Lucknow, July 3: The BJP on Saturday claimed to have swept the elections to the posts of the district panchayat chief even as the SP alleged that the ruling party "kidnapped" voters and used "force" to stop them from

Though the panchayat polls in UP are not held on the party symbol and the state EC did not announce the party affiliation of the winning can-didates, the BJP claimed that the candidate backed by it won on 67 of 75 posts, the elections for which were held on Saturday. Engineering fourth year exams are being held from July 12 to 25 and colleges are asking students to take the jabs to write the exams. Thousands of students are worried about getting the jabs in time and some are going to private hospitals to take vaccines which is putting extra financial burden on the parents during the Covid-19 crisis.

According to reports, as many as 11,79,687 students are studying undergraduate courses in AP colleges and barring a few students, the majority of students have to get Covid-19 vaccine doses.

The state government is providing vaccines to people above 45 years of age and women having children below five years, but it is not providing vaccines to the age group of 18 to 45. Traffic woes due to the narrow stretch of road on Vizag-Bheemili beach road will soon be resolved with Visakh-apatnam Metropolitan Development Authority (VMRDA) constructing a bridge at a cost of ₹2.8 crore.

Speaking to Deccan Chronicle, VMRDA commissioner P. Koteswara Rao said, "We recently got permission for constructing the bridge from the state government. We will call tenders and complete the project in three months.

The narrow road is a bottleneck, particularly during rainy season. There is a stream crossing through a causeway at km 22/832 before merging in Bay of Bengal. It becomes a major traffic problem in the rainy season.

The 24-km-long Vizag-Bheemili beach road is an important state highway along the seashore. The original double lane road had been converted to four lanes by VMRDA up to 15 kilometres. The remaining part is being developed by Roads and Buildings Department, but the causeway has become a major issue. VMRDA has come for-

AGRICULTURE | CRISIS | Farmers getting ready to raise paddy, red chillies in next 10 days as they must raise nurseries for 45 days

Huge loss if AP's farmers don't get timely water supply soon

DC CORRESPONDENT VIJAYAWADA, JULY 3

Andhra Pradesh may suffer losses running to thousands of crores if farmers fail to get timely water supply to raise crops like paddy, red chillies, horticulture crops and vegetables in command falling Srisailam, Nagarjunasagar and Pulichintala irrigation projects. This is imminent as the Telangana state government has started drawing water from the three projects, thereby depleting the water in reservoirs.

From the Nagarjunasagar

right main canal (RMC), nearly 110 tmc ft of Krishna river water used to be supplied to its command area located in parts of Guntur and Prakasam districts from the dam.

authorities Agriculture say that red chilli used to be raised in about 74,000 hectares and paddy in 40,000 to 50,000 hectares, along with other crops including irrigated dry crops, in Guntur district. Farmers are getting ready to raise paddy and red chillies in the next 10 days as they have to raise nurseries for 45 days and later take up transplantation during kharif. In the absence of a during workable network of canals and water storage facilities in the district, farmers have to rely on water whenever it gets released. As red chillies are the main crop in the district, the farmers get an average yield of 60 quintals per hectare and a quintal of red chillies fetches them about ₹10,000-₹15,000 in the market. Any delay in get-ting water through Nagarjuna Sagar RMC will affect farmers as they may have to delay raising of crops or go in for raising irrigated dry crops like

pulses, which are not lucra- maize, groundnut, horticultive propositions, in comparative terms.

Guntur agriculture joint director M. Vijaya Bharathi said, "Unless farmers get Krishna water for raising crops like paddy and red chillies for kharif season in time, they may delay raising crops and if there is no guarantee of getting water, they may even opt for irrigated dry (ID) crops. This will have a major impact on farm production.'

So is the case in parts of Krishna district too where farmers rely on Krishna water for raising paddy, ture crops and vegetables. Though some farmers depend on borewells, especially in upland areas, any delay in supply of water will have a cascading effect.

In parts of Prakasam district, paddy, red chillies and pulses are mainly raised and farmers start raising nurseries from July 15 and take up transplantation by mid-August. They expect a huge water supply to raise crops toward the end of

DC CORRESPONDENT HYDERABAD, JULY 3

Bharat Biotech, which manufactures Covaxin, the indige nously-developed Covid-19 vaccine, said that its vaccine was 77.8 per cent effective against Covid-19. The company, which released data from the final Phase-3 clinical trials of the vaccine, said Covaxin was also evaluated through neutralising antibody responses against several Covid-19 virus variants of concern, including B.1.617.2 (Delta), B.1.617.1 (Kappa), B.1.1.7 (Alpha), B.1.351 (Beta), P2-B.1.1.28 (Gamma).

It said the vaccine was found to be 65.2 per cent efficient against the Delta variant, cur-rently viewed as one of the more threatening variants of SARS-CoV-2 which causes Covid-19. It was found to be 93.4 per cent efficient against severe Covid-19 disease, reducing hospitalisations, and 63.6 per cent efficient against asymptomatic disease transmission, the company said.

The data from the third phase of the clinical trials by Bharat Biotech was published in the online medrxiv.org website and is yet to be peer reviewed. The company said the Phase-3 clinical trials was an event driven analysis of 130 sympto-matic Covid-19 cases, reported at least two weeks after the second dose, conducted at 25 sites across India. According to a release from Bharat Biotech, Dr Balram Bhargava, secretary, department of health research, and Director General, Indian Council of Medical Research, said he was "delighted to note that Covaxin, developed by ICMR and BBIL, has demonstrated an expell of Figure 1. strated an overall efficacy of 77.8 per cent in India's largest Covid Phase 3 clinical trial

thus far.'

Bharat Biotech is currently undertaking additional trials for Covaxin to establish the safety of the vaccine and its efficacy in children between two and 18 years of age. "A clinical trial to determine the safety and immunogenicity of a booster dose is also in process," the company said, adding that research was on to study variants of concern and to assess their suitability for follow up booster doses.

Covaxin, the company said, had received emergency use authorisations in India and 15 countries including Brazil, the Philippines, Iran and Mexico and its EUAs were under process in 50 other countries.

REPORTS AGAINST COUNTER TENDERS FALSE, SAYS TTD

DC CORRESPONDENT NELLORE, JULY 3

Tirumala Devasthanams (TTD) has maintained that tendering of its counters facilitating darshan of Lord Venkateswara has been carried out in the most transparent manner

Addressing media persons on Saturday at Annamaiah Bhavan in Tirumala, TTD additional executive officer (AEO) A. V. Dharma Reddy brushed aside reports in a section of media over KVM Info of Bangalore being given the contract for operating various counters that issue tokens for darshan, prasadam laddus and at Alipiri tollgate.

Dharma Reddy pointed out that in the tenders called for operating counters, KVM had quoted the lowest amount of ₹11,402 per shift per counter, as against the previous value of ₹12,345 (both excluding GST). "While TTD is taking decisions for the good of pilgrims, it is sad that a section of media is trying to malign image of the Devasthanams among devotees with baseless negative reports," the AEO remarked. He explained that before March 2020, there had been altogether 176 counters in Tirumala for issuing tokens for laddus and darshans, including slotted sarva dar-shan (SSD) and special entry darshan (SED), apart from counters at tollgate in Alipiri.

Trilok operated 89 of these counters at Vaikuntam Queue Complex and for SSD in Tirupati. But it withdrew its services before March 2020. "Publicity that Trilok offered free services in the past is completely baseless," Dharma Reddy maintained. He said only 25 laddu counters had been maintained by banks paying very minimal salaries. But presently, only nine counters are being operated by two banks. Due to involvement of money transactions, even Laddu Sevakulu withdrew from services.

DC CORRESPONDENT ANANTAPUR, JUNE 29

The Handri Neeva Sujala Shravanthi (HNSS) proj-ect that was conceived to uplift the severely drought-hit Rayalaseema region decades ago is still faced with hurdles at various levels in its implementation.

Lack of required allocaof water from Krishna backwaters of the Srisailam forced the tail end areas to suffer even for drinking water, let alone agricultural use. The objections raised by Telangana will have its impact on the backward region as the area is geo-graphically located in the highest peak with no chances of a direct water flow from Srisailam.

LACK OF required allocations of water from Krishna backwaters of the Srisailam forced the tail end areas to suffer even for drinking water, let alone agricultural use. The objections raised by Telangana will have its impact on the backward region as the area is geographically located in the highest peak with no chances of a direct water flow from Srisailam.

Kurnool, Anantapur, Kadapa and Chittoor — this was not enough to meet even the drinking water requirements of the region.
"We need at least 60-TMC-ft of water to meet our drinking water requirements, which was a major aim of the project, while only a few parts can have irrigation facilities through lift systems," a senior engineer from the project noted.

Experts say Anantapur areas are located at a geo-graphically high surface while the historic Horslev Hills in Madanapalli area

These drought-hit areas were unable to get groundwater. "We need to drill at least 800 feet to get groundwater to save crops and meet our drinking water needs,"Thimmappa, a farmer from Rolla mandal in the district, said.

Filling of all irrigation tanks would help to improve groundwater sources to minimum levels in future years, he said. Even now, major parts of Madakasira municipality depends on groundwater from a bore well raised to a big tank near Akkampalli. Special grade municipality Hindupur is unable to meet the minimum needs of the people.

"Most people pay and get drinking water from private tankers because of lack of ground water sources in Hindupur municipality even though it is located closer to Penna and the sub-rivers such as Jayamangali," noted the former municipal chairman B.S. Vidayasagar. He stressed the need to allocate more water sources to meet the people's requirements. Though Tungabhadra was a major source of water supply for Rayalaseema region, the siltation reduced more than 35tmc-ft of its storage capacity. Dwarakanath, former engineer from TB dam, said there is the need for desiltation of TB dam in addition to utilisation of the HNSS water. A senior official from the irrigation wing said they faced pressures from politicians seeking modifications in — and additions to — the HNSS project.

Resort to advanced techniques for adulteration detection can help reduce consumers' health risks, said Praja Science Vedika president Dr Suresh Babu here on Tuesday. Palmolein is high in saturated fat and should be used sparingly. Also, rancidity is more common with palmolein. "The regulatory authorities and manufacturers must ens-ure smaller pack sizes are available in the market to cater to the needs of the low-income groups. If shampoos and ketchup can come in small pouches, why not edible oil," the Veďika asks.

"The mechanism of surveillance needs to be strengthened by the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI). Also, the state-level enforcement authorities need to continuously monitor the quality of food items sold loose in the market," food safety experts point out. Groundnuts contain 40-50 per cent fat but most of it is unsaturated fat, which is better for the heart.

H. Gopal, a senior official and food safety expert from Karnataka, told DC that people should be aware of adulteration and can identify it with simple tips. Five types groundnut oils are available in the district at prices between ₹110 and ₹300 per litre. At the Anatnapur Open Air prison, two NGOs sell pure oil for a price of ₹175 to ₹300 per litre while companies sell at lower prices. Most groundnut oil mills remain shut in southern states. Also, a larger percentage of groundnut oil is of monounsaturated fats which help lower LDL or 'bad cholesterol'.

Consumption of groundnut oil does not lead to build-up of cholesterol. This oil is a natural source of antioxidants which helps reduce inflammation, apart from other benefits, and a good source of

As the Union government had announced the vaccination process to start on June 21 to 18-45 years age groups, stu-dents want the AP gov-ernment to take up the vaccination drive for them. They deplored that private hospitals were charging ₹1,250 per dose and every student had to spend ₹2,500 for two doses which was an

on every family during the Covid-19 crisis.

Parents D. Kishore and G. Srinivas said the Covid-19 lockdown devastated their financial conditions for the past 16 months and they were facing severe problems. They lamented that they had two children each, hence it would cost them ₹5,000 to administer two doses of Covid-19 vaccine doses in private hospitals which was a big extra financial burden. They said the financial conditions would not streamline till total lift of Coronavirus restrictions and appealed to the government to conduct special Covid-19 vaccine drives in the respective colleges free of cost for the protection of students.

RAYALASEEMA JAC BURNS PHOTOS OF TS MINISTERS

DC CORRESPONDENT KURNOOL JULY 3 Rayalaseema students

JAC on Saturday burnt pictures of Telangana ministers Prashant Reddy, Jagadesswar Reddy and Srinivas Goud in front of Mahatma Gandhi statue for speaking against the interests Rayalaseema on Krishna waters. The agitators in an act of provo-cation slapped the printed images of Telangana ministers with chappals.

Demanding immediate stop of power produc-tion at Srisailam left bank Genco power-house, the JAC said it is an illegal and provocative act by the Telangana state. Calling the bluff of BJP for playing a dual role with a mutually exclusive political agen-da, the JAC challenged them to convince the Karnataka government, which is run by BJP to accede to the demands of Rayalaseema for constructing projects on the Tungabhadra river.

The BJP state leader-ship is holding a meet-ing with 50 of its senior leaders on Sunday to assess the situation panning out over the Krishna waters between TS and AP and would submit a report to the high command, said Kapil Eswarayya.

DC CORRESPONDENT

Maoists on Saturday stormed an iron ore site allotted to a private firm in Chhattisgarh's south Bastar district of Narayanpur and attacked the workers engaged in develop-ment of a road in the area, leaving a supervisor of the construction company dead, police said.

Around 150 armed Naxals attacked the Aamdei iron ore mine site under Chhote Dangar police station at around 10 in the morning, beating the workers engaged in development of a road in the area and torching the vehi-cles used for construction works, a senior police officer posted in Bastar said.

They later held hostage over 10 labourers. However, the ultras later released them with a warning not to work in the mines, allotted to Jayaswal Neco Industries Limited. The Naxals also abducted two workers including a supervisor. They beat the supervisor, identified as Pradep Sheel of Bhilai to death. The rebels however set the other worker free. Later, the Maoists launched a grenade attack and opened indiscriminate fire on the Dangar Hills police camp, nearly 1.5 km from the iron ore mine site, damaging the security camp extensively.

Pandharpur pilgrims head defies ban, held

BHAGWAN PARAB | DC MUMBAI, JULY 3

The Pandharpur wari (pilgrimage) is likely to snowball into a controversy this year as the police arrested Bandatatya Karadkar, one of the pil-grim heads, for defying the government ban due to Covid pandemic.

The State government has prohibited the annual palkhi procession on foot for the second consecutive year due to Covid. Despite the government ban, some pilgrim outfits have vowed to continue with the walking tradition of the pilgrimage.

Mr Karadkar, who had started the wari on foot along with this support-ers, was detained by Pimpri-Chinchwad police in the wee hours of Saturday.

His arrest led to a tense situation with his supporters staging a sit-in agitation on the spot.

The BJP has reacted strongly Karadkar's arrest with former chief minister Devendra Fadnavis con-demning the act. He tweeted, "Wari is an integral part of Maharashtra's culture and the relation between Vitthal and warkaris is beyond description. The importance of belief and tradition cannot be ignored. What did the government achieve by arresting Bandatatya arresting Bandatatya Karadkar? Was there no

This year, in the wake of the second wave of the panthe Government has ruled out any procession by foot, while permitting only 50 devotees to convey padukas in Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation (MSRTC) bus towards Pandharpur.

Every year, more than hree to four lakh three warkaris join in several dindis with the Sant Dnyaneshwar and Sant Tukaram Maharaj palkhis (palanquins) – bearing the 'padukas' or footprints of renowned saints - that starts from Alandi and Dehu village respectively. Making a fresh bid to resolve the issue around the Mekedatu project, which has been pending for many years, Yediyurappa said the project would immensely benefit both the states and in no way affect the interests of the farming communities of Tamil Nadu.

"In order to address issues, if any, it is suggested that a bilateral meeting could also be held in the presence of concerned officials to clear all apprehensions,' Yediyurappa wrote in his missive to Stalin seeking strengthened relations between the two states.

The Chief Minister reminded Stalin that the water project has been contemplated with an objective to regulate the flow of water to Tamil Nadu as stipulated in the final orders of Cauvery Water Disputes Tribunal (CWDT) and thereafter modified by the Supreme Court to generate 400 MegaWatt of power.
The project also aimed to additionally utilise 4.75 TMC of water for meeting drinking and domestic water needs of Karnataka including the whole of Bengaluru, "as awarded by the Supreme Court in its judgment dated February 16, 2018".

HC EXTENDS STAN SWAMY'S STAY AT PRIVATE HOSPITAL IN MUMBAI

Mumbai, July 3: The Bombay High Court on Saturday extended the stay of Jesuit priest and activist Stan Swamy, an accused in the Elgar Parishad-Maoists links case, at a private hospital in Mumbai till July 6.

Senior counsel Mihir Desai told a bench of Justices SS Shinde and NJ Jamadar that the 84year-old was still undergoing treatment at the intensive care unit of the Holy Family Hospital, where he was shifted from the Taloja prison in Navi Mumbai following the HC's order on May 28

Swamy, 84, who claims to be suffering from sev-eral ailments, including the Parkinson's disease, had moved the high court earlier this year through advocate Desai, seeking medical treatment and interim bail on health under the Act.

He had tested positive for coronavirus at a private hospital last month and was subsequently shifted to the Intensive Care Unit.

His plea for medical bail and bail on merits was listed for hearing in the high court on Friday but could not be taken up due to the paucity of time.
The bench adjourned

the hearing to Tuesday and extended his hospital stay till then. "Till the next hearing, out interim order on his (Swamy's) treatment at the private hospital will continue," the bench said. Swamy also filed a fresh plea in the High Court on Friday challenging section 43D(5) of the Unlawful Activities tion Prevention Act (UAPA) that imposes stringent restrictions on the grant of bail to those booked

A delegation of TMC MPs, according to party insiders, is expected to visit the Rashtrapati Bhavan on Monday and submit a petition to Mr Kovind for Mr Mehta's removal as the S-G over his "direct conflict of interest.'

Mr Mehta has been representing the CBI and ED in both the highprofile cases in which Mr Adhikari also is allegedly linked to. The TMC appears to be confident that Mr Mehta met when the Nandigram BJP MLA visited his New Delhi residence on July 1 though Mr Mehta on termed Mr Adhikari's visit "unannounced" and denied of meeting him due to his preoccupation.

Dissatisfied with Mr

arguments, chief minister Mamata nephew Abhishek Banerjee how-ever sought proof from him. He tweeted, "Mr Mehta's efforts to dismiss speculations regarding his clandes-tine meeting with @SuvenduWB can only be valuable if he makes all CCTV footage public until Mr Adhikari was residence. Moreover, Moreover, was Mr Adhikari present in the SG's residence without prior appointment?"

The TMC MP added, "Reports state that Mr Adhikari entered Hon'ble SG's residence in the presence of a cavalcade of officers and stayed there for nearly 30 minutes. Does that imply that a meeting was indeed due? As the episode gets murkier, one can only hope that the truth shall surface.'

What kept the maestros going during pandemic

our regions, four musicians, four questions, four perspectives — yet a common thread of positivity and introspection running through them all. Regardless of their ages (Abhishek Raghuram is in his 30s, while Pandit Ajoy Chakrabarty is touching 70), all the musicians have made the best of the pandemic, taken the restrictions imposed on them in their stride, dealing with the huge changes in their world with grace. One is left struck and impressed by their spirit of philosophical acceptance.

BIGGEST TAKEAWAY FROM THE PANDEMIC

It is not to take life for granted. That was the message that this writer walked away with after interacting with the four musicians. But for each individual, the lens through which they viewed their experience and reached this conclusion was different. If it was friendship for one, it was the body and its changing dynamics for another, and nature's wisdom and the spirit of humanity that binds us for the remaining interviewees. As Pt Ajoy Chakrabarty, vocal maestro from Kolkata, reflected: "For me, foremost, is the realisation of how ephemeral life is. So many great musicians have been snatched before their time. I have to admit, the amount of time I spent at home has been a huge blessing; it's something I have never done before. Also, there is increased awareness of the need to help others, preserve Nature, respect others."

"Foremost, the pandemic has taught [me]", Ustad Wasifuddin Dagar, dhrupad maestro from Delhi, "about how precious good health, hygiene and, indeed, life is". "My first reaction to the pandemic was that it's a very useful and wonderful time to spend with your Art. But, gradually I realised how important it is to have interaction with others, to have that human touch. Not through the screen but from a body reaction," Wasifuddin said. "In one way, it is absolutely right that you do your art for yourself, but it is very important to get the audience feedback spontaneously, rather than only reading the applause on the screen," he explained.

Pt Yogesh Samsi, the famous tabla maestro from Mumbai, warned: "It's high time we realise we have to respect Nature, respect what we have got in terms of resources on this planet and learn to look after it, to respect and value it. The amount of abuse Mother Earth has gone

Ustad Wasifuddin Dagar

Vidwan Abhishek Raghuram, the Carnatic vocalist who happens to be based out of Chennai, offered, "The pandemic has brought in all of us a strong reassertion of the faith that humanity comes together in support of each other, for the larger cause, when the need arises. I also feel the pandemic has taught us to pick our real needs from what we have assumed them to be so far, almost irrationally!"

MOST PRODUCTIVE ACTIVITY

Riyaaz and retrospection emerged as common themes. "My music. I spent 10-12 hours on my music, something I have never been able to do," was Chakrabarty's reply. It coincided with Wasifuddin Dagar's view and he said: "Definitely, doing my own riyaaz, and what I had never done before, teaching online. Also learning to handle these modern gadgets of communication, like laptops and mobiles; I am still learning." For Samsi, "it was having all the time in the world to think of my music — almost like a rewind of my life. All the aspects I had difficulty in doing earlier, reviewing all I had learnt from abbaji (Ustad Alla Rakha Khan) these last few decades. Then pondering on it — chintan, mannan karna, aur riyaaz karna. Apne khud ki sadhana, be it yoga or meditation... I got to give a lot of time to myself, something that I had never done in the last 25 years, due to my professional travels". Abhishek Raghuram, too, spent a lot of time introspecting into his art and his career trajectory. "With the changed routines, I have a lot more opportunity to retrospect clearly and deeply to my journey so far and my course ahead. This, I feel, has been very beneficial to me as an artiste," Raghuram said.

THINGS MOST MISSED DURING THE PANDEMIC

This time, the answers were very varied. Ajoy Chakrabarty "really felt bereft at the loss of so many good friends from the world of the arts". "Great musicians from the Hindustani and Carnatic music world have left us," he lamented. Wasifuddin Dagar was more situated in the present. He missed "live concerts, panel discussions, normal human interaction other than with my family, travelling and, most of all, driving! "It's therapy for me," he added, referring to this hobby. Yogesh Samsi longed for "getting together with my students, teaching sessions, and meeting with intellectuals; satsang with like-minded people". Abhishek Raghuram rued the loss of "the ability to meet and interact with coartistes, friends and the larger family".

DO YOU BELIEVE THE MUSIC WORLD WILL RETURN TO WHAT IT WAS?

No investment in the new normal, for these musicians, who were almost unanimous in rejecting the much-tooted idea. All four artistes replied to this question in the affirmative, although Ajoy Chakrabarty qualified his response with conditions. He said, "Yes, though there will be changes; for one, I think the online stage will remain for good. Teaching online will remain too, though as far as I am concerned, I had always taught online, in fact have been doing so for the last 11 years, so that's not been new for me." Wasifuddin Dagar sounded more emphatic. He said, "I am an optimist, what has become the 'new normal' will again be replaced by the old 'normal', Insha'allah, but don't quite know when. I pray, soon!" Yogesh Samsi felt "the process will be slower, but eventually concerts will happen". "We need to be patient, and not try to hurry things up," he said. "In fact, my faith is that it will resume in a fashion larger and stronger than before. The world is as anxious as we are about the gap the pandemic has brought upon us," was Raghuram's confident observation.

Bonus responses: Lockdown or no, did the masters stoop to perform domestic chores? Wasifuddin shared candidly that the chore he has most hated doing was tidying his room! Abhishek endearingly said every chore he has had to do has been a pleasure, which he will miss once he again has less time!

State of the Union

his July, I complete a four-decade-long association with the Indian National Congress (INC) founded in 1885. An involvement that commenced when I joined the National Students Union of India (NSUI) way back in 1981.

As a grassroots political activist, the philosophy, structure and organisation of other political parties has always been an area of academic interest for me. A curiosity that got further buoyed when I was elected president of the International Students Union (IUS) in the early 1990s. The IUS was then a prograph based.

International Students Union (IUS) in the early 1990s. The IUS was then a Prague-based syndical organisation of 155 student organisations across 112 countries and territories. One political party that I have continuously studied and observed is the Communist Party of China (CPC).

The current commentary is about this distinctive organisation that lies at the heart of an emerging system of global dominance. The Communist Party of China (CPC) celebrated a hundred years of its existence on the 1<sup>St</sup> of July. Ironically, all empirical evidence puts its foundation date as July 23, 1921. July 1 was arbitrarily chosen by party apparatchiks when they were hunkering down in the grottoes of Yan'an in 1941

The CPC was born during what the Chinese call the century of humiliation 1839-1949. China was back then an impoverished and a pastoral society dominated by imperialist powers through ignominious treaty arrangements.

A clandestine get-together of a handful of people took place in the French concession of Shanghai at 106 Rue Wantz. One of the attendees was Mao Zedong who remained a leading light of this fledgling party for over 54 years. In addition to him, two foreign commissars from the Communist International, a Soviet sponsored structure created for the global spread of Communism, were also

These furtive conversations were the precursor to the formal launch of the Chinese Communist Party (CPC). A century later not only does it control China with an iron fist, hitherto considered ungovernable for centuries together, but moreover, after the dissolution of the Soviet Union on the 26th of December, 1991, it is the only political system that presents a successful alternative politico-economic model to the Western neo-liberal democratic order.

In the early 1920s, all kinds of congregations and individuals called themselves Communists in China. It was a fashionable nom de guerre. This new outfit was bedraggled and thinly resourced. They had no arsenal worth the name.

Even in their wildest imagination no keen observer of China back then could have prophesised that this motley collection of virtual nobodies would ignite a successful Communist insurgency that then spread across the countryside like a wildfire consuming everything in its path.

In a short span of 28 years, this human dynamo not only vanquished a Nationalist Army of more than four million strong kitted out by the Allied forces to fight the Japanese during World War-II but established and consolidated a Communist state in 1949 that no one believed would survive more than a few

For the longest time, the CPC and the Red Army was led by Mao Zedong who, ironically, had never intellectually devoured Marxism. He was tempered in the fury of the May 4, 1919, struggle. A movement ment of Western powers to transfer Chinese colonial territory in the possession of Germany to Japan post World War I. That effort stimulated both anti-Western nationalism as well as a Chinese desire to reclaim the glory of its yesteryears — a la Middle Kingdom syndrome. It also established a distinctive ideological basis that fused Chinese nationalism with Marxism.

The skill of the CPC and the reason for its longevity has been its ability to navigate the winds of change with nimbleness, without giving up on its core ideological values. Over a century, it has morphed from being a revolutionary army to a party of governance surviving the vicissitudes of not only domestic turmoil but also international intrigue coupled with the idiosyncratic impulses of its own leadership.

Two of those whims were from 1958 to 1962 and the Cultural Revolution from 1966 to 1976. The former resulted in the deaths of over 20 million people mainly due to starvation. The latter was a vicious socio-political housecleaning predicated upon the purging the vestiges of capitalist and traditional elements from the mainstream of China's thought leadership. Mobs of pupils and Red Guards assaulted people wearing "bourgeois clothes" on the thoroughfares, "imperialist" signage were desecrated, and intellectuals and party officials were either murdered or driven to suicide. Over two million lost their lives as a consequence of these depredations.

It did not get undermined even after the Tiananmen Square massacre of protesting students in 1989 that convulsed Chinese society to its very being. by Deng Xiaoping and his successors that held the field for close to three-and-ahalf decades from 1979 to 2012. One of the essential attributes of those years the Great Leap Forward was the cultivated reticence of both the Chinese state and the CPC as it put its shoulder to the wheel of internal consolidation. It once again morphed into an aggressive wolf warrior mode as Xi Jinping took centrestage in 2012. The beauty of these transitions does not lie in the abrupt U-turns that the CPC took but the fact that they were able to carry the Chinese nation along with them during all these transfigurations.

Till the time they do not understand the functioning of the CPC they will never be able to discern the minds and methods of the Chinese leadership. ## WATER ROW

The two Telugu-speaking states seem to be engaged in avoidable politics over the sharing of Krishna river waters. After the bifurcation, both Andhra Pradesh and Telangana state took up projects on river Krishna allegedly without permissions from the concerned authorities. The flashpoint appears to be Andhra Pradesh grounding the works on Rayalaseema Lift Irrigation Scheme (RLIS). The Krishna River Management Board (KRMB) remained a mute spectator to the goings on while the Centre was otherwise 'busy'! But TS drawing water for hydel from all four projects (Jurala, Srisailam, Nagarjunasagar and Pulichintala) without permission should be treated as open 'challenge' to authorities at the Centre. It is strange the Centre is silent in this regard.

VACCINATION

It is encouraging to read that on the basis of the recommendations of NTAGI and with the nod from Union health ministry, pregnant women are eligible to get vaccinated against Covid-19 (Covid vaccine for pregnant women now, DC, July 3). In fact, they are the vulnerable section of the society, who silently suffered and succumbed to the devastating pandemic. The onus is now on authorities to campaign about benefits of vaccine and start a drive widely for expectant mothers.

It is also Jagan's father's birthday. If the protocol is ensured on the ground, it will add to Jagan's acumen in inculcating discipline amongst the people when required.

LUCKNOW, July 3

The Prime Minister, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, said here today that the mass upsurge in Bangla Desh had proved that no country could be ruled bayonets.

There was no democracy in Pakistan and the military government there had no link with the common man.

The upsurge was not an isolated incident: in the past there was some turmoil in Baluchistan and elsewhere.

The art of sports commentary is really dying now

imbledon is here at last, after its absence in 2020. What struck me watching the French Open on television a couple of weeks before was just how much rubbish I had to listen to if I kept the sound on. There are now too many matches broadcast, which means more and more commentators are spouting off about the game in the middle of rallies. I don't know why viewers don't raise hell with the networks about these non-stop blabbermouths who interrupt our viewing. We've become a nation of sheep, accepting everything so-called experts throw at us.

Televised sport needs commentators only before and after the event. Although the Wimbledon lot spout off a lot less than the French Open blabbermouths, I think back fondly to the impeccable Dan Maskell, whose "Oh my word" was as far as he went after witnessing an extraordinary shot. After Maskell came the great South African doubles expert Frew McMillan, who handles the microphone as deftly as he handled his racquet while winning the Wimbledon doubles title numerous times. Frew was a buddy of mine during our playing days and he's one of the few nowadays who allow the viewer to enjoy the action without being told non-stop what they are watching.

The televised sporting event that allows the viewer to make up their mind no longer exists. There is an epidemic of excess on the part of the speakers, sorry, commentators, that is just away of giving themselves a bit more gravitas. They explain the obvious — that is to say what we have just seen, and then some. Television's primary mission seems to be to show us something, then to verbalise what we've just seen to death. Never mind, perhaps it's only me who likes to watch tennis without someone explaining to me what I'm watching.

My nerves were tried and fried by watching the French Open recently, where the rallies can be very long, and the blabbermouths very, very wordy.

The latter are mostly adulatory towards the players, as it's normal for them to be. But when Serena Williams or Novak Djokovic are on the court they really surpass themselves. After losing an important point during a match in Paris, the Serb bounced the ball 23 times before serving. Usually, he bounces it 13 times. If that's not gamesmanship my name is Coco Chanel. Again, perhaps it's only me, but American female commentators' voices, some high-pitched and shrill, particularly get on my nerves. Not Chrissie Evert's, however. Chrissie was beautifully behaved on court and always looked pretty and feminine while winning. She and John McEnroe should be the only Americans employed by the European TV networks though Mac is no longer what he was. He was very good when he started broadcasting and told it like it was. But now he's joined the rest in being more of a cheerleader than a critic.

One of those American females commenting in Paris remarked how empowering it was to watch a woman taking control of her body. What was that again? If we're going to have this kind of psychobabble while commenting on a tennis match, I think I'll start watching wrestling, the pro-kind that involves masked bad guys and screaming women in the audience. If we follow the American way, we'll soon be using the F-word to express sincerity and enthusiasm, not to mention conviction. But let's get back to the game of tennis.

The reason tennis was once referred

The reason tennis was once referred to as an elite game (played only by country club types) is easy to explain. Wooden rackets and animal-gut strings made it among the most difficult games to master, if not the most difficult. If one failed to make contact with the ball in the racket's sweet spot — a diameter of about eight inches — the ball flew out or didn't go anywhere. If one didn't step into the ball's path and take it on the rise, the return just died. If one didn't meet the ball sideways, ditto.

All of the above are now no-nos. Strings grip and slingshot the ball; graphite, titanium and all sorts of rocket material-made rackets have turned everyone into a champ. Open-stance forehands, swing volleys, and from-the-baseline drop-shot attempts are now obligatory.

I remember an article about the fastest server in the game, Pancho Gonzales, serving close to 113 mph. Today a 15-year-old's second serve tops that speed. See what I mean about tennis being a different sport than the one I grew up competing in? Touch and guile were equal to power, so don't compare the greats of today with those of yesteryear. Rod Laver, Lew Hoad and Roy Emerson were as good if not better than today's great troika, and they didn't have the entourages — no dermatologists, cosmetologists, electrolysists, masseurs, coaches, trainers, dieticians, strategists and cheerleaders.

Enjoy Wimbledon with or without the sound and take it from Taki — tennis is a totally different game now.

Afghan forces intensify predawn air strikes, Taliban reject claims

Kabul, July 3: Hundreds of Taliban fighters were killed in fierce battles with government forces across several provinces of Afghanistan, officials said Saturday, as Washington announced it would finish withdrawing its troops from the country by the end of August.

Washington's announcement came after all US and Nato troops vacated their main Bagram Air Base, from where the coalition forces led operations for two decades against the Taliban and their Al-Qaeda allies.

Over the past 24 hours, more than 300 Taliban fighters were killed in fighting with government forces, the Ministry of Defence said on Saturday.

said on Saturday.

Scores were killed in air strikes, including a pre-dawn assault on Saturday, in the southern province of Helmand, where the insurgents and government troops have regularly clashed. There have been fears that Afghan forces would struggle without the air support that the United States has provided.

"In recent days, the Afghan air force has intensified its air strikes against the Taliban hideouts and the insurgents have suffered casualties,' Attaullah Afghan, a member of Helmand provincial council, said

The Taliban rejected the government's claims. Both sides often exaggerate each other's casualties and their claims are difficult to independently verify. But since May 1 when the US military began its final withdrawal of about 2,500 troops, the two warring sides have clashed fiercely across the rugged countryside as peace talks between them have fal-

As a result, the Taliban have seized dozens of districts in blistering assaults targeting govern-ment forces. The insurgents have encircled almost all major cities across the country, and on Saturday claimed seizing seven more districts in the northeastern province of Badakhshan.

Top US envoy to Kabul, Ross Wilson, lashed out at the insurgents. "The Taliban is using violent threaten & attack Afghans on social media," Wilson said on Twitter on Saturday. "Violence and terror cannot create peace." The Pentagon pressed on with its withdrawal to end America's longest war.

On Friday, all US and Nato troops left Bagram Air Base, signalling that the military involvement for coalition forces was finally nearing its end. Over the years, the mini-city north of Kabul has been visited by hundreds of thousands of US and Nato service members and contractors.

It has great military and symbolic significance. "For many Afghans, Bagram is remembered as propaganda and hate the hub for more than one speech to intimidate, foreign intervention, as it was the main air base for the Soviets throughout their occupation of the country as well," said Andrew Watkins, an Afghanistan expert at the International Crisis Group.

"Not only has it been the entry point of most foreign troops that have passed through the country since 2001, it has been home to many of the in-country air assets that have lent the Afghan security forces such a vital advantage on the battle-field." The exit of foreign troops from Bagram has further fuelled concerns the country might slide into new civil war, as in 1990s after the Soviets left.

vulnerable to Delta: Biden

Washington, July 2: Joe Biden has warned that although America has Covid-19 "on the run" the latest variant is of particular concern among those who remain unvaccinated – as the president's goal of 70% of US adults receiving at least one shot of vaccine by the Fourth of July holiday was set to fall short.

New US cases of coronavirus jumped by 10% in the past week as the highly contagious Delta variant spreads, especially where vaccination rates are low. "I am concerned that people who have not gotten vaccinated have the capacity to catch the variant and spread the variant to other people who haven't been vacci-Biden said on not concerned there's going to be a major outbreak ... another epidemic nationwide. But I am concerned lives will be lost," he added.

Celebrating strong data on jobs on Friday, Biden said: "Our economy is on the move, and we have Covid-19 on the run."

But the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) director, Rochelle Walensky, said areas with low vaccination rates were becoming hotspots for new infections, even while the situation in the country as a whole was improving. Nearly 25% of new US infections have been linked to the "hyper-transmissable" Delta variant, first identified in India, up from 6% in June. As of 1 July, 66.8% of US adults have received at least one dose of vaccine. A total of 54.6% of all Americans have received one or more

"We're very, very close to that [government] goal," said Iwan Barankay, a professor of business economics and public policy at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. But he added: "We need to aim for higher than 70% to get us to herd immunity. We have to think clearly about who [has] not gotten vaccinated yet and understand why ... we have to think victions or how they about the people who are understand the evidence

DELTA VARIANT IS DANGEROUS: W.H.O. CHIEF

Geneva, July 3: The world is in a very "dangerous period" of the Covid-19 pandemic compounded by more transmissible variants like Delta, which is continuing to evolve and mutate, World Health Organisation (WHO) Director-General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus has warned.

He said in countries with low vaccination coverage, terrible scenes of hospitals overflowing are again becoming the norm.

"Compounded by more transmissible variants, like Delta, which is quickly becoming the dominant strain in many countries, we are in a very dangerous period of this pandemic," Mr. Ghebreyesus said at a press briefing on July 2. "But no country is out of the woods yet. The Delta variant is dangerous and is continuing to evolve and mutate, which requires constant evaluation and careful adjustment of the public health response," he said. — PTI

Ukrainian women march in heels, spark row • THE STORY of a parade some Ukrainian officials Kiev. July 3: Ukrainian like men— were risking authorities found themselves buried in controversy on Friday after official pictures showed women soldiers practising for a parade in heels.

Ukraine is preparing to stage a military parade next month to mark 30 years of independence following the Soviet Union's breakup, and the defence ministry released photographs of fatigue-clad women soldiers marching in mid-heel black pumps.

:Today, for the first time, training takes place in shoes,' cadet Ivanna Medvid was quoted as saying by the defence ministry's information site ArmiaInform "It is slightly harder than in heels is a real disgrace," commentator Vitaly Portnikov said on Facebook, arguing that some Ukrainian officials had a "medieval" mindset.

in army boots but we are trying," Ms Medvid added in comments released on Thursday. The choice of footwear sparked a torrent of criticism on social media and in parliament, and led to accusations that women soldiers had been sexualised.

"The story of a parade in heels is a real disgrace,' commentator Vitaly said Portnikov Facebook, arguing that had a "medieval" mindset. Another commentator, accused the defence ministry of "sexism and misogyny." "High heels is a mockery of women imposed by the beauty women industry," she fumed.

Several Ukrainian lawmakers close to Ukraine's former president Petro Poroshenko showed up in parliament with pairs of shoes and encouraged the defence minister to wear high heels to the parade.

"It is hard to imagine a more idiotic, harmful idea," said Inna Sovsun, a member of the Golos party, pointing to health risks. She also said that Ukraine's women soldiers their lives and "do not deserve to be mocked" Ukraine has been battling Russian-backed separatists in the country's industrial east, in a conflict that has killed more than 13,000 people since 2014. Olena Kondratyuk, deputy speaker of the legislature said authorities should publicly apologise for "humiliating" women and conduct an enquiry. Ms Kondratyuk said that more than 13,500 women had fought in the current conflict. More than 31,000 women now serve in the Ukrainian armed forces, including more than 4,000 of whom are officers.

Smith may skip T20 World Cup

Melbourne: Recuperating from an elbow injury, star Australia batsman Steve Smith says Test cricket remains his top priority and he is ready to skip the T20 World Cup to be in the best shape for the Ashes series against England. The 32-yearold had withdrawn from the ongoing white-ball tour of the West Indies due to the elbow injury. "There's still a bit of time between now and (the World Cup), and I'm tracking okay at the moment — it's slow, but I'm going okay," Smith told *crick*et.com.au on Friday. The T20 World Cup was shifted from India due to the Covid-19 pandemic and will be held in the United Arab Emirates and Oman from October 17 to November 14, while the Ashes is schedule to begin on December 8 in Brisbane. — PTI

Spinners keep India in the hunt

Worcester: India spinners took wickets at regular intervals to nullify a promising start by England as the tourists bundled out the hosts for 219 in the raincurtailed third and final Women's ODI on Saturday. Looking for a consolation win, India invited England to bat under overcast conditions after the contest became a 47-overs per side affair but as has been the case in the series, the hosts largely remained untroubled. They were placed comfortably at 110 for two but their strategy to attack Indian spinners resulted in wickets falling in clutches with a middle-order collapse. Indian enjoyed early success when Shikha Pandey trapped opener Tammy Beaumont. Brief scores: England Women 219 in 47 overs (Nat Sciver 49, Heather Knight 46; Deepti Sharma 3/43) vs India.

2 Windies women collapse on field

Antigua: Two West Indies women cricketers - Chinelle Henry and Chedean Nation collapsed briefly on the field in two separate incidents during the second T20 International against Pakistan here and taken to hospital where they were "stable", according to reports. Both the incidents happened during Pakistan's run chase, which also saw rain interrup-tions on Friday. "(Seam bowler) Chinelle Henry and (batter) Chedean Nation were taken to hospital for medical attention. Both Henry and Nation are conscious and stable at hospital and are being assessed." CWI said in a statement. West Indies brought on two substitutes and the game continued, with the home side eventually declared winners by seven runs on Duckworth-Lewis-Stern after another interruption. -PTI

Munich, July 3: A stunning strike by Lorenzo Insigne fired Italy into the semi-finals of Euro 2020 on Friday as a 2-1 win over Belgium sent them through to a last-four meeting with Spain.

Nicolo Barella struck the opening goal of the quarter-final in Munich before Insigne curled in Italy's second in an actionpacked first half.

Belgium grabbed a life-line just before the break when Romelu Lukaku converted a penalty, but Roberto Martinez's side ultimately fell short against a disciplined Italian defence.
