Power play: AAP pledges 300 free units

Kejriwal unveils poll agenda | Promises to waive inflated bill dues, ensure 24x7 supply

RUCHIKA M KHANNA

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29 AAP supremo and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal today announced 300 units of free power for each household in Punjab if the party is voted to power. For the youth, he said he would soon share a plan to end rampant unemployment in the state.

Unveiling the AAP's agenda for the 2022 Assembly elections, interestingly, Kejriwal initially said electricity would be free only if the consumers consumed just 300 units. If it is more than 300 units, the consumers will have to pay for the entire power consumed. He was flanked by Raghav Chadha, MP Bhagwant Mann and recent inductee in the party, Kunwar Vijay Pratap Singh.

Later, as his statement drew a sharp reaction from various quarters, including his own party men during a meeting with leaders at UT Guest House, he retracted the statement and through a press

WHAT AAP NATIONAL CONVENER SAID ON

FARMERS' STIR

We support farmers' agitation. The Centre should accept the demands of farmers who have been struggling for the past seven months. Their demands are justified.

SCRAPPING PPAs

We will scrap these PPAs (power purchase agreements). Punjab is a power-surplus state. We can always buy cheaper power than paying hefty sums to private companies.

SACRILEGE ISSUE

It is clear that there is collusion between the two political parties. That is why the SIT report prepared by Kunwar Sahib was dismissed. We will bring all guilty to book.

STOLE OUR AGENDA FOR POLITICAL GAINS, SAYS CONGRESS

Chandigarh: The Congress has accused the AAP of stealing its agenda of giving 200 units of free power to consumers. Minister Charanjit Singh Channi said days after party leadership asked the state government to announce free power, Arvind Kejriwal stole the agenda for political gains. Senior leader Raj Kumar Verka said the decision had upset the AAP, so it tried to pre-empt the Congress initiative. TNS release said his promise was to charge tariff on only those units consumed over and above 300 free power units. "With this, 77.80 per cent of consumers will get zero power bill," he said, adding farmers would continue to get free power and industrial consumers the subsidy. Punjab already provides 200 units of free power to 15 lakh consumers belonging to Scheduled Castes, Backward classes, BPL and minorities. However, as of now, they have to pay for only excess power (over and above 200 units). The outgo on providing the free power is Rs 1,600 crore per annum. Sources in the power department say rough estimates for giving 300 units of free power to all 75 lakh consumers in the state are Rs 8,500 crore.

Kejriwal also said Punjab would get uninterrupted power supply, just like Delhi. He announced all domestic consumers whose bills were unsettled because of being inflated, will get relief as these will be written off. Asked about how a cash-strapped state like Punjab would be able to offer such a huge subsidy, Kejriwal said there were enough resources available. "Leaders here have only been supporting mafia. If we can provide free power in Delhi by increasing our revenues manifold, we can do it here as well," he said.

A Congress meet that was not to be

Sidhu in Delhi, Rahul says 'no' engagement

CHANDIGARH/NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

Hours after former Punjab minister Navjot Singh Sidhu left his Patiala residence for the much-talked-about meeting with former Congress president Rahul Gandhi in Delhi, the latter ruled out any such engagement with Sidhu as he left his residence to meet party chief Sonia Gandhi this evening.

"No meeting with Sidhu (Navjot Singh Sidhu)," Rahul told waiting mediapersons outside his residence.

Sidhu is learnt to have arrived in New Delhi for the meeting. His office had yesterday confirmed he would meet Rahul and Priyanka Gandhi.

Sources in the AICC said there was "no meeting scheduled between him and the Gandhis as of now". Efforts to reach out to Sidhu's office remained futile.

With reports of Sidhu's meeting with the Gandhis going viral, sources did not rule out the possibility of the party's top leadership being unhappy over the buzz. They may now try to reschedule it and keep it under wraps. The meeting may take place in the coming days, it is learnt.

However, there was no confirmation whether Sidhu met Priyanka separately or not. "As the meeting between the Gandhis and Capt Amarinder Singh is yet to happen, reports of party's top leadership meeting Sidhu before the CM could create further problems in the state unit, which is already facing crisis," said a senior party leader. —TNS

Despite rift, party united: Ashwani

GURDASPUR, JUNE 29

Former Union minister Ashwani Kumar today said despite differences, the state Congress stood united and the "PPCC was one big family where party men always come together when faced with a challenge."

"Senior Congressmen may hold different opinions and perspectives on an issue but at the end of the day they all are united. There are many who are fishing in troubled waters by taking advantage of the prevailing situation. All these people will be disappointed as they will not be able to create a wedge in the party," he said.

He said Navjot Singh Sidhu was a "valued member of the party" and that he should be fully involved in the election campaign. "He should be adjusted in a suitable capacity by the high command," said Kumar, adding, "All Congressmen should have a sense of belonging. Three time ex-MLA Ashwani Sekhri's grievances should be looked into as he is a veteran leader." —TNS

State must get liberty to retain retd staffer: HC

SAURABH MALIK

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29 The Punjab and Haryana High Court has made it clear that the state, although a welfare one, was required to be given the liberty to choose an employee it wanted to retain beyond the statutory period of service. Being an employer, the state is better equipped to adjudicate an employee's suitability to continue.

The Bench of Justice Jaswant Singh and Justice Sant Parkash also made it clear that the decision to retain or let go an employee beyond the retirement age was required to be "within the four corners of settled principles of service jurisprudence".

The ruling came on an appeal by a Punjab Police DSP who was seeking actual pay for the entire second extension period. The matter was placed before the Bench after his plea was declined by a Single Judge on "no work no pay" principle.

The appellant was to retire at 58 on February 28, 2018, but was granted a year's extension from March 1, 2018, to February 28, 2019. The extension order was, however, withdrawn following the issuance of a chargesheet pursuant to certain orders passed by a judicial magistrate on the allegation of misconduct and the HC directions.

A stay order in his favour continued till his first extension period was over. After rounds of litigation, he was granted says employer better judge of worker extension in service from January 24, 2020, till February 28, 2020. As such the petitioner did not work from March 1, 2019, till January 24, 2020, and there was no extension in service period from March 1, 2019, till January 23, 2020.

The Bench asserted it was clear that the order declining the first extension was not put to judicial scrutiny on merits. The subsequent order declining the second extension was also set aside on a technical ground that the chargesheet was not pending against the appellant at the time of passing fresh orders. The state's willingness to continue with the employee's services was never adjudicated on merits and he was able to continue by taking aid of technicalities.

As such, the Single Judge rightly declined to grant the actual pay benefits to appellant for the time he had not worked. "Once the appellant relinquished charge on the completion of first extension, some other officer would have taken over the duties and discharged the functions, whereas all this time the appellant was before the court trying to cling on to a job from which he had originally superannuated on the completion of 58 years of service," the Bench asserted. Dismissing his appeal, the Bench added he had no vested right to continue.

The elections in Punjab are due in February-March next year. Referring to the BSP-SAD alliance, she urged party activists to

Plea against jobs to MLAs' kin dismissed

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29

A petition challenging Punjab Cabinet's decision to give government jobs to the sons of party MLAs Fatehjung Bajwa and Rakesh Pandey today failed to find favour with the Punjab and Haryana High Court. The petition, as per the High Court website, was "dismissed". Detailed orders were not yet available.

The petition was filed by advocate Bikramjit Singh Bajwa against the Union of India, Ministry of Home Affairs and other respondents. Bajwa had sought directions to apply brakes to the appointments given on compassionate grounds. —TNS

Ensure victory of alliance, Maya tells cadre

RAVI S SINGH

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

Upping the ante in Punjab, BSP supremo Mayawati has asked the cadre to ensure the success of party's alliance with the SAD in the upcoming Assembly elections.

"The cadre must ensure victory on all seats being contesting by the alliance in the Punjab Assembly elections," Mayawati told party leaders during a meeting to review the working of party's Delhi unit.

The elections in Punjab are due in February-March next year. Referring to the BSP-SAD alliance, she urged party activists to

ROBUST EFFORT NEEDED

In the larger interest of the people of the state, a robust effort by the BSP is imperative. Mayawati, BSP SUPREMO ensure its victory on all seats. "In the larger interest of the people and to ensure they are liberated from the failed Congress government, a robust effort by the BSP is imperative," Mayawati told party functionaries.

"The present Congress government is ridden with internal squabbles and factionalism. The party's internal feud has led to neglect of public issues and welfare of the people for long," she said.

Mayawati further said in the present situation, people had hopes from the SAD-BSP alliance.

BSP's moves in Punjab will be keenly watched by the Congress, BJP, and the AAP, which has all the more reason to worry.

Mayawati's meteoric rise in the state is generally attributed to the support of a sizeable chunk of Scheduled Caste voter, and other poorer and weaker sections of the society.

The state has a high percentage of SC population, which the SAD would like to wean away with BSP support.

Party founder late Kanshi Ram hailed from the state. He launched his campaign to mobilise SCs ("Bahujan Samaj") politically.

After strenuous efforts, he took the campaign across the country, following which Uttar Pradesh emerged as the BSP citadel, with Mayawati becoming the Chief Minister, and its supreme after his demise.

Govt medics to strike work on Doctors' Day

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29

Government doctors will observe strike across the state to mark Doctors' Day on Thursday.

Government doctors led by the Joint Punjab Government Doctors Coordination Committee are protesting against the 6th Pay Commission's recommendation of decrease and de-linking of the non-practicing allowance from the basic pay. The doctors will suspend OPDs and medicolegal work on July 1.

Dr Gagandeep Singh, senior vice-president, PCMS Association, said as part of the protest, they would suspend all medico-legal work, including post-mortem. However, doctors would perform their duties in cases related to rape victims.

He said they would intensify their struggle and discuss suspending other services as well. On Monday, a government team had invited doctors for negotiations, but the meeting remained inconclusive, as the doctors insisted on a full-panel meeting led by ministers. —TNS

Rajiv, however, said he had given a letter to the police apprehending threat to his life. On Rajiv's statement, an FIR has been registered against two unidentified miscreants. —OC

Muktsar farmers protest irregular power supply

MUKSAR, JUNE 29

Upset over erratic power supply and closure of canals, a large number of farmers in Muktsar district are staging protest against the state government. Some farmers have also pitched in a tent on the Muktsar-Ferozepur highway at Marhamali village here. A farmer activist Nirmal Singh Jassee even started indefinite hunger strike there.

Jassee said: "A large number of villages are affected due to closure of canals. The paddy crop requires adequate amount of water at this stage, but the authorities concerned have closed the canals in the name of cleanliness. Under-ground water here is unfit for irrigation and if used in fields at this stage, it may even affect the yield." He said: "See the callousness of the officials concerned that none has so far visited our protest site. They are sitting in their air-conditioned offices and playing with the lives of farmers." —TNS

BATHINDA, JUNE 29

Transporters today accused SAD leader and former MLA Sarup Chand Singla of defaming transporters over its illegal mining allegations at Guru Nanak Dev Thermal Plant (GNDTP) land in Bathinda. Transporters today visited the GNDTP land to inquire about the illegal mining of sand.

Out of vax, Capt turns to Centre

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29
With the state running out of Covishield and left with just 1,12,821 doses of Covaxin, CM Capt Amarinder Singh today reiterated the demand for more vaccine from the central stock to vaccinate the entire 18-45 years population in the next two months.

Though he ordered opening of vaccination to the entire 18-45 population, the CM said efforts would focus on covering the categories prioritised earlier.

The state government had set a target to immunise all eligible people in two months, followed by the second vaccine dose as per schedule. Currently, 4.8 per cent of the state's eligible population is fully vaccinated, with Mohali leading the chart in both first and second shot. Taking stock of the vaccination progress at a Covid review virtual meeting, the CM noted that the government had already vaccinated more than 62 lakh eligible persons and had been utilising the stock without any wastage.

Target to immunise all in two months

However, he noted that there was gross shortage of vaccine. Pointing out that the state had been repeatedly taking up the issue of inadequate doses with the Centre, he said this assumed critical importance as Punjab had slowly been opening up sectors conditional to stakeholders having taken at least one dose.

He said he would take up the matter again with the Union Health Minister on urgent basis and escalate it to the Prime Minister, if needed.

Health Minister Balbir Sidhu questioned the large number of doses received by BJP-ruled states Haryana and Gujarat.

At a high-level Covid review meeting, the CM made it clear that bars, pubs and taverns would have to strictly maintain social distancing and the employees should have taken at least one shot of vaccine, which needs to be ensured by the owners.

He expressed satisfaction over the decline in positivity

Chief Secretary Vini Mahajan said genome sampling of 489 samples — 276 sent in April, 100 in May and 113 in June — were still pending with the central lab. She said the Delta plus variant was detected in samples sent by the state government in May, the results of which were given recently.

The CM ordered fast-tracking of a whole genome sequencing lab at the GMCH, Patiala, in association with an international NGO, PATH, to make it operational by July. He also ordered stepping up of genome sequences of cases reported from clusters in limited geographical, institutional or superspreader event area to check the spread of third wave.

Of the 198 contacts of the Ludhiana patient traced and tested, one was found positive and the sample has been sent for genome sequencing,

Stock dries up, drive suspended in Muktsar

MUKTSAR, JUNE 29

With the stocks drying up, the vaccination drive has been suspended in Muktsar with no one getting the jab on Tuesday. On Monday, just 900 persons got vaccinated against 8,000 daily count last week.

Sources in the Health Department said there was no fresh supply from the headquarters. "The supply is likely to arrive in two-three days," said a senior official. Residents, however, said, "The authorities were recently holding several vaccination camps and today, the stock dried up. They should plan the drive according to the stock availability." —TNS

Bail plea dismissed in Tikri sexual abuse case

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

CHANDIGARH, JUNE 29

Just over a month after an FIR was registered for the alleged sexual exploitation of an activist at the Tikri border in Bahadurgarh during her stay to participate in the ongoing farmers' agitation, the Punjab and Haryana High Court today "dismissed" the anticipatory bail plea of an accused in the matter.

In his petition placed before the Bench of Justice Jasgurpreet Singh Puri, accused Ankur submitted that he was being unnecessarily harassed and humiliated by the police even though his name was not mentioned at any stage by the victim or her father in the complaint.

The FIR in the matter was registered on May 9 at Bahadurgarh's city police station in Jhajjar district of Haryana. As per the allegations, a delegation of six, including the petitioner, claiming to be the members of the Kisan Social Army, reached West Bengal as part of the campaign by the Sanyukt Kisan Morcha.

The victim met the group during the tour and joined the group on April 11 to travel to Delhi.

On April 24, she developed cough and difficulty in breathing before being admitted to a hospital where she was diagnosed with Covid. On April 29, her father reached the hospital and she alleged that she had been sexually exploited in a tent.

Prioritise job creation

Restoring livelihoods the key to economic recovery

THE Central Government has announced a slew of measures as part of a stimulus package aimed at revitalising the economy, which has been left battered by the second wave of Covid-19. Things had started looking up earlier this year as the January-March quarter witnessed a GDP growth of 1.6 per cent, but the havoc wreaked by the virus in April-May negated the gains. Now, with the daily case-load dropping to less than 40,000 and millions of vaccine doses being given every day, this is an opportune time to step up economic activity and restore it to pre-Covid levels. The Rs 1.1 lakh crore loan guarantee scheme for the pandemic-hit sectors, including Rs 50,000 crore for the top-priority health sector, is expected to provide much-needed liquidity support. However, economic recovery will be patchy unless adequate attention is paid to job creation and revival of livelihoods.

The Atmanirbhar Bharat Rozgar Yojana, which seeks to incentivise employers for the creation of new employment along with social security benefits and restoration of jobs lost during the pandemic, is still a work in progress. The situation on the ground continues to be bleak. India's employment rate, regarded as the best barometer of the performance of labour markets, is struggling to pick up. The rate had largely stayed above 37 per cent between July 2020 and March 2021; it dropped to 36.8 per cent in April this year and 35.3 per cent in May, and has barely touched 36 per cent this month. About 73.5 lakh salaried and non-salaried people lost their jobs in April 2021, according to the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy. The silver lining is that the unemployment rate is recording a decline after the mayhem of May.

While the migrant workers bore the brunt of the first wave and the nationwide lockdown, the second wave spared neither the poor nor the middle class in terms of infections, deaths and job losses. The alarming positivity and fatality rates severely impacted consumption and consumer confidence. Doles such as free ration can help only in the short term. What's needed are jobs—a prerequisite for financial security and economic buoyancy.

Second wave burden

Newer strains too aggressive even for healthy, young

THE preceding second wave of Covid-19 has left a shift in the pattern of the disease and its effect. Unlike the first wave when the elderly and those with comorbidities were considered more vulnerable, the calamitous March-June period of 2021 has unfolded a departure that points to the young and healthy also being highly susceptible to contracting the coronavirus. Mortality data from the health departments of many states, including Haryana, shows that patients with no underlying comorbid conditions accounted for nearly 50 per cent of the deaths in the recent couple of months. Also, the fatality figures in the younger age segments were higher than those of last year. It is also observed that Covid-19 leaves a trail of side effects on patients even long after testing negative, such as compromised lungs, fatigue, aches or loss of taste and smell.

Besides the more aggressive and transmissible newer virus strains hitting the country, this trend is being attributed to people becoming complacent or delaying testing or treatment after getting the symptoms. Compounding the situation was the lack of proper medical care available as the healthcare system collapsed under the overwhelming weight of the second wave. Another significant factor is that the younger lot remained unfortified as vaccination for them was opened much later and the shots were in short supply.

All these are matters of concern and call for a constantly evolving strategy to keep ahead of the mutating variants of the pathogen. Indeed, the unprecedentedly tragic wave has shaken the nation out of its self-congratulatory mode of overcoming the virus. It should alert both the public and healthcare experts to be on their toes in order to keep the virus at bay. Individually, it is incumbent upon each one of us to strictly adhere to Covid-appropriate protocol and consult the doctor immediately in case of suspected symptoms. The authorities need to tailor the pandemic management plan as per the unfolding scenario, along with being prepared in advance for possible eventualities. And, most importantly, ensure that there is no let-up in the vaccination goal. It is the key defence in the battle against the virus.

Without Blinkers

If a dictatorship is to be ousted from power and another kind of government put in its place, the prime agent for accomplishing the change must be the population that lives under it. The propriety of placing the responsibility on foreign governments is doubtful except, of course, in extraordinary circumstances. Mrs. Gandhi was only restating the classic doctrine when she told the Opposition leaders that the fight for Bangla Desh had essentially to be waged by the people of East Bengal and that even instant recognition of Free Bangla Desh by India would not help the freedom fighters. She also did well to caution the country against any loose talk of war as that would only help Pakistan get more arms aid and also supply the pretext for Pakistan's friends to offer such aid. The Indian reaction to President Yahya Khan's terms of a settlement has naturally been one of indignation. But if anybody had thought he would offer anything better, he was living in a fool's paradise. It is not Sheikh Mujibur Rahman who has emerged as the winner of the battle, but President Yahya Khan. The Sheikh may emerge as the winner of the war, but that is another story. If President Yahya Khan had wanted to concede the six points of the Sheikh, he could have done so in the beginning without a drop of blood being shed. To expect him to concede these demands when he has East Bengal at his foot is to expect the impossible. He has said that the Sheikh had told him that six points were negotiable and that later he went back upon it. The world has no means of knowing the Sheikh's version at any rate for the present. Pakistan has been singularly unlucky in its quest for a constitution.

Age of instant enlightenment

Like fast food, even love or religiosity has to be consumed quickly

RIGHT NOW: The 'spiritual industry' is manufacturing all sorts of products that, like other consumable items, promise instant gratification. TRIBUNE PHOTO

Despite being burnt out, there seems to be no escape from this hyper-competitive game of social Darwinism.

No wonder, like fast food, even love or religiosity has to be consumed quickly and instantly.

There are moments when this class too feels a need for peace, tranquillity and self-realisation. However, it is not easy to be free from the attachment to the comforts and privileges they are used to. Nor is it easy to be free from the mood of instantaneity. And herein lies the sociology of the arrival of all sorts of life coaches, motivational speakers, and new age spiritual messiahs. They come forward with packages of instant redemption—a 'feel good' moment for a couple of days before you go back to the old routine: working like robotic performers, earning, saving, consuming and buying all sorts of insurances. Hence, come back from your office, have a cup of coffee, open your laptop, spend five minutes, feel the miracle of YouTube, and listen to, say, a talk by Brahmakumari Shivani—'2 steps to think right always', or a discourse by Sri Sri Ravi Shankar—'15 minute morning meditation'.

This is not to deconstruct our spiritual quest and longing. Nor do I suggest that all these videos are necessarily trivial. I too watch Alan Watts or Jiddu Krishnamurti on YouTube; and at times, a Taoist discourse on 'Be like water' makes me spiritually musical. Yet, it is important to be cautious because in the age of instantaneity, the overproduction of 'spiritual packages' for hyper-modern consumers trivialises the very quest for what Rabindranath Tagore would have regarded as our surplus—the urge to see beyond the finitude of utilitarianism, and experience the glimpses of the infinite in the finite.

Lost for signal in Big Apple

MANJEEV SINGH PURI

At a time when ministers and Opposition leaders are unhappy at their Twitter accounts being shut even for an hour, let me take you to a BC (Before Corona) issue of Signal Nahi Hai and that too in the Big Apple (New York).

Surprising as this may be, cell phone signals were notoriously poor in Manhattan as towers were not allowed and tall buildings eclipsed microwave signals. At the Permanent Mission of India (PMI), we were told not to bother with boosters as signals could only be boosted if there were any to boost.

India served on the UN Security Council a decade back and held its presidency (which rotates every month in alphabetical order) in November 2012. This coincided with the 2012 US elections which saw President Obama re-elected. In New York, expectation was that US Permanent Representative Susan Rice would be the next Secretary of State.

A UNSC tradition is for its President to host a luncheon in honour of the UN Secretary General at which all UNSC members are invited. On November 15, 2012, we hosted a grand lunch at the PMI with catering from Tulsi, a Michelin-starred Indian restaurant run by celebrity chef Hemant Mathur.

Ambassador Rice arrived late and remained held up for a long time on the pavement outside the PMI taking a call on a cell phone as there was no signal in our building. I couldn't help noticing that it was a disconcerted Ambassador Rice who took her place on the table. Soon afterwards, she stepped out for another call and once again was not in the best of moods. Indeed, I heard an irritated Ambassador Rice telling an aide, "The Indians have jammers in their building?" I just had to smile, at least to myself.

Obviously, at that time, I had no idea of what transpired in the two calls, but just days later, a group of Congressmen wrote to President Obama not to consider her for the Secretary of State. And, in December, Ambassador Rice herself wrote to President Obama requesting him to leave her out of any consideration for Secretary of State.

Ambassador Rice had been in the lead on military action in Libya in 2011 that brought about regime change and saw the ghastly killing of President Gaddafi. Her undoing was her strong defence of the Administration's actions on a mob attack in Libya in September 2012 that saw the killing of the US Ambassador. For many in the Congress, her defence was an attempted cover-up.

We were ending our term on the UNSC and hosted a farewell party on December 19, 2012. Ambassador Rice attended and was in a jovial mood, even staying on for a group photograph taken towards the end of the reception. Soon, thereafter, her appointment as the National Security Advisor, a post that does not require Senate confirmation, became public. Signal mil gaya...

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Drone terror

The use of drones by our adversaries poses a very potent military threat. Leading nations have incorporated drone warfare into their national security doctrines after its demonstrated success in Azerbaijan's war with Armenia. The UK has made substantive provisions for procuring and integrating drones as a part of its overall weapon systems. Weaponisation of artificial intelligence, robotics and the cybernetics is the zeitgeist of warfare today. Unfortunately, we, in the absence of public debate over national security matters, aren't aware of whether we have that yet. In the recent repeated drone strikes, we have failed to erect reasonable electronic warfare, even when we have sufficient expertise in finding and jamming such targets.

The failure of the Air Force to detect the drone threat shouldn't be used as an alibi to force the formation of Air Defence theatre command against the wishes of the Air Force. As the strike is against a military target, an immediate military riposte on our part becomes necessary.

Threat from drones

Apropos of 'Drone scare', the drone attack in J&K has signalled a new kind of challenge and a rather serious one at that for India's security establishment. The fact that drones can fly over without being detected is quite concerning. Perhaps no country is fully prepared for this kind of a terror attack, but as a countermeasure, India should take such threats seriously. For sure, India will come up with the outcomes to pre-empt these attacks.

VIP convoys

This is in reference to the death of a woman when the car carrying her to hospital was stopped for the presidential convoy to pass; VVIP convoys have become yet another manifestation of a political and administrative culture where public servants' self-esteem depends on the distance they can maintain from the public. The police are overzealous because they respond to a system where public inconvenience is extremely low priority. There should be dedicated corridors for the unhindered movement of ambulances, as in the absence of these green passages, VVIP movement causes many avoidable miseries to patients who are in need of emergency medical attention. There was hope following the 2017 Union Cabinet decision to end 'Lal batti raj'. But nothing seems to have changed. VVIPs need protection, but for this, the state must deploy smarter security arrangements.

Jobless sportspersons

The recent decision of the Punjab Government to give government jobs to the sons of sitting MLAs has met with criticism. The government should know about the plight of sportspersons in the state. They are in dire need of a job so that they can earn their livelihood in a better way.

Despite the fact that they earn fame for their state at various levels, their financial problems are ignored by the government. Major announcements are made by ministers on public platforms, yet we often read reports of the deplorable conditions in which our sportspersons are living.

These kinds of situations show our politicians' bad intent. Jobs should be provided to these sportspersons on an urgent basis rather than to the sons of rich MLAs.

Haryana's incentive

Even as many youngsters of Punjab are hooked to drugs, Haryana's youth are reigning supreme in physical fitness. The Punjab Government claims to have launched an ambitious anti-drug campaign, but tangible results are not visible. The supremacy of Haryana is visible from the fact that dozens of sportspersons in boxing, shooting, athletics, wrestling and hockey are raring to go in the Tokyo Olympics. The state is lending them full support, goading them to achieve their ambition. Rs 5 lakh to each player has been sanctioned for preparation. Crores of rupees have been promised as reward for winners. Physical fitness is a valuable asset. The nation must remember this.

Essence of life

Refer to article 'The change within' (Spectrum, The Sunday Tribune); the pandemic has taught us about the unpredictability of life and our priorities. Fake pursuit of materialistic things, selfish attitude, wasteful habits, exploitation of natural resources are some of the issues that need to be re-evaluated, as all these are killing our inner self. Today's frightful scenario should enable us to understand that nothing is permanent and 100% safe here. Let us all pursue the eternal values of life, since only that can give us lasting joy and satisfaction.

SCARE IN THE AIR: There has been a spate of drone activity along the border, but we need to separate military drones from improvised vehicles. PTI

Avoid knee-jerk reaction

TARA KIRTHA
FORMER DIRECTOR, NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL SECRETARIAT

Military sources say such attempts have been intercepted in recent times in the Jammu sector. It points to high confidence, and an intent to raise alarm, possibly to push the Air Force into retaliation in terms of deliberate flights close to the India-Pakistan border. That could raise bilateral temperatures very quickly.

Even if coordinates were fed in, it is important to understand that commercial drones are simply not geared up for this kind of precision task. Showering flowers on a visiting VIP, yes; targeting a specific aircraft, no. If it was a commercial drone, then the operator was close to the airport, probably on the roof of a building, guiding the drone. Reports, however, seem to indicate that the drone flew across the border and back, a total of some 40 km, indicating a far more technology-intensive and probably larger machine, that raises a different set of possibilities.

The Jammu airport is just about 14 km from the Pakistan border, which makes it vulnerable to such attacks.

Islamabad has a vigorous (UAV unmanned aerial vehicle) programme that includes long-range ones of upwards of 1,000 km and tactical drones with a range of some 80 km. The 'Bravo +', for instance, has a wingspan of about 14 feet and a payload of some 145 kg. But it defies logic as to why Pakistan's military would launch such a strike which could squarely implicate it, if shot down. By now, Islamabad knows full well that this is not a government that would hesitate to retaliate. Being Pakistan, there is always the possibility that a part of the armed forces don't want even the beginnings of a rapprochement with India, that is reportedly on the cards, given sustained backdoor negotiations and apparent overtures by the Chief of Army Staff General Bajwa. But again, a Pak military drone would hardly miss a stationary target.

The more likely possibility is appar-

I what can be classified as an escalation in violence, drones were used to cause at least two explosions in the technical area of Jammu airport, which is being used by the Air Force. Though it caused only minor injuries to two personnel, the incident could have been much worse. The drone could have hit a parked aircraft, resulting in a terror attack of no small proportion. This is a quantum jump in terrorist capability in India. No doubt about that at all. That said, it is not the drone itself that is the sole issue, but the intent and intelligence in how it is used.

Commercial drones relatively available in India, like the DJI Phantom 4, with an added payload of explosives of up to a kilogram or more, would have an operational range of about a kilometre. Since the explosion was at night, the onboard camera was probably not of much use for targeting, explaining why it missed any worthwhile target.

Even if coordinates were fed in, it is important to understand that commercial drones are simply not geared up for this kind of precision task. It is important, therefore, to separate the clearly military drones from the improvised vehicles used so far, in generating a response. One requires better border policing, the other a huge change in military doctrines. What is clear is that we need to up the alert, but guard against the usual knee-jerk reactions to swoop down on the commercial use of drones that have wide applications at a time of economic stress. There are already attempts to stifle the use of drones through the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) that will effectively prevent legitimate commercial activity. The DGCA's present 'Blue Sky' parameters for instance, may be replaced with stringent KYC procedure, similar to banking systems for an effective oversight. Terror groups like the Lashkar-e-Toiba aim to create panic in an already paranoid bureaucracy, and thereby earn more publicity that increases their stature. It's a fine line to walk. React with firmness against the real culprit who provides them with shelter and sustenance, but also show that the State is more than capable of protecting its own.

For terrorists, a small drone is a perfect weapon. Barbed wire, armed guards or even a radar can't spot a weapon that

MILITARY COMMENTATOR

In August 2017, aircraft carrier Queen Elizabeth of the UK Royal Navy was docked at Invergordon when an amateur photographer flew a drone close to the giant battleship. When the drone sensed a high wind risk, it landed itself on the ship. The pilot (with the remote) told BBC that he could easily have carried two kilograms of high explosives and left it on the deck.

An assassination attempt was made on Venezuela President Nicolas Maduro on August 4, 2018, with a drone. Two drones loaded with one kilogram of explosives each were flown close to the president while he was addressing a military parade. They were detected by the alert security personnel. One drone was electronically diverted from its course and the second crashed against a wall.

December 20, 2018, saw drones dramatically disrupt air travel after someone brought London's Gatwick airport to a complete halt by flying drones intermittently over the airport's lone runway. Air traffic at other London airports, including Heathrow, was also disrupted momentarily over fears of a coordinated drone assault against all five of London's commercial airports.

In December 2019, heavy-lifting drones were used by Pakistan to drop AK-47 rifles, counterfeit currency and narcotics in 10 sorties spanned over eight days in Punjab's border districts. More such incidents have been reported. Sunday's drone attack on the Jammu Air Force base is new and extremely belligerent. This aggressiveness needs to be nipped in the bud to prevent further escalation. Clearly, the threat from the drones is a cause for serious concern. Contemporary drones cost little, and availability is aplenty. Drones today represent an asymmetric threat that can cause serious damage and create panic.

Drones being small, silent and discreet are difficult to detect and bring down. They can be pre-programmed and/or remote controlled even with smart phones. Rapid miniaturisation of electronics and batteries are a boon to the growth of drones. Additional features like auto landing, dynamic homing and orientation control provide greater stability and effective control. High-end cameras with axis stabilisation provide a smooth and stable recording experience with high-quality videos. They are symmetric in shape and can fly in any direction. They can be armed with weapons, explosives and/or cameras. They can also carry hacking-capable devices, such as small on-board computers (e.g., a Raspberry Pi), Wi-Fi/Bluetooth dongles (to monitor and detect vulnerabilities in networks) and trigger an attack on the computer/network.

Big investments in countermeasures are inescapable. Any control measure would necessarily be working under extreme capability of precision and real-time response. To observe, detect and analyse a rogue drone would require tracking its flight path precisely. An effective sensor system will monitor electronic radio data and the designated airspace with video cameras (quite like the CCTVs watching over a crowded marketplace). These devices would trigger alarms automatically on spotting

Delhi trekker dies on Shrikhand yatra route

KULLU, JUNE 29

A trekker has died on the Shrikhand yatra route at Nirmand in the district. Ashutosh Garg, DC, Kullu, had banned the yatra due to Covid.

DSP Ravinder Negi said a group of six youths left their car in Jaon village and left for Shrikhand peak on June 25. Tarun (25) from Delhi fell while crossing a glacier in Parvati Bagh and succumbed to the injuries. He said a rescue team of the police and the administration left for the spot.

The DSP said Ayush Kumar and Akshit of Rohru, Sunil Kumar of Chopal in Shimla district, Arun of Anni and Jai and Tarun of Delhi started trekking on the yatra route without informing the administration or the police. Tarun fell during trekking and died. The rescue team would bring back the body of the victim by this evening.

The yatra to the 18,000 feet Shrikhand Mahadev peak has been banned for the second consecutive year due to Covid. The yatra is held from July 15 to 30 and hundreds of pilgrims take to the 32-km trek which takes 3 to 5 days to pay obeisance to 72-foot-high lingam of Lord Shiva.

The DC said it would not be possible to conduct the yatra this year as well following the guidelines of the State Disaster Management Authority — OC.

The minister also asked the officers to utilise the funds from the Smart City Mission in Shimla and Dharamsala to upgrade the facilities.

It was also decided that the workshops at Dharamsala and Dhali would be modernised under the smart city project.

Shimla development plan likely this year

Consultations to start next month | Interim plan of 1979 still in place

PRATIBHA CHAUHAN

TREBUE NEWS SERVICE

SHIMLA, JUNE 29

The capital city's wait for a development plan can finally end this year as consultations to finalise the document are to be held. The growth of the city is at present taking place on the basis of the interim development plan (IDP) of 1979.

The task of preparing the GIS-based Shimla development plan (SDP) for the planning area and suburbs, spread over 225 sq km, was assigned to an Ahmedabad-based consultant under AMRUT scheme in 2017. The deadline for the submission of the SDP was not met even before the Covid outbreak and the matter got further delayed due to the pandemic.

"We will hold consultations with stakeholders over a series of meetings keeping in view restrictions the next month," said Karam Chand, State Town Planner in the TCP Department. He added that the consultant had submitted a proposal and it was after consultations with various departments, the Shimla Municipal Corporation, the Mayor, councillors and political leaders that the draft SDP would be prepared.

Once the consultant submits the draft DP, objections

THE PROCESS

- The consultant has submitted a proposal. The draft plan will be prepared after consultations with various departments, the Shimla MC, the Mayor, councillors and political leaders
- Once the consultant submits the draft, objections and suggestions will be invited. After incorporating them into the document, the plan will be placed before the Cabinet for approval and suggestions will be invited. The objections and suggestions will be incorporated into the document, and the SDP will be placed before the Cabinet for approval.

"Shimla must be the only state capital that is growing on the basis of a four-decade old plan though it is an internationally renowned tourist destination. It remained the summer capital of the British before Independence," said an official.

The city has been growing fast in an unregulated and haphazard manner, virtually turning into a concrete jungle. The preparation of the SDP becomes even more imperative in the light of judgments of the High Court and the National Green Tribunal (NGT) on the concretisation of the city. It was in December 2000 that a blanket ban was imposed on all new constructions in 17 demarcated green belts in the city to prevent denudation of the hills for urban sprawl.

The NGT, restricting constructions in the Shimla MC area to not more than two-and-a-half floors, had directed various agencies such as the TCP Department to ensure regulated growth of the city. The government has moved the Supreme Court to seek relief in view of the restrictions imposed by the NGT.

TCP officials had prepared a Draft Development Plan for the Shimla Planning Area in 2014 after holding consultations but the document kept gathering dust and finally becoming redundant in the absence of the Cabinet approval.

The SDP is being prepared for the Shimla Planning Area, the Special Area Development Authorities (SADA) of Ghanatti, Kufri and Shoghi. The area comprises more than 200 mohals. Now, it remains to be seen whether the SDP will be in conformity with the NGT directives or it allows more construction activities.

PM announces ₹2L for accident victims' kin

SOLAN, JUNE 29

The death toll in the road accident at Shillai in Sirmaur district yesterday climbed to 11 with 22-year youth Akshay succumbing to his injuries at the PGI, Chandigarh, today.

A pick-up van, carrying 12 persons, plunged into a gorge on the Timbi-Bakras road last evening. The Prime Minister's Office announced an ex gratia of Rs 2 lakh to kin of the deceased and Rs 50,000 to those injured.

First probe team had given clean chit to then director of institute

Director: NIT, Jalandhar

The Union Ministry of Education had initiated the first inquiry in January 2020 and sent a two-member committee to investigate complaints against Vinod Yadava, who was given the clean chit.

Unsatisfied by the investigation, the ministry constituted a one-member investigation team headed by Prof Anil D Sahasrabudhe, chairman of the All India Council of Technical Education.

It was on the report of Sahasrabudhe that the ministry terminated Yadava's services as the Director of the NIT. As per the investigation, which is still underway, documents

(copies of which are in the possession of The Tribune) reveal that the NIT authorities had paid Rs 1.5 lakh, as per rules, to each member of the investigation team. However, an additional amount of Rs 19,500 was given to DK Singh, Deputy Secretary (Finance) of the Union Ministry of Education, on January 28, reveal documents.

Interestingly, DK Singh returned the amount to the NIT yesterday (June 28). He mentioned in his email to the institute that his investigation team had visited the NIT, Hamirpur, just for half an hour and had then gone to Dharamsala. He said that he had returned Rs 19,500 to the NIT and had asked it to intimidate the interest amount. Yogesh Gupta, Registrar of the NIT, confirmed that the institute had received Rs 19,500 from DK Singh.

Financial 'favour' was extended during NIT scam investigation

DINESH KANWAR

HAMIRPUR, JUNE 29

A case of financial favour has surfaced in the appointment scam pertaining to the National Institute of Technology, Hamirpur, that had led to the suspension of its director a few months ago.

Sources said the then NIT authorities had given an additional financial favour to a senior member of an investigation team appointed to probe into the scam. Many appointments were allegedly made after ignoring merit at the behest of the institute's then Director Vinod Yadava. The Union Ministry of Education initiated investigation and later terminated the services of the director after irregularities were detected. The ministry gave the additional charge of the institute to Dr Lalit Awasthi,

LeT commander, Pak ultra killed in Srinagar

Abrar had killed many security men; 2 AK-47 rifles seized

Srinagar, June 29

A day after his arrest, top Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) commander Nadeem Abrar and a Pakistani terrorist were killed in an encounter in Maloora, Parimpura, of the city, the police said on Tuesday. A police spokesman said Abrar, a top commander of LeT involved in many killings, was arrested during checking of vehicles at Parimpura on Monday and put on sustained interrogation. The LeT man confessed that he had kept his AK-47 rifle in Maloora locality.

Abrar was taken to the house so that the weapon could be recovered. The police party was entering his house after cordoning it off when the Pakistani terrorist hiding inside opened fire. Initially, three CRPF personnel were injured. Abrar accompanying the search party also got wounded. The force was strengthened and they retaliated with heavy firing. In the ensuing gunfire, the foreign terrorist who fired from inside the house was neutralised and Abrar was also killed. Two AK-47 rifles along with ammunition were seized from the site," the spokesman added. The spokesman said Abrar was involved in killings of several security force personnel.

Abrar was caught at a Parimpura checkpoint where a vehicle was stopped and the occupants were asked to show their identity cards. The person sitting at the back seat tried to open his bag and took out a grenade when cops nabbed him. —PTI for restricted emergency use. With the Centre already having waived all requirements for local clinical trials for foreign jabs approved by reputed regulators, Moderna would not need to conduct any bridging studies at home.

Only the first 100 persons who receive the shot would have to be watched for adverse events. Unlike Sputnik V which is being produced in India, Moderna will only be imported although the government is hoping Moderna would consider manufacturing in India.

Member, NITI Aayog, VK Paul said the regulatory approval had opened the pathway for import of Moderna but did not put a timeline to the availability of the shots in the domestic market.

Asked about indemnity from legal costs for foreign developers, including Moderna and Pfizer have sought, Paul said, "That is under consideration and is being addressed."

Asked when Moderna would enter India, Paul said: "Let's wait and see how today's opportunity will be used for importing Moderna into India".

Sikh leaders for anti-conversion law

Tribune News Service

New Delhi, June 29

A Sikh delegation, comprising BJP spokesperson RP Singh, Jago party president Manjit Singh GK and others, today met Union Minister of State (MoS) for Home G Kishan Reddy and submitted a memorandum over the alleged forced conversions and marriages of Sikh women in J&K. They demanded a UP-like anti-conversion law in the UT.

After the meeting, Reddy said he would discuss the matter with Union Home Minister Amit Shah. "A delegation has come here to submit a representation to the Government of India. The forced conversions and marriages of Sikh girls in Kashmir are wrong and the delegation has submitted a memorandum over it. I will discuss this with the Union Home Minister regarding the action that needs to be taken," he said.

BJP spokesperson Singh

Jago Party chairman Manjit Singh GK and others talk to Union Minister G Kishan Reddy in New Delhi. MUKESH AGGARWAL

said the delegation demanded an anti-conversion law in J&K for the protection of Sikh girls.

"The incident of forced nikah (marriage) of an 18-year-old Sikh girl with a 60-year-old man is not a stand-alone incident of religion conversion. The religious conversion of Sikh girls has been going on for a long time. We have requested the minister to ask the J&K Lieutenant Governor (L-G) to enact a law against love jihad, like the ones passed by the UP and the MP governments. The minister should ask Sinha to bring an ordinance for the protection of Sikh girls," he said.

On Sunday, a delegation of the Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee (DSGMC) met J&K L-G Singh and sought the safe return of a Sikh girl to her family, who was allegedly abducted, forcibly converted and married off in Srinagar.

structures, but the exact date and time of the demolition has not been worked out. The authorities want to give ample time to the residents to vacate premises on their own so that there is little resistance at the time of razing the structures," an official said. "We want to avoid any kind of slowdown with the residents at a time when we are all dealing with the pandemic. People are being given enough time to move out safely," the official said.

Pritam, a Khori resident who has shifted to a rented accommodation in Delhi, said, "We want the government to consider a rehabilitation scheme. BKU leader Gurnam Singh Charuni is expected to visit the area on June 30 to support our cause." Another resident Rajesh claimed at least 60 per cent of the residents were adamant on staying.

Divisional Commissioner Sanjay Joon said the apex court order would be enforced and the demolition might take place any time soon.

Coordination (WMCC) on India-China border affairs on June 25. It was decided to conduct discussions on disengagement and de-escalation of troops, weapons and equipment from Gogra and Hot Springs, two flashpoints along the LAC.

China does not want to bring the troop build-up in Depsang Plains into the forthcoming talks. The Indian Army holds a majority of the Depsang Plains, while the PLA holds the eastern edge of the plains. A section of the government is confident of forward movement in the next round (twelfth) of India-China military dialogue, the date of which has not yet been finalised.

Over a year after the standoff began, talks on disengagement at Gogra, Hot Springs and Depsang have made no headway. The MEA has been circumspect, but after the February 22 meeting of military commanders, it was indicated that disengagement from these flashpoints would be discussed, but it didn't happen.

these platforms for sinister purposes by terrorist groups has become an imminent danger and challenge for security agencies worldwide," said VSK Kaumudi, Special Secretary (Internal Security), Ministry of Home Affairs.

Kaumudi said the possibility of the use of weaponised drones for terrorist purposes against strategic and commercial assets called for serious attention by the member states. "We have witnessed terrorists using them to smuggle weapons across the border," he said.

The Special Secretary emphasised that the trans-border nature of this threat called for collective and unified action by the international community to hold accountable the countries sheltering terrorists.

Other new avenues for spread of terrorism were misuse of new payment methods and crowd-funding platforms, the official observed. The increased use of closed group communications on Internet and social media platforms

INDIA: PAK MUST TAKE VERIFIABLE ACTION

India has told the UN General Assembly that it was high time the international community called on Pakistan to take "effective and irreversible" actions against terror outfits operating from its soil

Already, crypto currencies and virtual assets are helping terror financing, helped by the anonymity and un-traceability nature of these technologies," he said.

Kaumudi pointed out that Covid and the subsequent isolation had made people vulnerable to radicalisation and recruitment by terrorist groups who spread terrorist propaganda by enticing them into "video games". —TNS

Srinagar: One of the four Sikh women, alleged to have been converted to Islam by force, had approached the J&K High Court last month, seeking protection from any coercive action by her family and the police, saying she changed her religion and married a Muslim man willingly.

Viran Pal Lour became Khadeja after marrying Manzoor Ahmad Bhat on January 20 this year. On May 20, Justice Ali Mohammad

Int'l cooperation answer to Covid challenge: Jaishankar

Takes up Covishield issue with EU representative on G-20 sidelines

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar took up Covishield authorisation for travel to Europe with Josep Borrell Fontelles, high representative of the EU for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy, on the sidelines of the G-20 meeting of Foreign Ministers in Italy on Tuesday. "Will follow up," Jaishankar posted on his social media account after the meeting.

Earlier, addressing the G-20 Foreign Ministers' meeting, Jaishankar expressed his disappointment on the manner in which international cooperation to battle the pandemic was panning out.

"Whether it is vaccines, medicines, PPE or oxygen, international cooperation is the answer to the Covid challenge. Need more, not less. Institutional multilateralism has been found wanting. Reforms have many forms, but vaccine equity will be the immediate test," he observed.

"The full diversity of our planet needs more accurate reflection in global policy making," he added, while pointing out that the real economy needed decentralised globalisation, including in manufacturing, food and health. Resilient supply chains must develop in parallel, he advocated.

As is the case with all Foreign Ministers at the G-20 gathering, Jaishankar also utilised the occasion to discuss India's expectations and issues of concern with his counterparts.

With Saudi Foreign Minister Faisal bin Farhan, the minister discussed the Covid situation and urged early flight resumption.

Talks also covered the strategic partnership and the regional situation on a day when Israel opened its embassy in the UAE. With his Japanese counterpart Toshimitsu Motegi, Jaishankar touched on the Quad, the next meeting of their Defence and Foreign Ministers and Covid.

In conversation with his Canadian counterpart Marc Garneau, Indo-Pacific, trade and economic cooperation and bilateral concerns were discussed.

Mexican Foreign Minister Marcelo Ebrard and Jaishankar also met and agreed to step up cooperation and work together in the multilateral arena. "Our pharma cooperation is particularly important in Covid times," he said.

Jaishankar also interacted with the Italian Foreign Minister Luigi Di Maio and discussed taking forward the bilateral relationship. Maio is expected to visit India after the Covid situation improves.

During a meeting with US Secretary of State Tony Blinken, Jaishankar discussed the Indo-Pacific and the Afghanistan situation.

India likely to come up with policy to tackle new security challenges

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

Expedited framing of a broad-based policy to deal with emerging security threats and futuristic challenges facing the country was a major focus of a meeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi held with Home Minister Amit Shah, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and National Security Advisor Ajit Doval on Tuesday, people familiar with the development said.

The meeting took place two days after explosive-laden drones were used to carry out an attack on the strike at vital installations.

"The government is coming out with a policy to collectively deal with the emerging challenges. It was decided to expedite the framing of the policy," one of the persons cited above said after the meeting.

Various ministries and departments are working on the policy to effectively counter the new and emerging non-traditional security challenges facing the country. The defence ministry and the three services will play a leading role in the formulation of the policy as well as in its implementation.

Russia offers advanced nuclear powerplants

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

Russia has offered to construct more advanced nuclear power plants (NPPs) at a fresh site other than Kudankulam in Tamil Nadu where its top civil nuclear official on Tuesday participated virtually in a concrete pouring ceremony for the fifth NPP.

Construction of fifth unit begins at Kudankulam in TN

"We are ready to launch the serial construction of the state-of-the-art Generation III+ Russian-designed nuclear power units at a new site in India. It is stipulated by the existing agreements," said Rosatom Director General Alexey Likhachev at the virtual ceremony.

After signing the agreement in 2014 to construct units 3 & 4, India and Russia had agreed in 2017 to construct the next two units with the same design. The site at Kudankulam can accommodate six units.

"For many years the Kudankulam NPP construction project has been a symbol of close cooperation between Russia and India. However, we do not want to stop at what has already been achieved. Rosatom has all most advanced nuclear power technologies," said Likhachev. —TNS

Deshmukh again skips ED summons

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

Former Maharashtra Home Minister Anil Deshmukh today skipped the Enforcement Directorate's (ED) summons for appearance before it for the second time in two weeks and instead wrote a letter to investigators asking them to record his "statement on audio/visual mode of any nature" of their choice at whatever time convenient to them.

Officials in the agency said the ED had summoned Deshmukh to its office at 11 am for questioning today in connection with its money laundering probe in the case relating to alleged corruption and extortion charges against the former home minister.

Officials said in the letter addressed to Tassine Sultan, Assistant Director, ED, Deshmukh cited health issues as the reason for his inability to appear before the investigating agency.

Oxford study shows strong immune response with mixed vaccine doses

ADITI TANDON

TREBUNE NEWS SERVICE

NEW DELHI: Mixed schedules involving Pfizer-BioNTech and Oxford-AstraZeneca Covid-19 vaccines generate strong immune responses against SARS-CoV2 spike protein, researchers at the University of Oxford have reported in a new path-breaking study.

In a paper published on the Lancet preprint server, the authors report both "mixed" schedules (Pfizer-BioNTech followed by Oxford-AstraZeneca and Oxford-AstraZeneca followed by Pfizer-BioNTech) induced high concentrations of antibodies against the SARS-CoV2 spike IgG protein when doses were administered four weeks apart.

This means all possible vaccination schedules involving the Oxford-AstraZeneca and Pfizer-BioNTech vaccines could potentially be used against Covid-19.

Matthew Snape, Associate Professor in Paediatrics and Vaccinology at Oxford University and chief investigator on the trial, said: 'The Com-COV study has evaluated mix and match combinations of the Oxford and Pfizer vaccines to see to what extent these vaccines can be used interchangeably, potentially allowing flexibility in the UK and global vaccine rollout. The results show that when given at a four-week interval both mixed schedules induce an immune response that is above the threshold set by the standard schedule of AstraZeneca jab."

The order of vaccines made a difference, with an AstraZeneca/Pfizer schedule inducing higher antibodies and T-cell responses than Pfizer/AstraZeneca, and both of these inducing higher antibodies than the "standard" two-dose AstraZeneca schedule.

The highest antibody response was seen after two-dose Pfizer schedule and highest T cell response from AstraZeneca followed by Pfizer.

EUNations will have option of accepting WHO-OKAYED jabs

NEW DELHI, JUNE 29

The European Union has said individual member states will have the option to accept vaccinations that have been authorised by the World Health Organisation (WHO), such as Covishield.

It is one of the seven vaccines approved by the WHO.

The clarification came after the Africa Centres for Disease Control and Prevention expressed concern over the inequitable treatment of people vaccinated with Covishield.

The AstraZeneca vaccine made by SII has been distributed to several African nations as part of the global initiative.

"The aim of the EU digital Covid certificate is to facilitate free movement inside EU. It is not a precondition to travel," they said. Covishield has been excluded from the EMA's list of approved vaccines. —TNS
