Finmin comes out with steps to rationalise non-priority expenditure

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

THE GOVERNMENT Friday asked all ministries/departments to review appointments of consultants, curtail functions and ban use of imported paper for printing as part of measures to rationalise non-priority expenditure.

The finance ministry has issued the instructions on expenditure management with a view to improving the quality of public expenditure, containing non-developmental spending and ensuring availability of adequate resources for critical priority schemes, the department said.

In the context of the present fiscal situation and the consequent pressure on government resources, there is a need for further economy and rationalisation of non-priority expenditure, while protecting and preserving priority expenditure," the department said.

FINMIN REPORT CARD

Economy sees V-shaped recovery after massive Q1 slide

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 4

THE ECONOMY IS witnessing a "sharp V-shaped recovery" after a massive 23.9% contraction of gross domestic product (GDP) in the June quarter, the finance ministry said in its monthly report on Friday.

But as India emerges from the Covid-19 pandemic, it will be "critical to re-orient policy matrix towards a calibrated reconstruction of the economy" and the areas that may require specific attention include agrarian supply chains, factor markets, infrastructure, ICT, start-ups, financial inclusion, skilling and health care, the report said.

GDP contraction in India was much sharper than in advanced economies. The US economy contracted by 9.1%, y-o-y, in the June quarter, the UK by 21.7%, France by 18.9%, Spain 22.1%, Italy 17.7% and Germany 11.3%. The whole euro zone witnessed a 15% slide and Japan contracted by 9.9% in the April-June period.

Although lockdown exerted a heavy economic cost (GDP contraction in India was sharper than in advanced economies), it helped save lives. This is reflected in the fact that India's fatality rate was just 1.78% as of August 31, compared with 3.04% in the US, 12.35% in the UK, 10.09% in France, 1.89% in Japan and 13.18% in Italy, the report pointed out.

Also, since the easing of the lockdown curbs in June, several high-frequency indicators have shown improvement. Consumption is picking up, with passenger vehicle sales rising to their highest level at 1.83 lakh in July, against 1.43 lakh in March. Some revival in rural demand is also seen in growing sales of small cars, two-wheelers and sports utility vehicles and fertilisers. Increase in registrations for commercial and agricultural tractors from 52,362 in March to 66,061 in August is further indicative of strengthening rural demand.

The railway freight traffic touched 95.2 million tonne (MT) in July, closing on to its previous year level of 99.7 MT. In the first twenty-days of August, railway freight volume of 60.38 MT has crossed its previous year level of 56.60 MT.

Steel production at 74.02 lakh tonne and cement production at 242.47 lakh tonne in July, compared to 86.13 lakh tonne and 280.2 lakh tonne, respectively, a year ago suggest revival of construction activity.

Since May, agriculture has persistently been the brightest spot in the revival of growth. Industrial production is showing signs of recovery with a 9% growth in eight core industries output showing a smaller contraction in July than in June.

Power consumption is quickly reverting to the last year's baseline, reaching 97% of last year's level. Sustained impetus in E-way bills generated is reflected in their value at ₹13.8 lakh crore in August, reaching 97.2% of corresponding month of the previous year.

gise to emerge stronger from the crisis, Goyal said India is looking at the expansion of capabilities via Atmanirbhar campaign.

Separately, in his meeting with export promotion councils, Goyal said both exports and imports are showing "positive trends". The Centre's recent move to cap the benefits granted under the Merchandise Export From India Scheme to just ₹2 crore per exporter for shipments made during September-December won't affect 98% of exporters, he said.

Finance Commission mulls suggesting range for fiscal deficit, debt-GDP ratio

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 4

GIVEN THE MASSIVE economic disruption due to Covid, the 15th Finance Commission will consider a suggestion to recommend a range instead of a fixed number for fiscal deficit and debt-to-GDP ratio in its report for award period of FY22-FY26, commission chairman NK Singh said on Friday.

According to the FRBM mandate, the Centre's fiscal deficit is to be 3% of GDP; however, that has eluded in the past decade with resetting of target multiple times. The fiscal deficit, which came in at 4.6% in FY20, is pegged to be 3.5% (to rise substantially, maybe 6-7%) in FY21, before coming down to 3.1% in FY23.

The Singh-led committee on fiscal management has said that overall public debt-to-GDP ratio should be at 60% by 2022-23—40% for the Centre and 20% for states. The outstanding debt of states has risen over the last five years to an estimated 25% of the GDP in FY20, posing medium-term challenges to its sustainability. The Centre's debt-to-GDP was estimated to be around 49% of GDP in FY20, up from 48.7% in FY19, taking the general government debt-to-GDP of 74% (actual could be around 85% in FY21 as debt has increased and GDP size will shrink).

The commission, which will submit its award report for five years (FY22-FY26) by end-October, will have four volumes.

On Friday, the advisory panel discussed a wide gamut of issues around GDP growth, tax buoyancy of the Centre and the states, GST compensation and fiscal consolidation. Specific issues relating to public expenditure on health, investment revival, recapitalisation of the financial system and its impact on public finances, focus on strengthening of defence capabilities, emerging trends in GST mop-up and its connection with improvements in its technology platform were also discussed.

The panel felt that the Commission is faced with unprecedented uncertainties and will have to take a nuanced approach towards tax devolution to the states, other transfers, financing of expenditures in the midst of revenue strains including via borrowings and the path of fiscal consolidation.

Commerce and Industry minister Piyush Goyal on Friday impressed upon automakers to ask their foreign parent companies to trim royalty payments to be able to better cope with the damaging impact of Covid.

Leading carmaker Maruti Suzuki paid as much as ₹3,820 crore (about $510 million) in royalty to its Japanese parent Suzuki Motor in FY20, its annual report says. Similarly, Hyundai's India unit paid $150 million to its South Korean parent in FY19 and Toyota Motor's India arm paid $88 million to its Japanese parent, according to government data.

Addressing the annual convention of the SIAM, Goyal said: "Reduction in royalty can help them reduce the cash outflow, bring down the vehicle prices and help in boosting their domestic sales." India does not curb the amount of royalty that can be paid to the parent company. But any royalty payment exceeding 5% of revenue of a locally-listed firm requires shareholder approval. Usually, firms' royalty payment varies from 1% to 5% of their revenue.

Goyal said railways is ready to reduce the freight rate to help the auto industry with affordable logistics options. The Centre could come up with innovative credit guarantee schemes to help auto exporters, he added. For their part, automakers should find out innovative finance options, he said. AGR fallout: Voda Idea plans to raise ₹25,000 cr

In a stock exchange on Friday, the company said its board has approved raising ₹15,000 crore through issue of equity shares or securities convertible into equity shares, global depository receipts, American depository receipts, foreign currency convertible bonds, convertible debentures, warrants, composite issue of non-convertible debentures and warrants or a combination thereof by way of a public issue, preferential allotment, private placement, qualified institutions placement or through any other permissible mode in one or more tranches. It has also approved issuance of unsecured and/or secured, non-convertible debentures up to an aggregate amount of ₹15,000 crore, by way of public offering or private placement or otherwise, in one or more tranches.

"However, the total raising of funds shall not exceed ₹25,000 crore," the filing said.

The company will be seeking shareholders' nod, wherever applicable, for the fund-raising plans in the AGM to be held on September 30, 2020.

Analysts at Kotak Institutional Equities have pointed out that VIL remains in a tricky situation even as the Supreme Court verdict has offered it a short-term cash flow relief. According to them, the company needs a combination of quick, sharp improvement in pricing, flawless delivery on the fresh opex cut targets, and competitive network spends to stem the trend of market share erosion and some equity infusion.

Russian vaccine safe, produces antibodies: Lancet study

The trial involved 76 healthy participants, aged 18-60, with the vaccine having two adenoviral vector components, both engineered to express the SARS CoV-2's spike protein. The vaccine was well-tolerated in the subjects in both phases, with the most notable adverse effects being pain at the injection site, fever, headache, weakness and muscular and joint pain. While all participants produced antibodies to SARS CoV-2 spike protein, all 40 participants (of the total of 76) who were part of the phase 2 trial developed cellular immunity (T-cell immunity) and neutralising antibodies.

The vaccine was administered in two forms – frozen and freeze-dried – and the frozen form showed greater efficacy in terms of production of neutralising antibodies and T-cells. This aspect of the research is important, since the freeze-dried form proving effective (even though lesser so than the frozen form) means that the vaccine can be transferred in a stable manner through the existing vaccine

GST relief likely for stressed auto sector

"Details of the proposal are being worked out by the FM. For two-wheelers, three-wheelers, public transport and four-wheelers, relief should come in that order. Hope you will get good news very soon," he said. Javadekar also assured the industry that the government would soon announce a scrappage policy – another key demand of the industry to revive sales.

Overall auto sales in the first five months of the current fiscal is down 50% compared to the year-ago period.

Speaking at the event, Kenichi Ayukawa, managing director, Maruti Suzuki India, thanked Javadekar for assuring the industry for taking its demand to the PM and FM. He pointed out that the auto sector has been "set back by many years" by a combination of the novel coronavirus pandemic and the slowdown that has been going on since the last fiscal. "In August we can say we just came back on our feet to achieve performance comparable to last year. Also, last year is not a good comparison as the industry saw negative growth of 15-25%. This negative growth has set back the industry by many years," Ayukawa said.

He further said the growth witnessed in the last couple of months is on a very low base of last year and "we are also not sure whether this is sustainable in future", while festive demand is very important. "So, at some point of time, we definitely need some support from the government," he said, adding that the cold-chain conditions that maintain the efficacy of a vaccine, eliminating the need for a specialised storage and transfer system. Most vaccine candidates so far have not demonstrated this even if they can be transferred and stored similarly.

The vaccine's results have been compared with convalescent plasma to understand the immunogenic impact of the vaccine against naturally developed immunity, and it was found that the vaccine induced a strong immune response.

Experts, as per various media reports, have pointed to the fact that it was a non-randomised trial, with the subjects including a significant number of soldiers (assumed to be fitter and healthier) and many being their 20-30s. A phase 3 trial involving 40,000 people was approved towards the end of last month.

Onion prices threaten to skyrocket

As retail prices of onion touched ₹50-60 per kg in October last year, the government imposed minimum export price, put stocking limits on wholesalers and retailers and banned export. However, these steps yielded little and the retail prices went up to even the ₹100-120 per kg range in many places, including Delhi, by December-January. Now that the Essential Commodities Act has been amended via an Ordinance, removing onion from the Act's purview along with other food stuff, the government no longer has the option of imposing stock limits.

On Friday, onion prices at Lasalgaon touched a minimum of ₹1,000 a quintal and a maximum of ₹2,411 per quintal with modal price at ₹2,000 per quintal. Prices were similar on Thursday at the Mandi. Last week, arrivals dipped to 7,800 quintals per day from a level of 15,000 quintals per day a week before, with average price at ₹1,640 per quintal and a week before, average price was at ₹750 per quintal.

With the fresh crop expected to hit the markets only in mid-October, consumers may have to put up with high prices, Bharat Dighole, president, Maharashtra State Onion Growers' Association, said. "Farmers are getting good prices for the first time this season. Any attempts made by the government to bring down prices will be met with resistance," he said. "The cost for growing onions is around ₹900 per quintal. Farmers incur losses if the product fetches anything below this. Farmers have incurred heavy losses in the last four months due to the lockdown as they sold 70% of the produce in the price range of ₹400-700 per quintal," he said.

According to market sources, onion supplies in the market at present are of summer variety, harvested in March and April and stored by farmers. "Around 30-40% of the stored produce has already rotted. Hence, we want the Centre and the state government to take measures to give relief to onion farmers and compensate them for the produce sold in the lockdown period," Dighole said. Even at the current prices of ₹2,000 per quintal, farmers are not making profits since most of their produce has been spoiled, he said. Dighole's association has been visiting farmer sites across Nashik -- Maharashtra's biggest onion belt to assess damage to the stored onion.

Experts like agricultural economist Ashok Gulati have written against knee jerk policy response to the high volatility in onion prices. Rather than sudden export bans, the government must keep imports open, scale up storage facilities for rabi crop and promote use of dehydrated onions that has longer shelf life, Gulati said. Suvarna Jagtap, chairperson, Lasalgaon Agriculture Produce Market Committee (APMC), said prices have gone up due to a decline in supplies. "This time of the year, onion crops from Karnataka and Andhra usually hit the markets and these are nearly 70% of the total arrivals. But the excessive rains in these states have affected supplies putting pressure on stocks in Maharashtra. Farmers do not have proper storage facilities and store their onion in open spaces."

The unseasonal rains in March and April this year with hailstorms caused rotting in storage. At present, the onion arrivals in the market are not of top quality but are commanding good prices due to the decline in arrivals.

Jaydutta Holkar, former chairman, Lasalgaon APMC, agreed and said the climate has not been conducive throughout the year for onions. There was an extended monsoon last year which led to late sowing in December and this was followed by unseasonal rains in March and April, which led to rotting. The early kharif planting (Rangda onion variety) was also hit due to excess rains to the tune of 40% and kharif planting is still in progress. This means the new onion may enter markets by late November or early December, market committee officials said, adding that this could lead to a panic situation.

Meanwhile, Nafed has procured around 86,000 tonnes of onions from Maharashtra from farmers at the prevailing market rates. The onion stocks have been procured for creating a buffer stock for the government.

Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE)

Between 2012 and 2018, the number of Indians with jobs fell for the first time ever. In 2017-18, unemployment reached a four-decade high.

Since then, economic growth has slowed every year, and job opportunities have shrunk further.

Now, Covid-19 has mostly destroyed whatever job prospects were left.

Exactly how bad are things? Which geographies and industries are worst hit?

How can we address and remedy this situation?

FINANCIAL EXPRESSMONETISATION*Govt identifies a clutch of assetsFE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 4

THE CENTRE HAS identified a clutch of core assets of state-owned entities for monetisation, including pipelines of Indian Oil and GAIL and assorted assets of Indian Railways, Delhi and Kolkata Metro rail systems and Dedicated Rail Freight Corridor.

Ministries of power, steel, mines and food, which have been asked earlier to identify potential assets to be monetised, are likely to apprise the core group of secretaries for asset monetisation (CGAM) of their plans on September 9.

The CGAM will also review progress on the first and second list of core assets identified by the NITI Aayog earlier, such as monetisation of 12 lots of highway bundles of 6,000 km by 2024 to raise up to ₹60,000 crore.

It will also review the progress of private sector participation in running of 150 passenger trains and redevelopment of 50 railway stations. Power Grid will offer ₹20,000 crore worth transmission lines in two phases.

The Cabinet secretary-led CGAM was concerned that considerable time has elapsed without much progress since it was decided in January this year that telecom towers of BSNL, MTNL and fibre network of BBNL will be monetised. The telecom ministry will apprise the panel about the progress.

Besides core assets of state-run entities, the NITI Aayog had also recommended monetisation of special assets such as stadiums and tourism/mountain railways lines. CGAM will review progress on monetisation of Jawaharlal Nehru Sports Stadium at New Delhi and three stadiums of railways (Karnail Singh Stadium, Waltair Stadium and Railway Indoor Sports Stadium) and four tourism/mountain railways at Darjeeling, Nilgiris, Kalka Shimla and Matheran.

The Airports Authority of India is the only entity to have completed monetisation of six identified airports (Ahmedabad, Mangalore, Lucknow, Thiruvananthapuram, Jaipur and Guwahati). The ministry of shipping is in the process of recycling 11 assets, including 10 berths and International Cruise Terminal at Goa Port.

While the Centre would retain 100% of the proceeds from monetisation of non-core assets of units identified for strategic sale and enemy properties, it could share a large chunk of the proceeds with CPSEs in case operational core assets are monetised. The proceeds to the Centre from asset monetisation would be counted as disinvestment receipts, which so far only included receipts from equity sales in CPSEs and other entities.

The new asset monetisation policy was announced in the interim Budget for 2019-20.

Shortlisted firms can bid for BPCL through SPV, says Dipam

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 4

STEPPING UP THE processes for strategic disinvestment of government's entire stake in fuel retailer and refiner BPCL, the Centre on Friday clarified that any shortlisted bidder can float a special purpose vehicle (SPV) to put final bids for the firm before entering into a share purchase agreement (SPA).

The SPV can be formed at any time after submission of expression of interest (EOI) but prior to signing of the SPA. Both the interested party (IP) and the SPV will have to sign the SPA in case IP is selected as the "strategic investor," the department of investment and public asset management said in a pre-bid clarification.

Among the strategic deals, the Centre is banking on sale of its entire 52.98% stake in BPCL to raise around ₹80,000 crore or 40% of the FY21 disinvestment target of ₹2.1 lakh crore for FY21.

Dipam had recently extended the deadline for EOI for the BPCL stake from potential buyers till September 30.

In another clarification on definition of net worth Dipam said that "for avoidance of doubt, it is clarified that the net worth of an IP will be considered on a consolidated basis. And if an IP is found to be satisfying net worth criteria on the basis of its parent's net worth, the consolidated net worth of its parent will be considered."

IndiGo's plan to raise ₹4,000 cr via QIP depends on sales revenue pick-up: CEO

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

INDIGO'S PLANTO raise up to ₹4,000 crore through a qualified institutional placement (QIP) depends on the sales revenue pick-up in the coming days, CEO Ronojoy Dutta said on Friday.

"At this point in time, I would like to say that there is a 50:50 chance of the QIP happening," Dutta said at the online annual general meeting of InterGlobe Aviation, IndiGo's parent company.

On August 10, InterGlobe Aviation told the BSE that it would raise up to ₹4,000 crore through a QIP. Dutta on Friday said the company's board of directors had passed the enabling resolution to raise funds through QIP but whether "we ultimately go for it or not depends on how the sales revenue side develops". virus pandemic.

The country's largest airline by passengers carried and fleet size had on July 29 announced a massive loss of ₹2,844 crore for the quarter ended June 30. In the corresponding period a year ago, it had posted a net profit of ₹1,203 crore.

The airline on July 27 said it was implementing "deeper" pay cuts of up to 35% for its senior employees in order to reduce its cash outflow amid the coronavirus pandemic. From May onwards, IndiGo implemented pay cuts of up to 25% for its senior employees. The pay cuts came after the airline's announcement on July 20 that it would lay off 10% of its workforce.

Scheduled international flights have been suspended in India since March 23 due to the coronavirus-triggered lockdown. However, special international passenger flights have been operating in India under the Vande Bharat Mission since May and under bilateral 'air bubble' arrangements formed between India and other countries since July.

Domestic flights resumed in India after a gap of two months on May 25.

'Unfavourable FTAs playing havoc on auto, component exports'

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

UNFAVOURABLE FTAS ARE "playing havoc" on competitiveness of India's automobiles and component exports and the government must put this high on the agenda to fix it while negotiating trade agreements, Mahindra and Mahindra MD and CEO Pawan Goenka said on Friday.

At the annual convention of SIAM, Goenka, former president of the auto industry body, said higher logistics cost for shipments in and out of India and high industry power tariff were also impeding the auto industry's cost competitiveness.

While stating that the auto industry has committed itself to increase exports, reduce imports and invest in R&D to play its part in PM Narendra Modi's call for the "Atmanirbhar Bharat", he said it would "need facilitation from the government on India on some specific instances".

Addressing commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal, he said, "To grow our exports, the biggest requirement is to become cost competitive, both in components and for vehicles. As you are aware, unfavourable FTAs are playing havoc on our competitiveness. We understand this is not easy to fix and will take time but we request you to keep this high on the agenda as you negotiate trade agreements."

Goenka further said the immediate focus of the auto sector was to reduce imports. "Today, the industry is importing about ₹1 lakh crore of components.

ACMA and SIAM members will work together to reduce imports by about half in the next four to five years. That's a commitment," he said. He, however, added, "But, for this to happen, we need to eliminate any gap in competitiveness, on cost, on quality, on technology and capability."

RedX plan: Trai gives VIL time till Sept 8 to respond to its notice

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, September 4

THE TELECOM REGULATORY Authority of India (Trai) has further extended the deadline till September 8 for Vodafone Idea (VIL) to respond to its show-cause notice regarding its RedX plan. The original deadline was August 31, which was first extended till September 4 on a request from VIL, which has again sought more time.

So far, Vodafone Idea has failed to answer the queries raised by Trai. The deadline will not be further extended as the Telecom Disputes Settlement and Appellate Tribunal (TDSAT) is scheduled to hear the issue on September 10. The regulator will submit the details and outcome of the inquiry into the RedX plan to the tribunal. Earlier, the TDSAT had stayed Trai's interim direction to stop its RedX offer immediately, allowing Vodafone Idea to on-board new customers for the plan.

The tribunal, however, allowed Trai to complete its inquiry on the premium plan.

Trai, in its directions dated July 11, had asked VIL to "withhold, with immediate effect and until further orders, the Vodafone RedX offer to facilitate detailed examination". A similar direction was also sent to Bharti Airtel to stop its premium plan for Platinum customers. Airtel has already decided to withdraw its plan.

Silver Lake to invest $1 bn in Reliance Retail: Report

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

IN NEWS

■ Financial Times reported that the company was looking to sell about 10% of Reliance Retail

■ Silver Lake was the first US PE firm to invest in Jio after FB took a 9.99% stake in the latter for ₹43,573.62 crore.

■ PE firm bought 2.08% in Jio in two tranches for a total of ₹10,202.55 crore crore to boost its retail vertical.

Silver Lake was the first US private equity firm to invest in Jio after tech giant Facebook took a 9.99% stake in the company for ₹43,573.62 crore. Silver Lake bought 2.08% in Jio in two tranches for a total of ₹10,202.55 crore. Rival private equity groups KKR, Vista and General Atlantic followed Silver Lake to take stakes in Jio. Other notable investors included Google and Abu Dhabi's sovereign wealth fund Mubadala.

Commenting on the report, CLSA said the $57 billion valuation for Reliance Retail is 15% lower than the value it had assigned for the company. "Reliance is reportedly in discussion with Silver Lake Partners for a $1 billion stake sale in Reliance Retail at a valuation of $57 billion (implying 1.75% stake sale)," it said. All investors in Jio Platforms, including Silver Lake, have been offered a chance to explore investing in Reliance Retail, it said. Ambani had at the company's recent AGM said it had been approached by strategic investors for a stake in Reliance Retail.

CLSA said as this possible stake sale would also include the recently acquired retail business of Future Group, the valuation suggested in the report is lower than its expectations. "Interestingly, this is also a massive 30% lower than the rumoured private market valuation of retail," it said.

Using the valuation of the recent deal in Jio Platforms (enterprise value of $65 billion), the proposed deal for oil-to-chemicals business with Saudi Aramco (EV of $75 billion) and the one proposed in retail ($57 billion), gives a $197 billion EV for Reliance's three segments. "Adjusting for minority interest ($25 billion) in Jio and Retail as well as $4.6 billion of net debt likely to remain by March 2021 gives a value of $174 billion, net to Reliance. This means the current market-cap (adj for treasury) offers no upside based on deal benchmark valuations," it added.

Board seeks optimal way to restructure ITC, says Puri

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, September 4

DIVERSIFIED CONGLOMERATE ITC's board is constantly in search of the "optimal way" to restructure the company and will "adopt" the right tools for the maximum benefit of stakeholders, chairman Sanjiv Puri said on Friday.

"The board looks at what is the optimal way of structuring ITC, so that there is maximum benefit to the stakeholders, and this is a process of constant review. What is right for enduring shareholders' value is what the company will adopt," Puri told shareholders during the company's 109th annual general meeting (AGM) here.

"There were certain concerns about the share price, and certain suggestions are also made of buybacks, bonus and restructuring the enterprise. These are valid tools that are evaluated by the board and whatever is the best to create sustainable shareholders' value is certainly what the board will recommend. And whatever is in the interests of the shareholders, the board will certainly take forward," Puri said.

On the FMCG segment's profitability, he said, "In the last two years, we have improved margins by 300 basis points. And the reason why its profitability is different

He said in the last three years, the earnings per share (EPS) of the company went up 40%. However, this was not reflected in the share price. "Of course, I am sure it is concerning all of you and all the employees because there is performance behind it and yet it is not getting recognised."

The chairman said the company's focus on ESG (environmental, social and corporate governance) investing, which had created headwinds for tobacco stocks globally, impacted its stock too. "This is despite the fact that we have a pretty good ESG rating," he said.

Puri said the company had realised that there could be headwinds as far as tobacco-related stocks were concerned. So, to deal with such situation, it had adopted a strategy for multiple drivers of growth and, particularly, for the FMCG segment, which commanded very impressive price-to-earnings multiple. "That is what drove us. And, as we improve profitability, I think that is going to add more heft to ITC," he pointed out.

On the FMCG segment's profitability, he said, "In the last two years, we have improved margins by 300 basis points. And the reason why its profitability is different from what is reflected in the industry. Within our portfolio there are businesses that are nascent. There are businesses that we are incubating and there are businesses that have grown into a certain size. And therefore, there are, in the portfolio, a number of businesses we are investing in and we are continuing to create newer categories."

In his AGM address, the chairman said other than the hotel segment and ESPB (education and stationery product business), progressive normalisation was witnessed in the later part of the first quarter across all operating segments. Puri said the pandemic situation undoubtedly called for a strategic response focusing on the vigorous pursuit of value-accretive opportunities - leveraging the company's institutional strengths while driving thrift, cost optimisation and conservation of cash. He said the company's hotel business was focussing on "asset right strategy" and managing other properties.

The capital expenditure plan had been around ₹3000 crore for every year.

Co accelerates digitisation to enhance operational effectiveness

The company has accelerated digital transformation under its future-ready strategy to enhance competitive advantage and operational effectiveness, Puri said. The current pandemic has accelerated manifold the transition to digitalisation that was already moving at high velocity and the company is adopting new-age technologies to stay ahead of the curve, he said. New technologies such as Industry 4.0, big data, IoT and machine learning are being deployed by all businesses, including supply chain and logistics to enhance operational effectiveness, Puri said.

What has been the impact on industry?

Industry took a strong hit. Around 30% of local PGs and hostels have shut. In next 15-30 days, we will see another 20% gone. In all, Covid-19 will end up wiping off 50% of the industry. These people do not have the resources to sustain losses for long. This 50% will be wiped off for the time being, but they would be able to revive later with time.

What trends are you witnessing? What about consolidation?

Going ahead, branded players would have a better chance of survival. This shock has sort of created a differentiation between a reliable partner and a normal accommodation. We expect to end up getting a large share of this unorganised market, going forward. How exactly consolidation will happen and who will acquire whom is anybody's guess, but this, as a trend, will happen in the co-living segment. The process has started, but it will take some time.

What impact would work from home have on co-living?

Co-living, as an industry, will take a short-term recalibration, given that it is a very large market, more than $20 billion annually. And even if it were to shrink by 20%, it is still basically a $16-billion market. It's basically a very large market with space to grow.

What about plans to develop 5 million sqft of space for custom-made properties?

Real estate is going through tough times. In the residential asset class, we will build spaces in collaborations with builders and sell it to investors. We will design it from scratch and developers will build it. We will soon have one property each coming up in Mumbai (MMR), Delhi NCR, Bengaluru and Chennai. We will soon come out with an announcement in a couple of weeks.

When do you expect co-living to start recovering?

I'm certain the market will recover by December because we are seeing people coming back to work. Companies have also started asking employees to come back. Our target group is between 22 and 28 years and this group has one of the least vulnerable to corona. They are also a little bold in their approach towards

Sri Satyam Roychowdhury
Chancellor, Sister Nivedita University,
Founder & MD, Techno India Group

At present when we look forward, we can understand that education in confined room is not only the medium through which we can build our future generation. Digitalisation is the main module and future of education. Shri Satyam Roychowdhury, the founder of Sister Nivedita University, is a visionary leader who saw the need of digitalisation in the field of education much before many. Mr Roychowdhury's innate literary urge has taken him round the world in quest of new avenues and unexplored frontiers in the field of education. Much before this pandemic, he took step towards digitalisation and he was fully prepared with all the amenities required for the same. He wanted to be unique among all the education institutions. The Vice Chancellor of the university and Shri Roychowdhury had already thought of arranging lectures from noble laureates for all the students. From the very beginning of the lockdown sessions, SNU has been operating online classes for the students without wasting any time. Shri Roychowdhury himself and the Vice Chancellor of the University helped many other educational institutions with this online education system. According to Shri Satyam Roychowdhury, even after the Covid19', the system of digitization would continue. This combination of on campus and off campus education would help and brighten up the students in many ways. They can be online 24x7, they can connect with the library and laboratories virtually of different institutes and universities of the world. In the beginning though it was a bit difficult to cope up with the new system, but after few days, students have also adapted to the 'new normal' way. They are happy with the new module where they can have their own time also. According to him, the knowledge the future generation would gain in this online era would be of high value. They are prepping for more digital contents for the teachers as well and the University has tied up with Coursera, a digital platform to provide online contents, courses and certificates. There are unique courses, such as Robotics, Pharmacy, Agriculture, Fine Arts provided by the University.

SNU thrives the best in a student. Though it's a new institute in the education sector, still it has many things to offer for shaping up a future for one. According to Dr. Bose SNU tries to incorporate the MAC education system within the students, where M stands for developing the Maturity level in students, A stands for creating the articulation and C stands for building up the confidence within the student. Accumulation of MAC, in students, shapes up the students to stand out among all the others. He wants to incorporate the habit of learning among the students. Students need to understand every six months there would be change in practical theories, modules. One needs to be in constant touch with the learning process to achieve the best of best. He hopes this online education would bring out various opportunities for the students, teachers.

2020, it is a year of challenges, it's a year of anxiety and anguishment. This year has shown us what really means by globalisation, because a whole world is fighting a virus which is sub microscopic in nature and present in nook and corner of the world. The whole new mood of functioning is different where integrity has to be the pillar for formation of a world without the virus.

According to Dr. Chattopadhyay this would help us to learn to adopt the changes that's going on. Human nature tends to have certain mindsets, habits which develops with years and makes one more self centric where thinking about self only remains as the major aspect. But this year has made us conscious and made all aware that interdependence is need of the hour. Team spirit is necessary, where all together we can get things to do for all of us. The stigma of being only one, has to curb to survive. Today the universities consist of different categories like the teachers, the parents and the students, where change in the teaching pedagogy, has created an effect with everyone.

Here, the teaching process has to be student centric from teachers centric to read the students mindset minutely and how teachers can give the best for students to learn. The mixture of online and offline learning will enhance the curriculum more, where best lectures from various parts of the world will be there for the students. There is so much to learn, understand in each domain and to garner more knowledge for getting more exposure worldwide.

An institution providing education of unique kind

"The highest education is that which does not merely give us information but makes our life in harmony with all existence." – Rabindranath Tagore

An investment in knowledge pays the best interest" - Benjamin Franklin. Sister Nivedita University is the institution of Defying Boundaries, Refining Possibilities. SNU, being unique of its own kind is built on the path of Sister Nivedita, blessed under the shadow of Swami Vivekananda. SNU being a dream project woven into reality brick by brick, offering a podium to all the students to stand up to their dreams- aspires to provide a transformative impact on the society which would allow to build up the future of the society. The motto of SNU is to create a curriculum that is business connected, and also sensitive to the demand of the environment to achieve a sustainable growth as well. The university offers an array of courses under disciplines like Engineering and Technology, Science, Medicine, Management, Law, Humanities, Languages, Pharmacy, Architecture, Social Sciences, Education, Performing Arts, Designing etc.

In this competitive world, where a number of education institutes are present , SNU belongs from a different genre with its various courses which provides an exceptional learning platform to the budding stars. Staying in tune with the ever changing demand of the time the University provides some unique courses which will give the students an edge over many other Institutes. Following programmes will empower the students and prepare them for the coming time.

Automation & Robotics

Robotics and artificial intelligence is an interdisciplinary research area at the interface of computer science and engineering. Research in artificial intelligence is the analysis of algorithm to perform intelligent behaviour with minimal human interference. In future, definitely inclusion of this two would be apt in all the field, to shift load and saving time. SNU being the one institute in the east in collaboration with IBM to build up the modules to face the unseen challenges.

School Of Nursing

- With the demand for Nurses ever increasing in the medical fraternity, SNU has increased the number of seats in the department to serve the society.

Performing Arts – When all are busy in providing the best engineers and doctors, SNU differs from them by introducing the course on Performing Arts. The University stands for bringing out the creativity among the students by training the students who want to take up performing arts as their career.

Designing - With the mark of digitalisation, now all the brand activities are mostly social media based, where designing is the main platform to catch the eyes with bright array of colours. SNU helps the aspirants with various conceptualisation and modulations.

Pharmacy - One of the fields which is budding all over the years. With the nature breaking out with various diseases, its necessary to provide more and more pharmacists to find out the ways through it.

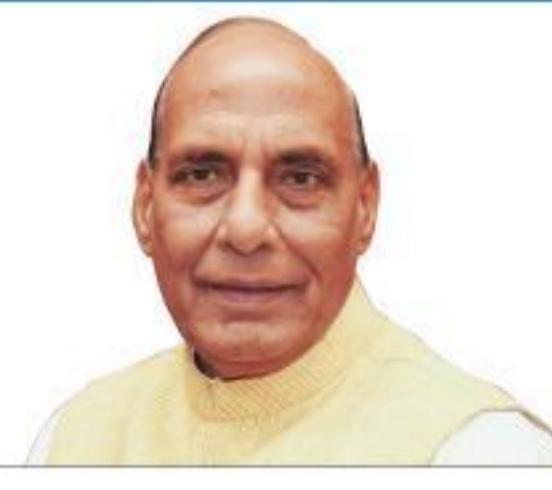

We hope SNU goes a long way and creates some extraordinaire intelligent serving the society.

A CLIMATE OF TRUST

Union minister Rajnath Singh

Peaceful stable and secure region of SCO member states ... demands a climate of trust and cooperation, non-aggression, respect for international rules and norms, sensitivity to each other's interest

Supreme Court can't be second-guessing the banks

Asking banks not to classify loans as NPAs will help those borrowing, but this is a call that only bankers must take

WHILE THE SUPREME Court's intentions of helping borrowers under duress, by asking banks to not classify stressed accounts as non-performing assets (NPAs) are laudable, the directive will put the health of the banking system in jeopardy. Delaying bad news never helped anybody. Indeed, even suggesting that the government and the regulator would have greater discretion in running banks, than bankers, is not a good idea. Clearly, the regulator—not the government—should frame the broad rules, regulations and guidelines within which banks must operate. But, banks must have full discretion to deal with individual clients in the manner they feel best since they are held responsible for the exposures. Interference in lending practices for so many decades—including the notorious practice of phone banking—is the reason that the system is so full of rot.

If banks are stripped of their powers, they can never discipline borrowers. Even otherwise, not classifying assets properly, on a real-time basis, is poor corporate governance; shareholders have the right to know the true state and quality of the loan book at any point in time.

Right now, an NPA must be classified as such if the borrower has not paid up within 90 days of the due date; that is enough of a grace period. Given the unprecedented circumstances of the pandemic, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), has decided to permit a one-time recast of stressed loans. That, in itself, is not a good idea because it camouflages the health of balance sheets for a good two years. But, this will, presumably, be done only for a select set of companies. Those that have been badly hurt by the lockdown and need support. A blanket non-classifying of stressed assets will, however, create a moral hazard. As senior bankers had pointed out, the blanket moratorium offered to customers resulted in rampant indiscipline since every borrower decided to take a break from paying interest. Indeed, it is surprising that there has been such a long debate on intertest waiver—during the moratorium period—and that the matter is still being heard in court. As banks, government and RBI have all told the court, interest cannot be waived; it must be paid by borrowers though they are entitled to ask for time to repay it. Banks have rightly argued they cannot be foregoing interest when they need to service depositors.

Similarly, assets cannot be classified as standard when they are not standard. Overturning RBI regulations—which is what the court is doing—can be harmful for banks and the economy. Unless banks are allowed to function autonomously, they will simply stop doing business for fear of being bullied by errant and indisciplined borrowers, and rising NPAs for which they do not have adequate capital. Already, banks are so reluctant to lend they are content to leave funds lying with RBI for a paltry 3.35% or park them in government bonds at 5.8–6%. Taxpayers are still paying for the loan losses for the banking system, which at one point had crossed 12% of assets. Today, with the economy contracting and the IBC suspended, banks are becoming increasingly vulnerable to large loan losses. They need to have complete control over their operations to be able to stem the rot.

Much beyond borders

India must ready itself for the Chinese threat from space

CHINA LAST YEAR termed space a “critical domain in international strategic competition”, having deemed “security of space” as a cornerstone of the strategic protection of its national development. This should have alarmed India—indeed, the global community—since it signals that China implicitly considers space as another battlefield, notwithstanding the country’s posturing of being against the weaponisation of extra-terrestrial realms. If it didn’t, the US department of defense’s (DoD’s) recent annual report submitted to the US Congress should serve as a wake-up call. The report notes that the People’s Liberation Army (China’s armed forces) “continues to acquire and develop a range of space and counterspace capabilities and related technology”. The report, analysing published work of PLA academics on counterspace technologies, says that China sees the ability to use space-based systems and “deny the same to adversaries” as crucial to modern warfare. The country has been acquiring and developing indigenously kinetic-kill missiles and vehicles (launched from either ground or orbit to destroy a target with sheer kinetic energy) and orbiting space robots. It has drastically expanded space surveillance to monitor objects in space and launch counterspace operations—nearly half of the 120 (in May 2018) recon and remote sensing satellite-fleet were owned and operated by the PLA. These could be used for, among other things, tracking and targeting an adversary’s forces. In addition, the PLA is developing satellite-jammers and directed-energy weapons that could have exoatmospheric use. China is also reported to be working on real-time surveillance, recon and warning system, and has been bolstering its capacity in this regard, including through the Beidou navigation satellite system. The PLA, the DoD notes, could be looking at integrating terrestrial and space military operations.

Just 20 years back, the DoD had said that China’s “nominal space capabilities were based on outdated technologies for the day”. Now, when the DoD acknowledges that China could surpass the US’s capabilities on certain fronts, India must confront an altered geopolitical and strategic reality. It has to keep up with the march of militarisation of space—not just by China but also other space powers—if it is to defend its space capabilities. Of course, the larger goal should be towards de-weaponising space, and India must be a leader on global efforts to achieve the same, but it also has to get pragmatic. Last year’s anti-satellite (ASAT) missile testing in the low-Earth orbit was a demonstration of its willingness, even though it came 12 years after China did this and decades after the US. There is a lot of catching up that has to be done. For instance, while against China’s 120-satellite remote sensing and recon capacity, India has 19 such satellites. This has to do, perhaps, with the fact that China spends nearly $11 billion on its space interests, while India spends just $1.5 billion, that too for largely civilian purposes. Against such a backdrop, opening up space to the private sector, as the government did recently, is a step forward. With the pandemic, the spending capacity of both the government and the private sector could get seriously affected. The government has to bear in mind that it was China’s impressive economic growth that helped it grow its space muscles. Unless it pulls all stops to revive and accelerate growth, it will be difficult to take on China when the war goes leagues beyond Galwan.

Bankable OPTION

VRS is a good option, but it does not address the problem of inefficiency

ALTHOUGH BANKS LIKE SBI had offered VRS scheme to cut the flab after the merger—almost 4,000 SBI employees opted for the plan in 2018—but employee costs still account for a significant share of the public sector banks’ expenses. An analysis of financials for SBI and HDFC bank show that employee cost at the PSB was more than double that of its private-sector counterpart. Given SBI had highlighted the issue in its fourth quarter report, it is not surprising that it has now mooted a plan to offer VRS scheme for its employees. SBI stands to save ₹2,171 crore if 30% of its employees opt for VRS. If the plan is successful, other PSBs should take a leaf out of SBI’s book and institute such schemes to create leaner structures.

However, even if SBI can achieve this, it still does not address the issue of inefficiency as the scheme targets officers and award staff. Last year, this newspaper had that PSBs had more people employed in clerical and support staff jobs than officers. Another issue that remains unaddressed is the hiring of a specialised cadre. PSBs face a shortage of specialised staff like risk officers. This year’s Economic Survey also highlighted this emphasising that the government needs to allow entry of specialised staff and introduce ESOP options so that employees have some skin in the game. As per the Economic Survey, in 2019, every rupee of taxpayer money invested in PSBs, on average, lost 23 paise. In contrast, every rupee of investor money invested in private banks on average gained 9.6 paise. So, while a rupee invested in PSBs fetched a market value of 71 paise, a rupee invested in a private bank got over three times.

The long flight to recovery

FOllowing three stringent lockdowns and air travel suspension in India, the aviation sector is preparing for a gradual restart. However, there are many uncertainties regarding the extent of travel restrictions by various governments in the restart period. The pandemic has heavily impacted the aviation ecosystem, therefore, a coordinated recovery programme is essential to ensure the survival of the sector. To recover and flourish sustainably in a post-Covid-19 world, new fundamentals that embrace heightened levels of the alliance will be imperative. Passenger safety has taken on a new meaning, and the only way to recover is to reinstate confidence among the passengers, which is rock bottom, for travelling.

India is implementing a series of public health measures to ensure the safety of passengers and staff. For this purpose, a comprehensive strategy from origin to destination has been put in place. The safety measures, which reflect India’s national Covid-19 guidelines, include wearing of masks, verification of safe status in the national Covid-19 tracking application (Aarogya Setu) and disinfection of every possible contact surface at the airport. These additional steps are further resource-intensive and impact operations and bottom-line.

These are the short-term measures to regain passenger confidence, but recognising the fact that the virus is here to stay till the time a vaccine is developed, the long-term measures would require a health visa or a Covid-19 free certificate to fly, so that the virus and air transportation can coexist as safely as possible. A significant investment towards technology to deliver a contactless medical screening process will be imperative.

These are challenging times, yet the resilience of the sector so far has been nothing short of remarkable. The domestic civil aviation operations resumed in India on May 25, with 428 departing flights ferrying 30,550 passengers, and as operations continue, the revised set of figures are encouraging. With a 29% month over month (MoM) growth in August over the previous month, these figures, which are now cruising at 1,044 departing flights (+144%) and 1,12,630 passengers (269%), are expected to shoot up as the sector regains consumer confidence. Although there has been a steep decline in profitability, the future looks promising as IATA’s July 2020 survey reveals that the Asia Pacific region, accounting for 34.6% of the global aviation market, is expected to return to the 2019 levels at the swiftest pace, followed by Europe and the Middle East. The International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) in its long term recovery report is expecting a reduction of just about 18% in the March 2021 global passenger traffic as compared to normal situations, which is quite motivating.

A recent survey carried out from a database of over 1.5 lakh prospective travellers reveals signs of green shoots as 90% of the travellers who responded to the survey, felt air travel is much more secure compared to the other modes.

The survey shows a quicker rebound for business travellers as they try to resume businesses. The global business confidence has rebounded sharply following the April low, as countries loosened travel restrictions. However, with more meetings taking place electronically, corporate travel demand is anticipated to remain sluggish until the time there is a medical solution to the pandemic. That being said, we cannot escape the fact that the conventional face to face meetings remain critical in business dealings and that videoconferencing can never be a substitute for physical meetings; the fall in demand will, therefore, come in from some businesses, not all.

Leisure demand is expected to bounce back sharply in phases. It is expected that after being housebound for months, passengers would want to get away on short-haul trips once they are reassured that air travel is safe, but demand for long haul trips will have to wait.

The change in passenger booking behaviour creates additional uncertainty. During the recovery phase, more passengers are booking their domestic travel within three days prior to departure (61% of existing bookings), compared with 46% a year ago. The recent shift in passenger booking patterns could be triggered by events including monitoring of Covid-19 situation and quarantine requirements at the destination.

Whilst the data is necessarily limited, and the prospects for the second wave of Covid-19 is unclear, making forecasts subject to wider error margins than normal, a pattern is beginning to emerge.

For now, the prospective scenario, which seems likely to occur, is a prolonged U-shaped recovery, and the sector must keep track of the indicators compulsory for this scenario to become a reality.

This is a vital period to adopt strategies addressing altered passengers’ perception in order to explore new opportunities and foster trust. The government will funnel in relief incentives like a waiver of excise duty and other charges, bringing in aviation turbine fuel under the ambit of GST, the rates of which have been flat since July 2020, and differing the credit payments to provide immediate interim relief to the airlines. Statistics from previous crises, such as the SARS epidemic and the occurrences following 9/11, show how consequential alterations and investments were needed to rebuild consumer confidence. While Covid-19’s impact on demand is far greater than that experienced after 9/11, recovery will once again require understanding customers’ changing expectations and demands before making new investments. The added challenge is that when 9/11 happened, the world saw security as a complication on the aircraft, but this time, the issue is wider. If places like Taj Mahal or The Disney World in the US are shut for visitors, then leisure travelling will be impacted by the unique health advantage of being able to avoid connecting through a hub airport, airlines could introduce point-to-point ultra-long-haul services supported by efficient and long-range aircraft, which could generate higher load factors and yields.

These strategies will not only introduce a new angle to product differentiation but will also enhance consumer confidence. The only certainty during these uncertain times is that recovery will be gradual, and the organisations which adopt a data-driven decision-making approach will deliver better performance and emerge secured.

A beneficial funding route

Setting up the first regulated, non-profit focused ‘social stock exchange-listed’ social venture fund can be a major milestone for India’s non-profit sector

FINANCE HAS GREASED the wheel of commerce for centuries, and this journey has been driven by innovation. The development of sophisticated financial instruments, especially in the last few decades, has created access to previously untapped pools of capital for businesses. These include banks with retail deposits and lending or mutual funds that allow individuals to partake in the growth of businesses.

The time has now come to bring this financial revolution to the social sector.

One financial innovation that can be a gamechanger for the social sector is a social venture fund (SVF). A type of alternative investments fund (AIF) permitted by India’s securities regulator, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), an SVF is an intermediated structure that can receive funds from donors and investors, who are issued units in exchange. Much like a mutual fund, it is managed by a professional fund manager, who then ‘invests’ the funds. The difference being that an SVF can invest in securities issued by social sector organisations, including non-profit organisations (NPOs). Unlike other AIFs, the structure of an SVF allows it to receive grants alongside commercial capital and disburse them. Interestingly, while SVFs have been allowed since 2012, no non-profit focused SVF launched in India so far.

So why is an SVF a promising financial innovation for the cause of social impact?

First, it unlocks the benefits of a collective grant-making entity that is managed by a professional fund manager.

For donors, it offers an opportunity to discover better or lesser-known NPOs through an expert funder manager. This is comparable to what a general partner does for limited partners in the venture capital/private equity world. It is cost-effective, as it limits the need for donors to have their own in-house teams and domain expertise to diligence grantees. It enables access to a large NPO pool without the need for on-ground presence, which is especially useful for foreign philanthropic funders.

For NPOs, it broadens the pools of capital by crowding in new funders and lowers overheads and reporting requirements. This is because they have to deal only with the manager of the collective entity, and not with individual donors. This liberates NPOs from the burden of reporting to different donors in different formats and reporting cycles and frees up more of their organisational mind space to focus on their mission.

For the non-profit sector as a whole, it enables the creation of new far-reaching opportunities for impact at a scale, which may otherwise not happen, such as large collective efforts around specific causes like adolescent girls, migration, etc.

But the benefits of setting up a regulated SVF go beyond that of any generic collective grant-making entity.

The ‘trust-mark’ that comes with being a regulated entity provides greater confidence to new non-traditional funders. The regulatory umbrella of Sebi brings in greater credibility and accountability and also minimises the perception of idiosyncratic risks associated with a non-regulated, traditional grant-manager.

The Sebi working group (WG) on the social stock exchange (SSE) takes the SVF concept a step further. It recommends that the units issued by SVFs should be listed on the envisaged SSE, provided that the recipients of these funds commit to reporting their social impact performance on the SSE in standardised disclosure formats proposed by the WG. Listing on the SSE will, therefore, enable greater clarity on the “what” and the “how” of the impact created, using standardised frameworks. Over time, the availability of information on the impact performance of various NGOs can help well-performing NPOs raise more capital and scale up their work, and incentivise the attainment of impact goals.

Setting up the first regulated, non-profit focused ‘SSE-listed’ SVF can be a major milestone for India’s non-profit sector. It could become a template of sorts that can be replicated to create an additional fundraising route for non-profits.

We believe that the SVF innovation could be as important to the non-profit sector, as mutual funds have been to investors, who can now participate in financial markets without having to set up in-house teams to do stock-picking. The onus is now on the government, Sebi and the first set of bold funders to seize the moment and make this a reality.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

On the Question Hour

Apropos of the editorial “Ask me no questions...” (dated September 4). Government has unnecessarily created a needless controversy by scrapping of Question Hour during the forthcoming Parliament session. Although, unstarred questions can be submitted by MPs. But, starred or oral questions during Question Hour, which allowed MPs to ask supplementary questions to ministers, won’t happen this session. The decision has understandably irked many opposition MPs, who use question hour to extract information from the government, and interrogate policies. Question Hour, thus gives expression and meaning to executive accountability to legislature. Government’s claim of securing consent from most parties is contradictory to the opposition voices strongly protesting the decision. In the current situation, MPs will have many questions on the massive shrinking of the Indian economy. Scrapping Question Hour in this situation gives weightage to the opposition contention of government running away from scrutiny. Various options for social distancing can be attempted—like reserving each day for select ministries to prevent crowding. The moot point is that Parliament is convening for several hours in an enclosed space despite the risk of infection. So doing away with integral elements of a Parliament sitting makes little sense. Arguably, Parliament will still be able to debate and discuss issues, but the scrutiny accorded by question hour is at a different level.

TACKLING COVID

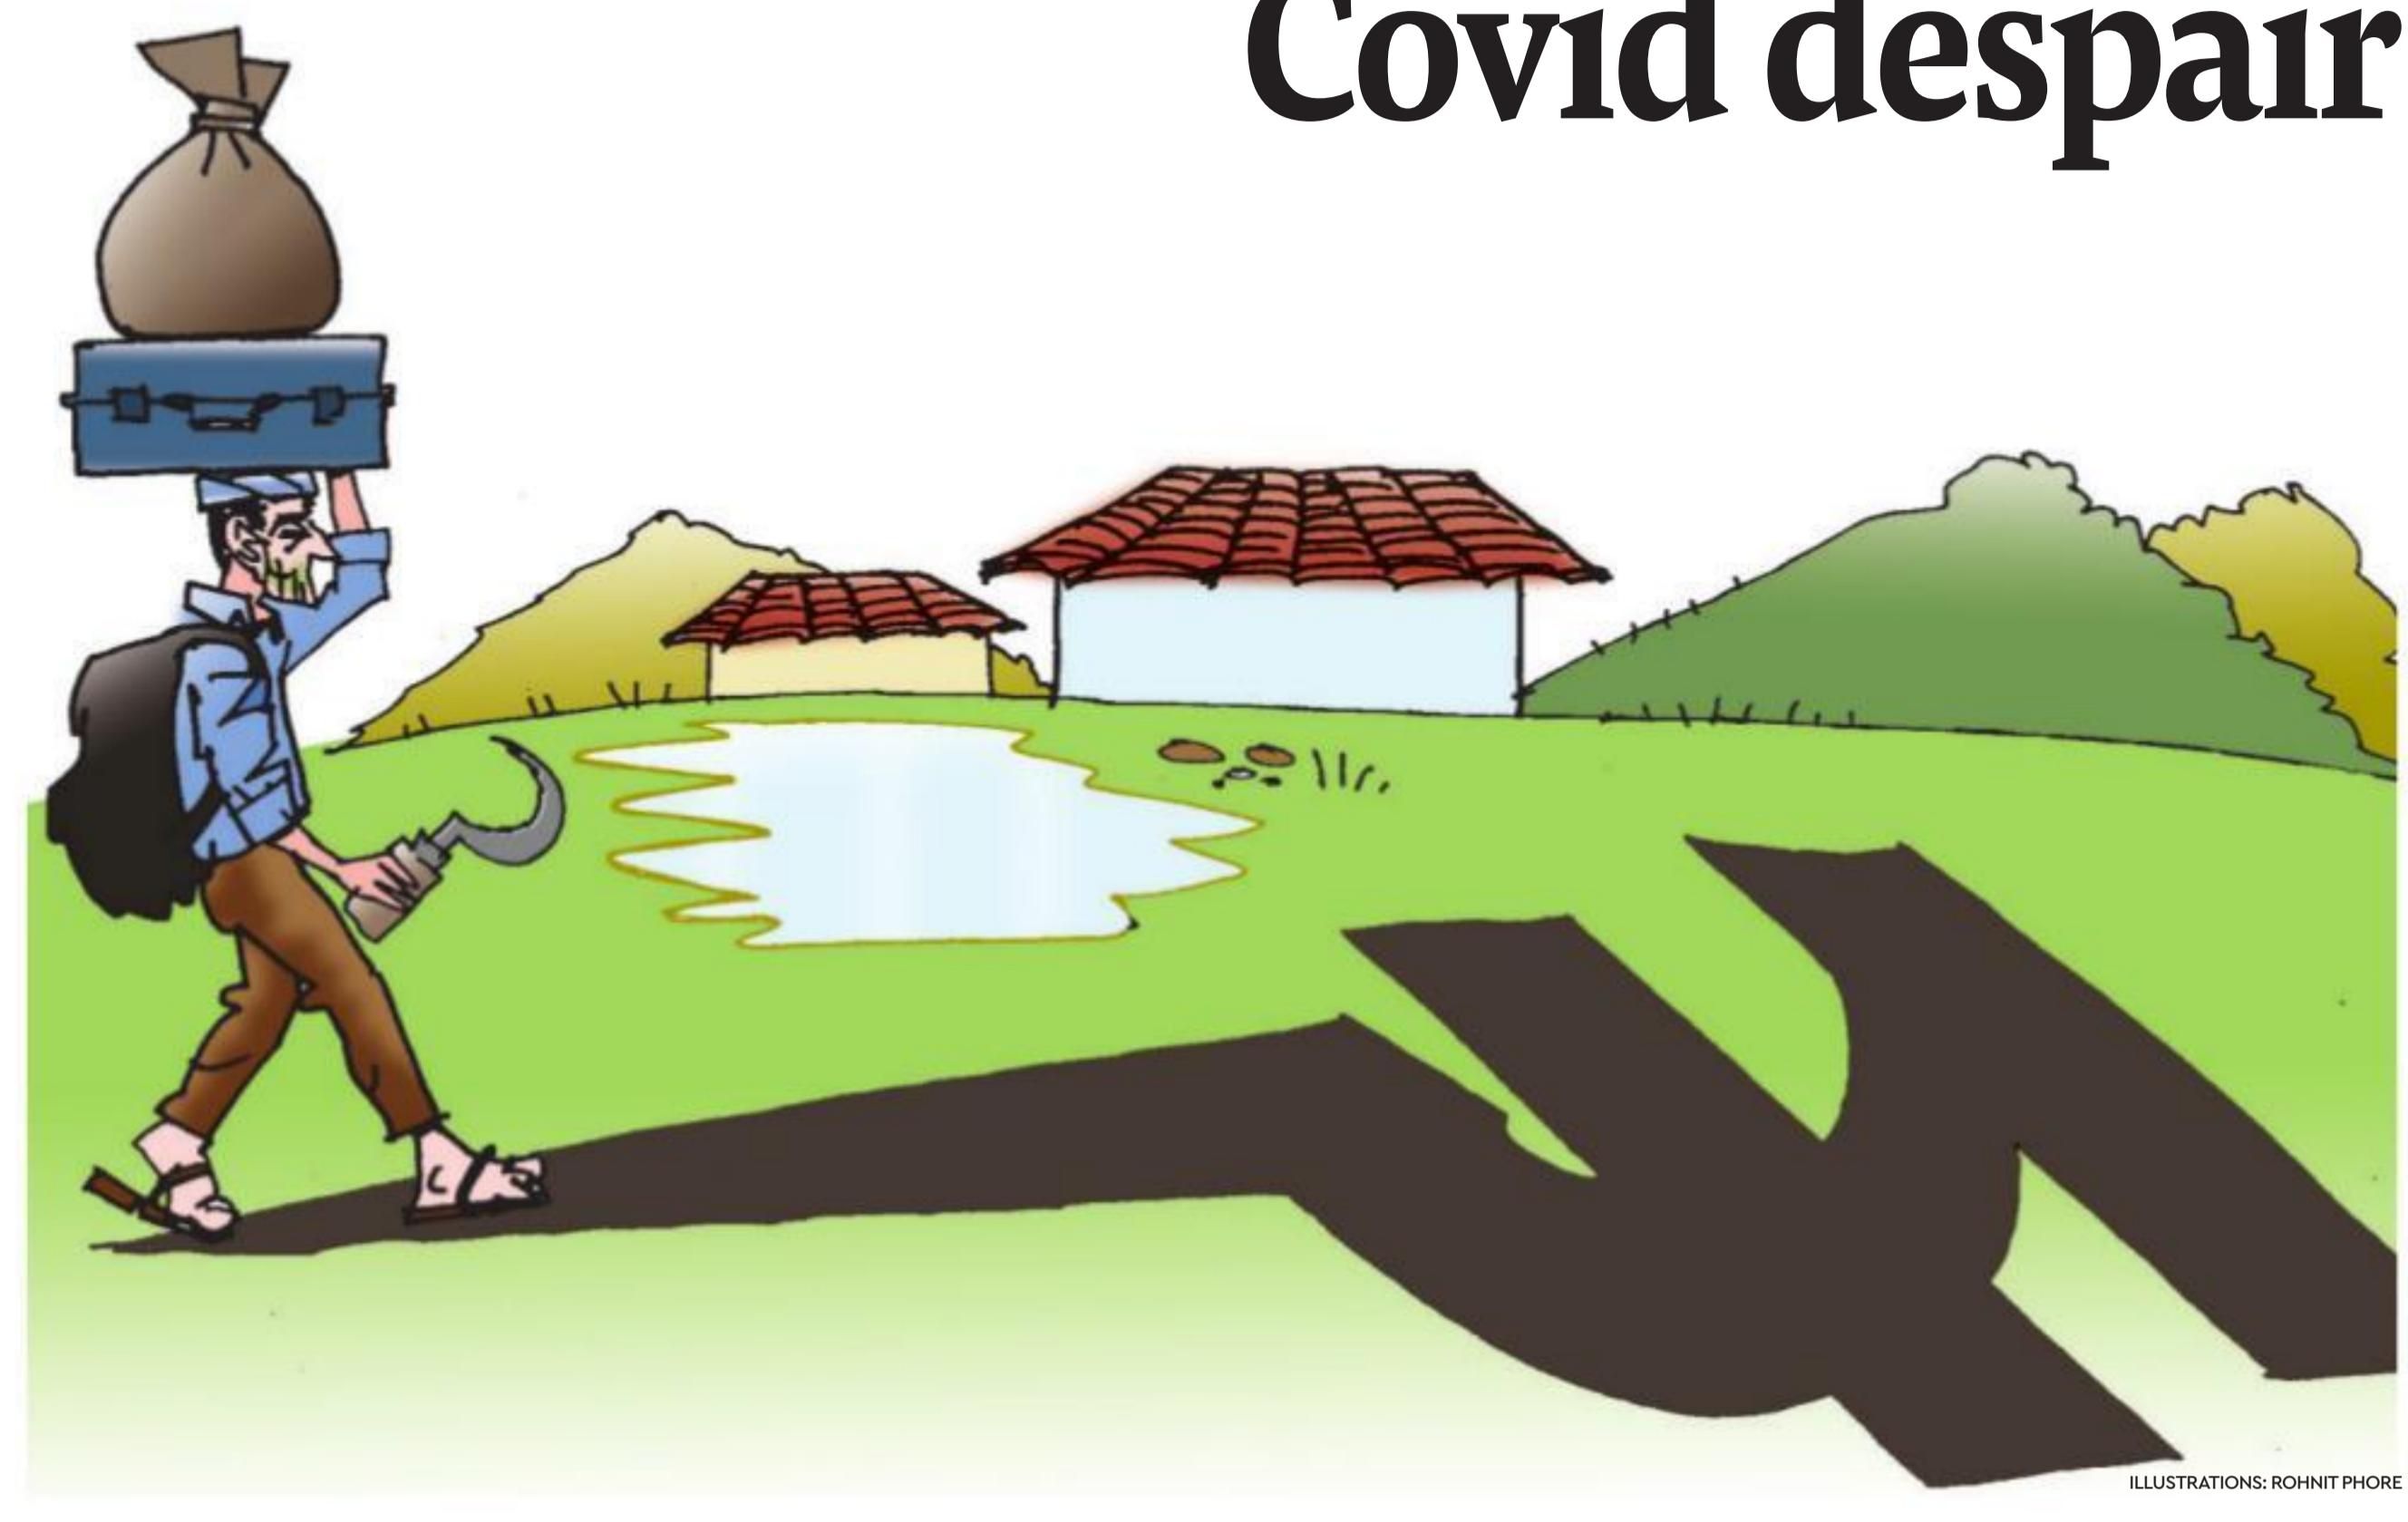

Amidst the challenges posed by Covid, a tribal forest village in Madhya Pradesh seems to have reinforced the realisation that farms, forests, village commons and collective knowhow together buffer tribals against vulnerability

COMPARED TO THE densely populated urban areas, Covid-19 pandemic has not been severe so far among the indigenous communities in India. Physical distancing is any case the norm in these regions, given the remoteness of tribal hamlets and houses located at some distance from each other. Their major occupations are subsistence farming or foraging in the forest, which also ensure distancing by default. The only concern was about migrant villagers coming back from other parts of the country. According to estimates, around 55% of the 10.4 crore tribal population live outside tribal blocks, and many of them are seasonal migrants. When the first national lockdown was announced in March 2020, markets, factories and construction work came to a standstill. Unable to pay rent or buy food, most migrant workers were stranded in the places of their informal occupation. Many of them had begun the journey towards their villages but got stranded due to lack of transport.

In December 2019, when the first coronavirus infection was detected in Kerala, tribal migrants working in the state had little clue about its repercussions. About 50 tribals from a village named Ghughri in the central Indian state of Madhya Pradesh, were part of this 'guest worker' community (as they are called in Kerala). As part of a collaborative action research on adaptive skilling in tribal agriculture [Adaptive Skilling through Action Research (ASAR)], we have been interacting with the people of Ghughri since 2018. Gond community of Ghughri village has been a captive labour force in managing the forests for a century and a half now. These forests lie close to a plant fossil national park and are known for their medicinal wealth. Ghughri villagers picked up cultivation skills pretty fast and now comfortably grow millets, paddy, maize, pulses, oilseeds and some vegetables.

ILLUSTRATIONS: ROHINI PHORE

After two months from the end of the major lockdown, we discussed the impact of such closures, with ten households of Ghughri. Lockdown experience was more or less similar for these families. Seven out of these ten households had someone annually migrating to Kerala after the rabi harvest in January–February. All of them reached home once the transport facilities resumed, spending the required time at the quarantine centre in the government school hostel about 8 km away from Ghughri.

Ghughri villagers grow a highly diverse set of food grains. Common rabi crops here are sweet peas (bataraa), lentil (masoor), flax seeds (alasi), and mustard (rayee). After February, it is lean season for farming and collection of tendu leaves, chironji seeds and mahua flowers peak in May. Households gear up to prepare the land, gather seeds and other inputs for the upcoming kharif (June–Nov.). In kharif, they generally sow paddy (dhaan), maize (makka), kodu (kodo), little millet (kutki), red gram (arhar), niger (ramtil) and black gram (urad).

Apart from the inconvenience in movement restrictions and closure of markets, there wasn't any serious issue because of lockdown. They were anyway not intending to sell their produce. Yet, as soon as the lockdown was lifted, four families sold some surplus produce. Among the produces sold, peas and lentil were in some notable volume (100 kg and 50 kg respectively per household). Paddy, flaxseed and mustard were sold in quantities ranging from 5 to 20 kg. A major portion of their produce was stored for consumption by the family. If that wasn't enough for the entire year, they relied on public food distribution scheme.

Since farming is a family occupation, only a few operations needed outside labour, and that used to be met by the practice of exchanging labour days with fellow villagers. Thus, tribal farmers rarely faced a scarcity of labour. A combination of forest produce collection, farming, seasonal migration and wage labour in the forest protection tasks, maintained diversity of livelihoods and food in Ghughri.

Migrant members of the seven families mentioned earlier reached Ghughri in the second week of April. Most of them are in their 20s. As migrant labour, they worked in the spice plantations of Kerala for about four months every year. The surroundings of these plantations remind them of Ghughri, apparently. The food there was sufficient but not as nutritious or satisfactory as back home. They were given workers' quarters to stay and ₹12,000 per head every month. Expenditure on food and other essentials came to almost ₹3,000 for a month. Around ₹5,000 to ₹8,000 may be spent on travel for commute and on some leisure trips during their stint as guest workers in Kerala. Each migrant manages to save around ₹30,000. This comes handy to be spent on things like a pair of bulls, an upcoming wedding in the family or a new mobile phone. Usually, plantation owners take care of their medical expenses. During the lockdown, many found it tough to access health services and transport. If some safe and reliable employment was available, they would not think of leaving Ghughri.

In the discussion on Covid impact and how to evade food and livelihood crises in such future scenarios, two things came out clearly—part-time rural employment opportunities and intensifying agriculture sustainably—first for nutritional security. Both of these correspond to the project ASAR. Efforts at sustainable intensification in agriculture and food systems mean that even when local millets and pulses fetch good prices in cities, commerce doesn't take nourishment away from the plates of tribals.

Cultivating millets and pulses is also less demanding in terms of inputs and capital, as also less climate risky than usual commercial crops. But their sustained productivity depends on soil fertility which in turn depends on two things—nutrient flows from the forests and local cattle feeding on the biomass around. People of Ghughri are now trying to rejuvenate their eroded grazing lands and over-exploited forests through collective action.

Tribal welfare and livelihoods depend on the integrity of their agro-ecology more than the freebies received from various quarters.

Maintaining food diversity and soil fertility without financial burden become the planks of sustainable intensification in Ghughri. Amidst the challenges posed by Covid, this pictureque village seems to have reinforced the realisation that farms, forests, village commons and collective knowhow together buffer tribals against vulnerability.

Flare-ups in old hotspots

ON SUNDAY, INDIA will take Brazil's current spot, as the country with the second-highest number of Covid-19 cases. While India's daily growth rate has slipped from 3.1% a month ago to 2.2%, it is almost twice that of Brazil (1%) and thrice that of the United States (0.7%). If the country keeps growing at this same rate, it will catch up with the US in just over a month. The worrying aspect for India is the resurgence of infections in old hotspots. Delhi, for instance, reported 2,700 cases on Friday, its highest ever tally in 67 days, whereas Mumbai added 1,600 cases. Meanwhile, Bengaluru, which is a new hotspot, added 3,204 cases on Thursday. While Maharashtra still accounts for a fifth of India's cases, the share of states like Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka in India's total infections has increased from 9.2% and 7.6%, respectively, a month ago to 11.8% and 9.4%, respectively.

China's Xi supports Beijing free trade zone

CHINESE PRESIDENT XI Jinping said on Friday he supports the city of Beijing in setting up a pilot international free trade zone for the service sector and digital economy and to promote scientific and technological innovation. Xi made the remarks while addressing the Global Trade in Services Summit of the 2020 China International Fair for Trade in Services via video. He did not give details on when or how the new zone would be set up. "China will unswervingly increase its openness and set up a robust cross-border services trade-negative list system," he said. A negative list sets out prohibited and restricted industries for foreign investment. The ministry of commerce said on Thursday that one would be set up for services by the end of this year.

Oracle loses appeal in $10 bn Pentagon contract fight

A US APPEALS court rejected Oracle Corp.'s challenges to the Pentagon's disputed $10 billion cloud-computing contract. Oracle had raised a number of issues, including allegations of conflicts of interest involving Amazon.com, and claims the Pentagon violated its own rules when it set up the contract to be awarded to a single firm. The US Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit on Wednesday affirmed a lower court ruling that Oracle wasn't harmed by any errors the Pentagon made in developing the contract proposal because it wouldn't have qualified for the contract anyway.

A woman to head Canada's Space Agency

FOR THE FIRST time in its 31-year history, the Canadian Space Agency will have a female president. The government announced on Thursday that longtime public servant Lisa Campbell will take over as head of the agency. Campbell replaces Sylvain Laporte, who has been president since 2015. Campbell has spent the last two years as senior executive for Veteran Affairs Canada. Prior to that, she spent three years as the assistant deputy minister for defense and marine procurement where she led the organisation acquiring Canada's military and marine equipment.

Airlines can't afford to wait for vaccine, says IATA doctor

THE AIRLINE INDUSTRY can't afford to wait for a vaccine. That's the message from the International Air Transport Association's chief medical adviser, David Powell. On top of face masks, regular hand washing and sanitising of high-touch surfaces, carriers should work with regulators to introduce reliable coronavirus testing systems for passengers before they board in order to get people back on planes. "The ideal protection is to avoid people who are infectious," Powell said in an interview with Bloomberg News. "We need a test that's reliable and fast enough and that's able to be done in huge numbers." Right now, that's a tall order. Manufacturers globally are struggling to meet Covid-19 test-kit demand. And the multiple tests that do exist can often sow more confusion than certainty.

Bezos, Musk lead tech wealth retreat as $44 bn evaporates

DEVON PENDLETON
September 4

A BANNER STREAK of wealth gains came to an end on Thursday for the world's richest technology billionaires.

The industry's 10 wealthiest people had $44 billion erased from their collective net worths as US equities tumbled the most in almost three months over investor concerns about frothy valuations.

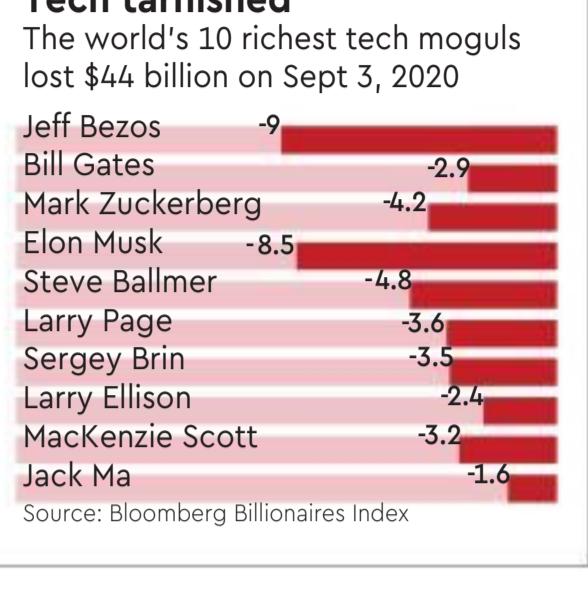

Amazon.com founder Jeff Bezos led the way, dropping $9 billion as shares of the e-commerce giant fell the most since June. Elon Musk's net worth fell by $8.5 billion as Tesla neared bear-market territory, marking his third-straight day of declines.

The reversal of fortunes underscores the ephemeral nature of paper wealth, particularly in a lofty market that at times seems divorced from economic realities. Even as the pandemic inflicted record pain on economies around the globe, shrinking workforces and exacerbating hunger, some of the world's richest people notched extraordinary gains in personal wealth over the past month. Both Musk and Mark Zuckerberg became centibillionaires, with their fortunes regularly rising by more than $4 billion in a day on surging shares of Tesla and Facebook. Bezos, the world's richest person, became a centibillionaire twice over while his ex-wife, MacKenzie Scott, briefly achieved the title of world's richest woman.

Investors have piled into tech stocks this year as the companies' products benefited from quarantining consumers turning to the web. Even after Thursday's selloff, the 500 richest people have together added $830 billion in wealth this year, according to the Bloomberg Billionaires Index. The biggest gainer is Bezos, who's up $83 billion, and Musk, whose fortune has soared almost $69 billion.

CaixaBank, Bankia mull deal to form $17-billion Spanish bank

SPAIN'S CAIXABANK AND Bankia are exploring a merger to form the largest lender in the country and kickstart consolidation in one of the hardest-hit European economies during the pandemic.

The firms are examining an all-share transaction, CaixaBank said in a statement overnight, in a deal that would create a lender with a combined market value of about €14 billion ($16.6 billion) as of Thursday.

The talks are in an advanced stage and an agreement could be reached as soon as next week, according to two people familiar with the matter.

Barcelona-based CaixaBank would probably take over a Madrid rival that's about a third of its size, creating a lender that would distance rivals Banco Santander and Banco Bilbao Vizcaya Argentaria at home. It would mark the first major deal in years in a market dominated by retail banks struggling to boost profit in an era of negative rates and economic contraction, and could reignite merger talks across Europe.

A combination of CaixaBank and Bankia would create the largest lender in Spain by loans, assets and deposits, according to calculations by Citigroup. The new entity would have a market share of 23% by assets, 26% by loans and 24% by deposits, according to Citi.

As things stand, Bankia chairman Jose Ignacio Goirigolzarri would become chairman of the new entity, while CaixaBank's Gonzalo Gortazar would be its chief executive officer, the people said, asking not to be identified discussing internal negotiations.

Spain's government has been deliberating the future of its 61.8% stake in Bankia since rescuing the lender in 2012 to avoid a collapse of the nation's financial system.

Spain's bank rescue fund known as Frob would hold 17% of the new group, according to Citi calculations, while the Caixa Foundation would be the largest shareholder with about 30% of the new entity.

Frob will analyze any proposed merger with "objectivity," from the perspective of optimizing the recovery of state aid, according to a statement from the Spanish economy ministry.

CaixaBank shares rose as much as 15% in Madrid trading, paring this year's decline to about 26%. Bankia soared as much as 34%.

RACE FOR VIRUS CURE

Russia's Covid-19 vaccine showed antibody response in initial trials

SUZI RING & STEPAN KRAVCHENKO
September 4

RUSSIA'S PROPOSED COVID-19 vaccine induced an antibody response in all participants in early trials and found no serious adverse effects, according to the first vetted data on the controversial project.

The vaccine also produced a response in T-cells -- a type of white blood cell that helps the immune system destroy infection -- according to preliminary results from phase 1 and 2 trials that were published Friday in the Lancet medical journal. Russian officials had previously made broadly similar statements about the shot, prior to review by outside experts.

Despite limitations in the trials, the peer-reviewed data bolster Russia's prospects in the race with the US, China and Europe to secure a vaccine, following widespread scepticism. Health officials elsewhere criticised the country's regulatory approval of the shot last month, before it had gone through wider phase 3 trials. Concerns about so-called vaccine nationalism were fuelled by allegations that Russian intelligence services orchestrated the hacking of western development programmes -- which the Kremlin denied. Friday's publication marks a "turning point" following "attacks" on the project, said Kirill Dmitriev, chief executive officer of the Russian Direct Investment Fund, which is backing the vaccine.

"Russia has answered the questions that have been asked about it," he said on a conference call. "And we are convinced that we have the best vaccine in the world."

The trials took place in two Russian hospitals and involved 76 healthy adults aged 18 to 60. The vaccine uses two different human adenoviruses -- relatively harmless germs that normally cause common colds -- that were altered to carry coronavirus proteins that induce an immune response.

All participants were given the vaccine and there was no placebo group -- one of several limitations to the trials that were cited in the report. The investigators took convalescent plasma from 4,817 people who had recovered from mild or moderate Covid-19 to compare post-vaccination immunity with natural immunity. Antibody responses were higher in those vaccinated, according to the data.

The government has announced plans to begin administering the shot more widely to medical personnel and teachers in the coming weeks, ahead of a broader national campaign slated for late this year.

The move has led to concerns that political pressure could prevail over safety considerations and risk public health as the world seeks an end to the pandemic.

The Russian investigators tested two forms of the vaccine - frozen and freeze-dried. Phase 1 participants were given one of the two-part shots, while phase 2 groups also received a second shot 21 days after the first. All 40 participants in the phase 2 trial produced antibodies, with higher levels found in those who had received the frozen vaccine. Neutralising antibody responses were found in all phase 2 subjects, while only 61% of phase 1 participants produced them from the single shot.

All phase 2 participants showed T-cell responses within 28 days of vaccination, with the frozen shots again proving more effective than the freeze-dried.

The investigators said limitations to the study include its size, the short follow-up time of 42 days and the fact that some parts of the phase 1 trial used only male volunteers. The trial also largely focused on people in their 20s and 30s. Russia has also been giving the vaccine to officials and other prominent people outside the trial groups for months without waiting for the full study results.

Drugs that fight diabetes, obesity may treat Covid-19

according to a report from Grand View Research.

Novo Nordisk, the Danish drugmaker, is exploring whether a new class of medicines that helps people lose weight and control diabetes also has potential in fighting Covid-19. Research shows people afflicted by obesity and diabetes often fare worse in trying to overcome SARS-CoV-2. Now initial analysis of electronic medical records shows that GLP-1 drugs, which help patients keep blood sugar levels in check, could be a "very meaningful therapy" in helping people with diabetes battle Covid-19, Novo chief scientific officer Mads Krogsgaard Thomsen said in an interview. He pointed to evidence the virus attacks cells that produce the hormone insulin.

"The early indication is that the GLP-1 class is actually beneficial in Covid-19," he said. "That's not unexpected because this is the class of agents that target the risk factors for bad Covid-19 outcomes."

GLP-1 drugs include Novo's Ozempic for diabetes and Saxenda for obesity. Sales of such drugs, which also include Eli Lilly & Co's Trulicity and AstraZeneca's Bydureon, totalled more than $11 billion last year, Scientists at the University of Washington forecast that deaths from Covid-19 in the US are likely to more than double by January 1 to 410,000. The toll could be reduced to as few as 288,381 if almost everyone wears masks and governments have social-distancing measures in place when daily deaths exceed 8 per million.

European Union regulators proposed ways for governments within the 27-nation bloc to cooperate more closely over coronavirus-induced travel restrictions.

Virgin Atlantic Airways will eliminate 1,150 more jobs to preserve cash as demand for long-distance flights remains depressed and Britain winds down its worker furlough programme. The cuts take the number of posts lost since the start of the Covid-19 crisis to 4,700, or about 45% of the workforce.

The UK will extend its furlough program to avoid long-term scars to the economy from the pandemic, according to Morgan Stanley, despite the government repeatedly ruling out further aid.

Apple delays debut of anti-tracking tool in iPhone software

ASSOCIATED PRESS
California, September 5

APPLE IS DELAYING a new privacy feature in the next version of its iPhone operating system that will make it more difficult for app makers to track people online to help sell digital ads.

The decision outlined on Thursday affects iOS 14, which is expected to be released as a free software upgrade to roughly a billion iPhone users later this month.

Apple intended iOS 14 to automatically block tracking as soon as it came out, but the company now says it will hold back the tool until early next year.

The same safeguard was supposed to be in the next operating systems for iPads and Apple TVs, too.

The feature would require apps to explicitly ask users to permission to collect and share data about their online behavior through a unique code that identifies every iPhone.

That requirement raised fears that most people would block the tracking, making it more difficult for free apps to sell the ads that generate most of their revenue.

Currently, apps are automatically given a tracking code unless users of iPhones and other Apple devices go to the extra trouble of changing their privacy controls on their own.

Facebook, which runs the largest digital ad network behind Google, last week warned that the new privacy feature in iOS 14 threatened to deliver a major blow to many apps at a time they are already struggling amid a coronavirus-triggered recession.

Although Apple is postponing the new anti-tracking tool, the Cupertino, California, company emphasised that it shouldn't be interpreted as a sign it is backing down from its outspoken commitment to protect the privacy of its customers as a fundamental right.

We want to give developers the time they need to make the necessary changes to apps and advertising models, the company said in a statement.

Apple's postponement disappointed those trying to combat the digital surveillance that's inherent in online tracking, said Craig Danuloff, CEO of The Privacy Co., which recently introduced its own privacy app to help protect iPhone users from prying eyes.

One can only see this delay as harming millions of users who do not at all understand the level of tracking that's going on," Danuloff said.

US job growth slows in August, unemployment rate falls to 8.4%

REUTERS
Washington, September 4

US JOB GROWTH slowed further in August as financial assistance from the government ran out, threatening the economy's recovery from the Covid-19 recession.

Nonfarm payrolls increased by 1.371 million jobs last month after advancing 1.734 million in July, the Labour Department's closely watched employment report showed on Friday. The unemployment rate fell to 8.4% from 10.2% in July. Economists polled by Reuters had forecast 1.4 million jobs added in August and the unemployment rate sliding to 9.8%.

Companies from transportation to manufacturing industries have been announcing layoffs or furloughs, putting pressure on the White House and Congress to restart stalled negotiations for another fiscal package.

rats and Republicans.

Programs to help businesses pay wages have either lapsed or are on the verge of ending. A $600 weekly unemployment supplement expired in July. Economists credited government largesse for the sharp rebound in economic activity after it nearly ground to a halt following the shuttering of businesses in mid-March to control the spread of the coronavirus.

Friday's report is one of just two monthly labour market scorecards left on the calendar before the November 3 presidential election. Employment growth peaked at 4.791 million in June.

Most of the job gains have been workers being recalled from furloughs or temporary layoffs. Though new Covid-19 infections have subsided after a broad resurgence through the summer, many hot spots remain.

United Airlines said on Wednesday it was preparing to furlough 16,370 workers on October 1. American Airlines has announced its workforce would shrink by 40,000, including 19,000 involuntary cuts. Ford Motor said it was targeting 1,400 US salaried jobs for elimination by year end. Mass

DELI EV POLICY ON CONGESTION FEE Not fair and equitable

Delhi should consider an equitable congestion fee based on evidence and not penalise an industry that uses a clean fuel like CNG and can hugely reduce congestion in the capital

RAMEESH KAILASAM &
K YESHWANTH REDDY

THE DELHI ELECTRIC Vehicles Policy 2020 aims to boost EV production, create jobs and combat air pollution. Its implementation is expected to be funded through 'feebate' concept, i.e. levying additional charges on inefficient and polluting vehicles to fund EVs. It proposes a 'congestion fee' on trips completed on aggregator platforms only. Congestion pricing in the NCR was first proposed in 2018 on vehicles entering select roads during specific time periods that see heavy congestion.

As Delhi moves towards full unlock, congestion is returning to pre-lockdown levels; many roads have witnessed huge traffic jams. This provides lessons on the strategies being adopted to reduce congestion. The EV policy seems to penalise and attribute congestion to aggregator platforms alone through congestion fee; it is important to understand the concept of congestion fee and the contribution of various vehicle segments to congestion.

Congestion fee or congestion pricing is a tool used to discourage people from using certain roads at specific times of the day to manage traffic. Milan, London, Singapore, Hong Kong, Stockholm, etc., have implemented congestion pricing to manage traffic in specific areas. These cities impose congestion pricing on all categories of vehicles with the exception of shared ones (like public transport buses). It is calculated basis duration of travel in the identified area, time of the day, vehicle category, etc., supported by a tech-enabled system for monitoring and fare collection.

According to Delhi's Economic Survey 2018-19 report, the number of vehicles in the NCR stood at 1.09 crore (71 lakh two-wheelers and 32 lakh cars). There are 2.4 lakh commercial PVs (three- and four-wheelers) which constitute 2.28% of vehicular population. A fraction of these operate on aggregator platforms. Hence there is little logic to support imposition of congestion fee on aggregators.

TomTom traffic data from August 2020 indicates that the current peak congestion levels are down by only 30% compared to congestion levels in August 2019 (see table). Congestion levels exist despite the absence of a majority of commercial PVs and personal vehicles on the road. It points towards a larger problem of lack of public transportation, high ownership of private vehicles, and infrastructural and planning issues leading to congestion.

Contribution to congestion can be determined by average occupancy, for example shared mobility modes have higher occupancy rates compared to personal vehicles. NITI Aayog's report 'Moving Forward Together, Enabling Shared Mobility in India' presents with evidence for the role of shared mobility in reducing congestion in cities through efficient travel. Global studies also suggest every shared mobility vehicle has the potential to replace 9-13 private vehicles on the road. As travel demand in India is expected to grow by 14 times during 2014-2030, congestion control measures should include encouraging shared mobility.

Global experience suggests equitable congestion pricing and a tech-enabled ecosystem are key to achieving the objectives of congestion pricing. The EV policy adopted to fund EVs through a congestion fee on trips originating or terminating on aggregator platforms in the entire state of Delhi would not be able to control congestion unless imposed on congestion-causing vehicles in high congestion areas. This must be coupled with a sound technology-enabled system to manage congestion.

At a time when the commercial transport sector is worst hit due to the pandemic, additional fee on aggregator platforms could be reconsidered. Commercial PVs already pay multiple taxes to the government for permits, MV tax, fitness certificates, PUC, and for trips on aggregator platforms GST is imposed on every transaction. The proposed congestion fee not only impacts ease of doing business through additional compliance burden, but would also dampen the recovery of the sector which provides livelihoods to millions. Delhi government should consider an equitable congestion pricing policy based on evidence and not penalise an industry that already uses a clean fuel like CNG and has the potential to significantly reduce congestion in the capital.

A united auto dealer community
Retail sales, not wholesale, reflect market conditions

VIKRAM CHAUDHARY

IN NOVEMBER 2018, when automotive dealers faced huge inventory build-up as sales dipped, the Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA) came out with the Vehicle Registration Data compiled on the basis of Vahan Dashboard and retail survey by FADA Research. This data, Ashish Harsharaj Kale (immediate past president, FADA, and new chairman, FADA Institute of Automobile Marketing and Research) says, turned out to be an eye-opener for the auto industry. "It talked about dealer concerns, attracting the attention of policymakers, financial institutions and the media," he says.

Kale started his journey as the president of FADA two years ago. One of the aims, he says, was to work towards a united dealer community that believed in its valuable contribution towards nation-building.

"We set out with the theme 'Unity and Recognition'—unity within the dealer community and recognition amongst policymakers."

Under him, FADA took some bold steps, expanding presence in new markets with least infrastructural expense and better and extended use of new technologies and tools, less inventory at dealerships for viability, and to retain jobs of employees who had been trained for high productivity.

The key moments over the last two years have been launch of first edition of FADA Digest; launch of road safety stickers and campaign (supporting MoRTH in its road safety campaign); strengthening bond amongst members (FADA initiated Vyapar Events across five states); and this year from July onwards FADA started reporting OEM-wise market share based on actual registrations. "Retail sales, and not wholesale, truly reflect market conditions," Kale says.

"This has been a strong need of the dealer community and will greatly help all the stakeholders in their planning and budgeting as well as correct assessment of their own as well as dealer performance."

FADA aims to add more value to the dealer business through initiatives it plans to roll out from the two verticals: FADA Academy and FADA Analytics.

Focus on skills; global-scale auto plants

Create 'Brand India' to harness export potential

FE BUREAU

WHAT DOES IT take to lay the groundwork for a truly atmanirbhar (self-reliant) automotive sector? At Friday's SIAM convention 'Re-Building the Nation, Responsibly', panellists spoke about possible ways that can help foster increased localisation in the Indian automobile sector, improve ease-of-doing business, and the steps needed to create 'Brand India' to harness the country's export potential.

Pawan Goenka, past president, SIAM, and MD, Mahindra & Mahindra, said, "The auto industry is a shining example of Atmanirbhar Bharat. Apart from the last year, the sector has been growing at 16% CAGR over the last 25 years and that is truly an impressive number. The sector has made sizeable investments in R&D and currently employs 37 million people in the entire value chain."

He added that for reducing imports in the automotive components space, "we need to rethink, re-strategise, reorganise and implement steps such as reducing logistics costs, relaxing duties and taxes, entering into FTAs and similar other trading prerequisites with bigger automobile markets."

Union minister Piyush Goyal said that to produce world-class export-fit products indigenously, "we need to build global scale plants in the auto sector that are at par with international standards. We should aim at improving the scale and quality of what we are producing and export it to the rest of the world. The key is to create a sustainable value chain."

Headed that skilling is another aspect that needs to be looked into. "If we are to ace in domestic manufacturing, upskilling and reskilling should be treated as a priority and an industry-academia partnership is one of the best available models to achieve this goal."

From Delhi to Mumbai on an EV

BLUSMART Mobility, the all-electric ride-hailing platform, on Friday flagged off what it claimed is India's first all-electric journey by a commercial vehicle from Delhi to Mumbai. The 1,376-km trip, aimed at demonstrating that India is ready for EVs, is expected to save 94 kg of carbon dioxide emissions (as compared to a conventional ICE vehicle), the company said. The trip will conclude in Mumbai on September 9 (World EV Day). For on-route charging, the crew will rely both on the limited fast charging stations, and slow charging (to charge the vehicle at shops, restaurants, motels, etc.).

LARSEN & TOUBRO RATING: BUY

E&A deal conclusion lends more firepower

It will help build cash pool to push growth in core businesses; to add 10% to FY22e core EPS if used to trim debt; 'Buy' retained

LARSEN & TOUBRO (L&T) on Monday announced completion of the divestment of its switchgears business to Schneider Electric. This marks a formal conclusion of the biggest M&A deal to date for the company. In line with its ongoing business consolidation, it should help L&T generate the much needed cash pool to support future growth across core businesses.

While we await further clarity w.r.t. usage of the proceeds, a back-of-the-envelope calculation indicates ~5%/10% earnings accretion for FY22 for consolidated/core E&C EPS, should L&T choose to trim ex-services debt (~₹15 bn, of which ₹390 bn for core). At a juncture when businesses are battling near-term growth/returns challenges, L&T's balance sheet heft will pave way for a much stronger business consolidation and greater shareholder value creation, in our view. Maintain Buy with SOTP of ₹1,280 (core valued at 16x).

Semglee launch in the US boosts prospects

Right execution should help bag good market share; firm likely to gain from push for biosimilars; 'Buy' retained

BIOCON AND PARTNER Mylan launched Semglee (insulin glargine) in the US (reference drug: Sanofi's Lantus, annual US sales ~$2.2 bn). The US FDA approved Semglee on 11 June 2020 as a "follow-on biologic (FoB)" to Sanofi's Lantus brand and for the same indications (Type 1 diabetes in adults and paediatric patients and Type 2 diabetes in adults). Semglee will be available in vial and pre-filled pen (Basaglar, competing FoB from Eli Lilly & Boehringer Ingelheim, is available only as pre-filled pens).

Mylan continues its discussion with FDA to obtain an 'interchangeable' designation for Semglee, which if received could help in automatic substitution of prescriptions with Lantus at formularies.

Gaining favourable formulary coverage is key: Semglee is one of the most critical launches for biosimilars from the

E&A deal conclusion imparts greater flexibility and firepower
L&T had signed a binding agreement on May 1, 2018, for the sale of its E&A business—low/medium-voltage switchgears (except marine switchgear and Ser-vowatch Systems) business along with the manufacturing facilities—in an all-cash deal for ₹140 bn. Given recent deterioration in L&T's balance sheet due to cyclical issues in E&C, commissioning of Hyderabad Metro and NBFC challenges, Monday's development will enhance investors' comfort.

Capital allocation to play crucial role going ahead

While cyclical improvement in core business will drive re-rating over 12-24 months, L&T's judicious use of Schneider proceeds will play a key role in the extent of re-rating and is a great opportunity for management to drive higher stakeholder value creation. L&T's (ex-services) net debt to Ebitda (FY21) stands to improve from 4x to 3x now.

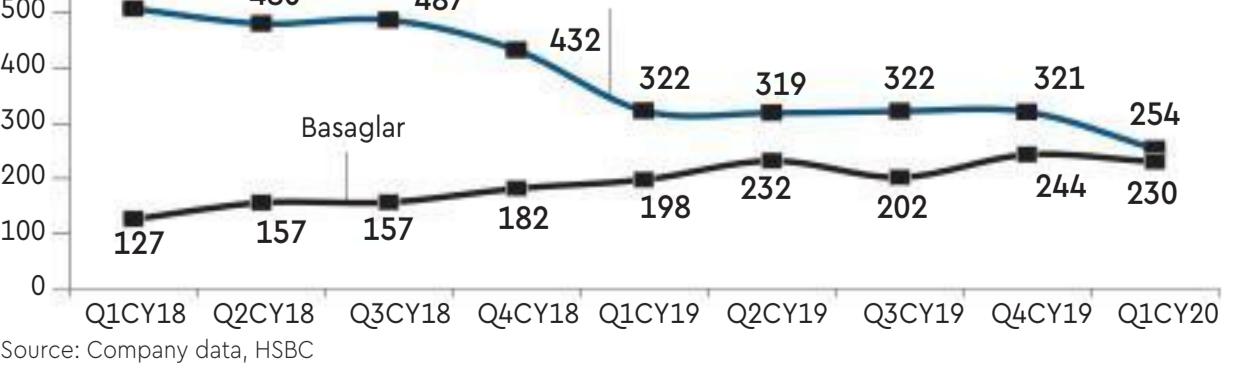

Outlook and valuation: Important trigger materialised; retain 'BUY'

Over the past few years, L&T has exited several businesses, in line with its strategy to focus on core EPC business. This has resulted in value unlocking for shareholders while directing management focus to core growth businesses. Conclusion of sale of the E&A business is another milestone in this regard. We maintain 'BUY/SO'.

NEW S-CLASS

The gold standard in luxury sedans

Mercedes straddles old and new with electric S-Class

Daimler CEO Ola Kallenius next to the new S-Class sedan, earlier this week

CHRISTOPH RAUWALD

FOR DECADES, the Mercedes S-Class has defined the gold standard in luxury sedans, chauffeuring around captains of industry and heads of state. But as more consumers gravitate towards SUVs and electric cars define cutting-edge tech, Daimler must prove its flagship remains relevant.

The latest iteration of the S-Class will try to please tastes, old and new, offering not just the high-powered combustion variant but also an improved hybrid version and, for the first time, a sleek all-electric sibling sold from next year.

Despite its origins in the 1950s, the S-Class still pulls in major money for Daimler, particularly in China, where the company sells more of the model's most expensive variant, the Maybach, than anywhere else. Rivals BMW and Volkswagen's Audi have long tried to gain a bigger slice of the market but never managed to quite crack Daimler's dominance.

The stakes for the latest version of the model could hardly be higher. Traditional carmakers are pouring billions of euros into electrifying their fleets while still relying on combustion-powered cars for profits. Tesla, which sells a competing product in the Model S sedan, zoomed past them to become the world's most valuable car company by far, shrugging off the deepest industry slump in decades triggered by the Covid-19 pandemic.

"The new S-Class has to be the best car in the world in every respect," said Roman Mathyssek, a consultant at Arthur D Little. "Nowadays that is more complex than ever before as all the traditional automotive luxury and refinement features need to be cleverly blended with cutting-edge environmental credentials, connectivity and autonomous functions."

Autonomous driving

The hybrid model comes with an improved 100-km battery range, and the series features software that enables level-3 autonomous driving, including assisted lane changing and a mechanism that keeps the car at a safe distance from other vehicles. Tesla has been aggressively marketing its self-driving technology, and CEO Elon Musk has said the company is close to achieving the requirements for fully-autonomous driving (level-5) this year.

Tesla's shares quintupled this year, valuing the company at $464 billion.

Daimler, the world's bestselling luxury-car maker and biggest commercial-vehicle producer by revenue, is worth $55 billion.

ALLCARGO LOGISTICS IS considering listing its international business on a European exchange, according to people familiar with the matter, as it weighs a proposal to give up its listing at home.

The Mumbai-based integrated logistics company is exploring listing venues including London for its international operations, the people said. The company may seek a new listing as soon as next year, they said, asking not to be identified as the matter is private.

Allcargo is betting the international operations would receive a higher valuation on an overseas exchange, the people said. The company could seek to value the business at $800 million to $850 million in an offering, said one of the people.

Deliberations are ongoing and the company could decide not to proceed with an overseas listing, the people said. A representative for Allcargo declined to comment.

The logistics company's majority owners, including chairman Shashi Kiran Shetty, proposed delisting from Indian exchanges in a letter last month, saying that the move would improve operational flexibility and streamline the company's ability to meet financing obligations.

Moody's downgrades four PSBs, changes outlook on PNB

FE BUREAU

Mumbai, September 4

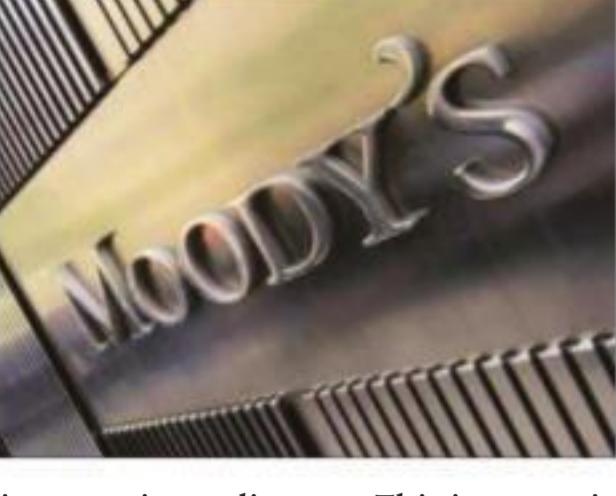

MOODY'S ON FRIDAY said it has concluded its review of five public sector banks (PSBs) and downgraded four of them amid a deepening economic slowdown. It downgraded the long-term local and foreign currency deposit ratings of Bank of Baroda (BoB), Bank of India (BoI), Canara Bank and Union Bank of India to Ba1 from Baa3, and their baseline credit assessments (BCAs) to b1 from ba3. Moody's also changed its outlook on Punjab National Bank (PNB) to negative from stable.

At the same time, the agency has affirmed PNB's long-term local and foreign currency deposit ratings at Ba1 and its BCA at b1.

It attributed changes to the economic shock from the coronavirus pandemic, which is exacerbating an already material slowdown in India's economic growth, weakening borrowers' credit profiles and hurting banks' asset quality. "Prolonged financial stress among households, weak job creation and a credit crunch among non-bank financial companies will lead to a rise in non-performing loans, delaying the ongoing clean-up of banks' balance sheets," Moody's said.

The BCA downgrades take into consideration rising risks to the banks' asset quality as a result of the severe economic contraction, which will result in an increase in credit costs. This increase in credit costs will hurt profitability and also strain the banks' modest capitalisation, reversing recent improvements. Funding and liquidity continue to be key credit strengths given their status as PSBs, which results in good deposit franchises, Moody's said.

The banks' Ba1 long-term local and foreign currency deposit ratings incorporate three notches of uplift from their b1 BCAs to reflect Moody's assumption of a very high probability of support from the government in times of need. "Moody's assumption takes into account the banks' deposit market shares as well as their linkages with the government, including by way of ownership," Moody's said. The negative outlook factors in further downside risks to the banks' financial profiles because of India's uncertain operating environment.

Moody's will subsequently withdraw the ratings of BoI and Bank of India (London) "for its own business reasons".

deteriorating asset quality and profitability will weigh on its capitalisation. However, PNB's financial metrics had been improving before the economic slow-down, which, combined with the bank's good funding and liquidity, mitigate the negative impact on its credit profile of deteriorating asset quality and profitability. "The three-notch uplift for government support reflects PNB's deposit market share as well as its linkages with the government," Moody's said. The negative outlook factors in further downside risks to the banks' financial profiles because of India's uncertain operating environment.

Fintech way forward for banking, payment system: SBI MD

STATE BANK OF INDIA (SBI) managing director Ashwani Bhatia on Friday said Fintech is the way forward for the Indian banking and payment system as there is a lot of opportunity for growth.

Giving the example of SBI, he said, 91% of jobs are being done digitally now, which was unthinkable 35 years ago.

"We believe that this 91% will become 100%. For a bank like State Bank of India, and other banks obviously, everything is going to move digitally. There is no doubt about that."

"Penetration of smartphones is also going to increase," he said at a virtual conference organised by the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII).

Going forward, he said, branches are going to become nothing but distribution points like what has happened in Europe and other places.

This is where the big opportunities lie, he said, adding, "I am sure as we evolve, and we will evolve very very fast. Fintech is the way forward as far as the Indian banking system is concerned and the payment system is concerned."

Fintech refers to companies or services that use technology to offer financial services to businesses or consumers.

BUILDING BLOCKS in place. We interacted with Manish Vyas, TechM's head of communications, media & entertainment business. Key takeaways are — even as there are significant improvements under the hood, growth has been modest in the past few years due to legacy contraction and LCC rationalisation, demand for new technologies and network services with focus on cross-sell will drive growth, deal pipeline is good, M&E practice is nascent but has reasonable growth potential and the company is well set to benefit from 5G adoption. 'Buy' maintained.

TechM's telecom vertical has grown at a modest pace in the past 4-5 years. Management indicated that drag on revenues was on account of a few factors — legacy portfolio. Contraction in legacy services impacted TechM due to relatively higher exposure. Budget constraints from clients due to weak industry growth were additional headwinds impacting revenue growth and margins. Portfolio rationalisation in LCC, TechM acquired LCC in FY2015 to make a foray into network services.

However, the company was forced to let go of several unprofitable contracts leading to material loss of revenue.

Slowdown in key clients. Two clients accounted for large share of revenues in FY2015. The largest clients peaked at a far higher number than the company's expectation. The subsequent period was a correction phase and pretty much on expected lines. These factors have masked the significant improvements under the hood. TechM's revenues are more diversified today across clients and geos. TechM is already working with most of the 'must have' accounts globally. In a way the telecom practice is a lot more de-risked compared to four years back.

TechM indicated that demand was strong for the company's service offerings in new technology areas such as cloud, data & analytics, front-end CX and new-age BSS. Demand for network services and customer-centric BPO has also been reasonably good in the last couple of years. TechM has a broad swathe of capabilities spanning networks, applications, business process, infrastructure and next-gen services. TechM has a strong client base comprising almost all major service providers in every geography barring China and Korea.

SADBHAV ENGINEERING (SEL) posted a contraction of 73% y-o-y in topline and ₹266 million loss in Q1FY21 as Covid-19 derailed execution. Operations are now at ~80% of pre-Covid level and expected to normalise by Q3FY21. The lockdown and the pandemic dragged toll collection significantly during the quarter, but it has now recovered to ~95% of pre-Covid level.

Incremental order wins, ramp-up in execution and reduction in leverage are key to stock performance, in our view. We introduce FY22E numbers (as the stock comes out of restriction) and maintain 'buy' with SOTP-based TP of ₹67.

Topline plunged 73% y-o-y with the health crisis playing spoilsport.

With Ebitda margin declining ~400 bps y-o-y to 8.5%, the company reported a loss of ₹266 million during the quarter. Labour/raw material availability, which was ~20-40% during Q1FY21, has now reached 80% level. Management expects work to commence/gather pace on four projects starting Q3FY21; this will boost execution going ahead. Revenue visibility (5x at Q1FY21 end) largely due to weak revenue over the past year) has received a boost due to ~₹16 billion NHAI EPC orders won recently.

Toll revenue declined during the quarter due to lockdown and lower economic activity; it has now reached ~95% of pre-Covid level. The company has already completed two HAM projects and expects to complete five more over the next year. It expects to receive ₹3.4 billion through asset monetisation; this should help it meet the equity requirement of ₹3.1 billion for the HAM projects.

The company's operations have suffered over the past few years due to lower-than-expected order accretion and land availability issues. While there is improvement on both these parameters, a lot still remains to be done.

Manappuram Finance sees gold loan portfolio growing by 10-15% in FY21

RAJESH RAVI
Kochi, September 4

NBFM MANAPPURAM FINANCE said on Friday that the gold loan portfolio is estimated to grow by 10-15% in the current fiscal despite a slowdown in new customer acquisition.

VP Nandakumar, MD & CEO of the company, said the business is robust in the gold loan sector, and the NBFM would stick to conservative lending and focus on consolidation of the company.

"Overall demand for credit has not reached the pre-Covid state. In our case, existing customers have taken more loans and compensated for the slowdown seen in new customer acquisition. Customers have also leveraged on the higher gold housing finance is expected to touch 90% this month. We expect some credit loss in the coming quarter in this sector, but we have provided for that," he added.

The Kerala-based lender, which also operates a home loan, microfinance and commercial vehicle leasing subsidiary, has some arrears in the non-gold loan business due to restructuring.

"Around 25% of the customers in microfinance, housing finance and vehicle leasing business have availed the moratorium. Collections in the microfinance business will cross 85% this month, collections in the vehicle finance division and

Rupee surges 33p to end at 73.14

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, September 4

THE RUPEE REBOUNDED by 33 paise to close at 73.14 against the US dollar on Friday, shrugging off a tepid sentiment emanating from sell-offs in domestic equities and weak macroeconomic indicators.

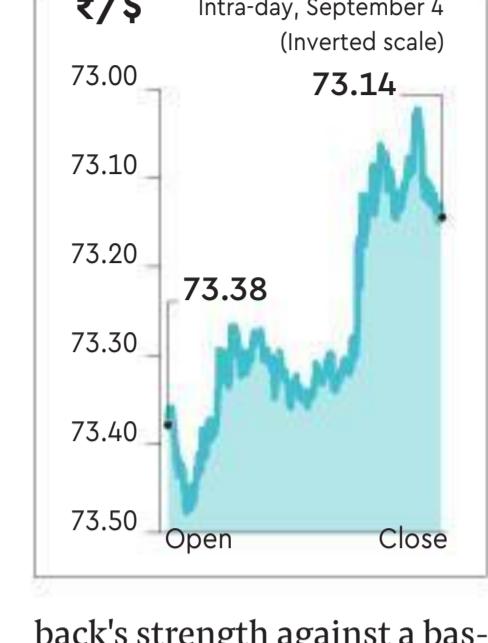

On a weekly basis, the domestic currency gained 25 paise vis-à-vis US dollar.

At the interbank forex market, the rupee opened on a strong note at 73.38 and gained further ground to close at 73.14, registering a gain of 33 paise over its previous close.

During the trading session, the local unit touched an intraday high of 73.01 and a low of 73.47 against the greenback.

"The currency gained despite weakness in domestic equities as uncertainty between India and China remained high," said Gaurang Somaiya, forex and bullion analyst, Motilal Oswal Financial Services. "Better-than-expected economic data could extend gains for the greenback. We expect dollar/rupee (spot) to quote in the range of 73.00 and 73.50."

Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the green-back's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading 0.06% higher at 92.79.

Brent crude futures rose 0.41% to $44.25 per barrel.

"Indian rupee marked fourth weekly gains in a row on stronger Asian peers and foreign fund inflows. Market is expecting better fund inflow for IPOs throughout this month which will provide support to rupee," said Devarsh Vakil, deputy head of retail research, HDFC Securities.

"Market participants will focus on today's US labour market report. A below-consensus NFP and unchanged unemployment rate may modestly weigh on risk and further help the dollar," he added.

New PSL norms: RBI assigns higher weights to underserved districts

OTHER DISTRICTS will continue to have the existing weightage of 100%.

The circular mandates a staggered increase in PSL by UCBs over a four-year period. The current target of 40% shall stand increased to 75% of adjusted net bank credit (ANBC) or credit equivalent of off-balance sheet exposures (CEOBE), whichever is higher, with effect from March 31, 2024.

The target for lending to small and marginal farmers will rise to 10% in FY24 from 8% now for all categories of banks, except UCBS. The target for credit to weaker sections will rise to 12% in FY24 from 10% now for all banks, except RRBs, who will continue to have a 15% target for this category. "All domestic banks (other than UCBS) and foreign banks with more than 20 branches are directed to ensure that the overall lending to Non-Corporate Farmers (NCFs) does not fall below the system-wide average of the last three years' achievement which will be separately notified every year," the circular said. The applicable target for lending to the non-corporate farmers for FY21 will be 12.14% of ANBC or CEOBE, whichever is higher. Banks must also work towards the target of achieving 13.5% of ANBC going to NCFs.

Other changes made to PSL classification include a higher eligibility of loans to Farmer Producer Organisations (FPOs)/(FPC), with credit of up to ₹5 crore to such entities now qualifying as PSL. Loans up to ₹50 lakh against pledge/hypothecation of agricultural produce (including warehouse receipts) for a period of up to 12 months will qualify as PSL.

Bank loans up to a limit of ₹30 crore to borrowers for purposes like solar-based power generators, biomass-based power generators, wind mills, micro-hydel plants and for non-conventional energy based public utilities, like street lighting systems and remote village electrification etc, will be eligible for PSL classification. The PSL classification limit for building health care facilities including under 'Ayushman Bharat' in Tier II to Tier VI centres will be ₹10 crore per borrower. Loans up to ₹50 crore to start-ups, as per definition of the ministry of commerce and industry, will qualify under PSL. Bank credit to non-banking financial companies (NBFCs) and housing finance companies (HFCs) for on-lending will be allowed up to an overall limit of 5% of the individual bank's total PSL.

Krishnan Sitaraman, senior director, Crisis Ratings, said the revision in PSL guidelines will incentivise credit flow to specific segments like clean energy, weaker sections, health infrastructure and credit deficient geographies.

"These measures are also aligned to focus areas of development as per extant policy environment and will support funding requirements in these specific sectors," he said.

OYO offers extension of leave, voluntary separation

IN AN interview with FE last month, Kapoor had said OYO has managed to reach 30% of the pre-Covid occupancy levels in India with bookings led by millennials and small businesses.

The hospitality sector, primarily dependent on travel and tourism, has been severely impacted. ACARE Ratings report released in July said the hotel industry may take anywhere around six to eight quarters to reach pre-Covid level occupancy rates. "...nobody had the idea that the lockdown will be extended four times until June 30 in varying degrees, leaving a long-lasting impact on the business and a severe dent on our revenues," Kapoor said.

The company's consolidated losses increased to $35 million for the year ended March 2019 from $52 million in FY18, as expansion into international markets, including China, entailed heavy costs. OYO said the employees opting for VSP will receive financial assistance, relaxation on ESOP vesting besides being eligible for health coverage, parental insurance and other company benefits. The firm has also partnered with ABC Consultants to offer career transition support to such employees. OYO will publish a list of all open jobs till December 2021 and make it available.

Srei Equipment Fin receives €10 million from German bank

FE BUREAU
Kolkata, September 4

SREI EQUIPMENT FINANCE (SEFL), a wholly owned subsidiary of Srei Infrastructure Finance, on Friday said it has received a funding of 10 million euro from Germany-based KFW IPEX-Bank.

With the successful closure of this export financing transaction, KFW IPEX-Bank is enabling export of construction machinery for SEFL to India.

Through this commitment, the bank is helping to provide modern and energy-efficient construction machinery for use in Indian infrastructure projects.

The financed machinery products include asphalt machines, road pavers and rollers, Sri said in a release.

Devendra Kumar Vyas, managing director, SEFL, said: "It is indeed encouraging to witness KFW IPEX-Bank's continued partnership with us. We at Srei have always believed in creating an equipment life cycle solution for our customers, and in that endeavour manufacturer partnerships become crucial. This initiative will help our German and European manufacturing partners benefit from our strong customer connect, in addition to our agile risk understanding in credit buying. We look forward to more such programmes in the future."

Andreas Ufer, member of the management board of KfwIPEX-Bank, said, "Particularly in these times, it is important to actively support the German and European export industry." The financing is backed by cover from credit insurer Euler Hermes. "This financing is so successful because we were able to rely on a framework cover agreement with Euler Hermes – this enables us to finance technical equipment of a lower value under an international export financing agreement," Ufer added.

Within Kfw Group, Kfw IPEX-Bank is responsible for project and export finance.

plan for power
subsidy to farmers

Since the subsidy release is almost perennially delayed, its impact on tariff recovery persists, putting pressure on discoms' liquidity. Andhra Pradesh's AT&C losses increased more than 10 percentage points annually to 25.7% in FY19, as it released only ₹1,250 crore against the subsidy claim of ₹6,052 crore to its discoms.

Ramesh pointed that agricultural subsidy has spiralled to current levels from ₹3,400 crore in 2014, and "with free power, there were instances of farmers over irrigating their land and growing water intensive crops".

₹16,736 crore in FY19, up from ₹5,464 crore in the previous fiscal.

The step to bring in DBT has been taken to fulfil the conditions imposed by the Centre to receive 0.5% FRBM relaxation for additional borrowings. "Notwithstanding the state's significant investment in surface irrigation, agricultural power consumption have been rising, and there was no incentive to optimise water and power consumption which led to mining ground water," PV Ramesh, additional chief secretary to the chief minister of Andhra Pradesh, told FE.

BSNL to retrench another 20,000 contract workers: Employees' union

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

STATE-OWNED BSNL has issued a directive to all its units to curtail expenditure on contract works which is likely to result in retrenchment of around 20,000 workers engaged with the telecom firm through contractors, according to BSNL Employees' Union.

The union also claimed that 30,000 contractual workers have already been retrenched under the company's retrenchment process and added that all such workers remained unpaid for more than a year.

The union in a letter to BSNL Chairman and Managing Director P K Purwar said the financial condition of the company has deteriorated after implementation of voluntary retirement scheme (VRS) and the faults in the networks have increased due to shortage of manpower in various cities.

The union also said that BSNL is unable to pay salaries of employees on due date even after VRS and 13 contract workers have allegedly committed suicide due to non-payment of wages for the past 14 months.

Queries sent to BSNL did not elicit an immediate response.

BSNL issued an order on September 1 with the permission of its human resource director asking all the chief general managers "to take immediate steps to curtail the expenditure on contract works and reduce engagement of labours through contractors".

Hiranandani for revamping slum rehabilitation policy

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Mumbai, September 4

REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS' apex body Naredco's national president Nirajan Hiranandani said there is a need to completely revamp the existing slum rehabilitation policy if the government expects developers to take up large developments projects.

Speaking at a virtual meet organised by the Builders Association of India (BAI), Hiranandani said that unless and until the government gives direct and indirect fillip to the construction, infrastructure and real estate sectors, India will not be able to achieve its target of $5 trillion economy.

He said scrapping of the bids for the Asia's largest slum redevelopment project at Dharavi will further postpone development of the project.

"The slum policy was framed some 18-20 years ago and the concept was to complete the rehabilitation in 5-10 years. However, many process came into place and intervention at grass root level and it could not succeed. We therefore need a complete revamp of the existing slum rehabilitation policy and the entire financing mechanism should be restructured," Hiranandani said.

Further, he said that under the existing market conditions, especially after the Covid-19 crisis, it is extremely difficult for any developer to take up new projects.

DIPLOMATIC TENSION

Trump-Xi rift plays out with some 100 cancelled exchanges, mutual discussions

Breakdown plays out against a backdrop of deep security tensions

BLOOMBERG
September 4

PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP'S revelation last month that he hadn't spoken with his Chinese counterpart in "a long time" and isn't interested in doing so is just the tip of a much broader breakdown in communications that's stoking concerns among former officials from both sides.

When the Trump administration took office in 2017, there were about 100 officially organised exchange forums - touching on everything from pharmaceuticals to technology policy - between the two countries, according to Arthur Kroeber, a China analyst for almost three decades. Gao Zhikai, a former Chinese diplomat who served as translator to Deng Xiaoping, cites the same tally.

Almost all of these dialogues have now died, meaning that senior and mid-level officials on both sides are increasingly operating in the dark about their opposite numbers' activities and intentions. That raises the risk of misunderstandings festering or escalating into crises, and inhibits cooperation that otherwise could contain emerging disasters, such as Covid-19.

The "collapse of these structures is not the trigger of a bad relationship, but the result of a relationship worsening," said John Pomfret, author of "The Beautiful Country and the Middle Kingdom," a history of Sino-American ties over more than two centuries. Despite reaching a "phase one" trade agreement early this year, US-China ties are at their worst in decades. With a focus squarely on the looming election, Trump blamed Xi's government for not controlling the Covid-19 outbreak before it became a pandemic, killing more than 185,000 Americans. US politicians have expressed outrage over Beijing's tightening grip over Hong Kong and its treatment of Muslim minorities, targeting officials for sanctions in both situations.

The bilateral discussions cancelled or abandoned since Trump took office might not have been able to solve entrenched issues, like the expanding face-off between the two sides in the disputed South China Sea - the most likely site of any military conflict. But people involved in them in the past say they can help promote back-channel diplomacy and a more nuanced view of the negotiating teams on the other side.

"You need some tracks that are basically talking shops," said Kroeber, managing director of GaveKal Dragonomics, an independent global economic research firm. Having those forums fosters "relationships that can come into play at times of stress and crisis," he added.

One key framework for US-China dialog was the 16 or so working groups under the Joint Commission on Commerce and Trade, or JCCT, which was established during the Reagan administration in 1983 as a forum for high-level talks.

It linked a wide variety of US and Chinese agencies, from those dealing with commerce to energy, the environment and agriculture. The Trump administration terminated the JCCT in 2017, along with the Strategic and Economic Dialogue program that was led by the Treasury and State departments. They were replaced with the more narrowly, results-driven Comprehensive Economic Dialogue.

"People felt there was a lot of wasted time and there was a lot of process over substance," in the previous system, said James Green, who worked at the State Department and US Trade Representative's office in the Obama administration.

China allows for stronger yuan as Xi turns focus to home the dollar also helped to boost demand.

Such strength is already helping China, which was reported to be buying a record amount of American soybeans this year as lower prices help it boost purchases pledged under the trade deal. But still, the economy remains fragile - the country's imports contracted in all but one month since March, while retail sales came out worse than economists had expected for five months in a row.

"The stronger yuan could stimulate imports and further expand the domestic consumption market," said Ken Cheung, chief Asia currency strategist at Mizuho. "China's leaders will be less tempted to use depreciation to stimulate the economy, as the export sector plays a secondary role in growth now."

But this doesn't mean Beijing will let the yuan run wild. The central bank may set the fixing at weaker-than-expected levels if the gauge jumps rapidly to a point where the strength eats into exports, said Tommy Ong, managing director for treasury and markets at DBS Hong Kong Ltd.

The currency's rally since this year's nadir in late May has made it one of the best performers in Asia, with the buying momentum still standing close to the strongest since January. The yuan's large interest-rate premium over the yield on weak. Additionally, domestic banks will be more inclined to hold a currency that isn't depreciating, which in turn would help Beijing reduce the financial sector's reliance on the greenback.

"Tolerance toward a stronger yuan when it is fundamentally driven is going to be high," said Wang Ju, director and senior foreign-exchange strategist at HSBC Holdings Plc in Hong Kong. "A strong yuan would help China diversify away from the dollar and optimize its resource allocation."

Oxford study: Tokyo Olympics are most costly Summer Games

ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tokyo, September 4

THE TOKYO OLYMPICS are already the most expensive Summer Games on record with costs set to go higher, a wide-ranging study from Britain's University of Oxford indicates.

The Tokyo cost overrun already exceeds 200%, lead author Bent Flyvbjerg explained in an interview with The Associated Press. This is even before several billion more dollars are added on from the one-year delay from the Covid-19 pandemic.

Flyvbjerg is an economist at Oxford's Said Business School. His entire study is available here, and it's set to be published on Sept. 15 in the journal Environment and Planning A: Economy and Space."

It's titled Regression to the Tail: Why the Olympics Blow Up. Tokyo, postponed until July 23, 2021, is only a small part of the focus. The study the third in a series following editions 2012 and 2016 looks at Olympic costs since 1960 and finds they keep increasing despite claims by the International Olympic Committee that costs are being cut.

Flyvbjerg cites many reasons for the rising costs and cost overruns, and offers solutions for the IOC. The vast majority of costs are picked up by governments with the IOC contributing only a small portion.

The Olympics offer the highest level of risk a city can take, Flyvbjerg told AP.

"The trend cannot continue. No city will want to do this because it's just too expensive, putting themselves into a debt that most cities cannot afford. In his paper, Flyvbjerg cites Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti, whose city is to hold the 2028 Olympics following Paris in 2024.

Most cities, unless they have a government that's willing to go into debt or pay the subsidy of what this costs, most cities will never say 'yes' to the Olympics again unless they find the right model," he quotes Garcetti as saying.

By the right model, Garcetti means lower costs.

Tracking Olympic costs is difficult, a dense maze of overlap and debate. Politicians and organisers always argue over what are and what are not Olympic expenses.

Flyvbjerg writes: Unfortunately, Olympics officials and hosts often misinform about the costs and cost overruns of the Games....We therefore cannot count on organisers, the IOC, and governments to provide us with reliable information about the real costs, cost overruns, and cost risks of the Olympic Games." Flyvbjerg looks only at costs to operate the games the operating costs and capital costs the cost to build sports venues. He leaves out a third category, which is usually many times larger: renovating roads, building airports, and what he calls sprucing up projects, which also fall to taxpayers.

Our estimates are conservative because there are lots of costs that are hidden that we can't get into, Flyvbjerg said. "And there are lots of costs we decided not to include because it's too complex. We include the things we can get the most reliable numbers for and we do it in the same way for each city that we study. He also excludes the cost of debt, and the future cost of running sports venues after the Olympics leave, and inflation.

According to the Oxford numbers, Tokyo's spending is at $15.84 billion, already surpassing the 2012 London Olympics, which were the most expensive summer games to date at $14.95 billion. He expects several billion more from the cost of the one-year delay.

Facebook election plan patches some holes, creates others

REUTERS
San Francisco, September 4

FACEBOOK INC'S FINAL policy changes in the lead-up to US elections in November are unlikely to stem a flood of disinformation around the vote, which could suppress turnout and sow confusion about results, election experts said on Friday.

Restrictions on paid messaging were a net positive, experts said, but warned such moves did little to address the biggest threat: the organic spread of falsehoods. Some said the new rules may even make it harder for campaigns and election officials to counteract bogus claims in crunch time.

Chief executive Mark Zuckerberg announced on Thursday that Facebook would stop accepting new political ads in the week before the US elections on November 3, and pointed to a series of new tools such as labels for posts claiming victory before the results are official or delegitimising the outcome.

The company billed the announcement as its final plan for reducing the risks of misinformation and election interference.

Banning new ads suggests Facebook executives realised they would not have time to identify and act on content that violates their rules in the last days before the vote, said Vanita Gupta, CEO of the Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights.

Apple app store draws new scrutiny in Japan

BLOOMBERG
Tokyo, September 4

EPIC GAMES'S DECISION to sue Apple over its mobile store practices has sparked new scrutiny in the massive Japanese gaming market, prompting complaints and questions about how to counter the tech giant's dominance.

While Epic, publisher of the hit title Fortnite, focuses on the 30% revenue cut app stores typically take, Japanese game studios have broader concerns. They have long been unhappy with what they see as Apple's inconsistent enforcement of its own App Store guidelines, unpredictable content decisions and lapses in communication, according to more than a dozen people involved in the matter.

Japan's antitrust regulator said it will step up attention to the iPhone maker's practices in the wake of the high-stakes legal clash. And in rare cases, prominent executives are beginning to speak out after staying silent out of fear of reprisal.

"I want from the bottom of my heart Epic to win," Hiroshi Kunimitsu, founder and chairman of Tokyo-based mobile game maker Gumi Inc, wrote on his Facebook page.

Apple and Google hold a duopoly over the mobile app market outside China. Any publisher that wants a game to be played on iPhones or Android devices is effectively forced to distribute it via their app stores, sharing revenue from an initial purchase and future related items.

Epic, whose Fortnite generates more than $1 billion annually from in-game purchases of virtual cosmetics and extras, sued both companies for what it considers excessive fees and for the right to sell game extras directly to players.

Kharif sowing touches new record at 1,095 lakh hectare

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

SOWING OF KHARIF (summer) crops touched a new record at 1,095.38 lakh hectare so far in the current season on the back of good rains and timely pre-positioning of crop inputs, according to the agriculture ministry.

Sowing of rice still continues while sowing of pulses, coarse cereals, millets and oilseeds is almost over. The final sowing figures for the current kharif season will be closed on October 2, it said.

The previous record was achieved in 2016 when farmers had sown kharif crops in a total area of 1,075.71 lakh hectare.

Kharif sowing begins with the onset of southwest monsoon from June and harvesting from October onwards.

According to the ministry's data, kharif crops have been sown in a record area of 1,095.38 lakh hectare so far this season, as against 1,030.32 lakh hectare in the year-ago.

Good rains and the timely pre-positioning of inputs like seeds, pesticides, fertilisers, machinery and credit has made it possible for large coverage even during pandemic lockdown conditions, it said.

"There is no impact of COVID-19 on progress of area coverage under kharif crops as on date," the ministry added.

As per the data, total area sown to rice has increased by 8.27% to 396.18 lakh hectare so far in the current kharif season from 365.92 lakh hectare in the year-ago.

Area under pulses has increased by 4.67% to 136.79 lakh hectare as against 130.68 lakh hectare, while that of area sown to coarse cereals increased by 1.77 per cent to 179.36 lakh hectare area as against 176.25 lakh hectare in the year-ago.

Similarly, area under oilseeds increased sharply by 12 percent to 194.75 lakh hectare so far in the current kharif season as against 174.00 lakh hectare in the year-ago.

Among cash crops, sugar cane area rose 1.30% to 52.38 lakh hectare from 51.71 lakh hectare, while that of cotton acreage rose 3.24% to 128.95 lakh hectare from 124.90 lakh hectare in the said period.

There has been a 9% increase in the overall rainfall in the country so far.

INDIA'S COVID-19 TALLY went past 39 lakh on Friday with 83,341 fresh cases reported in a span of 24 hours, while the number of recoveries crossed the 30-lakh mark, pushing the recovery rate of coronavirus patients in the country to 77.15%, according to the Union health ministry.

The total number of Covid-19 cases mounted to 39,36,747, while the death toll due to the disease climbed to 68,472 with 1,096 people succumbing to it in a day, the ministry's data updated at 8 am showed.

The Covid-19 case fatality rate has further declined to 1.74% in the country.

There are 8,31,124 active coronavirus cases in the country, which account for 21.11 per cent of the total caseload, on Thursday.

The country registered over 80,000 fresh Covid-19 cases for the second consecutive day.

India is the third worst-hit nation by the pandemic after the US and Brazil in terms of cases and deaths, according to the Johns Hopkins University, which has been compiling Covid-19 data from all over the world. India's Covid-19 tally had crossed the 20-lakh mark on August 7 and the 30-lakh mark on August 23.

According to the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), a total of 4,66,79,145 samples were tested for Covid-19 in the country as on September 3, including 11,69,765 on Thursday.

Of the 1,096 fresh deaths, 391 were in Maharashtra, 104 in Karnataka, 92 in Tamil Nadu, 75 each in Uttar Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh, 72 in Punjab, 55 in West Bengal, 30 in Madhya Pradesh, 26 in Bihar, 19 each in Delhi and Haryana, 16 each in Chhattisgarh and Gujarat, 14 in Rajasthan and 11 in Jammu and Kashmir.

Of the total 68,472 deaths, Maharashtra accounts for the maximum of 25,586.

Daily Covid positivity rate below 7.5%

WITH MORE THAN

11.70 lakh samples tested for Covid-19 for two successive days (Wednesday and Thursday), the total number of such tests conducted in the country has surged to 4,66,79,145, while the daily positivity rate is still below 7.5%, the health ministry said on Friday. NEET, JEE exams: SC rejects plea of ministers of six non-BJP state govt

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

THE SUPREME COURT Friday dismissed the pleas, including the one filed by ministers of six states having non-BJP governments, seeking review of its August 17 order which paved the way for holding NEET and JEE exams physically.

A bench of Justices Ashok Bhushan, B R Gavai and Krishna Murari, which considered the pleas in-chamber, also rejected the applications seeking listing of the review petition in the open court. "Applications seeking permission to file review petitions are allowed. We have carefully gone through the review petitions and the connected papers. We find no merit in the review petitions and the same are accordingly dismissed," the bench said in its order.

National Testing Agency is holding JEE Main Exams from September 1-6, while NEET will be held on September 13. One of the review pleas was filed by ministers from West Bengal (Moloy Ghatak), Jharkhand (Rameshwar Oraon), Rajasthan (Raghunath Sharma), Chhattisgarh (Amarjeet Bhagat), Punjab (B S Sidhu) and Maharashtra (Uday Ravindra Sawant).

Procurement/chartering of

The ministry has proposed to set up a standing specifications committee headed by managing director of the Indian Ports Association and comprising representatives from Cochin Ship Yard, Shipping Corporation of India, Indian Register of Shipping and director general of Shipping. The Committee will shortlist around five variants of tug boats and prepare an approved standardised tug design and specifications.

Centre in HC for review of its direction to publish draft EIA in 22 languages

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

THE CENTRE HAS moved a plea in the Delhi High Court seeking review of its direction to publish the draft Environment Impact Assessment (EIA) in all the 22 languages in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution, saying that official documents are required to be published only in Hindi and English.

The law does not require notifications to be published in local languages, it has contended.

A bench of Chief Justice DN Patel and Justice Prateek Jalan on Friday issued notice to the environmentalist, on whose plea the high court had issued the direction, and sought his response by September 23.

Appearing for the environment ministry, additional solicitor general Chetan Sharma claimed that the court was "misled" by the petitioner into passing the June 30 judgement, which had extended till August 11 the date for giving comments and objections to the draft EIA.

It had also directed that the notification be published in all the 22 languages within 10 days of the verdict.

The June 30 order had come on the plea moved by environmental conservationist Vikrant Tongad. The Centre had on July 28 moved an appeal before the Supreme Court against the high court decision.

On August 6, Tongad moved a plea seeking contempt action against the ministry for non-compliance of the June 30 direction.

Coal scam: Court orders to frame charges against Maha-based firm, others

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, September 4

A DELHI COURT Friday framed charges against a Maharashtra-based company and three of its former office bearers for alleged cheating, forgery and criminal conspiracy while seeking allocation of three state-based coal blocks in 2005.

Special Judge Bharat Parashar directed to put the accused company, Topworth Urja & Metals, earlier known as Shree Virangana Steels Ltd, and its former officer bearers — Anil Kumar Saxena, Manoj Maheshwari and Anand Nand Kishore Sarda — on trial for the offence of various offences punishable under Indian Penal Code.

The case relates to the alleged irregularities in relation to the allocation of Marki Mangli-II, III and IV coal blocks in Yavatmal District, Maharashtra, to the company.

The accused persons were the office bearers of the company at the time the coal block was allocated, public prosecutor V K Sharma said.

The company's name changed after it was sold to Topworth Group.

The court, however, discharged three current officer bearers of the company — Surendra Cham-palal Lodha, Anil Omprakash Nevatia and Swapan Kumar Mittra — citing lack of evidence to put them on trial.

Notes:
 1. There is an extract of the detailed format of the Standalone Unaudited Financial Results for the quarter ended June 30, 2020 filed with Stock Exchange under Regulation 33 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended. The full format of the Standalone Unaudited Financial Results are available on the Stock Exchange website at www.bseindia.com and also available on the Company's website i.e. www.goodyear.co.in.
 2. The Statement has been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with relevant rules issued thereunder and in terms of Regulation 33 of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, as amended.
 3. The Company is engaged in the business of sales of automotive tyres, tubes and flaps. The Company sells tyres of its own brand "Goodyear". The Chief Operating Decision Maker (CODM), Managing Director, performs a detailed review of the operating results, thereby makes decisions about the allocation of resources among the various functions. The operating results of each of the functions are not considered individually by the CODM, the functions do not meet the requirements of Ind AS 108 for classification as an operating segment, hence there is only one operating segment namely, "Automotive (tyres, tubes & flaps)".
 4. In 2008, the State of Haryana (the State) introduced the "Entry Tax Act" ("Act"), which the Punjab and Haryana High Court declared as "Unconstitutional". The State did not frame and notify enabling "Entry Tax Rules", and no notice or demand has been received by the Company. However, the amount of liability, if any, under the Entry Tax Act has not been quantified by the Company. On November 11, 2016, the nine Judges Bench of Hon'ble Supreme Court held that the State Governments do have right to levy an 'Entry Tax', however (i) whether such taxes demanded by State Governments were actually used for intended development of local area and (ii) the interpretation of the word "Local Area" were among questions not addressed by the November 11, 2016 ruling, but instead are to be heard by Hon'ble Divisional Bench of the Supreme Court individually for each state, on merits.
 The above mentioned matter heard by the Hon'ble Divisional Bench of the Supreme Court and were remanded back to the Punjab and Haryana High Court and directed that fresh petitions shall be filed by the Company before the Hon'ble Supreme Court. The Company has filed its fresh petition in May 2017 and based on legal opinion have considered this as contingent liability at this stage.
 5. The Company has considered the ongoing possible effects that may result from the pandemic relating to COVID-19 on the carrying amount of all assets and liabilities as at June 30, 2020. In developing the assumptions relating to the possible future uncertainties in the global economic conditions because of this pandemic, the Company, as at the date of approval of these financial results has used internal and external sources on the expected future performance of the Company. The Company has performed sensitivity analysis on the assumptions used and based on the estimates expect the carrying amount of these assets / liabilities will be recovered / settled and subsequent liquidity is available to fund the business operations for at least another 12 months. The impact of COVID-19 on the Company's financial results may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of these financial results and would be recognized prospectively.
 6. The figures of last quarter of previous year are the balancing figures between audited figures in respect of the full financial year and the published year to date figures up to the third quarter of the financial year which are subject to limited review.
 7. This Statement has been reviewed by the Audit Committee and approved by the Board of Directors at its meeting held on September 4, 2020.
