10 Akali MLAs suspended for 'disrupting' House proceedings

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 5
Ten Akali MLAs were today suspended from the Vidhan Sabha for the remaining three days of the Budget session for "repeatedly disrupting House proceedings". The MLAs, led by their legislature party leader Sharanjit Singh Dhillon, rushed to the well of the House, raising slogans as CM Capt Amarinder Singh pointed out that SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal and Harsimrat Kaur Badal had initially defended the Centre's farm ordinances.

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, MARCH 5
Accepting the challenge thrown by the BJP at her, West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee on Friday announced she would contest only from one seat — Nandigram.

Releasing the list of Trinamool Congress candidates at her Kolkata residence, Banerjee said Power Minister Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay would contest from Bhabanipur, won by her in 2016 and 2011. "Sobhandeb lives in Bhabanipur," she said.

Banerjee took everyone by surprise when she had announced at a rally in Nandigram in January she would contest from the seat. Suvendu Adhikari, who won the seat in 2016 as TMC nominee, had switched to the BJP shortly before and the CM appeared keen to teach him a lesson.

The BJP responded to Mamata's announcement by resorting to propaganda saying Banerjee, unsure about winning from Nandigram, would also contest simultaneously from Bhabanipur:

After protests, walkout, 10 Akali legislators suspended

Budget
SESSION

RUCHIKI M KHANNA

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 5
Ten SAD MLAs were today suspended from the Vidhan Sabha for the remaining duration of the Budget session for "repeatedly disrupting the proceedings of the House".

The MLAs led by their legislative party leader Sharanjit Singh Dhillon, disrupted the House proceedings on four occasions today, forcing Speaker Rana KP Singh to suspend them for the remaining session. The provocation for the suspension was the protest and walkout by the Akali MLAs when Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh named SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal and Harsimrat Kaur Badal for justifying farm laws when the Centre had initially brought the ordinances in this regard.

SAD leader Bikram Singh Majithia said both the Congress president and her son were absent from Parliament when the farm laws were passed. This led to chaos and all efforts by the

OPPN LEGISLATORS INTERRUPT CM DURING REPLY TO GUV'S ADDRESS

When CM Capt Amarinder Singh began his reply to the Governor's Address, AAP MLAs disrupted his speech. Akali MLAs also objected to the CM's claim that civic polls were peaceful Legislators from both parties stormed into the well of the House and raised slogans against the government. This had also forced the Speaker to adjourn the House for 15 minutes.

Speaker to reason with the Akali MLAs failed, following which the Speaker suspended the MLAs.

They, however, chose not to leave the House. After the adjournment, the MLAs staged a sit-in inside the House. The marshals and watch and ward staff first pleaded with the MLAs to leave the House. Upon refusal of MLAs, they forcibly removed them.

MLA Pawan Kumar Tinu tried to enter the House again and was immediately dragged out by the staff.

The Akali MLAs had been repeatedly protesting in the well of the House, disrupting the CM from concluding the debate on Governor's Address. They had also protested against the high power tariff and staged a walkout.

Later, AAP MLAs had a heated discussion with the members of the treasury benches, alleging connivance of the Congress with the Centre in shaping the three farm laws. They claimed that the CM was part of the group formed by the Niti Aayog, where the laws were first discussed.

Denying this, the CM said they had not been called for the first meeting. However, Leader of Opposition Harpal Cheema said Finance Minister Manpreet Singh Badal and a retired IAS officer had participated in the discussions.

Manpreet said they attended the second meeting, but had objected to the Bills. He tabled the minutes of both the meetings.

CHANDIGARH, MARCH 5

Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh today expressed confidence that the people of the state would not be carried away by the "false promises" of some leaders defected from "Punjab and Punjabiyat" and would repossess confidence in his transparent government.

In his Motion of Thanks to the Governor's Address, the CM said his was a "people's government" that would work for a "Kaamyaab and Khushaal Punjab".

Summing up the outcomes of his government's policies, he reiterated the benefits delivered to farmers, consumers as a result of free/subsidised power, as well as debt relief to farmers and farm workers.

Lauding the role of farmers in ensuring successful procurement during the pandemic, the CM said Rs 62,000 crore had been paid to farmers for the two crops procured during this period.

Around 10 lakh farmers had come to the mandis to sell their produce, he said.

Pointing out that SAD president Sukhbir Singh Badal had initially accused his government of misleading the farmers, and claimed the farm laws were in favour of the farmers, the CM said it was later that Sukhbir backtracked to oppose the legislations.

He read out from an extract of a letter of June 25, 2020, in which Sukhbir had backed the farm laws, emphasising "there is nothing in these ordinances which is either against the federal structure or against the farmers".

The Akalis supported the resolution moved by his government in the Vidhan Sabha against the central laws and even went to the Governor to submit it before taking a U-turn, he said. Capt Amarinder recalled that Union ministers Hardeep Puri and Som Prakash had stated that MP Harsimrat Kaur Badal was part of the Cabinet meeting that approved the farm ordinances.

He appealed to the Centre to withdraw all cases and notices against the agitating farmers. He introduced a resolution calling for repeal of the farm laws. The resolution, which was later passed unanimously by the House, expressed the angst of the members against the "unresponsive attitude" of the Centre. It demanded the unconditional withdrawal of the laws and to continue with the existing system of MSP-based procurement.

Targeting BJP leaders over their statements against farmers, the CM asserted Punjab farmers were not anti-national but were the same patriotic people who laid down their lives at Galwan valley to protect India's integrity. —TNS

Sampla, Malik face farmers' ire in Amritsar

AMRITSAR, MARCH 5

Former MP Vijay Sampla, Rajya Sabha MP Shwai Malik and other BJP leaders faced the wrath of farmers during their visit here today.

The same group tried to confront Malik at the Amritsar Railway Station where he went to review a project. Harjeet Singh Jheeta of the Azad Kisan Sangharsh Committee claimed some of their colleagues received injuries when vehicles of leaders hit them. Nonetheless, the police detained six to eight farmers for a few hours before releasing them with no complaint registered against them.

Sampla had paid his maiden visit to Amritsar after assuming charge as Chairperson of the National Commission of Scheduled Castes. He paid obeisance at the Golden Temple.

Pandher said the farm unions had never participated in elections before but this time amid the ongoing struggle, farmers in the states going to Assembly elections would urge people to boycott BJP candidates. He said the struggle would continue till the farm laws were repealed. Union leaders rubbished the Centre's claim that farmers were withdrawn-ing from the protests.

Another farmer, Gurbachan Singh Chhabra, said this was the eighth jatha which left for Delhi. On March 20, another jatha will be dispatched. "The jathas would stay at Delhi borders for next 22 days," he said. Non-formulation of a timely plan for the creation of land bank, as envisaged in the Industrial Policy-2009, by the Punjab Small Industries and Export Corporation Limited, impacted the pace of industrial growth in the state, according to the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG) report. It is a well-known fact that land scarcity is a major impediment in attracting investment in the state.

During 2017-18 to 2018-19, the industrial growth rate in the state declined to 5.80 per cent from 6 per cent, while

Industrial growth rate declined from 2017 to 2019

The corporation finally took a decision in August 2017 for the creation of land bank, eight years after the Industrial Policy, and identified 2,868 acres in December 2019 for procurement, which was yet to be done as on June 2020.

"This non-formulation of timely plan for creation of land bank will result in not meeting the requirement of industrial land for existing as well as upcoming investors, thereby impacting the pace of industrial growth in the state," says the report. The industrial policy envisaged creation of land bank for relocation of existing industries and development of new industrial areas.

Dept awaits report on virus mutation

PATIALA, MARCH 5

In the wake of a resurgence in Covid cases, the Health Department is awaiting test results of around 450 samples which had been sent to a lab in Delhi to ascertain virus mutation in the state.

Dr Rajesh Bhasker, state nodal officer for Covid, said they had sent the samples to the Institute of Genomics and Integrative Biology (IGIB), New Delhi, for genome sequencing to ascertain any virus mutation in the state.

As they had not received any report so far, they couldn't confirm whether the virus mutated or not, Dr Bhasker added. He said, "Last week, we wrote a letter to the IGIB to give us pending reports at the earliest. There is a huge rise in the number of positive cases in seven cities, including Jalandhar, Patiala, Ludhiana and Nawanshahr."

Apart from resurgence, many cases of reinfection are also being reported, thereby raising the suspicion of a new variant. A 46-year-old Excise and Taxation Officer (ETO) — a Covid-19 survivor of July last year — again tested positive on February 28. The ETO is said to have exhibited different symptoms from the earlier one. Health experts say reinfections seemed to suggest that virus might have adapted to avoid the antibodies. However, Dr Bhasker said only a few such cases had been reported so far. — TNS

3 dera men booked on court directions

'Conspired' to steal 'bir' in 2015

FARIDKOT, MARCH 5
The police have registered a criminal case against three Dera Sacha Sauda followers at the Bajakhanha police station in Faridkot.

Harish Dhuri, Pardeep Kaler and Sandeep Baretta, all central committee members of the dera, have been booked under Section 174A on the directions of a judicial court here.

All these office-bearers in the dera are accused in connection with the theft of a 'bir' of Guru Granth Sahib from a gurdwara in Burj Jawahar Singh Wala on June 1, 2015.

As per the investigation by a special investigation team of the police probing the sacrilege cases, the accused, along with dera head

Gurmeet Ram Rahim, were part of a conspiracy in the theft of the 'bir', which led to Behbal Kalan and Kotkura police firing incidents.

In January this year, the court had declared all these accused proclaimed offenders in the sacrifice case.

As they failed to appear before the court, the latter directed the police to book them under Section 174A of the IPC. The court also directed the police to procure the list of all properties in the name of the accused so that these could be attached to procure their appearance before the court. —TNS

'Veer naris' honoured

OUR CORRESPONDENT

ABOHAL, MARCH 5

As a part of the 50th anniversary celebrations of India's victory over Pakistan in the 1971 war, 'veer naris' were honoured by the Army during a function held at the Military Station today.

They were honoured in the presence of former servicemen. A 'victory torch march' was also organised. Children participated in 'run for fun'.

Four 'vijay mashals' have been sent to different parts of the country that would return to Delhi after completing the year-long tour. One of the 'mashals' was given a rousing reception recently at the Major Surinder Prasad Memorial, located near the alma mater of the 1965 war hero, who was awarded the Vir Chakra posthumously.

Act on complaints: MP, women panel to cops

PATIALA, MARCH 5

Manisha Gulati, chairperson,

Punjab State Women Commission, and MP Preneet Kaur, while reviewing police functioning in 11 districts, exhorted the personnel to ensure speedy disposal of complaints. A special Lok Adalat was held to dispose off the complaints lodged with the commission. As many as 42 grievances were taken up during the Lok Adalat.

Gulati reviewed the functioning of the police in relation to women's issues and efforts being taken to curb physical abuse of women and girls at schools, colleges, universities and public places.

She said the commission would keep a close eye on the performance of police stations, especially women police stations and take action against negligent police officials.

"Efforts should be made to settle marital disputes amicably and if possible, the grievances raised by female counterpart should not be brought to the notice of male counterpart, so that the family could be reunited through counselling," she said. She emphasised the need of counselling for girls before marriage, and education of boys to build harmony in families.

Preneet Kaur said the state had taken initiatives for empowerment of women by providing 33 per cent jobs to girls and 50 per cent reservation in local and panchayat elections. "We expect with better coordination between the commission and the police, women's issues will be resolved expeditiously," she said. —TNS

Funds not utilised, MP pulls up officials

₹1 CR RETURNED

BATHINDA, MARCH 5
Former Union minister Harsimrat Kaur Badal today slammed the Bathinda district administration for not utilising funds allocated as a Member of Parliament for various development and social welfare works.

Speaking to mediapersons here after heading the district development and monitoring committee (DISHA) meeting, where she pulled up officials for not performing their duties diligently, the MP said it was unfortunate the Members of Parliament Local Area Development Scheme (MPLADS) funds allocated for ration for the poor, pension, assistance to pregnant women and other development works had not been utilised by the administration.

She said during her tenure as MP from 2014 to 2019, funds amounting to Rs 1 crore allocated to Bathinda were returned unutilised.

"They still haven't used the funds for works allocated during the 16th Lok Sabha, while I have allocated funds under the 17th Lok Sabha."

The Bathinda MP said the district administration was depriving people of both development and welfare. The administration was not aware of central schemes such as Rs 10,000 assistance to 'rehriwalas' (street vendors), she claimed.

She urged the administration to complete waterworks projects in villages and recruit safai workers for hospitals.

Four days after being sealed, SBI office reopens in Abohar

ABOHAL, MARCH 5

The main branch office of the State Bank of India in the old grain market resumed work, as a team of the Municipal Corporation (MC), led by tax superintendent Vikram Dhuria, removed the seals put on the gates due to non-payment of rent dues. The customers thronged the complex for transactions.

During the ongoing dispute, the MC had also declared the bank building unsafe. The building was constructed in 1939 at the anaj mandi (grain market) to facilitate work by the state-owned Imperial Bank that was renamed as State Bank of India after the Independence. The grain market was shifted to a new complex on the outskirts of Abohar, a few years back. Last year, due to heavy rain, water had reportedly entered the basement of the SBI building. The bank management has initiated proceedings for search of a new building now.

As per the copy of the orders passed by the Bench of Justice Tejinder Singh Dhindsa, the pleadings by the bank reportedly indicated that an order was passed by the SDM-cum-Collector, Abohar, on December 15, 2020, pursuant to an application moved by the MC, directing eviction of the bank from the premises under the provisions of the Punjab Public Premises and Land (Eviction and Rent Recovery) Act, 1973. The petitioner-bank preferred an appeal in January 2021, along with an application seeking stay.

The appellate authority — Deputy Commissioner, Fazilka — has not taken up the appeal as also the application for stay, as he did not hold court. On the other hand, MC, Abohar, had proceeded further and sealed the premises. —OC

High Court on Thursday directed the MC to de-seal the SBI main branch office building that had been sealed on Monday reportedly due to default in payment of long-pending rent dues that the MC had assessed at about Rs 1 crore.

Abohar MC bans sale of drinks in plastic bottles

ABOHAL, MARCH 5

The Municipal Corporation has decided to ban the sale of beverages such as Pepsi, Coca Cola, Mazza, Kinley and Aquafina drinks in plastic bottles, within the limits of the city from March 13.

Abhijeet Kaplish, ADC-cum-Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, said the action had been taken under the Plastic Management

Rules-2016, as the cess imposed by the MC had not been paid by these companies. The cess was imposed to facilitate disposal of plastic waste in the city. The MC had imposed cess on sale of plastic-packed goods in the city on October 29, 2020. The Plastic Management Rules-2016 empower the local government to levy cess on disposal of such plastic waste. —OC

Misleading liveability

Need to ensure holistic, sustainable development of cities

BENGALURU and Shimla have been adjudged the 'most liveable' among 111 cities of India on the Ease of Living Index of the Union Housing and Urban Affairs Ministry. Not surprisingly, the respective state governments and city administrators are patting themselves on the back for having apparently done a good job. However, it would be fallacious to assume that 'all is well' with these cities or others with a high ranking. Though Bengaluru and Shimla are poles apart, what they have in common are their traffic and parking problems. In terms of traffic congestion, Bengaluru is one of the worst places in the world, according to the globally recognised TomTom index. The number of motor vehicles in the Karnataka capital is expected to reach 1 crore by 2022 — a staggering average of nearly one vehicle per person. The number of vehicles plying on Shimla's roads has more than doubled in 14 years. These worrying figures reflect poorly on the public transport system in both cities. There is no denying that prolonged and frequent traffic jams, considerable commuting time and inadequate parking facilities adversely impact the residents' quality of life.

Does clean air have nothing to do with ease of living? It's baffling that Gurugram, listed in the World Air Quality Report among the most polluted cities on the planet, figures as high as No. 8 on the liveability leader board. The flawed evaluation criterion gives weightage of 30 per cent to citizens' perception, which is a major factor contributing to a city's good, bad or ugly image.

The ranking race can offer no solution to vexed urban issues. Long-term planning and regular monitoring of projects are needed to ensure holistic and sustainable development of cities. The Smart Cities Mission, launched with fanfare in 2015, remains a work in progress, hampered by fund shortage and tardy implementation. The ongoing financial year has seen a yawning gap of around Rs 3,400 crore between the original and revised allocation for this mission. Such a half-hearted approach should be shunned if we want to make our cities actually liveable.

Punjab's debt burden

Resource mobilisation remains a challenge

THE projection by the Comptroller & Auditor General of India that Punjab's public debt would double in the next five years is a matter of grave concern. The CAG report says that new borrowings are being used to repay the earlier loans, leaving little for capital expenditure, and points out power subsidy given to the agriculture sector as one of the main reasons behind the state's poor economic condition. The report comes soon after NITI Aayog figures about Punjab's per capita income having slid to below the national average and its per capita capital expenditure being among the lowest in the country, affecting the state's development.

Power subsidy to the agriculture sector has for long been a bone of contention in Punjab, given its importance as the mainstay of the state's economy as also because of the politically sensitive nature of the constituents it caters to. Punjab faces handicaps in development on account of being a border state and the shifting of industries to neighbouring states has only added to the problem. The government's plans to engage its NRI population as a partner in development, for which a separate department of NRI Affairs was set up, have also been affected because of Covid and the lockdown, making additional resource mobilisation a challenge. Good governance and digital reforms have aimed at cutting costs even as the state claims inadequate financial compensation by the Centre.

The state has been demanding fiscal stimulus on the ground that states alone cannot meet all expenditure and that the Centre should fund all Central schemes and provide alongside non-fiscal aid to protect lives and livelihoods. The state should also explore the possibility of setting up ancillary units to supplement the industries being set up in its neighbourhood and also devise ways to reinvent its agriculture on a more ecologically sustainable model and incentivise it. The Centre, on its part, should not just identify debt-stressed states, but also formulate ways to look into their just demands.

LAHORE, SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1921

ORDER AGAINST MR. DAS.

WE have already briefly noticed the order issued by the Magistrate of Mymensingh prohibiting Mr. C.R. Das from entering that town. The order, as will have been seen from Mr. Das's letter, is under Section 144, Criminal Procedure Code, and not under the Defence of India Act. It is difficult to understand why the magistracy all over the country are having simultaneous recourse for a political purpose to a section which obviously was never intended to deal with political workers. Had the Defence of India Act been abandoned, there would have been some semblance of an excuse for the course they have been following. As a matter of fact, it is still being used in every case in which it suits the purpose of the authorities to use it. In our own Province, orders have within the last few days been served upon two of our most prominent public men under this Act. It has been even more freely used in the Frontier Province, in at least one case against a leader of all-India reputation and authority. Even the Bengal Government has not so far cancelled its order prohibiting Mr. Habib from entering or residing in that Province. If this is all that the acceptance of the Hon. Mr. Shastri's resolution has secured for us, the author of that resolution will, we believe, be the first person to regret that he ever took the action he did. We have from the first expressed the view that the application of Section 144 Cr. P. Code to political workers is illegal. That view has now been confirmed by a high legal authority, one of the highest in the country, one whose competence to express an opinion on the subject even the Government cannot deny. It was only the other day that the Government engaged Mr. Das to conduct some of its most important cases and either offered or actually paid him fabulous fees. Having done so, it cannot lie now to say that Mr. Das's opinion on this matter is of no value.

Haryana's local quota

The 'outsider' metaphor has always been an emotive political issue across India

AUNINDYO CHAKRAVARTY

SENIOR ECONOMIC ANALYST

DODGY: The Centre has played fast and loose with its commitments on GST compensation to states. PTI

HARYANA has a new law. If there are four private sector jobs available that pay up to Rs 50,000 a month, three of those will have to go to 'locals'. Much punditry has been expended on it, mostly against the decision. What interests me is the inherent revolt by the BJP-led government of Haryana against the Modi government at the Centre.

Modi was the first Prime Minister in three decades to get an absolute majority. He was the first one to repeat the feat since Indira Gandhi in 1971. All other governments have depended on regional parties to stay in power. This has ensured that India's inherent federal structure has remained intact. Indeed, in the coalition years between 1996 and 2009, when no party crossed 200 Lok Sabha seats, state governments acquired significant heft in deciding Central policies.

Since 2014, a single-party majority, along with BJP governments in most states, allowed PM Modi to increasingly concentrate power at the Centre and weaken federalism. GST was a prime example, where a supposed 'one nation, one tax' took away the rights of state governments to decide their own tax policies. The new farm laws are another example of this push towards centralisation of governmental authority. They give the Centre the powers to override any laws passed by state legislatures.

The Modi government's 'electoral economics' has also come at the cost of states. A chunk of its additional revenues come in the form of cesses and surcharges which do not need to be shared with state governments. It has played fast and loose with its commitments on GST compensation to states. Its policies of targeting handouts and benefits to the poorest under various schemes — PM Awas Yojana, PM Kisan, PM Ujjwala Yojana, PM Fasal Bima Yojana, PM Jan Dhan Yojana, PM Matri Vandana Yojana — might have been routed through states, but in the minds of the voter they are identified with Modi.

At the same time, various failures on the economic front have landed on the door of state leaders. So, we have seen BJP failing to form governments in various states which had overwhelmingly voted for Modi. Unemployment appears to be one such issue, where voters hold state governments responsible. Opinion polls during the 2019 Lok Sabha elections suggested that the lack of jobs was the biggest electoral issue. Yet, an overwhelming majority of those surveyed believed that the PM was not to blame for job losses.

This has caused a series of tensions between the Centre and states, including those ruled by the NDA. States have virtually no autonomy when it comes to economic policy, yet they face the blame for a bad economy. We saw some state governments flexing their muscles during the Covid lockdown months, stopping migrants at their borders, limiting who can enter, even talking about restricting medical help to locals. In effect, they were saying, our job is to look after our own people, not those who come from outside.

The 'outsider' metaphor has always been an emotive political issue across India, whether it is Maharashtra, Karnataka, Assam or, now, West Bengal. It should be seen as an aspect of the perpetual tension between the Indian nation-state's tendency to centralise and the various linguistic sub-nationalities to exert their autonomy. Local citizens believe that they should have the first right over jobs and resources in their 'own' land, and they get frustrated when the jobs go to migrants from 'outside' who are willing to work for less pay. Sub-nationalisms, therefore, often express themselves in the arena of jobs and education, which disappear as issues when the same 'citizen' deals with the Central government.

So, despite all the talk about 'one nation, one market' by the Modi sarkar, governments in BJP-ruled states have to cater to job-seekers in their own states. After all, when it comes to voting for Assembly elections, migrant workers will take leave and go back to vote in their home-states. Unemployed locals, in turn, will vote with their feet.

Haryana's case is especially precarious when it comes to unemployment. Take the data collected by the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy during September-December 2019, to avoid any distortions caused by the Covid-induced recession. Unemployment level amongst people in the state, who were willing to work, was 24%. The situation was even more stark when one looks at those between the age of 20-24 who are willing to work. The unemployment rate for such young people in Haryana was an incredible 70%.

As India was coming out of the lockdown, Haryana's unemployment rate, amongst those willing to work, had hit 33%. Similarly, youth unemployment (20-24 year age group) in September-December 2020 was at 85%. That means, only one in six young people who were willing to work, got a job.

One way to solve this problem would have been to create more government jobs and fill vacant posts in government and semi-government organisations. However, since state governments have no money and Central disbursements are contingent on how well they control their fiscal deficits, more government jobs are out of the question. In such a situation, the BJP-JJP alliance in the state has no option but to play on regional sentiments. What use are the shining buildings of Gurugram and the offices and factories in the state, if the people of Haryana don't get jobs?

Industry bodies and commentators will criticise this move to reserve jobs for locals. There are many provisions in the new law, which smack of a return to inspector raj. The cost of doing business will go up because of the massive compliance requirements the law introduces. There is a genuine danger that some companies might choose to quit Haryana. Some say this will destroy Haryana's impressive growth story. But politicians know that when it comes to state elections, you can't sell growth that provides no livelihood.

Ordeal of a rural science student

ANIRUDH DHANDA

ALL those who ever yearned to become doctors or engineers would have vivid memories of college laboratories and the putrid smells there. And those who were persistent actually made it to medical colleges.

We were a small group of students in a college in rural Punjab. We had to stay back in labs after theory classes and would be the last to walk out of the building. A girl in the science classes was a rarity and hence any chance of a science student having a girlfriend was an impossibility.

Smelling of formalin, we would be tired by the time we exited and walked languidly to the bus stop. Somehow, the smells from the labs clung on to our hands, our clothes and the whole of us. Yet, there was a feeling of pride. We were different from the run-of-the-mill 'others'. Sometimes, we even had a spring in our steps, thinking of the 'desh-sewa' we were preparing ourselves for.

Distance from the college to the bus stop was a good one and the sun glared over our heads during summer. Winter would not be any better. Students from the humanities wing would be basking in the sun chatting animatedly, while we cribbed, feeling incarcerated in the dimly lit, damp, smelly labs.

There were badminton courts just outside our physics lab. One's heart would beat out longing to play some shots when we were in the midst of a boring practical, the result of which was a foregone conclusion. Sound of badminton shots being played would make the exercise of removing paralax, while looking straight down into the mirror, a tough task.

Our teachers also had to stay longer than their fellow lecturers teaching languages, political science, economics, etc. But they could always sit in their chairs, out in the sun, leaving us under the charge of lab assistants. There must be some other teaching methods available today to make learning an interesting activity.

We were fighting the odds. Being in a rural area and having hardly any role models, we started with a heavy load of self-doubt, though that also gave us an excuse to feel okay even if we did not make it. Failure was an accepted norm, and making it to a professional college, an exception, particularly when one was to compete with students in colleges in the cities, Chandigarh being the closest, which had separate classes for students preparing for competitive exams.

We had to travel to Chandigarh for appearing in the entrance tests conducted by different colleges and institutions. Since the test would start early in the morning, we had to travel a day before and stay in a dharamshala for the night. I remember once we spent most of the evening going around in the city, and by the time we finished having dinner at a dhaba, the gate of the dharamshala had been locked for the night. Undeterred, we jumped the gates and slept on the bare cots lying in the verandah.

Things must have changed today, yet the gap between the city and the village remains to be bridged.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No room for dissent

Refer to 'Dissent is not sedition'; the dispensation at the Centre is under the illusion that every action, policy or programme rolled out by it is sacrosanct, unquestionable and the gospel truth. The invoking of the sedition law at the drop of a hat and unleashing investigating agencies against dissenters have become commonplace. Rather than taking criticism positively in its stride and undertaking requisite course correction, it chooses to crack down on its own citizens, whose only fault is a difference of opinion. Even outsiders are not spared. The latest report by the US-based 'Freedom House' that puts India under 'partly free' category speaks volumes and is an eye-opener. We must mend our ways before India is bracketed by the world along with our rogue northern neighbour.

DEEPAK SINGHAL, NOIDA

Perils of sedition law

The law of sedition as defined in Section 124 A of the IPC is a relic of British colonialism which was enforced to counter the Wahabi movement and subsequently became a tool to suppress freedom fighters. Certainly, parallels can be drawn today with regard to its usage. The provision has become an instrumentality of the Centre as well as the states to prevent people from vocalising dissent. This provision is legally antiquated and opposed to individual liberty, a principle embraced by the Constitution. Barring exceptional circumstances, the government has no role in regulating speech and dictating to people what they can and cannot say. Furthermore, the problem lies not merely in the substance of the provision but in the procedure, too. Sedition is a cognisable and non-bailable offence. The pre-trial process causes harassment to the arrested person. The law must either be repealed or amended to establish 'incitement to violence' as the sole standard capable of invoking this provision.

NISSIM AGGARWAL, CHANDIGARH

Dignity, above all

Apropos of 'No country for women', women are subjected to exploitation even in the four walls of their own home. Our society is male-dominated, where theoretically, there are many laws to grant rights to women, but practically their dignity is not intact. Every day, there are news reports of atrocities against the womenfolk. I remember the lines from Adrienne Rich's poem, Aunt Jennifer's Tigers — 'When Aunt is dead, her terrified hands will lie still ringed with ordeals she was mastered by.' The same applies to women even today. They are treated cruelly. It is time for women to gather on a common platform and fight collectively for their rights. The men need to respect women's dignity, irrespective of her rank and position.

BIR DEVINDER SINGH BEDI, SANGRUR

'Think local' overdrive

We hear about one-India one-ration card. Integrity of India and integration of Indians signal assurance of our national pride and identity. But then, we have legislation in certain states, reserving 75% jobs for local people. In principle, the Centre is empowered under Article 16 (3) to offer domicile-based preference in public employment. Do states have such power? Strangely, one state after another is intent on such legislation, especially with regard to blue-collar jobs. You can have labourers from other states. Our Constitution does not permit discrimination based on place of birth.

LALIT MOHAN SHARMA, DHARAMSALA

Punjab's debt

The news 'Pb debt to double in five years: CAG' is not good for the state. Punjab is a developed state, but with such a huge debt, it might fall in a debt trap. The development of the state will be hampered. The government should now give importance to the generation of more revenue and unnecessary subsidies should be discarded. As far as possible, cheap politics to lure people to create a vote bank should be done away with.

A long struggle

Reference to '100 days of farm stir': Farmers hold their ground, but no solution in sight; it was unusual to learn that the farmers had taken out a 'shay yatra' of the Centre at Tikri following no solution being in sight even after the expiry of 100 days of their unending struggle. Despite taking a recourse to 'chakkajam', holding mahapanchayats, mobilising support, blocking roads and organising countrywide 'rail roko' programme, nothing appears to be working in their favour. The farmers should shed their extant demand for the repeal of the new farm laws, if they wish to amicably resolve this matter.

A survival battle for Cong amid rising dissent

POLITICAL COMMENTATOR

THE optics could not have been worse for the Congress on the eve of a crucial round of Assembly polls. As it battles to reclaim governments in Kerala and Assam, pull its weight as an ally in Tamil Nadu and defend what's left of its turf in West Bengal and Puducherry, it's also struggling to extinguish fires in its backyard.

It lost its government in Puducherry with a slew of defections to the BJP just before the election dates were announced. A day after the Election Commission sounded the poll bugle, old fault lines resurfaced with fresh salvos from the G-23, as the group of dissidents has come to be known after it shot off a protest letter to Sonia Gandhi last summer. The letter was a stinging indictment of Rahul Gandhi's leadership, although the writers were careful not to name him.

The latest attacks from the dissident group were least expected. A public meeting in Jammu lamenting the weakening of the Congress, tweets from Shimla questioning the alliance with the Muslim cleric-led Indian Secular Front in Bengal and now reports of another G-23 event in Haryana. All this amid moves by Sonia Gandhi to break up the dissenters by co-opting a select few. The Congress cuts a sorry figure at a time when it should be putting its best foot forward to script a comeback of sorts.

It should be evident to the Gandhis by now that simmering resentment in the party is reaching the boiling point. The continuing opacity on the leadership question (will Rahul Gandhi take over as president or won't he), a shrinking national footprint (the Congress heads only two state governments now and is a very junior partner in two others) and growing uncertainty about the Gandhi family's appeal as vote-catchers are taking their toll. The party's morale has never been this low.

Although few in the Congress will say so openly, time is running out for the Gandhis. The impatience with Rahul Gandhi is palpable. His coterie may try to silence the critics by accusing them of secretly cohabiting with the BJP, but the issues flagged by the G-23 are increasingly finding resonance both inside the party and outside in the public at large.

The upcoming elections could well prove to be a watershed. If Mamata Banerjee is fighting for survival against a rampaging BJP in West Bengal, this round has become a do-or-die battle for Rahul Gandhi too. He must deliver a victory in at least one if not both the states in which the Congress is the primary challenger — Kerala and Assam — to secure his future as Congress president. Another failure will only swell the ranks of the G-23.

There seems to be a glimmer of realisation that the family's unquestioned dominance of the party is under threat for the first time since Indira Gandhi lost the 1977 election, leading to a split in the Congress. This is evident from the way the brother and sister duo of Rahul and Priyanka have thrown themselves into the campaign for these elections.

HIGH VISIBILITY: This time, Rahul Gandhi has parked himself in the South for electioneering. PTI

With the exception of the 2017 Gujarat Assembly poll, Rahul Gandhi's style has been to flit in and out of poll-bound states and leave the heavy lifting to local leaders. In last year's Bihar election, for instance, after squeezing as many as 70 seats from a reluctant RJD, Rahul Gandhi hardly showed his face during the campaign. In fact, he disappeared for a holiday.

This time, the Gandhis have surprised the rank and file with an altogether different strategy ensuring high visibility of both brother and sister. Not only has Rahul Gandhi parked himself in the South for the entire duration of electioneering, he has also dispatched Priyanka Vadra to Assam. This is Priyanka Vadra's first campaign foray outside of UP, a move to signal seriousness of intent.

They are also throwing up multiple touchy-feely photo-ops. Like Rahul Gandhi's Bollywood moment when he jumped into the sea fully clothed, mask and all, to woo Kerala fisher folk. Twitterati was dazzled by his fitness, as evident from his dripping wet T-shirt when he emerged from the water.

In Assam, Priyanka Vadra borrowed from grandmother Indira Gandhi's playbook by plucking tea with tea garden workers in Assam and dancing with them. More importantly, there have been efforts apparently to correct organisational weaknesses in the two important states. Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel has been roped in to help with booth management and voter outreach in Assam. In Kerala, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot has been pressed into service.

Interestingly, the Congress has also resurrected former Kerala chief Oommen Chandy to strengthen its ranks. While this has created some discord with the Leader of Opposition Ramesh Chennithala, the Congress seems to have decided to follow the BJP's tactics in West Bengal of calling all hands on deck.

The result day, May 2, will tell us whether the Gandhis have managed to steady their ship. Rahul Gandhi desperately needs a victory to silence the naysayers and prove his relevance to his party.

Sustainability of economic recovery a challenge

SUSHMA RAMACHANDRAN

SENIOR FINANCIAL JOURNALIST

India, as the world's third biggest oil importer, now has the twin worries of a mounting oil import bill in 2021-22 and the prospects of higher inflation due to the pass-through effect of enhanced fuel prices. There is also considerable public outrage over the retail prices of petrol crossing ₹100 per litre. A more holistic, long-term approach to resource mobilisation needs to be taken right now on the oil front. The government must cut excise duties on oil products.

GOOG news comes in small doses nowadays. The latest data for the third quarter (October to December) of 2020-21 shows gross domestic product (GDP) growth of 0.4 per cent indicating that the economy is finally on the upswing.

The full year will still end with a contraction of 8 per cent, higher than the earlier prediction of 7.7 per cent. Even so, it appears the economy is clawing back to normalcy slowly. There is an inherent fragility, however, in the data despite the unexpected spurt in some sectors like construction, financial services, real estate and even some movement in manufacturing.

It looks like a V-shaped recovery at first glance, but could conceivably disappoint, if positive indicators do not deepen in the next few quarters. One of the biggest uncertainties is the lack of information about the informal sector which is never adequately captured in the official data. This area has been hardest hit by the pandemic and would have been struggling even in the third quarter which has shown a return to positive growth.

The other segment that is continuing to face pain is travel, tourism and hospitality. The data shows a contraction of 7.7 per cent in this sector, a slight improvement from the 15 per cent decline in the previous quarter. There has visibly been some improvement in the restaurant and hotel business from December onwards, but this is only relative to the complete shutdown of the previous months. Many hotels that rely on foreign tourist occupancy are continuing to see vacant capacities, though most are resorting to discounts for the staycations that are so much favoured now by millennials.

The sector was a letdown in the Budget as well. The pre-Budget hopes of a special package for travel and tourism failed to materialise at a time when the industry needed support in a big way. This is a hugely labour-intensive sector and the tepid revival so far has meant continuing loss of livelihoods for millions, including migrant workers.

The Centre for Monitoring the Indian Economy (CMIE) has accurately captured the impact of such job losses in both the urban and rural economies in its recent studies. These show an unemployment rate of 6.9 per cent for February, rising from 6.53 per cent in the previous month.

Hospitality and travel are also among the sectors that are likely to revive quickly in case the current vaccination drive is a success. In fact, the entire process of economic revival is critically dependent on the effectiveness of the vaccination programme and, in turn, the prospect of herd immunity. It may not be a factor affecting the final GDP growth data for 2020-21, which will be available in May this year, but it will have a significant impact on the current fiscal.

In a pandemic year, one must go beyond the usual parameters to predict economic growth. The impact of Covid and whether there will be another surge in March and April has to be taken into account. Mass vaccinations are thus bound to play a role in economic recovery.

The other key element in the growth process is the fuel prices and resultant inflationary pressures. The government took advantage of the collapse in world crude oil prices last year to raise excise duties. It would be difficult to fault such opportunism at a time when other revenue sources had dried up owing to the lockdown. Besides, there was no change then in consumer prices of petroleum products owing to low base rates.

Now things have changed. International oil markets are showing a hardening trend with demand rising and inventories having been drawn down. The Saudi Arabia-led OPEC is continuing production cuts in tandem with other major producers like Russia to ensure that prices continue their upward trend.

India, as the world's third biggest oil importer, now has the twin worries of a mounting oil import bill in 2021-22 and the prospects of higher inflation due to the pass-through effect of enhanced fuel prices. There is also considerable public outrage over the retail prices of petrol crossing ₹100 per litre.

A more holistic, long-term approach to resource mobilisation needs to be taken right now on the oil front. The government must cut excise duties on oil products to reduce the burden on the consumer as also to minimise the cascading effect on the economy. Inflationary pressures will build up rapidly owing to high fuel prices even though price rise has so far been contained at around 4 per cent. Industries are already gearing up to raise prices across the board to deal with the impact of soaring fuel rates.

The delicate economic recovery could easily be derailed by a push to inflation at this sensitive juncture. So, it would be wise economics as also politics for the Finance Ministry to cut excise duties to more reasonable levels. States which have similarly been milking oil products by levying high taxes also need to pause and formulate more rational policies.

One of the plus points emerging, however, from the third quarter data is the higher growth in the construction as well as real estate sectors. This augurs well not just for the development of infrastructure but also for employment as these economic segments have always been drivers for economic growth. Much will depend, however, on the growth of government expenditure in the fourth quarter as it will have to pick up pace compared to the first half of the year.

And finally, the marginal recovery has yet to be reflected in small and medium business enterprises which are still in trouble. The manufacturing sector revival of 1.6 per cent is more the result of large enterprises getting back to full operations. Smaller units are still waiting for a bigger pickup in demand. This is again a labour-intensive area and the slow pace of recovery means continuing job losses.

The third-quarter performance has thus shown the economy is out of the trough. But whether it will get back to a rising path in a sustained way is a question dependent on a host of factors, including the progress of Covid-19 and the fate of the vaccination programme.

Pant turns the tables

Scores stunning hundred; From 146/5, India reach 294/7 to secure significant lead

AHMEDABAD, MARCH 5

Rishabh Pant scored a magnificent century, blending caution with aggression to help India seize control on Day 2 of the fourth and final Test against England today. India finished the day at a robust 294/7, already 89 runs ahead and Washington Sundar (60*) and Axar Patel (11*) looking good for a few more.

England dominated the first two sessions and India looked in all sorts of trouble at 146/6. However, it was then that Pant suddenly decided to catch the opposition by the scruff of their necks, effortlessly changing gears to score 101 off 118 balls, smashing the last 46 runs of his innings off only 26 balls. He added 113 runs for the seventh wicket with Sundar, who again batted with responsibility and aggression to defy the English attack. Their rollicking stand of 113 came off 26 overs as the two left-handers poured cold water on England's hopes of securing the lead.

For someone who has always been criticised for his lack of game awareness, Pant showed great temperament today, defending when it was necessary, and unlocking his brutal attacking instincts when required.

The first 50 of his innings came off 82 balls and the next off 33 balls, with Sundar playing the ideal foil, holding one end en route to his third half-century in Test cricket.

England paid the price for playing a bowler short as their main four got tired during the final session.

In Virender Sehwag-style, Pant deposited Dom Bess

over midwicket for a six to complete his third Test hundred, and the first at home, having missed at least five in recent times.

When he finally got out, captain Joe Root's frustrated expression showed that the game had slipped out of England's grip as they conceded 141 runs in the third session. Pant hit 13 fours and two sixes during an innings which is likely to prove decisive in the context of the match and series. — TNS, agencies

See ball and react, that's my style: Pant

Rishabh Pant said he has got the licence to go for his shots on most occasions but considering the game situation today, he had to bide time before going for his strokes. When asked about the reverse-scoop he played against James Anderson, Pant said: "You have to pre-meditate reverse-flicks, but if luck is going your way you can take the odd chance. I get the license most of the time, but I have to assess the situation and take the game head on. If the bowlers are bowling well, respect it and take the singles. I like to play the situation and I just see the ball and react, that's the USP of my game," he said. PTI

India, China attempt to cool tension as US plans Quad meet

SANDEEP DIKSHIT
TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, MARCH 5 India today hoped that China would work towards ensuring that disengagement in the remaining areas in eastern Ladakh is completed at the earliest.

This aspect was emphasised by External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar in a telephonic conversation with Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi last week. The External Affairs Minister had emphasised that with the completion of disengagement in the Pangong Lake area, the two sides should now move quickly to resolve the remaining issues along the LAC in eastern Ladakh, said MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava at the weekly media briefing.

Interestingly, these attempts by India and China to cool tensions on their land border come amid concerted attempts by the Biden administration to keep afloat the Quad grouping of India, the US, Japan and Australia aimed at containing China in the South China Sea.

INDIA ASKS CHINA FOR SPEEDY DISENGAGEMENT ON LAC

■ External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar had a telephonic conversation with Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi last week.

■ He emphasised that with the completion of disengagement in the Pangong Lake area, the two sides should now move quickly to resolve the remaining issues along the LAC in eastern Ladakh.

Joe Biden has proposed a step up in the engagement through a virtual summit this month with PMs Narendra Modi, Yoshihide Suga (Japan) and Scott Morrison (Australia).

Srivastava went on to add that the Indian expectation was that the Chinese side would work, both through the WMCC and Senior Commanders' meetings, to effect a speedy disengagement. The Senior Military Commanders, in their last meeting held on February 20, had also noted that the disengagement in the Pangong Lake area provided a good basis for the resolution of other remaining issues along the LAC in the Western Sector.

India maintains that maintenance of peace and tranquility along the LAC was essential for the development of bilateral relations and that a prolongation of the existing situation was not in the interest of either side. The two ministers have also agreed to establish a hotline, details of which will be worked out subsequently through diplomatic channels.

Sanyukta Morcha yet to take call on whom to pit against Mamata

TTRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, MARCH 5 Constituents of the Sanyukta Morcha of West Bengal, comprising the Left Front, Congress and newly formed Indian Secular Front (ISF), have failed to decide who will contest from Nandigram.

Traditionally, the seat has fallen in the share of the CPI. However, Abbas Siddiqui, the Islamic cleric who floated the ISF has expressed desire for putting up a candidate of his outfit from the seat.

Nandigram is in the spotlight because CM Mamata Banerjee will contest from the seat. Muslim vote is an important component in Nandigram and the ISF's entry can ultimately help the cause of the BJP candidate from the seat.

While announcing candidates for the 60 seats going to polls in the first two phases (30 seats in each phase) in the state, Biman Bose, CPI(M) leader and convenor of the Morcha, said a candidate for Nandigram, where polling would take place in the second phase on April 1, would be announced later.

"Nandigram has become heavyweight constituency," Bose said. Egra, Kashipur and Garbeta (first phase) and Pingla and Daspur (second phase) are the other constituencies that the Morcha has not allocated to any of its members yet.
