismal start to their tour of Australia, losing the first ODI by 66 runs here, chasing a mammoth 375-run target after Aaron Finch and Steve Smith smashed hundreds for the hosts.

"Everyone needs to show the intent in the entire 50 overs. Probably, we played 50 overs after a long time that could have an affect...but having said that we have played so much ODI cricket that it is not something we don't know how to do," Kohli said in the post-match presentation.

"I think the body language in the field wasn't great after around 25

INJURED ISHANT OUT AS ROHIT WAITS TILL DEC. 11

Sydney, Nov. 27: India's senior-most fast bowler Ishant Sharma has been ruled out of the upcoming Test matches against Australia as he will not be match-fit in time while Rohit Sharma's hamstringing will be assessed finally on December 11, BCCI secretary Jay Shah said on Thursday.

BCCI issued a short injury update of the two senior players after a fiery online media interaction by Virat Kohli, who made his displeasure clear about lack of communication and clarity on the whole issue. While Kohli had raised a question as to why Rohit didn't do his rehabilitation in Australia along with Wriddhiman Saha, Shah in his press note clarified that Rohit had come back to country to attend his ailing father after which he reported to the NCA.

"Rohit Sharma had to come back to Mumbai after the IPL to attend to his ailing father. His father is now recuperating well and that has allowed him to travel to the NCA and start his rehabilitation," Shah said.

the Indian skipper added.

NATARAJAN IN INDIA ODI SIDE AS SAINI COVER

Sydney, Nov. 27: The BCCI on Thursday added left-arm seamer T. Natarajan to India's ODI squad as half-fit paceman Navdeep Saini's cover.

According to BCCI press release that landed close to midnight, Saini had complained of back spasms which led to the 29-year-old yorker specialist from Tamil Nadu's inclusion in the 50-over format.

Natarajan, who has played 15 List 'A' matches so far, was initially a net bowler accompanying the Indian team and then made it to the T20 squad after

Varun Chakravarthy pulled out and now is a part of ODI squad. Natarajan put up a splendid performance with the ball for SRH in the recently concluded IPL that led to his selection. — PTI

Brazil mourns Diego's demise

Sao Paulo, Nov. 27: Brazil and Argentina are long rivals for football supremacy in South America, and Brazilians naturally think of their own Pele as the best footballer in history. But they are putting aside the argument to mourn the death of Argentine superstar Diego Maradona.

Ex-presidents, author Paulo Coelho and former competitors were among Brazilians paying tribute to Maradona for his influence on the game and charisma off the field. Brazilian newspapers that only put sports in their top headline when the national team wins a World Cup had Maradona's death in that position Thursday.

A mural of Maradona was even painted on a wall in the Vila Cruzeiro favela in Rio de Janeiro, an honor that proud and soccer-crazy Brazilians rarely, if ever, give to foreigners.

"He was an example of persistence and perseverance because he grew in life as a human being," said graffiti artist Angelo Campos, who painted an energetic Maradona in a blue shirt under an inscription with his nickname, "El Pibe de Oro" (the Golden Kid).

The Neo Quimica Arena in Sao Paulo displayed a triumphant Maradona image on a giant screen by its main entrance. That is the same stadium where most Brazilian fans cheered against Argentina in the 2014 World Cup semifinal against Holland.

Argentina won on penalties but lost final to Germany 1-0. All top-tier Brazilian clubs paid tributes, including Santos, where Pele played nearly all of his career. — AFP

POLICE CLASH WITH FANS IN ARGENTINA

Buenos Aires, Nov. 27: Riot police fired rubber bullets and tear gas in clashes Thursday with football fans near the wake for Argentine football legend Diego Maradona in Buenos Aires.

Officials earlier ordered Maradona's coffin to be moved to another room inside the presidential palace after fans took over an inner courtyard and disrupted his lying in state.

The government had early announced a three-hour extension to the wake to allow time for fans to pay their respects.

Tens of thousands of people had queued from early morning to file past the star's coffin, draped in the Argentine flag and the player's No.10 jersey, at the presidential palace. Many of the mourners were in tears, and some wore replicas of the World Cup winner's jersey as they gathered at the Casa Rosada palace to see his coffin.

But as the day wore on, fans queueing outside the palace grew increasingly impatient and some took over a courtyard inside the palace, where they chanted slogans.

At the same time, riot police clashed with stone throwing fans on streets around the palace, and several people were arrested. — AFP

Napoli dedicate win to Maradona

Paris, Nov. 27: Napoli honoured the memory of Diego Maradona with a 2-0 win over Rijeka which allowed them to go top of Europa League Group 'F' in the first match since the death their Argentine icon.

Gennaro Gattuso's side entered the field all wearing the number 10 jersey of Maradona, who won Napoli's only Serie A titles in 1987 and 1990 as well as the 1989 UEFA Cup.

"Diego is a legend and will never die," Gattuso said after the match.

"Since yesterday you could see that the city breathed a different atmosphere. We hope to dedicate something important to him and win a trophy," he added.

Napoli are now two points ahead of AZ Alkmaar and Real Sociedad following their goalless draw in the Netherlands.

Roma made their way into the last 32 with a 2-0 win at Romanian side Cluj, while Hoffenheim joined them after ensuring their respective passages into the next round from L.

Earlier Jame Vardy's last-gasp leveller in a thrilling 3-3 at Braga sent Leicester City through to the knockout rounds, where they were also joined by Arsenal thanks to their 3-0 win at Molde.

Leicester looked dead and buried when Fransergio put the hosts 3-2 ahead in the first minute of added time, but Vardy stole in at the back post shortly after to tap in the goal that put the Premier League side into the Last 32. — AFP

STADIUM NEAR BARASAT NAMED AFTER MARADONA

Kolkata, Nov. 27: A stadium near Barasat, where Diego Maradona was last seen in action in India (December 12, 2017), was on Friday named after the football legend.

During his last visit to Kolkata three years ago, Maradona had conducted a football clinic with school children at the Aditya School of Sports in Kadambgachi on the outskirts of Barasat, about 35 kilometres from Kolkata. "The stadium has now been converted into a full-fledged cricket stadium in the size of Eden Gardens and we have named it 'Diego Maradona Aditya School of Sports Cricket Stadium'," chairman of Aditya Group Anirban Aditya said.

"This is the first ever cricket stadium in the Argentine football legend's name. We also have special Maradona memorabilia in the changing room. The seat and the cloth hanger that Maradona used would now be kept reserved with his autographed No.10 jersey," Aditya added.

Anirban Aditya said they had built the stadium in just four months and Maradona was the first sportsperson to step on to it. — PTI
