Freedom of speech 'most abused'

SC objects to govt's 'evasive' affidavit on media coverage of Tablighi event

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 8

Describing the Centre's affidavit on media reporting of the March event of the Tablighi Jamaat in the Capital as "evasive" and "brazenly short in details", the Supreme Court on Thursday asked it to file a fresh one.

"Freedom of speech is one of the most abused freedoms in the recent times," a Bench headed by Chief Justice of India SA Bobde said while hearing a petition filed by the Jamiat Ulema-e-Hind, an Islamic body in India, which accused the media of communalising the Tablighi Jamaat event and demonising the Muslim community.

Paswan, voice of marginalised, dies

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 8

Union Minister Ram Vilas Paswan, one of the most prominent Dalit leaders of the country, died on Thursday at the age of 74, his son Chirag Paswan said.

The Lok Janshakti Party founder and Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution was admitted to a private hospital here for several weeks and had recently undergone a heart operation.

"Papa, you are no more in this world but I know you are with me wherever you are. Miss you papa," Chirag, who now heads the LJP, tweeted.

Paswan was instrumental in the implementation of the Mandal Commission report in the 1990s. Condoling his death, President Ram Nath Kovind said, "The nation has lost a visionary leader. He was the voice of the oppressed, and championed the cause of the marginalised." PM Narendra Modi tweeted two photos with Paswan. "Saddened beyond words... lost a friend, valued colleague and someone who was extremely passionate to ensure every poor person leads a life of dignity (sic)." — TNS

Talks with PM alone, say wary farmers

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 8

Punjab farmers will hold talks with the PM and none else, said Bharti Kisan Union (Ugrahan) president Joginder Singh Ugrahan today.

He said the farmers wanted the government to legalise MSP and the assurance that the mandi system would stay. "The new farm laws will make mandis non-viable in a few years with farmers getting better prices outside the man-

dis. That will see the demise of the agrarian economy built on trust," he argued.

The BKU (Dakau) general secretary, Jagmohan Singh Patiala, said they were determined to take their struggle to its logical end. "If we give up now, we will be jeopardising the future of the farming community," he said. — TNS

Explain why bail for 'groom' not kin, HC asks Asr judge

SAURABH MALIK

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 8

The Punjab and Haryana High Court has called for an explanation from an Additional District and Sessions Judge, who granted bail to the "groom" after noticing that the "bride" was just 15 years old, but had denied the relief to his parents. For the purpose of explanation, the High Court has set a month's deadline.

The direction by Justice Arvind Singh Sangwan came on a petition filed by the parents seeking anticipatory bail in a case registered on March 6 for kidnapping, common intention and another offence under Sections 363, 366 and 34 of the Indian Penal Code at the Majithia police station in Amritsar district.

Justice Sangwan observed the anticipatory bail application of the parents was dismissed by the Amritsar Additional Sessions Judge on May 12 after observing that the girl's birth certificate, as per the investigating officer's statement, was taken in possession and her date of birth was March 18, 2005. The judge also referred to an order passed by the High Court, wherein the girl was shown as 19 years old.

But the Additional Sessions Judge formed an opinion that the girl was 15 years old as per her date of birth certificate. As such, the anticipatory bail application of the petitioners or parents was dismissed. Justice Sangwan added, surprisingly, the Additional Sessions Judge granted anticipatory bail to the main accused subsequent to the passing of the order. This was despite the fact that the judge, even in an earlier order, observed that the date of birth was March 18, 2005. He confirmed the anticipatory bail, despite noticing the fact that the girl was 15 years old.

"Therefore, it requires an explanation from the Additional Sessions Judge,

Judicial officer had noted that 'bride' was 15 years old

Amritsar, as to how despite noticing the fact that the prosecutrix was 15 years of age, he has granted bail to the main accused, while declining it to his parents," Justice Sangwan said.

Before parting with the case, Justice Sangwan added the Supreme Court held that Articles 14, 15 and 21 of the Constitution, read with the national policy and national plan, provided that a girl between 15 and 18 years needed protection from early marriages. She was also required to be provided a life of dignity.

The deceased were identified as Beant Singh (35), and his children Prabhjot Singh (6), Arsh Kaur (3) and Khushi (1).

The police claimed Beant was deeply depressed at his wife's death due to cancer over a month ago. A suicide note mentioning his grief about his wife's untimely demise was recovered from the scene.

Sources said the farmer's ancestors had a small landholding but no farming was done by the family. The deceased used to earn livelihood by driving a bike-driven cart. After initial investigation, the police sent the bodies for post-mortem to the Government Hospital, Ramphura Phul. On the complaint of farmer's sister, the police have registered a case against him under relevant sections of the IPC.

Investigating officer Malkiat Singh said: "The deceased was depressed after his wife passed away a month ago. In his suicide note, he admitted to being under stress and having no desire to live nor leave his children behind."

"The deceased also wrote that none of his relatives showed any empathy towards him after his wife's death. After initial probe, it was found to be a case of suicide. The deceased did not have personal enmity with anyone," he added.

Bir Pind offers 'powerful' solution to straw menace

To all those farmers not convinced with the idea of in situ techniques of handling paddy straw, Bir Pind residents in Nakodar have a message: Give us the paddy straw and we will readily pay you Rs 1,350 per tonne for it.

The village panchayat has been using stubble for power generation for the past few years. Using 250 tonnes of stubble to produce 6 MW daily, the panchayat says it needs more stubble to keep the plant running round the year. Kewal Singh, who manages the plant, says: "We need 75,000 tonnes of stubble to run the plant throughout the year. But we do not get more than 30,000 tonnes of stubble."

Kewal Singh says he has even made videos to appeal to the farmers across the state to use balers in their fields, get bundles of the straw made and get the stubble dropped near their plant.

Unpaid workers protest against CCI officials

BATHINDA, OCTOBER 8

Members of the Galla Mazdoor Union today protested at a grain market here, alleging they have been denied labour charges by the Cotton Corporation of India (CCI).

"A labour charge of Rs 29.50 per quintal was fixed for this year's procurement season. However, this is for the first time that the CCI has denied paying us for loading, weighing and unloading of cotton in mandis," said Mangat Rai, union president.

Contractors to make payment: Corpn

He said scores of labourers working in the mandis would be rendered jobless with no source of income. Union members met officials of the market committee and submitted a memorandum of demands to them. Senior commercial officer Harjot Singh said: "The CCI will give labour charges to contractors, who will pay the labourers working under them once the cotton clears the quality check and is ready to be sent to the factory." — TNS

'NEED MORE TO KEEP THE PLANT RUNNING'

We need 75,000 tonnes of stubble to run the power plant throughout the year. But we do not get more than 30,000 tonnes of stubble.

Kewal Singh, PLANT MANAGER

"Even our district has 32 balers. While 20 baler machines were already there, 12 more have been bought by farmers under the 50 per cent subsidy scheme. This machine bales 20 to 25 acres of paddy straw in a day and one acre brings out 25 to 30 quintals of straw," he says.

Highway robbers' gang busted, 2 held

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

MOGA, OCTOBER 8

The Moga police have busted an inter-state gang involved in several cases of highway robberies, attempt to murder for ransom, gang wars, snatching and other criminal activities.

SSP Harminder Singh Gill said the local police had arrested two gang members Ajay Kumar, alias Mani, a resident of Patwari Mohalla, Kotkapura, and Amritpal Singh Bhinder, a resident of Chakk Wali Gali, Moga, and recovered two country-made pistols of .32 bore and .30 bore with 13 live cartridges, besides a stolen motorcycle.

They both allegedly conspired with a Dunneke resident, who is presently in Canada, and committed crimes in the state and Haryana. After committing the crime, they would leave for UP and Uttarakhand. Both Mani and Bhinder were the main shooters of the gang whose six members had already been arrested. Explaining the modus operandi of the gang, the SSP said it used to identify high-net worth businessmen or individuals and demand ransom from them.

The gang was active in Moga, Faridkot, Ferozepur, Tarn Taran and Jagraon. It recently shot at a rice trader in Moga and a sarpanch in the Smalsar area in separate loot bids. Besides, they fired at the son of an ASI at Kotakpura due to a gang rivalry. The SSP said efforts were on to nab the one remaining gang member.

ACTIVE IN 10 STATES, 4 VEHICLE LIFTERS HELD

Barnala police claimed to have busted a gang of vehicle lifters, allegedly active in 10 states, with the arrest of four members from Barmer in Rajasthan.

SSP Sandeep Goel said the gang had allegedly stolen over 100 vehicles from various states making a similar demand."

Sangrur DC tills field to raise awareness

SANGRUR, OCTOBER 8

In a novel initiative, Deputy Commissioner Ramvir today tilled a field using the 'superseeder' machine attached to a tractor at Mardkhera village near Sunam to raise awareness among farmers about the ill-effects of stubble burning.

Interacting with farmers, the DC said the burning of crop residue would specifically be hazardous during the Covid-19 pandemic as the virus affected lungs and the smoke from burning caused difficulty in breathing.

"The Punjab Government gives farmers up to 80 per cent subsidy for not burning crop residue, and the draw was conducted online to ensure transparency. The authorities have provided agricultural implements to 69 panchayats, 148 co-operative societies, 273 custom hiring centres and 1,124 individual farmers recently," he said.

Farmers find no takers for maize, wheat crops

Forced to sell their produce at throwaway prices

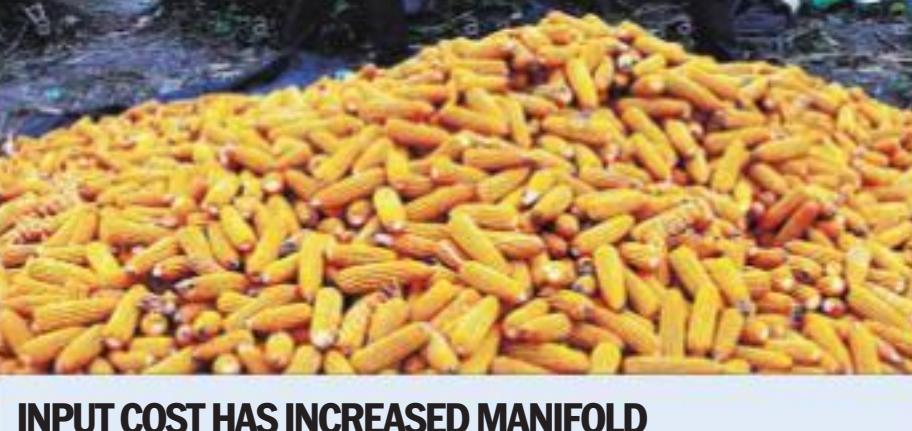

RAJIV MAHAJAN

NURPUR, OCTOBER 8

Farmers in the lower Kangra district are a harried lot as no buyers are turning up to buy their produce like maize and wheat. Upset over the drastic fall in the selling rate of their products, marginal farmers with small landholdings are forced to sell harvested maize crop at throw away prices to grain traders.

A number of grain traders have been dragging their feet while buying maize from farmers, sensing the heat due to new farm Bills. It may be recalled that the FCI has a procurement centre at Gujjar ka Talab in Nurpur which only procures wheat whereas maize was sold to traders coming from other parts of the state and the neighbouring Punjab.

Subhash Singh and Diwan Chand of Kopra, Ashok Kumar of Lager and Khushi Ram of Badka villages said earlier the traders would come to their fields during harvesting to settle the buying price and they got a higher rate than the MSP. "But this year, not a single trader has turned up to buy maize and we are being offered Rs 1,200 per quintal by some local grain buyers, contrary to the MSP of Rs 1,850 announced by the Government of India," a farmer lamented.

Vikram Singh and Naresh Singh of Rit gram panchayat said they had stored 50 quintal each of wheat after harvesting in April for selling the same on higher rates later but their all hopes were dashed as, after the new farm bills, they were being offered much lower rates than the MSP. The government had announced

Rs 1,975 as the MSP of wheat but now FCI's procurement centre had stopped procurement and they were being offered lower price, between Rs 1,500 and Rs 1,600, by traders, they rued.

Kuldeep Dhiman, District Agriculture Officer, Palampur, admitted that farmers preferred selling wheat to private buyers against FCI's Nurpur procurement centre but in the absence of buyers, the farmers were facing hardship in selling their produce this year.

Growers not getting MSP: AICC secy

DHARAMSALA, OCTOBER 8

Sudhir Sharma, former minister and AICC secretary, has alleged that farmers of the state were not getting the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for maize crop, as declared by the union government.

'Govt should make purchase below MSP a punishable offence'

In a press release issued here today, Sharma said the Centre had declared the MSP for maize crop at Rs 1,850 per quintal. However, the farmers of lower Himachal, who grow maize as Kharif crop, were getting just Rs 800 per quintal. He alleged that traders from the adjoining states were coming and collecting maize crop from the farmers of the state. In case the government wanted to withdraw from the purchase of crops it should make buying of crops below the declared MSP a punishable offence. —TNS

Somil Gautam, SDM, Indora, who is also the authority for registering vehicles, said for a tenant, it was legal to register a vehicle in the state. Most of the luxury vehicles were registered in Indora against the rent deeds.

State transport officials said the trend had been continuing since long. Many Army officials got their vehicles registered in the state due to low tax rate here by giving the address of the Army mess.

Shaheen Bagh

We need safety valve that protects the constitutional order

INa democracy, the Opposition is not only tolerated as constitutional, but must be maintained because it is indispensable.' The Supreme Court's verdict on Shaheen Bagh protests has to be understood in the context of Pulitzer Prize winner Walter Lippmann's above statement, quoted by the court to drive home the larger point about the right to peaceful protest in a democracy. The legal position on right to free speech and right to assemble peacefully under Article 19(1)(a) and Article 19(1)(b) of the Constitution, respectively, has been very clear, i.e., they are subject to reasonable restrictions, including those in the interests of the sovereignty and integrity of India and public order.

There can't be any quarrel with the court's observation that 'democracy and dissent go hand in hand'. Also, one would agree that roads and public spaces can't be blocked indefinitely. But to say that demonstrations expressing dissent have to be in 'designated places' alone could be problematic as such earmarked places aren't available in every part of the country. Instead of providing such places, the UP authorities have imposed prohibitory orders under Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code (CrPC) till October 31 in Hathras district to prevent people from gathering to protest against the alleged gangrape of a Dalit woman.

Holding that repetitive orders under Section 144 would be an abuse of power, the Supreme Court had, in January, ordered the authorities to forthwith review the existing prohibitory orders. While dealing with the lockdown in J&K following the nullification of Article 370 of the Constitution, the court had said, 'The power under Section 144 cannot be used to suppress legitimate expression of opinion or grievance or exercise of any democratic rights.' Right to protest works as a 'safety valve' and protects the constitutional order. Denial of this right is fraught with serious consequences for the state system and democracy. It would have been better if the court had ordered the authorities to set up 'designated places' in each district and taluka to allow people to vent their ire on issues that matter the most to them.

Covid ward woes

Shimla suicide case raises question of quality care

WITH the investigation into the alleged suicide of a Covid-19 patient at Deen Dayal Upadhyay Hospital in Shimla on September 22 pointing a finger of suspicion towards medical negligence, the quality of care provided in our Covid facilities has come under a cloud. Even as healthcare workers have been hailed as warriors in the battle against the pandemic, stories of apathy stick out like black sores. These dark patches stand out in stark contrast to the pristine contribution of good Samaritans — doctors, nurses, ward boys, sanitisation staff, policemen, ordinary souls — who have worked heroically, not letting go of their dutiful humane side as they treated and handled infected patients and bodies, with some even succumbing to the coronavirus in the process.

But, sadly, the stigma and scare attached with this highly communicable contagion have left some unfortunate patients struggling for proper attention and facilities. The Shimla case mirrors the plight of many a hospital and quarantine centre, as allegations of overcharging and general neglect abound. Thankfully, as the prescribed protocol allowed home isolation and quarantine, patients with mild symptoms have been having the solace of being looked after by their kin. But those in critical state require clinical care. They would do with some better facilities. Like the now chastened Shimla hospital, others too would do well to cheer up patients recuperating in Covid wards by providing them with communication channels, TV and newspapers, yoga sessions, etc, so that they are not overwhelmed by depression/stress. Allowing visits of relatives and food from home can also boost their morale.

With the case tally going past 68 lakh in India, people are learning to live with the disease. They are boosted by the recovery rate of over 84 per cent and the recent dip in the number of cases per day — though accompanied by a decrease in the number of tests. But the sheer caseload means that the battle is still uphill for those with complications and needing medical attention. Well-equipped and well-staffed hospitals are their main hope. Nobody should be driven to suicide for lack of efficient assistance.

LAHORE, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1920

THE QUESTION OF PROCEDURE.

MR. Jinnah has pointed out at the meeting of the Swarajya Sabha that the Constitution of the League could only be changed by the Council of the All-India Home Rule League, and that too by a majority of three-fourths of the members voting. For our part, we consider that a rule which gives the Central Council of a body either a co-ordinate or a superior position as compared with the general body is open to the strongest exception, and we are emphatically of the opinion of Mr. Gandhi that the general body has a supreme right to abrogate such a rule. But there is a procedure for everything, and in this case clearly the first thing necessary was to alter the rule itself. As long as the rule existed, it was clearly obligatory upon the League to obey it. Take the analogous case of the British House of Commons. That House wanted to pass a Home Rule Bill for Ireland, and found a serious obstacle in the absurd rule which gave the House of Lords an absolute veto upon legislation. Did it forthwith pass the Home Rule Bill itself over the head of the House of Lords, or did it first abolish the absolute veto and then proceed to pass the Home Rule Bill? Surely, the same procedure might have been followed in this case. Further, even when the rule was abrogated, what one would expect in its place was a rule to the effect the general body of the League could change its constitution either on the recommendation of the Council of the League or on requisition by a fair proportion of its own members, provided that it had in either case a majority the nature of which should be specifically stated. Here, again, the ruling of the Chairman that a general meeting of members could change the constitution by a bare majority seems to us to be clearly wrong.

A tale of two daughters

Their cases have been handled differently by the guardians of the law

TRYSTS AND TURNS

JULIO RIBEIRO

UNFAIR PLAY: The mandate was to get Rhea Chakraborty at any cost.

The Dalit girl from Hathras and Rhea Chakraborty have both faced enormous injustice.

community, much revered in the annals of military exploits in our country. The girl's family now alleges she was raped by the boys but that charge has been strenuously denied by the four as well as by the police. However, nobody can deny that the girl met a grisly end by beatings and strangulation.

In the other case, police units controlled by the Union Home Ministry made Herculean efforts to incite Sushant's lover for some crime or other, to be dug out over three months. Finally, it was the Narcotics Control Bureau that hit 'pay dirt' when it found Sushant was on drugs and his lover was helping him to access them! Never mind that the quantities found were minuscule, the smallest find the NCB had ever made!

The second girl was more fortunate, having been born in a middle-class family, the daughter of an Army surgeon. She fell in love, or so she thought, with an up-and-coming actor, Sushant Singh Rajput, with whom she shared a close relationship. It is learnt that Sushant suffered from a bipolar disorder and used to consume narcotic substances even before he met Rhea.

This story is about these two girls, one living, one dead, and how their cases were handled differently by the guardians of the law, of whom I was not long ago, a proud member! In the case of the poor Dalit girl, the UP police went overboard in trying to exculpate the four alleged culprits belonging incidentally to the Thakur community to include only upper castes in the Hindu fold! Since my own ancestors renounced Hinduism at the urging of Portuguese conquerors some four or five centuries ago, I admit that I am not competent or qualified to comment on the State's decision to exclude the nearest relatives of the science told us was that the truth has to be established. No culprit should be allowed to escape the tentacles of the justice system. But the same justice system would suffer immeasurable harm and shame as well if innocent persons were unjustly implicated.

Arranging for the CBI and sending the ED and finally the NCB to nail Rhea for a Rajput's life which the bipolar patient had himself taken, and happily consigning the Dalit girl's rape and murder investigation to a pliant State constabulary which had already decided that 'No rape had occurred', speaks volumes about the politicisation which has reduced the upholders of the law to puppets in the hands of partisan politicians.

The indignity of the midnight cremation without permitting the parents and family to participate in the rituals was a total negation of individual rights and also of Hindu culture! Perhaps, the UP government had changed the meaning of Hindu culture to include only upper castes in the Hindu fold! Since my own ancestors renounced Hinduism at the urging of Portuguese conquerors some four or five centuries ago, I admit that I am not competent or qualified to comment on the State's decision to exclude the nearest relatives of the Dalit girl from her last rites.

Not many in the country will believe that the Dalit girl was not raped. Since the girl was medically examined days after she was attacked, semen could not have been traced in any case. Crying 'No rape' because of your own initial defaults of not getting a medical examination conducted immediately is a grave act of omission in ordinary cases. Worse, it is an act of commission if the police were influenced by caste considerations! The reactions of subordinate police functionaries are not difficult to decipher. As the CM of Uttar Pradesh never fails to make his intentions and wishes known, police station-level staff will always want to pre-judge the Big Man's reactions and fashion their own investigations of such cases in a manner that they think will please the Big Man. The partiality of the police to allow upper-caste men to gather in spite of Section 144 orders to demand justice for the four arrested youths while denying meetings between the Dalit family and Opposition parties' representatives is itself eloquent!

In the Sushant matter, Rhea has already gone through a gamut of torment for her ill-fated romance. I had written in an earlier despatch that if the CBI were trying to turn an obvious suicide into murder, it would have a whole lot of obfuscation to attempt that would invite loss of prestige and damage its reputation. I am impressed with the forensic medical team of the AIIMS which stuck to the truth of its findings, unlike some of our police officers who choose advancement in careers or post-retirement sinecures over dharma.

In his classic novel, Tess of the d'Urbervilles, Thomas Hardy had 'The President of the Immortals ending his play with Tess'. India's daughters, the Dalit girl from Hathras and Rhea, have faced enormous injustice in our own times. In one girl's case, the President of the Immortals ended his play with her cruel death. Let us hope and pray that Rhea will cease to be a plaything in the hands of the powerful and that some semblance of justice will prevail now that it has been conclusively established that Sushant had taken his own life.

Where do we truly belong?

HENI KUMAR SUKHNA

IHAD always found comfort in my home in Chandigarh. After marriage, I had three places I could call my home — the place where my husband and I resided, my parents' home and my in-laws'. A nagging question came to my mind one day, where did I truly belong? Is it possible to belong to more than one place? A place is the main element of identity for humans and social belongingness is a fundamental human need embedded in our DNA linked to our happiness and well-being.

Our interests, motivation, health and joy are inextricably tied to the feeling that we belong to a place and a greater community that may share common interests and aspirations. This also leads an individual to adopt some of the same behaviours and attitudes to conform and gain greater acceptance.

I remember how when we had gone to Halflong, the headquarters of Dima Hasao district, a small hill town of Assam — 20 years after my father had served at the place — while walking through the busy market street, we heard a shout directed at my mother, asking her if she was indeed the wife of Mr. Kumar who had once been the Deputy Commissioner of the town. We were astounded. How was it that a shopkeeper, after two decades, had succeeded in recognising my mother!

It made me realise that the beauty and the madness of it all is that there is no place where you truly belong, but the feelings in all the places and community that you live in create an everlasting bond. Here was one such memory, a feeling infused with the perfume of the past. Not just because how it was simply existing, enduring with time, but because we seemed to hold within ourselves the weight of an old, wise norm that our mere existence does not necessitate our belonging. But our actions do. We are all born with an innate power to make a lasting imprint in this world — to carve out a place where we belong, however humble, and that aches for us when we leave. A place that grows with us and fits us. It's a place that we create ourselves through sharing our hearts and minds.

What is important is that it needs to come alive within us. We need to bleed into it and leave a lasting impression, and these are the nuances that need to be archived in life. I asked my mother how she felt being a Punjabi who had spent half her life in Assam. She sighed, pouring into herself countless Assamese memories, habits and teachings that had become a part of her Punjabi way of life and exclaimed: 'I belong to them and they to me, and that feeling, devoid of place and physical structure, is true belongingness.' Our life is all about cultivating relations that create belongingness through the remnants that we leave, wherever we live.

New alignments

Apropos of 'Quad cooperation', India is playing its cards well to keep China at bay by aligning with the multilateral platform and sharing joint security concerns in the Indo-Pacific region. India, however, should be wary of making it an exclusive anti-China platform. The US appears to be veering in that direction, though its actual intent will emerge only after the presidential election. Emphasis should be on fair play and equity in world affairs and respecting territorial integrity and sovereignty. The focus should be on peaceful resolution, shunning coercive diplomacy, force and expansionism. Our differences with our neighbours also need to be resolved in that spirit by setting up emulative precedents. Issues relating to Covid-19, economic revival, trade, health, education, water resources, solar energy, disaster management etc, can be the likely areas which can make a difference in the lives of people of these countries.

GP CAPT JS BOPARAI (RETD), BHADSAI

Building on Quad

Quad has become a mode of geopolitical signalling and its relevance was evident at the foreign ministers' meeting. Critics are not wrong to grumble that the dialogue remains informal as it fails to produce a joint statement and that its only tangible accomplishment is its existence. China believes that it can use the power differential it has come to acquire to browbeat neighbours and make strategic gains. Therefore, an effective regional counterbalance is needed. This must be anchored by a credible security partnership. Quad should be open to engaging other like-minded countries in the region.

Clean up the act

Refer to 'SGPC members sweep street'; the street being swept remains neat and tidy. Instead of sweeping it, they should have cleaned those streets which cry for cleanliness. How can a symbolic act of sweeping the Heritage Street absolve them of their 'sin' of skipping the 'pashchapat path'? The act was merely an eyewash to beguile the gullible religious-minded people and a publicity stunt. Acts of penance are not done ostentatiously, but are performed incognito.

Sympathy with accused

Refer to the Hathras crime, the present dispensation seems to be expressing sympathy with the accused and not the victim. Earlier, when the Kathua rape case came to light, BJP MLAs claimed that the rapists were innocent. At Hathras, some BJP bigwigs are echoing the same feelings. The PM leaves no opportunity to remind people that he fasts during the Navratras, when he only drinks water. These people should remember that in justifying that which is wrong, they lose credibility when they are supposed to be upholding it.

Air Force Day

Our country is celebrating the 88th anniversary of the establishment of the IAF. It started on a small scale, and is now one of the top forces of the world. It has fought many wars and showed its power, skills and bravery. The induction of Rafale has further strengthened its position.

ROHAN KUMAR, MOHALI

A soldier's family

No words can express our gratitude to the soldiers for their invaluable sacrifice and devotion in protecting borders and citizens of the country. Emotional pangs of long separation of a soldier's family has no parallel ('A mother's heart knows no peace'). The piece has touched an emotional chord in many people. My village in Ambala district had a fairly large number of youths in the defence forces in the 1960s and '70s. Parents of a majority of them were illiterate and required someone to read out the letters of their sons to them and to send their reply. They avoided mentioning any unpleasant matter that could disturb their fauji boy's peace or his devotion to duty. And so, would ask the writer to write in the end: Saddi fikar nahi karni, tun apna khylal changi tran rakhya kar (Do not worry about us, take care of yourself).

Visionary builder

Dr Randhawa was also the father of healthcare engineering, started in 1969 at the PGIMER, which brought in appreciation from the WHO in 1981 ('Happy birthday, Chandigarh'). He visualised the importance of a multidisciplinary research comprising health, design, art, technology and environment. On request from the late Dr PN Chuttani and Dr PL Verma (both Padma Bhushan awardees), Dr Randhawa, as VC of the PAU, also joined the PGI. Thus started the journey of hospital engineering in 1969. He monitored the progress by talking to the PGI doctors. In 1982, he supported the need for the National Institute of Healthcare Engineering and Architecture, both for human and animal healthcare. The proposal was approved by the ministry concerned in 2007, but it is yet to start at the PGI.

Gorkha connect vital cog in India-Nepal ties

MAJ GEN ASHOK K MEHTA (RETD)

MILITARY COMMENTATOR

INdia-Nepal relations are at their lowest point after the 2015 economic blockade following the promulgation of Nepal's new Constitution which India did not welcome. Fortunately, the light at the end of the tunnel, the lodestar of ties, is in the hands of India's most trusted and reliable constituency outside the political battleground of Kathmandu valley, the Indian Army Gorkhas and the ex-servicemen community. They make up for the growing anti-India sentiment in Nepal driven by ultranationalism and a Left-leaning government. The Gorkha connect is as strong as it is stable in a country where hardy youth still flee their homes to become Lahure, the mythical mantra which transforms stout-hearted mountain lads into fearsome khukuri-wielding warriors. Starting 1809, they would trek to Lahore to join Maharaja Ranjit Singh's Sikh army, creating a formidable Gorkha-Sikh martial force much before the British East India Company began recruiting them after the Anglo-Gurkha war (1814-15). Even today, soldiers of fortune are called Lahure. A more than 200-year-old legacy of valour and affection, acclaimed by 12 Victoria Crosses, made the Lahure the loved Johnny Gurkha to the British.

At the time of Independence, British Gurkhas became Indian Gorkhas and for the first time, officered by Indians. A tripartite agreement of 1947 between the UK, India and Nepal regulated the recruitment, pay, pension and terms of service of Gorkhas recruited into three sovereign countries. The bulk of the Gorkha regiments volunteered to join the Indian Army, growing to 43 infantry battalions (45,000 combatants) which is larger than the entire British infantry plus an artillery regiment and a mechanised battalion. Initially, recruitment was wholly from Nepal, but it reduced progressively to the current 60 per cent while the remaining 40 per cent are Indian-domiciled Gorkhas. Scattered across Nepal from Mechi and Mahakali are 28 District Soldier Boards and three Pension Paying Offices. Recruitment rallies are now held in Nepal but these were for long periods organised at Gorakhpur's Gorkha Recruitment Depot. Roughly 1,500 to 2,000 Gorkhas are recruited annually compared to 200 lads for the British Army where the British Gurkhas are 3,500-strong, making up two battalions and support forces. A third battalion was to be raised in 2019 along with female combatants, but Covid-19 has probably delayed it.

Relations between the Indian and Nepalese armies go back to 1952 when Nepal requested India to establish a military mission which waxed and waned under different acronyms till it was withdrawn under Communist pressure in 1970. Field Marshal Sam Manekshaw as the Army Chief, set up a special Gorkha cell which revamped army-to-army ties. Later, the Army Chiefs of India and Nepal were recognised as honorary Generals and Chiefs of each other's armies. A slew of welfare measures for Gorkha ex-servicemen were instituted in Nepal and young officers were required not only to acquire proficiency in Nepali language, but also trek across remote areas from where the Gorkhas were drawn. The military connect is unique: Nepal's advance training is held in India on a preferential basis; the India-Nepal Security Cooperation Agreement of 2003 was at the height of the Maoist civil war; it was during this military engagement that the Indian Army provided tactical and strategic guidance to the Nepal Army as well as lethal and non-lethal military hardware. When in 2005, King Gyanendra dismissed the elected government by a royal coup, India suspended the supply of lethal equipment which led to a spat between the Army and Foreign Office in which the latter prevailed. The then Army Chief General JJ Singh claimed that suspension of military support would adversely affect army-to-army relations and the course of counter-insurgency, but political authority trumped military considerations. The two armies continue with joint military exercises under Surya Kiran series and also organise special joint seminars.

CHANGING RELATIONS: The Left-leaning government in Nepal, driven by ultranationalism, thinks it is not appropriate for the Nepalese to serve in foreign armies.

The Indian military has traditionally been the first responder during Nepal's natural disasters. In the 1990s, during a major aviation accident, the IAF pressed in half a dozen helicopters to trace and evacuate its victims. After the 2015 earthquake, the Indian Army reached out before one could say Aayo Gorkhali. Nepal Army chief General Gaurav Rana paid rich tribute to the Indian military. India has provided medicines and medical equipment including ventilators to the Nepali Army during Covid-19.

These special relations are not without missteps like the non-participation of Nepali contingent in the BIMSTEC military exercise in 2019 even after the Nepal Army Chief had accepted the invitation, apparently without political sanction. Army Chief General MM Naravane's recent comments on the Chinese stirring the pot in Nepal were ill advised. A periodic problem is Gorkha recruitment in the Indian Army which has been turned into a political football by the Left governments in Nepal. In 1990, the Maoists had included it in their 40-point memorandum to the government. During the Doklam crisis, the Nepali media erringly reported that 48 Gorkha Rifles — the battalion that was dislodged from Galwan in 1962 — was in eyeball confrontation with the Chinese PLA when it was 13 JaK Rif (Jammu and Kashmir Rifles). Then Foreign Minister KB Mahara, when asked by reporters about this, replied: "Nepal is neutral between China and India."

With a pro-China KP Oli-led Nepali Communist party government, Beijing might object to Nepalese troops in the Indian Army confronting a friendly Chinese PLA with whom they have begun joint training. The fear in India that the Indian Army Gorkhas could fall prey to Nepalese domestic politics over map wars, and India-China issues, is misplaced as the Gorkhas are institutionally embedded as a unique entity of the Army which has weathered economic blockades and a Gorkhaland movement.

Nepalese Foreign Minister Pradeep Gyawali said recently that the tripartite agreement has become redundant and should be replaced with bilateral agreements, adding the staple that it is not appropriate for the Nepalese to serve in foreign armies. Nepali politicians are unaware that in 1974, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi rejected a proposal to discontinue Gorkha recruitment. Although it is possible to continue the legendary Gorkha legacy with Indian-domiciled Nepalese (such a Gorkha battalion was raised in 2015), India would lose a valuable strategic asset in Nepal.

Province status for Gilgit-Baltistan helps China

LUV PURI

JOURNALIST AND AUTHOR

An important implication of granting provincial status to Gilgit-Baltistan is for the broader regional alliance between China and Pakistan. The Chinese-constructed Karakoram highway runs through the region, paving the way for multi-faceted alliances with West Asia.

The Shia majority in Gilgit-Baltistan provides buffer to the Chinese state to check against the 'export' of Sunni extremist ideology to Xinjiang province and its impact on the Uighurs.

THE reported decision to create the mountainous and sparsely populated Gilgit-Baltistan as a provisional Pakistani province is de jure recognition of a de facto reality prevailing within the Pakistani polity for the past over 70 years. The de facto reality has enabled Sino-Pakistan ties to become stronger as the main route that links Pakistan with China traverses through this region.

Gilgit-Baltistan region, earlier known as Northern Areas, shares contiguous borders with China, Afghanistan and Kargil district of Ladakh. Shia Muslims live in majority, though the region has an extensive ethnic and sectarian diversity with Baltis, Ismailis, Nurbakshis and Dards inhabiting the place that adjoins Xinjiang province of China. In 1935, the British had signed a 60-year lease with the princely ruler of J&K, Hari Singh, to take control of Gilgit agency. The British wanted to use the frontier belt as a base to check the growing Russian influence in the region. The lease ended with the end of the British rule over India and the region's direct control returning legally to the princely ruler.

The narrative of both countries on Gilgit-Baltistan is in line with their contested positions on Jammu and Kashmir. However, the present development comes in the backdrop of some facts. The 1949 Karachi agreement signed between the Muslim Conference-led Pakistan-occupied Jammu and Kashmir (PoJK) and the Pakistan government separated the region from TACTICAL: The main route linking China and Pakistan traverses through Gilgit-Baltistan.

PoJK and gave direct control of the region to the federal government. For a number of years, Northern Areas Council, which became the legislative council, governed the region. Islamabad-based Federal Minister for Kashmir Affairs and Northern Areas was the executive head.

Some of the political forces, who are called nationalists in Pakistan and stand for the independence of the undivided state as it existed in 1947, have frequently demanded the merger of Gilgit-Baltistan with PoJK. Amanullah Khan, who founded the JKLF, an organisation that initiated militancy in Kashmir valley in 1989, was one such voice and he himself was from Gilgit. Even the then Chief Justice of the PoJK High Court, Justice Abdul Majeed Malik, a resident of Mirpur, gave a judgment on March 8, 1993, where he questioned the legality of the Karachi agreement and declared the region to be a part of the territory of Jammu & Kashmir. However, influential voices in the PoJK, which are close to the establishment in Islamabad, had opposed this position. This has included Sardar Abdul Qayoom Khan, the former President of PoJK and one of the senior leaders of Muslim Conference, a party that governed PoJK for many years.

Parallel to this, there were local demands for ending bureaucratic rule over the region. In March 1999, the Supreme Court of Pakistan had ordered that the Northern Areas be given the same political, economic and administrative rights as given to the other provinces of Pakistan. On August 29, 2009, Pakistan's Prime Minister Yousaf Raza Gilani announced political reforms in Northern Areas and renamed the region as Gilgit-Baltistan. A legislative assembly was created with the post of the Chief Minister to spread the notion that the region is governed by the locals. In 2018, a committee headed by Sartaj Aziz had recommended abolition of the Islamabad-based Gilgit-Baltistan council. The recent reported decision to grant provincial status to the region is in line with these developments.

Amendments are suggested in Articles 51 and 59 of Pakistan's Constitution that pertain to the legislative seats of various provinces in Pakistan's National Assembly and Senate, respectively. With these amendments, additional seats will be earmarked for Gilgit-Baltistan in both houses of Parliament. There will be no amendment to Article 1 of the Constitution which lists the provinces of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan. By doing this, no change is purportedly made to the Pakistani position that the final status of J&K is still to be decided.

The decision, however, is an acknowledgment of the importance of status quo as far as territorial control of the two countries of various parts of the former state, as it existed in 1947 before Partition, is concerned. This has merely reinforced the point that the borders as they stand today between the two countries will not change and future modalities have to reflect that. In Gilgit-Baltistan, there is an internal ethnic and sectarian diversity. There is also the aspect of divided families. Baltistan has ethnic linkages with Kargil district of Ladakh and many Balti-speaking divided families live on both sides of the Line of Control. The five LoC points that were opened by the two countries in 2005-06 for the divided families of J&K didn't benefit those of Balti stock. Because of the Shia population in Gilgit-Baltistan and Kargil district, there is also the impact of Iran on the two regions as many youngsters on either side of the LoC go there to study.

An important implication of granting provincial status to Gilgit-Baltistan is for the broader regional alliance between China and Pakistan. The Chinese-constructed Karakoram highway runs through the region. The highway paved the way for closer bilateral ties as China builds its multi-faceted alliances with West Asia that is territorially possible only via Pakistan's geography. The tightly controlled region and the Shia-majority demography of Gilgit-Baltistan have provided sufficient buffer to the Chinese state to check against the 'export' of Sunni extremist ideology from Pakistan and Afghanistan to Xinjiang and its impact on the oppressed Uighur community in the region. The grant of provincial status to the region will further incentivise China to build more infrastructural projects as the de facto reality becomes de jure within Pakistani polity.

Kamala, Pence spar over Covid, climate, racism

WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 8

The much-awaited vice-presidential debate between Kamala Harris and Mike Pence saw the duo sparring on US President Donald Trump's handling of the Covid-19 pandemic, jobs, China, racial tensions and climate change, less than four weeks ahead of the election.

Harris, the Democratic Party's vice-president nominee, described the Trump's handling of the pandemic as the "greatest failure of any presidential administration in the history" of America as she opened the vice debate with a sharp attack on Vice-President Pence, who leads the President's Covid task force. Wednesday night's live debate at The University of Utah in Salt Lake City was a civil one between the two leaders, separated by plexiglass barriers, compared to last week's showdown between President Trump and his Democratic challenger and former vice-president Joe Biden, which degenerated into insults and name-calling.

VICE-PRESIDENTIAL DEBATE OF FACTS, ALLEGATIONS, COUNTER-ALLEGATIONS

■ Kamala Harris, who scripted yet another history by becoming the first person of Indian descent to be on the stage of a vice-presidential debate, charmed with her smiling face throughout while responding to answers to Mike Pence with facts and figures.

■ Mike Pence was seen vigorously defending the actions of the Trump administration during the past nearly four years. He attacked Biden and Harris, saying they wanted to raise taxes and bury the economy under a $2 trillion Green New Deal. Harris deflected the questions.

TRUMP SAYS NO TO VIRTUAL DEBATE WITH BIDEN

■ President Donald Trump on Thursday rejected plans for a virtual debate on October 15 with Joe Biden, a format switch intended to reduce the risk of spreading Covid-19.

Pence did not interrupt as much as Trump last week during the first presidential debate, but when he did Harris interjected: "Mr Vice-President, I'm speaking, I'm speaking." During the 90-minute one-off debate before the November 3 presidential election, Harris, 55, and Pence, 61, stuck to their known campaign positions on major topics. — PTI

American poet Louise Gluck wins Nobel for literature

STOCKHOLM, OCTOBER 8

American poet Louise Gluck has won the 2020 Nobel Prize in Literature for "her unmistakable poetic voice that with austere beauty makes individual existence universal", the Swedish Academy said on Thursday.

Academy Permanent Secretary Mats Malm said Gluck was "surprised and happy" at the news despite receiving it in the early morning North American time.

A professor at Yale University, Gluck, 77, made her debut in 1968 with "Firstborn", and is seen as one of the most prominent poets in American contemporary literature.

Her poetry is characterised by "a striving for clarity", the Academy said, with a focus on childhood, family life, and close relationships between parents and siblings. In her poems, the self listens for what is left of its dreams and delusions,

Chennai Super Kings' fourth loss in a chase suggests time is up for its ageing batsmen

Tribune News Service

CHANDIGARH, OCTOBER 8

Last night in Abu Dhabi, playing against Kolkata Knight Riders, Chennai Super Kings beautifully displayed the art of making a hash of an elementary run chase. Their fourth defeat in IPL-13 — all four have come in chases, as have the two wins — mirrors the fortunes of their ageing squad.

As they chased 168 for victory, CSK were 90/1 in 10 overs, with Shane Watson batting on 43 and Ambati Rayudu on 24. With 78 required off 60 balls, victory seemed guaranteed. But only 20 runs were scored in the next five overs without a single boundary, and both Watson and Rayudu fell.

The equation changed — 58 required from 30 balls, at 11.60 runs an over. This was the sort of situation that made captain Mahendra Singh Dhoni's reputation as a cool, masterly organiser of a chase in international cricket. The days of Dhoni's glory at the international stage are long gone, and it's clear he's unable to marshal a chase even against the relatively modest bowling attacks of the IPL. He made 11 off 12 balls before falling in the 17th over, and it was only Ravindra Jadeja's 8-ball 21 that reduced the margin of defeat.

Failed chases

After chasing down Mumbai Indians' 162 in the first match, CSK have faltered in four chases — losing by 15 runs to Rajasthan Royals, by 44 runs to Delhi Capitals, by seven runs to Sunrisers Hyderabad and 10 runs to KKR. Before the loss to KKR, they'd chased down 178 by Kings XI Punjab without losing a wicket — talk about wild swings in performance!

"In the middle overs, there was a phase when they bowled two-three good overs. Then we lost two-three wickets in a row. If our batting was different during that period, the result would have been different," Dhoni said last night.

Dhoni promoted himself to No. 4, but could not complete a chase yet again. In the four defeats, his scores have been 29 off 17 balls, 15 off 12 balls, 47 off 35 balls and 11 off 12 balls; he batted once in the two wins, remaining unbeaten on 0 off two balls against MI. But you can't put all the blame on Dhoni's door, the others have been below-par as well. Kedar Jadhav remained unbeaten on seven off 11 balls against KKR.

"There were hardly any boundaries in the last three overs," Dhoni said. "You have to be slightly innovative in these scenarios. If someone is bowling just back of a length, you have to find a way to hit boundaries. We did not adapt well."

Considering Jadhav's defensive strokes, that's an understatement. CSK have got into a hole and it seems no one in the team has the power to pull them out of it. — TNS

SAI sanctions camp for Olympics shooters

Tribune News Service

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 8

After much delay, the twice-postponed national camp for Indian shooters will start from October 15. The Sports Authority of India (SAI) has sanctioned a two-month long camp for the Olympics core group of shooters from October 15 to December 14.

Thirty-two shooters and 15 coaching staff members will be tested for coronavirus before being kept in seven-day quarantine in a hotel.

The National Rifle Association of India (NRAI) had sent a proposal to hold a camp of over 100 shooters, but SAI wanted it to keep the numbers low to maintain the Covid protocols.

"It is imperative to have a camp because it is an integral part of the preparation for an event like the Olympics. The camp will be conducted following the SAI SOP," SAI said in a statement.

The shooters will have regular interactions with the coaching staff through video-conferencing. They will be asked to dry hold their weapons and hold fitness programmes while in quarantine. The actual camp will start from October 23.

The shooters will get a break of 10 days from November 10 for Diwali. Moreover, NRAI will not allow shooters who live in and around the National Capital Region to travel daily for training. They will insist all the campers stay in the hotel during the length of the camp so that the athletes avoid exposure to the virus while travelling.

"We are taking it step by step so it is a camp for only Olympics group shooters. But I am happy that the camp has been sanctioned as our shooters were only training in their home ranges so far," NRAI president Raninder Singh said.

Nationals soon

Meanwhile, NRAI has plans to hold this year's national championships in New Delhi. The shotgun event is scheduled to be held in mid-November, while the rifle/pistol event is slated to start from December 5. NRAI has decided to hold competitions in one event at a time as traditionally a large number of shooters take part in the rifle and pistol championships. Over 7,000 took part in the national championships last year.

NRAI has also decided to only entertain last year's participants, as they could not hold any of the pre-national championships due to the pandemic.

"Subject to NRAI board's approval, only last year's participants will be allowed to take part in the nationals this year. There will be no wild cards either," NRAI president clarified.

Portugal draw with Spain, Mexico beat Dutch

LISBON: Portugal had to settle for a 0-0 draw at home to Spain in a heavyweight friendly yesterday after hammering the crossbar twice and missing a last-gasp open goal. Cristiano Ronaldo almost gave the European champions the lead when he sent a shot crashing against the underside of the bar early in the second half. Olivier Giroud became France's second top scorer when he netted a double to take his international tally to 42 goals as the world champions crushed an injury and Covid-19-ravaged Ukraine 7-1. It was Giroud's 100th cap. Mexico handed new Netherlands coach Frank de Boer a defeat in his first game in charge as they enjoyed a deserved 1-0 win. Germany midfielder Florian Neuhaus scored on his national team debut but Turkey came back three times to earn a 3-3 draw. REUTERS

Hails India's social safety net, predicts 5.4% growth in next fiscal

Tribune News Service

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 8

Hailing the government's response to Covid, the World Bank said India's economy is, nevertheless, expected to contract by 9.6 per cent in the current fiscal year.

India's growth is projected to rebound to 5.4 per cent in fiscal 2021-22, assuming Covid-related restrictions are completely lifted by 2022. Weak activity, domestically and abroad, is also likely to depress both Indian imports and exports, said the World Bank's latest South Asia Economic Focus report.

The overall growth in

'DELHI'S RESPONSE WAS SWIFT'

The Indian Govt's response to the outbreak was swift and comprehensive. The lockdown was followed by a comprehensive policy package to mitigate the impact on the poorest well as liquidity and financial support for SMEs. Hartwig Schafer, WORLD BANK VP FOR SOUTH ASIA REGION

South Asia will contract by 7.7 per cent in 2020, after topping six per cent annually in the past five years.

"Informal workers are not generally covered by social insurance and few have savings or access to finance, but the government reworked its social protection architecture especially for them," said the report.

"Reforms in the Indian safety nets programme will help preserve the gains against poverty as nearly half of all households are vulnerable and the majority of the workforce lacks formal social security benefits. We are also encouraged by the recent amendments to India's social security laws that will help provide coverage to groups of people who were earlier left out from government-assisted programs," said Junaid Ahmad, World Bank Country Director in India.

The pandemic will profoundly transform South Asia and leave lasting scars in its economies. "But there is a silver lining towards resilient recovery. It could spur innovations that improve South Asia's future participation in global value chains, as its comparative advantage in tech services and niche tourism will likely be in higher demand as the global economy becomes more digital," said Hans Timmer, World Bank Chief Economist for the South Asia Region.

Wear masks: PM ahead of festivals

Tribune News Service

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 8

Ahead of the festive season, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday launched a community campaign via Twitter, asking people to unite against Covid-19 by wearing masks, maintaining a two-yard distance and maintaining a hand and respiratory hygiene.

"India's Covid-19 fight is people-driven and gets great strength from our Covid warriors. Our collective efforts have helped saved many lives. We have to continue the momentum... Let us #Unite2FightCorona! Let us always remember: Wear a mask. Wash hands. Follow social distancing. Practice 'Do Gaj Ki Doori.' Together we will succeed," he said.

Health Minister Harsh Vardhan hailed PM's call,

TRP manipulation racket busted, 4 held

Mumbai, October 8

The Mumbai Police on Thursday claimed to have busted a Television Rating Point (TRP) manipulation racket, adding that four persons have been arrested in this case.

Mumbai Police Commissioner Param Bir Singh said Republic TV channel, facing flak over its attack on the Mumbai Police and Maharashtra Government in the Sushant Singh Rajput death case, was also involved in the "false TRP" racket.

The Mumbai Police crime branch, which unearthed the TRP racket, has arrested two persons, owners of two Marathi channels, for manipulating viewership ratings, Singh said.

Another police official said two former employees of Hansa agency, involved in the process to determine the TRPs, have also been arrested.

OBITUARY
Ram Vilas Paswan (July 5, 1946–October 8, 2020)

Leader from Bihar who became voice of Dalits

KV PRASAD

UNION Minister Ram Vilas Paswan, who passed away after a brief illness following a heart surgery, was a product of the socialist movement that gripped the country in general and Bihar in particular during the late seventies. A follower of Karpoori Thakur and Raj Narain, Paswan was elected to the Bihar Assembly in 1969 and in less than five years catapulted to the national stage.

Drawn into the vortex of 'sampoorn kranti' of Jayaprakash Narayan, he spent the 1975-1977 Emergency period in jail like hundreds of political leaders in the country. He announced his arrival in Parliament winning the Hajipur Lok Sabha seat with a record margin boasting of an entry into the Guinness Book of World Records. Since then, barring 2009, Paswan was elected to the Lok Sabha for eight terms and to the RS twice.

Associated with several parties — the Sampoorn Samyukta Party, Janata Party, Lok Dal and Janata Dal — at the turn of the century he formed the Lok Janshakti Party. He served several PMs, including VP Singh, HD Deve Gowda, Atal Behari Vajpayee, Manmohan Singh and Narendra Modi as a Cabinet Minister, handling the Railways, Chemicals and Fertilisers, Communications, Parliamentary Affairs and Food, Civil Supplies and Public Distribution.

Paswan possessed the uncanny acumen of reading the political tea leaves right and switching sides ahead of elections to ally with a party that eventually formed the government at the Centre. Of course, in 2002 Paswan quit the Vajpayee government over riots in Gujarat and worked with the Congress-led UPA, finally coming back to the BJP in 2014, a move he credited to his son Chirag.

Forming the Dalit Sena in 1983, Paswan worked to consolidate his position as a leader of the Dalits at a time the Bahujan Samaj Party under Kanshi Ram and later Mayawati was emerging a strong voice for the oppressed classes.
