Covid hospitals yet to get NOC from fire department

DC CORRESPONDENTS
VISAKHAPATNAM/
VIJAYAWADA/TIRUPATI,
APRIL 24

Many private hospitals notified as Covid treatment facilities in the state have not obtained their Fire (No Objection Certificate) NOC till date. Officials, while notifying private hospitals, had insisted that they adhere to safety norms and obtain NOC from the fire safety department.

In January last, the government launched a special drive and issued notices to hundreds of hospitals after fire erupted at a health care centre in Bhandara in Maharashtra in which 10 infants were killed.

In Visakhapatnam, 40 private and corporate hospitals were notified as Covid treatment facilities and those that were located in Health City at Arilova were declared as fire safety compliant.

Ten hospitals outside the Health City have not obtained the NOC.

"Six hospitals got NoC during the last two days and four are yet to comply with the fire safety norms," said regional fire officer with GVMC, Niranjan Reddy.

He said unlike in normal times, the authorities would not hesitate to close down the hospitals.

"Merely having safety equipment is not enough. The hospitals should conduct mock drills, which they have not done despite repeated advisories."

Reports from Vijayawada said 26 private hospitals have been notified as Covid hospitals and four of these have applied for NoC.

However, the requests were held up as they did not adhere to all the norms.

Tirupati reports said three out of the eight hospitals notified there as Covid treatment facilities are not having the Fire NoC. The fire department refused to issue NoC to RUSH hospital, Lotus hospital and ESI hospital.

The Purnas Remedy hospital, DBR hospital, Sankalpa hospital, Narayanadri hospital and Amara hospital have obtained fire NOC, said Kiran Kumar Reddy, assistant district fire officer in Tirupati.

20 critically ill die due to lack of oxygen in Delhi

Delhi grappling with shortage of oxygen as Covid rises

BHASKAR HARI SHARMA | DC
NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

Twenty people died at Delhi's Jaipur Golden Hospital as medical oxygen supply was not replenished on Saturday, exposing the danger to critically ill Covid patients admitted in the national capital.

The hospital in south-west Delhi's Rohini locality had feared the worst and predicted a disaster could repeat itself a day after 25 patients died at the Ganga Ram Hospital.

"Next impending oxygen crisis in Jaipur Golden Hospital. Over 200 lives at stake if liquid medical oxygen is not supplied by 9 pm tonight," the hospital had tweeted at 7.15 pm.

Medical Director D.K. Baluja said, "Oxygen pressure has dipped as we are running out of stock."

The hospital officials added that over 80 per cent of the 200 patients in the hospital were on oxygen support and 35 were in the ICU.

At the Ganga Ram Hospital, authorities struggled to avoid a repeat of the earlier day's tragedy. The hospital requires a minimum of 11,000 cubic metres of oxygen daily but was left with just 200 cubic metres when a tanker with 1.5 tonnes of oxygen arrived at 11.35 am, officials said.

"Now it is at 0.7 tonnes,

NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

The Delhi High Court said on Saturday that if any official at the Central, state or local administration was obstructing in the picking up or supply of oxygen, then it would "hang" that person. The observation by a bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rekha Palli came during the hearing of a plea by Maharaja Agra-sen Hospital over shortage of oxygen for seriously ill Covid patients.

The court told the Delhi government to give it one instance of who was obstructing the oxygen supply and said "we will hang that man". "We will not spare anyone," the bench added. It told the Delhi government to inform the Centre also about such officials of the local administration so that it could take action against them. The HC also asked the Centre when the 480 metric ton-ne (MT) of oxygen per day allocated for Delhi would see the light of the day.

"You (Centre) had assured us (on April 21) that 480 MT per day will reach Delhi. Tell us when will it come? The 480 MT per day is still to see the light of the day," the court said.

The Court directed the Centre and Delhi to coordinate between themselves for arranging the cryogenic tankers to ensure that hospitals in the national capital are given the complete allocated quantity of 480 MTs of oxygen.

The High Court asked the Delhi government to set up its own oxygen plant and said that a smooth and fully allocated supply of oxygen to Delhi can resolve many problems. The court on Saturday also pulled up the Delhi government for not providing proper suggestions to the Centre regarding supply of oxygen from nearby plants in place of its allocated oxygen supply from plants in West Bengal and Odisha. It also asked the Delhi government to make arrangements for tankers.

The bench also asked the Centre on Saturday about the arrangements being made to deal with the rise in Covid cases.

which will last for one hour only," hospital chairperson D.S. Rana said in a statement released around 2 pm. "We are getting supplies of 500 to 1500 cubic meters only. We have 516 Covid patients, of which 129 are in ICU and 29 on invasive ventilation. These 29 patients are on manual ventilation since midnight due to scarcity of supplies. This can't go on for long, the staff is getting exhausted," he said.

"Hospital has and is approaching all authorities and nodal officers but no help is coming. Hundreds of calls made, nobody picking the calls," he added.

In a pincer effect, the shortage of oxygen and the explosion in the number of cases in Delhi together stretched healthcare infrastructure to its limits, leaving hospitals big and small struggling and coming up with band aid solutions — limited supplies to see them through for the next few hours before placing another SOS call.

AP targets vax for 1.5 cr youth

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, APRIL 24

The Andhra Pradesh government aims to administer Covid-19 vaccine free of cost to nearly 1.5 crore youths aged above 18 years from May 1. State health authorities are getting some 1,400 vaccination centres ready for the purpose.

From the start of the vaccination in the state on January 16, some nine lakh persons have been given the jabs so far. These included frontline warriors including health care staff and those above 45 years, the original target being 11 lakh persons.

"A good number of people aged above 45 years, out of a total of nearly 80 lakh, have been vaccinated so far while vaccination of both the first and second dose is going on for the remaining targeted beneficiaries," officials said. Though the state has big plans for administering the jabs to those between 18 and 45 years, the coverage will be based on the quantum of vaccine doses that are available to the state.

The state has set a record by administering 6.2 lakh doses of the jab in a day, thanks to the presence of a strong health infrastructure backed by the commitment of the health care personnel to fight the menace.

"The health department is planning to administer nearly five lakh doses per day subject to availability of doses in order to vaccinate all the targeted beneficiaries in an expeditious manner," officials said.

LOKESH DEMANDS CANCELLATION OF SSC, INTER EXAMS

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, APRIL 24

Telugu Desam national general-secretary Nara Lokesh lashed out at the Jagan Mohan Reddy government for 'not cancelling or postponing' Class 10 and Intermediate exams, in accordance with the appeals made by thousands of students and parents in view of rising Covid-19 cases, on Saturday.

Addressing a press conference here, Lokesh expressed his fears about examinations turning into Covid-19 super spreaders. He said that after he wrote a letter to CM Jagan Mohan Reddy, the latter seems to have taken a "more stubborn attitude, with total disregard for the safety of students."

Lokesh asked why had the government failed to understand that preventive measures would be very difficult to implement in examination centres. Stating that not even six students can be accommodated in a room if six feet distance has to be maintained, he added that there was a lack of infrastructure to meet this demand. "The government promised to give face masks to each family but had failed to fulfil the same," he said.

Lokesh also demanded an explanation from the CM as to why his government turned indifferent to the 48-hour deadline issued by the TD regarding cancellation of exams.

He stated that even the CBSE and ICSE boards have cancelled their exams.

SURESH TO TD, JS: DON'T CREATE PANIC AMONG STUDENTS

DC CORRESPONDENT
ANANTAPUR, APRIL 24

Education minister Adimulapu Suresh lashed out at MLC Nara Lokesh and Jana Sena chief Pawan Kalyan for creating panic among students and their parents.

Reacting to the ongoing issues and demands to cancel Class 10 exams by Opposition leaders, Suresh said, "We already discussed and obtained opinions from parents regarding conduct of Class 10 exams. The final decision on whether to conduct the exams, or cancel them, will be announced soon after analysing the situation. In fact, our top priorities are both - health of students and their academic future."

"Instead of giving appropriate advice to the government during the peak of Covid-19 pandemic, the TD and Jana Sena are throwing mud at the state government," said Suresh while addressing the media after the convocation ceremony at JNTU-A. He further said that the quality and standard of education in the state sets a role model for the country but the TD leaders were "unable to digest facts."

Suresh added that the total number of exam papers were reduced to seven, and asked the leaders of Opposition parties to stop their political tricks to defame the government.

The minister also unveiled the statue of Sri Krishnadevaraya, Vijayanagar emperor, on Sri Krishnadevaraya University premises on the occasion of their convocation.

AYYANNA OBJECTS TO THE MANNER OF DHULIPALLA ARREST

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, APRIL 24

Former minister and Telugu Desam politburo member Ch. Ayyanna Patrudu on Saturday strongly objected to the manner in which their party former MLA Dhulipalla Narendra Kumar was arrested as if he was a terrorist trying to escape from the law of the land.

He asked the government to explain whether it was wrong on the part of Narendra to bring the Sangam Dairy under the Companies Act. He recalled that even the Visakhapatnam was also brought under this Act but the Jagan Mohan Reddy regime has not initiated similar action against them.

Addressing a press conference here, Ayyanna termed it as a sadistic step on the part of the YSRC government to harass and arrest a leader who had the record of getting elected as an MLA for five consecutive terms previously.

He said the ACB and the CID officials should discharge their duties in an impartial manner without succumbing to the pressure from the ruling party leaders.

PEOPLE ADVISED NOT TO PANIC SEEING MORE DEAD BODIES AT CREMATORIA

DC CORRESPONDENT
VIJAYAWADA, APRIL 24

Covid-19 state nodal officer Dr Arja Srikanth advised people against panicking over news of more number of dead bodies being burnt in crematoria, assuming them all to be Coronavirus-infected persons.

Srikanth said he had visited Gunadala and Krishnalanka crematoria in the city.

Gunadala crematorium had eight to nine dead bodies of people. But they had died of natural causes on the same day and their bodies brought for cremation. He pointed out that it takes nearly four hours for a dead body to turn into ashes.

With regard to Krishnalanka electric crematorium, the Covid nodal officer said it is cremating eight to 10 bodies due to natural deaths and a few bodies of those who have died due to Covid-19.

He turned critical about a section of media for giving widespread publicity claiming all dead bodies belong to people infected with Covid-19. He advised such media to desist from spreading misinformation.

DOUBLE STANDARDS No Covid-19 negative certificate needed for people entering Seema from Karnataka

Bengaluru contributing to rising cases in Seema

DC CORRESPONDENT
ANANTAPUR, APRIL 24

Lack of restrictions and preventive measures at border check posts along the Karnataka border have led to a substantial increase in the number of cases reported in Rayalaseema region.

While passengers entering into borders of Bengaluru are required to carry a Covid-19 negative certificate, no such measures are there when it comes to people entering Rayalaseema from neighbouring Karnataka.

A 25-year-old youth working as a software engineer in Bengaluru tested positive a few days ago after returning home in Anantapur. The youth had to be treated at a private hospital for more than a week.

Saturday saw 1,066 positive cases being reported in Anantapur district, 215 from Hindupur town, which is closer to Bengaluru city. 549 cases have been witnessed in Kadapa, 1,306 in Chittoor and 820 in Kurnool district. Four deaths have been reported in Anantapur district.

Serious cases are invariably referred to Bengaluru due to lack of proper medical services in Anantapur district and other parts of Rayalaseema region.

Sources said at least four persons hailing from the district have died owing to Coronavirus in Bengaluru hospitals in the past two days. A 35-year-old youth from Madakasira town died at a private hospital in Bengaluru on Friday.

Sources said Bangalore corporation authorities were not handling over dead bodies but conducting cremations or burials in Bengaluru itself.

With night curfew and restrictions in Bengaluru city and other district headquarters in Karnataka, a large number of migrant labourer have been returning to their native villages in Rayalaseema.

Farm labourers from Anantapur and parts of Kurnool and Chittoor districts depend on Bengaluru for employment during summer seasons. All of them have returned home following rise in Covid cases in Bengaluru city.

Hundreds of buses, taxis and trains operate from AP and TS to Bengaluru and vice versa every day. "There are no restrictions on them. Only state government can take a decision on imposing minimum preventive measures at border check posts," a senior official from Anantapur said.

Covid-19 cases in the district are increasing day by day. According to the health bulletin issued by the district medical health department on Saturday, 549 cases have been registered in the past 24 hours, the highest number of reported cases in the district after the onset of the second wave.

The highest numbers of cases were reported from Kadapa, Proddatur, Rajampet, Rayachoti, Pulivendula and Badvel areas.

According to the health bulletin on Saturday, 4,865 people were tested and 549 reported positive.

At present, 588 people are being treated at Kadapa Rims and Proddatur Covid-19 hospitals. In addition, 1,506 people are in home isolation. About 200 people recovered and were discharged after Corona treatment.

However, there are still allegations that many people are wandering around taking self-medication without even mentioning the Covid-19 symptoms. Doctors say the Covid-19 outbreak is exacerbated by them. It is recommended to undergo a test even if there is any minor symptom.

There are no containment zones anywhere unlike last year. Positive victims are roaming wherever they are. The virus is spreading from one person to another. Some do not even show any symptoms. With that they are wandering outside. Most people do not wear masks. Sanitisers are not widely used anywhere. Physical distance is not observed at all. Crowds gather at tea shops and soft drink centers without masks. Not more than 50 people were allowed to attend weddings and functions last year. Hundreds of people are attending now that there are no such regulations. Political meetings and inaugurations are going on as usual. It is felt that it will be difficult to prevent the spread of Covid-19 unless the government steps in and imposes restrictions.

Collector Chevuru Harikiran has decided to increase the number of Covid-19 beds.

Justice Ramana had ensured end of internet ban in Kashmir

PARMOD KUMAR | DC with agency inputs
NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

Justice Nuthalapati Venkata Ramana on Saturday was sworn as Chief Justice of India. He was administered the oath of office by President Ram Nath Kovind. He is the 48th Chief Justice of India with a term of a little over one year and four months until August 26, 2022.

The swearing in ceremony of Justice Ramana, amongst others dignitaries, was attended by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Vice-president M. Venkaiah Naidu, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad and his predecessor Sharad A. Bobde.

Justice Bobde had his last working day in the top court on April 23. Justice Ramana was elevated as a judge of the top court on February 17, 2014.

Born in an agricultural family on August 27, 1957, in Ponnavaram village, Krishna District, Justice Ramana did his B.Sc., B.L and was enrolled as an advocate on February 10, 1983.

Justice Ramana began his career as a journalist of a leading Telugu newspaper for a short while before turning to legal practice in 1983.

During his student days, he was known as an activist, involved in the issues concerning farmers and industrial workers.

Justice Ramana was appointed

● He was also a part of a five-judge constitution bench of the top court that had in a landmark verdict in 2016 ordered restoration of the Congress government in Arunachal Pradesh. The bench had said the “clock should be turned back” as it quashed all decisions of the governor that precipitated its fall in January, holding them “violative” of the Constitution.

as a permanent Judge of the Andhra Pradesh High Court on June 27, 2000. He functioned as Acting Chief Justice of Andhra Pradesh High Court from March 10, 2013 to May 20, 2013.

He was appointed as the Chief Justice of Delhi High Court on September 2, 2013.

The new chief Justice of India, has authored path-breaking verdicts as a Supreme Court judge and one of them led to the end of internet ban in Jammu and Kashmir, and another brought the apex court under the ambit of transparency law.

He will demit office on August 26 next year and have to deal with key task of ensuring smooth functioning of apex court amid resurgence of the coronavirus pandemic. The judgement penned by Justice Ramana in the Anuradha Bhasin case related to internet ban in Jammu and Kashmir following the abrogation of Article 370 provisions has been hailed by many as one of the progressive verdicts.

It held that freedom of speech and conducting business on the internet are protected under the Constitution and had directed the Jammu and Kashmir administration to immediately review curb orders.

The bench had directed the authorities in the Union territory to immediately review all orders suspending internet services and said orders not in accordance with the law must be revoked.

A five-judge constitution bench headed by Justice Ramana had in March last year declined to refer to a larger seven-judge bench a batch of pleas challenging the constitutional validity of the Centre’s decision to abrogate provisions of Article 370.

He was part of a five-judge constitution bench that had held in November 2019 that the office of the CJI was a public authority under the Right to Information Act.

In the November 2019 verdict, the top court had also said “judicial independence has to be kept in mind” while disclosing information in “public interest”.

He was also a part of a five-judge constitution bench of the top court that had in a landmark verdict in 2016 ordered restoration of the Congress government in Arunachal Pradesh.

Elizabeth City (US), April 24: Seven North Carolina deputies have been placed on leave in the aftermath of a PoC man being shot and killed by members of their department serving drug-related search and arrest warrants, authorities said Friday.

The disclosure comes as calls increase for the release of deputy body camera footage amid signs, including emergency scanner traffic, that Andrew Brown Jr. was shot in the back and killed as he was trying to drive away.

Pasquotank County Sheriff's Office Maj. Aaron Wallio confirmed the number of deputies on leave due to the shooting in an email Friday.

New crew reaches ISS

Washington, April 24: A recycled SpaceX Crew Dragon capsule carrying four astronauts docked with the International Space Station early Saturday, the third time Elon Musk's company has safely delivered humans to the orbital outpost. The spacecraft named Endeavour, piloting herself autonomously, locked on to a docking port at 5:08 am Eastern time (0908 GMT), some 260 miles (420 kilometers) above the south Indian Ocean.

Two hours after the process was completed, Endeavour's quartet posed for photos with the last crew of four sent by SpaceX, and three Russian cosmonauts — making the ISS unusually crowded with 11 people in total.

CHAUVIN TO BE SENTENCED ON JUNE 16

Minneapolis, April 24: Sacked US police officer Derek Chauvin will be sentenced on June 16 for the murder of African American George Floyd in a case that sparked nationwide anti-racism protests. The Hennepin County District Court in the Midwestern city of Minneapolis, where handcuffed Floyd died last May, said in its online schedule that the white ex-cop will be sentenced at 1:30 pm (1830 GMT).

The ex-officer — who knelt on Floyd's neck for more than nine minutes — faces up to 40 years in prison after being found guilty of all charges Tuesday over the death of the unarmed man.

The crime was recorded by a bystander whose video shocked the world, triggering mass protests across the United States and beyond, while also prompting a national reckoning on racial injustice and police brutality.

Last year's killing of Floyd as he lay face down and handcuffed saying repeatedly “I can't breathe” has prompted some police reforms, but advocates, including President Joe Biden, say more is needed.

While the Chauvin trial progressed, Minneapolis was rocked by the police shooting of yet another African American.

Clot: US lifts J&amp;J vax pause

Washington, April 24: US health officials lifted an 11-day pause on Covid-19 vaccinations using Johnson & Johnson's single-dose shot, after scientific advisers decided its benefits outweigh a rare risk of blood clot.

The government uncovered 15 vaccine recipients who developed a highly unusual kind of blood clot, out of nearly 8 million people given the J&J shot. All were women, most under age 50. Three died, and seven remain hospitalised.

But ultimately Friday, the Food and Drug Administration and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention decided that J&J's one-and-done vaccine is critical to fight the pandemic and that the small clot risk could be handled with warnings to help younger women decide if they should use that shot or an alternative.

Above all else, health and safety are at the forefront of our decisions, CDC Director Dr. Rochelle Walensky said. Our vaccine safety systems are working. We identified exceptionally rare events out of millions of doses” of the J&J shot and will continue to monitor them.

The US decision similar to how European regulators are rolling out J&J's shot comes after CDC advisers earlier Friday voted 10-4 to resume vaccinations but panelists made clear that they must come with warnings about the risk. The group debated but ultimately steered clear of outright age restrictions. This is an age group that is most at risk (of the clotting) that is getting vaccine predominantly to save other peoples' lives and morbidity, not their own. And I think we have a responsibility to be certain that they know this,” said Dr. Sarah Long of Drexel University College of Medicine, who voted against the proposal because she felt it did not go far enough in warning women. The panel members all agreed the J&J vaccine “should be put back into circulation, chairman Dr. Jose Romero, Arkansas' health secretary, said. — AP

New, more potent virus strain in Lanka

Colombo, April 24: A new Coronavirus strain that is airborne and more potent than all those found previously in Sri Lanka has been discovered in the island nation.

The variant, which is highly transmissible, can remain airborne for nearly an hour and is spreading fast, Neelika Malavige, the head of the Department of Immunology and Molecular Sciences of the Sri Jayawardenapura University said.

This variant of Coronavirus is more highly transmissible than all found so far in the island. The droplets can remain airborne for nearly an hour, Malavige said. Health authorities feared that the new variant is spreading rapidly after last week's New Year celebrations with more younger people getting infected.

In the next two incubation periods, the disease can progress to a third wave, Upul Rohana, of the Public Health Inspectors said. — PTI

NZ PAUSES TRAVEL BUBBLE WITH W. AUSTRALIA AFTER VIRUS CASE

Wellington, April 24: New Zealand on Friday paused arrivals from Western Australia, temporarily excluding the state's travellers from a quarantine-free bubble between the countries due to a Covid-19 outbreak.

“As set out in our Trans-Tasman bubble protocols, travel between New Zealand and Western Australia has been paused, pending further advice from the state government,” a statement on the New Zealand government website said.

Earlier on Friday the Perth and Peel regions were sent into a three-day lockdown after Western Australia recorded its first community transmission of the virus in 12 months. A man in his 50s, who recently left hotel quarantine, flew into Melbourne from Perth on Wednesday and tested positive for the Coronavirus earlier Friday. — AFP

GERMANY BERLIN RESTRICTS TRAVEL FROM 'HIGH-RISK' INDIA

Berlin, April 24: Germany will shut out all travellers arriving from India apart from its own citizens, Health Minister Jens Spahn said Saturday, as a new variant has made the South Asian country the latest Coronavirus hotspot. “We're very worried about the new mutation of the virus discovered in India. So as not to endanger our vaccination programme, India travel has to be significantly limited,” Spahn told the Funke newspaper group. — AFP

KUWAIT ALL COMMERCIAL FLIGHTS FROM INDIA SUSPENDED

Dubai, April 24: Kuwait on Saturday suspended all direct commercial flights from India due to the worsening Covid-19 situation in the country.

The move came after instructions from health authorities. Kuwait's directorate general of civil aviation said that it had suspended all direct commercial flights from India, effective April 24. ## OUT OF THE CAVE

Lombrives Cave, April 24: Ever wonder what it would feel like to unplug from a hyperconnected world and hide away in a cave for a few weeks? Fifteen people in France found out.

After 40 days in voluntary isolation in a dark, damp and vast cave, eight men and seven women who took part in a scientific experiment emerged Saturday from their self-segregation in the Pyrenees. With big smiles on their pale faces, the 15 participants exited the Lombrives cave to a round of applause and basked in the light of day while wearing special glasses to protect their eyes after so long in the dark. “It's really warm!” said one.

For 40 days and 40 nights, the group lived in and explored the cave without a sense of time. There were no clocks and no sunlight inside, where the temperature was 10 degrees Celsius (50 F) and the relative humidity stood at 100 per cent. The cave dwellers had no contact with the outside world, no updates on the pandemic or any communication with friends and family above ground.

Tehran, April 24: Iran's state-run IRNA news agency is reporting the country's civil aviation agency has banned all flights to and from India and Pakistan because of the dramatic surge in Coronavirus cases in the two nations.

IRNA says the decision was made by Iran's Health Ministry and it takes effect Saturday at midnight.

Mohammad Hassan Zibakhsh, spokesman for Iran's Civil Aviation Organisation noted there are no routine flights between Iran and India and flights are operated occasionally.

He said flights to and from 41 countries were prohibited in Iran, while those who want to fly to other countries listed as high risk are required to have a test in Iran. — AP

Lost submarine sank: Indonesia

Says vessel went down, cracked open April 21

Banyuwangi (Indonesia), April 24: Indonesia's navy on Saturday said items were found from a missing submarine, indicating the vessel with 53 crew members had sunk and cracked open, and that there was no hope of finding survivors.

Military chief Hadi Tjahjanto said the presence of an oil slick as well as the discovery of debris near the location of KRI Nanggala 402's last dive on Wednesday off the island of Bali were clear proof of the vessel had sunk.

Indonesia earlier considered the vessel to be only missing. Navy Chief Yudo Margono told a press conference in Bali, “If it's an explosion, it will be in pieces. The cracks happened gradually in some parts when it went down from 300 metres to 400 metres to 500 metres...If there was an explosion, it would be heard by the sonar.” The navy previously said it believes the submarine sank to a depth of 600-700 metres (2,000-2,300 feet), much deeper than its collapse depth of 200 metres (655 feet), at which point water pressure would be greater than the hull could withstand. The cause of the disappearance was still uncertain.

● THE NAVY previously said it believes the submarine sank to a depth of 600-700 metres (2,000-2,300 feet), much deeper than its collapse depth of 200 metres (655 feet), at which point water pressure would be greater than the hull could withstand.

The navy had previously said an electrical failure could have left the submarine unable to execute emergency procedures to resurface. Margono said in the past two days, searchers found parts of a torpedo straightener, a grease bottle believed to be used to oil the periscope, debris from prayer rugs and a broken piece from a coolant pipe that was refitted on the submarine in South Korea in 2012. “With the authentic evidence we found believed to be from the submarine, we have now moved from the submiss' phase to sub sunk,” Margono said at the press conference, in which the items were displayed.

Margono said rescue teams from Indonesia and other countries will evaluate the findings. He said no bodies have been found so far. Officials previously said the submarine's oxygen supply would have run out early Saturday. An American reconnaissance plane, a P-8 Poseidon, landed Saturday and was set to join the search, along with 20 Indonesian ships, a sonar-equipped Australian warship and four Indonesian aircraft. Singaporean rescue ships were expected Saturday, while Malaysian rescue vessels were due Sunday. — AP

Israel, Gaza engage in exchange of fire

Jerusalem, April 24: Palestinian militants in the Gaza Strip fired some three dozen rockets into Israel overnight Saturday, while the Israeli military struck back at targets operated by the ruling Hamas group. The exchange came as tensions in Jerusalem spilled over into the worst round of cross-border violence in months. The barrage of rocket fire came as hundreds of Palestinians clashed with Israeli police in east Jerusalem.

The clashes, in which at least four police and six protesters were injured, have become a nightly occurrence throughout the Muslim holy month of Ramadan and show no signs of stopping. Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu says he held talks with top security officials about Gaza and Jerusalem. He said he instructed officials to be ready “for every scenario” in Gaza. In Jerusalem, he said Israel would guarantee “freedom of worship” for everyone, and he appealed for calm.

“We ask now for people to obey the law and I call for a calming of tempers on all sides.” The UN envoy to the region, Tor Wennesland, condemned the violence and said the United Nations was working with all sides to restore calm. “The provocative acts across Jerusalem must cease. The indiscriminate launching of rockets towards Israeli population centres violates international law and must stop immediately,” he said. “I reiterate my call upon all sides to exercise maximum restraint and avoid further escalation, particularly during the Holy month of Ramadan and this politically charged time for all.”

Meanwhile, Israeli chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Aviv Kochavi, is weighing “a series of steps for possible responses,” and preparations if the situation continued to escalate, the military said in a statement. He also postponed a trip to the United States that was scheduled for Sunday. The US also appealed for calm, while neighbouring Jordan, which serves as the custodian for Jerusalem's Muslim holy sites, condemned Israel's actions.

Jerusalem, home to holy sites sacred to Jews, Christians and Muslims, has long been a flashpoint in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. In 2014, similar tensions erupted into a 50-day war between Israel and Gaza's ruling Hamas militant group.

The Israeli military said a total of 36 rockets were fired into Israel throughout the night. It said six rockets were intercepted, while most of the others landed in open areas. There were no reports of injuries. — AP

Biden: Atrocities against Armenians were genocide

Washington, April 24 : President Joe Biden has formally recognised that the systematic killings and deportations of hundreds of thousands of Armenians by Ottoman Empire forces in the early 20th century were “genocide” — using a term for the atrocities that his White House predecessors have avoided for decades over concerns of alienating Turkey.

LANKAN EX-MINISTER, BROTHER ARRESTED OVER EASTER ATTACKS

Colombo, April 24: Sri Lankan Police on Saturday arrested a former minister and his brother for allegedly aiding and abetting the suicide bombers responsible for the 2019 Easter Sunday attacks in which 258 people, including 11 Indians, were killed. ## Hope and sorrow in the time of C-virus

A ghost lives in my body and watches over the state of my heart. It does not take up space. It refuses food and drink, and speaks only when spoken to. I consult it when I need to identify my feelings. For my benefit, it keeps a record of them. For some reason, strange or otherwise, I alone was never an adept at that.

The only time the ghost speaks to me of its own accord is when I am tired. Whenever I expend myself beyond my lung capacity, it tells me: This is how it felt for him, too, when, for instance, he resumed breathing for your sake, twice coming out from under ventilation. And the cold finger of guilt grips my heart.

The first time I heard the ghost speak was when I was perspiring over the griddle a full year after Baba died.

Baba went under ventilation three Marches ago, in the late spring of 2018. The lone tree tucked away at the back of the interstate bus terminus was full of stars.

Baba did not die of the coronavirus. Following cardiac and kidney failure, he died of septic shock. Between the two illnesses, the pneumonia was the common factor.

Baba, a doctor, has missed out on the whole pandemic plus the vaccine conversations.

I have given up exercising for fitness. There is no one to perform for, vie against, show off. It puts me on a better footing than the children in my neighbourhood, fretting because they want to but cannot play. Less than a month ago, I saw a desi mother supervising their games in the park as I silently applauded her. To me, she was the pith of society, salt of the earth. That was then, though. This is now. In-between, the coronavirus has exploded and is now spreading furious and fast.

Less than a month ago, I saw a desi mother supervising their games in the park as I silently applauded her. To me, she was the pith of society, salt of the earth. That was then, though. This is now. In-between, the coronavirus has exploded and is now spreading furious and fast.

Despite its no-pussyfooting bravado and stupendous majority, the government did not declare a lockdown on Holi. The Kumbh continued uninterrupted. The virus, meanwhile, reached the interiors and the second wave has since surpassed the first one. The daily case count is over three lakhs. Experts say the peak is many weeks away. India is notorious for its non-existent chains of primary and secondary medical infrastructure. My husband held that these omissions on the part of the government — failing to declare a curfew, call off the Kumbh and so on — fell on its policy blindspot.

Well, one didn't. The decision to hold an eight-phase legislative assembly election, ongoing in the present, was deliberate. My home state, West Bengal, was chosen for this singular punishment.

Our leaders thus dropped the ball when our severely constrained health workers had almost won the match. The latter slogged away alone. Many did not return home in days. The hospitals were full of despair.

A young man asked a photographer to click the smoke coming out of his mother's pyre. She was there.

The high courts stepped in. They bore upon the Centre to direct uninterrupted transport of oxygen across state borders. India is the world's largest producer of industrial grade oxygen. But earlier, state governments had refused to come on the same page on this simplest of measures.

Even though I am his eldest, I am not going to my hometown to perform Baba's annual rite. My younger sister will fill in for me. The coronavirus is a factor. But what made the decision for me is my awareness from the start that I have not been a good child. While he never needed me to, I did not help Baba take care of the family. No one took care of him, on the other hand. I spurned his wish for me to become a doctor. For the sake of my journalistic quest, I abandoned him.

My rishirin to Baba will be paid when I complete my memoir of our differences. Baba was a flawed man. But no one, including a never-genuinely exceptional me, had a mind like Baba's.

Periodically, the seed of my guilt bursts on my skin in angry hives. When I work very hard and accomplish a minuscule amount of good it goes away. I risk losing a bit of my memory of Baba whenever that occurs.

The young child I know in our condominium has started school. But school is online and she does not speak a word, and I worry that the lack of physical contact with classmates and peers will further rob her of that incentive. Whenever we meet, I am infected by her boundless energy. But she is more poised than I ever will be and never exposes her weak spots. Like her inability to articulate. Her absence of vocabulary.

I, too, had once chosen certainty over sharing, but I had been pushed to do that.

I dream of her growing up. To being from nothingness, darkness to light. Like Vak, daughter of Ambhrin, she will give a name to all existence, one by one, that will, in turn, give rise to noun, thought, knowledge and identity. That day, should I be around, she will probably look into my eyes with those great big ones of hers and there will be a reckoning. Or there will be not.

An AWOL government

Manish Tewari

State of the Union

It is like a nightmarish deja-vu moment for me. Opening the debate on the demands for grants for the ministry of health and family welfare in the Lok Sabha on March 17, 2021, I, at the outset, stated: "Mr Speaker Sir, this discussion is taking place at a point in time when the world is being engulfed, if not overwhelmed, by the second wave of coronavirus infections." These words have unfortunately proven to be prophetic in the case of our nation.

The last two weeks have been a nightmare for India as the second wave of Covid-19 hit the nation in all its fury. Overflowing hospitals, oxygen scarcity, hoarded life-saving drugs being sold on the black market, diagnostic centres stretched to a breaking point and hospitals approaching the courts to maintain oxygen supplies. The worst is even cremation and burial grounds not being able to cope with inflow of dead bodies and death numbers literally being fudged. People are being cremated on makeshift platforms set up on public pavements — denied dignity even in death.

The imagery of the past fortnight could not have been more bizarre. On one hand, the Prime Minister and home minister were addressing frenzied supporters in West Bengal and, on the other hand, sick and even dying people were being turned back from hospitals for lack of space.

The government is AWOL— absent without leave. What is, however, even far more felonious if it turns out to be true is that the Indian-origin double mutant strain, B.1.1.67, that is responsible for the current rent rampage, was first detected as way back on the 5th of October 2020. Since both earlier mutations, E84Q and L425R, were discovered in the virus' crucial spike protein, its devastation potential should have been sequenced on a war footing. Instead, it was consigned to the back burner and never taken seriously because Covid infection numbers had started declining.

How could we have missed the second wave of Covid-19 with all the empirical evidence of hundred years of history staring us straight in the face? Downright negligence, coupled with hubris, made the governments, both at the Centre and some in the states, let their guard down.

Surprisingly, when the Prime Minister addressed the nation on Tuesday night, he said lockdown should we used as a measure of the last resort. On March 23, 2020, when India was at 341 cases and only seven dead, he was the most enthusiastic champion of a national lockdown.

All through the whole of last year, ministers and spokespersons of the NDA/BJP alliance kept touting it as the magic bullet that had saved millions of lives. Jan Hai To Jahan Hai (If there is life there would be paradise) — they sang in chorus. One year later, the Prime Minister and his band of not-so-merry men are singing an entirely different tune.

With a 32 lakh crore hole in the Union budget spread over two fiscals, 2020-21 and 2021-22, and no cushion to fall back upon, for the economy has been grossly mismanaged going back to the illogical demonetisation in November 2016, livelihoods are now being prioritised over lives. If the wheels of the economy do not keep ticking, the Union government stares at the spectre of bankruptcy.

With a 32 lakh crore hole in the Union budget spread over two fiscals, 2020-21 and 2021-22, and no cushion to fall back upon, for the economy has been grossly mismanaged, livelihoods are now being prioritised over lives

It is, therefore, not trite that even in times of a raging pandemic, the allocations in the Union budget for health in the current fiscal are at best tardy. I had pointed this out during the Parliament debate.

In 2020-21, the ministry received an allocation of ₹67,112 crores. This is an increase of a measly 3.9 per cent over the revised estimates of 2019-20 ₹64,609 crores. In 2019-20, the cumulative public health expenditure of all the states put together was a meagre ₹1,96,659 crores. The Union government's performance was even worse at ₹36,339 crores.

We all know India's health system is in shambles. Last year in these columns, I had argued that what we need is a new health deal for India. I had calculated that India requires an infrastructure investment of ₹6 lakh crores to rebuild its public health system bottom upwards. The human resource cost to staff it is separate.

Given this state of play, a second wave meant that it would be each to their own. One would be primarily responsible for saving one's own life and those of one's loved ones.

Had we not experienced the same a year back? The disadvantaged sections of our society — the millions of internal migrants who keep the wheels of our economy turning — were compelled to walk home as they were doused with with chlorine water, cane-charged and made to suffer a million other ignominies by a callous state to prevent them from reaching their home and hearth. Once again as states announce lockdowns and curfews, you see the same stampede at bus stands and railway stations as people make a beeline back to their villages. The clock has turned a full cycle.

It, therefore, begs a question; Should people themselves not have come together to enforce Covid-appropriate behaviour during the lull when cases had come down? But given our intrinsic sense of fatalism — it is all in God's hands — we threw all caution to the winds. This, even when it is known that there is never a government when it is required the most.

Maybe, given the hand-to-mouth existence of the bulk of our people who need to migrate to urban agglomerations to keep their body and soul together, it is not even humanly possible to think beyond the next meal. They are thus destined to play the Russian roulette, for the choice is a really a binary between death by hunger or death by virus.

Will this situation ever change? Can we build a state-of-the-art education and healthcare system for our people? The answer is yes. However, it would first and foremost require population control. With 135 crore people and growing by the minute, it is just not possible for any system to provide even the basic level of amenities required for a decent living. A broad national consensus regarding the need to contain population needs to be created at the earliest. How many more tragedies would it take to understand this?

VACCINES

The nation is in the darkest days of the pandemic and still darker days are not ruled out (No time to lose, ramp up vaccine production now, DC, April 24). There has been an astronomical surge in Covid cases. The Centre and all states need to pool in resources to meet the demand without political bickerings. The ruling dispensation has to scale up production of vaccines immediately. Medical infrastructure has to be declared as the "thrust area" in the country as Coronavirus will be there for long.

Dr C. Ghanshyam

SECOND WAVE

Though various reports predicted a second wave of Coronavirus more virulent than the first, the Centre could not wake up from slumber. As a result the nation is facing shortage of vaccine and emergency drugs like remdesivir. It is heart-breaking to read 25 patients dying due to lack of medical oxygen. The Union government's lack of coordination to ensure oxygen supply is becoming so clear. Why is the vaccine not being provided for free when there is a budget provision of ₹35,000 crore for it?

Pratapa Reddy Yaramala
Tiruvuru, Krishna district

The second Covid-19 wave has not yet reached its peak. Experts say careless people and governments have led to the rise of a new "double mutant" variant of Coronavirus in samples collected from India. Pace of vaccination should rise as it is a sure shot solution and people should maintain simple preventive measures known to everyone. Refusal to take vaccine is not a good sign as the risk of dying from Covid is higher than when one is vaccinated.

MODI'S CALL

It is well-known that Indian business people are always ready to exploit any emergency and adept at "managing" their escape through political clout. While this is a fact, there is no point in asking states to act against hoarders. The Centre should first declare a national health emergency. Paramilitary and Armed forces should be deployed urgently to tide over the situation.

Haryana law a bad example: Populism won't create new jobs

Haryana is the latest addition to the growing phenomenon where Indian states are formulating laws and policies to reserve jobs for locals in the private sector. Other states that have undertaken such measures, though with negligible implementation, include Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra. Is it a race to the top or the bottom? It is certainly petty, immoral and may not achieve its objectives.

The Haryana government recently enacted the Haryana State Employment of Local Candidates Act 2020, which requires private establishments that employ 10 or more workers to reserve 75 per cent of new jobs with a monthly salary of less than ₹50,000 for domiciles of Haryana.

It has resulted in a rift between the state government and the private sector, as evident from the backlash it has received from private entrepreneurs and industry bodies. Many private sector firms have threatened to move out.

This practice of regional protectionism has a ripple effect, that is likely to push other states to follow suit due to populist considerations, or a race to the bottom. It will end up restricting the freedom of workers to migrate and access better employment opportunities. It may also push employers to leave places where such laws are applicable. Most critically, it will lead to the erosion of national unity.

The perceived economic rationale of such laws — to generate jobs for locals and boost local industrial ecosystems — seems to get defeated.

To govern a commercial ecosystem, the state government is entitled and mandated to enact laws concerning land, labour, capital and energy.

These laws are meant to ensure smooth commercial activity. Each or both of the objectives forms the economic rationale towards formulation of a law. Additionally, under the new paradigm of stakeholder capitalism, the government, private sector, labour and civil society need to work in a compact over each other's actions for inclusive and mutually beneficial governance.

While enacting this law, the Haryana government failed to do adequate pre-legislative exercises to test its economic rationale. It also undermined its compact of cooperation with the private sector. The law restricts the opportunities of migrant workers and disrupts the industrial ecosystem of Haryana. It seems like an expression of the state government's insecurity towards unemployment and a classic example of ad hocism in law-making, driven by populism.

There already exists a trust deficit between the government and private sector, as each has avoided accountability towards the other on various occasions. The private sector knowingly failed to adequately distribute its acquired wealth and institutionalise precarious jobs. The government has overregulated the private sector, leading to a high compliance burden. The world is debating stakeholder capitalism vs shareholder capitalism: to ensure that every enterprise works for society, not just its owners.

In both instances of state supervision of business, however, labour has borne the brunt of the adverse consequences. What is unfortunate is that self-interest, rather than mutual interest, drives the solution of modern economic problems.

There is nonalignment between the problem statement specified in the statement of objects and reasons of the Haryana law and its objectives.

The statement specifies the influx of migrants competing for low-paid jobs as the prime reason for the adverse impact on local infrastructure and housing, and proliferation of slums. It further attributes these factors to the rise of environmental and health issues, thus affecting the quality of life and livelihood.

It's true there is migrant influx for low-paid jobs in Haryana or the entire National Capital Region as it is in Mumbai or Kolkata. There can be two possible reasons. First, availability of abundant work opportunities under different industry segments; and second, lack of work in the states where the workers migrate from.

However, the primary reason for the burden on local infrastructure, housing and proliferation of slums is not the presence of migrants. It can be attributed to factors like lack of state capacity in undertaking welfare measures, non-availability of decent jobs in the private sector. Further, the quality of life and livelihood is affected for the same reasons.

Therefore, the solution to address this doesn't lie in reserving jobs for locals but in enhancing the investment on local infrastructure, welfare measures and strengthening skill development initiatives. The solution also demands ensuring decent work for low-paid workers in particular. Decent work implies that the primary needs of workers, including health, food, shelter and clothing, are fulfilled. It also places a worker in a position where monetary savings are ensured and there is an opportunity for skill enhancement.

Ensuring decent work is a goal in itself and has an economic rationale of increased productivity and development of human beings. Working towards it requires the efficient performance of the compact between the government, labour and the private sector.

The state governments also need to realise such quota enabling measures are accompanied by newer compliances for enterprises. The proliferation of compliance responsibilities dilute the state's agenda of facilitating the "ease of doing business" and also reduces the governance deficit.

The policies enabling employment quotas for locals is driven by populism. It has far-reaching consequences which goes beyond the direct impact on labour, the government and the private sector. It adversely affects the investment prospects for a commercial ecosystem, urban mobility of workers and has an immense opportunity cost. Therefore, any state action towards enhancing employment must be anchored through an economic rationale. This will be clear when the compact between the government, labour and the private sector is evidently functional.

HRW WELCOMES
RELEASE OF THAI
ACTIVISTS

Bangkok, April 24: A leading human rights group on Saturday welcomed the release on bail of two Thai activists charged with insulting the country's monarchy, but repeated its contention that the apparent use of pre-trial detention to punish anyone who criticizes the royal institution is unjust.

Jatupat Pai Dao Din Boonattarakas and Somyot Prukkasemsuk were released Friday evening from Bangkok Remand Center. They had been held on lese majeste charges of defaming the monarchy in connection with their involvement in a political rally last September. They have also been charged with sedition and several minor offenses.

Lese majeste carries a penalty of three to 15 years' imprisonment. The legal assistance group Thai Lawyers for Human Rights said the two men each posted 200,000 baht ($6,400) bail and were released on the condition that they must not leave the country or be involved in any activities that could damage the monarchy's reputation.

Holding pro-democracy activists in detention prior to trial and conviction on charges of insulting the monarchy seems aimed to punish them, in total disregard of fair trial procedures and the right to the presumption of innocence, said Sunai Phasuk, a senior researcher for Human Rights Watch.

It sends a clear message that not only are demands by pro-democracy groups for monarchy reforms not tolerated, but they would result in harsh punishment.

Jatupat and Somyot are prominent figures in a pro-democracy movement that started last year and held street demonstrations with three core demands: The resignation of Prime Minister Prayuth Chan-ocha and his government, amending the constitution to make it more democratic and reforming the monarchy to make it more accountable.

Dispute over Russian pipeline tests Biden's Europe outreach

Pressure on Prez to act, stop Moscow getting leverage over US allies

Washington, April 24: Pressure is growing on President Joe Biden to take action to prevent the completion of a Russian gas pipeline to Europe that many fear will give the Kremlin significant leverage over US partners and allies.

Yet such action could provoke an enormous rift in trans-Atlantic relations, notably with Germany, at a time when Biden has made restoring good ties with Europe a priority.

As the Nord Stream 2 pipeline nears completion, U.S. lawmakers from both parties have stepped up demands on a reluctant White House to impose new sanctions on Russian and European companies to halt the project.

But prospects of that happening would seem slim: Germany continues to support the project as it steps up consumption of natural gas, and the pipeline is roughly 95% finished.

Biden has said he opposes the pipeline, which is owned by Russian state company Gazprom, with

Biden's Georgia rally next week to promote jobs

Washington, April 24: President Joe Biden is heading to Georgia next week to mark his first 100 days in office and promote his infrastructure and jobs plan with a drive-in rally in Atlanta.

The White House said the president and his wife, Jill Biden, will travel to the state on April 29, a day after he delivers his first address to a joint session of Congress. In his address, he's expected to tout the accomplishments of his first 100 days in office and lay out his agenda for the rest of his term.

One of his next top priorities is a massive $ 2.3 trillion infrastructure plan, which provides funds to update the nation's infrastructure, shift to green energy and expand caregiving options for older and disabled Americans.

It will mark Biden's second visit to the state since becoming president. His first visit was to promote his Covid-19 relief package, but those plans were derailed by a series of shootings at Atlanta-area spas that killed eight people, including six Asian women. Biden instead spent his visit meeting with community leaders and state lawmakers from the Asian American and Pacific Islander community to discuss the events, which came amid an outbreak of anti-Asian violence nationwide during the Coronavirus pandemic.

His second visit comes as Georgia's controversial new voting law has put the state's election system in the spotlight. Biden has called the law Jim Crow in the 21st century. — AP investment from several European companies.

He has been keen to portray himself as tough on Russian President Vladimir Putin while being a strong supporter of Eastern European countries like Poland and Ukraine that are dead set against it as it bypasses both.

Of potentially greater concern to the US, the Russia-to-Germany pipeline would increase Western Europe's already heavy dependence on Russian energy while US-Russian tensions are soaring over a number of issues, including Ukraine, election interference, cyber intrusions and the crackdown on opposition figure Alexei

Officer shoots man who had charged at him with knives

Nashville (US), April 24: A Tennessee police officer fatally shot a man who charged at the officer with knives during a traffic stop early Saturday, authorities said.

Metropolitan Nashville Police Department Officer Christopher Royer has been placed on administrative assignment after he shot the man on a Nashville road, department spokesman Don Aaron said at a news conference.

The man died at a hospital, Aaron said. He was not immediately identified.

Royer was on patrol in his police car when he ran a license plate for a white Mercedes sedan, but the plate was actually registered to a green 1998 Chevrolet, Aaron said.

After the officer stopped the Mercedes, the passenger ran out of the car holding a knife in each hand, Aaron said.

The passenger began running around and briefly entered the driver's side door of Royer's police car, police body camera footage released at the news conference showed.

The man then ran toward Royer, who retreated about 25 yards from his police car, Aaron said. Royer could be heard on the video requesting backup, telling the passenger to drop the knives and saying, "I don't want to shoot you."

The man continued running at Royer, who fired three times, the video showed. The man fell onto the street.

Dude, what are you doing, man, come on, Royer said. I did not want to have to do that. Police Chief John Drake said five officers rendered aid to the man. Drake said Royer retreated and he asked the man to drop the knife several times in an attempt to de-escalate the situation. He continued charging at him, and he was left with no choice, Drake said. Drake said officers regularly run licence tags to determine if vehicles are stolen. Nashville police are issued stun guns, Drake said, but Royer did not appear to attempt to use it, according to the video.

That's a lethal situation, Drake said, calling the passenger's behaviour bizarre.

Officials say carrier to help protect Afghan pullout

Washington, April 24: The Pentagon has decided to keep an aircraft carrier in the Middle East to help provide protection for American and coalition troops during their planned withdrawal from Afghanistan in coming weeks, United States defence officials said on Friday.

Also, two United States Air Force bombers will be deployed to Afghanistan as part of the pre-pullout bolstering of security.

The moves back up Pentagon officials' public assurances that United States forces will be prepared to meet whatever resistance the Taliban might present during the withdrawal of more than 10,000 United States and coalition troops starting after May 1.

About 2,500 to 3,500 of those troops are American.

I would advise the Taliban that we will be well-prepared to defend ourselves throughout the withdrawal process, Gen. Frank McKenzie, the head of United States Central Command, said Thursday at the Pentagon.

Prior to President Joe Biden's announcement last week that he would com-

United States officials said after Biden's announcement that extra military personnel would likely be positioned in Afghanistan to facilitate the pullout of troops and equipment, and the Pentagon typically beefs up its military presence as a precaution when executing a sizeable withdrawal.

When the United States pulled troops out of Somalia in January it kept an aircraft carrier in the region as a precaution.

Officials on Friday said the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower, an aircraft carrier that is operating in the Arabian Sea, will remain in the region.

Also, two United States bomber aircraft will be deployed to Afghanistan, along with hundreds of Army Rangers to provide security during the pullout, the officials said.

The officials spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss moves that had not yet been announced.

Toffees add to Gunners misery

Own goal from Arsenal goalkeeper gifts Everton first win in seven games

London, April 24: An own-goal from Arsenal goalkeeper Bernd Leno handed Everton a 1-0 Premier League win on Friday as around 2,000 fans protested against Gunners owner Stan Kroenke outside the Emirates Stadium.

With both sides chasing places in Europe next season, it was Carlo Ancelotti's side who came out on top with a first win in seven games.

German keeper Leno turned a Richarlison cross into his own goal in the 76th minute to give the Toffees victory.

Arsenal supporters had gathered outside the ground demanding Kroenke stand down after the club's attempt to join the doomed Super League project.

The result left Everton in eighth place, three points off the Champions League places after their first league win at Arsenal since 1996.

Arsenal are ninth, nine points off the top four.

"It was really important to stay attached to the top of the table," Ancelotti told the BBC.

PAYET PROPELS
MARSEILLE TO WIN AT REIMS

Paris, April 24: Dimitri Payet scored two goals and set up Arkadiusz Milik for another as Marseille came from behind to defeat Reims 3-1 away in Ligue 1 on Friday.

Reims took the lead when Nathanael Mbuku powered a header in at a corner, but Marseille levelled almost immediately as Payet swept in a pass from Pol Lirola.

Payet then delivered a fantastic low cross for Milik to tap in from close range in first-half stoppage time.

Marseille goalkeeper Steve Mandanda turned an effort from Senegal striker Boulaye Dia onto the post in the second half, while Reims were reduced to 10 men. Payet was denied a hat-trick by an excellent stop from Predrag Rajkovic, with Milik ruled offside as he poked in the rebound. — AFP

LEAGUE CUP | FINAL

end title drought

London, April 24: Treble-chasing Manchester City face a Tottenham side desperate to end their trophy drought in the League Cup final as two members of the failed European Super League clash at Wembley on Sunday.

Just seven days after the bombshell revelation that City and Tottenham were among 12 clubs plotting the breakaway Super League, they will contest the first major silverware of the English season.

Alarmed by the furious public backlash against the Super League, City's owners were the first to lose their nerve when they pulled out on Tuesday.

City's exit sparked a chain reaction that saw Spurs withdraw along with fellow Premier League teams Liverpool, Chelsea, Manchester United and Arsenal. But amid grovelling apologies from owners, supporters remain furious at the cynical betrayal and there have been calls for sanctions against the six Premier League teams.

Against that backdrop, it is ironic the League Cup will be the focus of attention for two of the Super League founders this weekend. — AFP

Super League fiasco gives clubs
open goal to reset with UEFA

Geneva, April 24: Purged of most of its leaders in the Super League fiasco this week, the group representing European soccer clubs was given a chance to reinvent itself.

Now the European Club Association is free to push for reversing Champions League changes that favour the wealthiest and more powerful who threatened to tear apart soccer's traditional fabric.

The decisions UEFA made on Monday for a Champions League revamp in 2024 — of 36 teams each playing 10 games in a single standings — clearly favour the rebels.

Two wild cards for storied clubs is one gift that can be taken back now they no longer dominate a key UEFA committee.

● The decisions UEFA made on Monday for a Champions League revamp in 2024 — of 36 teams each playing 10 games in a single standings — clearly favour the rebels.

Hours earlier around midnight on Sunday, the 246-member ECA lost 12 of the most influential — and most demanding — when they left to announce their own Super League.

The project quickly collapsed amid a ferocious backlash from fans and domestic leagues, governments and Champions League organizer UEFA, handing the ECA a chance to restore trust.

"Over the past week, we have seen the worst but also the best of football," ECA chief executive Charlie Marshall said in a statement Friday.

"Ultimately, the best has triumphed."

The "worst" was done by clubs and people that were Marshall's bosses until the early hours of Monday. They led ECA through talks with UEFA to shape the Champions League's future while plotting a rival to usurp it. — AP

Hyderabad cricketer Ashwin no more

Former Hyderabad fast bowler Ashwin Yadav died after suffering a cardiac arrest in Hyderabad on Saturday. He was 33 and is survived by his wife and three sons.

Ashwin played 14 first class matches and took 34 wickets after making his Ranji Trophy debut in 2007 against Punjab in Mohali. His best figures were 6 for 52 against Delhi at the Rajiv Gandhi International Cricket Stadium in Hyderabad in the 2008-09 season. Ashwin's last Ranji Trophy match was against Mumbai in 2009.

He, however, continued to play for State Bank of Hyderabad and then SBI in the local league. Ashwin played for the Evergreen cricket club for many years before he joined SBH.

India team's fielding coach R. Sridhar condoled Ashwin's demise. "Devastated to hear the news of #AshwinYadav passing away. A Very jovial and fun loving guy, team man to the core, punched way above his skills as a fast bowler. I pray to God for strength to his family. #gonetooearly #OmShanti You will be missed," Sridhar said in a tweet.

Women archers storm into WC final

Recurve women's team of Deepika Kumari, Ankita Bhakat and Komalika Bari assured India of its first medal in the Archery World Cup Stage 1 after cruising into the final with a straight-set win over Spain in Guatemala City.

However, the men's team, which qualified as third seed, lost in the quarterfinals to their Spanish rivals 26-27 in a shoot-off after both teams were tied 4-4.

India are also in the medal hunt in three more events with newly-wed Atanu Das and Deepika advancing into the mixed pair bronze playoff. The duo will also vie for individual medals, having made the last-four in their respective sections.

In the women's semifinal, Spanish trio of Elia Canales, Ines De Velasco and Leyre Fernandez Infante were no match to the top seeded Indians, who drilled in consistent scores of 55, 56 and 55 to seal a 6-0 win and make their first World Cup final since Shanghai, 2016. — PTI

Zimbabwe beat Pakistan in T20

Harare, April 24: Zimbabwe beat Pakistan for the first time in a Twenty20 international Friday, with four-wicket Luke Jongwe the star of a shock 19-run triumph at Harare Sports Club.

A maiden victory in 16 attempts seemed unlikely when the tourists restricted the hosts to a meagre 118-9 with Tinashe Kamunhukamwe (34) the only batsman to impress.

But right-arm medium pacer Jongwe (4-18) wreaked havoc and Zimbabwe bowled out Pakistan for 99 in 19.5 overs.

It was the lowest total defended in a T20 international in Harare and victory for Zimbabwe levelled the three-match series at 1-1 ahead of the decider at the same venue on Sunday.
