G-20 calls for united Covid fight

Dubai: Saudi Arabia's King Salman opened on Saturday the Group of 20 summit as the Coronavirus pandemic overshadows this year's gathering of heads of state, transforming it from an in-person two-day meeting of the world's most powerful leaders to a virtual gathering of speeches and declarations. The G-20's member-countries represent around 85 per cent of the world's economic output and three-quarters of international trade. "We have a duty to rise to the challenge together during this summit and give a strong message of hope and reassurance," King Salman said in his opening remarks.

India tells Pak to rein in JeM

MEA summons Pak charge d'affaires after Nagrota crackdown

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, NOV. 21

The ministry of external affairs on Saturday summoned Pakistan's charge d'affaires to convey India's strong concern on the terror attack planned by the Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) in Jammu & Kashmir and demanded that Pakistan desist from its policy of supporting terrorists and terror groups operating from its territory. India also asked Pakistan to dismantle the terror infrastructure operated by terrorists in its territory.

A major terror attack was foiled by the Indian security forces in Nagrota on Thursday. Initial reports indicate the attackers were members of the JeM, a terrorist organisation proscribed by the UN and many countries.

"The Government of India expressed its serious concerns at continued terror attacks by JeM against India. JeM has been part of several attacks in India in the past, including the Pulwama attack in February 2019. The huge cache of arms, ammunition and explosive material indicate detailed planning for a major attack to destabilise the peace and security in the UT of Jammu & Kashmir, in particular, to derail the ongoing democratic exercise of conduct of local District Development Council elections," the MEA said in a statement.

The casualties came barely a week after multiple ceasefire violations by Pakistani troops along the LoC in north Kashmir left 11 people, including five

The party is also hoping that such 'prakoshth' would help the organisation in grooming "future Bengali leaders," both for the central team and for the state. The idea of 'Bengali prakoshth' was suggested by BJP's national joint general secretary (organisation), Shiv Prakash, who is one of the key strategists for West Bengal. The 294-member West Bengal assembly will go to polls in April-May.

Assets of TD man's aide razed by GVMC

DC CORRESPONDENT
VISAKHAPATNAM, NOV. 21

Continuing its drive against allegedly "illegal" assets of TD leaders, Greater Visakhapatnam Municipal Corporation (GVMC) officials, with protection from police personnel, flattened the go-karting park at Mangamaripeta beach, about 20 km from Visakhapatnam in the early hours of Saturday.

The go-carting venue was being run by Kasi Associates represented by Kasi Viswanath, a close aide of former TD minister Ganta Srinivasa Rao.

Demolition of the go-carting facility created on the beach over an acre of land violated norms of the Coastal Regulation Zone, said a senior official, who led the GVMC demolition team. They later put up signboards encroachers.

The GVMC also demolished the compound wall of a resort owned by former BJP MP Gokaraju Ganga Raju at IT Junction near Rushikonda.

GREEN | SHOOTS ■ PM confident India will be able to achieve its renewable energy targets ahead of 2022 deadline

India to slash carbon footprint by 35%: Modi

Gandhinagar, Nov. 21: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said the country was moving forward with the goal of reducing its carbon footprint by 30 to 35 per cent.

He also said that efforts were on to increase the use of natural gas by four times in this decade and to double the oil refining capacity in the next five years. The Prime Minister said this while addressing the eighth convocation of Pandit Deendayal Petroleum University (PDPU) here via video conference.

"Today, the country is moving forward with the goal of reducing its carbon footprint by 30 to 35 per cent. When I told this to the world, it expressed surprise and wondered if India could achieve this," he said. "Our effort is to increase the share of natural gas in our energy needs by four times in this decade. Work is also on to nearly double the oil refining capacity in the coming five years," he added.

He also expressed confidence that the country will achieve its renewable energy generation target "before time". "Today, per unit cost (of solar power) has come down to less than ₹2 to ₹12-13 earlier. Today, solar power has become the country's priority. We have made a commitment to generate 175 gigawatt renewable energy and I am confident that we will achieve this before 2022," he said. "Also, our renewable energy target of 450 gigawatt by 2030, a big aim, will be achieved before time...I am confident of that," he said.

The PM said that despite the hardships caused by the Coronavirus, the graduating students should remember that their strength and capacities are much bigger than the challenges, and asked them not to lose confidence. "What is more important than problems is your purpose, preference and your commitment. It is not that you are facing a challenge for the first time in your life, or that this is the last challenge. It is not the case that a successful person does not have problems. But those who accept the challenges and defeat them are the ones who succeed," he said.

He asked the students to recall the period of the country's Independence movement and how people sacrificed their lives for it. He asked them to similarly become a soldier for 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat'.

Reliance Industries chairman Mukesh Ambani said India needs disruptive solutions in renewable, low carbon and carbon recycle technologies, as well as breakthroughs in renewable energy and innovations in energy storage and utilisation to achieve the twin goals of becoming an economic and a clean-and-green energy superpower. "By the middle of the century, the world will use twice as much energy as we use today. In the next two decades, India's own per capita energy needs will be more than twice as much as today," he said. — PTI

Reiterating that Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy has been working for the welfare of the weaker sections by implementing various welfare schemes and winning laurels from all sections, YSRC MLA Ambati Rambabu said Chandrababu Naidu has neglected all sections of people during his tenure and he was a big failed leader. DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, NOV. 21

Telugu Desam politburo member Bonda Umamaheswara Rao on Saturday slammed the YSRC government for acting 'defiantly' and 'adamantly' even though the courts have passed serious comments against its decisions many times. He said that the Jagan Mohan Reddy regime was not changing its behaviour despite the court's comments on its 'mindless' acts that he said were destroying the future of the AP ndhra people.

Addressing a press conference here, the TD leader said that in no other state in the country, the courts were passing such rare and serious remarks like 'mindless' acts. He commented that even then, the YSRC government was sticking to its dangerous path which would lead to the collapse of both Andhra Pradesh as well as the party eventually.

Mr Umamaheswara Rao asserted that no section of the society would accept such thoughtless and mindless acts of the AP government. He stated that the court had clearly commented against the disastrous impact of the Amaravati Capital City shifting. KAKINADA, NOV. 21

Backward classes welfare minister Chelluboyina Srinivasa Venugopalakrishna asserted that a sophisticated fishing harbour will be built near Ameenabada village in U. Kothapalli mandal of East Godavari district. It will be a boon for fishermen of East Godavari district.

The minister was speaking after Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy laid the foundation stone for the fishing harbour along with other harbours at Juvvaladinne, Nizampatnam, and Machilipatnam in the state through virtual conferencing on Saturday from his Tadepalli camp office.

On the occasion, Venugopalakrishna said the previous government neglected fishermen welfare. The CM is undoing the same by taking up several beneficial schemes to improve the livelihoods of fishermen.

A sophisticated fishing harbour at Ameenabada village at a cost of ₹422 crore is part of such effort by the CM.

The minister regretted that fishermen had to migrate to Gujarat, West Bengal and other states for livelihood. But they will not have to venture out now as a sophisticated fishing port is coming up for all of them. Their catch will be sold through Janata Bazaars.

State to use 90 lakh women to curb liquor consumption

DC CORRESPONDENT
KAKINADA, NOV. 21

Alcohol Prohibition Awareness Committee (APAC) chairman Vallamreddy Lakshmana Reddy has said the state government is going to use services of 90 lakh women belonging to nine lakh Self Help Groups (SHGs) to control and reduce liquor consumption in the society.

He said the YSRC government will in no way compromise on gradual "prohibition of liquor" in the state and steps have already started in that direction.

Speaking to reporters here on Saturday, Lakshmana Reddy said the SHG groups will identify persons addicted to liquor and send them to de-addiction centres at the district level government hospitals in the state. He said ward volunteers and village secretariat members will help SHGs in identifying persons who are consuming liquor on a regular basis.

He maintained that sale of liquor has drastically decreased compared to last year. Awareness is being created among students about the adverse impact of liquor through elocution, drawing and other competitions from high school to university levels. He said "Prohibition on Liquor" cannot be achieved only through laws. People will play a major responsibility in this. He declared that people's participation against liquor has led to liquor consumption dropping by 70 per cent in the state during the past one year.

The APAC chairman said that Special Enforcement Bureau (SEB) is doing lot of work in curbing illegal transportation of illicit liquor from other states. About 100 additional posts have been allotted to SEB to strengthen it. He said the special task force has so far booked 50,000 cases, arrested 61,000 persons, and seized 17,000 vehicles, ₹3.7 lakh illegal liquor and ₹3 lakh worth illicit liquor.

Lakshmana Reddy said due to reverse tenders called for liquor shops, the state government has saved ₹108.84 crore for the exchequer.

He said the number of liquor shops has been reduced to 16.22 per cent compared to the previous government. He said Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy was taking all steps to prohibit liquor.

He said 43,000 belt-shops have been closed down in the state so far.

People defy state orders, take dip in river

DC CORRESPONDENT
KURNOOL, NOV. 21

Tense situation prevailed at a few Pushkar ghats along the Tungabhadra River when defying state government's orders, some pilgrims took dip in the river, instead of wetting themselves under showers on Saturday.

In particular, with least regard to Covid-19 norms, BJP leader Budda Srinanth Reddy and his followers took the holy dip in Tungabhadra River near Sangameswaram. When police objected, he retorted, "Why was YSRC MLA not prevented when he took out padayatra recently with thousands of supporters. If Covid cannot affect them," he told police, "no Covid will affect Hindu pilgrims having pushkar bath."

Following Srinanth Reddy having a dip along with his followers, other pilgrims too took the holy dip.

Pilgrims continued to throng the bathing ghats of Tungabhadra Pushkaralu in their thousands on the second day of the 12-day mega festival. Over 25,000 pilgrims took bath by using showers installed at all 23 pushkar ghats in Kurnool district by Saturday late evening. However, compared to previous pushkaralu, the crowds were not much at the ghats due to the fear of Covid-19 pandemic.

To check spread of Coronavirus by way of water through the Tungabhadra River, officials arranged at least 20 showers at every pushkar ghat. They advised pilgrims to vacate the place quickly in order to protect themselves from the deadly virus. At some of the bathing ghats, authorities literally forced every pilgrim to leave the ghat immediately after taking the shower bath. Pilgrims were allowed almost round the clock at all pushkar ghats to ease the congestion.

Police and government officials monitored the situation and diverted pilgrims to different ghats for avoiding convergence of crowds at a single place, particularly Sankal Bagh in Kurnool city and Sri Raghavendra Swamy Mutt in Mantralayam.

Many pilgrims floated "pushkara deepams" in the holy waters of Tungabhadra River. Some pilgrims also performed pinda pradanam for their ancestors with the help of priests, paying a fixed fee as decided by state government.

ENDOWMENTS WING BLAMED FOR NOT ALLOWING HOLY BATH IN TUNGABHADRA

DC CORRESPONDENT
NELLORE, NOV. 21

Former corporator and TD leader Vuchhi Bhuvaneshwara Prasad demanded that the government allow people to take holy baths in Tungabhadra River on the occasion of Pushkaralu while taking objection over a ban on the traditional dip in the river.

He also found fault with the endowments department for imposing conditions on remuneration for Purohits to perform traditional rituals such as Pinda Pradanam to the demised relatives of pilgrims at the river bank.

Speaking to the media along with Brahmin Association members here on Saturday, Mr Bhuvaneshwara Prasad said endowments department has no right to fix rates for rituals while pointing to the ordeals of Purohits for livelihood because of Corona from the past 10 months.

Stressing that pilgrims offer money depending on their satisfaction over the rituals performed by Purohits, he reminded the endowments wing that the event is not a temple under their management.

He questioned the rationale behind restrictions on taking bath in the river under the pretext of Corona while neighbouring Karnataka and Telangana allowed the same.

"It is a pilgrimage to Pushkarams not a holiday trip to see the river and return home. It is wrong on the part of the government to use the occasion for political gains," Mr Bhuvaneshwar said.

Srivani said that mosquito nets would be distributed to 4,06,200 families in Srikakulam district, 5,21,400 families in Vizianagaram, 7,69,650 families in Visakhapatnam, 4,93,350 families in East Godavari, 2,52,445 families in West Godavari, 57,900 families in Nellore and to 15,100 tribal families in Kurnool district.

The TD supremo said that considering the significance of rivers in the growth of civilisation, festivals like 'Tungabhadra Pushkaralu' were being organised since ages.

Mr Naidu said that the inter-linking of rivers would be crucial for ushering in growth and prosperity for all sections of people.

He hoped that the Tungabhadra Pushkaralu mark the bright future and opportunities that lie ahead for the Telugu people everywhere.

Bharatiya Janata Party State president Somu Veerraju said that there will be no use if either Telugu Desam or YSR Congress win the bypoll in the Tirupati Lok Sabha Constituency. He said that the people of the constituency would benefit only if they make the BJP-Jana Sena party candidate victorious. He told the party cadre in the party training camp and also the media here on Saturday, that even if the TD wins, it is no use and the same holds good on the YSRC as the YSRC has already 20 MPs and can achieve very little.

Water level in the spill channel is at 20 metres height against the water level in the river at 15.6 metres. The authorities plan to complete the dewatering by using high capacity pumps by the end of December. SWACHH | KAKINADA KMC collected nearly ₹6 lakh of the fine from cattle owners

KMC imposes fine to create responsibility

DC CORRESPONDENT
KAKINADA, NOV. 21

As a part of improving sanitation in Kakinada City, the Kakinada Municipal Corporation (KMC) has decided to impose hefty fines on residents as well as commercial establishments, if they dump garbage on streets. Already, the KMC commissioner Swapnil Dinkar Pundkar, the first IAS officer to the Corporation, is implementing giving punishments on the residents during his visits. The KMC has now decided to impose fines on the residents who dump the garbage on the streets through the sanitary inspectors.

According to sources, there were a lot of complaints received by the KMC on garbage menace in the city and sorting out the problem became a cumbersome exercise to the officials. After assuming charge as KMC commissioner, Mr Pundkar is paying attention to the sanitation and taking several steps. It is said that there were 1,200 sanitation workers in the city and they are collecting garbage through 293 pushing-carts and 14 tractors and 14 garbage compressor vehicles. Now, 10 more new tractors are being brought to the KMC out of which one tractor especially has been allotted to SPCA (Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) to take food to the cattle in the SPCA.

The KMC additional commissioner G. Naga Narasimha Rao said that the sanitation is being improved by procuring equipment.

At the same time, the KMC wants to create responsibility on the residents of the city for their role in sanitation.

NON-COVID-19 SERVICES RESUME AT GANDHI HOSP

DC CORRESPONDENT HYDERABAD, NOV. 21

Non-Covid-19 services were resumed at the Gandhi Hospital on Saturday after an eight month break during which the facility was the designated a centre of excellence for Covid-19 treatment by the state government.

Junior doctors working at the hospital had been agitating for the past few months demanding that the hospital restart all healthcare services as they were missing out on learning and gaining the experience of treating patients with different ailments at the hospital, otherwise known for its super-specialty services.

Gandhi Hospital superintendent Dr M. Raja Rao said 83 non-Covid-19 out-patients were attended to on Friday. He said till 4.30 pm, 15 persons were admitted as in-patients. Of these, eight were in the general medicine department, two each in the orthopaedics and obstetrics and gynaecology departments, and one each in surgery, neurosurgery and gastro departments.

He said that 13 patients were admitted to the Covid-19 wards in the hospital, which have been segregated from the general services wards.

BJP POLL PROMISES FUNNY: KTR

DC CORRESPONDENT HYDERABAD, NOV. 21

TRS working president K.T. Rama Rao on Saturday launched the party campaign for the Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation election with a roadshow from Kukatpally.

Addressing the crowds amidst cheers, Rama Rao said that when the TRS government came to power six years back there were a lot of apprehensions and doubts. He recalled that there was uncertainty in some parts of Hyderabad as rumours were spread that the city would witness communal clashes as well as law and order issues if the TRS came to power.

"The TRS government proved them wrong. We focused on addressing people's needs and allayed their apprehensions through strict maintenance of law and order. In the past six years, not even a single incident of violence has taken place in Hyderabad," he said.

Rama Rao criticised the BJP leaders who were making funny poll promises. He stated that the BJP leaders were encouraging triple driving and giving false assurances that the GHMC will pay the challans. Adding that the same leaders were promising financial assistance of ₹25,000 to flood-affected families, he said, "These are the same leaders who condemned the distribution of ₹10,000 to flood-affected citizens."

Rama Rao said that the TRS government had ensured all-around development of the capital spending by spending ₹67,000 crore over the last six years. He pointed to development works, including Basti Dawakhana, laying of roads, flyovers, bringing in SHE Teams, among others.

He asked BJP leaders with what face they would go to the public and ask for votes. "What work have they done for Hyderabad? The Centre has not spent a penny on Hyderabad in six years. Moreover, they are trying to disturb law and order," he said. Questioning BJP leaders, the minister said, "They went to the Bhagyalakshmi temple in the Old City. Are there no other temples in Hyderabad? They want to create unnecessary disturbances between different sections and that is the reason they went to the Old City."

He said, "Today global companies like Apple, Google, Facebook, and Amazon are investing in Hyderabad because there is peace and harmony. If this is disturbed, no company will come forward and our youth will lose job opportunities."

Rama Rao said that the BJP wants to divide people in the name of religion and create disturbances. "This is not Ahmedabad. This is Hyderabad and the people here are very wise," he said.

He sought their support in the upcoming GHMC elections. "We missed a century with one seat in previous elections. But this time we will accomplish it," he said. He appealed to people to elect TRS candidates from Kukatpally.

NETA'S NATTER

AP officer finds Delhi doors closed

Some of his admirers thought he would make it to the Prime Minister's Office, others saw in him a potential Cabinet Secretary. But Praveen Prakash, principal secretary to AP Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy found the doors were shut in New Delhi. The 1994 batch officer, to the utter shock of his friends and followers, did not find a place in the Centre's empanelment list of additional secretaries. This is crucial because Central postings for the rank of secretary and above are given to empanelled officers at the level of additional secretary. Only in rare cases are the secretaries at Centre picked directly from the states. There were reports that Prakash had urged the Chief Minister to allow him to go to the Centre once he is empanelled. Different reasons are cited for Prakash missing the bus, including the unceremonious exit of L.V. Subrahmanyam as Chief Secretary which, according to his critics, was triggered by a tiff with the former. Poor Prakash has to try his luck again like his senior Sanjay Jaju who had to apply for review and get empanelled at a later stage. Amidst rumours that a strong section in the ruling party is working overtime to ease him out of the CMO, the powerful babu too is trying hard to retain his position. It will be very difficult for him to work in other posts in the state in case of his exit from the CMO. That will leave him with the lone option of going back as Resident Commissioner, AP Bhavan, an independent post of the state government in New Delhi.

Second time unlucky for former babu

Former bureaucrat Dr P.V. Ramesh, who recently put in his papers as additional chief secretary to Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy, has missed the political bus not once but twice. YSRC leaders say that when all was set for Jagan fielding him from the Tirupati Lok Sabha seat in 2019, Dr Ramesh, who was in a Central post that time, met with an accident and fractured his hand. The YSRC had to import B. Durga Prasad, a TD leader, and field him. Unfortunately, Prasad passed away due to Covid-19 and this necessitated a bypoll. This time too, Dr Ramesh has no chance of becoming the party candidate as his relations with the Chief Minister became so badly strained in the meantime that he had to quit the CMO. His misfortune has brought a stroke of luck to another medical professional, Dr Gurumurthy, a physiotherapist to be precise, who accompanied the Chief Minister during his padyatra and treated him and is all set to be the party's nominee for the bypoll.

Fade out, Jana Sena in GHMC polls

The Jana Sena Party's desperate attempt to tie-up with the BJP for the Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation elections appears to have put the BJP state unit chief Bandi Sanjay to some inconvenience. Sanjay, fresh from the Dubbak victory and in the midst of pulls and counter-pulls of the GHMC elections, had to refute a statement from the Jana Sena that the Pawan Kalyan-led party was having talks with the TS BJP leadership for seat-sharing in the local polls. Sanjay made it clear that the BJP had not made any effort to share seats with Jana Sena. Disappointed with the statement, Jana Sena leaders are learnt to have moved the BJP high command at Delhi — after all the two parties are allies in Andhra Pradesh — but to no avail. Even so, despite Sanjay having said that there was no seat-sharing with the Jana Sena, some BJP leaders caused an awkward situation by meeting with the Pawan Kalyan party. The Jana Sena which had suddenly appeared on the scene quietly melted away.

Kadapa intensifies measures to curb RS smuggling

DC CORRESPONDENT KADAPA, NOV. 21

Kadapa forest and police departments have intensified their measures to curb red sandalwood smuggling. While the forest department has 17 base camps operating in remote forest areas, police also have an equal number of static check posts across the district to check red sanders smuggling.

Walkie-talkies and dog squads are playing a key role in detecting and countering smuggling. Each of the 17 base camps in the forest area have five personnel, apart from six strike forces. Dog squads can smell out the red sanders hidden in any area or being carried in a vehicle.

The 17 police check posts have been stationed mainly to check illegal sand smuggling. But they are also looking out for vehicle suspected of smuggling red sanders.

Speaking to Deccan Chronicle district forest officer (DFO) Ravindra Dhama said since last April, they have arrested 28 smugglers and seized 214 logs within Kadapa forest division alone. Smugglers caught are mostly from Tamil Nadu but also include locals. 14 cases have been registered and 19 vehicles seized, he said.

Smuggling of red sandalwood has been prevalent in almost all forest ranges of Kadapa district. In the past, it was mostly smugglers from Tamil Nadu who used to enter forests, cut down a large number of trees and smuggle them out.

Locals too have joined them now for the lucre of money.

Police and forest departments have formed five joint action teams to curb entry of smugglers from key entry points. Vigil is on at strategic locations and whenever required, walkie-talkies are used to rush additional forces.

Besides there are six strike forces of forest department working outside the forest areas. Each team consists of six forest guards including the driver. Their job is to intercept red sanders being smuggled out in vehicles along the roads.

The anti-smuggling teams have been equipped with latest communication systems. All base camp staff have high-powered walkie-talkies using which they mobilise reinforcements when needed. There is also a dog squad with the district forest department. These dogs are trained to smell red sanders logs and trace them even if hidden in lorries or dumped in a forest area.

Accordingly, certain activities that have a negative impact on fragile ecosystems will be disallowed.

The MoEFCC has also issued Dos and Don'ts. Forest authorities will permit only ongoing agricultural or horticultural practices, like rain-water harvesting, organic farming, use of renewable energy sources and adoption of green technology. A negative impact is increasing pressure on tourism.

As a result, government is developing new sites and gateways to this eco-sensitive zone.

Kadapa district forest officer Ravindra Dhama, speaking to Deccan Chronicle, said, with the issue of notification, people will have to respect all regulations applicable to eco-sensitive zone areas. The sanctuary is spread over 1,030.85 sq kilometres.

Leaders occupy wakf lands worth ₹80 crore

NAGESWARA RAO BALLEDA | DC KADAPA, NOV. 21

Wakf assets worth a minimum ₹80 crore have been under illegal occupation in Kadapa district.

In fact, district Wakf Board inspector Mugtar Basha, speaking to Deccan Chronicle, himself said almost ₹80 crore of worth wakf properties have been occupied in various places. These include Guduru village within Kadapa Municipal Corporation limits.

Kabirastan in Akkapalli of Kadapa, land in Vankamarri village in Kasinayana mandal, one property in Rajampeta town, land in Dharmapuram village in Jammalamadugu mandal and one dargah in Proddatur.

Mr Basha said tahasildars concerned have been asked to check out wakf properties that are under encroachments. He maintained that such lands will be seized by the board and taken into account as wakf properties. Digitisation of wakf records, which was stopped due to Covid-19 pandemic, will be started soon.

Allegations are rife that several bigwigs running the ministry are behind the encroachment of wakf properties, with blessings of officials themselves. When news about such encroachments got published in media, authorities concerned seized them and put up signboards that they were wakf properties. There are 1,900.3 acres of wakf lands in the district. Of these, 601.19 acres of agricultural and others land are still under encroachment.

There are valuable wakf properties in Kadapa, Proddatur, Badvelu, Porumamilla, Rayachoti and so on. Years ago, some donors donated lands for maintenance of piers and mosques.

But many of them have since been occupied. There are allegations that a large number of wakf properties in the district had been misappropriated during the tenure of a minister.

He and his followers are accused of having all records of wakf assets with them. It is allegedly they who are encroaching lands under a systemic plan.

Muslim elders say there are seven mosques at the intersection of seven roads in Kadapa. Whereabouts of some of their piers are missing. Some of them are said to have been occupied and turned into commercial complexes. Same is the situation with regard to a wakf property near the library on Shankarapuram Road. The place is worth crores as is located next to the main road.

There is also a gang that is currently trying to occupy the space next to a bakery in the old bus stand. Wakf officials have put up signboards there following reports in media that attempts are being made to occupy precious lands including near the intersection of seven roads.

Attempts are also on to occupy the space next to a group of theatres at the old bus stand.

Speculation is that 30 per cent of the value of a land is paid to leaders who back the efforts to occupy wakf lands.

Dieback disease threatens to destroy neem trees

NAGABHUSHANAM HOSKOTE | DC ANANTAPUR, NOV. 21

Even as there is all-round condemnation for felling thousands of big neem trees for the four-lane road on the National Highways, a fresh crisis looms in the form of dieback disease that is sounding the death-knell of the existing trees.

The situation is severe in Anantapur and Kurnool districts as dieback is causing bacteria that affect the apical and in turn the main stem. This will result in poor quality timber in the future.

A national survey was undertaken on the impact of dieback on neem trees in different agro climatic regions in various parts of South India, including Anantapur and Kurnool districts.

Neem has multiple uses besides great medicinal values and is used widely in Ayurveda.

Traditionally the tree is worshipped in different forms including as village goddess - Maramma. Twigs of Azadirachta indica (Neem) infected with dieback were collected from different regions of Gooty, Guntakal, Maddikera and Patthikoonda and they were further analysed to determine the extent of pathogen.

● Neem is considered a miracle species, which can alleviate major global problems like pollution, deforestation, soil erosion and rising temperatures.

● Neem has multiple uses besides great medicinal values and is used widely in Ayurveda.

"Phomopsis Azadirachtae, the causal organism was isolated on malt extract agar from dieback infected neem twigs. They were identified by conventional and molecular methods," Dr Suresh, Praga Science Vedika state president observed and added that phomopsis genus specific primers (5.8S r-DNA) were then used for detection of P. azadirachtae, the causative agent of dieback polymerase chain reaction (PCR).

Studies revealed the amplification of expected

141 bp DNA in P. azadirachtae isolated from the diseased trees of different regions of Anantapur and Kurnool indicating the causal organism of dieback disease on neem.

Suresh stressed the need to protect the existing neem trees for securing the future generations.

"There was no alternative growth of saplings of neem trees cut during road formations and the forest department failed to mount pressure on NHAI," he observed.

Environmental experts said that species of all age and size may suffer from this problem.

Neem is an evergreen deciduous tree that is known to solve global environmental problems but is itself not free from microbial diseases.

A voluntary community effort has started in Bengaluru to save and protect neem trees from the deadly dieback disease.

Neem is considered a miracle species, which can alleviate major global problems like pollution, deforestation, soil erosion and rising temperatures.

Diesel rates went up from ₹70.68 to ₹70.88 per litre.

On Friday, petrol price was raised by 17 paise per litre and diesel by 22 paise.

Public sector oil marketing companies - Indian Oil Corporation, Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd - revise rates of petrol and diesel daily based on benchmark international oil price and foreign exchange rate.

They have, however, resorted to calibrating the rates since the pandemic broke out with a view to avoiding volatility in retail prices.

The 58-day hiatus in petrol price revision and the 48-day status quo on diesel rates were preceded by no change in rates between June 30 and August 15 and a 85-day status quo between March 17 and June 6.

In Mumbai, the petrol price on Friday was raised to Rs 88.09 per litre from Rs 87.92, while diesel rates went up from Rs 77.11 to Rs 77.34.

COVID CLAIMS OVER 500 LIVES IN 24 HRS

DC CORRESPONDENT
NEW DELHI, NOV. 21

With 46,232 fresh detections, India's overall tally of coronavirus crossed 90.5 lakh on Saturday morning. The death toll so far has been nearly 1.33 lakh out of which 564 fatalities occurred in the last 24 hours.

Delhi, Kerala, Haryana, West Bengal continue to remain areas of concern even as cases have started surging again in Maharashtra over the last two days.

Union Ministry of Health officials said an average of more than 10 lakh tests conducted daily have ensured that the cumulative positivity rate is sustained at low levels and is presently following a downward trajectory. The cumulative national Positivity Rate stands at 6.93%. The daily positivity rate on Friday was 4.34%.

"Higher volumes of testing eventually lead to low Positivity rate... The daily Positivity Rate is now 4.34% which points out that a comparatively huge volume was tested to detect these cases from the population. With a continuous surge in daily cases in European and the American countries, India is taking all precautionary steps to bring the trajectory of the disease under control. In view of the increase in cases of some of the north Indian States, the Centre has advised all states and UTs to ramp up testing," officials said.

As many as 12 States/UTs have lower tests per million than national average, and have been advised by the central government to substantially ramp up the levels of testing.

On the lines of Yogi Aadityanath government, which is planning to bring a law against unlawful conversions in Uttar Pradesh, the BJP has demanded a similar act in Maharashtra. The BJP will propose to bring such an act against 'Love Jihad' in Maharashtra, said senior BJP leader Kirit Somaiya.

Bodoland Front ties end, BJP to induct BPF MP

MANOJ ANAND | DC
GUWAHATI, NOV. 21

In what has almost confirmed the break up in alliance between the BJP and Bodoland Peoples Front (BPF), the BJP national parliamentary board has formally approved the joining of BPF MP in the Rajya Sabha, Biswajit Daimary, in the saffron party ahead of the Assam assembly election due in April.

The meeting was held at the official residence of BJP national president J.P. Nadda in New Delhi and was attended by union home minister Amit Shah, chief minister Sarbananda Sonowal, Assam BJP president Ranjeet Kumar Dass and cabinet minister Himanta Biswa Sarma.

Pointing out that parliamentary board has given approval for the induction of the BPF Rajya Sabha MP Mr Sarma said, "In the parliamentary board meeting, our national president JP Nadda gave the approval for Mr Daimary's joining in BJP. This approval was necessary because Mr Daimary is a sitting MP in the Rajya Sabha." Mr Daimary had resigned from the post of working president of BPF recently. Meanwhile, Mr Daimary while announcing his decision to join the BJP told reporters that he has resigned from his Rajya Sabha seat on which he was elected on the symbol of BPF. "I have sent my resignation to the chairman of the Rajya Sabha," said Mr Daimary whose resignation from the BPF has been seen as a major setback for the party.

Earlier, reiterating that the alliance with BPF is over, Mr Sarma clarified that the issue of breaking the alliance with the BPF was not discussed at the parliamentary board meeting. "Why will the BPF issue be discussed in the parliamentary board of BJP? When BJP is going to form the next government in BTC after this election (in December), where is the question of the alliance between the two parties in the 2021 assembly elections? BJP will contest all 12 assembly seats in Bodoland Territorial Region (spread over four districts) on its own. But our alliance with AGP will remain," Mr Sarma asserted.

A day before the parliamentary board meeting, Mr Sarma had announced that their five-year old partnership with BPF will not be renewed on expiry of the term of the present alliance in January, which means that the two allies will not fight the 2021 election as friends but as rivals.

Assam BJP president Ranjeet Dass who was also present in the parliamentary board meeting of BJP in New Delhi said that the party's national leadership was apprised of the situation in the Bodo heartland in the context of the coming council election.

"We have told the party parliamentary board that BPF has lost the trust of people in Bodoland Territorial Region and BJP will win the ensuing council elections on its own." In January, 2016, BJP had forged a pre-poll alliance with the BPF and the AGP riding on which the saffron party formed its first government in the state.

BIG RESPITE Farmers resorted to 'rail roko' to protest Central farm laws

Punjab farmers to lift rail blockade

Chandigarh, Nov. 21:

Different farmers' organisations in Punjab, protesting the three Central farm laws, on Saturday announced to lift their rail blockade for passenger trains from November 23.

The decision to allow passenger trains in the state came after a meeting of representatives of farmer leaders with Chief Minister Amarinder Singh who had invited them for talks here. "Punjab farmers to completely lift their rail blockade from Monday (November 23) to allow all goods and passenger trains, in response to impassioned appeal by the chief minister at a meeting with Kisan Unions," tweeted Raveen Thukral, media advisor to the Punjab chief minister.

Before meeting the chief minister, farmers' organisations held their own meeting to deliberate the rail blockade issue.

The farmers' organisation, that had resorted to 'rail roko' agitation from September 24 over the farm laws, had already agreed to allow goods trains to run in the state, besides clearing rail tracks and vacating platforms. But the deadlock between the protesting farmers and the Railways continued over resumption of trains.

The farmers' bodies had maintained that they would consider allowing passenger trains to run in the state if the Centre starts running goods trains first. However, the Railways had refused to resume goods trains, saying it would either operate both freight and passenger trains or none. The Railways has maintained that it needs full guarantee from the state government that no trains will be disrupted. -PTI

Par panel: Pvt hosps charged exorbitant fees for Covid-19

New Delhi, Nov. 21: Amid rising Covid-19 cases, inadequate beds in government hospitals and absence of specific guidelines for Covid treatment resulted in private hospitals charging exorbitant fees, a parliamentary panel on Saturday said, asserting that a sustainable pricing model could have averted many deaths.

Chairperson of the parliamentary standing committee on health Ram Gopal Yadav submitted the report on 'Outbreak of Pandemic Covid-19 and its Management', to Rajya Sabha Chairman M. Venkaiah Naidu.

This is the first report by any parliamentary committee on the government's handling of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Underlining that healthcare spending in the country with a population of 1.3 billion is "abysmally low", the panel said fragility of Indian health ecosystem posed a big hurdle in generating an effective response against the pandemic.

"The committee, therefore, strongly recommends the government to increase its investments in the public healthcare system and make consistent efforts to achieve the National Health Policy targets of expenditure up to 2.5 per cent of GDP within two years as the set time frame of year 2025 is far away and the public health cannot be jeopardised till that time schedule," the report stated.

The National Health Policy 2017 has set a target of government expenditure on healthcare up to 2.5 per cent of GDP by 2025 from just 1.15 per cent in 2017.

Stating that the public had to undergo trauma and distress due to absence of a dedicated healthcare system, the committee observed that the number of government hospital beds in the country were not adequate to handle the increasing number of Covid and non-Covid patients.

"... Cost of health service delivery increased due to absence of specific guidelines for Covid treatment in private hospitals as a result of which patients were charged exorbitant fees," the committee noted in the report.

Stressing on the need for better partnership between the government and private hospitals in wake of the pandemic and shortage of state-run healthcare facilities, the report said, "The Committee is of the view that arriving at a sustainable pricing model to treat Covid patients could have averted many deaths."

The committee believes healthcare should never be limited to only those who can afford to pay but should move towards the noble vision of universal health coverage. For this happen, the government needs to be considerate and support the private health care sector, the report said.

The committee was all praise for healthcare workers and doctors for being on frontline in handling of the deadly virus and said they should have defined working hours, predictably functioning reliever rosters and scheduled off-duty days.

The doctors, who have laid down their lives in fight against the pandemic, must be acknowledged as martyrs and their families be adequately compensated, it suggested in the report. -PTI

ACCIDENTAL FIRING KILLS 1 IN SP MLC'S OFFICIAL RESIDENCE

Lucknow, Nov. 21: A 35-year-old man died of gunshot injuries suffered in an accidental firing amid the playful scuffle among friends for a pistol during a birthday celebration at the official residence of Samajwadi Party MLC Amit Yadav, police said on Saturday.

Following the death of Barabanki native Rakesh Rawat, four men have been arrested for their alleged roles in the accidental killing, said Deputy Commissioner of Police Somen Barma.

The incident occurred on Friday night at MLC's official residence in Lucknow's Hazratganj police station area where the five people had gathered to celebrate the birthday of one Vinay Yadav.

The four arrested men have been identified as Vinay Yadav, Gyanendra Kumar, Aaftab and Pankaj Yadav.

The four were arrested on the complaint of deceased's father Mani Ram, who told police that he suspected foul play in his son's death and named the four behind the killing. -PTI

Amit Shah walks on Chennai road to greet supporters

Chennai, Nov. 21: Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Saturday sprang a surprise here when he virtually broke protocol to get out of his vehicle and walk on the busy GST Road outside the airport to greet supporters, minutes after he landed here for a two-day visit of the city.

Shah, who thanked the metropolis for its love, said it was "great" to be in Tamil Nadu.

Shah is slated to inaugurate and lay the foundation stone for projects worth over Rs 67,000 crore, including phase II of Chennai Metro Rail.

Soon after his arrival from Delhi, Shah was received by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister K Palaniswami, his deputy O Panneerselvam, senior cabinet members and BJP State President L Murugan among others, before proceeding to the city hotel where he will be put up.

However, after exiting the airport, Shah's car suddenly stopped and the BJP veteran got out, before walking a short distance, waving at scores of BJP and AIADMK workers who had gathered to receive him with their respective party flags.

Accompanied by BJP National General Secretary and party in-charge of poll-bound Tamil Nadu, C.T. Ravi, and Murugan, with his security detail in tow, the Home Minister warmly waved at the overjoyed supporters who had thronged the airport since the morning.

A heavy security cover has been provided in the city following Shah's visit, during which he will meet state BJP functionaries and possibly discuss Tamil Nadu elections, due next April-May, before leaving on Sunday morning.

Meanwhile, Shah took to Twitter to thank the city for its love and support.

"It is always great to be in Tamil Nadu. Thank you Chennai for this love and support," he said in a tweet accompanying a video clip of his walk on GST Road.

Shah had earlier been here in August 2019 to release a book on Vice President M Venkaiah Naidu's two years in office then. -PTI

Off the beaten track

How I tweeted away my pandemic summer

I say this to sound like I have an all-round life, but I mean Twitter. Thanks to Mark Zuckerberg and his strange ideas of how threatening decapitation is not threatening decapitation, my interactions with Facebook have diminished. WhatsApp I have always abhorred because there are only so many “Good Morning” fake cups of coffee and bunches of flowers that you can receive without falling violently ill.

Aha, I hear you thinking, this means you are in favour of “fake news” and are actually a secret WhatsApp addict. You could imagine that but you could also imagine that I ruthlessly block anyone who bores me with endless rightwing rubbish.

It is true that I have another Zuckerberg product or acquisition on my phone and that is Instagram. This I like. I haven’t fully grasped its purpose other than the purpose of all social media which I understand is to sell me as “data”. But I do enjoy the photographs. Especially of endless images of boiled eggs and avocados in such creative and innovative juxtaposition. The human mind is fabulous.

Is that it? There’s the Nasa app for the latest on space exploration, the Chirp app for the latest on gravitational wave detections, the free weather apps which are quite my favourite to waste time on, the Google map app which forces me to find geographical locations mentioned in every book I read. The tennis apps, well their purpose is obvious. If I can’t remember anything else after looking at my phone to check, well, this is it.

I don’t have much to do with the “gig” economy either and not just I live in a remote area where no one really wants to gig by. I am wary of using my phone to pay, transact, bank. And I do like humans and physical shops and such. And I don’t want to chat with my phone service provider on WhatsApp no matter how many annoying messages they send me!

So after this long detour, we reach Twitter. Or do we? Once, angry with Twitter for its Zuckerbergian refusal to stop toxicity and for suspending anti-toxic handles, a few of switched us to Mastodon. This was really sweet for a while. There were only like-minded people on it and you had lovely chats. But boy did it get hellishly boring after a while. There was no information you see, because there were no news sites, no information sites, no sports sites. No nothing, really. Bye-bye it was to Mastodon. I still get plaintive emails telling me what I’m missing, like from an old flame who hasn’t realised it’s over.

Now we reach Twitter. It’s got everything right with it and everything wrong with it. I’m not going to get philosophical and stuff and tell you it’s a microcosm of life blah blah. But it is compelling and it is negotiable. And I spend most of my day on it. Yeah, it sounds pathetic, but do I care?

You want the obvious: you interact with a wide range of people from all over the world. There is no endless procession of smiling cups of coffee. Fake news may proliferate but is easily called out. News itself is widely available with “real time” updates. You can take part in conversations or you can just watch.

Trolls? Yes. There are trolls. They can be putrid, vile, scary. You have to deal with them. For journalists, trolls have long been part of our lives. Earlier, trolls would write postcards and letters. Then they sent emails and wrote comments below your articles and columns. They made more or less the same threats of death and rape. It was just a question of scale and accessibility. There’s no one-size-fits-all answer. I don’t interact; they wither away.

It’s a great escape too from the real world and that’s why it’s an addiction. An ever-widening circle of information, entertainment, interaction, annoyance, humour, joy and so on. People you might never have known existed otherwise. People you never would have met. And yes, I have met some Twitter friends in real life. And sometimes, especially since Covid, have interacted more with real friends on Twitter than in real life!

I get that it’s not for everyone. It can be too political, too in-your-face, too demanding of responses. It can force you to fall into weird rabbit holes. Words, phrases, ideologies you don’t understand. I feel my age on Twitter at all times and have to use online dictionaries to understand what people, young people, say and mean. There are worlds within worlds revealed. If I were a proper psycho-babbler, I would have more insights to offer into human nature and the infinite spirals we can traverse!

I get that some people prefer cat videos and holiday snaps. Either way, we are part of this grand social media exercise. If you’re up for a fight, you know where to find me!

Get priorities straight in time of a pandemic

Patralekha Chatterjee

Dec 360

The number of Indians infected by Covid-19 has crossed 90 lakhs. Over 1.3 lakhs have died of the virus. The economic distress in the wake of the pandemic is palpable. Millions have seen their earnings drop.

Amid the deaths, disease, debt and despair, guess what some state governments in India are concerned about? They are worrying about who one marries, whether the person is of the same faith or a different one, and if there is any hint of conversions, forced or otherwise.

In the last few weeks, several BJP-ruled state governments have been ratcheting up tension by publicly announcing their plans to bring about legislation to outlaw what they describe as “love jihad”.

Last week, it was the turn of Madhya Pradesh, where night curfew has now been imposed in Indore, Bhopal, Gwalior, Vidisha, and Ratlam districts from November 21 as Covid-19 cases surge. In the middle of all this, Madhya Pradesh home minister Narottam Mishra found time to declare that a “love jihad bill”, which intends imposing five years of rigorous imprisonment for “violators”, will soon be introduced in the state Assembly.

Madhya Pradesh is not the only state stoking sentiments around the “love jihad” conspiracy theory, which pivots around the belief that Muslim men in India are part of some organised campaign to convert Hindu women to Islam. Four other BJP-ruled states — including Uttar Pradesh and Haryana — are following the same playbook.

At an election rally in Jaunpur last month, Uttar Pradesh chief minister Yogi Adityanath warned of dire consequences to those found guilty of “love jihad”.

Earlier this month, Haryana home minister Anil Vij announced that his state was planning to bring in a strict law to control “love jihad” cases and soon a committee would be constituted to draft the law. The tourism minister of Karnataka, also BJP-ruled, has tweeted that the southern state would bring in a “a law banning religious conversions for the sake of marriage”. Assam minister and BJP Northeast point-person Himanta Biswa Sarma has joined in the chorus against “love jihad”.

What is behind this rush for laws to outlaw “love jihad” in the time of a pandemic?

It is clearly a rallying cry to mobilise BJP supporters. But that is only part of the story.

Think of all the issues and questions that gets pushed off the news cycle each time “love jihad” grabs headlines. Public health experts like Anant Bhan and Hemant Shewade point out that India is far from being on the top of the pandemic and governments at the Centre and in states must focus on addressing the needs of those with Covid-19 and those who have other diseases. There is literally no time to waste.

Why then this noise about “love jihad” when in February this year, G. Kishan Reddy, Union minister of state for home in the Narendra Modi government, said: “The term ‘love jihad’ is not defined under the extant laws.” He also said: “No such case of ‘love jihad’ has been reported by any of the Central agencies.” Mr Reddy was replying to a question by Congress MP Benny Behanan in Parliament on “whether Central agencies have reported any case of ‘love jihad’ from Kerala during the past two years and if so, the details thereof?”

Mr Reddy also noted that Article 25 of the Constitution provides for the freedom to profess, practice and propagate religion subject to public order, morality and health. “Various courts, including the Kerala high court, have upheld this view,” he said in a written reply.

It is astonishing that in 2020, an adult woman in India is not seen as capable of making decisions on her own about herself and there are so many who are willing to believe that there is a vast conspiracy leading to young Hindu women being seduced and coerced into marriage by Muslim men under false pretences. Hadiya Jahan’s case comes instantly to mind. Her family claimed that she was a victim of “love jihad”, despite her saying that she had converted willingly. The Supreme Court subsequently restored the marriage. A Supreme Court-ordered probe by the National Investigation Agency into 11 cases of inter-faith marriages in Kerala has not found any evidence of forced conversion in any of the cases.

All this high-decibel talk about an imagined ‘love jihad’ and the rush for laws to stop something that does not exist is worse than tilting at windmills — it is helping divert attention from far more pressing issues surrounding the pandemic

In India, there is no law barring couples from different faiths from getting married. Couples, including interfaith ones, can get married under a Special Marriage Act without changing their religion. The law, however, requires the registrar to post a notice about the intended marriage 30 days before the wedding and this has triggered many problematic situations, with families and right-wing groups trying to stir the pot if it the couple are from different faiths.

The All India Lawyers’ Association for Justice, a national lawyers’ collective, has condemned the announcements made by the BJP-ruled states to pass a law against “love jihad”.

In a statement, the association said that it “believes that every person has the right to marry or not, and to select their partners as per their will and desire... Governments, instead of pursuing a communal agenda that penalises those who exercise their constitutional freedoms, must take immediate steps to enact a law that would specifically cover the field of so-called ‘honour’ crimes.”

It is clear that charges of “love jihad” may not stick in court. It is also clear that the “love jihad” bogey is more a marker of the politics of intimidation than anything else. All this high-decibel talk about an imagined “love jihad” and the rush for laws to stop something that does not exist is worse than tilting at windmills — it is helping divert attention from far more pressing issues surrounding the pandemic.

We can neither afford deepening of fissures nor divisions.

COURTS ON CAPITAL

AP counsel has rightly pointed out the fact that courts have no role in deciding the location of the capital city. The HC is asking questions beyond its brief and sounds like one of the so-called ‘victim’ farmers from the Amaravati region. At the most the HC could ask the government to clearly spell out the relief package if required for farmers who parted with their lands for the capital. This stalemate should end soon.

SEC BATTLE

The AP government and SEC are at variance once again (DC, Nov. 21). To conduct the gram panchayat elections smoothly during Covid times, it is necessary to have concerted efforts between the government and SEC. These are imperative and that is not happening. Legal battle appears more or less certain. In all likelihood, it may fizzle out with the blame game.

POOR LEADERS

It is not at all surprising that so many ruling party leaders and even the CM himself getting infected as they hardly follow Covid-19 norms (MP violates Covid-19 norms, DC, Nov. 21). However, they advise people to follow the rules. They are hardly bothered about criticism from people or Opposition parties. Even though WHO is warning about a second Covid wave all over the world, these leaders do not take it seriously. It is negligent and irresponsible behaviour.

I congratulate the Haryana health minister Vij for volunteering to take Bharat Biotech’s potential vaccine, Covaxin in third phase of trial, in Ambala Cantonment Hospital. He is the first Cabinet rank minister to volunteer for a noble cause and hopefully the vaccine will come to the rescue of humanity against Covid.

Many European nations buying Indian wagons

NEW DELHI, NOV. 22

India has now become the largest supplier of railway wagons to some of the East European countries.

The State Trading Corporation has just concluded an agreement with Yugoslavia for the supply of 3,600 railway wagons costing about ₹38 crore. The first delivery of these wagons is to be effected by the end of 1971.

According to State Trading Corporation sources, these wagons are to be manufactured and delivered by the private sector wagon manufacturing industry in West Bengal.

The wagons to be supplied to Yugoslavia are to be utilised for carrying mineral ores in the country.

STC sources said Yugoslavia had now called for new tenders for supply of 10,000 railway wagons. India was also participating in this bid.

The real social distance in US: Can Joe, Kamala ensure change?

Be jubilant, but keep it short. Donald Trump clings to the White House but it’s a pretty good bet that he will depart, kicking and tweeting, on January 20. He nonetheless garnered 72 million votes, so his long-anticipated exit may not be permanent. The Democratic Party failed to cut into his support because they were loath to say one word that smacked of the visionary aspirations of FDR’s New Deal or LBJ’s Great Society, regarded as hideously socialist by their big donors.

Wall Street injected millions of dollars into Joe Biden’s campaign, and awaits Cabinet appointments and more, which will be duly granted given that some 40 former lobbyists populate his transition team. So we are a long way from Mr Biden posing credibly as a humble man of the people. It was truly bizarre listening to affluent Democrats dismiss Bernie Sanders as not a “real” party member when he and Elizabeth Warren were the only candidates who stuck to the values of traditional FDR Democrats.

platforms of Mr Sanders and Ms Warren, complacent Democrat officials are determined to revert to the same stale economic policies that bred Mr Trump’s resistible rise to power in the first place. Throughout his lacklustre campaign, Mr Biden avidly played the Covid-19 card of extreme lockdown, pleasing perhaps a third of the populace who can afford a Zoom lifestyle but far less so a hard-pressed majority who plead that the economy (jobs, wages, small businesses and housing stability) is their foremost worry.

Lockdown proponents like to claim that disobeying their rules means you will murder your granny. They don’t like to hear that lockdowns mean condemning multitudes to poverty, homelessness and early deaths (from untreated illnesses) in order to protect their privileged selves. The anti-Covid measures in the United States simply managed to shift the risks from the upper class to the poor, and is no small part of the reason for the boosted Trump vote. A loss of seats in the House of Representatives and an inability to gain a Senate majority should alert the Democratic Party lords that something essential is missing in their economic programmes, but all they do is blame the left for their own shortcomings.

Mr Biden’s popularity was only modestly higher than Mr Trump’s. The bulk of Democrats voted for Joe Biden out of distaste for Mr Trump, not enthusiasm for he who has little to offer those outside his high-income social orbit. Mr Biden has a track record any conservative can cherish — servant of the credit card industry in his home state of Delaware, passing a 2005 law stripping people of bankruptcy relief; tormentor of Anita Hill during a 1991 Supreme Court nomination event, installing a judge who became a reliable rubber stamp for reactionary views; pushing a 1994 crime bill that sent the incarceration of minorities skyrocketing; and blithely offering several times, including as Barack Obama’s vice-president, to slash social security and Medicare to make foolish compromises with crafty Republicans.

Mr Biden’s good manners will be a relief, but only for a short spell.

Kamala Harris praised Mr Biden for his “audacity” in choosing her as running mate when nothing was more obvious than the careful political calculations involved in the choice. In mainstream American politics, “identities” of race, creed, ethnicity and gender are are allowed to flourish instead of class interests, which are not supposed to exist. One hopes that Ms Harris’ shattering of race and gender barriers puts those symbolic goals behind us, because Barack Obama’s presidency gave black voters who weren’t already prosperous nothing but a vicarious thrill. Canny elites can always pick useful opportunists to do their bidding, on the assumption that all that people crave is to become part of the establishment. Too often, they’re right about that. Ms Harris is a dedicated careerist who played her cards right as a public prosecutor with a merciless approach to the poor, even threatening to jail parents of truant children.

The US isn’t centre-right, but the people who run it are. A New York Times poll attests two-thirds of US citizens want a wealth tax, national healthcare, free college tuition and a Green New Deal, just for starters. A recent Fox News poll put those figures even higher.

Mr Biden and Ms Harris became Democratic candidates because they are “safe hands” who enable Wall Street, mega corporations, and too-big-to-fail banks to go on bilking average citizens. The top 10 per cent in the US now own 78 per cent of the wealth. At this rate, the top 10 per cent should own everything in another lifetime, but something has to give. The real social distancing that the US has practised since the 1970s is the ever-yawning gap between the wealthy and the rest. Mr Biden is by no means a remedy, unless the social justice movements arising during Trump’s era pressure him ever so reluctantly into the role.

IN BRIEF RESIGN WITH ME, GUATEMALA VP URGES PREZ

Guatemala City, Nov. 21: Guatemala's vice president told President Alejandro Giammattei that both men should resign their positions "for the good of the country" following the approval of a budget cutting educational and health spending that caused a public outcry. "We both resign," Vice President Guillermo Castillo said he told Giammattei Friday. He had suggested vetoing the approved budget, firing government officials and attempt more outreach to various sectors around the country.

Giammattei had not responded publicly and Castillo did not share the president's reaction to his proposal.

Castillo said he would not resign alone. Discontent had been building over the new 2021 budget on social media and then generated clashes with police Friday in front of the congress. The spending plan was negotiated in secret and approved by the congress.

JAN MORRIS, AUTHOR, PASSES AWAY AT 94

New York, Nov. 21: Jan Morris, the celebrated journalist, historian, world traveller and fiction writer who in middle age became a pioneer of the transgender movement, has died at 94.

Morris died in Wales on Friday morning, according to her literary representative, United Agents. Her agent Sophie Scard confirmed her death. Morris had been in failing health. Additional details were not immediately available. The British author lived as James Morris until the early 1970s, when she underwent surgery at a clinic in Casablanca and renamed herself Jan Morris.

Her best-selling memoir "Conundrum," which came out in 1974, continued the path of such earlier works as Christine Jorgensen's "A Personal Autobiography" in presenting her decision as natural and liberating. "I no longer feel isolated and unreal," she wrote. Morris was a prolific and accomplished author and journalist who wrote dozens of books.

BOB DYLAN DOCUMENTS SELL FOR $495K

Boston, Nov. 21: A long-lost trove of Bob Dylan documents including the singer-songwriter's musings about anti-Semitism and unpublished song lyrics has sold at auction for $495,000.

Boston-based R R Auction said Friday the collection privately held by the late American blues artist Tony Glover, a longtime Dylan friend and confidante, was sold Thursday to a bidder whose identity was not made public. The collection included transcripts of Glover's 1971 interviews with Dylan and letters the pair exchanged.

The interviews reveal that reveal that Dylan had anti-Semitism on his mind when he changed his name from Robert Zimmerman, and that he wrote "Lay Lady Lay" for Barbra Streisand. Dylan, 79, was close with Glover, who died last year. The two men broke into music in the same Minneapolis coffeehouse scene. Glover's widow, Cynthia Nadler, put the documents up for auction online.

HURRICANE IOTA: MORE BODIES FOUND

Tegucigalpa/Mexico City, Nov. 21: Authorities in Central America recovered more bodies on Thursday from landslides triggered by hurricane Iota, which battered the impoverished region this week, the second deadly storm to roar through this month.

The number of reported deaths rose to more than 40 across Central America and Colombia, and the toll is expected to rise as rescue workers reach isolated communities.

Most of the deaths occurred in Nicaragua and Honduras.

Honduran President Juan Orlando Hernandez issued an urgent plea for international help. "We are in a situation of great calamity and we need the world to help us rebuild our country," he said while speaking at a news conference.

The strongest storm on record to hit Nicaragua, Iota struck the coast late on Monday as a Category 4 hurricane. It inundated low-lying areas still reeling from the impact two weeks ago of Eta, another major hurricane that killed dozens of people in the region.

Daily US virus deaths highest since May

Country now averaging over 1,300 Covid deaths per day, daily infections at a record high of 188,000

Washington, Nov. 21: The surging Coronavirus is taking an increasingly dire toll across the US just as a vaccine appears at hand, with the country now averaging over 1,300 Covid-19 deaths per day — the highest since the calamitous spring in and around New York City.

The overall death toll has reached about 253,000, by far the highest in the world. Total confirmed infections have eclipsed more than 11.7 million, after the biggest one-day gain on record Thursday — almost 188,000. And the number of people in the hospital with Covid-19 hit another all-time high at more than 80,000.

With health experts deeply afraid Thanksgiving travel and holiday gatherings next week will fuel the spread of the virus, many states and cities are imposing near-lockdowns or other restrictions. California ordered a 10 pm to 5 am curfew starting Saturday, covering 94% of the state's 40 million residents.

The Texas border county of El Paso, where more than 300 people have died from Covid-19 since October, is advertising jobs for morgue workers capable of lifting bodies weighing 175 pounds or more. Officials are offering more

Washington, Nov. 21: Donald Trump Jr, the eldest son of US President Donald Trump, has tested positive for Covid-19, his spokesperson said, latest in the First Family to have been infected by the deadly virus. than $27 an hour for work described as not only physically arduous but "emotionally taxing as well." The county had already begun paying jail inmates $2 an hour to help move corpses and has ordered at least 10 refrigerated trucks as morgues run out of room. ## Russia Covid-19 toll hits new high Moscow, Nov. 21: Russia on Saturday registered record numbers for daily infections and deaths from the Coronavirus, two days after having passed two million cases.

Health officials reported 24,822 new infections and 476 deaths, bringing the national total to 2,064,748 million cases and 35,778 fatalities since the beginning of the year.

While those figures suggest a lower death rate than elsewhere in the world, they need to be treated with caution. The official Russian death toll only includes those in which Covid has been established as the primary cause of death after an autopsy.

Data published by Russia's federal statistics service earlier this month indicated excess deaths of more than 117,000 year-on-year between March and September, suggesting that virus fatalities could be much higher.

Most of the new cases announced Saturday were recorded in Moscow (7,168) and in the country's second city, Saint Petersburg (2,476), with other regions recording figures in the tens or hundreds.

"We are getting a lot of calls at the moment," Dmitri, a Saint Petersburg ambulance driver, told AFP. "The number of sick people is growing." The medical team he worked with collecting samples to identify cases visited around 20 addresses every day, he said.

"People are scared, and they are calling for a doctor as soon as they get a little cough," said Lyudmila, one of the two nurses on the team.

On Wednesday, Russian President Vladimir Putin described the surge in infections and deaths as "alarming".

PORTUGAL EXTENDS VIRUS EMERGENCY

Lisbon, Nov. 21: Portugal on Friday extended until December 8 the state of emergency it imposed to bring down the Coronavirus infection rate as the second wave of the disease spreads.

President Marcelo Rebelo de Sousa announced he had signed the decree extending the emergency measures which had been due to lapse on Monday, warning that a further extension remains a possibility.

"The state of emergency will last as long as is necessary to fight against the pandemic" he said in a televised address.

While the second wave of the virus should reach its peak in late November or early December, a third wave will "probably" follow early next year, the president added. More than 80 percent of Portugal's population has been under partial lockdown.

The announcement came after the socialist government held an emergency cabinet meeting to decide on the virus restrictions. — AFP

Warangal doc finds possible cure for Covid-19 issues

Washington, Nov. 21: An Indian-American scientist has discovered a potential strategy to prevent life-threatening inflammation, lung damage and organ failure in patients diagnosed with Covid-19.

Published online in the journal Cell, the research coming from the lab of Dr Thirumala-Devi Kanneganti, an Indian-born researcher working at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Tennessee, identified the drugs after finding that the hyperinflammatory immune response associated with virus leads to tissue damage and multi-organ failure in mice by triggering inflammatory cell death pathways.

The researchers detailed how the inflammatory cell death signaling pathway worked, which led to potential therapies to disrupt the process. "Understanding the pathways and mechanism driving this inflammation is critical to develop effective treatment strategies," said Kanneganti, vice chair of the St Jude Department of Immunology. Kanneganti was born and raised in Telangana. She received her undergraduate degree at Kakatiya University in Warangal, where she majored in Chemistry, Zoology, and Botany. — PTI

WH: Trump admin did everything for transition

Washington, Nov. 21: The Trump administration has done "everything statutorily required" to do in the event of a transition, the White House has said, asserting that a constitutional process is being played out to determine the winner of the November 3 presidential election.

Incumbent US President Donald Trump, a Republican, has refused to concede the election to 78-year-old Joe Biden, a Democrat, and has filed multiple lawsuits challenging the poll results in several states. Trump, 74, has made allegations of widespread electoral fraud, without providing any evidence.

Former US vice president Biden was declared the winner of the closely-fought US presidential election on November 7. Biden now has 306 electoral votes to Trump's 232 votes. To win the race to the White House, the successful candidate should have at least 270 electoral votes out of the 538-member Electoral College.

His lead in the public vote overall stands at more than 5.9 million. Backing President's Trump's stance, White House Press Secretary Kayleigh McEnany refused to acknowledge President-elect Biden's victory on Friday — her first press briefing since October 1. "The president's been very clear, he wants every legal vote to be counted," she said. — PTI

GEORGIA GOV CERTIFIES VOTES FOR BIDEN

Atlanta, Nov. 21: Georgia's governor and top elections official on Friday certified results showing Joe Biden won the presidential race over Republican President Donald Trump. The certification brings the state one step closer to wrapping up an election that has been fraught with unfounded accusations of fraud by Trump and his supporters. Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger certified results. The results show Biden with 2.47 million votes, President Donald Trump with 2.46 million votes and Libertarian Jo Jorgensen with 62,138. — AP

BIDEN CABINET PICKS AS SOON AS NEXT WEEK

Washington, Nov. 21: President-elect Joe Biden is moving quickly to fill out his administration and could name top leaders for his Cabinet as early as next week. Biden told reporters on Thursday that he's already decided on who will lead the Treasury Department.

That pick, along with his nominee for secretary of state, may be announced before Thanksgiving. The Cabinet announcements could be released in tranches, with groups of nominees focused on a specific top area, like the economy, national security or public health, being announced at once. — AP

@POTUS A/C TO GO TO BIDEN JAN 20 EVEN IF TRUMP DOESN'T CONCEDE

Los Angeles, Nov. 21: Micro-blogging site Twitter will hand control of the presidential @POTUS account to President-elect Joe Biden the moment he is sworn in on inauguration day on January 20, even if President Donald Trump has not conceded his election loss, the company has said.

The @POTUS account is the official account of the President of the United States and is separate from the @realDonaldTrump account that Trump uses to tweet. Biden, 78, will be the 46th US President when he is sworn in. The handover requires no sharing of information between the outgoing Trump team and the incoming Biden team. — PTI

Eight killed, 31 injured as mortar shells hit Kabul residential areas

Kabul, Nov. 21: About 23 mortar shells slammed into different parts of the Afghan capital on Saturday, killing at least eight people and wounding 31 others, an official said. The shells were fired from two cars, Interior Ministry spokesperson Tariq Arian said.

No one took immediate responsibility for the early morning attack that also targeted the posh Wazir Akbar Khan area of Kabul, which houses diplomatic missions. The Taliban issued a quick statement denying any responsibility for the attack. The Islamic State group affiliate also operates in the area and has claimed responsibility for recent assaults in Kabul including two devastating attacks on educational institutions that killed more than 50 people, many of them students.

As well as insurgent groups, there are several heavily armed warlords with militias living in Kabul with long-standing animosities against each other. The mortar barrage comes as representatives of the Afghan government and the Taliban continued to hold talks in Qatar, though progress has been slow. US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo is expected to press for a reduction in violence in his meetings with both Taliban and government negotiating teams later Saturday during a daylong stop in Doha.

The Taliban have mostly ignored such previous requests. Hours before the attack rattled Kabul, a bomb attached to a car killed one security personnel and wounded three others in an eastern neighborhood of the capital, said Kabul police spokesperson Ferdaws Faramarz. Violence in Afghanistan has spiked in recent months with increasingly horrific attacks often claimed by the Islamic State group affiliate. — AP

Terror financing: 2 Hafiz Saeed aides jailed

Lahore, Nov. 21: A Pakistani court has jailed two more aides of Mumbai attack mastermind and Jamat-ud-Dawah (JuD) chief Hafiz Saeed in a terrorism financing case. The Anti-Terrorism Court (ATC) of Lahore on Friday handed down six and five-and-a-half years of imprisonment to JuD leaders Muhammad Ashraf and Lucman Shah, respectively. ATC Judge Arshad Hussain Bhutta also imposed a fine of Rs 10,000 on each of them. On Thursday, the 70-year-old JuD chief was sentenced to 10 years of imprisonment in two terrorism cases by ATC Lahore.

Saeed's two close aides — Zafar Iqbal and Yahya Mujahid — were sentenced to 10 and a half years each, while his brother-in-law Abdul Rehman Makki was sentenced to six months of imprisonment in the same cases.

Saeed, a UN designated terrorist whom the US has placed a $10 million bounty on, was arrested on July 17 last year in the terror financing cases. He was sentenced to 11 years in jail by an anti-terrorism court in February this year in two terror financing cases. The JuD chief is lodged at Lahore's high-security Kot Lakhpat jail. — PTI

Tibetan leader in WH: 1st in 60 yrs

Washington, Nov. 21: The head of the Tibetan government in exile has visited the White House for the first time in six decades and met the newly appointed senior US official on Tibetan issues, the Central Tibetan Administration said on Saturday, a development that could enrage Beijing, which has accused the US of trying to interfere in China's internal affairs. Dr Lobsang Sangay entered the United States White House on Friday — a historic feat.

This is the first time in the last 60 decades the head of the Central Tibetan Administration (CTA) has been invited into the White House, the CTA said in a statement. "It is a great honour to be the first political head of the Central Tibetan Administration to formally enter the White House," Sangay said in a tweet. "Today's visit amounts to an acknowledgement of both the democratic system of the CTA and its political head... This unprecedented meeting perhaps will set an optimistic tone for CTA participation with US officials and be more formalised in the coming years," said the CTA, which is based in Dharamshala in India.

Sangay, the President of the Central Tibetan Administration (CTA), was invited to the White House to meet the newly appointed US Special Coordinator for Tibetan Issues, Robert Destro, on Friday, it said.

US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo on October 15 named senior diplomat Destro as Special Coordinator for Tibetan matters, who, among other matters, would focus on advancing dialogue between the Communist government in China and the Dalai Lama. — PTI

2020 | LIST It also includes US ex-Prez Barack Obama's 'A Promised Land'

3 Indian writers in '100 Notable Books'

New York, Nov. 21: Critically-acclaimed books by three Indian writers have featured among this year's '100 Notable Books' list of The New York Times that also includes former US president Barack Obama's newly released memoir 'A Promised Land'.

Editors of The New York Times Book Review selected 100 "notable fiction, poetry and nonfiction" works from around the world. The prestigious list also includes the work of fiction 'A Burning' by India-born Megha Majumdar. "A brazen act of terrorism in an Indian metropolis sets the plot of this propulsive debut novel in motion, and lands an innocent young bystander in jail.

With impressive assurance and insight, Majumdar unfolds a timely story about the ways power is wielded to manipulate and crush the powerless," the report said of the book. 'Djinn Patrol on the Purple Line' by Deepa Anappara, who grew up in Kerala, also features on the list.

"This first novel by an Indian journalist probes the secrets of a big-city shantytown as a 9-year-old boy tries to solve the mystery of a classmate's disappearance.

Anappara impressively inhabits the inner worlds of children lost to their families, and of others who escape by a thread," the leading daily said.

Samanth Subramanian's 'A Dominant Character:

The Radical Science and Restless Politics of J. B. S. Haldane' is a nonfiction work. "Haldane, the British biologist and ardent communist who helped synthesise Darwinian evolution with Mendelian genetics, was once as famous as Einstein.

Subramanian's elegant biography doubles as a timely allegory of the fraught relationship between science and politics," the report said. Subramanian is a journalist and lives in London.

'Red Pill' by British-Indian author Hari Kunzru also features in the list. "A fellowship at a study center in Germany turns sinister and sets a writer on a possibly paranoid quest to expose a political evil he believes is loose in the world.

Kunzru's wonderfully weird novel traces a lineage from German Romanticism to National Socialism to the alt-right, and is rich with insights on surveillance and power," the report said. — PTI

Kosgei, Yeshaneh to run at DHM

New Delhi: The Delhi Half Marathon on Saturday announced the entries of world record holders Brigid Kosgei and Ababel Yeshaneh for the upcoming event. At the Chicago Marathon in October 2019, Kenya's Kosgei stunned the world when she broke the long-standing women's world marathon record by more than a minute, clocking 2:14:04. Yeshaneh was a distant second on that occasion but still ran a superb personal best of 2:20:51.

However, the tables were turned at the Ras Al Khaimah Half Marathon in February this year when a contest between the pair in the final stages of the race saw Ethiopia's Yeshaneh prevail in a world record 64:31 with Kosgei second in 64:49.

Chelsea's new castle

Blues take top spot for first time in over two years

Newcastle, Nov. 21: Frank Lampard warned Chelsea to stay humble after they climbed to the top of the Premier League for the first time in more than two years with a convincing 2-0 win at Newcastle on Saturday.

Lampard's side moved above Leicester on goal difference thanks to Federico Fernandez's first half own goal and Tammy Abraham's strike after the interval.

Chelsea are unbeaten in nine games in all competitions and haven't lost in their last six league matches.

With five clean sheets in their last six matches in all competitions, Chelsea's third successive league victory was the perfect way to start a hectic period leading up to Christmas.

Maurizio Sarri was in charge the last time Chelsea were in pole position in the Premier League in September 2018.

But Lampard's squad are more formidable than his predecessor's fragile team and a serious title challenge looks increasingly possible.

"It's not an easy game. We played well in patches and the result is key in these games," Lampard said. "The Premier League is tough, relentless, and we dealt with the challenge of the game very well."

"I won't get excited about being top of the table for five minutes. It's important to be humble and know it's a long race."

Chelsea could surrender top spot before the end of the day, with both Aston Villa and Tottenham able to go above them depending on their results.

"We can't have it all our own way, but we put the game away with a professional performance."

THE RESULT

Newcastle 0
Chelsea 2
(Fernandez 10-gol, Abraham 65)

Lampard said.

"First 20 minutes were great, we had control and all the possession. I always felt that the real danger from us would be on the counter."

"You saw that with Timo Werner on the break and then setting up Tammy's goal."

Lampard had complained about having to play in the Saturday early kick off when several of his players had only returned from international duty on Thursday.

Huesca's winless streak continues after 1-1 draw

Pamplona, Nov. 21: Osasuna came from behind to draw with Huesca 1-1, keeping the visitors winless since their return to the Spanish league.

Huesca dominated early at El Sadar Stadium. Sandro Ramirez finished off a poor clearance by Osasuna goalkeeper Sergio Herrera to open the scoring in the fifth minute.

After not creating any scoring chances in the first half, Osasuna improved with substitutes made at the restart. Defender David Garc scored an equalizer in the 68th. Huesca have drawn seven and lost three games since returning to the spotlight after one season in the second division. The point lifted it from last place to out of the relegation zone in 17th place.

"We were not able to play our game, but it was always positive to get a point, especially at a tough ground like this," Ramirez said.

"Victory still eludes us, but I think if we keep doing things well it will come."

MONACO COME BACK TO STUN LEADERS PSG

Paris, Nov. 21: Kylian Mbappe's two goals against his former club were not enough as French league leaders Paris Saint-Germain wasted a 2-0 lead and lost at Monaco 3-2.

Mbappe's first-half brace took him to 99 goals for PSG since joining from Monaco three years ago in a deal worth a staggering 180 million euros.

But lively German forward Kevin Volland netted twice after the break, and was fouled by center half Abdou Diallo for a penalty converted by former Spain and Barcelona midfielder Cesc Fabregas in the 83rd.

Diallo was sent off to leave PSG with 10 men in the closing stages.

The defeat was PSG's third of the season and ended a run of eight straight wins after losing the first two games.

Monaco moved up to second place, and four points behind PSG, despite being without top scorer Wissam Ben Yedder as he recovers from the coronavirus.

Another comfortable PSG win looked on the cards when Mbappe latched on to a fine pass from winger Angel Di Maria and finished confidently in the 24th minute.

The France striker then beat goalkeeper Vito Mannone from the spot in the 36th after midfielder Youssouf Fofana gave away a penalty.

Striker Moise Kean and Mbappe had goals ruled out for offside shortly before the break, and Monaco pulled one back in the 51st when Volland turned in Fofana's cross from the right. — AP

Siraj stays in Oz post Dad's demise

Kolkata, Nov. 21: BCCI secretary Jay Shah on Saturday said that pacer Mohammed Siraj, who has lost his father, was given the option of flying back home to be with his grieving family but he decided to stay back in Australia for "national duty".

Ghouse, who was suffering from a lung ailment, died on Friday. He was 53.

"The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) had a discussion with Siraj and he was offered the option of flying back and be with his family in this hour of grief," Shah was quoted as saying in a BCCI media release.

"The fast bowler has decided to stay with the Indian contingent and continue performing his national duties. The BCCI shares his grief and will be supportive of Siraj in this extremely challenging phase," Shah added.

Board president Sourav Ganguly took to Twitter to laud the Hyderabad pacer for his resilience and mental fortitude in this hour of tragedy.

"May Mohammed siraj have a lot of strength to overcome this loss. Lots of good wishes for his success in this trip... tremendous character," Ganguly tweeted.

Ghouse, who was an auto rickshaw driver, was the biggest influence in Siraj's life, as he encouraged him to take up cricket as a career and took care of all his needs despite limited means.

Siraj first came into lime-light with 41 wickets for Hyderabad in Ranji Trophy, followed by a record Rs 2.6 crore IPL deal from Sunrisers Hyderabad as an uncapped player.

He has only been picked the four-match Test series in Australia. If Siraj had chosen to fly back to India, he would have had to do another 14-day quarantine here in Australian under the local government rules on his arrival.

Thiem edges past Djokovic in semis

London, Nov. 21: Dominic Thiem recovered from squandering four match points in a dramatic second-set tie-break to beat Novak Djokovic in the last four at the ATP Finals on Saturday.

The US Open champion won 7-5, 6-7 (10/12), 7-6 (7/5) and will face either Rafael Nadal or Daniil Medvedev in Sunday's final at the elite eight-man event.

The world's top four players all made it through to the semi-finals for the first time at London's O2 Arena, which is hosting the season-ending event for the 12th and final year.

Thiem forced the only break to take a tight first set 7-5 but neither player could make the breakthrough in the second set, which went to a tie-break.

Thiem had four match points but agonisingly watched them all slip away as 17-time Grand Slam champion Djokovic levelled.

It was a similar story in the third set, with both players rock-solid on serve and the match came down to a deciding tie-break.

The Serbian world number one raced into a 4-0 lead and looked certain to win but Thiem stormed back, winning six points in a row to earn two more match points.

BULGARIAN PLAYER GETS LIFETIME BAN

In London, the Tennis Integrity Unit has banned Bulgarian player Aleksandrina Naydenova for life and fined her $150,000 for match-fixing offenses.

Naydenova "had partaken in match-fixing activity multiple times between 2015 and 2019," the anti-corruption body said in a statement Friday.

The 28-year-old, whose highest WTA singles ranking was 218, had been provisionally suspended Dec. 27 last year prior to a disciplinary hearing.

The TIU said Naydenova committed 13 breaches of the Tennis Anti-corruption Program with 12 of them relating to match-fixing and one relating to "several incidents of non-cooperation" with the investigation. — Agencies

Appiah wins it for NorthEast Utd

Vasco, Nov. 21: Kwesi Appiah scored from the spot as NorthEast United FC began their Indian Super League campaign with a 1-0 win over Mumbai City FC here on Saturday.

A red card and a penalty turned a game, that Mumbai were otherwise dominating, on their head and handed NorthEast United a winning start at the Tilak Maidan.

Appiah (49') scored the only goal from a penalty after the Islanders were reduced to 10-men following Ahmed Jahouh's red card just before the breather.

In the early stages, it looked like NorthEast were aiming for nothing more than a goalless draw, with extreme caution visible in their game plan.

Predictably, it was Mumbai who dominated the first half. The Islanders were neat and proactive for long spells, though they were unable

NEW-LOOK GOA READY TO FACE CHHETRI & CO.

Margao, Nov. 21: A new-look FC Goa, strengthened by the addition of fresh foreign players and a new head coach, will begin their ISL campaign with renewed vigour when they clash with formidable Bengaluru FC here on Sunday.

FC Goa have never won the ISL trophy and would be hoping that this time around they go one step forward than 2018 and 2015 seasons, when they emerged as runners-up.

On the other hand, BBFC who have won the ISL once, would also be hoping for a winning start and the contribution of star striker Sunil Chhetri would be the key. — PTI

Rohit will be sorely missed in white ball series

Ayaz Memon
Over The Top

Going by the cricket played between the two teams in the past few years, India's tour of Australia promises rich and exciting cricket in all formats. But there are hardships for Virat Kohli and Co which can't be overwhelmed by hype.

In the ODIs and T20is, India will be without their best white ball batsman, Rohit Sharma. In Tests, the team will be without the services of their best batsman in red ball cricket over the best part of a decade, Virat Kohli.

More than just irony, this is a serious setback to India. It leaves the batting vulnerable across the different formats, which the Aussies will be eager to exploit. Though he came back after a spell on the bench to play in the knock-out stages and led Mumbai Indians to the title, Rohit wasn't cleared by the BCCI's medical team for the ODIs and T20is. He is currently in rehab and recovery at the National Crickets Academy in Bangalore.

Kohli will return to India after the first Test to be by his wife's side for the delivery of their first child.

Australia's strict quarantine rules (14 days) has scuttled Kohli's prospects of returning back for the Tests, so he is available only for the first day/night pink ball affair at Adelaide.

The Test series are under greater scrutiny as the previous rubber — also played Down Under — was won by India: A wonderful achievement considering no Indian team had ever done this in Australia in over 70 years.

Obviously, the home team will be seeking revenge, and with the return of Steve Smith and David Warner — both serving a ban in 2018 — it will be that much tougher for India to retain the Border-Gavaskar Trophy.

Considering his massive success as opening batsman after his wondrous exploits in the World Cup, Rohit will be sorely missed. Though K.L. Rahul has shown superb form, it is in white ball cricket. How well he adapts to the longer format is now crucial for India.

Much of the pre-Test series conversation and debate has been around how good the current Indian pace attack is, even without Ishant Sharma (also in rehab in Bangalore) and Bhuvaneshwar Kumar.

In 2018, India's pace attack — Bumrah and Shami in particular — was outstanding, and the major factor in the series triumph. If they are in similar form this time, there is every chance of an encore.

However, former India captain Kapil Dev, has an interesting — and perhaps more pertinent — take on the matter. Kapil believes that the fate of the series does not hinge on the fast bowlers, but on the Indian batsmen, though for vastly different reasons than in his playing days.

"India's pace attack is superb," Kapil said when we chatted the other day. "I am confident bowlers will take 20 wickets. But will batsmen provide 350-400 runs for bowlers to win the match?"

Moot question. Before the pace bowling got teeth and edge to bundle out rivals, India's batting was seen as it strength playing overseas. Now there is doubt whether the batsmen can do enough to support bowlers!

The Test series begins after the ODIs and T20is are completed, which should give the Indian players enough time to settled down and acclimatize to Australia conditions.

But this does not mean that the next couple of weeks is a slack period. White ball cricket has its own huge significance in the sport today which players and teams will ignore at their own peril.

This will be a particularly testing period for Kohli. His success as captain in the shorter formats does not quite match up to the terrific win percentage he has in Tests.

There has been wide debate whether the captaincy should not be bifurcated between him (Tests) and Rohit (ODIs and T20is). England, Australia and South Africa for instance follow the split captaincy theory, Pakistan (now) and New Zealand (for the most part) don't.

There are pros and cons to the theory, but what's clear is that in the Indian context, the debate will intensify and Kohli placed under even further scrutiny if results are not favourable.
