Rahul becoming 'Doomsday Man for India', says Sitharaman in LS

Mantri counters 'hum do, hamare do' jibe with daughter, damaad remark

AGE CORRESPONDENT with agency input NEW DELHI, FEB. 13

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, on Saturday came back strongly on the critics and Opposition who have been accusing the Narendra Modi government of "crony capitalism", ignoring the poor mishandling farmers' protest.

Responding to the points made by Opposition MPs during the discussion on the Union Budget in the Lok Sabha, the finance minister singled out the Congress and its leader Rahul Gandhi who has been regularly hitting out at the government. Ms Sitharaman said Mr Gandhi is probably becoming "Doomsday Man for India".

Mr Gandhi has repeatedly attacked the Centre on multiple issues, including the farmers' protests and the China standoff, and while participating during a discussion on the Union Budget on Thursday, he accused the government crony capitalism saying its policies are meant to benefit the rich.

Responding to the allegations, the FM said, "In spite of what we are doing for the poor and the steps taken for helping the poor and needy of this country... A false narrative is created... Who are our cronies? Our cronies are the common 'janta' (people) of this country. We don't do work for any cronies, we work for the common citizen who believes in the Prime Minister. ### PM wants to 'hand over' entire agri biz to his '2 friends': Rahul

Jaipur, Feb. 13: Continuing scathing attack against PM Narendra Modi over the farm laws on the second day of his visit to Rajasthan, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Saturday alleged that the Prime Minister wants to "hand over" the entire agriculture business to his "two friends"

Mr Gandhi addressed two farmers' rallies at Rupangarh in Ajmer and Nagaur's Makrana. He had addressed farmers' rallies in Hanumangarh's Pilibanga and Sri Ganganagar's Padampur on the first day of his two-day Rajasthan trip on Friday. At the Rupangarh rally, cent people of the country are stakeholders in the farming business. "It is the business of 40 per cent people, which includes farmers, small and medium businessmen, traders and labourers. Narendra Modi wants to give this entire business to his two friends. This is the objective of the farm laws," he claimed but did not name anyone. "Narendra Modi said he is giving options but the options are: hunger, unemployment and suicide," he alleged.

Mr Gandhi, wearing a Rajasthani safa or turban, reached the rally venue driving a tractor with chief minister Ashok Gehlot and state Congress chief Govind Singh Dotasra sitting with him. The former Congress chief spoke while standing on a platform made of two tractor-trailers while the farmers sat or stood on tractor-trailers around the platform. Later in another rally at

Centre may give written assurance on issue of MSP

AGE CORRESPONDENT

In a bid to break the deadlock with the agitating farmers, and bring them back to the discussion board, the government is likely to propose a written assurance on the contentious issue of Minimum Support Price (MSP). According to sources, Union home minister Amit Shah has held several rounds of talks with the agriculture minister Narendra Tomar in the last few days on this to help resolve the crisis.

The farmers' bodies negotiating with the government have in the past rejected the government's offer for written assurance on MSP-based procurement. The farmers are seeking complete repeal of the three farm laws and have sought a legal framework in the form of a law on MSP.

While defending the farm laws, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had on Monday said that the MSP mechanism for crops would continue.

"MSP was there. MSP is there. MSP will remain in the future. Affordable ration for the poor will continue. Mandis will be modernised," PM Modi said in Rajya Sabha while inviting the farmer union leaders for a fresh round of talks to resolve the impasse.

Shah: J&K will get statehood at right time

LS clears J&K Reorganisation Bill '21

New Delhi, Feb. 13: Union home minister Mr Amit Shah assured the members of Parliament on Saturday that Jammu and Kashmir will be granted full statehood at an "appropriate time". He said this while replying to a discussion on the Jammu and Kashmir Reorganisation (Amend-

The bill to merge the Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) cadre of all-India services officers with the Arunachal Pradesh, Goa, Mizoram Union Territory (AGMUT) cadre was later passed by Lok Sabha by a voice vote. The Jammu and Kashmir Reorgani sation (Amendment) Bill, 2021 has already been passed by the Rajya Sabha. It replaces an ordinance issued last month.

The state was bifurcated into two Union Territories on October 31, 2019 following the scrapping of Article 370 that gave special status to the state. Several political parties parties have been demanding restoration of the statehood to J&K which is at present governed by Centre through the lieutenant-governor.

While responding to the points made by the Opposition during the discussion on the bill, Mr Shah slammed some Opposition members for their claim that the proposed law negates the hopes of the region getting back its erstwhile statehood.

He asserted that his government has done more for Jammu and Kashmir since Article 370 was scrapped in August 2019

Now people chosen by the masses will rule Jammu and Kashmir, not those born to kings and for generations.

'This legislation has nothing to do with statehood, and Jammu and Kashmir will be accorded the status at an appropri-ate time," Mr Shah said while responding to Congress MP Manish Tewari who said that the bill to merge the J&K cadre with AGMUT is a step contrary to the government's claim for restoring statehood. Mr Shah explained that states such as Mizoram, Goa and Arunachal Pradesh are part of the cadre and the suggestion is unfounded. The home minister took a swipe at the Congress and other parties — which had backed Article 370 of the Constitution that gave special status to Jammu and Kashmir saying this was a temporary provision but they continued with it for over 70 years before the Narendra Modi government

Junks Shaheen Bagh review plea

New Delhi, Feb. 13: The right to protest cannot be anytime and everywhere, the Supreme Court said on Saturday as it dismissed a plea seeking review of its verdict passed last year in which it had held the occupation of public ways during the anti-CAA protests at Shaheen Bagh was not acceptable.

The top court said there may be some sponta-neous protests but in case of prolonged dissent or protest, there cannot be continued occupation of public place affecting the rights of others. A bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul,

Aniruddha Bose and Kirshna Murari said,

"We have perused the review petition and record of the civil appeal and are convinced that the order of which review has been sought, does not suffer from any error apparent warranting its reconsideration.

The bench, which has passed the order recently, said it has considered the earlier judicial pronouncements and recorded its opinion that the constitutional scheme comes with a right to protest and express dissent but with an obligation to have certain duties

The top court, which considered the matter in the judges' chambers also rejected the prayer for open court hearing in the matter. The apex court had on October 7, last year held that public spaces cannot be occupied indefinitely and demonstrations expressing dissent have to be in designated places alone. ### Draghi, former ECB chief, sworn in as Italy's new PM

Rome, Feb. 13: Italians' hopes in Mario Draghi could hardly be higher. But the former European Central Bank chief, who was sworn in as the country's new Prime Minister on Saturday, will have a tough time fulfilling them. His main tasks will be the efficient management of over $241 billion Italy expects from a European Union fund to help the bloc's recovery, and ensuring smooth progress of the Covid-19 vaccination campaign. Mr Draghi has several advantages. He comes to power with one of the largest majorities of any government in Italy's post-war history, huge inter-Mario national presti-Draghi an unwieldy coalition made up of parties from left to right, including traditionally bitter foes such as the 5-Star Movement and Silvio Movement and Silvio Berlusconi's Forza Italia.

The government is readying the blue print of the budget and meetings with different departments are being held to determine their demands and likely revenue collections,

■ Republic Day clash: 16 farmers who participated in tractor parade still untraceable

Farmer unions seek high-level judicial inquiry

Protesting farmer unions on Saturday demanded a high-level judicial inquiry into the violence during the tractor rally in Delhi on January 26 and the alleged "false" cases slapped on the peasants.

Addressing a press conference at the Singhu border, Samyukta Kisan Morcha leaders asked farmers who are getting police notices not to appear before the force directly and instead approach the legal cell constituted by the unions for any assistance.

Kuldeep Singh, a member of SKM's legal cell, said that a retired judge of the Supreme Court or high court should probe the incidents to unravel the "conspiracy" behind the January 26 violence and the alleged "false cases" against the farmers.

According to SKM leaders, 16 farmers who had participated in the tractor parade are still untraceable. In the Republic Day violence, over 500 police personnel had been injured, while a protestor had died. On January 26, thousands of protesting farmers who reached ITO from the Ghazipur border clashed with the police. Driving tractors, many of them reached the Red Fort and entered the monu-ment, where a religious flag was hoisted.

At the press conference, another leader Ravinder Singh said that 122 farmers had so far been arrested by Delhi Police in connection with 14 of the 44 FIRs, adding that SKM will provide legal and financial aid to all the arrested farmers.

Consultations are currently going on among the highest level in the Government on whether this would be in form of law or some sort of a written assurance and guarantee," a senior Government

Under Modi, China was 'forced' to buckle down, says Anurag

New Delhi, Feb. 13: Union minister Anurag Thakur on Saturday asserted that under the leadership of Prime India has strengthened its defence sector and even "forced" China to buckle

Addressing women entrepreneurs at a Delhi BJP Mahila Morcha event, the Union Minister of State for Finance also claimed that the Congress did not do much for the defence sector during its 10-year rule.

The Congress says what has been done for the defence sector. They (Congress) could not buy a single bulletproof jacket in their 10-year rule while the Modi government provided 2 lakh jackets to the soldiers. They could not buy a fighter jet while we provided 36 Rafale jets.

"That China was forced to buckle down and India showed its might, it happened under Modi's leadership. Modi Hai to Mumkin Hai (everything is possible as Modi is there)," Mr Thakur

This is power and the strong leadership that enhances pride and prestige of the country, he said.

border standoff between the Indian and Chinese militaries erupted on May 5 following a violent clash in the Pangong lake areas and both sides gradually enhanced their deployment by rushing in tens of thousands of soldiers as well as heavy weaponry even as the two sides continued military and diplomatic talks.

Defence minister Rajnath announced Parliament on Thursday that India and China have reached an agreement on disengagement in the North and South banks of Pangong lake in eastern Ladakh that mandates both sides to "cease" forward deployment of troops in a "phased, coordi-nated and verifiable" manner.

Mr Thakur said in this year's Budget, an increase of more than 18.8 per cent has been done for purchases like fighter jets, tanks and ammunition.

Referring to the new farm laws, the minister alleged that Congress leader Rahul Gandhi has been "spreading lies". — PTI

Bombay high court judge who gave shocking POCSO verdicts takes oath

BHAGWAN PARAB

A Bombay high court judge Pushpa Ganediwala, who delivered two controversial orders on sexual assaults in the recent weeks, on Saturday took oath as the high court's additional judge for one more year.

The decision to extend Justice Pushpa Ganediwala's fresh tenure by only one year, instead of two years as recommended by the Supreme Court collegium, was taken by the centre. The govern-ment on Friday put out a notification on her new term. Additional judges are usually appointed for two years before being elevated as permanent judges. The decision faced flak for her interpretation of sexual assault under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act.

Justice Ganediwala's fresh term coms into effect from Saturday after her earlier tenure as an additional judge ended on Friday.

Last month, the Supreme Court panel, in a rare instance, withdrew its recommendation to the government to confirm the permanent sta-tus of Justice Ganediwala as a Bombay high court judge

Security tightened for Kangana in MP

Bhopal: Madhya Pradesh home minister Narottam Mishra on Saturday ordered to strengthen security for shooting of Bollywood actress Kangana Ranaut's upcoming film Dhakad, currently in progress at Sarni in Betul district in the state. The order comes in the wake of disruption of shooting of the film by Congress workers on Friday evening. Congress workers raided the shooting site forcing police to act.

Police force deployed at the site canned the unruly protesters to disperse them. The Congress workers were protesting the recent tweet by the actress in which she purportedly termed farmers participating in the stir in Delhi as terrorists. The Congress workers threatened to disrupt the shooting of her film till she apologised for her tweet. Mr Mishra said that strong action would be taken against those who tried to disturb peace.

A bottom-up view of the annual Budget

espite the hoopla around the Union government's Budget, for citizens, allocations in their state budgets matter more. Nearly two thirds of total government expenditure is done by states and for capex, this proportion increases to 90 per cent (FY 2020-21 BE data).

Twenty-eight states and eight Union Territories share the enlarged pie at their level. No individual state matches the fiscal power of the Union finance minister's signature releasing budget allocations. But for citizens, at the receiving end of the pipe, what matters most is the efficiency and effectiveness of the last-mile expenditure management by the state governments.

Living in a well-performing state matters and not just for employment. Progressive "states" bend with the breeze blowing from Delhi, to tap the flow of funds, their way. Telangana is a good example. More importantly, enjoying decent levels of basic public services — subsidised food, education, public health, drinking water electricity and public transport, direct income transfers to farmers, women, old age pensioners and support to the specially-abled, subsidised credit — depends crucially on the efficiency of the local administration.

The primary federal fiscal role of the Union is to collect tax and pass through a mandated share (41 per cent XV Finance Commission) to the states. The Union government, however, games how much it passes through. The mandatory sharing applies only to tax not cess (say on petroleum products). Increasing the cess on imported liquor, as done in the Budget, whilst lowering the duty rate, avoids sharing the extra revenue with states. This is in bad faith.

Voluntary adoption of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) in 2017 enhanced centralisation of fiscal power in the Union. The GST council collectively determines tax rates. But the Union has veto power. Happily, the benefits, despite the convoluted design (multiple rates) of the GST, far exceed the costs from dilution of state tax autonomy. The avoided cost of pancaked sales tax on goods sold across state borders and the ease of movement — most recently via e-tax invoices — will reduce tax leakage and fiscal power in the

FY 2021-22 Budget for enhancing demand and facilitating growth. This comes at the expense of pandemic-related

fraud, boost tax revenues and benefit both the Union and the states.

Significant "tax gouging" potential, however, remains with states via punitive tax on the non-virtuous (excise duty on alcohol) and the well-off (exorbitant sales tax on petroleum products and registration fee on purchasing a personal motorised vehicle or property). Less developed states use this mechanism pervasively. The share of "tax gouging" sources was just 46 per cent (2020-21 BE) in well-developed Maharashtra as compared to 63 per cent in Telangana and 57 per cent in Uttar Pradesh. Significantly, Maharashtra and Delhi — both high-income states — recently reduced the registration fee on property purchase, hoping to boost real estate transactions.

Less developed states rely heavily on tax receipts shared by the Union government, per the formula of the quinquennial finance commission, which compensates states with low tax potential to promote "balanced development". For Maharashtra and Telangana, central tax transfers are only 21 per cent and 20 per cent, respectively, of own tax revenue. Conversely, in Uttar Pradesh, central tax transfers are 87 per cent of own tax revenue. Irrespective of the state you live in, if your annual income is more than  $\ensuremath{\mathrm{Rs}}\,1$ million you are in the top quintile (20 per cent). Be prepared to finance delivery of common use public services to the bottom 40 per cent for some time. Aspirers (40 per cent) in the middle do not pay income tax either. But they consume more and thereby pull their tax weight by paying GST, sales tax and excise and bear the impact of customs duties (indirect taxes). It rankles that honest taxpayers also subsidise fraud and tax evasion. Their rightful outrage was mellowed by the Union Budget retaining this year's tax regime including the income tax relaxations and rationalised GST rates. But watch out for your state budget levies coming soon! A "soft tax" regime rides majorly on the government's ability to ramp up tax collections using big data analytics to make tax evaders and their in-government colluders accountable. It does not help when ideologically driven e-privacy paranoia results in data "privacy" being privileged over better tax collection!

The only upward bias in the Budget is in import taxes to protect domestic nanufacturing under the Atma Nirbhar Bharat program, possibly to finance manufacturing under the Atma Ni the new performance linked financial incentives for 13 industrial sectors. The intent, as also behind the proposal to set up three new textile parks, is to encourage global entrepreneurs to set up manufacturing hubs in India and create good new jobs — on the template of China three decades ago.

The big push is on capital investment, financed by imported capital. Foreign investment in insurance is now liberalized, raising the limit from 49 per cent to 75 per cent. Private Banks (ICICI, HDFC and Axis Bank) already operate under majority foreign ownership. There are also plans for restarting privatisation after a lapse of 15 years creating new opportunities for inward financial flows.

The International Financial Centre at GIFT city got another round of special incentives to ramp up business. Asset reconstruction and management companies are proposed to deal with the swollen non-performing assets (13.5 per cent of assets per RBI), giving public sector banks a clean slate to restart lending. Less convincingly, a Development Finance Institution is to re-engage with long-term project finance to compensate for an absent corporate bond market. Fintech, meanwhile, awaits formalisation, through legislation, of the hitherto ambivalent regulatory regime for cryptocurrency.

The revised FY 2020-21 Budget is expansionary with government borrowing a "never before" net ₹18.5 trillion (fiscal deficit 9.5 per cent of GDP). For the moment inflation is moderating as the RBI curtails excess liquidity and the economy heals steadily.

What follows next depends on the course of the pandemic. There is enough fiscal power in the FY 2021-22 Budget (fiscal deficit 6.8 per cent of GDP) for enhancing demand and facilitating growth. This comes at the expense of pandemic-related relief measures, which are skimpy and will be missed by the bottom 40 per cent who are also the least able to deal with inflation and suffer most from the downturn in employment. In the meantime, fingers crossed.

De-escalation at LAC: Is a real solution in sight?

K.C. Singh

ormer Army Chief and now Union minister V.K. Singh's rash comment on the Line of Actual Control having often been breached by both India and China caused an uproar, with Beijing seizing on it as proof that India was the aggressor. But when news emerged of a likely coordinated de-escalation in Ladakh, after the nine-month standoff between Indian and Chinese forces, Gen. Singh's downgrading of the LAC acquired an intent. It was to ensure withdrawal would not draw attention to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's asser-tion last year that no one had intruded into India.

Defence minister
Rajnath Singh told Parliament on Thursday
that a mutual and a 122 that a mutual and calibrated withdrawal of forces, north and south of Pangong Tso, was underway, but unwisely refused to share details, pleading tional" nature. This naturally raised questions whether the likely bufferzones ceded space historically and traditionally patrolled by Indian sol-diers. Some speculated whether China had managed by subterfuge to push the LAC closer to its 1959 claim-line.

The defence ministry decried the next day "misinformed and misleading comments". It reasserted India's old claims, including the illegal occupation by China of 43,000 sq km in Aksai Chin, as shown in Indian maps. The LAC passes through Finger 8, north of Pangong. Mutual withdrawal will create a buffer-zone between Fingers 4 and 8. India will retain its Dhan Singh Thapa outpost near Finger 3, while Chinese troops shall stay beyond Finger 8.

The intrusions at Hot Springs, Gogra and Depsang Plains will be tackled after current withdrawals are completed. The 255-km Durbuk-Shyok-Daulat Beg Oldi road runs at places alongside the LAC, giving connectivity Karakoram Pass. At Depsang plains, the flat terrain allowed China to make deep intrusions, threatening the highway.

Multiple questions on about the timing and depth of the Chinese intrusions from April-May 2020, in the middle of a global pandemic it caused. Also, why the flexibility now after months of sabre-rattling. China may have had multiple motives for the sudden, heavily armed and wide-fronted intrusion, under the subterfuge of spring military exercises in Tibet. It had strongly objected in August 2019 to the unilateral revocation of Article 370, affecting the status of a "disputed territory", where China had a stake. In September, the "Howdy Modi" Houston rally with President Donald Trump signalled a growing India-US proximity. Meanwhile, US-China relations mired in trade sanctions. Then came Mr Trump's return visit to India in February 2020, in an US election year, indicating a deeper Trump-Modi connect. Meanwhile, the Covid-19 epidemic began swirling as Wuhan was locked down. In mid-March 2020 President Trump termed the new pandemic "China Virus". All these would have heightened Chinese paranoia. China also saw a chance for strategic gain by repositioning as the world was distracted by the pandemic. Thus, China also began ratcheting up its aggressive behaviour towards US allies Australia and Japan, that along with the US and India are part of the "Quad". In May 2020, as the Ladakh LAC heated up, China hit Australian barley and beef exports. In August, Australian wine faced anti-dumping duties. By September, China fully suspended barley imports, ordering stricter controls on wheat. The next month, the squeeze was extended Australian Similarly,

Similarly, regarding Senkaku or Diaoyu Islands held by Japan, in the 17-month period from April 2019 to August 2020, vessels were Chinese inside contiguous zone 456 days out of 519, as against half that in the previous period. Chinese President Xi Jinping's Japan visit, due for early April 2020, was postponed, ostensibly due to the pandemic. In July, Japan's ruling party cancelled it over China's imposition of a new national security law on Hong Kong.

Initially surprised, the Indian Army quickly mirrored Chinese deployments, by inducting armour, drones, etc backed by air power and artillery. It upped the ante by seizing heights over-looking Spanggur Gap, south of Pangong, stymieing any Chinese thrust towards Chushul, dominating Chinese deployments in the sector. India, despite the financia cost in for the winter, demonstrating resolve. India also began raising the economic and reputational cost for China by banning several "apps" and tightening trade. China in May 2020 imposed draconian controls over Hong Kong, in breach of its international commitment to Britain. China also sharpened its tone on Taiwan, as the US upgrading its Taiwan ties. The US-China verbal exchanges exacerbated as US presidential Having opened multiple flashpoints against its continental and maritime neighbours, China awaited the outcome of US presidential elections before reassessing tactics. The Biden administration's endorsement of the Trump approach to China, but with smarter tactics like outreach to key allies for building an "alliance of democracies", put China on notice. India's success in handling the Covid pan-demic and its economy recovering rapidly also showed that the Chinese browbeating had faltered. China in any case had succeeding in underscoring Indian vulnerability to determined Chinese pressure at the LAC, especially with an irate Pakistan acting in tandem. India also needed to buy peace abroad, with farmers agitating at home and a Biden administration murmuring nervously about human rights and democ-racy breaches in India.

Will buffer zones be a precursor to a mutually acceptable delineation of the LAC or just a Band-Aid solution to a deeper problem of China seeking Asian hegemony and bipolarity with the US globally? Are there some unwritten understandings on India scaling back its border infrastructure upgrade, handling of the Dalai Lama, non-militarisation of the "Quad"? It is unlikely China will curb its South Asian ingress. using the Belt and Road projects. It is unimaginable that a nationalist Indian government will concede Chinese hegemony. Thus, the Ladakh deescalation may just be both sides stepping back, having tested each other's "red lines", to try rebuilding trust and resume the usual path of cooperation, competition and calibrat-

FORCE MAJEURE

The agreement between India and China for troops withdrawal from the sensitive Pangon Tso area is a feather in the cap for the tactful diplomacy of the Prime Minister Narendra Modi government. But what has come as a bit of a surprise is the speed at which the PLA is hurriedly moving away its troops and heavy armour from the hilly terrain. Perhaps, the tightening of screws by America in the form of a threat to impose sanctions, coupled with strained relations with Taiwan, as also fast developing situation in the South China Sea might have forced the hand of the Beijing commissariat.

THE UNION HOME ministry's call to citizens to become "cyber volunteers" and identify and report "antinational" online content is perhaps the most brazen and dangerous sign yet of an attempt to turn our democratic and free society into a "surveil-lance state". The Great Helmsman believes in the "great rejuvenation of Chinese nation" led by the soon-100 years old Communist Party of China; he, however, cited challenges, adding: The world is in a turbulent time that is unprecedented in the past century.'

Only the future will ascertain if the "momentum" is indeed on China's side, but there is no doubt that the world is going through uncertain and difficult times. As this is bound to continue in 2021 and probably beyond, India has to find reliable and unwavering support abroad.

Addressing the World Economic Forum in Davos, Mr Xi recently asserted, somewhat ironically: "The misguided approach of antagonism and confrontation... will eventually hurt all countries' interests and undermine everyone's well-being. For over 20 years, France and India have been practising cooperation. Recently, India had supported France when the country was attacked by Islamic fundamentalists: "India stands with Paris at this difficult moment and fully supports the French government on this issue," affirmed Trust is the key in every relationship. When President Jacques Chirac came to India in 1998, he proposed a strategic partnership. Prime Minister Atal Behari Vajpayee readily agreed to give a concrete shape to one based on shared values.

The 1998 Indo-French partnership is deep for many reasons; one of them is a shared vision of the world. Further, France has never tried to bully India into accepting its views, while standing by India during the nuclear tests, in favour of a UN Security Council seat and on terrorism. This has not always been the case with other countries, including the United States.

The recently-concluded "Exercise Desert Knight-21" held in Jodhpur is another example of sharing. With 11 Rafale aircrafts having already joined that Indian Air Force (IAF), the collaboration has been a game changer for India in the confrontation with

China in Ladakh. Speaking in Jodhpur, Air Chief Marshal Rakesh Bhadauria said the first priority had been for the IAF to integrate the fighter planes in the existing fleet: "It has been done and the current exercise Desert Knight is the result of that." French Ambassador to India, Emmanuel Lenain, noting that the first French aircraft landed in India in 1953, observed "the partnership has persisted through good and bad times". New Delhi and Paris also held their annual Strategic Dialogue on January 7. National security advisor Ajit Doval met his French counterpart Emmanuel Bonne, the French President's diplomatic advisor (known as the "Sherpa"). According to a South Block press release: "The two sides held discussions on... counter-terrorism, cybersecurity, defence cooperation, maritime security, regional and global issues, and cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region.

According to some sources, France agreed to an Indian request that defence technologies will not be shared with Pakistan. Further, Mr Bonne would have offered that 70 per cent of the assembly line for future Rafales could come under "Make in India" scheme, with technology transfer. During the recent India-France-Japan Workshop on the Indo-Pacific held in Delhi, the foreign secretary said: "The Indo-Pacific has become an essential concept in international relations today." It is certainly a field where Paris and Delhi could collaborate, however a "turbulent-time" partnership means more than joining a new grouping or buying a few combat aircrafts. Of course, sharing advanced technology is difficult; years ago, Safran, the French company which has developed the engine for the Rafale, tried to work with DRDO on a new engine for the Tejas, nothing has materialised. One still remembers how difficult has been the cooperation and transfer of technology under the "75 Project" for six Scorpene submarines. The fifth Scorpene, INS Vagir, built by the Mazagon Docks Limited (MDL) with technology transfer from France was launched in November 2020; MDL will manufacture a total of six submarines with technology assistance from the Naval Group under a US $3.75 billons deal signed in October 2005.

Concrete collaborations are, and will be, undoubtedly difficult, they will face obstacles, which in the end can only help deepen bilateral relations. It is ironic that for years Paris with China, so much so that a P4 Lab was "offered" to China in Wuhan, with consequences that are suspicious today. The P4 lab episode is an example of what should never be done — work with untrustworthy partners. What is required for France and India believed in the depth of its relations is to take their relations to the next level; for this, both nations need to work on a "big" research project.

I am thinking of an armed drone of the next generation; another field could be quantum communication, yet another could be a sixth-generation aircraft. In Jodhpur, the Air Chief said, "Our present vision is to incorporate all the latest technologies and sensors in our fifth-generation aircraft" and at a later stage work on a sixth-generation plane. a project in which both nations could collaborate.

For this, the thrust of the leaders of both countries is necessary — but can they find time to "dream" in these turbulent times?

Coral Gables (Florida), Feb. 13: Federal agents investigating a financial scheme fatally shot a man in South Florida on Friday, authorities said.

The shooting occurred in Coral Gables and involved agents from the US Department of Homeland Security, the Miami Herald reported. Coral Gables is located just southwest of Miami.

During a large-scale financial investigation, an individual brandished a weapon at special agents with Homeland Security Investigations, as a result agents fired at the suspect, agency spokesman Nestor Yglesias said in a statement. The agents were treated at a local hospital for injuries that were not life-threatening,

BROKER TO BE EXTRADITED TO VENEZUELA

Madrid. Feb. 13: Spain's National Court has approved the extradition of a financial broker wanted in Venezuela on charges of fraud and embezzlement of funds.

The ruling on 40-year-old Ernesto Quintero triggered protests Friday among the Venezuelan community in Spain and Venezuelan opposition representatives

Protesters, including Quintero's wife, demonstrated near the court in Madrid, calling for Spain to stop the extradition given the political instability in the Caribbean country. Quintero worked in a stock exchange in the western Venezuelan city of Marcaibo that was seized by authorities in 2010 owing to alleged fund-management irregularities, the unauthorised sale of client investments and for funneling money to Britain's Virgin Isl ands. He was arrested in Spain early in 2019 but released with conditions while his extradition was studied. He was detained again this week. The court's three-judge panel rejected Quintero's argument that there were political motivations behind Venezuela's extradition request and that he would be in physical danger

if handed over. Antonio Ecarri, a Venezuelan politician designated as ambassador to Spain for the parallel government of Veneuelan opposition leader Juan Guaidó, claimed that any extradition now was a virtual de ath sentence given Venezuela's human rights record. Spain has previously rejected other extradition requests.

PEACEKEEPER HURT IN MALI HAS DIED: UN

United Nations, Feb. 13: One of the 28 UN peacekeepers wounded in an attack on a temporary United Nations base in central Mali has died from his injuries, the United Nations announced Friday.

Mali remains the deadliest of the UN's 12 far-flung peacekeeping missions and the peacekeeper from Togo was the sixth killed just since January in hostile acts in which 46 peacekeepers were also injured. UN spokesman Stephane Dujarric, who announced the peacekeeper's death, extended the UN's deepest condolences to his family and the people and government of Togo and wished a speedy recovery to the 27 other peacekeepers. The UN has condemned Wednesday's complex attack using direct and indirect fire against the temporary base in Kerena. near Douentza. There have been no claims of responsibility for the attack, but Islamic extremists linked to al-Qaida and the Islamic State group have staged regular attacks on UN peacekeepers and soldiers.

Dujarric said the Kerena base was set up recently to bet ter protect the local population, bring back calm in areas impacted by intercommunal violence, as well as to reduce the threat of improvised explosive devices. Mali has been in turmoil since a 2012 uprising prompted mutinous soldiers to over-throw the president. The power vacuum that resulted ultimately led to an Islamic insurgency and a French-led war that ousted the jihadists from power in 2013.

The country has also been plagued by a series of coups, the latest in August that overthrew President Ibrahim

Boubacar.

Charge against Trump a lie, say his lawyers

Washington, Feb. 13: Donald Trump's insurrection incitement charge is a "monstrous lie" and the impeachment proceedings against the former president a "politically motivated witch hunt" by the Democrats, his lawyers said as they presented evidence in the US Senate. Trump, a Republican, is accused of inciting riots in the US Capitol on January 6 which left five people, including a police officer, dead.

Trump's lawyers Bruce Castor, David Schoen and Michael van der Veen each took turns addressing the Senate members on Friday, day four of Trump's impeachment trial, to describe Trump as a staunch supporter of law and order, not some-one who incited the chaos at the Capitol.

His attorneys had up to 16 hours over the course of two days to push back on House impeachment managers case that Trump should be convicted and barred from running for future office for inciting the attack on the Capitol to try to stop Joe Biden's presidential election victory being certi-

There is a complete lack of evidence on the article of impeachment against Donald Trump, his lawyers told the United States Senate. "We have a complete lack of evidence for the article of impeachment presented by the House managers," Trump's lawyer Castor said.

The impeachment by the House, the case for which was laid out by the House managers in the Senate during the last two days, was political.

"Their goal is to eliminate a political opponent, to substitute their judgment for the will of the voters," he said as he showed clips of various Democratic leaders. Castor said that the critical issue in this case is the very narrow issue that is charged against the 45th president.
"That issue is did the

AS VOTE DRAWS NEAR, McCONNELL REVEALS LITTLE

Washington, Feb. Seldom has Mitch McConnell signaled so little about such a consequential vote.

While many expect the Senate's top Republican to back acquitting former President Donald Trump of inciting rioters who assaulted the Capitol last month, no one is really sure. The Washington political universe and the world beyond will collectively hold its breath when the Senate impeachment trial roll call reaches the Kentuckian's name.

45th president engage in incitement of — they continue to say — insurrection. Clearly there was no insurrection," he said. Trump's lawyer van der Veen used his opening remarks to dispute the Democrats' case that the former president had incited violence during his speech to supporters on January 6.

Trump had made allegations of voter fraud and urged his supporters to converge at the Capitol building a short while before the riot broke out.

"To claim that the president in any way wished, desired or encouraged lawless or violent behaviour is a preposterous and monstrous lie. In fact, the first two messages the president sent via Twitter once the incursion at the Capitol began were 'Stay 'eaceful' and lence because we are the party of law and order," the lawyer said.

Biden: Govs, mayors need $350 bn to fight virus

wasnington, rep 13: President Joe Biden met with a bipartisan group of governors and mayors at the White House on Friday as part of his push to give financial relief from the coronavirus pandemic to state and local governments — a clear source of division with Republican lawmakers who view the spending as wasteful.

As part of a $1.9 trillion coronavirus package, Biden wants to send $350 billion to state and local governments and tribal governments. While Republicans in Congress have largely objected to this initiative, Biden's push has some GOP support among governors and mayors. You folks are all on the front lines and dealing with the crisis since day one," Biden said at the start of the Oval Office meeting. "They've been working on their own in many cases." Republican lawmakers have stressed that some past aid to state and local governments remains unspent and revenues have rebounded after slumping when the coronavirus first hit. But state governments have shed 332,000 jobs since the outbreak began to spread last February, and local governments have cut nearly 1 million jobs, according to the Bureau of Labour Statistics.

Republican Govs. Asa

Hutchinson of Arkansas and Larry Hogan of Maryland attended the Friday meeting, along with Democratic governors, includ-ing New York's Andrew Cuomo and New Mexico's Michelle Lujan Grisham. The mayors of Atlanta, Detroit, Miami and Arlington, Texas, also were at the meeting. New Orleans Mayor LaToya Cantrell was set to attend, but she could not due to White House health screening and safety protocols, according to her press secretary. Under the relief package being crafted in House committees this week, every state and the District of Columbia would get at least $500 million, but most of the money going to states would be distributed based on their share of unemployed workers nationally.

Local governments would also get $130.2 billion and tribal governments would get $20 billion. The money could be used to

US: China must make available data of outbreak's earliest days

Washington, Feb. 13: The US on Saturday demanded that China must make available its Covid-19 data from the earliest days of the outbreak to the world to better understand the pandemic and prepare for the next one.

China reported the first Covid-19 case in the central city of Wuhan in late December 2019 and since then the disease has snowballed into a pandemic, affecting 108,822,502 people with 2,396,283 deaths worldwide. According to Johns Hopkins Coronavirus tracker, the US, which is the worst affected country in the world, has reported over 27,189,188 cases a strongly-worded statement, expressed deep concerns about the way in which the early findings of the Covid-19 investigation by the World Health Organisation (WHO) were communicated. "We have deep concerns about the way in which the early findings of the Covid-19 investigation were communicated and questions about the process used to reach them. It is imperative that this report be independent, with expert findings free from intervention or alteration by governments in an earlier relief package signed into law last March.

India's entry to the Oscars, didn't impress the Academy judges, and now the director, who has acquired a cult following, seems to have disappointed his devoted fans with his latest film, Churuli, which premiered at the International Film Festival of Kerala (IFFK) on

There was palpable enthusiasm in the lead up to the film's show at Thiruvananthapuram's Kairali theatre, causing much anxiety to IFFK organisers who are determined to maintain social distancing in theatres. But, daunted by the long queues of young boys and girls as well as unannounced guests of the state government, some adjustments had to be made in the cinema hall where alternate seats had been taped up to avoid Corona spread. For Churuli, the audience sat elbow-to-elbow in a few rows.

The director's loyal fans applauded cheerily at all of the film's piffling jokes, but as the film progressed they seemed bewildered. The mandatory clapping at the end of the film was tentative and weak, as if they were all wondering whether they didn't get it, or it just didn't make sense.

of a bus winding its way on a serpentine road that cuts through a lush green forest. The eagle eye view injects mystery and suspense to the film which seems to be getting into the thick of the forest in search of a fablelike tone.

This eerie note accompanies the two cops — one experienced and cynical, the other a younger, enthusiastic sort who are en route, in mufti, to nab a criminal hiding in the misty forest.

Anthony (Chemban Vinod Jose) and Shahjiva (Vinay Forrt), their assumed names, tell the villagers that they are labourers who have come looking for work. But the man on whose rubber plantation they are to dig pits is away. So they get hired as helping hands at an arrack bar-cum-restaurant run by a husband and wife duo. There is no pay, but there's boarding, lodging and drinking.

The film is light and fun as long as it stays with the two bumbling, bantering cops. Shajivan is keen to get the job done quickly, but his senior, Anthony, is treating this as a relaxed geous and haunting aerial shots retreat. As the film goes on a hunting trip and then ventures into a rather strange sauna-cum-massage parlour run by a paan-spewing lady, we are amused en route by Pellissery's delightfully subversive politics where the bar gets turned into a temporary chapel. But then, the inexplicable intervenes — an axe-wielding resident, a drunk man, a tree hugger, a game of slapping and a death. There

Churuli carries that silly, childish misconception which besets many students' films — that obtuse dialogue, vague characters and badly shot scenes can somehow be sold as something

This is not a Burial, It's a Resurrection Directed by Lemohang Jeremiah Mosese

Indians have nothing in common with Basothos, people native to Lesotho and South Africa, and yet our human experience is eerily similar.

This is Not a Burial, It's A Resurrection is Lesotho's first ever submission to Oscars. Though it didn't make the cut this year, the film is a moving and empowering tribute to people's movement to resist a takeover of their land and

This is Not a Burial... tells the story of Mantoa (Mary Twala Mlongo), an 80-year-old woman who lives in what her people call "Plains of Weeping". She has lost every family member and is now making arrangements for her burial and preparing to die.

Mantoa's physical fragility is often foregrounded beautifully against rich, vibrant backgrounds. Her house has deep blue walls and she reclines on a red quilt in a bronze silk dress. Every morning Mantoa takes out the batteries from her radio and puts them in the sun to be recharged. And when her village is threatened with forced resettlement due to the construction of a reservoir, she comes back to life, finding the strength to resist

The film's final moment is reminiscent of what happened years ago when 12 mothers in Manipur shed their clothes and walked to the gates of Assam Rifles and screamed, "Indian Army, rape us". And it's a reminder of There Is No Evil won the Golden Bear at the Berlin Film Festival last year and a month later Iranian authorities sentenced Rasoulof, who lives in Germany, to jail on the charge that his films were "propaganda against the system". He is yet to present himself for incarcera-

Directed by Ahmad Bahrami Shot in black and white. Bahrami's Wasteland tells a relentlessly bleak story in a cinematic style that is stunning and unforget-

Set in an old brick kiln, the film in constructed around one episode that is shown repeatedly, from the perspective of each employee, and the owner. The kiln is not making money and the owner calls a meeting to give everyone a day's notice to leave. There is the assurance that their dues will be cleared soon, but no guarantee. As the employees retire to their rooms for a meal, the camera follows each one, one by one, to listen to the women talk of being exploited, of wages pending for months, and the helpless men escaping reality with a nap. Helping each worker is Lotfollah, the manager-caretaker. In between bringing ice for Sarvar, a young, woman who works at the kiln and lives with her son, he tells each one to go meet the boss and discuss their dues. These scenes too plays in a loop. There's the request for money followed by empty assurances, and before leaving they all complain about Lotfollah and the special treatment he reserves for Sarvar.

The film is set is the sort of dry, ruthless places we often pass by when driving on highways. The wind is constantly blowing, never letting the dust settle on the many mounds of earth dug up. A lot of time is spent is showing the very physical hard labour involved in making bricks. The camera, like a keen, mute observer, follows each character as they turn mud into bricks, have a fight, or when Ebrahim calls Gohar over for a meeting in Lotfollah's room. At the end just Lotfollah is left at the kiln. With no hope.

Nowhere Special Directed by Uberto Pasolini

John (James Norton) is a 35year-old window cleaner who lives with his four-year-old son Michael (Daniel Lamont).

John is quiet, reserved, a dedicated father and he is dying. His last few days are consumed by meeting and interviewing prospective parents for Michael. Time is short. Shona, the social worker, is trying her best, but she is running out of options for

No family feels like a good fit for Michael. Not the very rich couple who plan to send Michael to a posh boarding school, and not the strange woman who wants Michael to return the stuffed bunny he has been playing with.

Director Uberto Pasolini says that he wanted to make this film as soon as he read about the case of a terminally ill father attempting to find a new family for his toddler son before his death. But that he didn't want to turn it into a melodrama.

Nowhere Special is very special because it tells the story of the father and his son with care and dignity. It doesn't exploit a devastating story, neither does it reduce characters to pitiful creatures. It just stays with them as they go about their life, in search of a home for Michael.

Potent history in Judas and the Black Messiah

orces of revolution and oppression collide and entangle in Shaka King's blistering Judas and the Black Messiah, a potent and vividly acted drama about the FBI's subversion and assassination of Chicago Black Panther leader Fred Hampton.

King's film, which he wrote with Will Berson, plunges into the dark chap-ter in American history when J. Edgar Hoover's FBI used surveillance, infiltration and worse to check the ascent of Black movements both peaceful (as in the case of Martin Luther King Jr., chronicled recently in Sam Pollard's MLK/FBI documentary) and more militant. Hampton, played Daniel Kaluuya, was just 21 when he was shot and killed in an FBI raid in 1969. The raid was carried out, in part, due to information from Hampton's own security chief. William O'Neal (LaKeith Stanfield), a car thief turned informant four years earlier by the FBI's Mitchell Plemons). In the movie's first scenes, O'Neal storms into a bar in a trench coat and fedora, flashing a fake badge — a ruse that nearly scores him a car. When he's caught, the police ask him why not use a knife or a gun. "A badge is scarier than a gun." he answers.

Faced with a lengthy prison term or going under-cover with the Black Panthers, O'Neal opts to work for Mitchell. This brings us into the heady orbit of Hampton. As played by Kaluuya, he is a forceful, magnetic orator who, through toil and charisma, is building a "rainbow coalition" of the oppressed in Chicago. So commanding is Kaluuya that Judas and the Black Messiah (on HBO Max and in theaters Friday) loses some of its punch when he's not around. (For a spell, Hampton is jailed.) It's not that the rest of the cast isn't superlative; especially good as Hampton's partner, Deborah Johnson, is Dominique Fishback — a memorable presence on The Deuce, and, I suspect, a future star. But "Judas and the Black Messiah" is best in full, fiery voice and King's film is directly channeling the Black power movement of the era.

If Kaluuya gives Judas and the Black Messiah its strength, Stanfield supplies its unease. King doesn't dwell on O'Neal's psycho-logical stress as an informant the way that Sidney Lumet's police corruption opus Prince and the City' does. King relies on juxtapositions of O'Neal's time among the Panthers and sitdowns with Mitchell. The FBI agent believes he's on the side of justice. Comparing the Black Panthers to white supremacists, he says: "You can't cheat your way to equality and you certainly can't shoot your way to it."

But Mitchell is an operative in Hoover's FBI. When Hoover (Martin Sheen) makes an appearance, Judas and the Black Messiah hints at a wider war of oppression — a war, Hoover says, over "our way of life." This makes King's film a clear counterpoint to Spike Lee's BlacKkKlansman, which showed the FBI's Counter Intelligence Program (Cointelpro) aiding, not sabotaging, Black radicals.

Caught in between the Panthers and the feds is O'Neal. For Stanfield, the gifted actor of Sorry to Bother You and Knives Out, it's a compelling tightrope of a slippery performance, poised between empathy and judgment for the pitiable O'Neal. As damning as the film's title is, Stanfield's O'Neal is never quite aware of the seriousness of the game he's playing until its gruesome and appalling end. It's a balance reflective of King's film overall. Judas and the Black Messiah, resurrecting a painful saga of police racial injustice, is a self-evidently timely film without stating its contemporary resonance literally. If anything, you want it draw Stanfield and Kaluuya together more often than it does. Instead, the movie devolves and grows more sorrowful as Hampton's movement is stymied, and we're left feeling the loss of a history that might have

Rohit cracks whip with 161 to lift India against England

As expected, the ball gripped, bounced and turned sharply. It was a tricky pitch to bat on, but an elegant Rohit Sharma made it look easy. The opener's classy 161, his seventh Test century, put India in the driver's seat against England in the second Test here at the M.A. Chidambaram Stadium on Saturday.
At stumps, India were 300 for six in 88 overs with

Rishabh Pant (33 not out) and Axar Patel (5 not out) threatening to pile on Winning a crucial toss on a bunsen track, India suffered an early jolt when England pacer Olly Stone trapped Shubman Gill in the second over of the day. But Rohit, in the calm company of Cheteshwar Pujara, steadied the ship by stitching together a brisk partnership of 83 runs.

India, however, found themselves on the backfoot again shortly before lunch. Pujara's dismissal — after poking a shot away from his body off left-arm spinner Jack Leach — triggered a mini collapse. Virat Kohli's stay in the middle lasted just five balls. Off-spinner Moeen Ali knocked down the Indian skipper's offstump to dismiss him for a duck. Kohli stood there in disbelief before trudging back to the pavilion. At this juncture, India were 86 for three.

Mumbaikars Rohit and Ajinkya Rahane forged a delightful stand for the fourth wicket (162 runs off 310 balls) to put an end to their lean patch. With Rahane (67 off 149) playing the perfect second fiddle, Rohit took the responsibility of unsettling the Rohit set the tone for the day by pulling Ben Stokes for back-to-back boundaries, including a six. Skipper Joe Root had to take Stokes off the attack and he never returned to bowl.

Against spinners, Rohit used his feet effectively. His sweep shots were perfect examples of controlled aggression. It was a treat for the weekend crowa tnat waiked through the turnstiles of a cricket ground in India for the first time since January 2020 Robit took just 130 balls to complete his century, with a paddle shot towards fine leg.

Rahane said the plan was to play with positive intent. "You can't be too defensive on this pitch and need to be one step ahead of the opposition. # Rohit happy with fans' return DRS REVIEW KICKS UP ROW

AGE CORRESPONDENT CHENNAI, FEB. 13

Rohit Sharma knew he had to be "proactive and not reactive" on a challenging Chepauk pitch that offered bounce and spun sharply. Calling his seventh Test century one of the most satisfying knocks, Rohit said it was the result of subtle adjustments he made in his game.

"When you play on turning pitches, you have got to be proactive. We wanted to make sure we used our feet more and swept the ball, bowler and making sure you are ahead of him is very crucial. The preparation helped. We knew how the pitch was prepared and that it would turn. We had a few good training sessions before the game and trained according to what we were going to expect in the middle," he added. Rohit said he had worked out plans for each bowler. "What helped me was the preparation I did before the game. Understanding the line that Moeen Ali was bowling. He was trying to bowl in the rough outside the off-stump. So there was very little chance of being out lbw when you are sweeping from outside off. With two fielders on the boundary line, even if I top-edged it. I knew it was going to land in a safe area. Against Leach, I wanted to make sure I played with an angled bat with the turn," he explained.

Asked to rate Saturday's knock, Rohit said: "I am not going to rate any of my knocks because knock comes with a different kind of pressure and this too came from different circumstances. I am not one to rate my knocks. A little disappointing to get out like that but I'm happy the team is in a good position." Rohit said the return of spectators changed the atmosphere. "It was great to have them back. It's something that livens up the whole atmosphere. Without spectators, the intensity was a bit low in the first game. It's been a long time since fans enjoyed live action at the stådium. I am happy they witnessed some good cricket today. I am sure they're going to enjoy the rest of the days as well," he said.

AGE CORRESPONDENT CHENNAI, FEB. 13

A third umpire decision which wrongly went against the visiting against England team has kicked up a controversy. England asked for a DRS review when the on-field umpire gave 'not out' to the appeal against Ajinkya Rahane for a bat-pad catch. The third umpire. Anil Chaudhary, upheld the decision without seeing the full video. It emerged that Chaudhary missed out on seeing another angle which

Rahane was indeed out. ball touched Rahane's gloves before landing in the hands of short-leg fielder Ollie

England spinner Jack Leach said that the DRS behaved like a Video Assistant Referee (VAR), which has been a controversial addition to football. "We were trying to get the third umpire to roll it through, they were checking LBW, we knew that would have been not out, we were just trying to get them to look at what hit his pad. It is a bit like VAR today, still controversial, it is what it is," said

Leach. "They said they were checking it, then the LBW picture came up, we were saying no. We wanted them to check the other one. I got the impression that they hadn't checked it (the other angle). There was nothing I could do about it. I was angry but to get Rahane's wicket in the next over made things a little easier," further added the England spinner Leach.
