SAMPAT G. SAMRITAN | DC VIJAYAWADA, APRIL 20

Andhra Pradesh which is witnessing the rapid spread of Covid-19 — Nellore, Srikakulam, Guntur and Chittoor districts registered over 1,000 cases each on Tuesday — is seeing a large number of asymptomatic cases.

Srikakulam district registered 1,344 fresh cases of Covid-19, and the district health authorities pointed out that many of the infected patients were not manifesting any symptoms of the disease. They were, however, spreading it first among their family members and then to their contacts in educational institutions, offices and in public places like shopping malls, film theatres and markets.

Officials said as the virus was remaining airborne for three to four hours, those who come into contact with it were getting infected. The spread was more rampant especially in air-conditioned shopping malls, film theatres and other facilities

They said that unlike in the first wave of the pandemic, where the virus used to take a longer time to spread, this time the transmission was occurring in a matter of hours.

The virus was being

Former Congress president Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday said he has tested positive for Covid-19 and has mild symptoms.

"After experiencing mild symptoms, I've just tested positive for Covid," the 50-year-old posted on Twitter. "All those who've been in contact with me recently, please follow all safety protocols and stay safe," the Congress leader wrote.

In a tweet, Prime Minister Narendra Modi wished Rahul Gandhi a speedy recovery. "I pray for the good health and quick recovery of Lok Sabha MP Shri Rahul Gandhi ji," he tweeted.

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal, meanwhile, has quarantined himself after his wife tested positive for Covid-19 on Tuesday.

The chief minister's wife Sunita Kejriwal has tested positive and is under home isolation, a Delhi government official said.

Union minister Jitendra Singh and former minister and senior Congress leader Anand Sharma have also tested positive for Covid-19 disease.

He said lockdown should be the last option and focus should be on micro-containment. "If we all follow Covid-19 protocols, there'll be no need to impose lockdowns."

He urged the people to reduce their movement and do not venture out unless it is required. He also requested people take Covid vaccine.

India's total tally of Covid-19 cases climbed to 1.53 crore with 2,59,170 new coronavirus infections being reported in a day, while active cases surpassed the 20-lakh mark, according to the Union health ministry data updated on Tuesday.

Modi also asked states to convince migrant workers, a large number of whom have begun leaving for their home states in distress following lockdowns in cities like Delhi and Mumbai, to stay put where they are with a guarantee that they will be vaccinated in the coming days and will also not lose their livelihoods.

RAHUL CALLS CENTRE'S VACCINE PRICE PLAN FOR STATES DISCRIMINATORY

DC CORRESPONDENT NEW DELHI, APRIL 20

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday attacked the Centre yet again, this time calling its vaccine strategy one of "discrimination, not distribution".

He questioned why people aged between 18 and 45 will not get a free vaccine. "No free vaccines for 18-45 year olds. Middlemen brought in without price controls. No vaccine guarantee for weaker sections. GOI's Vaccine Discrimination - Not Distribution Strategy (sic)," he said in a tweet.

His attack comes a day after the Centre announced the "liberalised and accelerated phase 3 strategy" of Covid-19 vaccination that will come into force on May 1 and will allow the entire population above the age of 18 years to get vaccinated.

Congress leader P. Chidambaram said the new vaccine policy is "heartless" and "lacks vision".

Top court says High Courts can appoint retired judges to clear pending caseload

SC finds 'ad-hoc' route to clear case pile-up

PARMOD KUMAR | DC NEW DELHI, APRIL 20

With a backlog of more than 57 lakh cases pending in High Courts across the country coupled with 40 per cent vacancies, the Supreme Court on Tuesday paved the way for appointment of retired High Court judges as the ad-hoc judges by framing guidelines invoking its powers under Article 224A of the Constitution. The ad-hoc judges will have a tenure of two to three years.

In a crucial judgment, Chief Justice Sharad A.

Bobde heading a bench also comprising Justice Sanjay Kishan Kaul and Justice Surya Kant, empowered the High Court Chief Justices to pick up ad-hoc judges. The bench, however, said such appointments should be made only after first recommending the appointment of permanent additional judges to fill up the existing vacancies.

It is for the first time that the Supreme Court has taken recourse to Article 224A to clear the way for the appointment ad-hoc judges in the High Courts.

● It is for the first time that the Supreme Court has taken recourse to Article 224A of the Constitution to clear the way for the appointment ad-hoc judges in the High Courts.

The top court said the ad-hoc judges should be given cases which are more than five years old but the Chief Justice has the discretion to allot them the cases less than five years as well.

"The number of ad-hoc judges should be in the range of two to five in a High Court... The emoluments and allowances of an ad hoc judge shall be at par with a permanent judge of the Court, minus his pension," the bench said.

To eliminate any possible issue between who will preside over the bench, whether a sitting judge or an ad-hoc judge, the court said that the bench comprising ad-hoc judges will only comprise them.

The top court judgment came on a public interest plea by a Lucknow-based NGO Lok Prahari filed in 2019 seeking the appointment of ad-hoc judges taking recourse to Article 224A of the Constitution to address the problem of rising backlog of cases.

Article 224A gives discretion to the Chief Justices of the High Courts to recommend appointment of the retired judges of the same High Court or any other High Court, laying down the trigger points for exercising that power.

The bench lays down that the past performance of the candidates in both quality and quantum of disposal of cases should be factored in selection of the ad hoc judges as the objective is to clear the backlog and their consent be taken before recommending their names.

The top court said that the Chief Justice of the HC should start the process three months in advance for such appointments.

Since the judges to be picked up for the ad-hoc judge positions have already been appointed in the post through a warrant of appointment, the bench said there was no need to refer their names to the intelligence bureau and other agencies for clearance.

Chief Minister Y.S. Jagan Mohan Reddy wished Telugu Desam national president Nara Chandrababu Naidu on his birthday on Tuesday (April 20). Taking to Twitter Jagan greeted the leader in Telugu. "Hearty birthday wishes to Chandrababu Naidu Garu. With the blessings of God, I wish him all health and happiness, he stated in his Twitter message.

Conveying his wishes to Naidu, AP Governor B i s u a n Harichandan stated, "I extend my heartiest felicitations and warm birthday greeting to Naidu. I pray Lord Balaji and Lord Jagannath to bless him with a long healthy life in service of people."

Chandrababu Naidu himself called on fans and activists not to celebrate his birthday at a time when the Covid-19 pandemic was spreading rapidly. He said it was important for all people to be safe. But the TD leaders and activists, led by TD MLC P. Ashok Babu, conducted birthday celebration by cutting a cake in the TD headquarters on Tuesday. Ashok Babu stressed on the need of bringing back Naidu as CM for the development of AP state.

Poshan tracker app is not user-friendly: Anganwadis

The call to withdraw the Poshan Tracker application grew shriller in the district as Anganwadi teachers find it cumbersome to enter details. About 7,500 Anganwadi teachers and workers form the key link in monitoring the nutritional needs of mothers and children via this app.

With Coronavirus spreading fast, malnutrition is one of the most important challenges facing the poor. Technical glitches in uploading distribution details vis-a-vis ration and food stuffs to the beneficiaries have become a major hurdle to the workers. Anganwadi staff complained that they are overburdened with duties beyond their technical competence.

The app provides a 360-degree view of the activities of AWC, AWWs and complete beneficiary management for pregnant women, lactating mothers, children, adolescent girls and adolescent boys. The Poshan Tracker can easily be downloaded on devices with Android 6 and other operating system.

Radhakrishna, a CITU leader organising anganwadi workers, said the new Poshan app requires Smartphones with Android version 7.0 and above. The gadgets given earlier were not compatible and the government did not provide them with either laptops or smartphones.

He said the Poshan App was developed in such a way that Anganwadis have to upload all the details of ration distribution but it is not showing the supplies received by the district administration. "A lot of slippage happens before the end-users received the benefit but the blame is thrown on grassroots workers, he argued.

Lalithamma, an anganwadi worker, said food items conforming to acceptable standards must only be supplied via anganwadis. But, we get local stuff. Even the eggs that we distribute are of inferior quality and not fit for human consumption, she said.

Citing these, the Anaganwadi workers held a protest across the district on Tuesday.

The DGP asked other members of Maoist party too to voluntarily join the mainstream of life.

Suicide bid by Asha worker acquires political overtones

DC CORRESPONDENT
ANANTAPUR, APRIL 20

The suicide bid by an Asha worker from Cherlopalli village in Raptahdu Assembly segment in Anantapur district has acquired political overtones.

Police have confirmed that the worker attempted suicide fearing she would lose her job after accusing village YSRC leaders of sexual harassment. However, the ruling party leadership led by Raptahdu MLA T. Prakash Reddy has accused former minister Paritala Sunitha of being behind the incident. It may be recalled that the Asha worker from Raptahdu Mandal attempted suicide by consuming super vasol on Monday.

She was admitted in an unconscious state to the General Hospital in Anantapur. Raptahdu police, as part of their preliminary investigation, recorded her statement in which she accused three YSRC leaders from Cherlopalli village of blackmailing her for sexual favours.

She said they threatened her that otherwise she would be dismissed from service as Asha worker. Based on her statement, Raptahdu police registered a case against the three leaders.

The issue took a new turn after police in their subsequent investigations found that the Asha worker had cooked up the story to protect her job. Itlikalpalli circle inspector Vijaya Bhakar Gowd said the Asha worker's condition at the hospital where she was admitted is good. But she wants to remain in the hospital even after doctors have advised that she be discharged.

Meanwhile, a group of YSRC supporters from Cherlopalli village have lodged a complaint with Raptahdu police against family members and relatives of the Asha worker for damaging their properties during an attack.

NELLORE, APRIL 20

As many as eight people were injured, one of them grievously, when the fire broke out in a chemical unit cum godown located close to the graveyard in Bodigadi Thota in Nellore city on Tuesday morning.

Incidentally, a similar fire mishap took place in the same chemical factory during May last year.

The unit identified as Balaji Chemicals is involved in the production of bleaching power, lime power, liquid handwash, detergent powder, and aqua chemicals since 2013.

The unit is located on the groundfloor of an apartment building and few families are residing on the first and second floors of the building.

Locals alleged that the fire broke out following a leak of liquid gas. The premises were engulfed in smoke from the flames.

Fire tenders rushed to the spot and started operations to douse the flames.

District Fire officer Srikanth Reddy said that they received an information on the incident at 8.50 am and the fire-fighting units reached the accident within five minutes.

Besides dousing the flames, the firemen shifted 21 people residing on the first and second floors of the building to safer places. While one person sustained burns, eight others suffered asphyxiation because of some and they have been sent to the hospital for treatment.

Mr Srikanth Reddy allayed fears over the impact on the environment and health of the people living in the vicinity because of the fire mishap while stating that there are no harmful chemicals in the factory.

He alleged that the management has not obtained any permission for operating the chemical factory on the ground floor of the residential building.

DC CORRESPONDENT
KAKINADA, APRIL 20

Managements of private schools in East Godavari district have requested Chief Minister Y. S. Jagan Mohan Reddy to rescue them from financial crises they are facing following the virulent second wave of Coronavirus.

East Godavari Private Schools Association president Mutukumilli Srivijay pointed out that the state government has declared shutting down of classes from Class I to Class IX. While welcoming the decision, he, however, pointed out that parents will not pay any fee as a result and schools will suffer heavy financial losses.

Srivijay recalled that during last year's lockdown, many private schools had closed and most of their teachers lost their jobs. Some of them even lost their lives. He underlined that private schools have to pay rents for school buildings as well as electricity charges, apart from other charges.

investing ₹1 lakh, which it invested in the share market.

Sunil, in turn, reportedly appointed more than 100 agents to attract investors and two of them – P. Mahendra and Sudhakar of Vasanthapuram, succeeded in getting investments from many people from villages in Puttaparthi, Dharmavaram, Belaguppa, Tadipatri and other parts of the district.

The finance company paid interest for a few months in the bank accounts of the investors. However, it stopped depositing any amount in the accounts of investors from January onwards. When investors contacted company agents, they blamed it on losses suffered due to the impact of Covid-19. However, they promised that returns would be restored in the next few months. However, the agents subsequently switched off their phones and the finance company cut communications since the past few days.

Victims then approached SP Satya Esubabu that they had been cheated. "Our teams are in search of Sunil and other agents involved in the cheating," the SP added.

Lemon prices skyrocket with ₹100 per kg

DC CORRESPONDENT
KAKINADA, APRIL 20

Lemon prices are skyrocketing as more people are consuming lemon juice for its vitamin C, which is supposed to build immunity against Covid-19.

Unfortunately, yield of lemons in the state has been poor. As a result, their prices have gone up between ₹2,500 and ₹4,500 per 45-kg bag in wholesale market. Traders say prices of the fruit will remain high for a month.

Sources said lemon crop is cultivated over more than 60,000 acres, mostly in Nellore, West Godavari and Prakasam districts. Owing to cyclone and floods occurring thrice last year, lemon crop had got damaged in the flowering stage.

Currently, most of the crop is in the growth stage. By the time it comes for harvest, it may be third week of May.

At present, size of the fruit coming into the market is small. Yet the price is high.

"We are not purchasing lemon fruit in large quantities as consumers are buying them in smaller quantities due to high prices. A person who used to buy more than a dozen fruits is now purchasing only three or four lemons. Traders in Kakinada market are getting orders only for 35-45 bags per day, as against 100 to 200 bags previously," said R. Gangadhar, a wholesale trader of lemons. Most of the crop coming to Kakinada and Rajamahendravaram is from Eluru.

Local traders are also accusing wholesale traders of purchasing the fruit at cheaper prices from farmers and storing them in cold storages, thereby creating an artificial shortage, leading to higher prices.

Horticulture deputy director S. Rammohan said lemon crop is being cultivated in Nellore, Prakasam and West Godavari to a large extent and in lesser quantities in East Godavari, Srikakulam, Visakhapatnam and Vizianagaram districts. He advised farmers to grow the crop wisely based on seasons for getting a good crop and prices.

He pointed out that consumption of vitamin C through lemon fruit as well as other fruits and vegetables has increased vastly following a surge in Covid-19 situation.

The Bombay High Court on Tuesday sought responses from the Central and Maharashtra governments in a plea alleging improper management of Covid medical treatment in the state. The court adjourned the hearing to Thursday. Acknowledging that the petition raised "serious issues of public importance", the court directed the respondents to come prepared with instructions on the next date of hearing.

A division bench of Chief Justice Dipankar Datta and Justice G.S. Kulkarni sought to know from the petitioner if all the respondents were served the copy of the petition and adjourned the hearing till Thursday, as only the state government was represented in the court.

During the hearing, advocate Arshil Shah on behalf of petitioner, advocate Sneha Marjadi, argued that the second wave of the pandemic was already in motion and the Union as well as state government and the Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai have failed to systematise the medical treatment of people affected with the virus. To prove this point, he contended that the number of patients were already outnumbering beds and on top of that there was shortage of oxygen and Remdesivir injection.

However, Kashmir's Divisional Commissioner, P.K. Pole said that the government has no plan to impose fresh lockdown in the Valley as the administration is following the mantra of "Jaan bhi, Jahaan bhi."

Meanwhile, the authorities in J&K and Ladakh have informed the Union government that the surge in the Covid-19 positive cases in the twin UTs is a result of inbound travellers as many of them have turned out to be the carriers of the asymptomatic transmission of virus.

The J&K Lt. Governor, Manoj Sinha, announced the government's decision that only 50 per cent shops and other businesses will remain open on an alternative basis within the municipal and urban body limits in the UT from Thursday. He tweeted, "Only 50% shops in market complexes / bazaars / malls within the municipal limits / urban local body limits shall be open on an alternate basis through a rotation system," he tweeted.

Sinha said that the magistrates of all districts have been told to devise a mechanism to implement the order, preferably in consultation with local market associations. He said that curfew from 10 pm to 6 am in force for the two weeks in eight districts has been extended to all twenty districts of the UT. "Corona Curfew at night shall be extended to all municipal / urban local body limits of all 20 districts of J&K. It was already in force in eight districts earlier, from 10 pm to 6 am," he said in another tweet.

Responding to fresh restrictions, the Jammu Chamber of Commerce and Industry (JCCI) rolled out a new market timing to supplement the government's efforts. Arun Gupta, president of the JCCI, said that after holding consultations with various traders' bodies of the winter capital, it has been decided that all kinds of business establishments will remain closed on Sundays. He also said that all types of shops in the city will remain open from 10 am to 7 pm except restaurants and other eateries which shall close at 9 pm instead. "This is a crucial time and we all need to extend our best possible cooperation to the government for fighting Coronavirus," he said.

However, the J&K Transporters Welfare Forum (TWF) has called for a strike over fresh government order which allows only 50 per cent passenger movement in public transport vehicles. TS Wazir, president of the forum, said this diktat was issued without consulting transporters. "With only 50 per cent passengers on board, we won't be able to even earn the money for fuelling purposes," he said adding that the government should either hike passenger fare by 50 per cent or the transporters will go for a strike from Wednesday.

The administrations of J&K and Ladakh have while sharing the inputs during a review meeting chaired by Union home secretary, Ajay Kumar Bhalla, on Covid-19 status, the management and response strategy informed the Centre that the number of positive cases has risen in their respective UTs exponentially due to inbound travellers.

The meeting which was held by Bhalla along with Union health secretary Rajesh Bhushan with chief secretaries of all the UTs of the country through video conference, was also attended by Dr. V. K. Paul, member (Health) NITI Aayog, Dr. Balram Bhargava, secretary, DHR & DG ICMR besides the police chiefs.

The official sources said that during the meeting, "Ladakh, J&K and Lakshadweep pointed to the rise in cases due to large numbers of inbound travellers." Lakshadweep has seen a sudden spike after April 14, primarily due to the travel of a large number of people to mainland to shop for the recent festive occasions, an official statement added.

It also said that the home secretary pointed out the steep growth in the number of cases all across the country from 20,000 cases reported on January 1, 2021, India has almost ten times more cases (more than 2,00,000 cases) being reported daily since April 15. He said that in the last eleven days, new cases have almost doubled from 1.31 lakh reported on April 9 to 2.73 lakh reported on April 2.

The official statement stated that the UTs shared their present efforts for containment and management of the positive cases.

ASSAM ORDERS CLOSURE OF
GROCERY SHOPS,
MALLS BY 6 PMMANOJ ANAND | DC
GUWAHATI, APRIL 20

A day after reviewing the situation, Assam government on Tuesday issued new Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) to contain the escalating Covid situation and directed closure of grocery shops, shopping malls and other establishments by 6 pm from Tuesday.

Making face mask compulsory in all public places, Assam chief secretary Jishnu Barua told reporters that they would be reviewing the situation in next three days.

"If situation continues to escalate, we may impose more restrictions," said the chief secretary requesting the people to show Covid-19 appropriate behaviour.

Besides increasing tests across the state, the chief secretary said that they have stock of more than five lakh vaccines. "We have taken steps to intensify the vaccination drive and the health department has already prepared a roadmap to complete the vaccination," he said.

The state administration in its new SOP said that shop owners shall ensure a minimum six feet distance among customers and shall not allow more than five persons inside the shop. In addition, shop owners should compulsorily keep sanitisers and hand wash in their shops, it added.

"Barber shops, salons and parlours shall continue to provide service with strict compliance of Covid appropriate behaviour such as wearing of face masks, face cover, hand gloves," the new SOP stated.

"Industrial units and Tea gardens may function subject to observance of Covid appropriate behaviour. Head of the unit/tea garden shall be responsible for ensuring social distancing, mask wearing by workers and staff, sanitation of industrial premises, thermal scanning etc."

Asking that work from home and virtual working should be encouraged, the state government has also imposed restriction of office strength.

"Except officers, only 50 per cent employees can work from the office. Pregnant women employees and women with children of five years or below irrespective of their grade shall be eligible to work from home," the state government said.

Suspending the morning assembly in all the schools, the authorities have directed the schools, colleges and universities to provide quality virtual options. "Not more than 50 per cent students should attend in person on any day," the Standard Operating Procedure said.

SELF-CLEANING

Nanomaterial can clean mask by simply keeping it in sunlight

Virus-filtering material developed

New Delhi, April 20: Researchers at the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Mandi have developed a virus-filtering, self-cleaning and antibacterial material that can be used to make face masks and other PPE equipment to prevent the spread of Coronavirus.

The team claims that the developed nanomaterial can clean the mask by simply keeping it in bright sunlight and make it ready to wear again.

The results of the research have recently been published in the prestigious journal of the American Chemical Society — Applied Materials and Interfaces.

According to the researchers, face masks have become a default piece of apparel to be worn in public in these pandemic times.

"Keeping the urgency of the pandemic situation and cost-effectiveness in mind, we have developed a strategy to repurpose existing PPEs, especially face masks, by providing an antimicrobial coating to these protective clothing and textiles. For this, the research team has used such materials that are a hundred thousand times smaller than the width of the human hair to confer antimicrobial properties to polycotton fabric," Amit Jaiswal, Assistant Professor, School of Basic Sciences, IIT Mandi, said.

The team has incorporated nanometre sized sheets of molybdenum sulphide, MoS₂, the sharp edges and corners of which act as tiny knives that pierce bacterial and viral membranes, thus killing them.

"The 'nanoknife'-modified fabrics demonstrated excellent antibacterial activity even after 60 cycles of washing. Improperly disposed off PPEs are a serious secondary source of transmission, and having reusable antimicrobial masks can help circumvent this risk. The reusability of the fabric will also enable it to be integrated with home-made masks.

"The researchers have developed prototypes of a 4-layered face mask using the MoS₂ modified fabric. They report that these masks, in addition to killing microbes and being light-cleanable, can also filter more than 96 pc of particles that are in the size range of the Covid virus (120 nanometres), without compromising on breathability of the fabric, and could thus be a powerful tool to prevent the spread of Coronavirus and other microbial infections.

"We expect that the impact of this innovation on society will be immense and immediate, considering the current situation of global Covid-19 pandemic. The proposed materials can also be used to fabricate screens and sheets for creation of makeshift isolation wards, containment cells and quarantines for holding individuals who come in contact with pathogens," said Jaiswal.

IN BRIEF

Cops shoot man with 'handgun'

Dallas, April 20: Dallas police officers shot and killed a man Monday who pointed at them what turned out to be a replica handgun, authorities said.

Police responded about 4 p.m. Monday after receiving a call about a man walking along a residential street about one mile north of the US 75-Interstate 635 interchange. The man pointed at arriving officers what appeared to be a handgun before fleeing on foot. Shortly thereafter, officers responded to a report of an armed man stealing from a drug store. They tracked the man as he crossed all lanes of Interstate 635 on foot just west of US 75, then shot and killed him.

Dubai princess: UN seeks info

Geneva, April 20: Independent experts working with the UN human rights office on Tuesday called on the United Arab Emirates' government to provide more details about the fate of a daughter of Dubai's powerful ruler who has claimed she was taken hostage.

The experts called for the immediate release of Sheikha Latifa bint Mohammed Al Maktoum, who turned up in videos broadcast by the BBC two months ago in which she questioned whether she would survive.

They expressed concerns about alleged rights violations she has faced, and possible threats to her life.

40,000 displaced in Mozambique

Johannesburg, April 20: Some 40,000 displaced and urgently needing food, work suspended on a multi-billion-dollar gas investment, and scores of dead still being counted.

The damage caused by Mozambique's extremist rebels on the town of Palma continues to be assessed.

Four weeks after the rebels launched a three-pronged attack, which lasted at least five days, Mozambican police and relief agencies are working to help the thousands uprooted by the violence and restore the town to daily life.

Although the fighting has ended, Palma does not appear to be completely secure.

Egypt fires top railway official

Cairo, April 20: Egypt's transportation minister on Tuesday said he sacked the country's top railway official, following three train accidents in less than a month that left at least 29 people dead and some 320 injured.

The firing of Asharf Raslan, head of the railway authority, was part of a wide ranging overhaul of the rundown railway system's leadership amid public outcry over repeated train crashes.

Raslan, who headed the railway authority since July 2018, was replaced Mustafa Abuel-Makarm, the office of Transportation Minister Kamal el-Wazir said in a statement.

The changes included the main departments of the railway authority that manages train traffic in the Arab world's most populous country.

CHAD PRESIDENT KILLED AFTER 30 YEARS IN POWER

N'Djamena, April 20: Chadian President Idriss Deby Itno, who ruled the central African nation for more than three decades, was killed Tuesday on the battlefield in a fight against rebels, the military announced on national television and radio.

The stunning announcement came just hours after electoral officials had declared Deby the winner of the April 11 presidential election, paving the way for him to stay in power for six more years.

The circumstances of Deby's death could not immediately be independently confirmed due to the remote location of the battlefield. It was not known why the president would have visited the frontlines in northern Chad or participated in ongoing clashes with the rebels who opposed his rule.

Deby, a former army commander-in-chief, first came to power in 1990 when his rebel forces overthrew then-President Hissene Habre, who was later convicted of human rights abuses at an international tribunal in Senegal.

Over the years Deby had survived numerous armed rebellions and managed to stay in power until this latest insurgency led by a group calling itself the Front for Change and Concord in Chad.

WH mum on lifting vax raw material India export ban

The Serum Institute of India has urged President Biden to lift the embargo

Avoid travelling to India, US to citizens over Covid spike

Washington, April 20: The White House on Monday did not respond to questions on the request by Serum Institute of India to lift export ban on certain raw materials needed for ramping up production of Covid-19 vaccine. The question in this regard was asked twice on Monday — once during the morning White House briefing on Covid-19 and later during the daily news conference by White House Press Secretary Jen Psaki.

The Serum Institute of India has been saying that the Biden administration is blocking exports of raw materials that it needs to make Covid vaccines, and the Serum Institute has also urged President Biden to lift that embargo. So I wanted to ask which raw materials are at issue here? And do you have any plans to address Serum's concerns? asked a reporter during the morning news conference by the White House Covid-19 Response Team.

Both Dr Anthony Fauci, Director at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases and Dr Andy Slacitt, the White House Covid-19 response senior advisor said they had no answer.

I don't I'm sorry. We could

Washington, April 20: The US has advised its citizens to avoid travelling to India, even if they are fully vaccinated as there is a 'very high level' of Covid-19 in the country.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) on Monday released travel recommendations by destination. It uses science-based Travel Health Notices to alert travellers to health threats around the world and advise on how to protect themselves.

The CDC has a 4-level system for COVID-19 and in that India is placed in Level 4: Very high level of Covid-19.

In the note Monday, the department noted that "the Covid-19 pandemic continues to pose unprecedented risks to travellers."

The CDC has urged Americans to avoid all travel to India.

Travellers should avoid all travel to India. Because of the current situation in India even fully vaccinated travellers may be at risk for getting and spreading Covid-19 variants and should avoid all travel to India, the CDC said in a statement.

Pristina (Kosovo), April 20: Kosovar biologist Halil Ibrahim believes the virus restrictions haven't all been bad — he completed his research, raised public awareness of pollution of river basins and named a newly discovered insect after the virus. He had spent years working on a research report on a caddisfly species found in Kosovo's western Bjeshket e Nemuna national park.

J&J virus vaccine manufacturing halted at plant that ruined doses

Washington, April 20: The US Food and Drug Administration requested that production of the Johnson & Johnson coronavirus vaccine be halted at a factory that previously reportedly ruined about 15 million doses of the shot.

The pharmaceutical giant told AFP at the end of March it had identified a batch of doses at a plant in Baltimore run by Emergent BioSolutions "that did not meet quality standards," but did not confirm the specific number affected. The New York Times later reported the batch consisted of about 15 million doses.

Emergent BioSolutions said in a regulatory Securities and Exchange Commission filing on Monday that the FDA had requested a pause on April 16 in production of the single-shot vaccine pending an inspection at the Baltimore, Maryland facility.

Johnson & Johnson had said it was sending experts to the site to oversee vaccine production. — AFP,

DON'T MEDDLE IN OTHER'S AFFAIRS: XI

Beijing, April 20: Chinese President Xi Jinping on Tuesday hit out at the United States, saying there should be no "bossing" and "meddling" in the internal affairs of other countries as Beijing is increasingly coming under pressure from Washington and its allies over issues of human rights violations, Taiwan and Hong Kong.

"Bossing others around or meddling in others' internal affairs would not get one any support. We must advocate peace, development, equity, justice, democracy and freedom, which are common values of humanity, and encourage exchanges and mutual learning among civilisations to promote the progress of human civilisation," Xi said, without directly referring to the United States.

"What we need in today's world is justice, not hegemony," he said.

French envoy ouster plea in Pak parl

Islamabad, April 20: A resolution was tabled in the lower house of the Parliament on Tuesday for the expulsion of the French ambassador from Pakistan over the issue of blasphemous cartoons being published in the European country. Amjad Ali Khan of the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party presided over the resolution in the National Assembly with Speaker Asad Qaiser in the chair.

Technically, it was not an official document as it was moved by a member in his private capacity but it was accepted for discussion. The resolution condemned the publication of blasphemous caricatures by French magazine Charlie Hebdo in September last year and expressed regret over the French's president "encouragement of the elements hurting the sentiments of the hundreds of millions of Muslims in the name of freedom of expression". "The House condemns the publication of insulting sketches by the controversial French magazine Charlie Hebdo and Muslims around the world had also expressed outrage at the publication of the sketches," it added.

It stated that a debate should be held in the House on the expulsion of the French ambassador from Pakistan over the issue of caricatures. "This House also demands that the state should decide matters of international relations and no person, group or party can exert unnecessary illegal pressure," according to the resolution.

It also said that all European countries in general and France in particular should be made aware of the seriousness of this issue of blasphemy. The resolution said that the issue should be raised collectively on international forums.

REINSTATE TRAVEL BAN TO KEEP U.S. SAFE FROM ISLAMIC TERROR: TRUMP

Washington, April 20: Former US President Donald Trump has urged his successor Joe Biden to reinstate the travel ban on certain Muslim countries in order to keep the country safe from radical Islamic terrorism.

If Joe Biden wants to keep our country safe from radical Islamic terrorism, he should reinstate the foreign country travel ban and all of the vetting requirements on those seeking admission that go with it, along with the refugee restrictions I successfully put in place, Trump said in a statement on Monday.

Terrorists operate all over the world and recruit online. To keep terrorism and extremism out of our country, we need to have smart, commonsense rules in place so we don't repeat the many immigration mistakes made by Europe and the USA prior to Trump," said the former US president.

US: SC likely to bar some 'green card' applicants

Washington, April 20: The Supreme Court appeared ready Monday to prevent thousands of people living in the US for humanitarian reasons from applying to become permanent residents.

The justices seemed favourable, in arguments via telephone, to the case made by the Biden administration that federal immigration law prohibits people who entered the country illegally and now have Temporary Protected Status from seeking "green cards" to remain in the country permanently.

The designation applies to people who come from countries ravaged by war or disaster, protects them from deportation and allows them to work legally.

The case pits the administration against immigrant groups that contend federal law is more forgiving for the 400,000 people who are TPS recipients. Many have lived in the US for many years, given birth to American citizens and have put down roots in this country, their advocates say.

The Justice Department says it is maintaining a position held consistently for 30 years by administrations of both parties.

President Joe Biden supports changing the law to put TPS recipients, among other immigrants, on a path to citizenship. Legislation that would allow people who are here for humanitarian reasons to adjust their immigration status has passed the House, but faces uncertainty in the Senate. Justice Brett Kavanaugh said the court should be "careful about tinkering with the immigration statutes as written," especially when Congress could act. "But just kind of big picture, why should we jump in here when Congress is very focused on immigration?" Kavanaugh asked.

The case turns on whether people who entered the country illegally and were given humanitarian protections were ever "admitted" into the US under immigration law. — AP

Floyd death case against ex-cop goes to the jury

Minneapolis, April 20: The murder case against former Minneapolis police Officer Derek Chauvin in the death of George Floyd has gone to the jury. Twelve jurors — six of them white, six Black or multiracial — are beginning deliberations in a city on edge against another round of unrest.

During closing arguments Monday, prosecutors contended that Chauvin squeezed the life out of Floyd by pinning his knee against Floyd's neck last May, ignoring bystanders, his own training and common sense.

The defence argued that the now-fired white officer acted reasonably and that the 46-year-old Black man died of an underlying heart condition and illegal drug use.

Officer Derek Chauvin "had to know" he was squeezing the life out of George Floyd as the Black man cried over and over that he couldn't breathe and finally fell silent, a prosecutor told the jury Monday during closing arguments at Chauvin's murder trial.

"Use your common sense. Believe your eyes. What you saw, you saw," Steve Schleicher said, referring to the excruciating bystander video of Floyd pinned to the pavement with Chauvin's knee on or close to his neck last May for up to 9 minutes, 29 seconds, as bystanders yelled at the white officer to get off.

Chauvin attorney Eric Nelson countered by arguing that Chauvin did what any "reasonable" police officer would have done after finding himself in a "dynamic" and "fluid" situation involving a large man struggling with three officers.

As Nelson began speaking, the now-fired Chauvin removed his Covid-19 mask in front of the jury for one of the very few times during the trial.

The dueling arguments got underway with Minneapolis on edge after Floyd's death last spring set off protests in the city and across the United States that at times turned violent.

The defence contends not only that Chauvin acted reasonably but that the 46-year-old Floyd died of heart disease and illegal drug use, not Chauvin's actions.

Prosecutor Jerry Blackwell had the final word, offering the state's rebuttal argument.

The prosecutor, who is PoC, said that the questions about the use of force and cause of death are "so simple that a child can understand it."

"In fact, a child did understand it, when the 9-year-old girl said, 'Get off of him,'" Blackwell said, referring to a young witness who objected to what she saw. "That's how simple it was. 'Get off of him.' Common sense."

Under the law, police are given certain latitude to use force, and their actions are supposed to be judged according to what a "reasonable officer" in the same situation would have done — a point the defence stressed repeatedly. Nelson noted that officers who first went to the corner store where Floyd allegedly tried to pass a counterfeit $20 bill already were struggling with Floyd when Chauvin arrived as backup.

The attorney also noted that the first two officers on the scene were rookies and that police had been told that Floyd might be on drugs.

A reasonable police officer understands the intensity of the struggle," Nelson said, saying that Chauvin's body-worn camera and his police badge were knocked off his chest.

Special security cover to all churches in island nation

Lanka Easter attack 2nd anniv today

Colombo, April 20: Sri Lanka's Catholic church will observe a two-minute silence on Wednesday morning to mark the second anniversary of the deadly Easter Sunday attacks in 2019 that killed 258 people, including 11 Indians. Malcolm Cardinal Ranjith, the Archbishop of Colombo, has requested people to observe a two-minute silence at 8.45 am on Wednesday in memory of the victims of the Easter Sunday attacks.

Nine suicide bombers belonging to local Islamist extremist group National Thawheed Jamaat (NTJ) linked to ISIS carried out a series of devastating blasts that tore through three churches and as many luxury hotels on April 21, 2019, killing 258 people, including 11 Indians.

Cardinal Ranjith said that two main memorial services would be held at the St Anthony's Church in Colombo and the St Sebastian's Church in Negombo the two of the three churches devastated by the suicide attacks two years ago.

Cardinal Ranjith, who will be presiding the memorial service at the St Anthony's Church, said that it was at 8.45 am on April 21, 2019 when the first suicide bomber targeted a church.

The police said there will be a special security cover to all churches throughout the island nation.

All provincial police stations have been directed to provide appropriate security tomorrow during the memorial events, police spokesman senior deputy inspector general Ajith Rohana said.

The Muslim Council of Sri Lanka (MCSL) has also called upon all Sri Lankans to support and join the call of the Archbishop of Colombo in observing the two-minute silence.

We also call upon Muslims to make supplications for these victims in this holy month of Ramadan, said the MCSL statement issued by Vice President Hilmy Ahmed.

It also urged the Government to hasten a thorough investigation on the Easter Sunday attacks and bring the real perpetrators to justice without relying on anecdotal evidence. The Muslim community condemns the suicide bombers as Islam totally forbids killing of innocents even during a war; hence the Muslim community denied an Islamic funeral for the suicide bombers, the statement added.

The MCSL said the Muslim community has been targeted by some in a hate campaign for the carnage of a few who called themselves Muslims.

Cardinal Ranjith has vowed to take drastic action if the real culprits were not dealt with by the second anniversary of the attacks on April 21. — PTI

Vaccination: Set realistic targets, don't pass buck

The Union government's decision to open up vaccination against Covid-19 for all those aged above 18 is a welcome step but the decision to halve its procurement of vaccines and let the state governments and private players do the rest of the job throws up uncomfortable questions. The demand for relaxing eligibility conditions for vaccination was voiced by many state governments, and was raised in the letter former Prime Minister Dr Manmohan Singh had written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi the other day. The decision makes more than 98 crore of the 136 crore Indians eligible for vaccination; inoculating them all would be a major step for the nation to return to business as usual.

The Centre needs to explain how its decision to let the vaccine manufacturers sell 50 per cent of the production to state governments and private players will make its vaccination targets more achievable. It seems to have little planning to augment production in a drastic way in a short period of time: Union health minister Dr Harsh Vardhan, in his uncharacteristically distasteful reply to Dr Singh, was silent on the former Prime Minister's practical suggestion to use the compulsory licensing route to do so. In effect, all that the Centre has done is to liberalise the sale of half of the production of the vaccine at a time when the nation is facing an acute shortage of it. The Centre refused to pay heed to the call of the two manufacturers for more financial aid all these days, and when it did, it also gave them a chance to make super profits

This is not the first time the Centre has been found wanting in the fight against the pandemic: From the Prime Minister's assurance last year to the nation that we shall defeat the virus in 21 days to launching the "world's largest vaccination programme" with little planning on this New Year Day, ad-hocism and chest-thumping have been its hallmark. And the data on the milestones India has covered reflects that of a poor performer: we do not talk about flattening the curve at all, and have inoculated fully only one per cent of the population in the last four months. It's incomprehensible that the health minister jeered at Dr Singh's suggestion to look at the percentage, instead of the absolute number of doses.

It is time that the Centre sets achievable targets and works hard towards them, coordinating the efforts of all the stakeholders. It must rescind the decision to earmark half of the vaccine produced locally to the channel other than its own; it is in effect handing over the responsibility of making the vaccine available to the larger chunk of the population to the state governments while still holding all the purse strings, including those of the PM-Cares Fund. The government must also explore all options, including easy imports and compulsory licensing, to jack up availability of the vaccines. Impulsive decision making and chest-thumping can hardly replace careful planning and resolute action.

Man's Ingenuity on Mars

When Wilbur and Orville Wright flew their motor-operated plane in 1903 it was airborne for 12 seconds only. When Neil Armstrong took his first step on the moon in 1969 it was a small one for man but it represented a giant leap for mankind. So too with Ingenuity, just 48 centimetres tall and weighing 1.8 kg and which was airborne for exactly 39 seconds after climbing to only three metres above the rugged Martian surface. But such a short flight on another planet — where the atmosphere of mostly carbon dioxide is thin (about a hundredth of that on Earth) and there is no air to push against — is symbolic of a technological breakthrough that comes only once in a few generations. Ingenuity needed a heater and thermostat to be kept warm to withstand up to the minus 100 degrees Celsius temperatures of Martian nights.

The short flight opens up exciting possibilities for the future of space exploration; which need not be limited to a rover on wheels needing a surface to move on. Ingenuity's chief engineer Dr Bob Balaram, an alumnus of IIT Madras, believes such flight capabilities could evolve and help explore the moons of Saturn in the future. Helicopters and fleets of drones with heavier payloads can spot the most interesting terrain for rovers to move to and explore. The conquest of technology might even lead to the designing of helicopters that can one day fly even in the rarefied atmosphere around Mount Everest.

A comparison, however bizarre, may help bring out the extent of man's ingenuity in handling the complexities of remote-controlling the helicopter's flight on Mars when you consider the failure just the other day of a self-driving Tesla car, running at high speed and not negotiating a turn on the road to crash into a tree and kill two occupants. The Perseverance rover was only 60 metres away recording the historic flight but just imagine the capabilities of flying machines that can capture images at close quarters of worlds millions of miles away from earth. Such breakthroughs may encourage men who envisage colonising planets in the solar system to dream on.

'Hindu politics' by Opp. is a sign of BJP's New India

Nilanjan Mukhopadhyay

What is common to West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee and former Uttar Pradesh chief minister Akhilesh Yadav? Besides the latter being a joint recipient of her letter, written last month to 15 Opposition stalwarts asking them to join forces to fight assaults on India's constitutional federalism, both have also recently publicly displayed their Hindu identities.

Mr Yadav's efforts at projecting his Hindu identity was unfortunately followed by his testing Covid positive, possibly because he had bathed at Haridwar during the Kumbh Mela and met with a Hindu seer, who was perhaps infected with the coronavirus. Ms Banerjee demonstrated that she was not a lesser Hindu than her adversary-in-chief, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, when she recited the Chandi Path to launch her campaign in Nandigram several weeks ago.

Ms Banerjee, as well as Mr Yadav, in ways more than one, embody the majority of India's Opposition leaders who have since 2014, taken recourse to startling innovations to wear their hitherto invisible Hindu birthmarks on their sleeves. Rahul Gandhi's efforts to publicly display being a Dattatreya Brahmin in the run-up to the Gujarat Assembly polls are widely known and were commented upon adequately.

Alongside widely embracing their religious identity, the (Hindu) Opposition leaders now mask past commitment and efforts at increasing the political representation of religious minorities, especially Muslims. They also no longer promise minority-specific development programmes with the same gusto as they once did. Some years ago, Sonia

Gandhi had bemoaned that her party suffered electorally due to its "minority" image.

The contagion of over-anxious display of one's Hindu identity is in complete contrast to the unanimity in the political class, at dawn of the republic in 1950, that India's majority community was obligated to make the religious minorities, especially the Muslims, feel secure, respected and publicly displayed their Hindu identities.

The chief minister of Bihar, Nitish Kumar, drew strength from this unspoken agreement when he mocked Prime Minister Modi for his refusal to wear a skull cap offered by a Muslim cleric in 2011. It is useful to recall Nitish Kumar's didactic advice: "In a country as diverse as ours, symbols must be respected. In order to maintain harmony with everyone, sometimes one has to wear a cap and sometimes one needs to sport a tilak."

Barely eight years after this taunt, the fortunes have reversed. Mr Kumar is now a much-diminished executor of Mr Modi's policies, albeit with a baulk at times on matters related to hard Hindutva.

The Prime Minister has also successfully politically coerced his opponents to become mindful of the ways of the "New India", where being merely sensitive towards the concerns of religious minorities is deemed a political handicap, or perilous.

The Opposition parties are driven by their assessment that in the people's perception, whatever may be shortcomings of Prime Minister Modi and his government's deliveries, he has one most important "accomplishment" beneath his belt — that he has "fixed" Muslims. The Opposition parties are driven by their perception of majoritarian elation and are now unwilling to risk loss of support among Hindus. In more states than one, the Opposition to the BJP is its veritable B-team. Take the Arvind Kejriwal-led Aam Aadmi Party for instance in Delhi.

This explains Akhilesh Yadav's conscious decision to refrain from critiquing Hindu nationalist politics in recent years, especially after 2017, the way his father Mulayam Singh Yadav, the Samajwadi patriarch, did three decades ago when he pledged in October 1990 not to allow even a single "bird to flutter" over Ayodhya's skies on the day of the Vishwa Hindu Parishad's promised commencement of the "kar seva" at the disputed site. The impression that there has a complete reversal is the outlook of large sections of Hindus towards Muslims is reflected in several of Mamata Banerjee's decisions too, most visibly in the significantly lesser number of Muslims she has nominated as candidates in these elections.

Ms Banerjee and Mr Yadav have another commonality. Prashant Kishor and his brand of ideological agnosticism is part of their campaign to return to power, the former's currently and Mr Yadav's in 2017. Since his advent in India's political space as an electoral strategist, first for Mr Modi and later for others, Mr Kishor has preached that political commitment to ideas and policies is redundant. Winning polls, he asserts, is all about reading the data right, an effective communication strategy and making the right moves at opportune moments. His philosophy enables him to move to one "client" party from another. Mr Kishor's belief in post-ideology politics is reflected in the weakened commitment to political beliefs of Ms Banerjee, Mr Yadav and several others.

His influence was visible in Ms Banerjee's letter to the Opposition leaders. It was an unambiguous effort at opening a door for a post-poll pact with the Congress while staking claim to a national role in the event of the Trinamul Congress returning to power in West Bengal. But Ms Banerjee chose not to criticise the BJP's corrosive ideology. Instead, she used the passage of the law that clipped the powers of the Delhi government and held it as evidence of the ruling side's objective of establishing "one party authoritarian rule in India".

Ms Banerjee's letter was silent on the abrogation of Article 370 and taking away Jammu and Kashmir's statehood, a precursor to the law clipping the Delhi government's powers. The letter listed the reasons why the Opposition parties must forge a common cause. But none of these were ideological. Ms Banerjee limited herself to listing instances showing that the BJP consistently undermines India's federal character; hang-handed governors, using investigative agencies to target political opponents, limiting fiscal independence of states, dissolution of consultative bodies, worsening Centre-state relations and so on.

Mamata Banerjee has not sought allies among the Opposition parties to protect India from a majoritarian onslaught. Instead, it is a call to unite to safeguard its federal character and autonomy. Although people in more than one hundred seats are still to vote, the letter is the final proof of the BJP winning this round politically. Whether it has secured West Bengal electorally too shall be known only on May 2.

WORK FROM HOME

It is highly distressing to read the demise of four employees of AP Secretariat and two employees of AP High Court due to Covid-19. It is a wake up call for the authorities to take effective measures as currently the second wave of the Covid-19 pandemic is at its worst in the country. For the time being, the option of WFH on a rotation basis is appropriate and sensible in order to save their lives and livelihood.

It is very regrettable to note that injections meant for patients are sidelined and sold in the black market in some private hospitals in Visakhapatnam. It is highly deplorable and clearly shows the fall of moral standards in respectable professions like medicine.

The Ministry took serious objection to Pakistani allegation that the Government of India was involved in any activity.

Bengal lesson: Drawbacks of a multi-phase state election

After various incidents of violence in the first four phases of voting in West Bengal, the Election Commission of India ordered the election campaign to end 72 hours before the fifth phase of polling. This order of bringing the campaign to an end, 24 earlier than the mandated 48 hours is an indication of EC not being in full command. The EC tried to send out a message of being tough by putting a 24-hour ban on Mamata Banerjee's campaign and another 48-hour bar on that by BJP leader Rahul Sinha, and issuing notices to BJP leader Suwendu Adhikari. These steps are welcome, but it can't possibly evade the question — why in spite of an eight-phase election, on grounds that it was necessary so that polling took place in a free and fair manner, has it not been able to curb violence in the earlier phases that resulted in the death of a few people?

The multi-phase election and few days of gap between different phases is aimed at facilitating movement of security forces from one location/district to another as an adequate number of forces are needed to be deployed at each polling booth for a free and fair election. But visuals from the ground especially at booths where violent incident took place clearly indicated that though security forces were deployed inside the polling booths, they were hardly seen outside them. It is a well-known fact that violence mostly take place outside the polling booth and hardly inside. The question that the EC actually needs to answer is this, was planning an eight-phase poll spread over a month, and during a pandemic too boot, wrong, after all? While there are advantages to holding a phased election, were there also challenges that it failed to take into account? Equally, was not deploying security forces outside polling stations in spite of visible signs of tension in many villages due to shortage? It so happened that more than 1,000 companies of central forces were deployed in West Bengal at the time.

As noted above, the huge gap between the different phases of polling in the 2021 West Bengal Legislative Assembly election was kept to facilitate comfortable movement of security forces between locations. The EC did the right thing following this protocol. However, it failed to assess that these days could also be used by anti-social elements for movement from one place to another. Thus, questions should also be asked for the rationale behind the eight-phase election. Why could the election not be planned over fewer phases?

Even though there is no data on the number of violent incidents in different phases, there is a general sense that violent incidents have increased in the later phases of the election compared to the earlier phases of voting. As we have noted before, a multiple-phase election does help in movement of security forces ultimately resulting in deployment of an adequate number at each polling station, but at the same time, spread over a month, it provides an opportunity for escalating violence, as workers of different parties fighting against each other get time to settle scores, right from one phase on to the next. Election in one phase could minimise this possibility, as they would not otherwise get the opportunity to organise themselves. Whatever violence takes place would then only be spontaneous. There may be some other disadvantages, but a single-day polling can certainly help in reducing the duration of tension between party workers.

A multi-phase election results in a very long period of election campaign. The campaign comes to an end 48 hours before the polling only in those constituencies where voting is scheduled to take place. There is no restriction on campaigning in constituencies where voting is scheduled at a later date. It has now almost become a rule that senior leaders of political parties will address rallies in constituencies where voting is to take place on a later date on the same day that voting is in progress in some other constituency. It has also become customary for these leaders to accuse leaders of their rival parties of their involvement in violent incidents in their speeches delivered during these rallies. This only raises the tempers of party workers that at times trigger violence in the said constituency on the voting day. A single-phase election or polling over fewer phases will certainly restrict the campaign period that will only help in keeping the political temperatures down, ultimately leading to less violence on the polling day.

Elections are due to be held in many states next year, Uttar Pradesh being a large one. Possibly, EC would think about a phased election. While so doing, it should keep the West Bengal lesson in mind.

HERO MOTOCORP TO SUSPEND OPS AT ALL PLANTS FROM 22ND

Two-wheeler maker Hero MotoCorp said it is temporarily stopping operations at all its manufacturing facilities across the country, including its Global Parts Centre (GPC), in the wake of a surge in Covid-19 cases. The firm has six manufacturing units located at Dharuhera and Gurugram, Haryana; Chittoor in Andhra Pradesh; Haridwar in Uttarakhand; Neemrana in Rajasthan, and Halol in Gujarat with a capacity of 90 lakh units.

Move part of efforts to boost supply Govt mulls duty cut on oxygen

MADHUSUDAN SAHOO NEW DELHI, APRIL 20

Anticipating a shortage of oxygen from the sharp spike in Covid-19 cases in many states, the government may encourage private companies to import oxygen to boost ramped up domestic supply. Besides, it is also expected that the Centre may relax the total import duty—which includes integrated GST—on medical oxygen by at least 10-12 per cent to boost private trade, a government source said.

The government move came soon after its decision on Monday to open vaccinations for all above 18 years of age from May 1.

A senior government official said, "We are closely looking into the development on oxygen supply and demand. If needed, we will allow private firms to import it with some duty relaxation. They may get a waiver of a minimum 10-12 per cent customs duty on oxygen if they intend to import."

As per industry estimation, the demand for the much sought-after liquid medical oxygen (LMO) has jumped manifold amidst the second wave of Covid-19. "During the first wave of Covid-19 last year, the demand for LMO increased four times to 2,800 tonnes per day. Further, with the second wave, the demand has gone up to more than 5,000 TPD," an industry source said.

STOP INDUSTRIAL USE OF OXYGEN: HC

New Delhi, April 20: The Delhi High Court on Tuesday said that economic interests cannot override human lives, and in view of hospitals in the national capital running low on oxygen, the Centre should immediately implement the ban on industrial use of oxygen instead of waiting till April 22.

A bench of Justices Vipin Sanghi and Rekha Palli said oxygen supply of various hospitals will run out in 4-8 hours and in such a situation there was no justification in implementing the ban from April 22 as the need was now.

The court directed the Centre to forthwith implement the ban and divert the oxygen to hospitals.

The court also issued notice to INOX Air Products, which produces oxygen, as to why contempt action be not initiated against it for not complying with court orders to supply oxygen and directed the presence of the company's MD on the next date of hearing on April 22.

The court also sought the presence of the Uttar Pradesh government on the next date.

The direction came after senior advocate Rahul Mehra told the bench that INOX did not supply oxygen as directed by the court claiming that doing so would lead to a law and order situation in UP from where the supply was to come.

The court also directed the Centre to issue appropriate orders and also meet the representatives of the steel and petrochemical industries to divert some portion of their oxygen.

said the government is looking into all aspects of oxygen requirement.

"In order to save the lives of people now we are trying our best to meet the demand and boost supply. About the pricing, I think they could also be given the freedom to set pricing of their own," the official added.

BHARAT BIOTECH TO BOOST VACCINE OUTPUT

CHRIS KAY APRIL 20

Bharat Biotech International Ltd will ramp up production of its Covid-19 shot to about 700 million doses on an annual basis as the country struggles to contain a fresh and virulent coronavirus wave. The planned expansion comes after the government last week gave the firm a Rs 65-crore grant. New Delhi has pushed Bharat Biotech to double its output by June and churn out 100 million doses of its inactivated Covaxin shot per month by September.

"Inactivated vaccines, while highly safe, are extremely complex and expensive to manufacture, resulting in lower yields compared to live virus vaccines," the firm said. — Bloomberg

DBS, StanChart weigh bids for Citi consumer business

ANSHUMAN DAGA, NUPUR ANAND & SUMEET CHATTERJEE APRIL 20

DBS Group, Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group (MUFG), OCBC and Standard Chartered are set to bid for parts of Citigroup's consumer business in Asia, people with direct knowledge of the matter said.

The sale process will start within a couple of weeks, they added, declining to be named as they were not authorised to speak to media.

The move comes after Citi said it would exit from its consumer franchises in 13 markets, 10 of which are in Asia, as it refocuses on its more lucrative institutional and wealth management businesses in these markets.

Potential bids from the regional banks and StanChart, which makes most of its profit in Asia, underscores their growing appetite for businesses like credit cards and mortgages in a push to lock in long-term income growth.

The businesses Citi is exiting had $82 billion in assets and were allocated $7 billion in tangible common equity last year.

As Citi is not giving up its banking licences in most of the markets it is exiting, the sale of the consumer banking portfolios and branches will only appeal to lenders with existing presence in these countries, the people said.

Representatives at MUFG and StanChart, and Sumitomo Mitsui Financial Group, which the sources said was another potential bidder, declined to comment. "DBS has always been open to exploring sensible bolt-on opportunities in markets where we have a consumer banking franchise," Southeast Asia's biggest lender said.

In 2016, DBS bought ANZ's wealth management and retail businesses in five Asian markets for about $80 million.

Citi's sprawling India consumer business, comprising retail deposits, mortgages and credit cards, and its Taiwan business would be among the most valuable parts of its Asian consumer portfolio, the sources said.

DBS, the only big foreign bank with a fully owned Indian subsidiary, is eyeing Citi's India business, which is also set to attract StanChart and Kotak Mahindra Bank and Axis Bank, the sources said. SBI Cards and Payment Services is also weighing a bid for Citi's credit card portfolio. — Reuters

Container shortage eases but freight still high

SANGEETHA G CHENNAI, APRIL 20

While the hurdles in container availability, which troubled exporters for several months at a stretch, have eased, the freight charges are still ruling high, and are still 40 to 50 per cent higher than last year. Container shortage and demand issues had dragged down the consolidated cargo traffic at government-run ports to a three-year low in FY21.

The government on Tuesday claimed that the shortage of containers has been eased in the country. Around 58 per cent additional exports were handled in March and around one lakh empty containers were repositioned on Indian ports from across the world by the shipping lines. The Container Shipping Lines Association (India) said it has increased availability by more than 17-18 per cent compared to March 2019.

India is also targeting to manufacture containers domestically. State-run Concor has already issued an order of 2,000 containers to BHEL and Braithwaite. Discussions have been initiated with steel manufacturers, for producing corten steel in India at competitive prices, and railway wagon manufacturers like BHEL, DCM-Hyundai and Balmer & Lawrie to set up plants for manufacturing containers.

Meanwhile, the total consolidated cargo traffic handled at the government-run ports in FY21 dropped to a three-year low and was 5.3 per cent lower than in FY20. In volume terms, the cargo managed at 1,248 million tonnes was 70 million tonnes lower than in FY20.

ICC confident big game will go ahead as planned despite India being 'red-flagged'

Dubai, April 20: The World Test Championship final between India and New Zealand will go ahead as planned in Southampton from June 18, the International Cricket Council (ICC) has assured after Britain added India to its travel 'red list' following a massive surge in Covid-19 case-load.

India's entry into the "red list" effectively bans all travel from the country and makes a 10-day hotel quarantine compulsory for UK residents arriving back home. However, the ICC expressed confidence in staging the WTC final in a bio-secure environment.

"The ECB and other members have demonstrated how we can stage international cricket safely in the middle of a pandemic and we are confident that we can continue to do that and that the WTC Final will go ahead as planned in June in the UK," said the ICC in a statement on Monday night.

"We are currently discussing with the UK Government the impact of countries being on the red list," it added.

A BCCI source said that it's difficult to say anything at this point in time and the Board is hoping that India will not be in the 'red list' by the time the team leaves for UK in early June for the WTC final.

"We still don't know how the situation will pan out in June. The travel related India's entry into the British "red list" effectively bans all travel from the country and makes a 10-day hotel quarantine compulsory for UK residents arriving back home.

SOPs are always dynamic as per Covid situation. When India leaves for UK at the start of June, it might be that the country is not in red list which requires 10 days of hard quarantine.

"But, if it is needed, it would be done. The situation is too fluid right now," the source said on conditions of anonymity.

Media reports in the UK said that in case it is required, the Rose Bowl in Southampton and it on-site hotel could be cleared for 'red list' arrivals by reverting to the full bio-secure set up that saw it successfully stage international fixtures last season.

"We are currently discussing with the government the impact of countries being on the 'red list'. By working collaboratively we demonstrated how we can stage international cricket safely in the middle of a pandemic and hope to be able to do so again this year," an ECB spokesperson was quoted as saying by Guardian newspaper.

The Indian women's cricket team is also scheduled to tour UK in June while the men's team is to play five Tests in England starting August 4.

There is also concern about how the inclusion of India in the 'red list' will impact the England and New Zealand cricketers who are currently playing in the IPL and intend to fly to the UK for the two-match Test series between the two countries that starts at the Lord's on June 2. The IPL will conclude on May 30 with the summit clash scheduled in Ahmedabad. India has reported 2,59,170 new positive cases in last 24 hours, the highest single-day surge, taking the country's Covid-19 caseload past the 1.5 crore mark. — PTI

SA captains fear ICC suspension

Johannesburg, April 20: The ICC on Tuesday said it will not intervene in the governance crisis engulfing South African cricket till the country's board asks for it, after the three national team captains expressed concerns over possible suspension by the game's global governing body.

The three skippers Dean Elgar, Temba Bavuma and Dane van Niekerk have signed a joint statement expressing their concerns before the ICC statement came as a relief.

"The ICC encourages Members to work with governments to resolve issues. Not all government intervention is problematic and for the ICC to get involved it requires a formal complaint from our Members that it is unwanted," the apex body said in a statement.

"Should that happen we will evaluate the situation based on the facts provided and plan an appropriate course of action."

An ICC source said that Cricket South Africa (CSA) hasn't yet reached a situation that demands the apex body's intervention.

Dane van Niekerk

"ICC doesn't want to press the panic button yet and want them to solve the issue themselves," the source said.

FIFA vows 'consequences' for Super League clubs

Montreux (Switzerland), April 20: FIFA president Gianni Infantino on Tuesday warned that clubs involved in the European Super League could face "consequences", as the backlash built against the deeply divisive plans.

Infantino leant his support to European football's governing body as it attempts to quash an initiative that threatens its prized Champions League and the health of domestic competitions such as England's Premier League.

"It is our task to protect the European sport model, so if some elect to go their own way then they must live with the consequences of their choices," Infantino said at UEFA's congress in Switzerland.

Indian boxers book seven semis berths

New Delhi, April 20: Babyrojisana Chanu outclassed defending European champion Alexs Kubicka as seven Indian boxers stormed into the semi-finals at the youth world championships for men and women in Kielce, Poland.

Along with Chanu (51kg), Arundhati Choudhary (69kg), Sanamacha Chanu (75kg), Ankit Narwal (64kg), Vishal Gupta (91kg), Bishwamitra Chongtham (49kg) and Sachin (56kg) assured themselves of at least a bronze by advancing to the last-four stage on Day 7 of competitions.

With the confirmation of seven more medals, the 20-member Indian contingent is now assured of 11 medals from the ongoing championship.

Earlier on Day 6, Vinka, Alfija, Gitika and Poonam had advanced to the semi-finals.

In a clash between two strong gold contenders in women's 51kg category, Asian youth champion Chanu put up a strong tactical performance.

She did not allow her Polish opponent Kubicka to score any point, blanking her 5-0. The Manipuri boxer will now take on Lucia Ayari of Italy.

Babyrojisana Chanu celebrates after winning her quarterfinal bout.

Later, Arundhati outpunched Ukraine's Anna Sezko 5-0 while Sanamacha sent Russian Margarita Zueva packing with referee stopping the contest in the second round.

In the men's category, Asian junior champion Bishwamitra and Asian youth championship silver medalist Narwal also lived up to expectations and notched-up easy 5-0 victories against Serbian Omer Ametovic and Brazil's Ezequiel Da Cruz respectively.
