Amid uproar and walkout by AAP legislators, House passes Budget

RUCHIKI M KHANNA

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

Even as the Opposition ranted about the Budget being more of a poll manifesto of the Congress, Finance Minister Manpreet on Wednesday went ahead with announcing development works worth over Rs 50 crore for constituencies represented by Congressmen, before the Budget was passed by the House.

Among the new budgetary allocations, most of them were for constituencies represented by Congress MLAs. Tehsil complexes were announced for Rajpura and Banur; a sports complex, swimming pool and an officers colony for Sangrur; sewerage treatment plants for Ghanaur and Fatehgarh Churian; hospital upgrade at Amloh; irrigation channels at Amritsar; a stadium at Mukerian, railway underbridge for Dhuri; a food street and park for Hoshiarpur; a Ram Tirath Balmik Dharamshala

ECONOMY GROWING, LIABILITIES SHRINKING

The debt is rising, so is Punjab's economy. The state's committed liabilities have reduced from 91% to 65% of the total earnings. The capital expenditure in the coming fiscal will be ₹14,000 crore — much above ₹10,280 crore we had set aside last year.

Manpreet Singh Badal, FM

at Amritsar and another at Sultanpur Lodhi.

Even as the Opposition continued to target the Finance Minister for bringing a Budget "dictated by their party poll strategist," Manpreet insisted that his Budget was targeted at only revealing the true picture of the state finances, with welfare schemes meant to reach out to the poorest of the poor.

"The biggest thing that our government has announced is the decision to reserve 33 per cent of government vacancies for women. There are one lakh government vacancies, of which 33,000 will go to women by the year-end... we are on the throes of seeing Punjab's economic resurgence now, even though we have been forced to make additional borrowings by the Centre to get our rightful GST compensation," he said.

As the Finance Minister spoke, both SAD and AAP legislators continued to disrupt him by storming into the well of the House and raising slogans. They accused him of making promises like free travel for women and college students in government-run buses, as these operated on few routes. Opposition MLAs, including AAP MLA Aman Arora, said women and elderly would have been happier had the Finance Minister increased the social security pension to Rs 2,500 as promised by the Congress before the 2017 elections.

Earlier, just as the discussion on the Budget began, AAP MLAs staged a walkout over the government attempt to impose a new infrastructure tax on retail fuels and immovable properties. Unperturbed, Manpreet continued to say: "The MLAs on the other side have chosen to overlook that I have set aside Rs 150 crore for buying new buses," he said.

Reacting to the charges levelled against him yesterday and today, regarding the state's debt having increased manifold in the past five years; decreased spending in social sector and low asset building through decreased capital expenditure, the Finance Minister said this year's Budget had countered all this.

Leader of Opposition Harpal Cheema said the Budget was insensitive towards the vulnerable sections. The government had not fulfilled the promises made by the Congress in its poll manifesto.

Gurpratap Singh Wadala from SAD wanted to know how the huge revenue deficit would be bridged. He also accused the government of facilitating a Rs 1,500 crore paddy purchase scam, where paddy from outside the state was brought to Punjab.

Farmers' concerns on Katra e-way will be addressed: Singla to House

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

A day after MLAs cutting across party lines, during the Budget session, sought government intervention to ensure adequate compensation for the land being acquired for the Delhi-Katra Expressway, PWD Minister Vijay Inder Singla assured the House that concerns of the farmers or land owners would be taken care of at any cost.

Will adhere to norms on land compensation

Reading out an assurance on the floor of the House, the PWD Minister said provisions of the Right to Fair Compensation and Transparency in Land Acquisition, Rehabilitation and Resettlement Act, 2013, would be strictly adhered to while deciding upon the land compensation. An instruction in this regard had been issued to the Revenue Department.

Replying to concerns raised by MLAs on division of land, adequate slip roads, underpasses and access to facilitate movement of agriculture machinery, proper drainage for disposal of rainwater; he said a committee headed by him had already taken up the matter with the NHAI. — TNS

Vigilance unearths scam under Ayushman Bharat

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

The Punjab Vigilance Bureau has exposed a big scam worth crores of rupees under the Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana, wherein several private hospitals obtained health insurance claims from IFFCO-Tokio on the basis of fake bills.

Contrary to this, the IFFCO-Tokio rejected hundreds of insurance claims pertaining to government hospitals, causing a huge loss to the state exchequer.

DGP-cum-Chief Director, Vigilance Bureau, BK Uppal today said it had come to light that several private hospitals in Jalandhar, Hoshiarpur and Kapurthala prepared fake bills in the names of smart card holders for their treatment under the scheme and took insurance claims from IFFCO-Tokio.

He said the scam was unearthed by SSP (Vigilance Range), Jalandhar, Daljinder Singh Dhillon. In this connection, a major negligence has been seen at the end of the deputy medical commissioners concerned and doctors of state hospitals or primary health centres. "The major reason for rejecting the insurance claims of government hospitals by the company was to get financial benefits of Rs 52,06,500. As a result, the state government has incurred a financial loss from the three aforesaid districts in the past one year," said Uppal.

During investigations, it came to light that a renowned hospital at Sultanpur Lodhi in Kapurthala claimed Rs 4,43,98,450 for the treatment of 1,282 patients. However, 519 claims were rejected. On the basis of these medical bills, the Health Authority, Punjab, passed claims of this hospital to the tune of Rs 4,23,48,050. The insurance company reimbursed Rs 1,86,59,150 to the hospital.

Giving an example, the vigilance chief said a woman from Turna village in Jalandhar was admitted to the hospital for the removal of stone. Though she could not undergo the surgery, the hospital prepared a fake medical bill of Rs 22,000 and took reimbursement from the insurance firm under the Ayushman Bharat scheme.

In another case at the hospital, a patient was told that her treatment could not be done with one smart card. She was told to either deposit Rs 25,000 in cash or bring six-seven smart cards to avail the benefit under the scheme. Following this, her family submitted three smart cards to the hospital.

Later, the hospital shot videos of the patient's family members lying on hospital beds and took their signatures on blank papers. The hospital administrator reportedly told them that if they received any phone call, they should say that they underwent an operation. The hospital allegedly claimed Rs 25,000 each for three persons.

Bill to impose new tax on fuel passed

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

Even as the Treasury Bench indulged in an "animad" debate on respecting the sanctity of the House amid a prolonged disruption by SAD and AAP MLAs, 11 Bills were passed in just half an hour on the concluding day of the Budget session on Wednesday.

While the SAD MLAs walked out of the House and AAP MLAs continued their protest over the announcements in the Budget, an amendment to the Punjab Infrastructure (Development and Regulation) Amendment Bill, 2021, was passed.

This would enable the state government to impose a special infrastructure development fee at the rate of Rs 0.25 per litre each on the sale of petrol and diesel within the state, and levy a special fee on the purchase of immovable property in the state. This would help generate an additional revenue of Rs 216.16 crore.

The Assembly also passed an amendment to the Punjab Motor Vehicles Taxation Act, thus enabling the state government to increase road tax from time to time without taking the legislative route every time. Besides, the state is all set to impose green tax or environment tax as per the vehicle scrappage policy being framed by the Centre.

In the amendment passed by the Assembly, a provision has been made for the imposition of a green tax of Rs 50,000 at the time of renewal of registration certificate for non-transport vehicles and Rs 50,000 after eight years per annum for transport vehicle.

The other Bills passed in the Assembly are the Punjab Village Common Lands (Regulations) Amendment Bill, Punjab Apartment Ownership (Amendment) Bill; the Punjab Regional and Town Planning, Development (Amendment) Bill; the Punjab Apartment and Property Regulations (Amendment) Bill; the Punjab School Education Board (Amendment) Bill; the Punjab Anti-Red Tape Bill; the Sardar Beant Singh State University Bill; the Shaheed Bhagat Singh State University Bill; and the Punjab Abadi Deh (Record of Rights) Bill. — TNS

Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) legislators today confronted Haryana CM Manohar Lal Khattar in the Vidhan Sabha and raised slogans demanding that the Haryana Government should pass a resolution repealing the three farm laws besides making the entire state a single "mandi" so that the farm laws could not be implemented there.

They also condemned the Khattar government for allegedly indulging in atrocities against human rights activists, including Nodeep Kaur and Shiv Kumar, saying the torture inflicted on them was unimaginable in a democratic society.

CM takes potshots at Cong, counts losses

Says farmers' stir in nobody's interest, resumption of talks only way forward

Budget
SESSION

GEETANJALI GAYATRI

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

Comforted by the thought that the numbers were behind him, Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar was in his element on Wednesday as he took potshots at the Congress for "instigating" farmers before conceding a little by way of announcing a committee to look into the aspect of civil court jurisdiction under the APMC Act.

Participating in the discussion on the no-confidence motion, Khattar said the farmers' agitation was in nobody's interest and resumption of talks was the only way forward.

"We have no official figures, but the agitation has already caused a tentative loss of Rs 8,000 crore to the state between November 27 last and February 9, of which Rs 212 crore was due to toll-free highways. This also includes loss of revenue and income of industrialists during the agitation," he stated.

Mentioning that farmers were destroying their standing crop, he said not even 1 litre of milk was bought at the proposed price of Rs 100 per litre.

ASSEMBLY PASSES THREE BILLS

Three Bills were passed today in the Budget session of the Haryana Vidhan Sabha. These Bills were the Haryana Rural Development (Amendment) Bill, 2021, the Haryana Goods and Services Tax (Amendment) Bill, 2021 and the Haryana Development and Regulation of Urban Area (Amendment) Bill, 2021.

Leader of Opposition Bhupinder Singh Hooda stated that the Congress was strongly opposed to destroying of crops and suicide by farmers.

Khattar explained that a law on MSP would mean an expenditure of Rs 17 lakh crore, which was not possible. Listing out the many schemes rolled out by his government, Khattar and other speakers from the treasury benches gave comparative statistics to prove that theirs was a "farmer" government.

Taking a dig at the Congress, he said the party had a tradition of mistrust and doubt and mentioned Congress leader PC Chakro's departure from the party.

"There is mistrust between Hooda and Randeep Surjewala and Kumari Selja and Surjewala. The Congress doubted the Swachhta Abhiyan and surgical strikes. It doubts EVMs and Covid vaccines. When something good happens, it must be appreciated," he said.

Stating that the no-confidence motion was "meaningless" when the Congress did not have the numbers, Khattar said the Opposition had been "instigating" farmers. "The Opposition should not be seen pouring oil when the house is burning," he said.

Khattar urged the Opposition to persuade farmers to end the agitation since the matter has been stayed by court. He mentioned that this government's strength lay in the restraint shown in dealing with the farmers marching to Delhi.

Earlier, Hooda, moving the no-confidence motion, claimed that people had lost faith in the government. He requested the Chair to consider secret voting on the motion.

"When choppers of the Chief Minister and Deputy Chief Minister cannot land in their constituencies, it shows that the government has lost the trust of the people. When MLAs of the ruling party cannot go to their constituencies, the government has no right to continue."

Demanding inclusion of 250 "marty" farmers who had died during the agitation in obituary references made in the House, Hooda said the JJP and its leaders had joined hands with the very party they had fought elections against.

He said the BJP-JJP government had stopped farmers, used water cannons and dug up roads so that they could not march to Delhi in November. "The government should know that it cannot break farmers by such tactics," he maintained.

He listed other "failures" of the government, including law and order situation, rising drug addiction, increasing unemployment and "scams".

Congress leader Raghuvir Singh Kadian said this motion would clarify who was with farmers and who was against them. "Boards have been put up outside villages, banning the entry of BJP and JJP leaders. Khap panchayats have given social boycott calls. Never before has it happened that helicopters of the Chief Minister and Deputy Chief Minister are not allowed to land in villages," he said.

He urged JJP MLA Naina Chautala to rise like "Jhansi ki Rani" for farmers' cause and support the motion.

Dushyant Chautala said the JJP and BJP were "natural allies" and hit out at the Congress for its 10-year rule, during which farmers had been "looted" of their land.

Purpose of motion achieved: Hooda

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 10

Leader of Opposition Bhupinder Singh Hooda on Wednesday said the purpose of the no-confidence motion had been achieved as the government was exposed before the people.

The JJP and Independent MLAs had the chance to vote for farmers and fulfil their responsibility to be people's representatives. Though the Congress had limited strength, we stood firmly with farmers and fulfilled our responsibility," he said.

"We voted against the government which lashed charged farmers, fired tear gas shells, used water cannons and implicated them in false cases. The Congress will continue to stand firmly in support of farmers," he said. The Congress had demanded secret voting, but the Speaker turned down this demand, he stated. "This clearly shows that the government feared that many of its MLAs might vote in support of the motion," he added.

State Congress chief Kumari Selja said voting on the no-confidence motion had exposed the MLAs who used to claim that they were standing with farmers. "People of the state will never forget them," she said.

Minister Pathania threatens to resign over low land relief

LALIT MOHAN

DHARAMSALA, MARCH 10

Minister for Forest and Youth Affairs Rakesh Pathania has threatened to resign from the Cabinet if adequate compensation is not given to farmers whose land is being acquired for the widening of the Pathankot-Mandi National Highway in Nurpur subdivision of Kangra district.

The minister issued the threat after a large number of landowners from his constituency met him yesterday demanding enhanced compensation for their land being acquired by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI). "The issue relates to about 1,500 landowners in my constituency. The administration had announced high compensation for the land to be acquired in the first award. However, now, in the second award, about 90 per cent landowners are being given 10 times less compensation. This is injustice with the people of my constituency and it is my duty to stand with them," Pathania told The Tribune over the phone. He, however, said he had taken up the grievances with the CM, who assured him of redressing the issue. "I have full faith in the Chief Minister," he said.

NEW DELHI, MARCH 10

With the opening week of the second half of Budget session washed out, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Wednesday called an all-party meeting to try and break the deadlock.

The Congress has been giving adjournment notices every day, seeking suspension of business in both houses to discuss the rising fuel prices - a demand Rajya Sabha chairman M Venkaiah Naidu and Speaker Birla have declined.

At the meeting today, the Speaker urged leaders to let the house work with Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi pressing for the passage of financial Bill and commencement of discussions on the Budgets of select ministries, including the Railways and agriculture.

Joshi is also learnt to have mentioned that the Opposition must cooperate in the transaction of business if it wanted the session curtailed to campaign in upcoming polls. The government sources said if the Oppo-

KHARGE TO PM: THERE'S LIMIT TO SELF-PROMOTION

Eyeling a record straight third term, the ruling AIADMK in Tamil Nadu on Wednesday announced its second list of 171 candidates for the April six Assembly polls, renominating most of its heavyweights.

Together with its first list of six candidates, the AIADMK will be in the fray in 177 constituencies and its partners the PMK (23) and BJP (20) in 43 while 14 more seats are yet to be allocated out of the total 234 segments. Of the 30-member Cabinet of Chief Minister K Palaniswami, 27 have been renominated, apparently rewarding them for supporting him during the past four years when he weathered many a political storm. — PTI

Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday said Nandigram meant a lot to her. "Nandigram is not simply a slogan to me. It is also the place where a peasant struggle had taken place. I salute those who were murdered. I salute people of Nandigram," Banerjee said during a media interaction at Haldia on Wednesday.

Mamata was in Haldia to file her nomination for the Nandigram Assembly constituency.

The TMC supremo decided to contest from Nandigram after being challenged by BJP candidate Suvenu Adhikari.

While the leading role played by Mamata in the agitation against forcible acquisition of land in Nandigram catapulted her to power in Bengal, Suvenu also played a key role in the agitation as her deputy. Suvenu joined the BJP recently, the two heavyweights are now locked in a high-voltage contest in their old haunt, where they had once bonded.

Suvenu, who is slated to file his papers on Friday, was also present in Nandigram today.

The rivals, though, did not come face to face. Suvenu held a roadshow and inaugurated election office. He said Mamata was flaunting her Hindu religious identity because people started doubting it. Describing herself as a "streetfighter", Didi appealed to people to help her win.

India in the picture

US sees key role for ally in Afghanistan, Indo-Pacific

THE American proposal to involve India in the Afghan peace process is an acknowledgment that New Delhi is a key stakeholder in the trouble-torn country. With Joe Biden at the helm, winds of change have started blowing in Af-Pak. Barely two years ago, the then US President Donald Trump had wondered derisively why PM Narendra Modi had funded a library in Kabul, of all places. The jibe had prompted the NDA government to list out development projects worth $3 billion that had been completed or were in progress in Afghanistan. The bilateral bonds have become even stronger of late. In a virtual interaction with Afghan President Ashraf Ghani last month, PM Modi reassured him that 'in the success of Afghanistan, we see the success of India and the entire region'.

The US Secretary of State, Antony Blinken, has envisaged a United Nations-led initiative to bring together foreign ministers and envoys from Russia, China, Pakistan, Iran, India and the US 'to discuss a unified approach to supporting peace in Afghanistan'. India's importance in the scheme of things has also been underlined by Russia, which says it's natural for New Delhi to eventually have a 'deeper involvement' in a dedicated dialogue. Moscow has been quick to reject a media report that claimed it kept India out of the peace plan.

The Indo-Pacific is another region where the US is looking forward to unstinting support from India. In the backdrop of China's assertiveness, the Quad is gradually growing in stature as a countervailing force. The four-nation alliance will take its collaboration to the summit level tomorrow when President Biden will hold virtual talks with the Prime Ministers of India, Japan and Australia. From Covid-19 vaccines to climate change, the grouping is keen to focus on multifaceted cooperation, ostensibly in an effort to counter criticism that it is merely an anti-China platform. Amid the American outreach, India needs to ensure that its own interests are not compromised. Positive developments in the neighbourhood — the Ladakh disengagement and the LoC ceasefire — should spur New Delhi to deftly walk a tightrope.

Lancet report, phase 3 trial results encouraging

THE peer-reviewed article based on the performance of India's indigenous Covid vaccine, Covaxin, published by the Lancet Infectious Diseases Journal, comes as a shot in the arm for the country's hobbled vaccination drive and puts it on the road to being a vaccine superpower. The endorsement of phase 2 trials of Covaxin as being safe and generating an immune response without any serious side effects should help gain the people's trust in getting themselves jabbed. The common adverse events noted in this phase were pain at the injection site, headache, fatigue and fever. Riddled by scepticism and concerns of safety and efficacy among the scientific community following the clearance of Covaxin for emergency use by the drug regulator even as phase 3 human trials were still on, the inoculation campaign has been marked by hesitancy ever since its rollout in mid-January.

The crucial phase 3 data that emerged last week is also promising as it addresses another significant concern: that of the vaccine's efficacy. Bharat Biotech, which has manufactured the vaccine in collaboration with the Indian Council of Medical Research and the National Institute of Virology, Pune, announced that interim phase 3 trial data showed that the vaccine has shown 81 per cent effectiveness. If this claim is also corroborated by peer-reviewed analysis subsequently, then Covaxin should be on the roll as one of the most efficient doses globally and overcome the acceptance hurdles that it is currently facing — both in India and with prospective buyers abroad. The latest findings should alleviate some doubts of potency, such as those expressed in Brazil which had bought Covaxin doses.

Credibility is the key to the success of the vaccination programme, which, in turn, is vital for taming the coronavirus that has seen an alarmingly upward curve in the past couple of weeks in Punjab and some other states. With just 2.3 crore doses of the two vaccines approved for use — the other being Oxford-AstraZeneca's Covishield — having been administered in the nearly two months of the immunisation drive, the target of vaccinating 30 crore people by August at this rate is a long shot.

LAHORE, FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1921

MARTIAL LAW PRISONERS.

WHEN recently there was an extraordinary manifestation of goodwill and camaraderie in the Indian Legislature and the whole atmosphere seemed to be charged with the spirit of "forgive and forget," we knew that the picture had another side and that it would not be long before this side was presented to the country's astonished gaze. And already the anticipation has been fulfilled. On Wednesday, the Council of State discussed the resolution of Sardar Jogindra Singh recommending that persons detained in India without trial and those imprisoned under sentences passed by martial law courts, be released or failing that be given an opportunity of proving their innocence in regular courts. No proposition could have been more reasonable or more in keeping with the country's wishes. And yet the resolution was resisted by the Home member. Nor, judging from the telegraphic report of the proceedings, which is all that we have before us at the time of writing, does it appear that any of the non-official members reminded the Government of this incantation of "forgive and forget" or ask it to do unto others what it had been asking the country ad nauseam to do unto its own officers. There does not, indeed, appear to have been any recognition on any side of the fact that on the same ground on which the country had been asked, and the Indian Legislature at any rate had consented, to forgive the offending officials and forget their misdeeds, it was incumbent on the Government itself to forgive the martial law prisoners and the misdeeds attributed to them. We have no hesitation in saying that before the Duke uttered his words and the Viceroy associated himself with them, it was the clear duty of the Government of India to redress the balance by releasing every martial law prisoner.

China's undisputed leader

CPPCC lauds Xi Jinping for 'achievements' despite unprecedented difficulties

JAYADEVA RANADE

PRESIDENT, CENTRE FOR CHINA ANALYSIS AND STRATEGY

FULL SUPPORT: The carefully choreographed sessions sent out the clear message that China's leadership is determined to achieve its expansive ambitions. REUTERS

Especially significant for India is China's focus on developing strategically important international connectivity in the region.

and resolve ethnic tensions. Xinhua quoted him as telling delegates that

'Cultural identity is the deepest form of identity. It is also the root and soul of ethnic unity and harmony.' He told them to use 'solid and meticulous efforts' to achieve ethnic unity and ensure that standard Chinese and state-compiled textbooks are unwaveringly adopted. He said all young people in Inner Mongolia should understand the CCP's policies and revolutionary heritage.

As many as 2,953 deputies to the NPC and more than 2,106 members of the CPPCC listened to the government work report presented by Premier Li Keqiang. Like last year, this report contained 13 references to Xi Jinping and bore his imprimatur. It gave unequivocal credit for last year's achievements despite unprecedented difficulties 'to the strong leadership of the Party Central Committee with Comrade Xi Jinping at its core, to the sound guidance of Xi Jinping Thought on Socialism with Chinese Characteristics for a New Era, and to the concerted efforts of the Party, the armed forces....' The draft was earlier approved at a politburo meeting chaired by Xi Jinping on February 26.

Reflecting stress on the economy, Li Keqiang set this year's GDP growth rate target at 6 per cent, lower than expected by many Chinese economists who anticipated he might either forgo the numerical target or set an ambitious 8 per cent growth rate. Stating that the central government will tighten its belt, he said the government would cut the fiscal deficit target to 3.2 per cent of China's projected GDP this year. He announced plans to create 11 million new jobs, up from the 2020 target of 9 million and said by 2025, China would cut carbon dioxide emissions per unit of GDP by 18 per cent from 2020 levels. He noted the 'solid progress' in the Belt and Road Initiative, stressed maintenance of social harmony and stability and said science and technology would be strengthened to provide strategic support for development.

The ministry of finance's report revealed either cuts, or no increases, in the budgets of most ministries. In 2020, there was a 50 per cent across-the-board cut in the budgets of ministries except those of national defence and public security. This year, too, national defence received 1.35 trillion yuan ($209 billion), a hike of 6.8 per cent. A large portion is intended for defence R&D and training of the PLA. Public security was allocated 185.092 billion yuan from the central budget, or a 0.7 per cent increase identical to that for last year. Expenditure on public security has increased each year for the past over five years. The push for major projects promoting coordinated regional development and other major projects such as the development of new infrastructure and urbanisation initiatives was encouraged with the earmarking of 610 billion yuan, or 10 billion yuan more than for last year.

Reiterating the central government's decision to tighten its belt to channel more funds to provincial governments, the finance ministry listed the breakdown of spending as follows: 147.025 billion yuan on general public services, down 14.1 per cent; 50,414 billion yuan on foreign affairs, a drop of 1.9 per cent; 166,344 billion yuan on education, the same as the year before — but including local outlays national spending will increase by 5.2 per cent; 322.71 billion yuan on science and technology, roughly equivalent to the previous year; 122,473 billion yuan on stockpiling grain, edible oils, and other materials, basically the same as in 2020; and 599,824 billion yuan on debt interest payments, up 8.3 per cent.

A leap of faith, away from fear

ANSHU SINGLA

ONE of the best stories of faith I have come across is that of my own infant daughter. As I playfully lift her up, her lovely smile transforms into a crackle the moment she is swung in the air. Pure bliss. Certainly, a child too remembers all danger zones but that doesn't prevent her from experiencing, experimenting and exploring. Faith controls an infant more than anything else.

I think we as humans, along with other gifts, are born with the gift of faith. Whether it is smiling at a stranger or flying in the air; a child is a testimony to the faith instilled at our very creation. However, it is often lost to the world of rationality in the process of evolution. I have been no exception, and in my case, I developed a phobia for height.

There is another perspective to human evolution. We tend to rationalise most decisions. I too rationalise most decisions with my home developed rationality coefficient. In this, I evaluate most decisions with the medical or economic risk involved to the pleasure gained. Being a medico, the tilt has always been towards safety. As a result, I always developed risk aversion, a laid-back approach and not taking up challenges.

However, life has been kind. It teaches new lessons every day, some in linear and others in circular fashion. This time, circular learning was to come via a friendly union at Rishikesh, where the highlight was bungee jumping.

On the one hand was the fear of heights, but on the other, the joy of reunion. The idea was to skip the adventure part with medical logic.

But a friend asked me to reconsider. 'Check the probability coefficient also, the probability of you coming out safely with such a fine memory is larger and the probability of you reliving that fine memory is even larger,' he reasoned.

I realised that we take all decisions based on logic but are unfairly biased towards the worst outcome.

The learning had come. That very afternoon, a small step on the bungee platform and a big leap of faith was taken. I jumped off and realised there were more butterflies in the air than in my stomach; more light inside than outside, more buoyancy in the moment than gravity. It was an experience both physical and spiritual; more reaffirmation and determination which instilled a fresh wave of optimism in me.

Having trust beyond fear is not foolishness. It's courage, it's faith. It's a special quality which man has been gifted with. It's something which we are born with, but may flatten it out. Logic and rationality are not sufficient for a lifetime. Gathering a bagful of lifelong memories may take small steps to begin with, but ends with a few leaps of faith.

Populist measure

Apropos of 'Plan for crop diversification', the Punjab Budget for the next fiscal is a populist measure aimed at wooing the farmers who are protesting against farm laws. Promises made in earlier manifestos have not been fulfilled. Diversification of crops has been the watch word of all governments since India became surplus in foodgrain production, but the scheme remained on the back burner, as a consequence of which Punjab's soil as well as water table has been contaminated with chemicals. The government should abide by its commitments and implement agricultural schemes in right earnest to pull the tottering economy out of the morass of apathy.

Women as objects

Reference to the article 'Dissecting toxic masculinity', unfortunately women are seen as objects of desire. How can a rapist be given the offer of marrying his victim? Her dignity, again, depends on a criminal. In which era are we living? Women are scientists, pilots, doctors, lawyers, PMs, Presidents, and what not! They have proved their mettle in all fields, but still must have a 'social guardian' in the form of a father, brother, husband, son. They are worshipped but not loved because love lies in equality. Masculinity lies in aggression, control and possession. A patriarchal society doesn't want women to be autonomous and capable.

Reduce fuel tax

Taxes are the primary reason for record highs in the retail price of petrol and diesel. The rise in the price of international crude has played its part ('Rein in fuel prices'). While numbers vary across states, a significant part of retail fuel cost is due to the levy of taxes by both the Central and state governments. The real picture emerges when the retail price is subdivided. Some time ago, the retail price of petrol in Delhi was Rs 89.29 a litre. Of this, Rs 57.19, or 64% of the price, was on account of taxes and dealer commissions. The major portion (Rs 32.90/litre) of the taxes went to the Centre, higher than even the base price of petrol. When the crude prices dropped from 2015, the government increased taxes to corner the benefits of a favourable environment. When the environment is changing, people are expected to bear the brunt of the increase. States like Assam, West Bengal, Rajasthan and Meghalaya have reduced fuel taxes. Electoral considerations may have played a part in the decision of the first two states, but the other two deserve credit. Rising fuel prices are inflationary. To control the prices, the Centre and states should lower taxes so that the consumer gets some relief. The government must also focus on improving direct tax and GST compliance.

Skill-based education

Education in India definitely needs to be restructured. The old-age concept of acquiring degrees or any specialisation is no longer a guarantee of a job and its security. Constant upgrade, learning new skills and even leaving jobs to do something on your own is the new norm. The world is changing and so are business organisations and industry. Let us adapt to the changes.

Fight Covid on your own!

I recently visited the Government Hospital, Sector 16, Chandigarh, for an RT-PCR test. I waited in a queue for three-four hours as the registration process was prolonged. On the second day, I received a call from the SDM office that I had tested positive and must isolate myself. My neighbours were not apprised of my status by the department. It is left to the individual to inform colleagues, family etc. Any person with a destructive mind can continue mingling with people. Even after 24 hours, there is no official prescription from the UT administration. A colleague residing in Chandigarh got himself tested at a Mohali hospital. He tested positive and was immediately given a first-aid box, free of cost, to fight the infection. Is the UT administration having a paucity of funds?

With regard to 'Second Major held in paper leak case', such cases show how deep the rot has set in. It's time to switch over to a strict, preventive approach in our system. A stitch in time saves nine.

MSP is aspirational price for most crops

YOGENDRA YADAV

NATIONAL PRESIDENT, SWARAJ INDIA

mandi parlance) by the farmers that day. Eight of the 11 commodities traded on March 6 were from the list of 23 crops that enjoy MSP. Of those eight, only one — urad or black gram — was sold at or above the MSP. Make it two out of nine, since we were told sunflower seed was also sold above the MSP, but somehow it was missing from the official list. The remaining seven crops were sold below what the Government of India officially assures the farmers to be the minimum price they must get and what the government will help them get. This included all the five major crops of that area: tur, makka, jowar, chana and bajra.

If you think Ballari might be an exception, it is not. More or less the same prices were found all over Karnataka markets for most crops. The average February price for bajra and maize was actually lower in the rest of the state than in Ballari. Only tur fetched better price elsewhere. If you think this year is an exception, it is not.

An average of the last three years (2017-18 to 2019-20) by the Karnataka Agricultural Price Commission (KAPC) shows that as much as 72 per cent of the agricultural produce in the state sells below the MSP. Dr TN Prakash Kammardi, former chairperson of the KAPC, estimates that the farmers of Karnataka lost Rs 3,119 crore last year due to distress sale below the MSP.

What about the rest of the country? For an answer, I turned to my friend Sunil Tambe who has tracked agri markets for well over a decade. He mined Agmarknet, the official website that reports prices for each mandi on a daily basis and reached conclusions even more depressing than the picture gathered from Karnataka.

None of the major kharif (summer) crops except paddy fetched anything close to the assured minimum. If paddy did better, it was solely due to the government procurement in many states. Fine varieties of long-grain paddy, which are not covered by MSP, suffered badly and were sold at less than the MSP for the ordinary PR variety. No state other than Haryana, not even Gujarat, procured bajra at the MSP. As a result, bajra sold for around Rs 1,300 against the official MSP of Rs 2,150. During the peak arrivals in the month of November, moong was sold for an average price of Rs 5,556, about Rs 1,600 below the official MSP. We noted that in Ballari, urad was the only exception that fetched a price above the MSP. But that was not so in the rest of the country at the time of peak arrivals in November. In that month, it sold for an average price of Rs 4,789 against the MSP of Rs 6,000. Similarly, tur or arhar sold for around Rs 4,500 to Rs 5,000 against the MSP of Rs 6,000. The average price for maize was Rs 1,354 against the MSP of Rs 1,850.

The marketing season for rabi crops has just begun, but the signs don't look good. Wheat, the biggest crop of the season, is yet to be harvested. As in the case of paddy, it may get a decent price wherever the state procurement takes place. In other mandis, farmers could suffer anything from a loss of Rs 300 to Rs 500 below the official MSP of Rs 1,975. Mustard could be another exception, for the initial trends suggest that its market rate is hovering around Rs 200-300 above the MSP of Rs 4,625. For all other crops, MSP is the 'maximum aspirational price'. The ragi season is nearly over and it has sold around a thousand rupees lower than the MSP of Rs 3,295. Maize grown in winter is already in and is again selling between Rs 1,300 to Rs 1,400, much below the MSP of Rs 1,850. Barley is trickling in and the initial trend from Rajasthan shows it is selling around Rs 1,300 against the MSP of Rs 1,600. Jowar has also started coming to the market and the hybrid variety is getting about Rs 1,000 lower than the MSP of Rs 2,620. Chana or Bengal gram, the other big crop of the current season, is currently selling between Rs 4,400 and Rs 4,800. That translates into a loss of Rs 300 to Rs 700 per quintal, since the MSP is Rs 5,100.

My apologies for making you go through these painful details. But there is no other way of demonstrating that MSP is a fraud imposed on the farmers, that what is called 'minimum' price is for all practical purposes, a dream price, and that the 'support' promised in the support price never arrives. There is no other way to explain why farmers do not believe paper assurances, and why they want nothing short of a legal guarantee for MSP.

To be sure, the situation was no better under previous governments. For the last five decades, MSP has always been a piece of paper for most farmers. The only difference is that we now have a Prime Minister who has the gumption to say: MSP tha, hai, or rahega! You must be joking, Mr Prime Minister!

Biden-Blinken peace plan stumps Kabul

MAJ GEN ASHOK K MEHTA (RETD)

MILITARY COMMENTATOR

THE Biden review of the Trump Administration's Afghanistan peace process has set the cat among the pigeons. It is a bold and courageous new blueprint for kickstarting the stalled reconciliation process. The different elements of the revised peace plan are not new but have been refined to make a fresh start. The four draft peace agreements are contained in letters addressed by the US Secretary of State Antony Blinken to President Ashraf Ghani and the Taliban — first to establish an interim government with the Taliban on board; second, working out a new Constitution and state structure to hold elections. Three, two parallel processes: one in which to involve regional players under the UN and the other for Turkey to mediate the difficult but vital 90-day period of reduced violence to dovetail the ingredients of the peace agreement. Forty-five days are left for the final troop withdrawal by May 1. What is striking about the Biden-Blinken plan is the complete lack of consultation with Kabul, where the government has been stunned.

What was expected from Biden was not a reframed peace process, but a request from the US for an extension of the May 1 deadline for six months, realigning conditions for withdrawal with quantifiable measurements to gauge reduction in violence to accelerate the ceasefire. Already too much is said to have been given away to the Taliban for too little in return.

Bringing them now into a transitional government is providing the Taliban

with a head-start.

PROACTIVE: Blinken's letter to Afghan leaders warns that the Taliban may make rapid territorial gains if a peace agreement is not in place soon. REUTERS interdependence of US troop withdrawal with the Taliban simply talking to Kabul. 2,500 US troops were brought back by January 15 which was related to Trump's re-election. It is not clear what will happen to the previously agreed elements of what is now called the Doha process. Already too much is said to have been given away to the Taliban for too little in return. Bringing them now into a transitional government is providing the Taliban with a head-start.

Blinken's letters handed over by US Special Envoy and interlocutor, Zalmay Khalilzad, are not being officially owned by the US State Department and, therefore, could be a tester for all sides. The letter has warned Kabul that if a peace agreement was not in place soon, the Taliban may be in a position to make rapid territorial gains. This is obviously pressure on Kabul to accept the plan as in the past, US military inspectors in Afghanistan have rated high to very high the capability of Afghan security forces to independently deal with the Taliban.

Giving Turkey a key role in hammering out the peace agreement by creating conditions for a 90-day reduction in violence appears to be the most eye-catching. Lately, the US had kept Turkey, once a central player in Afghanistan, on the margins and its return signifies the revival of the Istanbul process over the ongoing Doha process. It takes the spotlight away from Pakistan though no two countries are more allied and strategic than Turkey and Pakistan. It also minimises the centrality of Zalmay Khalilzad, a US Pashtun who has been accused of being soft on the Taliban, though his ideological dislike of the Taliban was never a secret. Blinken has asked Ghani or his nominee, probably Abdullah Abdullah, head of the High Level Peace Council, to attend the new Istanbul peace process.

Asking the UN to form a new regional forum on Afghanistan consisting of India, Russia, China, Iran, Pakistan and the US is pretty innovative. First, it brings the UN directly into the peace process, gives the plan a regional face and visualises a 'unified approach' towards Afghanistan. Interestingly, all the countries in the regional forum, except the US, are members of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) and could create a mechanism under the SCO to monitor developments in Afghanistan. The other striking feature of the forum is India's inclusion as New Delhi has never been (except once, as observer) in regional talks which have been usually organised under Russian, Chinese or US leadership. This will certainly not please Islamabad, but acknowledges New Delhi's steadfast role in the reconstruction of Afghanistan. Meanwhile, Russia has called for a meeting between the two sides on Afghanistan at Moscow on March 18.

As the convener and member of Track II regional initiative on Afghanistan's 'Region 2014 and Beyond: Perspectives and strategies for constructive conflict resolution for the neighbourhood', our regional group travelled to Turkey, Central Asia, reaching the White House National Security Council and the United Nations in New York with recommendations on regional peace and stability in 2015-16. This is the first time that the UN will be exploring Afghanistan's neighbourhood for peace and stability and may be considered even a regional peacekeeping force if and when the time comes, as was envisaged by our group.

Kabul, not unfamiliar with incendiary explosions, appears shell-shocked with Blinken's missive. Barely adjusted to the Trump plan, the Biden-Blinken plan will take time to sink in. The outspoken Vice President, Amrullah Saleh, the former intelligence czar of Afghanistan, has warned that there could be no compromise on the Constitution and electoral rights of the people to choose a new government. This ultimate act on the part of the US makes a mockery of any reference to the Afghanistan peace process as Afghan-owned, Afghan-led and Afghan-driven.

India has supported Afghanistan through thick and thin. To its credit or otherwise, it has never wholeheartedly subscribed to the idea of reconciliation with the Taliban or having any truck with them. Although it was on board the Trump peace plan, it has neither recognised the Taliban nor opened lines with it. The Blinken request for India's Foreign Minister S Jaishankar to join the regional forum on Afghanistan is a recognition of its sterling contribution.

Tokyo my Olympics farewell: Mary Kom

NEW DELHI, MARCH 10 Indian boxing great Mary Kom has said the Tokyo Olympic Games will be her final Olympics.

Six-time world champion Kom, 38, has been boxing for 20 years but it was only at the London Olympics in 2012 that women were allowed to compete for the first time. That was her first shot at an Olympics medal after she had secured several world crowns, and she came back with a bronze medal from London after losing in the semifinals.

"Tokyo will be my last Olympics, age matters here. I'm 38 now, going on 39. Four (actually three) more years is a long time. Pretty sure I won't be allowed to even if I'm willing to carry on till Paris 2024," Mary Kom Pretty sure I won't be allowed to even if I'm willing to carry on till Paris 2024."

The age limit for boxers is set at 40 but was extended to 41 for the Tokyo Games, which were pushed back by a year due to the Covid-19 pandemic. She said she is happy with the fact that her bronze medal in the 2012 Olympics inspired young girls in the country to take up the sport.

Kom, who failed to qualify for the Rio Games in 2016, won the right to try to qualify for Tokyo 2020 after beating a younger challenger in a trial in 2019.

"Olympics is huge. For any sportsperson, participating and winning a medal at the Games is a dream, it changes lives," she added. "Becoming an Olympian and winning the bronze changed my life too. It also inspired many women to take up sport, especially boxing. I feel proud. I want more girls to come out and fight. I hope there are no restrictions on them to come out and fight for themselves and their country." — TNS

Chandigarh's Saaniya leads

GURUGRAM, MARCH 10

Saaniya Sharma carded five birdies against three bogeys for the day's best card of a 2-under 70 on the first day of the fifth leg of the Hero Women's Pro Golf Tour here today.

Saaniya's best finish this season has been T-12 but in the first round here today, she shot her best round of the year. It gave her a one-shot lead over the trio of experienced Tvesa Malik and the Bakshi sisters, Hitaashee and Jahnavi.

Saaniya, a qualified referee and a coach, has been playing patchy golf this season and was happy to get a card under par. "I have worked hard last few weeks, so it is good to see the scores coming in," she said. — PTI

WTC final venue changed due to Covid

LONDON: The ICC has laid out its reasons for holding the World Test Championship final between India and New Zealand in Southampton instead of the scheduled venue of Lord's in London. The ICC initially had said the match would take place at Lord's but after discussions with the England and Wales Cricket Board, they confirmed Southampton, which has an on-site hotel at the Ageas Bowl, would host the June 18-22 contest.

Southampton hosted a Test against West Indies last July, and two Tests against Pakistan in August. TNS, AGENCIES

AHMEDABAD, MARCH 10 Indian opener Rohit Sharma, the batting star of the Test series win over England, said he had to play in a less attacking manner in the Tests — and that in the T20I series, he would be back to his normal methods, which are very aggressive. Sharma said he would try to give the team a good start in the T20 series against England, especially in the first six overs. Sharma will be playing his first T20I after over a year as he did not tour Australia for the limited-overs series due to an injury he suffered during the IPL. India had beaten Australia 2-1 in the T20I series.

Speaking ahead of the T20I series that begins here on Friday, Sharma talked of the challenges he faced during batting in the last Test when he had to bat in a vigilant manner. "When you have to go against your own nature and have to do things that you are not used to, then it is a small win. If you keep doing that again and again then you will gain in confidence. The way I batted, especially in the last Test match, when I made only 49 runs but played 150 deliveries, I felt great. I had to play against my nature," said Sharma.

"I felt like I should chase the deliveries that they were bowling outside off-stump, but I kept my nature aside and batted. I didn't play bad shots. To play with discipline was key," Sharma added. — PTI

Test debut felt like going to war, says Shubman

AHMEDABAD: Young Indian batsman Shubman Gill has said that his Test debut in Australia felt like "going into a war". The 21-year-old was impressive during the tour, with a highest of 91 and another half-century to aggregate 259 in the four-match series that an injury-ravaged India won 2-1. Gill made his debut in the second Test in Melbourne, where India's turnaround started after the thrashing they got in the Adelaide Day/Night game. "As long as the fielding lasted, I was pretty normal. But when we finally batted, and I was taking a walk down from the dressing room to the pitch with the crowd cheering (backing the Aussies), it was an experience of a kind! It felt like going into a war!" Gill told the website of his IPL franchise, KKR. TNS, AGENCIES
