EPF subsidy extension to aid generation of 13.3 lakh jobs: Govt

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 30

THE GOVERNMENT ON Wednesday said the extension of the provident fund subsidy scheme – Atmanirbhar Bharat Rojgar Yojana (ABRY) – till the end of the current fiscal may lead to an additional 13.3 lakh employment generation in the formal sector. "Consequent upon this extension, it is expected that 71.8 lakh employment will be generated in the formal sector as against the earlier projection of 58.5 lakh," according to an official statement.

As on June 18, 2021, benefits amounting to ₹902 crore have been given to 21.42 lakh beneficiaries through 79,577 establishments under ABRY.

The government, however, lowered the overall scheme expenditure by ₹712 crore to ₹22,098 crore from ₹22,810 crore approved earlier.

Under ABRY scheme, first announced on November 12, 2020 as part of the Atmanirbhar Bharat Package 3.0, the Centre provides provident fund subsidy for two years in respect of new employees

Above-normal rains fail to boost kharif sowing as monsoon stalled

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 30

THE FIRST MONTH of the June-September monsoon season has recorded rains 10% above normal with each of the four regions – East and North-East, North-West, Central and South Peninsular – reporting surplus precipitation. However, the surplus rains could not help sowing activities as monsoon has been stalled since June 19 and is unlikely to revive before July 7, as per latest forecast.

For the country as a whole, cumulative rainfall during this year's southwest monsoon season's rainfall until June 30 has been about 10% above the Long Period Average (LPA) with actual rainfall recorded at 18.29 cm against normal of 16.69 cm, India Meteorological Department (IMD) said in a statement.

"Advance of southwest monsoon into remaining parts of Rajasthan, Delhi, Haryana and Punjab is not likely till 7th July," IMD said. The stalled monsoon was mainly due to impact mid-latitude westerly winds, unfavourable Madden Julian Oscillation (MJO) and absence of formation of low pressure system over north Bay of Bengal.

"The MJO currently lies in Phase 1 (equatorial eastern Africa) with amplitude more than 1. It is likely to propagate eastwards into Phase 2 (western equatorial Indian Ocean and adjoining Arabian Sea) with amplitude close to 1 by July 2 and further into Phase 3 (eastern equatorial Indian Ocean Bay of Bengal) from July 7. Hence, the phase of MJO is likely to gradually favour enhancement of convection and cross equatorial flow over the north Indian Ocean around July 7. Model forecasts show that easterly winds from Bay of Bengal in lower tropospheric levels are not likely to be established over north-western plains of India before July 7," the weather bureau said.

Due to stalled monsoon, the daily rainfall across the country has considerably declined. For instance, on June 29 it was 43% below normal and on June 30 it was 56% lower than average, a senior official of agriculture ministry said.

Groundnut acreage in Gujarat, the biggest producing state, has seen a drop of 19% at about 10 lakh hectare as of June 28, largely because monsoon rainfall has been 27% lower than normal in key growing Saurashtra and Kutch regions. However, cotton area has seen marginal fall of 2% at 11.46 lakh hectare as other parts of Gujarat have received almost normal rainfall.

Similarly in Maharashtra, there was 62% fall in kharif sowing area at 23 lakh hectare as on June 21 from the year-ago period.

The state government had last week issued an advisory, urging farmers not to rush for kharif sowing and wait for a while to ensure adequate showers. Other states like Uttar Pradesh and Haryana have also reported fall in overall acreage as on June 21. The rainfall deficit in Kerala is as high as 36% in all districts except Kotayam reporting deficient rains.

However, sowing area of soyabean in Madhya Pradesh, the largest producer state, has been 10 times more than last year's level at 8.17 lakh hectare as of June 21. Madhya Pradesh has received 36% more than normal rains while only nine out of 51 districts have deficient rainfall in June.

Ministries told to limit Q2 spending at 20% of BE

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 30

THE CENTRE ON Wednesday asked many ministries and departments to scale down their Q2FY22 expenditure plans by 5 percentage points from the business-as-usual level of 25% of the full-year spending. The move is part of re-prioritisation of spending in the wake of second Covid wave, and may not result in overall reduction in expenditure.

It could not be immediately estimated what would be the quantum of reduction in expenditure in Q2FY21 because of the rationalisation measure. The total budget expenditure is estimated to be ₹34.8 lakh crore (BE) in FY22.

In the business-as-usual scenario, the departments are allowed to spend about 25% of their respective BEs in Q2 subject to quarterly and monthly plans approved by the finance ministry. Some departments were even allowed to spend more than 25% in a quarter subject to prior approvals.

Departments/agencies which will have to restrict the overall expenditure within 20% of BE include Labour, Panchayati Raj, Social Justice, Posts, Telecom, Consumer Affairs, Home, Police, Defence (civil), Defence (revenue), School Education and Higher Education, among dozens of others.

"Keeping in view the evolving situation arising out of Covid-19 and anticipated cash position of government, it is felt essential to regulate quarterly expenditure plan (QEP)/monthly expenditure plan (MEP) of specific ministries/departments for quarter 2 (July-September 2021), the finance ministry said in an office memorandum.

However, the finance ministry has spared some of the key departments/agencies from expenditure compression measure which are crucial in the fight against coronavirus such as health, agriculture, food, rural development, railways and road. Similarly, expenditures towards interest payments and transfers to states will be unaffected, the finance ministry said.

With revenues likely to fall short of budget targets even as the government announced a slew of relief measures for people and industry, the latest order for Q2FY21 spending follows a set of instructions issued earlier in June to departments to curb certain regular but 'controllable' and 'avoidable' expenditure.

GIVEN THAT the last bid to revive the loss-making, debt-ridden discoms through the so-called UDAY scheme launched in November 2015 failed to achieve the goals after showing some initial promise in inculcating discipline in the discoms' operations, the Centre has made funding under the new scheme contingent on the discoms committing to undertake structural reforms and infrastructure creation such as feeder separation and smart meters. The idea is to address core issues of billing-collection inefficiencies and pilferage efficiently.

Lower cost of funds helped in reducing interest outflow for discoms by about ₹12,382 crore annually. After showing initial gains, discoms' financial losses jumped 83% annually to ₹61,360 crore in FY19.

Discoms' 'overdues' – pending receivables of 45 days or more – to power producers at April-end stood at ₹68,330 crore, down 9.6% from a year earlier, reflecting the utilisation of the PFC-REC loans under the ₹1.25-lakh-crore liquidity infusion scheme announced by the Centre under the Atmanirbhar Bharat package to clear discom dues to electricity generators.

According to ICICI Securities, as much as ₹75,555 crore had been disbursed to the states by March end under the PFC-REC scheme. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said on Monday that states have been allowed ₹1,05,864 crore of additional borrowing in FY22 as a part of the credit leeway announced in May 2020.

States have already been allowed additional borrowing for four years starting FY22 up to 0.5% of GSDP annually subject to carrying out specified power sector reforms which include improving the discoms' corporate governance and increasing intervention of IT-enabled infrastructure.

The elusive target of reducing AT&C losses to 15% was first set in FY03 with the launch of the accelerated power development and reforms programme (APDRP), after the Centre introduced the first bailout package in 2001 through the financial restructuring plan (FRP) based on the Montek Singh Ahluwalia Committee recommendations.

The 2001 package cleared discoms' accumulated dues of ₹41,473 crore and waived off surcharges worth ₹8,300 crore on other arrears through a tripartite agreement signed by the Centre, states and Reserve Bank of India for a one-time settlement of state electricity dues.

The UDAY scheme helped reduce the interest burden of the discoms by around four percentage points as it allowed the states to convert loans worth ₹2.32 lakh crore into bonds.

lages in the country will be connected with broadband in 1,000 days. He said that till date, 1.56 lakh out of the 2.5 lakh village panchayats have been connected with broadband.

As earlier reported by FE, with this additional allocation of ₹19,041 crore for the BharatNet project, the total outlay for it has increased to ₹61,109 crore, which includes the already approved amount of ₹42,068 crore in 2017. However, this does not strain the government's finances in anyway as funds for BharatNet are provided from the universal service obligation fund where around ₹55,000 crore is lying unutilised. Telecom operators contribute 5% of their adjusted gross revenue to the USO fund.

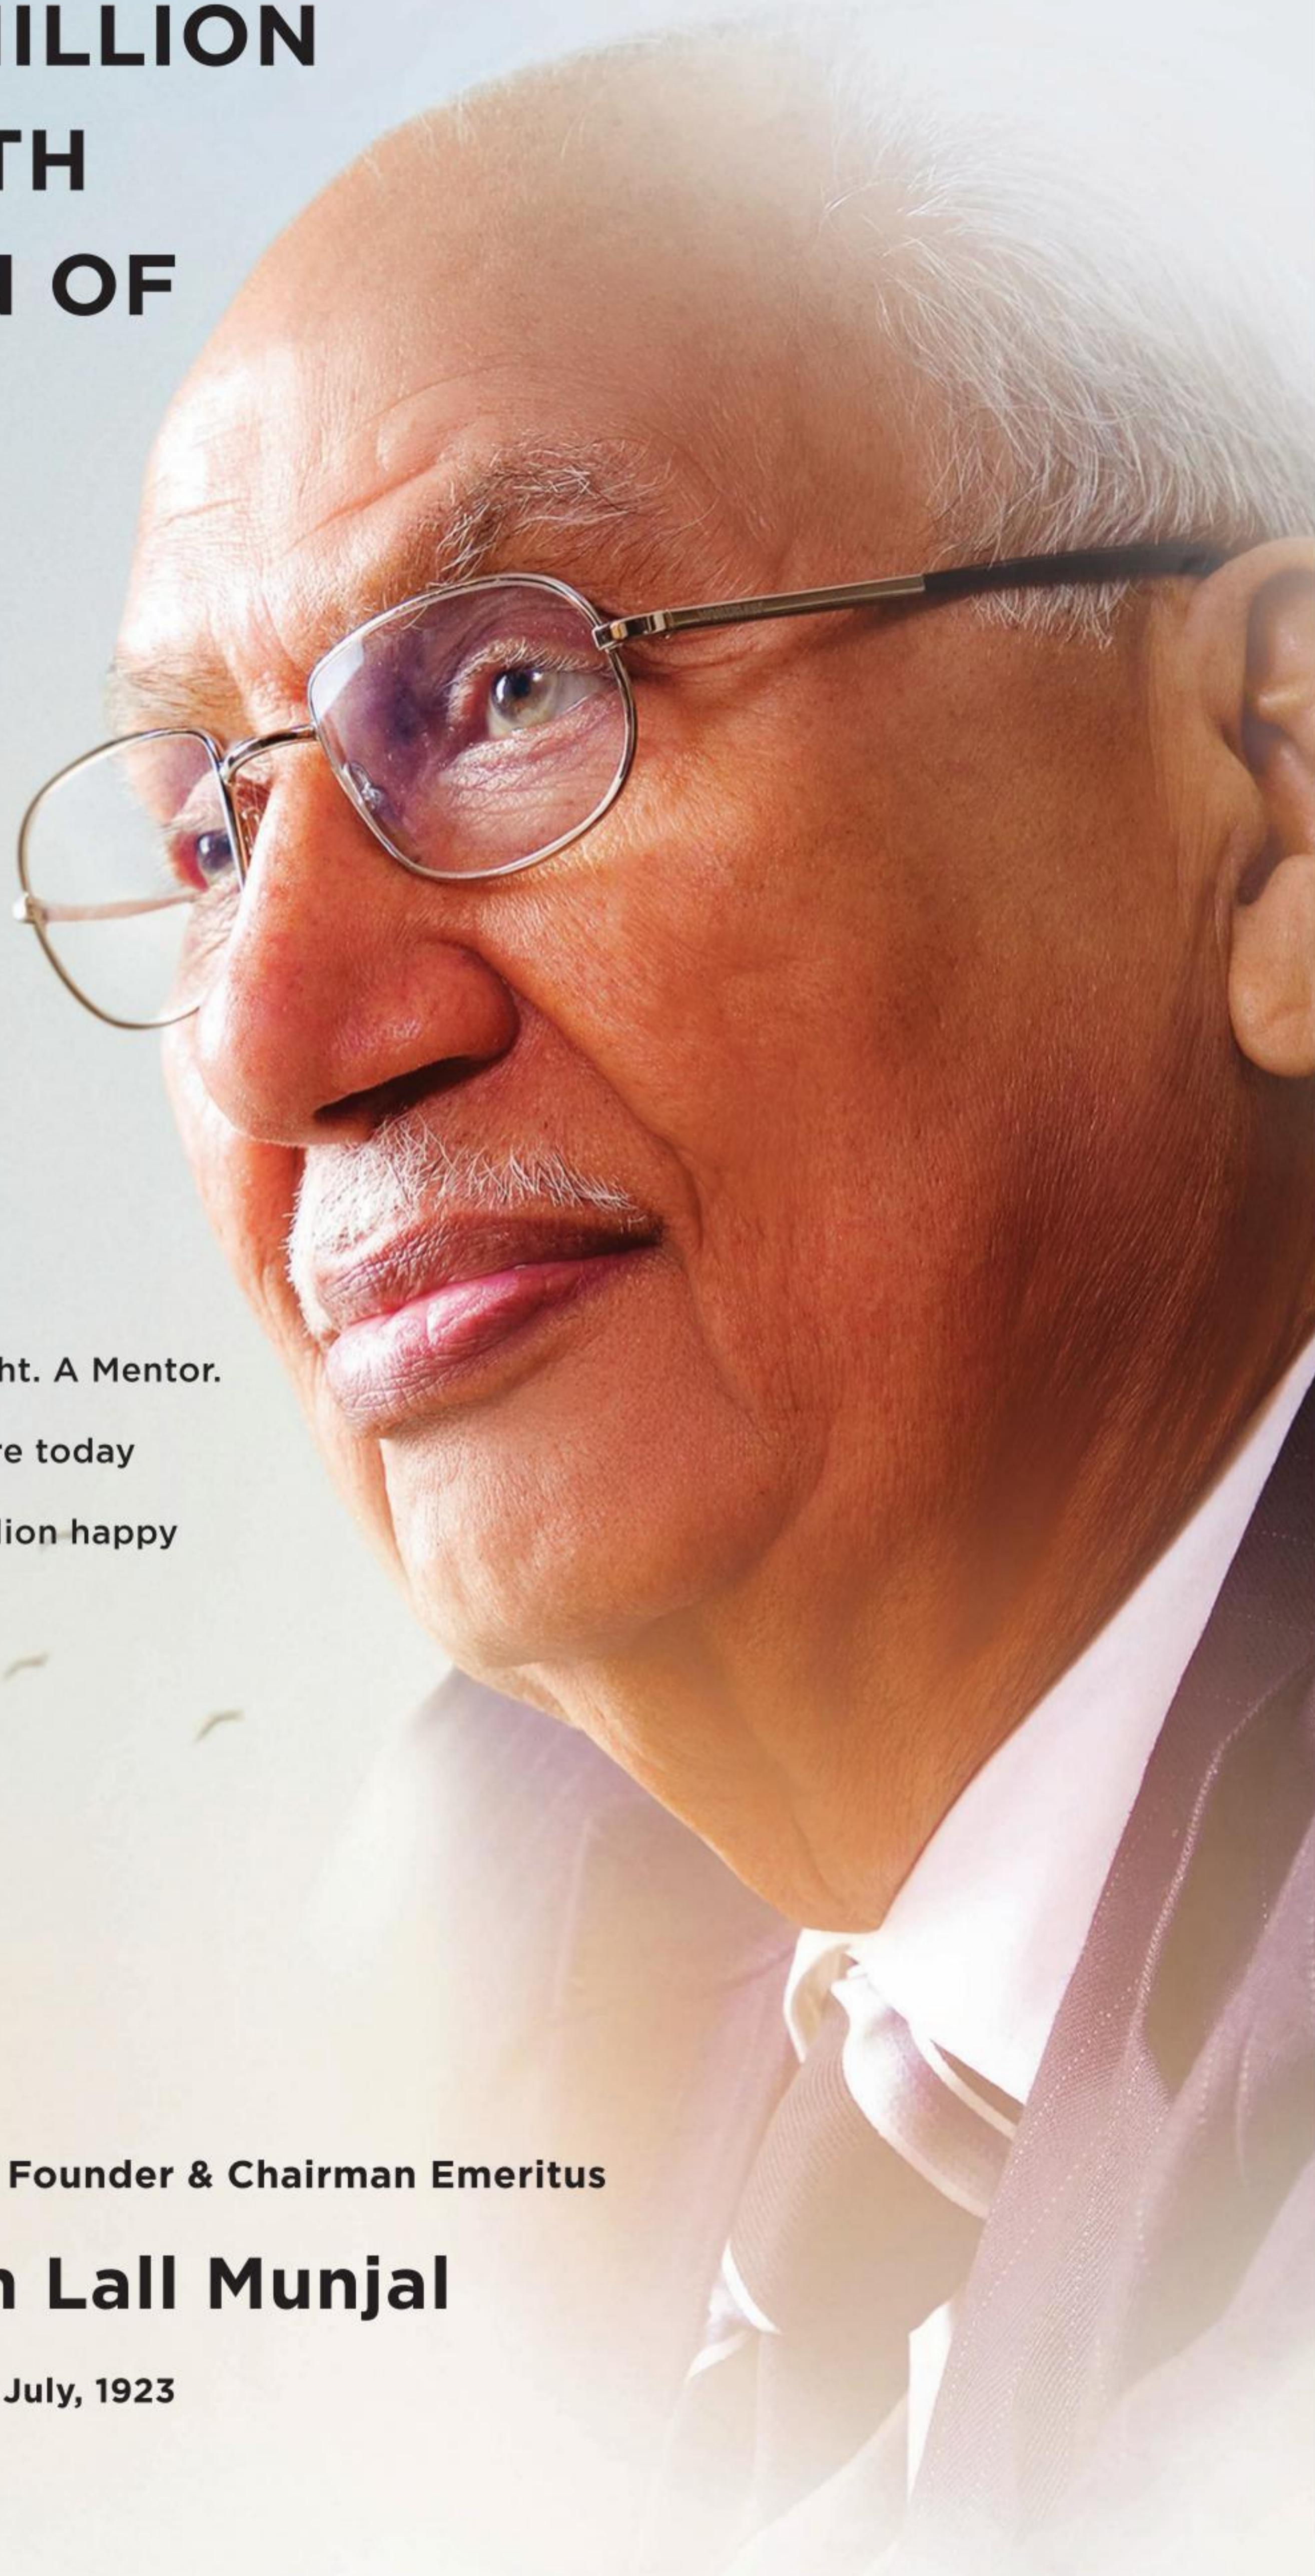

The states to be covered under the revised plan are Kerala, Karnataka, Rajasthan, Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, West Bengal, Assam, Meghalaya, Manipur, Mizoram, Tripura, Nagaland and Arunachal Pradesh. The Cabinet also accorded an in-principle approval for extending BharatNet to cover all inhabited villages in the remaining states and union territories, and the department of telecommunication will separately work out the modalities for the remaining states and UTs.

The government said that the PPP model will leverage private sector efficiency for operation, maintenance, utilisation and revenue generation, and is expected to result in a faster rollout of BharatNet.

The selected concessionaire – private sector partner – is expected to provide reliable, high speed broadband services as per the pre-defined services level agreement (SLA). "Extension of reach of BharatNet to all inhabited villages with reliable, quality, high speed broadband will enable better access of e-services offered by various central and state government agencies. It will also enable online education, telemedicine, skill development, e-commerce and other applications of broadband. It is expected that revenue will be generated from different sources, including proliferation of broadband connections to individuals and institutions, sale of dark fibre, fiberisation of mobile towers, e-commerce, etc," a government statement said.

ZOMATO HAS SOUGHT approval from the Competition Commission of India (CCI) for its proposed investment in Grofers.

"The notification form is being filed in relation to the proposed acquisition by Zomato of approximately 9.3% stake in each of Grofers India and HoT (Hands on Trades Private Ltd) along with certain rights in each of the Targets (Proposed Transaction)," Zomato said in its filing with the CCI.

"The proposed transaction will have no impact on the competitive landscape in any potential relevant market in India, in any manner," the filing added.

Grofers India, the e-grocer's Singapore-based parent Grofers International and HoT, a wholesale entity owned by the parent firm, have been collectively referred to as the Target. The filing mentions that HoT is engaged in the business of B2B wholesale trading with third party merchants.

Zomato and Grofers did not respond to FE's queries.

According to reports, Zomato and Tiger Global will collectively infuse about $120 million into Grofers with IPO-bound Zomato bringing in the larger chunk of the capital. The investment is expected to value Grofers at about $1 billion, giving it the status of a unicorn, the reports said.

In a recent company blog, Grofers co-founder and CEO Albinder Dhindsa has mentioned that the company's "next funding round is secure".

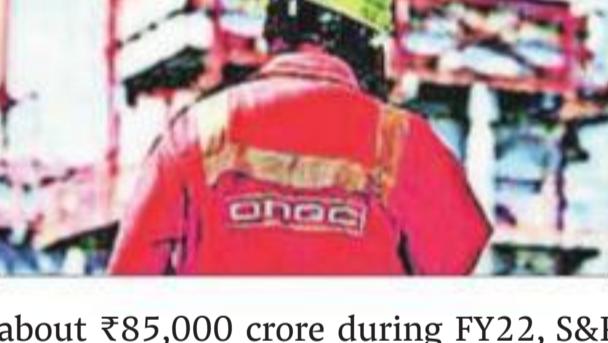

Zomato's investment in Grofers comes at a time when e-grocery services are witnessing heavy demand. The pandemic has nudged more people to take to online grocery shopping and analysts believe the trend is here to stay. Industry experts say

India had an estimated 154 million online transacting households as of CY20, with 130 million either already using e-grocery platforms or willing to try. Tier two cities and beyond will be the next growth frontier for the segment players. Following the onset of the pandemic in March last year, Zomato had introduced grocery services on the app but discontinued it after the food delivery business got back in shape.

The funding is expected to give Grofers the much-needed support to fight competition that is only getting bigger. The Tata Group is the latest entrant in the space with its acquisition of a majority stake in rival BigBasket. Deep-pocketed players Amazon, Flipkart and Reliance are already doubling down on the segment that is still nascent and provides enough room for growth.

Total losses for Grofers increased by over 40% year-on-year to ₹637.49 crore in the year to March 31, 2020. The company incurred higher expenses which widened to ₹814.29 crore in FY20 from ₹531.62 crore in FY19. Revenue from operations, however, grew by a little over 135% y-o-y to ₹165.27 crore in FY20.

about ₹85,000 crore during FY22, S&P Global said. "We estimate the company's debt-to-Ebitda ratio will strengthen to about 1.6x during this period, from about 1.9x in FY21," the agency noted.

In FY21, ONGC's Ebitda on a consolidated basis fell 8% annually, owing to a drop in both volumes and realisation. Oil output fell 3% while realisation fell 27%. For gas, production fell 9% year-on-year and realisation was down 38%. In Q4FY21, ONGC's oil realisation at $58/barrel was, however, 34% higher than the preceding quarter.

Analysts at Nomura said there is a strong case for revision of domestic gas prices for legacy fields, and doing away with ceiling price for difficult fields. HSBC Global Research expects domestic gas price to increase to $3.2/mBtu, and the deepwater ceiling price to rise to $9/mmBtu by FY22-end. HSBC has also raised its FY22 profit forecast for ONGC by 1% over its initial estimate to ₹27,228.5 crore. In FY23, it expects ONGC to earn a profit of ₹30,591.5 crore in FY23.

ONGC management expects nearly 50-60% increase in gas prices in the second half of the fiscal with the recent strength in international rates. The current price for gas produced from local nominated fields has been revised to an all-time low of $1.79/million British thermal units (mBtu) by the government, which is much below the break-even point of $3.2-3.5/mBtu for most fields. For ultra-deep-water gas fields like the Krishna Godavari basin, which have higher pricing and marketing freedom, the current price cap is set at $3.62/mBtu.

S&P Global Ratings, which has raised the forecast for Brent crude oil price for the rest of 2021 by $5 to $65/barrel, pointed out that benchmark crude price estimate is significantly higher. ONGC's realisation of ₹43/barrel in FY21. Higher crude prices, along with about 7% growth in the company's production volume, should push its earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation (Ebitda) up by 20-25% to

Covaxin row: Have neither got any advance, nor sent vaccines to Brazil, says Bharat Biotech

FE BUREAU
Pune, June 30

VACCINE MAKER BHARAT BIOTECH (BB) on Wednesday denied any wrongdoing in the procurement process of Covaxin in its deal with the Brazilian government.

"Bharat Biotech has not received any advance payments, nor supplied any vaccines to ministry of health, Brazil. Bharat Biotech has followed a similar approach towards contracts, regulatory approvals and supplies in several countries worldwide, where Covaxin is being supplied successfully," the company said in a statement.

The Brazil health ministry has suspended its contract with Bharat Biotech for a month, after a whistleblower alleged that there were irregularities in the deal. The country's federal prosecutors have opened an investigation into the allegations.

The vaccine maker had signed a $324-million deal with the government of Brazil to supply 20 million doses of the Covaxin at $15 per vaccine.

According to the management of Bharat Biotech, they had a meeting with the Brazilian health ministry in November 2020 and followed a step-by-step approach towards contracts and regulatory approval until June 29. Bharat Biotech received emergency use approval on June 4.

The pricing of Covaxin was established between $15-20 per dose for supplies to governments outside India. The pricing for Brazil has also been indicated at $15 per dose.

The company said Covaxin has received emergency use authorisation in 16 countries, including Brazil, and is in the process of doing so in 50 countries. Bharat Biotech is also in discussions with the World Health Organization to obtain emergency use listing for Covaxin.

The company is manufacturing Covaxin at four facilities in India and is expanding capacity to reach an annualised capacity of one billion doses by 2021-end. Technology transfer activities are in progress to companies in the United States and other countries, it said.

If you can invoke US copyright act, be cognisant of Indian laws as well: Prasad to Twitter

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 30

CALLING FOR ACCOUNTABILITY of big social media companies, Union minister Ravi Shankar Prasad on Wednesday said Twitter invoked a US copyright act to block his account but it should also be cognisant of the law in India where it is operating and earning money.

Speaking at the India Global Forum, the minister said Twitter last week blocked his account for an hour on a complaint made four years ago under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act of the US.

"If you are going to invoke the... digital copyright act of America then you have to also be cognisant of the copyright rules of India. That is the point. You cannot say my whole stand will be regulated by an ex parte assessment of the US law. For a happy blending of the role of big tech and democracy, a solution has to be found," Prasad said.

He said social media companies are free to do business in India but they have to be accountable to the Indian Constitution and laws.

Microblogging platform Twitter has been at loggerheads with the government over various issues, including during the farmers' protest in January and later when it tagged political posts of several leaders of the ruling party BJP as "manipulated media", drawing a sharp rebuke from the Centre.

Twitter has still not complied with the new IT rules for social media companies.

JSW Steel to pump in over ₹25k cr to ramp up capacity to 37 MT

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Kolkata, June 30

JSW STEEL IS PLANNING to invest another ₹25,115 crore by 2024-25 to ramp up its capacity to 37.5 million tonne (MT) per annum, its chairman and managing director Sajjan Jindal said in a message to its shareholders.

The company, which sold nearly 15 MT of steel in FY21, claimed to have invested ₹48,000 crore in the past three years for augmenting its production capacity to nearly 28 MT, company officials said.

The fresh investment of ₹25,115 crore would further boost the company's capacity to 37.5 MT, they said.

JSW Steel has an installed crude steel capacity of 18 MT in India, comprising 12.5 MTPA of flat products and 5.5 MTPA of long products.

"We are now embarking on the next phase of growth with the newly approved capex plan of ₹25,115 crore.

"This capital will allow us to augment our crude steel capacity at Vijayanagar by 7.5 MTPA, enhance and digitise our mining capabilities and infrastructure in Odisha and help us set up a state-of-the-art colour-coated facility in Jammu & Kashmir to support local demand and development in the state," Jindal said in the latest annual report.

The company's balance sheet is getting stronger as it improves cash flows and efficiently allocates capital, he said.

"With the new capacities and strong price environment, we expect our net debt to Ebitda ratio to be 2.75," Jindal said.

PLI SCHEME

4-15% incentives to be offered to steel sector

SURYA SARATHI RAY
New Delhi, June 30

THE UNION CABINET is likely to consider for approval a ₹6,322-crore production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme for the steel sector in its next sitting. The scheme will offer an incentive of 4-15% to eligible companies on incremental production.

The government estimates that the scheme, to be implemented between 2023-24 and 2029-30, will lead to an incremental investment of ₹41,000 crore and generate over 60,000 direct and around five lakh indirect employment by 2026-27.

There will be a cap on the maximum PLI payable to each beneficiary. The incentive under the scheme will be paid for five years. The incentive payable for a particular year shall be due for payment in the following year.

The scheme is expected to enhance domestic manufacturing capabilities and attract investment in the field of specialty steel like high strength, wear-resistant steel, coated or plated products, specialty rails, alloy steel products and electrical steel, among others.

The financial outgo under the scheme is expected to reach to its peak in 2026-27 and come down to its lowest towards the end of the scheme period in 2029-30.

In November 2020, the Cabinet had approved introducing PLI for ten sectors with a total outlay of ₹1,45,980 crore for enhancing India's manufacturing capabilities and exports, including specialty steel. These were in addition to the three sectors for which PLI were approved by the Cabinet in April 2020. While many of them have been cleared by the Cabinet, specialty steel is yet to get the approval.

Specialty steel grades have enough scope for employment generation in both downstream and upstream industries, better value to the consumers and higher import substitution potential.

India exports more steel in volume than it imports. While Indian exports are of those items which are at the lower end of the value chain; imports are of higher-grade variants. Though India has a relatively lower requirement for specialty steel, even that is met through imports.

"The PLI scheme for specialty steel will be instrumental in achieving higher growth rate and will help augment capacities in high-grade steel products with potential to create global champions," said a source.

Confident of EMA approval in a month:
Poonawalla

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 30

VACCINE MAJOR SERUM Institute of India is confident of receiving approval from the European Medicines Agency (EMA) for Covishield in a month, chief executive officer Adar Poonawalla said on Wednesday. He also said the issue of vaccine passports should be on the basis of reciprocity among countries.

"The EMA is absolutely correct in asking us to apply, which we have through AstraZeneca, our partners, a month ago, and that process has to take its time..." Poonawalla said at India Global Forum 2021.

"We are quite confident that in a month EMA will approve Covishield. There is no reason why not to, because it is based on AstraZeneca data and our product is identical to AstraZeneca more or less and it has been approved by WHO, UK MHRA. So it's just a matter of time. It is not really going to hinder anything," he said.

NMDC in talks to raise ₹5k cr to part-fund Nagarnar plant

SURYA SARATHI RAY
New Delhi, June 30

STATE-RUN IRON ORE miner NMDC is in talks with banks and other financial institutions to raise around ₹5,000 crore debt to part-fund its under-construction ₹21,300 crore Nagarnar Steel Plant (NSP) that is likely to be operationalised by October this year, NMDC's chairman-cum-managing director Sumit Deb said.

A pure-play miner, NMDC had in 2009-10 conceived the three million tonne per annum (MTPA) Nagarnar plant in Chhattisgarh with the intention of moving up the value chain and diversifying its portfolio. The idea was also to hedge itself against the vagaries of iron ore prices.

Work for setting up the plant started in 2010-11 and was initially supposed to be commissioned by 2016.

Time overrun has led to the cost overrun for the steel plant. Against the initial estimated expenditure of

"As per our revised estimate, the steel plant would require ₹21,300 crore investment. We have already spent ₹18,562 crore," NMDC's chairman-cum-managing director Sumit Deb said

Economic Affairs (CCEA) had on October 14, 2020 gave its 'in-principle' approval to the demerger of NSP from NMDC and strategic disinvestment of the demerged company by selling entire stake of the government to a strategic buyer.

Deb said the proposed demerger of NSP will happen almost around the same time the plant will be operationalised around October this year.

"Once the steel plant is demerged, the debt will also be transferred with the steel plant," the CMD said, adding that the average interest rate of the debt is likely to be around 7%.

The disinvestment proposal has fuelled a feeling of discontent among locals and particularly those who gave up their land for the steel plant. They wanted the unit to retain its public sector character and were against giving the management control to a private firm. The state government is also opposed to the plan.

IOCL to build ₹4,495-crore Styrene unit in Panipat

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, June 30

IOCL SAID ON Wednesday that the company's board has sanctioned the initial approval to set up India's first styrene monomer project at an estimated cost of ₹4,495 crore.

The project, with a capacity of 387 thousand metric tonne per annum (TMTPA) will be located in the company's Panipat refinery and petrochemical complex.

Styrene is used to produce a number of end products including polystyrene, paints, coatings and acrylic. India's styrene consumption is around 900 TMTPA, and as there is no domestic manufacturing capacity, the entire demand is met through imports from Singapore, West Asia and Southeast Asia. The project will be commissioned by FY27, IOCL said.

The project aims to utilise the ethylene produced in the Panipat refinery's upcoming INDMAX Unit.

Big tech is gearing up for a massive fight with India

SARITHA RAI & VLAD SAVOV
June 30

INDIA IS GROWING increasingly assertive in its efforts to control online communications, challenging Twitter and Facebook's practices and threatening to set a precedent that could extend far beyond its borders.

The largest US internet firms are fighting new intermediary rules issued by Narendra Modi's government in February that they say curtail privacy and free speech.

Officials have demanded Facebook and Twitter take down hundreds of posts this year, divulge sensitive user information and submit to a regulatory regime that includes potential jail terms for executives if companies don't comply.

While the administration's push to exert more control over user data and online discourse reflects efforts globally to come to grips with tech giants and their enormous influence, the stakes in India are particularly high for internet firms because — shut out of China — it's the only billion-people market up for grabs.

Unlike authoritarian regimes such as Beijing, critics fear actions taken by the world's largest democracy could offer a template for other governments to encroach on personal privacy in the name of domestic security.

"India has introduced draconian changes to its rules," the Electronic Frontier Foundation wrote in April. They "create new possibilities for government surveillance of citizens. These rules threaten the idea of a free and open internet built on a bedrock of international human rights standards."

Holding internet companies responsible for content posted — and in some cases, executives personally liable — goes beyond what many countries demand and is a key point of dispute. Caught in this tug-of-war are hundreds of millions in India whose way of engaging with the internet now hangs in the balance.

Facebook's WhatsApp is in court arguing the new rules would circumvent its encryption, a key feature it has touted in global marketing.

Modi's administration has trained its sights on Twitter in recent months, given its role as the social platform of choice for politicians and celebrities. Cabinet ministers have accused the US company of defying orders and suggested it should be stripped of its intermediary status — making it directly accountable for content posted by its users.

In May, Twitter slapped a "manipulated media" label on tweets from several accounts linked to Modi's party. Police investigators have since called on senior executives and its offices, placing business in the world's second most populous nation at risk.

"Twitter is in a no-win situation here," said Mike Masnick, founder of tech policy blog Techdirt. "Giving in to excessive government demands not only suppresses important speech, but opens the company up to even further pressure to silence critics of the government in India and elsewhere."

Representatives for the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MEITY) that oversees regulation did not respond to several calls and emails seeking comment.

WhatsApp and Twitter representatives declined to comment beyond past statements that they will aim to comply with government regulations.

"The Medical profession is calling and there would be very few occupations that can be as satisfying".

Dr Ranjan R. Pai, Chairman, Manipal Education and Medical Group, Bangalore

As a head of a large institute what has been your mantra to deal with this pandemic and your message to your team?

Crafting an adaptive, innovative and agile response to the pandemic, given its unpredictability and scale, has been the priority for Manipal Hospitals. We have been able to learn along the way, absorb inputs from India, abroad and from across sectors and incorporate those into our battle against Covid. I am extremely grateful to our entire team who have been front and center of our efforts and at it tirelessly for the last 15 months. I am proud of their contributions and the whole society owes a debt of gratitude to them.

How can India prepare for a possibility of a third wave?

Augmenting our infrastructure for managing the cases both within and outside of a hospital setting is our priority. Equally important is training as many people as possible in managing Covid patients, especially those requiring intensive care. Driving vaccination to cover as much of our population as possible is also key to keeping further waves in check and we have been actively engaged in that.

What would you like to convey to all the aspiring young doctors?

The medical profession is a calling and there would be very few occupations that can be as satisfying. Putting patients' interest first and as the only consideration should be the response in any situation. The trust deficit that has crept in the doctor-patient relationship over the last couple of decades needs to be overcome and young doctors have to shoulder most of that responsibility.

HAPPY Doctor's Day

BPL Medical Technologies

The healthcare fraternity rose to the occasion!

Dr. Harsh Mahajan, Founder and Chief Radiologist, Mahajan Imaging, New Delhi

The entire medical fraternity is playing a significant role in the ongoing COVID-19 crises in India. What would you like to say to them?

I think the Indian medical and paramedical fraternity has outdone itself while fighting the war against COVID-19. Stories of doctors, nurses, and others putting their patients ahead of themselves have become commonplace — everyone rose to the occasion and helped overcome what is possibly one of the worst times our country has gone through. I salute and thank my friends and colleagues and congratulate them on helping us tide through the crisis. Let us not lose heart and keep the fight up — a third wave seems likely, and hence we must be ready to fight again.

What are your viewpoints on video consultations and tele-radiology being a part of patient care, especially during this pandemic?

Video and tele-consultations have been the saving grace for dealing with the pandemic. In fact, Indian doctors living outside the country have also helped patients across the country. Almost everyone with access to internet was able to consult a doctor thanks to tele-consultations. Additionally, training of doctors using mass webinars became commonplace, leading to much better treatment outcomes. Teleradiology specifically helped provide rapid turnaround for patients who got Digital X-rays or CT scans done for COVID-19. Additionally, Artificial Intelligence algorithms also came to the fore with reports being created in almost real-time.

What are your views on the way that the current vaccination drive has panned out in the country?

I think India has done a great job so far with almost 20% population having received at least one dose. That said, we still have a long way to go and the only way to vaccinate the entire population in time is to do one crore vaccinations per day. The new policies implemented by the Central Government should make the process of procuring and dispensing vaccines much easier for all stakeholders, including States and the private sector so as to reach the last mile.

More independence for independent directors

The requirement of a special resolution for reappointment/removal of an independent director dilutes promoters' control

FOR DECADES NOW, both the capital-markets watchdog as also the department of corporate affairs have worked to enhance the role of independent directors (IDs); the Kotak Committee had noted that they form the backbone of the corporate governance framework worldwide as also in India. Apart from the auditors who are to keep vigil on financial transactions, making sure they are kosher, it is IDs who need to keep tabs on the goings-on within a company to ensure everything is above board. In reality, this is next to impossible, given promoters hold an average of 50% of the equity in the top NSE 500 companies—say for the 'professionally' run ones like an ITC or an L&T. Not surprisingly, they run the businesses as their fiefdoms and, given this, it is hard for IDs to blow the whistle as it were. While institutional shareholders are able to get wind of any adverse event, minority shareholders are left clueless. Indeed, the numerous corporate scams of the past decade—and instances of CEOs who have been arrested or charged with impropriety—are evidence that the presence of big-shot IDs has made little difference to the quality of corporate governance. Among the biggest instances of fraud have been Yes Bank and IL&FS and, most recently, the Gautam-Thapar-promoted CG Power, all of which had some big names on their boards.

Nonetheless, the SEBI's efforts to continuously tighten the norms for independent directors are to be lauded; on Tuesday, the regulator mandated that, starting 2022, appointments or reappointments or the removal of IDs would require a special resolution of shareholders. So far, promoters had enough clout and ownership to be able to push through a general resolution; now, they will need to get the small shareholders on board. It is also a good idea to make the selection of IDs by the nomination and remuneration committee (NRC) in a listed company more transparent. Moreover, Sebi said at least two-thirds of the NRC should comprise IDs; currently, they comprise the majority. This, again, is an attempt at improving governance. In addition, the SEBI wants that disclosures be made on what exactly a director brings to the table; in other words, what his or her area of expertise is. Such a move is probably aimed at discouraging companies from packing their boards with retired bureaucrats or bankers. The fact is that these bureaucrats do have skills, namely, they know how to liaise with the government or regulators. For businessmen, these 'skills' can be more useful than others.

One of the new norms—that the contents of the resignation letters of IDs—be disclosed, together with the list of present directorships and memberships on various board committees, may not work. Typically, people want to make a quiet exit if they are uncomfortable and don't want to blow the whistle; they claim they are stepping down for personal reasons. It is highly unlikely they will do otherwise even now. The need for a one-year cooling-off period for an independent director transitioning to a whole-time director in the same entity is not convincing. The point is independent directorship can't become too onerous; else, we won't have too many good ones. It is true that in India most IDs have it relatively easy. Also, unlike globally where more than three independent directorships are not appreciated, in India there are many individuals who have a presence on half a dozen boards. It is unlikely they can make a meaningful contribution.

Easing migrants' pain

SC directive to govt should kickstart national database effort

THE SUPREME COURT (SC) order on welfare measures for migrant workers comes against the backdrop of the pandemic having dealt the informal sector a crushing blow and livelihoods of low-skilled migrants seriously threatened. Indeed, the migrant exodus of the first Covid-19 wave in India was a stark reminder of their extreme vulnerability, and the apex court had taken up the matter suo moto to relieve their distress. The SC's directions to the government—states and the Centre—have been discussed by the commentariat for long now.

The SC has directed the Centre to set up a portal for registration of unorganised labourers/migrant workers, under the National Database for Unorganised Workers (NDUW) project, by December 31. Successive governments have paid little attention to the need for such a data-base, despite the Inter-State Migrant Workmen Act 1979 calling for this, as also some other existing laws (for specific sets of workers). A national database would enable tracking of each worker for optimal delivery of benefits. Though the labour minister told the Rajya Sabha September last year that the government was looking to create an Aadhaar-linked database of unorganised workers, little has moved on the ground. Indeed, it was only in March this year that the labour ministry announced the NDUW, and the NITI Aayog was reported to have come up with a draft national policy that not only calls for defining migrant workers anew, but also envisions setting up commissions in both source and destination states to aid them. While there have been ad hoc tracking efforts to register migrants by the states, this needs to be done on a sustained and more centralised basis.

The apex court has also called for transitioning to one nation, one ration card (ONORC) by the end of July. As of March 11, per a finance ministry release, just 17 states had "successfully operationalised" ONORC—defined as Aadhaar-seeding of all ration cards and beneficiaries in a state and automation of the fair price shops with installation of e-PoS devices to allow biometric authentication. Though Uttar Pradesh, a top source state, and top destination states like the five southern states, Gujarat and Punjab figure in the list of 17, a Maharashtra and a Bihar don't. In August 2020, the Centre said 24 states have "seamlessly enabled" ONORC; operationalising this 'seamless enabling' thus seems a very different ask.

While the court has done well to focus on these key support measures—apart from directing the Centre to do a fresh enumeration of Food Security Act beneficiaries and ensure states get additional grains demanded—a lot still needs to be done. There is a need to work on offering migrant workers pension cover, through an NPS-like scheme. There is also an emerging need to focus on upskilling. Most important, the government must heed NITI's prescription of rights-based ecosystem for migrants instead of episodic or permanent economic aid. For instance, in the case of education, it calls for the government to create a mechanism within RTE to track migrants' children and facilitate teaching in their mother-tongue in destination-states. Portability for Ayushman Bharat benefits, voting rights, etc., also build into this approach.

ADITYA SINHA & AMRIT PANDA

Sinha is with the office of the chairman, PMEAC, and Panda is a Mumbai-based HR professional

A major problem MSMEs in India face is their very definition. More than 95% are not legally identifiable as SMEs and that prevents proper allocation of institutional support. Since MSMEs are not registered separately under statutes such as the Companies Act, there is no mechanism to distinguish them from other corporate entities. This fails to acknowledge the heterogeneity among enterprises.

With Atmanirbhar Bharat, the Centre has taken several steps—redefining

MSMEs, credit access, subordinate debt, preference in government tenders—towards 'energising the MSME sector'. It has also launched the MSME Udyam portal for registration, though this is not mandatory. Information asymmetry on government schemes and incentives on registration must be addressed. Some other gaps remain, needing urgent attention:

■ Primary one is the regulatory framework for SMEs that prevents a growth-oriented mindset.

■ The concessions awarded to SMEs in terms of tax-breaks and low interest rates must be extended beyond what is currently provided if they are to target higher growth rate.

■ Credit access to SMEs as well as the mechanism to seek payment from buyers needs bettering to ensure financially viable.

MSMEs must be recognised for their job-creation potential than for their efficiency

■ The present redressal system on recovery of payments, particularly from organisations with influence such as PSUs, may discourage SMEs from pursuing formal action against defaulters.

■ SMEs may find it difficult to choose grievance redressal over building business relationships with large buyers who may falter on timely payments.

■ Priority ought to be given to scaling up economies with state support as the gains from such support in generating employment and overall economic prosperity outweigh the economic costs.

With SMEs' operational challenges exacerbated by Covid-19, it is all the more important to focus on this sector. A recently conducted survey finds that production in SMEs has fallen from an average of 75% to 13%. With 110 million employed by Indian SMEs, it is crucial to ensure adequate institutional support, failing which we might see an even larger impact on livelihoods. SMEs also account for a third of India's GDP, 45% of manufacturing output and 48% of exports and hence are crucial to manufacturing and export competitiveness.

SMEs will be vital in absorbing a significant proportion of the 600 million entrants to the labour market in EMEs by 2030. With a large proportion of these entrants bound to be from India, it is imperative that the Union and state governments ensure financial and institutional support for SMEs.

In terms of location, SMEs are relatively evenly distributed in comparison to larger organisations. Rural areas account for 45%, while the remaining are in urban areas. Hence, SMEs are well-poised to address poverty in both the cities and villages. Although the proportion of urban poverty has declined over the years, it has increased in absolute terms. In 2018, Kolkata, Delhi, and Mumbai had anywhere between 42-55% of their population living in slums. This number is certain to have increased in the pandemic. By providing employment and income, SMEs can raise income, living standards and consumer spending.

SMEs can aid the atmanirbhartha vision, especially in the manufacturing sector. This pattern is observed in countries with strong manufacturing sectors such as Germany and China. China's pattern is more relevant to India due to a similarity in size and population as well as its recency. SMEs make up over 99% of all enterprises in China today, with an output value of at least 60% of its GDP; they generate more than 82% of employment opportunities. As per China's national economic census, manufacturing SMEs accounted for nearly 53% of its total incorporated SMEs and 65% of the total employment in SMEs. With global manufacturing moving out of China, our SMEs can play a key role in sustaining the manufacturing that is shifted to India.

FAILING TO CONNECT

A POSSIBLE WAY OUT COULD BE TO COMBINE THE RESOURCES OF MTNL, BSNL AND VODAFONE IDEA THROUGH A STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP

Can India avoid a telecom duopoly?

SUNIL MITTAL, THE chairman of Bharti Airtel, said recently that it would be "tragic" if India's telecom-access market was to be reduced to only two competing operators. He was probably referring to the possible exit of the financially-stressed Vodafone Idea and the increasing irrelevance of government-owned operators, BSNL and MTNL. This would essentially leave the market to Reliance Jio and Airtel. A looming duopoly, or the exit of a global telecommunications major, are both worrying. They deserve a careful and creative response.

India's telecom market has seen monopoly as well as hyper-competition. Twenty-five years ago, the government alone could provide services. Ten years later, there were nearly a dozen competing operators. Most service areas now have four players. The erstwhile monopolies, BSNL and MTNL, are now bit players and often ignored—as Mittal seems to have done—in assessments of the market's future.

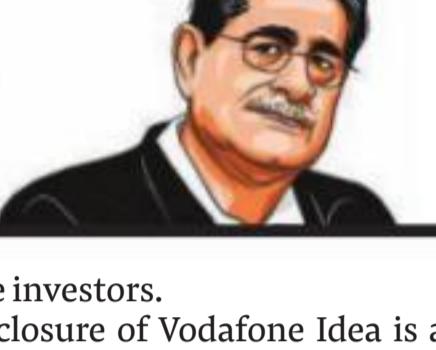

The reduced competition is worrying. Competition has delivered relatively low prices, advanced technologies, and an acceptable quality of services. These gains are now at risk. There is a long way to go in expanding access as well as network capacity. India's large population and the almost exclusive reliance on wireless mobile technologies can confuse the analysis. For example, India is ranked second globally—after China—in the number of people connected to the internet. However, it is also first in the number of people unconnected. Over 50% of Indians are not connected to the internet, despite giant strides in network reach and capacity. India tops aggregate mobile data usage. However, its per capita or device data usage is low. It has an impressive 4G mobile network. However, its fixed network—wireline or optical fibre—is sparse and often poor. 5G deployment has yet to start and will be expensive. The pandemic has exposed major lacunae in existing access, prompting even the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to seek action from the minister of communications.

Filling the gaps in infrastructure and access will require large investments and competition. The exit of Vodafone Idea will hurt both objectives. The company faces an existential crisis since it was hit hardest by the Supreme Court judgment on the AGR issue in 2019, with an estimated liability of ₹58,000 crore. Interestingly, the interest and penalty far exceed the disputed principal amount. The Court allowed the government to give companies more time to pay. However, this might not be enough unless Vodafone Idea can raise substantial funds or improve its revenues from services. It wants the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) to set tariff floors to improve. If its efforts fail and it closes shop, it would be a setback for the government too. It will hurt its chances of recovering the massive dues as well as its efforts to be an attractive destination for large investors.

The closure of Vodafone Idea is an arguably greater concern than the fading role of BSNL and MTNL. The government companies are yet to deploy 4G and have become progressively less competitive. Vodafone Idea, on the other hand, still accounts for about a quarter of subscriptions and revenues and can boast of a quality network.

Similar out-of-the-box thinking may well be key to escape the loomng collateral damage.

It is not trivial to expand competition in India's telecom market. Especially since there are no major regulatory barriers to entry anymore. Any new private player will be driven largely by commercial considerations. Global experience suggests that well-entrenched incumbents have massive advantages. New players are daunted by the large investments—and much patience—needed to set up networks, lure existing customers and sign new ones.

However, regulators and policymakers have other options to expand choice for telecom consumers. Their counterparts in mature regulatory regimes—e.g., in the European Union—have helped develop extensive markets for resale. Recognising the limited influence of smaller players, regulators mandate that the incumbent offer wholesale prices to resellers who then expand choice for end-users.

This has been virtually impossible in India. There is a near absence of noteworthy virtual network operators (VNOs) and other resellers. A key barrier to resale is India's licence fee regime which requires licence-holders to share a proportion of their revenues with the government. Thus, resale could hurt exchequer revenues unless resellers are subject to identical levies. Understandably, the levies—and consequently additional reporting and compliance—is a disincentive for smaller players. The incentive flows from levies based on revenues which comes with considerable costs of compliance. It would almost vanish if the levies were replaced by a flat fee computed objectively.

The ball is in the court of the regulator and the government. They have options. But will they take decisive action to exercise them? It will be tragic if they can't.

MBED risks a legal tangle

The market-based economic despatch (MBED) model violates the doctrine of mutuality, that holds contracts must be enforceable by each party against the other

Despatch' and (b) 'Settlement of Contracts', where there would be a hedging arrangement as bilateral contract settlement of refunding the difference between the market-clearing price and the contract price.

The MBED model violates the doctrine of mutuality, that holds contracts must be enforceable by each party against the other. The long-term contracts will be rendered redundant as a result of the mechanism proposed in the MBED model. The market-clearing price will override the variable charges determined under section 62 of the Electricity Act, making the tariff fixation exercise redundant. Similarly, a price discovered through competitive bidding being overridden by the market-clearing price is again not in consonance with section 63 of the Act.

Section 32(2) of the Act mandates the State Load Despatch Centre to schedule and despatch electricity "in accordance with the contracts entered into with the distribution licensees or the generating companies operating in the region". MBED does not align with the provisions of sections 28 and 32 since there will be a centralised "scheduling and despatch" and "settlement of contracts".

In short, the so-called market-based MBED model will be ultra vires of various provisions of the Electricity Act. The subject of electricity is under Item 13 in the Concurrent List of the Constitution where the states as well as the Centre are both competent to legislate. The centralisation of the despatch and financial fixation settlement of electricity will conflict with this, and it may deprive the entry of "electricity" of all its content. As the Centre has been trying to amend the Act since December 2014, it will be appropriate that the MBED scheme is introduced by proposing appropriate amendments to the Act in consultation with all stakeholders—especially the state governments.

Regional Load Despatch Centre to schedule and despatch electricity within the region "in accordance with the contracts entered into with the distribution licensees or the generating companies operating in the region". MBED does not align with the provisions of sections 28 and 32 since there will be a centralised "scheduling and despatch" and "settlement of contracts".

What Indian MSMEs need

MSMEs must be recognised for their job-creation potential than for their efficiency

cially viable.

The present redressal system on recovery of payments, particularly from organisations with influence such as PSUs, may discourage SMEs from pursuing formal action against defaulters.

SMEs may find it difficult to choose grievance redressal over building business relationships with large buyers who may falter on timely payments.

Priority ought to be given to scaling up economies with state support as the gains from such support in generating employment and overall economic prosperity outweigh the economic costs.

● TECH & INSURANCE

Transforming into a tech business

By investing in modern technology to automate customer on-boarding, policy issuances and claims assessment, ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company aims to be future-proof and relevant

SRINATH SRINIVASAN

BANKING, FINANCIAL SERVICES and insurance (BFSI) is a sector that offers plenty of opportunities for automation and enhanced customer experience. With an active vendor ecosystem, insurance businesses, today, are investing in high-tech innovations.

One such business that is proud about this digital transformation is ICICI Prudential Life Insurance. "We strongly believe that we are a technology company selling insurance. We have a dedicated team focusing on new-age technologies, radical digital transformation initiatives and innovation. We also continue to invest in products and solutions from startups or established partners having roots in India," says Ganesh Soundiram, chief technology officer, ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company.

At ICICI Prudential, AI is being used for underwriting, claims assessment, propensity for sale/renewal and personalisation through pre-approved offers. "We have employed multiple bots and Optical Character Recognition engines, while our email bot does auto-classification. We have a voice bot on IVR which received 1,500-2,000 hits and 40% of inbound calls got transferred to an agent in FY2021," says Soundiram. The company also has an AI-powered humanoid deployed for calling customers and reminding them to pay their renewal premiums.

Customer experience, simplification of processes such as onboarding journey, bulk policy issuance and instant call patch for medicals are some areas that are witnessing increased attention currently at ICICI Prudential.

"The initiatives around enhancing customer experience include collaboration platforms, Chatbots, WhatsApp for service, Smart document upload, video product brochures and video verification in vernacular languages. By focusing on these areas, we can leverage the digital space and provide an enhanced customer and distributor experience throughout the policy lifecycle," explains Soundiram.

Ganesh Soundiram, chief technology officer, ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company

The digital journey for ICICI Prudential began in 2011-12. "This has given us a strategic competitive edge. Back then, insurance companies followed complex processes and managed paper-based policies. The digital transformation has put an end to this antiquated model," says Soundiram. "We have since seen phenomenal traction for our digital transformation initiatives."

The insurance company boasts of a digital onboarding platform, embedded with pre-approved sum assured offering a contactless and instant issuance opportunity. In terms of customer service, it uses technology to follow what it calls '3Vs' or 'pillars of personalisation'—video, voice and vernacular.

The return on investment has been encouraging for the business. "In FY2021, we received over 95% of our new business applications digitally, self-service is currently at 91.5%, and over 75% of our customers are completing video-based verification. Similarly, over 1.7 lakh meetings are being conducted using our collaboration platform, and 99% of robotic issuance is being done using a robotic arm with a cover note being created within five minutes," says Soundiram.

The robotic issuance solution has helped in issuing 65 lakh policies in just 3 days, which done manually would have taken approximately 130 days. To top it all, Soundiram says in FY2021, ICICI Prudential's claim settlement ratio and turnaround time for claims settlement stood at 97.9% and 1.4 days, respectively, which he believes is the best in the industry and would not have happened without technology.

Any digital transformation process comes with its own challenges. "To list a few, there can be a legitimate resistance to change, a gap between technical promise and the genuine achievement of the initiative and inadequate promotion of the value that the product or solution offers," says Soundiram. The focus has hence shifted on technology opportunities that have a clear relation with business value, at the insurance company. "By practising design thinking principles, we keep clutter and confusion away," he adds.

● LEAPFROGGING AHEAD

An era of change is under way

Pace of tech adoption is defining how companies will emerge from the Covid-19 pandemic

Mahesh Zurela

THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC has brought about rapidly changing consumer needs and behaviour, which mean that companies in every sector have had to accelerate their tech-driven transformations.

While most firms invested in solutions that helped their workforce digitise operations, a small minority took it one step further. These firms realised that simply going digital was not a cure-all for their business. Our research identified these companies as 'Masters of Change'—those who prioritised a more aggressive and progressive technology strategy that not only endeavoured to fix the business, but also opened up convention to create a new vision for the future.

Covid-19 brought the innovation gap into the spotlight

Our 2019 research on enterprise technology strategies and their impact on performance showed tech leaders—the top 10% of companies we surveyed—were growing revenues at 2x the speed of tech laggards—the bottom 25% of our sample. Curious about the effects of the pandemic on their technology strategies and performance, we conducted a second round of research in early 2021, surveying 4,300 executives around the world. This research found that tech leaders had moved further ahead of the pack and were now growing at 5x the rate of laggards. Leaders further distinguished themselves in another key dimension: Creating new value for all stakeholders. This value was delivered by upskilling employees, promoting their well-being, ensuring data sovereignty and privacy for customers, leveraging ecosystem partners, and designing human-centric technology.

Rise of the leapfroggers

Leapfrogger organisations quickly scaled their investments in key technologies such as cloud and artificial intelligence. This helped them migrate their operations and workforce to virtual environments. For instance, financial service institutions focused on efforts to enhance mobile banking, enabling customers to carry out any transaction from their phones. Automotive companies began selling vehicles through online channels to avoid in-person contact.

Leapfroggers have essentially followed three practices to achieve success. By emulating these behaviours, other firms can take steps to bridge the innovation gap:

Replatform to the cloud to build systems strength. By doing so, leapfroggers remove redundant technologies and disconnected data across the IT stack while gaining computing power and flexibility. For instance, 81% of leapfroggers had adopted some form of cloud technology by 2017. That figure rose to 98% after the pandemic.

Reframe by adopting an innovation-led strategy. Leapfroggers have been able to shift their focus, change their mindset, and treat potential downturns as opportunities to innovate with new technology. Scaling new innovations became the #1 priority for leapfroggers during the pandemic, and 89% of them believe in building partnerships across the ecosystem.

Reach for non-traditional, non-financial business goals that create value for multiple stakeholders. This includes scaling tech across the enterprise and investing in the workforce by upskilling employees and providing the right work environment.

Those firms that truly endeavour to become 'Masters of Change' must continue to embrace and accelerate their digital transformations if they want to strengthen their competitive advantage, supercharge future growth, and not just survive, but thrive.

● GOQII VITAL 4.0 & SMART VITAL JUNIOR

Health buddy on your wrist

Two health focused smart devices from GOQii that don't just tell the time, they monitor various health parameters to alert you about any nascent health problems

SUDHIR CHOWDHARY

MANY PEOPLE PREFER to wear a smart-watch or wrist band on their wrist. Curiously, in actual day-to-day usage the purpose is either functional (merely telling the time) or fashionable. However, these don't just tell the time, but pack in much more: besides fitness tracking as a core feature, you can see your social media notifications on your wrist, even reply to messages & receive calls instantly. And, since these are pandemic times, smartwatches can be early illness detectors too.

With the smart watch, you can immediately get a sense of changes in your vital signs and correlate them to a bigger health problem. Due to its unique features of detecting sleep, steps, calories and heart rate, it gives a glimpse into various parameters that reflect your health and fitness.

What metrics are you interested in? Heart/Cardio rate? Sleep monitoring? Blood pressure? Blood oxygen? Temperature?

ture? Perhaps you need multiple sports modes. Now, Vishal Gondal-founded Fitness technology firm GOQii has come up with two interesting devices—GOQii Vital 4 and Smart Vital Junior—that monitor various health parameters to alert you about any nascent health problems.

GOQii Vital 4 (₹4,999)

Priced at a modest ₹4,999, GOQii Vital 4 is the latest addition to the company's smart watch category. The beauty of this device is that it can track your vitals even when you are asleep. It will give real-time updates of variation in blood oxygen levels and temperature levels even while you are sleeping, thus helping you wake up to a good and stress-free day.

This reviewer has been using the GOQii Vital 4 for the past few days, it is fairly accurate at tracking activity data, has a long-lasting battery life and is pretty good-looking with its sleek design. It has a large and bright AMOLED display (1.20 x 240 pixels) and good number of advanced health and fitness features. For instance, it can track all-day activity like steps, distance, calories burned, active time.

Features such as auto sleep tracking are pretty interesting that will appeal to a lot of users. The Vital 4 measures body temperature, blood pressure and SpO2 levels pretty accurately. There is also the option for 24x7 heart rate monitoring and exercise mode.

You can also get all your phone notifications such as messages, calls, WhatsApp, Facebook, etc. Other features include alarms, inactivity alerts, weather, you can customise the wallpaper, there is also a stopwatch, timer. Find my Phone feature and music control feature. The watch is waterproof and there is a built-in USB charger. It has upto 7 days battery life. Actually, battery life is about 3 to 4 days with all functions enabled and you can extend to 7-8 days by switching off continuous heart rate and temperature monitoring.

GOQii Smart Vital Junior (₹4,999)

Likewise, Smart Vital Junior is a special fitness band for kids that will keep a real-time track of variation in blood oxygen levels, heart rate and temperature levels. It is designed specially for kids with a colourful display and straps that are made with materials gentle to the skin and to well fit their wrists.

It has features such as continuous body temperature monitoring, heart rate monitoring, blood oxygen (SpO2) level measurement, sleep tracking, 18 exercise modes and much more. The ideal mix of temperature check and oxygen rate will help in prompt detection of expected cases. Parents can also monitor the health of their kids via the GOQii mobile app.

Leapfroggers have essentially followed three practices to achieve success. By emulating these behaviours, other firms can take steps to bridge the innovation gap:

Elon Musk's Starlink to deliver internet nearly worldwide

BLOOMBERG

ELON MUSK'S SATELLITE network Starlink is on track to beam broadband internet everywhere in the world except the polar regions by August.

Space Exploration Technologies has launched more than 1,500 satellites so far and has Starlink operations in about a dozen countries. Musk said during a presentation at the Mobile World Congress conference on Tuesday. That's costing a lot. SpaceX's total investment in the network will be between $5 billion and $10 billion before cash flow is positive, he said.

Some $20 billion or $30 billion may be needed in the longer term to maintain Starlink's competitive position, Musk added. The service, which has more than 69,000 active users, may reach half a million in the next 12 months, he said.

"Our goal is not to go bankrupt," he joked, referencing the tumultuous history of the industry.

"Step No. 1 for Starlink is don't go bankrupt. If we succeed in not going bankrupt then that'll be great and we can move on from there."

Renault: EVs will dominate sales by the end of the decade

THE FRENCH CARMAKER Renault on Wednesday became the latest to go all in on electric vehicles, saying that by 2030 all but a fraction of the vehicles bearing its name will be powered by batteries.

During an online presentation, Renault executives outlined a future where electric cars would be cheaper than fossil-fuel models and as practical. Improvements in manufacturing and technology will cut the cost of batteries, the most costly component in an electric car, by more than half by the end of the decade, they said. Vehicles on sale as early as 2026 will be able to recharge to 80 percent of capacity in 12 minutes, Renault executives said.

US, Taiwan to talk chips, as long-stalled discussions begin

BLOOMBERG
June 30

THE US AND Taiwan agreed to hold regular talks on issues ranging from technology supply chain to meat imports following their first Trade and Investment Framework Agreement meeting in five years.

The two sides will establish working groups to discuss topics including labour rights and intellectual property, the Office of the US Trade Representative said in a statement following Wednesday's meeting in Taipei. Taiwan's chief trade negotiator John Deng said the meeting was an important step toward eventually signing a full trade deal with the US, though that will take time. "A deal cannot happen in just a single meeting," he said at a briefing.

"There will be a lot of conversations going forward."

The study highlights the costly impact of the losses this year alone could amount to $1.7 trillion to $2.4 trillion, even as international tourism rebounds in the second half in countries like the US, the UK and France, which have higher vaccination rates, the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development said in a report.

Biden to confront perils posed by heat wave gripping west

BLOOMBERG
June 30

AS INTENSE, RECORD heat seizes the US Pacific Northwest, President Joe Biden will meet Wednesday with governors from Western states already anxious over the prospect of another summer of unquenchable wildfires, drought and massive power failures.

Biden along with Vice President Kamala Harris and other administration officials will discuss preparations for wildfire emergencies and electrical failures, according to an administration official. That would include marshalling technology, including satellite systems, apps and social media to detect blazes as early as possible and sending information rapidly to people in affected areas.

The Democratic governors of California, Oregon, New Mexico, Colorado, Washington and Nevada have been invited as have the Republican governors of Utah and Wyoming. The governors will participate virtually. White House officials declined to say why the Republican governors of three other Western states, Idaho, Montana and Arizona, were not invited, but said the ones who are attending the meeting bring varied perspectives. The president, one of the officials said, will encourage the governors to apply for disaster mitigation grants, if necessary.

Citi says flexible work gives it edge over US rivals

BLOOMBERG
June 30

CITIGROUP JOINED RIVALS including UBS Group in touting its flexible work policies as a tool that will offer a competitive edge in recruiting and retaining top staff.

The lender's employees will have the option of working from home at least part time, investment banking co-head Manolo Falco said at a virtual press briefing on Wednesday. That will set the bank apart from some US rivals that are taking a more hard-line approach to remote work, he said, naming JPMorgan Chase and Goldman Sachs Group.

Global investment banks are broadly falling into two camps on their approach to flexible-work policies. While many in the US are requiring staff to come back to the office, a growing number of European lenders, including UBS and Deutsche Bank, are saying that increased flexibility on a more permanent basis can improve staff morale and perhaps give them a hiring advantage.

Citigroup Chief Executive Officer Jane Fraser said in March, shortly after taking on the top job, that being in the office is important for competitiveness, collaboration and mentoring young staffers. But she said the majority of the lender's roles will still be designated as hybrid, where workers are in the office at least three days a week and working from home for as many as two.

The plan is to open Citigroup's offices in New York City's Tribeca neighbourhood to as much as 30% of its broader staff next month. The bank also shifted gears regarding its summer intern program in recent weeks, saying it will allow some of them to visit the lender's New York headquarters in July. It had said in March that the 10-week summer program would be entirely virtual. Goldman Sachs' policy is more rigid. It's requiring almost all US employees to report to their desks. JPMorgan, similarly, is asking most of its US workers to start regular office schedules July 6. And Morgan Stanley CEO James Gorman recently fired off a warning shot to employees hoping to continue working from home: "If you can go to a restaurant in New York City, you can come into the office, and we want you in the office."

China manufacturing activity softens in June amid export weakness

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beijing

GROWTH IN CHINA'S manufacturing activity softened in June as export demand weakened and producers struggled with supply bottlenecks, a survey showed Wednesday.

The monthly purchasing managers' index issued by the national statistics agency and an industry group declined to 50.9 from May's 51.0 on a 100-point scale on which numbers above 50 show activity increasing.

Measures of new export orders, production and factory gate prices declined.

The latest surveys suggest that growth softened this month, Julian Evans-Pritchard and Sheana Yue of Capital Economics said in a report. Supply shortages continued to hold back output in the manufacturing sector.

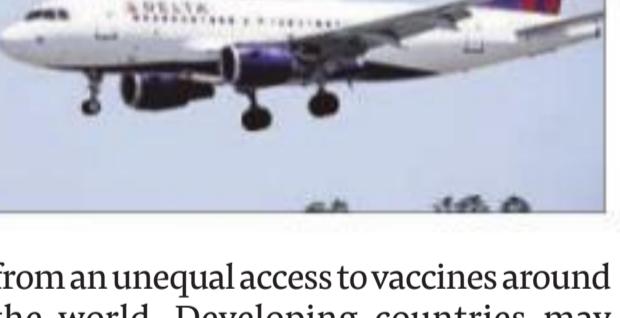

China's factory output and consumer spending have rebounded to above pre-pandemic levels but export demand is uneven as governments fight outbreaks of the new coronavirus variant.

Companies still expect to be cautious, economist Zhang Liqun said in a statement issued by the China Federation of Logistics & Purchasing along with the PMI reading.

An index of production declined to 51.9, down 0.8 points from May. New export orders fell by a similar margin to a one-year low of 48.1. That was offset by stronger domestic demand, which pushed up the measure of new orders by 0.2 points to 51.5.

from an unequal access to vaccines around the world. Developing countries may account for as much as 60% of the estimated losses to global gross domestic product, according to the Unctad.

The report, which was done in collaboration with the UN World Tourism Organization, also shows that the tourism crisis is far from over, with travel restrictions and bans still in place in many regions with low vaccination rates. International tourist arrivals were down 88% in the first quarter this year, compared with the same period in 2019, according to the UNWTO World Tourism Barometer.

The world may not see a return to pre-pandemic arrivals of international tourists until 2023, according to the study.

Countries such as Thailand and Turkey, which rely on foreign tourists to boost their economies, bore the brunt of the impact. The drop in tourism also threatens closely linked sectors such as food, beverages, retail trade, communications and transport. Overall, the crash in tourism has led to an average rise of 5.5% in unemployment of unskilled labor, hitting a sector that employs many women and young people.

Novel face mask developed by MIT, Harvard can detect Covid infection Technology (MIT) in the US.

"We envision that this platform could enable next-generation wearable biosensors for first responders, health care personnel, and military personnel," Collins, the senior author of the study, said.

The face mask sensors are designed so that they can be activated by the wearer when they are ready to perform the test, and the results are only displayed on the inside of the mask, for the privacy of the user.

As the researchers were finishing up their work on the wearable sensors early in 2020, Covid-19 began spreading around the globe, so they quickly decided to try using their technology to create a diagnostic for the SARS-CoV-2 virus.

To produce their diagnostic face mask, the researchers embedded freeze-dried sensors into a paper mask.

These freeze-dried components are surrounded by silicone elastomer, the researchers said.

The sensors are placed on the inside of the mask, so they can detect viral particles in the breath of the person wearing the mask. The mask also includes a small reservoir of water that is released at the push of a button when the wearer is ready to perform the test.

This hydrates the freeze-dried components of the sensor, which analyses accumulated breath droplets on the inside of the mask and produces a result within 90 minutes.

Pay up to stay home is this firm's approach to remote work

BLOOMBERG
June 30

DISCO, A JAPANESE maker of semiconductor equipment, has a novel approach to remote work, those who choose to stay home pay the colleagues who brave the commute to show up in the office.

The Tokyo-based company is unusual in that for the past decade it has used an internal currency called "Will" to create a micro-economy where sales teams pay factory workers to produce goods, who in turn pay engineers to design products. Even office desks, PCs and meeting rooms have a price. When a sale is made, the coin trickles back through the supply chain. Leftover balances are paid in yen at the end of each quarter as bonuses.

When the pandemic hit, Disco didn't have the option of letting all its employees log in from home. Someone had to show up to keep the factories running. So the company set up a system where those working remotely paid a certain amount of Will to be divided among the employees who came in.

"Ordering some people to go in while others stay home is unfair," Disco's Chief Executive Officer Kazuma Sekiya said in an interview. "The company currency offers behavioral incentives and the choice is up to you. That's the power of Will."

Sekiya, whose grandfather founded Disco in 1937, introduced the system in 2011 taking inspiration from video games. The company credits Will with reducing overtime and cutting down on unnecessary meetings. The approach has also had an impact on the bottom line. Disco reported record revenue and profit last fiscal year and boasts some of the highest margins in the industry. Its share price more than tripled in the past five years.

At the start of the pandemic, some 40% of its employees chose to show up in person, earning considerable bonuses, Sekiya said, without giving specific figures. But infections at the company stayed low, totaling in single digits in Japan. Now that almost 90% of its staff are back in the workplace, the payout has dwindled. Disco employs roughly 5,600 people.

Rupee slips 9 paise to close at 74.32 against US dollar

THE INDIAN RUPEE weakened by another 9 paise to close at 74.32 against the US dollar on Wednesday as stronger American currency and rising crude oil prices weighed on investor sentiment.

Besides, weaker Asian peers against the US dollar also put pressure on the domestic unit. At the interbank foreign exchange market, the rupee opened at 74.23 per dollar unchanged from its previous close. It hovered in the range of 74.23 to 74.45 during the day before ending at 74.32.

On a monthly basis, the domestic currency fell 170 paise or 2.34% in June. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, rose 0.05% to 92.09.

Brent crude futures, the global oil benchmark, advanced 0.72% to $75.30 per barrel. "The Indian rupee depreciated on Wednesday continued to be influenced by the Federal Reserve hawkish tilt in their recent monetary policy meeting," said Sri Ram Iyer, Senior Research Analyst at Reliance Securities.

Banks face systemic risk, 2nd wave to hit performance: S&P

Rating agency says the banking sector's weak loans will likely remain elevated at 11-12% of gross loans in the next 12 to 18 months

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 30

S&P GLOBAL RATINGS on Wednesday said Indian banks face a systemic risk as the second Covid wave will impair the performance of financial institutions in the April-September period.

Stating that economic recovery remains highly vulnerable to setbacks due to Covid, particularly if fresh outbreaks trigger new lockdowns, S&P said the banking sector's weak loans will likely remain elevated at 11-12% of gross loans in the next 12 to 18 months.

"The second wave has front-ended weakness in asset quality," said S&P Global Ratings Credit analyst Deepali Seth Chhabria. "Financial institutions face a strained first half amid weak collections and poor disbursements."

Indian banks face systemic risk as the country sorts through the aftermath of the Covid second wave. Lenders struggled with a high level of weak loans well before the pandemic struck and clearly, conditions have deteriorated, S&P said in a statement.

The government has announced support for the micro-finance and tourism sectors that should help struggling borrowers. This support comes on top of the recently extended loan guarantees to small and mid-size enterprises (SMEs). S&P said it expected the second wave to impair the performance of Indian financial institutions in the first half of fiscal year 2022, with much resting on the effectiveness of government measures to address this problem.

"A Covid resurgence involving new and potentially aggressive variants, and a vaccine rollout that undershoots our current expec-

WHAT IT STATES

- Lenders struggled with a high level of weak loans well before the pandemic struck and clearly, conditions have deteriorated
- Banks have much to digest in the quarter ahead
- Disbursements slowed considerably in April and May. The credit that banks extended fell by about 1% in the first two months of this fiscal year
- The drop was largely seasonal — there were similar declines in the same period for fiscals 2018 and 2019 tations, remain the key downside risks.

"Limited vaccine supplies and people's reluctance to take doses have held back the country's inoculation programme. Fully vaccinating roughly 70% of the country will likely take at least until the first half of 2022. This leaves the economic recovery highly vulnerable to Covid setbacks, particularly if fresh outbreaks trigger new lockdowns," S&P noted.

The US-based rating agency said the Indian economy has been in recovery mode since June, following a sharp contraction in the economic activity in April and May after localised lockdowns across much of the country. The latest outbreak has less severely affected the country's manufacturing and exports than was seen during the first wave of infections in 2020, but services continue to be disrupted. "The current recovery should be less steep than the bounce that

The bank launched the offer because it thought that the second wave is now receding and people are coming out of stressful times. The lender's main focus is making as many customers avail of the offer rather than look at the GMV, he said, adding that such schemes are aimed at deepening the connect with customers.

The discounts are shared between the bank and the e-commerce major, Shetty said, maintaining that the bank does not want to do big bang shopping festivals and will continue with such deals regularly.

The response to the current offer is "far beyond" expectations, Shetty said, exuding confidence that by the time the offer ends, the bank would have done significantly better than what it aimed for initially.

External debt rises to $570 bn till March

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, June 30

INDIA'S EXTERNAL DEBT surged by $11.5 billion year-on-year to $570 billion as of March-end 2021, according to the Reserve Bank of India data released on Wednesday.

The external debt to GDP ratio rose to 21.1% as of March-end 2021 from 20.6% a year ago, the data on India's External Debt showed.

"Valuation loss due to the depreciation of the US dollar vis-a-vis Indian rupee and major currencies such as euro, SDR and pound sterling was placed at $6.8 billion."

"Excluding the valuation effect, the increase in external debt would have been $4.7 billion instead of $11.5 billion at end-March 2021 over end-March 2020," the RBI said.

Commercial borrowings remained the largest component of external debt, with a share of 37.4%, followed by non-resident deposits (24.9%) and short-term trade credit (17.1%).

At March-end 2021, long-term debt (with an original maturity of above one year) was placed at $468.9 billion, recording an increase of $17.3 billion over its March-end 2020 level. US dollar-denominated debt remained the largest component of India's external debt, with a share of 52.1% as of March-end 2021, followed by the Indian rupee (33.3%), yen (5.8%), SDR (4.4%) and the euro (3.5%).

The borrower-wise classification shows that the outstanding debt of both government and non-government sectors increased by March 2021.

The instrument-wise classification shows that the loans were the largest component of external debt, with a share of 34.8%, followed by currency and deposits (25.2%), trade credit and advances (17.6%) and debt securities (17%).

The RBI also said debt service (principal repayments plus interest payments) increased to 8.2% of current receipts at March-end 2021 as compared to 6.5% in March 2020, reflecting higher repayments and lower current receipts.

Days after PM holds talks with parties, delimitation panel plans visit to J&K

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, June 30

DAYS AFTER Prime Minister Narendra Modi sought cooperation of political parties in Jammu and Kashmir in a delimitation exercise, as a first step towards holding of elections in the Union territory, the delimitation commission on Wednesday announced a four-day visit to the UT.

The commission will be visiting J&K from July 6 to July 9, and interact with political parties, public representatives and state government officials over redrawing of boundaries of existing Assembly seats. The decision was taken after a meeting of the Commission chaired by Justice (retd) Ranjana Prakash Desai, and attended by Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) Sushil Chandra.

At the meeting with J&K leaders last week, his first since the scrapping of special status, the PM had assured that the Centre was committed to reviving the democratic process in the UT through Assembly polls as early as possible, and so was keen that the delimitation exercise be completed at the soonest. After the meeting, former CM and National Conference leader Omar Abdullah had told The Indian Express, "The PM has talked about an early delimitation process. That means they are looking at following that up with Assembly elections."

According to a source, on Wednesday the Commission also reviewed the progress made so far, including the consultations held last week with J&K district commissioners on the restructuring of the constituencies and carving out of seven new seats. It is learned that a common problem flagged by district commissioners was that many seats were spread over two to three tehsils, creating administrative issues during elections. "The associate members of the Delimitation Commission represent just two political parties (the National Conference and BJP). The political parties of the UT are major stakeholders and are well versed with the geographical spread of seats and problems associated with the current boundaries. Hence, it was felt that they should be consulted," said a source.

"A number of representations have also been received on various aspects concerning delimitation from civil societies and members of public from the Union Territory. The Commission has already taken note of all such suggestions and directed that these may be deliberated further in the context of ground realities concerning delimitation," the Commission said in a statement.

The last delimitation exercise in J&K was carried out in 1995. It was based on the 1981 Census, when the erstwhile state was governed by the Jammu and Kashmir Constitution and Jammu and Kashmir Representation of the People Act. The Delimitation Commission has held meetings on the data, map of districts and constituencies in relation to the 2011 Census.

NC members Farooq Abdullah, Mohammad Akbar Lone and Hasnain Masoodi had stayed away from the last meeting called by the Commission of all associate members, in February. Only Jitendra Singh and Jugal Kishore Sharma of BJP had given their feedback. But the NC has recently indicated it is open for a dialogue, giving the Delimitation Commission hope that it will be part of the next meeting whenever it is scheduled.

Jio Platforms selects Spirent for 5G network testing

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 30

IT COMPANY SPIRENT Communications on Wednesday said it has collaborated with Jio Platforms for testing a cloud-based 5G standalone core network for real-world workloads and traffic conditions.

Spirent said in a statement that Jio used its platform Landslide to perform core network capacity tests, measure device data throughput, and model a wide variety of complex end-user behavioural call models and mobility scenarios.

"Our collaboration with Spirent is an important part of achieving this objective. Landslide is a golden reference globally for validating 5G core networks for functionality and performance, allowing us to successfully validate every aspect of the 5G standalone core network. We look forward to leveraging Landslide capabilities for validating diverse 5G use cases with Jio 5G solutions," Jio Platforms senior vice president Aayush Bhatnagar said in the statement.

Spirent's V-P and general manager for the APAC region, Peter Tan said Jio needed to validate performance across its in-house 5G core network functions while supporting LTE 4G and IP multimedia subsystem interfaces — through which all internet-based services are provided.

Truck operators feel the heat as cash flows dry up

SAJAN C KUMAR
Chennai, June 30

CASH FLOW OF truck operators have been hit badly in the first quarter of FY22, with a major chunk of them indicating that there might be defaults on EMI payments in the quarter, with operators involved in the transportation of white goods, food items, cold chain and beverages expressing more difficulty in servicing the EMIs, according to a survey by Credit Suisse.

The stagnant freight rates and higher variable costs have led to around 20% decline in net profit for 28% of truck operators and around 30% of respondents mentioned that they might not be able to pay more than one EMI out of the three EMIs due in the April-June 2021 quarter.

Credit Suisse said the collection efficiency had been at 50-80% for some lenders in May. The lenders to truckers had expected 50-80% collection efficiency and anticipated only 50-75% of their customers to pay all three EMIs in the June quarter-end.

Umesh Revankar, vice chairman & MD, Shriram Transport Finance told FE that he does not anticipate any major negative impact in terms of repayments, as majority of the company's borrowers are owner-driver customers, rather than the fleet owners.

"I don't see any major impact because of the lockdown and its impact on the truckers. Even if it is there, it would be minimal, these owner-drivers were plying the trucks ferrying essentials and participating in e-commerce activities," he said.

He said from July onwards, as states are opening up, situation will further improve for the truckers. As far as the collection efficiencies are concerned, there could be 5% to 10% drop in June, he added.

World Bank approves $500 million loan to support India's informal working class amid pandemic

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, June 30

WORLD BANK on Wednesday said it has approved a $500 million (about ₹ 3,717.28 crore) loan programme to support India's informal working class to overcome the current pandemic distress.

The loan will create greater flexibility for states to cope with the ongoing pandemic, future climate and disaster shocks, World Bank said in a statement.

Of the $500 million commitment, $112.50 million will be financed by its concessionary lending arm International Development Association and $387.50 million will be a loan from International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD).

The loan has a maturity period of 18.5 years including a grace period of five years.

World Bank said its total funding towards strengthening India's social protection programmes to help the poor and vulnerable households since the start of the pandemic stands at $1.65 billion (about ₹ 12,264.54 crore).

The first two operations approved last year provided immediate emergency relief cash transfers to about 320 million individual bank accounts identified through pre-existing national social protection schemes and additional food rations for about 800 million (80 crore) individuals, World Bank said.

States can now access flexible funding from disaster response funds to design and implement appropriate social protection responses.

COVID NEGLIGENCEKim sounds alarm with warning of 'Great Crisis'

BLOOMBERG

June 30

NORTH KOREAN LEADER
Kim Jong Un said a "grave" situation stemming from quarantine negligence has created a crisis, hinting at Covid risks that could affect his rule after his regime has denied it has had any cases.

make any definitive conclusions based on the KCNA report, given it lacked in detail. But North Korea has been particularly sensitive about the pandemic as it lacks testing kits and medical facilities," said Cheong Seong-chang, director of the Unification Strategy Studies Program at Sejong Institute near Seoul. North Korea sees the virus as a threat to its already struggling economy and Kim's rule, Cheong added.

There were no details of the nature of the incident in the report from the state's official Korean Central News Agency on Wednesday. Kim said through dereliction of duty, cadres neglected executing important decisions for prolonged national quarantine efforts, "creating a great crisis in ensuring the security of the state and safety of the people", KCNA reported.

"He seriously pointed out that chronic irresponsibility and incompetence of cadres at present bring artificial difficulties to the implementation of the Party's policies and become a major brake doing tremendous harm to the development of the revolutionary work," the report said.

Even though North Korea says it has no cases of the coronavirus — a claim doubted by US and Japanese officials — it has taken drastic quarantine steps that have worsened the regime's economic woes, including closing the border with its biggest trade partner, China. Covid-19 brings a large risk to the impoverished state, whose antiquated medical systems could easily be overwhelmed by an infection wave.

Pyongyang has taken strong action after incidents that could expose the country to the virus.

FTC's revival of Facebook case hinges on monopoly claim

BLOOMBERG

June 30

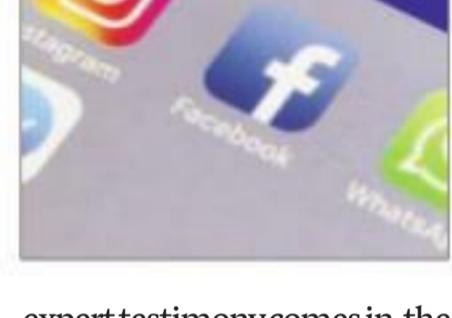

TO REVIVE THEIR landmark lawsuit against Facebook, US antitrust enforcers will need to present stronger evidence to support their argument that the world's biggest social network is a monopoly.

With nearly 180 million monthly users in the US, according to eMarketer estimates, and a suite of products that are among the most widely used online, Facebook's influence and reach may appear beyond question to most.

That wasn't enough for US District Judge James Boasberg in Washington, who on Monday dismissed the Federal Trade Commission's (FTC) complaint accusing Facebook of abusing its dominance.

It was an embarrassing setback for the agency, but not a fatal blow: the judge gave the FTC an opportunity to fix the errors and refile within 30 days. Legal experts say it's a surmountable hurdle.

"There's good reason to believe it has significant market power," Herb Hovenkamp, an antitrust law professor at the University of Pennsylvania, said about Facebook. "This is a case, I think, that once expert testimony comes in, the case for power gets better. You just have to be able to draft the complaint right in order to get your foot in the door."

The case, filed in December under the outgoing Trump administration, marked an escalation in regulatory pressure on Facebook and dominant technology companies that's expected to continue under President Joe Biden as the power of internet platforms has become a rare issue that's raised concerns from Democrats and Republicans.

The Facebook lawsuit centered on the 2012 acquisition of Instagram and the 2014 takeover of WhatsApp, both of which the FTC initially allowed. The FTC said that Facebook made the deals because it saw both companies as threats to its business.

Facebook has criticised the case, saying the government wanted a "do over" after the FTC let the acquisitions move forward.
