SSC exams from May 17 to 26

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

SSC exams will be conducted from May 17 to 26, according to the education department which released the academic calendar for the year 2020-21 here on Saturday.

Schools will reopen for Classes IX and X on February 1 and will have 89 working days with the last working day on May 26. During this time they are expected to cover, or revise, 70 per cent of the syllabus, which will be the portion of the board exams. Schools will go on summer vacation from May 27 to June 13.

According to academic calendar, the Formative Assessment 1 (FA1) should be completed by March 15 and FA2 by April 15. The summative assessment will be done from May 7 to 13.

Students will have project work and assignments comprising 30 per cent of the syllabus to be completed at home under the guidance of teachers and parents.

This syllabus will not be part of internal assessments and year-end summative assessment/board examinations. The remaining 70 per cent syllabus will be taught in schools and online.

The schools will operate from 9.30 am to 4.45 pm in other districts, while in Hyderabad and Secunderabad, the timings will be from 8.45 am to 4 pm. Online/digital classes for Class 10 will be held from 10 am to 11 am and for Class 9 from 4 pm to 5 pm.

A total of 204 working days including 115 days from September 1, 2020, to January 30, 2021 (online/digital classes) and 89 days from February 1 to May 26 (offline and online classes) have been calculated by the department for the academic year.

Attendance will not be mandatory at school, which will seek written consent from parents. Students willing to study from home with the consent of the parent may be allowed to do so, the academic calendar said.

According to the calendar, SMC and parents' meetings are mandatory to be conducted before reopening of the schools to create awareness on Covid-19, immunity development, mental health and hygiene, physical distancing and precautions to be taken after reopening of the schools.

Modi: Strong India is living Netaji dream from LoC to LAC

Subhash Chandra Bose birth anniversary to be celebrated as 'Parakram Diwas'

Kolkata, Jan. 23: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said that Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose would have been proud to see that the country has become strong and is following his footsteps from the Line of Control (LoC) to the Line of Actual Control (LAC).

Bose would have also been proud that the government he dreamt of is fighting a pandemic with vaccines developed by it, and gave a befitting reply whenever its sovereignty was challenged, Modi said on the occasion of the 125th birth anniversary of Netaji being celebrated by the Centre as 'Parakram Diwas'.

"I sometimes wonder how Netaji would have felt if he had seen how a new and strong India is taking shape," he said at a programme held in the Victoria Memorial Hall here.

"Netaji had dreamt of strong India, from LAC to LOC we are following his footsteps. Whenever our sovereignty was challenged, we have given a befitting reply," he said while adding that country has a strong force and house and also inaugurated a commemorative stamp and coin to mark his 125th birth anniversary.

The West Bengal Chief Minister paid homage to the revolutionary on his birth anniversary and urged the Centre to declare January 23 as a national holiday.

"We are celebrating this day as #DeshNayakDibas. GoWB has also set up a committee to conduct year-long celebrations till January 23, 2022," she tweeted.

She also kicked off a 7-km procession in Kolkata to pay tribute to Netaji on his birth anniversary.

The PM also paid floral tributes at Netaji's statue at the city's National Library.

Turmeric farmers set MP Arvind deadline to resign

NARENDER PULLOOR | DC
NIZAMABAD, JAN. 23

The Turmeric Farmers Joint Action Committee demanded that Nizamabad MP Dharmapuri Arvind get a Turmeric Board set up in the city and secure minimum support price (MSP) for turmeric within 10 days, or keep his promise and resign. Arvind had promised on a bond paper during the 2019 Lok Sabha election campaign to get the Turmeric Board within five days of his election, or leave the seat.

The JAC met at Choutpally village in Kammarpally mandal on Saturday. A few turmeric farmers, who contested in the Parliament elections also took part in the meeting. Talks between the MP and farmers failed and Arvind left the meeting. Angered farmers raised slogans against him.

Speaking at the meeting, a few farmers expressed displeasure with Arvind. "Despite sincere efforts for establishment of the Turmeric Board and getting MSP, the MP is trying to divert the issue," the farmers said. "We will take up agitation against the TRS government at an appropriate time, but the BJP should act swiftly on the turmeric farmers issues," they said.

The cost of cultivation had increased and at least ₹15,000 should be given as MSP, they demanded. "We have incurred heavy losses due to the fall in turmeric prices. Who will rescue us," they asked. Heated arguments took place between the MP and turmeric farmers and there was a tense situation for some time.

Reacting to the farmers comments, Arvind said that he did not promise to bring turmeric board within five days after his election. He admitted that he had promised to establish the Turmeric Board in Nizamabad. "I discussed the issue with the Centre government and it resulted in the setting up of the Spices Board regional office in Nizamabad," he explained. "Whatever I have done so far, the future course of action is in the farmers' hands," he said. Speaking to newsmen, Turmeric Farmers JAC leaders said Arvind was trying to escape from his promise. "He is trying to throw his responsibility on the state government," they said. "We will finalise future course of action for the Turmeric Board and the MSP," they said.

Adivasis enter forest to worship tiger god

DC CORRESPONDENT
ADILABAD, JAN. 23

The belief in divine blessings is so immense that Adivasis who during pookas worship tiger God and it's deities that are located deep in the forests, are venturing into these spots barefoot without any fear of being attacked by the big cat.

Adivasis revere tiger God as 'Rajulkpen' in gondi. Tigers are called 'Duvval' and 'Vagoba' in Gondi.

Adivasis visit many popular places for tiger God deities that made of wood and perform special puja praying to the God not to cause any harm to their cattle that enter forests for grazing, and human beings.

Now, groups of Adivasis

Rajulkpen, the tiger god are visiting 'Dheammal Rajulk' located in the forest in Utmoor mandal and 'Puli Kachar' located on the Adilabad mandal border.

Adivasis strongly believes that the Rajulkpen will give them success in their mission.

'They set up 'Rajulkpen' on the outskirts of their respective villages where they take their cattle and perform puja on the occasion 'Akadi'. This marks the commencement of Gussadi-Dandari cultural events.

'Gondi Samaj Jagruthi' organisation leader Sedmaki Seetharam said Adivasis symbolically control the tiger deity with an iron chain with the belief that it will not cause any harm to humans and cattle if it was chained.

He said chaining the tiger is popularly known as 'Sakkali' in Gondi dialect and added that they had a close association with Rajulkpen.

SCHOOLS TOLD TO HOLD HEALTH CHECK UPS

The schools have been directed to organise regular health check-up of students. The headmasters need to keep phone numbers of the nearest primary health centre or any reliable medical facility, which can be contacted in case of medical emergency. Schools have been instructed to arrange isolation rooms for staff/students having symptoms of COVID-19.

"In case, the child has or develop symptoms (of Covid-19), the parents should be contacted and transport should be arranged to send the child back to their residence with a proper escort," it read. The parents body Hyderabad School Parents Association has urged the government to simplify the process of examination by limiting the syllabus to 50 per cent instead of the 30 per cent that has been announced. They said that the government should provide study material in the form of video lessons, exercises and Q&A type worksheets to the students.

GOVT TRAINS TRIBAL WOMEN FOR DIGITAL WORLD

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

Tribal welfare minister Satyavathi Rathod asserted that the government has formulated plans to make tribal women digital media-ready in the course of time. Her department is all set to launch a digital leadership programme in tribal areas.

She was speaking at a review meeting with department officials here on Saturday where she explained that they had trained 50 tribal women on using digital devices.

These tech-savvy women, who have been provided tabs, will emerge as leaders in the digital world, she said.

Although, most tribals lack education, it is a good augury that quite a few have completed graduation. The government is planning to support tribal unemployed youth by way of self-employment schemes.

N-ENERGY VITAL FOR GROWTH: BARC SCIENTIST

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

"The words 'nuclear' and 'atomic' normally frighten us, but nuclear energy and related technology have been critical tools in uplifting human life and standard of living, and very few people know of their peaceful and societal applications," said Dr Tirumalesh Keesari, Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) scientist.

He was speaking at a seminar on peaceful applications of nuclear energy, organised by Social Cause, a Hyderabad based think-tank and not for profit organisation on the occasion of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose's birth anniversary. Explaining the role of nuclear and atomic energy, Dr Keesari said that the BARC of the department of atomic energy has been playing a pivotal role in promoting the use of radioisotopes for food, agriculture, industry, medicine, water resources and the environment.

Isotope hydrology has been the focus area for the department at BARC. Naturally occurring isotopes as well as reactor-produced isotopes have been applied to understand a variety of hydrological processes and provide simple solutions to the growing water issues in the country, he said.

Some of the success stories include identification of source of fluoride in groundwater, estimation of groundwater age in deep zones, rejuvenating dying springs in Himalayan states, impact of climate change on glaciers and role of paleochannels on groundwater recharge.

In Telangana, Dr Keesari said, isotope techniques were employed to verify the positive impact of desiltation of natural tanks on groundwater levels as well as fluoride contamination. The programme was chaired by Dr B. Dinesh Kumar, president of Social Cause. Dr Pandith Madhure, director ground water development, Dr B. Somaiah, Technology Director, Centre for Higher Energy Systems & Sciences, DRDO, Hyderabad, were guests of honour.

Tank Bund gets new 'antique look'

First NTR, now KTR works on beautification of Tank Bund, project costs about ₹38 cr

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

A couple of decades after then Chief Minister N.T. Rama Rao took up measures to improve Tank Bund and its surroundings, municipal administration and urban development minister K.T. Rama Rao has embarked on a major beautification programme on the 2.2-km stretch of arterial road.

Under his leadership, the Hyderabad Metropolitan Development Authority (HMDA) has laid flamed granite stones on the footpaths at an estimated cost of ₹14.5 crore. This apart, the municipal authority set up specially-designed cast iron railing, grills, and aligned designer lamp posts resembling heritage lighting to enhance its aesthetic look. Also, street furniture, kiosks, and decorative lightings are being set up at a cost of ₹12.5 crore. Overall the project cost is estimated around ₹38 crore

During N.T. Rama Rao's tenure, road widening and beautification of the Tank Bund took place in 1987-88 with the installation of statues of 33 renowned personalities, fountains and coloured lights. He was keen on installing the imposing 58-foot Buddha statue on the 'Rock of Gibraltar' in the middle of the Hussainsagar.

"NTR got that idea when he visited New York and saw the Statue of Liberty on Staten Island", said a senior HMDA official.

The Buddha statue was hewn out of a white granite rock, weighing 450 tonnes. It was carved by 200 sculptors for two years. The statue was transported to Hyderabad in November 1988. After initial problems, it was erected on April 12, 1992, on a red lotus pedestal.

K.T. Rama Rao has instructed officials to take up the Tank Bund beautification works and complete them on a war-footing. The electrical cables run through ducts and will leave the pavement undisturbed. The loose ends are being capped to prevent the cables from hanging outside. To avoid stagnation, a proper drain system has been put in place.

Termining it as the first phase of development, the HMDA official said that the municipal authority would construct a boardwalk connecting Sagar Park, Boats Club, Buddha Bhavan and Lumbini Park on the shoreline of Hussainsagar. This apart, the entire shoreline will get a complete makeover with state-of-the-art night bazaar beside Sanjeevaiah Park, Necklace Road and Buddha Bhavan.

"The bazaar will have 150 to 200 shops, and would have boardwalks with landscapes in between, spacious sitting arenas, parking facilities in compliance with a Supreme Court Committee's recommendations. The 1.3-km stretch would be transformed into a vibrant tourist attraction," the official said.

It will have bus bays, bus stands and structures on the shoreline that would be restricted to give a complete heritage look.

A visitor, Prashanth, said at Tank Bund on Saturday, "It is very good on the part of the government to develop a tourist place like Tank Bund. The makeover gives a heritage feel." However, Prashanth wondered "Will the sophisticated beautification works be damaged during Ganesh immersion?"

Aditya, another visitor said the work is progressing at a good pace. "The makeover has completely changed the look and feel of the areas. I'm sure tourists or Hyderabadis will have a pleasant experience once all the developmental works are completed", he said.

Centre doing nothing to develop TS, says KTR

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

The Centre is only paying lip service to Telangana state and not doing anything to help the state progress, minister K.T. Rama Rao said on Saturday.

Addressing a function organised by the Federation of Telangana Chambers of Commerce, where he gave away excellence awards, Rama Rao was hopeful that the forthcoming Union budget will have a good stimulus package to bring the economy back on track.

He said the state government would clear the industrial incentives that were held back due to Covid-19 and associated issues. Rama Rao said the Telangana tops in rankings but is not allocated projects such as high-speed rail, or industrial corridors. "Numbers rule. Unfortunately we have only 17 (Lok Sabha seats), if you have 70 then you get things," he said.

"If the country has to prosper as per Prime Minister Narendra Modi's slogan of sab ka saath sa ka vikas, those words should be translated into action. Progressive states like Telangana should get incentives," he said. The government had been asking in vain for industrial corridors to Nagpur, Bengaluru and Ramagundam.

"Our CM completed the world largest multi-stage lift irrigation project in three years. Is there any other CM who did this? Such a progressive should be supported," Rama Rao said.

GOV. DONATES ₹1,00,001 FOR RAM MANDIR

Hyderabad, Jan. 23: Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan on Saturday contributed ₹1,00,001 towards the construction of the Ram mandir at Ayodhya. Some Raj Bhavan officials and employees also contributed to the temple.

Dr Tamilisai handed over a cheque for the sum as her personal contribution to state committee members of the Ram Janmabhoomi Mandir Nirman Nidhi Samarpana Abhiyan when they called on her at Raj Bhavan.

The committee members briefed on the campaign to collect donations in the state. They showed her photographs of the temple construction work in Ayodhya. The Governor inquired about issues related to the construction, the Abhiyan said in a press release.

Cyberabad police catch thieves with 25kg gold

BALU PULIPAKA | DC
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

One of the largest heists in the country, in which about 25 kilos of gold ornaments was stolen in Tamil Nadu, ended up being one of the shortest ever. The Cyberabad police on Saturday caught on the city outskirts, an eight member gang of dacoits that was trying to make good with the loot it had stolen from the Muthoot Finance office at Hosur in Tamil Nadu on Friday.

Also seized by the police along with the gold ornaments, was ₹93,000, seven pistols, 10 magazines, 97 rounds of ammunition, a container lorry, a multi-utility vehicle and 13 cell-phones.

According to Cyberabad commissioner of police V.C. Sajjanar, the gang members conducted a recce of several branches of Muthoot Finance before the robbery on Friday at the Hosur branch.

Around five days ago, Sajjanar said, the gang members brought the weapons and ammunition along with the lorry in which they planned to transport the stolen gold to Nagpur.

The plan for the robbery was then set into motion with the lorry owner instructing the driver to park the vehicle on the Tamil Nadu-Karnataka border.

On Friday morning, six gang members went to Hosur on three motorcycles. While two of them waited outside to keep watch, the rest made their way in — two of them wearing face masks and the other two wearing two-wheeler helmets.

They threatened the employees with the pistols they were carrying and robbed the company of 25 kg of mortgaged gold ornaments, and cash. They escaped to the rendezvous with the other gang members on the Karnataka-Tamil Nadu border where the lorry and the MUV were waiting.

After placing the loot in a specially made box in the lorry driver's cabin, the gang started for Nagpur. One of the accused was in the lorry while the others travelled behind in the MUV. After reaching Anantapur, they shifted to another hired vehicle.

Police officials from Krishnagiri district, in which Hosur falls, alerted the Telangana police about the heist and about the getaway vehicles. According to Sajjanar, armed checkpoints were immediately put in place at the Raikal and Shamshabad toll plazas to check the vehicles passing by.

When the hired MUV passed Raikal, the cops posted there identified it and alerted officials who intercepted it and took into custody the gang members. Based on the information provided by them, the police intercepted the lorry carrying the gold at Medchal, seized it and arrested those in the vehicle.

The accused, the police said, were brothers Rup Singh Baghal, a 22-year-old student, and Shankar Singh Baghal, 36, a farmer, from Jabalpur in Madhya Pradesh, Amith from Indore who is absconding, Pavan Kumar Vishkarma, 22, driver, Bupender Major, a 24-year-old labourer and Vivek Mandal, 32, both from Doranda village in Jharkhand, Rajiv Kumar, 35, cleaner of the lorry, from Meerut in Uttar Pradesh, and Lulya Pradeep, weapons dealer from Nagpur, Maharashtra.

NUMBER OF COVID CASES IN TS GOES DOWN

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

The daily new addition of Covid-19 cases now appears to be settling around the low 200s. The state health department said that for Friday, the state registered 211 Covid-19 cases and two deaths.

Since January 12, Telangana state had been reporting daily cases between 200 and 300. With fewer cases being reported, the number of tests being done, either on primary or secondary contacts who exhibit some symptoms has also fallen. Throughout the pandemic, the number of cases were found to be more on days when the testing was more. On Friday, the state conducted 30,005 tests.

This is a far cry the more than 2,500 cases a day that was recorded in the state in the middle of last year when the disease spread was believed to be at its peak.

As many as 3,569 persons were listed by the department as being active Covid-19 cases on Friday, of whom 1,973 were in isolation at home or institutions.

Of the 211 cases on Friday, the GHMC area including Hyderabad city recorded 36, while Karimnagar district had 17, followed by Medchal-Malkajgiri with 16, Ranga Reddy 14 and Warangal Urban and Sangareddy districts with 10 cases each.

Undercooked comic meal with string of stale jokes

SASHIDHAR ADIVI | DC

Allari Naresh enjoys the reputation of bringing comic acts to the celluloid world. However, of late, his films are getting loaded with more "allari" (nonsense) and less of comedy. Though Bangaru Bullodu is a comic caper set against a rustic backdrop, it has only adds up to the list of dismal offerings from the comic hero.

Bhavani Prasad (Allari Naresh) is a bank employee with many predicaments. He learns that his grandfather (Tanikella Bharani) had used ornaments belonging to the village deity for his own benefit. In a payback, Prasad wants to use the gold deposited in his bank for returning the ornaments to the temple. Things take a weird turn when Prasad accidentally locks horns with the villain.

The story is age-old, screenplay mundane and outdated. It feels as though you are watching a movie from the 90s and you find yourself trying hard to laugh at the jokes. Though the first half is still palatable, to an extent, the second half turns excruciatingly painful. The romantic track between the lead pair Allari Naresh and Pooja Jhaveri appears to be without rhyme or reason. The biggest drawback of the film is its climax. Bangaru Bullodu is another wrong pick by

Naresh. Though he tries hard to press all buttons with his archetypal style, the story, set in a gimmicky world, offers routine and stale comedy. Even if you are someone who wants to laugh without wanting to think too hard, the film may still not work for you. Direction, cinematography, editing and every other aspect of the craft is mediocre. As a result, the remixed version of Swathilo Muthyamantha from yesterday's Bangaru Bullodu offers some relief, though fleeting.

Director Giri brings an assortment of jokes and characters in the second half. Few tickle but most fizzle out.

There are many comic episodes that look like having been forced into the narrative. This makes you feel that the movie is a garb to showcase lame humour the makers are hard-selling to the audience. Though actors do shine, comedy does not. Strange, right?

All in all, Bangaru Bullodu is an undercooked comic meal that works in parts and falls flat at many places. You expect a lot to happen given the nature of characters that spring up without any warning or notice. Like the saying too many cooks spoil the broth; this film walks the extra mile in proving that too many comic characters forcibly fitted in dilute the film's comedy and its flavour.

requested to extend the date for procurement of remaining CMR from rice millers. But there was no clear response. The issue was thus brought to the notice of Chief Minister, who immediately took up the issue with FCI authorities.

Following this, FCI has decided to continue procuring CMR from rice millers until February 28, Kamalakur stated. He asked rice millers to hand over the remaining six lakh metric tonnes of CMR to FCI as early as possible without waiting until the last minute.

As land under cultivation is increasing year after year, farmers are getting good profits. About 48.42 lakh metric tonnes of paddy worth ₹9,138 crore has been purchased from around 10.92 lakh farmers.

Further, about ₹8,696 crore of minimum statutory price has already been deposited into the bank accounts of farmers.

Following the procurement, 6,139 purchasing centres of the total 6,505 have already been shut down.

With constant efforts put in by CM since past six years, agricultural scenario has changed in its entirety with enormous growth, BC welfare minister underlined.

'Ill-treated' RTI applicant to file writ petition on SIC

DC CORRESPONDENT
JAGTIAL, JAN. 23

Secretary of Council for Citizens Rights (CCR) Tummanapelly Jaya Prakash has alleged that in violation of the provisions under Right to Information Act, the State Information Commission (SIC) behaved in a negligent manner when a disabled applicant sought information. Prakash, a resident of Ailapur village in Kuratla mandal sought details of land records in the tahsildar's office Korutla in September, 2018 under Section 6(1) of Right to Information Act. When he did not get information from the tahsildar's office as per first appellate under Section 19(1) of the RTI Act, he approached the Sub-collector of Metpally in October, 2018. Even that was a futile exercise. Then as a second that Commissioner G. Shankar Naik is not available and asked him to come when notices will be sent again.

He rued that being a disabled person, he faced a am on January 22.

"Accordingly, I reached Hyderabad a day early and went to the office in time," he added. The staff in SIC was rude and said that Commissioner G. Shankar Naik is not available and asked him to come when notices will be sent again.

He rued that being a disabled person, he faced a lot of problems and spent money to come to Hyderabad from Jagtial. He said that on the behalf of the state CCR committee, legal notices will be sent to the state information commission against the negligent behaviour of the concerned officials and if needed they will also file a writ petition in the High Court.

WARANGAL, JAN. 23

The National Girl Child Day celebrations were held at the Pradjadharana CCI in Zafargad on Saturday in Jangoan district under the auspices of the department of child protection, Jangoan, and Childline 1098.

Mandal Parashuramulu, chairperson of the erstwhile Warangal district child welfare committee, said that every parent should understand that girls' education is very important and aspire for their development and pave the way for their development.

He said there was a need for all authorities to work in coordination, especially in making Jangoan a district with no child marriages. District welfare officer Jayanthi said that officials should work diligently to follow the slogan given by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, 'Beti Bachao Beti Padoo'. "If our law is enforced without any discrimination against girls, it will pave the way for their development," she said.

Amma Ashram administrator Gade Inna Reddy said the ashram was working for the development of those who provide proper care for children. He said that educating girls in all walks of life would make them better citizens of India.

V-p urges youth to get inspired from netaji

Hyderabad, Jan. 23: Vice-President M. Venkaiah Naidu on Saturday urged youth to derive inspiration from the life of Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose and lead from the front in building a new India, a happy and prosperous nation where every citizen gets equal opportunity and where there is no discrimination.

Noting that about 65 per cent of the population is below the age of 35, he said it is time for the youth to be in the forefront in eradicating poverty, illiteracy, social and gender discrimination, casteism and communalism.

Naidu was addressing officer-trainees attending the foundation course at the MCR HRD Institute here on the occasion of 125th birth anniversary of Netaji which is being celebrated as Parakram Diwas.

Referring to the role played by Netaji and freedom fighters, social reformers, including unsung heroes from different regions, Venkaiah Naidu said many people were not aware of their greatness as the contributions made by them were not properly projected in history books. "We have to celebrate the lives of many of our great leaders. We have to come out of the colonial mindset," he said. — PTI

Off the beaten track

Trump, and the art of leaving

This month we left an old and truly awful year behind with almost as much fanfare as ever, despite life being far from normal. But the degree of jollity and bonhomie that attend year-end salutations are out of the ordinary in themselves. Not only do we not display such fellow feeling in the course of the year, there is almost nothing else we leave behind with such elan.

At the end of the year, we reach out to even those we don't particularly like and wish them well. Do we mean it? Mostly, yes. Does it improve our state of mind going into the new year, even if it doesn't improve the year itself (as 2021 has already proven)? Yes! Although centering on fresh starts for ourselves, our genuine intention to begin well makes us behave better than we ordinarily would with others, and with more integrity than when exiting anything else.

Amongst those rare affairs we leave behind with grace are school and college; quitted almost perfunctorily and with some relief at the time, they accrue copious layers of sentiment over the years. We depart kids' birthday parties too with some decorum, but only because we've been bribed with return gifts and cake, and are children still, under strict behave-or-else orders from our parents. It is childhood then that most of us renounce with a modicum of dignity, because of the quick-gilding memories and the hurry we are in to leave.

In almost any other situation, we appear to exit as if "pursued by a bear". Because it isn't human nature to leave things well. Or well alone. If something's going well, our instinct is to not end it at all. Why stop something, we ask ourselves, that works to our advantage? We only wrap things up when they no longer serve our ends. When they're beyond redemption with no recompense. But oh, they can't run out on us either; we have to be the one that walks, have that last word, or leave behind an indelible impression. Even if it's a negative one; rendering a place, person, or situation, broken and unusable for those who come along.

Is that what Donald Trump's been doing since his election defeat? Like a spurned lover, does he want to destroy America, if America won't have him? The Capitol riot on January 6 when Trump supporters stormed the House of Representatives has been cast as many things; from a righteous protest by its right-wing adherents, to an insurrection and coup attempt by almost everyone else. And the last two it would appear to be, even as it unfolded on our screens like a Hollywood horror movie. But was it also Trump's bid, like an entitled, mean-spirited rock star leaving a hotel room worse than they'd found it, to trash Washington and American democracy, if he could no longer preside over it?

It's true we leave very few jobs with good grace, fearing a loss of earnings and very often, face. We might have been fired, or so thoroughly fed up by the time we call it quits, the good-will naturally dissipates. Even those we revere rarely bow out well. Sunil Gavaskar, retiring right after his 37th test century, and at the height of his fame, timed it to perfection. But not everyone steps down at the top of their game, when people are still asking why, rather than why not. Some might say Kapil Dev bid adieu a tad too late, when questions over his fitness were already being raised. Celebrities, basking in our adoration, find leaving the limelight quite the wrench. Like Barbra Streisand, they may have flounced off saying they'd had enough, charging you $1,000 to watch their "last" performance, only to return a few years later. But budge up Babs, having left five dead and a country in disarray, Donald now takes the cake!

Trump may be an extreme example; of bad grace, ill intent, reprehensible actions, and orangeness, but it's not just those we place on pedestals who make debacles of departures. In more modest ways, we're all deficient in the art of leaving well. In my personal life, I've been hopeless. Not only do I not know 50 ways to leave lovers, I haven't even mastered one. I know I'm fortunate to be happily settled with my second husband and three children (two human and one canine), despite never having managed to finish a relationship well. Or indeed, at all. Despite the abuse, I dithered every time, fervently trying to fix what oughtn't be fixed, till the other party found a new punching bag and I could move on. Having talked to women trapped in abusive relationships like myself, and heard countless other tales of romantic stalemates, I can attest that if there are indeed 50 ways to leave your lover, they've only ever worked for Simon. Or Garfunkel.

Of course, there's ending relationships badly, and then there's instigating armed revolt to lay siege to parliament, or trash it because you can't crash it as I half suspect, but we can still learn a valuable lesson from the shocking events of this month. We can learn how not to execute the world's worst departure from the King (Kong) of all bad losers, if not in 50 different ways then at least in one. Whatever you do, wherever you are, however hard-done-by you feel (or even if you actually are), don't be a chump, don't do a Trump, never take a dump on those you're leaving. And with that one surefire way to make an elegant exit, I will say adieu, but so bad am I at leaving, I'll proffer this too — that if you can think of 49 other excellent modes in which to walk, tell us, won't you?

Resist new usurpers of Hindu's eternal legacy

Pavan K. Varma

Chanakya's View

It is a truism to say that Hinduism is a way of life. What this essentially means is, that unlike many other religions, Hinduism does not lay down an inflexible code of do's and don'ts for its followers. It does not have only one God, nor only one book of faith, nor one Pope, nor a single place of paramount pilgrimage, nor only one presiding temple. Such diversity in practice often leads some uninformed observers to believe that Hinduism is not a cohesive religion: it is not one but many faiths. Such an assessment is wide off the mark. Hindus allow for differences of opinion, within and without, and variations in practice, dictated by choice not diktat, without diluting the core fealties of their faith.

But there are some people now who want to convert this remarkably eclectic religion, that has evolved from centuries of veneration and philosophical insight, into a prescriptive faith. They want to dictate to its followers what they should wear, what they should drink, what they should eat, how they should practise their religion, what constitutes "correct" Hindu behaviour, what morality is, and who is a "good" Hindu as against a "bad" one. This, of course, is anathema for most Hindus. Hindus have been used to being Hindus in a self-assured way without being told that there is a higher "authority" that will judge them on how good or bad they are. What makes it worse is that those who believe that they are "better" Hindus, and therefore the "authority" to judge the conduct of "lesser" Hindus, are woefully ignorant of what Hinduism is really about.

Inexplicably, Hindus never took this threat seriously, but they should have been alerted to its dangers long before. The Shri Ram Sena was founded in the 1960s by Kalki Maharaj, close to the Shiv Sena, and a former member of the Bajrang Dal and the Vishwa Hindu Parishad. On January 24, 2009, members of the Shri Ram Sena barged into a pub — Amnesia — in Mangalore, and beat up a group of young men and women, on the grounds that the women were violating traditional Indian — read Hindu — values. Two of the women had to be hospitalised. Pramod Muthalik, the leader of the Sena said: "Whoever had done this has done a good job. Girls going to pubs is not acceptable. So whatever the Sena members did was right. You are highlighting this small incident to malign the BJP government in the state."

In January 2009, Muthalik announced a plan to target couples dating on February 14, Valentine's Day. "Our

There are some people now who want to convert this remarkably eclectic religion, evolved from centuries of veneration and philosophical insight, into a prescriptive faith. They want to dictate to its followers what constitutes 'correct' Hindu behaviour.

With progress, a vast number of Hindus want to have the freedom of being Hindus in accordance with their own vision of what that means. They are emerging as confident citizens of a globalised world, and do not wish to be straitjacketed in a narrow vision...

activists will go around with a priest, turmeric, and a mangalsutra on February 14. If we come across couples together in public and expressing their love, we will take them to the nearest temple and conduct their marriage." Such incidents need to be recalled, because what then seemed to be a fringe trend, is increasingly becoming mainstream. The Love Jihad law passed by the UP government, and being emulated now by other BJP ruled states, may ostensibly be aimed at preventing fraudulent conversions of Hindu women through the ruse of marriage, but its real intent is to infantilise adult Hindu women and take away from them their constitutional right to marry whomsoever they wish.

Now, Shivraj Singh Chouhan, the chief minister of Madhya Pradesh, has announced a "samman" programme, where employed women can register at the local police station for their own safety. Ostensibly meant to protect women, what such a programme is likely to do in a patriarchal society is to empower policemen in the thana to keep a watch on where employed women go, who they meet, what they do, and why they don't return home at a "respectable" time. Women must become appropriately "chaste" in conformity with the limited vision of these self-anointed protectors of Hinduism, and Hindus in general must bow before their brittle and distorted notions of Hindu fidelity. Our memories are short-lived but we should not forget that some years ago, Govind Pansare, M.M. Kalburgi, Narendra Dabholkar and Gauri Lankesh, were shot dead allegedly by members of the Sanatan Sanstha and Hindu Janajagruti Samiti. The horrific murders were reportedly inspired by a book published by the Sanatan Sanstha, which argues that those who don't conform to prefixed ideas of Hindu spirituality and religion are villains of society and must be eliminated.

Hinduism has no 10 commandments. It has consciously chosen not to be prescriptive, and that is the key too for its survival and being a sanatan or eternal dharma. Its concept of dharma, while outlining a framework for ethics, leaves a great deal to the conscious choice that individuals make in given situations. With progress, education and modernity, a vast number of Hindus want to have the freedom of being Hindus in accordance with their own vision of what that means. They are emerging as confident citizens of a globalised world, and do not wish to be straitjacketed in the narrow vision of some blindly orthodox, patriarchal and largely upper-caste Hindus.

In the eighth century CE, the great Adi Shankaracharya could say: Na mantro, na teertham, na vedha na yagna, chidananda roopah, Shivo ham, Shivo ham: There is no mantra, no pilgrimage, no Veda, no ritual, all that matters is Bliss and Awareness that makes each one of us Shiva. If Hindus want to preserve this real Hinduism, they must learn to resist the new usurpers of their great legacy.

BOMBAY, JANUARY 23

A major portion of Air India's Boeing-707 "Nandadevi" was burnt today when it jumped off the runway at Santa Cruz airport, caught fire and grazed through the airfield for about two furlongs before coming to a halt.

In the process it broke into two, its tail portion dropping on the way.

Huge tongues of flame suddenly leapt up and when the fire was brought under control after two hours by the fire-fighting squads, all that could be salvaged of the aircraft was the cockpit and part of the first class portion of the passenger lounge.

Gup-ShupKharge or Sharma: Who will succeed
Azad in LS?

Senior Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad has been the leader of Opposition in the Rajya Sabha for over six years. This post will soon be falling vacant as Mr Azad's term ends next month. The Budget Session of Parliament is barely a few days away but there's no clarity about Mr Azad's successor in the Upper House. From all accounts, the post would have gone to Anand Sharma who is the party's deputy leader in the Upper House. However, Mr Sharma now has competition as veteran leader Mallikarjun Kharge, who was recently elected to the Rajya Sabha, is emerging as a serious contender. The Opposition leader's post is critical as he or she leads the charge against the Treasury. Mr Kharge held the post in the Lok Sabha for five years (he moved to the Rajya Sabha after he failed to make it to the Lower House in the 2019 election) and despite the Congress party's poor bench strength, the veteran leader from Karnataka managed to get under the government's skin on several occasions. Though Mr Sharma has acquitted himself well in the Rajya Sabha, Mr Kharge's seniority could well tilt the scales in his favour.

There is a strong buzz in the capital that Uttarakhand and Madhya Pradesh chief ministers Trivendra Singh Rawat and Shivraj Singh Chouhan may be shifted to Delhi when Prime Minister Narendra Modi reshuffles his Cabinet, which may now take place only after the West Bengal election. Mr Rawat has made himself unpopular with the people and party workers. Both complain that Mr Rawat has no presence and has failed to make any impact. Furthermore, he comes across as a poor second in comparison to his Uttar Pradesh counterpart Yogi Adityanath. Unlike Mr Rawat, Mr Chouhan's popularity ratings remain high but the BJP leadership is unhappy at his acquiring a larger-than-life image. Mr Chouhan has become increasingly assertive and aggressive in his second term and this has not gone unnoticed by the leadership in Delhi. In fact, the party has been keen on promoting another leader in the state for some time but has not got an opportune moment to do so.

First, Congress insiders had a grouse that Nehru-Gandhi scion Rahul Gandhi was inaccessible to them and that his politically-inexperienced team members kept him from meeting party cadres. And now it is the same story with his sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, Congress general secretary in charge of Uttar Pradesh. When Priyanka joined politics two years ago, excited Congress cadres were confident that her entry would bring about a much-needed change in the party as she was reputed to be more open and connected well with workers. But, unfortunately for Congress members, it is as difficult to get an audience with Priyanka as it is with Rahul Gandhi. In Priyanka's case, they blame Sandeep Singh, the main honcho in her office, for her inaccessibility. Unhappy Congress members maintain that Sandeep keeps a tight control on her appointments and is known to give preference to those who defer to him. There have been several instances when Sandeep has exchanged hot words with party leaders, the latest being UP legislator Aradhana Mishra.

Ever since home minister Amit Shah visited Delhi Police headquarters for a review meeting last week, speculation has been rife that the force will finally get a full-fledged commissioner. According to the grapevine, S.M. Sahai, a 1987 IPS officer, presently serving in the PMO, is the frontrunner for the post. The present incumbent, S.N. Shrivastava, was given additional charge as police commissioner after his predecessor Amulya Patnaik demitted office last March. An order issued then had stated that Mr Shrivastava would hold this charge till further orders. He has since been continuing as an ad hoc police chief as his confirmation orders have yet to come. He is set to retire in June. This is perhaps the first time that Delhi Police has been functioning with an acting chief commissioner for such a prolonged period.

When Arnab Goswami, Republic TV's editor-in-chief and co-founder, was arrested by the Mumbai Police last year in an abetment to suicide case, the ruling BJP had gone all out to defend him. Union ministers and party spokespersons had lined up to attack the Maharashtra government for indulging in a witch hunt. Mr Goswami is currently embroiled in a fresh controversy over his long WhatsApp chats with the head of the Broadcast Audience Research Council revealing that he was fixing his channel's TRPs. But, unlike the last time, no minister or BJP spokesperson has come to his rescue suggesting that the saffron party wishes to distance itself from its favourite news anchor. Maybe it has something to do with Mr Goswami flaunting his proximity to the government's top bosses and how they were ready to hand down favours to him. Worse, he made fun of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's poetry. Clearly, Mr Goswami's benefactors have not taken kindly to his remarks.

MAHA TO START JAIL TOURISM FROM JAN 26

Nagpur, Jan. 23: The Maharashtra government will start 'jail tourism' in the state from Pune's Yerawada prison on January 26 to facilitate people to visit and see from close quarters the historical prisons, a minister said on Saturday.

Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray and Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar will inaugurate the jail tourism initiative at Yerawada Central Jail on the Republic Day, state Home Minister Anil Deshmukh said in a press conference.

This is the first of its kind initiative in the country, he claimed. "Jail tourism in the state will start from the Yerawada jail in the first phase. Students from schools, colleges and other people will get a chance to visit these historical places," he told reporters here.

"Under the British rule, several freedom fighters, including Mahatma Gandhi, Lokmanya Tilak, Motilal Nehru, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Sarojini Naidu, Subhas Chandra Bose had been imprisoned in Yerawada jail and their memories have been preserved there," he said.

Deshmukh said that guides will be provided to the visitors and ticket prices will range from ₹5 to ₹50. The prisons in Thane, Nashik and Ratnagiri will also be part of the jail tourism initiative, the minister added.

SOMNATH BHARTI SENTENCED TO 2 YEARS IN JAIL

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, JAN. 23

A court on Saturday sentenced AAP MLA Somnath Bharti to two years in jail for assaulting the AIIMS security staff in a case registered in 2016. Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Ravindra Kumar Pandey also imposed a fine of Rs one lakh on the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leader.

Bharti, however, was granted bail to enable him to file an appeal before the high court against his conviction in the case and jail term.

According to the prosecution, on September 9, 2016, Bharti, along with nearly 300 others, brought down the fence of a boundary wall at the AIIMS here with a JCB operator.

"The court is of the considered view that the prosecution has duly proved its case beyond all reasonable doubt against accused Somnath Bharti," the magistrate said.

The court convicted Bharti for various offences under the IPC, including under sections 323 (voluntarily causing hurt), 353 (assault or use of criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of his duty) and 147 (rioting). It also held the AAP MLA guilty under section 3 (mischievous causing damage to public property) of the Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act.

The offences carry a maximum punishment of five years in jail. The court, however, acquitted Bharti's associates and co-accused - Jagat Saini, Dileep Jha, Sandeep Sonu and Rakesh Pandey - citing a lack of evidence against them.

The case was lodged on the basis of a complaint from R.S. Rawat, Chief Security Officer, AIIMS.

BSF DETECTS UNDERGROUND TUNNEL ALONG IB IN KATHUA

Jammu, Jan. 23: The Border Security Force (BSF) on Saturday detected a second underground tunnel constructed by Pakistan in Jammu and Kashmir's Kathua district to facilitate the infiltration of terrorists, a spokesperson of the border guarding force said.

This is the second such structure found in 10 days.

The secret tunnel was detected during an anti-tunnelling operation in the border outpost (BOP) Pansar area of Hiranagar sector, opposite Abhiyal-Dogra and Kingre-de-Kotha in Shakargarh, the spokesperson said.

This is the second underground tunnel detected by BSF personnel in Hiranagar sector during the past 10 days, fourth in the past six months along the International Border (IB) in Samba and Kathua districts and 10th in the past decade.

On January 13, a 150-metre-long tunnel was detected in Bobiyaan village in the same sector.

The spokesperson said the latest tunnel was unearthed on a specific intelligence input in the early hours of the day during the anti-tunnelling drive. "The tunnel is about 150 metres long and 30 feet deep with about three feet diameter," he said, adding that the BSF had shot down a Pakistani Helicopter carrying loads of weapons and ammunition in June 2020 in the same area besides foiling an infiltration bid by terrorists in November 2019. - PTI

INDIA-CHINA TO HOLD CORPS COMMANDERS MEETING TODAY

PAWAN BALI | DC
NEW DELHI, JAN. 23

India and China will hold ninth round of Corps Commanders meeting on Sunday at Moldo to try resolve the ongoing military stand-off in the Eastern Ladakh.

The last round of the Corps Commanders meeting was held on November 6. However, due to lack of any tangible progress no meeting was held between the army commanders in over two and a half months.

The military stand-off in Eastern Ladakh is in ninth month with both sides having deployed around 50,000 troops at each side of the line of actual control (LAC) in Eastern Ladakh. Despite temperatures dipping to -30 degrees C in the region, both India and China have maintained troops at forward posts this winter at LAC in Ladakh.

India is reported to be have asked Russia for early deliveries of S-400 air defence missile system to be mainly deployed at LAC.

Farmer leaders allege conspiracy to kill them

New Delhi, Jan. 23: A man is being questioned by the Haryana police after protesting farmers alleged that a conspiracy was hatched to kill four of their leaders and create disturbance during their proposed tractor parade in Delhi on January 26, officials said on Saturday. The man was presented before reporters by the protesting farmer leaders on Friday night.

A police official said the man, stated to be around 21 years of age, was being quizzed in Sonapat by the Crime Branch of the state police. He said the man was residing in Sonapat and had no previous criminal record.

"He was not carrying any arms or ammunition. We are questioning him, but nothing has so far been found that points to any kind of conspiracy, as is being alleged," the official said, adding that further investigations are underway.

At the Singhu border press conference late on Friday night, the farmer leaders presented the man who claimed that his accomplices were asked to pose as policemen and baton-charge the crowd during the proposed tractor parade in the national capital on Republic Day.

The farmer leaders claimed that they caught the man from the protest site at the Singhu border.

MP CONGRESS PROTESTS OVER FARM LAWS

RABINDRA NATH CHOUDHURY | DC
BHOPAL, JAN. 23

Police used tear gas shells and water cannons as Congress activists led by Madhya Pradesh party chief Kamal Nath here on Saturday staged a rally in protest against 3 farm laws brought by the Centre.

The police used 'mild force' to disperse the Congress workers and leaders who were marching towards Raj Bhavan to gherao it.

"Police used tear gas shells and water cannons after the demonstrators went unruly", a police officer said.

"The situation is now under control", Bhopal district deputy inspector general of police Irshad Wali said.

Congress on Saturday launched the state level rally here after holding rallies at district headquarters in the state over the last past couple of weeks in support of the farmers' demand to repeal the 3 farm laws.

He was subsequently handed over to the Haryana police. Farmer leader Kulwant Singh Sandhu alleged that attempts are being made to disrupt the ongoing agitation against three farm laws.

The man, who had his face covered with a scarf, claimed at the press conference that a plan was hatched to shoot four farmer leaders, who are known faces in the media, at the stage on Saturday.

"On January 26, there was a plan to create disturbance during the tractor parade by opening fire on Delhi Police personnel, which would prompt them to retaliate against the protesting farmers in a strong manner," he said.

Thousands of farmers, mostly from Punjab, Haryana and western Uttar Pradesh, have been camping at several border points of Delhi since November 28 last year, demanding a repeal of the three farm laws and a legal guarantee to the minimum support price (MSP) for their crops.

Enacted in September last year, the three laws have been projected by the Centre as major reforms in the agriculture sector that will remove middlemen and allow farmers to sell their produce anywhere in the country.

However, the protesting farmers have expressed their apprehension over the new laws. - PTI

Mamata declines to speak at Netaji event after 'Jai Shree Ram' slogans were raised

RAJIB CHOWDHURI | DC
KOLKATA, JAN. 23

Controversy cast a shadow on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's Kolkata visit on Saturday to inaugurate the Centre's 'Parakram Diwas' celebration in memory of the 125th birth anniversary of Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose as the solemn occasion witnessed a tug of war between the BJP and ruling Trinamul Congress over the iconic freedom fighter to woo the voters in poll-bound West Bengal.

All eyes were set on the event at the Victoria Memorial where Mr Modi and chief minister and TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee faced each other in person after a gap of a year and also shared the dais.

Ms Banerjee also greeted the PM with a welcome stole.

However, their joint public appearance, supposed to be the last before the Assembly Elections, could not beat the rising political temperature in the state due to a neck and neck battle between two rival parties for poll success. As the anchors announced Ms Banerjee's name to deliver her address, the CM was greeted with Jai Shree Ram slogans from the audience, leaving her furious. One of the anchors tried to pacify those shouting the slogan and urged them to give an opportunity to Ms Banerjee to speak.

The CM said, "I think there should be a dignity at a government programme. It is a government programme and not an event of any particular political party. It is rather a programme of all political parties and the public at large. I am obliged to the PM and Union ministry of culture for organizing the event in Kolkata. But it does not suit you to insult someone after inviting her. In protest of that I will not say anything."

She then angrily returned to her seat.

Stoking mass sentiment about Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose on his 125th birth anniversary, chief minister Mamata Banerjee on Saturday sought the Centre to declare the iconic freedom fighter's birthday a national holiday, restore his concept, Planning Commission and unravel the mystery about his death.

The Trinamul Congress supremo raised the three key demands while preferring her 'Deshanayak Diwas' to the Centre's 'Parakram Diwas' in memory of the birth anniversary of Bose after paying tribute to him at his statue at the Shyambazar Five-point crossing and leading an eight-km-long march across the city to outsmart Prime Minister Narendra Modi hours before his visit to Kolkata to inaugurate 'Parakram Diwas' celebration.

Ms Banerjee told a rally at Red Road, "The central government is yet to declare Netaji's birthday as a national holiday. We are sad about it. In protest, we demand that Netaji's birthday has to be declared as a national holiday, either today or tomorrow. We also do not know how he had died. This should be revealed through an inquiry. Netaji, according to us, was eliminated because his freedom struggle had scared many."

Countering the slogan 'one nation, one election' of Mr Modi and BJP, the TMC chief, in her bid to play up regional politics ahead of the polls, also called for regionwise bifurcation of the nation's capital into four including one at Kolkata to decentralise union powers from New Delhi. She argued that parliament sessions can be held in the four regional capitals in turns.

She added, "Kolkata once used to be the capital of the country. When the British used to rule the nation sitting here, why can't Kolkata be one of the capitals of the country? I feel it has to be done since it was the origin of renaissance and freedom movement. I ask the Centre to set up the country's capital in four corners: North, South, East and North East. Why would the parliamentary sessions be restricted to a particular place? What is there in Delhi? Maximum are outsiders there."

Bengali legend, Sugata Bose got a call from the PMO to learn that Mr Modi would pay a surprise visit to the Netaji Bhavan, the ancestral house of the family at Elgin Road in South Kolkata that now houses the Netaji Research Bureau, which was earlier not in his itinerary.

Some BJP leaders including Kailash Vijayvargiya, who gathered outside the address, tried to enter but were stopped.

They however shouted Jai Shree Ram slogan when Mr Modi dropped at the Netaji Bhavan after landing in Kolkata.

Prof Bose, also the NRB chairperson, said, "I had told the PMO that Mr Modi is welcome as a PM in honour of Netaji and not as a political personality. The CM also visited here alone in the morning. The PMO agreed. Alongwith my brother Sumantra Bose, director of the NRB, I welcomed the PM and guided him to visit the museum. No political leader was allowed. We protected the sanctity of the occasion."

On the Centre's 'Parakram Diwas' he added, "I do not like it because Netaji was not a mere warrior. I like Deshanayak Diwas."

Thank you, says Brazil for vaccine

Ecstatic over India supplying the Covid vaccine to his country, Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi, saying that Brazil was "honoured to have a great partner" like India.

The Prime Minister replied that the "honour is ours", adding that India is a "trusted partner" of Brazil and pointing to efforts to fight the pandemic.

At a weekly media briefing earlier on Friday, the Ministry of External Affairs had said that vaccines had been despatched already to Brazil and Morocco as contractual supplies, with Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Bangladesh and Myanmar also set to receive these.

It may be recalled that in addition, vaccine supply as a gift from India under grant assistance has so far been made to seven countries including five neighbours - Bhutan, the Maldives, Bangladesh, Myanmar, Nepal, Mauritius and Seychelles.

Sri Lanka and Afghanistan will also receive vaccines as grant assistance once regulatory approvals are received from these two countries. Observers point out that India's vaccine supplies especially as grant assistance to neighbouring countries has been a huge success of Indian foreign policy and has generated much overseas goodwill for New Delhi. India is also seen as having scored over giant eastern neighbour China which had expanded its influence drastically in south Asia in the past several years.

MEA Spokesperson Anurag Srivastava had said, on Friday, "As you can see the supply of Indian made vaccines are underway both as gifts as well as on commercial basis. ... In terms of quantities and types of vaccines, the supplies abroad on G-to-G, G-to-B and B-to-B basis would be based on availability and regulatory approvals."

WHO chief Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his continued support to the global COVID-19 response, saying acting together, including sharing of knowledge, will help in combating the coronavirus.

'Halwa Ceremony' kickstarts process of compilation of Budget documents

App for hassle-free access of Budget papers launched

New Delhi, Jan. 23: Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Minister of State for Finance Anurag Thakur and senior officials of the finance ministry on Saturday participated in the symbolic 'Halwa Ceremony' that marks the beginning of compilation of budget documents.

Unlike the past, the voluminous budget documents will not be printed this year following the Covid-19 protocol and will instead be distributed electronically to the Members of Parliament (MPs).

Previously, the ceremony marked the launch of printing exercise for the budget.

This will be the first time since the presentation of independent India's first budget on November 26, 1947, that the documents containing income and expenditure statement of the Union government along with the finance bill, detailing new taxes and other measures for the new financial year, will not be physically printed. "In an unprecedented initiative, Union Budget 2021-22 will be delivered in paperless form for the first time. The Union Budget 2021-22 is to be presented on February 1, 2021," the Finance Ministry said in a statement.

On the occasion, the Finance Minister also launched the 'Union Budget Mobile App' for hassle-free access of Budget documents by Members of Parliament (MPs) and the general public using the simplest form of digital convenience.

The mobile App facilitates complete access to 14 Union Budget documents, including the Annual Financial Statement (commonly known as Budget), Demand for Grants (DG), Finance Bill etc. as prescribed by the Constitution, it said.

Finance Secretary Ajay Bhushan Pandey, Economic Affairs Secretary Tarun Bajaj, Financial Services

Secretary Debasish Panda, DIPAM Secretary Tuhin Kanta Pandey, Expenditure Secretary T.V. Somanathan and Chief Economic Adviser K.V. Subramanian and other senior involved in the Budget preparation and compilation process, were also present in the customary pre-Budget event. "Later, the finance minister reviewed the status of the compilation of the Union Budget 2021-22 and extended her best wishes to the officials concerned," it said.

The statement further said that the App has a user-friendly interface with embedded features of downloading, printing, search, zoom in and out, bidirectional scrolling, table of contents and external links, etc.

The App can also be downloaded from the Union

Budget Web Portal (www.indiabudget.gov.in), it said, adding, the App has been developed by the National Informatics Centre (NIC) under the guidance of the Department of Economic Affairs (DEA).

The Budget documents will be available on the Mobile App after the completion of the Budget Speech by the Finance Minister in Parliament on February 1.

As part of the ritual, 'halwa' is prepared in a big 'kadhai' (large frying pot) and served to the entire staff involved in the Budget making exercise of the ministry.

SENT TO JAIL

Lahore, Jan. 23: A Pakistani Anti-Terrorism Court has sentenced three leaders of Mumbai attack mastermind Hafiz Saeed's Jamaat-ud-Dawah (JuD) terrorist organisation to six months in prison in a case of terror financing.

Saeed's brother-in-law Hafiz Abdur Rehman Makki, JuD spokesperson Yahya Mujahid and Zafar Iqbal were handed down the six-month imprisonment each by the Anti-Terrorism Court (ATC) Lahore.

With Friday's sentencing, the collective imprisonment of Mujahid and Iqbal has climbed to 80 and 56 years respectively. The verdicts against them will run concurrently in the terror financing cases registered by the Counter-Terrorism Department (CTD) of the Punjab police.

NAVALNY WIFE,
SUPPORTERS
HELD AT RALLY

Moscow, Jan. 23: Russian police on Saturday detained over 1,000 protesters, including the wife of jailed Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny, as several thousands took to the streets nationwide to denounce President Vladimir Putin's rule. Thousands of people, including teenagers, packed Moscow's central Pushkin Square and nearby streets as riot police hauled off demonstrators and beat others with batons.

Among those detained were Navalny's wife Yulia Navalnaya and his prominent aide Lyubov Sobol. AFP journalists saw several protesters left badly injured after clashing with police in Moscow.

"What a joy that you are here!" Navalnaya wrote before being detained and posting a picture of herself from inside a police van. The protests in Moscow were estimated to be the largest demonstrators since 2019 when Navalny supporters rallied to demand free local elections.

Navalny had called on Russians to protest this week after surviving a near-fatal poisoning with Novichok and returning to Moscow following months of treatment in Germany, only to be arrested on arrival.

Some protesters marched towards the Kremlin, while others blocked Tverskaya Street, the Russian capital's main thoroughfare.

Police clashed with the demonstrators in the city centre and hit them with truncheons, AFP journalists said.

LARRY KING,
BROADCASTING
GIANT, DIES

Los Angeles, Jan. 23: The iconic talk show host Larry King, one of the most recognizable figures on US television as he interviewed everyone who was anyone over a career spanning 60 years, died Saturday at the age of 87.

The company he co-founded, Ora Media, did not state a cause of death but media reports said King had been battling Covid-19 for weeks and had suffered several health problems in recent years. King, with his trademark suspenders, black rim glasses and deep voice, was best known for a 25-year run as a talk show host on CNN's "Larry King Live."

"For 63 years and across the platforms of radio, television and digital media, Larry's many thousands of interviews, awards, and global acclaim stand as a testament to his unique and lasting talent as a broadcaster," Ora Media said in a statement posted on Twitter.

King's long list of interviewees ranged from every US president since 1974, world leaders Yasser Arafat and Vladimir Putin, and celebrities such as Frank Sinatra, Marlon Brando and Barbra Streisand.

In an emotional last "Larry King Live" show in 2010, tributes included one from President Barack Obama, who in a video message called King "one of the giants of broadcasting".

Trump impeachment trial to begin on Feb. 8

Harris' vote as Senate chairman gives Dems majority

Washington, Jan. 23: The United States Senate would begin the impeachment trial of former President Donald Trump on February 8, Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer said. "The January 6th insurrection at the Capitol, incited by Donald J. Trump was a day none of us will ever forget. We all want to put this awful chapter in our nation's history behind us. But healing and unity will only come if there is truth and accountability. And that is what this trial will provide," Schumer said on the senate floor.

Both the Republican and the Democratic Party now have 50 seats each in the 100 member Senate. However, the crucial vote of Vice President Kamala Harris in her capacity as the chairman of the senate gives the Democrats a majority in the upper chambers of the Congress.

Giving details of the impeachment process, Schumer said the house managers will come to read the article of impeachment at 7 pm on Monday. Members will then be sworn in the next day.

After that, both the house managers and the defense will have a period of time to draft their legal briefs, just as they did in previous trials, he said.

"During that period, the senate will continue to do other business for the American people, such as cabinet nominations and the Covid-relief bill, which would provide relief for millions of Americans who are suffering during this pandemic. Then, once the briefs are drafted, presentations by the parties will commence in the week of February 8th," Schumer said.

Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell said that the impeachment began with an unprecedentedly fast and minimal process in the house. The sequel cannot be an insufficient senate process that denies former president Trump his due process or damages the senate or the presidency itself, he said.

"Senate Republicans strongly believe we need a full and fair process where the former president can mount a defence and the senate can properly consider the factual, legal, and constitutional questions at stake," he said.

The Republican leader suggested that the impeachment trial begin on February 11. "That timeline would have provided the Senate some more floor time before we step fully into the unknown of a trial," he said.

Heads of America-funded global broadcasters resign

Washington, Jan. 23: The heads of three federally-funded international broadcasters were abruptly fired late Friday as the Biden administration completed a house-cleaning of Donald Trump appointees at the US Agency for Global Media.

Two officials familiar with the changes said the acting chief of the USAGM summarily dismissed the directors of Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Radio Free Asia and the Middle East Broadcasting Networks just a month after they had been named to the posts.

The changes came a day after the director of the Voice of America and his deputy were removed and the chief of the Office of Cuba Broadcasting stepped down. It followed the forced resignation of ex-Prez Donald Trump's handpicked choice to lead USAGM only two hours after Joe Biden took office.

The firings follow the forced resignation of ex-President Donald Trump's handpicked choice to lead USAGM only two hours after Joe Biden took office on Wednesday.

Trump's USAGM chief Michael Pack had been accused by Democrats and others of trying to turn VOA and its sister networks into pro-Trump propaganda machines. Pack had appointed all of those who were fired on Thursday and Friday to their posts only in December.

The two officials said the acting CEO of USAGM, Kelu Chao, had fired Middle East Broadcasting Network director Victoria Coates, Radio Free Asia chief Stephen Yates and Radio Free Europe head Ted Lipien in a swift series of moves late Friday.

It was not immediately clear if any of those removed would try to contest their dismissals. — AP

BIDEN CALLS
UP TRUDEAU,
OBRAADOR

Washington, Jan. 23: President Joe Biden made his first calls to foreign leaders as America's commander in chief on Friday, dialing on Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador at a strained moment for the US relationship with its North American neighbors.

Biden's call to Trudeau came after the Canadian prime minister this week publicly expressed disappointment over Biden's decision — one of his first acts as president — to issue an executive order halting construction of the Keystone XL oil pipeline. — AP

Trump shuns 'ex-presidents club'

Washington, Jan. 23: It's a club Donald Trump was never really interested in joining and certainly not so soon: the cadre of former commanders in chief who revere the presidency enough to put aside often bitter political differences and even join together in common cause. Members of the club pose together for pictures. They smile and pat each other on the back while milling around historic events, or sit somberly side by side at VIP funerals.

They take on special projects together. They rarely criticise one another and tend to offer even fewer harsh words about their White House successors. Like so many other presidential traditions, however, this is one Trump seems likely to flout. Now that he's left office, it's hard to see him embracing the stately, exclusive club of living former presidents.

"He kind of laughed at the very notion that he would be accepted in the presidents club," said Kate Andersen Brower, who interviewed Trump in 2019 for her book "Team of Five: The Presidents' Club in the Age of Trump."

"He was like, 'I don't think I'll be accepted.' It's equally clear that the club's other members don't much want him — at least for now. Former Presidents Barack Obama, George W. Bush and Bill Clinton recorded a three-minute video from Arlington National Cemetery after President Joe Biden's inauguration this week, praising peaceful presidential succession as a core of American democracy. The segment included no mention of Trump by name, but stood as a stark rebuke of his behaviour since losing November's election.

"I think the fact that the three of us are standing here, talking about a peaceful transfer of power, speaks to the institutional integrity of our country," Bush said. Obama called inaugurations "a reminder that we can have fierce disagreements and yet recognise each other's common humanity, and that, as Americans, we have more in common than what separates us."

Trump spent months making baseless claims that the election had been stolen from him through fraud and eventually helped incite a deadly insurrection at the US Capitol. He left the White House without attending Biden's swearing-in, the first president to skip his successor's inauguration in 152 years. Obama, Bush and Clinton recorded their video after accompanying Biden to lay a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier following the inauguration. They also taped a video urging Americans to get vaccinated against the coronavirus. Only 96-year-old Jimmy Carter, who has limited his public events because of the pandemic, and Trump, weren't there. — AP

US to revisit Taliban deal

Washington, Jan. 23: The Biden administration has said it will review the US-Taliban deal to assess whether the militant group is reducing violence in keeping with its side of the agreement in the Afghan peace accord. During a telephonic conversation with his Afghan counterpart Hamdullah Mohib, National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan underscored that the US will support the peace process with a robust and regional diplomatic effort, "which will aim to help the two sides achieve a durable and just political settlement and permanent ceasefire". National Security Council spokeswoman Emily Horne said on Friday.

"Sullivan also made clear the United States' intention to review the February 2020 US-Taliban agreement, including to assess whether the Taliban was living up to its commitments to cut ties with terrorist groups, to reduce violence in Afghanistan and to engage in meaningful negotiations with the Afghan government and other stakeholders," she said.

The Trump administration had signed the peace deal with Taliban in February last in Doha.

The accord drew up plans for withdrawal of United States troops from Afghanistan in exchange for security guarantees from the insurgent group. As part of the deal, the US committed to withdraw its 12,000 troops within 14 months.

There are currently only 2,500 American troops left in the country. The Taliban committed to prevent other groups, including Al Qaeda, from using Afghan soil to recruit, train or fund raise toward activities that threaten the US or its allies. — PTI

SHORT TAKES

Savio vs Vinod in Club Fight Night

Hyderabad: Stage is set for the Club Fights Pro Boxing Nights spectacle which will unfold at the Lal Bahadur Stadium here on Sunday night.

The bouts will be a closed door affair keeping in view with the Covid protocol. The event will be streamed live on three online channels — Fite.TV, sportrecs.com and The MMA India Show Facebook Page.

Savio Michael will be the star attraction of Fight Night, taking on Vattedu Vinod in the Super Bantamweight bout. The 23-year-old had dished out a sterling performance in the Senior National championships against Sunil Siwach. He has been one of the most talented boxers in the country.

"I feel that the time is ripe for such boxing bouts to take the centre stage in the country," said organiser Kailashnath Yadav of Red Corner Fight Nights.

THE FIGHT CARD

Super Bantamweight: Savio Michael vs Vattedu Vinod.
Super Lightweight: Sara Nithin Raj vs Abhinay Kumar.
Super Flyweight: Sai Kumar vs Mohd Zahed.
Super Lightweight: Niraj Kumar vs Clinton David.
Feather weight: Trijot Singh vs M. Jayanth.

Levante, Valladolid play out stalemate

Valencia, Spain: Levante needed Roger Marti's late goal to salvage a 2-2 home draw with Valladolid in the Spanish league on Friday.

The match came alive when Levante's Dani Gomez scored in the 62nd minute from a pass by Jorge Frutos after the midfielder sped down the left and set up the forward. Ruben Alcaraz made up for two misses in the first half when he helped rob the ball from Levante's Mickael Malsa and scored from outside the area to level in the 73rd.

Oscar Plano appeared to have given Valladolid the winning goal five minutes later after a pass by Pablo Hervias. But Marti dribbled around his marker to open a tight shooting angle.

He drove a shot that took a deflection off a defender before finding the net to seal the draw in the 83rd.

Levante moved into 10th place and Valladolid into 15th.

Roma handed 3-0 loss in Italian Cup

Rome: Roma were handed a 3-0 Italian Cup defeat to Spezia on Friday after they made six substitutions during a chaotic Last 16 clash they had already lost earlier in the week.

Paulo Fonseca's side were eliminated on Tuesday after a 4-2 extra-time defeat at the Stadio Olimpico, which they finished with nine-men after initially recovering from an early two-goal deficit to take the match beyond 90 minutes.

The capital city club were down to nine less than two minutes into extra time after Gianluca Mancini and goalkeeper Pau Lopez were both dismissed, and in the aftermath of the second red card brought on Daniel Fuzato and Roger Ibanez to take their total of subs over the allowed maximum of five.

In a statement Serie 'A', which organises the Italian Cup, said the 3-0 loss has been awarded because it was a larger margin of defeat than the one handed to Roma on the field.

Kerala held by 10-men Goa

Bambolin: A 10-men FC Goa managed to fend off a tough press from Kerala Blasters to settle for a point with a 1-1 draw in the Indian Super League here on Saturday.

The Gaurs took the lead through a 25th-minute strike from Jorge Ortiz Mendoza, while Rahul KP (57th) scored with a brilliant header in the second half.

Goa were reduced to 10 men in the second half after Ivan Gonzalez received marching orders following two yellow cards within a span of seconds. Goa started with what they do best — playing intriguing short passes, maintaining maximum ball possession and keeping Kerala on the back foot.

Kerala were lucky not to concede early in the game. Ortiz played a one-two with Noguera at the edge of the box, and shot past the keeper Albino Gomes. The effort hit the woodwork not once, but thrice before the ball bounced back into play.

Goa continued their surge with Ortiz and Noguera combining once again.

Wolves move ahead

Vinha takes Wanderers into FA Cup fifth round

London, Jan. 23: Nuno Espirito Santo admitted Wolves had been lucky to scrape into the FA Cup fifth round as Vitinha's sublime strike sealed a hard-fought 1-0 win against non-league Chorley on Friday.

Nuno's side were fortunate to avoid an embarrassing upset after a lacklustre display at Victory Park.

Vitinha's brilliant long-range drive put Wolves ahead early in the first half.

But sixth tier Chorley, the last non-league club standing in this season's competition, pushed Wolves all the way and could easily have forced extra-time.

Wolves keeper John Ruddy had to make several good saves before they secured a Last 16 tie against Southampton or Arsenal.

"They were well organised. We should have moved the ball faster but a win is a win. They were tough," Wolves coach Nuno said.

Wolves are winless in their past six Premier League games and Nuno will hardly have been encouraged that a revival is around the corner after their trip to suburban Lancashire.

Taking possession 35 yards from goal, Vitinha set his sights and unleashed a ferocious, swerving drive that flashed over startled Chorley keeper Matthew Unwin.

It is doubtful Unwin faced many shots of that quality in the National League North, but the on-loan Porto midfielder's first senior goal was Wolves' only strike on target in the entire game.

Patrick Cutrone did go close for the visitors with a rising drive that just cleared the bar.

Connor Hall threatened an equaliser when his header forced Ruddy to save early in the second half.

Wolves were struggling to keep Chorley at bay and Ruddy had to tip over Andy Halls' header before the plucky underdogs eventually ran out of steam.

Neymar, Kylian roar for PSG

Paris, Jan. 23: Neymar made his 100th appearance for Paris Saint-Germain on Friday and marked the occasion with a goal in a 4-0 rout of 10-man Montpellier that took Mauricio Pochettino's side clear at the top of French.

Kylian Mbappe scored twice and Mauro Icardi was also on target with PSG leading 1-0 before netting three times in the space of four minutes around the hour mark.

The game, played behind closed doors at the Parc des Princes, was conditioned by the early sending-off of Montpellier goalkeeper Jonas Omlin for a foul on Mbappe, as PSG made the most of their extra man.

It was their fourth straight win since drawing at Saint-Etienne in Pochettino's first match in charge after the Argentine was appointed as coach on January 2.

The former Tottenham Hotspur boss was back on the Paris bench having spent a week self-isolating following a positive Covid-19 test that forced him to miss his new team's 1-0 win at Angers last weekend.

PSG are now three points clear of second-placed Lille, who go to inform Rennes on Sunday. Lyon in third are five points behind the leaders before visiting derby rivals Saint-Etienne, who will be without seven players because of a coronavirus outbreak.

The capital club's rivals may have their work out trying to overtake the reigning champions on this evidence, with the attacking quartet of Neymar, Mbappe, Icardi and Angel Di Maria running riot.

Neymar's goal took his tally to 81 in 100 appearances for PSG since his world-record 222 million-euro ($264m) move from Barcelona in August 2017.

His time in Paris has been marred by injuries at important moments but there can be no disputing his impressive record in front of goal as he prepares to face his old club in the last 16 of the Champions League next month.

MBAPPE BACK IN FORM

Mbappe was more prominent in this game, however, as he scored his first goals of the Pochettino era.

Pochettino said: "I was already happy with Mbappe's performances before tonight. I am pleased that he scored because scoring goals is crucial for a striker's confidence. But we knew it was only a matter of time," he added.

The France World Cup-winning star was scythed down just outside the box by Omlin in the 16th minute, with the Swiss goalkeeper initially shown a yellow card before the punishment was upgraded to red following a VAR review.

PSG made the extra man count as Di Maria played at half-time, while captain Marquinhos was also forced off early in the second half. The coach later said he thought it was "nothing serious" for either player.

Mbappe cut the ball back for Neymar to make it 2-0 on the hour mark, before Icardi tucked in his third goal in four games.

It was 4-0 in the 63rd minute when Icardi set up Ligue 1's leading scorer Mbappe to finish for his second of the night and 14th of the season. Layvin Kurzawa almost provided the cherry on top of the cake soon after, but his stunning overhead kick was tipped onto the crossbar by Bertaud.

Ankith slams a big century

DC CORRESPONDENT
HYDERABAD, JAN. 23

Ankith Kumar smashed a big hundred to turn the spotlight on himself in the Hyderabad Cricket Association's A-2 Division two-day league matches played on Saturday.

Ankith slammed an almost run-a-ball unbeaten 192 which included 30 boundaries and a six to single-handedly guide International CC to 307 against Time CC.

In another match, Kapil and Gaurav set up an emphatic eight-wicket win for the Hyderabad Public School (Begumpet). Kapil took three wickets while conceding 10 runs to bowl out Brother XI for a paltry 88, a score which HPS overhauled as Gaurav scored 43 not out.

Brief scores:

Elvedi nets brace to down Dortmund

Berlin, Jan. 23: Defender Nico Elvedi netted twice as Moenchengladbach ended their six-year wait to beat Dortmund when their 4-2 home win on Friday lifted the Foals to fourth in the Bundesliga table.

Two goals by Dortmund striker Erling Braut Haaland were bookended by Elvedi netting from set-pieces in the action-packed opening 32 minutes.

Algeria left-back Ramy Bensebaini restored Gladbach's lead early in the second half before substitute Marcus Thuram headed the hosts' fourth.

Dortmund are now fifth — out of the Champions League places — after failing to win any of their last three games since their impressive 3-1 win at RB Leipzig in early January.

In the other direction, Gladbach are fourth having taken 13 points from a possible 15 in 2021.

They are eight points behind leaders Bayern, who are at bottom side Schalke on Sunday.

RB Leipzig already this season, Gladbach claimed another big-name Bundesliga scalp.

It was also a significant win for their coach Marco Rose, who the German media are tipping to replace caretaker boss Edin Terzic at Dortmund next season.

After 12 straight defeats to Dortmund, Gladbach earned their first win over the Black-and-Yellows since April 2016. "We're finally ended the run of defeats," Rose added.

Breel Embolo came on for Gladbach in the second-half despite police claims, which the Swiss striker denies, that he attended a party in Essen last Saturday that broke Germany's lockdown rules.

Dortmund made a lethargic start at Borussia Park and a Gladbach goal after 44 seconds was ruled out by the VAR.

However, the hosts took the lead with 11 minutes gone when Lars Stindl's curling free-kick was headed home by Elvedi.

Dortmund roared back with two goals inside six minutes, both created by Jadon Sancho for Haaland, who fired home his first from a tight angle on 22 minutes.

After Jude Bellingham won the ball back for Dortmund, great footwork by Sancho then again unpicked Gladbach's defence for Haaland to blast his side 2-1 ahead on 28 minutes.

However, another Stindl free-kick on 32 minutes could only be parried by Roman Buerki and Elvedi tapped home the rebound from close range to make it 2-2 at the break.

Gladbach regained the lead five minutes into the second-half when Bensebaini swung in a shot which curled outside Buerki's grasp.

Dortmund conceded their third goal of the night from a set-piece when Thuram headed home a Florian Neuhaus corner 11 minutes from the whistle.

It was the France forward's first appearance after suspension for a spitting at an opponent last month.

SHORT TAKES

Murray pulls out of Oz Open

Melbourne: Five-time Australian Open finalist Andy Murray withdrew from the year's first Grand Slam tournament, saying on Friday he could not figure out a workable quarantine that would allow him to compete amid the coronavirus pandemic. The announcement comes a little more than a week after Murray, who has won three Grand Slam singles titles elsewhere, said he tested positive for Covid-19 shortly before he was due to board a charter flight to Melbourne. "Gutted to share that I won't be flying out to Australia to compete at the Australian Open. We've been in constant dialogue with Tennis Australia to try and find a solution which would allow some form of workable quarantine, but we couldn't make it work," Murray said. — AP

Hockey women slump to 1st loss

Buenos Aires: Indian women's hockey team suffered their first defeat on the tour of Argentina when they lost 1-2 to B side of the hosts, letting Agustina Gorzelany strike late in the match. Sol Pagella (11') put the Argentina side ahead while Indian forward Salima Tete (54') scored in the final quarter. However, the Indian defence let Gorzelany score three minutes after finding the equaliser. In the previous matches, India drew 2-2 and 1-1 respectively with the Argentina junior team. "Today we played against a stronger Argentina squad consisting many of their senior players. This was a perfect practice match for us ahead of next week's schedule where we play against the Senior side," said chief coach Sjoerd Marijne. — PTI

Clippers score 6th straight win

Los Angeles: Kawhi Leonard scored 31 points, Paul George added 29 and the Los Angeles Clippers beat the Oklahoma City Thunder 120-106 on Friday night for their sixth straight win. Serge Ibaka had 17 points and 11 rebounds to help the Clippers improve to 12-4, tying the Lakers for the NBA's best record. Shai Gilgeous-Alexander led the Thunder with 30 points and eight assists against his former team. Lu Dort added 19 points. The Thunder were in catch-up mode most of the way before dropping their second straight and fourth in five games. They were just 14 of 42 from 3-point range and only got to the free throw line 13 times. The Clippers grabbed control in the first half, scoring 36 points in the first quarter and 34 in the second on 63 per cent shooting. They had scoring runs of 21-2 and 11-4 in the first. They opened the second quarter with a 19-10 spurt, including George's steal and dunk followed by his consecutive 3-pointers, for their largest lead of 27 points. From there, the Thunder put together a 25-15 surge, hitting five 3-pointers, to trail 70-53 at halftime. The Thunder worked to reduce a 23-point deficit to 10 points in the third. They outscored the Clippers 15-2 during one stretch, helped by eight points from Dort and Muscala's first 3-pointer after he missed four attempts in the first half. — AP

NO PAIN NO GAIN

Saini says he risked aggravating his injury to play in Brisbane Test

New Delhi, Jan. 23: A groin strain prevented India pacer Navdeep Saini from giving his best in the Brisbane Test but fearing that he may not get such a big stage again, he remained at the beck and call of his captain and ended up bowling five overs despite injury. Saini finally made his Test debut in the Australia series after years of wait, said he risked aggravating his injury by bowling in the second innings but given what was at stake, "it was a no brainer".

"Ajinkya bhaiya asked me if I would be able to bowl with the injury. I just had to say yes," Saini said.

Having taken four wickets in his debut game at Sydney, Saini suffered a groin strain in Australia's first innings and could bowl only 7.5 overs at the Gabba, increasing concerns for an already injury-hit India, who were forced to go into the game with a bowling attack which had the combined experience of four games.

For someone who made a massive leap of playing Ranji Trophy for Delhi in 2013 straight from making a quick buck in tennis ball cricket across Haryana, Saini wondered about the timing of his injury as he had just realised his dream of playing Tests.

But the like of the rest of his teammates, he showed a steely resolve and carried on.

"I was fine and suddenly I got injured. I was wondering 'why it is happening in such a crucial game and have got the opportunity to play after a long time'.

"I just wished if could keep going with that injury and support my team. I knew I might not get a stage like that again. Captain asked me if I could do it. I was in pain but said I would do with whatever I could," he added.

Mohammed Siraj was seen counselling Saini consistently in the latter's maiden Test. It helped the Delhi pacer immensely as he and Siraj go back a long way.

"He is one of my best mates. We have played a lot together (for India A).

We talk a lot about bowling. He was always there for me in the first game. Pace is important but he was telling me to also focus on line and length to be effective," Saini said of Siraj. — PTI

ANDERSON'S 6-FOR KEEPS SL IN CHECK

Galle (Sri Lanka), Jan. 23: England pacer James Anderson returned his best figures of 6-40 in Asia to help bowl out Sri Lanka for 381 on Day Two of the second Test on Saturday.

The tourists were 98/2 at stumps after Lasith Embuldeniya struck early to remove the openers. Skipper Joe Root, on 67, and Jonny Bairstow, on 24, were batting as England trail by 283 runs in Galle.

Anderson, 38, denied wicketkeeper-batsman Niroshan Dickwella a century after sending him back on 92 to claim his 30th five-wicket haul and second in Sri Lanka — his previous best was 5-75 in Galle in 2012.

The pace spearhead struck in his first over of the day to send Angelo Mathews caught behind for 110 after the former captain added just three runs in the morning.

But the dismissal was Joe Root's mastermind after he reviewed the umpire's call, which was not out, and replays suggested the ball had grazed Mathews' bat.

Wood sent debutant Ramesh Mendis trudging back to the pavilion for nought with wicketkeeper Jos Buttler taking a one-handed diving catch towards his left. — AFP

Neeraj worried about Olympics

New Delhi, Jan. 23: Star javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra on Saturday admitted that the uncertainty over the staging of the postponed Olympics due to Coronavirus creates anxiety but said he is proceeding with his preparations thinking that the Games will happen and he will give his 100 per cent.

There has been intense speculation over the staging of Tokyo Olympics in July-August with some reports suggesting that the Games may be scrapped while the organisers, the Japanese government and the International Olympic Committee insisting they will be held on schedule.

"There is some anxiety for sure. If Olympics is happening, the target is clear, I have to give my 100 per cent in Olympics. But by chance if Olympics is not held, I may plan differently," he said in an online interaction with reporters.

"There are sometimes this thought in mind that we are training so hard but Olympics may not happen," said the 23-year-old reigning Asian Games and Commonwealth Games gold medallist, who is currently training at Kalinga Stadium in Bhubaneswar.

"I am just hoping that things move forward positively and Tokyo Games are held," he added.

Neeraj will be competing in his first Olympics and he has already qualified for the Tokyo Games early last year before the Covid-19 pandemic began. He said he will be disappointed if the Tokyo Olympics is cancelled.

"I was late in qualifying for 2016 Rio Olympics but my performance while winning the junior world championships in 2016 or even 1m less than that would have given me a medal.

"If Tokyo Olympics is cancelled, it will be like I have lost two chances to win a medal in Olympics," Neeraj said.

"If Olympics is happening, I will go for selective high intensity competitions against top javelin throwers who are going to take part in Olympics. It is important to have a consistent performance before Olympics," he further added. — PTI

PIETERSEN SHARES DRAVID'S SPIN TRICKS

New Delhi, Jan. 23: With England set to tour India, former captain Kevin Pietersen on Saturday shared tips on how to go about tackling quality spin bowling given to him by Rahul Dravid some years ago.

Sharing the email sent to him by the Indian batting great in 2017, Pietersen urged the England & Wales Cricket Board (ECB) to give it to struggling duo of Dom Sibley and Zak Crawley.

Sharing two pages of the email sent to him by Dravid, Pietersen wrote on his twitter handle: "Hey @england-cricket, print this and give it to Sibley & Crawley. They can call me to discuss it at length if they want." "Crawley & Sibley need to go find the email that Dravid sent me about playing spin. Changed my game," he wrote in an earlier tweet.

In his email, which was published in Pietersen's 2014 autobiography, Dravid had discussed how the England batsman should play spin.

"Against guys who bowled a bit quicker (and I grew up playing against Anil) I would look to go forward without committing or planting the front foot," Dravid had written in the email. — PTI

Indian doubles pairs bow out in semifinal

Bangkok, Jan. 23: The Indian mixed doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Ashwini Ponnappa produced a spirited performance before going down narrowly to top seeds Dechapol Puavaranukroh and Sapsiree Taerattanachai in the semifinals of the Toyota Thailand Open here on Saturday.

Up against the world number three Thai pair, Satwik and Ashwini, who are ranked 36th, showed great skills and temperament as they scripted an extraordinary fightback after losing the opening game by a whisker.

However, in the end, Dechapol and Sapsiree prevailed 22-20, 18-21, 21-12 over the Indians in a 57-minute battle.

Satwik and Ashwini, who spent most of the last year away from the court in two different cities and could only practice together for a few weeks, on Friday became the first Indian mixed doubles pair to reach the semifinals of a BWF World Tour Super 1000 event.

Earlier, the impressive run of Satwik and Chirag Shetty also came to an end after a close semifinal defeat in men's doubles.

The Indian pair, ranked 10th in the world, lost 18-21, 18-21 to world number nine Malaysian combination of Aaron Chia

MARIN CLINCHES SPOT IN FINAL

Spain's fifth seed and former world number one Carolina Marin breezed into the final, beating South Korea's An Se-young 21-19, 21-15.

She came out on top last week against top-seeded Tai Tzu-ying, and continued her winning streak Saturday, maintaining her signature aggressive play against the seventh-seeded player.

An, an 18-year-old who was awarded "Most Promising Player" in 2019, was downcast after Saturday's defeat.
