ADANI GOES ON A BUYING SPREE IN TELUGU STATES

N. VAMSI SRINIVAS | DC HYDERABAD, MARCH 4

The Adani group is on an acquisition spree in the Telugu states and the latest target is a stake in the city-based electric bus manufacturer Olectra.

The Adani group, which made a foray into the fast-growing segment of electric vehicles a few years ago, has set its eyes on Olectra Greentech, in which a majority stake is held by the Megha group.

Sources told Deccan Chronicle that the Adani group will take 10 per cent equity in Olectra but the deal value is yet to be known.

Olectra was launched by Goldstone Infratech with technical collaboration from the BYD group of China. The name of the company was changed to Olectra Greentech and its share price closed at ₹177.90 on Thursday.

On Wednesday, the Adani group announced the purchase of 31.5 per cent stake in Gangavaram port. Though the Adani group made repeated attempts to get into the most valuable project, it did not materialise as the promoters, D.V.S. Raju and family, were said to have fixed a higher value, ₹10,000 crore.

The Adanis realised its dream, however, by buying 31.5 per cent stake from the international venture capitalist Warburg Pincus for ₹1,954 crore, bringing down the value of the company to about ₹5,000 crore.

"There is every reason for the original promoters to keep the company at a higher value," sources in the port sector said.

Gangavaram with its locational advantage and deeper levels is considered to be the least expensive on maintenance.

YSRC EXTENDS SOLIDARITY TO VSP BANDH

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, MARCH 4

The YSRC- led AP government has announced solidarity with Friday's bandh protest demanding cancellation of the Centre's decision to privatise the Vizag Steel Plant.

Transport minister Perni Venkataramaiah alias Nani, announcing the government's solidarity with the bandh call, said that APSRTC buses would not run up to 1 pm on Friday in support of the protest. He said that APSRTC employees would attend duties after 1 pm wearing black badges.

Addressing the media here on Thursday, minister Nani said that the government was against the privatisation of VSP and Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy had already written to the Centre suggesting alternatives to retain the organisation within the PSU fold.

The minister said public life will not be affected and emergency health services will run as usual. He said the VSP was the right of Andhraites and mirrored the aspirations of millions of Telugu people. He recalled that there was a history of sacrifice of the Telugu people for establishing the steel plant in the state.

The minister stated the credit for merging the RTC with the government goes to the YSRC government. It was done to revive the organisation and curb the exploitation by private individuals, despite having the burden of ₹3,600 crore.

TD BACKS AP BANDH FOR VIZAG STEEL PLANT

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, MARCH 4

Telugu Desam announced its support to the State bandh called by the Visakhapatnam Steel Plant Parirakshana Committee on Friday. This was announced by party's national general secretary Nara Lokesh in Visakhapatnam and state president of the party K. Atchannaidu in Vizianagaram on Thursday.

Addressing a press conference in Vizianagaram, Atchannaidu said he had appealed to all the party workers to participate in the peaceful bandh all over the city. He also asked his party members to strengthen the agitation to protect the steel plant from going into the private sector.

Blaming the ruling party for the present crisis, Atchannaidu said the YSRC government was planning to grab the plant's unused lands.

"We lost 32 lives in the agitation for the steel plant but to get freedom from 36 cases, Jagan Mohan Reddy is supporting the Centre to privatise the plant," Atchannaidu said.

He appealed to people to defeat YSRC in the GVMC elections to save the steel plant.

CENTRE EXAMINED 111 MUNICIPALITIES FOR SURVEY

"Securing the second spot in MPI is the result of the hard-working of civic body staff and cooperation of denizens," he said.

The MPI examined the sectoral performance of 111 municipalities (with Delhi being assessed separately for NDMC, and the three municipal corporations) across five verticals which comprise of 20 sectors and 100 indicators in totality. The five verticals under MPI are Services, Finance, Policy, Technology and Governance.

The Ease of Living Index (EoLI) is an assessment tool that evaluates the quality of life and the impact of various initiatives for urban development. It provides a comprehensive understanding of participating cities across India based on quality of life, economic-ability of a city, and sustainability and resilience. The assessment also incorporates the residents' view on the services provided by city administration through a Citizen Perception Survey.

Both the indices represent an attempt to gauge the performance of cities on various parameters of urban living. The Ease of Living Index encapsulates the outcome indicators while the municipal performance index captures the enabling input parameters. These indices provide a holistic assessment of cities based on their efforts to cultivate better quality of life, create infrastructure, and address challenges of urbanisation.

YSRC to proceed legally against false propaganda

Chief Minister Jagan Mohan Reddy personally presented B-Forms to the MLC candidates of YSRC at the CM's camp office in Tadepalli on Thursday.

days. The YSRC is set to win a majority in the council, he said.

He said the selection of MLC candidates showed the importance the YSRC attached to the backward communities in the party and the government.

Condemning the news in a section of the media that YSRC men were threatening candidates to withdraw from the civic polls, Ramakrishna Reddy said the YSRC would proceed legally against those spreading such "canards".

He said it was not possible to force someone to withdraw from the elections in these times when technology is put to good use by the election authorities. Candidate should go in person or send his authorised agent for withdrawal; and any candidate can proceed legally by following due procedures if any threat was held out, the adviser said.

Ramakrishna Reddy asserted that the pro-YSR trend in the gram panchayat elections will be repeated in the municipal elections, and noted that the urban local body elections will be held for 12 corporations and 75 municipalities. Of these, three corporations and 12 municipalities saw unanimous election. The YSRC would sweep the civic polls as they are being held on party symbol, he said.

The adviser said Chandrababu Naidu is habituated to telling lies and it's proven once again through the false promises he made in the TD manifesto for the municipal elections.

Ramakrishna Reddy released a pamphlet with details of the welfare schemes implemented since the YSRC came to power and said these should be widely publicized in towns and cities. The YSRC is going for civic polls with the slogan, "Support good governance."

He said the YSRC government has plans to build townships and supply safe drinking water in towns and cities.

Naidu launches civic poll campaign from Kurnool

DC CORRESPONDENT
KURNOOL, MARCH 4

Telugu Desam national president Nara Chandrababu Naidu who launched his party's municipal poll campaign from Kurnool on Thursday called upon the people to get rid of the "scourge" of Jagan rule and envision its replacement with a people's government led by the TD.

"People are fed up with Jagan's rule, and it will not be long before TD returns to power," Naidu said.

Naidu who held a roadshow from Peddamarket to Chennamma circle covering all the important junctions in Kurnool city sought to strike a familiar chord with the public and spoke about the rise in petrol and gas prices and lack of avenues to earn a decent living in the state.

The former CM said if his party was voted to power, his first step would be cancellation of the steep hike in property taxes. He expressed optimism that the TD would win Kurnool Municipal Corporation in the present polls, as he "sees a surge in people's support towards the TD".

Advocates of Kurnool bar association raised slogans of "Go back Naidu" as he had not favoured shifting of the AP high court to Kurnool. He told them they were misguided by vested interests and that he was never against the 'High Court for Kurnool' demand.

YSRC GOVT COULDN'T GET A SINGLE COMPANY TO VIZAG CITY: LOKESH

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, MARCH 4

Former minister and all India general secretary of TD Nara Lokesh lambasted the ruling YSRC during his campaign for the party candidates fighting corporation elections in Visakhapatnam on Thursday.

He said the new government could not get a single company to the city while making vain attempts to stop some big companies going into the hands of the corporate sector.

"Jagan Mohan Reddy promised to get special category status if voted to power but after becoming Chief Minister, he has been keeping mum," said Lokesh.

He said despite having plenty of natural resources, the government failed to get a single manufacturing company to the city or provide employment to single people. Unlike him, the TD government created 75,000 jobs in five years in Visakhapatnam.

Similarly during his padayatra, Jagan Mohan Reddy promised the unemployed youth that he would announce DSC soon after coming to power but he set aside his assurance.

He said the YSRC and said chief minister Jagan had sought votes of the people in the assembly polls in 2019 by beseeching them to give him "one chance", and that was enough to "ruin the lives of the people".

He compared Jagan to a "live wire" that burned whoever came in contact with it.

On the populist schemes of YSRC like Ammavodi, Naidu said money transferred on one account was squeezed out by other. "Your husbands consume liquor supplied by government shops at exorbitant rates. Government is taking away your money." Referring to the interstate movement of people and cargo between Mahbubnagar and Kurnool, he said,

"all the money goes to Telangana" and "crazy brands of liquor in AP" too were money suckers.

In a reference to his detention at an airport, Naidu appealed to the police not to misuse their powers to please those who wielded power at the top and curbed movement of political leaders. He said the police were brazenly subverting their power by forcing people to withdraw nominations in gram panchayat and municipal polls. Police were also foisting false cases to burden them with court proceedings, he said, adding that things will change for the good and TD is well on its way back to power as the "people are fed up with Jagan rule".

Botsa says YSRC clean sweep in municipal elections is inevitable

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, MARCH 4

Minister for municipal administration Botsa Satyanarayana has refuted allegations from the opposition Telugu Desam that there was a huge increase in property tax rates and termed it a lie being spread by the Telugu Desam leaders.

The minister told the media here that the TD was spreading misinformation as it was unable to digest its humiliating defeat in the grama panchayat elections. He expressed confidence about the YSRC winning the municipal elections too as is evident from the wave of unanimous elections by YSRC candidates in many municipalities.

Addressing the media here, the minister said so far 578 wards across the state have elected their representatives unanimously. Of them, YSRC candidates won 571 wards without polls, securing 98.8 per cent success. Municipal elections are being held in 75 municipalities and 12 corporations, rounding off a total of 2,794 wards.

Unlike the panchayat polls, municipal elections are being held on party symbol, the minister said, adding, "The people are satisfied with the good governance of Chief Minister Jagan and have reposed their trust in the government."

The minister noted that the Jagan Mohan Reddy-led government was reaching the benefits of welfare schemes to all eligible persons irrespective of their caste, religion, or party affiliation. "TD chief Chandrababu Naidu had failed to implement even a single promise he made during the 2014 polls and he's trying to cheat the people again with his false promises," he said.

leaders were engaging in a false propaganda against the state government by alleging a hike in property tax rates. "Although the TD manifesto now says the party is for quashing the property tax in municipalities and municipal corporations, in reality, it won't have authority over that tax even if the TD won the elections. There was no such thing as a hike or burdening the people with new taxes, as the YSRC government primarily focuses attention on public welfare," he said.

Minister Satyanarayana said the TD has no candidates to field, as its cadre has lost faith in Naidu's leadership. He said the panchayat elections have proven that YSRC is the clear winner with people's blessings and its success march will continue in the coming municipal polls and other elections.

SEC INITIATES STEPS TO CURB FORCED WITHDRAWAL OF NOMINATIONS

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, MARCH 4

The State Election Commission has initiated steps to curb electoral malpractices, including the forced withdrawal of nominations, under duress in the urban local body polls in the state.

The SEC in a statement issued here on Thursday stated that the returning officers were directed to accept withdrawal of nominations only from the candidates and not through any intermediary.

It also said that the candidate was not to be accompanied by a person or persons at the time of withdrawal of nomination to ensure that the candidate was doing so on his or her own volition.

The SEC took serious note of a case in Tirupati where a forged withdrawal was submitted at Division No. 7 and considered it as an instance of election fraud.

It assured to take necessary steps to correct the situation and assured to take a similar action in all such cases if reported in the state without showing any exception.

It directed the collectors and district election authorities to keep watch on such electoral malpractices and take steps to curb them.

The State Election Commission asked the affected parties of electoral malpractices to take such issues to its notice to take remedial action.

It said that the secretary and joint secretary will personally take these complaints and pursue them as the State Election Commission considered such malpractices to be grave in nature.

The candidate lodged a complaint with the police about such electoral malpractice.

The SEC took a serious view of it and ordered for an inquiry. It said that it would issue instructions separately on the course of action to be taken for election of Division No. 7 at TMC after completion of a detailed probe.

Nani's daughter picked as TD's mayor candidate

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, MARCH 4

Telugu Desam cleared the air on its mayor candidate in the Vijayawada Municipal Corporation (VMC) elections by announcing Kesineni Swetha as their nominee.

Incidentally, Swetha is the daughter of Vijayawada MP, Kesineni Srinivas, alias Nani, who is presently campaigning for the success of TD candidates.

The party's state president Kinjarapu Atchannaidu made the announcement and asked the cadre to work together to ensure TD victory.

The TD in Vijayawada city was earlier divided into two groups with one headed by Nani and another by MLC Buddha Venkanna and Nagul Meera.

The party high command made Nani the in-charge in the VMC elections.

Recently, he changed the candidate in division 39 by giving the ticket to a migrant leader, K Siva Sarma, who recently joined TD from YSRC. There was another conflict when the division 34 candidate Kotteti Hanumantha Rao was replaced by a follower of Vangaveeti Radhakrishna.

The dissident leaders, furiously that their candidates were replaced by migrant leaders, strongly opposed the candidature of Swetha for the Mayor post and demanded that a nominee from their group be chosen for the post.

The internal conflicts went to the notice of party boss N Chandrababu Naidu, who called leaders from the two warring factions and appointed Atchannaidu to resolve the differences.

V-P to students: Make India Vishwa Guru once again

Tirupati has always had a special place in my heart, says Venkaiah Naidu

TIRUPATI, MARCH 4

Vice-President Muppavarapu Venkaiah Naidu on Thursday called upon the student community to work harder and smarter to make India a knowledge and education hub once again and regain the past glory of the country, which was once known as the Vishwa Guru (world guru).

“We have had an illustrious past. There was a time when India was known as Vishwa Guru. We had great institutions like Nalanda, Takshashila and Pushpagiri where students from across Asia came for learning. We have to regain that past glory and the Vishwa Guru status”, he said while interacting with students of IIT-Tirupati on the occasion of its sixth Institute Day.

Recalling that he had the opportunity to participate in the foundation stone laying programme of IIT, IISER in Tirupati and IIT-Sri City almost six years ago, the Vice-President said, “Tirupati has always had a special place in my heart. It evokes a sense of purity, devotion and inner peace. Now, this place has become even more dear to my heart because of the ‘Jnana Yagna’ or the cre-

He told the students that they are fortunate to be at a place where they can connect with India's ancient culture while studying modern cutting-edge technologies. “I want you to learn not only quantum physics and Artificial Intelligence, but also explore our rich heritage”, he said.

He termed the new education policy as a well thought out document and emphasised the need to quickly translate this policy into action. In that spirit, he stressed on the need for providing initial schooling in a child's mother tongue and called for efforts to increase the use of Indian languages in technical education, along with their use in administration and judiciary.

The Vice-President further emphasised the importance of emotional and social skills for engineering students along with technical skills.

“I am sure you will shape your destiny and contribute to the national transformation with your knowledge and skills you absorb here. But equally important is the set of emotional and social skills that will enable you to adapt to a rapidly changing world”, he noted.

Further, Mr Naidu lauded the IIT Tirupati for securing two renowned sustainability awards – ‘GRIHA and HUDCO’ awards for design and construction of an eco-friendly transit campus with sustainable construction materials and technologies.

Temple in Kurnool resurfaces

KURNOOL, MARCH 4

The Sanghameswara temple at the confluence of seven rivers in Kurnool district is becoming visible as the water in the Krishna river and Srisailem dam recedes.

The temple remains under water for about 222 days every year when the Krishna river is in full flow. Devotees can enter the temple and offer prayers to the Shivalinga only for about four months in a year.

Temple priest Telakapalli Raghunatha Sarma said that water needs to recede by another eight feet before people can enter the temple. “I am hopeful we can enter the temple in the 10 days. The sludge will have to be cleaned up,” he said.

Right now, only the gopuram of the temple is visible.

The temple began getting submerged after the construction of the Srisailem dam in 1980. It was not relocated like many other temples in the area. It remained hidden under water for more than 20 years and resurfaced in 2003.

The temple priest said that the Linga, made of neem wood, was installed by the Pandavas after they visited the Srisailem Mallikarjuna temple. The Shivalinga is said to have been brought from Kashi and consecrated at the confluence of the Krishna and Tungabhadra and other five tributaries. The idol was named Sangameshwaram after the Sangama or confluence of rivers.

Negligence is key cause for forest fires

The authorities keep fire fighting equipment ready to press into service based on need and also initiate measures to prevent forest fires by taking up water conservation measures by constructing check dams and dig out trenches. Fire lines will be drawn. The authorities carry out awareness programmes on preventive measures and also on how to control forest fires by roping in local villagers, members of Vana Samrakshana Samithis and representatives from the NGOs by taking out fire rallies and display of measures to be taken up on boards. The authorities take the history of forest fires in the last five years to identify the vulnerable places for initiating preventive measures during the fire season.

Principal chief conservator of forests N. Prateep Kumar said, “We are taking all requisite measures to control forest fires and also preventive steps. We are witnessing only ground fires in our forest areas. We are keeping our personnel on high alert to attend to any cases of forest fires immediately and minimise the extent of burning of forest cover.”

SINHA'S APPOINTMENT CHALLENGED

PARMOD KUMAR | DC
NEW DELHI, MARCH 4

The NGO Common Cause on Thursday moved the Supreme Court challenging the appointment of Praveen Sinha, a Gujarat cadre IPS officer, as an interim Director of the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). Sinha is already working in the investigating agency as Additional Director – a number two position in the organizational hierarchy.

The office of the CBI Director fell vacant upon the retirement of Rishi Kumar Shukla on February 2.

Seeking an urgent direction to the Centre to complete the process of selection of a regular CBI Director, the NGO Common Cause has contended that the appointment of interim Director was contrary to the provision of the bypassing the Delhi Special Police Establishment Act under which the CBI functions,

The NGO has challenged the government's February 3 decision to appoint Praveen Sinha as interim Director till the appointment of a new Director or until further orders.

In its petition, the NGO says that the unwillingness of the government to institute a transparent and accountable system impairs the right of the people since the CBI is currently probing cases involving rampant corruption in high places in the country.

BOMB SCARE AT TAJ MAHAL; CALLER DETAINED

New Delhi/Agra, Mar 4: The Taj Mahal complex in Agra was vacated on Thursday morning following a hoax bomb call, police said.

The caller, identified as Vimal Kumar Singh, has been detained for questioning in Firozabad. Additional Director General (ADG) of Police, Agra zone, A Satish Ganesh said.

Singh called the 112 emergency response number of the Uttar Pradesh police at around 9 am and claimed that a bomb was kept inside the monument that is conserved by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and protected by armed personnel of the Central Industrial Security Force (CISF).

The police immediately informed the CISF personnel, who asked the visitors to vacate the premises of the iconic 17th-century monument and launched anti-sabotage checks around 9:15 am.

Nothing suspicious was found during the checks at the monument, a CISF officer said in Delhi.

An initial probe revealed that Singh is a resident of Patiyali in Kasganj and was presently staying in his maternal grandmother's house in Okhra village in the Narkhi area of Firozabad, the ADG said. "Prima facie it seems that he (Singh) is mentally unstable and is probably under treatment. We are probing why he made such a call. The Taj Mahal was reopened for visitors after about an hour and 45 minutes," he added.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will hold a virtual summit with his Swedish counterpart Stefan Lofven on Friday during which the two leaders "will hold comprehensive discussions on the entire spectrum of the bilateral relations and exchange views on regional and global issues including further strengthening of cooperation in the post-Covid era".

Around 250 Swedish companies are "actively operating in India in various sectors such as defence, health and life sciences, auto industry, clean technology, heavy machinery and equipment".

In a statement, the MEA said, "This will be the fifth interaction between the two leaders since 2015. Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had visited Stockholm in April 2018 for the First India Nordic Summit. (Swedish) Prime Minister Stefan Löfven had visited India in February 2016 for the special Make in India week. Earlier, the two leaders had met on the sidelines of the UN General Assembly in September, 2015. In April 2020, the two Prime Ministers had a telephonic conversation to discuss the situation arising out of the Covid-19 pandemic."

Metroman Sreedharan made BJP CM face for Kerala polls

Syro Malabar Church mouthpiece snubs BJP, asks tough questions

GILVESTER ASSARY | DC
THIRUVANANTHAPURAM, MAR. 4

The state unit of BJP on Thursday announced that Metroman E. Sreedharan would be the party's chief ministerial face in the forthcoming assembly elections in the state to be held on April 6.

BJP state president Mr K Surendran made the announcement while addressing a public meeting in Pathanamthitta district on Thursday in connection with his Vijay Yatra.

"If given a chance, under Metroman, Kerala will see a development culture like never before," he said.

He said that a sizable section of people in Kerala want a personality like E Sreedharan to become the chief minister of the state.

"In the present circumstances when corruption is rampant and development projects have hit a roadblock, a person of Sreedharan's stature is needed at the helm. We requested him to join the BJP with a clear purpose of utilising his services for the state and the country," he said.

The BJP leader said Sreedharan is known for completing the projects in a cost effective manner, without corruption and in a time bound manner.

"In Kerala we know projects have been moving at a snail's pace. Alappuzha bypass took 45 years, Kollam bypass nearly five decades," he said.

Significantly Surendran's announcement came on a day when Sreedharan inspected the Palarivattom flyover in Kochi and announced that it was ready for traffic movement.

He was entrusted with the task of repair and maintenance of the flyover which had been closed for vehicular traffic because of major defects.

Though the flyover was to be completed within 16 months, Sreedharan got the work finished within six months.

The Palarivattom flyover had triggered a major political storm in Kerala last year with a former PWD minister and Muslim League leader being arrested in connection with the corruption in construction of fly over. It is alleged that low quality material was used for the construction which led to major defects.

"Yes the flyover is ready for being handed over to the state government in a day or two. It is for the government to reopen it for traffic," Sreedharan said after inspecting the flyover.

Earlier, even the metro-man had very clearly expressed his desire to lead the state if given a chance as a chief minister.

Church mouthpiece snubs BJP: In another development, the BJP which was trying to woo the Christian community in Kerala received a snub from Syro Malabar Church.

The mouthpiece of the Church Sathya Deepam unleashed a scathing attack on the BJP government at the Centre for the hike in LPG Petrol prices.

In an article, the Church said questions need to be asked to the BJP on various issues. It took a dig at the BJP "Vijay Yatra". Are they celebrating the 100 scored by petrol prices or ₹225 increased in LPG prices during the last three months.

The Church mouthpiece sought to know as to why Stan Swami was in the jail and why justice was being delayed to Kandhamal victims.

The BJP leaders including state president K Surendran, Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister Ashwath Narayan had called on Syro Malabar Church archbishop Mar George Alanchery in Kochi recently to seek his support for the party.

BJP says Cong. used wrong tea garden picture

MANOJ ANAND | DC
GUWAHATI, MAR. 4

In what has caught the Congress campaign managers on the wrong foot, Assam minister Himanta Biswa Sarma on Thursday attacked the opposition Congress over using photos of a Taiwan tea garden in their campaign saying Congress leaders couldn't even recognise Assam.

The mistake, he said, was an insult to the people of Assam and the tea garden workers of the state.

The problem started over a photograph of a Taiwan tea garden tweeted by the official twitter handle of the Congress party which has launched an aggressive campaign to what they said - Assam Bachao (Save Assam) campaign.

Mr Sarma who is camping in New Delhi to finalise the seat sharing arrangement of the party for the state in New Delhi took to Twitter saying, "Official Congress campaign page is using a photo of tea garden from Taiwan to say 'Assam Bachao'. Congress leaders can't even recognise Assam? This is an insult of Assam and tea garden workers of our state. #CongressInsultsAssam"

Mr Sarma who is leading the campaign of the party in the state also shared a photograph that the Congress used for their 'Assam Bachao (save Assam)' campaign, alongside another screenshot that said it was a tea garden in Taiwan. It was a screenshot from "The life of tea garden workers is full of truth and simplicity and their labour is valuable for the country. Today, I sat with them and inquired about their work, family and the problems they face while working. I will not forget the love and warmth they showed to me," she said while concluding her two days visit to Assam. She also announced that if her party voted to power in Assam, the minimum wage of the tea garden workers would be hiked to ₹365.

FIVE TOP CPM MINISTERS MAY NOT CONTEST

DC CORRESPONDENT
THIRUVANANTHAPURAM, MAR. 4

Five top ministers in Pinarayi Vijayan Cabinet may not contest assembly elections this time if the deliberation held during the state leadership meet in Thiruvananthapuram is any indication.

The state secretariat meeting held at the party headquarters AKG Centre here was of the opinion that the two-term norm needs to be complied with strictly while finalising the candidates.

According to party sources, if the norm is enforced strictly then Industries Minister E P Jayarajan, finance minister T M Thomas Isaac, PWD minister G Sudhakaran, Law-SC/ST Welfare Minister A K Balan and education minister C Ravendranath will not be in the fray.

Other MLAs who have completed three or four terms would also be kept out.

The district leadership of the party in Alappuzha had earlier recommended that ministers Sudhakaran, Isaac should be given exemption and fielded considering their high prospects of victory. However, this recommendation has now been turned down.

But party sources said that the final word is yet to be spoken on the issue. The secretariat opinion will be presented before the state committee and taken back to the Assembly committees. In case if the assembly committee unanimously decides to recommend the names of ministers again, then the state leadership will be forced to reconsider it.

DMK signs deal with VCK, waits for Congress

G BABU JAYAKUMAR & D SEKAR | DC
CHENNAI, MARCH 4

The VCK agreed to contest in six seats, four in the reserved category and two general constituencies, in the April 6 elections to the State Assembly on Thursday even as the DMK was waiting for the rest of its allies, particularly the Congress, to return to the negotiating table and sign pacts in the next two or three days.

After signing the poll agreement with DMK President MK Stalin, VCK general secretary Thol Thirumavalavan said their priority was to thwart the BJP's plan to capture the State and hence they did not want to haggle over the number of seats.

It is in the same spirit, other allies – the Congress, CPM, CPI and MDMK – would agree for the seats offered to them, sources in the DMK said. However, the mood in the other party offices was different.

While Congress sources said that talks with the DMK were deadlocked as the final offer they had been given was 20 seats against their demand of 35 but hoped that everything would be solved amicably in a day or two.

AICC's Tamil Nadu in-charge Dinesh Gunda Rao, who is in Chennai to handle the negotiations for seats, had a meeting with the TNCC functionaries and the general perception was that the party should not accept the low offer.

Though the cadre, in general, felt the need for an alliance with the DMK to defeat the BJP in the State, there were some voices favouring the party going it alone in the polls. Senior TNCC leaders, however, clarified that the negotiations would yield positive results in a day or two.

Since the VCK, which was given 2 MP seats in the Lok Sabha elections, was given six seats, the Congress leaders feel that they were entitled for 27 seats, given the fact that

TN BJP SEEKS BAN ON RAHUL'S CAMPAIGN

DC CORRESPONDENT
CHENNAI, MARCH 4

The State BJP has urged the Election Commission to restrain Congress leader Rahul Gandhi from campaigning in the State as he has reportedly compared the situation in the country to that which prevailed under imperial rule before independence.

In a letter to the Election Commission, State President L Murugan and V Balachandran, who is state in-charge for election liaison committee, also demanded the filing of an FIR under Section 124 A of the IPC.

They alleged that Rahul Gandhi was inciting and abetting the youth for another freedom struggle and that it was done with an intent to cause hatred, contempt and excite dissatisfaction towards the government established by law.

they contested from nine constituencies for the Lok Sabha in 2019.

So, the general hope is that they would settle for a round figure of 25 and the pact would be signed in the next two days. Similarly the other DMK allies too are asking for more seats, while there seemed to be no threat to the alliance.

While CPM leader Sitaram Yechuri indicated that the alliance with the DMK was intact, at the local level the party was demanding more than the eight seats it had been offered. The CPM's State executive meeting, scheduled for March 6, would take a final call on the alliance, sources said.

The TNCC is also holding its extended executive meeting on Friday when the seat-sharing imbroglio may again figure and the leaders may be able to take a final decision on it.

The Supreme Court on Thursday favoured the screening of programmes on over-the-top (OTT) platforms like Amazon Prime and Netflix while expressing concern that at times programmes are with porn contents.

"We are of the view that there should be some screening of such programs. At times they are showing pornography too", said a bench comprising Justice Ashok Bhushan and Justice R. Subhash Reddy.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta appearing for the Centre told the court that "They are showing filthy things with abuses too".

The top court's observation came in the course of the hearing of a plea by Aparna Purohit, the commercial head of Amazon Prime Video in India, seeking anticipatory bail in a case filed by the Uttar Pradesh government rooted in the web series Tandav.

Aparna Purohit has moved the top court against Allahabad High Court's order refusing her the anticipatory bail in the case.

Having expressed its displeasure over the way objectionable content including pornography was being shown on OTT platforms without prior screening, the court asked the Solicitor General Tushar Mehta appearing for the Centre to place before it the recently notified Information Technology Rules, which provide for regulation of content on OTT platforms.

While senior lawyer Mukul Rohatgi appearing for Aparna Purohit, argued that it was about "freedom of speech and expression", the bench countered that it was about "creating balance".

Tandav, a political thriller starring Saif Ali Khan, Dimple Kapadia and Mohd Zeeshan Ayyub, was launched as an Amazon exclusive in January and all its nine episodes have been completed since there was no court stay against its streaming.

Unlike the movies, produced in India or abroad, require the censor board's clearance before release to the theatres, but the OTT that was evolved in the wake of the complete lockdown due to the pandemic, there is no control on the contents of the pro-

It was in the wake of this that the government framed regulations to regulate them.

Meanwhile, Information and Broadcasting Minister Prakash Javadekar on Thursday met representatives from the Over the Top (OTT) industry and said they have welcomed the government's new guidelines.

He also said that the OTT industry will partner with the ministry towards making the experience on the platform better for audience.

"Had a fruitful meeting with representatives from OTT industry and explained the provisions of the OTT rules. All representatives have welcomed the new guidelines. The ministry and industry will partner together to make the OTT experience better for all audience," Javadekar tweeted.

However, more details about the meeting were not available immediately. The government had on February 25 notified new rules and guidelines for OTT platforms and digital news media, requiring them to make public their details and having a grievance redressal system in place.

LUCKY DRAW

Dubai, March 4: An Indian man, living in the UAE for the last 15 years, has won a whopping 12 million dirhams (₹24 crore) in a raffle, the latest addition to the long list of lucky winners from India, a media report said on Thursday.

Shivamurthy Krishnappa, who is a mechanical engineer and hails from Shimoga district of Karnataka, has been living in the UAE for the last 15 years. He bought the winning ticket number 202511 on February 17 this year, the Gulf News reported. Krishnappa was excited as he watched the draw live from home. When the host Richard called him on his mobile, Krishnappa said: "I am watching the live draw. Thank you so much. I cannot believe I have won."

TOSSED INTO SEA
OFF YEMEN, 20
MIGRANTS DIE

Nairobi, March 4: The International Organisation for Migration says at least 20 migrants are dead after smugglers threw 80 overboard during a voyage from Djibouti in East Africa to Yemen.

A statement says "smugglers started shouting there were too many on board" after the boat with 200 migrants, including children under 18, set off on Wednesday. The IOM says five bodies have been recovered, and survivors are being treated in Djibouti. This has happened before as thousands of migrants continue to try to make their way from the Horn of Africa to Yemen and then on to rich Gulf countries.

The Coronavirus pandemic and the resulting closed borders have slowed but not stopped the flow of migrants.

SHEIKH HASINA'S POLITICAL ADVISER DIES

Dhaka, March 4: HT Imam, the political adviser to Bangladeshi Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, died on Thursday at a military hospital here.

Imam, 81, breathed his last at 1.15 am. He was undergoing treatment at the Combined Military Hospital in Dhaka. Awami League Office Secretary Biplab Barua said in a social media post. Imam, who was the cabinet secretary to the 1971 wartime government, was hospitalised with various age-related problems, Dhaka Tribune reported. After the Awami League headed by Hasina formed the government following the 2008 election, Imam was appointed as the public administration affairs adviser to the prime minister. Following the 2014 elections, he was made the political affairs adviser.

Law on H-1B visas
in US Congress

Legislation to end allure of cheap foreign labour

Washington, March 4: Three Republican US lawmakers have introduced a legislation in Congress to bar American employers from hiring H-1B workers, who are mostly highly-skilled Indian IT professionals, if they have recently, or plan to fire their local workers, seeking to put an end to the allure of cheap foreign labour.

Introduced in the House of Representatives by Republican congressmen Mo Brooks, Matt Gaetz and Lance Gooden, the American Jobs First Act proposes to overhaul the H-1B visa programme by making necessary changes in the Immigration and Nationality Act.

The H-1B visa, most-sought after among Indian IT professionals, is a non-immigrant visa that allows US companies to employ foreign workers in specialty occupations that require theoretical or technical expertise.

Technology companies depend on it to hire tens of thousands of employees each year from countries like India and China.

According to its text released on Wednesday, a foreign guest worker may not be admitted or provided status as an H-1B non-immigrant in an occupational classification unless the petitioner employer has filed with the Secretary of Labour an application stating the employer is offering an annual wage to the H-1B non-immigrant that is the greater of the annual wage paid to the US citizen or lawful permanent resident employee who did identical or similar work during the two years before the petitioner employer filed such applica-

China may disrupt
5G network: US

Washington, March 4: Observing that the Biden administration views 5G as a high priority, the US on Wednesday expressed concern about the dangers of installing networks with equipment that can be manipulated, disrupted, or even controlled by China which it alleged has no regard for human rights or privacy.

"The Biden administration views 5G as a high priority, of course. We advocate for a vibrant digital economy that enables all citizens to benefit from the promise of 5G wireless networks. We also know that the stakes for securing these networks could not be any higher," State Department Spokesperson Ned Price said.

He said 5G, of course, is transformative and will touch every aspect of lives, and this is critical for infrastructure sectors: transportation, electrical distribution, healthcare, public health, and many more. "And so that is why we are concerned about the dangers of installing networks with equipment that can be manipulated, disrupted, or even controlled by the People's Republic of China, which as we know, of course, has no regard for human rights or privacy," Price said. — PTI tion; or $110.

The petitioner employer also needs to file with the Secretary of Labour an application stating the employer will not require an H-1B non-immigrant to pay a penalty for ceasing employment with the petitioner employer before the date agreed to by the H-1B non-immigrant and the petitioner employer.

The bill referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and in addition to the Committee on Education and Labour among other things suspends the F-1 Optional Practical Training programme, which grants all foreign students extendable work permits and exacerbates job market competition among American graduates.

It ends the diversity visa lottery programme, which the lawmakers alleged fails to serve US interests by issuing 50,000 green cards to foreigners from around the world regardless of their qualifications. Given that the Democrats have a majority in the House of Representatives, the bill has little chance to be passed. "My American Jobs First Act will bring much needed reform and oversight to the H-1B visa programme to ensure that US workers are no longer disadvantaged in their own country. To end the allure of cheap foreign labour, the bill will require employers to pay any H-1B workers a minimum amount of $110,000," Congressman Brooks said. — PTI

Sweden axe attack:
3 grievously injured

Stockholm, March 4: Hospital officials say three people wounded in an assault by a man using an axe in southern Sweden are in life-threatening condition and police have reduced the overall number of victims to seven.

The suspected assailant, a man in his 20s, was shot, arrested and is being treated in a hospital, police said.

A press conference was expected later Thursday on the attack. The other victims of Wednesday's assault in the small town of Vetlanda, 190 kilometres southeast of Goteborg, Sweden's second-largest city, include two seriously injured people, two with moderate injuries and one who is slightly injured, the Jonkoping region said in a statement late Wednesday. The attack took place in the afternoon and police say there are five crime scenes in Vetlanda, a town of 13,000.

The man's motive was not immediately known. Police said the man, who they would not identify in line with Swedish policy, is known to them for petty crimes. Overnight, officers raided an apartment where he was reportedly staying.

PROTESTERS
MARCH AGAIN
IN MYANMAR

Nay Pyi Taw, March 4: Demonstrators in Myanmar protesting last month's military coup returned to the streets Thursday, undaunted by the killing of at least 38 people the previous day by security forces.

New protests were held in at least three areas of Yangon, the country's largest city, that have been scenes of violence for the past few days. Police again used force to try to disperse the crowds, according to social media accounts. Protests also continued in Mandalay, the second-biggest city. A formation of five fighter planes flew over the city on Thursday morning in what appeared to be a threatening show of force. The UN special envoy for Myanmar, Christine Schraner Burgener, said 38 people were killed Wednesday, a figure consistent with other reports.

The death toll was the highest since the Feb. 1 takeover, when the military ousted the elected government of leader Aung San Suu Kyi. More than 50 civilians, mostly peaceful protesters, are confirmed to have been killed by police and soldiers since then. — AP

Did Markle bully staff as a royal Palace to investigatePalace perpetuating falsehoods: Meghan

London, March 4: Buckingham Palace has launched an investigation into allegations that Meghan Markle, the Duchess of Sussex, bullied staff during her time as a frontline royal with Prince Harry in Britain. Markle, 39, lived at Kensington Palace for nearly a year after her marriage to Prince Harry, 36, the Duke of Sussex, in May 2018.

The probe comes as The Times published a leaked email on Wednesday from a staff member alleging that the former American actress drove two personal assistants out of the household and undermined the confidence of a third member of staff. "We are clearly very concerned about allegations in the 'Times' following claims made by former staff of the Duke and Duchess of Sussex," Buckingham Palace, which is responsible for all Royal Household staff, said in a statement.

"Accordingly, our HR team will look into the circumstances outlined in the article. Members of staff involved at the time, including those who have

Los Angeles, March 4: Meghan Markle says Buckingham Palace is "perpetuating falsehoods" about her and her husband Prince Harry, according to part of an interview she has done with Oprah Winfrey.

The explosive claim is the latest salvo in an increasingly heated public relations battle between the British royal family and the US-based couple. The clip, released

Wednesday, came hours after Buckingham Palace said it was investigating claims Markle had bullied household staff in the months after her fairytale wedding to the prince.

Houthi rebels: Missile hits
Saudi oil facility in Jiddah

Dubai, March 4: Yemen's Houthi rebels said they struck a Saudi oil facility in the port city of Jiddah on Thursday, the latest in a series of cross-border attacks the group has claimed against the kingdom amid the grinding war in Yemen.

Saudi Arabia's state-owned media did not immediately acknowledge any incident in Jiddah. Brig. Gen. Yehia Sarie, a Houthi military spokesman, tweeted that the rebels fired a new Quds-2 cruise missile at the facility. He posted a satellite image online that matched Aramco's North Jiddah Bulk Plant, where oil products are stored in tanks.

hit the same facility last November, an attack the Saudi-led coalition later admitted had sparked a fire at the plant. The facility sits just southeast of Jiddah's King Abdulaziz International Airport, a major airfield that handles Muslim pilgrims heading to Mecca.

Flights coming into airport diverted or otherwise flew in circles early Thursday morning without explanation, according to tracking data from website FlightRadar24.com. Since 2015, the Houthi battling the Saudi-led military coalition in Yemen have targeted international airports, along with military installations and critical oil infrastructure, within Saudi Arabia. In recent weeks the group has stepped up its attacks, repeatedly crashing drones and missiles into the kingdom's Patriot missile batteries. Radu Jude's 'Loony Porn' lays bare a country that has revised its history to legitimise its past

A teacher, a porn clip and the hypocrisy of a nation

SUPARNA SHARMA | DC
NEW DELHI, MARCH 4

Romanian writer-director Radu Jude's Bad Luck Banging or Loony Porn opens with a naughty, kinky pornographic scene. Emi (Katia Pascariu), a school teacher, is having sex with her husband and they are recording the proceedings for a bit of extra thrill.

But somehow the sex tape leaks and is soon making the rounds of giggy WhatsApp groups of her students and their parents. Some download it, purportedly as evidence to beat Emi with. The fact that the sex is consensual, between a husband and wife is irrelevant. There is outrage, and it's mostly about how could a middle-aged, married woman be so raunchy.

Radu Jude's film, which premiered in the main Competition section at the 71st International Film Festival of Berlin, uses this porn clip and the subsequent "trial" of Emi in the school's yard to draw circles around a society's hypocrisy.

The film is split in three parts. In the first, Loony Porn walks with Emi as she visits her school principal, goes to a book store and a pharmacy. Shot during the Coronavirus pandemic, this segment has visuals of a city all masked up and wary of social interactions. But it's also a city busy consuming, enraging, eradicating the past. We watch arguments and fights in a supermarket, with owners of big cars who block the sidewalk as a matter of their right. Each clash is an assertion of the entitlement of the rich and marginalisation of others.

The film's second part is polyphonic and here, through commentary, archival footage, statistics, words, nudes in newspapers, building rising and in ruins, Loony Porn tells the story of Romania — about its role in the Holocaust, its attitude to Jews, Romas, love for dictators, attitude to sex and children. It also tells us that in Romania, 6 out of 10 kids are subjected to family violence.

This fact hovers over the film's last segment — the meeting called by the school principal and parents to interrogate and then vote on Emi's future. It is kicked off by a parent who insists on playing the sex clip for the benefit of all those gathered.

This scene, framed like an inquisition — the "accused" is in the middle, flanked by a judge who will rule based on the mood of the people and the enforcer of morality — is both dark and funny. Though allegations, tangential discussions, innuendoes, inappropriate remarks, shrill sanctimony and, finally, the judgment, Loony Porn lays bare a nation that has revised its history to legitimise its past and current criminal acts and feels emboldened to air its prejudice, bigotry and misplaced rage. Because many speak in the same tongue, collective hypocrisy gets elevated to a sanctimonious, narcissistic chorus.

What's striking is how familiar it all feels. This searing portrait of a nation and its people could well be a day in the life of India.

Dissent not sedition: SC sends govt clear signal

In a ringing endorsement of a universal democratic view that voicing anti-government views is not sedition, the Supreme Court shot down a so-called public interest litigation by a couple of individuals against Farooq Abdullah, the senior Kashmiri leader and former chief minister of J&K. Regardless of whether the litigation was inspired or not by the forces that be, the truth is freedom of speech in a democracy is being challenged every day. There is a clear pattern to be seen behind offence being taken at every turn at any view expressed that runs contrary to the rigid opinions of the majoritarians who are quite willing to be at odds with India's tradition of tolerance and pluralism.

The criminalising of dissent is the clearest sign of an authoritarian government. There was a stinging lesson for the authorities in the Disha Ravi case when a learned judge, quoting the Rig Veda, said — “Let noble thoughts come to me from all directions” — to uphold the right of the activist to internationalise the farmers' stir issue. The cause of action was described as intent “to wage economic, social, culture and regional war against India”.

How very conveniently the political is covered into an issue for patriotism is revealing of how any deviation from the State's view on an issue as humongous as the farmers' agitation involving a very sizeable section of the population was viewed as that of a heretic who had to be punished.

There is little reason to suspect that the income tax raids on certain Bollywood personalities this week were not inspired by people in power who are trying to throttle celebrities expressing views not in consonance with the inflexible opinion of the leaders of the majoritarians

There is little reason to suspect that the income tax raids on certain Bollywood personalities this week were not inspired by people in power who are trying to throttle celebrities expressing views that are not in consonance with the inflexible opinion of the leaders of the majoritarians. Glib explanations of there being a logical cause for action against tax avoidance do not cut ice. The action, in fact, is suggestive of intimidating tactics against dissent that has been occurring in a pattern of retribution in keeping with a larger modus operandi of making criminals of dissenters through persecution using official India machinery like I-T, ED and the police to register FIRs and foist cases.

Events are all too suggestive of a democracy in decay. Our worst fears were confirmed when India was downgraded to “partly free” for the first time since 1997 in the annual ranking of democracies by the US-government funded research group Freedom House, which cited worsening civil rights under Prime Minister Narendra Modi. As the world's largest democracy, in which a variety of opinions including dissenting ones must coexist in diverse people who are thought of as conscience keepers of the nation, India can ill afford to drop the safeguards against making criminals out of dissenters.

Mercifully, the courts have not shied away from not only enlarging those accused of high crimes like sedition by using arcane laws out of the British colonial era but rapping the State agencies in presenting instruments of oppression as legitimate criminal and civil charges. Everyone holding an opinion different from the views of official India or the central ruling party is not an inducer of violence or intent on waging a war against the State. It is a blessing that courts are alive to the rule of law and is dismissive of “rule by law” as a wise judge put it while granting bail in one case.

Damp squib Sasikala

For all those who were expecting political fireworks in Tamil Nadu when V.K. Sasikala, the erstwhile confidante of late J. Jayalalithaa, drove down to Chennai on February 8, it was a damp squib when she suddenly called it quits on Wednesday night. There was speculation that she would make a political impact. She, too, was trying to live up to that image by making statements, addressing cadre and even celebrating Jayalalithaa's birth anniversary with pomp and fanfare.

So, coming like a bolt from the blue, her decision triggered a whole range of conjectures since people saw in it a conjuncture of two political events. One, the BJP desperately trying to force the AIADMK to patch up with Ms Sasikala, and AIADMK leaders digging in their heels refusing to let her or her nephew T.T.V. Dhinakaran into their fold. Since the BJP's intelligence was that Ms Sasikala and Mr Dhinakaran could take away some votes that would otherwise come to its coalition, it first put pressure on AIADMK and then on Ms Sasikala, asking her to scoot. Why this supposition found more takers in the state was because the people know Ms Sasikala as a power-hungry, diabolic operator who would not easily let go any opportunity to rule.

Also, when it is known that she cannot stand for election for another six years, what was the need to announce that she was leaving the turf? Besides, since her landing in Chennai, she had not made any significant breakthrough politically, other than having a few guests like actor Seeman, actor Sarathkumar and his wife Radhika and film director Bharathiraja. So, why should she say that she will pray and not play politics? Because the powers that be want her to not even be seen in the reckoning. It's a different matter that Bharathiraja spotted in her a “brave Tamil woman” not ashamed of going to jail and facing party cadre with fortitude.

The tragedy of Suu Kyi: Almost Shakespearean

Karan Thapar

As I See It

Shakespeare's tragedies have heroes, but they are not heroic. As the plays unfold you witness their crumbling. In fact, they destroy themselves because the flaw is embedded deep in their character. It's an inevitable and irresistible process. It's an outcome that cannot be prevented. That's why it's tragic.

I think that could also be true of Aung San Suu Kyi. I've known her since I was five. At the time, her mother was the Burmese ambassador in India, and Suu, as I have always called her, was an undergraduate at New Delhi's Lady Shri Ram College. Our parents became friends and Suu and my sister Kiran would often drive together to college.

Even as a teenager, Suu was drawn to politics. She sensed her future would ultimately lie in ruling Burma (the name she prefers for Myanmar) and didn't hide it even if she only spoke jocularly. A pencil-drawn portrait that she made of my sister Kiran, dated October 11, 1962, has inscribed at the bottom: “Kiran Thapar may be allowed entry into Burma at any time”. Suu was only 17 at the time.

Years later her husband Michael told me at Oxford that when they married — and Suu was 27 at the time — she forewarned him that if Burma calls it would always be her priority. In fact, he sensed when she returned home in 1988 it was unlikely that she would come back. She didn't. They lived separately till he died. She was also cut off from her two young sons. Of the next 21 years, she spent 15 either in jail or under house arrest.

No doubt this hurt, and she suffered, but politics and the determination to come to power in Burma was more than a mission. It was a calling. It defined Suu. Perhaps it was also her way of fulfilling her father's dream, which was cruelly aborted when he was assassinated months before Burma's independence.

When I last interviewed her, in September 2015, just before the election that brought her to power, the Rohingya issue was already a challenge she knew she would have to face if she won. At the time she was unable or unwilling to express concern and sympathy. I questioned her silence. Her explanation was that this was the only way of ensuring she would be seen as impartial by both sides. Silence would give her the opportunity and credibility to act impartially when she came to power. Her aim was to reconcile, and condemnation would get in the way. It would fan the flames, not douse them.

I had no reason to doubt her. It was also already clear she would never be President and internal security would lie with the Army, which had successfully thwarted her claim to the top job. Criticising them could endanger the limited power that she hoped to exercise. She had to tread carefully and speak cautiously. She had to compromise to survive. All of that was understandable.

Was her silence on the Rohingyas before elections impartiality, as she had claimed, or seeking favour with the Burmese majority? Today I feel it was her instinctive response to an unforeseen hurdle that could have obstructed the fulfilment of her ambition

The reaction happened internationally, not at home. The world viewed her attitude to the Rohingyas as a demeaning compromise. Her earlier reputation for valiant sacrifice was forgotten. That placed her on a high pedestal. This threw her down.

What wasn't was how terrible that compromise turned out to be. It only became clear after she won. Not for a moment did I think it would be tilted in favour of retaining power and influence whilst forsaking her own principles. Yet that was the undeniable outcome.

As State Counsellor if she spoke about the Rohingyas it was only in terms of terrorism and the killing of security personnel. She had nothing to say of the innocent men, women and children, killed in their hundreds and rendered homeless in their hundreds of thousands. It seemed political expediency dominated her principles completely. She would not express compassion. I didn't expect her to defy the Army or endanger Burma's fledgling democracy, but I also did not expect her lips to remain so firmly sealed.

This raised a disturbing question — was her silence on the Rohingya issue before the elections impartiality, as she had claimed, or seeking favour with the Burmese majority whose support she would need? Was it pragmatism or opportunism? Initially I thought it was both. Today I feel it was her instinctive response to an unforeseen hurdle that could have obstructed the fulfilment of her ambition to rule Burma. Just as separation from her husband and children and a decade and a half in detention did not deter her, nor would this.

The reaction happened internationally, not at home. The world viewed her attitude to the Rohingyas as a demeaning compromise. Her earlier reputation for valiant sacrifice was forgotten. That placed her on a high pedestal. This threw her down. Once admired, she was now reviled. Outside Burma she became a fallen angel.

At home it was very different. Reverentially called “The Lady” and “Mother Suu”, the majority she won in the 2020 elections was even greater than the landslide five years ago. And after the military threw out her government and put her under arrest, the admiration her people have for her seems to know no limits. But, alas, it's also likely to ensure that the generals do not change their mind and restore her to power.

So, like Shakespeare's tragic heroes, she may well ask if the price she paid for achieving her ambition was worth it? If it turns out to be only five years in power, with no credible possibility of restoration, did she compromise her principles and her international reputation for an office that was so easily snatched away and for authority that was never complete, often checked and so easily revoked?

Shakespeare's tragic heroes face similar dilemmas. But rarely do they live to address or answer them. With their denouement there is also usually death. Suu, however, is alive to face hers, even if in incarceration. She will have all the time she needs to reflect, and it won't be easy.

In that interview in 2015 she described herself as “a pragmatic leader”. At the time, the adjective conveyed a sense of careful balance. Today it suggests a cover for unbecoming compromise. When I asked if she was ready for the challenge of ruling Burma, she answered: “It's a daunting challenge... I hope it brings out the best in me”. Sadly, it did not. But as Shakespeare might add, that was inevitable. Suu would not be Suu if it could have been otherwise.

Absolute power corrupts absolutely. The filthy rich Karnataka minister Ramesh Jarkiholi is perhaps totally drunk with authority as he new only power mongering. The allegation, if proved (but it will not), exposes the fact that an Indian politician or for that matter even President of USA is not an exception to sexual abuse. Whether it was true or not is a different question. It was a trap laid to expose the minister and he had just walked into it.

Diplomatic pool to get eight new joint secys soon

The ministry of external affairs (MEA) has been quite keen to add more joint secretaries to the diplomatic pool to staff new embassies and consulates being set up in various countries. Now, after some wait, headway has been made in this direction with the government planning to empanel eight IFS officers of the 2003 batch as joint secretaries.

According to sources, the cadre controlling authority of the IFS was ready with its list in December last year but was asked to wait since the government was about to empanel 41 IAS officers from the 2003 batch. The department of personnel and training (DoPT) reportedly informed MEA that there should be a gap of one month in the empanelment process between the IAS and IFS. It is further learnt that, except for Devesh Uttam who is posted in the country, the remaining seven IFS officers are posted abroad.

It is a known fact that India's foreign service is woefully understaffed, with most Indian missions abroad having too few diplomats. This could be a small step towards addressing this grievance.

SREEDHARAN PADS UP FOR ANOTHER INNINGS

The BJP wants to be a serious contender in Kerala and is hoping that “Metro Man” E. Sreedharan's induction in the party will help it make inroads in the impending Assembly elections. Will the gamble pay off?

Mr Sreedharan has enjoyed a full innings in his illustrious career, immense credibility with the aam aadmi as an honest and efficient technocrat as well as respect among politicians across party lines, and picked up a Padma Shri, Padma Vibhushan and a host of other national and international honours.

Why would the man who shot to fame with the Delhi Metro project and who advised the Kerala government on Metro projects in the state and who is also involved in the other Metro projects in Jaipur and Lucknow want a stab at politics (and chief ministership, no less!) at the ripe age of 88 years?

Clearly, he enjoys wearing many hats. And a politician's topi would be the crowning glory of his career if he can manage the challenge of transforming from technocrat into a नेता. His future progress will be watched closely by not just politicians but also bureaucrats who may be nurturing similar

Sania bows out of Qatar semis

Doha: Sania Mirza's first tournament in more than a year ended with a semifinal defeat as she was ousted from the Qatar Total Open along with her partner Andreja Klepac, here on Thursday. Sania and her Slovenian partner lost 5-7, 6-2, 5-10 to America's Nicole Melichar and Dutch player Demi Schuurs in one hour and 28 minutes.

Playing against players, who are ranked 11 and 12 in the world was tough but it was a decent outing for Sania, who recovered from Covid-19 recently, and her partner. It was first tournament for the Indian since last February. Sania and Klepac split $10000 and earned 185 ranking points each. Since Sania was not defending much points, it will help her improve her ranking. Sania will break back into top-200 and is expected to climb to the 177th spot from the current 254. — PTI

Rani rules in semis, Lovlina out

New Delhi: Asian champion Pooja Rani (75kg) entered the semifinals to secure a medal but two-time world bronze-winner Lovlina Borgohain (69kg) bowed out after a quarterfinal loss at the 35th Boxam International Boxing Tournament in Castellon, Spain.

In late night bouts on Wednesday, Olympic-bound Rani defeated Italian Assunta Canfora to join the seasoned M.C. Mary Kom (51kg), Simranjit Kaur (60kg) and debutant Jasmine (57kg) in the last-four stage. The three had won their quarterfinals earlier in the day.

Rani is a three-time Asian medalist and also a 2014 Asian Games bronze-winner. However, Borgohain, who has also qualified for the Tokyo Games, lost 0-5 to Russia's Saadat Dalgatova to make a surprisingly early exit from the tournament. Asian bronze-winner Manisha Moun (57kg) was another Indian to be ousted from contention when she was defeated 0-5 by Italian Irma Testa in the quarterfinals. — PTI

Sharath loses in pre-quarters

Doha: Indian challenge at the World Table Tennis Contender series ended after veteran Sharath Kamal suffered a loss to world no 7 Lin Yun-Ju of Chinese Taipei in the men's singles pre-quarterfinals here on Thursday. The 38-year-old Indian suffered a 6-11, 4-11, 8-11 defeat against Lin.

The World No. 32 Sharath, who was playing his first international tournament after a year's break due to the pandemic, couldn't gain momentum despite showing good resistance in the latter part of the match against the higher-ranked Yun-Ju.

Earlier, Manika Batra and Sreeja Akula also lost their respective final qualifying round matches in the women's singles category. While Batra lost to World No. 69 Ganna Gaponova 5-11, 6-11, 14-12, 5-11, Akula went down fighting 9-11, 11-5, 11-6, 6-11, 5-11 to Russia's Mariia Tailkova.

POLLARD 6x6 PACK

Kieron hits 6 sixes in an over off hat-trick man Dananjaya

St. John's (Antigua and Barbuda), March 4: West Indies captain Kieron Pollard on Wednesday became only the third man to hit six sixes in an international over in his team's four-wicket Twenty20 victory over Sri Lanka.

The feat came in the sixth over of a bizarre West Indies innings, bowled by off-spinner Akila Dananjaya who moments earlier in his previous over had been celebrating taking a hat-trick. Pollard followed in the footsteps of South Africa's Herschelle Gibbs against the Netherlands in the 2007 World Cup and India's Yuvraj Singh, who also achieved the feat in the 2007 Twenty20 World Cup against England.

Pollard was eventually out for 38 off 11 balls as the West Indies chased 132 to win at the Coolidge Cricket Ground, reaching their target in the 14th over when Jason Holder clobbered his side's 13th six. "I felt I could hit six sixes after the third one," said 33-year-old Pollard.

"Once I had five sixes I knew I had the bowler on the back foot. He was going around the wicket and it was difficult for him. I just told myself: 'Go for it'."

Sri Lanka skipper Angelo Mathews hailed his opposite number.

"Pollard as we know is very destructive," Mathews told the post-match presentation.

"What I told Akila was to go for his wicket even if he gets hit for six sixes. If he misused one we could have got him out.

I felt I could hit six sixes after the third one. Once I had five sixes I knew I had the bowler on the back foot. He was going around the wicket and it was difficult for him. I just told myself: 'Go for it'.

Unfortunately it didn't happen."

Only eight men have hit six sixes in an over in all forms of cricket with fellow West Indian Garfield Sobers the first to do so in an English county game in 1968.

West Indies' openers

Evin Lewis and Lendl Simmons bludgeoned 52 off the first 20 balls as the two-time T20 World Cup winners looked comfortably on course.

However, having hit three sixes off three balls off Mathews' opening over, Lewis was caught by Danushka Gunathilaka in the deep off Dananjaya for a brisk 28. That brought 41-year-old Chris Gayle to the crease for his first international appearance in two years. But he lasted just one ball when he was plumb lbw to Dananjaya who then completed his hat-trick by having Nicholas Pooran caught behind by Niroshan Dickwella. — AFP

Brief scores: Sri Lanka 131/9 in 20 overs (Nissanka 39, Dickwella 33, McCoy 2/25) lost to West Indies 134/6 in 13.1 overs (Pollard 38, Holder 29 n.o., Hasaranga 3/12, Dhananjaya 3/62)

Axar, Ashwin put Eng in spin

Ahmedabad, March 4: England's batsmen lost the battle of both mind and skills in yet another shoddy performance to surrender the momentum to India with Axar Patel and Ravichandran Ashwin calling the shots on the opening day of the fourth and final Test here on Thursday.

After five innings, England crossed the 200-run mark but a total of 205 in 75.5 overs was certainly not what Joe Root had expected when he called it right at the toss on a day which would have ideally been best for batting.

There was turn and bounce but the pitch was far from being a minefield that some of the England batsmen save Ben Stokes (55, 121 balls) made it out to be.

For India, spinners Axar Patel (26-7-68-4), Ravichandran Ashwin (19.5-4-47-3) and Washington Sundar (7-1-14-1) toyed with the already messed up minds, clueless on how to deal with the conditions.

Mohammed Siraj (14-2-45-2) also played his part to perfection with the semi-new and old ball, hurrying the batsmen with sheer pace as he did with Jonny Bairstow.

India ended the day at 24 for 1 with wily old James Anderson (5-5-0-1) accounting for an out-of-form Shubman Gill (0). Rohit Sharma (8 batting) and Cheteshwar Pujara (15 batting) were holding fort for the home side.

with an extra batsman, will reveal that four — Stokes, Bairstow (28, 67 balls), Dan Lawrence (46 off 74 balls) and Ollie Pope (29 off 87 balls) got starts but failed miserably on the conversion part. The others came in and went without breaking a bead of sweat. It was as if already in their minds, they were playing on a track they thought would turn square.

STOKES WAS SWEARING AT ME, SAYS SIRAJ

Ahmedabad, March 4: India pacer Mohammad Siraj on Thursday said England all-rounder Ben Stokes swore at him on the opening day of the fourth and final Test here, an incident "handled well" by skipper Virat Kohli during an on-field showdown with the visiting player.

Kohli was seen having an animated discussion with Stokes after the all-rounder allegedly swore at Siraj. Umpire Nitin Menon had to intervene for play to resume after England were reeling at 32 for three.

"He was swearing at me, so Virat bhai intervened and handled that well. These things happen at ground," Siraj said at the post-match press conference.

Stokes, on his part, played down the incident. "Pretty animated was that (the conversation)? ...Look at it from a different way, you know, two-three guys who care about what they are doing, care about representing and played against each other and you know, why would they not be competitive?" he asked.

"So we are not going to back down to anyone... For me that is what it was competitive guys trying to get over each other," he added.

Siraj was also at the centre of the controversy during the Test series in Australia where he was racially abused by a section of the crowd. — PTI

Basel, March 4: Indian shuttlers P.V. Sindhu, Kidambi Srikanth and Ajay Jayaram had a good day in office as they advanced to the quarterfinals of singles competition at the Swiss Open Super 300 badminton tournament here on Thursday.

Indian mixed doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Ashwini Ponnappa also progressed to the quarterfinals, continuing their recent good run in international badminton.

Satwik and Ashwini, who reached the semifinals at Toyota Thailand Open Super 1000 in January, defeated the Indonesian combination of Rinov Rivaldy and Pitha Haningtyas Mentari 21-18, 21-16 in a mixed doubles second-round match.

while fourth seed Srikanth, who had won the title in 2015, will face sixth seeded Thai Kantaphon Wangcharoen and Jayaram will be up against another Thai Kunlavut Vitidsarn, seeded eighth, in the last-eight stage.

However, Sourabh Verma lost 17-21, 14-21 to eighth seeded Thai Kunlavut Vitidsarn to crash out of the men's singles event.

Earlier, two-time former champion Saina Nehwal bowed out of the tournament after a hard-fought first-round loss in the women's singles opening round on Wednesday night.

The London Olympic bronze-medallist battled for 58 minutes before going down 16-21, 21-17, 21-23 to Phittayaporn Chaiwan of Thailand.

HARDEN SOARS HIGH TO SINK EX-TEAM ROCKETS

Los Angeles, March 4: James Harden returned to Houston for the first time since his tumultuous departure from the Rockets on Wednesday, posting a triple-double to lead the Brooklyn Nets to a 132-114 victory over his former NBA team.

Harden, greeted by a first-quarter video tribute, cheers and a smattering of boos, delivered 29 points, 10 rebounds and 14 assists to fuel Brooklyn, where he finally landed in January after demanding a trade.

Harden was grateful for the tribute video that showcased his accomplishments in Houston, including the 2018 NBA Most Valuable Player award and the league scoring title the past three seasons.

He became just the sixth player in NBA history to record a triple-double in his first game against his former team, ably helping the Nets overcome the continued absence of Kevin Durant.

In Philadelphia, Joel Embiid scored 40 points and pulled down 19 rebounds to lead the 76ers to a 131-123 overtime victory over the Utah Jazz in a clash of the top teams in the East and West.

The Cameroonian center drained a three-pointer to knot the score at 118-118 with 6.5 seconds left in regulation and Tobias Harris scored 11 of his 22 points in overtime to lift the Sixers to victory over the league-leading Jazz.

Utah star Donovan Mitchell finished with 33 points.

Two West Coast games came down to the wire, as the Portland Trail Blazers edged the Golden State Warriors 108-106 and the Sacramento Kings beat Los Angeles Lakers 123-120. — AFP

Moves that made Nikhat & Dipika

ABHJEEET KUMAR SINGH | DC HYDERABAD, MARCH 4

Nikhat Zareen

Boxer Nikhat Zareen, squash star Dipika Pallikal along with Miss World 2017 Manushi Chhillar punched one for the women, talking their hearts out to depict their inspiring journeys on Thursday.

In a virtual meet to announce the launch of 'Watch Us Move', a campaign by Adidas to celebrate womanhood and their freedom of movement, the three spoke of their personal struggles against the backdrop of unrealistic stereotypes and how they battled through them to inspire young girls who aspire to emulate them.

"I still remember my father's words when he said beta ladkiyo me itna dam nahi hota boxing karne ke liye (girls don't have the strength to box) and that actually challenged me to pursue boxing and change the societal mentality that girls are geek and can't punch," Nikhat, the Nizamabad-based amateur woman boxer, said.

"I took the move and started it off. Fortunately in 2011, when I won the Junior Championship gold medal, everyone was shocked. I was elated while my father was very proud of my achievement," the toughie added.

"Eventually, I started getting calls from young girls who too wanted to take up boxing as a career which really motivated me. I finally proved my point and opened the doors for many more budding talents," she added.

Record breaking squash player Dipika Pallikal said it's time for women to take the centrestage and shine. "I think we as a women have really broken the stereotypical barriers and carved out our own paths," she said.

Model Manushi felt "Watch Us Move celebrates women, their achievements and inspires us to adopt a positive approach to life."
